Austin - Readers Poll

BEST GROUP OF 2005 "MEYVN"

Meyvn voted #2 Best new act of 2004 by readers poll in the Edge Magazine, they also appeared in the top 10 of 9 other categories that same year after only performing live for 5 months.

"Cadence" from their debut CD "Last Rites" reached #1 on the progressive metal charts on Garageband.com and #119 on the All-Time Metal charts. As a result of some very enthusiastic reviews from garageband.com members, "Revolution" was Track of the Day at garageband.com on the 17th of December, 2003 and the 27th of August, 2004. "Revolution" was featured on garageband.com's Metal front page.

Meyvn appeared at The 2005 Quadruple Bypass Music Festival in Austin during SXSW and will participate again in 2006 where they will officially release their new full length studio Album "Splintered Skies"

Meyvn released an advance track from their new album called "Power of Fear" which was subsequently selected for inclusion on The Edge Magazine's Real Texas Edge compilation, it is also included on the Austin Indie Alliances promo compilation.

Various rock stations, including internet radio stations, provide air play to Artist's debut CD, "Last Rites" as well as "Power of Fear" from their upcoming release "Splintered Skies"

Meyvn's debut CD "Last Rites" has received overwhelmingly favorable media reviews, including national and international print and internet rock magazines

Meyvn has appeared on TV in San Antonio (The Scene) and will be featured in an upcoming episode of Pure Metal Sickness in Austin at the end of February
