

Jesus Wakes the Little Girl

The story of Jairus's daughter

Matthew 9:18–19, 23–26; Mark 5:21–24, 35–43;
and Luke 8:40–42, 49–56 for children

Written by Joanne Bader

Illustrated by Michelle Dorenkamp

Along the way there came a man
Who then to Jairus said,
“The Teacher is not needed for
Your daughter now is dead!”

But Jesus overheard his words
And told the ruler then,
“You must not fear. Only believe—
She will be well again.”

He held her hand and said to her,
“Now, little girl, arise!”

And she got up and walked around
Before their wondering eyes.

“Get her some food, for she must eat,”

That’s just what Jesus said.
And all the people gathered there
Could see she was not dead.