

Queen Esther Visits the KING

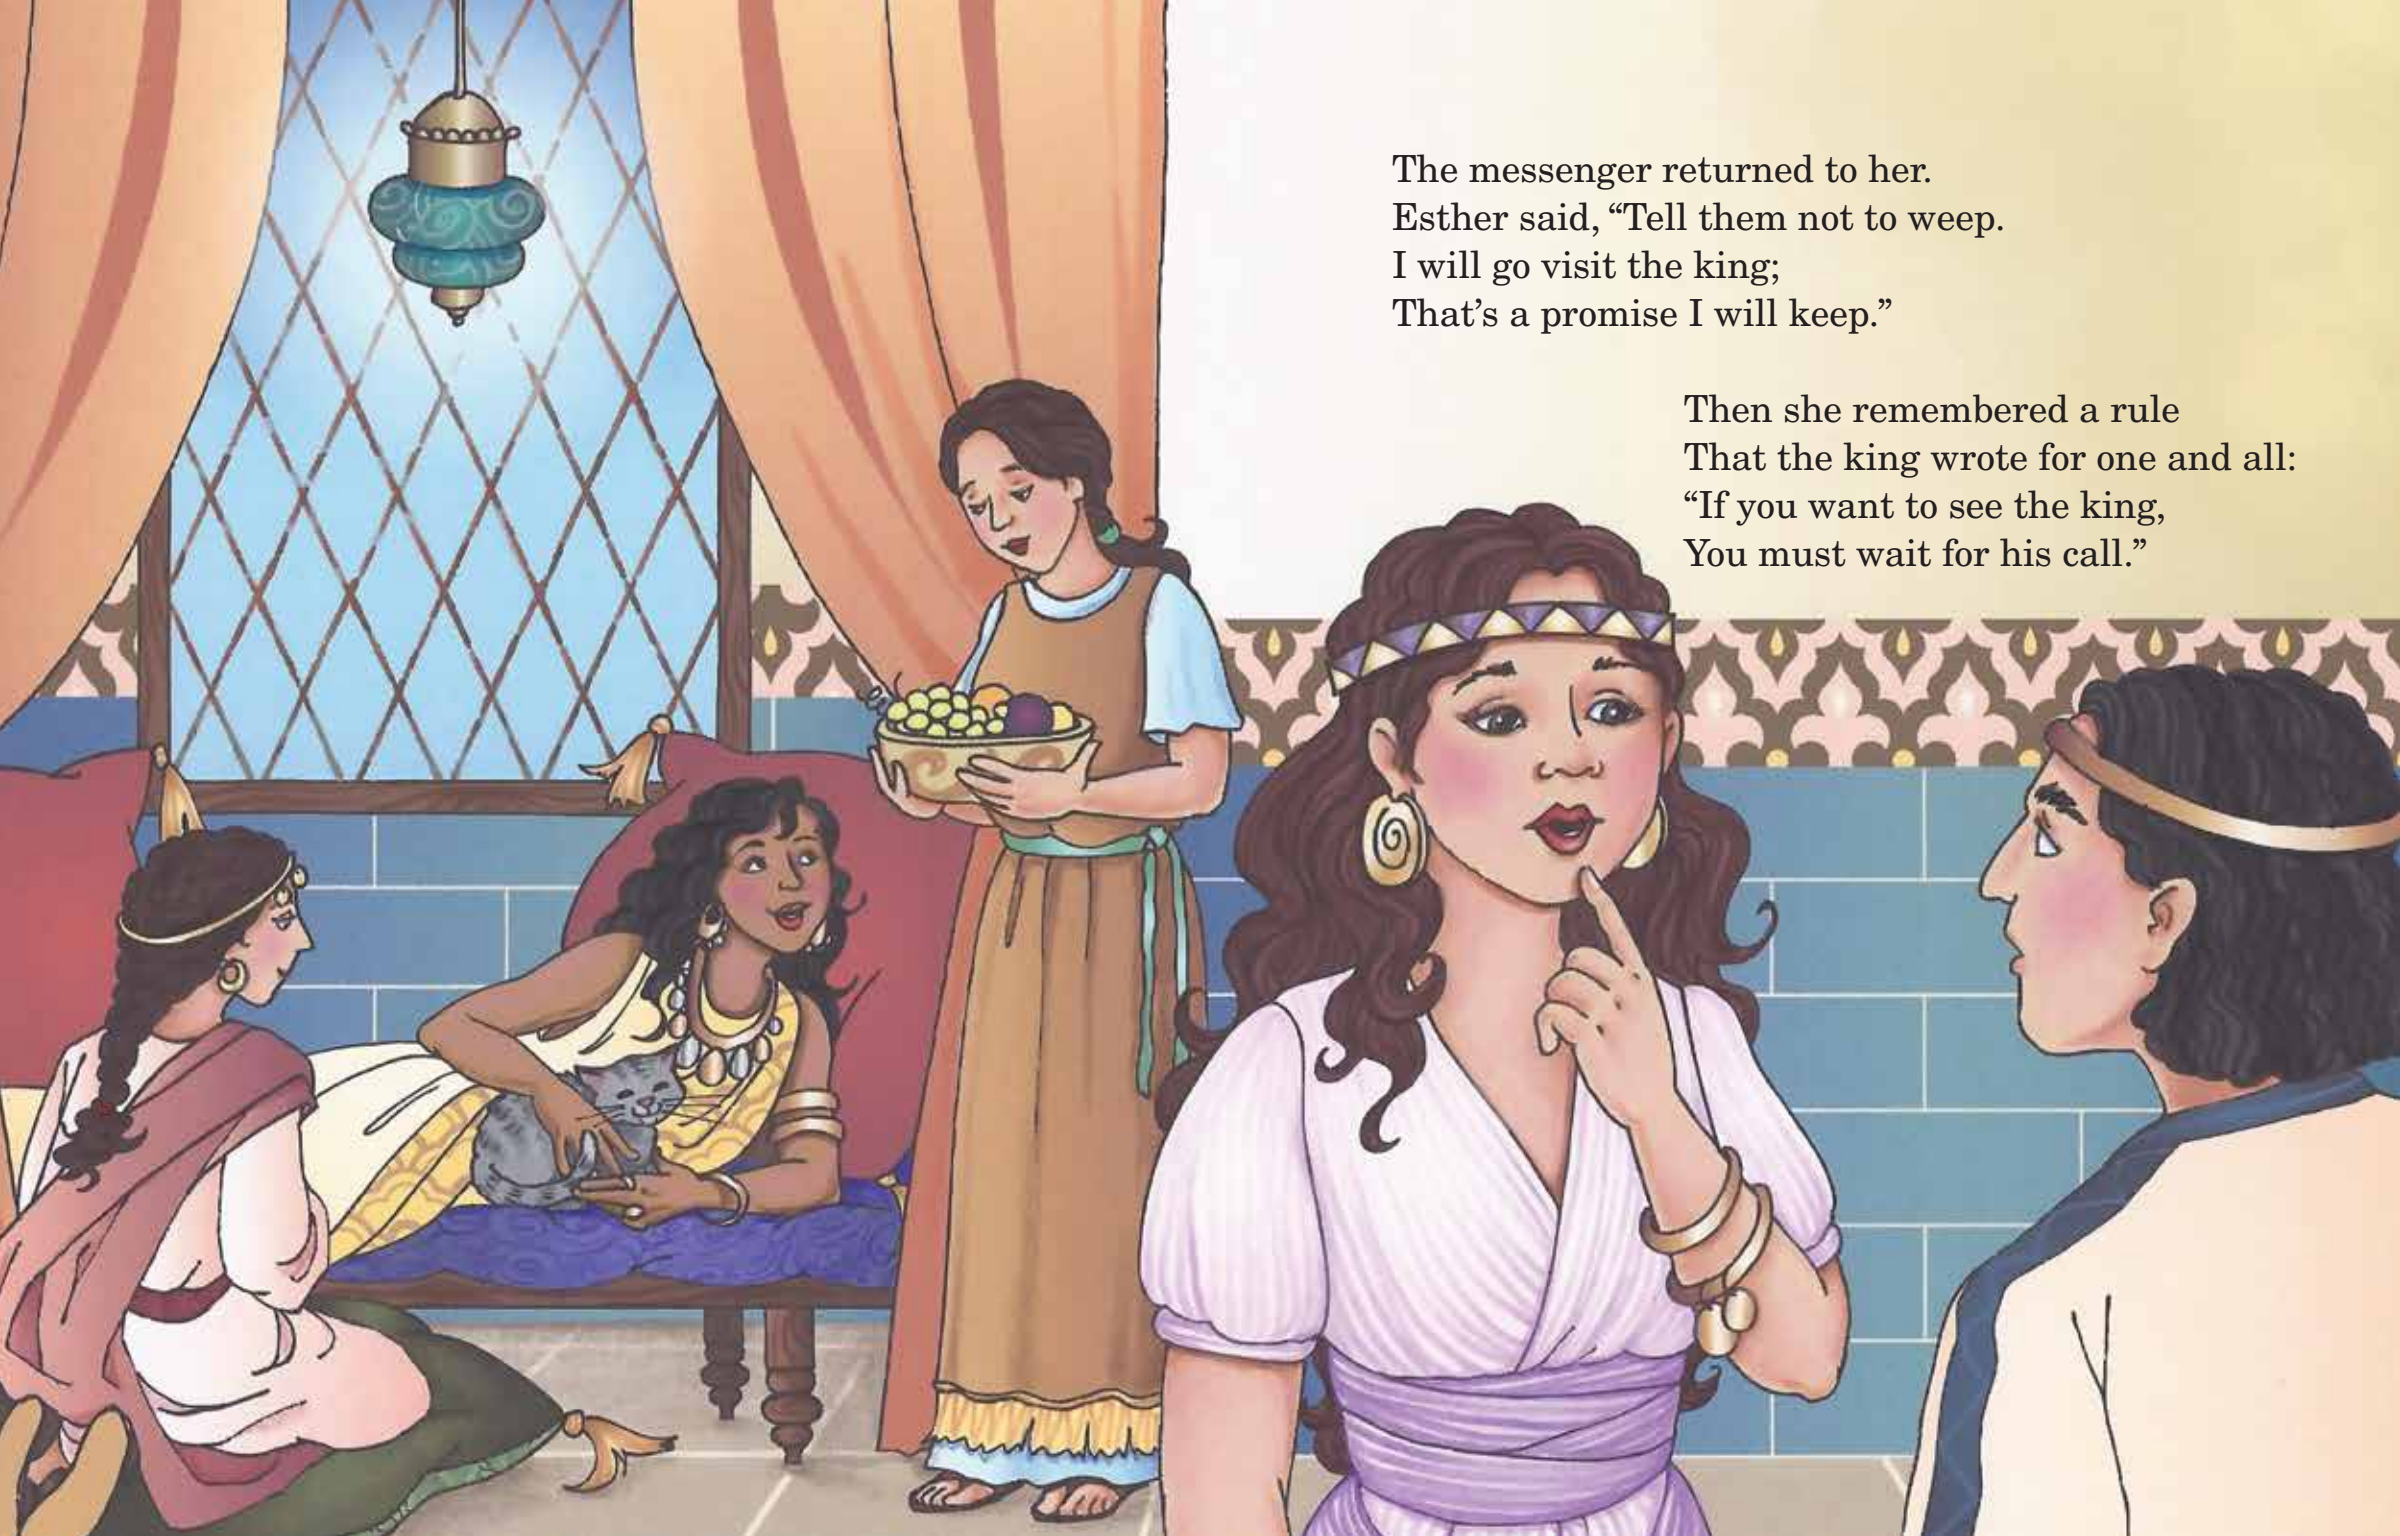

The Book of Esther for children

Written by Karen Clopton-Dunson

