and she came to him, and he lay with her. (Now she had been purifying herself from her uncleanness.) Then she returned to her house. <sup>5</sup>And the woman conceived, and she sent and told David, "I am pregnant."

<sup>6</sup>So David sent word to Joab, "Send me Uriah the Hittite." And Joab sent Uriah to David. <sup>7</sup>When Uriah came to him, David asked how Joab was doing and how the people were doing and how the war was going. <sup>8</sup>Then David said to Uriah, "Go down to your house and wash your feet." And Uriah went out of the king's house, and there followed him a present from the king. <sup>9</sup>But Uriah slept at the door of the king's house with all the servants of his lord, and did not go down to his house. <sup>10</sup>When they told David, "Uriah did not go down to his house," David said to Uriah, "Have you not come from a journey? Why did you not go down to your house?" <sup>11</sup>Uriah said to David, "The ark and Israel and Judah dwell in booths, and my lord Joab and the servants of my lord are camping in the open field. Shall I then go to my house, to eat and to drink and to lie with my wife? As you live, and as your soul lives, I will not do this thing." <sup>12</sup>Then David said to Uriah, "Remain here today also, and tomorrow I will send you back." So Uriah remained in Jerusalem that day and the next. <sup>13</sup>And David invited him, and he ate in his presence and drank, so that he made him drunk. And in the evening he went out to lie on his couch with the servants of his lord, but he did not go down to his house.

<sup>14</sup>In the morning David wrote a letter to Joab and sent it by the hand of Uriah. <sup>15</sup>In the letter he wrote, "Set Uriah in the forefront of the hardest fighting, and then draw back from him, that he may be struck down, and die." <sup>16</sup>And as Joab was besieging the city, he assigned Uriah to the place where he knew there were valiant men. <sup>17</sup>And the men of the city came out and fought with Joab, and some of the servants of David among the people fell. Uriah the Hittite also died. <sup>18</sup>Then Joab sent and told David all the news about the fighting. <sup>19</sup>And he instructed the messenger, "When you have finished telling all the news about the fighting to the king, <sup>20</sup>then, if the king's anger rises, and if he says to you, 'Why did you go so near the city to fight? Did you not know that they would shoot from the wall?' <sup>21</sup>Who killed Abimelech the son of Jerubbesheth? Did not a woman cast an upper millstone on him from the wall, so that he died at Thebez? Why did you go so near the wall?' then you shall say, 'Your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead also.'"

<sup>26</sup>When the wife of Uriah heard that Uriah her husband was dead, she lamented over her husband. <sup>27</sup>And when the mourning was over, David sent and brought her to his house, and she became his wife and bore him a son. But the thing that David had done displeased the LORD.

The Lord's Supper

<sup>17</sup>But in the following instructions I do not commend you, because when you come together it is not for the better but for the worse. <sup>18</sup>For, in the first place, when you come together as a church, I hear that there are divisions among you. And I believe it in part, <sup>19</sup>for there must be factions among you in order that those who are genuine among you may be recognized. <sup>20</sup>When you come together, it is not the Lord's supper that you eat. <sup>21</sup>For in eating, each one goes ahead with his own meal. One goes hungry, another gets drunk. <sup>22</sup>What! Do you not have houses to eat and drink in? Or do you despise the church of God and humiliate those who have nothing? What shall I say to you? Shall I commend you in this? No, I will not.

<sup>23</sup>For I received from the Lord what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread, <sup>24</sup>and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, "This is my body which is for you. Do this in remembrance of me." <sup>25</sup>In the same way also he took the cup, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." <sup>26</sup>For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

have died. <sup>31</sup>But if we judged ourselves truly, we would not be judged. <sup>32</sup>But when we are judged by the Lord, we are disciplined so that we may not be condemned along with the world.

<sup>33</sup>So then, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for one another—<sup>34</sup>if anyone is hungry, let him eat at home—so that when you come together it will not be for judgment. About the other things I will give directions when I come.

Writing

There is no glory in having a gift without knowing it. But to know only that you have it, without knowing that it is not of yourself that you have it, means self-glorifying, but no true glory in God. And so the apostle says to men in such cases, "What do you have that you did not receive? Now, if you received it, why do you glory as if you had not received it?" (1 Cor. 4:7). He asks, "Why do you glory?" but goes on, "as if you had not received it," showing that the guilt is not in glorying over a possession but in glorying as though it had not been received. And rightly such glorying is called vain-glory, since it has not the solid foundation of truth. The apostle shows how to discern the true glory from the false when he says, "He that glories, let him glory in the Lord," that is, in the truth, since our Lord is truth (1 Cor. 1:31; John 14:6).

We must hate and shun that presumption which would lead us to glory in goods not our own, knowing that they are not of ourselves but of God, and yet not fearing to rob God of the honor due unto Him. . . . Ignorance is brutal, arrogance is devilish. Pride only, the chief of all iniquities, can make us treat gifts as if they were rightful attributes of our nature, and, while receiving benefits, rob our Benefactor of His due glory. . . .

The Father of Christ, who makes all things new, is well pleased with the freshness of those flowers and fruits and the beauty of the field that breathes forth such heavenly fragrance. And He says in benediction, “See, the smell of My Son is as the smell of a field that the Lord has blessed” (Gen. 27:27). Blessed to overflowing, indeed, since of His fullness have all we received (John 1:16).

—Bernard of Clairvaux

Hymnody

Be Thou my consolation,
My shield, when I must die;
Remind me of Thy passion
When my last hour draws nigh.
Mine eyes shall then behold Thee,
Upon Thy cross shall dwell,
My heart by faith enfold Thee.
Who dieth thus dies well.

Prayer of the Day

O God, enkindled with the fire of Your love, Your servant Bernard of Clairvaux became a burning and shining light in Your Church. By Your mercy, grant that we also may be aflame with the spirit of love and discipline and may ever walk in Your presence as children of light; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1079)

Bernard of Clairvaux, Hymnwriter and Theologian

A leader in Christian Europe in the first half of the twelfth century AD, Bernard is honored in his native France and around the world. Born into a noble family in Burgundy in 1090, Bernard left the affluence of his heritage and entered the monastery of Citeaux at the age of twenty-two. After two years, he was sent to start a new monastic house at Clairvaux. His work there was blessed in many ways. The monastery at Clairvaux grew in mission and service, eventually establishing some sixty-eight daughter houses. Bernard is remembered not only for his charity and political abilities but especially for his preaching and hymn composition. The hymn texts “O Jesus, King Most Wonderful” and “O Sacred Head, Now Wounded” are part of the heritage of the faith left by St. Bernard.

Nathan Rebukes David

<sup>1</sup>And the LORD sent Nathan to David. He came to him and said to him, “There were two men in a certain city, the one rich and the other poor. <sup>2</sup>The rich man had very many flocks and herds, <sup>3</sup>but the poor man had nothing but one little ewe lamb, which he had bought. And he brought it up, and it grew up with him and with his children. It used to eat of his morsel and drink from his cup and lie in his arms, and it was like a daughter to him. <sup>4</sup>Now there came a traveler to the rich man, and he was unwilling to take one of his own flock or herd to prepare for the guest who had come to him, but he took the poor man’s lamb and prepared it for the man who had come to him.” <sup>5</sup>Then David’s anger was greatly kindled against the man, and he said to Nathan, “As the LORD lives, the man who has done this deserves to die, <sup>6</sup>and he shall restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity.”

<sup>7</sup>Nathan said to David, “You are the man! Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘I anointed you king over Israel, and I delivered you out of the hand of Saul. <sup>8</sup>And I gave you your master’s house and your master’s wives into your arms and gave you the house of Israel and of Judah. And if this were too little, I would add to you as much more. <sup>9</sup>Why have you despised the word of the LORD, to do what is evil in his sight? You have struck down Uriah the Hittite with the sword and have taken his wife to be your wife and have killed him with the sword of the Ammonites. <sup>10</sup>Now therefore the sword shall never depart from your house, because you have despised me and have taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife.’” <sup>11</sup>Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I will raise up evil against you out of your own house. And I will take your wives before your eyes and give them to your neighbor, and he shall lie with your wives in the sight of this sun. <sup>12</sup>For you did it secretly, but I will do this thing before all Israel and before the sun.’” <sup>13</sup>David said to Nathan, “I have sinned against the LORD.” And Nathan said to David, “The LORD also has put away your sin; you shall not die. <sup>14</sup>Nevertheless, because by this deed you have utterly scorned the LORD, the child who is born to you shall die.” <sup>15</sup>Then Nathan went to his house.

David's Child Dies

And the LORD afflicted the child that Uriah's wife bore to David, and he became sick. <sup>16</sup>David therefore sought God on behalf of the child. And David fasted and went in and lay all night on the ground. <sup>17</sup>And the elders of his house stood beside him, to raise him from the ground, but he would not, nor did he eat food with them. <sup>18</sup>On the seventh day the child died. And the servants of David were afraid to tell him that the child was dead, for they said, "Behold, while the child was yet alive, we spoke to him, and he did not listen to us. How then can we say to him the child is dead? He may do himself some harm." <sup>19</sup>But when David saw that his servants were whispering together, David understood that the child was dead. And David said to his servants, "Is the child dead?" They said, "He is dead." <sup>20</sup>Then David arose from the earth and washed and anointed himself and changed his clothes. And he went into the house of the LORD and worshiped. He then went to his own house. And when he asked, they set food before him, and he ate. <sup>21</sup>Then his servants said to him, "What is this thing that you have done? You fasted and wept for the child while he was alive; but when the child died, you arose and ate food." <sup>22</sup>He said, "While the child was still alive, I fasted and wept, for I said, 'Who knows whether the LORD will be gracious to me, that the child may live?' <sup>23</sup>But now he is dead. Why should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he will not return to me."

Spiritual Gifts

<sup>1</sup>Now concerning spiritual gifts, brothers, I do not want you to be uninformed. <sup>2</sup>You know that when you were pagans you were led astray to mute idols, however you were led. <sup>3</sup>Therefore I want you to understand that no one speaking in the Spirit of God ever says "Jesus is accursed!" and no one can say "Jesus is Lord" except in the Holy Spirit.

<sup>4</sup>Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit; <sup>5</sup>and there are varieties of service, but the same Lord; <sup>6</sup>and there are varieties of activities, but it is the same God who empowers them all in everyone. <sup>7</sup>To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good. <sup>8</sup>For to one is given through the Spirit the utterance of wisdom, and to another the utterance of knowledge according to the same Spirit, <sup>9</sup>to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by the one Spirit, <sup>10</sup>to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another the ability to distinguish between spirits, to another various kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues. <sup>11</sup>All these are empowered by one and the same Spirit, who apportions to each one individually as he wills.

One Body with Many Members

<sup>12</sup>For just as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, though many, are one body, so it is with Christ. <sup>13</sup>For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body—Jews or Greeks, slaves or free—and all were made to drink of one Spirit.

Writing

7. We believe, teach, and confess that not only the true believers in Christ and the worthy, but also the unworthy and unbelievers receive Christ's true body and blood. However, they do not receive them for life and consolation, but for judgment and condemnation, if they are not converted and do not repent (1 Corinthians 11:27–29).

Although they thrust Christ as a Savior away from themselves, yet they must receive Him, even against their will, as a strict Judge. They must admit that He is just as present to exercise and render judgment on unrepentant guests as He is present to work life and consolation in the hearts of the true believers and worthy guests.

8. We believe, teach, and confess also that there is only one kind of unworthy guests: those who do not believe. About these guests it is written in John 3:18, "Whoever does not believe is condemned already." And this judgment becomes greater and more grievous, being aggravated by the unworthy use of the Holy Supper (1 Corinthians 11:29).

9. We believe, teach, and confess that no true believer—as long as he has living faith, however weak he may be—receives the Holy Supper to his judgment. For the Supper was instituted especially for Christians weak in faith, yet repentant. It was instituted for their consolation and to strengthen their weak faith [Matthew 9:12; 11:5, 28].

10. We believe, teach, and confess that all the worthiness of guests of this heavenly feast is and is founded on Christ's most holy obedience and perfect merit alone. We receive these for ourselves by true faith, and by the Sacrament we are assured of them.

Our worthiness is not at all in our virtues or inward and outward preparations.

Concord VII 16–20

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, in Your mercy You gave Samuel courage to call Israel to repentance and to renew their dedication to the Lord. ## Samuel Samuel, last of the Old Testament judges and first of the prophets (after Moses), lived during the eleventh century BC.

The child of Elkanah, an Ephraimite, and his wife Hannah, Samuel was from early on consecrated by his parents for sacred service and trained in the house of the Lord at Shiloh by Eli the priest. Samuel's authority as a prophet was established by God (1 Samuel 3:20). He anointed Saul to be Israel's first king (1 Samuel 10:1). Later, as a result of Saul's disobedience to God, Samuel repudiated Saul's leadership and then anointed David to be king in place of Saul (1 Samuel 16:13). Samuel's loyalty to God, his spiritual insight, and his ability to inspire others made him one of Israel's great leaders.

Old Testament Reading: 1 Kings 1:1–4, 15–35

David in His Old Age

<sup>2</sup>Therefore his servants said to him, “Let a young woman be sought for my lord the king, and let her wait on the king and be in his service. Let her lie in your arms, that my lord the king may be warm.” <sup>3</sup>So they sought for a beautiful young woman throughout all the territory of Israel, and found Abishag the Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

<sup>15</sup>So Bathsheba went to the king in his chamber (now the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was attending to the king). <sup>16</sup>Bathsheba bowed and paid homage to the king, and the king said, “What do you desire?” <sup>17</sup>She said to him, “My lord, you swore to your servant by the LORD your God, saying, ‘Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne.’ <sup>18</sup>And now, behold, Adonijah is king, although you, my lord the king, do not know it. <sup>19</sup>He has sacrificed oxen, fattened cattle, and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the sons of the king, Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander of the army, but Solomon your servant he has not invited. <sup>20</sup>And now, my lord the king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, to tell them who shall sit on the throne of my lord the king after him. <sup>21</sup>Otherwise it will come to pass, when my lord the king sleeps with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon will be counted offenders.”

<sup>22</sup>While she was still speaking with the king, Nathan the prophet came in. <sup>23</sup>And they told the king, “Here is Nathan the prophet.” And when he came in before the king, he bowed before the king, with his face to the ground. <sup>24</sup>And Nathan said, “My lord the king, have you said, ‘Adonijah shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne?’ <sup>25</sup>For he has gone down this day and has sacrificed oxen, fattened cattle, and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the king’s sons, the commanders of the army, and Abiathar the priest. And behold, they are eating and drinking before him, and saying, ‘Long live King Adonijah!’ <sup>26</sup>But me, your servant, and Zadok the priest, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and your servant Solomon he has not invited. <sup>27</sup>Has this thing been brought about by my lord the king and you have not told your servants who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?”

Solomon Anointed King

<sup>28</sup>Then King David answered, “Call Bathsheba to me.” So she came into the king’s presence and stood before the king. <sup>29</sup>And the king swore, saying, “As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my soul out of every adversity, <sup>30</sup>as I swore to you by the LORD, the God of Israel, saying, ‘Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne in my place,’ even so will I do this day.” <sup>31</sup>Then Bathsheba bowed with her face to the ground and paid homage to the king and said, “May my lord King David live forever!”

<sup>32</sup>King David said, “Call to me Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada.” So they came before the king. <sup>33</sup>And the king said to them, “Take with you the servants of your lord and have Solomon my son ride on my own mule, and bring him down to Gihon. <sup>34</sup>And let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet there anoint him king over Israel. Then blow the trumpet and say, ‘Long live King Solomon!’ <sup>35</sup>You shall then come up after him, and he shall come and sit on my throne, for he shall be king in my place. And I have appointed him to be ruler over Israel and over Judah.”

New Testament Reading: 1 Corinthians 12:14–31

<sup>14</sup>For the body does not consist of one member but of many. <sup>15</sup>If the foot should say, “Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body,” that would not make it any less a part of the body. <sup>16</sup>And if the ear should say, “Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body,” that would not make it any less a part of the body. <sup>17</sup>If the whole body were an eye, where would be the sense of hearing? If the whole body were an ear, where would be the sense of smell? <sup>18</sup>But as it is, God arranged the members in the body, each one of them, as he chose. <sup>19</sup>If all were a single member, where would the body be? <sup>20</sup>As it is, there are many parts, yet one body.

<sup>21</sup>The eye cannot say to the hand, “I have no need of you,” nor again the head to the feet, “I have no need of you.” <sup>22</sup>On the contrary, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable, <sup>23</sup>and on those parts of the body that we think less honorable we bestow the greater honor, and our unpresentable parts are treated with greater modesty, <sup>24</sup>which our more presentable parts do not require. But God has so composed the body, giving greater honor to the part that lacked it, <sup>25</sup>that there may be no division in the body, but that the members may have the same care for one another. <sup>26</sup>If one member suffers, all suffer together; if one member is honored, all rejoice together.

<sup>27</sup>Now you are the body of Christ and individually members of it. <sup>28</sup>And God has appointed in the church first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then miracles, then gifts of healing, helping, administrating, and various kinds of tongues. <sup>29</sup>Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all work miracles? <sup>30</sup>Do all possess gifts of healing? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret? <sup>31</sup>But earnestly desire the higher gifts.

And I will show you a still more excellent way.

Writing

What we call the mass is a promise of the forgiveness of sins made to us by God, and such a promise as has been confirmed by the death of the Son of God. For the only difference between a promise and a testament is that the testament involves the death of the one who makes it. A testator is a promiser who is about to die, while a promiser (if I may put it thus) is a testator who is not about to die. This testament of Christ is foreshadowed in all the promises of God from the beginning of the world; indeed, whatever value those ancient promises possessed was altogether derived from this new promise that was to come in Christ. Hence the words “compact,” “covenant,” and “testament of the Lord” occur so frequently in the Scriptures. These words signified that God would one day die. “For where there is a testament, the death of the testator must of necessity occur” (Heb. 9[16]). Now God made a testament; therefore, it was necessary that he should die. But God could not die unless he became man. Thus the incarnation and the death of Christ are both comprehended most concisely in this one word, “testament.”

David's Instructions to Solomon

he commanded Solomon his son, saying,
<sup>2</sup>"I am about to go the way of all the earth.
Be strong, and show yourself a man, <sup>3</sup>and keep the charge of the LORD your God, walking in his ways and keeping his statutes,
his commandments, his rules, and his testimonies, as it is written in the Law of Moses, that you may prosper in all that you do and wherever you turn, <sup>4</sup>that the LORD may establish his word that he spoke concerning me, saying, 'If your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk before me in faithfulness with all their heart and with all their soul, you shall not lack a man on the throne of Israel.'

<sup>5</sup>"Moreover, you also know what Joab
the son of Zeruiah did to me, how he dealt with the two commanders of the armies of Israel, Abner the son of Ner, and Amasa the son of Jether, whom he killed, avenging in time of peace for blood that had been shed in war, and putting the blood of war on the belt around his waist and on the sandals on his feet. <sup>6</sup>Act therefore according to your wisdom, but do not let his gray head go down to Sheol in peace. <sup>7</sup>But deal loyally with the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among those who eat at your table, for with such loyalty they met me when I fled from Absalom your brother. <sup>8</sup>And there is also with you Shimei the son of Gera, the Benjaminite from Bahurim, who cursed me with a grievous curse on the day when I went to Mahanaim. But when he came down to meet me at the Jordan, I swore to him by the LORD, saying, 'I will not put you to death with the sword.' <sup>9</sup>Now therefore do not hold him guiltless, for you are a wise man. You will know what you ought to do to him, and you shall bring his gray head down with blood to Sheol."

The Death of David

<sup>10</sup>Then David slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David. <sup>11</sup>And the time that David reigned over Israel was forty years. He reigned seven years in Hebron and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. <sup>12</sup>So Solomon sat on the throne of David his father, and his kingdom was firmly established.

Solomon's Reign Established

<sup>13</sup>Then Adonijah the son of Haggith came to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon.
And she said, "Do you come peacefully?"
He said, "Peacefully." <sup>14</sup>Then he said, "I have something to say to you." She said, "Speak." <sup>15</sup>He said, "You know that the kingdom was mine, and that all Israel fully expected me to reign. However, the kingdom has turned about and become my brother's, for it was his from the LORD. <sup>16</sup>And now I have one request to make of you; do not refuse me.” She said to him, “Speak.” <sup>17</sup>And he said, “Please ask King Solomon—he will not refuse you—to give me Abishag the Shunammite as my wife.”

<sup>22</sup>King Solomon answered his mother, “And why do you ask Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Ask for him the kingdom also, for he is my older brother, and on his side are Abiathar the priest and Joab the son of Zeruah.” <sup>23</sup>Then King Solomon swore by the LORD, saying, “God do so to me and more also if this word does not cost Adonijah his life! <sup>24</sup>Now therefore as the LORD lives, who has established me and placed me on the throne of David my father, and who has made me a house, as he promised, Adonijah shall be put to death today.” <sup>25</sup>So King Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and he struck him down, and he died.

<sup>26</sup>And to Abiathar the priest the king said, “Go to Anathoth, to your estate, for you deserve death. But I will not at this time put you to death, because you carried the ark of the Lord GOD before David my father, and because you shared in all my father’s affliction.” <sup>27</sup>So Solomon expelled Abiathar from being priest to the LORD, thus fulfilling the word of the Lord that he had spoken concerning the house of Eli in Shiloh.

The Way of Love

<sup>1</sup>If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal. <sup>2</sup>And if I have prophetic powers, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. <sup>3</sup>If I give away all I have, and if I deliver up my body to be burned, but have not love, I gain nothing.

<sup>8</sup>Love never ends. As for prophecies, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease; as for knowledge, it will pass away. <sup>9</sup>For we know in part and we prophesy in part, <sup>10</sup>but when the perfect comes, the partial will pass away. <sup>11</sup>When I was a child, I spoke like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I gave up childish ways. <sup>12</sup>For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I have been fully known.

Writing

Paul says in 1 Corinthians 13:13, “The greatest of these is love.” . . . Paul, in this passage, properly speaks about love toward one’s neighbor and indicates that love is the greatest, because it has the most fruit. Faith and hope have to do only with God. But love has infinite offices outwardly toward humanity. Indeed, let us grant to the adversaries that love toward God and our neighbor is the greatest virtue, because the chief commandment is this: “You shall love the Lord your God” (Matthew 22:37). But how will they conclude [their argument] from this that love justifies? They say, “The greatest virtue justifies.” By no means! For just as the greatest, or first, Law does not justify, so also the Law’s greatest virtue does not justify. But the virtue that justifies receives Christ, which brings to us Christ’s merits, by which we receive grace and peace from God. This virtue is faith. As it has often been said, faith is not just knowledge. But it is willing to receive or take hold of those things that are offered in the promise about Christ. Furthermore, this obedience toward God (i.e., to want to receive the offered promise) is no less a divine service (latreia) than is love. God wants us to believe Him and to receive from Him blessings. He declares this to be true divine service.

V (III) 104–107 [225–228]

We believe, teach, and confess that the contrition that comes before justification, and the good works that follow it, do not belong to the article of justification before God. Yet one is not to imagine a kind of faith that can exist and abide with, and alongside of, a wicked intention to sin and to act against the conscience. But after man has been justified through faith, then a true living faith works by love (Galatians 5:6). Good works always follow justifying faith and are surely found with it—if it is true and living faith [James 2:26]. Faith is never alone, but always has love and hope with it [1 Corinthians 13:13].

Solomon's Prayer for Wisdom

“Ask what I shall give you.” <sup>6</sup> And Solomon said, “You have shown great and steadfast love to your servant David my father, because he walked before you in faithfulness, in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart toward you. And you have kept for him this great and steadfast love and have given him a son to sit on his throne this day. <sup>7</sup> And now, O LORD my God, you have made your servant king in place of David my father, although I am but a little child. I do not know how to go out or come in. <sup>8</sup> And your servant is in the midst of your people whom you have chosen, a great people, too many to be numbered or counted for multitude. <sup>9</sup> Give your servant therefore an understanding mind to govern your people, that I may discern between good and evil, for who is able to govern this your great people?”

<sup>10</sup> It pleased the Lord that Solomon had asked this. <sup>11</sup> And God said to him, “Because you have asked this, and have not asked for yourself long life or riches or the life of your enemies, but have asked for yourself understanding to discern what is right, <sup>12</sup> behold, I now do according to your word. Behold, I give you a wise and discerning mind, so that none like you has been before you and none like you shall arise after you. <sup>13</sup> I give you also what you have not asked, both riches and honor, so that no other king shall compare with you, all your days. <sup>14</sup> And if you will walk in my ways, keeping my statutes and my commandments, as your father David walked, then I will lengthen your days.”

<sup>15</sup> And Solomon awoke, and behold, it was a dream. Then he came to Jerusalem and stood before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and offered up burnt offerings and peace offerings, and made a feast for all his servants.

Greeting

<sup>1</sup>Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

To the church of God that is at Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia:

<sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

God of All Comfort

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, <sup>4</sup>who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. <sup>5</sup>For as we share abundantly in Christ’s sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too. <sup>6</sup>If we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; and if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which you experience when you patiently endure the same sufferings that we suffer. <sup>7</sup>Our hope for you is unshaken, for we know that as you share in our sufferings, you will also share in our comfort.

<sup>8</sup>For we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers, of the affliction we experienced in Asia. For we were so utterly burdened beyond our strength that we despaired of life itself. <sup>9</sup>Indeed, we felt that we had received the sentence of death. But that was to make us rely not on ourselves but on God who raises the dead. <sup>10</sup>He delivered us from such a deadly peril, and he will deliver us. On him we have set our hope that he will deliver us again. <sup>11</sup>You also must help us by prayer, so that many will give thanks on our behalf for the blessing granted us through the prayers of many.

Paul’s Change of Plans

<sup>12</sup>For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you. <sup>13</sup>For we are not writing to you anything other than what you read and acknowledge and I hope you will fully acknowledge—<sup>14</sup>just as you did partially acknowledge us—that on the day of our Lord Jesus you will boast of us as we will boast of you.

<sup>15</sup>Because I was sure of this, I wanted to come to you first, so that you might have a second experience of grace. <sup>16</sup>I wanted to visit you on my way to Macedonia, and to come back to you from Macedonia and have you send me on my way to Judea. <sup>17</sup>Was I vacillating when I wanted to do this? Do I make my plans according to the flesh, ready to say “Yes, yes” and “No, no” at the same time? <sup>18</sup>As surely as God is faithful, our word to you has not been Yes and No. <sup>19</sup>For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, whom we proclaimed among you, Silvanus and Timothy and I, was not Yes and No, but in him it is always Yes. <sup>20</sup>For all the promises of God find their Yes in him. That is why it is through him that we utter our Amen to God for his glory. <sup>21</sup>And it is God who establishes us with you in Christ, and has anointed us, <sup>22</sup>and who has also put his seal on us and given us his Spirit in our hearts as a guarantee.

Writing

Blessed is He who, because He esteemed us with His overflowing love, sent us His beloved Son, in whom He was well pleased, so that we, reconciled through the Son, might have peace with Him, and so that the Son might be both our Mediator and the Guarantee of this reconciliation. It's not that we, my brothers, feel anxious under such a devoted Mediator. Neither do we doubt such a trustworthy Surety. But what sort of mediator, you will ask, is born in a stable, is put in a manger, is wrapped in swaddling clothes like the others, cries like others, and finally is laid to rest just like other babies? A thoroughly great Mediator, who brings about not a perfunctory, but an effectual peace through all of these things!

He is indeed a baby, but He is also the Word, who is not silent even in His infancy, but says, as our Emmanuel, "God with us," "Comfort, comfort my people" (Isaiah 40:1). The stable shouts this message, and so do the manger, the tears and the swaddling clothes. The stable cries out that we can trust the One who cares for us like the man who fell among robbers on the road to Jericho was cared for (Luke 10:30). The manger proclaims that the same man who was compared to steeds (Psalm 68:18) was fed with fodder as a baby. The tears and the swaddling clothes declare that we are washed and cleansed by the cruel wounds of this same person. For Christ did not undergo any of these things for Himself; He endured them all for us. . . .

Let us therefore revere Him in the manger, on the cross, at the sepulchre. We devoutly receive the One who tenderly shed blood for us, grew pale for us, and was buried for us. We lovingly adore Him together with the Magi, and we embrace our infant Savior in the temple together with holy Simeon, as our Mercy. For Christ is indeed the one about whom we read: "the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting" (Psalm 103:17).

—Bernard of Clairvaux

Hymnody

Should some lust or sharp temptation
Fascinate my sinful mind,
Draw me to Your cross and passion,
And new courage I shall find.
Or should Satan press me hard,
Let me then be on my guard,
Saying, "Christ for me was wounded,"
That the tempter flee confounded.

—Jesus, Grant That Balm and Healing
(LSB 421:2)

Prayer of the Day

O Lord, Father of all mercy and God of all comfort, You always go before and follow after us. Grant that we may rejoice in Your gracious presence and continually be given to all good works; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Preparations for Building the Temple

my God has given me rest on every side.

There is neither adversary nor misfortune.

<sup>5</sup>And so I intend to build a house for the name of the LORD my God, as the LORD said to David my father, ‘Your son, whom I will set on your throne in your place, shall build the house for my name.’ <sup>6</sup>Now therefore command that cedars of Lebanon be cut for me. And my servants will join your servants, and I will pay you for your servants such wages as you set, for you know that there is no one among us who knows how to cut timber like the Sidonians.”

<sup>7</sup>As soon as Hiram heard the words of Solomon, he rejoiced greatly and said, “Blessed be the LORD this day, who has given to David a wise son to be over this great people.” <sup>8</sup>And Hiram sent to Solomon, saying, “I have heard the message that you have sent to me. I am ready to do all you desire in the matter of cedar and cypress timber. <sup>9</sup>My servants shall bring it down to the sea from Lebanon, and I will make it into rafts to go by sea to the place you direct. And I will have them broken up there, and you shall receive it. And you shall meet my wishes by providing food for my household.”

<sup>13</sup>King Solomon drafted forced labor out of all Israel, and the draft numbered 30,000 men. <sup>14</sup>And he sent them to Lebanon, 10,000 a month in shifts. They would be a month in Lebanon and two months at home. Adoniram was in charge of the draft. <sup>15</sup>Solomon also had 70,000 burden-bearers and 80,000 stonecutters in the hill country, <sup>16</sup>besides Solomon's 3,300 chief officers who were over the work, who had charge of the people who carried on the work. <sup>17</sup>At the king's command they quarried out great, costly stones in order to lay the foundation of the house with dressed stones. <sup>18</sup>So Solomon's builders and Hiram's builders and the men of Gebal did the cutting and prepared the timber and the stone to build the house.

<sup>23</sup>But I call God to witness against me—it was to spare you that I refrained from coming again to Corinth. <sup>24</sup>Not that we lord it over your faith, but we work with you for your joy, for you stand firm in your faith.

<sup>21</sup>For I made up my mind not to make another painful visit to you. <sup>2</sup>For if I cause you pain, who is there to make me glad but the one whom I have pained? <sup>3</sup>And I wrote as I did, so that when I came I might not suffer pain from those who should have made me rejoice, for I felt sure of all of you, that my joy would be the joy of you all. <sup>4</sup>For I wrote to you out of much affliction and anguish of heart and with many tears, not to cause you pain but to let you know the abundant love that I have for you.

Forgive the Sinner

<sup>5</sup>Now if anyone has caused pain, he has caused it not to me, but in some measure—not to put it too severely—to all of you. <sup>6</sup>For such a one, this punishment

by the majority is enough, <sup>7</sup>so you should rather turn to forgive and comfort him, or he may be overwhelmed by excessive sorrow. <sup>8</sup>So I beg you to reaffirm your love for him. <sup>9</sup>For this is why I wrote, that I might test you and know whether you are obedient in everything. <sup>10</sup>Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. Indeed, what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, <sup>11</sup>so that we would not be outwitted by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his designs.

Triumph in Christ

<sup>12</sup>When I came to Troas to preach the gospel of Christ, even though a door was opened for me in the Lord, <sup>13</sup>my spirit was not at rest because I did not find my brother Titus there. So I took leave of them and went on to Macedonia.

<sup>14</sup>But thanks be to God, who in Christ always leads us in triumphal procession, and through us spreads the fragrance of the knowledge of him everywhere. <sup>15</sup>For we are the aroma of Christ to God among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing, <sup>16</sup>to one a fragrance from death to death, to the other a fragrance from life to life. Who is sufficient for these things? <sup>17</sup>For we are not, like so many, peddlers of God's word, but as men of sincerity, as commissioned by God, in the sight of God we speak in Christ.

Writing

[C]onsider by [St. Paul's] example how important a matter is the care of souls . . . The manifold character of his ministry? Consider his loving-kindness and, on the other hand, his strictness and the combination and blending of the two in such way that his gentleness should not weaken nor his severity exasperate. . . . On behalf of some he gives thanks; others he upbraids. Some he names his joy and crown; others he charges with folly. Some who hold a straight course he accompanies, sharing in their zeal; others who are going wrong he checks. At one time he excommunicates; at another he confirms his love. At one time he grieves; at another rejoices. At one time he feeds with milk; at another he handles mysteries. At one time he condescends; at another he raises to his own level. At one time he threatens a rod; at another he offers the spirit of meekness. At one time he is haughty toward the lofty; at another lowly toward the lowly. Now he is least of the apostles, now he offers a proof of Christ speaking in him; now he longs for departure and is being poured forth as a libation, now he thinks it more necessary for their sakes to abide in the flesh. For he seeks not his own interests, but those of his children whom he has begotten in Christ by the Gospel. This is the aim of all his spiritual authority, in everything to neglect his own in comparison with the advantage of others.

St Bartholomew, Apostle

St. Bartholomew (or Nathanael, as he is called in St. John's Gospel) was one of the first of Jesus' twelve disciples. His home was in the town of Cana, in Galilee (John 21:2), where Jesus' performed His first miracle. He was invited to become one of the Twelve by Philip, who told him that they had found the Messiah in the person of Jesus of Nazareth. (John 1:45). His initial hesitation to believe, because of Jesus' Nazareth background, was quickly replaced by a clear, unequivocal declaration of faith, "You are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel!" (John 1:49). He was present with the other disciples (John 21:1–13) when they were privileged to see and converse and eat with their risen Lord and Savior. According to some Early Church Fathers, Bartholomew brought the Gospel to Armenia, where he was martyred by being flayed alive.

[The Temple Furnishings]

did on the house of the LORD was finished.
And Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, the silver, the gold, and the vessels, and stored them in the treasuries of the house of the LORD.

The Ark Brought into the Temple

<sup>8:1</sup> Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the heads of the tribes, the leaders of the fathers' houses of the people of Israel, before King Solomon in Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of David, which is Zion.
<sup>2</sup> And all the men of Israel assembled to King Solomon at the feast in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month. <sup>3</sup> And all the elders of Israel came, and the priests took up the ark. <sup>4</sup> And they brought up the ark of the LORD, the tent of meeting, and all the holy vessels that were in the tent; the priests and the Levites brought them up. <sup>5</sup> And King Solomon and all the congregation of Israel, who had assembled before him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing so many sheep and oxen that they could not be counted or numbered. <sup>6</sup> Then the priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place in the inner sanctuary of the house, in the Most Holy Place, underneath the wings of the cherubim. <sup>7</sup> For the cherubim spread out their wings over the place of the ark, so that the cherubim overshadowed the ark and its poles. <sup>8</sup> And the poles were so long that the ends of the poles were seen from the Holy Place before the inner sanctuary; but they could not be seen from outside. And they are there to this day. <sup>9</sup> There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets of stone that Moses put there at Horeb, where the LORD made a covenant with the people of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt. <sup>10</sup> And when the priests came out of the Holy Place, a cloud filled the house of the LORD, <sup>11</sup> so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, for the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD.

Solomon Blesses the LORD

<sup>12</sup>Then Solomon said, “The LORD has said that he would dwell in thick darkness. <sup>13</sup>I have indeed built you an exalted house, a place for you to dwell in forever.” <sup>14</sup>Then the king turned around and blessed all the assembly of Israel, while all the assembly of Israel stood. <sup>15</sup>And he said, “Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who with his hand has fulfilled what he promised with his mouth to David my father, saying, <sup>16</sup>‘Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no city out of all the tribes of Israel in which to build a house, that my name might be there. But I chose David to be over my people Israel.’ <sup>17</sup>Now it was in the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>18</sup>But the LORD said to David my father, ‘Whereas it was in your heart to build a house for my name, you did well that it was in your heart. <sup>19</sup>Nevertheless, you shall not build the house, but your son who shall be born to you shall build the house for my name.’ <sup>20</sup>Now the LORD has fulfilled his promise that he made. For I have risen in the place of David my father, and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised, and I have built the house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>21</sup>And there I have provided a place for the ark, in which is the covenant of the LORD that he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.”

New Testament Reading: 2 Corinthians 3:1–18

Ministers of the New Covenant

do, letters of recommendation to you, or from you? <sup>2</sup>You yourselves are our letter of recommendation, written on our hearts, to be known and read by all. <sup>3</sup>And you show that you are a letter from Christ delivered by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts.

<sup>4</sup>Such is the confidence that we have through Christ toward God. <sup>5</sup>Not that we are sufficient in ourselves to claim anything as coming from us, but our sufficiency is from God, <sup>6</sup>who has made us competent to be ministers of a new covenant, not of the letter but of the Spirit. For the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.

<sup>7</sup>Now if the ministry of death, carved in letters on stone, came with such glory that the Israelites could not gaze at Moses' face because of its glory, which was being brought to an end, <sup>8</sup>will not the ministry of the Spirit have even more glory? <sup>9</sup>For if there was glory in the ministry of condemnation, the ministry of righteousness must far exceed it in glory. <sup>10</sup>Indeed, in this case, what once had glory has come to have no glory at all, because of the glory that surpasses it. <sup>11</sup>For if what was being brought to an end came with glory, much more will what is permanent have glory.

<sup>12</sup>Since we have such a hope, we are very bold, <sup>13</sup>not like Moses, who would put a veil over his face so that the Israelites might not gaze at the outcome of what was being brought to an end. <sup>14</sup>But their minds were hardened. For to this day, when they read the old covenant, that same veil remains unlifted, because only through Christ is it taken away. <sup>15</sup>Yes, to this day whenever Moses is read a veil lies over their hearts. <sup>16</sup>But when one turns to the Lord, the veil is removed.

<sup>17</sup>Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. <sup>18</sup>And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit.

Writing

These two doctrines, we believe and confess, should always be diligently taught in God's Church forever, even to the end of the world. They must be taught with the proper distinction of which we have heard: (a) through the preaching of the Law and its threats in the ministry of the New Testament the hearts of impenitent people may be terrified, and (b) they may be brought to a knowledge of their sins and to repentance. This must not be done in such a way that they lose heart and despair in this process. "So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith" (Galatians 3:24); so the Law points and leads us not from Christ, but to Christ, who "is the end of the law" (Romans 10:4). People must be comforted and strengthened again by the preaching of the Holy Gospel about Christ, our Lord. In other words, to those who believe the Gospel, God forgives all their sins through Christ, adopts them as children for His sake, and out of pure grace—without any merit on their part—justifies and saves them. However, He does not do this in such a way that they may abuse God's grace and may sin hoping for grace [Romans 6:1]. Paul thoroughly and forcefully shows this in the distinction between the Law and the Gospel (2 Corinthians 3:6–9).

Prayer of the Day

O God, You resist the proud and give grace to the humble. Grant us true humility after the likeness of Your only Son that we may never be arrogant and prideful and thus provoke Your wrath but in all lowliness be made partakers of the gifts of Your grace; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (216)

Solomon's Prayer of Dedication

<sup>22</sup>Then Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the assembly of Israel and spread out his hands toward heaven, <sup>23</sup>and said, "O LORD, God of Israel, there is no God like you, in heaven above or on earth beneath, keeping covenant and showing steadfast love to your servants who walk before you with all their heart, <sup>24</sup>who have kept with your servant David my father what you declared to him. You spoke with your mouth, and with your hand have fulfilled it this day. <sup>25</sup>Now therefore, O LORD, God of Israel, keep for your servant David my father what you have promised him, saying, 'You shall not lack a man to sit before me on the throne of Israel, if only your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk before me as you have walked before me.'<sup>26</sup>Now therefore, O God of Israel, let your word be confirmed, which you have spoken to your servant David my father.

house that I have built! <sup>28</sup>Yet have regard to the prayer of your servant and to his plea, O LORD my God, listening to the cry and to the prayer that your servant prays before you this day, <sup>29</sup>that your eyes may be open night and day toward this house, the place of which you have said, 'My name shall be there,' that you may listen to the prayer that your servant offers toward this place. <sup>30</sup>And listen to the plea of your servant and of your people Israel, when they pray toward this place. And listen in heaven your dwelling place, and when you hear, forgive. . . .

<sup>46</sup>"If they sin against you—for there is no one who does not sin—and you are angry with them and give them to an enemy, so that they are carried away captive to the land of the enemy, far off or near, <sup>47</sup>yet if they turn their heart in the land to which they have been carried captive, and repent and plead with you in the land of their captors, saying, 'We have sinned and have acted perversely and wickedly,'<sup>48</sup>if they repent with all their mind and with all their heart in the land of their enemies, who carried them captive, and pray to you toward their land, which you gave to their fathers, the city that you have chosen, and the house that I have built for your name, <sup>49</sup>then hear in heaven your dwelling place their prayer and their plea, and maintain their cause <sup>50</sup>and forgive your people who have sinned against you, and all their transgressions that they have committed against you, and grant them compassion in the sight of those who carried them captive, that they may have compassion on them <sup>51</sup>(for they are your people, and your heritage, which you brought out of Egypt, from the midst of the iron furnace). <sup>52</sup>Let your eyes be open to the plea of your servant and to the plea of your people Israel, giving ear to them whenever they call to you. <sup>53</sup>For you separated them from among all the peoples of the earth to be your heritage, as you declared through Moses your servant, when you brought our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God.”

Solomon's Benediction

<sup>54</sup>Now as Solomon finished offering all this prayer and plea to the Lord, he arose from before the altar of the LORD, where he had knelt with hands outstretched toward heaven. <sup>55</sup>And he stood and blessed all the assembly of Israel with a loud voice, saying, <sup>56</sup>“Blessed be the LORD who has given rest to his people Israel, according to all that he promised. Not one word has failed of all his good promise, which he spoke by Moses his servant. <sup>57</sup>The LORD our God be with us, as he was with our fathers. May he not leave us or forsake us, <sup>58</sup>that he may incline our hearts to him, to walk in all his ways and to keep his commandments, his statutes, and his rules, which he commanded our fathers. <sup>59</sup>Let these words of mine, with which I have pleaded before the LORD, be near to the LORD our God day and night, and may he maintain the cause of his servant and the cause of his people Israel, as each day requires, <sup>60</sup>that all the peoples of the earth may know that the LORD is God; there is no other. <sup>61</sup>Let your heart therefore be wholly true to the LORD our God, walking in his statutes and keeping his commandments, as at this day.”

Solomon's Sacrifices

<sup>62</sup>Then the king, and all Israel with him, offered sacrifice before the LORD. <sup>63</sup>Solomon offered as peace offerings to the LORD 22,000 oxen and 120,000 sheep. So the king and all the people of Israel dedicated the house of the LORD.

New Testament Reading: 2 Corinthians 4:1–18

The Light of the Gospel

<sup>1</sup>Therefore, having this ministry by the mercy of God, we do not lose heart. <sup>2</sup>But we have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways. We refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to everyone's conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup>And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled only to those who are perishing. <sup>4</sup>In their case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. <sup>5</sup>For what we proclaim is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, with ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake. <sup>6</sup>For God, who said, “Let light shine out of darkness,” has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

Treasure in Jars of Clay

<sup>7</sup>But we have this treasure in jars of clay, to show that the surpassing power belongs to God and not to us. <sup>8</sup>We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; <sup>9</sup>persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; <sup>10</sup>always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. <sup>11</sup>For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh. <sup>12</sup>So death is at work in us, but life in you.

<sup>13</sup>Since we have the same spirit of faith according to what has been written, “I believed, and so I spoke,” we also believe, and so we also speak, <sup>14</sup>knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence. <sup>15</sup>For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God.

<sup>16</sup>So we do not lose heart. Though our outer self is wasting away, our inner self is being renewed day by day. <sup>17</sup>For this light momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, <sup>18</sup>as we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen. For the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal.

Writing

Great and grievous, indeed, are these dangers and temptations, which every Christian must bear. We bear them even though each one were alone by himself. So every hour that we are in this vile life, we are attacked on all sides [2 Corinthians 4:8], chased and hunted down. We are moved to cry out and to pray that God would not allow us to become weary and faint [Isaiah 40:31; Hebrews 12:3] and to fall again into sin, shame, and unbelief. For otherwise it is impossible to overcome even the least temptation.

We Christians must be armed [Ephesians 6:10–18] and daily expect to be constantly attacked. No one may go on in security and carelessly, as though the devil were far from us. At all times we must expect and block his blows. Though I am now chaste, patient, kind, and in firm faith, the devil will this very hour send such an arrow into my heart that I can scarcely stand. For he is an enemy that never stops or becomes tired. So when one temptation stops, there always arise others and fresh ones.

So there is no help or comfort except to run here, take hold of the Lord’s Prayer, and speak to God from the heart like this: “Dear Father, You have asked me to pray. Don’t let me fall because of temptations.” Then you will see that the temptations must stop and finally confess themselves conquered. If you try to help yourself by your own thoughts and counsel, you will only make the matter worse and give the devil more space. For he has a serpent’s head [Revelation 12:9]. If it finds an opening into which it can slip, the whole body will follow without stopping. But prayer can prevent him and drive him back.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, always more ready to hear than we to pray and to give more than we either desire or deserve, pour down upon us the abundance of Your mercy, forgiving those things of which our conscience is afraid and giving us those good things that we are not worthy to ask, except through the merits and mediation of Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Old Testament Reading: 1 Kings 9:1–9; 10:1–13

The Lord Appears to Solomon

building the house of the LORD and the king's house and all that Solomon desired to build, <sup>2</sup>the LORD appeared to Solomon a second time, as he had appeared to him at Gibeon. <sup>3</sup>And the LORD said to him, "I have heard your prayer and your plea, which you have made before me. I have consecrated this house that you have built, by putting my name there forever. My eyes and my heart will be there for all time. <sup>4</sup>And as for you, if you will walk before me, as David your father walked, with integrity of heart and uprightness, doing according to all that I have commanded you, and keeping my statutes and my rules, <sup>5</sup>then I will establish your royal throne over Israel forever, as I promised David your father, saying, 'You shall not lack a man on the throne of Israel.'

<sup>6</sup>But if you turn aside from following me, you or your children, and do not keep my commandments and my statutes that I have set before you, but go and serve other gods and worship them, <sup>7</sup>then I will cut off Israel from the land that I have given them, and the house that I have consecrated for my name I will cast out of my sight, and Israel will become a proverb and a byword among all peoples. <sup>8</sup>And this house will become a heap of ruins. Everyone passing by it will be astonished and will hiss, and they will say, 'Why has the LORD done thus to this land and to this house?' <sup>9</sup>Then they will say,
'Because they abandoned the LORD their God who brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt and laid hold on other gods and worshipped them and served them. Therefore the LORD has brought all this disaster on them.'"

The Queen of Sheba

<sup>10:1</sup>Now when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon concerning the name of the LORD, she came to test him with hard questions. <sup>2</sup>She came to Jerusalem with a very great retinue, with camels bearing spices and very much gold and precious stones. And when she came to Solomon, she told him all that was on her mind. <sup>3</sup>And Solomon answered all her questions; there was nothing hidden from the king that he could not explain to her. <sup>4</sup>And when the queen of Sheba had seen all the wisdom of Solomon, the house that he had built, <sup>5</sup>the food of his table, the seating of his officials, and the attendance of his servants, their clothing, his cupbearers, and his burnt offerings that he offered at the house of the LORD, there was no more breath in her.

<sup>6</sup>And she said to the king, “The report was true that I heard in my own land of your words and of your wisdom, <sup>7</sup>but I did not believe the reports until I came and my own eyes had seen it. And behold, the half was not told me. Your wisdom and prosperity surpass the report that I heard. <sup>8</sup>Happy are your men! Happy are your servants, who continually stand before you and hear your wisdom! <sup>9</sup>Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delighted in you and set you on the throne of Israel! Because the LORD loved Israel forever, he has made you king, that you may execute justice and righteousness.” <sup>10</sup>Then she gave the king 120 talents of gold, and a very great quantity of spices and precious stones. Never again came such an abundance of spices as these that the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

<sup>11</sup>Moreover, the fleet of Hiram, which brought gold from Ophir, brought from Ophir a very great amount of almug wood and precious stones. <sup>12</sup>And the king made of the almug wood supports for the house of the LORD and for the king’s house, also lyres and harps for the singers. No such almug wood has come or been seen to this day.

<sup>13</sup>And King Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all that she desired, whatever she asked besides what was given her by the bounty of King Solomon. So she turned and went back to her own land with her servants.

New Testament Reading:
2 Corinthians 5:1–21

Our Heavenly Dwelling

<sup>1</sup>For we know that if the tent that is our earthly home is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. <sup>2</sup>For in this tent we groan, longing to put on our heavenly dwelling, <sup>3</sup>if indeed by putting it on we may not be found naked. <sup>4</sup>For while we are still in this tent, we groan, being burdened—not that we would be unclothed, but that we would be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. <sup>5</sup>He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who has given us the Spirit as a guarantee.

<sup>6</sup>So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, <sup>7</sup>for we walk by faith, not by sight. <sup>8</sup>Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. <sup>9</sup>So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. <sup>10</sup>For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil.

The Ministry of Reconciliation

<sup>11</sup>Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. <sup>12</sup>We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. <sup>13</sup>For if we are beside ourselves, it is for God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you. <sup>14</sup>For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; <sup>15</sup>and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised.

<sup>16</sup>From now on, therefore, we regard no one according to the flesh. Even though we once regarded Christ according to the flesh, we regard him thus no longer. <sup>17</sup>Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. <sup>18</sup>All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; <sup>19</sup>that is, in Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. <sup>20</sup>Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. <sup>21</sup>For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.

Writing

(Monica) was brought up in modesty and sobriety. She was made by You obedient to her parents rather than by them to You. When she reached marriageable age, she was given to a man and served him as lord. She tried to win him for You, speaking to him of You by her virtues through which You made her beautiful, so that her husband loved, respected and admired her. She bore with his infidelities and never had a quarrel with her husband on this account. For she looked forward to Your mercy coming upon him, in hope that, as he came to believe in You, he might become chaste. . . .

Another gift with which You endowed that good servant of Yours, in whose womb You created me, my God, my mercy (Ps. 58:18), was that whenever she could, she reconciled dissident and quarrelling people. She showed herself so great a peacemaker that when she heard from both sides many bitter things, Monica would never reveal to one anything about the other unless it might help to reconcile them. . . .

At the end, when her husband had reached the end of his life in time, she succeeded in gaining him for You. After he was a baptized believer, she had no cause to complain of his behavior, which she had tolerated in one not yet a believer. She was also a servant of Your servants: any of them who knew her found much to praise in her, held her in honor, and loved her, for they felt Your presence in her heart, witnessed by the fruits of her holy way of life. She had “testimony to her good works” (1 Timothy 5:10). She had brought up her children, enduring travail as often as she saw them wandering away from You. Lastly, Lord—by Your gift You allow me to speak for Your servants, for before her falling asleep we were bound together in community in You after receiving the grace of Baptism—she exercised care for everybody as if they were all her own children. She served all as if she was a daughter to all of us.

Monica, Mother of Augustine

A native of North Africa, Monica (AD 333–387) was the devoted mother of St. Augustine. Throughout her life, she sought the spiritual welfare of her children, especially that of her brilliant son Augustine. Widowed at a young age, she devoted herself to her family, praying many years for Augustine's conversion. When Augustine left North Africa to go to Italy, she followed him to Rome and then to Milan. There she had the joy of witnessing her son's conversion to the Christian faith. Weakened by her travels, Monica died at Ostia, Italy, on the journey she had hoped would take her back to her native Africa. On some Church Year calendars, Monica is remembered on May 4.

Solomon Turns from the Lord

<sup>1</sup>Now King Solomon loved many foreign women, along with the daughter of Pharaoh: Moabite, Ammonite, Edomite, Sidonian, and Hittite women, <sup>2</sup>from the nations concerning which the LORD had said to the people of Israel, “You shall not enter into marriage with them, neither shall they with you, for surely they will turn away your heart after their gods.” Solomon clung to these in love. <sup>3</sup>He had 700 wives, princesses, and 300 concubines. And his wives turned away his heart. <sup>4</sup>For when Solomon was old his wives turned away his heart after other gods, and his heart was not wholly true to the LORD his God, as was the heart of David his father. <sup>5</sup>For Solomon went after Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites. <sup>6</sup>So Solomon did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and did not wholly follow the LORD, as David his father had done. <sup>7</sup>Then Solomon built a high place for Chemosh the abomination of Moab, and for Molech the abomination of the Ammonites, on the mountain east of Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup>And so he did for all his foreign wives, who made offerings and sacrificed to their gods.

The LORD Raises Adversaries

<sup>9</sup>And the LORD was angry with Solomon, because his heart had turned away from the LORD, the God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice <sup>10</sup>and had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods. But he did not keep what the LORD commanded. <sup>11</sup>Therefore the LORD said to Solomon, “Since this has been your practice and you have not kept my covenant and my statutes that I have commanded you,

I will surely tear the kingdom from you and will give it to your servant. <sup>12</sup>Yet for the sake of David your father I will not do it in your days, but I will tear it out of the hand of your son. <sup>13</sup>However, I will not tear away all the kingdom, but I will give one tribe to your son, for the sake of David my servant and for the sake of Jerusalem that I have chosen.”

<sup>14</sup>And the LORD raised up an adversary against Solomon, Hadad the Edomite. He was of the royal house in Edom. <sup>15</sup>For when David was in Edom, and Joab the commander of the army went up to bury the slain, he struck down every male in Edom <sup>16</sup>(for Joab and all Israel remained there six months, until he had cut off every male in Edom). <sup>17</sup>But Hadad fled to Egypt, together with certain Edomites of his father’s servants, Hadad still being a little child. <sup>18</sup>They set out from Midian and came to Paran and took men with them from Paran and came to Egypt, to Pharaoh king of Egypt, who gave him a house and assigned him an allowance of food and gave him land. <sup>19</sup>And Hadad found great favor in the sight of Pharaoh, so that he gave him in marriage the sister of his own wife, the sister of Tahpenes the queen. <sup>20</sup>And the sister of Tahpenes bore him Genubath his son, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaoh’s house. And Genubath was in Pharaoh’s house among the sons of Pharaoh. <sup>21</sup>But when Hadad heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers and that Joab the commander of the army was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, “Let me depart, that I may go to my own country.” <sup>22</sup>But Pharaoh said to him, “What have you lacked with me that you are now seeking to go to your own country?” And he said to him, “Only let me depart.”

<sup>23</sup>God also raised up as an adversary to him, Rezon the son of Eliada, who had fled from his master Hadadezer king of Zobah. <sup>24</sup>And he gathered men about him and became leader of a marauding band, after the killing by David. And they went to Damascus and lived there and made him king in Damascus. <sup>25</sup>He was an adversary of Israel all the days of Solomon, doing harm as Hadad did. And he loathed Israel and reigned over Syria.

New Testament Reading: 2 Corinthians 6:1–18

[The Ministry of Reconciliation]

<sup>1</sup>Working together with him, then, we appeal to you not to receive the grace of God in vain. <sup>2</sup>For he says,

“In a favorable time I listened to you,
and in a day of salvation
I have helped you.”

Behold, now is the favorable time; behold, now is the day of salvation. <sup>3</sup>We put no obstacle in anyone's way, so that no fault may be found with our ministry, <sup>4</sup>but as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: by great endurance, in afflictions, hardships, calamities, <sup>5</sup>beatings, imprisonments, riots, labors, sleepless nights, hunger; <sup>6</sup>by purity, knowledge, patience, kindness, the Holy Spirit, genuine love; <sup>7</sup>by truthful speech, and the power of God; with the weapons of righteousness for the right hand and for the left; <sup>8</sup>through honor and dishonor, through slander and praise. We are treated as impostors, and yet are true; <sup>9</sup>as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and behold, we live; as punished, and yet not killed; <sup>10</sup>as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, yet possessing everything.

<sup>11</sup>We have spoken freely to you, Corinthians; our heart is wide open. <sup>12</sup>You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted in your own affections. <sup>13</sup>In return (I speak as to children) widen your hearts also.

The Temple of the Living God

<sup>14</sup>Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? <sup>15</sup>What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? <sup>16</sup>What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said,

“I will make my dwelling among them
and walk among them,
and I will be their God,
and they shall be my people.

and be separate from them,
says the Lord,

and touch no unclean thing;
then I will welcome you,

<sup>18</sup>and I will be a father to you,
and you shall be sons and daughters
to me,
says the Lord Almighty.”

Writing

The prophet says, “Come out from among them, and touch no unclean thing,” [Isaiah 52:11]. I also cry out and say to you, “Come out from among them, and touch not the unclean thing,” but with the touch of the heart, not of the body. For what is it to “touch the unclean thing” but to consent to sin? And what is it to “come out from among them” but to rebuke the wicked, as far as can be done, according to each person’s grade and condition, with the maintenance of peace? If you are displeased at a man’s sin, then you have not “touched the unclean thing.” If you have reprov’d, rebuked, admonished him, and have administered, if the case required it, a suitable discipline that does not violate unity, then you have “come out from among them.” . . .

How many and vehement rebukes did Jeremiah preach against the sinners and wicked ones of his people. Yet he lived among them, he entered into the same temple with them, celebrated the same mysteries; he lived in that congregation of wicked men, but by his preaching “he came out from among them.” This is what it means “to come out from among them”; this is what it means to not “touch the unclean thing.” It means not consenting to them in will and not sparing them in word. I say this of Jeremiah, of Isaiah, of Daniel, and Ezekiel, and the rest of the prophets, who did not retire from the wicked people, lest they should desert the good who were mingled with that people.

—Augustine

Prayer of the Day

O Lord God, the light of the minds that know You, the life of the souls that love You, and the strength of the hearts that serve You, give us strength to follow the example of Your servant Augustine of Hippo, so that knowing You we may truly love You and loving You we may fully serve You—for to serve You is perfect freedom; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Augustine of Hippo, Pastor and Theologian

Augustine was one of the greatest of the Latin Church Fathers and a significant influence in the formation of Western Christianity, including Lutheranism. Born in AD 354 in North Africa, Augustine’s early life was distinguished by exceptional advancement as a teacher of rhetoric. In his book Confessions he describes his life before his conversion to Christianity, when he was drawn into the moral laxity of the day and fathered an illegitimate son. Through the devotion of his sainted mother, Monica, and the preaching of Ambrose, bishop of Milan (AD 339–97), Augustine was converted to the Christian faith. During the great Pelagian controversies of the fifth century, Augustine emphasized the unilateral grace of God in the salvation of mankind. Bishop and theologian at Hippo in North Africa from AD 395 until his death in AD 430, Augustine was a man of great intelligence, a fierce defender of the orthodox faith, and a prolific writer. In addition to Confessions, Augustine’s book City of God had a great impact upon the Church throughout the Middle Ages and Renaissance.

Old Testament Reading:
1 Kings 11:42–12:9

<sup>42</sup>And the time that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel was forty years.
<sup>43</sup>And Solomon slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David his father. And Rehoboam his son reigned in his place.

Rehoboam’s Folly

<sup>12:1</sup>Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king. <sup>2</sup>And as soon as Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard of it (for he was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon), then Jeroboam returned from Egypt. <sup>3</sup>And they sent and called him, and Jeroboam and all the assembly of Israel came and said to Rehoboam, <sup>4</sup>“Your father made our yoke heavy. Now therefore lighten the hard service of your father and his heavy yoke on us, and we will serve you.” <sup>5</sup>He said to them, “Go away for three days, then come again to me.”
So the people went away.

the old men, who had stood before Solomon his father while he was yet alive, saying, “How do you advise me to answer this people?” <sup>7</sup>And they said to him, “If you will be a servant to this people today and serve them,
and speak good words to them when you answer them, then they will be your servants forever.” <sup>8</sup>But he abandoned the counsel that the old men gave him and took counsel with the young men who had grown up with him and stood before him. <sup>9</sup>And he said to them, “What do you advise that we answer this people who have said to me, ‘Lighten the yoke that your father put on us?’”

New Testament Reading: 2 Corinthians 7:1–16

<sup>1</sup>Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God.

Paul's Joy

<sup>2</sup>Make room in your hearts for us. We have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, we have taken advantage of no one. <sup>3</sup>I do not say this to condemn you, for I said before that you are in our hearts, to die together and to live together. <sup>4</sup>I am acting with great boldness toward you; I have great pride in you; I am filled with comfort. In all our affliction, I am overflowing with joy.

<sup>5</sup>For even when we came into Macedonia, our bodies had no rest, but we were afflicted at every turn—fighting without and fear within. <sup>6</sup>But God, who comforts the downcast, comforted us by the coming of Titus, <sup>7</sup>and not only by his coming but also by the comfort with which he was comforted by you, as he told us of your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced still more. <sup>8</sup>For even if I made you grieve with my letter, I do not regret it—though I did regret it, for I see that that letter grieved you, though only for a while. <sup>9</sup>As it is, I rejoice, not because you were grieved, but because you were grieved into repenting. For you felt a godly grief, so that you suffered no loss through us.

At every point you have proved yourselves innocent in the matter. <sup>12</sup>So although I wrote to you, it was not for the sake of the one who did the wrong, nor for the sake of the one who suffered the wrong, but in order that your earnestness for us might be revealed to you in the sight of God. <sup>13</sup>Therefore we are comforted.

And besides our own comfort, we rejoiced still more at the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all. <sup>14</sup>For whatever boasts I made to him about you, I was not put to shame. But just as everything we said to you was true, so also our boasting before Titus has proved true. <sup>15</sup>And his affection for you is even greater, as he remembers the obedience of you all, how you received him with fear and trembling. <sup>16</sup>I rejoice, because I have perfect confidence in you.

Writing

Christ is risen from the dead, has ascended to heaven, and sits at the right hand of God in divine power and honor. Nevertheless, He is hiding His greatness, glory, majesty, and power. He allows His prophets and apostles to be expelled and murdered . . . . He allows His Christians to suffer want, trouble, and misfortune in the world. He acts as He did in the days of His flesh, when John the Baptist had to lose his head for the sake of a desperate harlot, while He, the Savior and Helper, said nothing about it, departed thence in a ship and withdrew to the solitude of the wilderness (Matt. 14:10ff., Mark 6:17, 32). Is He not a petty, childish God, who does not save Himself and allows His children to suffer as if He did not see how badly they were faring? . . . [I]f He sees and knows but cannot help, then He has no hands that are able to do anything, nor does He have power to enable Him to save.

Hence the prophet Isaiah correctly says of God: “Verily Thou art a God that hidest Thyself, O God of Israel, the Savior” (45:15). . . . Now He lets our adversaries treat His Word, Sacraments, and Christians as they please. He lets us call and cry and says nothing, as though He were deep in thought or were busy or were out in the field or asleep and heard nothing as Elijah says of Baal (I Kings 18:27). . . .

Meanwhile Christians, baptized in His name, must hold still, must permit people to walk over them and must have patience. For in the kingdom of faith God wants to be small, but in the (future) kingdom of sight He will not be small but great. Then He will show that he saw the misery of His people and heard their crying and had a will inclined to help them, also power to help them. . . . For this appearance of the glory of the great God we must wait.

—Martin Luther

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, You gave Your servant John the Baptist to be the forerunner of Your Son, Jesus Christ, in both his preaching of repentance and his innocent death. Grant that we, who have died and risen with Christ in Holy Baptism, may daily repent of our sins, patiently suffer for the sake of the truth, and fearlessly bear witness to His victory over death; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F26)

The Martyrdom of St. John the Baptist

In contrast to the Nativity of St. John the Baptist (observed on June 24), this festival commemorates his beheading by the tetrach Herod Antipas (Mark 6:14–29). From the perspective of the world, it was an ignominious end to the John the Baptist’s life. Yet it was in fact a noble participation in the cross of Christ, which was John’s greatest glory of all. Christ Himself said that there had arisen none greater than St. John the Baptist (Matthew 11:11). He was the last of the Old Testament prophets and also the herald of the New Testament. As the forerunner of Christ, John fulfilled the prophecy that the great prophet Elijah would return before the great and terrible Day of the Lord (Malachi 4:5; Matthew 17:10–13). By his preaching and Baptism of repentance, John turned “the hearts of fathers to their children and the hearts of children to their fathers” (Malachi 4:6). And in the footsteps of the prophets who had gone before him—in anticipation of the Christ whose way he prepared—this servant of the Lord manifested the cross by the witness of his death.

Old Testament Reading: 1 Kings 12:20–13:5, 33–34

[The Kingdom Divided]

<sup>20</sup>And when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they sent and called him to the assembly and made him king over all Israel. There was none that followed the house of David but the tribe of Judah only.

<sup>21</sup>When Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he assembled all the house of Judah and the tribe of Benjamin, 180,000 chosen warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, to restore the kingdom to Rehoboam the son of Solomon. <sup>22</sup>But the word of God came to Shemaiah the man of God: <sup>23</sup>“Say to Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all the house of Judah and Benjamin, and to the rest of the people, <sup>24</sup>“Thus says the LORD, You shall not go up or fight against your relatives the people of Israel. Every man return to his home, for this thing is from me.” So they listened to the word of the LORD and went home again, according to the word of the LORD.

Jeroboam’s Golden Calves

<sup>25</sup>Then Jeroboam built Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim and lived there. And he went out from there and built Penuel.

<sup>26</sup>And Jeroboam said in his heart, “Now the kingdom will turn back to the house of David. <sup>27</sup>If this people go up to offer sacrifices in the temple of the LORD at Jerusalem, then the heart of this people will turn again to their lord, to Rehoboam king of Judah, and they will kill me and return to Rehoboam king of Judah.” <sup>28</sup>So the king took counsel and made two calves of gold. And he said to the people, “You have gone up to Jerusalem long enough. Behold your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt.”

<sup>29</sup>And he set one in Bethel, and the other he put in Dan. <sup>30</sup>Then this thing became a sin, for the people went as far as Dan to be before one. <sup>31</sup>He also made temples on high places and appointed priests from among all the people, who were not of the Levites. <sup>32</sup>And Jeroboam appointed a feast on the fifteenth day of the eighth month like the feast that was in Judah, and he offered sacrifices on the altar. So he did in Bethel, sacrificing to the calves that he made. And he placed in Bethel the priests of the high places that he had made. <sup>33</sup>He went up to the altar that he had made in Bethel on the fifteenth day in the eighth month, in the month that he had devised from his own heart. And he instituted a feast for the people of Israel and went up to the altar to make offerings.

A Man of God Confronts Jeroboam

<sup>13:1</sup>And behold, a man of God came out of Judah by the word of the LORD to Bethel. Jeroboam was standing by the altar to make offerings. <sup>2</sup>And the man cried against the altar by the word of the LORD and said, “O altar, altar, thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, a son shall be born to the house of David, Josiah by name, and he shall sacrifice on you the priests of the high places who make offerings on you, and human bones shall be burned on you.’” <sup>3</sup>And he gave a sign the same day, saying, “This is the sign that the LORD has spoken: ‘Behold, the altar shall be torn down, and the ashes that are on it shall be poured out.’” <sup>4</sup>And when the king heard the saying of the man of God, which he cried against the altar at Bethel, Jeroboam stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, “Seize him.” And his hand, which he stretched out against him, dried up, so that he could not draw it back to himself. <sup>5</sup>The altar also was torn down, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign that the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

<sup>33</sup>After this thing Jeroboam did not turn from his evil way, but made priests for the high places again from among all the people. Any who would, he ordained to be priests of the high places. <sup>34</sup>And this thing became sin to the house of Jeroboam, so as to cut it off and to destroy it from the face of the earth.

Encouragement to Give Generously

<sup>8</sup>I say this not as a command, but to prove by the earnestness of others that your love also is genuine. <sup>9</sup>For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sake he became poor, so that you by his poverty might become rich. <sup>10</sup>And in this matter I give my judgment: this benefits you, who a year ago started not only to do this work but also to desire to do it. <sup>11</sup>So now finish doing it as well, so that your readiness in desiring it may be matched by your completing it out of what you have. <sup>12</sup>For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according to what a person has, not according to what he does not have. <sup>13</sup>For I do not mean that others should be eased and you burdened, but that as a matter of fairness <sup>14</sup>your abundance at the present time should supply their need, so that their abundance may supply your need, that there may be

Commendation of Titus

<sup>16</sup>But thanks be to God, who put into the heart of Titus the same earnest care I have for you. <sup>17</sup>For he not only accepted our appeal, but being himself very earnest he is going to you of his own accord. <sup>18</sup>With him we are sending the brother who is famous among all the churches for his preaching of the gospel. <sup>19</sup>And not only that, but he has been appointed by the churches to travel with us as we carry out this act of grace that is being ministered by us, for the glory of the Lord himself and to show our good will. <sup>20</sup>We take this course so that no one should blame us about this generous gift that is being administered by us, <sup>21</sup>for we aim at what is honorable not only in the Lord’s sight but also in the sight of man. <sup>22</sup>And with them we are sending our brother whom we have often tested and found earnest in many matters, but who is now more earnest than ever because of his great confidence in you. <sup>23</sup>As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker for your benefit. And as for our brothers, they are messengers of the churches, the glory of Christ. <sup>24</sup>So give proof before the churches of your love and of our boasting about you to these men.

Writing

No tradition was set up by the Holy Fathers for the purpose of meriting the forgiveness of sins, or righteousness. Rather, they were instituted for the sake of good order in the Church and for the sake of peace. When anyone wants to set up certain works to merit the forgiveness of sins, or righteousness, how will he know that these works please God since there is no testimony of God’s Word? How, without God’s command and Word, will he make people certain of God’s will? Doesn’t God forbid people everywhere in the Prophets from setting up peculiar rites of worship without His commandment? In Ezekiel it is written, “Do not walk in the statutes of your fathers, nor keep their rules, nor defile yourselves with their idols. I am the LORD your God; walk in My statutes, and be careful to obey My rules” (20:18–19). If people are allowed to set up religious rites, and through these rites merit grace, the religious rites of all the pagans will have to be approved. The rites instituted by Jeroboam (1 Kings 12:26–33) and by others, apart from the Law, will have to be approved. What difference does it make? If we have been allowed to institute religious rites that help merit grace, or righteousness, why were the pagans and the Israelites not allowed the same? The religious rites of the pagans and the Israelites were rejected for the very reason that they believed they merited forgiveness of sins and righteousness by these rites. Yet they did not know the righteousness of faith. Finally, where are we made certain that rites instituted by men justify without God’s command, since nothing can be affirmed of God’s will without His Word? What if God does not approve these services? How, therefore, do the adversaries affirm that they justify? Without God’s Word and testimony, this cannot be affirmed. Paul says, “Whatever does not proceed from faith is sin” (Romans 14:23). Since these services have no testimony of God’s Word, conscience must doubt if they please God.

Ahab Reigns in Israel

<sup>29</sup>In the thirty-eighth year of Asa king of Judah, Ahab the son of Omri began to reign over Israel, and Ahab the son of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years. <sup>30</sup>And Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the LORD, more than all who were before him. <sup>31</sup>And as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, he took for his wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Sidonians, and went and served Baal and worshiped him. <sup>32</sup>He erected an altar for Baal in the house of Baal, which he built in Samaria. <sup>33</sup>And Ahab made an Asherah. Ahab did more to provoke the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger than all the kings of Israel who were before him. <sup>34</sup>In his days Hiel of Bethel built Jericho. He laid its foundation at the cost of Abiram his firstborn, and set up its gates at the cost of his youngest son Segub, according to the word of the LORD, which he spoke by Joshua the son of Nun.

Elijah Predicts a Drought

<sup>17:1</sup>Now Elijah the Tishbite, of Tishbe in Gilead, said to Ahab, “As the LORD, the God of Israel, lives, before whom I stand, there shall be neither dew nor rain these years, except by my word.” <sup>2</sup>And the word of the LORD came to him: <sup>3</sup>“Depart from here and turn eastward and hide yourself by the brook Cherith, which is east of the Jordan. <sup>4</sup>You shall drink from the brook, and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there.” <sup>5</sup>So he went and did according to the word of the LORD. He went and lived by the brook Cherith that is east of the Jordan. <sup>6</sup>And the ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening, and he drank from the brook. <sup>7</sup>And after a while the brook dried up, because there was no rain in the land.

The Widow of Zarephath

<sup>8</sup>Then the word of the LORD came to him, <sup>9</sup>“Arise, go to Zarephath, which belongs to Sidon, and dwell there. Behold, I have commanded a widow there to feed you.” <sup>10</sup>So he arose and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, behold, a widow was there gathering sticks. And he called to her and said, “Bring me a little water in a vessel, that I may drink.” <sup>11</sup>And as she was going to bring it, he called to her and said, “Bring me a morsel of bread in your hand.” <sup>12</sup>And she said, “As the LORD your God lives, I have nothing baked, only a handful of flour in a jar and a little oil in a jug. And now I am gathering a couple of sticks that I may go in and prepare it for myself and my son, that we may eat it and die.” <sup>13</sup>And Elijah said to her, “Do not fear;

go and do as you have said. But first make me a little cake of it and bring it to me, and afterward make something for yourself and your son. <sup>14</sup>For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘The jar of flour shall not be spent, and the jug of oil shall not be empty, until the day that the LORD sends rain upon the earth.’” <sup>15</sup>And she went and did as Elijah said. And she and he and her household ate for many days. <sup>16</sup>The jar of flour was not spent, neither did the jug of oil become empty, according to the word of the LORD that he spoke by Elijah.

Elijah Raises the Widow’s Son

<sup>17</sup>After this the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, became ill. And his illness was so severe that there was no breath left in him. <sup>18</sup>And she said to Elijah, “What have you against me, O man of God? You have come to me to bring my sin to remembrance and to cause the death of my son!” <sup>19</sup>And he said to her, “Give me your son.” And he took him from her arms and carried him up into the upper chamber where he lodged, and laid him on his own bed. <sup>20</sup>And he cried to the LORD, “O LORD my God, have you brought calamity even upon the widow with whom I sojourn, by killing her son?” <sup>21</sup>Then he stretched himself upon the child three times and cried to the LORD, “O LORD my God, let this child’s life come into him again.” <sup>22</sup>And the LORD listened to the voice of Elijah. And the life of the child came into him again, and he revived. <sup>23</sup>And Elijah took the child and brought him down from the upper chamber into the house and delivered him to his mother. And Elijah said, “See, your son lives.” <sup>24</sup>And the woman said to Elijah, “Now I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in your mouth is truth.”

