

I learned that interrupting the teacher is bad manners.

Mrs. Johnson sure didn't like it when I interrupted in class today. I was excited when I knew the answer and I wanted to say it first. I raised my hand. I waved my arm. And I shouted the answer before she called on me.

The race is not to the swift.
Ecclesiastes 9:11