

When You Stole My Heart

AKASSA

You have found the way to touch my heart
Now it bleeds with you
And no one can untie this bond
You're my star in the night
Softly glowing with light
The lullaby a harp plays
Every note, with me always

When you stole my heart
Everything around me froze
The forest grew, under pure rays of light
Trees and waterfalls
All of nature flowed through me
You alone would be worth the fight

Everyday I pray and thank the Gods
For bringing me to you
And for the gift they gave to us
I see you in her eyes
I see strength in her rise
But she cares not for glory
Only faith in our story

When you stole my heart
Every breath became so clear
The dawning sky, it was cold, clean and true
When you cleared the air
You diminished my despair
And the birds they would sing of you

Don't leave me now
There is so much still left unsaid
Stay, keep your vow
Life has much more awaiting us
You must survive this for me

You still have my heart
So don't leave me, it will brake
There is more to the story we share
I will fill your dreams
And stay in there till you wake
So you don't feel alone tonight
I'll be by your side