The Collection for Christians in Jerusalem

<sup>1</sup>Now it is superfluous for me to write to you about the ministry for the saints, <sup>2</sup>for I know your readiness, of which I boast about you to the people of Macedonia, saying that Achaia has been ready since last year. And your zeal has stirred up most of them. <sup>3</sup>But I am sending the brothers so that our boasting about you may not prove empty in this matter, so that you may be ready, as I said you would be. <sup>4</sup>Otherwise, if some Macedonians come with me and find that you are not ready, we would be humiliated—to say nothing of you—for being so confident. <sup>5</sup>So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers to go on ahead to you and arrange in advance for the gift you have promised, so that it may be ready as a willing gift, not as an exaction.

The Cheerful Giver

<sup>6</sup>The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. <sup>7</sup>Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. <sup>8</sup>And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work. <sup>9</sup>As it is written,

“He has distributed freely,
he has given to the poor;
his righteousness endures forever.”

<sup>10</sup>He who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will supply and multiply your seed for sowing and increase the harvest of your righteousness. <sup>11</sup>You will be enriched in every way to be generous in every way, which through us will produce thanksgiving to

God. <sup>12</sup>For the ministry of this service is not only supplying the needs of the saints but is also overflowing in many thanksgivings to God. <sup>13</sup>By their approval of this service, they will glorify God because of your submission flowing from your confession of the gospel of Christ, and the generosity of your contribution for them and for all others, <sup>14</sup>while they long for you and pray for you, because of the surpassing grace of God upon you. <sup>15</sup>Thanks be to God for his inexpressible gift!

In this matter the following distinction must be noted. The meaning of these expressions must be a necessity based on Christ’s ordinance, command, and will and based on our obligation, but not a necessity based on coercion. In other words, when the word necessary is used, it should be understood not as force, but only as the order of God’s unchanging will, whose debtors we are. His commandment points out that the creature should be obedient to its Creator. In other places (2 Corinthians 9:7; Philemon 14; and 1 Peter 5:2) something is said to be of necessity that is wrung from a person against his will, by force or otherwise, so that he acts outwardly for the sake of appearance, but without and against his will. God does not want such ‘hypocritical’ works. The people of the New Testament are to be a willing people (Psalm 110:3) and sacrifice freely (Psalm 54:6), “not reluctantly or under compulsion” (2 Corinthians 9:7). They are to be “obedient from the heart” (Romans 6:17), “for God loves a cheerful giver” (2 Corinthians 9:7). In this understanding, and in this sense, it is correctly said and taught that truly good works should be done willingly, or from a voluntary spirit, by those whom God's Son has made free. The dispute about the voluntary nature of good works was engaged in by some people specifically to make this point. . . .

Regarding the unwilling and rebellious flesh, Paul says, "I discipline my body and keep it under control" (1 Corinthians 9:27) and "those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified [slain] the flesh with its passions and desires" (Galatians 5:24). (See also Romans 8:13.) When it is asserted and taught that good works are free to believers in the sense that they are optional for them to do or not to do, this is false, and must be rejected. It is false to say that believers might or could act against ‹God's Law› and still have faith and God's favor and grace.

Elijah Confronts Ahab

<sup>1</sup>After many days the word of the LORD came to Elijah, in the third year, saying, “Go, show yourself to Ahab, and I will send rain upon the earth.” <sup>2</sup>So Elijah went to show himself to Ahab. Now the famine was severe in Samaria. <sup>3</sup>And Ahab called Obadiah, who was over the household. (Now Obadiah feared the LORD greatly, <sup>4</sup>and when Jezebel cut off the prophets of the LORD, Obadiah took a hundred prophets and hid them by fifties in a cave and fed them with bread and water.) <sup>5</sup>And Ahab said to Obadiah, “Go through the land to all the springs of water and to all the valleys. Perhaps we may find grass and save the horses and mules alive, and not lose some of the animals.” <sup>6</sup>So they divided the land between them to pass through it. Ahab went in one direction by himself, and Obadiah went in another direction by himself.

<sup>7</sup>And as Obadiah was on the way, behold, Elijah met him. And Obadiah recognized him and fell on his face and said, “Is it you, my lord Elijah?” <sup>8</sup>And he answered him, “It is I. Go, tell your lord, ‘Behold, Elijah is here.’” <sup>9</sup>And he said, “How have I sinned, that you would give your servant into the hand of Ahab, to kill me? <sup>10</sup>As the LORD your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my lord has not sent to seek you. And when they would say, ‘He is not here,’ he would take an oath of the kingdom or nation, that they had not found you. <sup>11</sup>And now you say, ‘Go, tell your lord, ‘Behold, Elijah is here.’” <sup>12</sup>And as soon as I have gone from you, the Spirit of the LORD will carry you I know not where. And so, when I come and tell Ahab and he cannot find you, he will kill me, although I your servant have feared the LORD from my youth. <sup>13</sup>Has it not been told my lord what I did when Jezebel killed the prophets of the LORD, how I hid a hundred men of the LORD’s prophets by fifties in a cave and fed them with bread and water? <sup>14</sup>And now you say, ‘Go, tell your lord, “Behold, Elijah is here”’; and he will kill me.” <sup>15</sup>And Elijah said, “As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, I will surely show myself to him today.” <sup>16</sup>So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him. And Ahab went to meet Elijah.

<sup>17</sup>When Ahab saw Elijah, Ahab said to him, “Is it you, you troubler of Israel?” <sup>18</sup>And he answered, “I have not troubled Israel, but you have, and your father’s house, because you have abandoned the commandments of the LORD and followed the Baals. <sup>19</sup>Now therefore send and gather all Israel to me at Mount Carmel, and the 450 prophets of Baal and the 400 prophets of Asherah, who eat at Jezebel’s table.”

Greeting

<sup>1</sup>Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God,

To the saints who are in Ephesus, and are faithful in Christ Jesus:

<sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Spiritual Blessings in Christ

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us in Christ with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places, <sup>4</sup>even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and blameless before him. In love <sup>5</sup>he predestined us for adoption as sons through Jesus Christ, according to the purpose of his will, <sup>6</sup>to the praise of his glorious grace, with which he has blessed us in the Beloved. <sup>7</sup>In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace, <sup>8</sup>which he lavished upon us, in all wisdom and insight <sup>9</sup>making known to us the mystery of his will, according to his purpose, which he set forth in Christ <sup>10</sup>as a plan for the fullness of time, to unite all things in him, things in heaven and things on earth.

<sup>11</sup>In him we have obtained an inheritance, having been predestined according to the purpose of him who works all things according to the counsel of his will, <sup>12</sup>so that we who were the first to hope in Christ might be to the praise of his glory. <sup>13</sup>In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, <sup>14</sup>who is the guarantee of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it, to the praise of his glory.

Thanksgiving and Prayer

<sup>15</sup>For this reason, because I have heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love toward all the saints, <sup>16</sup>I do not cease to give thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers, <sup>17</sup>that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give you a spirit of wisdom and of revelation in the knowledge of him, <sup>18</sup>having the eyes of your hearts enlightened, that you may know what is the hope to which he has called you, what are the riches of his glorious inheritance in the saints, <sup>19</sup>and what is the immeasurable greatness of his power toward us who believe, according to the working of his great might <sup>20</sup>that he worked in Christ when he raised him from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly places, <sup>21</sup>far above all rule and authority and power and dominion, and above every name that is named, not only in this age but also in the one to come. <sup>22</sup>And he put all things under his feet and gave him as head over all things to the church, <sup>23</sup>which is his body, the fullness of him who fills all in all.

Writing

Joshua the son of Nun was the minister and successor of Moses, and the leader of the people of Israel who led them through the dry bed of the Jordan into the land of Canaan. He had the same name as our Savior, Jesus Christ [since in Hebrew “Joshua” and “Jesus” are the same name], and he was a type of Christ, who led the children of the promise of Abraham through the Jordan of this life’s troubles and of death into the restfulness of eternal life. . . . When Moses died, on the first day of the 2493rd year since the world’s creation, Joshua led the people of Israel into the land of Canaan, which was promised to their fathers. He won excellent and miraculous victories for God’s chosen ones. Having conquered the kings of Canaan, he distributed the land and finally died at the age of 110. In Hebrew his name is Yehoshua or Yosua, that is, “Savior,” “Helper.” In Greek his name is Iesous or Iesus.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, Your servant Joshua led the children of Israel through the waters of the Jordan River into a land flowing with milk and honey. As our Joshua, lead us, we pray, through the waters of our Baptism into the promised land of our eternal home, where You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ## Joshua Joshua, the son of Nun, of the tribe of Ephraim, is first mentioned in Exodus 17 when he was chosen by Moses to fight the Amalekites, whom he defeated in a brilliant military victory. He was placed in charge of the Tent of Meeting (Exodus 33:11) and was a member of the tribal representatives sent to survey the land of Canaan (Numbers 13:8). Later, he was appointed by God to succeed Moses as Israel's commander-in-chief. Joshua eventually led the Israelites across the Jordan River into the Promised Land and directed the Israelites' capture of Jericho. He is remembered especially for his final address to the Israelites, in which he challenged them to serve God faithfully (Joshua 24:1–27), concluding with the memorable words, "As for me and my household, we will serve the LORD" (24:15).

The Prophets of Baal Defeated

<sup>20</sup>So Ahab sent to all the people of Israel and gathered the prophets together at Mount Carmel. <sup>21</sup>And Elijah came near to all the people and said, “How long will you go limping between two different opinions? If the LORD is God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him.” And the people did not answer him a word. <sup>22</sup>Then Elijah said to the people, “I, even I only, am left a prophet of the LORD, but Baal’s prophets are 450 men. <sup>23</sup>Let two bulls be given to us, and let them choose one bull for themselves and cut it in pieces and lay it on the wood, but put no fire to it. And I will prepare the other bull and lay it on the wood and put no fire to it. <sup>24</sup>And you call upon the name of your god, and I will call upon the name of the LORD, and the God who answers by fire, he is God.” And all the people answered, “It is well spoken.” <sup>25</sup>Then Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, “Choose for yourselves one bull and prepare it first, for you are many, and call upon the name of your god, but put no fire to it.” <sup>26</sup>And they took the bull that was given them, and they prepared it and called upon the name of Baal from morning until noon, saying, “O Baal, answer us!” But there was no voice, and no one answered. And they limped around the altar that they had made. <sup>27</sup>And at noon Elijah mocked them, saying, “Cry aloud, for he is a god. Either he is musing, or he is relieving himself, or he is on a journey, or perhaps he is asleep and must be awakened.”

<sup>28</sup>And they cried aloud and cut themselves after their custom with swords and lances, until the blood gushed out upon them. <sup>29</sup>And as midday passed, they raved on until the time of the offering of the oblation, but there was no voice. No one answered; no one paid attention.

<sup>30</sup>Then Elijah said to all the people, “Come near to me.” And all the people came near to him. And he repaired the altar of the LORD that had been thrown down. <sup>31</sup>Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, to whom the word of the LORD came, saying, “Israel shall be your name,” <sup>32</sup>and with the stones he built an altar in the name of the LORD. And he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two seahs of seed. <sup>33</sup>And he put the wood in order and cut the bull in pieces and laid it on the wood. And he said, “Fill four jars with water and pour it on the burnt offering and on the wood.” <sup>34</sup>And he said, “Do it a second time.” And they did it a second time. And he said, “Do it a third time.” And they did it a third time. <sup>35</sup>And the water ran around the altar and filled the trench also with water.

<sup>36</sup>And at the time of the offering of the oblation, Elijah the prophet came near and said, “O LORD, God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known this day that you are God in Israel, and that I am your servant, and that I have done all these things at your word. <sup>37</sup>Answer me, O LORD, answer me, that this people may know that you, O LORD, are God, and that you have turned their hearts back.” <sup>38</sup>Then the fire of the LORD fell and consumed the burnt offering and the wood and the stones and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. <sup>39</sup>And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces and said, “The LORD, he is God; the LORD, he is God.” <sup>40</sup>And Elijah said to them, “Seize the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape.” And they seized them. And Elijah brought them down to the brook Kishon and slaughtered them there.

Ephesians 2:1–22

By Grace Through Faith

<sup>1</sup>And you were dead in the trespasses and sins <sup>2</sup>in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience—<sup>3</sup>among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. <sup>4</sup>But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, <sup>5</sup>even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved—<sup>6</sup>and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, <sup>7</sup>so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. <sup>8</sup>For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, <sup>9</sup>not a result of works, so that no one may boast. <sup>10</sup>For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them.

One in Christ

uncircumcision” by what is called the circumcision, which is made in the flesh by hands—<sup>12</sup>remember that you were at that time separated from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. <sup>13</sup>But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ. <sup>14</sup>For he himself is our peace, who has made us both one and has broken down in his flesh the dividing wall of hostility <sup>15</sup>by abolishing the law of commandments expressed in ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man in place of the two, so making peace, <sup>16</sup>and might reconcile us both to God in one body through the cross, thereby killing the hostility. <sup>17</sup>And he came and preached peace to you who were far off and peace to those who were near. <sup>18</sup>For through him we both have access in one Spirit to the Father. <sup>19</sup>So then you are no longer strangers and aliens, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, <sup>20</sup>built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the cornerstone, <sup>21</sup>in whom the whole structure, being joined together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord. <sup>22</sup>In him you also are being built together into a dwelling place for God by the Spirit.

“For it is written: Rejoice, O barren one that dost not bear; break forth and shout, thou who art not in travail; for the desolate hath more children than she who hath a husband.” (Gal. 4:27)

Paul quotes this passage, which is completely allegorical, from the prophet Isaiah. It is written, he says, that the mother of many children, who has a husband, must grow sick and perish, while the barren one, who does not bear, must have very many children. Hannah sings the same way in her canticle, from which Isaiah took this prophecy (1 Sam. 2:4–5): “The bows of the mighty are broken, but the feeble gird on strength. Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, but those who were hungry have ceased to hunger. The barren has borne seven, but she who has many children is forlorn.” It is an amazing thing, she says: the one who was prolific will be barren, and the one who was barren will be prolific. Those who were mighty, satisfied, alive, righteous, blessed, rich, and glorious will be feeble, hungry, sentenced to death, sinful, condemned, poor, and shameful; and, on the other hand, the feeble and the hungry will be mighty and satisfied.

With this allegory from the prophet Isaiah, Paul shows the difference between Hagar and Sarah, that is, between the synagog and the church, or between the Law and the Gospel. . . . [I]f they follow the Law and perform its outward works, they think they are righteous. All such men are slaves, not free men, because they are sons of Hagar, who gives birth into slavery. If they are slaves, they do not share in the inheritance but are cast out of the house. “The slaves do not continue in the house forever” (John 8:35); in fact, they have now been thrown out of the kingdom of grace and freedom. “He who does not believe is condemned already” (John 3:18).

Therefore they remain under the curse of the Law, under sin, death, and the power of the devil, under the wrath and judgment of God.

—Martin Luther

Prayer of the Day

God the Father Almighty, maker of all things, You looked on the affliction of Your barren servant Hannah and did not forget her but answered her prayers with the gift of a son. So hear our supplications and petitions and fill our emptiness; give us faithfulness in prayer, trust in Your provision, and the ability to accept Your will so that we, like Hannah, might render unto You all thankfulness and praise, and delight in the miraculous birth of Your Son, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1084)

Hannah

Hannah was the favored wife of Elkanah, the Ephraimite, and the devout mother of the prophet Samuel. He was born to her after years of bitter barrenness (1 Samuel 1:6–8) and fervent prayers for a son (1 Samuel 1:9–18). After she weaned her son, Hannah expressed her gratitude by returning him for service in the house of the Lord at Shiloh (1 Samuel 1:24–28). Her prayer (psalm) of thanksgiving (1 Samuel 2:1–10) begins with the words “My heart exults in LORD; my strength is exalted in the LORD.” This song foreshadows the Magnificat, the Song of Mary centuries later (Luke 1:46–55). The name Hannah derives from the Hebrew word for “grace.” She is remembered and honored for joyfully having kept the vow she made before her son's birth and offering him for lifelong service to God.

Elijah Flees Jezebel

<sup>1</sup>Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and how he had killed all the prophets with the sword. <sup>2</sup>Then Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah, saying, “So may the gods do to me and more also, if I do not make your life as the life of one of them by this time tomorrow.” <sup>3</sup>Then he was afraid, and he arose and ran for his life and came to Beersheba, which belongs to Judah, and left his servant there.

<sup>4</sup>But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness and came and sat down under a broom tree. And he asked that he might die, saying, “It is enough; now, O LORD, take away my life, for I am no better than my fathers.” <sup>5</sup>And he lay down and slept under a broom tree. And behold, an angel touched him and said to him, “Arise and eat.” <sup>6</sup>And he looked, and behold, there was at his head a cake baked on hot stones and a jar of water. And he ate and drank and lay down again. <sup>7</sup>And the angel of the LORD came again a second time and touched him and said, “Arise and eat, for the journey is too great for you.” <sup>8</sup>And he arose and ate and drank, and went in the strength of that food forty days and forty nights to Horeb, the mount of God.

The LORD Speaks to Elijah

<sup>9</sup>There he came to a cave and lodged in it. And behold, the word of the LORD came to him, and he said to him, “What are you doing here, Elijah?” <sup>10</sup>He said, “I have been very jealous for the LORD, the God of hosts. For the people of Israel have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword, and I, even I only, am left, and they seek my life, to take it away.” <sup>11</sup>And he said, “Go out and stand on the mount before the LORD.” And behold, the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind tore the mountains and broke in pieces the rocks before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind. And after the wind an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake. <sup>12</sup>And after the earthquake a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire. And after the fire the sound of a low whisper.

<sup>13</sup>And when Elijah heard it, he wrapped his face in his cloak and went out and stood at the entrance of the cave. And behold, there came a voice to him and said, “What are you doing here, Elijah?” <sup>14</sup>He said, “I have been very jealous for the LORD, the God of hosts. For the people of Israel have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword, and I, even I only, am left, and they seek my life, to take it away.” <sup>15</sup>And the LORD said to him, “Go, return on your way to the wilderness of Damascus. And when you arrive, you shall anoint Hazael to be king over Syria. <sup>16</sup>And Jehu the son of Nimshi you shall anoint to be king over Israel, and Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel-meholah you shall anoint to be prophet in your place. <sup>17</sup>And the one who escapes from the sword of Hazael shall Jehu put to death, and the one who escapes from the sword of Jehu shall Elisha put to death. <sup>18</sup>Yet I will leave seven thousand in Israel, all the knees that have not bowed to Baal, and every mouth that has not kissed him.”

The Call of Elisha

<sup>19</sup>So he departed from there and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen in front of him, and he was with the twelfth. Elijah passed by him and cast his cloak upon him. <sup>20</sup>And he left the oxen and ran after Elijah and said, “Let me kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow you.” And he said to him, “Go back again, for what have I done to you?” <sup>21</sup>And he returned from following him and took the yoke of oxen and sacrificed them and boiled their flesh with the yokes of the oxen and gave it to the people, and they ate. Then he arose and went after Elijah and assisted him.

The Mystery of the Gospel Revealed

<sup>2</sup>assuming that you have heard of the stewardship of God’s grace that was given to me for you, <sup>3</sup>how the mystery was made known to me by revelation, as I have written briefly. <sup>4</sup>When you read this, you can perceive my insight into the mystery of Christ, <sup>5</sup>which was not made known to the sons of men in other generations as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit. <sup>6</sup>This mystery is that the Gentiles are fellow heirs, members of the same body, and partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel.

<sup>7</sup>Of this gospel I was made a minister according to the gift of God’s grace, which was given me by the working of his power. <sup>8</sup>To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, <sup>9</sup>and to bring to light for everyone what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things, <sup>10</sup>so that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly places. <sup>11</sup>This was according to the eternal purpose that he has realized in Christ Jesus our Lord, <sup>12</sup>in whom we have boldness and access with confidence through our faith in him. <sup>13</sup>So I ask you not to lose heart over what I am suffering for you, which is your glory.

Prayer for Spiritual Strength

<sup>14</sup>For this reason I bow my knees before the Father, <sup>15</sup>from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, <sup>16</sup>that according to the riches of his glory he may grant you to be strengthened with power through his Spirit in your inner being, <sup>17</sup>so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith—that you, being rooted and grounded in love, <sup>18</sup>may have strength to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, <sup>19</sup>and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God.

<sup>20</sup>Now to him who is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, according to the power at work within us, <sup>21</sup>to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, forever and ever. Amen.

Writing

“To me,” said [Paul], “who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given.” What grace? “To preach unto the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see the administration of this mystery, which for ages past was kept hidden in God, who created all things . . .”

Paul himself was sent to the Gentiles, the other apostles to the circumcised. The more marvelous and astonishing commission was given, said Paul, “to me, who am less than the least.” This, too, was of grace: that he who was least should have the greatest things entrusted to him; that he should be made the herald of these tidings. . . .

He calls it a mystery for this reason: neither did the angels know it nor was it manifest to anyone else. . . . Angels knew only this, that “the Lord’s portion was His people” (Deuteronomy 32:8–9). . . . For the Gospel says: “He will save His people from their sins” (Matthew 1:21). Not a word about the Gentiles. But what concerns the Gentiles, the Spirit reveals. The angels knew that the Gentiles were called. But that they were called to the same privileges as Israel, yes, even to sit upon the throne of God, who would ever have expected this? Who would ever have believed? . . .

It is evident from what the apostle himself has written that God has done “abundantly above all that we ask or think.” For I indeed pray, said Paul, but He of Himself, even without any prayer of mine, will do works greater than all we ask, not simply “greater” nor “abundantly greater,” but “exceeding abundantly.” And this is evident from “the power that works in us,” for neither did we ever ask these things nor did we expect them.

“Unto Him be the glory,” [Paul] concludes, “in the Church and in Christ Jesus, unto all generations forever and ever. Amen.”

—John Chrysostom

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and merciful God, You raised up Gregory of Rome to be a pastor to those who shepherd God's flock and inspired him to send missionaries to preach the Gospel to the English people. Preserve in Your Church the catholic and apostolic faith that Your people may continue to be fruitful in every good work and receive the crown of glory that never fades away; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Gregory the Great

One of the great leaders in Europe at the close of the sixth century, Gregory served in both the secular and sacred arenas of his era. As mayor of Rome, he restored economic vitality to his native city, which had been weakened by enemy invasions, pillage, and plague. After he sold his extensive properties and donated the proceeds to help the poor, he entered into full-time service in the Church. On September 3, in AD 590, Gregory was elected to lead the Church in Rome. As bishop of Rome, he oversaw changes and growth in the areas of church music and liturgical development, missionary outreach to northern Europe, and the establishment of a Church Year calendar still used by many church bodies in the Western world today. His book on pastoral care became a standard until the twentieth century.

Elijah Taken to Heaven

<sup>1</sup>Now when the LORD was about to take Elijah up to heaven by a whirlwind, Elijah and Elisha were on their way from Gilgal.

<sup>2</sup>And Elijah said to Elisha, “Please stay here, for the LORD has sent me as far as Bethel.” But Elisha said, “As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you.” So they went down to Bethel. <sup>3</sup>And the sons of the prophets who were in Bethel came out to Elisha and said to him, “Do you know that today the LORD will take away your master from over you?” And he said, “Yes, I know it; keep quiet.”

<sup>4</sup>Elijah said to him, “Elisha, please stay here, for the LORD has sent me to Jericho.” But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you.” So they came to Jericho. <sup>5</sup>The sons of the prophets who were at Jericho drew near to Elisha and said to him, “Do you know that today the LORD will take away your master from over you?” And he answered, “Yes, I know it; keep quiet.”

<sup>6</sup>Then Elijah said to him, “Please stay here, for the LORD has sent me to the Jordan.” But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you.” So the two of them went on. <sup>7</sup>Fifty men of the sons of the prophets also went and stood at some distance from them, as they both were standing by the Jordan. <sup>8</sup>Then Elijah took his cloak and rolled it up and struck the water, and the water was parted to the one side and to the other, till the two of them could go over on dry ground.

<sup>9</sup>When they had crossed, Elijah said to Elisha, “Ask what I shall do for you, before I am taken from you.” And Elisha said, “Please let there be a double portion of your spirit on me.” <sup>10</sup>And he said, “You have asked a hard thing; yet, if you see me as I am being taken from you, it shall be so for you, but if you do not see me, it shall not be so.” <sup>11</sup>And as they still went on and talked, behold, chariots of fire and horses of fire separated the two of them. And Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven. <sup>12</sup>And Elisha saw it and he cried,

“My father, my father! The chariots of Israel and its horsemen!” And he saw him no more.

Then he took hold of his own clothes and tore them in two pieces. <sup>13</sup>And he took up the cloak of Elijah that had fallen from him and went back and stood on the bank of the Jordan. <sup>14</sup>Then he took the cloak of Elijah that had fallen from him and struck the water, saying, “Where is the LORD, the God of Elijah?” And when he had struck the water, the water was parted to the one side and to the other, and Elisha went over.

Elisha Succeeds Elijah

<sup>15</sup>Now when the sons of the prophets who were at Jericho saw him opposite them, they said, “The spirit of Elijah rests on Elisha.” And they came to meet him and bowed to the ground before him. <sup>16</sup>And they said to him, “Behold now, there are with your servants fifty strong men. Please let them go and seek your master. It may be that the Spirit of the LORD has caught him up and cast him upon some mountain or into some valley.” And he said, “You shall not send.” <sup>17</sup>But when they urged him till he was ashamed, he said, “Send.” They sent therefore fifty men. And for three days they sought him but did not find him. <sup>18</sup>And they came back to him while he was staying at Jericho, and he said to them, “Did I not say to you, ‘Do not go?’”

New Testament Reading: Ephesians 4:1–24

Unity in the Body of Christ

maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. <sup>4</sup>There is one body and one Spirit—just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call—<sup>5</sup>one Lord, one faith, one baptism, <sup>6</sup>one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all. <sup>7</sup>But grace was given to each one of us according to the measure of Christ’s gift. <sup>8</sup>Therefore it says,

“When he ascended on high he led a host of captives,
and he gave gifts to men.”

<sup>9</sup>(In saying, “He ascended,” what does it mean but that he had also descended into the lower regions, the earth? <sup>10</sup>He who descended is the one who also ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.)

<sup>11</sup>And he gave the apostles, the prophets, the evangelists, the shepherds and teachers, <sup>12</sup>to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, <sup>13</sup>until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ, <sup>14</sup>so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro by the waves and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by human cunning, by craftiness in deceitful schemes. <sup>15</sup>Rather, speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ, <sup>16</sup>from whom the whole body, joined and held together by every joint with which it is equipped, when each part is working properly, makes the body grow so that it builds itself up in love.

The New Life

<sup>17</sup>Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. <sup>18</sup>They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart. <sup>19</sup>They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity. <sup>20</sup>But that is not the way you learned Christ!—<sup>21</sup>assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, <sup>22</sup>to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, <sup>23</sup>and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, <sup>24</sup>and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness.

Writing

You, dearly beloved, whom I address in no less earnest terms than those of the blessed apostle Peter, “a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God’s own possession,” built upon the impregnable rock, Christ, and joined to the Lord our Savior by His true assumption of our flesh, remain firm in the faith, which you have professed before many witnesses and in which you were reborn through water and the Holy Spirit, and received the anointing of salvation and the seal of eternal life. But “if anyone preaches to you anything besides that which you have learned, let him be anathema”; refuse to put wicked fables before the clearest truth, and what you may happen to read or hear contrary to the rule of the catholic and apostolic creed, judge it altogether deadly and diabolical. . . . Indeed, they put on a cloak of piety and chastity, but under this deceit they conceal the filthiness of their acts, and from the recesses of their ungodly heart hurl shafts to wound the simple. . . . A mighty bulwark is a sound faith, a true faith, to which nothing has to be added or taken away, because unless it is one, it is no faith, as the apostle says, “one Lord, one faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all and through all and in us all.” Cling to this unity, dearly beloved, with minds unshaken, and in it “follow after” all “holiness.” In it carry out the Lord’s commands, because “without faith it is impossible to please God,” and without it nothing is holy, nothing pure, nothing alive, “for the just lives by faith,” and he who by the devil’s deception loses it is dead though living, because as righteousness is gained by faith, so, too, by a true faith is eternal life gained, as our Lord and Savior says. And this is life eternal, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom You have sent. May He make you to advance and persevere to the end, who lives and reigns with the Father and the Holy Spirit, forever and ever. Amen.

—Leo the Great

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, through the prophet Moses, You began the prophetic pattern of teaching Your people the true faith and demonstrating through miracles Your presence in creation to heal it of its brokenness. (1086)

Moses

Moses was born in Egypt several generations after Joseph brought his father, Jacob, and his brothers there to escape a famine in the land of Canaan. The descendants of Jacob had been enslaved by the Egyptians and were ordered to kill all their male children. When Moses was born, his mother put him in a basket and set it afloat in the Nile River. He was found by Pharaoh’s daughter and raised as her son (Exodus 2:1–10). At age forty, Moses killed an Egyptian taskmaster and fled to the land of Midian, where he worked as a shepherd for forty years. Then the Lord called him to return to Egypt and tell Pharaoh, “Let My people go, that they may hold a feast to Me in the wilderness” (Exodus 5:1). Eventually Pharaoh gave in, and after the Israelites celebrated the first Passover, Moses led them out. At the Red Sea the Egyptian army was destroyed, and the Israelites passed to safety on dry land (Exodus 12–15). At Mount Sinai, they were given the Law and erected the tabernacle (Exodus 19–40). But because of disobedience, they had to wander in the wilderness for forty years. Moses himself was not allowed to enter the Promised Land, though God allowed him to view it (Deuteronomy 34). In the New Testament, Moses is referred to as lawgiver and prophet. The first five books of the Bible are attributed to him.

[Elisha Succeeds Elijah]

<sup>19</sup>Now the men of the city said to Elisha, “Behold, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord sees, but the water is bad, and the land is unfruitful.” <sup>20</sup>He said, “Bring me a new bowl, and put salt in it.” So they brought it to him. <sup>21</sup>Then he went to the spring of water and threw salt in it and said, “Thus says the LORD, I have healed this water; from now on neither death nor miscarriage shall come from it.” <sup>22</sup>So the water has been healed to this day, according to the word that Elisha spoke.

<sup>23</sup>He went up from there to Bethel, and while he was going up on the way, some small boys came out of the city and jeered at him, saying, “Go up, you baldhead! Go up, you baldhead!” <sup>24</sup>And he turned around, and when he saw them, he cursed them in the name of the LORD. And two she-bears came out of the woods and tore forty-two of the boys. <sup>25</sup>From there he went on to Mount Carmel, and from there he returned to Samaria. . . .

Elisha and the Widow’s Oil

<sup>4:1</sup>Now the wife of one of the sons of the prophets cried to Elisha, “Your servant my husband is dead, and you know that your servant feared the LORD, but the creditor has come to take my two children to be his slaves.” <sup>2</sup>And Elisha said to her, “What shall I do for you? Tell me; what have you in the house?” And she said, “Your servant has nothing in the house except a jar of oil.” <sup>3</sup>Then he said, “Go outside, borrow vessels from all your neighbors, empty vessels and not too few. <sup>4</sup>Then go in and shut the door behind yourself and your sons and pour into all these vessels. And when one is full, set it aside.” <sup>5</sup>So she went from him and shut the door behind herself and her sons. And as she poured they brought the vessels to her. <sup>6</sup>When the vessels were full, she said to her son, “Bring me another vessel.” And he said to her, “There is not another.” Then the oil stopped flowing. <sup>7</sup>She came and told the man of God, and he said, “Go, sell the oil and pay your debts, and you and your sons can live on the rest.”

New Testament Reading: Ephesians 4:25–5:14

[The New Life]

Walk in Love

<sup>5:1</sup>Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. <sup>2</sup>And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God.

<sup>3</sup>But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints.

you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. <sup>6</sup>Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. <sup>7</sup>Therefore do not become partners with them; <sup>8</sup>for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light <sup>9</sup>(for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), <sup>10</sup>and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. <sup>11</sup>Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. <sup>12</sup>For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. <sup>13</sup>But when anything is exposed by the light, it becomes visible, <sup>14</sup>for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, “Awake, O sleeper,

and arise from the dead,
and Christ will shine on you.”

Writing

By the wedding ring of faith Christ shares in the sins, death, and pains of hell which are his bride's. As a matter of fact, he makes them his own and acts as if they were his own and as if he himself had sinned; he suffered, died, and descended into hell that he might overcome them all. Now since it was such a one who did all this, and death and hell could not swallow him up, these were necessarily swallowed up by him in a mighty duel; for his righteousness is greater than the sins of all men, his life stronger than death, his salvation more invincible than hell. Thus the believing soul by means of the pledge of its faith is free in Christ, its bridegroom, free from all sins, secure against death and hell, and is endowed with the eternal righteousness, life, and salvation of Christ its bridegroom. So he takes to himself a glorious bride, “without spot or wrinkle, cleansing her by the washing of water with the word.” [Cf. Eph. 5:26-27.] of life, that is, by faith in the Word of life, righteousness, and salvation. In this way he marries her in faith, steadfast love, and in mercies, righteousness, and justice, as Hos. 2[:19–20] says.

Who then can fully appreciate what this royal marriage means? Who can understand the riches of the glory of this grace? Here this rich and divine bridegroom Christ marries this poor, wicked harlot, redeems her from all her evil, and adorns her with all his goodness. Her sins cannot now destroy her, since they are laid upon Christ and swallowed up by him. And she has that righteousness in Christ, her husband, of which she may boast as of her own and which she can confidently display alongside her sins in the face of death and hell and say, “If I have sinned, yet my Christ, in whom I believe, has not sinned, and all his is mine and all mine is his,” as the bride in the Song of Solomon [2:16] says, “My beloved is mine and I am his.”

—Martin Luther

Prayer of the Day

O God, who alone knits all infants in the womb, You chose improbable servants—old and childless—to conceive and parent the forerunner of Christ and, in so doing, demonstrated again Your strength in weakness. Grant us, who are as unlikely and unworthy as Zechariah and Elizabeth, the opportunity to love and serve You according to Your good and gracious will; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, now and forever. (1087)

Zechariah and Elizabeth

Zechariah and Elizabeth were “righteous before God, walking blamelessly in the commandments and statutes of the Lord” (Luke 1:6). Zechariah, a priest in the Jerusalem temple, was greeted by the angel Gabriel, who announced that Zechariah and Elizabeth would become parents of a son. Initially, Zechariah did not believe Gabriel’s announcement because of their old age. For his disbelief, Zechariah became unable to speak. After their son was born, Elizabeth named their son John. Zechariah confirmed his wife’s choice, and his ability to speak was restored. In response, he sang the Benedictus, a magnificent summary of God’s promises in the Old Testament and a prediction of John’s work as forerunner to Jesus (Luke 1:68–79). Zechariah and Elizabeth are remembered as examples of faithfulness and piety.

Elisha and the Shunammite Woman

<sup>8</sup>One day Elisha went on to Shunem, where a wealthy woman lived, who urged him to eat some food. So whenever he passed that way, he would turn in there to eat food. <sup>9</sup>And she said to her husband, “Behold now, I know that this is a holy man of God who is continually passing our way. <sup>10</sup>Let us make a small room on the roof with walls and put there for him a bed, a table, a chair, and a lamp, so that whenever he comes to us, he can go in there.”

<sup>11</sup>One day he came there, and he turned into the chamber and rested there. <sup>12</sup>And he said to Gehazi his servant, “Call this Shunammite.” When he had called her, she stood before him. <sup>13</sup>And he said to him, “Say now to her, ‘See, you have taken all this trouble for us; what is to be done for you? Would you have a word spoken on your behalf to the king or to the commander of the army?’” She answered, “I dwell among my own people.” <sup>14</sup>And he said, “What then is to be done for her?” Gehazi answered, “Well, she has no son, and her husband is old.” <sup>15</sup>He said, “Call her.” And when he had called her, she stood in the doorway. <sup>16</sup>And he said, “At this season, about this time next year, you shall embrace a son.” And she said, “No, my lord, O man of God; do not lie to your servant.” <sup>17</sup>But the woman conceived, and she bore a son about that time the following spring, as Elisha had said to her.

Elisha Raises the Shunammite's Son

<sup>18</sup>When the child had grown, he went out one day to his father among the reapers. <sup>19</sup>And he said to his father, “Oh, my head, my head!” The father said to his servant, “Carry him to his mother.” <sup>20</sup>And when he had lifted him and brought him to his mother, the child sat on her lap till noon, and then he died. <sup>21</sup>And she went up and laid him on the bed of the man of God and shut the door behind him and went out. <sup>22</sup>Then she called to her husband and said, “Send me one of the servants and one of the donkeys, that I may quickly go to the man of God and come back again.” . . .

became warm. <sup>35</sup>Then he got up again and walked once back and forth in the house, and went up and stretched himself upon him. The child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes. <sup>36</sup>Then he summoned Gehazi and said, “Call this Shunammite.” So he called her. And when she came to him, he said, “Pick up your son.” <sup>37</sup>She came and fell at his feet, bowing to the ground. Then she picked up her son and went out.

New Testament Reading: Ephesians 5:15–33

Wives and Husbands

<sup>22</sup>Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. <sup>23</sup>For the husband is the head of the wife even as Christ is the head of the church, his body, and is himself its Savior. <sup>24</sup>Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit in everything to their husbands.

himself in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish. <sup>28</sup>In the same way husbands should love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself. <sup>29</sup>For no one ever hated his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, just as Christ does the church, <sup>30</sup>because we are members of his body. <sup>31</sup>“Therefore a man shall leave his father and mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh.” <sup>32</sup>This mystery is profound, and I am saying that it refers to Christ and the church. <sup>33</sup>However, let each one of you love his wife as himself, and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

Writing

The Church is not only the fellowship of outward objects and rites, as other governments, but at its core, it is a fellowship of faith and of the Holy Spirit in hearts. Yet this fellowship has outward marks so that it can be recognized. These marks are the pure doctrine of the Gospel and the administration of the Sacraments in accordance with the Gospel of Christ. This Church alone is called Christ’s body, which Christ renews, sanctifies, and governs by His Spirit. Paul testifies about this when he says, “And gave Him as head over all things to the Church, which is His body, the fullness of Him who fills all in all” (Ephesians 1:22–23). Those in whom Christ does not act are not the members of Christ. The adversaries admit this too. The wicked are “dead” members of the Church. We wonder why the adversaries have found fault with our description that speaks of living members. Neither have we said anything new. Paul has defined the Church precisely in the same way, that it should be cleansed in order to be holy. He adds the outward marks, the Word and Sacraments. For he says:

Christ loved the Church and gave Himself up for her, that He might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with the word, so that He might present the Church to Himself in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish. (Ephesians 5:25–27)

In the Confession, we have presented this sentence almost word for word. The Church is defined by the Third Article of the Creed, which teaches us to believe that there is a holy Catholic Church. The wicked indeed are not a holy Church. The words that follow, namely, “the communion of saints,” seems to be added in order to explain what the Church signifies: the congregation of saints, who have with each other the fellowship of the same Gospel or doctrine and the same Holy Spirit, who renews, sanctifies, and governs their hearts.

Confession VII–VIII (IV) 5–8

Hymnody

The Church’s one foundation
Is Jesus Christ, her Lord;
She is His new creation
By water and the Word.
From heav’n He came and sought her
To be His holy bride;
With His own blood He bought her,
And for her life He died.

Prayer of the Day

O Lord, we implore You, let Your continual pity cleanse and defend Your Church; and because she cannot continue in safety without Your aid, preserve her evermore by Your help and goodness; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Elisha Purifies the Deadly Stew

<sup>38</sup>And Elisha came again to Gilgal when there was a famine in the land. And as the sons of the prophets were sitting before him, he said to his servant, “Set on the large pot, and boil stew for the sons of the prophets.”

<sup>42</sup>A man came from Baal-shalishah, bringing the man of God bread of the firstfruits, twenty loaves of barley and fresh ears of grain in his sack. And Elisha said, “Give to the men, that they may eat.” <sup>43</sup>But his servant said, “How can I set this before a hundred men?” So he repeated, “Give them to the men, that they may eat, for thus says the LORD, ‘They shall eat and have some left.’” <sup>44</sup>So he set it before them. And they ate and had some left, according to the word of the LORD.

Naaman Healed of Leprosy

<sup>5:1</sup>Naaman, commander of the army of the king of Syria, was a great man with his master and in high favor, because by him the LORD had given victory to Syria. He was a mighty man of valor, but he was a leper. <sup>2</sup>Now the Syrians on one of their raids had carried off a little girl from the land of Israel, and she worked in the service of Naaman’s wife. <sup>3</sup>She said to her mistress, “Would that my lord were with the prophet who is in Samaria! He would cure him of his leprosy.” <sup>4</sup>So Naaman went in and told his lord, “Thus and so spoke the girl from the land of Israel.”

So he went, taking with him ten talents of silver, six thousand shekels of gold, and ten changes of clothing. <sup>6</sup>And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, which read, “When this letter reaches you, know that I have sent to you Naaman my servant, that you may cure him of his leprosy.” <sup>7</sup>And when the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his clothes and said, “Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man sends word to me to cure a man of his leprosy? Only consider, and see how he is seeking a quarrel with me.”

<sup>8</sup>But when Elisha the man of God heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, he sent to the king, saying, “Why have you torn your clothes? Let him come now to me, that he may know that there is a prophet in Israel.”

Children and Parents

<sup>4</sup>Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord.

Slaves and Masters

<sup>5</sup>Slaves, obey your earthly masters with fear and trembling, with a sincere heart, as you would Christ, <sup>6</sup>not by the way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart, <sup>7</sup>rendering service with a good will as to the Lord and not to man, <sup>8</sup>knowing that whatever good anyone does, this he will receive back from the Lord, whether he is a slave or free. <sup>9</sup>Masters, do the same to them, and stop your threatening, knowing that he who is both their Master and yours is in heaven, and that there is no partiality with him.

The Whole Armor of God

<sup>10</sup>Finally, be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might. <sup>11</sup>Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. <sup>12</sup>For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. <sup>13</sup>Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm. <sup>14</sup>Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, <sup>15</sup>and, as shoes for your feet, having put on the readiness given by the gospel of peace. <sup>16</sup>In all circumstances take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming darts of the evil one; <sup>17</sup>and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, <sup>18</sup>praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, <sup>19</sup>and also for me, that words may be given to me in opening my mouth boldly to proclaim the mystery of the gospel, <sup>20</sup>for which I am an ambassador in chains, that I may declare it boldly, as I ought to speak.

Final Greetings

<sup>21</sup>So that you also may know how I am and what I am doing, Tychicus the beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord will tell you everything. <sup>22</sup>I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know how we are, and that he may encourage your hearts.

<sup>23</sup>Peace be to the brothers, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>24</sup>Grace be with all who love our Lord Jesus Christ with love incorruptible.

We must remember that we fight not with flesh and blood but against the powers of darkness and spiritual deception (Eph. 6:13). Because the deceptiveness of temptation far exceeds our strength (really, our weakness), there is great danger in underestimating its power lest we give in to temptation, are overcome by it, and so drown in perdition. Therefore, first of all we pray asking that Satan not have freedom to tempt us as much as either he would or could. We also ask that he tempt us only as much as God permits and gives permission (Job 1:12). We pray that our heavenly Father would not cast us off and deliver us to the lust, to the treasons, and to the power of this Tempter. We pray that he would remove and temper the temptation and not allow us to be tempted past that which by his grace and gift we are able to bear (1 Cor. 10:13). . . .

Now this petition contains a general confession for the weakness and infirmity in this life in the whole Church, that is the children of God. When we pray that we may not give in to temptation nor be overcome by it, we acknowledge and confess that by our own strength we are not able to resist any temptations. We acknowledge that this is the work of God's grace. We acknowledge that after we have received new spiritual strength through our rebirth, God's grace and strength directly follow.

—Martin Chemnitz

Hymnody

Triune God, be Thou our stay;
O let us perish never!
Cleanse us from our sins, we pray,
And grant us life forever.
Keep us from the evil one;
Uphold our faith most holy,
And let us trust Thee solely
With humble hearts and lowly.
Let us put God's armor on,
With all true Christians running
Our heav'nly race and shunning
The devil's wiles and cunning.
Amen, amen! This be done;
So sing we, "Alleluia!"

our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and
the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

[Naaman Healed of Leprosy]

<sup>9</sup>So Naaman came with his horses and chariots and stood at the door of Elisha's house. <sup>10</sup>And Elisha sent a messenger to him, saying, "Go and wash in the Jordan seven times, and your flesh shall be restored, and you shall be clean." <sup>11</sup>But Naaman was angry and went away, saying, "Behold, I thought that he would surely come out to me and stand and call upon the name of the LORD
his God, and wave his hand over the place and cure the leper. <sup>12</sup>Are not Abana and Pharpar, the rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? Could I not wash in them and be clean?" So he turned and went away in a rage. <sup>13</sup>But his servants came near and said to him, "My father, it is a great word
the prophet has spoken to you; will you not do it? Has he actually said to you, ‘Wash, and be clean?’” <sup>14</sup>So he went down and dipped himself seven times in the Jordan, according to the word of the man of God, and his flesh was restored like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

Gehazi’s Greed and Punishment

<sup>15</sup>Then he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and he came and stood before him. And he said, “Behold, I know that there is no God in all the earth but in Israel; so accept now a present from your servant.” <sup>16</sup>But he said, “As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, I will receive none.” And he urged him to take it, but he refused. <sup>17</sup>Then Naaman said, “If not, please let there be given to your servant two mules’ load of earth, for from now on your servant will not offer burnt offering or sacrifice to any god but the LORD. <sup>18</sup>In this matter may the LORD pardon your servant: when my master goes into the house of Rimmon to worship there, leaning on my arm, and I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, when I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, the LORD pardon your servant in this matter.” <sup>19</sup>He said to him, “Go in peace.”

But when Naaman had gone from him a short distance, <sup>20</sup>Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said, “See, my master has spared this Naaman the Syrian, in not accepting from his hand what he brought. As the LORD lives, I will run after him and get something from him.” <sup>21</sup>So Gehazi followed Naaman. And when Naaman saw someone running after him, he got down from the chariot to meet him and said, “Is all well?” <sup>22</sup>And he said, “All is well. My master has sent me to say, ‘There have just now come to me from the hill country of Ephraim two young men of the sons of the prophets. Please give them a talent of silver and two changes of clothing.’” <sup>23</sup>And Naaman said, “Be pleased to accept two talents.” And he urged him and tied up two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of clothing, and laid them on two of his servants. And they carried them before Gehazi. <sup>24</sup>And when he came to the hill, he took them from their hand and put them in the house, and he sent the men away, and they departed. <sup>25</sup>He went in and stood before his master, and Elisha said to him, “Where have you been, Gehazi?” And he said, “Your servant went nowhere.” <sup>26</sup>But he said to him, “Did not my heart go when the man turned from his chariot to meet you? Was it a time to accept money and garments, olive orchards and vineyards, sheep and oxen, male servants and female servants? <sup>27</sup>Therefore the leprosy of Naaman shall cling to you and to your descendants forever.” So he went out from his presence a leper, like snow.

New Testament Reading: Philippians 1:1–20

Greeting

To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the overseers and deacons:

Thanksgiving and Prayer

<sup>3</sup>I thank my God in all my remembrance of you, <sup>4</sup>always in every prayer of mine for you all making my prayer with joy, <sup>5</sup>because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now. <sup>6</sup>And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ. <sup>7</sup>It is right for me to feel this way about you all, because I hold you in my heart, for you are all partakers with me of grace, both in my imprisonment and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel. <sup>8</sup>For God is my witness, how I yearn for you all with the affection of Christ Jesus. <sup>9</sup>And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment, <sup>10</sup>so that you may approve what is excellent, and so be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, <sup>11</sup>filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

The Advance of the Gospel

<sup>12</sup>I want you to know, brothers, that what has happened to me has really served to advance the gospel, <sup>13</sup>so that it has become known throughout the whole imperial guard and to all the rest that my imprisonment is for Christ. <sup>14</sup>And most of the brothers, having become confident in the Lord by my imprisonment, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

<sup>15</sup>Some indeed preach Christ from envy and rivalry, but others from good will. <sup>16</sup>The latter do it out of love, knowing that I am put here for the defense of the gospel. <sup>17</sup>The former proclaim Christ out of rivalry, not sincerely but thinking to afflict me in my imprisonment. <sup>18</sup>What then? Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is proclaimed, and in that I rejoice.

To Live Is Christ

Yes, and I will rejoice, <sup>19</sup>for I know that through your prayers and the help of the Spirit of Jesus Christ this will turn out for my deliverance, <sup>20</sup>as it is my eager expectation and hope that I will not be at all ashamed, but that with full courage now as always Christ will be honored in my body, whether by life or by death.

Writing

Come, my brethren, put on the Holy Spirit from the waters of Baptism; be joined with the angels who serve the Godhead! For He is the fire that seals His flock by His threefold name and puts the evil one to flight.

When John cried out and said, "This is the Lamb of God," he showed the Gentiles that they are also Abraham's children. He testified that our Savior would baptize with fire and the Spirit. The fire and the Spirit, my brothers, are in the Baptism of truth. For Baptism is greater than the little Jordan River, for in streams of water and oil, the misdeeds of all men are washed out. Elisha, by sevenfold washing, cleansed Naaman's leprosy; in Baptism, the secret misdeeds of the soul are cleansed. Moses baptized the people in the midst of the sea, yet he was unable to wash their hearts, which were defiled. [Jesus], the priest like Moses, purges the defilements of the soul, and with oil of anointing, He seals new lambs for the kingdom. Samuel anointed David to be king among the people, but [Jesus] anoints you to be heirs in the kingdom. For after his anointing, with armor, David fought and laid low the giant who sought to subdue Israel. Again, in the Baptism of Christ and in the armor that is from the water, the haughtiness of the evil one who sought to subdue the Gentiles is humbled. The thirst of the people was quenched in the water that flowed from rock. In the fountain of Christ, the thirst of the peoples is quenched. The rod of Moses opened the rock and the streams flowed forth, and those who had grown faint with thirst were refreshed by its draught. From the side of Christ flowed the stream that bestowed life; the weary Gentiles drank and forgot their pains in it.

Sprinkle my vileness with Your dew, and my crimes shall be atoned in Your blood! And I shall be, O my Lord, at Your right hand and joined to Your saints!

—Ephraim Syrus

Hymnody

Lord, You have raised me up
To joy and exultation
And clearly shown the way
That leads me to salvation.
My sins are washed away;
For this I thank You, Lord.
Now with my heart and soul
All evil I abhor.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, the giver of all good gifts, our thanksgiving overflows for the life You created in us and the new life we now have in You through Holy Baptism. Continue to shower us with Your gifts as we offer thanksgiving for our ongoing communion with You in Your body and blood; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. The Axe Head Recovered

<sup>1</sup>Now the sons of the prophets said to Elisha, “See, the place where we dwell under your charge is too small for us. <sup>2</sup>Let us go to the Jordan and each of us get there a log, and let us make a place for us to dwell there.” And he answered, “Go.” <sup>3</sup>Then one of them said, “Be pleased to go with your servants.” And he answered, “I will go.” <sup>4</sup>So he went with them. And when they came to the Jordan, they cut down trees. <sup>5</sup>But as one was felling a log, his axe head fell into the water, and he cried out, “Alas, my master! It was borrowed.”<sup>6</sup> Then the man of God said, “Where did it fall?” When he showed him the place, he cut off a stick and threw it in there and made the iron float.<sup>7</sup> And he said, “Take it up.” So he reached out his hand and took it.

Horses and Chariots of Fire

<sup>8</sup>Once when the king of Syria was warring against Israel, he took counsel with his servants, saying, “At such and such a place shall be my camp.”<sup>9</sup> But the man of God sent word to the king of Israel, “Beware that you do not pass this place, for the Syrians are going down there.”<sup>10</sup> And the king of Israel sent to the place about which the man of God told him. Thus he used to warn him, so that he saved himself there more than once or twice.

<sup>11</sup>And the mind of the king of Syria was greatly troubled because of this thing, and he called his servants and said to them, “Will you not show me who of us is for the king of Israel?”<sup>12</sup> And one of his servants said, “None, my lord, O king; but Elisha, the prophet who is in Israel, tells the king of Israel the words that you speak in your bedroom.”<sup>13</sup> And he said, “Go and see where he is, that I may send and seize him.” It was told him, “Behold, he is in Dothan.”<sup>14</sup> So he sent there horses and chariots and a great army, and they came by night and surrounded the city.

<sup>15</sup>When the servant of the man of God rose early in the morning and went out, behold, an army with horses and chariots was all around the city. And the servant said, “Alas, my master! What shall we do?”<sup>16</sup> He said, “Do not be afraid, for those who are with us are more than those who are with them.”<sup>17</sup> Then Elisha prayed and said, “O LORD, please open his eyes that he may see.” So the LORD opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw, and behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha.<sup>18</sup> And when the Syrians came down against him, Elisha prayed to the LORD and said, “Please strike this people with blindness.” So he struck them with blindness in accordance with the prayer of Elisha.<sup>19</sup> And Elisha said to them, “This is not the way, and this is not the city. Follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom you seek.” And he led them to Samaria.

<sup>20</sup>As soon as they entered Samaria, Elisha said, “O LORD, open the eyes of these men, that they may see.” So the LORD opened their eyes and they saw, and behold, they were in the midst of Samaria.<sup>21</sup> As soon as the king of Israel saw them, he said to Elisha, “My father, shall I strike them down? Shall I strike them down?”<sup>22</sup> He answered, “You shall not strike them down. Would you strike down those whom you have taken captive with your sword and with your bow? Set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink and go to their master.”<sup>23</sup> So he prepared for them a great feast, and when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master. And the Syrians did not come again on raids into the land of Israel.

[To Live Is Christ]

<sup>21</sup>For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.<sup>22</sup>If I am to live in the flesh, that means fruitful labor for me. Yet which I shall choose

I cannot tell. <sup>23</sup>I am hard pressed between the two. My desire is to depart and be with Christ, for that is far better. <sup>24</sup>But to remain in the flesh is more necessary on your account. <sup>25</sup>Convinced of this, I know that I will remain and continue with you all, for your progress and joy in the faith, <sup>26</sup>so that in me you may have ample cause to glory in Christ Jesus, because of my coming to you again.

<sup>27</sup>Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel, <sup>28</sup>and not frightened in anything by your opponents. This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God. <sup>29</sup>For it has been granted to you that for the sake of Christ you should not only believe in him but also suffer for his sake, <sup>30</sup>engaged in the same conflict that you saw I had and now hear that I still have.

Christ's Example of Humility

<sup>21</sup>So if there is any encouragement in Christ, any comfort from love, any participation in the Spirit, any affection and sympathy, <sup>2</sup>complete my joy by being of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind. <sup>3</sup>Do nothing from rivalry or conceit, but in humility count others more significant than yourselves. <sup>4</sup>Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others. <sup>5</sup>Have this mind among yourselves, which is yours in Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, <sup>7</sup>but made himself nothing, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men. <sup>8</sup>And being found in human form, he humbled himself by becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross. <sup>9</sup>Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name, <sup>10</sup>so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, <sup>11</sup>and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Writing

[St. Peter said to Dante:]

“Say, thou good Christian;
manifest thyself;

What is the Faith?”

Whereat I raised my brow

Unto that light wherefrom
was this breathed forth.

Then turned I round to Beatrice, and she Prompt signals made to me that I should pour

The water forth from my internal fountain.

“May grace, that suffers me to make confession,”

Began I, “to the great centurion,

Cause my conceptions all to be explicit!”

And I continued: “As the truthful pen,

Father, of thy dear brother
wrote of it,

Who put with thee Rome into the good way,

Faith is the substance
of the things we hope for,

And evidence of those that are not seen;

And this appears to me its quiddity [distinctive peculiarity].”

Then heard I:

“Very rightly thou perceivest,

If well thou understandest
why he placed it

With substances and then with evidences.”

And I thereafterward:
 “The things profound,
     That here vouchsafe
     to me their apparition,
 Unto all eyes below are so concealed,
     That they exist there only in belief,
     Upon [that] is founded
     the high hope,
 And hence it takes the nature of a substance.
     And it behoveth us from this belief
     To reason without having other sight,
 And hence it has the nature of evidence.”
     Then heard I: “If whatever is acquired Below by doctrine were thus understood,
 No sophist’s subtlety would there find place.”
 —Dante

Prayer of the Day

Merciful Lord, You sent Your Son, Jesus, into our world to humble Himself by becoming obedient unto death, even death on a cross. Teach us to be obedient so that we might declare with St. Paul that “for to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain” (Philippians 1:21) and so that our lives may be worthy of the Gospel of Christ; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (1089)

Jehu Anointed King of Israel

<sup>4</sup>So the young man, the servant of the prophet, went to Ramoth-gilead. <sup>5</sup>And when he came, behold, the commanders of the army were in council. And he said, “I have a word for you, O commander.” And Jehu said, “To which of us all?” And he said, “To you, O commander.” <sup>6</sup>So he arose and went into the house. And the young man poured the oil on his head, saying to him, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, I anoint you king over the people of the LORD, over Israel. <sup>7</sup>And you shall strike down the house of Ahab your master, so that I may avenge on Jezebel the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the LORD. <sup>8</sup>For the whole house of Ahab shall perish, and I will cut off from Ahab every male, bond or free, in Israel. <sup>9</sup>And I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah. <sup>10</sup>And the dogs shall eat Jezebel in the territory of Jezreel, and none shall bury her.” Then he opened the door and fled.

he said to them, “You know the fellow and his talk.” <sup>12</sup>And they said, “That is not true; tell us now.” And he said, “Thus and so he spoke to me, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD, I anoint you king over Israel.’” <sup>13</sup>Then in haste every man of them took his garment and put it under him on the bare steps, and they blew the trumpet and proclaimed, “Jehu is king.” . . .

Jehu Strikes Down the Prophets of Baal

<sup>18</sup>Then Jehu assembled all the people and said to them, “Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve him much. <sup>19</sup>Now therefore call to me all the prophets of Baal, all his worshipers and all his priests. Let none be missing, for I have a great sacrifice to offer to Baal. Whoever is missing shall not live.” But Jehu did it with cunning in order to destroy the worshipers of Baal. <sup>20</sup>And Jehu ordered, “Sanctify a solemn assembly for Baal.” So they proclaimed it. <sup>21</sup>And Jehu sent throughout all Israel, and all the worshipers of Baal came, so that there was not a man left who did not come. And they entered the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was filled from one end to the other. <sup>22</sup>He said to him who was in charge of the wardrobe, “Bring out the vestments for all the worshipers of Baal.” So he brought out the vestments for them. <sup>23</sup>Then Jehu went into the house of Baal with Jehonadab the son of Rechab, and he said to the worshipers of Baal, “Search, and see that there is no servant of the LORD here among you, but only the worshipers of Baal.” <sup>24</sup>Then they went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings.

Now Jehu had stationed eighty men outside and said, “The man who allows any of those whom I give into your hands to escape shall forfeit his life.” <sup>25</sup>So as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, Jehu said to the guard and to the officers, “Go in and strike them down; let not a man escape.” So when they put them to the sword, the guard and the officers cast them out and went into the inner room of the house of Baal, <sup>26</sup>and they brought out the pillar that was in the house of Baal and burned it. <sup>27</sup>And they demolished the pillar of Baal, and demolished the house of Baal, and made it a latrine to this day.

Jehu Reigns in Israel

<sup>28</sup>Thus Jehu wiped out Baal from Israel. <sup>29</sup>But Jehu did not turn aside from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin—that is, the golden calves that were in Bethel and in Dan.

Lights in the World

<sup>12</sup>Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, <sup>13</sup>for it is God who works in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure.

<sup>14</sup>Do all things without grumbling or questioning, <sup>15</sup>that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, <sup>16</sup>holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain. <sup>17</sup>Even if I am to be poured out as a drink offering upon the sacrificial offering of your faith, I am glad and rejoice with you all. <sup>18</sup>Likewise you also should be glad and rejoice with me.

Timothy and Epaphroditus

<sup>19</sup>I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, so that I too may be cheered by news of you. <sup>20</sup>For I have no one like him, who will be genuinely concerned for your welfare. <sup>21</sup>For they all seek their own interests, not those of Jesus Christ. <sup>22</sup>But you know Timothy’s proven worth, how as a son with a father he has served with me in the gospel. <sup>23</sup>I hope therefore to send him just as soon as I see how it will go with me, <sup>24</sup>and I trust in the Lord that shortly I myself will come also.

<sup>25</sup>I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and fellow worker and fellow soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need, <sup>26</sup>for he has been longing for you all and has been distressed because you heard that he was ill. <sup>27</sup>Indeed he was ill, near to death. But God had mercy on him, and not only on him but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow. <sup>28</sup>I am the more eager to send him, therefore, that you may rejoice at seeing him again, and that I may be less anxious. <sup>29</sup>So receive him in the Lord with all joy, and honor such men, <sup>30</sup>for he nearly died for the work of Christ, risking his life to complete what was lacking in your service to me.

Writing

Therefore, ordinances instituted as though they are necessary, or with the view that they merit grace, are contrary to the Gospel. Therefore, it follows that it is not lawful for any bishop to institute and require such services. It is necessary that the doctrine of Christian freedom be preserved in the churches. In other words, the bondage of the Law is not necessary in order to be justified, as it is written in the Epistle to the Galatians, “do not submit again to a yoke of slavery” (5:1). It is necessary for the chief article of the Gospel to be preserved, namely that we obtain grace freely by faith in Christ, and not by certain observances or acts of worship devised by people.

What, then, are we to think of the Sunday rites, and similar things, in God’s house? We answer that it is lawful for bishops, or pastors, to make ordinances so that things will be done orderly in the Church, but not to teach that we merit grace or make satisfaction for sins. Consciences are not bound to regard them as necessary services and to think that it is a sin to break them without offense to others. So in 1 Corinthians 11:5, Paul concludes that women should cover their heads in the congregation and in 1 Corinthians 14:30, that interpreters be heard in order in the church, and so on.

It is proper that the churches keep such ordinances for the sake of love and tranquility, to avoid giving offense to another, so that all things be done in the churches in order, and without confusion (1 Corinthians 14:40; comp. Philippians 2:14). It is proper to keep such ordinances just so long as consciences are not burdened to think that they are necessary to salvation, or to regard it as sin if they are changed without offending others. For instance, no one will say that a woman sins who goes out in public with her head uncovered, as long as no offense is given.

2 Chronicles 29:1–24

Hezekiah Reigns in Judah

<sup>1</sup>Hezekiah began to reign when he was twenty-five years old, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abijah the daughter of Zechariah. <sup>2</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

Hezekiah Cleanses the Temple

evil in the sight of the LORD our God. They have forsaken him and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD and turned their backs. <sup>7</sup>They also shut the doors of the vestibule and put out the lamps and have not burned incense or offered burnt offerings in the Holy Place to the God of Israel. <sup>8</sup>Therefore the wrath of the LORD came on Judah and Jerusalem, and he has made them an object of horror, of astonishment, and of hissing, as you see with your own eyes. <sup>9</sup>For behold, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this. <sup>10</sup>Now it is in my heart to make a covenant with the LORD, the God of Israel, in order that his fierce anger may turn away from us. <sup>11</sup>My sons, do not now be negligent, for the LORD has chosen you to stand in his presence, to minister to him and to be his ministers and make offerings to him."

<sup>12</sup>Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites; and of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jehallelel; and of the Gershonites, Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Joah; <sup>13</sup>and of the sons of Elizaphan, Shimri and Jeuel; and of the sons of Asaph, Zechariah and Mattaniah; <sup>14</sup>and of the sons of Heman, Jehuel and Shimei; and of the sons of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel. <sup>15</sup>They gathered their brothers and consecrated themselves and went in as the king had commanded, by the words of the LORD, to cleanse the house of the LORD. <sup>16</sup>The priests went into the inner part of the house of the LORD to cleanse it, and they brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the LORD into the court of the house of the Lord. And the Levites took it and carried it out to the brook Kidron.

<sup>17</sup>They began to consecrate on the first day of the first month, and on the eighth day of the month they came to the vestibule of the LORD. Then for eight days they consecrated the house of the LORD, and on the sixteenth day of the first month they finished. <sup>18</sup>Then they went in to Hezekiah the king and said, “We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils, and the table for the showbread and all its utensils. <sup>19</sup>All the utensils that King Ahaz discarded in his reign when he was faithless, we have made ready and consecrated, and behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.”

Hezekiah Restores Temple Worship

<sup>20</sup>Then Hezekiah the king rose early and gathered the officials of the city and went up to the house of the LORD. <sup>21</sup>And they brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs, and seven male goats for a sin offering for the kingdom and for the sanctuary and for Judah. And he commanded the priests, the sons of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the LORD. <sup>22</sup>So they slaughtered the bulls, and the priests received the blood and threw it against the altar. And they slaughtered the rams, and their blood was thrown against the altar. And they slaughtered the lambs, and their blood was thrown against the altar. <sup>23</sup>Then the goats for the sin offering were brought to the king and the assembly, and they laid their hands on them, <sup>24</sup>and the priests slaughtered them and made a sin offering with their blood on the altar, to make atonement for all Israel. For the king commanded that the burnt offering and the sin offering should be made for all Israel.

New Testament Reading: Philippians 3:1–21

Righteousness Through Faith in Christ

<sup>1</sup>Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you is no trouble to me and is safe for you.

<sup>2</sup>Look out for the dogs, look out for the evildoers, look out for those who mutilate the flesh. <sup>3</sup>For we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh—<sup>4</sup>though I myself have reason for confidence in the flesh also. If anyone else thinks he has reason for confidence in the flesh, I have more: <sup>5</sup>circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; <sup>6</sup>as to zeal, a persecutor of the church; as to righteousness under the law, blameless. <sup>7</sup>But whatever gain I had, I counted as loss for the sake of Christ. <sup>8</sup>Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ <sup>9</sup>and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith—<sup>10</sup>that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, <sup>11</sup>that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead.

Straining Toward the Goal

<sup>12</sup>Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect, but I press on to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me his own. <sup>13</sup>Brothers, I do not consider that

I have made it my own. But one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, <sup>14</sup>I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. <sup>15</sup>Let those of us who are mature think this way, and if in anything you think otherwise, God will reveal that also to you. <sup>16</sup>Only let us hold true to what we have attained.

<sup>17</sup>Brothers, join in imitating me, and keep your eyes on those who walk according to the example you have in us. <sup>18</sup>For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. <sup>19</sup>Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things. <sup>20</sup>But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>21</sup>who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself.

Writing

In conclusion the psalmist states that despite the insignificance of the clouds and God's Christians to the world they are nonetheless a wonder to behold in view of God's immanence in them and His rule over them. Everyone, therefore, really ought to stand in awe of them and honor them, since they form God's holy dwelling place. For the word "saints" refers to a holy place and dwelling here. The holy Christians make up the holy dwelling place of God in the New Testament, where God is no longer confined to cities and buildings as He was in the Old Testament. These Christians are sanctified far more perfectly than Solomon's temple, sanctified with the Holy Spirit Himself, and anointed with the living oil of God's grace.

Whoever touches them also touches the apple of God's eye (Zech. 2:8). This assurance is given us to console and fortify us in the days of persecution. Whatever persecution is visited on us, whom they despise, is really inflicted on God, who will deal terribly with them.

The appellation "the God of Israel" signifies that our God is none other than the one whom the Israelites once had. It is Christ, whom the Israelites once possessed and of whom we now also say: He who does these things is no longer only Israel's God but the God of the whole world. Nobody is strong in his own might; no one has the strength for successful resistance to evil. It is God alone who vouchsafes power and strength to all, namely, to all who are powerful and strong, so that He alone is blessed and He alone is God. That is the meaning of "Blessed be God!" Or, as St. Paul says (2 Cor. 10:17): "Let him who boasts, boast of the Lord!" Amen.

—Martin Luther

Hezekiah Organizes the Priests

<sup>1</sup>Now when all this was finished, all Israel who were present went out to the cities of Judah and broke in pieces the pillars and cut down the Asherim and broke down the high places and the altars throughout all Judah and Benjamin, and in Ephraim and Manasseh, until they had destroyed them all. Then all the people of Israel returned to their cities, every man to his possession.

<sup>2</sup>And Hezekiah appointed the divisions of the priests and of the Levites, division by division, each according to his service, the priests and the Levites, for burnt offerings and peace offerings, to minister in the gates of the camp of the Lord and to give thanks and praise. <sup>3</sup>The contribution of the king from his own possessions was for the burnt offerings: the burnt offerings of morning and evening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, the new moons, and the appointed feasts, as it is written in the Law of the LORD. <sup>4</sup>And he commanded the people who lived in Jerusalem to give the portion due to the priests and the Levites, that they might give themselves to the Law of the LORD. <sup>5</sup>As soon as the command was spread abroad, the people of Israel gave in abundance the firstfruits of grain, wine, oil, honey, and of all the produce of the field. And they brought in abundantly the tithe of everything. <sup>6</sup>And the people of Israel and Judah who lived in the cities of Judah also brought in the tithe of cattle and sheep, and the tithe of the dedicated things that had been dedicated to the LORD their God, and laid them in heaps. <sup>7</sup>In the third month they began to pile up the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month. <sup>8</sup>When Hezekiah and the princes came and saw the heaps, they blessed the LORD and his people Israel. <sup>9</sup>And Hezekiah questioned the priests and the Levites about the heaps. <sup>10</sup>Azariah the chief priest, who was of the house of Zadok, answered him, “Since they began to bring the contributions into the house of the LORD, we have eaten and had enough and have plenty left, for the LORD has blessed his people, so that we have this large amount left.” <sup>11</sup>Then Hezekiah commanded them to prepare chambers in the house of the LORD, and they prepared them. <sup>12</sup>And they faithfully brought in the contributions, the tithes, and the dedicated things. The chief officer in charge of them was Conaniah the Levite, with Shimei his brother as second, <sup>13</sup>while Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismachiah, Mahath, and Benaiah were overseers assisting Conaniah and Shimei his brother, by the appointment of Hezekiah the king and Azariah the chief officer of the house of God. <sup>14</sup>And Kore the son of Imnah the Levite, keeper of the east gate, was over the freewill offerings to God, to apportion the contribution reserved for the Lord and the most holy offerings. <sup>15</sup>Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah were faithfully assisting him in the cities of the priests, to distribute the portions to their brothers, old and young alike, by divisions, <sup>16</sup>except those enrolled by genealogy, males from three years old and upward—all who entered the house of the LORD as the duty of each day required—for their service according to their offices, by their divisions. <sup>17</sup>The enrollment of the priests was according to their fathers' houses; that of the Levites from twenty years old and upward was according to their offices, by their divisions. <sup>18</sup>They were enrolled with all their little children, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, the whole assembly, for they were faithful in keeping themselves holy. <sup>19</sup>And for the sons of Aaron, the priests, who were in the fields of common land belonging to their cities, there were men in the several cities who were designated by name to distribute portions to every male among the priests and to everyone among the Levites who was enrolled.

<sup>20</sup>Thus Hezekiah did throughout all Judah, and he did what was good and right and faithful before the LORD his God. <sup>21</sup>And every work that he undertook in the service of the house of God and in accordance with the law and the commandments, seeking his God, he did with all his heart, and prospered.

<sup>1</sup>Therefore, my brothers, whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, stand firm thus in the Lord, my beloved.

Exhortation, Encouragement, and Prayer

<sup>2</sup>I entreat Euodia and I entreat Syntyche to agree in the Lord. <sup>3</sup>Yes, I ask you also, true companion, help these women, who have labored side by side with me in the gospel together with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life.

<sup>4</sup>Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice. <sup>5</sup>Let your reasonableness be known to everyone. The Lord is at hand; <sup>6</sup>do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. <sup>7</sup>And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

<sup>8</sup>Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. <sup>9</sup>What you have learned and received and heard and seen in me—practice these things, and the God of peace will be with you.

God's Provision

<sup>10</sup>I rejoiced in the Lord greatly that now at length you have revived your concern for me. You were indeed concerned for me, but you had no opportunity. <sup>11</sup>Not that I am speaking of being in need, for I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content. <sup>12</sup>I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. <sup>13</sup>I can do all things through him who strengthens me.

<sup>14</sup>Yet it was kind of you to share my trouble. <sup>15</sup>And you Philippians yourselves know that in the beginning of the gospel, when I left Macedonia, no church entered into partnership with me in giving and receiving, except you only. <sup>16</sup>Even in Thessalonica you sent me help for my needs once and again. <sup>17</sup>Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit that increases to your credit. <sup>18</sup>I have received full payment, and more. I am well supplied, having received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent, a fragrant offering, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasing to God. <sup>19</sup>And my God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. <sup>20</sup>To our God and Father be glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>23</sup>The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

These words can refer either to the kingdom of God that we call the “advent of the Son,” for whose nativity we should be preparing just now, or to the kingdom of God we say is “paradise.” Either interpretation is truly and strictly acceptable, for the kingdom of glory is near to the servants of God, and the kingdom of grace, the advent of Christ, is already among them (Luke 17:21) and day by day grows and multiplies in His own servants.

Thus, whichever way we interpret “kingdom of God,” we can say that this kingdom is a place or a reality of supreme majesty and therefore seeks out those of noble and reverential desires, for we read: “Surely His salvation is near those who fear Him, that His glory may dwell in our land” (Psalm 85:9). This kingdom has supreme clarity and therefore is among men of outstanding contemplation and meditation, inasmuch as “You are near, O Lord, and all Your ways are truth” (Psalm 119:151). This kingdom is incomparably charming and gentle, so that those who are near it, who have been created anew and anointed from heaven, exclaim: “Rejoice in the Lord always. I will say it again: Rejoice! Let your gentleness be evident to all. The Lord is near” (Philippians 4:4–5). The kingdom is, lastly, supremely holy and therefore encourages believers to be in regular conversation with God, for “the Lord is near to all who call on Him, to all who call on Him in truth” (Psalm 145:18).

