

ONCE UPON A CLEAR, DARK NIGHT

The Story of Christmas for Children

One of those wise old scholars said,
“My friends, there’s something I once read
About a city far away
Where kings are born, or so they say.”

These learned men then made a pact:
They all decided they should act
And seek this king who was foretold
In ancient prophecy of old.

Then Herod called the Magi near
And asked, "When did this star appear?"
The Wise Men told him everything,
And Herod said, "Now, find this king!"

"Go search in ancient Bethlehem,
It's just a few miles south, and when
You've found Him come right back, please do,
So I can come and worship too!"
