Undergraduate course list

COURSES NOT APPLIED TOWARDS ANY REQUIREMENT (RQ 5077)

Courses appearing here include exemptions and any courses that have not been used towards requirements on this advisement report. Reasons for this could be:

1. Courses that exceed the degree requirements
2. Courses repeated for which the credit earned cannot be retained because it is a repetition of a course or of similar course material
3. Courses which have been discontinued or cannot be taken for credit towards a student's program of study
4. Courses which did not achieve the minimum grade required to earn credit
5. Courses which transfer credits (not the grade) were transferred from another program prior to 2012.

NOTE: A student may be exempted from a Concordia course based on previous study or a challenge exam. An exemption from a course has no credit value and will display with a grade of TRE or IPE. Exemptions from required courses may be granted in cases where students have already covered the work at any institution with an appropriate level of performance. Any such courses may be replaced with courses chosen in consultation with their advisors. Students who complete a course for which an exemption has been granted will not be permitted to retain the credits unless they have been granted prior approval from the Faculty, School of Extended Learning, and/or departmental advisor.