Sennacherib Invades Judah

to him in the square at the gate of the city and spoke encouragingly to them, saying, <sup>7</sup>“Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or dismayed before the king of Assyria and all the horde that is with him, for there are more with us than with him. <sup>8</sup>With him is an arm of flesh, but with us is the LORD our God, to help us and to fight our battles.” And the people took confidence from the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

Sennacherib Blasphemes

<sup>9</sup>After this, Sennacherib king of Assyria, who was besieging Lachish with all his forces, sent his servants to Jerusalem to Hezekiah king of Judah and to all the people of Judah who were in Jerusalem, saying, <sup>10</sup>“Thus says Sennacherib king of Assyria, ‘On what are you trusting, that you endure the siege in Jerusalem? <sup>11</sup>Is not Hezekiah misleading you, that he may give you over to die by famine and by thirst, when he tells you, “The LORD our God will deliver us from the hand of the king of Assyria?” <sup>12</sup>Has not this same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his altars and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, “Before one altar you shall worship, and on it you shall burn your sacrifices?” <sup>13</sup>Do you not know what I and my fathers have done to all the peoples of other lands? Were the gods of the nations of those lands at all able to deliver their lands out of my hand? <sup>14</sup>Who among all the gods of those nations that my fathers devoted to destruction was able to deliver his people from my hand, that your God should be able to deliver you from my hand? <sup>15</sup>Now, therefore, do not let Hezekiah deceive you or mislead you in this fashion, and do not believe him, for no god of any nation or kingdom has been able to deliver his people from my hand or from the hand of my fathers. How much less will your God deliver you out of my hand!”

<sup>16</sup>And his servants said still more against the Lord GOD and against his servant Hezekiah. <sup>17</sup>And he wrote letters to cast contempt on the LORD, the God of Israel, and to speak against him, saying, “Like the gods of the nations of the lands who have not delivered their people from my hands, so the God of Hezekiah will not deliver his people from my hand.” <sup>18</sup>And they shouted it with a loud voice in the language of Judah to the people of Jerusalem who were on the wall, to frighten and terrify them, in order that they might take the city. <sup>19</sup>And they spoke of the God of Jerusalem as they spoke of the gods of the peoples of the earth, which are the work of men’s hands.

The Lord Delivers Jerusalem

<sup>20</sup>Then Hezekiah the king and Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, prayed because of this and cried to heaven. <sup>21</sup>And the LORD sent an angel, who cut off all the mighty warriors and commanders and officers in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned with shame of face to his own land. And when he came into the house of his god, some of his own sons struck him down there with the sword. <sup>22</sup>So the LORD saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib king of Assyria and from the hand of all his enemies, and he provided for them on every side.

New Testament Reading: Colossians 1:1–23

Grace to you and peace from God our Father.

Thanksgiving and Prayer

<sup>3</sup>We always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, when we pray for you, <sup>4</sup>since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love that you have for all the saints, <sup>5</sup>because of the hope laid up for you in heaven. Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, <sup>6</sup>which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, <sup>7</sup>just as you learned it from Epaphras our beloved fellow servant. He is a faithful minister of Christ on your behalf <sup>8</sup>and has made known to us your love in the Spirit.

<sup>9</sup>And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, <sup>10</sup>so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God. <sup>11</sup>May you be strengthened with all power, according to his glorious might, for all endurance and patience with joy, <sup>12</sup>giving thanks to the Father, who has qualified you to share in the inheritance of the saints in light. <sup>13</sup>He has delivered us from the domain of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of his beloved Son, <sup>14</sup>in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

The Preeminence of Christ

<sup>15</sup>He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. <sup>16</sup>For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities—all things were created through him and for him. <sup>17</sup>And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together. <sup>18</sup>And he is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in everything he might be preeminent. <sup>19</sup>For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell, <sup>20</sup>and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross.

<sup>21</sup>And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, <sup>22</sup>he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, <sup>23</sup>if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister.

Writing

Thus Paul concludes that he who grasps and clings to this Head, that is, to this individual human nature which in Colossians 1 he calls the body, flesh, and blood of Christ, at the same time grasps, holds, and possesses the whole fullness of the Godhead. For this fullness dwells in the assumed nature, which is akin to us, of the same substance with us, and personally united with us, because there and in that way He has willed that He be sought, found, apprehended, and possessed. For in His absolute deity we cannot approach Him, since we have been alienated and barred from Him because of our sin. But now, since this fullness has been made akin to us in the flesh, not indeed through a transformation or conversion of the natures and essences but through the personal union, we are permitted to approach Him. And since we have an approach and access to the assumed nature of Christ on account of our consubstantial relationship through faith, we also through this same means have an approach to the whole fullness of the deity of the Logos, which dwells in the assumed nature; and thus we are finally brought to fellowship not only with the Son but also with the Father and the Holy Spirit because of the consubstantiality (ὁμοουσία) of the Trinity. These matters can be explained and illustrated by many statements in Colossians 1 and 2, but because we are not writing a commentary, a brief mention will suffice. And since this is nothing else than what we are teaching in our churches concerning the communication of the majesty, it is clear how beautifully the doctrine is explained and confirmed in Paul's statement regarding the whole fullness of the Godhead, which dwells bodily in Christ, so that thus we, His members, may be filled through the working and supplying from Him as the Head, as Paul describes it.

Old Testament Reading: 2 Chronicles 33:1–25

Manasseh Reigns in Judah

them. <sup>4</sup>And he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, “In Jerusalem shall my name be forever.” <sup>5</sup>And he built altars for all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>And he burned his sons as an offering in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, and used fortune-telling and omens and sorcery, and dealt with mediums and with necromancers. He did much evil in the sight of the Lord, provoking him to anger. <sup>7</sup>And the carved image of the idol that he had made he set in the house of God, of which God said to David and to Solomon his son, “In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name forever, <sup>8</sup>and I will no more remove the foot of Israel from the land that I appointed for your fathers, if only they will be careful to do all that I have commanded them, all the law, the statutes, and the rules given through Moses.” <sup>9</sup>Manasseh led Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem astray, to do more evil than the nations whom the LORD destroyed before the people of Israel.

Manasseh’s Repentance

<sup>10</sup>The LORD spoke to Manasseh and to his people, but they paid no attention. <sup>11</sup>Therefore the LORD brought upon them the commanders of the army of the king of Assyria, who captured Manasseh with hooks and bound him with chains of bronze and brought him to Babylon. <sup>12</sup>And when he was in distress, he entreated the favor of the LORD his God and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers. <sup>13</sup>He prayed to him, and God was moved by his entreaty and heard his plea and brought him again to Jerusalem into his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD was God.

<sup>14</sup>Afterward he built an outer wall for the city of David west of Gihon, in the valley, and for the entrance into the Fish Gate, and carried it around Ophel, and raised it to a very great height. He also put commanders of the army in all the fortified cities in Judah. <sup>15</sup>And he took away the foreign gods and the idol from the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built on the mountain of the house of the LORD and in Jerusalem, and he threw them outside of the city. <sup>16</sup>He also restored the altar of the LORD and offered on it sacrifices of peace offerings and of thanksgiving, and he commanded Judah to serve the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>17</sup>Nevertheless, the people still sacrificed at the high places, but only to the LORD their God.

<sup>18</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer to his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, behold, they are in the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel. <sup>19</sup>And his prayer, and how God was moved by his entreaty, and all his sin and his faithlessness, and the sites on which he built high places and set up the Asherim and the images, before he humbled himself, behold, they are written in the Chronicles of the Seers. <sup>20</sup>So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his house, and Amon his son reigned in his place.

Amon's Reign and Death

<sup>21</sup>Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as Manasseh his father had done. Amon sacrificed to all the images that Manasseh his father had made, and served them. <sup>23</sup>And he did not humble himself before the LORD, as Manasseh his father had humbled himself, but this Amon incurred guilt more and more. <sup>24</sup>And his servants conspired against him and put him to death in his house. <sup>25</sup>But the people of the land struck down all those who had conspired against King Amon. And the people of the land made Josiah his son king in his place.

Paul's Ministry to the Church

<sup>24</sup>Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in Christ's afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church, <sup>25</sup>of which I became a minister according to the stewardship from God that was given to me for you, to make the word of God fully known, <sup>26</sup>the mystery hidden for ages and generations but now revealed to his saints. <sup>27</sup>To them God chose to make known how great among the Gentiles are the riches of the glory of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. <sup>28</sup>Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ. <sup>29</sup>For this I toil, struggling with all his energy that he powerfully works within me.

<sup>2:1</sup>For I want you to know how great a struggle I have for you and for those at Laodicea and for all who have not seen me face to face, <sup>2</sup>that their hearts may be encouraged, being knit together in love, to reach all the riches of full assurance of understanding and the knowledge of God's mystery, which is Christ, <sup>3</sup>in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. <sup>4</sup>I say this in order that no one may delude you with plausible arguments. <sup>5</sup>For though I am absent in body, yet I am with you in spirit, rejoicing to see your good order and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

Alive in Christ

<sup>6</sup>Therefore, as you received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, <sup>7</sup>rooted and built up in him and established in the faith, just as you were taught, abounding in thanksgiving.

Writing

The children of Israel, whenever they turned to repentance, remembered above all their exodus from Egypt, and remembering turned back to God who had brought them out. Moses impressed this memory and this protection upon them many times, and David afterwards did the same. How much more ought we to remember our exodus from Egypt, and by this remembrance turn back to him who led us through the washing of regeneration [Titus 3:5], remembrance of which is commended to us for this very reason! This can be done most fittingly in the sacrament of bread and wine. . . . Thus you see how rich a Christian is, that is, one who has been baptized! Even if he would, he could not lose his salvation, however much he sinned, unless he refused to believe. For no sin can condemn him save unbelief alone. All other sins, so long as the faith in God's promise made in baptism returns or remains, are immediately blotted out through that same faith, or rather through the truth of God, because he cannot deny himself if you confess him and faithfully cling to him in his promise.

Prayer of the Day

Merciful God, Your Son, Jesus Christ, was lifted high upon the cross that He might bear the sins of the world and draw all people to Himself. Grant that we who glory in His death for our redemption may faithfully heed His call to bear the cross and follow Him, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F27)

Holy Cross

One of the earliest annual celebrations of the Church, Holy Cross Day traditionally commemorated the discovery of the original cross of Jesus on September 14, 320, in Jerusalem. The cross was found by Helena, mother of Roman Emperor Constantine the Great. The festival day was made official in conjunction with the dedication of a basilica by order of Constantine in AD 335 at the site of Jesus' crucifixion and resurrection. A devout Christian, Helena had helped locate and authenticate many sites related to the life, ministry, death, and resurrection of Jesus throughout biblical lands. Holy Cross Day has remained popular in both Eastern and Western Christianity. Many Lutheran parishes have chosen to use “Holy Cross” as the name of their congregation.

 2 Chronicles 34:1–4, 8–11, 14–33

Josiah Reigns in Judah

<sup>1</sup>Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father; and he did not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. <sup>3</sup>For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet a boy, he began to seek the God of David his father, and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem of the high places, the Asherim, and the carved and the metal images. <sup>4</sup>And they chopped down the altars of the Baals in his presence, and he cut down the incense altars that stood above them. And he broke in pieces the Asherim and the carved and the metal images, and he made dust of them and scattered it over the graves of those who had sacrificed to them. . . .

The Book of the Law Found

<sup>8</sup>Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had cleansed the land and the house, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz, the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God. <sup>9</sup>They came to Hilkiah the high priest and gave him the money that had been brought into the house of God, which the Levites, the keepers of the threshold, had collected from Manasseh and Ephraim and from all the remnant of Israel and from all Judah and Benjamin and from the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup>And they gave it to the workmen who were working in the house of the LORD. And the workmen who were working in the house of the LORD gave it for repairing and restoring the house.

<sup>14</sup>While they were bringing out the money that had been brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiyah the priest found the Book of the Law of the LORD given through Moses. <sup>15</sup>Then Hilkiyah answered and said to Shaphan the secretary, "I have found the Book of the Law in the house of the LORD." And Hilkiyah gave the book to Shaphan. <sup>16</sup>Shaphan brought the book to the king, and further reported to the king, "All that was committed to your servants they are doing. <sup>17</sup>They have emptied out the money that was found in the house of the LORD and have given it into the hand of the overseers and the workmen." <sup>18</sup>Then Shaphan the secretary told the king, "Hilkiyah the priest has given me a book." And Shaphan read from it before the king.

Huldah Prophecies Disaster

<sup>22</sup>So Hilkiyah and those whom the king had sent went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tokhath, son of Hasrah, keeper of the wardrobe (now she lived in Jerusalem in the Second Quarter) and spoke to her to that effect. <sup>23</sup>And she said to them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Tell the man who sent you to me, <sup>24</sup>Thus says the LORD, Behold, I will bring disaster upon this place and upon its inhabitants, all the curses that are written in the book that was read before the king of Judah. <sup>25</sup>Because they have forsaken me and have made offerings to other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands, therefore my wrath will be poured out on this place and will not be quenched. <sup>26</sup>But to the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, thus shall you say to him, Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Regarding the words that you have heard, <sup>27</sup>because your heart was tender and you humbled yourself before God when you heard his words against this place and its inhabitants, and you have humbled yourself before me and have torn your clothes and wept before me, I also have heard you, declares the LORD. <sup>28</sup>Behold, I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace, and your eyes shall not see all the disaster that I will bring upon this place and its inhabitants.' " And they brought back word to the king.

<sup>29</sup>Then the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>30</sup>And the king went up to the house of the LORD, with all the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the priests and the Levites, all the people both great and small. And he read in their hearing all the words of the Book of the Covenant that had been found in the house of the LORD. <sup>31</sup>And the king stood in his place and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes, with all his heart and all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this book. <sup>32</sup>Then he made all who were present in Jerusalem and in Benjamin join in it. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers. <sup>33</sup>And Josiah took away all the abominations from all the territory that belonged to the people of Israel and made all who were present in Israel serve the LORD their God. All his days they did not turn away from following the LORD, the God of their fathers.

<sup>8</sup>See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits of the world, and not according to Christ. <sup>9</sup>For in him the whole fullness of deity dwells bodily, <sup>10</sup>and you have been filled in him, who is the head of all rule and authority. <sup>11</sup>In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, <sup>12</sup>having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. <sup>13</sup>And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, <sup>14</sup>by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. <sup>15</sup>He disarmed the rulers and authorities and put them to open shame, by triumphing over them in him.

Let No One Disqualify You

<sup>16</sup>Therefore let no one pass judgment on you in questions of food and drink, or with regard to a festival or a new moon or a Sabbath. <sup>17</sup>These are a shadow of the things to come, but the substance belongs to Christ. <sup>18</sup>Let no one disqualify you, insisting on asceticism and worship of angels, going on in detail about visions, puffed up without reason by his sensuous mind, <sup>19</sup>and not holding fast to the Head, from whom the whole body, nourished and knit together through its joints and ligaments, grows with a growth that is from God.

<sup>20</sup>If with Christ you died to the elemental spirits of the world, why, as if you were still alive in the world, do you submit to regulations—<sup>21</sup>“Do not handle, Do not taste, Do not touch” <sup>22</sup>(referring to things that all perish as they are used)—according to human precepts and teachings? <sup>23</sup>These have indeed an appearance of wisdom in promoting self-made religion and asceticism and severity to the body, but they are of no value in stopping the indulgence of the flesh.

This is what we hold and teach, in conformity with the ancient orthodox Church, as it has explained this teaching from the Scriptures: the human nature in Christ has received this majesty through the personal union. This happened because the entire fullness of the divinity dwells in Christ [Colossians 2:9], not as in other holy men or angels, but bodily, as in its own body. The divinity shines forth with all its majesty, power, glory, and effectiveness in the received human nature. It does this voluntarily when and as Christ wills. In, with, and through the human nature, Christ shows, uses, and acts on His divine power, glory, and efficacy, as the soul does in the body and fire in glowing iron. (By means of these illustrations, as was also mentioned above, the entire Ancient Church has explained this doctrine.) This power was concealed and withheld at the time of the humiliation. But now, after the form of a servant has been laid aside, it is fully, powerfully, and publicly exercised before all saints, in heaven and on earth. In the life to come we shall also behold His glory face-to-face (John 17:24).

There is and remains in Christ only one divine omnipotence, power, majesty, and glory, which is peculiar to the divine nature alone. But it shines, manifests, and exercises itself fully—yet voluntarily—in, with, and through the received, exalted human nature in Christ.

Hymnody

All who believe and are baptized
Shall see the Lord's salvation;
Baptized into the death of Christ,
They are a new creation.
Through Christ's redemption they shall stand
Among the glorious, heav'nly band
Of ev'ry tribe and nation.

Josiah Keeps the Passover

their offices and encouraged them in the service of the house of the LORD. <sup>3</sup>And he said to the Levites who taught all Israel and who were holy to the LORD, “Put the holy ark in the house that Solomon the son of David, king of Israel, built. You need not carry it on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and his people Israel. <sup>4</sup>Prepare yourselves according to your fathers’ houses by your divisions, as prescribed in the writing of David king of Israel and the document of Solomon his son. <sup>5</sup>And stand in the Holy Place according to the groupings of the fathers’ houses of your brothers the lay people, and according to the division of the Levites by fathers’ household. <sup>6</sup>And slaughter the Passover lamb, and consecrate yourselves, and prepare for your brothers, to do according to the word of the LORD by Moses.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Josiah contributed to the lay people, as Passover offerings for all who were present, lambs and young goats from the flock to the number of 30,000, and 3,000 bulls; these were from the king’s possessions. . . .

<sup>16</sup>So all the service of the LORD was prepared that day, to keep the Passover and to offer burnt offerings on the altar of the LORD, according to the command of King Josiah. <sup>17</sup>And the people of Israel who were present kept the Passover at that time, and the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days. <sup>18</sup>No Passover like it had been kept in Israel since the days of Samuel the prophet. None of the kings of Israel had kept such a Passover as was kept by Josiah, and the priests and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel who were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah this Passover was kept.

Josiah Killed in Battle

<sup>20</sup>After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Neco king of Egypt went up to fight at Carchemish on the Euphrates, and Josiah went out to meet him. <sup>21</sup>But he sent envoys to him, saying, “What have we to do with each other, king of Judah? I am not coming against you this day, but against the house with which I am at war. And God has commanded me to hurry. Cease opposing God, who is with me, lest he destroy you.”

<sup>22</sup>Nevertheless, Josiah did not turn away from him, but disguised himself in order to fight with him. He did not listen to the words of Neco from the mouth of God, but came to fight in the plain of Megiddo. <sup>23</sup>And the archers shot King Josiah. And the king said to his servants, “Take me away, for I am badly wounded.” <sup>24</sup>So his servants took him out of the chariot and carried him in his second chariot and brought him to Jerusalem. And he died and was buried in the tombs of his fathers. All Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah. <sup>25</sup>Jeremiah also uttered a lament for Josiah; and all the singing men and singing women have spoken of Josiah in their laments to this day. They made these a rule in Israel; behold, they are written in the Laments.

Put On the New Self

<sup>12</sup>Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, <sup>13</sup>bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. <sup>14</sup>And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. <sup>15</sup>And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, to which indeed you were called in one body. And be thankful. <sup>16</sup>Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. <sup>17</sup>And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

Rules for Christian Households

wives, and do not be harsh with them.

<sup>23</sup>Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men, <sup>24</sup>knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. You are serving the Lord Christ. <sup>25</sup>For the wrongdoer will be paid back for the wrong he has done, and there is no partiality.

Writing

Vices and carnal sins must be trampled down, beloved brothers, and the corrupting plague of the earthly body must be trodden underfoot with spiritual vigor, lest, while we are turned back again to the conversation of the old man, we become entangled in deadly snares, even as the apostle, with foresight and wholesomeness, forewarned us and said: "So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God" [Romans 8:12–14]. If we are the sons of God; if we are already beginning to be His temples; if, having received the Holy Spirit, we are living holy and spiritually; if we have raised our eyes from earth to heaven; if we have lifted our hearts, filled with God and Christ, to things above and divine, let us do nothing but what is worthy of God and Christ, even as the apostle arouses and exhorts us, saying: "If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory” [Colossians 3:1–4]. Let us, then, who in Baptism have both died and been buried in respect to the carnal sins of the old man, who have risen again with Christ in the heavenly regeneration, both think upon and do the things that are Christ’s.

Cyprian of Carthage, Pastor and Martyr

Cyprian (ca. AD 200–258) was acclaimed bishop of the North African city of Carthage around AD 248. During the persecution of Roman Emperor Decius, Cyprian fled Carthage but returned two years later. He was then forced to deal with the problem of Christians who had lapsed from their faith under persecution and now wanted to return to the Church. It was decided that these lapsed Christians could be restored but that their restoration could take place only after a period of penance that demonstrated their faithfulness. During the persecution under Emperor Valerian, Cyprian at first went into hiding but later gave himself up to the authorities. He was beheaded for the faith in Carthage in AD 258.

Judah's Decline

<sup>1</sup>The people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah and made him king in his father's place in Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>Then the king of Egypt deposed him in Jerusalem and laid on the land a tribute of a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold. <sup>4</sup>And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. But Neco took Jehoahaz his brother and carried him to Egypt.

<sup>5</sup>Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. <sup>6</sup>Against him came up Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and bound him in chains to take him to Babylon. <sup>7</sup>Nebuchadnezzar also carried part of the vessels of the house of the LORD to Babylon and put them in his palace in Babylon. <sup>8</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and the abominations that he did, and what was found against him, behold, they are written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah. And Jehoiachin his son reigned in his place.

<sup>9</sup>Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. <sup>10</sup>In the spring of the year King Nebuchadnezzar sent and brought him to Babylon, with the precious vessels of the house of the LORD, and made his brother Zedekiah king over Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>11</sup>Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. <sup>12</sup>He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. He did not humble himself before Jeremiah the prophet, who spoke from the mouth of the LORD. <sup>13</sup>He also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear by God. He stiffened his neck and hardened his heart against turning to the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>14</sup>All the officers of the priests and the people likewise were exceedingly unfaithful, following all the abominations of the nations. And they polluted the house of the LORD that he had made holy in Jerusalem.

Jerusalem Captured and Burned

<sup>17</sup>Therefore he brought up against them the king of the Chaldeans, who killed their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary and had no compassion on young man or virgin, old man or aged. He gave them all into his hand. <sup>18</sup>And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king and of his princes, all these he brought to Babylon.

<sup>19</sup>And they burned the house of God and broke down the wall of Jerusalem and burned all its palaces with fire and destroyed all its precious vessels. <sup>20</sup>He took into exile in Babylon those who had escaped from the sword, and they became servants to him and to his sons until the establishment of the kingdom of Persia, <sup>21</sup>to fulfill the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed its Sabbaths. All the days that it lay desolate it kept Sabbath, to fulfill seventy years.

The Proclamation of Cyrus

<sup>22</sup>Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom and also put it in writing. <sup>23</sup>“Thus says Cyrus king of Persia, ‘The LORD, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whoever is among you of all his people, may the LORD his God be with him. Let him go up.’”

Further Instructions

<sup>2</sup>Continue steadfastly in prayer, being watchful in it with thanksgiving. <sup>3</sup>At the same time, pray also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am

<sup>5</sup>Walk in wisdom toward outsiders, making the best use of the time. <sup>6</sup>Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer each person.

Final Greetings

<sup>7</sup>Tychicus will tell you all about my activities. He is a beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow servant in the Lord. <sup>8</sup>I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know how we are and that he may encourage your hearts, <sup>9</sup>and with him Onesimus, our faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will tell you of everything that has taken place here.

<sup>10</sup>Aristarchus my fellow prisoner greets you, and Mark the cousin of Barnabas (concerning whom you have received instructions—if he comes to you, welcome him), <sup>11</sup>and Jesus who is called Justus. These are the only men of the circumcision among my fellow workers for the kingdom of God, and they have been a comfort to me. <sup>12</sup>Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, greets you, always struggling on your behalf in his prayers, that you may stand mature and fully assured in all the will of God. <sup>13</sup>For I bear him witness that he has worked hard for you and for those in Laodicea and in Hierapolis. <sup>14</sup>Luke the beloved physician greets you, as does Demas. <sup>15</sup>Give my greetings to the brothers at Laodicea, and to Nympha and the church in her house. <sup>16</sup>And when this letter has been read among you, have it also read in the church of the Laodiceans; and see that you also read the letter from Laodicea. <sup>17</sup>And say to Archippus, “See that you fulfill the ministry that you have received in the Lord.”

<sup>18</sup>I, Paul, write this greeting with my own hand. Remember my chains. Grace be with you.

Writing

16. The person who believes that he can obtain grace by doing what is in him adds sin to sin so that he becomes doubly guilty.

On the basis of what has been said, the following is clear: While a person is doing what is in him, he sins and seeks himself in everything. But if he should suppose that through sin he would become worthy of or prepared for grace, he would add haughty arrogance to his sin and not believe that sin is sin and evil is evil, which is an exceedingly great sin. As Jer. 2[:13] says, “For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed out cisterns for themselves, broken cisterns, that can hold no water,” that is, through sin they are far from me and yet they presume to do good by their own ability.

Now you ask, “What then shall we do? Shall we go our way with indifference because we can do nothing but sin?” I would reply, By no means. But, having heard this, fall down and pray for grace and place your hope in Christ in whom is our salvation, life, and resurrection. For this reason we are so instructed—for this reason the law makes us aware of sin so that, having recognized our sin, we may seek and receive grace. Thus God “gives grace to the humble” [I Pet. 5:5], and “whoever humbles himself will be exalted” [Matt. 23:12]. The law humbles, grace exalts. The law effects fear and wrath, grace effects hope and mercy. “Through the law comes knowledge of sin” [Rom. 8:20], through knowledge of sin, however, comes humility, and through humility grace is acquired. Thus an action which is alien to God’s nature results in a deed belonging to his very nature: he makes a person a sinner so that he may make him righteous.

Report from Jerusalem

Hacaliah.

Now it happened in the month of Chislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in Susa the capital, <sup>2</sup>that Hanani, one of my brothers, came with certain men from Judah.
And I asked them concerning the Jews who escaped, who had survived the exile, and concerning Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>And they said to me, “The remnant there in the province who had survived the exile is in great trouble and shame. The wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and its gates are destroyed by fire.”

Nehemiah's Prayer

<sup>4</sup>As soon as I heard these words I sat down and wept and mourned for days, and I continued fasting and praying before the God of heaven. <sup>5</sup>And I said, “O LORD God of heaven, the great and awesome God who keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, <sup>6</sup>let your ear be attentive and your eyes open,
to hear the prayer of your servant that I now pray before you day and night for the people of Israel your servants, confessing the sins of the people of Israel, which we have sinned against you. Even I and my father's house have sinned. <sup>7</sup>We have acted very corruptly against you and have not kept the commandments, the statutes, and the rules that you commanded your servant Moses.
<sup>8</sup>Remember the word that you commanded your servant Moses, saying, ‘If you are unfaithful, I will scatter you among the peoples, <sup>9</sup>but if you return to me and keep my commandments and do them, though your outcasts are in the uttermost parts of heaven,
from there I will gather them and bring them to the place that I have chosen, to make my name dwell there.’ <sup>10</sup>They are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed
by your great power and by your strong hand. <sup>11</sup>O Lord, let your ear be attentive to the prayer of your servant, and to the prayer of your servants who delight to fear your name, and give success to your servant today, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man.”

Now I was cupbearer to the king.

Nehemiah Sent to Judah

<sup>2:1</sup>In the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was before him, I took up the wine and gave it to the king. Now I had not been sad in his presence. <sup>2</sup>And the king said to me, “Why is your face sad, seeing you are not sick? This is nothing but sadness of the heart.” Then I was very much afraid. <sup>3</sup>I said to the king, “Let the king live forever! Why should not my face be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers’ graves, lies in ruins, and its gates have been destroyed by fire?” <sup>4</sup>Then the king said to me, “What are you requesting?” So I prayed to the God of heaven. <sup>5</sup>And I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, and if your servant has found favor in your sight, that you send me to Judah, to the city of my fathers’ graves, that I may rebuild it.” <sup>6</sup>And the king said to me (the queen sitting beside him), “How long will you be gone, and when will you return?” So it pleased the king to send me when I had given him a time. <sup>7</sup>And I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, let letters be given me to the governors of the province Beyond the River, that they may let me pass through until I come to Judah, <sup>8</sup>and a letter to Asaph, the keeper of the king’s forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the fortress of the temple, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall occupy.” And the king granted me what I asked, for the good hand of my God was upon me.

Nehemiah Inspects Jerusalem’s Walls

<sup>9</sup>Then I came to the governors of the province Beyond the River and gave them the king’s letters. Now the king had sent with me officers of the army and horsemen. <sup>10</sup>But when Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite servant heard this, it displeased them greatly that someone had come to seek the welfare of the people of Israel.

New Testament Reading: 1 Timothy 1:1–20

Greeting

<sup>1</sup>Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by command of God our Savior and of Christ Jesus our hope, <sup>2</sup>To Timothy, my true child in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Warning Against False Teachers

<sup>3</sup>As I urged you when I was going to Macedonia, remain at Ephesus so that you may charge certain persons not to teach any different doctrine, <sup>4</sup>nor to devote themselves to myths and endless genealogies, which promote speculations rather than the stewardship from God that is by faith. <sup>5</sup>The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. <sup>6</sup>Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion, <sup>7</sup>desiring to be teachers of the law, without understanding either what they are saying or the things about which they make confident assertions.

<sup>8</sup>Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, <sup>9</sup>understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, <sup>10</sup>the sexually immoral, men who practice homosexuality, enslavers, liars, perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound doctrine, <sup>11</sup>in accordance with the gospel of the glory of the blessed God with which I have been entrusted.

Christ Jesus Came to Save Sinners

<sup>12</sup>I thank him who has given me strength, Christ Jesus our Lord, because he judged me faithful, appointing me to his service, <sup>13</sup>though formerly I was a blasphemer, persecutor, and insolent opponent. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, <sup>14</sup>and the grace of our Lord overflowed for me with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. <sup>15</sup>The saying is trustworthy and deserving of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the foremost. <sup>16</sup>But I received mercy for this reason, that in me, as the foremost, Jesus Christ might display his perfect patience as an example to those who were to believe in him for eternal life. <sup>17</sup>To the King of ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>18</sup>This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, <sup>19</sup>holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, <sup>20</sup>among whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan that they may learn not to blaspheme.

Writing

“O Timothy, keep the deposit, shunning profane novelties of words and oppositions of the knowledge falsely so called, which some professing have erred concerning the faith” [1 Timothy 6:20]. After words such as these, is there anyone of so hardened a front, such anvil-like impudence, such adamantine pertinacity, as not to succumb to so huge a mass, not to be crushed by so ponderous a weight, not to be shaken in pieces by such heavy blows, not to be annihilated by such dreadful thunderbolts of divine eloquence? “Shun profane novelties,” he says. He does not say shun “antiquity.” But he plainly points to what ought to follow by the rule of contrary. For if novelty is to be shunned, antiquity is to be held fast; if novelty is profane, antiquity is sacred. He adds, “And oppositions of science falsely so called.” “Falsely called” indeed, as applied to the doctrines of heretics, where ignorance is disguised under the name of knowledge, fog of sunshine, darkness of light.

—Vincent of Lérins

Hymnody

I trust in Him with all my heart;
Now all my sorrow ceases.
His words abiding peace impart;
His blood from guilt releases.
Free grace through Him I now obtain;
He washes me from ev'ry stain,
And pure I stand before Him.

—If Your Beloved Son, O God
(LSB 568:3)

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, whose nature it is always to have mercy, visit with Your fatherly correction all who have erred and gone astray from the truth of Your holy Word, and bring them to a true sense of their error that they may again receive and hold fast Your unchangeable truth; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. [Nehemiah Inspects Jerusalem's Walls]

<sup>11</sup> So I went to Jerusalem and was there three days. <sup>12</sup> Then I arose in the night, I and a few men with me. And I told no one what my God had put into my heart to do for Jerusalem. There was no animal with me but the one on which I rode. <sup>13</sup> I went out by night by the Valley Gate to the Dragon Spring and to the Dung Gate, and I inspected the walls of Jerusalem that were broken down and its gates that had been destroyed by fire. <sup>14</sup> Then

I went on to the Fountain Gate and to the King's Pool, but there was no room for the animal that was under me to pass. <sup>15</sup> Then I went up in the night by the valley and inspected the wall, and I turned back and entered by the Valley Gate, and so returned. <sup>16</sup> And the officials did not know where I had gone or what I was doing, and I had not yet told the Jews, the priests, the nobles, the officials, and the rest who were to do the work.

<sup>17</sup> Then I said to them, "You see the trouble we are in, how Jerusalem lies in ruins with its gates burned. Come, let us build the wall of Jerusalem, that we may no longer suffer derision." <sup>18</sup> And I told them of the hand of my God that had been upon me for good, and also of the words that the king had spoken to me. And they said, "Let us rise up and build." So they strengthened their hands for the good work. <sup>19</sup> But when Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite servant and Geshem the Arab heard of it, they jeered at us and despised us and said, "What is this thing that you are doing? Are you rebelling against the king?" <sup>20</sup> Then I replied to them, "The God of heaven will make us prosper, and we his servants will arise and build, but you have no portion or right or claim in Jerusalem." . . .

<sup>4:1</sup> Now when Sanballat heard that we were building the wall, he was angry and greatly enraged, and he jeered at the Jews. <sup>2</sup> And he said in the presence of his brothers and of the army of Samaria, "What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they restore it for themselves? Will they sacrifice? Will they finish up in a day? Will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish, and burned ones at that?” <sup>3</sup>Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and he said, “Yes, what they are building—if a fox goes up on it he will break down their stone wall!” <sup>4</sup>Hear, O our God, for we are despised. Turn back their taunt on their own heads and give them up to be plundered in a land where they are captives. <sup>5</sup>Do not cover their guilt, and let not their sin be blotted out from your sight, for they have provoked you to anger in the presence of the builders.

<sup>6</sup>So we built the wall. And all the wall was joined together to half its height, for the people had a mind to work.

1 Timothy 2:1–15

Pray for All People

<sup>1</sup>First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, <sup>2</sup>for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. <sup>3</sup>This is good, and it is pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, <sup>4</sup>who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. <sup>5</sup>For there is one God, and there is one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>who gave himself as a ransom for all, which is the testimony given at the proper time. <sup>7</sup>For this I was appointed a preacher and an apostle (I am telling the truth, I am not lying), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

<sup>8</sup>I desire then that in every place the men should pray, lifting holy hands without anger or quarreling; <sup>9</sup>likewise also that women should adorn themselves in respectable ap-parel, with modesty and self-control, not with braided hair and gold or pearls or costly attire, <sup>10</sup>but with what is proper for women who profess godliness—with good works. <sup>11</sup>Let a woman learn quietly with all submissiveness. <sup>12</sup>I do not permit a woman to teach or to exercise authority over a man; rather, she is to remain quiet. <sup>13</sup>For Adam was formed first, then Eve; <sup>14</sup>and Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived and became a transgressor. <sup>15</sup>Yet she will be saved through childbearing—if they continue in faith and love and holiness, with self-control.

Writing

I do not know how to change in the least what I have previously and constantly taught about justification. Namely, that through faith, as St. Peter says, we have a new and clean heart [Acts 15:9–11], and God will and does account us entirely righteous and holy for the sake of Christ, our Mediator [1 Timothy 2:5]. Although sin in the flesh has not yet been completely removed or become dead [Romans 7:18], yet He will not punish or remember it.

Such faith, renewal, and forgiveness of sins are followed by good works [Ephesians 2:8–9]. What is still sinful or imperfect in them will not be counted as sin or defect, for Christ’s sake [Psalm 32:1–2; Romans 4:7–8]. The entire individual, both his person and his works, is declared to be righteous and holy from pure grace and mercy, shed upon us and spread over us in Christ. Therefore, we cannot boast of many merits and works, if they are viewed apart from grace and mercy. As it is written, “Let the one who boasts, boast in the Lord” (1 Corinthians 1:31); namely, that he has a gracious God. For with that, all is well. We say, besides, that if good works do not follow, the faith is false and not true.

Old Testament Reading: Nehemiah 4:7–23

<sup>7</sup>But when Sanballat and Tobiah and the Arabs and the Ammonites and the Ashdodites heard that the repairing of the walls of Jerusalem was going forward and that the breaches were beginning to be closed, they were very angry. <sup>8</sup>And they all plotted together to come and fight against Jerusalem and to cause confusion in it. <sup>9</sup>And we prayed to our God and set a guard as a protection against them day and night.

<sup>10</sup>In Judah it was said, “The strength of those who bear the burdens is failing. There is too much rubble. By ourselves we will not be able to rebuild the wall.” <sup>11</sup>And our enemies said, “They will not know or see till we come among them and kill them and stop the work.”<sup>12</sup> At that time the Jews who lived near them came from all directions and said to us ten times, “You must return to us.”<sup>13</sup> So in the lowest parts of the space behind the wall, in open places, I stationed the people by their clans, with their swords, their spears, and their bows.<sup>14</sup> And I looked and arose and said to the nobles and to the officials and to the rest of the people, “Do not be afraid of them. Remember the LORD, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your homes.”

The Work Resumes

<sup>15</sup>When our enemies heard that it was known to us and that God had frustrated their plan, we all returned to the wall, each to his work.<sup>16</sup> From that day on, half of my servants worked on construction, and half held the spears, shields, bows, and coats of mail. And the leaders stood behind the whole house of Judah,<sup>17</sup> who were building on the wall. Those who carried burdens were loaded in such a way that each labored on the work with one hand and held his weapon with the other.<sup>18</sup> And each of the builders had his sword strapped at his side while he built. The man who sounded the trumpet was beside me.<sup>19</sup> And I said to the nobles and to the officials and to the rest of the people, “The work is great and widely spread, and we are separated on the wall, far from one another.<sup>20</sup> In the place where you hear the sound of the trumpet, rally to us there. Our God will fight for us.”

<sup>21</sup>So we labored at the work, and half of them held the spears from the break of dawn until the stars came out.<sup>22</sup> I also said to the people at that time, “Let every man and his servant pass the night within Jerusalem, that they may be a guard for us by night and may labor by day.”<sup>23</sup> So neither I nor my brothers nor my servants nor the men of the guard who followed me, none of us took off our clothes; each kept his weapon at his right hand.

Qualifications for Overseers

Qualifications for Deacons

<sup>8</sup>Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued, not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain.<sup>9</sup> They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience.<sup>10</sup> And let them also be tested first; then let them serve as deacons if they prove themselves blameless.<sup>11</sup> Their wives likewise must be dignified, not slanderers, but sober-minded, faithful in all things.<sup>12</sup> Let deacons each be the husband of one wife, managing their children and their own households well. <sup>13</sup>For those who serve well as deacons gain a good standing for themselves and also great confidence in the faith that is in Christ Jesus.

The Mystery of Godliness

<sup>14</sup>I hope to come to you soon, but I am writing these things to you so that, <sup>15</sup>if I delay, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, a pillar and buttress of the truth. <sup>16</sup>Great indeed, we confess, is the mystery of godliness:

He was manifested in the flesh,
vindicated by the Spirit,
seen by angels,
proclaimed among the nations,
believed on in the world,
taken up in glory.

Writing

Now, as often happens, those who covet pre-eminence, seeking support for their own cupidity, take advantage of the Apostle's statement when he says: "If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work." Yet, while praising the desire, the Apostle forthwith qualifies his praise by adding a reason for fear, promptly adding, as he does: "But it behoveth a bishop to be blameless." When he proceeds with an enumeration of the necessary virtues, he explains what this blamelessness is. He, therefore, approves the desire, but warns these people by his precept, as though he plainly said: "I praise what you seek, but acquaint yourselves first with what you are seeking, lest by neglecting to take the measure of your own fitness, you become the more blameworthy and detestable, in that you hasten to be seen by all on the pinnacle of honour." The great master in the art of ruling urges subjects on by approving of their desire, but deters them by fear, in order that he may restrain his hearers from pride, and by praising the office sought, may dispose them for the kind of life required. . . .

Wherefore, that man gives testimony against himself that he is not desiring the office of a bishop, if he seeks the glory of that honour, but not the ministry of a good work. For a man not only fails completely to love the office, but he is ignorant of it, if, yearning for supreme rule, he feasts on the subjection of others in the hidden reveries of his thought, is glad to hear his own praises, feels his heart surge with honour, and rejoices in the abundance of his affluence. It is, therefore, worldly gain that he seeks under the guise of that kind of honour, whereby worldly gain should have been destroyed, and when the mind thinks to grasp the highest state of humility in order to cherish its own pride, it changes the intrinsic nature of what was exteriorly desired.

—Gregory the Great

Nehemiah 5:1–16; 6:1–9, 15–16

Nehemiah Stops Oppression of the Poor

<sup>1</sup>Now there arose a great outcry of the people and of their wives against their Jewish brothers. <sup>2</sup>For there were those who said, “With our sons and our daughters, we are many. So let us get grain, that we may eat and keep alive.” <sup>3</sup>There were also those who said, “We are mortgaging our fields, our vineyards, and our houses to get grain because of the famine.” <sup>4</sup>And there were those who said, “We have borrowed money for the king’s tax on our fields and our vineyards. <sup>5</sup>Now our flesh is as the flesh of our brothers, our children are as their children. Yet we are forcing our sons and our daughters to be slaves, and some of our daughters have already been enslaved, but it is not in our power to help it, for other men have our fields and our vineyards.”

are doing is not good. Ought you not to walk in the fear of our God to prevent the taunts of the nations our enemies? <sup>10</sup>Moreover, I and my brothers and my servants are lending them money and grain. Let us abandon this exacting of interest. <sup>11</sup>Return to them this very day their fields, their vineyards, their olive orchards, and their houses, and the percentage of money, grain, wine, and oil that you have been exacting from them.”

<sup>12</sup>Then they said, “We will restore these and require nothing from them. We will do as you say.” And I called the priests and made them swear to do as they had promised. <sup>13</sup>I also shook out the fold of my garment and said, “So may God shake out every man from his house and from his labor who does not keep this promise. So may he be shaken out and emptied.” And all the assembly said “Amen” and praised the LORD. And the people did as they had promised.

Nehemiah's Generosity

<sup>14</sup>Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year to the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes the king, twelve years, neither I nor my brothers ate the food allowance of the governor. <sup>15</sup>The former governors who were before me laid heavy burdens on the people and took from them for their daily ration forty shekels of silver. Even their servants lorded it over the people. But I did not do so, because of the fear of God. <sup>16</sup>I also persevered in the work on this wall, and we acquired no land, and all my servants were gathered there for the work. . . .

Conspiracy Against Nehemiah

<sup>6:1</sup>Now when Sanballat and Tobiah and Geshem the Arab and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall and that there was no breach left in it (although up to that time I had not set up the doors in the gates), <sup>2</sup>Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, “Come and let us meet together at Hakkephirim in the plain of Ono.” But they intended to do me harm. <sup>3</sup>And I sent messengers to them, saying, “I am doing a great work and I cannot come down. Why should the work stop while I leave it and come down to you?” <sup>4</sup>And they sent to me four times in this way, and I answered them in the same manner. <sup>5</sup>In the same way Sanballat for the fifth time sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand. <sup>6</sup>In it was written, “It is reported among the nations, and Geshem also says it, that you and the Jews intend to rebel; that is why you are building the wall. And according to these reports you wish to become their king. <sup>7</sup>And you have also set up prophets to proclaim concerning you in Jerusalem, ‘There is a king in Judah.’ And now the king will hear of these reports. So now come and let us take counsel together.” <sup>8</sup>Then I sent to him, saying, “No such things as you say have been done, for you are inventing them out of your own mind.” <sup>9</sup>For they all wanted to frighten us, thinking, “Their hands will drop from the work, and it will not be done.” But now, O God, strengthen my hands. . . .

The Wall Is Finished

<sup>15</sup>So the wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty-two days. <sup>16</sup>And when all our enemies heard of it, all the nations around us were afraid and fell greatly in their own esteem, for they perceived that this work had been accomplished with the help of our God.

Some Will Depart from the Faith

<sup>1</sup>Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, <sup>2</sup>through the insincerity of liars whose consciences are seared, <sup>3</sup>who forbid marriage and require abstinence from foods that God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. <sup>4</sup>For everything created by God is good, and nothing is to be rejected if it is received with thanksgiving, <sup>5</sup>for it is made holy by the word of God and prayer.

A Good Servant of Christ Jesus

<sup>12</sup>Let no one despise you for your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity. <sup>13</sup>Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to exhortation, to teaching.

these things, immerse yourself in them, so that all may see your progress. <sup>16</sup>Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers.

St. Matthew was an excellent, noble man—not only one of the twelve fountains of consolation, the apostles of Jesus Christ, but also one of the four great spiritual streams of paradise, a holy evangelist, whose words flow from the great fountain in paradise, Jesus Christ. He not only praised the Lord Jesus in his heart and with his tongue, but he also put his quill to paper and wrote his account as a memorial, and finally he confirmed the truth of his Gospel with his blood. Is this not an honorable man? Pay attention so that everything in and about you is directed toward the glory of the Lord Jesus, according to David’s example in Ps. 103:2. In the kingdom of God it is said: “Et quacunque potes arte placere, place,” that is, “Strive with every skill and word, to please your Savior, Christ the Lord.” . . . None of the other evangelists described the history of the Lord Jesus to such an extent as Matthew. He also has many beautiful passages that cannot be found in the others. Here the Lord Jesus says (11:28), “Come to Me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.” And again (18[:20]), “Where two or three are gathered in My name, there am I among them.” And in 28:20, “Behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age.” These three passages, which should cause the legs of all devout Christians to run quickly to the Church, were written only by Matthew. . . . Ever since that time, his book has always been valued highly. Jerome reports that

St. Bartholomew preached the Gospel of Matthew in India. Nicephorus writes that in those lands a collection of St. Bartholomew's sermons existed. Theophylact and others report that St. John, or even Mark, translated the Gospel of Matthew into the Greek language. . . . [Some say] that in the 479th year after Christ's birth, [Matthew's] body was found on Cyprus and on his chest was a copy of his Gospel, and that his body was transferred to Constantinople and buried in the Church of St. Stephan.

Prayer of the Day

O Son of God, our blessed Savior Jesus Christ, You called Matthew the tax collector to be an apostle and evangelist. Through his faithful and inspired witness, grant that we also may follow You, leaving behind all covetous desires and love of riches; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F28)

St. Matthew, Apostle and Evangelist

St. Matthew, also known as Levi, identifies himself as a former tax collector, one who was therefore considered unclean, a public sinner, outcast from the Jews. Yet it was such a one as this whom the Lord Jesus called away from his occupation and wealth to become a disciple (Matthew 9:9–13). Not only did Matthew become a disciple of Jesus, he was also called and sent as one of the Lord's twelve apostles (Matthew 10:2–4). In time, he became the evangelist whose inspired record of the Gospel was granted first place in the ordering of the New Testament. Among the four Gospels, Matthew's portrays Christ especially as the new and greater Moses, who graciously fulfills the Law and the Prophets (Matthew 5:17) and establishes a new covenant of salvation in and with His own blood (Matthew 26:27–28). Matthew's Gospel is also well-known and beloved for its record of the visit of the Magi (Matthew 2:1–12); for the Sermon on the Mount, including the Beatitudes and the Our Father (Matthew 5–7); and for the institution of Holy Baptism and the most explicit revelation of the Holy Trinity (Matthew 28:16–20). Tradition is uncertain where his final field of labor was and whether Matthew died naturally or a martyr's death. In celebrating this festival, we therefore give thanks to God that He has mightily governed and protected His Holy Church through this man who was called and sent by Christ to serve the sheep of His pastures with the Holy Gospel.

<sup>1</sup> Now when the wall had been built and I had set up the doors, and the gatekeepers, the singers, and the Levites had been appointed,

<sup>2</sup> I gave my brother Hanani and Hananiah the governor of the castle charge over Jerusalem, for he was a more faithful and God-fearing man than many. <sup>3</sup> And I said to them, “Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun is hot. And while they are still standing guard, let them shut and bar the doors. Appoint guards from among the inhabitants of Jerusalem, some at their guard posts and some in front of their own homes.”

<sup>4</sup> The city was wide and large, but the people within it were few, and no houses had been rebuilt. . . .

Ezra Reads the Law

<sup>8:1</sup> And all the people gathered as one man into the square before the Water Gate. And they told Ezra the scribe to bring the Book of the Law of Moses that the LORD had commanded Israel. <sup>2</sup> So Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly, both men and women and all who could understand what they heard, on the first day of the seventh month. <sup>3</sup> And he read from it facing the square before the Water Gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women and those who could understand. And the ears of all the people were attentive to the Book of the Law. <sup>4</sup> And Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform that they had made for the purpose. And beside him stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uria, Hilkiyah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam on his left hand. <sup>5</sup> And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, for he was above all the people, and as he opened it all the people stood. <sup>6</sup> And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God, and all the people answered, “Amen, Amen,” lifting up their hands. And they bowed their heads and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground. <sup>7</sup> Also Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, the Levites, helped the people to understand the Law, while the people remained in their places. <sup>8</sup> They read from the book, from the Law of God, clearly, and they gave the sense, so that the people understood the reading.

This Day Is Holy

<sup>9</sup> And Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people said to all the people, “This day is holy to the LORD your God; do not mourn or weep.” For all the people wept as they heard the words of the Law. <sup>10</sup>Then he said to them, “Go your way. Eat the fat and drink sweet wine and send portions to anyone who has nothing ready, for this day is holy to our Lord. And do not be grieved, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.” <sup>11</sup>So the Levites calmed all the people, saying, “Be quiet, for this day is holy; do not be grieved.” <sup>12</sup>And all the people went their way to eat and drink and to send portions and to make great rejoicing, because they had understood the words that were declared to them.

Feast of Booths Celebrated

<sup>13</sup>On the second day the heads of fathers’ houses of all the people, with the priests and the Levites, came together to Ezra the scribe in order to study the words of the Law. <sup>14</sup>And they found it written in the Law that the LORD had commanded by Moses that the people of Israel should dwell in booths during the feast of the seventh month, <sup>15</sup>and that they should proclaim it and publish it in all their towns and in Jerusalem, “Go out to the hills and bring branches of olive, wild olive, myrtle, palm, and other leafy trees to make booths, as it is written.” <sup>16</sup>So the people went out and brought them and made booths for themselves, each on his roof, and in their courts and in the courts of the house of God, and in the square at the Water Gate and in the square at the Gate of Ephraim. <sup>17</sup>And all the assembly of those who had returned from the captivity made booths and lived in the booths, for from the days of Jeshua the son of Nun to that day the people of Israel had not done so. And there was very great rejoicing. <sup>18</sup>And day by day, from the first day to the last day, he read from the Book of the Law of God. They kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day there was a solemn assembly, according to the rule.

Instructions for the Church

<sup>3</sup>Honor widows who are truly widows. <sup>4</sup>But if a widow has children or grandchildren, let them first learn to show godliness to their own household and to make some return to their parents, for this is pleasing in the sight of God. <sup>5</sup>She who is truly a widow, left all alone, has set her hope on God and continues in supplications and prayers night and day, <sup>6</sup>but she who is self-indulgent is dead even while she lives. <sup>7</sup>Command these things as well, so that they may be without reproach. <sup>8</sup>But if anyone does not provide for his relatives, and especially for members of his household, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

<sup>11</sup>But refuse to enroll younger widows, for when their passions draw them away from Christ, they desire to marry <sup>12</sup>and so incur condemnation for having abandoned their former faith. <sup>13</sup>Besides that, they learn to be idlers, going about from house to house, and not only idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying what they should not. <sup>14</sup>So I would have younger widows marry, bear children, manage their households, and give the adversary no occasion for slander. <sup>15</sup>For some have already strayed after Satan. <sup>16</sup>If any believing woman has relatives who are widows, let her care for them. Let the church not be burdened, so that it may care for those who are truly widows.

Writing

[Worship] is not a function of the mouth but of the whole body. It is to bow the head, bend the body, fall on the knees, prostrate one's self, and so forth, and to do such things as a sign and acknowledgment of an authority and power; just as people bow in silence before secular princes and Lords, and just as popes, bishops, abbots, and people generally, have themselves honored and adored [ehrbieten] by bowing and kneeling, and so forth. Such outward adoration [ehrbietunge] is what the Scriptures really mean by worship [anbeten]. . . . We read in the Scriptures that worship [anbeten] or adoration [ehrbieten] is rendered outwardly both to God and to kings without distinction, just as bowing and kneeling are still rendered outwardly both to God and to men.

From this understanding of outward worship you will also understand what Christ meant by true spiritual worship. It is the adoration or bowing of the heart, so that from the bottom of your heart you thereby show and confess yourself to be his subordinate creature. For from this you see that true worship can be nothing else than faith; it is faith's sublimest activity with respect to God. For no one is capable of such heartfelt confession, adoration, bending, and bowing (or whatever you want to call it) before God in his heart, unless he unwaveringly holds God to be his Lord and Father, from whom he receives and will receive all good things, and through whom, without any merit on his part, he is redeemed and preserved from all sins and evil.

(1092)

Jonah

A singular prophet among the many in the Old Testament, Jonah the son of Amittai was born about an hour's walk from the town of Nazareth. The focus of his prophetic ministry was the call to preach at Nineveh, the capital of pagan Assyria (Jonah 1:2). His reluctance to respond and God's insistence that His call be heeded is the story of the book that bears Jonah's name. Although the swallowing and disgorging of Jonah by the great fish is the most remembered detail of his life, it is addressed in only three verses of the book (Jonah 1:17; 2:1, 10). Throughout the book, the important theme is how God deals compassionately with sinners. Jonah's three-day sojourn in the belly of the fish is mentioned by Jesus as a sign of His own death, burial, and resurrection (Matthew 12:39–41).

The People of Israel Confess Their Sin

seas and all that is in them; and you preserve all of them; and the host of heaven worships you. <sup>7</sup>You are the LORD, the God who chose Abram and brought him out of Ur of the Chaldeans and gave him the name Abraham. <sup>8</sup>You found his heart faithful before you, and made with him the covenant to give to his offspring the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Girgashite. And you have kept your promise, for you are righteous.

<sup>9</sup>“And you saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt and heard their cry at the Red Sea, <sup>10</sup>and performed signs and wonders against Pharaoh and all his servants and all the people of his land, for you knew that they acted arrogantly against our fathers. And you made a name for yourself, as it is to this day. <sup>11</sup>And you divided the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on dry land, and you cast their pursuers into the depths, as a stone into mighty waters. <sup>12</sup>By a pillar of cloud you led them in the day, and by a pillar of fire in the night to light for them the way in which they should go. <sup>13</sup>You came down on Mount Sinai and spoke with them from heaven and gave them right rules and true laws, good statutes and commandments, <sup>14</sup>and you made known to them your holy Sabbath and commanded them commandments and statutes and a law by Moses your servant. <sup>15</sup>You gave them bread from heaven for their hunger and brought water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and you told them to go in to possess the land that you had sworn to give them.

wonders that you performed among them, but they stiffened their neck and appointed a leader to return to their slavery in Egypt. But you are a God ready to forgive, gracious and merciful, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love, and did not forsake them. <sup>18</sup>Even when they had made for themselves a golden calf and said, ‘This is your God who brought you up out of Egypt,’ and had committed great blasphemies, <sup>19</sup>you in your great mercies did not forsake them in the wilderness. The pillar of cloud to lead them in the way did not depart from them by day, nor the pillar of fire by night to light for them the way by which they should go. <sup>20</sup>You gave your good Spirit to instruct them and did not withhold your manna from their mouth and gave them water for their thirst. <sup>21</sup>Forty years you sustained them in the wilderness, and they lacked nothing. Their clothes did not wear out and their feet did not swell.”

New Testament Reading: 1 Timothy 5:17–6:2

<sup>17</sup>Let the elders who rule well be considered worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in preaching and teaching. <sup>18</sup>For the Scripture says, “You shall not muzzle an ox when it treads out the grain,” and, “The laborer deserves his wages.” <sup>19</sup>Do not admit a charge against an elder except on the evidence of two or three witnesses. <sup>20</sup>As for those who persist in sin, rebuke them in the presence of all, so that the rest may stand in fear. <sup>21</sup>In the presence of God and of Christ Jesus and of the elect angels I charge you to keep these rules without prejudging, doing nothing from partiality. <sup>22</sup>Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, nor take part in the sins of others; keep yourself pure. <sup>23</sup>(No longer drink only water, but use a little wine for the sake of your stomach and your frequent ailments.)

<sup>6:1</sup>Let all who are under a yoke as slaves regard their own masters as worthy of all honor, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be reviled. <sup>2</sup>Those who have believing masters must not be disrespectful on the ground that they are brothers; rather they must serve all the better since those who benefit by their good service are believers and beloved.

Benedict of Nursia's advice about singing.

We believe that God is present everywhere and that the eyes of the Lord behold the good and the bad in every place (cf. Prov. 15:3). Let us firmly believe this, especially when we take part in [the Divine Service]. Let us, therefore, always be mindful of what the prophet says, "Serve the Lord with fear" (Ps. 2:11). And again, "Sing wisely" (Ps. 46:8). And, "I will sing praise to You in the sight of the angels" (Ps. 137:1). Therefore, let us consider how it benefits us to behave in the sight of God and His angels, and let us then stand to sing, that our minds may be in harmony with our voices.

Benedict's advice about prayer.

If we do not dare to approach men who are in power except with humility and reverence when we wish to ask a favor, how much must we make requests of the Lord God of all things with all humility and purity of devotion? And let us be assured that it is not in many words, but it is by hearts [declared] pure and with repentant tears, that we are heard. For this reason prayer ought to be short and pure, unless, perhaps, it is lengthened by the inspiration of divine grace. When we pray together [in the Divine Service], however, let the prayer always be short.

—Benedict of Nursia

<sup>22</sup>“And you gave them kingdoms and peoples and allotted to them every corner. So they took possession of the land of Sihon king of Heshbon and the land of Og king of Bashan. <sup>23</sup>You multiplied their children as the stars of heaven, and you brought them into the land that you had told their fathers to enter and possess. <sup>24</sup>So the descendants went in and possessed the land, and you subdued before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gave them into their hand, with their kings and the peoples of the land, that they might do with them as they would. <sup>25</sup>And they captured fortified cities and a rich land, and took possession of houses full of all good things, cisterns already hewn, vineyards, olive orchards and fruit trees in abundance. So they ate and were filled and became fat and delighted themselves in your great goodness.

<sup>26</sup>“Nevertheless, they were disobedient and rebelled against you and cast your law behind their back and killed your prophets, who had warned them in order to turn them back to you, and they committed great blasphemies. <sup>27</sup>Therefore you gave them into the hand of their enemies, who made them suffer. And in the time of their suffering they cried out to you and you heard them from heaven, and according to your great mercies you gave them saviors who saved them from the hand of their enemies. <sup>28</sup>But after they had rest they did evil again before you, and you abandoned them to the hand of their enemies, so that they had dominion over them. Yet when they turned and cried to you, you heard from heaven, and many times you delivered them according to your mercies. <sup>29</sup>And you warned them in order to turn them back to your law. Yet they acted presumptuously and did not obey your commandments, but sinned against your rules, which if a person does them, he shall live by them, and they turned a stubborn shoulder and stiffened their neck and would not obey. <sup>30</sup>Many years you bore with them and warned them by your Spirit through your prophets. Yet they would not give ear. Therefore you gave them into the hand of the peoples of the lands.

<sup>32</sup>“Now, therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God, who keeps covenant and steadfast love, let not all the hardship seem little to you that has come upon us, upon our kings, our princes, our priests, our prophets, our fathers, and all your people, since the time of the kings of Assyria until this day. <sup>33</sup>Yet you have been righteous in all that has come upon us, for you have dealt faithfully and we have acted wickedly. <sup>34</sup>Our kings, our princes, our priests, and our fathers have not kept your law or paid attention to your commandments and your warnings that you gave them. <sup>35</sup>Even in their own kingdom, and amid your great goodness that you gave them, and in the large and rich land that you set before them, they did not serve you or turn from their wicked works. <sup>36</sup>Behold, we are slaves this day; in the land that you gave to our fathers to enjoy its fruit and its good gifts, behold, we are slaves. <sup>37</sup>And its rich yield goes to the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins. They rule over our bodies and over our livestock as they please, and we are in great distress.

[False Teachers and True Contentment]

<sup>3</sup>If anyone teaches a different doctrine and does not agree with the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that accords with godliness, <sup>4</sup>he is puffed up with conceit and understands nothing. He has an unhealthy craving for controversy and for quarrels about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, evil suspicions, <sup>5</sup>and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. <sup>6</sup>Now there is great gain in godliness with contentment, <sup>7</sup>for we brought nothing into the world, and we cannot take anything out of the world. <sup>8</sup>But if we have food and clothing, with these we will be content. <sup>9</sup>But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. <sup>10</sup>For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs.

<sup>11</sup>But as for you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness. <sup>12</sup>Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. <sup>13</sup>I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who in his testimony before Pontius Pilate made the good confession, <sup>14</sup>to keep the commandment unstained and free from reproach until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>15</sup>which he will display at the proper time—he who is the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, <sup>16</sup>who alone has immortality, who dwells in unapproachable light, whom no one has ever seen or can see. To him be honor and eternal dominion. Amen.

<sup>17</sup>As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. <sup>18</sup>They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, <sup>19</sup>thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life.

Grace be with you.

Writing

The one body of Christ has a threefold existence, or all three modes of being at a given place. First, the circumscribed corporeal mode of presence, as when He walked bodily on earth, when He occupied and yielded space according to His size. He can still employ this mode of presence when He wills to do so, as He did after His resurrection and as He will do on the Last Day, as Paul says in 1 Timothy [6:15], “Whom the blessed God will reveal,” and Colossians 3[:4], “When Christ your life reveals Himself.” He is not in God or with the Father or in heaven according to this mode . . . , for God is not a corporeal space or place . . .

Secondly, the uncircumscribed, spiritual mode of presence according to which He neither occupies nor yields space but passes through everything created as He wills. To use some crude illustrations, my vision passes through and exists in air, light, or water and does not occupy or yield any space; a sound or tone passes through and exists in air or water or a board and a wall and neither occupies nor yields space. . . . He employed this mode of presence when He left the closed grave and came through closed doors, in the bread and wine in the Supper, and, as people believe, when He was born in His mother.

Thirdly, since He is one person with God, the divine, heavenly mode, according to which all created things are indeed much more permeable and present to Him than they are according to the second mode. . . . You must place this existence of Christ, which constitutes Him one person with God, far, far beyond things created, as far as God transcends them; and on the other hand, place it as deep in and as near to all created things as God is in them. For He is one indivisible person with God, and wherever God is, He must be also, otherwise our faith is false.

Hymnody

To Thee, great One in Three,
Eternal praises be Hence evermore!
Thy sov'reign majesty
May we in glory see,
And to eternity
Love and adore.

—Come, Thou Almighty King

Prayer of the Day

O God, our refuge and strength, the author of all godliness, by Your grace hear the prayers of Your Church. Grant that those things which we ask in faith we may receive through Your bountiful mercy; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ## Old Testament Reading: Malachi 1:1–14

The LORD'S LOVE for Israel

<sup>2</sup>“I have loved you,” says the LORD. But you say, “How have you loved us?” “Is not Esau Jacob's brother?” declares the LORD. “Yet I have loved Jacob <sup>3</sup>but Esau I have hated. I have laid waste his hill country and left his heritage to jackals of the desert.” <sup>4</sup>If Edom says, “We are shattered but we will rebuild the ruins,” the LORD of hosts says, “They may build, but I will tear down, and they will be called ‘the wicked country,’ and ‘the people with whom the Lord is angry forever.’” <sup>5</sup>Your own eyes shall see this, and you shall say, “Great is the LORD beyond the border of Israel!”

The Priests' Polluted Offerings

<sup>6</sup>“A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If then I am a father, where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is my fear? says the LORD of hosts to you, O priests, who despise my name. But you say, ‘How have we despised your name?’ <sup>7</sup>By offering polluted food upon my altar. But you say, ‘How have we polluted you?’ By saying that the LORD's table may be despised. <sup>8</sup>When you offer blind animals in sacrifice, is that not evil? And when you offer those that are lame or sick, is that not evil? Present that to your governor; will he accept you or show you favor? says the LORD of hosts. <sup>9</sup>And now entreat the favor of God, that he may be gracious to us. With such a gift from your hand, will he show favor to any of you? says the LORD of hosts. <sup>10</sup>Oh that there were one among you who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire on my altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, says the LORD of hosts, and I will not accept an offering from your hand. <sup>11</sup>For from the rising of the sun to its setting my name will be great among the nations, and in every place incense will be offered to my name, and a pure offering. For my name will be great among the nations, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>12</sup>But you profane it when you say that the LORD's table is polluted, and its fruit, that is, its food may be despised. <sup>13</sup>But you say, 'What a weariness this is,' and you snort at it, says the LORD of hosts. You bring what has been taken by violence or is lame or sick, and this you bring as your offering! Shall I accept that from your hand? says the LORD. <sup>14</sup>Cursed be the cheat who has a male in his flock, and vows it, and yet sacrifices to the Lord what is blemished. For I am a great King, says the LORD of hosts, and my name will be feared among the nations."

New Testament Reading: Matthew 3:1-17

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

"The voice of one crying in the wilderness:
'Prepare the way of the Lord;
make his paths straight.' "

<sup>4</sup>Now John wore a garment of camel's hair and a leather belt around his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey. <sup>5</sup>Then Jerusalem and all Judea and all the region about the Jordan were going out to him, <sup>6</sup>and they were baptized by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

<sup>7</sup>But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, "You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? <sup>8</sup>Bear fruit in keeping with repentance. <sup>9</sup>And do not presume to say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father,' for I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. <sup>10</sup>Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.

<sup>11</sup>"I baptize you with water for repentance, but he who is coming after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not worthy to carry. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire. <sup>12</sup>His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will clear his threshing floor and gather his wheat into the barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire."

The Baptism of Jesus

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to John, to be baptized by him. <sup>14</sup>John would have prevented him, saying, "I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me?" <sup>15</sup>But Jesus answered him, "Let it be so now, for thus it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness." Then he consented. <sup>16</sup>And when Jesus was baptized, immediately he went up from the water, and behold, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming to rest on him; <sup>17</sup>and behold, a voice from heaven said, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased."

A person becomes righteous in the sight of God solely by faith. . . . Faith is demanded of us, not in order that there might be at least some little work that we are to do, as otherwise there would be no difference between those who go to hell and those go to heaven. No; righteousness is of faith in order that it may be of grace. Both statements are identical. When I say: “A person becomes righteous in the sight of God by faith,” I mean to say: “He becomes righteous gratuitously, by grace, by God’s making righteousness a gift to him.” Nothing is demanded of the person; he is told: “Stretch out your hand, and you have it.” Just that is what faith is—reaching out the hand. Suppose a person had never heard a word concerning faith and, on being told the Gospel, would rejoice, accept it, put his confidence in it, and draw comfort from it, that person would have the true, genuine faith, although he may not have heard a word concerning faith.

Hymnody

To Jordan came the Christ, our Lord,
To do His Father’s pleasure;
Baptized by John, the Father’s Word
Was given us to treasure.
This heav’nly washing now shall be
A cleansing from transgression
And by His blood and agony
Release from death’s oppression.
A new life now awaits us.

Prayer of the Day

Father in heaven, at the Baptism of Jesus in the Jordan River You proclaimed Him Your beloved Son and anointed Him with the Holy Spirit. Make all who are baptized in His name faithful in their calling as Your children and inheritors with Him of everlasting life; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. The Lord Rebukes the Priests

<sup>1</sup>“And now, O priests, this command is for you. <sup>2</sup>If you will not listen, if you will not take it to heart to give honor to my name, says the LORD of hosts, then I will send the curse upon you and I will curse your blessings. Indeed, I have already cursed them, because you do not lay it to heart. <sup>3</sup>Behold, I will rebuke your offspring, and spread dung on your faces, the dung of your offerings, and you shall be taken away with it. <sup>4</sup>So shall you know that I have sent this command to you, that my covenant with Levi may stand, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>5</sup>My covenant with him was one of life and peace, and I gave them to him. It was a covenant of fear, and he feared me. He stood in awe of my name. <sup>6</sup>True instruction was in his mouth, and no wrong was found on his lips. He walked with me in peace and uprightness, and he turned many from iniquity. <sup>7</sup>For the lips of a priest should guard knowledge, and people should seek instruction from his mouth, for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts. <sup>8</sup>But you have turned aside from the way. You have caused many to stumble by your instruction. You have corrupted the covenant of Levi, says the LORD of hosts, <sup>9</sup>and so I make you despised and abased before all the people, inasmuch as you do not keep my ways but show partiality in your instruction.”

Judah Profaned the Covenant

<sup>10</sup>Have we not all one Father? Has not one God created us? Why then are we faithless to one another, profaning the covenant of our fathers? <sup>11</sup>Judah has been faithless, and abomination has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem. For Judah has profaned the sanctuary of the LORD, which he loves, and has married the daughter of a foreign god. <sup>12</sup>May the LORD cut off from the tents of Jacob any descendant of the man who does this, who brings an offering to the LORD of hosts!

<sup>13</sup>And this second thing you do. You cover the LORD’s altar with tears, with weeping and groaning because he no longer regards the offering or accepts it with favor from your hand. <sup>14</sup>But you say, “Why does he not?” Because the LORD was witness between you and the wife of your youth, to whom you have been faithless, though she is your companion and your wife by covenant. <sup>15</sup>Did he not make them one, with a portion of the Spirit in their union? And what was the one God seeking? Godly offspring. So guard yourselves in your spirit, and let none of you be faithless to the wife of your youth. <sup>16</sup>“For the man who does not love his wife but divorces her, says the LORD, the God of Israel, covers his garment with violence, says the LORD of hosts. So guard yourselves in your spirit, and do not be faithless.”

The Messenger of the Lord

<sup>17</sup>You have wearied the LORD with your words. But you say, “How have we wearied him?” By saying, “Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delights in them.” Or by asking, “Where is the God of justice?”

<sup>3:1</sup>“Behold, I send my messenger, and he will prepare the way before me. And the Lord whom you seek will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant in whom you delight, behold, he is coming, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>2</sup>But who can endure the day of his coming, and who can stand when he appears? For he is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap. <sup>3</sup>He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, and they will bring offerings in righteousness to the LORD. <sup>4</sup>Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasing to the LORD as in the days of old and as in former years.

<sup>5</sup>"Then I will draw near to you for judgment. I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against those who swear falsely, against those who oppress the hired worker in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, against those who thrust aside the sojourner, and do not fear me, says the LORD of hosts."

New Testament Reading: Matthew 4:1–11

The Temptation of Jesus

<sup>1</sup>Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil. <sup>2</sup>And after fasting forty days and forty nights, he was hungry. <sup>3</sup>And the tempter came and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become loaves of bread." <sup>4</sup>But he answered, "It is written,

"Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God."

<sup>5</sup>Then the devil took him to the holy city and set him on the pinnacle of the temple <sup>6</sup>and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written,

"He will command his angels concerning you,"

and

"On their hands they will bear you up,

lest you strike your foot against a stone.'"

<sup>7</sup>Jesus said to him, "Again it is written, 'You shall not put the Lord your God to the test.'"

<sup>8</sup>Again, the devil took him to a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory. <sup>9</sup>And he said to him, "All these I will give you, if you will fall down and worship me." <sup>10</sup>Then Jesus said to him, "Be gone, Satan! For it is written,

"You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve."

<sup>11</sup>Then the devil left him, and behold, angels came and were ministering to him.

Writing

An exceedingly wonderful battle is explained to us in our Gospel today. Shortly before, when Christ was baptized, the heavens opened up above Him as if they wanted to descend upon the earth. Immediately after His baptism, hell opened up under Christ and rushed upon Him with all its power. How wonderful! The Son of God in almighty power had once cast Satan out of heaven, but here on earth, He let Himself be attacked by him, let Himself be led around, sneered at, and ridiculed. He did not conquer Satan, as He very well could have, by one word of His omnipotence, but by the written Word of God. He who is the eternal Light battled with the spirit of darkness, the eternal Truth with the spirit of lies, the Most Holy with the spirit of impurity, the King of heaven with the powerless prisoner of hell. The Son of God allowed Himself to be placed on the pinnacle of the temple and permitted the tempter to demand that He worship him. What a wonderful battle! . . .

If Christ had not wanted it, Satan would not have appeared before Him, tempted Him, and attacked Him. But Christ here did not fight for Himself. Instead, He fought as surety, as a third party, as a substitute for the entire human race.

By sin, all people sold themselves to Satan, becoming servants and subjects of his kingdom. Therefore, when Christ wanted to redeem men and save them, He came, as the true owner of all people's souls, to conquer Satan, to destroy his kingdom, to remove his plunder from him, to free us from his dark power, and to lead us through the kingdom of grace into the kingdom of eternal glory. Christ did this mainly by His bloody death of atonement on the cross for all the sins of the world. By this, the head of the snake was totally crushed and all people were completely redeemed. The battle with Satan described in our text was the beginning. It was the first engagement that had to be fought by the Prince of our salvation to trample Satan under His feet and to deal the first deadly wounds to him. It was the first defeat the hellish army had to experience to show them that the Stronger One had now come.

Robbing God

<sup>6</sup>“For I the LORD do not change; therefore you, O children of Jacob, are not consumed. <sup>7</sup>From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from my statutes and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts. But you say, ‘How shall we return?’ <sup>8</sup>Will man rob God? Yet you are robbing me. But you say, ‘How have we robbed you?’ In your tithes and contributions. <sup>9</sup>You are cursed with a curse, for you are robbing me, the whole nation of you. <sup>10</sup>Bring the full tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. And thereby put me to the test, says the LORD of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven for you and pour down for you a blessing until there is no more need. <sup>11</sup>I will rebuke the devourer for you, so that it will not destroy the fruits of your soil, and your vine in the field shall not fail to bear, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>12</sup>Then all nations will call you blessed, for you will be a land of delight, says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>13</sup>“Your words have been hard against me, says the LORD. But you say, ‘How have we spoken against you?’ <sup>14</sup>You have said, ‘It is vain to serve God. What is the profit of our keeping his charge or of walking as in mourning before the LORD of hosts?’ <sup>15</sup>And now we call the arrogant blessed. Evildoers not only prosper but they put God to the test and they escape.’”

The Book of Remembrance

<sup>16</sup>Then those who feared the LORD spoke with one another. The LORD paid attention and heard them, and a book of remembrance was written before him of those who feared the LORD and esteemed his name. <sup>17</sup>“They shall be mine, says the LORD of hosts, in the day when I make up my treasured possession, and I will spare them as a man spares his son who serves him. <sup>18</sup>Then once more you shall see the distinction between the righteous and the wicked, between one who serves God and one who does not serve him.

