Give me the life with martinis and champagne
I've made some changes and
Life will never be the same
Shower me with luxury
Treat me like a queen
I want to live the life
That I have only dreamed

Lavish surroundings & opulence abounds
Let me tell you
It's even better than it sounds
Finished with the drudgery
There'll be no in-between
This sumptuous extravagance
Is practically obscene

Designer lifestyle, big city scenes
Jet-set parties, to see and to be seen
Glitterati & squillionaires esteemed
With an elitist entourage
My life will be redeemed

Let's live the life with martinis & champagne
And when its over, let's do it all again
Luxury and affluence
Expensive, posh and grand
This is what I've waited for
I want to take command

Designer lifestyle, big city scenes
Jet-set parties, to see and to be seen
Papparazzi are everywhere it seems
My new elitist entourage
Surpasses all my dreams

You may think that all this pleasure is profane
Walk in my shoes to learn what I've maintained
Don't question my humanity
No need to intervene
Privilege will make way for humility

I see it all with clarity
Celebrity, popularity, posterity
All packaged with sincerity
