

Empty Pockets

words & music Bianca Pittoors & Marc Langis

Copyright © Bianca Basso Inc. All rights reserved. Tous droits réservés.

Empty pockets are filling all my dreams
Those empty pockets
Are deeper than it seems

It's amazing what empty pockets do
When the hands that go in them
Hold something true

Material riches with their jingle jangle sound
Were making me tired and weighing me down

Then along came empty pockets
With a smile upon her face

And I did learn
When I let go
All would fall right into place

Material riches with their jingle jangle sound
Were making me tired and weighing me down

So it goes to show
It's not what you see
That can make a difference
Turn a seed into a tree (bis)

Empty pockets are filling all my dreams