The Great Day of the LORD

<sup>4:1</sup>“For behold, the day is coming, burning like an oven, when all the arrogant and all evildoers will be stubble. The day that is coming shall set them ablaze, says the LORD of hosts, so that it will leave them neither root nor branch. <sup>2</sup>But for you who fear my name, the sun of righteousness shall rise with healing in its wings. You shall go out leaping like calves from the stall. <sup>3</sup>And you shall tread down the wicked, for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet, on the day when I act, says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>4</sup>“Remember the law of my servant Moses, the statutes and rules that I commanded him at Horeb for all Israel.

<sup>5</sup>“Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and awesome day of the LORD comes. <sup>6</sup>And he will turn the hearts of fathers to their children and the hearts of children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the land with a decree of utter destruction.”

Matthew 4:12–25

Jesus Begins His Ministry

<sup>12</sup>Now when he heard that John had been arrested, he withdrew into Galilee. <sup>13</sup>And leaving Nazareth he went and lived in Capernaum by the sea, in the territory of Zebulun and Naphtali, <sup>14</sup>so that what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled:

<sup>15</sup>“The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles—<sup>16</sup>the people dwelling in darkness have seen a great light, and for those dwelling in the region and shadow of death,
on them a light has dawned.”

Jesus Calls the First Disciples

<sup>18</sup>While walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon (who is called Peter) and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. <sup>19</sup>And he said to them, “Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.” <sup>20</sup>Immediately they left their nets and followed him. <sup>21</sup>And going on from there he saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets, and he called them. <sup>22</sup>Immediately they left the boat and their father and followed him.

Jesus Ministers to Great Crowds

<sup>23</sup>And he went throughout all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every affliction among the people. <sup>24</sup>So his fame spread throughout all Syria, and they brought him all the sick, those afflicted with various diseases and pains, those oppressed by demons, epileptics, and paralytics, and he healed them. <sup>25</sup>And great crowds followed him from Galilee and the Decapolis, and from Jerusalem and Judea, and from beyond the Jordan.

[We do] well to note what class of people takes comfort in the thought of God. Surely not that perverse and crooked generation to whom it was said, “Woe unto you that are rich; for you have received your consolation” (Luke 6:24). Rather, those who can say with truth, “My soul refuses comfort” (Ps. 77:2). For it is meet that those who are not satisfied by the present should be sustained by the thought of the future, and that the contemplation of eternal happiness should solace those who scorn to drink from the river of transitory joys. . . .

In that day those who have not set their hearts aright will feel, too late, how easy is Christ’s yoke, to which they would not bend their necks and how light His burden, in comparison with the pains they must then endure. O wretched slaves of Mammon, you cannot glory in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ while you trust in treasures laid up on earth; you cannot taste and see how gracious the Lord is while you are hungering for gold. If you have not rejoiced at the thought of

His coming, that day will be indeed a day of wrath to you.

But the believing soul longs and faints for God; she rests sweetly in the contemplation of Him. She glories in the reproach of the cross, until the glory of His face shall be revealed. Like the Bride, the dove of Christ, that is covered with silver wings (Ps. 68:13), white with innocence and purity, she reposes in the thought of Your abundant kindness, Lord Jesus; and above all she longs for that day when in the joyful splendor of Your saints, gleaming with the radiance of the Beatific Vision, her feathers shall be like gold, resplendent with the joy of Your countenance.

The Command to Leave Horeb

go to the hill country of the Amorites and to all their neighbors in the Arabah, in the hill country and in the lowland and in the Negeb and by the seacoast, the land of the Canaanites, and Lebanon, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates. <sup>8</sup>See, I have set the land before you. Go in and take possession of the land that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give to them and to their offspring after them.’

Leaders Appointed

<sup>9</sup>“At that time I said to you, ‘I am not able to bear you by myself. <sup>10</sup>The LORD your God has multiplied you, and behold, you are today as numerous as the stars of heaven. <sup>11</sup>May the LORD, the God of your fathers, make you a thousand times as many as you are and bless you, as he has promised you! <sup>12</sup>How can I bear by myself the weight and burden of you and your strife? <sup>13</sup>Choose for your tribes wise, understanding, and experienced men, and I will appoint them as your heads.’ <sup>14</sup>And you answered me, ‘The thing that you have spoken is good for us to do.’ <sup>15</sup>So I took the heads of your tribes, wise and experienced men, and set them as heads over you, commanders of thousands, commanders of hundreds, commanders of fifties, commanders of tens, and officers, throughout your tribes. <sup>16</sup>And I charged your judges at that time, ‘Hear the cases between your brothers, and judge righteously between a man and his brother or the alien who is with him. <sup>17</sup>You shall not be partial in judgment. You shall hear the small and the great alike. You shall not be intimidated by anyone, for the judgment is God’s. And the case that is too hard for you, you shall bring to me, and I will hear it.’ <sup>18</sup>And I commanded you at that time all the things that you should do.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 5:1–20

The Sermon on the Mount

<sup>1</sup>Seeing the crowds, he went up on the mountain, and when he sat down, his disciples came to him.

The Beatitudes

<sup>11</sup>“Blessed are you when others revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. <sup>12</sup>Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Salt and Light

<sup>13</sup>“You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people’s feet.

set on a hill cannot be hidden. <sup>15</sup>Nor do people light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a stand, and it gives light to all in the house. <sup>16</sup>In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven.

Christ Came to Fulfill the Law

<sup>17</sup>“Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them.

<sup>18</sup>For truly, I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the Law until all is accomplished.

<sup>19</sup>Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. <sup>20</sup>For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.”

Writing

The cross . . . is that dying of the old man which is the result of his encounter with Christ. . . . [T]he cross is not the terrible end to an otherwise god-fearing and happy life, but it meets us at the beginning of our communion with Christ. When Christ calls a man, he bids him come and die. . . . [I]t is the same death every time—death in Jesus Christ, the death of the old man . . . . [O]nly the man who is dead to his own will can follow Christ. In fact, every command of Jesus is a call to die, with all our affections and lusts. But we do not want to die, and therefore Jesus Christ and . . . the baptism in the name of [Christ] . . . means both death and life. . . . [B]aptism sets the Christian in the middle of the daily arena against sin and the devil. . . . The wounds and scars he receives in the fray are living tokens of this participation in the cross of his Lord. . . . While it is true that only the sufferings of Christ are a means of atonement, yet since he has suffered for and borne the sins of the whole world and shares with his disciples the fruits of his passion, the Christian also has to . . . bear the sins of others . . . . But he would certainly break down under this burden, but for the support of him who bore the sins of all. The passion of Christ strengthens him to overcome the sins of others by forgiving them. He becomes the bearer of other men’s burdens—“Bear ye one another’s burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ” (Gal. 6:2). As Christ bears our burdens, so ought we to bear the burdens of our fellow-men. The law of Christ . . . is the bearing of the cross. My brother’s burden which I must bear is not only his outward lot, his natural characteristics and gifts, but quite literally his sin. And the only way to bear that sin is by forgiving it in the power of the cross of Christ in which I now share. . . . Forgiveness is the Christlike suffering which it is the Christian’s duty to bear.

—Dietrich Bonhoeffer

Israel's Refusal to Enter the Land

<sup>19</sup>“Then we set out from Horeb and went through all that great and terrifying wilderness that you saw, on the way to the hill country of the Amorites, as the LORD our God commanded us. And we came to Kadesh-barnea. <sup>20</sup>And I said to you, ‘You have come to the hill country of the Amorites, which the LORD our God is giving us. <sup>21</sup>See, the LORD your God has set the land before you. Go up, take possession, as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has told you. Do not fear or be dismayed.’ <sup>22</sup>Then all of you came near me and said, ‘Let us send men before us, that they may explore the land for us and bring us word again of the way by which we must go up and the cities into which we shall come.’ <sup>23</sup>The thing seemed good to me, and I took twelve men from you, one man from each tribe. <sup>24</sup>And they turned and went up into the hill country, and came to the Valley of Eshcol and spied it out. <sup>25</sup>And they took in their hands some of the fruit of the land and brought it down to us, and brought us word again and said, 'It is a good land that the LORD our God is giving us.'

<sup>26</sup>"Yet you would not go up, but rebelled against the command of the LORD your God. <sup>27</sup>And you murmured in your tents and said, 'Because the LORD hated us he has brought us out of the land of Egypt, to give us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us.

<sup>28</sup>Where are we going up? Our brothers have made our hearts melt, saying, "The people are greater and taller than we. The cities are great and fortified up to heaven. And besides, we have seen the sons of the Anakim there."'

<sup>29</sup>Then I said to you, 'Do not be in dread or afraid of them. <sup>30</sup>The LORD your God who goes before you will himself fight for you, just as he did for you in Egypt before your eyes, <sup>31</sup>and in the wilderness, where you have seen how the LORD your God carried you, as a man carries his son, all the way that you went until you came to this place.' <sup>32</sup>Yet in spite of this word you did not believe the LORD your God, <sup>33</sup>who went before you in the way to seek you out a place to pitch your tents, in fire by night and in the cloud by day, to show you by what way you should go.

The Penalty for Israel's Rebellion

<sup>34</sup>"And the LORD heard your words and was angered, and he swore, <sup>35</sup>"Not one of these men of this evil generation shall see the good land that I swore to give to your fathers, <sup>36</sup>except Caleb the son of Jephunneh. He shall see it, and to him and to his children I will give the land on which he has trodden, because he has wholly followed the LORD!"

New Testament Reading: Matthew 5:21–48

Anger

<sup>21</sup>"You have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment.'

<sup>22</sup>But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell of fire. <sup>23</sup>So if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, <sup>24</sup>leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

<sup>25</sup>Come to terms quickly with your accuser while you are going with him to court, lest your accuser hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you be put in prison. <sup>26</sup>Truly, I say to you, you will never get out until you have paid the last penny.

Lust

<sup>27</sup>"You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery.' <sup>28</sup>But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart. <sup>29</sup>If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell. <sup>30</sup>And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

Divorce

<sup>32</sup>But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

Oaths

<sup>33</sup>“Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, ‘You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.’ <sup>34</sup>But I say to you, Do not take an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God, <sup>35</sup>or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. <sup>36</sup>And do not take an oath by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. <sup>37</sup>Let what you say be simply ‘Yes’ or ‘No’; anything more than this comes from evil.

Retaliation

<sup>38</sup>“You have heard that it was said, ‘An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.’ <sup>39</sup>But I say to you, Do not resist the one who is evil. But if anyone slaps you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. <sup>40</sup>And if anyone would sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. <sup>41</sup>And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. <sup>42</sup>Give to the one who begs from you, and do not refuse the one who would borrow from you.

Love Your Enemies

<sup>43</sup>“You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’ <sup>44</sup>But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, <sup>45</sup>so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. <sup>46</sup>For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? <sup>47</sup>And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? <sup>48</sup>You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.”

Writing

Concerning the revelation of sin, Moses’ veil hangs [2 Corinthians 3:12–16] before the eyes of all people as long as they hear the bare preaching of the Law, and nothing about Christ. Therefore, they do not learn from the Law to see their sins correctly. They either become bold hypocrites <who swell with the opinion of their own righteousness> like the Pharisees [Matthew 23], or they despair like Judas [Matthew 27:3–5]. Therefore, Christ takes the Law into His hands and explains it spiritually (Matthew 5:21–48; Romans 7:14). In this way God’s wrath is revealed from heaven against all sinners [Romans 1:18], so that they see how great it is. In this way they are directed back to the Law, and then they first learn from it to know their sins correctly—a knowledge that Moses never could have forced out of them.

According to this, the preaching of the suffering and death of Christ, the Son of God, is a serious and terrifying proclamation and declaration of God’s wrath. By such preaching people are first led into the Law correctly—after Moses’ veil has been removed from them. Then they understand correctly for the first time what great things God requires of us in His Law, none of which we can keep. Therefore, they know we are to seek all our righteousness in Christ.

. . . As long as all this (namely, Christ’s suffering and death) proclaims God’s wrath and terrifies a person, it is still not properly the preaching of the Gospel. It remains the preaching of Moses and the Law, and it is, therefore, an alien work of Christ. Passing through this teaching, Christ arrives at His proper office, that is, to preach grace, console, and give life, which is properly the preaching of the Gospel.

—Epitome of the Formula of Concord
V 8–10

What is the [angels'] attitude toward men? This the Lord Christ reveals with one word when He calls them “their angels,” that is, the angels of the little ones, the servants of the children and all believers. . . . They render this service to every Christian in manifold ways. While we are children, God assigns our angels to us, as Christ tells us in the holy gospel. When we grow older and go our own way, that is, walk in the ways of our calling, God also assigns angels to us (Ps. 91:11,12). When we sleep, the angels watch and protect us against the devil. When we die, they carry our soul to Abraham’s bosom (Luke 16:22). Their protection is ours through life. . . . Why is that the angels readily serve the believers though they are much nobler and higher than we? (1) Because they are confirmed in the good and therefore gladly and fully obey God’s will. God’s will and order is that they serve us (Heb. 1:14). The army of the heavens—sun, moon, and stars—maintain their order given them by God for man’s sake. All the more will the heavenly army of the holy angels maintain its order. (2) Because our nature is raised in Christ above all angels and archangels (Eph. 1:20, 21; Heb. 1:4). Therefore the angels do not refuse to serve us men, in honor of the human nature assumed by Christ. As an entire race is brought to honor by a marriage, so the marriage of the Son of God with humanity has restored the human race to honor (Matt.

22:2). What wonder, then, that the angels serve us, since the Son of God, the Lord of the angels, came to earth that He might serve us? (3) Because love is pure and perfect in them, the angels joyfully serve us, as does the Lord, who Himself is Love (1 John 4:8), in whose image the angels were created, and who declared: “I will rejoice in doing them good” (Jer. 32:41). (4) Finally, because we shall someday be with them in heaven and join their choir in praising God, the angels are happy to serve us here on earth.

—Johann Gerhard

Hymnody

Prayer of the Day

Everlasting God, You have ordained and constituted the service of angels and men in a wonderful order. Mercifully grant that, as Your holy angels always serve and worship You in heaven, so by Your appointment they may also help and defend us here on earth; through Your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F29)

St. Michael and All Angels

The name of the archangel St. Michael means “Who is like God?” Michael is mentioned in the Book of Daniel (12:1), as well as in Jude (v. 9) and Revelation (12:7). Daniel portrays Michael as the angelic helper of Israel who leads the battle against the forces of evil. In Revelation, Michael and his angels fight against and defeat Satan and the evil angels, driving them from heaven. Their victory is made possible by Christ's own victory over Satan in His death and resurrection, a victory announced by the voice in heaven: "Now the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ have come" (Revelation 12:10). Michael is often associated with Gabriel and Raphael, the other chief angels or archangels who surround the throne of God. Tradition names Michael as the patron and protector of the Church, especially as the protector of Christians at the hour of death.

Deuteronomy 1:37–2:15

<sup>37</sup>Even with me the LORD was angry on your account and said, 'You also shall not go in there. <sup>38</sup>Joshua the son of Nun, who stands before you, he shall enter. Encourage him, for he shall cause Israel to inherit it. <sup>39</sup>And as for your little ones, who you said would become a prey, and your children, who today have no knowledge of good or evil, they shall go in there. And to them I will give it, and they shall possess it. <sup>40</sup>But as for you, turn, and journey into the wilderness in the direction of the Red Sea.'

<sup>41</sup>'Then you answered me, 'We have sinned against the LORD. We ourselves will go up and fight, just as the LORD our God commanded us.' And every one of you fastened on his weapons of war and thought it easy to go up into the hill country. <sup>42</sup>And the LORD said to me, 'Say to them, Do not go up or fight, for I am not in your midst, lest you be defeated before your enemies.' <sup>43</sup>So I spoke to you, and you would not listen; but you rebelled against the command of the LORD and presumptuously went up into the hill country. <sup>44</sup>Then the Amorites who lived in that hill country came out against you and chased you as bees do and beat you down in Seir as far as Hormah. <sup>45</sup>And you returned and wept before the LORD, but the LORD did not listen to your voice or give ear to you.

The Wilderness Years

<sup>2:1</sup>“Then we turned and journeyed into the wilderness in the direction of the Red Sea, as the LORD told me. And for many days we traveled around Mount Seir. <sup>2</sup>Then the LORD said to me, <sup>3</sup>‘You have been traveling around this mountain country long enough. Turn northward <sup>4</sup>and command the people, ‘You are about to pass through the territory of your brothers, the people of Esau, who live in Seir; and they will be afraid of you. So be very careful. <sup>5</sup>Do not contend with them, for I will not give you any of their land, no, not so much as for the sole of the foot to tread on, because I have given Mount Seir to Esau as a possession. <sup>6</sup>You shall purchase food from them for money, that you may eat, and you shall also buy water of them for money, that you may drink. <sup>7</sup>For the LORD your God has blessed you in all the work of your hands. He knows your going through this great wilderness. These forty years the LORD your God has been with you. You have lacked nothing.’” <sup>8</sup>So we went on, away from our brothers, the people of Esau, who live in Seir, away from the Arabah road from Elath and Ezion-geber.

“And we turned and went in the direction of the wilderness of Moab. <sup>9</sup>And the LORD said to me, ‘Do not harass Moab or contend with them in battle, for I will not give you any of their land for a possession, because I have given Ar to the people of Lot for a possession.’ <sup>10</sup>(The Emim formerly lived there, a people great and many, and tall as the Anakim. <sup>11</sup>Like the Anakim they are also counted as Rephaim, but the Moabites call them Emim. <sup>12</sup>The Horites also lived in Seir formerly, but the people of Esau dispossessed them and destroyed them from before them and settled in their place, as Israel did to the land of their possession, which the LORD gave to them.) <sup>13</sup>‘Now rise up and go over the brook Zered.’ So we went over the brook Zered. <sup>14</sup>And the time from our leaving Kadesh-barnea until we crossed the brook Zered was thirty-eight years, until the entire generation, that is, the men of war, had perished from the camp, as the LORD had sworn to them. <sup>15</sup>For indeed the hand of the LORD was against them, to destroy them from the camp, until they had perished.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 6:1–15

Giving to the Needy

<sup>1</sup>“Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven.

<sup>2</sup>“Thus, when you give to the needy, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward. <sup>3</sup>But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, <sup>4</sup>so that your giving may be in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

The Lord’s Prayer

<sup>5</sup>“And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward. <sup>6</sup>But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

<sup>7</sup>“And when you pray, do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do, for they think that they will be heard for their many words. <sup>8</sup>Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him.

“Our Father in heaven,
hallowed be your name.

<sup>10</sup>Your kingdom come,
your will be done, on earth
as it is in heaven.

<sup>12</sup>and forgive us our debts,
as we also have forgiven our debtors.

<sup>13</sup>And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.

your heavenly Father will also forgive you,

<sup>15</sup>but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive
your trespasses.”

Today you may see women cramming their wardrobes with dresses, changing their gowns from day to day, and for all that unable to vanquish the moths. Now and then one more scrupulous wears out a single dress; yet, while she appears in rags, her boxes are full. Parchments are dyed purple, gold is melted into lettering, manuscripts are decked with jewels, while Christ lies at the door naked and dying. When they hold out a hand to the needy, they sound a trumpet; when they invite to a love-feast, they engage a crier. I lately saw the noblest lady in Rome—I suppress her name, for I am no satirist—with a band of eunuchs before her in the basilica of the blessed Peter. She was giving money to the poor, a coin apiece; and this with her own hand, that she might be accounted more religious. Hereupon a by no means uncommon incident occurred. An old woman, “full of years and rags,” ran forward to get a second coin, but when her turn came she received not a penny but a blow hard enough to draw blood from her guilty veins.

“The love of money is the root of all evil,” and the apostle speaks of covetousness as being idolatry. “Seek ye first the kingdom of God and all these things shall be added unto you.” The Lord will never allow a righteous soul to perish of hunger.

—Jerome

Prayer of the Day

O Lord, God of truth, Your Word is a lamp to our feet and a light on our path. You gave Your servant Jerome delight in his study of Holy Scripture. May those who continue to read, mark, and inwardly digest Your Word find in it the food of salvation and the fountain of life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1093)

Jerome, Translator of Holy Scripture

Jerome was born in a little village on the Adriatic Sea around AD 345. At a young age, he went to study in Rome, where he was baptized. After extensive travels, he chose the life of a monk and spent five years in the Syrian Desert. There he learned Hebrew, the language of the Old Testament. After ordination at Antioch and visits to Rome and Constantinople, Jerome settled in Bethlehem. From the original Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek, he used his ability with languages to translate the Bible into Latin, the common language of his time. This translation, called the Vulgate, was the authoritative version of the Bible in the Western Church for more than a thousand years. Considered one of the great scholars of the Early Church, Jerome died on September 30, 420. He was originally interred at Bethlehem, but his remains were eventually taken to Rome.

[The Wilderness Years]

<sup>16c</sup>So as soon as all the men of war had perished and were dead from among the people, <sup>17</sup>the LORD said to me, <sup>18c</sup>Today you are to cross the border of Moab at Ar. <sup>19</sup>And when you approach the territory of the people of Ammon, do not harass them or contend with them, for I will not give you any of the land of the people of Ammon as a possession, because I have given it to the sons of Lot for a possession.’ <sup>20</sup>(It is also counted as a land of Rephaim. Rephaim formerly lived there—but the Ammonites call them Zamzummim—<sup>21</sup>a people great and many, and tall as the Anakim; but the LORD destroyed them before the Ammonites, and they dispossessed them and settled in their place, <sup>22</sup>as he did for the people of Esau, who live in Seir, when he destroyed the Horites before them and they dispossessed them and settled in their place even to this day. <sup>23</sup>As for the Avvim, who lived in villages as far as Gaza, the Caphtorim, who came from Caphtor, destroyed them and settled in their place.) <sup>24c</sup>Rise up, set out on your journey and go over the Valley of the Arnon. Behold, I have given into your hand Sihon the Amorite, king of Heshbon, and his land. Begin to take possession, and contend with him in battle. <sup>25</sup>This day I will begin to put the dread and fear of you on the peoples who are under the whole heaven, who shall hear the report of you and shall tremble and be in anguish because of you.’

The Defeat of King Sihon

is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, and from the city that is in the valley, as far as Gilead, there was not a city too high for us. The LORD our God gave all into our hands. <sup>37</sup>Only to the land of the sons of Ammon you did not draw near, that is, to all the banks of the river Jabbok and the cities of the hill country, whatever the LORD our God had forbidden us.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 6:16–34

Fasting

<sup>16</sup>“And when you fast, do not look gloomy like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces that their fasting may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward. <sup>17</sup>But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, <sup>18</sup>that your fasting may not be seen by others but by your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

Lay Up Treasures in Heaven

<sup>22</sup>“The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light, <sup>23</sup>but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

<sup>24</sup>“No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.

Do Not Be Anxious

<sup>25</sup>“Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing? <sup>26</sup>Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they? <sup>27</sup>And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life? <sup>28</sup>And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin, <sup>29</sup>yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. <sup>30</sup>But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? <sup>31</sup>Therefore do not be anxious, saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘What shall we wear?’ <sup>32</sup>For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. <sup>33</sup>But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.

Writing

Just as you cannot make out of the gospel a sacrifice or a work, so you cannot make a sacrifice or a work out of this sacrament; for this sacrament is the gospel.

Therefore, in this matter no one can achieve anything for another person. Each one must believe for himself, just as I must believe all the Gospels for myself. I cannot hear or believe or keep for any one else so much as a single letter of the gospel, even as I cannot be baptized for any one else. But a good work I can always do to another person and for another person. Indeed, I have to do them for somebody else or they are not good works. For example, I can pray for you, serve you, work for you, suffer for you, and so forth. There is a great difference between faith and good works, just as vast as the difference in value between the tree and the fruit. Fruits disappear and return each year, but the tree remains always. Faith also remains always, but works disappear. . . . Be careful, therefore, to stay on the track. Don't let anyone pull you away from the Word through any statement of man, be it Augustine, Jerome, Bernard, or even an angel [Gal. 1:8]. “The elect will be led astray,” says Christ [Matt. 24:24]. Therefore we cannot build on the mere word of one of the elect saints, without Scripture. Christ has warned us faithfully enough, and our own experience has probably taught us, that saintly men can make mistakes and have made mistakes. . . . No good work can free us of our sins or give us grace or life or salvation. But this sacrament does give life, grace, and blessedness, for it is a fountain of life and of blessedness.

—Martin Luther

The Defeat of King Og

<sup>1</sup>“Then we turned and went up the way to Bashan. And Og the king of Bashan came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at Edrei. <sup>2</sup>But the LORD said to me, ‘Do not fear him, for I have given him and all his people and his land into your hand. And you shall do to him as you did to Sihon the king of the Amorites, who lived at Heshbon.’ <sup>3</sup>So the LORD our God gave into our hand Og also, the king of Bashan, and all his people, and we struck him down until he had no survivor left. <sup>4</sup>And we took all his cities at that time—there was not a city that we did not take from them—sixty cities, the whole region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan. <sup>5</sup>All these were cities fortified with high walls, gates, and bars, besides very many unwalled villages. <sup>6</sup>And we devoted them to destruction, as we did to Sihon the king of Heshbon, devoting to destruction every city, men, women, and children. <sup>7</sup>But all the livestock and the spoil of the cities we took as our plunder. <sup>8</sup>So we took the land at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, from the Valley of the Arnon to Mount Hermon <sup>9</sup>(the Sidonians call Hermon Sirion, while the Amorites call it Senir), <sup>10</sup>all the cities of the tableland and all Gilead and all Bashan, as far as Salecah and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan. <sup>11</sup>(For only Og the king of Bashan was left of the remnant of the Rephaim. Behold, his bed was a bed of iron. Is it not in Rabbah of the Ammonites? Nine cubits was its length, and four cubits its breadth, according to the common cubit.)

<sup>12</sup>“When we took possession of this land at that time, I gave to the Reubenites and the Gadites the territory beginning at Aroer, which is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, and half the hill country of Gilead with its cities. <sup>13</sup>The rest of Gilead, and all Bashan, the kingdom of Og, that is, all the region of Argob, I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh. (All that portion of Bashan is called the land of Rephaim. <sup>14</sup>Jair the Manassite took all the region of Argob, that is, Bashan, as far as the border of the Geshurites and the Maacathites, and called the villages after his own name, Havvoth-jair, as it is to this day.) <sup>15</sup>To Machir I gave Gilead, <sup>16</sup>and to the Reubenites and the Gadites I gave the territory from Gilead as far as the Valley of the Arnon, with the middle of the valley as a border, as far over as the river Jabbok, the border of the Ammonites; <sup>17</sup>the Arabah also, with the Jordan as the border, from Chinnereth as far as the Sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, under the slopes of Pisgah on the east.

<sup>18</sup>“And I commanded you at that time, saying, “The LORD your God has given you this land to possess. All your men of valor shall cross over armed before your brothers, the people of Israel. <sup>19</sup>Only your wives, your little ones, and your livestock (I know that you have much livestock) shall remain in the cities that I have given you, <sup>20</sup>until the LORD gives rest to your brothers, as to you, and they also occupy the land that the LORD your God gives them beyond the Jordan. Then each of you may return to his possession which I have given you.”<sup>21</sup> And I commanded

Joshua at that time, ‘Your eyes have seen all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings. So will the LORD do to all the kingdoms into which you are crossing. <sup>22</sup>You shall not fear them, for it is the LORD your God who fights for you.’

Moses Forbidden to Enter the Land

<sup>23</sup>“And I pleaded with the LORD at that time, saying, <sup>24</sup>O Lord GOD, you have only begun to show your servant your greatness and your mighty hand. For what god is there in heaven or on earth who can do such works and mighty acts as yours? <sup>25</sup>Please let me go over and see the good land beyond the Jordan, that good hill country and Lebanon.”<sup>26</sup> But the LORD was angry with me because of you and would not listen to me. And the LORD said to me, ‘Enough from you; do not speak to me of this matter again. <sup>27</sup>Go up to the top of Pisgah and lift up your eyes westward and northward and southward and eastward, and look at it with your eyes, for you shall not go over this Jordan. <sup>28</sup>But charge Joshua, and encourage and strengthen him, for he shall go over at the head of this people, and he shall put them in possession of the land that you shall see.’ <sup>29</sup>So we remained in the valley opposite Beth-peor.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 7:1–12

Judging Others

<sup>1</sup>“Judge not, that you be not judged. <sup>2</sup>For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and with the measure you use it will be measured to you. <sup>3</sup>Why do you see the speck that is in your brother’s eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye? <sup>4</sup>Or how can you say to your brother, ‘Let me take the speck out of your eye,’ when there is the log in your own eye? <sup>5</sup>You hypocrite, first take the log out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye.

<sup>6</sup>“Do not give dogs what is holy, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, lest they trample them underfoot and turn to attack you.

Ask, and It Will Be Given

<sup>7</sup>“Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. <sup>8</sup>For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened. <sup>9</sup>Or which one of you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? <sup>10</sup>Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a serpent? <sup>11</sup>If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him!

The Golden Rule

<sup>12</sup>“So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.”

Writing

If someone wants to describe adequately the usefulness of pious, earnest prayer, he will, in my opinion, surely find a beginning more easily than a conclusion. Pious prayer offered in faith is familiar conversation with God. It is a salutary remedy to all the difficulties of life. It is the key to heaven and the door to paradise. It shows us how much we depend on God, and it is a ladder of ascension to God. It is a shield for our defense and a faithful messenger of the ambassador. It is refreshment in the heat of misfortune; it is medicine during illness. It is a winch, drawing us to heaven, and a vessel that draws water from the font of divine kindness. It is a sword against the devil and a defense against misfortune. It is a wind that blows away evil and brings earthly benefits. It is a nurse that nurtures virtues and conquers faults. It is a great fortification for the soul and gives free access to God. It is a spiritual feast and a heavenly delicacy. It is a consolation for the dejected and a delight for the holy. It grants knowledge of the secret things of God and acquires His gifts. It upholds the world and rescues people. It is a joy for the heart and a jubilation for the mind. It follows God's gift of grace, and it leads ahead into glory. It is a garden of happiness and a tree full of delights. It calms the conscience and increases our thankfulness. It sends demons running and draws angels close. It is a soothing remedy for the misfortunes of this life and the sweet smell of the sacrifice of thanksgiving. It is a foretaste of the life to come and sweetens the bitterness of death.

Whoever is truly a child of God through faith will, with childlike trust, address his or her heavenly Father every day in prayer. The one in whose heart the Holy Spirit has made His home will, as a spiritual priest, daily offer to God this incense of prayer. There are four immovable truths on which our confidence to pray rests. Because of these, we may be certain that our heavenly Father mercifully hears our prayers. The truths on which our certainty rests are: (1) God's omnipotent kindness; (2) God's unfailing truthfulness; (3) Christ's intercession as our mediator; and (4) the Holy Spirit's testimony.

Moses Commands Obedience

<sup>1</sup>“And now, O Israel, listen to the statutes and the rules that I am teaching you, and do them, that you may live, and go in and take possession of the land that the LORD, the God of your fathers, is giving you. <sup>2</sup>You shall not add to the word that I command you, nor take from it, that you may keep the commandments of the LORD your God that I command you. <sup>3</sup>Your eyes have seen what the LORD did at Baal-peor, for the LORD your God destroyed from among you all the men who followed the Baal of Peor. <sup>4</sup>But you who held fast to the LORD your God are all alive today. <sup>5</sup>See, I have taught you statutes and rules, as the LORD my God commanded me, that you should do them in the land that you are entering to take possession of it. <sup>6</sup>Keep them and do them, for that will be your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the peoples, who, when they hear all these statutes, will say, ‘Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.’ <sup>7</sup>For what great nation is there that has a god so near to it as the LORD our God is to us, whenever we call upon him? <sup>8</sup>And what great nation is there, that has statutes and rules so righteous as all this law that I set before you today?

from your heart all the days of your life. Make them known to your children and your children's children—<sup>10</sup>how on the day that you stood before the LORD your God at Horeb, the LORD said to me, 'Gather the people to me, that I may let them hear my words, so that they may learn to fear me all the days that they live on the earth, and that they may teach their children so.' <sup>11</sup>And you came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, while the mountain burned with fire to the heart of heaven, wrapped in darkness, cloud, and gloom. <sup>12</sup>Then the LORD spoke to you out of the midst of the fire. You heard the sound of words, but saw no form; there was only a voice. <sup>13</sup>And he declared to you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, that is, the Ten Commandments, and he wrote them on two tablets of stone. <sup>14</sup>And the LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and rules, that you might do them in the land that you are going over to possess.

Idolatry Forbidden

the LORD your God has allotted to all the peoples under the whole heaven. <sup>20</sup>But the LORD has taken you and brought you out of the iron furnace, out of Egypt, to be a people of his own inheritance, as you are this day."

New Testament Reading: Matthew 7:13–29

[The Golden Rule]

<sup>13</sup>"Enter by the narrow gate. For the gate is wide and the way is easy that leads to destruction, and those who enter by it are many. <sup>14</sup>For the gate is narrow and the way is hard that leads to life, and those who find it are few.

A Tree and Its Fruit

<sup>15</sup>"Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. <sup>16</sup>You will recognize them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes, or figs from thistles? <sup>17</sup>So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. <sup>18</sup>A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit. <sup>19</sup>Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. <sup>20</sup>Thus you will recognize them by their fruits.

I Never Knew You

<sup>21</sup>"Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. <sup>22</sup>On that day many will say to me, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name?' <sup>23</sup>And then will I declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness.'

Build Your House on the Rock

<sup>24</sup>“Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock. <sup>25</sup>And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock. <sup>26</sup>And everyone who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. <sup>27</sup>And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.”

The Authority of Jesus

<sup>28</sup>And when Jesus finished these sayings, the crowds were astonished at his teaching, <sup>29</sup>for he was teaching them as one who had authority, and not as their scribes.

Writing

A person may pretend to be a Christian while in reality he is not. As long as he is in this condition, he is quite content with his knowledge of the mere outlines of the Christian doctrines. . . . However, the moment a person becomes a Christian, there arises in him a keen desire for the doctrine of Christ. Even the most uncultured peasant who is still unconverted is suddenly roused in the moment of his conversion and begins to reflect on God and heaven, salvation and damnation, etc. He becomes occupied with the highest problems of human life.

An instance of this kind is afforded by those Jews who flocked to Christ and also by the apostles. Those multitudes heard Christ with great joy and were astonished because He preached with authority and not as did the scribes. But the majority of these hearers never advanced beyond a certain feeling of delight and admiration. The apostles, too, were uneducated people, but they acted differently. They did not stop where the rest stopped, but propounded all manner of questions to Christ. . . . It is, therefore, quite true what the Apology says: “Men of good conscience are crying for the truth and proper instruction from the Word of God” . . . (Mueller, p.191; Triglot Concordia, p. 290).

Idolatry Forbidden

<sup>21</sup>“Furthermore, the LORD was angry with me because of you, and he swore that I should not cross the Jordan, and that I should not enter the good land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance. <sup>22</sup>For I must die in this land; I must not go over the Jordan. But you shall go over and take possession of that good land. <sup>23</sup>Take care, lest you forget the covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, and make a carved image, the form of anything that the LORD your God has forbidden you.

<sup>25</sup>“When you father children and children’s children, and have grown old in the land, if you act corruptly by making a carved image in the form of anything, and by doing what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God, so as to provoke him to anger, <sup>26</sup>I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that you will soon utterly perish from the land that you are going over the Jordan to possess. You will not live long in it, but will be utterly destroyed. <sup>27</sup>And the LORD will scatter you among the peoples, and you will be left few in number among the nations where the LORD will drive you. <sup>28</sup>And there you will serve gods of wood and stone, the work of human hands, that neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell. <sup>29</sup>But from there you will seek the LORD your God and you will find him, if you search after him with all your heart and with all your soul. <sup>30</sup>When you are in tribulation, and all these things come upon you in the latter days, you will return to the LORD your God and obey his voice. <sup>31</sup>For the LORD your God is a merciful God. He will not leave you or destroy you or forget the covenant with your fathers that he swore to them.

<sup>32</sup>“For ask now of the days that are past, which were before you, since the day that God created man on the earth, and ask from one end of heaven to the other, whether such a great thing as this has ever happened or was ever heard of. <sup>33</sup>Did any people ever hear the voice of a god speaking out of the midst of the fire, as you have heard, and still live? <sup>34</sup>Or has any god ever attempted to go and take a nation for himself from the midst of another nation, by trials, by signs, by wonders, and by war, by a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, and by great deeds of terror, all of which the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes? <sup>35</sup>To you it was shown, that you might know that the LORD is God; there is no other besides him. <sup>36</sup>Out of heaven he let you hear his voice, that he might discipline you. And on earth he let you see his great fire, and you heard his words out of the midst of the fire. <sup>37</sup>And because he loved your fathers and chose their offspring after them and brought you out of Egypt with his own presence, by his great power, <sup>38</sup>driving out before you nations greater and mightier than yourselves, to bring you in, to give you their land for an inheritance, as it is this day, <sup>39</sup>know therefore today, and lay it to your heart, that the LORD is God in heaven above and on the earth beneath; there is no other. <sup>40</sup>Therefore you shall keep his statutes and his commandments, which I command you today, that it may go well with you and with your children after you, and that you may prolong your days in the land that the LORD your God is giving you for all time.”

Jesus Cleanses a Leper

<sup>1</sup>When he came down from the mountain, great crowds followed him. <sup>2</sup>And behold, a leper came to him and knelt before him, saying, “Lord, if you will, you can make me clean.” <sup>3</sup>And Jesus stretched out his hand and touched him, saying, “I will; be clean.” And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. <sup>4</sup>And Jesus said to him, “See that you say nothing to anyone, but go, show yourself to the priest and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a proof to them.”

The Faith of a Centurion

<sup>5</sup>When he entered Capernaum, a centurion came forward to him, appealing to him, “Lord, my servant is lying paralyzed at home, suffering terribly.” <sup>7</sup>And he said to him, “I will come and heal him.” <sup>8</sup>But the centurion replied, “Lord, I am not worthy to have you come under my roof, but only say the word, and my servant will be healed. <sup>9</sup>For I too am a man under authority, with soldiers under me. And I say to one, ‘Go,’ and he goes, and to another, ‘Come,’ and he comes, and to my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.” <sup>10</sup>When Jesus heard this, he marveled and said to those who followed him, “Truly, I tell you, with no one in Israel have I found such faith. <sup>11</sup>I tell you, many will come from east and west and recline at table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven, <sup>12</sup>while the sons of the kingdom will be thrown into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.” <sup>13</sup>And to the centurion Jesus said, “Go; let it be done for you as you have believed.” And the servant was healed at that very moment.

Jesus Heals Many

<sup>14</sup>And when Jesus entered Peter’s house, he saw his mother-in-law lying sick with a fever. <sup>15</sup>He touched her hand, and the fever left her, and she rose and began to serve him. <sup>16</sup>That evening they brought to him many who were oppressed by demons, and he cast out the spirits with a word and healed all who were sick. <sup>17</sup>This was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah: “He took our illnesses and bore our diseases.”

Writing

I ask you to note how the centurion signified that Christ is able not only to overcome death as if it were a slave but is also able to command it as its master. For in saying, “‘Come,’ and he comes,” and “‘Go,’ and he goes,” the centurion express this: “If You should command my servant’s end not to come upon him, it will not come.”

Do you see how the centurion believed? For what was later to be made known to all—that Christ has power over both death and life, and that He leads down to the gates of hell and brings up again—is already made clear here by the centurion. . . . But nevertheless, though he has such great faith, he still accounted himself to be unworthy. Christ, however, signifying that the centurion was worthy to have Him enter into his house, did much greater things, marveling at him and acclaiming him and giving him more than he had asked. For he came indeed seeking for his servant bodily healing, but he went away, having received a kingdom. See how the saying had already been fulfilled, “Seek first the kingdom of heaven, and all these things shall be added to you.” For because the centurion showed great faith and lowliness of mind, Christ both gave him heaven, and added to him the health of his servant.

And not by this alone did He honor him, but also by indicating upon whose casting out he is brought in. For now from this time forth, Christ proceeds to make known that salvation is by faith, not by works of the Law. And this is why not to Jews only, but to Gentiles also the gift so given shall be proffered, and to the [faithful of the] latter, rather than to the [unbelieving of the] former.

—John Chrysostom

The Ten Commandments

<sup>1</sup>And Moses summoned all Israel and said to them, “Hear, O Israel, the statutes and the rules that I speak in your hearing today, and you shall learn them and be careful to do them. <sup>2</sup>The LORD our God made a covenant with us in Horeb. <sup>3</sup>Not with our fathers did the LORD make this covenant, but with us, who are all of us here alive today. <sup>4</sup>The LORD spoke with you face to face at the mountain, out of the midst of the fire, <sup>5</sup>while I stood between the LORD and you at that time, to declare to you the word of the LORD. For you were afraid because of the fire, and you did not go up into the mountain. He said:

<sup>6</sup>“ I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

<sup>8</sup>“ You shall not make for yourself a carved image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is on the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. <sup>9</sup>You shall not bow down to them or serve them; for I the Lord your God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me, <sup>10</sup>but showing steadfast love to thousands of those who love me and keep my commandments.

<sup>12</sup>“ Observe the Sabbath day, to keep it holy, as the LORD your God commanded you. <sup>13</sup>Six days you shall labor and do all your work, <sup>14</sup>but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. On it you shall not do any work, you or your son or your daughter or your male servant or your female servant, or your ox or your donkey or any of your livestock, or the sojourner who is within your gates, that your male servant and your female servant may rest as well as you. <sup>15</sup>You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God brought you out from there with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm. Therefore the LORD your God commanded you to keep the Sabbath day.

<sup>16</sup>“ Honor your father and your mother, as the LORD your God commanded you, that your days may be long, and that it may go well with you in the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

<sup>21</sup>“And you shall not covet your neighbor’s wife. And you shall not desire your neighbor’s house, his field, or his male servant, or his female servant, his ox, or his donkey, or anything that is your neighbor’s.”

The Cost of Following Jesus

<sup>18</sup>Now when Jesus saw a crowd around him, he gave orders to go over to the other side. <sup>19</sup>And a scribe came up and said to him, “Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go.” <sup>20</sup>And Jesus said to him, “Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head.” <sup>21</sup>Another of the disciples said to him, “Lord, let me first go and bury my father.” <sup>22</sup>And Jesus said to him, “Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead.”

Jesus Calms a Storm

<sup>23</sup>And when he got into the boat, his disciples followed him. <sup>24</sup>And behold, there arose a great storm on the sea, so that the boat was being swamped by the waves; but he was asleep. <sup>25</sup>And they went and woke him, saying, “Save us, Lord; we are perishing.” <sup>26</sup>And he said to them, “Why are you afraid, O you of little faith?” Then he rose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm. <sup>27</sup>And the men marveled, saying, “What sort of man is this, that even winds and sea obey him?”

Jesus Heals Two Men with Demons

<sup>28</sup>And when he came to the other side, to the country of the Gadarenes, two demon-possessed men met him, coming out of the tombs, so fierce that no one could pass that way. <sup>29</sup>And behold, they cried out, “What have you to do with us, O Son of God? Have you come here to torment us before the time?” <sup>30</sup>Now a herd of many pigs was feeding at some distance from them. <sup>31</sup>And the demons begged him, saying, “If you cast us out, send us away into the herd of pigs.” <sup>32</sup>And he said to them, “Go.” So they came out and went into the pigs, and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep bank into the sea and drowned in the waters. <sup>33</sup>The herdsmen fled, and going into the city they told everything, especially what had happened to the demon-possessed men. <sup>34</sup>And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus, and when they saw him, they begged him to leave their region.

Until now consciences were plagued with [a false] doctrine of works. They did not hear consolation from the Gospel. Some people were driven by conscience into the desert and into monasteries, hoping to merit grace by a monastic life. Some people came up with other works to merit grace and make satisfaction for sins. That is why the need was so great for teaching and renewing the doctrine of faith in Christ, so that anxious consciences would not be without consolation but would know that grace, forgiveness of sins, and justification are received by faith in Christ.

People are also warned that the term faith does not mean simply a knowledge of a history, such as the ungodly and devil have [James 2:19]. Rather, it means a faith that believes, not merely the history, but also the effect of the history. In other words, it believes this article: the forgiveness of sins. We have grace, righteousness, and forgiveness of sins through Christ.

The person who knows that he has a Father who is gracious to him through Christ truly knows God [John 14:7]. He also knows that God cares for him [1 Peter 5:7], and he calls upon God [Romans 10:13]. In a word, he is not without God, as are the heathen. For devils and the ungodly are not able to believe this article: the forgiveness of sins. Hence, they hate God as an enemy [Romans 8:7] and do not call Him [Romans 3:11–12] and expect no good from Him. Augustine also warns his readers about the word faith and teaches that the term is used in the Scriptures, not for the knowledge that is in the ungodly, but for the confidence that consoles and encourages the terrified mind.

<sup>22</sup>“These words the LORD spoke to all your assembly at the mountain out of the midst of the fire, the cloud, and the thick darkness, with a loud voice; and he added no more. And he wrote them on two tablets of stone and gave them to me. <sup>23</sup>And as soon as you heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, while the mountain was burning with fire, you came near to me, all the heads of your tribes, and your elders. <sup>24</sup>And you said, ‘Behold, the LORD our God has shown us his glory and greatness, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire. This day we have seen God speak with man, and man still live. <sup>25</sup>Now therefore why should we die? For this great fire will consume us. If we hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, we shall die. <sup>26</sup>For who is there of all flesh, that has heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of fire as we have, and has still lived? <sup>27</sup>Go near and hear all that the LORD our God will say and speak to us all that the LORD our God will speak to you, and we will hear and do it.’

<sup>28</sup>“And the LORD heard your words, when you spoke to me. And the LORD said to me, ‘I have heard the words of this people, which they have spoken to you. They are right in all that they have spoken. <sup>29</sup>Oh that they had such a mind as this always, to fear me and to keep all my commandments, that it might go well with them and with their descendants forever! <sup>30</sup>Go and say to them, “Return to your tents.” <sup>31</sup>But you, stand here by me, and I will tell you the whole commandment and the statutes and the rules that you shall teach them, that they may do them in the land that I am giving them to possess.’ <sup>32</sup>You shall be careful therefore to do as the LORD your God has commanded you. You shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. <sup>33</sup>You shall walk in all the way that the LORD your God has commanded you, that you may live, and that it may go well with you, and that you may live long in the land that you shall possess.

The Greatest Commandment

<sup>6:1</sup>“Now this is the commandment, the statutes and the rules that the LORD your God commanded me to teach you, that you may do them in the land to which you are going over, to possess it, <sup>2</sup>that you may fear the LORD your God, you and your son and your son’s son, by keeping all his statutes and his commandments, which I command you, all the days of your life, and that your days may be long. <sup>3</sup>Hear therefore, O Israel, and be careful to do them, that it may go well with you, and that you may multiply greatly, as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has promised you, in a land flowing with milk and honey.

<sup>4</sup>“Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God, the LORD is one. <sup>5</sup>You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might. <sup>6</sup>And these words that I command you today shall be on your heart. <sup>7</sup>You shall teach them diligently to your children, and shall talk of them when you sit in your house, and when you walk by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise. <sup>8</sup>You shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. <sup>9</sup>You shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates.”

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

<sup>1</sup>And getting into a boat he crossed over and came to his own city. <sup>2</sup>And behold, some people brought to him a paralytic, lying on a bed. And when Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, “Take heart, my son; your sins are forgiven.” <sup>3</sup>And behold, some of the scribes said to themselves, “This man is blaspheming.” <sup>4</sup>But Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, “Why do you think evil in your hearts? <sup>5</sup>For which is easier, to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Rise and walk’? <sup>6</sup>But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins”—he then said to the paralytic—“Rise, pick up your bed and go home.” <sup>7</sup>And he rose and went home. <sup>8</sup>When the crowds saw it, they were afraid, and they glorified God, who had given such authority to men.

Jesus Calls Matthew

<sup>9</sup>As Jesus passed on from there, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax booth, and he said to him, “Follow me.” And he rose and followed him.

<sup>10</sup>And as Jesus reclined at table in the house, behold, many tax collectors and sinners came and were reclining with Jesus and his disciples. <sup>11</sup>And when the Pharisees saw this, they said to his disciples, “Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?” <sup>12</sup>But when he heard it, he said, “Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. <sup>13</sup>Go and learn what this means, ‘I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.’ For I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.”

A Question About Fasting

<sup>14</sup>Then the disciples of John came to him, saying, “Why do we and the Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not fast?” <sup>15</sup>And Jesus said to them, “Can the wedding guests mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? The days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast. <sup>16</sup>No one puts a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for the patch tears away from the garment, and a worse tear is made. <sup>17</sup>Neither is new wine put into old wineskins. If it is, the skins burst and the wine is spilled and the skins are destroyed. But new wine is put into fresh wineskins, and so both are preserved.”

Writing

The Lord’s Teaching to the Heathen
by the Twelve Apostles:

There are two ways, one of life and one of death; and between the two ways there is a great difference.

Now, this is the way of life: “First, you must love God who made you, and second, your neighbor as yourself.” And whatever you want people to refrain from doing to you, you must not do to them.

What these maxims teach is this: “Bless those who curse you,” and “pray for your enemies.” Moreover, fast “for those who persecute you.” For “what credit is it to you if you love those who love you? Is that not the way the heathen act?” But “you must love those who hate you,” and then you will make no enemies. “Abstain from carnal passions.” If someone strikes you “on the right cheek, turn to him the other too, and you will be perfect.” If someone “forces you to go one mile with him, go along with him for two”; if someone robs you “of your overcoat, give him your suit as well.” If someone deprives you of “your property, do not ask for it back.” (You could not get it back anyway!) “Give to everybody who begs from you, and ask for no return.” For the Father wants his own gifts to be universally shared. Happy is the man who gives as the commandment bids him, for he is guiltless!

A Girl Restored to Life and a Woman Healed

<sup>18</sup>While he was saying these things to them, behold, a ruler came in and knelt before him, saying, “My daughter has just died, but come and lay your hand on her, and she will live.” <sup>19</sup>And Jesus rose and followed him, with his disciples. <sup>20</sup>And behold, a woman who had suffered from a discharge of blood for twelve years came up behind him and touched the fringe of his garment, <sup>21</sup>for she said to herself, “If I only touch his garment, I will be made well.” <sup>22</sup>Jesus turned, and seeing her he said, “Take heart, daughter; your faith has made you well.” And instantly the woman was made well. <sup>23</sup>And when Jesus came to the ruler’s house and saw the flute players and the crowd making a commotion, <sup>24</sup>he said, “Go away, for the girl is not dead but sleeping.” And they laughed at him. <sup>25</sup>But when the crowd had been put outside, he went in and took her by the hand, and the girl arose. <sup>26</sup>And the report of this went through all that district.

Jesus Heals Two Blind Men

<sup>27</sup>And as Jesus passed on from there, two blind men followed him, crying aloud, “Have mercy on us, Son of David.” <sup>28</sup>When he entered the house, the blind men came to him, and Jesus said to them, “Do you believe that I am able to do this?” They said to him, “Yes, Lord.” <sup>29</sup>Then he touched their eyes, saying, “According to your faith be it done to you.” <sup>30</sup>And their eyes were opened. And Jesus sternly warned them, “See that no one knows about it.” <sup>31</sup>But they went away and spread his fame through all that district.

Jesus Heals a Man Unable to Speak

<sup>32</sup>As they were going away, behold, a demon-oppressed man who was mute was brought to him. <sup>33</sup>And when the demon had been cast out, the mute man spoke. And the crowds marveled, saying, “Never was anything like this seen in Israel.” <sup>34</sup>But the Pharisees said, “He casts out demons by the prince of demons.”

The Harvest Is Plentiful, the Laborers Few

<sup>35</sup>And Jesus went throughout all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every affliction. <sup>36</sup>When he saw the crowds, he had compassion for them, because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd. <sup>37</sup>Then he said to his disciples, “The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; <sup>38</sup>therefore pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest.”

Writing

St. Paul exhorts the Thessalonians [1 Thess. 4:13–18] not to sorrow over the dead as others who have no hope, but to comfort each other with God’s Word as having a certain hope of life and of the resurrection of the dead.

It is little wonder if those are sad who have no hope. Nor can they be blamed for it. Since they are beyond the pale of faith in Christ, they must either cherish this temporal life as the only thing worthwhile and hate to lose it, or they must expect that after this life they will receive eternal death and the wrath of God in hell and must fear to go there.

But we Christians, who have been redeemed from all this by the dear blood of the Son of God, should by faith train and accustom ourselves to despise death and to regard it as a deep, strong, and sweet sleep, to regard the coffin as nothing but paradise and the bosom of our Lord Christ, and the grave as nothing but a soft couch or sofa, which it really is in the sight of God; for he says,

John 11[:11], “Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep,” and Matthew 9[:24], “The girl is not dead but sleeping.”

Thus, too, St. Paul in I Corinthians 15[:42–44] bans from his sight every ugly aspect of death in our mortal body and brings to the fore a wholly delightful and joyous picture of life when he says: “What is sown is perishable, what is raised is imperishable. . . . It is sown in weakness, it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body.”

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

If thou but trust in God to guide thee
And hope in Him through all thy ways,
He’ll give thee strength, whate’er betide thee,
And bear thee through the evil days.
Who trusts in God’s unchanging love
Builds on the rock that naught can move.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, the Good Shepherd of Your people, we give You thanks for Your servant Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, who was faithful in the care and nurture of the flock entrusted to his care. So they may follow his example and the teaching of his holy life, give strength to pastors today who shepherd Your flock so that, by Your grace, Your people may grow into the fullness of life intended for them in paradise; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1096)

Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, Pastor

Moving from the Old World to the New, Muhlenberg established the shape of Lutheran parishes for North America during a forty-five-year ministry in Pennsylvania. Born at Einbeck, Germany, in 1711, he came to the American colonies in 1742. A tireless traveler, Muhlenberg helped to found many Lutheran congregations and was the guiding force behind the first Lutheran synod in North America, the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, founded in 1748. He valued the role of music in Lutheran worship (often serving as his own organist) and was also the guiding force in preparing the first American Lutheran liturgy (also in 1748). Muhlenberg is remembered as a church leader, a journalist, a liturgist, and—above all—a pastor to the congregation in his charge. He died in 1787, leaving behind a large extended family and a lasting heritage: American Lutheranism.

Old Testament Reading: Deuteronomy 7:1–19

A Chosen People

<sup>1</sup>“When the LORD your God brings you into the land that you are entering to take possession of it, and clears away many nations before you, the Hittites, the Girgashites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, seven nations more numerous and mightier than yourselves, <sup>2</sup>and when the LORD your God gives them over to you, and you defeat them, then you must devote them to complete destruction. You shall make no covenant with them and show no mercy to them. <sup>3</sup>You shall not intermarry with them, giving your daughters to their sons or taking their daughters for your sons, <sup>4</sup>for they would turn away your sons from following me, to serve other gods. Then the anger of the LORD would be kindled against you, and he would destroy you quickly. <sup>5</sup>But thus shall you deal with them: you shall break down their altars and dash in pieces their pillars and chop down their Asherim and burn their carved images with fire.

<sup>6</sup>“For you are a people holy to the LORD your God. The LORD your God has chosen you to be a people for his treasured possession, out of all the peoples who are on the face of the earth. <sup>7</sup>It was not because you were more in number than any other people that the LORD set his love on you and chose you, for you were the fewest of all peoples, <sup>8</sup>but it is because the LORD loves you and is keeping the oath that he swore to your fathers, that the LORD has brought you out with a mighty hand and redeemed you from the house of slavery, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt. <sup>9</sup>Know therefore that the LORD your God is God, the faithful God who keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, to a thousand generations, <sup>10</sup>and repays to their face those who hate him, by destroying them. He will not be slack with one who hates him. He will repay him to his face. <sup>11</sup>You shall therefore be careful to do the commandment and the statutes and the rules that I command you today.

<sup>12</sup>“And because you listen to these rules and keep and do them, the LORD your God will keep with you the covenant and the steadfast love that he swore to your fathers. <sup>13</sup>He will love you, bless you, and multiply you. He will also bless the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, your grain and your wine and your oil, the increase of your herds and the young of your flock, in the land that he swore to your fathers to give you. <sup>14</sup>You shall be blessed above all peoples. There shall not be male or female barren among you or among your livestock. <sup>15</sup>And the LORD will take away from you all sickness, and none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which you knew, will he inflict on you, but he will lay them on all who hate you. <sup>16</sup>And you shall consume all the peoples that the LORD your God will give over to you. Your eye shall not pity them, neither shall you serve their gods, for that would be a snare to you.

<sup>17</sup>“If you say in your heart, ‘These nations are greater than I. How can I dispossess them?’ <sup>18</sup>you shall not be afraid of them but you shall remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt, <sup>19</sup>the great trials that your eyes saw, the signs, the wonders, the mighty hand, and the outstretched arm, by which the LORD your God brought you out. So will the Lord your God do to all the peoples of whom you are afraid.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 10:1–23

The Twelve Apostles

<sup>1</sup>And he called to him his twelve disciples and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every affliction. <sup>2</sup>The names of the twelve apostles are these: first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; <sup>3</sup>Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus; <sup>4</sup>Simon the Cananaean, and Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him.

Jesus Sends Out the Twelve Apostles

staff, for the laborer deserves his food. <sup>11</sup>And whatever town or village you enter, find out who is worthy in it and stay there until you depart. <sup>12</sup>As you enter the house, greet it. <sup>13</sup>And if the house is worthy, let your peace come upon it, but if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you. <sup>14</sup>And if anyone will not receive you or listen to your words, shake off the dust from your feet when you leave that house or town. <sup>15</sup>Truly, I say to you, it will be more bearable on the day of judgment for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah than for that town.

Persecution Will Come

<sup>16</sup>“Behold, I am sending you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so be wise as serpents and innocent as doves. <sup>17</sup>Beware of men, for they will deliver you over to courts and flog you in their synagogues, <sup>18</sup>and you will be dragged before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them and the Gentiles. <sup>19</sup>When they deliver you over, do not be anxious how you are to speak or what you are to say, for what you are to say will be given to you in that hour. <sup>20</sup>For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you. <sup>21</sup>Brother will deliver brother over to death, and the father his child, and children will rise against parents and have them put to death, <sup>22</sup>and you will be hated by all for my name’s sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. <sup>23</sup>When they persecute you in one town, flee to the next, for truly, I say to you, you will not have gone through all the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.”

Writing

That you may know that the Spirit of God is the same as the Holy Spirit, as we read also in the apostle: “No one speaking in the Spirit of God says anathema to Jesus; and no one can say, Lord Jesus, but in the Holy Spirit,” the apostle calls Him the Spirit of God. He called Him also the Spirit of Christ. . . . The same is, then, the Spirit of God, who is the Spirit of Christ. . . .

Receive now the saying of the Lord, that the same is the Holy Spirit Who is the Spirit of Truth, for you read in the end of [the Gospel of John]: “Receive the Holy Spirit.” And Peter teaches that the same is the Holy Spirit who is the Spirit of the Lord when he says: “Ananias, why has it seemed good to you to tempt and to lie to the Holy Spirit?” . . . When he says “to you,” he shows that he is speaking of the same Spirit of whom he had spoken to Ananias. He Himself is, then, the Spirit of the Lord who is the Holy Spirit.

And the Lord Himself made clear that the same who is the Spirit of the Father is the Holy Spirit when, according to Matthew, He said that we should not think about what we should say in times of persecution: “For it is not you that speaks, but the Spirit of your Father that speaks in you.” Again He says according to St. Luke: “Be not anxious how you shall answer or speak, for the Holy Spirit of God shall teach you in that hour what you ought to say.” So, though many are called spirits, as it is said, “Who makes His angels spirits,” yet the Spirit of God is but one.

Both apostles and prophets received that one Spirit, as the vessel of election, the Doctor of the Gentiles, says: “For we have all drunk of one Spirit”—Him, as it were, who cannot be divided but is poured into souls and flows into the senses that He may quench the burning of this world’s thirst.

Remember the LORD Your God

<sup>1</sup>“The whole commandment that I command you today you shall be careful to do, that you may live and multiply, and go in and possess the land that the LORD swore to give to your fathers. <sup>2</sup>And you shall remember the whole way that the LORD your God has led you these forty years in the wilderness, that he might humble you, testing you to know what was in your heart, whether you would keep his commandments or not. <sup>3</sup>And he humbled you and let you hunger and fed you with manna, which you did not know, nor did your fathers know, that he might make you know that man does not live by bread alone, but man lives

by every word that comes from the mouth of the LORD. <sup>4</sup>Your clothing did not wear out on you and your foot did not swell these forty years. <sup>5</sup>Know then in your heart that, as a man disciplines his son, the LORD your God disciplines you. <sup>6</sup>So you shall keep the commandments of the LORD your God by walking in his ways and by fearing him. <sup>7</sup>For the LORD your God is bringing you into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and springs, flowing out in the valleys and hills, <sup>8</sup>a land of wheat and barley, of vines and fig trees and pomegranates, a land of olive trees and honey, <sup>9</sup>a land in which you will eat bread without scarcity, in which you will lack nothing, a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills you can dig copper. <sup>10</sup>And you shall eat and be full, and you shall bless the LORD your God for the good land he has given you.

God, for it is he who gives you power to get wealth, that he may confirm his covenant that he swore to your fathers, as it is this day. <sup>19</sup>And if you forget the LORD your God and go after other gods and serve them and worship them, I solemnly warn you today that you shall surely perish. <sup>20</sup>Like the nations that the LORD makes to perish before you, so shall you perish, because you would not obey the voice of the LORD your God.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 10:24–42

[Persecution Will Come]

Have No Fear

<sup>26</sup>“So have no fear of them, for nothing is covered that will not be revealed, or hidden that will not be known. <sup>27</sup>What I tell you in the dark, say in the light, and what you hear whispered, proclaim on the housetops. <sup>28</sup>And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell. <sup>29</sup>Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? And not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father. <sup>30</sup>But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. <sup>31</sup>Fear not, therefore; you are of more value than many sparrows. <sup>32</sup>So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, <sup>33</sup>but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven.

Not Peace, but a Sword

<sup>34</sup>“Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. <sup>35</sup>For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. <sup>36</sup>And a person’s enemies will be those of his own household. <sup>37</sup>Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. <sup>38</sup>And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. <sup>39</sup>Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it.

Rewards

<sup>40</sup>“Whoever receives you receives me, and whoever receives me receives him who sent me. <sup>41</sup>The one who receives a prophet because he is a prophet will receive a prophet’s reward, and the one who receives a righteous person because he is a righteous person will receive a righteous person’s reward. <sup>42</sup>And whoever gives one of these little ones even a cup of cold water because he is a disciple, truly, I say to you, he will by no means lose his reward.”

Writing

All Holy Scripture is in agreement with this true service of God, which is indeed grounded in Holy Scripture. Therefore if you want to serve God, bear in mind that you must believe in Him whom the Father sent. If you want to know how to obtain God’s grace and how to approach God, how to render satisfaction for your sin, and how to escape death, then this is truly God’s will and true service, that you believe in Christ. The text deals with the work that we are to perform, namely, to believe. Faith is a work that man must do, and yet it is also called the work of God; for this is the true existence, work, life, and merit with which God desires to be honored and served. If there is no faith, God accepts nothing as service rendered to Him. Here we have the answer to the question: What is the real service of God? It is the doctrine of faith in Christ. Later Christ tells us about the origin of faith—for no one possesses faith of himself—when He says (John 6:44): “No one can come to Me unless the Father draws him.” And again (John 6:65): “No one can believe in Me unless it is granted to him by the Father.” For faith is a divine work which God demands of us; but at the same time He Himself must implant it in us, for we cannot believe by ourselves.

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

Let us gladly die with Jesus.
 Since by death He conquered death,
 He will free us from destruction,
 Give to us immortal breath.
 Let us mortify all passion
 That would lead us into sin;
 And the grave that shuts us in Shall but prove the gate to heaven.
 Jesus, here with You I die,
 There to live with You on high.

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, You promised Abraham that he would be the father of many nations, You led him to the land of Canaan, and You sealed Your covenant with him by the shedding of blood.

May we see in Jesus, the Seed of Abraham, the promise of the new covenant of Your Holy Church, sealed with Jesus' blood on the cross and given to us now in the cup of the new testament; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1097)

Abraham, Patriarch

Abraham (known early in his life as Abram) was called by God to become the father of a great nation (Genesis 12). At age seventy-five and in obedience to God's command, he, his wife, Sarah, and his nephew Lot moved southwest from the town of Haran to the land of Canaan. There God established a covenant with Abraham (Genesis 15:18), promising the land of Canaan to his descendants. When Abraham was one hundred and Sarah was ninety, they were blessed with Isaac, the son long promised to them by God. Abraham demonstrated supreme obedience when God commanded him to offer Isaac as a burnt offering. God spared the young man's life only at the last moment and provided a ram as a substitute offering (Genesis 22:1–19). Abraham died at age 175 and was buried in the Cave of Machpelah, which he had purchased earlier as a burial site for Sarah. He is especially honored as the first of the three great Old Testament patriarchs—and for his righteousness before God through faith (Romans 4:1–12).

Deuteronomy 9:1–22

Not Because of Righteousness

<sup>1</sup>“Hear, O Israel: you are to cross over the Jordan today, to go in to dispossess nations greater and mightier than yourselves, cities great and fortified up to heaven, <sup>2</sup>a people great and tall, the sons of the Anakim, whom you know, and of whom you have heard it said, ‘Who can stand before the sons of Anak?’ <sup>3</sup>Know therefore today that he who goes over before you as a consuming fire is the LORD your God. He will destroy them and subdue them before you. So you shall drive them out and make them perish quickly, as the LORD has promised you.

<sup>4</sup>“Do not say in your heart, after the LORD your God has thrust them out before you, ‘It is because of my righteousness that the LORD has brought me in to possess this land,’ whereas it is because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is driving them out before you. <sup>5</sup>Not because of your righteousness or the uprightness of your heart are you going in to possess their land, but because of the wickedness of these nations the LORD your God is driving them out from before you, and that he may confirm the word that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.

do not forget how you provoked the LORD your God to wrath in the wilderness. From the day you came out of the land of Egypt until you came to this place, you have been rebellious against the LORD. <sup>8</sup>Even at Horeb you provoked the LORD to wrath, and the LORD was so angry with you that he was ready to destroy you. <sup>9</sup>When I went up the mountain to receive the tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant that the LORD made with you, I remained on the mountain forty days and forty nights. I neither ate bread nor drank water. <sup>10</sup>And the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone written with the finger of God, and on them were all the words that the LORD had spoken with you on the mountain out of the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly. <sup>11</sup>And at the end of forty days and forty nights the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant. <sup>12</sup>Then the LORD said to me, ‘Arise, go down quickly from here, for your people whom you have brought from Egypt have acted corruptly. They have turned aside quickly out of the way that I commanded them; they have made themselves a metal image.’

The Golden Calf

<sup>13</sup>“Furthermore, the LORD said to me, ‘I have seen this people, and behold, it is a stubborn people. <sup>14</sup>Let me alone, that I may destroy them and blot out their name from under heaven. And I will make of you a nation mightier and greater than they.’ <sup>15</sup>So I turned and came down from the mountain, and the mountain was burning with fire. And the two tablets of the covenant were in my two hands. <sup>16</sup>And I looked, and behold, you had sinned against the LORD your God. You had made yourselves a golden calf. You had turned aside quickly from the way that the LORD had commanded you. <sup>17</sup>So I took hold of the two tablets and threw them out of my two hands and broke them before your eyes. <sup>18</sup>Then I lay prostrate before the LORD as before, forty days and forty nights. I neither ate bread nor drank water, because of all the sin that you had committed, in doing what was evil in the sight of the LORD to provoke him to anger. <sup>19</sup>For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure that the LORD bore against you, so that he was ready to destroy you. But the LORD listened to me that time also. <sup>20</sup>And the LORD was so angry with Aaron that he was ready to destroy him. And I prayed for Aaron also at the same time. <sup>21</sup>Then I took the sinful thing, the calf that you had made, and burned it with fire and crushed it, grinding it very small, until it was as fine as dust. And I threw the dust of it into the brook that ran down from the mountain. <sup>22</sup>“At Taberah also, and at Massah and at Kibroth-hattaavah you provoked the LORD to wrath.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 11:1–19

Messengers from John the Baptist

<sup>2</sup>Now when John heard in prison about the deeds of the Christ, he sent word by his disciples <sup>3</sup>and said to him, “Are you the one who is to come, or shall we look for another?” <sup>4</sup>And Jesus answered them, “Go and tell John what you hear and see: <sup>5</sup>the blind receive their sight and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them. <sup>6</sup>And blessed is the one who is not offended by me.”

<sup>7</sup>As they went away, Jesus began to speak to the crowds concerning John: “What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind? <sup>8</sup>What then did you go out to see? A man dressed in soft clothing? Behold, those who wear soft clothing are in kings’ houses. <sup>9</sup>What then did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and more than a prophet. <sup>10</sup>This is he of whom it is written,

“ ‘Behold, I send my messenger
before your face,
who will prepare your way
before you.’

<sup>11</sup>Truly, I say to you, among those born of women there has arisen no one greater than John the Baptist. Yet the one who is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

<sup>12</sup>From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven has suffered violence, and the violent take it by force. <sup>13</sup>For all the Prophets and the Law prophesied until John, <sup>14</sup>and if you are willing to accept it, he is Elijah who is to come. <sup>15</sup>He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

<sup>17</sup>“ ‘We played the flute for you,
and you did not dance;
we sang a dirge,
and you did not mourn.’

<sup>18</sup>For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, ‘He has a demon.’ <sup>19</sup>The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, ‘Look at him! A glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!’ Yet wisdom is justified by her deeds.”

Writing

To receive the forgiveness of sins is to be justified, according to Psalm 32:1, “Blessed is the one whose transgression is forgiven.” By faith alone in Christ—not through love, not because of love or works—we receive the forgiveness of sins, although love follows faith. Therefore, by faith alone we are justified. We understand justification as the making of a righteous person out of an unrighteous one, or that a person is regenerated.

. . . In the forgiveness of sins, the terrors of sin and of eternal death must be overcome in the heart. Paul testifies about this in 1 Corinthians 15:56–57, “The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.” In other words, sin terrifies consciences. This happens through the Law, which shows God’s wrath against sin. But we gain the victory through Christ. How? Through faith, when we comfort ourselves by confidence in the mercy promised for Christ’s sake. . . . God’s wrath cannot be appeased if we set our own works against it. For Christ has been set forth as an Atoning Sacrifice so, that for His sake, the Father may be reconciled to us. But Christ is not received as a Mediator except by faith. Therefore, by faith alone we receive forgiveness of sins when we comfort our hearts with confidence in the mercy promised for Christ’s sake. Likewise, Paul says in Romans 5:2, “Through Him we have also obtained access” and adds, “by faith.” Therefore, we are reconciled to the Father and receive forgiveness of sins when we are comforted with confidence in the mercy promised for Christ’s sake. . . . [Paul] teaches that we have access to God (that is, reconciliation) through Christ. To show how this happens, he adds that we have access by faith. By faith, for Christ’s sake, we receive forgiveness of sins. We cannot set up our own love and our own works against God’s wrath.

Hymnody

O grant, dear Lord of love,
That we receive, rejoicing,
The word proclaimed by John,
Our true repentance voicing,
That gladly we may walk
Upon our Savior’s way
Until we live with Him
In His eternal day.

Prayer of the Day

Gracious God, our heavenly Father, Your mercy attends us all our days. Be our strength and support amid the wearisome changes of this world, and at life’s end grant us Your promised rest and the full joys of Your salvation; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (A67)

<sup>23</sup>“And when the LORD sent you from Kadesh-barnea, saying, ‘Go up and take possession of the land that I have given you,’ then you rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God and did not believe him or obey his voice. <sup>24</sup>You have been rebellious against the LORD from the day that I knew you.

<sup>25</sup>“So I lay prostrate before the Lord for these forty days and forty nights, because the LORD had said he would destroy you. <sup>26</sup>And I prayed to the LORD, ‘O Lord GOD, do not destroy your people and your heritage, whom you have redeemed through your greatness, whom you have brought out of Egypt with a mighty hand. <sup>27</sup>Remember your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Do not regard the stubbornness of this people, or their wickedness or their sin, <sup>28</sup>lest the land from which you brought us say, ‘Because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land that he promised them, and because he hated them, he has brought them out to put them to death in the wilderness.’ <sup>29</sup>For they are your people and your heritage, whom you brought out by your great power and by your outstretched arm.’

New Tablets of Stone

<sup>10:1</sup>“At that time the LORD said to me, ‘Cut for yourself two tablets of stone like the first, and come up to me on the mountain and make an ark of wood. <sup>2</sup>And I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets that you broke, and you shall put them in the ark.’ <sup>3</sup>So I made an ark of acacia wood, and cut two tablets of stone like the first, and went up the mountain with the two tablets in my hand. <sup>4</sup>And he wrote on the tablets, in the same writing as before, the Ten Commandments that the LORD had spoken to you on the mountain out of the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly. And the LORD gave them to me. <sup>5</sup>Then I turned and came down from the mountain and put the tablets in the ark that I had made. And there they are, as the LORD commanded me.”

Aaron died, and there he was buried. And his son Eleazar ministered as priest in his place. <sup>7</sup>From there they journeyed to Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Jotbathah, a land with brooks of water. <sup>8</sup>At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD to stand before the LORD to minister to him and to bless in his name, to this day. <sup>9</sup>Therefore Levi has no portion or inheritance with his brothers. The LORD is his inheritance, as the LORD your God said to him.)

<sup>10</sup>“I myself stayed on the mountain, as at the first time, forty days and forty nights, and the Lord listened to me that time also. The LORD was unwilling to destroy you. <sup>11</sup>And the LORD said to me, ‘Arise, go on your journey at the head of the people, so that they may go in and possess the land, which I swore to their fathers to give them.’

