SAFE HARBOR

The documents presented on (or directly accessible from) this page may contain forward-looking statements, including some outlandish ones. Not as outlandish of some of the valuations we are seeing, but hey, let the free market decide. Am I right? These statements relate to future events or Citrus Hawk's future financial performance. Any statements that are not statements of historical fact (including without limitation statements to the effect that the Company or its management "believes", "expects", "anticipates", "plans" (and similar expressions) should be considered forward looking statements. There are a number of important factors that could cause Citrus Hawk's actual results to differ materially from those indicated by the forward looking statements. Citrus Hawk's disclaims any obligation to update any forward looking statement. No one ever reads these in our business.

This article signals the top. It also signals why the sky is clear for a firm like Citrus Hawk.
MISSION

To provide a new form of transportation, that no one needs or desires, at a valuation multiple that makes absolutely no sense on any metric.
Using patented technologies from our wholly owned subsidiary and think-tank, LD Micro, we will design and manufacture a scooter that can take your lazy ass from point A to B while you surf social media (matrix), and nearly crash into poor pedestrians. All you need to do is climb aboard, input your destination and…

“Kaw Kaw”...and you’re there.

If our competitors are using antiquated technology (humans) and trading at multi-billion dollar valuations, one can easily make the argument that Citrus Hawk is worth as much as FedEx.

We are raising $100,000,000,000.00 USD at a $45 billion dollar valuation. (slight discount to market)
