“Hosanna! Sing to Christ the King,”
Crowds shouted as He came.
They had heard the many stories—
How He healed the sick and lame.

Jerusalem was crowded.
The Passover had begun—
A time to remember Egypt,
And to have a little fun.

The leaders and guards were waiting
To take Him away from town.
They would nail Him to a wooden cross,
Place on His head a thorny crown.

They had turned the crowd against Him,
Said, "He's not God's Son to fear."
And the crowd yelled, "CRUCIFY Him!"
Jesus did not shed a tear.