Circumcise Your Heart

<sup>12</sup>“And now, Israel, what does the LORD your God require of you, but to fear the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways, to love him, to serve the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, <sup>13</sup>and to keep the commandments and statutes of the LORD, which I am commanding you today for your good? <sup>14</sup>Behold, to the LORD your God belong heaven and the heaven of heavens, the earth with all that is in it. <sup>15</sup>Yet the LORD set his heart in love on your fathers and chose their offspring after them, you above all peoples, as you are this day. <sup>16</sup>Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and be no longer stubborn. <sup>17</sup>For the LORD your God is God of gods and Lord of lords, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God, who is not partial and takes no bribe. <sup>18</sup>He executes justice for the fatherless and the widow, and loves the sojourner, giving him food and clothing. <sup>19</sup>Love the sojourner, therefore, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt. <sup>20</sup>You shall fear the LORD your God. You shall serve him and hold fast to him, and by his name you shall swear. <sup>21</sup>He is your praise. He is your God, who has done for you these great and terrifying things that your eyes have seen. <sup>22</sup>Your fathers went down to Egypt seventy persons, and now the LORD your God has made you as numerous as the stars of heaven.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 11:20–30

Woe to Unrepentant Cities

<sup>20</sup>Then he began to denounce the cities where most of his mighty works had been done, because they did not repent. <sup>21</sup>“Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. <sup>22</sup>But I tell you, it will be more bearable on the day of judgment for Tyre and Sidon than for you. <sup>23</sup>And you, Capernaum, will you be exalted to heaven? You will be brought down to Hades. For if the mighty works done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. <sup>24</sup>But I tell you that it will be more tolerable on the day of judgment for the land of Sodom than for you.”

Come to Me, and I Will Give You Rest

<sup>25</sup>At that time Jesus declared, “I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that you have hidden these things from the wise and understanding and revealed them to little children; <sup>26</sup>yes, Father, for such was your gracious will. <sup>27</sup>All things have been handed over to me by my Father, and no one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him. <sup>28</sup>Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. <sup>29</sup>Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. <sup>30</sup>For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.”

Writing

So long as we live in this world we cannot escape suffering and temptation. Whence it is written in Job: “The life of man upon earth is a warfare.” Everyone, therefore, must guard against temptation and must watch in prayer lest the devil, who never sleeps but goes about seeking whom he may devour, find occasion to deceive him. No one is so perfect or so holy but he is sometimes tempted; man cannot be altogether free from temptation.

Yet temptations, though troublesome and severe, are often useful to a man, for in them he is humbled, purified, and instructed. The saints all passed through many temptations and trials to profit by them, while those who could not resist became reprobate and fell away. There is no state so holy, no place so secret that temptations and trials will not come. Man is never safe from them as long as he lives, for they come from within us—in sin we were born. When one temptation or trial passes, another comes; we shall always have something to suffer because we have lost the state of original blessedness. . . .

The beginning of all temptation lies in a wavering mind and little trust in God, for as a rudderless ship is driven hither and yon by waves, so a careless and irresolute man is tempted in many ways. Fire tempers iron and temptation steels the just. Often we do not know what we can stand, but temptation shows us what we are. . . .

We should not despair, therefore, when we are tempted, but pray to God the more fervently that He may see fit to help us, for according to the word of Paul, He will make issue with temptation that we may be able to bear it.

—Thomas Kempis

Hymnody

I heard the voice of Jesus say, “Come unto Me and rest;
Lay down, thou weary one, lay down

I came to Jesus as I was,
So weary, worn, and sad;
I found in Him a resting place,
And He has made me glad.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, we give thanks to You for Your servant Philip the Deacon. You called him to preach the Gospel to the peoples of Samaria and Ethiopia. Raise up in this and every land messengers of Your kingdom, that Your Church may proclaim the immeasurable riches of our Savior, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, now and forever. (1098)

Philip, Deacon

Philip, also called the evangelist (Acts 21:8), was one of the seven men appointed to assist in the work of the twelve apostles and of the rapidly growing Early Church by overseeing the distribution of food to the poor (Acts 6:1–6). Following the martyrdom of Stephen, Philip proclaimed the Gospel in Samaria and led Simon the Sorcerer to become a believer in Christ (Acts 8:4–13). He was also instrumental in bringing about the conversion of the Ethiopian eunuch (Acts 8:26–39), through whom Philip became indirectly responsible for bringing the Good News of Jesus to the people on the continent of Africa. In the town of Caesarea, he was host for several days to the apostle Paul, who stopped there on his last journey to Jerusalem (Acts 21:8–15).

Love and Serve the LORD

<sup>8</sup>“You shall therefore keep the whole commandment that I command you today, that you may be strong, and go in and take possession of the land that you are going over to possess, <sup>9</sup>and that you may live long in the land that the LORD swore to your fathers to give to them and to their offspring, a land flowing with milk and honey. <sup>10</sup>For the land that you are entering to take possession of it is not like the land of Egypt, from which you have come, where you sowed your seed and irrigated it, like a garden of vegetables. <sup>11</sup>But the land that you are going over to possess is a land of hills and valleys, which drinks water by the rain from heaven, <sup>12</sup>a land that the LORD your God cares for. The eyes of the LORD your God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year to the end of the year.

<sup>13</sup>“And if you will indeed obey my commandments that I command you today, to love the LORD your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul, <sup>14</sup>he will give the rain for your land in its season, the early rain and the later rain, that you may gather in your grain and your wine and your oil. <sup>15</sup>And he will give grass in your fields for your livestock, and you shall eat and be full. <sup>16</sup>Take care lest your heart be deceived, and you turn aside and serve other gods and worship them; <sup>17</sup>then the anger of the LORD will be kindled against you, and he will shut up the heavens, so that there will be no rain, and the land will yield no fruit, and you will perish quickly off the good land that the LORD is giving you.

<sup>18</sup>“You shall therefore lay up these words of mine in your heart and in your soul, and you shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. <sup>19</sup>You shall teach them to your children, talking of them when you are sitting in your house, and when you are walking by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise. <sup>20</sup>You shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates, <sup>21</sup>that your days and the days of your children may be multiplied in the land that the LORD swore to your fathers to give them, as long as the heavens are above the earth. <sup>22</sup>For if you will be careful to do all this commandment that I command you to do, loving the LORD your God, walking in all his ways, and holding fast to him, <sup>23</sup>then the LORD will drive out all these nations before you, and you will possess nations greater and mightier than yourselves. <sup>24</sup>Every place on which the sole of your foot treads shall be yours. Your territory shall be from the wilderness to the Lebanon and from the River, the river Euphrates, to the western sea. <sup>25</sup>No one shall be able to stand against you. The LORD your God will lay the fear of you and the dread of you on all the land that you shall tread, as he promised you.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 12:1–21

Jesus Is Lord of the Sabbath

<sup>1</sup>At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat. <sup>2</sup>But when the Pharisees saw it, they said to him, “Look, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath.” <sup>3</sup>He said to them, “Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and those who were with him: <sup>4</sup>how he entered the house of God and ate the bread of the Presence, which it was not lawful for him to eat nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests? <sup>5</sup>Or have you not read in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless? <sup>6</sup>I tell you, something greater than the temple is here. <sup>7</sup>And if you had known what this means, ‘I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,’ you would not have condemned the guiltless. <sup>8</sup>For the Son of Man is lord of the Sabbath.”

A Man with a Withered Hand

<sup>9</sup>He went on from there and entered their synagogue. <sup>10</sup>And a man was there with a withered hand. And they asked him, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?”—so that they might accuse him. <sup>11</sup>He said to them, “Which one of you who has a sheep, if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it and lift it out? <sup>12</sup>Of how much more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath.” <sup>13</sup>Then he said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” And the man stretched it out, and it was restored, healthy like the other. <sup>14</sup>But the Pharisees went out and conspired against him, how to destroy him.

God’s Chosen Servant

<sup>15</sup>Jesus, aware of this, withdrew from there. And many followed him, and he healed them all <sup>16</sup>and ordered them not to make him known. <sup>17</sup>This was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah:

<sup>18</sup>“Behold, my servant
whom I have chosen,
my beloved with whom
my soul is well pleased.
I will put my Spirit upon him,
and he will proclaim justice
to the Gentiles.
<sup>19</sup>He will not quarrel or cry aloud, nor will anyone hear his voice
in the streets;
<sup>20</sup>a bruised reed he will not break,
and a smoldering wick
he will not quench,
until he brings justice to victory;
<sup>21</sup>and in his name the Gentiles
will hope.”

Writing

You shall sanctify the holy day.

The word holiday is used for the Hebrew word sabbath, which properly means “to rest,” that is, to cease from labor. . . . Now, in the Old Testament, God set apart the seventh day and appointed it for rest [Genesis 2:3]. He commanded that it should be regarded as holy above all other days. This commandment was given only to the Jewish people for this outward obedience, that they should stop toilsome work and rest. In that way both man and beast might recover and not be weakened by endless labor [Exodus 20:8–11]. Later, the Jewish people restricted the Sabbath too closely and greatly abused it. They defamed Christ and could not endure in Him the same works that they themselves would do on that day, as we read in the Gospel [Matthew 12:11]. They acted as though the commandment were fulfilled by doing no manual work whatsoever. This, however, was not the meaning. But, as we shall hear, they were supposed to sanctify the holy day or day of rest.

This commandment, therefore, in its literal sense, does not apply to us Christians. It is entirely an outward matter, like other ordinances of the Old Testament. The ordinances were attached to particular customs, persons, times, and places, but now they have been made matters of freedom through Christ [Colossians 2:16–17].

The simpleminded need to grasp a Christian meaning about what God requires in this commandment. . . . We keep [holy days] first of all for bodily causes and necessities, which nature teaches and requires. We keep them for the common people, manservants and maidservants, who have been attending to their work and trade the whole week. In this way they may withdraw in order to rest for a day and be refreshed.

Second, and most especially, on this day of rest (since we can get no other chance), we have the freedom and time to attend divine service. We come together to hear and use God's Word, and then to praise God, to sing and to pray [Colossians 3:16].

[Love and Serve the LORD]

<sup>26</sup>“See, I am setting before you today a blessing and a curse: <sup>27</sup>the blessing, if you obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you today, <sup>28</sup>and the curse, if you do not obey the commandments of the LORD your God, but turn aside from the way that I am commanding you today, to go after other gods that you have not known.

<sup>29</sup>And when the LORD your God brings you into the land that you are entering to take possession of it, you shall set the blessing on Mount Gerizim and the curse on Mount Ebal.

<sup>30</sup>Are they not beyond the Jordan, west of the road, toward the going down of the sun, in the land of the Canaanites who live in the Arabah, opposite Gilgal, beside the oak of Moreh? <sup>31</sup>For you are to cross over the Jordan to go in to take possession of the land that the Lord your God is giving you. And when you possess it and live in it, <sup>32</sup>you shall be careful to do all the statutes and the rules that I am setting before you today.

The LORD'S Chosen Place of Worship

<sup>12:16</sup>“These are the statutes and rules that you shall be careful to do in the land that the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you to possess, all the days that you live on the earth. <sup>2</sup>You shall surely destroy all the places where the nations whom you shall dispossess served their gods, on the high mountains and on the hills and under every green tree. <sup>3</sup>You shall tear down their altars and dash in pieces their pillars and burn their Asherim with fire. You shall chop down the carved images of their gods and destroy their name out of that place. <sup>4</sup>You shall not worship the LORD your God in that way. <sup>5</sup>But you shall seek the place that the LORD your God will choose out of all your tribes to put his name and make his habitation there. There you shall go, <sup>6</sup>and there you shall bring your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, your tithes and the contribution that you present, your vow offerings, your freewill offerings, and the firstborn of your herd and of your flock. <sup>7</sup>And there you shall eat before the LORD your God, and you shall rejoice, you and your households, in all that you undertake, in which the LORD your God has blessed you.

<sup>8</sup>“You shall not do according to all that we are doing here today, everyone doing whatever is right in his own eyes, <sup>9</sup>for you have not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance that the LORD your God is giving you. <sup>10</sup>But when you go over the Jordan and live in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to inherit, and when he gives you rest from all your enemies around, so that you live in safety, <sup>11</sup>then to the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name dwell there, there you shall bring all that I command you: your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, your tithes and the contribution that you present, and all your finest vow offerings that you vow to the LORD. <sup>12</sup>And you shall rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your sons and your daughters, your male servants and your female servants, and the Levite that is within your towns, since he has no portion or inheritance with you.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 12:22–37

Blasphemy Against the Holy Spirit

<sup>22</sup>Then a demon-oppressed man who was blind and mute was brought to him, and he healed him, so that the man spoke and saw. <sup>23</sup>And all the people were amazed, and said, “Can this be the Son of David?” <sup>24</sup>But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, “It is only by Beelzebul, the prince of demons, that this man casts out demons.” <sup>25</sup>Knowing their thoughts, he said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself is laid waste, and no city or house divided against itself will stand. <sup>26</sup>And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand? <sup>27</sup>And if I cast out demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges.

<sup>28</sup>But if it is by the Spirit of God that I cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you. <sup>29</sup>Or how can someone enter a strong man's house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man? Then indeed he may plunder his house. <sup>30</sup>Whoever is not with me is against me, and whoever does not gather with me scatters. <sup>31</sup>Therefore I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven people, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven. <sup>32</sup>And whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either in this age or in the age to come.

A Tree Is Known by Its Fruit

<sup>33</sup>“Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree bad and its fruit bad, for the tree is known by its fruit. <sup>34</sup>You brood of vipers! How can you speak good, when you are evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. <sup>35</sup>The good person out of his good treasure brings forth good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure brings forth evil. <sup>36</sup>I tell you, on the day of judgment people will give account for every careless word they speak, <sup>37</sup>for by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned.”

Writing

“If we cannot do anything, what is the point of so many laws, so many precepts, so many threatenings and promises?” Paul here replies: “Through the law comes knowledge of sin.” He replies to this question very differently from the way man or free choice thinks. He denies that free choice is proved by the law and cooperates with it to produce righteousness; for what comes through the law is not righteousness but knowledge of sin. It is the task, function, and effect of the law to be a light to the ignorant and blind, but such a light as reveals sickness, sin, evil, death, hell, the wrath of God, though it affords no help and brings no deliverance from these, but is content to have revealed them. Then, when a man becomes aware of the disease of sin, he is troubled, distressed, even in despair. The law is no help, much less can he help himself. There is need of another light to reveal the remedy. This is the voice of the gospel, revealing Christ as the deliverer from all these things. It is not reason or free choice that reveals Christ; how should it when it is itself darkness and needs the light of the law to reveal its disease, which by its own light it does not see, but believes to be health? . . . When sins are unrecognized, there is no room for a remedy and no hope of a cure, because men will not submit to the touch of a healer when they imagine themselves well and in no need of a physician. Therefore, the law is necessary to make sin known so that when its gravity and magnitude are recognized, man in his pride who imagines himself well may be humbled and may sigh and gasp for the grace that is offered in Christ.

Hymnody

Though Satan's wrath
Beset our path
And worldly scorn assail us,
While You are near,
We shall not fear;
Your strength will never fail us.
Your rod and staff
Will keep us safe

And guide our steps forever;
Nor shades of death
Nor hell beneath
Our lives from You will sever.
—Who Trusts in God a Strong Abode
(LSB 714:2)

Prayer of the Day

O God, the protector of all who trust in You, without whom nothing is strong and nothing is holy, multiply Your mercy on us that, with You as our ruler and guide, we may so pass through things temporal that we lose not the things eternal; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. [The LORD'S Chosen Place of Worship]

<sup>13</sup>“Take care that you do not offer your burnt offerings at any place that you see, <sup>14</sup>but at the place that the LORD will choose in one of your tribes, there you shall offer your burnt offerings, and there you shall do all that I am commanding you.

<sup>15</sup>“However, you may slaughter and eat meat within any of your towns, as much as you desire, according to the blessing of the LORD your God that he has given you. The unclean and the clean may eat of it, as of the gazelle and as of the deer. <sup>16</sup>Only you shall not eat the blood; you shall pour it out on the earth like water. <sup>17</sup>You may not eat within your towns the tithe of your grain or of your wine or of your oil, or the firstborn of your herd or of your flock, or any of your vow offerings that you vow, or your freewill offerings or the contribution that you present, <sup>18</sup>but you shall eat them before the LORD your God in the place that the LORD your God will choose, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, and the Levite who is within your towns. And you shall rejoice before the LORD your God in all that you undertake. <sup>19</sup>Take care that you do not neglect the Levite as long as you live in your land.

<sup>20</sup>“When the LORD your God enlarges your territory, as he has promised you, and you say, ‘I will eat meat,’ because you crave meat, you may eat meat whenever you desire.

<sup>21</sup>If the place that the LORD your God will choose to put his name there is too far from you, then you may kill any of your herd or your flock, which the LORD has given you, as I have commanded you, and you may eat within your towns whenever you desire.

<sup>22</sup>Just as the gazelle or the deer is eaten, so you may eat of it. The unclean and the clean alike may eat of it. <sup>23</sup>Only be sure that you do not eat the blood, for the blood is the life, and you shall not eat the life with the flesh. <sup>24</sup>You shall not eat it; you shall pour it out on the earth like water. <sup>25</sup>You shall not eat it, that all may go well with you and with your children after you, when you do what is right in the sight of the LORD. <sup>26</sup>But the holy things that are due from you, and your vow offerings, you shall take, and you shall go to the place that the LORD will choose, <sup>27</sup>and offer your burnt offerings, the flesh and the blood, on the altar of the LORD your God. The blood of your sacrifices shall be poured out on the altar of the LORD your God, but the flesh you may eat. <sup>28</sup>Be careful to obey all these words that I command you, that it may go well with you and with your children after you forever, when you do what is good and right in the sight of the LORD your God.

Warning Against Idolatry

<sup>29</sup>“When the LORD your God cuts off before you the nations whom you go in to dispossess, and you dispossess them and dwell in their land, <sup>30</sup>take care that you be not ensnared to follow them, after they have been destroyed before you, and that you do not inquire about their gods, saying, ‘How did these nations serve their gods?—that I also may do the same.’ <sup>31</sup>You shall not worship the LORD your God in that way, for every abominable thing that the LORD hates they have done for their gods, for they even burn their sons and their daughters in the fire to their gods.

New Testament Reading: Matthew 12:38–50

The Sign of Jonah

<sup>38</sup>Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying, “Teacher, we wish to see a sign from you.” <sup>39</sup>But he answered them, “An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign, but no sign will be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. <sup>40</sup>For just as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. <sup>41</sup>The men of Nineveh will rise up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah is here. <sup>42</sup>The queen of the South will rise up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, something greater than Solomon is here.

Return of an Unclean Spirit

<sup>43</sup>“When the unclean spirit has gone out of a person, it passes through waterless places seeking rest, but finds none. <sup>44</sup>Then it says, ‘I will return to my house from which I came.’ And when it comes, it finds the house empty, swept, and put in order. <sup>45</sup>Then it goes and brings with it seven other spirits more evil than itself, and they enter and dwell there, and the last state of that person is worse than the first. So also will it be with this evil generation.”

Jesus’ Mother and Brothers

<sup>46</sup>While he was still speaking to the people, behold, his mother and his brothers stood outside, asking to speak to him. <sup>48</sup>But he replied to the man who told him, “Who is my mother, and who are my brothers?” <sup>49</sup>And stretching out his hand toward his disciples, he said, “Here are my mother and my brothers! <sup>50</sup>For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother.”

Writing

As far as the old Adam is concerned, which still clings to [believers], he must be driven not only by the Law, but also by punishments. Nevertheless, he does everything against his will and under coercion, no less than the godless are driven and held in obedience by the Law’s threats (1 Corinthians 9:27; Romans 7:18–19).

This doctrine of the Law is needed by believers in order that they may not make up a holiness and devotion of their own. Using God’s Spirit as an excuse, they must not set up a self-chosen worship, without God’s Word and command. For it is written:

“You shall not do according to . . . Whatever is right in [your] own eyes,” but “be careful to obey all these words that I command you,” “you shall not add to it or take from it.” (Deuteronomy 12:8, 28, 32)

The doctrine of the Law is also necessary in and with <the use of> believers’ good works. Otherwise, a person can easily imagine that his work and life are entirely pure and perfect. But God’s Law prescribes good works to believers in this way: it shows and indicates at the same time, as in a mirror, that in this life works are still imperfect and impure in us. So we must say with the beloved Paul, “I am not aware of anything against myself, but I am not thereby acquitted” [1 Corinthians 4:4]. So Paul, when encouraging the regenerate to do good works, clearly presents to them the Ten Commandments (Romans 13:9). He recognizes from the Law that his good works are imperfect and impure (Romans 7:7–13). And David declares:

I will run in the way of Your commandments. (Psalm 119:32)

Old Testament Reading: Deuteronomy 13:1–18

<sup>1</sup>“If a prophet or a dreamer of dreams arises among you and gives you a sign or a wonder, <sup>2</sup>and the sign or wonder that he tells you comes to pass, and if he says, ‘Let us go after other gods,’ which you have not known, ‘and let us serve them,’ <sup>3</sup>you shall not listen to the words of that prophet or that dreamer of dreams. For the LORD your God is testing you, to know whether you love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul. <sup>4</sup>You shall walk after the LORD your God and fear him and keep his commandments and obey his voice, and you shall serve him and hold fast to him.

<sup>5</sup>But that prophet or that dreamer of dreams shall be put to death, because he has taught rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt and redeemed you out of the house of slavery, to make you leave the way in which the LORD your God commanded you to walk. So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

<sup>6</sup>“If your brother, the son of your mother, or your son or your daughter or the wife you embrace or your friend who is as your own soul entices you secretly, saying, ‘Let us go and serve other gods,’ which neither you nor your fathers have known, <sup>7</sup>some of the gods of the peoples who are around you, whether near you or far off from you, from the one end of the earth to the other, <sup>8</sup>you shall not yield to him or listen to him, nor shall your eye pity him, nor shall you spare him, nor shall you conceal him. <sup>9</sup>But you shall kill him. Your hand shall be first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people. <sup>10</sup>You shall stone him to death with stones, because he sought to draw you away from the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery. <sup>11</sup>And all Israel shall hear and fear and never again do any such wickedness as this among you.

<sup>12</sup>“If you hear in one of your cities, which the LORD your God is giving you to dwell there, <sup>13</sup>that certain worthless fellows have gone out among you and have drawn away the inhabitants of their city, saying, ‘Let us go and serve other gods,’ which you have not known, <sup>14</sup>then you shall inquire and make search and ask diligently. And behold, if it be true and certain that such an abomination has been done among you, <sup>15</sup>you shall surely put the inhabitants of that city to the sword, devoting it to destruction, all who are in it and its cattle, with the edge of the sword. <sup>16</sup>You shall gather all its spoil into the midst of its open square and burn the city and all its spoil with fire, as a whole burnt offering to the LORD your God. It shall be a heap forever. It shall not be built again. <sup>17</sup>None of the devoted things shall stick to your hand, that the LORD may turn from the fierceness of his anger and show you mercy and have compassion on you and multiply you, as he swore to your fathers, <sup>18</sup>if you obey the voice of the LORD your God, keeping all his commandments that I am commanding you today, and doing what is right in the sight of the LORD your God.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 13:1–23

The Parable of the Sower

<sup>1</sup>That same day Jesus went out of the house and sat beside the sea. <sup>2</sup>And great crowds gathered about him, so that he got into a boat and sat down. And the whole crowd stood on the beach. <sup>3</sup>And he told them many things in parables, saying: “A sower went out to sow. <sup>4</sup>And as he sowed, some seeds fell along the path, and the birds came and devoured them. <sup>5</sup>Other seeds fell on rocky ground, where they did not have much soil, and immediately they sprang up, since they had no depth of soil, <sup>6</sup>but when the sun rose they were scorched. And since they had no root, they withered away. <sup>7</sup>Other seeds fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them. <sup>8</sup>Other seeds fell on good soil and produced grain, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. <sup>9</sup>He who has ears, let him hear.”

The Purpose of the Parables

<sup>10</sup>Then the disciples came and said to him, “Why do you speak to them in parables?” <sup>11</sup>And he answered them, “To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given. <sup>12</sup>For to the one who has, more will be given, and he will have an abundance, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. <sup>13</sup>This is why I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand. <sup>14</sup>Indeed, in their case the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled that says:

“ ‘You will indeed hear but never understand,

and you will indeed see but never perceive.

<sup>15</sup>For this people’s heart has grown dull, and with their ears they can barely hear, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and turn, and I would heal them.’

<sup>16</sup>But blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, for they hear. <sup>17</sup>For truly, I say to you, many prophets and righteous people longed to see what you see, and did not see it, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear it.

The Parable of the Sower Explained

<sup>18</sup>“Hear then the parable of the sower: <sup>19</sup>When anyone hears the word of the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what has been sown in his heart. This is what was sown along the path. <sup>20</sup>As for what was sown on rocky ground, this is the one who hears the word and immediately receives it with joy, <sup>21</sup>yet he has no root in himself, but endures for a while, and when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately he falls away. <sup>22</sup>As for what was sown among thorns, this is the one who hears the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. <sup>23</sup>As for what was sown on good soil, this is the one who hears the word and understands it. He indeed bears fruit and yields, in one case a hundredfold, in another sixty, and in another thirty.”

Writing

Let me tell you this, even though you know God’s Word perfectly and are already a master in all things: you are daily in the devil’s kingdom [Colossians 1:13–14]. He ceases neither day nor night to sneak up on you and to kindle in your heart unbelief and wicked thoughts against these [first] three commandments and all the commandments. Therefore, you must always have God’s Word in your heart, upon your lips, and in your ears. But where the heart is idle and the Word does not make a sound, the devil breaks in and has done the damage before we are aware [Matthew 13:24–30]. On the other hand, the Word is so effective that whenever it is seriously contemplated, heard, and used, it is bound never to be without fruit [Isaiah 55:11; Mark 4:20]. It always awakens new understanding, pleasure, and devoutness and produces a pure heart and pure thoughts [Philippians 4:8]. For these words are not lazy or dead, but are creative, living words [Hebrews 4:12]. And even though no other interest or necessity moves us, this truth ought to urge everyone to the Word, because thereby the devil is put to flight and driven away [James 4:7]. Besides, this commandment is fulfilled and this exercise in the Word is more pleasing to God than any work of hypocrisy, however brilliant.

—Large Catechism I 100–102

Clean and Unclean Food

<sup>1</sup>“You are the sons of the LORD your God. You shall not cut yourselves or make any baldness on your foreheads for the dead. <sup>2</sup>For you are a people holy to the LORD your God, and the LORD has chosen you to be a people for his treasured possession, out of all the peoples who are on the face of the earth. . . .

Tithes

<sup>22</sup>“You shall tithe all the yield of your seed that comes from the field year by year. <sup>23</sup>And before the LORD your God, in the place that he will choose, to make his name dwell there, you shall eat the tithe of your grain, of your wine, and of your oil, and the firstborn of your herd and flock, that you may learn to fear the LORD your God always. . . .

<sup>28</sup>“At the end of every three years you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in the same year and lay it up within your towns. <sup>29</sup>And the Levite, because he has no portion or inheritance with you, and the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, who are within your towns, shall come and eat and be filled, that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands that you do.

The Sabbatical Year

LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance to possess—<sup>5</sup>if only you will strictly obey the voice of the LORD your God, being careful to do all this commandment that I command you today. <sup>6</sup>For the LORD your God will bless you, as he promised you, and you shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow, and you shall rule over many nations, but they shall not rule over you.

<sup>7</sup>“If among you, one of your brothers should become poor, in any of your towns within your land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall not harden your heart or shut your hand against your poor brother, <sup>8</sup>but you shall open your hand to him and lend him sufficient for his need, whatever it may be. <sup>9</sup>Take care lest there be an unworthy thought in your heart and you say, ‘The seventh year, the year of release is near,’ and your eye look grudgingly on your poor brother, and you give him nothing, and he cry to the LORD against you, and you be guilty of sin. <sup>10</sup>You shall give to him freely, and your heart shall not be grudging when you give to him, because for this the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in all that you undertake. <sup>11</sup>For there will never cease to be poor in the land. Therefore I command you, ‘You shall open wide your hand to your brother, to the needy and to the poor, in your land.’

<sup>12</sup>“If your brother, a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, is sold to you, he shall serve you six years, and in the seventh year you shall let him go free from you. <sup>13</sup>And when you let him go free from you, you shall not let him go empty-handed. <sup>14</sup>You shall furnish him liberally out of your flock, out of your threshing floor, and out of your winepress. As the LORD your God has blessed you, you shall give to him. <sup>15</sup>You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you; therefore I command you this today.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 13:24–43

The Parable of the Weeds

<sup>24</sup>He put another parable before them, saying, “The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, <sup>25</sup>but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. <sup>26</sup>So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. <sup>27</sup>And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, ‘Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds?’ <sup>28</sup>He said to them, ‘An enemy has done this.’ So the servants said to him, ‘Then do you want us to go and gather them?’ <sup>29</sup>But he said, ‘No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. <sup>30</sup>Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn.’ ”

The Mustard Seed and the Leaven

<sup>31</sup>He put another parable before them, saying, “The kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard seed that a man took and sowed in his field. <sup>32</sup>It is the smallest of all seeds, but when it has grown it is larger than all the garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and make nests in its branches.”

<sup>33</sup>He told them another parable. “The kingdom of heaven is like leaven that a woman took and hid in three measures of flour, till it was all leavened.”

Prophecy and Parables

<sup>34</sup>All these things Jesus said to the crowds in parables; indeed, he said nothing to them without a parable. <sup>35</sup>This was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet:

“I will open my mouth in parables;
I will utter what has been hidden since the foundation of the world.”

The Parable of the Weeds Explained

<sup>36</sup>Then he left the crowds and went into the house. And his disciples came to him, saying, “Explain to us the parable of the weeds of the field.” <sup>37</sup>He answered, “The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. <sup>38</sup>The field is the world, and the good seed is the sons of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, <sup>39</sup>and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. <sup>40</sup>Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. <sup>41</sup>The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, <sup>42</sup>and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. <sup>43</sup>Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear.”

The hidden meaning of the firstlings can be understood from the hidden meaning of the slaughtered first-born in Egypt. The first-born, I think, denote the first fruit of the Law, that is, the righteousness of works. For the Law first forces to works and when taken in the fleshly sense produces brilliant hypocrites, who imagine themselves to be the first of all, and to whom everything is due. This righteousness Christ killed by His passing-through (Heb. 10:20), that is, His death, by which He taught that before God no flesh is justified by the works of the Law (Rom. 3:20, 28). But the first-born of Israel, sanctified to God, is the righteousness of faith, which is altogether due to Him who has condemned the righteousness of works. Therefore to offer up the first-born and the firstlings is to confess that the righteousness of faith is accepted by His grace, not wrought by our powers. For the first fruit of the Gospel is faith in the spirit, which also makes us first-born and establishes us by double right as heirs of the kingdom and of the priesthood. The tithes, however, like the subsequent fruit, are the very good things of love and the spirit which we offer up and pay when we confess that they are given to us by grace through faith, not received because of our merits.

Hymnody

Even so, Lord, quickly come
To Thy final harvest home;
Gather Thou Thy people in,
Free from sorrow, free from sin,
There, forever purified,
In Thy garner to abide:
Come with all Thine angels, come,
Raise the glorious harvest home.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, give us an increase of faith, hope, and love, that, receiving what You have promised, we may love what You have commanded; through

Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (A70)

Old Testament Reading: Deuteronomy 15:19–16:22

[The Sabbatical Year]

<sup>19</sup>“All the firstborn males that are born of your herd and flock you shall dedicate to the LORD your God. You shall do no work with the firstborn of your herd, nor shear the firstborn of your flock. <sup>20</sup>You shall eat it, you and your household, before the LORD your God year by year at the place that the LORD will choose. <sup>21</sup>But if it has any blemish, if it is lame or blind or has any serious blemish whatever, you shall not sacrifice it to the LORD your God. <sup>22</sup>You shall eat it within your towns. The unclean and the clean alike may eat it, as though it were a gazelle or a deer. <sup>23</sup>Only you shall not eat its blood; you shall pour it out on the ground like water.

Passover

<sup>16:1</sup>“Observe the month of Abib and keep the Passover to the LORD your God, for in the month of Abib the LORD your God brought you out of Egypt by night. <sup>2</sup>And you shall offer the Passover sacrifice to the LORD your God, from the flock or the herd, at the place that the LORD will choose, to make his name dwell there.” <sup>3</sup>You shall eat no leavened bread with it. Seven days you shall eat it with unleavened bread, the bread of affliction—for you came out of the land of Egypt in haste—that all the days of your life you may remember the day when you came out of the land of Egypt. <sup>4</sup>No leaven shall be seen with you in all your territory for seven days, nor shall any of the flesh that you sacrifice on the evening of the first day remain all night until morning. <sup>5</sup>You may not offer the Passover sacrifice within any of your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, <sup>6</sup>but at the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name dwell in it, there you shall offer the Passover sacrifice, in the evening at sunset, at the time you came out of Egypt. <sup>7</sup>And you shall cook it and eat it at the place that the LORD your God will choose. And in the morning you shall turn and go to your tents. <sup>8</sup>For six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be a solemn assembly to the LORD your God. You shall do no work on it.

The Feast of Weeks

<sup>9</sup>“You shall count seven weeks. Begin to count the seven weeks from the time the sickle is first put to the standing grain. <sup>10</sup>Then you shall keep the Feast of Weeks to the LORD your God with the tribute of a freewill offering from your hand, which you shall give as the LORD your God blesses you. <sup>11</sup>And you shall rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, the Levite who is within your towns, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow who are among you, at the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name dwell there. <sup>12</sup>You shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt; and you shall be careful to observe these statutes.

The Feast of Booths

<sup>13</sup>“You shall keep the Feast of Booths seven days, when you have gathered in the produce from your threshing floor and your winepress. <sup>14</sup>You shall rejoice in your feast, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow who are within your towns. <sup>15</sup>For seven days you shall keep the feast to the LORD your God at the place that the LORD will choose, because the LORD your God will bless you in all your produce and in all the work of your hands, so that you will be altogether joyful.

<sup>16</sup>“Three times a year all your males shall appear before the LORD your God at the place that he will choose: at the Feast of Unleavened Bread, at the Feast of Weeks, and at the Feast of Booths. They shall not appear before the LORD empty-handed. <sup>17</sup>Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the LORD your God that he has given you.

Justice

<sup>18</sup>“You shall appoint judges and officers in all your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, according to your tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment. <sup>19</sup>You shall not pervert justice. You shall not show partiality, and you shall not accept a bribe, for a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and subverts the cause of the righteous. <sup>20</sup>Justice, and only justice, you shall follow, that you may live and inherit the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

Forbidden Forms of Worship

<sup>21</sup>“You shall not plant any tree as an Asherah beside the altar of the LORD your God that you shall make. <sup>22</sup>And you shall not set up a pillar, which the LORD your God hates.”

The Parable of the Hidden Treasure

<sup>44</sup>“The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which a man found and covered up. Then in his joy he goes and sells all that he has and buys that field.

The Parable of the Pearl of Great Value

<sup>45</sup>“Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant in search of fine pearls, <sup>46</sup>who, on finding one pearl of great value, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

The Parable of the Net

<sup>47</sup>“Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was thrown into the sea and gathered fish of every kind. <sup>48</sup>When it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into containers but threw away the bad. <sup>49</sup>So it will be at the close of the age. The angels will come out and separate the evil from the righteous <sup>50</sup>and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

New and Old Treasures

<sup>51</sup>“Have you understood all these things?” They said to him, “Yes.” <sup>52</sup>And he said to them, “Therefore every scribe who has been trained for the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house, who brings out of his treasure what is new and what is old.”

Jesus Rejected at Nazareth

<sup>53</sup>And when Jesus had finished these parables, he went away from there, <sup>54</sup>and coming to his hometown he taught them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished, and said, “Where did this man get this wisdom and these mighty works? <sup>55</sup>Is not this the carpenter’s son? Is not his mother called Mary? And are not his brothers James and Joseph and Simon and Judas? <sup>56</sup>And are not all his sisters with us? Where then did this man get all these things?” <sup>57</sup>And they took offense at him. But Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his own household.” <sup>58</sup>And he did not do many mighty works there, because of their unbelief.

Writing

If, then, those who were conversant with the ancient Scriptures came to newness of hope, expecting the coming of Christ, as the Lord teaches us when He says, “If you had believed Moses, you would have believed Me, for he wrote of Me”; and again, “Your father Abraham rejoiced to see My day, and he saw it, and was glad; for before Abraham was, I am”; how shall we be able to live without Him? The prophets were His servants and foresaw Him by the Spirit and waited for Him as their teacher and expected Him as their Lord and Savior, saying, “He will come and save us.” Let us therefore no longer keep the Sabbath after the Jewish manner . . . but let us keep the Sabbath after a spiritual manner, rejoicing in meditation on [the Word of God] . . . Let every friend of Christ keep the Lord’s Day, the resurrection day, as a festival. For it is the queen and chief of all the days of the week. Looking forward to this, the prophet declared, “To the end, for the eighth day,” on which our life both sprang up again and the victory over death was obtained in Christ.

—Ignatius of Antioch

Hymnody

For the Lord, our God, shall come
And shall take His harvest home,
From His field shall in that day
All offenses purge away,
Give His angels charge at last
In the fire the tares to cast,
But the fruitful ears to store
In His garner evermore.

—Come, Ye Thankful People, Come

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, we praise Your name for Ignatius of Antioch, bishop and martyr. He offered himself as grain to be ground by the teeth of wild beasts so that he might present to You the pure bread of sacrifice. Accept the willing tribute of all that we are and all that we have, and give us a portion in the pure and unspotted offering of Your Son, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1100)

Ignatius of Antioch, Pastor and Martyr

Ignatius was the bishop of Antioch in Syria at the beginning of the second century AD and an early Christian martyr. Near the end of the reign of the Roman Emperor Trajan (AD 98–117), Ignatius was arrested, taken in chains to Rome, and eventually thrown to the wild beasts in the arena. On the way to Rome, he wrote letters to the Christians at Ephesus, Magnesia, Tralles, Rome, Philadelphia, and Smyrna, as well as to Polycarp, bishop of Smyrna. In the letters, which are beautifully pastoral in tone, Ignatius warned against certain heresies (false teachings). He also repeatedly stressed the full humanity and deity of Christ, the reality of Christ's bodily presence in the Lord's Supper, the supreme authority of the bishop, and the unity of the Church found in her bishops. Ignatius was the first to use the word catholic to describe the universality of the Church. His Christ-centeredness, his courage in the face of martyrdom, and his zeal for the truth over against false doctrine are a lasting legacy to the Church.

<sup>1</sup>“You shall not sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or a sheep in which is a blemish, any defect whatever, for that is an abomination to the LORD your God.

<sup>2</sup>“If there is found among you, within any of your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, a man or woman who does what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God, in transgressing his covenant, <sup>3</sup>and has gone and served other gods and worshiped them, or the sun or the moon or any of the host of heaven, which I have forbidden, <sup>4</sup>and it is told you and you hear of it, then you shall inquire diligently, and if it is true and certain that such an abomination has been done in Israel, <sup>5</sup>then you shall bring out to your gates that man or woman who has done this evil thing, and you shall stone that man or woman to death with stones. <sup>6</sup>On the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses the one who is to die shall be put to death; a person shall not be put to death on the evidence of one witness. <sup>7</sup>The hand of the witnesses shall be first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people. So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

<sup>8</sup>“If any case arises requiring decision between one kind of homicide and another, one kind of legal right and another, or one kind of assault and another, any case within your towns that is too difficult for you, then you shall arise and go up to the place that the LORD your God will choose. <sup>9</sup>And you shall come to the Levitical priests and to the judge who is in office in those days, and you shall consult them, and they shall declare to you the decision. <sup>10</sup>Then you shall do according to what they declare to you from that place that the LORD will choose. And you shall be careful to do according to all that they direct you. <sup>11</sup>According to the instructions that they give you, and according to the decision which they pronounce to you, you shall do. You shall not turn aside from the verdict that they declare to you, either to the right hand or to the left. <sup>12</sup>The man who acts presumptuously by not obeying the priest who stands to minister there before the LORD your God, or the judge, that man shall die. So you shall purge the evil from Israel. <sup>13</sup>And all the people shall hear and fear and not act presumptuously again.

Laws Concerning Israel’s Kings

<sup>14</sup>“When you come to the land that the LORD your God is giving you, and you possess it and dwell in it and then say, ‘I will set a king over me, like all the nations that are around me,’ <sup>15</sup>you may indeed set a king over you whom the LORD your God will choose. One from among your brothers you shall set as king over you. You may not put a foreigner over you, who is not your brother. <sup>16</sup>Only he must not acquire many horses for himself or cause the people to return to Egypt in order to acquire many horses, since the LORD has said to you, ‘You shall never return that way again.’ <sup>17</sup>And he shall not acquire many wives for himself, lest his heart turn away, nor shall he acquire for himself excessive silver and gold.

<sup>18</sup>“And when he sits on the throne of his kingdom, he shall write for himself in a book a copy of this law, approved by the Levitical priests. <sup>19</sup>And it shall be with him, and he shall read in it all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear the LORD his God by keeping all the words of this law and these statutes, and doing them, <sup>20</sup>that his heart may not be lifted up above his brothers, and that he may not turn aside from the commandment, either to the right hand or to the left, so that he may continue long in his kingdom, he and his children, in Israel.”

The Death of John the Baptist

<sup>1</sup>At that time Herod the tetrarch heard about the fame of Jesus, <sup>2</sup>and he said to his servants, “This is John the Baptist. He has been raised from the dead; that is why these miraculous powers are at work in him.” <sup>3</sup>For Herod had seized John and bound him and put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife, <sup>4</sup>because John had been saying to him, “It is not lawful for you to have her.” <sup>5</sup>And though he wanted to put him to death, he feared the people, because they held him to be a prophet. <sup>6</sup>But when Herod’s birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced before the company and pleased Herod, <sup>7</sup>so that he promised with an oath to give her whatever she might ask. <sup>8</sup>Prompted by her mother, she said, “Give me the head of John the Baptist here on a platter.” <sup>9</sup>And the king was sorry, but because of his oaths and his guests he commanded it to be given. <sup>10</sup>He sent and had John beheaded in the prison, <sup>11</sup>and his head was brought on a platter and given to the girl, and she brought it to her mother. <sup>12</sup>And his disciples came and took the body and buried it, and they went and told Jesus.

Jesus Feeds the Five Thousand

place by himself. But when the crowds heard it, they followed him on foot from the towns. <sup>14</sup>When he went ashore he saw a great crowd, and he had compassion on them and healed their sick. <sup>15</sup>Now when it was evening, the disciples came to him and said, “This is a desolate place, and the day is now over; send the crowds away to go into the villages and buy food for themselves.” <sup>16</sup>But Jesus said, “They need not go away; you give them something to eat.” <sup>17</sup>They said to him, “We have only five loaves here and two fish.” <sup>18</sup>And he said, “Bring them here to me.” <sup>19</sup>Then he ordered the crowds to sit down on the grass, and taking the five loaves and the two fish, he looked up to heaven and said a blessing. Then he broke the loaves and gave them to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds. <sup>20</sup>And they all ate and were satisfied. And they took up twelve baskets full of the broken pieces left over. <sup>21</sup>And those who ate were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

Theologians are rightly familiar with distinguishing between a Sacrament and a sacrifice. Therefore, let them be subdivided into either a ceremony or a sacred work. A Sacrament is a ceremony or work in which God presents to us what the promise of the ceremony offers. Baptism is not a work that we offer to God. It is a work in which God baptizes us. In other words, a minister baptizes us on God’s behalf. God here offers and presents the forgiveness of sins, and so forth, according to the promise “Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved” (Mark 16:16). A sacrifice, on the contrary, is a ceremony or work that we give to God in order to provide Him honor.

Furthermore, there are two kinds of sacrifice and no more. One is the atoning sacrifice, that is, a work that makes satisfaction for guilt and punishment. It reconciles God, or reconciles His wrath and merits the forgiveness of sins for others. The other kind is the eucharistic sacrifice, which does not merit the forgiveness of sins or reconciliation. It is practiced by those who have been reconciled, so that we may give thanks or return gratitude for the forgiveness of sins that has been received, or for other benefits received.

Confession XXIV (XII) 17–19

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, our Father, Your blessed Son called Luke the physician to be an evangelist and physician of the soul. Grant that the healing medicine of the Gospel and the Sacraments may put to flight the diseases of our souls that with willing hearts we may ever love and serve You; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### St. Luke, Evangelist

St. Luke, the beloved physician referred to by St. Paul (Colossians 4:14), presents us with Jesus, whose blood provides the medicine of immortality. As his traveling companion, Paul claimed Luke's Gospel as his own for its healing of souls (Eusebius). Luke traveled with Paul during the second missionary journey, joining him after Paul received his Macedonian call to bring the Gospel to Europe (Acts 16:10–17). Luke most likely stayed behind in Philippi for seven years, rejoining Paul at the end of the third missionary journey in Macedonia. He traveled with Paul to Troas, Jerusalem, and Caesarea, where Paul was imprisoned for two years (Acts 20:5–21:18). While in Caesarea, Luke may have researched material that he used in his Gospel. Afterward, Luke accompanied Paul on his journey to Rome (Acts 27:1–28:16). Especially beloved in Luke's Gospel are the stories of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10:29–37), the prodigal son (Luke 15:11–32), the rich man and Lazarus (Luke 16:19–31), and the Pharisee and the tax collector (Luke 18:9–14). Only Luke provides a detailed account of Christ's birth (Luke 2:1–20) and the canticles of Mary (Luke 1:46–55), of Zechariah (Luke 1:68–79), and of Simeon (Luke 2:29–32). To show how Christ continued His work in the Early Church through the apostles, Luke also penned the Acts of the Apostles. More than one-third of the New Testament comes from the hand of the evangelist Luke.

Provision for Priests and Levites

grain, of your wine and of your oil, and the first fleece of your sheep, you shall give him. <sup>5</sup>For the LORD your God has chosen him out of all your tribes to stand and minister in the name of the LORD, him and his sons for all time.

<sup>6</sup>“And if a Levite comes from any of your towns out of all Israel, where he lives—and he may come when he desires—to the place that the LORD will choose, <sup>7</sup>and ministers in the name of the LORD his God, like all his fellow Levites who stand to minister there before the LORD, <sup>8</sup>then he may have equal portions to eat, besides what he receives from the sale of his patrimony.

Abominable Practices

<sup>9</sup>“When you come into the land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall not learn to follow the abominable practices of those nations. <sup>10</sup>There shall not be found among you anyone who burns his son or his daughter as an offering, anyone who practices divination or tells fortunes or interprets omens, or a sorcerer <sup>11</sup>or a charmer or a medium or a necromancer or one who inquires of the dead, <sup>12</sup>for whoever does these things is an abomination to the Lord. And because of these abominations the LORD your God is driving them out before you. <sup>13</sup>You shall be blameless before the Lord your God, <sup>14</sup>for these nations, which you are about to dispossess, listen to fortune-tellers and to diviners. But as for you, the LORD your God has not allowed you to do this.

A New Prophet like Moses

<sup>15</sup>“The LORD your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among you, from your brothers—it is to him you shall listen—<sup>16</sup>just as you desired of the LORD your God at Horeb on the day of the assembly, when you said, ‘Let me not hear again the voice of the LORD my God or see this great fire any more, lest I die.’<sup>17</sup> And the LORD said to me, ‘They are right in what they have spoken.<sup>18</sup> I will raise up for them a prophet like you from among their brothers. And I will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them all that I command him.<sup>19</sup> And whoever will not listen to my words that he shall speak in my name, I myself will require it of him.<sup>20</sup> But the prophet who presumes to speak a word in my name that I have not commanded him to speak, or who speaks in the name of other gods, that same prophet shall die.’<sup>21</sup> And if you say in your heart, ‘How may we know the word that the LORD has not spoken?’—<sup>22</sup>when a prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, if the word does not come to pass or come true, that is a word that the LORD has not spoken; the prophet has spoken it presumptuously. You need not be afraid of him.”

Jesus Walks on the Water

<sup>22</sup>Immediately he made the disciples get into the boat and go before him to the other side, while he dismissed the crowds.<sup>23</sup> And after he had dismissed the crowds, he went up on the mountain by himself to pray. When evening came, he was there alone,<sup>24</sup> but the boat by this time was a long way from the land, beaten by the waves, for the wind was against them.<sup>25</sup> And in the fourth watch of the night he came to them, walking on the sea.<sup>26</sup> But when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were terrified, and said, “It is a ghost!” and they cried out in fear.<sup>27</sup> But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, “Take heart; it is I. Do not be afraid.”

<sup>28</sup>And Peter answered him, “Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the water.”<sup>29</sup> He said, “Come.” So Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water and came to Jesus.<sup>30</sup> But when he saw the wind, he was afraid, and beginning to sink he cried out, “Lord, save me.”<sup>31</sup> Jesus immediately reached out his hand and took hold of him, saying to him, “O you of little faith, why did you doubt?”<sup>32</sup> And when they got into the boat, the wind ceased.<sup>33</sup> And those in the boat worshiped him, saying, “Truly you are the Son of God.”

Jesus Heals the Sick in Gennesaret

<sup>34</sup>And when they had crossed over, they came to land at Gennesaret.<sup>35</sup> And when the men of that place recognized him, they sent around to all that region and brought to him all who were sick<sup>36</sup> and implored him that they might only touch the fringe of his garment. And as many as touched it were made well.

Writing

What can be set forth to us that is more useful and more suitable for consolation than the example of Peter? He advances on the water to meet Christ. And when he stepped out of the boat, he first walked on the water to come to Jesus. As the evangelist says, he ran with great impetuosity, with heroic and special spirit, because he knew that Christ was there; and he had the Word and the promise of the Word for his petition: “If it be Thou, bid me come to Thee on the water” (Matt. 14:28). But soon, when a little wind blows, he wavers and sinks. What now? Where is that great spirit? Why did you doubt? But it pleased Christ that he should be tried in this way. For if he had not been tried, he would have been puffed up. But it is better to be tried than to be puffed up. For in this way the promises are retained, and in this way we learn to understand those sobs of the saints, as in Ps. 6:1: “O Lord, rebuke me not in Thy anger.” For David, too, was such a great man that God gave him the testimony: “I have found in David, the son of Jesse, a man after My heart, who will do all My will” (Acts 13:22; cf. 1 Sam. 13:14). Yet he prays in this way and struggles with the trials of unbelief and despair.

In this way we, too, have been called, and we have promises that are much clearer and more glorious than those the fathers had. Thus Peter praises this good fortune of ours when he says (2 Peter 1:19): “And we have the prophetic Word made more sure. You will do well to pay attention to this as to a lamp shining in a dark place.” Grace and eternal life have been promised and offered to us in a much more glorious way than to them. For the Son has come, and all the promises have been fulfilled. We hear the Son Himself; we have the sacraments and absolution; and day and night the Gospel proclaims to us: “You are holy. You are holy. Your sins have been forgiven you. You are blessed, etc.” But what do we do? We still tremble, and we cling to our weakness throughout our life. But why are we not aroused by the example of the patriarchs, who believed to complete perfection? I reply that they, too, were weak, just as we are, although we have richer promises than they had. But it comes to pass as God’s voice says to Paul: “My power is made perfect in weakness” (2 Cor. 12:9). For God could not retain and fulfill His promises in us if He did not kill that stupid, proud, and smug flesh in us.

Hymnody

O Christ, whose voice the waters heard
And hushed their raging at Thy word,
Who walkedst on the foaming deep
And calm amid its rage didst sleep:
O hear us when we cry to Thee
For those in peril on the sea.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and most merciful God, preserve us from all harm and danger that we, being ready in both body and soul, may cheerfully accomplish what You want done;
through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (A72)

Laws Concerning Cities of Refuge

<sup>1</sup>“When the LORD your God cuts off the nations whose land the LORD your God is giving you, and you dispossess them and dwell in their cities and in their houses, <sup>2</sup>you shall set apart three cities for yourselves in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess. <sup>3</sup>You shall measure the distances and divide into three parts the area of the land that the LORD your God gives you as a possession, so that any manslayer can flee to them.

<sup>4</sup>“This is the provision for the manslayer, who by fleeing there may save his life. If anyone kills his neighbor unintentionally without having hated him in the past—<sup>5</sup>as when someone goes into the forest with his neighbor to cut wood, and his hand swings the axe to cut down a tree, and the head slips from the handle and strikes his neighbor so that he dies—he may flee to one of these cities and live, <sup>6</sup>lest the avenger of blood in hot anger pursue the manslayer and overtake him, because the way is long, and strike him fatally, though the man did not deserve to die, since he had not hated his neighbor in the past. <sup>7</sup>Therefore I command you, You shall set apart three cities. <sup>8</sup>And if the LORD your God enlarges your territory, as he has sworn to your fathers, and gives you all the land that he promised to give to your fathers—<sup>9</sup>provided you are careful to keep all this commandment, which I command you today, by loving the LORD your God and by walking ever in his ways—then you shall add three other cities to these three, <sup>10</sup>lest innocent blood be shed in your land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance, and so the guilt of bloodshed be upon you.

<sup>11</sup>“But if anyone hates his neighbor and lies in wait for him and attacks him and strikes him fatally so that he dies, and he flees into one of these cities, <sup>12</sup>then the elders of his city shall send and take him from there, and hand him over to the avenger of blood, so that he may die. <sup>13</sup>Your eye shall not pity him, but you shall purge the guilt of innocent blood from Israel, so that it may be well with you.

Property Boundaries

<sup>14</sup>“You shall not move your neighbor’s landmark, which the men of old have set, in the inheritance that you will hold in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess.

Laws Concerning Witnesses

<sup>15</sup>“A single witness shall not suffice against a person for any crime or for any wrong in connection with any offense that he has committed. Only on the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses shall a charge be established. <sup>16</sup>If a malicious witness arises to accuse a person of wrongdoing, <sup>17</sup>then both parties to the dispute shall appear before the LORD, before the priests and the judges who are in office in those days. <sup>18</sup>The judges shall inquire diligently, and if the witness is a false witness and has accused his brother falsely, <sup>19</sup>then you shall do to him as he had meant to do to his brother. So you shall purge the evil from your midst. <sup>20</sup>And the rest shall hear and fear, and shall never again commit any such evil among you.”

Traditions and Commandments

What Defiles a Person

<sup>10</sup>And he called the people to him and said to them, “Hear and understand: <sup>11</sup>it is not what goes into the mouth that defiles a person, but what comes out of the mouth; this defiles a person.” <sup>12</sup>Then the disciples came and said to him, “Do you know that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this saying?” <sup>13</sup>He answered, “Every plant that my heavenly Father has not planted will be rooted up. <sup>14</sup>Let them alone; they are blind guides. And if the blind lead the blind, both will fall into a pit.” <sup>15</sup>But Peter said to him, “Explain the parable to us.” <sup>16</sup>And he said, “Are you also still without understanding? <sup>17</sup>Do you not see that whatever goes into the mouth passes into the stomach and is expelled? <sup>18</sup>But what comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person. <sup>19</sup>For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false witness, slander. <sup>20</sup>These are what defile a person. But to eat with unwashed hands does not defile anyone.”

Our churches have taught that we cannot merit grace or be justified by observing human traditions. We must not think that such observances are necessary acts of worship. Here we add testimonies of Scripture. Christ defends the Apostles who had not observed the usual tradition (Matthew 15:3). This had to do with a matter that was not unlawful, but rather, neither commanded or forbidden. It was similar to the purifications of the Law. He said in Matthew 15:9, “In vain do they worship Me, teaching as doctrines the commandments of men.” Therefore, He does not require a useless human service. Shortly after, He adds, “It is not what goes into the mouth that defiles a person, but what comes out of the mouth; this defiles a person” (Matthew 15:11). So also Paul, in Romans 14:17, “The kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit,” and in Colossians 2:16, “Let no one pass judgment on you in questions of food and drink, or with regard to . . . a Sabbath.” And again, “If with Christ you died to the elemental spirits of the world, why, as if you were still alive in the world, do you submit to regulations—‘Do not handle, Do not taste, Do not touch’ ” [Colossians 2:20–21]. Peter says, “Why are you putting God to the test by placing a yoke on the neck of the disciples that neither our fathers nor we have been able to bear? But we believe that we will be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, just as they will” (Acts 15:10–11). Here Peter forbids burdening consciences with many rites, either from Moses or others. In 1 Timothy 4:1–3 Paul calls the prohibition of meats a teaching of demons. It is contrary to the Gospel to institute or do such works thinking that we merit grace through them, or as though Christianity could not exist without such service of God.

Laws Concerning Warfare

<sup>1</sup>“When you go out to war against your enemies, and see horses and chariots and an army larger than your own, you shall not be afraid of them, for the LORD your God is with you, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt. <sup>2</sup>And when you draw near to the battle, the priest shall come forward and speak to the people <sup>3</sup>and shall say to them, ‘Hear, O Israel, today you are drawing near for battle against your enemies: let not your heart faint. Do not fear or panic or be in dread of them, <sup>4</sup>for the LORD your God is he who goes with you to fight for you against your enemies, to give you the victory.’ <sup>5</sup>Then the officers shall speak to the people, saying, ‘Is there any man who has built a new house and has not dedicated it? Let him go back to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man dedicate it. <sup>6</sup>And is there any man who has planted a vineyard and has not enjoyed its fruit? Let him go back to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man enjoy its fruit. <sup>7</sup>And is there any man who has betrothed a wife and has not taken her? Let him go back to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man take her.’ <sup>8</sup>And the officers shall speak further to the people, and say, ‘Is there any man who is fearful and fainthearted? Let him go back to his house, lest he make the heart of his fellows melt like his own.’ <sup>9</sup>And when the officers have finished speaking to the people, then commanders shall be appointed at the head of the people.

<sup>10</sup>“When you draw near to a city to fight against it, offer terms of peace to it. <sup>11</sup>And if it responds to you peaceably and it opens to you, then all the people who are found in it shall do forced labor for you and shall serve you. <sup>12</sup>But if it makes no peace with you, but makes war against you, then you shall besiege it. <sup>13</sup>And when the LORD your God gives it into your hand, you shall put all its males to the sword, <sup>14</sup>but the women and the little ones, the livestock, and everything else in the city, all its spoil, you shall take as plunder for yourselves. And you shall enjoy the spoil of your enemies, which the LORD your God has given you. <sup>15</sup>Thus you shall do to all the cities that are very far from you, which are not cities of the nations here. <sup>16</sup>But in the cities of these peoples that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance, you shall save alive nothing that breathes, <sup>17</sup>but you shall devote them to complete destruction, the Hittites and the Amorites, the Canaanites and the Perizzites, the Hivites and the Jebusites, as the LORD your God has commanded, <sup>18</sup>that they may not teach you to do according to all their abominable practices that they have done for their gods, and so you sin against the LORD your God.

<sup>19</sup>“When you besiege a city for a long time, making war against it in order to take it, you shall not destroy its trees by wielding an axe against them. You may eat from them, but you shall not cut them down. Are the trees in the field human, that they should be besieged by you? <sup>20</sup>Only the trees that you know are not trees for food you may destroy and cut down, that you may build siegeworks against the city that makes war with you, until it falls.”

The Faith of a Canaanite Woman

<sup>21</sup>And Jesus went away from there and withdrew to the district of Tyre and Sidon. <sup>22</sup>And behold, a Canaanite woman from that region came out and was crying, “Have mercy on me, O Lord, Son of David; my daughter is severely oppressed by a demon.” <sup>23</sup>But he did not answer her a word. And his disciples came and begged him, saying, “Send her away, for she is crying out after us.” <sup>24</sup>He answered, “I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.” <sup>25</sup>But she came and knelt before him, saying, “Lord, help me.” <sup>26</sup>And he answered, “It is not right to take the children’s bread and throw it to the dogs.” <sup>27</sup>She said, “Yes, Lord, yet even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their masters’ table.” <sup>28</sup>Then Jesus answered her, “O woman, great is your faith! Be it done for you as you desire.” And her daughter was healed instantly.

Jesus Heals Many

<sup>29</sup>Jesus went on from there and walked beside the Sea of Galilee. And he went up on the mountain and sat down there. <sup>30</sup>And great crowds came to him, bringing with them the lame, the blind, the crippled, the mute, and many others, and they put them at his feet, and he healed them, <sup>31</sup>so that the crowd wondered, when they saw the mute speaking, the crippled healthy, the lame walking, and the blind seeing. And they glorified the God of Israel.

Jesus Feeds the Four Thousand

<sup>32</sup>Then Jesus called his disciples to him and said, “I have compassion on the crowd because they have been with me now three days and have nothing to eat. And I am unwilling to send them away hungry, lest they faint on the way.” <sup>33</sup>And the disciples said to him, “Where are we to get enough bread in such a desolate place to feed so great a crowd?” <sup>34</sup>And Jesus said to them, “How many loaves do you have?” They said, “Seven, and a few small fish.” <sup>35</sup>And directing the crowd to sit down on the ground, <sup>36</sup>he took the seven loaves and the fish, and having given thanks he broke them and gave them to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds. <sup>37</sup>And they all ate and were satisfied. And they took up seven baskets full of the broken pieces left over. <sup>38</sup>Those who ate were four thousand men, besides women and children. <sup>39</sup>And after sending away the crowds, he got into the boat and went to the region of Magadan.

Writing

Yesterday you were a Canaanite soul bent together by sin; today you have been made straight by the Word. Do not be bent again and condemned to the earth, as if weighed down by the devil with a wooden collar, nor get an incurable curvature. Yesterday you were being dried up by an abundant hemorrhage, for you were pouring out crimson sin; today [you are] stanced and flourishing again, for you have touched the hem of Christ and your issue has been stayed. Guard, I pray you, the cleansing lest you should again have a hemorrhage and not be able to lay hold of Christ to steal salvation; for Christ does not like to be stolen from often, though He is very merciful. Yesterday you were flung upon a bed, exhausted and paralyzed, and you had no one when the water should be troubled to put you into the pool. Today you have Him who is in one person Man and God, or rather God and Man. You were raised up from your bed, or rather you took up your bed, and publicly acknowledged the benefit. Do not again be thrown upon your bed by sinning, in the evil rest of a body paralyzed by its pleasures. But as you now are, so walk, mindful of the command, “Behold, you are made whole; sin no more lest a worse thing happen to you if you prove to be bad after the blessing you have received.” You have heard the loud voice, “Lazarus, come forth,” as you lay in the tomb—not, however, after four days, but after many days—and you were loosed from the bonds of your grave clothes. Do not again become dead nor live with those who dwell in the tombs nor bind yourself with the bonds of your own sins. For it is uncertain whether you will rise again from the tomb till the last and universal resurrection, which will bring every work into judgment, not to be healed but to be judged and to give account of all that for good or evil it has treasured up.

Atonement for Unsolved Murders

<sup>1</sup>“If in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess someone is found slain, lying in the open country, and it is not known who killed him, <sup>2</sup>then your elders and your judges shall come out, and they shall measure the distance to the surrounding cities. <sup>3</sup>And the elders of the city that is nearest to the slain man shall take a heifer that has never been worked and that has not pulled in a yoke. <sup>4</sup>And the elders of that city shall bring the heifer down to a valley with running water, which is neither plowed nor sown, and shall break the heifer’s neck there in the valley. <sup>5</sup>Then the priests, the sons of Levi, shall come forward, for the LORD your God has chosen them to minister to him and to bless in the name of the LORD, and by their word every dispute and every assault shall be settled. <sup>6</sup>And all the elders of that city nearest to the slain man shall wash their hands over the heifer whose neck was broken in the valley, <sup>7</sup>and they shall testify, ‘Our hands did not shed this blood, nor did our eyes see it shed. <sup>8</sup>Accept atonement, O LORD, for your people Israel, whom you have redeemed, and do not set the guilt of innocent blood in the midst of your people Israel, so that their blood guilt be atoned for.’ <sup>9</sup>So you shall purge the guilt of innocent blood from your midst, when you do what is right in the sight of the LORD.

Marrying Female Captives

<sup>10</sup>“When you go out to war against your enemies, and the LORD your God gives them into your hand and you take them captive, <sup>11</sup>and you see among the captives a beautiful woman, and you desire to take her to be your wife, <sup>12</sup>and you bring her home to your house, she shall shave her head and pare her nails. <sup>13</sup>And she shall take off the clothes in which she was captured and shall remain in your house and lament her father and her mother a full month. After that you may go in to her and be her husband, and she shall be your wife. <sup>14</sup>But if you no longer delight in her, you shall let her go where she wants. But you shall not sell her for money, nor shall you treat her as a slave, since you have humiliated her.

Inheritance Rights of the Firstborn

<sup>15</sup>“If a man has two wives, the one loved and the other unloved, and both the loved and the unloved have borne him children, and if the firstborn son belongs to the unloved, <sup>16</sup>then on the day when he assigns his possessions as an inheritance to his sons, he may not treat the son of the loved as the firstborn in preference to the son of the unloved, who is the firstborn, <sup>17</sup>but he shall acknowledge the firstborn, the son of the unloved, by giving him a double portion of all that he has, for he is the firstfruits of his strength. The right of the firstborn is his.

A Rebellious Son

<sup>18</sup>“If a man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will not obey the voice of his father or the voice of his mother, and, though they discipline him, will not listen to them, <sup>19</sup>then his father and his mother shall take hold of him and bring him out to the elders of his city at the gate of the place where he lives, <sup>20</sup>and they shall say to the elders of his city, ‘This our son is stubborn and rebellious; he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton and a drunkard.’ <sup>21</sup>Then all the men of the city shall stone him to death with stones. So you shall purge the evil from your midst, and all Israel shall hear, and fear.

A Man Hanged on a Tree Is Cursed

<sup>22</sup>“And if a man has committed a crime punishable by death and he is put to death, and you hang him on a tree, <sup>23</sup>his body shall not remain all night on the tree, but you shall bury him the same day, for a hanged man is cursed by God. You shall not defile your land that the Lord your God is giving you for an inheritance.”

The Pharisees and Sadducees Demand Signs

<sup>1</sup>And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and to test him they asked him to show them a sign from heaven. <sup>2</sup>He answered them, “When it is evening, you say, ‘It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.’ <sup>3</sup>And in the morning, ‘It will be stormy today, for the sky is red and threatening.’ You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times. <sup>4</sup>An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign, but no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah.” So he left them and departed.

The Leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees

<sup>5</sup>When the disciples reached the other side, they had forgotten to bring any bread. <sup>6</sup>Jesus said to them, “Watch and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.” <sup>7</sup>And they began discussing it among themselves, saying, “We brought no bread.” <sup>8</sup>But Jesus, aware of this, said, “O you of little faith, why are you discussing among yourselves the fact that you have no bread? <sup>9</sup>Do you not yet perceive? Do you not remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many baskets you gathered? <sup>10</sup>Or the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many baskets you gathered? <sup>11</sup>How is it that you fail to understand that I did not speak about bread? Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.” <sup>12</sup>Then they understood that he did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Writing

Now we go forth . . . among our neighbors to learn how we should live with one another, everyone himself toward his neighbor. Therefore, God and government are not included in this [fifth] commandment. Nor is the power to kill taken away, which God and government have. To punish evildoers, God has delegated His authority to the government, not parents. In earlier times, as we read in Moses, parents were required to bring their own children to judgment and even to sentence them to death [Deuteronomy 21:18–21]. Therefore, what is forbidden in this commandment is forbidden to the individual in his relationship with anyone else, but not to the government.

Now, this commandment is easy enough and has often been presented, because we hear it each year in the Gospel of St. Matthew 5:20–26, where Christ Himself explains and sums it up. He says that we must not kill, neither with hand, heart, mouth, signs, gestures, help, nor counsel. Therefore, this commandment forbids everyone to be angry, except those (as we said) who are in the place of God, that is, parents and the government. For it is proper for God and for everyone who is in a divine estate to be angry, to rebuke, and to punish because of those very persons who transgress this and the other commandments [Romans 13:4].

. . . By the devil's encouragement you will get many enemies who cannot bear to see you have any good, either bodily or spiritual. When we see such people, our hearts also would like to rage and bleed and take vengeance. Then there arise cursing and blows. From them misery and murder finally come. In this commandment God—like a kind father—steps in ahead of us, intervenes, and wishes to have the quarrel settled, so that no misfortune comes from it and no one destroys another person. And briefly, He would in this way protect, set free, and keep in peace everyone against the crime and violence of everyone else.

Hymnody

Lord, keep us steadfast in Your Word;
Curb those who by deceit or sword
Would wrest the kingdom from Your Son
And bring to naught all He has done.

—Lord, Keep Us Steadfast in Your Word (LSB 655:1)

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, whom to know is everlasting life, grant us to know Your Son, Jesus, to be the way, the truth, and the life that we may boldly confess Him to be the Christ and steadfastly walk in the way that leads to life eternal; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. [Miscellaneous Laws]

<sup>10</sup>“When you make your neighbor a loan of any sort, you shall not go into his house to collect his pledge. <sup>11</sup>You shall stand outside, and the man to whom you make the loan shall bring the pledge out to you. <sup>12</sup>And if he is a poor man, you shall not sleep in his pledge. <sup>13</sup>You shall restore to him the pledge as the sun sets, that he may sleep in his cloak and bless you. And it shall be righteousness for you before the LORD your God.

<sup>17</sup>“You shall not pervert the justice due to the sojourner or to the fatherless, or take a widow’s garment in pledge, <sup>18</sup>but you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt and the LORD your God redeemed you from there; therefore I command you to do this.

<sup>19</sup>“When you reap your harvest in your field and forget a sheaf in the field, you shall not go back to get it. It shall be for the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands. <sup>20</sup>When you beat your olive trees, you shall not go over them again. It shall be for the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow. <sup>21</sup>When you gather the grapes of your vineyard, you shall not strip it afterward. It shall be for the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow. <sup>22</sup>You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt; therefore I command you to do this.

<sup>25:1</sup>“If there is a dispute between men and they come into court and the judges decide between them, acquitting the innocent and condemning the guilty, <sup>2</sup>then if the guilty man deserves to be beaten, the judge shall cause him to lie down and be beaten in his presence with a number of stripes in proportion to his offense. <sup>3</sup>Forty stripes may be given him, but not more, lest, if one should go on to beat him with more stripes than these, your brother be degraded in your sight.

Laws Concerning Levirate Marriage

<sup>5</sup>“If brothers dwell together, and one of them dies and has no son, the wife of the dead man shall not be married outside the family to a stranger. Her husband’s brother shall go in to her and take her as his wife and perform the duty of a husband’s brother to her. <sup>6</sup>And the first son whom she bears shall succeed to the name of his dead brother, that his name may not be blotted out of Israel. <sup>7</sup>And if the man does not wish to take his brother’s wife, then his brother’s wife shall go up to the gate to the elders and say, ‘My husband’s brother refuses to perpetuate his brother’s name in Israel; he will not perform the duty of a husband’s brother to me.’ <sup>8</sup>Then the elders of his city shall call him and speak to him, and if he persists, saying, ‘I do not wish to take her,’ <sup>9</sup>then his brother’s wife shall go up to him in the presence of the elders and pull his sandal off his foot and spit in his face. And she shall answer and say, ‘So shall it be done to the man who does not build up his brother’s house.’ <sup>10</sup>And the name of his house shall be called in Israel, ‘The house of him who had his sandal pulled off.’”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 16:13–28

Peter Confesses Jesus as the Christ

one of the prophets.” <sup>15</sup>He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?” <sup>16</sup>Simon Peter replied, “You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.” <sup>17</sup>And Jesus answered him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah! For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven. <sup>18</sup>And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. <sup>19</sup>I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.” <sup>20</sup>Then he strictly charged the disciples to tell no one that he was the Christ.

Jesus Foretells His Death and Resurrection

<sup>21</sup>From that time Jesus began to show his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised. <sup>22</sup>And Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him, saying, “Far be it from you, Lord! This shall never happen to you.” <sup>23</sup>But he turned and said to Peter, “Get behind me, Satan! You are a hindrance to me. For you are not setting your mind on the things of God, but on the things of man.”

Take Up Your Cross and Follow Jesus

<sup>24</sup>Then Jesus told his disciples, “If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. <sup>25</sup>For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it. <sup>26</sup>For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world and forfeits his soul? Or what shall a man give in return for his soul? <sup>27</sup>For the Son of Man is going to come with his angels in the glory of his Father, and then he will repay each person according to what he has done. <sup>28</sup>Truly, I say to you, there are some standing here who will not taste death until they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom.”

Writing

It is not we who build. [Christ] builds the church. No man builds the church but Christ alone. Whoever is minded to build the church is surely well on the way to destroying it; for he will build a temple to idols without wishing or knowing it. We must confess—he builds. We must proclaim—he builds. We must pray to him—that he may build.

We do not know his plan. We cannot see whether he is building or pulling down. It may be that the times which by human standards are times of collapse are for him the great times of construction. It may be that the times which from a human point of view are great times for the church are times when it is pulled down.

It is a great comfort which Christ gives to his church: you confess, preach, bear witness to me and I alone will build where it pleases me. Do not meddle in what is my province. Do what is given to you to do well and you have done enough. But do it well. Pay no heed to views and opinions. Don't ask for judgments. Don't always be calculating what will happen. Don't always be on the lookout for another refuge! Church, stay a church! But church, confess, confess, confess! Christ alone is your Lord; from his grace alone can you live as you are. Christ builds.

—Dietrich Bonhoeffer

Hymnody

Lord Jesus Christ, the Church's head,
You are her one foundation;
In You she trusts, before You bows,
And waits for Your salvation.

Built on this rock secure,
Your Church shall endure
Though all the world decay
And all things pass away.

O hear, O hear us, Jesus!

Head (LSB 647:1)

Prayer of the Day

Heavenly Father, shepherd of Your people, You raised up James the Just, brother of our Lord, to lead and guide Your Church. Grant that we may follow his example of prayer and reconciliation and be strengthened by the witness of his death; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F31)

St. James of Jerusalem, Bishop and Martyr

St. James of Jerusalem (or “James the Just”) is referred to by St. Paul as “the Lord’s brother” (Galatians 1:19). Some modern theologians believe that James was a son of Joseph and Mary and, therefore, a biological brother of Jesus. But throughout most of the Church (historically, and even today), Paul’s term “brother” is understood as “cousin” or “kinsman,” and James is thought to be the son of a sister of Joseph or Mary who was widowed and had come to live with them. Along with other relatives of our Lord (except His mother), James did not believe in Jesus until after His resurrection (John 7:3–5; 1 Corinthians 15:7). After becoming a Christian, James was elevated to a position of leadership within the earliest Christian community. Especially following St. Peter's departure from Jerusalem, James was recognized as the bishop of the Church in that holy city (Acts 12:17; 15:12ff.). According to the historian Josephus, James was martyred in AD 62 by being stoned to death by the Sadducees. James authored the Epistle in the New Testament that bears his name. In it, he exhorts his readers to remain steadfast in the one true faith, even in the face of suffering and temptation, and to live by faith the life that is in Christ Jesus. Such a faith, he makes clear, is a busy and active thing, which never ceases to do good, to confess the Gospel by words and actions, and to stake its life, both now and forever, in the cross.

