

You Found You

words & music Bianca Pittoors & Marc Langis

Copyright © Bianca Basso Inc. All rights reserved. Tous droits réservés.

You made some choices along the way
To find yourself, to find your way
Through that process of searching you found
Yourself standing with both feet on the ground

After years of blindness, being lost and numb
All of your senses had become deaf and dumb
Not all is lost because we can always choose
So you went looking to find your truth

Life brings us what we need,
We need only let it
Allow yourself to believe
You will not regret it

The gates open wide
For everything to come through
And without looking
You found you

—

Still you walk with trepidation
Treading lightly, hesitation
It's ok to take your time
Enjoy the sunsets, taste the wine

Time & patience of a lost art
Show you what lives within your heart
The greatest treasures to be found it's true
Are no further than inside you

Life brings us what we need,
We need only let it
Allow yourself to believe
You will not regret it

The gates open wide
For everything to come through
And without looking
You found you