

The Seeds That Grew and Grew

Matthew 13:1–9; 18–23
for Children

Written by Jeffrey E. Burkart
Illustrated by Chris Sharp

“One day,” He said, “a farmer strode
Into his field on which he sowed
Some seeds, in high hopes that they’d grow.
He scattered his seeds to and fro.

“Now, some seed fell upon good ground,
But many seeds that fell were found
Upon a path where birds soon came
And ate the seeds! Now, what a shame.

The people said, "That story's keen,
But tell us, please, what does it mean?"
Then Jesus said, "Now lend an ear.
I will make this story clear.

"The Word of God is like the seed
That's scattered to a world in need.
But some who hear God's Word don't know
What it means, so faith doesn't grow.