Offerings of Firstfruits and Tithes

<sup>26:1</sup>“When you come into the land that
the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance and have taken possession of it and live in it, <sup>2</sup>you shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground, which you harvest from your land that the LORD your God is giving you, and you shall put it in a basket, and you shall go to the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name to dwell there. <sup>3</sup>And you shall go to the priest who is in office at that time and say to him, 'I declare today to the LORD your God that I have come into the land that the LORD swore to our fathers to give us.' <sup>4</sup>Then the priest shall take the basket from your hand and set it down before the altar of the LORD your God.

<sup>5</sup>"And you shall make response before the LORD your God, 'A wandering Aramean was my father. And he went down into Egypt and sojourned there, few in number, and there he became a nation, great, mighty, and populous. <sup>6</sup>And the Egyptians treated us harshly and humiliated us and laid on us hard labor. <sup>7</sup>Then we cried to the LORD, the God of our fathers, and the LORD heard our voice and saw our affliction, our toil, and our oppression. <sup>8</sup>And the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, with great deeds of terror, with signs and wonders. <sup>9</sup>And he brought us into this place and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey. <sup>10</sup>And behold, now I bring the first of the fruit of the ground, which you, O LORD, have given me.' And you shall set it down before the LORD your God and worship before the Lord your God. <sup>11</sup>And you shall rejoice in all the good that the LORD your God has given to you and to your house, you, and the Levite, and the sojourner who is among you.

is the year of tithing, giving it to the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, so that they may eat within your towns and be filled, <sup>13</sup>then you shall say before the LORD your God, 'I have removed the sacred portion out of my house, and moreover, I have given it to the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, according to all your commandment that you have commanded me. I have not transgressed any of your commandments, nor have I forgotten them. <sup>14</sup>I have not eaten of the tithe while I was mourning, or removed any of it while I was unclean, or offered any of it to the dead. I have obeyed the voice of the LORD my God. I have done according to all that you have commanded me. <sup>15</sup>Look down from your holy habitation, from heaven, and bless your people Israel and the ground that you have given us, as you swore to our fathers, a land flowing with milk and honey.'

<sup>16</sup>"This day the LORD your God commands you to do these statutes and rules. You shall therefore be careful to do them with all your heart and with all your soul. <sup>17</sup>You have declared today that the LORD is your God, and that you will walk in his ways, and keep his statutes and his commandments and his rules, and will obey his voice. <sup>18</sup>And the Lord has declared today that you are a people for his treasured possession, as he has promised you, and that you are to keep all his commandments, <sup>19</sup>and that he will set you in praise and in fame and in honor high above all nations that he has made, and that you shall be a people holy to the LORD your God, as he promised."

The Transfiguration

<sup>1</sup>And after six days Jesus took with him Peter and James, and John his brother, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. <sup>2</sup>And he was transfigured before them, and his face shone like the sun, and his clothes became white as light. <sup>3</sup>And behold, there appeared to them Moses and Elijah, talking with him. <sup>4</sup>And Peter said to Jesus, “Lord, it is good that we are here. If you wish, I will make three tents here, one for you and one for Moses and one for Elijah.” <sup>5</sup>He was still speaking when, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and a voice from the cloud said, “This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him.” <sup>6</sup>When the disciples heard this, they fell on their faces and were terrified. <sup>7</sup>But Jesus came and touched them, saying, “Rise, and have no fear.” <sup>8</sup>And when they lifted up their eyes, they saw no one but Jesus only. <sup>9</sup>And as they were coming down the mountain, Jesus commanded them, “Tell no one the vision, until the Son of Man is raised from the dead.” <sup>10</sup>And the disciples asked him, “Then why do the scribes say that first Elijah must come?” <sup>11</sup>He answered, “Elijah does come, and he will restore all things. <sup>12</sup>But I tell you that Elijah has already come, and they did not recognize him, but did to him whatever they pleased. So also the Son of Man will certainly suffer at their hands.” <sup>13</sup>Then the disciples understood that he was speaking to them of John the Baptist.

Writing

Faith ought to lay hold on Christ as God and man in that nature by which He has been made our neighbor, kinsman, and brother. For the life which belongs to the deity resides in and has in a sense been placed in the assumed humanity. The adversaries teach that faith ought to turn itself away from the present celebration of the Supper and in its thoughts ascend above all heavens and there seek and embrace Christ in His majesty. . . . But the proper, simple, and natural meaning of the words of institution teaches that Christ Himself is present with us in the celebration of the Supper with both His deity and His flesh, and that He comes to us in order to lay hold on us (Phil. 3:12) and join us to Himself as intimately as possible. This brings us sweetest comfort. For Christ, both God and man, must lay hold on us in order that there may be a union between Him and us. But we, weighed down by the burden of sin and pressed under the weight of our infirmity, are not yet able to enter the secret places of heaven (Col. 2:18) and penetrate to Him in glory. He Himself therefore comes to us in order to lay hold upon us with that nature by which He is our Brother. And because our weakness in this life cannot bear the glory of His majesty (Matt. 17:2ff; Acts 9:3 ff.) therefore His body and blood are present, distributed, and received under the bread and wine.

—Martin Chemnitz

The Altar on Mount Ebal

<sup>1</sup>Now Moses and the elders of Israel commanded the people, saying, “Keep the whole commandment that I command you today. <sup>2</sup>And on the day you cross over the Jordan to the land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall set up large stones and plaster them with plaster. <sup>3</sup>And you shall write on them all the words of this law, when you cross over to enter the land that the LORD your God is giving you, a land flowing with milk and honey, as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has promised you. <sup>4</sup>And when you have crossed over the Jordan, you shall set up these stones, concerning which I command you today, on Mount Ebal, and you shall plaster them with plaster. <sup>5</sup>And there you shall build an altar to the LORD your God, an altar of stones. And you shall offer burnt offerings on it to the LORD your God, <sup>7</sup>and you shall sacrifice peace offerings and shall eat there, and you shall rejoice before the LORD your God. <sup>8</sup>And you shall write on the stones all the words of this law very plainly.”

Curses from Mount Ebal

<sup>9</sup>Then Moses and the Levitical priests said to all Israel, “Keep silence and hear, O Israel: this day you have become the people

<sup>20</sup>“Cursed be anyone who lies with his father’s wife, because he has uncovered his father’s nakedness.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

<sup>21</sup>“Cursed be anyone who lies with any kind of animal.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

or the daughter of his mother.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

<sup>25</sup>“Cursed be anyone who takes a bribe to shed innocent blood.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

<sup>26</sup>“Cursed be anyone who does not confirm the words of this law by doing them.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’”

Jesus Heals a Boy with a Demon

<sup>14</sup>And when they came to the crowd, a man came up to him and, kneeling before him, <sup>15</sup>said, “Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is an epileptic and he suffers terribly. For often he falls into the fire, and often into the water. <sup>16</sup>And I brought him to your disciples, and they could not heal him.” <sup>17</sup>And Jesus answered, “O faithless and twisted generation, how long am I to be with you? How long am I to bear with you? Bring him here to me.” <sup>18</sup>And Jesus rebuked the demon, and it came out of him, and the boy was healed instantly. <sup>19</sup>Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, “Why could we not cast it out?” <sup>20</sup>He said to them, “Because of your little faith. For truly, I say to you, if you have faith like a grain of mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, ‘Move from here to there,’ and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you.”

Jesus Again Foretells Death, Resurrection

<sup>22</sup>As they were gathering in Galilee, Jesus said to them, “The Son of Man is about to be delivered into the hands of men, <sup>23</sup>and they will kill him, and he will be raised on the third day.” And they were greatly distressed.

The Temple Tax

<sup>24</sup>When they came to Capernaum, the collectors of the two-drachma tax went up to Peter and said, “Does your teacher not pay the tax?” <sup>25</sup>He said, “Yes.” And when he came into the house, Jesus spoke to him first, saying, “What do you think, Simon? From whom do kings of the earth take toll or tax? From their sons or from others?” <sup>26</sup>And when he said, “From others,” Jesus said to him, “Then the sons are free. <sup>27</sup>However, not to give offense to them, go to the sea and cast a hook and take the first fish that comes up, and when you open its mouth you will find a shekel. Take that and give it to them for me and for yourself.”

Writing

One can say that in Christianity the extraordinary has become ordinary, but also that the ordinary has become extraordinary, the usual unusual, the common uncommon, that what all do has been transformed into a real priestly work and to a sacrifice that is offered to the most high God. . . . [T]he Lord Jesus was followed by a number of women whose names have come down to us. Kings are forgotten, emperors have fallen into the dust, and there is no one to remember them; the names of these women, however, are still being mentioned. There are only a few things we know about them, and what is said seems insignificant to us. They made offerings to the Son of Man from what they had . . .

provided such little services, as he deserved before all others. But because the common has become uncommon, thus these names are written in the Book of books.

. . . I said that because of Christianity the uncommon has become common and the common uncommon the Spirit and the purpose and way it was done. . . . I point to Christ according to Matthew 25. What does he say there by separating the sheep from the goats? Whom does he praise? Whom does he reproach? Whom does he call to inherit the Kingdom of his Father? Does he call the heroes, who accomplished great things, the kings with their crowns and those who struck with their great swords and brought about great changes upon earth? What does he do? He names and praises the same common things that I have said Christianity has made uncommon. He says: “I was hungry” and so forth—“come, you blessed of my Father” (Mt 25:34). . . . Thus, he asks for the food, for the drink, for the gift of oil and wine. He asks for all these common things, which I have said have become uncommon through his Spirit.

Almighty God, You stirred to compassion the hearts of Your dear servants Dorcas, Lydia, and Phoebe to uphold and sustain Your Church by their devoted and charitable deeds. Give us the same will to love You, open our eyes to see You in the least ones, and strengthen our hands to serve You in others, for the sake of Your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1101)

Dorcas, Lydia, and Phoebe, Faithful Women

These women were exemplary Christians who demonstrated their faith by their material support of the Church. Dorcas (also known as Tabitha) was well-known and much loved for her acts of charity in the city of Joppa, especially for making clothes for the poor. When Dorcas died suddenly, the members of her congregation sent to the neighboring city of Lydda for the apostle Peter, who came and raised her from the dead (Acts 9:36–41). Lydia was a woman of Thyatira, who worked at Philippi selling a famous purple dye that was much in demand in the ancient world. She was also a “worshiper of God” at the local synagogue (Acts 16:14). When the apostle Paul encountered her in prayer among other proselyte women, his preaching of the Word brought Lydia to faith in Christ. She and her friends thus became the nucleus of the Christian community in Philippi (Acts 16:13–15, 40). Phoebe was another faithful woman associated with the apostle Paul. She was a deaconess from Cenchreae (the port of Corinth) whom Paul sent to the Church in Rome with his Epistle to the Romans. In it, he writes of her support for the work of the Early Church (Romans 16:1–2).

Blessings for Obedience

<sup>1</sup>“And if you faithfully obey the voice of the LORD your God, being careful to do all his commandments that I command you today, the LORD your God will set you high above all the nations of the earth. <sup>2</sup>And all these blessings shall come upon you and overtake you, if you obey the voice of the LORD your God. <sup>3</sup>Blessed shall you be in the city, and blessed shall you be in the field.

<sup>7</sup>“The LORD will cause your enemies who rise against you to be defeated before you. They shall come out against you one way and flee before you seven ways. <sup>8</sup>The LORD will command the blessing on you in your barns and in all that you undertake. And he will bless you in the land that the LORD your God is giving you. <sup>9</sup>The LORD will establish you as a people holy to himself, as he has sworn to you, if you keep the commandments of the LORD your God and walk in his ways. <sup>10</sup>And all the peoples of the earth shall see that you are called by the name of the LORD, and they shall be afraid of you. <sup>11</sup>And the LORD will make you abound in prosperity, in the fruit of your womb and in the fruit of your livestock and in the fruit of your ground, within the land that the LORD swore to your fathers to give you. <sup>12</sup>The LORD will open to you his good treasury, the heavens, to give the rain to your land in its season and to bless all the work of your hands.

And you shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow. <sup>13</sup>And the LORD will make you the head and not the tail, and you shall only go up and not down, if you obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you today, being careful to do them, <sup>14</sup>and if you do not turn aside from any of the words that I command you today, to the right hand or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

Curses for Disobedience

<sup>15</sup>“But if you will not obey the voice of the LORD your God or be careful to do all his commandments and his statutes that I command you today, then all these curses shall come upon you and overtake you.

<sup>16</sup>Cursed shall you be in the city, and cursed shall you be in the field. <sup>17</sup>Cursed shall be your basket and your kneading bowl.

<sup>18</sup>Cursed shall be the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, the increase of your herds and the young of your flock. <sup>19</sup>Cursed shall you be when you come in, and cursed shall you be when you go out.

<sup>20</sup>“The LORD will send on you curses, confusion, and frustration in all that you undertake to do, until you are destroyed and perish quickly on account of the evil of your deeds, because you have forsaken me.

<sup>21</sup>The LORD will make the pestilence stick to you until he has consumed you off the land that you are entering to take possession of it. <sup>22</sup>The LORD will strike you with wasting disease and with fever, inflammation and fiery heat, and with drought and with blight and with mildew. They shall pursue you until you perish.”

Who Is the Greatest?

<sup>1</sup>At that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?” <sup>2</sup>And calling to him a child, he put him in the midst of them <sup>3</sup>and said, “Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. <sup>4</sup>Whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

<sup>5</sup>“Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, <sup>6</sup>but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea.

Temptations to Sin

<sup>7</sup>“Woe to the world for temptations to sin! For it is necessary that temptations come, but woe to the one by whom the temptation comes! <sup>8</sup>And if your hand or your foot causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life crippled or lame than with two hands or two feet to be thrown into the eternal fire. <sup>9</sup>And if your eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life with one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into the hell of fire.

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

<sup>10</sup>“See that you do not despise one of these little ones. For I tell you that in heaven their angels always see the face of my Father who is in heaven. <sup>12</sup>What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep, and one of them has gone astray, does he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountains and go in search of the one that went astray? <sup>13</sup>And if he finds it, truly, I say to you, he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that never went astray. <sup>14</sup>So it is not the will of my Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

If Your Brother Sins Against You

<sup>15</sup>“If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. <sup>16</sup>But if he does not listen, take one or two others along with you, that every charge may be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses. <sup>17</sup>If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church. And if he refuses to listen even to the church, let him be to you as a Gentile and a tax collector.

<sup>18</sup>Truly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

<sup>19</sup>Again I say to you, if two of you agree on earth about anything they ask, it will be done for them by my Father in heaven. <sup>20</sup>For where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I among them.”

Writing

False doctrine of the Reformed and other sects: That a preacher does not have power to forgive sins in the place of God but should only proclaim the forgiveness of sins in general. Against this the Lutheran Church teaches according to God’s Word (John 20:32; 2 Corinthians 2:10; 2 Samuel 12:13; Matthew 3:6; 18:17–20): The preacher can and should, at Christ’s command and in Christ’s place, forgive the sins of him who desires this forgiveness, and the Christian should consider that “his sins are thereby forgiven before God in heaven.” For the Absolution is “not the voice of the man who is present, but the Word of God who here forgives the sin.” It is chiefly for the sake of this comforting Absolution that we Lutherans retain private Confession, in exchange for which Luther would not accept a thousand worlds.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, the apostle Paul taught us to praise You in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs. We thank You this day for those who have given to Your Church great hymns, especially Your servants Philipp Nicolai, Johann Heermann, and Paul Gerhardt. May Your Church never lack hymnwriters who through their words and music give You praise. Fill us with the desire to praise and thank You for Your great goodness; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1102)

Philipp Nicolai, Johann Heermann, and Paul Gerhardt, Hymnwriters

Philipp Nicolai (1556–1608) was a pastor in Germany during the Great Plague, which took the lives of thirteen hundred of his parishioners during a sixth-month period. In addition to his heroic pastoral ministry during that time of stress and sorrow, he wrote the texts for “Wake, Awake, for Night Is Flying” and “O Morning Star, How Fair and Bright,” known, respectively, as the king and queen of the Lutheran chorales. Johann Heermann (1585–1647), also a German pastor, suffered from poor health as well as from the ravages of the Thirty Years’ War (1618–1648). His hymn texts are noted for their tenderness and depth of feeling. Paul Gerhardt (1607–1676) was another Lutheran pastor who endured the horrors of the Thirty Years’ War. By 1668, he had lost his pastoral position in Berlin (for refusing to compromise his Lutheran convictions) and endured the death of four of his five children and his wife. He nevertheless managed to write 133 hymns, all of which reflect his firm faith. Along with Martin Luther, he is regarded as one of Lutheranism’s finest hymnwriters.

The Covenant Renewed in Moab

<sup>1</sup>These are the words of the covenant that the LORD commanded Moses to make with the people of Israel in the land of Moab, besides the covenant that he had made with them at Horeb.

<sup>2</sup>And Moses summoned all Israel and said to them: “You have seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh and to all his servants and to all his land, <sup>3</sup>the great trials that your eyes saw, the signs, and those great wonders.

<sup>4</sup>But to this day the LORD has not given you a heart to understand or eyes to see or ears to hear. <sup>5</sup>I have led you forty years in the wilderness. Your clothes have not worn out on you, and your sandals have not worn off your feet. <sup>6</sup>You have not eaten bread, and you have not drunk wine or strong drink, that you may know that I am the LORD your God.

<sup>7</sup>And when you came to this place, Sihon the king of Heshbon and Og the king of Bashan came out against us to battle, but we defeated them. <sup>8</sup>We took their land and gave it for an inheritance to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of the Manassites.

<sup>10</sup>“You are standing today all of you before the LORD your God: the heads of your tribes, your elders, and your officers, all the men of Israel, <sup>11</sup>your little ones, your wives, and the sojourner who is in your camp, from the one who chops your wood to the one who draws your water, <sup>12</sup>so that you may enter into the sworn covenant of the LORD your God, which the LORD your God is making with you today, <sup>13</sup>that he may establish you today as his people, and that he may be your God, as he promised you, and as he swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. <sup>14</sup>It is not with you alone that I am making this sworn covenant, <sup>15</sup>but with whoever is standing here with us today before the LORD our God, and with whoever is not here with us today.

<sup>17</sup>And you have seen their detestable things, their idols of wood and stone, of silver and gold, which were among them. <sup>18</sup>Beware lest there be among you a man or woman or clan or tribe whose heart is turning away today from the LORD our God to go and serve the gods of those nations. Beware lest there be among you a root bearing poisonous and bitter fruit, <sup>19</sup>one who, when he hears the words of this sworn covenant, blesses himself in his heart, saying, 'I shall be safe, though I walk in the stubbornness of my heart.' This will lead to the sweeping away of moist and dry alike. <sup>20</sup>The LORD will not be willing to forgive him, but rather the anger of the LORD and his jealousy will smoke against that man, and the curses written in this book will settle upon him, and the LORD will blot out his name from under heaven. <sup>21</sup>And the LORD will single him out from all the tribes of Israel for calamity, in accordance with all the curses of the covenant written in this Book of the Law. <sup>22</sup>And the next generation, your children who rise up after you, and the foreigner who comes from a far land, will say, when they see the afflictions of that land and the sicknesses with which the LORD has made it sick—<sup>23</sup>the whole land burned out with brimstone and salt, nothing sown and nothing growing, where no plant can sprout, an overthrow like that of Sodom and Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboiim, which the Lord overthrew in his anger and wrath—<sup>24</sup>all the nations will say, 'Why has the Lord done thus to this land? What caused the heat of this great anger?' <sup>25</sup>Then people will say, 'It is because they abandoned the covenant of the LORD, the God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them out of the land of Egypt, <sup>26</sup>and went and served other gods and worshiped them, gods whom they had not known and whom he had not allotted to them. <sup>27</sup>Therefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against this land, bringing upon it all the curses written in this book, <sup>28</sup>and the LORD uprooted them from their land in anger and fury and great wrath, and cast them into another land, as they are this day.'

<sup>29</sup>"The secret things belong to the LORD our God, but the things that are revealed belong to us and to our children forever, that we may do all the words of this law."

New Testament Reading: Matthew 18:21–35

The Parable of the Unforgiving Servant

<sup>21</sup>Then Peter came up and said to him, "Lord, how often will my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times?" <sup>22</sup>Jesus said to him, "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven.

<sup>23</sup>"Therefore the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who wished to settle accounts with his servants. <sup>24</sup>When he began to settle, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents. <sup>25</sup>And since he could not pay, his master ordered him to be sold, with his wife and children and all that he had, and payment to be made. <sup>26</sup>So the servant fell on his knees, imploring him, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you everything.' <sup>27</sup>And out of pity for him, the master of that servant released him and forgave him the debt. <sup>28</sup>But when that same servant went out, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii, and seizing him, he began to choke him, saying, 'Pay what you owe.' <sup>29</sup>So his fellow servant fell down and pleaded with him, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you.' <sup>30</sup>He refused and went and put him in prison until he should pay the debt. <sup>31</sup>When his fellow servants saw what had taken place, they were greatly distressed, and they went and reported to their master all that had taken place. <sup>32</sup>Then his master summoned him and said to him, 'You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me. <sup>33</sup>And should not you have had mercy on your fellow servant, as I had mercy on you?<sup>34</sup> And in anger his master delivered him to the jailers, until he should pay all his debt. <sup>35</sup>So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother from your heart.”

Writing

If the mass is a promise, as has been said, then access to it is to be gained, not with any works, or powers, or merits of one’s own, but by faith alone. For where there is the Word of the promising God, there must necessarily be the faith of the accepting man. It is plain therefore, that the beginning of our salvation is a faith which clings to the Word of the promising God, who, without any effort on our part, in free and unmerited mercy takes the initiative and offers us the word of his promise. “He sent forth his word, and thus [sic] healed them,” not: “He accepted our work, and thus healed us.” First of all there is God’s Word. After it follows faith; after faith, love; then love does every good work, for it does no wrong, indeed, it is the fulfilling of the law [Rom. 13:10]. In no other way can man come to God or deal with him than through faith. That is to say, that the author of salvation is not man, by any works of his own, but God, through his promise; and that all things depend on, and are upheld and preserved by, the word of his power [Heb. 1:3], through which he brought us forth, to be a kind of first fruits of his creatures [Jas. 1:18].

Repentance and Forgiveness

<sup>1</sup>“And when all these things come upon you, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before you, and you call them to mind among all the nations where the LORD your God has driven you, <sup>2</sup>and return to the LORD your God, you and your children, and obey his voice in all that I command you today, with all your heart and with all your soul, <sup>3</sup>then the LORD your God will restore your fortunes and have compassion on you, and he will gather you again from all the peoples where the LORD your God has scattered you. <sup>4</sup>If your outcasts are in the uttermost parts of heaven, from there the LORD your God will gather you, and from there he will take you. <sup>5</sup>And the LORD your God will bring you into the land that your fathers possessed, that you may possess it. And he will make you more prosperous and numerous than your fathers. <sup>6</sup>And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. <sup>7</sup>And the LORD your God will put all these curses on your foes and enemies who persecuted you. <sup>8</sup>And you shall again obey the voice of the LORD and keep all his commandments that I command you today. <sup>9</sup>The LORD your God will make you abundantly prosperous in all the work of your hand, in the fruit of your womb and in the fruit of your cattle and in the fruit of your ground. For the LORD will again take delight in prospering you, as he took delight in your fathers, <sup>10</sup>when you obey the voice of the LORD your God, to keep his commandments and his statutes that are written in this Book of the Law, when you turn to the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

The Choice of Life and Death

<sup>11</sup>“For this commandment that I command you today is not too hard for you, neither is it far off. <sup>12</sup>It is not in heaven, that you should say, ‘Who will ascend to heaven for us and bring it to us, that we may hear it and do it?’ <sup>13</sup>Neither is it beyond the sea, that you should say, ‘Who will go over the sea for us and bring it to us, that we may hear it and do it?’ <sup>14</sup>But the word is very near you. It is in your mouth and in your heart, so that you can do it.

<sup>15</sup>“See, I have set before you today life and good, death and evil. <sup>16</sup>If you obey the commandments of the LORD your God that I command you today, by loving the LORD your God, by walking in his ways, and by keeping his commandments and his statutes and his rules, then you shall live and multiply, and the LORD your God will bless you in the land that you are entering to take possession of it. <sup>17</sup>But if your heart turns away, and you will not hear, but are drawn away to worship other gods and serve them, <sup>18</sup>I declare to you today, that you shall surely perish. You shall not live long in the land that you are going over the Jordan to enter and possess. <sup>19</sup>I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and curse. Therefore choose life, that you and your offspring may live, <sup>20</sup>loving the LORD your God, obeying his voice and holding fast to him, for he is your life and length of days, that you may dwell in the land that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 19:1–15

Teaching About Divorce

<sup>3</sup>And Pharisees came up to him and tested him by asking, “Is it lawful to divorce one’s wife for any cause?” <sup>4</sup>He answered, “Have you not read that he who created them from the beginning made them male and female, <sup>5</sup>and said, ‘Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh’? <sup>6</sup>So they are no longer two but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate.” <sup>7</sup>They said to him, “Why then did Moses command one to give a certificate of divorce and to send her away?” <sup>8</sup>He said to them, “Because of your hardness of heart Moses allowed you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it was not so. <sup>9</sup>And I say to you: whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery.”

<sup>10</sup>The disciples said to him, “If such is the case of a man with his wife, it is better not to marry.” <sup>11</sup>But he said to them, “Not everyone can receive this saying, but only those to whom it is given. <sup>12</sup>For there are eunuchs who have been so from birth, and there are eunuchs who have been made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who have made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Let the one who is able to receive this receive it.”

Let the Children Come to Me

<sup>13</sup>Then children were brought to him that he might lay his hands on them and pray. The disciples rebuked the people, <sup>14</sup>but Jesus said, “Let the little children come to me and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven.” <sup>15</sup>And he laid his hands on them and went away.

Writing

The Gospel speaks of righteousness, salvation, and eternal life. The law of Moses clearly says in Deut. 30:19, “I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing”; cf. Rom. 7:10. These statements must not be understood as applying only to the concerns of this life, for in Luke 10:25ff., when the scribe says, “What shall I do to gain eternal life?” Christ replies, “What is written in the Law . . . this do and you shall live.”

Therefore, what is the difference between the doctrine of the Law and that of the Gospel? . . . The Law sets forth righteousness, salvation, and eternal life, to be sure, but on the condition that “He who does these things shall live by them,” Rom. 10:5; cf. Matt. 19:17; Luke 10:28; Rom. 2:13. Therefore it is the heart of the doctrine of the Law that good works are necessary for salvation, so that without them it is impossible for a person to be saved.

Because this is impossible for the Law in that “it was weak through the flesh,” Rom. 8:3, and thus had become the “ministration” of sin, death, and condemnation, 2 Cor. 3:7, therefore the Gospel offers us righteousness, salvation, and eternal life apart from our works, freely, for the sake of the obedience of the Son of God our Mediator, to be received by faith alone, Rom. 4:5 and Gal. 3:22.

—Martin Chemnitz

Hymnody

By Christ redeemed, may Christ revere;
Lead us in joy that all we do
Will witness to our love for You.

—Lord Jesus Christ, the Children’s

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, You chose Your servants Simon and Jude to be numbered among the glorious company of the apostles. As they were faithful and zealous in their mission, so may we with ardent devotion make known the love and mercy of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F32)

St. Simon and St. Jude, Apostles

In the lists of the twelve apostles (Matthew 10:2–4; Mark 3:16–19; Luke 6:14–16; Acts 1:13), the tenth and eleventh places are occupied by Simon the Zealot (or “Canaanite”) and by Jude (or “Judas,” not Iscariot but “of James”), who was apparently known also as Thaddaeus. According to early Christian tradition, Simon and Jude journeyed together as missionaries to Persia, where they were martyred. It is likely for this reason, at least in part, that these two apostles are commemorated on the same day. Simon is not mentioned in the New Testament apart from the lists of the twelve apostles. Thus, he is remembered and honored for the sake of his office, and thereby stands before us—in eternity, as in his life and ministry on earth—in the name and stead of Christ Jesus, our Lord. We give thanks to God for calling and sending Simon, along with Jude and all of the apostles, to preach and teach the Holy Gospel, to proclaim repentance and forgiveness, and to baptize in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit (John 4:1–2; Matthew 10; 28:16–20; Luke 24:46–49).

Jude appears in John’s Gospel (14:22) on the night of our Lord’s betrayal and the beginning of His Passion, asking Jesus how it is that He will manifest Himself to the disciples but not to the world. The answer that Jesus gives to this question is a pertinent emphasis for this festival day: “If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word, and My Father will love him, and We will come to him and make Our home with him” (John 14:23). Surely both Jude and Simon exemplified, in life and death, their love for Jesus and their faith in His Word. Not only are we thus strengthened in our Christian faith and life by their example, but, above all, we are encouraged by the faithfulness of the Lord in keeping His promise to them to bring them home to Himself in heaven. There they live with Him forever, where we shall someday join them.

Joshua to Succeed Moses

<sup>1</sup>So Moses continued to speak these words to all Israel. <sup>2</sup>And he said to them, “I am 120 years old today. I am no longer able to go out and come in. The LORD has said to me, ‘You shall not go over this Jordan.’ <sup>3</sup>The LORD your God himself will go over before you. He will destroy these nations before you, so that you shall dispossess them, and Joshua will go over at your head, as the LORD has spoken.

<sup>4</sup>And the LORD will do to them as he did to Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites, and to their land, when he destroyed them. <sup>5</sup>And the LORD will give them over to you, and you shall do to them according to the whole commandment that I have commanded you. <sup>6</sup>Be strong and courageous. Do not fear or be in dread of them, for it is the LORD your God who goes with you. He will not leave you or forsake you.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Moses summoned Joshua and said to him in the sight of all Israel, “Be strong and courageous, for you shall go with this people into the land that the LORD has sworn to their fathers to give them, and you shall put them in possession of it. <sup>8</sup>It is the LORD who goes before you. He will be with you; he will not leave you or forsake you. Do not fear or be dismayed.”

The Reading of the Law

<sup>9</sup>Then Moses wrote this law and gave it to the priests, the sons of Levi, who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and to all the elders of Israel. <sup>10</sup>And Moses commanded them, “At the end of every seven years, at the set time in the year of release, at the Feast of Booths, <sup>11</sup>when all Israel comes to appear before the LORD your God at the place that he will choose, you shall read this law before all Israel in their hearing. <sup>12</sup>Assemble the people, men, women, and little ones, and the sojourner within your towns, that they may hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, and be careful to do all the words of this law, <sup>13</sup>and that their children, who have not known it, may hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, as long as you live in the land that you are going over the Jordan to possess.”

Joshua Commissioned to Lead Israel

<sup>14</sup>And the LORD said to Moses, “Behold, the days approach when you must die. Call Joshua and present yourselves in the tent of meeting, that I may commission him.”

And Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves in the tent of meeting. <sup>15</sup>And the LORD appeared in the tent in a pillar of cloud. And the pillar of cloud stood over the entrance of the tent.

<sup>16</sup>And the LORD said to Moses, “Behold, you are about to lie down with your fathers. Then this people will rise and whore after the foreign gods among them in the land that they are entering, and they will forsake me and break my covenant that I have made with them. <sup>17</sup>Then my anger will be kindled against them in that day, and I will forsake them and hide my face from them, and they will be devoured. And many evils and troubles will come upon them, so that they will say in that day, ‘Have not these evils come upon us because our God is not among us?’ <sup>18</sup>And I will surely hide my face in that day because of all the evil that they have done, because they have turned to other gods.

<sup>19</sup>“Now therefore write this song and teach it to the people of Israel. Put it in their mouths, that this song may be a witness for me against the people of Israel. <sup>20</sup>For when I have brought them into the land flowing with milk and honey, which I swore to give to their fathers, and they have eaten and are full and grown fat, they will turn to other gods and serve them, and despise me and break my covenant. <sup>21</sup>And when many evils and troubles have come upon them, this song shall confront them as a witness (for it will live unforgotten in the mouths of their offspring). For I know what they are inclined to do even today, before I have brought them into the land that I swore to give.” <sup>22</sup>So Moses wrote this song the same day and taught it to the people of Israel.

<sup>23</sup>And the LORD commissioned Joshua the son of Nun and said, “Be strong and courageous, for you shall bring the people of Israel into the land that I swore to give them. I will be with you.”

<sup>24</sup>When Moses had finished writing the words of this law in a book to the very end, <sup>25</sup>Moses commanded the Levites who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, <sup>26</sup>“Take this Book of the Law and put it by the side of the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may be there for a witness against you. <sup>27</sup>For I know how rebellious and stubborn you are. Behold, even today while I am yet alive with you, you have been rebellious against the LORD. How much more after my death! <sup>28</sup>Assemble to me all the elders of your tribes and your officers, that I may speak these words in their ears and call heaven and earth to witness against them. <sup>29</sup>For I know that after my death you will surely act corruptly and turn aside from the way that I have commanded you. And in the days to come evil will befall you, because you will do what is evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger through the work of your hands.”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 19:16–30

The Rich Young Man

<sup>16</sup>And behold, a man came up to him, saying, “Teacher, what good deed must I do to have eternal life?” <sup>17</sup>And he said to him, “Why do you ask me about what is good? There is only one who is good. If you would enter life, keep the commandments.” <sup>18</sup>He said to him, “Which ones?” And Jesus said, “You shall not murder, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not steal, You shall not bear false witness, <sup>19</sup>Honor your father and mother, and, You shall love your neighbor as yourself.” <sup>20</sup>The young man said to him, “All these I have kept. What do I still lack?” <sup>21</sup>Jesus said to him, “If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.” <sup>22</sup>When the young man heard this he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions.

<sup>23</sup>And Jesus said to his disciples, “Truly, I say to you, only with difficulty will a rich person enter the kingdom of heaven. <sup>24</sup>Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.” <sup>25</sup>When the disciples heard this, they were greatly astonished, saying, “Who then can be saved?” <sup>26</sup>But Jesus looked at them and said, “With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.” <sup>27</sup>Then Peter said in reply, “See, we have left everything and followed you. What then will we have?” <sup>28</sup>Jesus said to them, “Truly, I say to you, in the new world, when the Son of Man will sit on his glorious throne, you who have followed me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. <sup>29</sup>And everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or children or lands, for my name’s sake, will receive a hundredfold and will inherit eternal life. <sup>30</sup>But many who are first will be last, and the last first.”

Writing

The Confutation [written against the Augsburg Confession] also says that the monks merit eternal life more abundantly and quotes Scripture, “everyone who has left houses,” and so on (Matthew 19:29). So here it claims perfection also for man-made religious rites. But this Scripture passage in no way favors monastic life. Christ does not mean that leaving parents, wife, and siblings is a work that must be done because it merits the forgiveness of sins and eternal life. Indeed, such leaving is cursed. Anyone who leaves parents or wife to merit the forgiveness of sins or eternal life by this work dishonors Christ.

There are two kinds of leaving. [1.] One happens without a call, without God’s command, which Christ does not approve (Matthew 15:9). The works we choose are useless services. When Christ speaks about leaving wife and children, it becomes clear that He does not approve this kind of leaving. We know that God’s commandment forbids leaving wife and children. [2.] God’s command to leave is different, that is, when power or tyranny pushes us either to leave or to deny the Gospel. Here we are commanded to bear injury and should rather allow not only wealth, wife, and children, but life to be taken from us. Christ approves of this kind of leaving, and so He adds for the Gospel’s “sake” [Mark 10:29]. He does so to illustrate that He is speaking not of those who injure wife and children, but who bear injury because of the confession of the Gospel. For the Gospel's sake we should even leave our body. Here it would be ridiculous to hold that it would serve God to kill oneself and to leave the body without God's command. So, too, it is ridiculous to hold that it is a service to God without His command to leave possessions, friends, wife, and children.

Hymnody

Seek whom you may
 To be your stay,
 None can redeem his brother.
 All helpers failed;
 This man prevailed,

The Song of Moses

<sup>30</sup>Then Moses spoke the words of this song until they were finished, in the ears of all the assembly of Israel:

<sup>32:1</sup>“Give ear, O heavens, and I will speak,
and let the earth hear the words of my mouth.

<sup>2</sup>May my teaching drop as the rain,
my speech distill as the dew,
like gentle rain upon the tender grass,
and like showers upon the herb.

<sup>3</sup>For I will proclaim the name
of the LORD;
ascribe greatness to our God!

<sup>4</sup>“The Rock, his work is perfect,
for all his ways are justice.
A God of faithfulness and without iniquity,
just and upright is he.

<sup>5</sup>They have dealt corruptly with him;
they are no longer his children
because they are blemished;
they are a crooked and twisted
generation.

<sup>6</sup>Do you thus repay the LORD,
you foolish and senseless people?
Is not he your father, who created you,
who made you and established you?

<sup>7</sup>Remember the days of old;
consider the years of many
generations;
ask your father, and he will show you,
your elders, and they will tell you.

<sup>8</sup>When the Most High gave to the nations
their inheritance,
when he divided mankind, he fixed the borders of the peoples
according to the number of the sons of God.

<sup>9</sup>But the LORD’s portion is his people,
Jacob his allotted heritage.

<sup>10</sup>“He found him in a desert land,
and in the howling waste
of the wilderness;
he encircled him, he cared for him,
he kept him as the apple of his eye.

<sup>11</sup>Like an eagle that stirs up its nest,
that flutters over its young,
spreading out its wings, catching them,
bearing them on its pinions,

<sup>12</sup>the LORD alone guided him,
no foreign god was with him.

<sup>13</sup>He made him ride on the high places
of the land,
and he ate the produce of the field,
and he suckled him with honey out of the rock,
and oil out of the flinty rock.

<sup>14</sup>Curds from the herd,
and milk from the flock,
with fat of lambs,
rams of Bashan and goats,
with the very finest of the wheat—and you drank foaming wine made from the blood of the grape.

<sup>15</sup>“But Jeshurun grew fat, and kicked;
you grew fat, stout, and sleek;
then he forsook God who made him and scoffed at the Rock

of his salvation.

<sup>16</sup>They stirred him to jealousy
with strange gods;
with abominations they provoked
him to anger.

<sup>17</sup>They sacrificed to demons
that were no gods,
to gods they had never known,
to new gods that had come recently,
whom your fathers had never dreaded.

<sup>18</sup>You were unmindful
of the Rock that bore you,
and you forgot the God
who gave you birth.

<sup>19</sup>“The LORD saw it and spurned them, because of the provocation
of his sons and his daughters.

<sup>20</sup>And he said, ‘I will hide my face
from them;
I will see what their end will be,
For they are a perverse generation,
children in whom is no faithfulness.

<sup>21</sup>They have made me jealous
with what is no god;
they have provoked me to anger
with their idols.

So I will make them jealous
with those who are no people;
I will provoke them to anger
with a foolish nation.

<sup>22</sup>For a fire is kindled by my anger,
and it burns to the depths of Sheol,
devours the earth and its increase,
and sets on fire the foundations
of the mountains.

<sup>23</sup>“And I will heap disasters upon them;
I will spend my arrows on them;

<sup>24</sup>they shall be wasted with hunger,

and devoured by plague
and poisonous pestilence;

I will send the teeth of beasts
against them,

with the venom of things
that crawl in the dust.

<sup>25</sup>Outdoors the sword shall bereave,
and indoors terror,
for young man and woman alike,
the nursing child with the man of gray hairs.

<sup>26</sup>I would have said,
“I will cut them to pieces;
I will wipe them
from human memory,”

<sup>27</sup>had I not feared provocation
by the enemy,
lest their adversaries should misunderstand,
lest they should say,
“Our hand is triumphant,
it was not the LORD
who did all this.” ’ ’

Laborers in the Vineyard

<sup>1</sup>“For the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard. <sup>2</sup>After agreeing with the laborers for a denarius a day, he sent them into his vineyard. <sup>3</sup>And going out about the third hour he saw others standing idle in the marketplace, <sup>4</sup>and to them he said, ‘You go into the vineyard too, and whatever is right I will give you.’ <sup>5</sup>So they went. Going out again about the sixth hour and the ninth hour, he did the same. <sup>6</sup>And about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing. And he said to them, ‘Why do you stand here idle all day?’<sup>7</sup> They said to him, ‘Because no one has hired us.’ He said to them, ‘You go into the vineyard too.’<sup>8</sup> And when evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, ‘Call the laborers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last, up to the first.’<sup>9</sup> And when those hired about the eleventh hour came, each of them received a denarius.<sup>10</sup> Now when those hired first came, they thought they would receive more, but each of them also received a denarius.<sup>11</sup> And on receiving it they grumbled at the master of the house,<sup>12</sup> saying, ‘These last worked only one hour, and you have made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat.’<sup>13</sup> But he replied to one of them, ‘Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?’<sup>14</sup> Take what belongs to you and go. I choose to give to this last worker as I give to you.<sup>15</sup> Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me? Or do you begrudge my generosity?’<sup>16</sup> So the last will be first, and the first last.”

Writing

This Gospel cannot be praised enough because of its kindness, for it is extraordinarily comforting to repentant and humble hearts, who desire to be saved. This is the center: Let no one doubt; our salvation does not consist in our good works but only and merely on the fact that the heavenly Father is so kind. Our salvation is based simply on the mercy, grace, and kindness of the heavenly Father, which the Lord Jesus earned on the cross with His bloody, sour work. . . . But this text is also very frightening to all puffed-up, proud spirits, whose hearts are swollen up in arrogance like an oven, and who build on their own holiness. . . .

In this Gospel there are three words that are the foundational pillars on which the whole building of this text rests: First, there is the “vineyard.” Into the vineyard one must go and not stand idly in the worldly sin-market. Second, it speaks of the “work.” This must be done, whether it is much or little. Idle grape-gorgers do not belong in the vineyard. Third, it mentions the loving heart of the heavenly Father, who is so kind. In distress and death, one must comfort himself with Him alone, for by our works we are lost. We merit only pure wrath. Pay attention to these three pages and the entire Gospel will become light and clear for you, for the goal and purpose of the Gospel is not directed to who gets the coin (as some people have broken their heads on this question yet have only been made worse) but to the question of who retains the grace of the heavenly Father, who is so kind.

—Valerius Herberger

Hymnody

By grace! None dare lay claim to merit;
Our works and conduct have no worth.
God in His love sent our Redeemer,
Christ Jesus, to this sinful earth;
His death did for our sins atone,
And we are saved by grace alone.

—By Grace I’m Saved (LSB 566:2)

Deuteronomy 32:28–52

[The Song of Moses]

- <sup>28</sup>“For they are a nation void of counsel, and there is no understanding
in them.
- <sup>29</sup>If they were wise,
they would understand this;
they would discern their latter end!
- <sup>30</sup>How could one have chased a thousand,
and two have put ten thousand
to flight,
unless their Rock had sold them,
and the LORD had given them up?
- <sup>31</sup>For their rock is not as our Rock;
our enemies are by themselves.
- <sup>32</sup>For their vine comes from the vine
of Sodom
and from the fields of Gomorrah;
their grapes are grapes of poison;
their clusters are bitter;
- <sup>33</sup>their wine is the poison of serpents
and the cruel venom of asps.
- <sup>34</sup>“Is not this laid up in store with me,
sealed up in my treasuries?
- <sup>35</sup>Vengeance is mine, and recompense,
for the time when their foot shall slip;
for the day of their calamity is at hand,
and their doom comes swiftly.’
- <sup>36</sup>For the LORD will vindicate his people
and have compassion
on his servants,
when he sees that their power is gone

and there is none remaining,
bond or free.

<sup>37</sup>Then he will say, ‘Where are their gods,
the rock in which they took refuge,

<sup>38</sup>who ate the fat of their sacrifices and drank the wine
of their drink offering?

Let them rise up and help you;
let them be your protection!

<sup>39</sup>“ See now that I, even I, am he,
and there is no god beside me;

I kill and I make alive;
I wound and I heal;
and there is none that can deliver
out of my hand.

<sup>40</sup>For I lift up my hand to heaven
and swear, As I live forever,

<sup>41</sup>if I sharpen my flashing sword and my hand takes hold
on judgment,

I will take vengeance on my adversaries
and will repay those who hate me.

<sup>42</sup>I will make my arrows drunk
with blood,
and my sword shall devour flesh—
with the blood of the slain
and the captives,
from the long-haired heads
of the enemy.’

<sup>43</sup>“Rejoice with him, O heavens;
bow down to him, all gods,
for he avenges the blood of his children and takes vengeance
on his adversaries.

He repays those who hate him
and cleanses his people’s land.”

<sup>44</sup>Moses came and recited all the words of this song in the hearing of the people, he and Joshua the son of Nun. <sup>45</sup>And when Moses had finished speaking all these words to all Israel, <sup>46</sup>he said to them, “Take to heart

all the words by which I am warning you today, that you may command them to your children, that they may be careful to do all the words of this law. <sup>47</sup>For it is no empty word for you, but your very life, and by this word you shall live long in the land that you are going over the Jordan to possess.”

Moses’ Death Foretold

<sup>48</sup>That very day the LORD spoke to Moses,
<sup>49</sup>“Go up this mountain of the Abarim, Mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab, opposite Jericho, and view the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the people of Israel for a possession. <sup>50</sup>And die on the mountain which you go up, and be gathered to your people, as Aaron your brother died in Mount Hor and was gathered to his people, <sup>51</sup>because you broke faith with me in the midst of the people of Israel at the waters of Meribah-kadesh, in the wilderness of Zin, and because you did not treat me as holy in the midst of the people of Israel. <sup>52</sup>For you shall see the land before you, but you shall not go there, into the land that I am giving to the people of Israel.”

Jesus Foretells His Death a Third Time

<sup>17</sup>And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples aside, and on the way he said to them, <sup>18</sup>“See, we are going up to Jerusalem. And the Son of Man will be delivered over to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death <sup>19</sup>and deliver him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and flogged and crucified, and he will be raised on the third day.”

A Mother’s Request

<sup>20</sup>Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came up to him with her sons, and kneeling before him she asked him for something. <sup>21</sup>And he said to her, “What do you want?” She said to him, “Say that these two sons of mine are to sit, one at your right hand and one at your left, in your kingdom.” <sup>22</sup>Jesus answered, “You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am to drink?” They said to him, “We are able.” <sup>23</sup>He said to them, “You will drink my cup, but to sit at my right hand and at my left is not mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by my Father.” <sup>24</sup>And when the ten heard it, they were indignant at the two brothers. <sup>25</sup>But Jesus called them to him and said, “You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. <sup>26</sup>It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant, <sup>27</sup>and whoever would be first among you must be your slave, <sup>28</sup>even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.”

Jesus Heals Two Blind Men

<sup>29</sup>And as they went out of Jericho, a great crowd followed him. <sup>30</sup>And behold, there were two blind men sitting by the roadside, and when they heard that Jesus was passing by, they cried out, “Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David!” <sup>31</sup>The crowd rebuked them, telling them to be silent, but they cried out all the more, “Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David!” <sup>32</sup>And stopping, Jesus called them and said, “What do you want me to do for you?” <sup>33</sup>They said to him, “Lord, let our eyes be opened.” <sup>34</sup>And Jesus in pity touched their eyes, and immediately they recovered their sight and followed him.

Writing

May you ever cherish and treasure this thought. Christ is made a servant of sin, yea, a bearer of sin, and the lowliest and most despised person. He destroys all sin by Himself and says: “I came not to be served but to serve” (Matt. 20:28). There is no greater bondage than that of sin; and there is no greater service than that displayed by the Son of God, who becomes the servant of all, no matter how poor, wretched, or despised they may be, and bears their sins. It would be spectacular and amazing, prompting all the world to open ears and eyes, mouth and nose in uncomprehending wonderment, if some king’s son were to appear in a beggar’s home to nurse him in his illness, wash off his filth, and do everything else the beggar would have to do. Would this not be profound humility? Any spectator or any beneficiary of this honor would feel impelled to admit that he had seen or experienced something unusual and extraordinary, something magnificent. But what is a king or an emperor compared with the Son of God? Furthermore, what is a beggar’s filth or stench compared with the filth of sin which is ours by nature, stinking a hundred thousand times worse and looking infinitely more repulsive to God than any foul matter found in a hospital? And yet the love of the Son of God for us is of such magnitude that the greater the filth and stench of our sins, the more He befriends us, the more He cleanses us, relieving us of all our misery and of the burden of all our sins and placing them upon His own back. All the holiness of the monks stinks in comparison with this service of Christ, the fact that the beloved Lamb, the great Man, yes, the Son of the Exalted Majesty, descends from heaven to serve me.

—Martin Luther

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and gracious Lord, pour out Your Holy Spirit on Your faithful people. Keep us steadfast in Your grace and truth, protect and deliver us in times of temptation, defend us against all enemies, and grant to Your Church Your saving peace; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F33)

Reformation Day

On October 31, 1517, an Augustinian monk posted ninety-five statements for discussion on the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany. Dr. Martin Luther hoped that posting his theses would bring about an academic debate regarding repentance, the sale of indulgences, and other matters of concern within the Roman Catholic Church. However, Rome eventually excommunicated Luther, judging him to be a heretic. Luther's reforms, centered on the teaching that a believer is justified by grace through faith in Jesus Christ, sparked religious reforms not only in the German states but also in many European countries. In 1667, Elector John George II of Saxony standardized the custom of observing Luther's October 31 posting of the Ninety-five Theses.

The Death of Moses

<sup>1</sup>Then Moses went up from the plains of Moab to Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, which is opposite Jericho. And the LORD showed him all the land, Gilead as far as Dan, <sup>2</sup>all Naphtali, the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, all the land of Judah as far as the western sea, <sup>3</sup>the Negeb, and the Plain, that is, the Valley of Jericho the city of palm trees, as far as Zoar. <sup>4</sup>And the LORD said to him, “This is the land of which I swore to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, ‘I will give it to your offspring.’ I have let you see it with your eyes, but you shall not go over there.” <sup>5</sup>So Moses the servant of the LORD died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the LORD, <sup>6</sup>and he buried him in the valley in the land of Moab opposite Beth-peor; but no one knows the place of his burial to this day. <sup>7</sup>Moses was 120 years old when he died. His eye was undimmed, and his vigor unabated. <sup>8</sup>And the people of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days. Then the days of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.

<sup>9</sup>And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom, for Moses had laid his hands on him. So the people of Israel obeyed him and did as the LORD had commanded Moses. <sup>10</sup>And there has not arisen a prophet since in Israel like Moses, whom the LORD knew face to face, <sup>11</sup>none like him for all the signs and the wonders that the LORD sent him to do in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh and to all his servants and to all his land, <sup>12</sup>and for all the mighty power and all the great deeds of terror that Moses did in the sight of all Israel.

The Triumphal Entry

‘Behold, your king is coming to you,
humble, and mounted on a donkey,
and on a colt, the foal of a beast
of burden.’”

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

<sup>12</sup>And Jesus entered the temple and drove out all who sold and bought in the temple, and he overturned the tables of the money-changers and the seats of those who sold pigeons. <sup>13</sup>He said to them, “It is written, ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer,' but you make it a den of robbers."

<sup>14</sup>And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them. <sup>15</sup>But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying out in the temple, "Hosanna to the Son of David!" they were indignant, <sup>16</sup>and they said to him, "Do you hear what these are saying?" And Jesus said to them, "Yes; have you never read,

" 'Out of the mouth of infants and nursing babies
you have prepared praise'?"

<sup>17</sup>And leaving them, he went out of the city to Bethany and lodged there.

Jesus Curses the Fig Tree

<sup>18</sup>In the morning, as he was returning to the city, he became hungry. <sup>19</sup>And seeing a fig tree by the wayside, he went to it and found nothing on it but only leaves. And he said to it, "May no fruit ever come from you again!" And the fig tree withered at once.

<sup>20</sup>When the disciples saw it, they marveled, saying, "How did the fig tree wither at once?" <sup>21</sup>And Jesus answered them, "Truly, I say to you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will not only do what has been done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, 'Be taken up and thrown into the sea,' it will happen. <sup>22</sup>And whatever you ask in prayer, you will receive, if you have faith."

Writing

Patriarchs of sacred story
And the prophets there are found;
The apostles, too, in glory
On twelve seats are there enthroned

All the saints that have ascended Age on age, through time extended,
There is blissful concert sing
Hallelujahs to their King.

Thus the old funeral hymn . . . speaks of the church of all the perfected in heaven (cf. Heb 12:22–23). And this thought of the fathers of the church who have preceded us into heaven rings through the centuries down the Wilhelm Loehe's hymn on the Sacrament, where it says of heaven: "There the angel host stands inflamed in your [god's] light, and my fathers gaze upon your sight." All the saints, from the beginning of the world, who have died believing in the Redeemer, whether He was yet to come or had come in the flesh, all members of the people of God of all times to the present day, in this sense, all are fathers of the church. Whether Christians have found themselves in the loneliness of a Siberian prison camp, or the isolation of the diaspora, or suffering inner alienation within the great secularized "churches" of our century, it has become ever more the consolation of those who have suffered for the sake of the church, and whom God has lead on a "lonely path," to know that they are not alone in the one church of God. They who have been removed from every error and sin of the earthly church stand with us in the seamless fellowship of the body of Christ.

—Hermann Sasse

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, You knit together Your faithful people of all times and places into one holy communion, the mystical body of Your Son, Jesus Christ. Grant us so to follow Your blessed saints in all virtuous and godly living that, together with them, we may come to the unspeakable joys You have prepared for those who love You; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F34)

All Saints' Day

This feast is the most comprehensive of saints' days, encompassing the entire scope of that great cloud of witnesses with which we are surrounded (Hebrews 12:1). It holds before the eyes of faith that great multitude which no man can number: all the saints of God in Christ—from every nation, race, culture, and language—who have come “out of the great tribulation,” “who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb” (Revelation 7:9, 14). As such, it sets before us the full height and depth and breadth and length of our dear Lord's gracious salvation (Ephesians 3:17–19). It shares with Easter a celebration of the resurrection, since all those who have died with Christ Jesus have also been raised with Him (Romans 6:3–8). It shares with Pentecost a celebration of the ingathering of the entire Church catholic—in heaven and on earth, in all times and places—in the one Body of Christ, in the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. Just as we have all been called to the one hope that belongs to our call, “one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all” (Ephesians 4:4–6). And the Feast of All Saints shares with the final Sundays of the Church Year an eschatological focus on the life everlasting and a confession that “the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us” (Romans 8:18). In all of these emphases, the purpose of this feast is to fix our eyes upon Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, that we might not grow weary or fainthearted (Hebrews 12:2–3).

Old Testament Reading: Jeremiah 1:1–19

<sup>1</sup>The words of Jeremiah, the son of Hilkiah, one of the priests who were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin, <sup>2</sup>to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. <sup>3</sup>It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, and until the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the captivity of Jerusalem in the fifth month.

The Call of Jeremiah

<sup>4</sup>Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>5</sup>“Before I formed you in the womb
I knew you,
and before you were born
I consecrated you;
I appointed you a prophet to the nations.”

<sup>6</sup>Then I said, “Ah, Lord God! Behold, I do not know how to speak, for I am only a youth.”

<sup>7</sup>But the Lord said to me,

“Do not say, ‘I am only a youth’;
for to all to whom I send you,
you shall go,
and whatever I command you,
you shall speak.

<sup>8</sup>Do not be afraid of them,
for I am with you to deliver you,
declares the LORD.”

<sup>9</sup>Then the LORD put out his hand and touched my mouth. And the LORD said to me,

“Behold, I have put my words
in your mouth.

<sup>10</sup>See, I have set you this day
over nations and over kingdoms,
to pluck up and to break down,
to destroy and to overthrow,
to build and to plant.”

<sup>11</sup>And the word of the LORD came to me, saying, “Jeremiah, what do you see?” And I said, “I see an almond branch.” <sup>12</sup>Then the LORD said to me, “You have seen well, for I am watching over my word to perform it.”

<sup>13</sup>The word of the LORD came to me a second time, saying, “What do you see?” And I said, “I see a boiling pot, facing away from the north.” <sup>14</sup>Then the LORD said to me, “Out of the north disaster shall be let loose upon all the inhabitants of the land. <sup>15</sup>For behold, I am calling all the tribes of the kingdoms of the north, declares the LORD, and they shall come, and every one shall set his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, against all its walls all around and against all the cities of Judah. <sup>16</sup>And I will declare my judgments against them, for all their evil in forsaking me. They have made offerings to other gods and worshiped the works of their own hands. <sup>17</sup>But you, dress yourself for work; arise, and say to them everything that I command you. Do not be dismayed by them, lest I dismay you before them. <sup>18</sup>And I, behold, I make you this day a fortified city, an iron pillar, and bronze walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, its officials, its priests, and the people of the land. <sup>19</sup>They will fight against you, but they shall not prevail against you, for I am with you, declares the LORD, to deliver you.”

Matthew 21:23–46

The Authority of Jesus Challenged

<sup>23</sup>And when he entered the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came up to him as he was teaching, and said, “By what authority are you doing these things, and who gave you this authority?”

<sup>24</sup>Jesus answered them, “I also will ask you one question, and if you tell me the answer, then I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>25</sup>The baptism of John, from where did it come? From heaven or from man?” And they discussed it among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ he will say to us, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’ <sup>26</sup>But if we say, ‘From man,’ we are afraid of the crowd, for they all hold that John was a prophet.” <sup>27</sup>So they answered Jesus, “We do not know.” And he said to them, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.

The Parable of the Two Sons

<sup>28</sup>“What do you think? A man had two sons. And he went to the first and said, ‘Son, go and work in the vineyard today.’ <sup>29</sup>And he answered, ‘I will not,’ but afterward he changed his mind and went. <sup>30</sup>And he went to the other son and said the same. And he answered, ‘I go, sir,’ but did not go. <sup>31</sup>Which of the two did the will of his father?” They said, “The first.” Jesus said to them, “Truly, I say to you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. <sup>32</sup>For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. And even when you saw it, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him.

The Parable of the Tenants

<sup>33</sup>“Hear another parable. There was a master of a house who planted a vineyard and put a fence around it and dug a winepress in it and built a tower and leased it to tenants, and went into another country.

<sup>34</sup>When the season for fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the tenants to get his fruit. <sup>35</sup>And the tenants took his servants and beat one, killed another, and stoned another.

<sup>36</sup>Again he sent other servants, more than the first. And they did the same to them.

<sup>37</sup>Finally he sent his son to them, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’ <sup>38</sup>But when the tenants saw the son, they said to themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and have his inheritance.’ <sup>39</sup>And they took him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. <sup>40</sup>When therefore the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?” <sup>41</sup>They said to him, “He will put those wretches to a miserable death and let out the vineyard to other tenants who will give him the fruits in their seasons.”

<sup>42</sup>Jesus said to them, “Have you never read in the Scriptures:

“The stone that the builders rejected
has become the cornerstone;
this was the Lord’s doing,
and it is marvelous in our eyes’?”

<sup>43</sup>Therefore I tell you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people producing its fruits. <sup>44</sup>And the one who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces; and when it falls on anyone, it will crush him.”

<sup>45</sup>When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he was speaking about them. <sup>46</sup>And although they were seeking to arrest him, they feared the crowds, because they held him to be a prophet.

Writing

It is of the utmost importance that we highly esteem, honor, and rely upon the holy sacraments, which contain nothing but God's words, promises, and signs. This means that we have no doubts about the sacraments or the things of which they are certain signs, for if we doubt these we lose everything. Christ says that it will happen to us as we believe. What will it profit you to assume and to believe that sin, death, and hell are overcome in Christ for others, but not to believe that your sin, your death, and your hell are also vanquished and wiped out and that you are thus redeemed? Under those circumstances the sacraments will be completely fruitless, since you do not believe the things which are indicated, given, and promised there to you. That is the vilest sin that can be committed, for God himself is looked upon as a liar in his Word, signs, and works, as one who speaks, shows, and promises something which he neither means nor intends to keep. Therefore we dare not trifle with the sacraments. Faith must be present for a firm reliance and cheerful venturing on such signs and promises of God. What sort of a God or Savior would he be who could not or would not save us from sin, death, and hell? Whatever the true God promises and effects must be something big.

Faithless Israel Called to Repentance

<sup>6</sup>The LORD said to me in the days of King Josiah: “Have you seen what she did, that faithless one, Israel, how she went up on every high hill and under every green tree, and there played the whore? <sup>7</sup>And I thought, ‘After she has done all this she will return to me,’ but she did not return, and her treacherous sister Judah saw it. <sup>8</sup>She saw that for all the adulteries of that faithless one, Israel, I had sent her away with a decree of divorce. Yet her treacherous sister Judah did not fear, but she too went and played the whore. <sup>9</sup>Because she took her whoredom lightly, she polluted the land, committing adultery with stone and tree. <sup>10</sup>Yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah did not return to me with her whole heart, but in pretense, declares the LORD.”

<sup>11</sup>And the LORD said to me, “Faithless Israel has shown herself more righteous than treacherous Judah. <sup>12</sup>Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, “ ‘Return, faithless Israel,

declares the LORD.

I will not look on you in anger,

for I am merciful,
declares the LORD;

I will not be angry forever.

<sup>13</sup>Only acknowledge your guilt,
that you rebelled against the LORD
your God

and scattered your favors among foreigners under every green tree, and that you have not obeyed
my voice,
declares the LORD.

<sup>14</sup>Return, O faithless children,
declares the Lord;
for I am your master;

I will take you, one from a city
and two from a family,
and I will bring you to Zion.

<sup>15</sup>“ ‘And I will give you shepherds after my own heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding. <sup>16</sup>And when you have multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, declares the LORD, they shall no more say, “The ark of the covenant of the LORD.” It shall not come to mind or be remembered or missed; it shall not be made again. <sup>17</sup>At that time Jerusalem shall be called the throne of the LORD, and all nations shall gather to it, to the presence of the LORD in Jerusalem, and they shall no more stubbornly follow their own evil heart. <sup>18</sup>In those days the house of Judah shall join the house of Israel, and together they shall come from the land of the north to the land that I gave your fathers for a heritage.

How I would set you among my sons,
and give you a pleasant land,
a heritage most beautiful
of all nations.

And I thought you would call me,
My Father,

and would not turn
from following me.

<sup>20</sup>Surely, as a treacherous wife
leaves her husband,
so have you been treacherous to me,
O house of Israel,
declares the LORD.’ ”

<sup>21</sup>A voice on the bare heights is heard,
the weeping and pleading of Israel’s sons
because they have perverted their way;
they have forgotten the LORD
their God.

I will heal your faithlessness.” “Behold, we come to you,
for you are the LORD our God.

<sup>23</sup>Truly the hills are a delusion,
the orgies on the mountains.
Truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.

<sup>24</sup>“But from our youth the shameful thing has devoured all for which our fathers labored, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. <sup>25</sup>Let us lie down in our shame, and let our dishonor cover us. For we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even to this day, and we have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.”

<sup>4:1</sup>“If you return, O Israel,
declares the LORD,
to me you should return.

If you remove your detestable things
from my presence,
and do not waver,

<sup>2</sup>and if you swear, ‘As the LORD lives,’ in truth, in justice,

and in righteousness,
then nations shall bless themselves
in him,
and in him shall they glory.”

The Parable of the Wedding Feast

<sup>1</sup>And again Jesus spoke to them in parables, saying, <sup>2</sup>“The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son, <sup>3</sup>and sent his servants to call those who were invited to the wedding feast, but they would not come.
<sup>4</sup>Again he sent other servants, saying, “Tell those who are invited, See, I have prepared my dinner, my oxen and my fat calves have been slaughtered, and everything is ready.
Come to the wedding feast.’ <sup>5</sup>But they paid
no attention and went off, one to his farm, another to his business, <sup>6</sup>while the rest seized his servants, treated them shamefully, and killed them. <sup>7</sup>The king was angry, and he sent his troops and destroyed those murderers and burned their city. <sup>8</sup>Then he said to his servants, “The wedding feast is ready, but those invited were not worthy. <sup>9</sup>Go therefore to the main roads and invite to the wedding feast as many as you find.’ <sup>10</sup>And those servants went out into the roads and gathered all whom they found, both bad and good. So the wedding hall was filled with guests.

<sup>11</sup>“But when the king came in to look at the guests, he saw there a man who had no wedding garment. <sup>12</sup>And he said to him, ‘Friend, how did you get in here without a wedding garment?’ And he was speechless.
<sup>13</sup>Then the king said to the attendants, ‘Bind him hand and foot and cast him into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.’ <sup>14</sup>For many are called, but few are chosen.”

Paying Taxes to Caesar

<sup>15</sup>Then the Pharisees went and plotted how to entangle him in his words. <sup>16</sup>And they sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, saying, “Teacher, we know that you are true and teach the way of God truthfully, and you do not care about anyone’s opinion, for you are not swayed by appearances. <sup>17</sup>Tell us, then, what you think. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?” <sup>18</sup>But Jesus, aware of their malice, said, “Why put me to the test, you hypocrites? <sup>19</sup>Show me the coin for the tax.” And they brought him a denarius. <sup>20</sup>And Jesus said to them, “Whose likeness and inscription is this?” <sup>21</sup>They said, “Caesar’s.” Then he said to them, “Therefore render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.” <sup>22</sup>When they heard it, they marveled. And they left him and went away.

Children should be constantly urged and moved to honor God’s name and to have it always upon their lips for everything that may happen to them or come to their notice [Psalm 8:2; 34:1; Matthew 21:16; Hebrews 13:15]. For that is the true honor of His name, to look to it and call upon it for all consolation [Psalm 66:2; 105:1]. Then—as we have heard in the First Commandment—the heart by faith gives God the honor due Him first. Afterward, the lips give Him honor by confession.

This is also a blessed and useful habit and very effective against the devil. He is ever around us and lies in wait to bring us into sin and shame, disaster and trouble [2 Timothy

2:26]. But he hates to hear God’s name and cannot remain long where it is spoken and called upon from the heart. Indeed, many terrible and shocking disasters would fall upon us if God did not preserve us by our calling upon His name. I have tried it myself. I learned by experience that often sudden great suffering was immediately averted and removed by calling on God. To confuse the devil, I say, we should always have this holy name in our mouth, so that the devil may not be able to injure us as he wishes.

It is also useful that we form the habit of daily commending ourselves to God [Psalm 31:5], with soul and body, wife, children, servants, and all that we have, against every need that may arise. So also the blessing and thanksgiving at meals [Mark 8:6] and other prayers, morning and evening, have begun and remained in use [Exodus 29:38–43]. Likewise, children should continue to cross themselves when anything monstrous or terrible is seen or heard. They can shout, “Lord God, protect us!” “Help, dear Lord Jesus!” and such. Also, if anyone meets with unexpected good fortune, however trivial, he says, “God be praised and thanked!” or “God has bestowed this on me!”

You see my sin yet seat me at Your table;
 Lord, as a guest, I surely am the least:
 Unclean, unfit, of worthy deeds unable—

Jerusalem Refused to Repent

- <sup>1</sup>Run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem,
look and take note!
Search her squares to see
if you can find a man,
one who does justice
and seeks truth,
that I may pardon her.
- <sup>2</sup>Though they say, “As the LORD lives,” yet they swear falsely.
- <sup>3</sup>O LORD, do not your eyes look for truth?
You have struck them down,
but they felt no anguish;
you have consumed them,
but they refused to take correction.
They have made their faces
harder than rock;
they have refused to repent.
- <sup>4</sup>Then I said, “These are only the poor;
they have no sense;
for they do not know the way
of the LORD,
the justice of their God.
- <sup>5</sup>I will go to the great
and will speak to them,
for they know the way of the Lord,
the justice of their God.”
But they all alike had broken the yoke;
they had burst the bonds.
- <sup>6</sup>Therefore a lion from the forest shall strike them down;

a wolf from the desert
shall devastate them.

A leopard is watching their cities;
everyone who goes out of them
shall be torn in pieces,
because their transgressions are many,
their apostasies are great.

<sup>7</sup>“How can I pardon you?
Your children have forsaken me
and have sworn by those who are no gods.

When I fed them to the full,
they committed adultery
and trooped to the houses of whores.

<sup>8</sup>They were well-fed, lusty stallions,
each neighing for his neighbor’s wife.

<sup>9</sup>Shall I not punish them for these things?
declares the LORD;
and shall I not avenge myself
on a nation such as this?

<sup>10</sup>“Go up through her vine rows
and destroy,
but make not a full end;
strip away her branches,
for they are not the LORD’s.

<sup>11</sup>For the house of Israel and the house of Judah
have been utterly treacherous to me,
declares the LORD.

<sup>12</sup>They have spoken falsely of the LORD and have said, ‘He will do nothing;
no disaster will come upon us,
nor shall we see sword or famine.

<sup>13</sup>The prophets will become wind;
the word is not in them.

Thus shall it be done to them!’ ”

The LORD Proclaims Judgment

<sup>14</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD,
the God of hosts:

“Because you have spoken this word,

behold, I am making my words
in your mouth a fire,
and this people wood,
and the fire shall consume them.

<sup>15</sup>Behold, I am bringing against you a nation from afar, O house of Israel,
declares the Lord.

It is an enduring nation;
it is an ancient nation,
a nation whose language
you do not know,
nor can you understand
what they say.

<sup>16</sup>Their quiver is like an open tomb;
they are all mighty warriors.

<sup>17</sup>They shall eat up your harvest
and your food;
they shall eat up your sons
and your daughters;
they shall eat up your flocks
and your herds;
they shall eat up your vines [and your
fig trees;
your fortified cities in which you trust
they shall beat down
with the sword.”

<sup>18</sup>“But even in those days, declares the LORD, I will not make a full end of you.

<sup>19</sup>And when your people say, ‘Why has the LORD our God done all these things to us?’
you shall say to them, ‘As you have forsaken me and served foreign gods in your land, so you shall serve foreigners in a land that is not yours.’ ”

Sadducees Ask About the Resurrection

<sup>23</sup>The same day Sadducees came to him, who say that there is no resurrection, and they asked him a question, <sup>24</sup>saying, “Teacher, Moses said, ‘If a man dies having no children, his brother must marry the widow and raise up children for his brother.’ <sup>25</sup>Now there were seven brothers among us. The first married and died, and having no children left his wife to his brother. <sup>26</sup>So too the second and third, down to the seventh. <sup>27</sup>After them all, the woman died. <sup>28</sup>In the resurrection, therefore, of the seven, whose wife will she be? For they all had her.”

<sup>29</sup>But Jesus answered them, “You are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God. <sup>30</sup>For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. <sup>31</sup>And as for the resurrection of the dead, have you not read what was said to you by God: <sup>32</sup>‘I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’? He is not God of the dead, but of the living.” <sup>33</sup>And when the crowd heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.

The Great Commandment

<sup>34</sup>But when the Pharisees heard that he had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together. <sup>35</sup>And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question to test him. <sup>36</sup>“Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law?” <sup>37</sup>And he said to him, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. <sup>38</sup>This is the great and first commandment. <sup>39</sup>And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. <sup>40</sup>On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets.”

Whose Son Is the Christ?

<sup>41</sup>Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, <sup>42</sup>saying, “What do you think about the Christ? Whose son is he?” They said to him, “The son of David.” <sup>43</sup>He said to them, “How is it then that David, in the Spirit, calls him Lord, saying,

<sup>44</sup>“The Lord said to my Lord,
Sit at my right hand,
until I put your enemies
under your feet?”

<sup>45</sup>If then David calls him Lord, how is he his son?” <sup>46</sup>And no one was able to answer him a word, nor from that day did anyone dare to ask him any more questions.

Writing

[Luther] taught that good works do not save a person, but only faith, without good works. . . . He did not say that, to be saved, a person must have faith and, in addition to that, good works, or love; but he did teach that those who would be saved must have a faith that produces love spontaneously and is fruitful in good works. That does not mean that faith saves on account of love which springs from it, but that the faith which the Holy Spirit creates and which cannot but do good works justifies because it clings to the gracious promises of Christ and because it lays hold of Christ. It is active in good works because it is genuine faith. The believer need not at all be exhorted to do good works; his faith does them automatically. The believer engages in good works, not from a sense of duty, in return for the forgiveness of his sins, but chiefly because he cannot help doing them. It is altogether impossible that genuine faith should not break forth from the believer’s heart in works of love.

Evil in the Land

 the LORD: <sup>2</sup>“Stand in the gate of the LORD’s house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all you men of Judah who enter these gates to worship the LORD. <sup>3</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Amend your ways and your deeds, and I will let you dwell in this place. <sup>4</sup>Do not trust in these deceptive words: ‘This is the temple of the Lord, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD.’

<sup>5</sup>‘For if you truly amend your ways and your deeds, if you truly execute justice one with another, <sup>6</sup>if you do not oppress the sojourner, the fatherless, or the widow, or shed innocent blood in this place, and if you do not go after other gods to your own harm, <sup>7</sup>then I will let you dwell in this place, in the land that I gave of old to your fathers forever.

<sup>8</sup>‘Behold, you trust in deceptive words to no avail. <sup>9</sup>Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, make offerings to Baal, and go after other gods that you have not known, <sup>10</sup>and then come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, ‘We are delivered!’—only to go on doing all these abominations? <sup>11</sup>Has this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I myself have seen it, declares the LORD. <sup>12</sup>Go now to my place that was in Shiloh, where I made my name dwell at first, and see what I did to it because of the evil of my people Israel. <sup>13</sup>And now, because you have done all these things, declares the LORD, and when I spoke to you persistently you did not listen, and when I called you, you did not answer, <sup>14</sup>therefore I will do to the house that is called by my name, and in which you trust, and to the place that I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh. <sup>15</sup>And I will cast you out of my sight, as I cast out all your kinsmen, all the offspring of Ephraim.

<sup>16</sup>‘As for you, do not pray for this people, or lift up a cry or prayer for them, and do not intercede with me, for I will not hear you. <sup>17</sup>Do you not see what they are doing in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? <sup>18</sup>The children gather wood, the fathers kindle fire, and the women knead dough, to make cakes for the queen of heaven. And they pour out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke me to anger. <sup>19</sup>Is it I whom they provoke? declares the Lord. Is it not themselves, to their own shame?

<sup>20</sup>Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: behold, my anger and my wrath will be poured out on this place, upon man and beast, upon the trees of the field and the fruit of the ground; it will burn and not be quenched.”

<sup>21</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices, and eat the flesh. <sup>22</sup>For in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, I did not speak to your fathers or command them concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices. <sup>23</sup>But this command I gave them: ‘Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be my people. And walk in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.’ <sup>24</sup>But they did not obey or incline their ear, but walked in their own counsels and the stubbornness of their evil hearts, and went backward and not forward. <sup>25</sup>From the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have persistently sent all my servants the prophets to them, day after day. <sup>26</sup>Yet they did not listen to me or incline their ear, but stiffened their neck. They did worse than their fathers.