Illustrated by
Michelle Dorenkamp

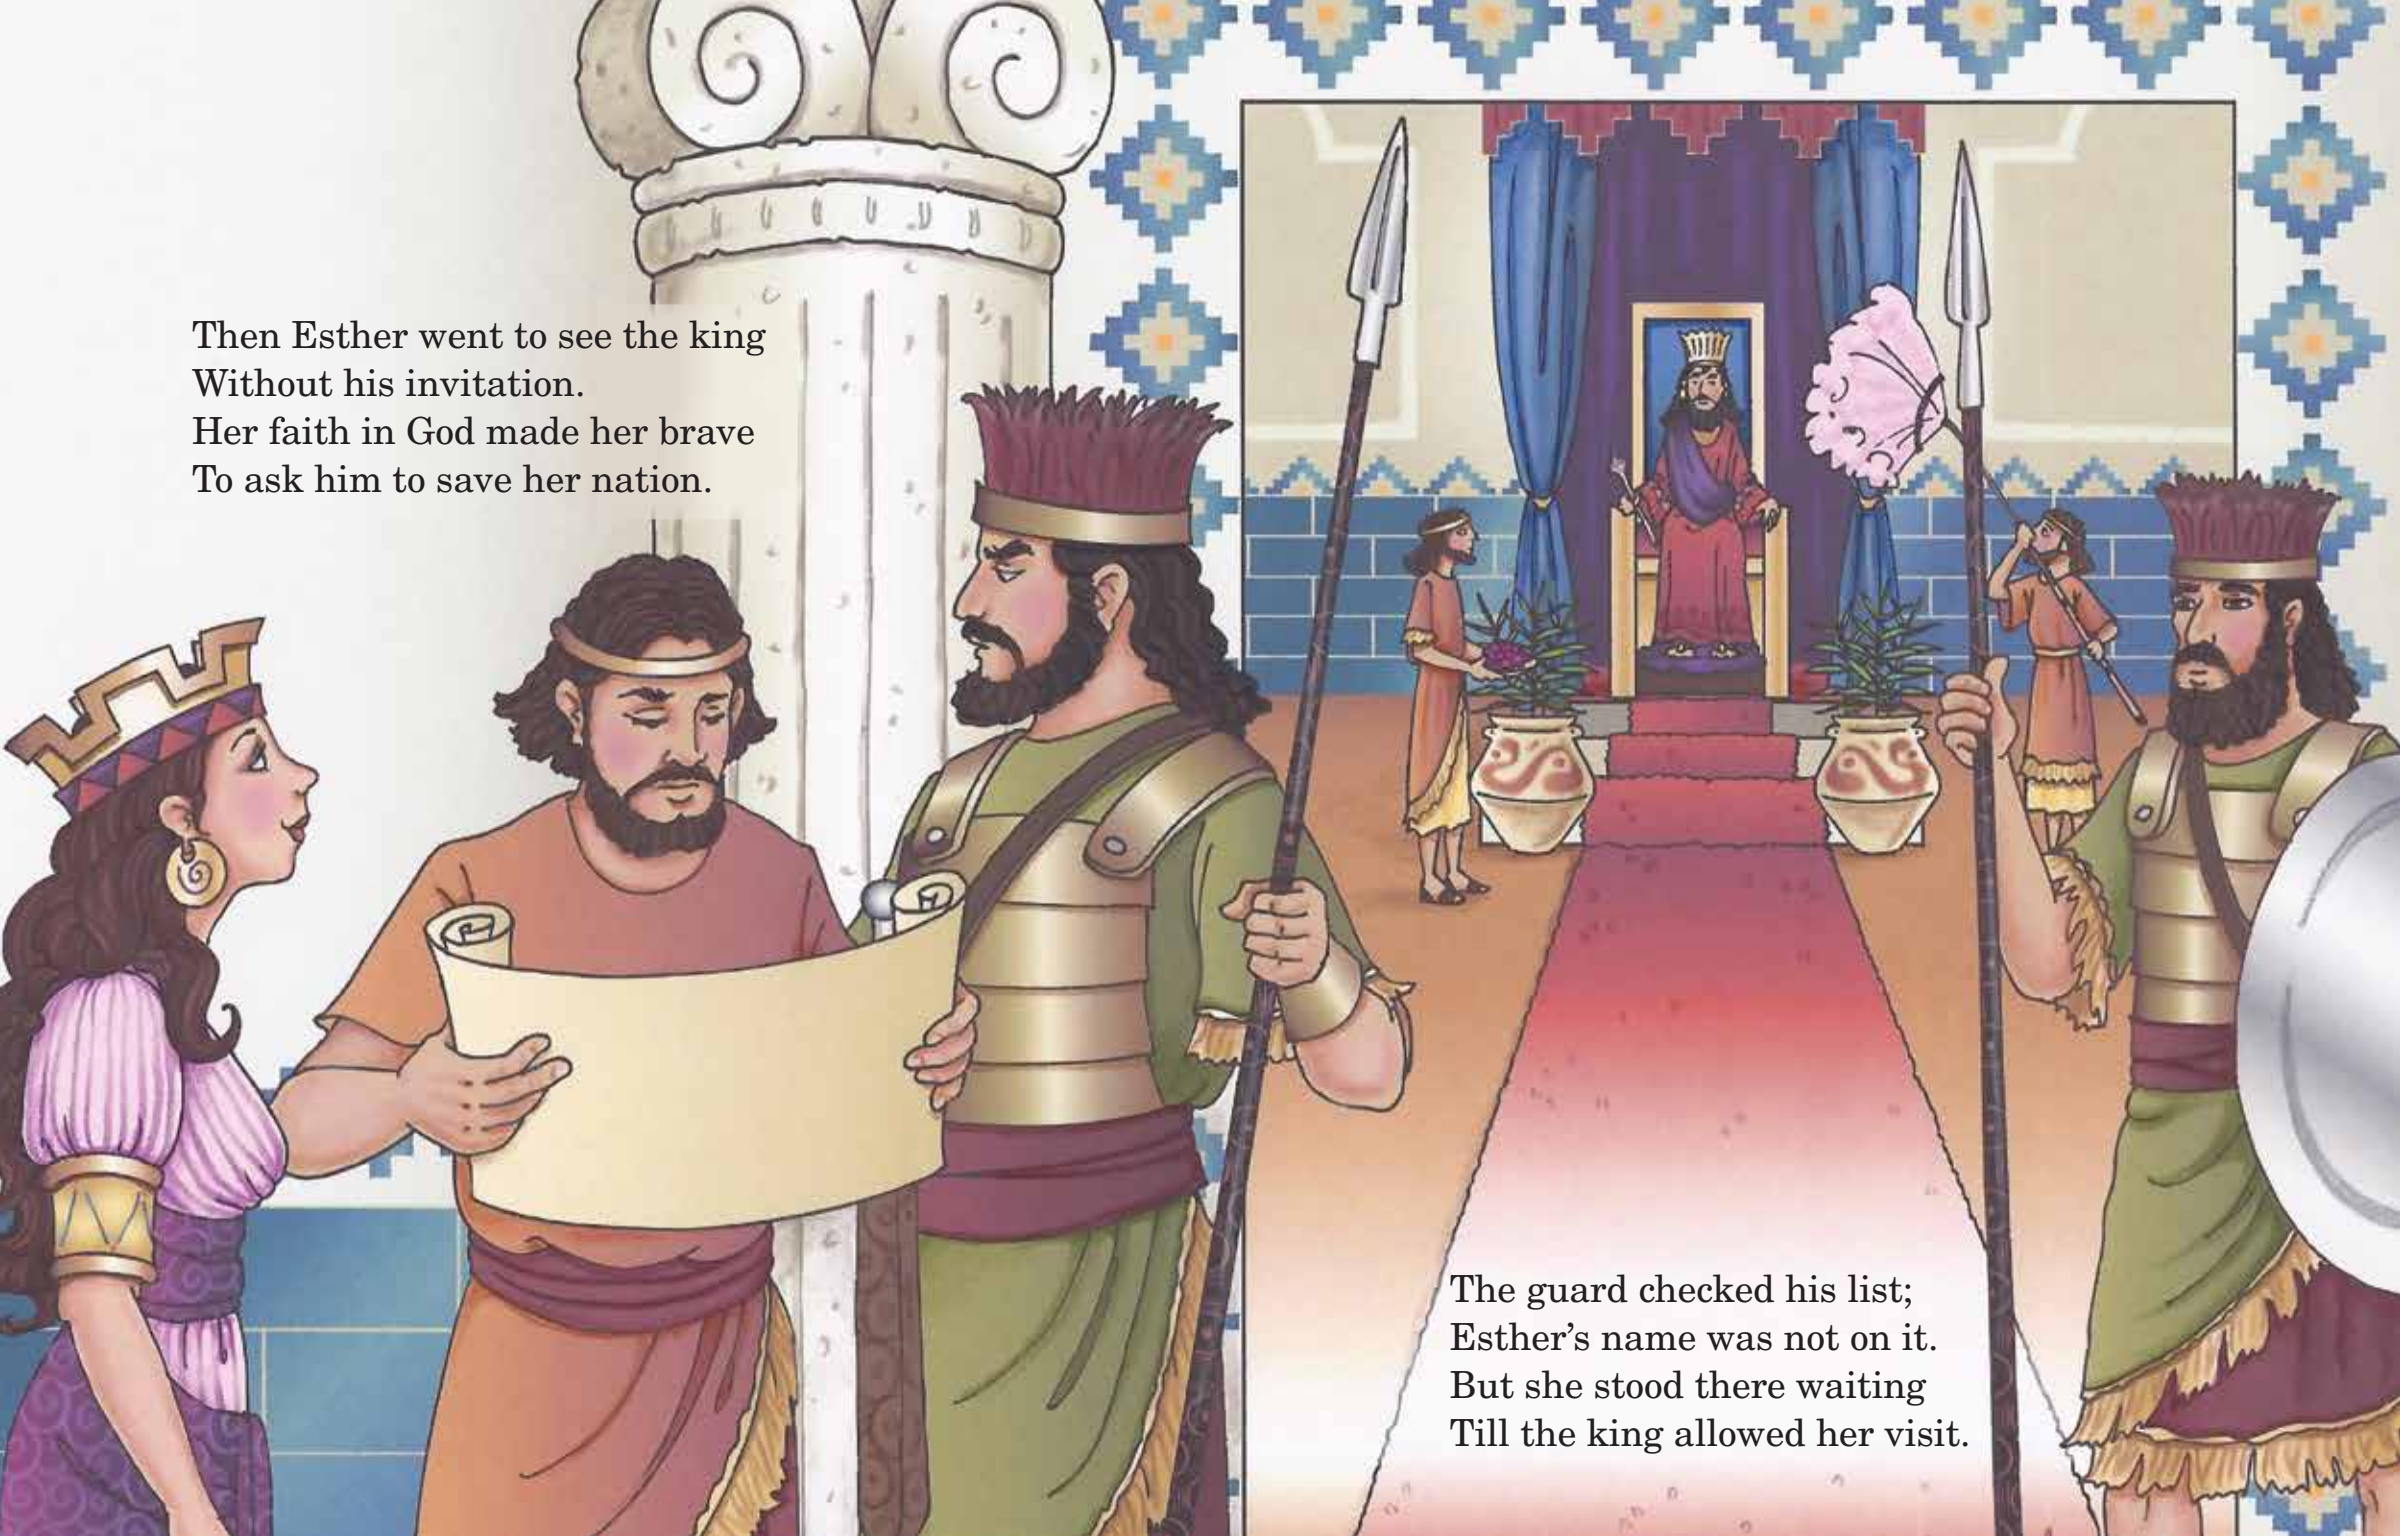

CONCORDIA PUBLISHING HOUSE • SAINT LOUIS

The messenger returned to her.
Esther said, "Tell them not to weep.
I will go visit the king;
That's a promise I will keep."

Then she remembered a rule
That the king wrote for one and all:
"If you want to see the king,
You must wait for his call."

Then Esther went to see the king
Without his invitation.
Her faith in God made her brave
To ask him to save her nation.

The guard checked his list;
Esther's name was not on it.
But she stood there waiting
Till the king allowed her visit.