<sup>27</sup>“So you shall speak all these words to them, but they will not listen to you. You shall call to them, but they will not answer you. <sup>28</sup>And you shall say to them, ‘This is the nation that did not obey the voice of the LORD their God, and did not accept discipline; truth has perished; it is cut off from their lips.

Seven Woes to the Scribes and Pharisees

<sup>1</sup>Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples, <sup>2</sup>“The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses’ seat, <sup>3</sup>so practice and observe whatever they tell you—but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice. <sup>4</sup>They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people’s shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger. <sup>5</sup>They do all their deeds to be seen by others. For they make their phylacteries broad and their fringes long, <sup>6</sup>and they love the place of honor at feasts and the best seats in the synagogues <sup>7</sup>and greetings in the marketplaces and being called rabbi by others. <sup>8</sup>But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers. <sup>9</sup>And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. <sup>10</sup>Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ. <sup>11</sup>The greatest among you shall be your servant. <sup>12</sup>Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.”

Moses is a minister of the Law, sin, and death; for he teaches and stresses works, and through the rays of the Law he makes everyone guilty of death and subject to punishment for sin. He demands, but he does not give what he demands. However, since this Prophet finds Moses teaching this and is Himself set up as a Teacher next to him, His Word must teach something else. But He cannot teach anything else than sin, wrath, and death unless He teaches righteousness, grace, and life. Therefore it is necessary that He be a teacher of life, grace, and righteousness, just as Moses is a teacher of sin, wrath, and death. But both teachings must be heard just as they have been raised up by God; for through the Law all must be humbled, and through the Gospel all must be exalted. They are alike in divine authority, but with respect to the fruit of their ministry they are unlike and completely opposed to each other. The sin and wrath which Moses arouses through his ministry that Prophet cancels through righteousness and grace by His ministry. This Prophet, therefore, demands nothing; but He grants what Moses demands.

In this passage we have those two ministries of the Word which are necessary for the salvation of the human race: the ministry of the Law and the ministry of the Gospel, one for death and the other for life. They are indeed alike if you are looking at their authority, but most unlike if you are thinking about their fruit. The ministry of Moses is temporary, finally to be ended by the coming of the ministry of Christ, as he says here, “Heed Him.” But the ministry of Christ will be ended by nothing else, since it brings eternal righteousness and “puts an end to sin,” as it is said in Dan. 9:24. . . . Thus this Prophet can be none other than Christ Himself.

Jeremiah Grieves for His People

<sup>18</sup> My joy is gone; grief is upon me;
 my heart is sick within me.

<sup>19</sup> Behold, the cry of the daughter
 of my people
 from the length and breadth
 of the land:

“Is the LORD not in Zion?
 Is her King not in her?”

“Why have they provoked me to anger with their carved images and with their foreign idols?”

<sup>20</sup> “The harvest is past,
 the summer is ended,
 and we are not saved.”

<sup>21</sup> For the wound of the daughter of my people is my heart wounded;
 I mourn, and dismay
 has taken hold on me.

<sup>22</sup> Is there no balm in Gilead?
 Is there no physician there?

Why then has the health of the daughter of my people not been restored?

<sup>9:1</sup> Oh that my head were waters,
 and my eyes a fountain of tears,
 that I might weep day and night
 for the slain of the daughter
 of my people!

<sup>2</sup> Oh that I had in the desert

a travelers' lodging place, that I might leave my people
 and go away from them!
 For they are all adulterers,
 a company of treacherous men.
<sup>3</sup>They bend their tongue like a bow;
 falsehood and not truth has grown strong in the land;
 for they proceed from evil to evil,
 and they do not know me,
 declares the LORD.

<sup>4</sup>Let everyone beware of his neighbor,
 and put no trust in any brother,
 for every brother is a deceiver,
 and every neighbor goes about
 as a slanderer.

<sup>5</sup>Everyone deceives his neighbor,
 and no one speaks the truth;
 they have taught their tongue
 to speak lies;
 they weary themselves
 committing iniquity.

<sup>6</sup>Heaping oppression upon oppression,
 and deceit upon deceit,
 they refuse to know me,
 declares the LORD.

<sup>7</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts:
 "Behold, I will refine them and test them,
 for what else can I do,
 because of my people?"

<sup>8</sup>Their tongue is a deadly arrow;
 it speaks deceitfully;
 with his mouth each speaks peace
 to his neighbor,
 but in his heart he plans
 an ambush for him.

<sup>9</sup>Shall I not punish them for these things?
 declares the LORD,
 and shall I not avenge myself
 on a nation such as this?

<sup>10</sup>"I will take up weeping and wailing
 for the mountains,
 and a lamentation for the pastures
 of the wilderness,
 because they are laid waste so that no one
 passes through,
 and the lowing of cattle is not heard;
 both the birds of the air and the beasts
 have fled and are gone.

<sup>11</sup>I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins,
 a lair of jackals,
 and I will make the cities
 of Judah a desolation,
 without inhabitant."

<sup>12</sup>Who is the man so wise that he can understand this? To whom has the mouth of the LORD spoken, that he may declare it?
 Why is the land ruined and laid waste like a wilderness, so that no one passes through?

[Seven Woes to the Scribes and Pharisees]

<sup>13</sup>"But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces. For you neither enter yourselves nor allow those who would enter to go in. <sup>15</sup>Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel across sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when he becomes a proselyte, you make him twice as much a child of hell as yourselves.

<sup>16</sup>"Woe to you, blind guides, who say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it is nothing,
 but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath.' <sup>17</sup>You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that has made the gold sacred? <sup>18</sup>And you say, 'If anyone swears by the altar, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gift that is on the altar,

he is bound by his oath.’<sup>19</sup> You blind men! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that makes the gift sacred? <sup>20</sup>So whoever swears by the altar swears by it and by everything on it. <sup>21</sup>And whoever swears by the temple swears by it and by him who dwells in it. <sup>22</sup>And whoever swears by heaven swears by the throne of God and by him who sits upon it.

<sup>23</sup>“Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others. <sup>24</sup>You blind guides, straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel!

<sup>25</sup>“Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence. <sup>26</sup>You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean.

<sup>27</sup>“Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but within are full of dead people’s bones and all uncleanness. <sup>28</sup>So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from town to town, <sup>35</sup>so that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on earth, from the blood of innocent Abel to the blood of Zechariah the son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar. <sup>36</sup>Truly, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation.

Lament over Jerusalem

Writing

[Jesus] directs His speech to the city, in this way also being mindful to correct His hearers, and says, “O Jerusalem, Jerusalem!” What does the repetition mean? This is a way of expressing His pity for her and bemoaning her and greatly loving her. Like a woman ever loved by Him, but she has despised the One who loved her, and therefore she is on the point of being punished. Being now about to inflict the punishment, He pleads with her. This is also the pattern of the prophets, who said, “Turn to me, and she returned not.”

Then having called her, Jesus tells of her blood-stained deeds, “You who kill the prophets and stone those who are sent to you, how often would I have gathered your children together, and you would not.” In this way He is also explaining His own dealings with her. Not even with these things has He turned her aside nor withdrawn His great affection toward her, but it was His desire even so, not once or twice but often, to draw her to Himself. “For how often would I,” says He, “have gathered your children together, even as a hen gathers her chicks, and you would not.” He says this to show that they were ever scattering themselves by their sins. He indicates His affection by similitude; for indeed the hen is warm in its love toward its brood. Everywhere in the prophets it is this same image of the wings, and in the song of Moses and in the Psalms, indicating God’s great protection and care.

Hymnody

A glorious band, the chosen few,
On whom the Spirit came,
Twelve valiant saints—their hope they knew
And mocked the cross and flame.
They met the tyrant’s brandished steel,
The lion’s gory mane;
They bowed their necks their death to feel—
Who follows in their train?

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, the holy city of Jerusalem rejected the prophets and stoned those who were sent to her, killing Your Son, the final prophet sent to redeem her and the whole world from their sins. Through His innocent suffering and death, gather Your Church into His loving embrace that we may truly be the Body of Christ; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (1103)

The Broken Covenant

words of this covenant <sup>4</sup>that I commanded your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Listen to my voice, and do all that I command you. So shall you be my people, and I will be your God, <sup>5</sup>that I may confirm the oath that I swore to your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as at this day.” Then I answered, “So be it, LORD.”

<sup>6</sup>And the LORD said to me, “Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: Hear the words of this covenant and do them. <sup>7</sup>For I solemnly warned your fathers when I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, warning them persistently, even to this day, saying, Obey my voice. <sup>8</sup>Yet they did not obey or incline their ear, but everyone walked in the stubbornness of his evil heart. Therefore I brought upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did not.”

<sup>9</sup>Again the LORD said to me, “A conspiracy exists among the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup>They have turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words. They have gone after other gods to serve them. The house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant that I made with their fathers. <sup>11</sup>Therefore, thus says the LORD, Behold, I am bringing disaster upon them that they cannot escape. Though they cry to me, I will not listen to them. <sup>12</sup>Then the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem will go and cry to the gods to whom they make offerings, but they cannot save them in the time of their trouble. <sup>13</sup>For your gods have become as many as your cities, O Judah, and as many as the streets of Jerusalem are the altars you have set up to shame, altars to make offerings to Baal.

<sup>14</sup>“Therefore do not pray for this people, or lift up a cry or prayer on their behalf, for I will not listen when they call to me in the time of their trouble. <sup>15</sup>What right has my beloved in my house, when she has done many vile deeds? Can even sacrificial flesh avert your doom? Can you then exult? <sup>16</sup>The Lord once called you ‘a green olive tree, beautiful with good fruit.’ But with the roar of a great tempest he will set fire to it, and its branches will be consumed. <sup>17</sup>The LORD of hosts, who planted you, has decreed disaster against you, because of the evil that the house of Israel and the house of Judah have done, provoking me to anger by making offerings to Baal.”

then you showed me their deeds.

<sup>19</sup>But I was like a gentle lamb led to the slaughter.

I did not know it was against me

they devised schemes, saying,

“Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name be remembered no more.”

<sup>20</sup>But, O LORD of hosts,

who judges righteously,

who tests the heart and the mind,

let me see your vengeance upon them,

for to you have I committed

my cause.

<sup>21</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the men of Anathoth, who seek your life, and say, “Do not prophesy in the name of the LORD, or you will die by our hand”—<sup>22</sup>therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: “Behold, I will punish them. The young men shall die by the sword, their sons and their daughters shall die by famine, <sup>23</sup>and none of them shall be left. For I will bring disaster upon the men of Anathoth, the year of their punishment.”

Jesus Foretells Destruction of the Temple

Signs of the Close of the Age

<sup>3</sup>As he sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately, saying, “Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the close of the age?” <sup>4</sup>And Jesus answered them, “See that no one leads you astray. <sup>5</sup>For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am the Christ,’ and they will lead many astray. <sup>6</sup>And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet. <sup>7</sup>For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places. <sup>8</sup>All these are but the beginning of the birth pains.

<sup>9</sup>“Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for my name’s sake. <sup>10</sup>And then many will fall away and betray one another and hate one another. <sup>11</sup>And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray. <sup>12</sup>And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. <sup>13</sup>But the one who endures to the end will be saved. <sup>14</sup>And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

The Abomination of Desolation

<sup>15</sup>“So when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand), <sup>16</sup>then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. <sup>17</sup>Let the one who is on the housetop not go down to take what is in his house, <sup>18</sup>and let the one who is in the field not turn back to take his cloak. <sup>19</sup>And alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days! <sup>20</sup>Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a Sabbath. <sup>21</sup>For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, and never will be. <sup>22</sup>And if those days had not been cut short, no human being would be saved. But for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short. <sup>23</sup>Then if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ!’ or ‘There he is!’ do not believe it. <sup>24</sup>For false christs and false prophets will arise and perform great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. <sup>25</sup>See, I have told you beforehand. <sup>26</sup>So, if they say to you, ‘Look, he is in the wilderness,’ do not go out. If they say, ‘Look, he is in the inner rooms,’ do not believe it. <sup>27</sup>For as the lightning comes from the east and shines as far as the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. <sup>28</sup>Wherever the corpse is, there the vultures will gather.”

Writing

Although the factions in Christendom have different beliefs, there is none that does not accord Christ His rightful place as the author and authority of its doctrines. . . . [The Church] even appears to be flourishing. Thus the person who regards the present as the horrible end times is thought to be greatly mistaken. But appearances can be deceiving. The cry of “Here is Christ! There is Christ!” that resounds from so many pulpits is precisely what makes our age so dangerous and abominable, and it demonstrates that the final, evil days of the world are approaching. For it is mostly a false Christ who is now being preached and praised in order to deceive even the elect. There are now many preachers and laity, both learned and unlearned individuals, who no longer believe the Bible is God’s Word and faith in Christ is the only way to salvation. With their own imagined virtue and good works, they believe that they have made God their debtor, that He must rightfully receive them into heaven after their death, and that He must eternally reward them. They do not want to think of themselves as sinners who are in need of a Savior. The Word of the cross is foolishness and a stumbling block to them. . . .

For wherever one preaches Christ as a mere man and not as the true God, fully of the same substance, power, and glory as the heavenly Father, one preaches a false Christ. Wherever one presents Christ only as an example and as a teacher of wisdom and virtue, and not as the Lamb of God who died on the cross for the sins of the world and thereby reconciled mankind with the heavenly Father, one preaches a false Christ. And whoever accepts this Christ of the unbelievers has forsaken the true Christ and placed his confidence in a dream being, one who never existed except in the imagination of unbelieving fools. Christ Himself says, “I and the Father are one” (John 10:30), “Whoever has seen Me has seen the Father” (John 14:9), and “all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father” (John 5:23).

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus, when You were lifted up on the cross, the entire world experienced birth pains as the cosmos was rocked as Your death gave birth to a new creation. Jeremiah Persecuted by Pashhur

<sup>7</sup>O LORD, you have deceived me,
 and I was deceived;
 you are stronger than I,
 and you have prevailed.
 I have become a laughingstock all the day;
 everyone mocks me.

<sup>8</sup>For whenever I speak, I cry out,
 I shout, "Violence and destruction!"
 For the word of the LORD has become for me
 a reproach and derision all day long.

<sup>9</sup>If I say, "I will not mention him, or speak any more in his name,"
 there is in my heart
 as it were a burning fire
 shut up in my bones,
 and I am weary with holding it in,
 and I cannot.

<sup>10</sup>For I hear many whispering.
 Terror is on every side!
 "Denounce him! Let us denounce him!"
 say all my close friends,
 watching for my fall.
 "Perhaps he will be deceived;
 then we can overcome him
 and take our revenge on him."

<sup>11</sup>But the LORD is with me as a dread warrior;
 therefore my persecutors
 will stumble;
 they will not overcome me.
 They will be greatly shamed,
 for they will not succeed.
 Their eternal dishonor
 will never be forgotten.

<sup>12</sup>O LORD of hosts,
 who tests the righteous,
 who sees the heart and the mind,
 let me see your vengeance upon them,
 for to you have I committed
 my cause.

<sup>13</sup>Sing to the LORD;
 praise the LORD!
 For he has delivered the life of the needy
 from the hand of evildoers.

<sup>14</sup>Cursed be the day
 on which I was born!
 The day when my mother bore me,
 let it not be blessed!

<sup>15</sup>Cursed be the man who brought the news to my father,
 "A son is born to you,"
 making him very glad.

<sup>16</sup>Let that man be like the cities
 that the Lord overthrew without pity;
 let him hear a cry in the morning
 and an alarm at noon, <sup>17</sup>because he did not kill me in the womb;
 so my mother would have been my grave,
 and her womb forever great.

<sup>18</sup>Why did I come out from the womb
 to see toil and sorrow,
 and spend my days in shame?

New Testament Reading: Matthew 24:29–51

The Coming of the Son of Man

<sup>29</sup>"Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. <sup>30</sup>Then will appear in heaven the sign of the Son of Man, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. <sup>31</sup>And he will send out his angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

The Lesson of the Fig Tree

<sup>32</sup>“From the fig tree learn its lesson: as soon as its branch becomes tender and puts out its leaves, you know that summer is near. <sup>33</sup>So also, when you see all these things, you know that he is near, at the very gates. <sup>34</sup>Truly, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things take place. <sup>35</sup>Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.

No One Knows That Day and Hour

<sup>36</sup>“But concerning that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but the Father only. <sup>37</sup>For as were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. <sup>38</sup>For as in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark, <sup>39</sup>and they were unaware until the flood came and swept them all away, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. <sup>40</sup>Then two men will be in the field; one will be taken and one left. <sup>41</sup>Two women will be grinding at the mill; one will be taken and one left. <sup>42</sup>Therefore, stay awake, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming. <sup>43</sup>But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into. <sup>44</sup>Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

begins to beat his fellow servants and eats and drinks with drunkards, <sup>50</sup>the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know <sup>51</sup>and will cut him in pieces and put him with the hypocrites. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.”

Writing

Hence, not only are sins forgiven in baptism, but we are also made sure and certain that God is so well pleased with it that he, together with Christ and his Holy Spirit, proposes to be present when it is administered and he himself will be the baptizer; although this glorious revelation of the divine majesty does not now occur visibly, as it did at that time on the Jordan, since it is sufficient that it occurred once as a witness and a sign.

Therefore we should diligently accustom ourselves to look upon these things with eyes of faith and to interpret this glorious revelation and divine radiance and splendor which shone forth above the baptism of Christ as happening to us; for all this did not happen and all this was not recorded for Christ’s sake, for he himself did not baptize [John 4:2], but rather for our comfort and the strengthening of our faith, for the sake of which he also accepted baptism. Therefore wherever anybody is being baptized according to Christ’s command we should be confidently convinced that God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit is present there, and that there is pure delight, pleasure, and joy in heaven over the fact that sin is forgiven, the heavens opened forever, and that now there is no more wrath but only grace unalloyed.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty, everlasting God, for our many sins we justly deserve eternal condemnation. In Your mercy, You sent Your dear Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who won for us forgiveness of sins and everlasting salvation. Grant us a true confession so that dead to sin we may hear the sweet words of Absolution from our confessor as Luther heard them from his pastor, Johannes von Staupitz, and be released from all our sin; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ## Johann von Staupitz, Luther's Father Confessor

Johann von Staupitz (ca. 1469–1524), vicar-general of the Augustinian Order in Germany and friend of Martin Luther, was born in Saxony. He studied at the universities in Leipzig and Cologne and served on the faculty at Cologne. In 1503, he was called by Frederick the Wise to serve as dean of the theological faculty at the newly founded University of Wittenberg. There he encouraged Luther to attain a doctorate in theology and appointed Luther as his successor to professor of Bible. During Luther's early struggles to understand God's grace, it was Staupitz who counseled Luther to focus on Christ and not on himself.

[Message to the House of David]

<sup>1</sup>Thus says the LORD: “Go down to the house of the king of Judah and speak there this word, <sup>2</sup>and say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, who sits on the throne of David, you, and your servants, and your people who enter these gates. <sup>3</sup>Thus says the LORD: Do justice and righteousness, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed. And do no wrong or violence to the resident alien, the fatherless, and the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place. <sup>4</sup>For if you will indeed obey this word, then there shall enter the gates of this house kings who sit on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their servants and their people. <sup>5</sup>But if you will not obey these words, I swear by myself, declares the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation. <sup>6</sup>For thus says the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah:

“ You are like Gilead to me,
 like the summit of Lebanon,
 yet surely I will make you a desert,
 an uninhabited city.
<sup>7</sup>I will prepare destroyers against you,
 each with his weapons,
 and they shall cut down
 your choicest cedars
 and cast them into the fire.

<sup>8</sup>“And many nations will pass by this city, and every man will say to his neighbor, “Why has the Lord dealt thus with this great city?” <sup>9</sup>And they will answer, “Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God and worshiped other gods and served them.” ’ ”

<sup>10</sup>Weep not for him who is dead,
 nor grieve for him,
 but weep bitterly for him who goes away,
 for he shall return no more
 to see his native land.

Message to the Sons of Josiah

<sup>11</sup>For thus says the LORD concerning Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, and who went away from this place: “He shall return here no more, <sup>12</sup>but in the place where they have carried him captive, there shall he die, and he shall never see this land again.”

<sup>13</sup>“Woe to him who builds his house
 by unrighteousness,
 and his upper rooms by injustice,
 who makes his neighbor serve him
 for nothing
 and does not give him his wages, <sup>14</sup>who says, ‘I will build myself
 a great house
 with spacious upper rooms,’
 who cuts out windows for it, paneling it with cedar
 and painting it with vermilion.

<sup>15</sup>Do you think you are a king
 because you compete in cedar?
 Did not your father eat and drink and do justice and righteousness?
 Then it was well with him.

<sup>16</sup>He judged the cause of the poor and needy;
 then it was well.

Is not this to know me?
declares the LORD.

<sup>17</sup>But you have eyes and heart
only for your dishonest gain,
for shedding innocent blood,
and for practicing oppression
and violence.”

<sup>18</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD
concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah,
king of Judah:

“They shall not lament for him, saying,
‘Ah, my brother!’ or ‘Ah, sister!’
They shall not lament for him, saying,
‘Ah, lord!’ or ‘Ah, his majesty!’
<sup>19</sup>With the burial of a donkey
he shall be buried,
dragged and dumped beyond
the gates of Jerusalem.”

<sup>20</sup>“Go up to Lebanon, and cry out,
and lift up your voice in Bashan;
cry out from Abarim,
for all your lovers are destroyed.

<sup>21</sup>I spoke to you in your prosperity,
but you said, ‘I will not listen.’
This has been your way from your youth,
that you have not obeyed my voice.

<sup>22</sup>The wind shall shepherd all your shepherds,
and your lovers
shall go into captivity;
then you will be ashamed and confounded
because of all your evil.

nested among the cedars,
how you will be pitied when pangs
come upon you,
pain as of a woman in labor!”

The Parable of the Ten Virgins

<sup>1</sup>“Then the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. <sup>2</sup>Five of them were foolish, and five were wise. <sup>3</sup>For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them, <sup>4</sup>but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps. <sup>5</sup>As the bridegroom was delayed, they all became drowsy and slept. <sup>6</sup>But at midnight there was a cry, ‘Here is the bridegroom! Come out to meet him.’ <sup>7</sup>Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps. <sup>8</sup>And the foolish said to the wise, ‘Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.’ <sup>9</sup>But the wise answered, saying, ‘Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves.’ <sup>10</sup>And while they were going to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut. <sup>11</sup>Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, ‘Lord, lord, open to us.’ <sup>12</sup>But he answered, ‘Truly, I say to you, I do not know you.’ <sup>13</sup>Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour.”

Writing

[“But deliver us from evil.”] We are taught in the petition to lift up our heads, to think upon, and to desire the blessed life to come. This life is eternal where there will be full deliverance from all evil. Because we are too occupied and immersed in the matters and affairs of this world and of this life, we also request that God would inspire, excite, kindle, generate, and preserve in us this thought and desire. The death of the godly is their deliverance from all evil and a beginning of everlasting happiness.

Therefore, when we say, “Deliver us from evil,” we desire that our heavenly Father would keep us from an evil death. We ask for His deliverance so that we may not die . . . the death of sinners. . . . We ask that we may not die carelessly in our sins, unprepared without repentance (John 8:24), but that He would grant us a godly and saving end of this life. We ask to die in the Lord (Rev. 14:13). . . .

Furthermore, we pray that God would put into us a concern and desire to prepare ourselves in advance for those things that are necessary to be properly prepared for death. This is done so that we may be prepared for death, because we do not want to be like those who do not have oil in their lamps when the bridegroom comes and calls us (Matt. 25:3). We ask that in the last hour of this life we may have true repentance, the Word, the Sacraments, faith, hope, and the spirit of grace and prayer. These things we ask so that when we are to die, we may be found in Christ. . . . In this we rightly commend our souls into the hands of our Father. If we are found improperly prepared, we pray that He would not allow this to happen by a sudden unannounced death, but would mercifully grant us time for such preparation. We ask that our death may be a deliverance from all evil and a passage out of this vale of misery to eternal life.

—Martin Chemnitz

Hymnody

“Wake, awake, for night is flying,”
The watchmen on the heights are crying;
“Awake, Jerusalem, arise!”

Midnight hears the welcome voices
And at the thrilling cry rejoices:

“Oh, where are ye, ye virgins wise?

The Bridegroom comes, awake!

Your lamps with gladness take!

Alleluia!

With bridal care

Yourselves prepare

To meet the Bridegroom, who is near.”

—Wake, Awake, for Night Is Flying

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, through the teaching of Martin Chemnitz, You prepare us for the coming of Your Son to lead home His Bride, the Church, that with all the company of the redeemed we may finally enter into His eternal wedding feast; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ## Martin Chemnitz, Pastor and Confessor

Aside from Martin Luther, Martin Chemnitz (1522–1586) is regarded as the most important theologian in the history of the Lutheran Church. Chemnitz combined a penetrating intellect and an almost encyclopedic knowledge of Scripture and the Church Fathers with a genuine love for the Church. When various doctrinal disagreements broke out after Luther’s death in 1546, Chemnitz determined to give himself fully to the restoration of unity in the Lutheran Church. He became the leading spirit and principal author of the 1577 Formula of Concord, which settled the doctrinal disputes on the basis of Scripture and largely succeeded in restoring unity among Lutherans. Chemnitz also authored the four volume Examination of the Council of Trent (1565–1573), in which he rigorously subjected the teachings of this Roman Catholic Council to the judgment of Scripture and the ancient Church Fathers. The Examination became the definitive Lutheran answer to the Council of Trent, as well as a thorough exposition of the faith of the Augsburg Confession. A theologian and a churchman, Chemnitz was truly a gift of God to the Church.

The Righteous Branch

<sup>1</sup>“Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture!” declares the LORD. <sup>2</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the shepherds who care for my people: “You have scattered my flock and have driven them away, and you have not attended to them. Behold, I will attend to you for your evil deeds, declares the LORD. <sup>3</sup>Then I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries where I have driven them, and I will bring them back to their fold, and they shall be fruitful and multiply. <sup>4</sup>I will set shepherds over them who will care for them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be missing, declares the LORD.

<sup>5</sup>“Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will raise up for David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. <sup>6</sup>In his days Judah will be saved, and Israel will dwell securely. And this is the name by which he will be called: ‘The LORD is our righteousness.’

<sup>7</sup>“Therefore, behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when they shall no longer say, ‘As the LORD lives who brought up the people of Israel out of the land of Egypt,’ <sup>8</sup>but ‘As the Lord lives who brought up and led the offspring of the house of Israel out of the north country and out of all the countries where he had driven them.’ Then they shall dwell in their own land.”

Lying Prophets

My heart is broken within me;
all my bones shake;
I am like a drunken man,
like a man overcome by wine,
because of the LORD
and because of his holy words.

<sup>10</sup>For the land is full of adulterers;
because of the curse the land mourns,
and the pastures of the wilderness
are dried up.

Their course is evil,
and their might is not right.

<sup>11</sup>“Both prophet and priest are ungodly;
even in my house I have found their evil, declares the LORD.

<sup>12</sup>Therefore their way shall be to them
like slippery paths in the darkness, into which they shall be driven
and fall,

for I will bring disaster upon them
in the year of their punishment,
declares the LORD.

<sup>13</sup>In the prophets of Samaria
I saw an unsavory thing:

they prophesied by Baal
and led my people Israel astray.

<sup>14</sup>But in the prophets of Jerusalem

I have seen a horrible thing:
they commit adultery and walk in lies;
they strengthen the hands
of evildoers,
so that no one turns from his evil;
all of them have become like Sodom
to me,
and its inhabitants like Gomorrah.”

<sup>15</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts
concerning the prophets:

“Behold, I will feed them with bitter food and give them poisoned water
to drink,
for from the prophets of Jerusalem
ungodliness has gone out into all the land.”

<sup>16</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Do not listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you, filling you with vain hopes.
They speak visions of their own minds, not from the mouth of the LORD. <sup>17</sup>They say continually to those who despise the word of the LORD, ‘It shall be well with you’; and to everyone who stubbornly follows his own heart, they say, ‘No disaster shall come upon you.’”

<sup>18</sup>For who among them has stood in the council of the LORD
to see and to hear his word, or who has paid attention
to his word and listened?

<sup>19</sup>Behold, the storm of the LORD!
Wrath has gone forth,
a whirling tempest;
it will burst upon the head
of the wicked.

<sup>20</sup>The anger of the LORD will not turn back until he has executed and accomplished the intents of his heart.

In the latter days you will understand it clearly.

New Testament Reading: Matthew 25:14–30

The Parable of the Talents

<sup>14</sup>“For it will be like a man going on a journey, who called his servants and entrusted to them his property. <sup>15</sup>To one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one, to each according to his ability. Then he went away. <sup>16</sup>He who had received the five talents went at once and traded with them, and he made five talents more. <sup>17</sup>So also he who had the two talents made two talents more. <sup>18</sup>But he who had received the one talent went and dug in the ground and hid his master’s money. <sup>19</sup>Now after a long time the master of those servants came and settled accounts with them. <sup>20</sup>And he who had received the five talents came forward, bringing five talents more, saying, ‘Master, you delivered to me five talents; here I have made five talents more.’ <sup>21</sup>His master said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.’ <sup>22</sup>And he also who had the two talents came forward, saying, ‘Master, you delivered to me two talents; here I have made two talents more.’ <sup>23</sup>His master said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.’ <sup>24</sup>He also who had received the one talent came forward, saying, ‘Master, I knew you to be a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you scattered no seed, <sup>25</sup>so I was afraid, and I went and hid your talent in the ground. Here you have what is yours.’ <sup>26</sup>But his master answered him, ‘You wicked and slothful servant! You knew that I reap where I have not sown and gather where I scattered no seed? <sup>27</sup>Then you ought to have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received what was my own with interest. <sup>28</sup>So take the talent from him and give it to him who has the ten talents. <sup>29</sup>For to everyone who has will more be given, and he will have an abundance. But from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. <sup>30</sup>And cast the worthless servant into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.’ ”

Writing

If one asks what the one characteristic feature of the Christian faith is, distinguishing it from all religions in the world, then we would have to say: It is the forgiveness of sins. The pious Jew and even a pious Mohammedan may hope for God’s pardon. Forgiveness as a real gift, the full assurance of forgiveness, that is the gift of the Gospel.

To proclaim the Gospel of forgiveness, to declare to repentant sinners the forgiveness of their sins, to distribute the Sacraments with all the gifts of divine grace contained in them, this and nothing else, is the proper task of the minister of Christ as it was the officium proprium [proper office] of Christ Himself. This the Church had to learn in the great crisis of the second century. . . . The church administration in Europe follows the patterns of the administration of the state, while in America the great business organizations seem to be unknowingly imitated by the churches. The consequence is that also the parish minister becomes more and more of an administrator and organizer who rushes from meeting to meeting and has not enough time for his proper calling as a shepherd.

[Lying Prophets]

<sup>21</sup>“I did not send the prophets,
yet they ran;

I did not speak to them,

yet they prophesied.

<sup>22</sup>But if they had stood in my council, then they would have proclaimed my words to my people, and they would have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their deeds.

<sup>34</sup>Am I a God at hand, declares the LORD, and not a God far away? <sup>24</sup>Can a man hide himself in secret places so that I cannot see him? declares the LORD. Do I not fill heaven and earth? declares the LORD. <sup>25</sup>I have heard what the prophets have said who prophesy lies in my name, saying, 'I have dreamed, I have dreamed!' <sup>26</sup>How long shall there be lies in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies, and who prophesy the deceit of their own heart, <sup>27</sup>who think to make my people forget my name by their dreams that they tell one another, even as their fathers forgot my name for Baal? <sup>28</sup>Let the prophet who has a dream tell the dream, but let him who has my word speak my word faithfully. What has straw in common with wheat? declares the LORD. <sup>29</sup>Is not my word like fire, declares the LORD, and like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces? <sup>30</sup>Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, declares the LORD, who steal my words from one another. <sup>31</sup>Behold, I am against the prophets, declares the LORD, who use their tongues and declare, 'declares the Lord.' <sup>32</sup>Behold, I am against those who prophesy lying dreams, declares the LORD, and who tell them and lead my people astray by their lies and their recklessness, when I did not send them or charge them. So they do not profit this people at all, declares the LORD.

<sup>33</sup>"When one of this people, or a prophet or a priest asks you, 'What is the burden of the LORD?' you shall say to them, 'You are the burden, and I will cast you off, declares the LORD.' <sup>34</sup>And as for the prophet, priest, or one of the people who says, 'The burden of the LORD,' I will punish that man and his household. <sup>35</sup>Thus shall you say, every one to his neighbor and every one to his brother, 'What has the LORD answered?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' <sup>36</sup>But 'the burden of the LORD' you shall mention no more, for the burden is every man's own word, and you pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God. <sup>37</sup>Thus you shall say to the prophet, 'What has the LORD answered you?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' <sup>38</sup>But if you say, 'The burden of the LORD,' thus says the LORD, 'Because you have said these words, "The burden of the LORD," when I sent to you, saying, "You shall not say, 'The burden of the LORD,' " <sup>39</sup>therefore, behold, I will surely lift you up and cast you away from my presence, you and the city that I gave to you and your fathers. <sup>40</sup>And I will bring upon you everlasting reproach and perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.' "

The Final Judgment

<sup>31</sup>"When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. <sup>32</sup>Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. <sup>33</sup>And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. <sup>34</sup>Then the King will say to those on his right, 'Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. <sup>35</sup>For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, <sup>36</sup>I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me.’ <sup>37</sup>Then the righteous will answer him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? <sup>38</sup>And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? <sup>39</sup>And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you?’ <sup>40</sup>And the King will answer them, ‘Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.’

<sup>41</sup>“Then he will say to those on his left, ‘Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. <sup>42</sup>For I was hungry and you gave me no food, I was thirsty and you gave me no drink, <sup>43</sup>I was a stranger and you did not welcome me, naked and you did not clothe me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me.’ <sup>44</sup>Then they also will answer, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you?’ <sup>45</sup>Then he will answer them, saying, ‘Truly, I say to you, as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to me.’ <sup>46</sup>And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.”

Writing

Now Scripture sets forth two kinds of teaching—Law and Gospel. The Law, in condemning sins and setting forth the gravest threats of God, is that hammer (Jer 23:29) through which God breaks rocks, that is crushes the spirit, renders the heart contrite and humbles it, so that truly and earnestly acknowledging the multitude and magnitude of sins and of the wrath of God over sin, the mind begins to hate and detest sin, to fear the wrath and judgment of God so that it is unwilling to perish eternally under them but sighs and struggles with groaning that it may be freed from them. There the Law indeed has and sets forth promises of life, but on condition of perfect fulfillment. . . . The Gospel, however, teaches that what was impossible for the Law on account of the flesh, God provided by sending His Son (Rom. 8:3). Therefore it shows Christ, the Lamb of God, born under the Law for us, in order that He might make satisfaction to the judgment of God, revealed in the Law, by His obedience and suffering on our behalf. This Mediator the Father sets before us in the Gospel as a propitiation by faith in His blood through the remission of sins (Rom. 3:25). “For this is the will of the Father, that everyone who believes in the Son should not perish but have eternal life” (John 6:40). Thus the Gospel proclaims, offers and sets before contrite and terrified consciences the grace of God, reconciliation and remission of sins freely on account of the merit of Christ; and it is His will that everyone should lay hold of and apply this benefit of the Mediator to himself. The ministry of private absolution applies this general promise of the Gospel to the penitent individually, in order that faith may be able to state all the more firmly that the benefits of the passion of Christ are certainly given and applied to it. Moreover, in the use of the Lord’s Supper, Christ offers, applies, and seals, to all who receive it in faith, the New Testament with the precious pledges of His body and blood, namely, that God wants to be gracious with respect to our sins and to remember our iniquities no more.

Martin of Tours, Pastor

Born into a pagan family in what is now Hungary around AD 316, Martin grew up in Lombardy (Italy). Coming to the Christian faith as a young person, he began a career in the Roman army. But sensing a call to a church vocation, Martin left the military and became a monk, affirming that he was "Christ's soldier." Eventually, Martin was named bishop of Tours in western Gaul (France). He is remembered for his simple lifestyle and his determination to share the Gospel throughout rural Gaul. Incidentally, on St. Martin's Day in 1483, the one-day-old son of Hans and Margarete Luther was baptized and given the name "Martin" Luther.

Seventy Years of Captivity

<sup>1</sup>The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah (that was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), <sup>2</sup>which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: <sup>3</sup>“For twenty-three years, from the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, to this day, the word of the LORD has come to me, and I have spoken persistently to you, but you have not listened. <sup>4</sup>You have neither listened nor inclined your ears to hear, although the LORD persistently sent to you all his servants the prophets, <sup>5</sup>saying, ‘Turn now, every one of you, from his evil way and evil deeds, and dwell upon the land that the LORD has given to you and your fathers from of old and forever. <sup>6</sup>Do not go after other gods to serve and worship them, or provoke me to anger with the work of your hands. Then I will do you no harm.’ <sup>7</sup>Yet you have not listened to me, declares the LORD, that you might provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to your own harm.

<sup>8</sup>“Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: Because you have not obeyed my words, <sup>9</sup>behold, I will send for all the tribes of the north, declares the LORD, and for Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and I will bring them against this land and its inhabitants, and against all these surrounding nations. I will devote them to destruction, and make them a horror, a hissing, and an everlasting desolation. <sup>10</sup>Moreover, I will banish from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the grinding of the millstones and the light of the lamp. <sup>11</sup>This whole land shall become a ruin and a waste, and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

<sup>12</sup>Then after seventy years are completed, I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation, the land of the Chaldeans, for their iniquity, declares the LORD, making the land an everlasting waste. <sup>13</sup>I will bring upon that land all the words that I have uttered against it, everything written in this book, which Jeremiah prophesied against all the nations. <sup>14</sup>For many nations and great kings shall make slaves even of them, and I will recompense them according to their deeds and the work of their hands.”

The Cup of the LORD’s Wrath

<sup>15</sup>Thus the LORD, the God of Israel, said to me: “Take from my hand this cup of the wine of wrath, and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it. <sup>16</sup>They shall drink and stagger and be crazed because of the sword that I am sending among them.”

<sup>17</sup>So I took the cup from the LORD’s hand, and made all the nations to whom the LORD sent me drink it: <sup>18</sup>Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, its kings and officials, to make them a desolation and a waste, a hissing and a curse, as at this day.

The Plot to Kill Jesus

<sup>1</sup>When Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said to his disciples, <sup>2</sup>“You know that after two days the Passover is coming, and the Son of Man will be delivered up to be crucified.”

<sup>3</sup>Then the chief priests and the elders of the people gathered in the palace of the high priest, whose name was Caiaphas, <sup>4</sup>and plotted together in order to arrest Jesus by stealth and kill him. <sup>5</sup>But they said, “Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar among the people.”

Jesus Anointed at Bethany

<sup>6</sup>Now when Jesus was at Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, <sup>7</sup>a woman came up to him with an alabaster flask of very expensive ointment, and she poured it on his head as he reclined at table. <sup>8</sup>And when the disciples saw it, they were indignant, saying, “Why this waste? <sup>9</sup>For this could have been sold for a large sum and given to the poor.” <sup>10</sup>But Jesus, aware of this, said to them, “Why do you trouble the woman? For she has done a beautiful thing to me. <sup>11</sup>For you always have the poor with you, but you will not always have me. <sup>12</sup>In pouring this ointment on my body, she has done it to prepare me for burial. <sup>13</sup>Truly, I say to you, wherever this gospel is proclaimed in the whole world, what she has done will also be told in memory of her.”

Judas to Betray Jesus

<sup>14</sup>Then one of the twelve, whose name was Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests <sup>15</sup>and said, “What will you give me if I deliver him over to you?” And they paid him thirty pieces of silver. <sup>16</sup>And from that moment he sought an opportunity to betray him.

The Passover with the Disciples

<sup>17</sup>Now on the first day of Unleavened Bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Where will you have us prepare for you to eat the Passover?” <sup>18</sup>He said, “Go into the city to a certain man and say to him, ‘The Teacher says, My time is at hand. I will keep the Passover at your house with my disciples.’” <sup>19</sup>And the disciples did as Jesus had directed them, and they prepared the Passover.

Writing

The prophet also interprets it thus, after his splendid and extensive predictions about this King: He is to rule over all, smashing kings and whatever else is great and resists Him. Lest anyone understand this according to the Jewish delusion that it would happen physically, in the manner of the world, He means to say: “It is certainly true that He is to be great and mighty above all kings on earth. But let me give you the true explanation of how He will deal with this matter and by what manner and form He will achieve such a dominion. He is not going to be a secular lord and king, as I and my descendants in Jerusalem and other kings are. Instead, He will come to earth and share the ordinary life and society of men. He will live His life like an ordinary man, and others will see nothing special or extraordinary about Him.”

In this life, the prophet says, He will “drink from the brook”; that is, He will suffer and die. By “drink” or “cup” Scripture means any sort of torture, misery, and suffering, just as Christ prayed in the garden, where He sweat blood (Luke 22:44) and said (Matt. 26:39): “Dear Father, if it is possible, remove this cup from Me. But if it cannot be otherwise but that I drink it, Thy will be done.” You see, that is the kind of drinking of which this verse speaks. The prophets also speak thus and call it “being drunk” when God punishes. Therefore “to fill the cup” or “to make drunk” means to suffer great torture and pain, and “cup” symbolizes that specific portion of suffering which God awards to Him. Jeremiah 25:15, 16, Psalm 75:8, and many other places express it this way.

Therefore Christ had to drink a “cup” on earth and be “drunk”; that is, He suffered torture and pain and perished before all the world. Furthermore, in His own kingdom He was so miserable and poor that He had no place where He could lay His head (Matt. 8:20). No crown, royal adornment, or pomp could be seen about Him—nothing but cross, nails, and blood. There He hung, unable to touch either heaven or earth and unable to stand up on His feet.

Jeremiah Threatened with Death

of their evil deeds. <sup>4</sup>You shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD: If you will not listen to me, to walk in my law that I have set before you, <sup>5</sup>and to listen to the words of my servants the prophets whom I send to you urgently, though you have not listened, <sup>6</sup>then I will make this house like Shiloh, and I will make this city a curse for all the nations of the earth.’”

<sup>7</sup>The priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD. <sup>8</sup>And when Jeremiah had finished speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, then the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold of him, saying, “You shall die! <sup>9</sup>Why have you prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, “This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant’?” And all the people gathered around Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup>When the officials of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king’s house to the house of the LORD and took their seat in the entry of the New Gate of the house of the LORD. <sup>11</sup>Then the priests and the prophets said to the officials and to all the people, “This man deserves the sentence of death, because he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your own ears.”

<sup>12</sup>Then Jeremiah spoke to all the officials and all the people, saying, “The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and this city all the words you have heard. <sup>13</sup>Now therefore mend your ways and your deeds, and obey the voice of the LORD your God, and the LORD will relent of the disaster that he has pronounced against you. <sup>14</sup>But as for me, behold, I am in your hands. Do with me as seems good and right to you. <sup>15</sup>Only know for certain that if you put me to death, you will bring innocent blood upon yourselves and upon this city and its inhabitants, for in truth the LORD sent me to you to speak all these words in your ears.”

Jeremiah Spared from Death

<sup>16</sup>Then the officials and all the people said to the priests and the prophets, “This man does not deserve the sentence of death, for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.” <sup>17</sup>And certain of the elders of the land arose and spoke to all the assembled people, saying, <sup>18</sup>“Micah of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and said to all the people of Judah: ‘Thus says the Lord of hosts, “ ‘Zion shall be plowed as a field;

Jerusalem shall become a heap of ruins,
and the mountain of the house
a wooded height.’

<sup>19</sup>Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him to death? Did he not fear the LORD and entreat the favor of the LORD, and did not the LORD relent of the disaster that he had pronounced against them? But we are about to bring great disaster upon ourselves.”

[The Passover with the Disciples]

<sup>20</sup>When it was evening, he reclined at table with the twelve. <sup>21</sup>And as they were eating, he said, “Truly, I say to you, one of you will betray me.” <sup>22</sup>And they were very sorrowful and began to say to him one after another, “Is it I, Lord?” <sup>23</sup>He answered, “He who has dipped his hand in the dish with me will betray me. <sup>24</sup>The Son of Man goes as it is written of him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been better for that man if he had not been born.”<sup>25</sup> Judas, who would betray him, answered, “Is it I, Rabbi?” He said to him, “You have said so.”

Institution of the Lord’s Supper

<sup>26</sup>Now as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and after blessing it broke it and gave it to the disciples, and said, “Take, eat; this is my body.”<sup>27</sup> And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, saying, “Drink of it, all of you,<sup>28</sup> for this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins.<sup>29</sup> I tell you I will not drink again of this fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father’s kingdom.”

Jesus Foretells Peter’s Denial

<sup>30</sup>And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.<sup>31</sup> Then Jesus said to them, “You will all fall away because of me this night. For it is written, ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’<sup>32</sup> But after I am raised up, I will go before you to Galilee.”<sup>33</sup> Peter answered him, “Though they all fall away because of you, I will never fall away.”<sup>34</sup> Jesus said to him, “Truly, I tell you, this very night, before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times.”<sup>35</sup> Peter said to him, “Even if I must die with you, I will not deny you!” And all the disciples said the same.

Our Lord gives thanks, to teach us how we ought to celebrate this Sacrament, and to show that He does not unwillingly go to the Passion, and to teach us that whatever we may suffer we are to bear it thankfully, thence also suggesting good hopes. For if the type was a deliverance from such bondage, how much more will the truth set the world free and He will be delivered up for the benefit of our race. Wherefore, I would add, neither did He appoint the Sacrament before this, but only at the point at which the rites of the Law were to cease. Thus the very chief of the feasts, the Passover, He brings to an end. He removes the feasts to another most awful table, and He says, “Take, eat. This is My body, which is broken for many.”

And how were they not confounded at hearing this? Because He had before told unto them many and great things regarding this. Although they needed no more explanation because they had heard enough about it, but He does speak of the cause of His Passion, namely, the taking away of sins. And He calls it blood of a new testament, that of the undertaking, the promise, the new law. For this He is also what He did in the old covenant, and this comprises the testament that is the new law. As the old testament had sheep and bulls, so this has the Lord’s blood. Hence He also shows that He is soon to die, for which reason He also made mention of a testament, and reminds them in it of the former Testament, which was also dedicated with blood. And again He tells the cause of His death, that is, that His blood “is shed for many for the remission of sins”; and He says, “Do this in remembrance of Me.” Do you see how He removes and draws them off from Jewish customs? For as you did that, He says, in remembrance of the miracles in Egypt, so do this likewise in remembrance of Me. The blood of lambs was shed for the preservation of the firstborn, this is shed for the remission of the sins of the whole world.

Jeremiah’s Letter to the Exiles

and daughters; take wives for your sons, and give your daughters in marriage, that they may bear sons and daughters; multiply there, and do not decrease. <sup>7</sup>But seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the LORD on its behalf, for in its welfare you will find your welfare. <sup>8</sup>For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Do not let your prophets and your diviners who are among you deceive you, and do not listen to the dreams that they dream, <sup>9</sup>for it is a lie that they are prophesying to you in my name; I did not send them, declares the LORD.

<sup>10</sup>“For thus says the LORD: When seventy years are completed for Babylon, I will visit you, and I will fulfill to you my promise and bring you back to this place. <sup>11</sup>For I know the plans I have for you, declares the LORD, plans for welfare and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope. <sup>12</sup>Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will hear you. <sup>13</sup>You will seek me and find me, when you seek me with all your heart. <sup>14</sup>I will be found by you, declares the LORD, and I will restore your fortunes and gather you from all the nations and all the places where I have driven you, declares the LORD, and I will bring you back to the place from which I sent you into exile.

all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, a terror, a hissing, and a reproach among all the nations where I have driven them, <sup>19</sup>because they did not pay attention to my words, declares the LORD, that I persistently sent to you by my servants the prophets, but you would not listen, declares the LORD.’”

New Testament Reading: Matthew 26:36–56

Jesus Prays in Gethsemane

<sup>36</sup>Then Jesus went with them to a place called Gethsemane, and he said to his disciples, “Sit here, while I go over there and pray.” <sup>37</sup>And taking with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, he began to be sorrowful and troubled. <sup>38</sup>Then he said to them, “My soul is very sorrowful, even to death; remain here, and watch with me.” <sup>39</sup>And going a little farther he fell on his face and prayed, saying, “My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as you will.” <sup>40</sup>And he came to the disciples and found them sleeping. And he said to Peter, “So, could you not watch with me one hour? <sup>41</sup>Watch and pray that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.” <sup>42</sup>Again, for the second time, he went away and prayed, “My Father, if this cannot pass unless I drink it, your will be done.” <sup>43</sup>And again he came and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. <sup>44</sup>So, leaving them again, he went away and prayed for the third time, saying the same words again. <sup>45</sup>Then he came to the disciples and said to them, “Sleep and take your rest later on. See, the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. <sup>46</sup>Rise, let us be going; see, my betrayer is at hand.”

Betrayal and Arrest of Jesus

<sup>47</sup>While he was still speaking, Judas came, one of the twelve, and with him a great crowd with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and the elders of the people. <sup>48</sup>Now the betrayer had given them a sign, saying, “The one I will kiss is the man; seize him.” <sup>49</sup>And he came up to Jesus at once and said, “Greetings, Rabbi!” And he kissed him. <sup>50</sup>Jesus said to him, “Friend, do what you came to do.” Then they came up and laid hands on Jesus and seized him. <sup>51</sup>And behold, one of those who were with Jesus stretched out his hand and drew his sword and struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his ear. <sup>52</sup>Then Jesus said to him, “Put your sword back into its place. For all who take the sword will perish by the sword. <sup>53</sup>Do you think that I cannot appeal to my Father, and he will at once send me more than twelve legions of angels? <sup>54</sup>But how then should the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it must be so?” <sup>55</sup>At that hour Jesus said to the crowds, “Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs to capture me? Day after day I sat in the temple teaching, and you did not seize me. <sup>56</sup>But all this has taken place that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled.” Then all the disciples left him and fled.

Writing

The office of Christ is described most clearly, namely, that He will not bear the sword, that He will not found a new state, but will be a teacher to instruct men concerning a certain unheard but eternal decree of God.

Therefore, even if other kings must also make laws and govern through laws, nevertheless their chief function is not to teach or to pass laws, but to punish evil men with the sword and to defend good men. They are consequently like lictors or hangmen of God. For, as Paul says, “they bear the sword to terrify the wicked and for vengeance” (Rom. 13:4). Their own duty is, therefore, not to teach, because they do not rule over consciences or hearts, but only to restrain the hands. . . .

Christ left these things to the kings of the world; to His own people He says: “It shall not be so among you” (Matt. 20:26). For His kingdom stands in the Word, and His office is to teach. He left the care of swine to the kings of the world, for they have been provided with a staff with which they can drive cattle. But His office is . . . to preach, to tell of God’s decree. This definition of the kingdom of Christ is clear enough and the proper distinction. But few truly comprehend it. That harmful mixture of both kingdoms continually clings to people’s hearts to such an extent that it is difficult even for spiritual-minded men to distinguish this kingdom properly from the kingdom of the world. Nevertheless those who believe in another life after this life see that the services of kings and governors are necessary for them in this life, but that they need Christ the King for another and eternal life.

Justinian, Christian Ruler and Confessor of Christ

Justinian was emperor of the East from AD 527 to 565, when the Roman Empire was in decline. With his beautiful and capable wife, Theodora, he restored splendor and majesty to the Byzantine court. During his reign, the empire experienced a renaissance, due in large part to his ambition, intelligence, and strong religious convictions. Justinian also attempted to bring unity to a divided Church. He was a champion of orthodox Christianity and sought agreement among the parties in the Christological controversies of the day as they groups disputed the relation between the divine and human natures in the person of Christ. The Fifth Ecumenical Council in Constantinople in AD 533 was held during his reign and addressed this dispute. Justinian died in his eighties without having accomplished his desire to forge an empire that was firmly Christian and orthodox.

Restoration for Israel and Judah

<sup>1</sup>The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: <sup>2</sup>“Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Write in a book all the words that I have spoken to you. <sup>3</sup>For behold, days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will restore the fortunes of my people, Israel and Judah, says the Lord, and I will bring them back to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall take possession of it.”

<sup>4</sup>These are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and Judah:

<sup>5</sup>“Thus says the LORD:

We have heard a cry of panic,
 of terror, and no peace.

<sup>6</sup>Ask now, and see,
 can a man bear a child?

Why then do I see every man with his hands on his stomach
 like a woman in labor?

Why has every face turned pale?

<sup>7</sup>Alas! That day is so great
 there is none like it;
 it is a time of distress for Jacob;
 yet he shall be saved out of it.

<sup>8</sup>“And it shall come to pass in that day, declares the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off your neck, and I will burst your bonds, and foreigners shall no more make a servant of him. <sup>9</sup>But they shall serve the LORD their God and David their king, whom I will raise up for them.

<sup>10</sup>“Then fear not, O Jacob my servant, declares the LORD, nor be dismayed, O Israel;
 for behold, I will save you from far away,
 and your offspring from the land
 of their captivity.
 Jacob shall return and have quiet
 and ease,
 and none shall make him afraid.

<sup>11</sup>For I am with you to save you,
 declares the LORD;
 I will make a full end of all the nations
 among whom I scattered you,
 but of you I will not make a full end.
 I will discipline you in just measure,
 and I will by no means
 leave you unpunished.

<sup>12</sup>“For thus says the LORD:
 Your hurt is incurable,
 and your wound is grievous.

<sup>13</sup>There is none to uphold your cause,
 no medicine for your wound,
 no healing for you.

<sup>14</sup>All your lovers have forgotten you;
 they care nothing for you;
 for I have dealt you the blow of an enemy,
 the punishment of a merciless foe,
 because your guilt is great,
 because your sins are flagrant.

<sup>15</sup>Why do you cry out over your hurt?
 Your pain is incurable.
 Because your guilt is great,
 because your sins are flagrant,
 I have done these things to you.

<sup>16</sup>Therefore all who devour you shall be devoured,
 and all your foes, every one of them,
 shall go into captivity;

those who plunder you
 shall be plundered,
 and all who prey on you
 I will make a prey.
<sup>17</sup>For I will restore health to you,
 and your wounds I will heal,
 declares the LORD,
 because they have called you an outcast:
 ‘It is Zion, for whom no one cares!’

<sup>18</sup>“Thus says the LORD:
 Behold, I will restore the fortunes of the tents of Jacob
 and have compassion
 on his dwellings;
 the city shall be rebuilt on its mound,
 and the palace shall stand where it used to be.

<sup>19</sup>Out of them shall come songs
 of thanksgiving,
 and the voices of those who celebrate.

I will multiply them, and they shall not be few;
 I will make them honored,
 and they shall not be small.

<sup>20</sup>Their children shall be
 as they were of old,
 and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all who oppress them.

<sup>21</sup>Their prince shall be one of themselves;
 their ruler shall come out
 from their midst;

I will make him draw near,
 and he shall approach me,
 for who would dare of himself
 to approach me?
 declares the LORD.

<sup>22</sup>And you shall be my people,

and I will be your God.”

<sup>23</sup>Behold the storm of the LORD!
 Wrath has gone forth,
 a whirling tempest;
 it will burst upon the head
 of the wicked.

<sup>24</sup>The fierce anger of the LORD will not turn back until he has executed
 and accomplished
 the intentions of his mind.

In the latter days you will understand this.

Jesus Before Caiaphas and the Council

<sup>57</sup>Then those who had seized Jesus led him to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders had gathered. <sup>58</sup>And Peter was following him at a distance, as far as the courtyard of the high priest, and going inside he sat with the guards to see the end. <sup>59</sup>Now the chief priests and the whole Council were seeking false testimony against Jesus that they might put him to death, <sup>60</sup>but they found none, though many false witnesses came forward. At last two came forward <sup>61</sup>and said, “This man said, ‘I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to rebuild it in three days.’” <sup>62</sup>And the high priest stood up and said, “Have you no answer to make? What is it that these men testify against you?” <sup>63</sup>But Jesus remained silent. And the high priest said to him, “I adjure you by the living God, tell us if you are the Christ, the Son of God.” <sup>64</sup>Jesus said to him, “You have said so. But I tell you, from now on you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of Power and coming on the clouds of heaven.”

<sup>65</sup>Then the high priest tore his robes and said, “He has uttered blasphemy. What further witnesses do we need? You have now heard his blasphemy. <sup>66</sup>What is your judgment?” They answered, “He deserves death.” <sup>67</sup>Then they spit in his face and struck him. And some slapped him, <sup>68</sup>saying, “Prophecy to us, you Christ! Who is it that struck you?”

Peter Denies Jesus

<sup>69</sup>Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard. And a servant girl came up to him and said, “You also were with Jesus the Galilean.” <sup>70</sup>But he denied it before them all, saying, “I do not know what you mean.” <sup>71</sup>And when he went out to the entrance, another servant girl saw him, and she said to the bystanders, “This man was with Jesus of Nazareth.” <sup>72</sup>And again he denied it with an oath: “I do not know the man.” <sup>73</sup>After a little while the bystanders came up and said to Peter, “Certainly you too are one of them, for your accent betrays you.” <sup>74</sup>Then he began to invoke a curse on himself and to swear, “I do not know the man.” And immediately the rooster crowed. <sup>75</sup>And Peter remembered the saying of Jesus, “Before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times.” And he went out and wept bitterly.

Writing

We have attributed these two parts to repentance: contrition and faith. . . . We say that contrition is the true terror of conscience, which feels that God is angry with sin and grieves that it has sinned. This contrition takes place when sins are condemned by God’s Word. . . .

As the second part of repentance we add faith in Christ. The Gospel, in which the forgiveness of sins is freely promised concerning Christ, should be presented to consciences in these terrors. They should believe that, for Christ’s sake, their sins are freely forgiven. This faith cheers, sustains, and enlivens the contrite, according to Romans 5:1, “Since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God.” This faith obtains the forgiveness of sins. It justifies before God, as the same passage testifies, “since we have been justified by faith.” This faith shows the distinction between the contrition of Judas and Peter, of Saul and David. The contrition of Judas or Saul (Matthew 27:3–5; 1 Samuel 31:4–6) is useless because faith is not added. Faith grasps the forgiveness of sins, given as a gift for Christ’s sake. So the contrition of David or Peter (2 Samuel 12:13; Matthew 26:75) helps because faith, which takes hold of the forgiveness of sins granted for Christ’s sake, is added to it. . . . This faith grows gradually and throughout the entire life, struggles with sin, in order to overcome sin and death. Love follows faith, as we have said above. So childlike fear can be clearly defined as anxiety that has been connected with faith, that is, where faith comforts and sustains the anxious heart.

Hymnody

Thou hast suffered men to bruise Thee,
That from pain I might be free;
Falsely did Thy foes accuse Thee:
Thence I gain security;
Comfortless Thy soul did languish
Me to comfort in my anguish.
Thousand, thousand thanks shall be,
Dearest Jesus, unto Thee.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, the temple of Your body was destroyed on the cross and three days later raised from the dead and exalted to the right hand of the Father. Visit us now with this same body, that we may not deny that we know You but in faith hear in our ears Your life-giving voice and receive on our lips Your very body and blood to strengthen us in times of temptation; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. The LORD Will Turn Mourning to Joy

I will be the God of all the clans of Israel,
and they shall be my people.”

<sup>2</sup>Thus says the LORD:

“The people who survived the sword found grace in the wilderness;

when Israel sought for rest,

<sup>3</sup>the LORD appeared to him
from far away.

I have loved you with an everlasting love;
therefore I have continued
my faithfulness to you.

<sup>4</sup>Again I will build you,
and you shall be built,
O virgin Israel!

Again you shall adorn yourself
with tambourines
and shall go forth in the dance
of the merry-makers.

<sup>5</sup>Again you shall plant vineyards
 on the mountains of Samaria;
 the planters shall plant
 and shall enjoy the fruit.

<sup>6</sup>For there shall be a day
 when watchmen will call
 in the hill country of Ephraim:
 ‘Arise, and let us go up to Zion,
 to the LORD our God.’ ”

<sup>7</sup>For thus says the LORD:
 “Sing aloud with gladness for Jacob,
 and raise shouts for the chief
 of the nations;
 proclaim, give praise, and say, ‘O LORD, save your people,
 the remnant of Israel.’ ”

<sup>8</sup>Behold, I will bring them from the north country and gather them from the farthest
 parts of the earth,
 among them the blind and the lame,
 the pregnant woman
 and she who is in labor, together;
 a great company,
 they shall return here.

<sup>9</sup>With weeping they shall come,
 and with pleas for mercy
 I will lead them back,
 I will make them walk by brooks of water,
 in a straight path in which they shall not stumble,
 for I am a father to Israel,
 and Ephraim is my firstborn.

<sup>10</sup>“Hear the word of the LORD, O nations, and declare it in the coastlands
 far away;
 say, ‘He who scattered Israel
 will gather him,
 and will keep him as a shepherd
 keeps his flock.’ ”

<sup>11</sup>For the LORD has ransomed Jacob and has redeemed him
 from hands too strong for him.

<sup>12</sup>They shall come and sing aloud
 on the height of Zion,
 and they shall be radiant
 over the goodness of the LORD,
 over the grain, the wine, and the oil,
 and over the young of the flock
 and the herd;
 their life shall be like a watered garden,
 and they shall languish no more.

<sup>13</sup>Then shall the young women rejoice
 in the dance,
 and the young men and the old
 shall be merry.

I will turn their mourning into joy;
 I will comfort them,
 and give them gladness for sorrow.

<sup>14</sup>I will feast the soul of the priests
 with abundance,
 and my people shall be satisfied
 with my goodness,
 declares the LORD.”

<sup>15</sup>Thus says the LORD:
 “A voice is heard in Ramah,
 lamentation and bitter weeping.
 Rachel is weeping for her children;
 she refuses to be comforted
 for her children,
 because they are no more.”

<sup>16</sup>Thus says the LORD:
 “Keep your voice from weeping,
 and your eyes from tears,
 for there is a reward for your work,
 declares the LORD,
 and they shall come back from the land of the enemy.

<sup>17</sup>There is hope for your future,
 declares the LORD,

and your children shall come back to their own country. . . .

<sup>23</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Once more they shall use these words in the land of Judah and in its cities, when I restore their fortunes:

"The LORD bless you, O habitation of righteousness, O holy hill!"

<sup>24</sup>And Judah and all its cities shall dwell there together, and the farmers and those who wander with their flocks. <sup>25</sup>For I will satisfy the weary soul, and every languishing soul I will replenish."

<sup>26</sup>At this I awoke and looked, and my sleep was pleasant to me.

<sup>27</sup>"Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and the seed of beast. <sup>28</sup>And it shall come to pass that as I have watched over them to pluck up and break down, to overthrow, destroy, and bring harm, so I will watch over them to build and to plant, declares the LORD. <sup>29</sup>In those days they shall no longer say:

"The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge."

<sup>30</sup>But everyone shall die for his own sin. Each man who eats sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.

The New Covenant

<sup>31</sup>"Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah, <sup>32</sup>not like the covenant that I made with their fathers on the day when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, my covenant that they broke, though I was their husband, declares the LORD. <sup>33</sup>But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the LORD: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts. And I will be their God, and they shall be my people. <sup>34</sup>And no longer shall each one teach his neighbor and each his brother, saying, 'Know the LORD,' for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest, declares the LORD. For I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more."

Jesus Delivered to Pilate

<sup>1</sup>When morning came, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death. <sup>2</sup>And they bound him and led him away and delivered him over to Pilate the governor.

Judas Hangs Himself

<sup>3</sup>Then when Judas, his betrayer, saw that Jesus was condemned, he changed his mind and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders, <sup>4</sup>saying, "I have sinned by betraying innocent blood." They said, "What is that to us? See to it yourself." <sup>5</sup>And throwing down the pieces of silver into the temple, he departed, and he went and hanged himself. <sup>6</sup>But the chief priests, taking the pieces of silver, said, "It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is blood money." <sup>7</sup>So they took counsel and bought with them the potter's field as a burial place for strangers. <sup>8</sup>Therefore that field has been called the Field of Blood to this day. <sup>9</sup>Then was fulfilled what had been spoken by the prophet Jeremiah, saying, “And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him on whom a price had been set by some of the sons of Israel, <sup>10</sup>and they gave them for the potter’s field, as the Lord directed me.”

Writing

It would, however, be wholly improper to speak of despair (desperatio) on the part of Christ. Despair is iniquity and would conflict with the sinlessness of Christ, which is attested by Scripture. Besides, Scripture expressly bears witness that Christ, while forsaken of God, continued to trust in God (Ps. 22:1, 19ff.; Luke 23:46). While He was forsaken of God, He still cried to God as His God, saying, “My God, my God!” Gerhard writes of this: “Other men cannot, without sinning, feel the wrath of God deserved by their sins, because of the utter corruption of their nature; for secretly in their hearts they become impatient, and at times they also murmur against God in words, as the examples of Job and Jeremiah testify. But Christ bears these tortures without any sin, persists in holy obedience to God, and retains filial trust in His heart. For these are by no means the words of one despairing when He exclaims: ‘My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?’ But they are the words of one giving notice that He is enduring extreme agony of the soul and pains which are truly of hell. And so Christ, by wrestling with the power of the devil, with the horror of death, and with the agonies of the damned, brought back from them a glorious triumph for our salvation.” . . . Furthermore, it must not be forgotten that while Christ was forsaken of God, the Father’s declaration still was true: “This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased” (Matt. 3:17). By the very fact that Christ took upon Himself, in the place of sinful mankind, this extreme punishment of being forsaken of God and so fulfilled His Father’s will, He remained the object of God’s supreme love, even while He was under His wrath, just as He says: “Therefore doth My Father love Me, because I lay down My life, that I might take it again.” (John 10:17).

The LORD Promises Peace

<sup>1</sup>The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah a second time, while he was still shut up in the court of the guard: <sup>2</sup>“Thus says the LORD who made the earth, the LORD who formed it to establish it—the LORD is his name: <sup>3</sup>Call to me and I will answer you, and will tell you great and hidden things that you have not known. <sup>4</sup>For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city and the houses of the kings of Judah that were torn down to make a defense against the siege mounds and against the sword: <sup>5</sup>They are coming in to fight against the Chaldeans and to fill them with the dead bodies of men whom I shall strike down in my anger and my wrath, for I have hidden my face from this city because of all their evil. <sup>6</sup>Behold, I will bring to it health and healing, and I will heal them and reveal to them abundance of prosperity and security. <sup>7</sup>I will restore the fortunes of Judah and the fortunes of Israel, and rebuild them as they were at first. <sup>8</sup>I will cleanse them from all the guilt of their sin against me, and I will forgive all the guilt of their sin and rebellion against me. <sup>9</sup>And this city shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and a glory before all the nations of the earth who shall hear of all the good that I do for them. They shall fear and tremble because of all the good and all the prosperity I provide for it.

<sup>10</sup>“Thus says the LORD: In this place of which you say, ‘It is a waste without man or beast,’ in the cities of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate, without man or inhabitant or beast, there shall be heard again <sup>11</sup>the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voices of those who sing, as they bring thank offerings to the house of the LORD:

“ ‘Give thanks to the LORD of hosts,
for the LORD is good,
for his steadfast love
endures forever!’

For I will restore the fortunes of the land as at first, says the LORD.

<sup>12</sup>“Thus says the LORD of hosts: In this place that is waste, without man or beast, and in all of its cities, there shall again be habitations of shepherds resting their flocks. <sup>13</sup>In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the Shephelah, and in the cities of the Negeb, in the land of Benjamin, the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, flocks shall again pass under the hands of the one who counts them, says the LORD.

The LORD'S Eternal Covenant with David

<sup>14</sup>"Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will fulfill the promise I made to the house of Israel and the house of Judah. <sup>15</sup>In those days and at that time I will cause a righteous Branch to spring up for David, and he shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. <sup>16</sup>In those days Judah will be saved, and Jerusalem will dwell securely. And this is the name by which it will be called: 'The LORD is our righteousness.'

<sup>17</sup>"For thus says the LORD: David shall never lack a man to sit on the throne of the house of Israel, <sup>18</sup>and the Levitical priests shall never lack a man in my presence to offer burnt offerings, to burn grain offerings, and to make sacrifices forever."

<sup>19</sup>The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: <sup>20</sup>"Thus says the LORD: If you can break my covenant with the day and my covenant with the night, so that day and night will not come at their appointed time, <sup>21</sup>then also my covenant with David my servant may be broken, so that he shall not have a son to reign on his throne, and my covenant with the Levitical priests my ministers. <sup>22</sup>As the host of heaven cannot be numbered and the sands of the sea cannot be measured, so I will multiply the offspring of David my servant, and the Levitical priests who minister to me."

Jesus Before Pilate

<sup>11</sup>Now Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked him, "Are you the King of the Jews?" Jesus said, "You have said so." <sup>12</sup>But when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he gave no answer. <sup>13</sup>Then Pilate said to him, "Do you not hear how many things they testify against you?" <sup>14</sup>But he gave him no answer, not even to a single charge, so that the governor was greatly amazed.

The Crowd Chooses Barabbas

<sup>15</sup>Now at the feast the governor was accustomed to release for the crowd any one prisoner whom they wanted. <sup>16</sup>And they had then a notorious prisoner called Barabbas. <sup>17</sup>So when they had gathered, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want me to release for you: Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?" <sup>18</sup>For he knew that it was out of envy that they had delivered him up. <sup>19</sup>Besides, while he was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent word to him, "Have nothing to do with that righteous man, for I have suffered much because of him today in a dream." <sup>20</sup>Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the crowd to ask for Barabbas and destroy Jesus. <sup>21</sup>The governor again said to them, "Which of the two do you want me to release for you?" And they said, "Barabbas." <sup>22</sup>Pilate said to them, "Then what shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?" They all said, "Let him be crucified!" <sup>23</sup>And he said, "Why, what evil has he done?" But they shouted all the more, "Let him be crucified!"

Pilate Delivers Jesus to Be Crucified

<sup>24</sup>So when Pilate saw that he was gaining nothing, but rather that a riot was beginning, he took water and washed his hands before the crowd, saying, “I am innocent of this man’s blood; see to it yourselves.” <sup>25</sup>And all the people answered, “His blood be on us and on our children!” <sup>26</sup>Then he released for them Barabbas, and having scourged Jesus, delivered him to be crucified.

Jesus Is Mocked

<sup>27</sup>Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the governor’s headquarters, and they gathered the whole battalion before him. <sup>28</sup>And they stripped him and put a scarlet robe on him, <sup>29</sup>and twisting together a crown of thorns, they put it on his head and put a reed in his right hand. And kneeling before him, they mocked him, saying, “Hail, King of the Jews!” <sup>30</sup>And they spit on him and took the reed and struck him on the head. <sup>31</sup>And when they had mocked him, they stripped him of the robe and put his own clothes on him and led him away to crucify him.

The Crucifixion

<sup>32</sup>As they went out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name. They compelled this man to carry his cross.

Writing

The crucifixion, which ended with the triumphant cry, “It is finished” (John 19:30), was the offering of the all-sufficient sacrifice for the atonement of all sinners. The Man on the cross was the Lamb of God, who bears the sins of the world to carry them away from the face of God. The salvation of the whole world once hung by those three nails of the cross on Golgotha. As the fruit from the wood of the forbidden tree from which the first man once ate brought sin, death, and damnation upon the entire human race, so the fruits of the wood of the cross restored righteousness, life, and blessedness to all people.

On account of this, the cross is both holy and blessed! Once nothing but a dry piece of wood, it was changed, like Aaron’s staff, into a green branch full of heavenly blossoms and fruit. Once an instrument of torment for the punishment of sinners, it now shines in heavenly splendor for all sinners as a sign of grace. Once the wood of the curse, it has now become, after the Promised Blessing for all people offered Himself up on it, a tree of blessing, an altar of sacrifice for the atonement, and a sweet-smelling aroma to God. Today, the cross is still a terror—but only to hell. It shines upon its ruins as a sign of the victory over sin, death, and Satan. With a crushed head, the serpent of temptation lies at the foot of the cross. It is a picture of eternal comfort upon which the dimming eye of the dying longingly looks, the last anchor of his hope and the only light that shines in the darkness of death.

—C. F. W. Walther

Lord Jesus Christ, as the healer of nations, You released many from their bondage to sin, death, and the devil, but when it came time to release You, the crowd chose a murderer instead. Jeremiah Warns Zedekiah

<sup>1</sup>Zedekiah the son of Josiah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah, reigned instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim. <sup>2</sup>But neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land listened to the words of the LORD that he spoke through Jeremiah the prophet.

<sup>3</sup>King Zedekiah sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the priest, the son of Maaseiah, to Jeremiah the prophet, saying, “Please pray for us to the LORD our God.” <sup>4</sup>Now Jeremiah was still going in and out among the people, for he had not yet been put in prison. <sup>5</sup>The army of Pharaoh had come out of Egypt. And when the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem heard news about them, they withdrew from Jerusalem.

They shall capture it and burn it with fire. <sup>9</sup>Thus says the LORD, Do not deceive yourselves, saying, “The Chaldeans will surely go away from us,” for they will not go away. <sup>10</sup>For even if you should defeat the whole army of Chaldeans who are fighting against you, and there remained of them only wounded men, every man in his tent, they would rise up and burn this city with fire.’ ”

Jeremiah Imprisoned

<sup>16</sup>When Jeremiah had come to the dungeon cells and remained there many days, <sup>17</sup>King Zedekiah sent for him and received him. The king questioned him secretly in his house and said, “Is there any word from the LORD?” Jeremiah said, “There is.” Then he said, “You shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.” <sup>18</sup>Jeremiah also said to King Zedekiah, “What wrong have I done to you or your servants or this people, that you have put me in prison?

<sup>19</sup>Where are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, ‘The king of Babylon will not come against you and against this land?’

<sup>20</sup>Now hear, please, O my lord the king; let my humble plea come before you and do not send me back to the house of Jonathan

the secretary, lest I die there.” <sup>21</sup>So King Zedekiah gave orders, and they committed Jeremiah to the court of the guard. And a loaf of bread was given him daily from the bakers’ street, until all the bread of the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

[The Crucifixion]

<sup>33</sup>And when they came to a place called Golgotha (which means Place of a Skull), <sup>34</sup>they offered him wine to drink, mixed with gall, but when he tasted it, he would not drink it. <sup>35</sup>And when they had crucified him, they divided his garments among them by casting lots. <sup>36</sup>Then they sat down and kept watch over him there. <sup>37</sup>And over his head they put the charge against him, which read, “This is Jesus, the King of the Jews.” <sup>38</sup>Then two robbers were crucified with him, one on the right and one on the left. <sup>39</sup>And those who passed by derided him, wagging their heads <sup>40</sup>and saying, “You who would destroy the temple and rebuild it in three days, save yourself! If you are the Son of God, come down from the cross.” <sup>41</sup>So also the chief priests, with the scribes and elders, mocked him, saying, <sup>42</sup>“He saved others; he cannot save himself. He is the King of Israel; let him come down now from the cross, and we will believe in him. <sup>43</sup>He trusts in God; let God deliver him now, if he desires him. For he said, ‘I am the Son of God.’ ” <sup>44</sup>And the robbers who were crucified with him also reviled him in the same way.

The Death of Jesus

<sup>45</sup>Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour. <sup>46</sup>And about the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, “Eli, Eli, lema sabachthani?” that is, “My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?”<sup>47</sup> And some of the bystanders, hearing it, said, “This man is calling Elijah.”<sup>48</sup> And one of them at once ran and took a sponge, filled it with sour wine, and put it on a reed and gave it to him to drink.<sup>49</sup> But the others said, “Wait, let us see whether Elijah will come to save him.”<sup>50</sup> And Jesus cried out again with a loud voice and yielded up his spirit.

<sup>51</sup>And behold, the curtain of the temple was torn in two, from top to bottom. And the earth shook, and the rocks were split.<sup>52</sup> The tombs also were opened. And many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised,<sup>53</sup> and coming out of the tombs after his resurrection they went into the holy city and appeared to many.<sup>54</sup> When the centurion and those who were with him, keeping watch over Jesus, saw the earthquake and what took place, they were filled with awe and said, “Truly this was the Son of God!”

<sup>55</sup>There were also many women there, looking on from a distance, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering to him,<sup>56</sup> among whom were Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James and Joseph and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

Writing

[Here is the] pure and true doctrine of our churches concerning [predestination and the eternal providence of God]:

I. Christ has died for all people and, as the Lamb of God, has borne the sins of the whole world.

II. God created no one for condemnation, but wants all people to be saved, and to come to the knowledge of the truth. Therefore He commands all to hear His Son Christ in the Gospel. By the Gospel He promises the power and working of the Holy Spirit for conversion and salvation.

III. Many people are condemned by their own guilt who are either unwilling to hear the Gospel of Christ or later fall from grace. This happens either by error against the foundation of grace or by sins against conscience.

IV. All sinners who repent are received into grace, and no one is excluded, even though his sins were as scarlet. For God’s mercy is much greater than the sins of all the world, and God has compassion on all His works.

O God, creator of heaven and earth, grant that as the crucified body of Your dear Son was laid in the tomb and rested on this holy Sabbath, so we may await with Him the coming of the third day, and rise with Him to newness of life, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Jeremiah Cast into the Cistern

<sup>1</sup>Now Shephatiah the son of Mattan, Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchiah heard the words that Jeremiah was saying to all the people, <sup>2</sup>“Thus says the LORD: He who stays in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence, but he who goes out to the Chaldeans shall live. He shall have his life as a prize of war, and live. <sup>3</sup>Thus says the LORD: This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon and be taken.” <sup>4</sup>Then the officials said to the king, “Let this man be put to death, for he is weakening the hands of the soldiers who are left in this city, and the hands of all the people, by speaking such words to them. For this man is not seeking the welfare of this people, but their harm.” <sup>5</sup>King Zedekiah said, “Behold, he is in your hands, for the king can do nothing against you.” <sup>6</sup>So they took Jeremiah and cast him into the cistern of Malchiah, the king's son, which was in the court of the guard, letting Jeremiah down by ropes. And there was no water in the cistern, but only mud, and Jeremiah sank in the mud.

Jeremiah Rescued from the Cistern

<sup>7</sup>When Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, a eunuch who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah into the cistern—the king was sitting in the Benjamin Gate—<sup>8</sup>Ebed-melech went from the king's house and said to the king, <sup>9</sup>“My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they did to Jeremiah the prophet by casting him into the cistern, and he will die there of hunger, for there is no bread left in the city.” <sup>10</sup>Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, “Take thirty men with you from here, and lift Jeremiah the prophet out of the cistern before he dies.”<sup>11</sup> So Ebed-melech took the men with him and went to the house of the king, to a wardrobe in the storehouse, and took from there old rags and worn-out clothes, which he let down to Jeremiah in the cistern by ropes.<sup>12</sup> Then Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, “Put the rags and clothes between your armpits and the ropes.” Jeremiah did so.<sup>13</sup> Then they drew Jeremiah up with ropes and lifted him out of the cistern. And Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

Jeremiah Warns Zedekiah Again

<sup>14</sup>King Zedekiah sent for Jeremiah the prophet and received him at the third entrance of the temple of the Lord. The king said to Jeremiah, “I will ask you a question; hide nothing from me.”<sup>15</sup> Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “If I tell you, will you not surely put me to death? And if I give you counsel, you will not listen to me.”<sup>16</sup> Then King Zedekiah swore secretly to Jeremiah, “As the LORD lives, who made our souls, I will not put you to death or deliver you into the hand of these men who seek your life.”

<sup>17</sup>Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “Thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If you will surrender to the officials of the king of Babylon, then your life shall be spared, and this city shall not be burned with fire, and you and your house shall live.<sup>18</sup> But if you do not surrender to the officials of the king of Babylon, then this city shall be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and you shall not escape from their hand.”<sup>19</sup> King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “I am afraid of the Judeans who have deserted to the Chaldeans, lest I be handed over to them and they deal cruelly with me.”<sup>20</sup> Jeremiah said, “You shall not be given to them. Obey now the voice of the LORD in what I say to you, and it shall be well with you, and your life shall be spared.<sup>21</sup> But if you refuse to surrender, this is the vision which the LORD has shown to me:<sup>22</sup> Behold, all the women left in the house of the king of Judah were being led out to the officials of the king of Babylon and were saying,

“ ‘Your trusted friends have deceived you and prevailed against you; now that your feet are sunk in the mud, they turn away from you.’ ”

<sup>23</sup>All your wives and your sons shall be led out to the Chaldeans, and you yourself shall not escape from their hand, but shall be seized by the king of Babylon, and this city shall be burned with fire.”

<sup>24</sup>Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “Let no one know of these words, and you shall not die.<sup>25</sup> If the officials hear that I have spoken with you and come to you and say to you, ‘Tell us what you said to the king and what the king said to you; hide nothing from us and we will not put you to death,’<sup>26</sup> then you shall say to them, ‘I made a humble plea to the king that he would not send me back to the house of Jonathan to die there.’ ”

<sup>27</sup>Then all the officials came to Jeremiah and asked him, and he answered them as the king had instructed him. So they stopped speaking with him, for the conversation had not been overheard.<sup>28</sup> And Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

Jesus Is Buried

<sup>57</sup>When it was evening, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who also was a disciple of Jesus. <sup>58</sup>He went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate ordered it to be given to him. <sup>59</sup>And Joseph took the body and wrapped it in a clean linen shroud <sup>60</sup>and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had cut in the rock. And he rolled a great stone to the entrance of the tomb and went away. <sup>61</sup>Mary Magdalene and the other Mary were there, sitting opposite the tomb.

The Guard at the Tomb

<sup>62</sup>The next day, that is, after the day of Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered before Pilate <sup>63</sup>and said, “Sir, we remember how that impostor said, while he was still alive, ‘After three days I will rise.’ <sup>64</sup>Therefore order the tomb to be made secure until the third day, lest his disciples go and steal him away and tell the people, ‘He has risen from the dead,’ and the last fraud will be worse than the first.” <sup>65</sup>Pilate said to them, “You have a guard of soldiers. Go, make it as secure as you can.” <sup>66</sup>So they went and made the tomb secure by sealing the stone and setting a guard.

This is . . . an outstanding praise of hospitality, in order that we may be sure that God Himself is in our home, is being fed at our house, is lying down and resting as often as some pious brother in exile because of the Gospel comes to us and is received hospitably by us. This is called brotherly love or Christian charity; it is greater than that general kindness which is extended even to strangers and enemies when they are in need of our aid. . . . For the accounts of the friendships of the Gentiles, like those of Theseus and Hercules, of Pylades and Orestes, are nothing in comparison with the brotherhood in the church; its bond is an association with God so close that the Son of God says that whatever is done to the least of His is done to Himself. Therefore their hearts go out without hypocrisy to the needs of their neighbor, and nothing is either so costly or so difficult that a Christian does not undertake it for the sake of the brethren. . . . But if anyone earnestly believed that he is receiving the Lord Himself when he receives a poor brother, there would be no need for such anxious, zealous, and solicitous exhortations to do works of love. Our coffers, storeroom, and compassion would be open at once for the benefit of the brethren. There would be no ill will, and together with godly Abraham we would run to meet the wretched people, invite them into our homes, and seize upon this honor and distinction ahead of others and say: “O Lord Jesus, come to me; enjoy my bread, wine, silver, and gold. How well it has been invested by me when I invest it in You!”

Prayer of the Day

Mighty King, whose inheritance is not of this world, inspire in us the humility and benevolent charity of Elizabeth of Hungary. She scorned her bejeweled crown with thoughts of the thorned one her Savior donned for her sake and ours, that we, too, might live a life of sacrifice, pleasing in Your sight and worthy of the name of Your Son, Christ Jesus, who with the Holy Spirit reigns with You forever in the everlasting kingdom. ## Elizabeth of Hungary

Born in Pressburg, Hungary, in 1207, Elizabeth was the daughter of King Andrew II and his wife, Gertrude. Given as a bride in an arranged political marriage, Elizabeth became the wife of Louis of Thuringia in Germany at age fourteen. She had a spirit of Christian generosity and charity, and the home she established for her husband and three children in the Wartburg Castle at Eisenach was known for its hospitality and family love. Elizabeth often supervised the care of the sick and needy and at one time even gave up her bed to a leper. Widowed at the age of twenty, she made provisions for her children and entered into an austere life as a nun in the Order of Saint Francis. Her self-denial led to failing health and an early death in 1231 at age twenty-four. Remembered for her self-sacrificing ways, Elizabeth is commemorated through the many hospitals named for her around the world.

Old Testament Reading: Daniel 1:1–21

Daniel Taken to Babylon

<sup>1</sup>In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it. <sup>2</sup>And the LORD gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with some of the vessels of the house of God. And he brought them to the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and placed the vessels in the treasury of his god. <sup>3</sup>Then the king commanded Ashpenaz, his chief eunuch, to bring some of the people of Israel, both of the royal family and of the nobility, <sup>4</sup>youths without blemish, of good appearance and skillful in all wisdom, endowed with knowledge, understanding learning, and competent to stand in the king's palace, and to teach them the literature and language of the Chaldeans. <sup>5</sup>The king assigned them a daily portion of the food that the king ate, and of the wine that he drank. They were to be educated for three years, and at the end of that time they were to stand before the king. <sup>6</sup>Among these were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah of the tribe of Judah. <sup>7</sup>And the chief of the eunuchs gave them names: Daniel he called Belteshazzar, Hananiah he called Shadrach, Mishael he called Meshach, and Azariah he called Abednego.

Daniel's Faithfulness

<sup>8</sup>But Daniel resolved that he would not defile himself with the king's food, or with the wine that he drank. Therefore he asked the chief of the eunuchs to allow him not to defile himself. <sup>9</sup>And God gave Daniel favor and compassion in the sight of the chief of the eunuchs, <sup>10</sup>and the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel, "I fear my lord the king, who assigned your food and your drink; for why should he see that you were in worse condition than the youths who are of your own age? So you would endanger my head with the king." <sup>11</sup>Then Daniel said to the steward whom the chief of the eunuchs had assigned over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, <sup>12</sup>"Test your servants for ten days; let us be given vegetables to eat and water to drink. <sup>13</sup>Then let our appearance and the appearance of the youths who eat the king's food be observed by you, and deal with your servants according to what you see." <sup>14</sup>So he listened to them in this matter, and tested them for ten days. <sup>15</sup>At the end of ten days it was seen that they were better in appearance and fatter in flesh than all the youths who ate the king's food. <sup>16</sup>So the steward took away their food and the wine they were to drink, and gave them vegetables.

<sup>17</sup>As for these four youths, God gave them learning and skill in all literature and wisdom, and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. <sup>18</sup>At the end of the time, when the king had commanded that they should be brought in, the chief of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>19</sup>And the king spoke with them, and among all of them none was found like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. Therefore they stood before the king. <sup>20</sup>And in every matter of wisdom and understanding about which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his kingdom. <sup>21</sup>And Daniel was there until the first year of King Cyrus.

New Testament Reading: Matthew 28:1–20

The Resurrection

<sup>1</sup>Now after the Sabbath, toward the dawn of the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went to see the tomb. <sup>2</sup>And behold, there was a great earthquake, for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and came and rolled back the stone and sat on it. <sup>3</sup>His appearance was like lightning, and his clothing white as snow. <sup>4</sup>And for fear of him the guards trembled and became like dead men. <sup>5</sup>But the angel said to the women, “Do not be afraid, for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified. <sup>6</sup>He is not here, for he has risen, as he said. Come, see the place where he lay. <sup>7</sup>Then go quickly and tell his disciples that he has risen from the dead, and behold, he is going before you to Galilee; there you will see him. See, I have told you.” <sup>8</sup>So they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to tell his disciples. <sup>9</sup>And behold, Jesus met them and said, “Greetings!” And they came up and took hold of his feet and worshiped him. <sup>10</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Do not be afraid; go and tell my brothers to go to Galilee, and there they will see me.”

The Report of the Guard

<sup>11</sup>While they were going, behold, some of the guard went into the city and told the chief priests all that had taken place. <sup>12</sup>And when they had assembled with the elders and taken counsel, they gave a sufficient sum of money to the soldiers <sup>13</sup>and said, “Tell people, ‘His disciples came by night and stole him away while we were asleep.’ <sup>14</sup>And if this comes to the governor’s ears, we will satisfy him and keep you out of trouble.” <sup>15</sup>So they took the money and did as they were directed. And this story has been spread among the Jews to this day.

The Great Commission

<sup>16</sup>Now the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them. <sup>17</sup>And when they saw him they worshiped him, but some doubted. <sup>18</sup>And Jesus came and said to them, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. <sup>19</sup>Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, <sup>20</sup>teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age.”

Writing

“Jesus approached them and said, ‘All authority in heaven and earth has been given to me.’” This authority was given to one who had just been crucified, buried in a tomb, laid dead and afterwards had arisen. Authority was given to him in both heaven and earth so that he who once reigned in heaven might also reign on earth through the faith of his believers.

“‘Go therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.’” First they teach all nations; then they baptize those they have taught with water, for the body is not able to receive the sacrament of baptism before the soul has received the truth of the faith. They were baptized in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit so that the three who are one in divinity might also be one in giving themselves. The name of the Trinity is the name of the one God.

“‘Teach them to observe all that I have commanded you.’” What a marvelous sequence this is. He commanded the apostles first to teach all nations and then to baptize them in the sacrament of faith and then, after faith and baptism, to teach them to observe all that he had commanded. Lest we think these commandments of little consequence or few in number, he added, “all that I have commanded you,” so that those who were to believe and be baptized in the Trinity would observe everything they had been taught.

—Jerome

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream

<sup>1</sup>In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams; his spirit was troubled, and his sleep left him. <sup>2</sup>Then the king commanded that the magicians, the enchanters, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans be summoned to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. <sup>3</sup>And the king said to them, "I had a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream." <sup>4</sup>Then the Chaldeans said to the king in Aramaic, "O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation." <sup>5</sup>The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, "The word from me is firm:
 if you do not make known to me the dream
 and its interpretation, you shall be torn limb from limb, and your houses shall be laid in ruins. <sup>6</sup>But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor. Therefore show me the dream and its interpretation." <sup>7</sup>They answered a second time and said, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show its interpretation.”<sup>8</sup> The king answered and said, “I know with certainty that you are trying to gain time, because you see that the word from me is firm—<sup>9</sup>if you do not make the dream known to me, there is but one sentence for you. You have agreed to speak lying and corrupt words before me till the times change. Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can show me its interpretation.”<sup>10</sup> The Chaldeans answered the king and said, “There is not a man on earth who can meet the king’s demand, for no great and powerful king has asked such a thing of any magician or enchanter or Chaldean.”<sup>11</sup> The thing that the king asks is difficult, and no one can show it to the king except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.”

<sup>12</sup>Because of this the king was angry and very furious, and commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed.<sup>13</sup> So the decree went out, and the wise men were about to be killed; and they sought Daniel and his companions, to kill them.<sup>14</sup> Then Daniel replied with prudence and discretion to Arioch, the captain of the king’s guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon.<sup>15</sup> He declared to Arioch, the king’s captain, “Why is the decree of the king so urgent?” Then Arioch made the matter known to Daniel.<sup>16</sup> And Daniel went in and requested the king to appoint him a time, that he might show the interpretation to the king.

God Reveals Nebuchadnezzar’s Dream

<sup>17</sup>Then Daniel went to his house and made the matter known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions,<sup>18</sup> and told them to seek mercy from the God of heaven concerning this mystery, so that Daniel and his companions might not be destroyed with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.<sup>19</sup> Then the mystery was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.<sup>20</sup> Daniel answered and said:

“Blessed be the name of God forever and ever,

to whom belong wisdom and might.

<sup>21</sup>He changes times and seasons;
he removes kings and sets up kings;
he gives wisdom to the wise
and knowledge to those who have understanding;

<sup>22</sup>he reveals deep and hidden things;
he knows what is in the darkness,
and the light dwells with him.

<sup>23</sup>To you, O God of my fathers,
I give thanks and praise,
for you have given me wisdom and might,
and have now made known
to me what we asked of you,
for you have made known to us the king’s matter.”

New Testament Reading: Revelation 18:1–24

The Fall of Babylon

<sup>2</sup>And he called out with a mighty voice, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great!

She has become a dwelling place for demons,

a haunt for every unclean spirit,
a haunt for every unclean bird,
a haunt for every unclean and detestable beast.

<sup>3</sup>For all nations have drunk
the wine of the passion
of her sexual immorality, and the kings of the earth have committed immorality with her,
and the merchants of the earth
have grown rich from the power of her luxurious living.”

<sup>4</sup>Then I heard another voice from heaven saying,

“Come out of her, my people,
lest you take part in her sins,
lest you share in her plagues;
<sup>5</sup>for her sins are heaped high as heaven,
and God has remembered her iniquities.

<sup>6</sup>Pay her back as she herself has paid back others,
and repay her double for her deeds;
mix a double portion for her in the cup she mixed.

<sup>7</sup>As she glorified herself
and lived in luxury,
so give her a like measure
of torment and mourning,
since in her heart she says,

‘I sit as a queen,
I am no widow,
and mourning I shall never see.’

<sup>8</sup>For this reason her plagues
will come in a single day,
death and mourning and famine,
and she will be burned up with fire;
for mighty is the Lord God w ho has judged her.”

<sup>9</sup>And the kings of the earth, who committed sexual immorality and lived in luxury with her, will weep and wail over her when they see the smoke of her burning.

<sup>10</sup>They will stand far off, in fear of her torment, and say,

“Alas! Alas! You great city,
you mighty city, Babylon!
For in a single hour your judgment
has come.”

<sup>11</sup>And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn for her, since no one buys their cargo anymore, <sup>12</sup>cargo of gold, silver, jewels, pearls, fine linen, purple cloth, silk, scarlet cloth, all kinds of scented wood, all kinds of articles of ivory, all kinds of articles of costly wood, bronze, iron and marble, <sup>13</sup>cinnamon, spice, incense, myrrh, frankincense, wine, oil, fine flour, wheat, cattle and sheep, horses and chariots, and slaves, that is, human souls.

<sup>14</sup>“The fruit for which your soul longed has gone from you,
and all your delicacies and your splendors
are lost to you,
never to be found again!”

<sup>15</sup>The merchants of these wares, who gained wealth from her, will stand far off, in fear of her torment, weeping and mourning aloud,

<sup>16</sup>“Alas, alas, for the great city
that was clothed in fine linen,
in purple and scarlet,
adorned with gold, with jewels,
and with pearls!

<sup>17</sup>For in a single hour all this wealth has been laid waste.”

And all shipmasters and seafaring men,
sailors and all whose trade is on the sea, stood far off <sup>18</sup>and cried out as they saw the smoke of her burning,

“What city was like the great city?”

<sup>19</sup>And they threw dust on their heads as they wept and mourned, crying out,

“Alas, alas, for the great city where all who had ships at sea
grew rich by her wealth!

For in a single hour
she has been laid waste.

<sup>20</sup>Rejoice over her, O heaven,
and you saints and apostles
and prophets,
for God has given judgment
for you against her!”

<sup>21</sup>Then a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone and threw it into the sea, saying,

“So will Babylon the great city be thrown down with violence,
and will be found no more;

<sup>22</sup>and the sound of harpists and musicians, of flute players
and trumpeters,
will be heard in you no more,
and a craftsman of any craft
will be found in you no more,
and the sound of the mill
will be heard in you no more,

<sup>23</sup>and the light of a lamp will shine in you no more,
and the voice of bridegroom and bride
will be heard in you no more,
for your merchants were the great ones
of the earth,

and all nations were deceived
by your sorcery.

<sup>24</sup>And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints,
and of all who have been slain
on earth.”

Writing

God’s Eternal Foreknowledge and Election

1. To begin with, the distinction between God’s foreknowledge and His eternal predestination ought to be kept accurately.

2. God’s foreknowledge is nothing else than this: God knows all things before they happen, as it is written in Daniel 2:28, “But there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries, and He has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter days.”

3. This foreknowledge extends over the godly and the wicked alike. But it is not the cause of evil or of sin. In other words, it is not what causes people to do wrong (which originally arises from the devil and mankind’s wicked, perverse will). Nor does it cause their ruin, for which they themselves are responsible. But foreknowledge only regulates this and fixes a limit on their ruin, ‹how far it should progress and› how long it should last. All this happens to serve His elect for their salvation, even though such ruin is evil in itself.

4. Predestination, or God’s eternal election, covers only the godly, beloved children of God. It is a cause of their salvation, which He also provides. . . .

5. It is not to be investigated in God’s secret counsel. It is to be sought in God’s Word, where it is revealed.

6. God’s Word leads us to Christ, who is the Book of Life, in whom all are written and elected who are to be saved in eternity. For it is written in Ephesians 1:4, “Even as He chose us in Him [Christ] before the foundation of the world.”

7. Christ calls all sinners to Himself and promises them rest. He is eager ‹seriously wills› that all people should come to Him and allow themselves to be helped. He offers them Himself in His Word and wants them to hear it and not to plug their ears or «neglect and» despise the Word. Furthermore, He promises the power and working of the Holy Spirit and divine assistance for perseverance and eternal salvation so that «we may remain steadfast in the faith and gain eternal salvation».

Hymnody

Ev'ry eye shall now behold Him
Robed in glorious majesty;
Those who set at naught and sold Him,
Pierced and nailed Him to the tree,
Deeply wailing, deeply wailing, deeply wailing,

Shall their true Messiah see.

—Lo! He Comes with Clouds Descending (LSB 336:2)

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus, You call heaven and all the saints and apostles and prophets to rejoice when those who pretend to be the true Church are brought to judgment. Help us to discern between what is true and what is false, always knowing that Your kingdom comes through humility and suffering and that the truth of the Gospel is found in You alone; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Old Testament Reading: Daniel 2:24–49

[God Reveals Nebuchadnezzar's Dream]

whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon. He went and said thus to him: “Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon; bring me in before the king, and I will show the king the interpretation.”

<sup>25</sup>Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste and said thus to him: “I have found among the exiles from Judah a man who will make known to the king the interpretation.” <sup>26</sup>The king declared to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, “Are you able to make known to me the dream that I have seen and its interpretation?”

<sup>27</sup>Daniel answered the king and said, “No wise men, enchanters, magicians, or astrologers can show to the king the mystery that the king has asked, <sup>28</sup>but there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries, and he has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter days. Your dream and the visions of your head as you lay in bed are these: <sup>29</sup>To you, O king, as you lay in bed came thoughts of what would be after this, and he who reveals mysteries made known to you what is to be. <sup>30</sup>But as for me, this mystery has been revealed to me, not because of any wisdom that I have more than all the living, but in order that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your mind.

Daniel Interprets the Dream

broke them in pieces. <sup>35</sup>Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold, all together were broken in pieces, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away, so that not a trace of them could be found. But the stone that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

<sup>39</sup>Another kingdom inferior to you shall arise after you, and yet a third kingdom of bronze, which shall rule over all the earth. <sup>40</sup>And there shall be a fourth kingdom, strong as iron, because iron breaks to pieces and shatters all things. And like iron that crushes, it shall break and crush all these.

<sup>41</sup>And as you saw the feet and toes, partly of potter’s clay and partly of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom, but some of the firmness of iron shall be in it, just as you saw iron mixed with the soft clay. <sup>42</sup>And as the toes of the feet were partly iron and partly clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly brittle. <sup>43</sup>As you saw the iron mixed with soft clay, so they will mix with one another in marriage, but they will not hold together, just as iron does not mix with clay. <sup>44</sup>And in the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that shall never be destroyed, nor shall the kingdom be left to another people. It shall break in pieces all these kingdoms and bring them to an end, and it shall stand forever, <sup>45</sup>just as you saw that a stone was cut from a mountain by no human hand, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold. A great God has made known to the king what shall be after this. The dream is certain, and its interpretation sure.”

Daniel Is Promoted

<sup>46</sup>Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face and paid homage to Daniel, and commanded that an offering and incense be offered up to him. <sup>47</sup>The king answered and said to Daniel, “Truly, your God is God of gods and Lord of kings, and a revealer of mysteries, for you have been able to reveal this mystery.” <sup>48</sup>Then the king gave Daniel high honors and many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon and chief prefect over all the wise men of Babylon. <sup>49</sup>Daniel made a request of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the affairs of the province of Babylon. But Daniel remained at the king’s court.

New Testament Reading: Revelation 19:1–21

Rejoicing in Heaven

<sup>1</sup>After this I heard what seemed to be the loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, crying out, “Hallelujah!

Salvation and glory and power
belong to our God,

<sup>2</sup>for his judgments are true and just;
for he has judged the great prostitute
who corrupted the earth with her immorality,
and has avenged on her the blood
of his servants.”

<sup>3</sup>Once more they cried out,

“Hallelujah!

The smoke from her goes up forever
and ever.”

<sup>4</sup>And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God who was seated on the throne, saying, “Amen. Hallelujah!” <sup>5</sup>And from the throne came a voice saying,

“Praise our God,
all you his servants,
you who fear him,
small and great.”

The Marriage Supper of the Lamb

<sup>6</sup>Then I heard what seemed to be the voice of a great multitude, like the roar of many waters and like the sound of mighty peals of thunder, crying out, “Hallelujah!

For the Lord our God
the Almighty reigns.

<sup>7</sup>Let us rejoice and exult
and give him the glory,
for the marriage of the Lamb has come,
and his Bride has made herself ready;

<sup>8</sup>it was granted her to clothe herself with fine linen, bright and pure”—

for the fine linen is the righteous deeds of the saints.

<sup>9</sup>And the angel said to me, “Write this: Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb.” And he said to me, “These are the true words of God.”

<sup>10</sup>Then I fell down at his feet to worship him, but he said to me, “You must not do that! I am a fellow servant with you and your brothers who hold to the testimony of Jesus. Worship God.” For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

The Rider on a White Horse

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse! The one sitting on it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he judges and makes war. <sup>12</sup>His eyes are like a flame of fire, and on his head are many diadems, and he has a name written that no one knows but himself. <sup>13</sup>He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. <sup>14</sup>And the armies of heaven, arrayed in fine linen, white and pure, were following him on white horses. <sup>15</sup>From his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will tread the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty. <sup>16</sup>On his robe and on his thigh he has a name written, King of kings and Lord of lords.

<sup>17</sup>Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and with a loud voice he called to all the birds that fly directly overhead, "Come, gather for the great supper of God, <sup>18</sup>to eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of captains, the flesh of mighty men, the flesh of horses and their riders, and the flesh of all men, both free and slave, both small and great." <sup>19</sup>And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth with their armies gathered to make war against him who was sitting on the horse and against his army. <sup>20</sup>And the beast was captured, and with it the false prophet who in its presence had done the signs by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped its image. These two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. <sup>21</sup>And the rest were slain by the sword that came from the mouth of him who was sitting on the horse, and all the birds were gorged with their flesh.

Writing

The glory of the last day is here anticipated. As the people of a nation go forth with shouts of victory to meet the returning conquerors, so the multitudes of the perfected saints break forth in hymns of triumph at the return of the victorious Lord of hosts. The salvation of the saints was in His hands, and He wrought it by the mighty manifestation of His grace. And so all glory and power belong to our Lord alone throughout all eternity. His judgments, His sentences, are true; they have been rendered in accordance with His promises; and they are just, for the rulers of the kingdom of Antichrist had every opportunity to see the errors of their way and to return to the truth, but they deliberately refused and thus invited the wrath of the Lord. For the countless souls which the [Antichrist's] harlot corrupted with her idolatry, and for the lives of other thousands whose blood she shed, she will have to answer with a sharp reckoning on the last day.

The song of triumph is echoed by the singers and the elders: And for the second time they said, Hallelujah! And her smoke ascends forever and ever. And the twenty-four elders and the four living beings fell down, and they worshiped God that is seated upon the throne, saying, Amen, Hallelujah! The great harlot is cast into the abyss of fire and brimstone, to be burned with fire throughout eternity. . . . And this fact causes both the elders representing the Church of God and the four cherubs that acted as His servants and messengers to fall down before the throne of God in the act of worshipful adoration, and to repeat, in endless refrain, their hymn of praise, Amen, Hallelujah; to God alone all praise and glory, through all eternity!

Hymnody

Zion hears the watchmen singing,
 And all her heart with joy is springing;
 She wakes, she rises from her gloom.
 For her Lord comes down all-glorious,
 The strong in grace, in truth victorious;
 Her star is ris'n, her light is come.
 Now come, Thou Blessèd One,
 Lord Jesus, God's own Son, Hail! Hosanna!
 We enter all
 The wedding hall
 To eat the Supper at Thy call.

—Wake, Awake, for Night Is Flying
 (LSB 516:2)

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, send forth
 Your Son, we pray, to lead home His bride, the Church, that with all the company of the redeemed we may finally enter into His eternal wedding feast; through Jesus Christ,
 our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and
 the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

Old Testament Reading: Daniel 3:1–30

Nebuchadnezzar's Golden Image

 of gold, whose height was sixty cubits and its breadth six cubits. He set it up on the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon. <sup>2</sup>Then King Nebuchadnezzar sent to gather the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the justices, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces to come to the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up. <sup>3</sup>Then the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the justices, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces gathered for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up. And they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. <sup>4</sup>And the herald proclaimed aloud, "You are commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages, <sup>5</sup>that when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, you are to fall down and worship the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up. <sup>6</sup>And whoever does not fall down and worship shall immediately be cast into a burning fiery furnace." <sup>7</sup>Therefore, as soon as all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, all the peoples, nations, and languages fell down and worshiped the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

The Fiery Furnace

<sup>8</sup>Therefore at that time certain Chaldeans came forward and maliciously accused the Jews. <sup>9</sup>They declared to King Nebuchadnezzar, "O king, live forever! <sup>10</sup>You, O king, have made a decree, that every man who hears the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image. <sup>11</sup>And whoever does not fall down and worship shall be cast into a burning fiery furnace. <sup>12</sup>There are certain Jews whom you have appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. These men, O king, pay no attention to you; they do not serve your gods or worship the golden image that you have set up."

<sup>13</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar in furious rage commanded that Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego be brought. So they brought these men before the king. <sup>14</sup>Nebuchadnezzar answered and said to them, "Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you do not serve my gods or worship the golden image that I have set up? <sup>15</sup>Now if you are ready when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, to fall down and worship the image that I have made, well and good. But if you do not worship, you shall immediately be cast into a burning fiery furnace. And who is the god who will deliver you out of my hands?"

<sup>16</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and said to the king, "O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter. <sup>17</sup>If this be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of your hand, O king. <sup>18</sup>But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the golden image that you have set up."

<sup>19</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar was filled with fury, and the expression of his face was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He ordered the furnace heated seven times more than it was usually heated. <sup>20</sup>And he ordered some of the mighty men of his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. <sup>21</sup>Then these men were bound in their cloaks, their tunics, their hats, and their other garments, and they were thrown into the burning fiery furnace. <sup>22</sup>Because the king's order was urgent and the furnace overheated, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. <sup>23</sup>And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell bound into the burning fiery furnace.

<sup>24</sup>Then King Nebuchadnezzar was astonished and rose up in haste. He declared to his counselors, "Did we not cast three men bound into the fire?" They answered and said to the king, "True, O king." <sup>25</sup>He answered and said, "But I see four men unbound, walking in the midst of the fire, and they are not hurt; and the appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods."

<sup>26</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the door of the burning fiery furnace; he declared, "Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, servants of the Most High God, come out, and come here!" Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out from the fire. <sup>27</sup>And the satraps, the prefects, the governors, and the king's counselors gathered together and saw that the fire had not had any power over the bodies of those men. The hair of their heads was not singed, their cloaks were not harmed, and no smell of fire had come upon them. <sup>28</sup>Nebuchadnezzar answered and said, "Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel and delivered his servants, who trusted in him, and set aside the king's command, and yielded up their bodies rather than serve and worship any god except their own God. <sup>29</sup>Therefore I make a decree: Any people, nation, or language that speaks anything against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego shall be torn limb from limb, and their houses laid in ruins, for there is no other god who is able to rescue in this way." <sup>30</sup>Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

New Testament Reading: Revelation 20:1–15

The Thousand Years

<sup>1</sup>Then I saw an angel coming down from heaven, holding in his hand the key to the bottomless pit and a great chain. <sup>2</sup>And he seized the dragon, that ancient serpent, who is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, <sup>3</sup>and threw him into the pit, and shut it and sealed it over him, so that he might not deceive the nations any longer, until the thousand years were ended. After that he must be released for a little while.

<sup>4</sup>Then I saw thrones, and seated on them were those to whom the authority to judge was committed. Also I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or its image and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. <sup>5</sup>The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were ended. This is the first resurrection. <sup>6</sup>Blessed and holy is the one who shares in the first resurrection! Over such the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and they will reign with him for a thousand years.

The Defeat of Satan

<sup>7</sup>And when the thousand years are ended, Satan will be released from his prison <sup>8</sup>and will come out to deceive the nations that are at the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them for battle; their number is like the sand of the sea. <sup>9</sup>And they marched up over the broad plain of the earth and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city, but fire came down from heaven and consumed them, <sup>10</sup>and the devil who had deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and sulfur where the beast and the false prophet were, and they will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

Judgment Before the Great White Throne

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw a great white throne and him who was seated on it. From his presence earth and sky fled away, and no place was found for them. <sup>12</sup>And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Then another book was opened, which is the book of life. And the dead were judged by what was written in the books, according to what they had done. <sup>13</sup>And the sea gave up the dead who were in it, Death and Hades gave up the dead who were in them, and they were judged, each one of them, according to what they had done. <sup>14</sup>Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. <sup>15</sup>And if anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire.

Writing

But not to dwell upon ancient examples, let us come to the most recent spiritual heroes. Let us take the noble examples furnished in our own generation. Through envy and jealousy, the greatest and most righteous pillars [of the Church] have been persecuted and put to death. Let us set before our eyes the illustrious apostles. Peter, through unrighteous envy, endured not one or two, but numerous labors and, when he had at length suffered martyrdom, departed to the place of glory due to him. Owing to envy, Paul also obtained the reward of patient endurance, after being seven times thrown into captivity, compelled to flee, and stoned. After preaching both in the east and west, he gained the illustrious reputation due his faith, having taught righteousness to the whole world, and [coming] to the extreme limit of the west, he suffered martyrdom under the prefects. Thus was he removed from the world, and went into the holy place, having proved himself a striking example of patience. . . .

It is right and holy, therefore, men and brethren, to obey God rather than to follow those who, through pride and sedition, have become the leaders of a detestable emulation. For we shall incur no slight injury, but rather great danger, if we rashly yield ourselves to the inclinations of men who aim at exciting strife and tumults, so as to draw us away from what is good. Let us be kind one to another after the pattern of the tender mercy and kindness of our Creator. For it is written, "The kind-hearted shall inhabit the land, and the guiltless shall be left upon it, but transgressors shall be destroyed from off the face of it."

—Clement

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, Your servant Clement of Rome called the Church in Corinth to repentance and faith to unite them in Christian love. Grant that Your Church may be anchored in Your truth by the presence of the Holy Spirit and kept blameless in Your service until the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1113)

Clement of Rome, Pastor

Clement (ca. AD 35–100) is remembered for having established the pattern of apostolic authority that governed the Christian Church during the first and second centuries. He also insisted on keeping Christ at the center of the Church's worship and outreach. In a letter to the Christians at Corinth, he emphasized the centrality of Jesus' death and resurrection: "Let us fix our eyes on the blood of Christ, realizing how precious it is to His Father, since it was poured out for our salvation and brought the grace of repentance to the whole world" (1 Clement 6:31). Prior to suffering a martyr's death by drowning, Clement displayed a steadfast, Christlike love for God's redeemed people, serving as an inspiration to future generations to continue to build the Church on the foundation of the prophets and apostles, with Christ as the one and only cornerstone.

Nebuchadnezzar Praises God

<sup>1</sup>King Nebuchadnezzar to all peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you! <sup>2</sup>It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has done for me.

<sup>3</sup>How great are his signs,
how mighty his wonders!
His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
and his dominion endures from generation to generation.

Nebuchadnezzar's Second Dream

<sup>4</sup>I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at ease in my house and prospering in my palace. <sup>5</sup>I saw a dream that made me afraid. As I lay in bed the fancies and the visions of my head alarmed me. <sup>6</sup>So I made a decree that all the wise men of Babylon should be brought before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream. <sup>7</sup>Then the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers came in, and I told them the dream, but they could not make known to me its interpretation. <sup>8</sup>At last Daniel came in before me—he who was named Belteshazzar after the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods—and I told him the dream, saying, <sup>9</sup>“O Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you and that no mystery is too difficult for you, tell me the visions of my dream that I saw and their interpretation. <sup>10</sup>The visions of my head as I lay in bed were these: I saw, and behold, a tree in the midst of the earth, and its height was great. <sup>11</sup>The tree grew and became strong, and its top reached to heaven, and it was visible to the end of the whole earth. <sup>12</sup>Its leaves were beautiful and its fruit abundant, and in it was food for all. The beasts of the field found shade under it, and the birds of the heavens lived in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it.

<sup>13</sup>“I saw in the visions of my head as I lay in bed, and behold, a watcher, a holy one, came down from heaven. <sup>14</sup>He proclaimed aloud and said thus: ‘Chop down the tree and lop off its branches, strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit. Let the beasts flee from under it and the birds from its branches. <sup>15</sup>But leave the stump of its roots in the earth, bound with a band of iron and bronze, amid the tender grass of the field. Let him be wet with the dew of heaven. Let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth. <sup>16</sup>Let his mind be changed from a man's, and let a beast's mind be given to him; and let seven periods of time pass over him. <sup>17</sup>The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, the decision by the word of the holy ones, to the end that the living may know that the Most High rules the kingdom of men and gives it to whom he will and sets over it the lowliest of men.’ <sup>18</sup>This dream I, King Nebuchadnezzar, saw. And you, O Belteshazzar, tell me the interpretation, because all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation, but you are able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in you.”

Daniel Interprets the Second Dream

<sup>19</sup>Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was dismayed for a while, and his thoughts alarmed him. The king answered and said, “Belteshazzar, let not the dream or the interpretation alarm you.” Belteshazzar answered and said, “My lord, may the dream be for those who hate you and its interpretation for your enemies! <sup>20</sup>The tree you saw, which grew and became strong, so that its top reached to heaven, and it was visible to the end of the whole earth, <sup>21</sup>whose leaves were beautiful and its fruit abundant, and in which was food for all, under which beasts of the field found shade, and in whose branches the birds of the heavens lived—<sup>22</sup>it is you, O king, who have grown and become strong. Your greatness has grown and reaches to heaven, and your dominion to the ends of the earth. <sup>23</sup>And because the king saw a watcher, a holy one, coming down from heaven and saying, ‘Chop down the tree and destroy it, but leave the stump of its roots in the earth, bound with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field, and let him be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven periods of time pass over him,' <sup>24</sup>this is the interpretation, O king: It is a decree of the Most High, which has come upon my lord the king, <sup>25</sup>that you shall be driven from among men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field. You shall be made to eat grass like an ox, and you shall be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven periods of time shall pass over you, till you know that the Most High rules the kingdom of men and gives it to whom he will. <sup>26</sup>And as it was commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree, your kingdom shall be confirmed for you from the time that you know that Heaven rules. <sup>27</sup>Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you: break off your sins by practicing righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the oppressed, that there may perhaps be a lengthening of your prosperity."

Nebuchadnezzar's Humiliation

<sup>28</sup>All this came upon King Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>29</sup>At the end of twelve months he was walking on the roof of the royal palace of Babylon, <sup>30</sup>and the king answered and said, "Is not this great Babylon, which I have built by my mighty power as a royal residence and for the glory of my majesty?" <sup>31</sup>While the words were still in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, "O King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken: The kingdom has departed from you, <sup>32</sup>and you shall be driven from among men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field. And you shall be made to eat grass like an ox, and seven periods of time shall pass over you, until you know that the Most High rules the kingdom of men and gives it to whom he will." <sup>33</sup>Immediately the word was fulfilled against Nebuchadnezzar. He was driven from among men and ate grass like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven till his hair grew as long as eagles' feathers, and his nails were like birds' claws.

Nebuchadnezzar Restored

<sup>34</sup>At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted my eyes to heaven, and my reason returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and praised and honored him who lives forever, for his dominion is an everlasting dominion,

and his kingdom endures from generation to generation;

<sup>35</sup>all the inhabitants of the earth are accounted as nothing, and he does according to his will among the host of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth;

and none can stay his hand

or say to him, "What have you done?"

<sup>36</sup>At the same time my reason returned to me, and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and splendor returned to me. My counselors and my lords sought me, and I was established in my kingdom, and still more greatness was added to me. <sup>37</sup>Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven, for all his works are right and his ways are just; and those who walk in pride he is able to humble.

New Testament Reading: Revelation 21:1–8

The New Heaven and the New Earth

<sup>1</sup>Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. <sup>2</sup>And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. <sup>3</sup>And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, “Behold, the dwelling place of God is with man. He will dwell with them, and they will be his people, and God himself will be with them as their God. <sup>4</sup>He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away.”

<sup>5</sup>And he who was seated on the throne said, “Behold, I am making all things new.” Also he said, “Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true.” <sup>6</sup>And he said to me, “It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. To the thirsty I will give from the spring of the water of life without payment. <sup>7</sup>The one who conquers will have this heritage, and I will be his God and he will be my son. <sup>8</sup>But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death.”

Writing

How, then, can water cleanse and renew our souls? Simple everyday water certainly cannot do this. But God has established a merciful institution: that when a sinner is baptized with water in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, so God Himself desires to be present there and through this, with His Word connected with the water, to wash the baptized’s soul of all his impurities, make him into a temple of the Holy Spirit, and call him His child and raise him up to be an heir of eternal life. A great and inexpressible wonder happens in Holy Baptism—that man born in sin is reborn to be a child of heaven. Baptismal water is, therefore, a saving, gracious, heavenly, divine water, full of the wonder of divine grace and compassion. St. Paul called it a washing of rebirth and renewal of the Holy Spirit and said elsewhere: “As many of you as are baptized, you have put on Christ.” Yes, and St. Peter said: “Baptismal water saves us.” . . .

Oh, so do not let your Baptism be taken away! It is your greatest treasure! It is a ship that shall never be wrecked, which leads you into a heavenly harbor. It is quite true that the rebirth that happens at Baptism cannot be truly perceived with the senses. But what did Christ say? “Do not wonder at what I have said ‘You must be born anew.’ The wind blows . . .” That is, you see the water well, you hear its sound and you hear the Word that is spoken over the baptized one, but the inner working of grace, going in his soul on account of it, you cannot see.

Lord Jesus, Alpha and Omega, in Your suffering and death You were making all things new, and from that tree You brought Your work of redemption to an end by declaring, “It is finished.” Be our beginning and our end, that our weeping now at Your table here below may prepare us to feast at Your heavenly banquet, where You will wipe every tear from our eyes and death will be no more; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. The Handwriting on the Wall

<sup>2</sup>Belshazzar, when he tasted the wine, commanded that the vessels of gold and of silver that Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple in Jerusalem be brought, that the king and his lords, his wives, and his concubines might drink from them. <sup>3</sup>Then they brought in the golden vessels that had been taken out of the temple, the house of God in Jerusalem, and the king and his lords, his wives, and his concubines drank from them. <sup>4</sup>They drank wine and praised the gods of gold and silver, bronze, iron, wood, and stone.

greatly alarmed, and his color changed, and his lords were perplexed.

<sup>10</sup>The queen, because of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banqueting hall, and the queen declared, “O king, live forever! Let not your thoughts alarm you or your color change. <sup>11</sup>There is a man in your kingdom in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. In the days of your father, light and understanding and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods were found in him, and King Nebuchadnezzar, your father—your father the king—made him chief of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and astrologers, <sup>12</sup>because an excellent spirit, knowledge, and understanding to interpret dreams, explain riddles, and solve problems were found in this Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation.”

Daniel Interprets the Handwriting

<sup>13</sup>Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king answered and said to Daniel, “You are that Daniel, one of the exiles of Judah, whom the king my father brought from Judah. <sup>14</sup>I have heard of you that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom are found in you. <sup>15</sup>Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me to read this writing and make known to me its interpretation, but they could not show the interpretation of the matter. <sup>16</sup>But I have heard that you can give interpretations and solve problems. Now if you can read the writing and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold around your neck and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.”

<sup>17</sup>Then Daniel answered and said before the king, “Let your gifts be for yourself, and give your rewards to another. Nevertheless, I will read the writing to the king and make known to him the interpretation. <sup>18</sup>O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father kingship and greatness and glory and majesty. <sup>19</sup>And because of the greatness that he gave him, all peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. Whom he would, he killed, and whom he would, he kept alive; whom he would, he raised up, and whom he would, he humbled. <sup>20</sup>But when his heart was lifted up and his spirit was hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was brought down from his kingly throne, and his glory was taken from him. <sup>21</sup>He was driven from among the children of mankind, and his mind was made like that of a beast, and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys. He was fed grass like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, until he knew that the Most High God rules the kingdom of mankind and sets over it whom he will. <sup>22</sup>And you his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this, <sup>23</sup>but you have lifted up yourself against the Lord of heaven. And the vessels of his house have been brought in before you, and you and your lords, your wives, and your concubines have drunk wine from them. And you have praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which do not see or hear or know, but the God in whose hand is your breath, and whose are all your ways, you have not honored.

<sup>25</sup>And this is the writing that was inscribed: Mene, Mene, Tekel, and Parsin. <sup>26</sup>This is the interpretation of the matter: Mene, God has numbered the days of your kingdom and brought it to an end; <sup>27</sup>Tekel, you have been weighed in the balances and found wanting; <sup>28</sup>Peres, your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians.”

<sup>29</sup>Then Belshazzar gave the command, and Daniel was clothed with purple, a chain of gold was put around his neck, and a proclamation was made about him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

The New Jerusalem

<sup>9</sup>Then came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues and spoke to me, saying, “Come, I will show you the Bride, the wife of the Lamb.” <sup>10</sup>And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great, high mountain, and showed me the holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God, <sup>11</sup>having the glory of God, its radiance like a most rare jewel, like a jasper, clear as crystal. <sup>12</sup>It had a great, high wall, with twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and on the gates the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel were inscribed—<sup>13</sup>on the east three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates. <sup>14</sup>And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

<sup>15</sup>And the one who spoke with me had a measuring rod of gold to measure the city and its gates and walls. <sup>16</sup>The city lies foursquare, its length the same as its width.

And he measured the city with his rod, 12,000 stadia. Its length and width and height are equal. <sup>17</sup>He also measured its wall, 144 cubits by human measurement, which is also an angel’s measurement. <sup>18</sup>The wall was built of jasper, while the city was pure gold, clear as glass. <sup>19</sup>The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with every kind of jewel. The first was jasper, the second sapphire, the third agate, the fourth emerald, <sup>20</sup>the fifth onyx, the sixth carnelian, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoptase, the eleventh jacinth, the twelfth amethyst. <sup>21</sup>And the twelve gates were twelve pearls, each of the gates made of a single pearl, and the street of the city was pure gold, transparent as glass.

<sup>22</sup>And I saw no temple in the city, for its temple is the Lord God the Almighty and the Lamb. <sup>23</sup>And the city has no need of sun or moon to shine on it, for the glory of God gives it light, and its lamp is the Lamb. <sup>24</sup>By its light will the nations walk, and the kings of the earth will bring their glory into it, <sup>25</sup>and its gates will never be shut by day—and there will be no night there. <sup>26</sup>They will bring into it the glory and the honor of the nations. <sup>27</sup>But nothing unclean will ever enter it, nor anyone who does what is detestable or false, but only those who are written in the Lamb’s book of life.

Writing

The following issue also belongs to the further explanation and saving use of the teaching about God’s foreknowledge to salvation: Only the elect, whose names are written in the book of life [Revelation 21:27], are saved. Therefore, how can we know, or why and how can we perceive who the elect are and who can and should receive this teaching for comfort?

In this matter we should not judge according to our reason, or according to the Law or from any outward appearance. Neither should we attempt to investigate the secret, concealed depth of divine predestination. Instead, we should listen to God's revealed will. For He has made "known to us the mystery of His will" (Ephesians 1:9) and made it clear through Christ so that it might be preached (2 Timothy 1:9).

This is revealed to us in the way Paul says "those whom He predestined [elected and foreordained] He also called" (Romans 8:30). God does not call without means, but through the Word. For He has commanded "that repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in His name" [Luke 24:47]. St. Paul also testifies in a similar way when he writes, "Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making His appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God" (2 Corinthians 5:20). The King calls the guests that He wants to have at His Son's wedding through the ministers He sends out (Matthew 22:2-14). . . .

If we want to think about our eternal election to salvation helpfully, we must in every way hold strongly and firmly to this truth: just as the preaching of repentance is universal, so also the promise of the Gospel is universal, that is, it belongs to all people. For this reason Christ has given these commands:

Repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in His name to all nations. (Luke 24:47)

For God so loved the world, that He gave His only Son. (John 3:16)

Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world! (John 1:29)

Daniel and the Lions’ Den

<sup>1</sup>It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom 120 satraps, to be throughout the whole kingdom; <sup>2</sup>and over them three

presidents, of whom Daniel was one, to whom these satraps should give account, so that the king might suffer no loss. <sup>3</sup>Then this Daniel became distinguished above all the other presidents and satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him. And the king planned to set him over the whole kingdom. <sup>4</sup>Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find a ground for complaint against Daniel with regard to the kingdom, but they could find no ground for complaint or any fault, because he was faithful, and no error or fault was found in him. <sup>5</sup>Then these men said, “We shall not find any ground for complaint against this Daniel unless we find it in connection with the law of his God.”

<sup>6</sup>Then these presidents and satraps came by agreement to the king and said to him, “O King Darius, live forever! <sup>7</sup>All the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects and the satraps, the counselors and the governors are agreed that the king should establish an ordinance and enforce an injunction, that whoever makes petition to any god or man for thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions. <sup>8</sup>Now, O king, establish the injunction and sign the document, so that it cannot be changed, according to the law of the Medes and the Persians, which cannot be revoked.” <sup>9</sup>Therefore King Darius signed the document and injunction.

<sup>10</sup>When Daniel knew that the document had been signed, he went to his house where he had windows in his upper chamber open toward Jerusalem. He got down on his knees three times a day and prayed and gave thanks before his God, as he had done previously. <sup>11</sup>Then these men came by agreement and found Daniel making petition and plea before his God. <sup>12</sup>Then they came near and said before the king, concerning the injunction, “O king! Did you not sign an injunction, that anyone who makes petition to any god or man within thirty days except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?” The king answered and said, “The thing stands fast, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be revoked.”<sup>13</sup> Then they answered and said before the king, “Daniel, who is one of the exiles from Judah, pays no attention to you, O king, or the injunction you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day.”

<sup>14</sup>Then the king, when he heard these words, was much distressed and set his mind to deliver Daniel. And he labored till the sun went down to rescue him. <sup>15</sup>Then these men came by agreement to the king and said to the king, “Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians that no injunction or ordinance that the king establishes can be changed.”

<sup>16</sup>Then the king commanded, and Daniel was brought and cast into the den of lions. The king declared to Daniel, “May your God, whom you serve continually, deliver you!” <sup>17</sup>And a stone was brought and laid on the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet and with the signet of his lords, that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. <sup>18</sup>Then the king went to his palace and spent the night fasting; no diversions were brought to him, and sleep fled from him.

<sup>19</sup>Then, at break of day, the king arose and went in haste to the den of lions. <sup>20</sup>As he came near to the den where Daniel was, he cried out in a tone of anguish. The king declared to Daniel, “O Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been able to deliver you from the lions?” <sup>21</sup>Then Daniel said to the king, “O king, live forever! <sup>22</sup>My God sent his angel and shut the lions’ mouths, and they have not harmed me, because I was found blameless before him; and also before you, O king, I have done no harm.” <sup>23</sup>Then the king was exceedingly glad, and commanded that Daniel be taken up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no kind of harm was found on him, because he had trusted in his God. <sup>24</sup>And the king commanded, and those men who had maliciously accused Daniel were brought and cast into the den of lions—they, their children, and their wives. And before they reached the bottom of the den, the lions overpowered them and broke all their bones in pieces.

<sup>25</sup>Then King Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth: “Peace be multiplied to you. <sup>26</sup>I make a decree, that in all my royal dominion people are to tremble and fear before the God of Daniel,

for he is the living God,
enduring forever;
his kingdom shall never be destroyed,
and his dominion shall be to the end.

<sup>27</sup>He delivers and rescues;
he works signs and wonders
in heaven and on earth,
he who has saved Daniel
from the power of the lions.”

The River of Life

<sup>1</sup>Then the angel showed me the river of the water of life, bright as crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb <sup>2</sup>through the middle of the street of the city; also, on either side of the river, the tree of life with its twelve kinds of fruit, yielding its fruit each month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. <sup>3</sup>No longer will there be anything accursed, but the throne of God and of the Lamb will be in it, and his servants will worship him. <sup>4</sup>They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>And night will be no more. They will need no light of lamp or sun, for the Lord God will be their light, and they will reign forever and ever.

Jesus Is Coming

<sup>6</sup>And he said to me, “These words are trustworthy and true. And the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, has sent his angel to show his servants what must soon take place.”

<sup>8</sup>I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. And when I heard and saw them, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel who showed them to me, <sup>9</sup>but he said to me, “You must not do that! I am a fellow servant with you and your brothers the prophets, and with those who keep the words of this book. Worship God.”

<sup>10</sup>And he said to me, “Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is near. <sup>11</sup>Let the evildoer still do evil, and the filthy still be filthy, and the righteous still do right, and the holy still be holy.”

<sup>12</sup>“Behold, I am coming soon, bringing my recompense with me, to repay everyone for what he has done. <sup>13</sup>I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.”

<sup>14</sup>Blessed are those who wash their robes, so that they may have the right to the tree of life and that they may enter the city by the gates. <sup>15</sup>Outside are the dogs and sorcerers and the sexually immoral and murderers and idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.

<sup>16</sup>“I, Jesus, have sent my angel to testify to you about these things for the churches. I am the root and the descendant of David, the bright morning star.”

<sup>17</sup>The Spirit and the Bride say, “Come.” And let the one who hears say, “Come.” And let the one who is thirsty come; let the one who desires take the water of life without price.

<sup>18</sup>I warn everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book: if anyone adds to them, God will add to him the plagues described in this book, <sup>19</sup>and if anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take away his share in the tree of life and in the holy city, which are described in this book.

<sup>21</sup>The grace of the Lord Jesus be with all. Amen.

Writing

This article, “I believe in the holy Christian Church,” is as much an article of faith as the rest. This is why natural reason cannot recognize it, even if it puts on all its glasses. The devil can cover it over with offenses and divisions, so that you have to take offense at it. God too can conceal it behind faults and shortcomings of all kinds, so that you necessarily become a fool and pass false judgment on it. Christendom will not be known by sight, but by faith. And faith has to do with things not seen, Hebrews 11[:1]. Christendom joins with her Lord in the song, “Blessed is he who takes no offense at me” [Matt. 11:6]. A Christian is even hidden from himself; he does not see his holiness and virtue, but sees in himself nothing but unholiness and vice. And you, stupid know-it-all, would behold Christendom with your blind reason and unclean eyes!

In a word, our holiness is in heaven, where Christ is; and not in the world, before men’s eyes, like goods in the market place. Therefore let there be offenses, divisions, heresies, and faults; let them do what they can! If only the word of the gospel remains pure among us, and we love and cherish it, we shall not doubt that Christ is with us, even when things are at their worst. As we see here in this book, that through and beyond all plagues, beasts, and evil angels Christ is nonetheless with his saints, and wins the final victory.

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

Now from that tree of Jesus’ shame
Flows life eternal in His name;
For all who trust and will believe,
Salvation’s living fruit receive.
And of this fruit so pure and sweet
The Lord invites the world to eat,
To find within this cross of wood
The tree of life with ev’ry good.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, Alpha and Omega, bright Morning Star, You are the tree of life standing on each side of the river of the water of life, bringing healing to the nations. Prepare us for Your coming through the healing medicine of Your Word and Sacraments, putting to flight the diseases of our souls, that with willing hearts we may ever love and serve You; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. #### Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 1:1–28

which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

The Wickedness of Judah

for the Lord has spoken:

“Children have I reared and brought up,
but they have rebelled against me.

<sup>3</sup>The ox knows its owner,
and the donkey its master’s crib,

but Israel does not know,
my people do not understand.”

<sup>4</sup>Ah, sinful nation,
a people laden with iniquity,
offspring of evildoers,
children who deal corruptly!
They have forsaken the Lord,
they have despised the Holy One
of Israel,
they are utterly estranged.

<sup>5</sup>Why will you still be struck down?
Why will you continue to rebel?
The whole head is sick,
and the whole heart faint.

<sup>6</sup>From the sole of the foot even to the head,

there is no soundness in it,
but bruises and sores
and raw wounds;
they are not pressed out or bound up or softened with oil.

<sup>7</sup>Your country lies desolate;
your cities are burned with fire;
in your very presence
foreigners devour your land;
it is desolate, as overthrown by foreigners.

<sup>8</sup>And the daughter of Zion is left
like a booth in a vineyard,

like a lodge in a cucumber field,
like a besieged city.

<sup>9</sup>If the LORD of hosts had not left us a few survivors,
we should have been like Sodom,
and become like Gomorrah.

<sup>10</sup>Hear the word of the Lord,
you rulers of Sodom!
Give ear to the teaching of our God,
you people of Gomorrah!

<sup>11</sup>“What to me is the multitude of your sacrifices?

says the LORD;

I have had enough of burnt offerings
of rams

and the fat of well-fed beasts;

I do not delight in the blood of bulls,
or of lambs, or of goats.

<sup>12</sup>“When you come to appear before me,
who has required of you
this trampling of my courts?

<sup>13</sup>Bring no more vain offerings;
incense is an abomination to me.

New moon and Sabbath and the calling of convocations—

I cannot endure iniquity and solemn assembly.

<sup>14</sup>Your new moons and your appointed feasts

my soul hates;

they have become a burden to me;

I am weary of bearing them.

<sup>15</sup>When you spread out your hands,
I will hide my eyes from you;
even though you make many prayers,

I will not listen;

your hands are full of blood.

<sup>16</sup>Wash yourselves; make yourselves clean;
remove the evil of your deeds from
before my eyes;

cease to do evil,

<sup>17</sup>learn to do good;

seek justice,

correct oppression;

bring justice to the fatherless,

plead the widow’s cause.

<sup>18</sup>“Come now, let us reason together, says
the LORD:

though your sins are like scarlet,

they shall be as white as snow;

though they are red like crimson,

they shall become like wool.

<sup>19</sup>If you are willing and obedient,

you shall eat the good of the land;

<sup>20</sup>but if you refuse and rebel,

you shall be eaten by the sword;

for the mouth of the Lord

has spoken.”

The Unfaithful City

<sup>21</sup>How the faithful city

has become a whore,

she who was full of justice!

Righteousness lodged in her,

but now murderers.

<sup>22</sup>Your silver has become dross,

your best wine mixed with water.

<sup>23</sup>Your princes are rebels

and companions of thieves.

Everyone loves a bribe

and runs after gifts.

They do not bring justice to the fatherless,

and the widow’s cause does not come to them.

<sup>24</sup>Therefore the LORD declares,

the LORD of hosts,

the Mighty One of Israel:

“Ah, I will get relief from my enemies and avenge myself on my foes.

<sup>25</sup>I will turn my hand against you and will smelt away your dross as with lye
and remove all your alloy.

<sup>26</sup>And I will restore your judges as at the first,
and your counselors as at the beginning.

Afterward you shall be called the city of
righteousness,
the faithful city.”

<sup>27</sup>Zion shall be redeemed by justice,
and those in her who repent,
by righteousness.

<sup>28</sup>But rebels and sinners shall be broken
together,
and those who forsake the Lord shall be consumed.

New Testament Reading: 1 Peter 1:1–12

Greeting

To those who are elect exiles of the dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, <sup>2</sup>according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in the sanctification of the Spirit, for obedience to Jesus Christ and for sprinkling with his blood:

May grace and peace be multiplied to you.

Born Again to a Living Hope

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, <sup>4</sup>to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, <sup>5</sup>who by God’s power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. <sup>6</sup>In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, <sup>7</sup>so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ. <sup>8</sup>Though you have not seen him, you love him. Though you do not now see him, you believe in him and rejoice with joy that is inexpressible and filled with glory, <sup>9</sup>obtaining the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

<sup>10</sup>Concerning this salvation, the prophets who prophesied about the grace that was to be yours searched and inquired carefully, <sup>11</sup>inquiring what person or time the Spirit of Christ in them was indicating when he predicted the sufferings of Christ and the subsequent glories. <sup>12</sup>It was revealed to them that they were serving not themselves but you, in the things that have now been announced to you through those who preached the good news to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, things into which angels long to look.

Writing

[It finally came in time] to the most perfect promise of all, that of the new testament, in which, with plain words, life and salvation are freely promised, and actually granted to those who believe the promise. And he distinguishes this testament from the old one by a particular mark when he calls it the “new testament” [Luke 22:20; I Cor. 11:25]. For the old testament given through Moses was not a promise of forgiveness of sins or of eternal things, but of temporal things, namely, of the land of Canaan, by which no man was renewed in spirit to lay hold on the heavenly inheritance. Wherefore also it was necessary that, as a figure of Christ, a dumb beast should be slain, in whose blood the same testament might be confirmed, as the blood corresponded to the testament and the sacrifice corresponded to the promise. But here Christ says “the new testament in my blood” [Luke 22:20; I Cor. 11:25], not somebody else’s, but his own, by which grace is promised through the Spirit for the forgiveness of sins, that we may obtain the inheritance.

According to its substance, therefore, the mass is nothing but the aforesaid words of Christ: “Take and eat, etc.” [Matt. 26:26], as if he were saying: “Behold, O sinful and condemned man, out of the pure and unmerited love with which I love you, and by the will of the Father of mercies [II Cor. 1:3], apart from any merit or desire of yours, I promise you in these words the forgiveness of all your sins and life everlasting. And that you may be absolutely certain of this irrevocable promise of mine, I shall give my body and pour out my blood, confirming this promise by my very death, and leaving you my body and blood as a sign and memorial of this same promise. As often as you partake of them, remember me, proclaim and praise my love and bounty toward you, and give thanks.”

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

Since He is ours,
We fear no powers,
Not of earth nor sin nor death.
He sees and blesses
In worst distresses;
He can change them with a breath.
Wherefore the story
Tell of His glory

With hearts and voices;
All heav’n rejoices
In Him forever: Alleluia!
We shout for gladness,
Triumph o’er sadness,
Love Him and praise Him
And still shall raise Him
Glad hymns forever: Alleluia!
—In Thee Is Gladness (LSB 818:2)

The Mountain of the LORD

<sup>2</sup>It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the house
of the LORD
shall be established as the highest
of the mountains,
and shall be lifted up above the hills;
and all the nations shall flow to it, <sup>3</sup>and many peoples shall come,
and say:

“Come, let us go up to the mountain
of the LORD,
to the house of the God of Jacob,
that he may teach us his ways
and that we may walk in his paths.”
For out of Zion shall go the law, and the word of the LORD
from Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup>He shall judge between the nations,
and shall decide disputes
for many peoples;
and they shall beat their swords
into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks;
nation shall not lift up sword
against nation,
neither shall they learn war anymore.

<sup>5</sup>O house of Jacob, come, let us walk
in the light of the Lord.

The Day of the LORD

<sup>6</sup>For you have rejected your people,
the house of Jacob,
because they are full of things
from the east

and of fortune-tellers like the Philistines,
and they strike hands with the children of foreigners.

<sup>7</sup>Their land is filled with silver and gold,
and there is no end to their treasures;
their land is filled with horses,
and there is no end to their chariots.

<sup>8</sup>Their land is filled with idols;
they bow down to the work
of their hands,
to what their own fingers have made.

<sup>9</sup>So man is humbled, and each one is brought low—
do not forgive them!

<sup>10</sup>Enter into the rock and hide in the dust
from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the splendor of his majesty.

<sup>11</sup>The haughty looks of man shall be brought low,
and the lofty pride of men shall be humbled,
and the LORD alone will be exalted
in that day.

<sup>12</sup>For the LORD of hosts has a day against all that is proud and lofty, against all that is lifted up—and it shall be brought low;

<sup>13</sup>against all the cedars of Lebanon,
lofty and lifted up;
and against all the oaks of Bashan;

<sup>14</sup>against all the lofty mountains,
and against all the uplifted hills;

<sup>15</sup>against every high tower,
and against every fortified wall;

<sup>16</sup>against all the ships of Tarshish,
and against all the beautiful craft.

<sup>17</sup>And the haughtiness of man shall be humbled,

and the lofty pride of men
shall be brought low,
and the LORD alone will be exalted
in that day.

<sup>18</sup>And the idols shall utterly pass away.

<sup>19</sup>And people shall enter the caves
of the rocks

and the holes of the ground,
from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the splendor of his majesty,
when he rises to terrify the earth.

<sup>20</sup>In that day mankind will cast away their idols of silver and their idols
of gold,

which they made for themselves
to worship,

to the moles and to the bats,

<sup>21</sup>to enter the caverns of the rocks
and the clefts of the cliffs,

from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the splendor of his majesty,
when he rises to terrify the earth.

<sup>22</sup>Stop regarding man
in whose nostrils is breath,
for of what account is he?

Called to Be Holy

<sup>13</sup>Therefore, preparing your minds for action, and being sober-minded, set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. <sup>14</sup>As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, <sup>15</sup>but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, <sup>16</sup>since it is written, “You shall be holy, for I am holy.” <sup>17</sup>And if you call on him as Father who judges

impartially according to each one’s deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, <sup>18</sup>knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, <sup>19</sup>but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. <sup>20</sup>He was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in the last times for the sake of you <sup>21</sup>who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God.

<sup>22</sup>Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, <sup>23</sup>since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; <sup>24</sup>for

“All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass.

The grass withers,

and the flower falls,

<sup>25</sup>but the word of the Lord
remains forever.”

And this word is the good news that was preached to you.

Writing

Dr. Luther writes in the Preface to St. Paul’s Epistle to the Romans:

Faith, however, is a divine work in us that changes us and makes us to be born anew of God, John 1[:12–13]. It kills the old Adam and makes us altogether different men, in heart and spirit and mind and powers; it brings with it the Holy Spirit. O, it is a living, busy, active, mighty thing, this faith. It is impossible for it not to be doing good works incessantly. It does not ask whether good works are to be done, but before the question is asked, it has already done them, and is constantly doing them. Whoever does not do such works, however, is an unbeliever. He gropes and looks around for faith and good works, but knows neither what faith is nor what good works are. Yet he talks and talks, with many words, about faith and good works.

Faith is a living, daring confidence in God's grace, so sure and certain that the believer would stake his life on it a thousand times. This knowledge of and confidence in God's grace makes men glad and bold and happy in dealing with God and all creatures. And this is the work that the Holy Spirit performs in faith. Because of it, without compulsion, a person is ready and glad to do good to everyone, to serve everyone, to suffer everything, out of love and praise to God, who has shown him this grace. Thus it is impossible to separate works from faith, quite as impossible as to separate heat and light from fire. [LW 35:370-71]

Hymnody

Lord, Thee I love with all my heart;
I pray Thee, ne'er from me depart,
With tender mercy cheer me.

Yea, heav'n itself were void and bare
If Thou, Lord, wert not near me.
And should my heart for sorrow break,
My trust in Thee can nothing shake.
Thou art the portion I have sought;
Thy precious blood my soul has bought.

The Vineyard of the LORD Destroyed

- <sup>1</sup>Let me sing for my beloved my love song concerning his vineyard:
My beloved had a vineyard
on a very fertile hill.
<sup>2</sup>He dug it and cleared it of stones,
and planted it with choice vines;
he built a watchtower in the midst of it,
and hewed out a wine vat in it;
and he looked for it to yield grapes,
but it yielded wild grapes.
<sup>3</sup>And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem
and men of Judah,
judge between me and my vineyard.
<sup>4</sup>What more was there to do for my vineyard,
that I have not done in it?
When I looked for it to yield grapes,
why did it yield wild grapes?
<sup>5</sup>And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard.
I will remove its hedge,
and it shall be devoured;
I will break down its wall,
and it shall be trampled down.
<sup>6</sup>I will make it a waste;
it shall not be pruned or hoed,
and briars and thorns shall grow up;
I will also command the clouds
that they rain no rain upon it.
<sup>7</sup>For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts
is the house of Israel,

and the men of Judah
are his pleasant planting;
and he looked for justice,
but behold, bloodshed;
for righteousness,
but behold, an outcry!

Woe to the Wicked

- <sup>8</sup>Woe to those who join house to house,
who add field to field,
until there is no more room,
and you are made to dwell alone
in the midst of the land.
<sup>9</sup>The LORD of hosts has sworn in my hearing:
“Surely many houses shall be desolate,
large and beautiful houses,
without inhabitant.
<sup>10</sup>For ten acres of vineyard shall yield
but one bath,
and a homer of seed shall yield
but an ephah.”
<sup>11</sup>Woe to those who rise early in the morning,
that they may run after strong drink,
who tarry late into the evening
as wine inflames them!
<sup>12</sup>They have lyre and harp, tambourine and flute and wine
at their feasts,
but they do not regard the deeds of the LORD,
or see the work of his hands.
<sup>13</sup>Therefore my people go into exile
for lack of knowledge;
their honored men go hungry,
and their multitude is parched with thirst.
<sup>14</sup>Therefore Sheol has enlarged its appetite and opened its mouth beyond measure, and the nobility of Jerusalem and her multitude will go down,
her revelers and he who exults in her.

<sup>15</sup>Man is humbled, and each one is brought low,
and the eyes of the haughty
are brought low.

<sup>16</sup>But the LORD of hosts is exalted in justice, and the Holy God shows himself holy
in righteousness.

<sup>17</sup>Then shall the lambs graze
as in their pasture,
and nomads shall eat among the ruins
of the rich.

<sup>18</sup>Woe to those who draw iniquity
with cords of falsehood,
who draw sin as with cart ropes,

<sup>19</sup>who say: “Let him be quick, let him speed his work
that we may see it;
let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw near,
and let it come, that we may know it!”

<sup>20</sup>Woe to those who call evil good and good evil,

who put darkness for light
and light for darkness,

who put bitter for sweet
and sweet for bitter!

<sup>21</sup>Woe to those who are wise
in their own eyes,
and shrewd in their own sight!

<sup>22</sup>Woe to those who are heroes
at drinking wine,
and valiant men in mixing strong drink,

<sup>23</sup>who acquit the guilty for a bribe,
and deprive the innocent of his right!

<sup>24</sup>Therefore, as the tongue of fire devours
the stubble,
and as dry grass sinks down in the flame,
so their root will be as rottenness,
and their blossom go up like dust;

for they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts,
and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>25</sup>Therefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against his people, and he stretched out his hand against them and struck them,
and the mountains quaked;
and their corpses were as refuse
in the midst of the streets.

For all this his anger has not turned away,
and his hand is stretched out still.

A Living Stone and a Holy People

<sup>1</sup>So put away all malice and all deceit and hypocrisy and envy and all slander. <sup>2</sup>Like newborn infants, long for the pure spiritual milk, that by it you may grow up into salvation—<sup>3</sup>if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is good.

<sup>4</sup>As you come to him, a living stone rejected by men but in the sight of God chosen and precious, <sup>5</sup>you yourselves like living stones are being built up as a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. <sup>6</sup>For it stands in Scripture:

“Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone,
a cornerstone chosen and precious,
and whoever believes in him will not be put to shame.”

<sup>7</sup>So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe,

“The stone that the builders rejected

<sup>8</sup>and

“A stone of stumbling,
and a rock of offense.”

They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do.

<sup>9</sup>But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession, that you may proclaim the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. <sup>10</sup>Once you were not a people, but now you are God’s people; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.

<sup>12</sup>Keep your conduct among the Gentiles honorable, so that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation.

Writing

Now the rest are eucharistic sacrifices, which are called sacrifices of praise (Leviticus 3; 7:11[–18]; Psalm 56:12). These are the preaching of the Gospel, faith, prayer, thanksgiving, confession, the troubles of saints, yes, all good works of saints. These sacrifices are not satisfactions for those making them, nor can they be applied to others to merit the forgiveness of sins or reconciliation by the outward act (ex opere operato). They are made by those who have been reconciled. These are the sacrifices of the New Testament, as Peter teaches, “a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices” (1 Peter 2:5). Spiritual sacrifices, however, are contrasted not only with those of cattle, but even with human works offered by the outward act, because spiritual refers to the movements of the Holy Spirit in us. Paul teaches the same thing, “Present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship” (Romans 12:1). “Spiritual worship” means, however, a service in which God is known and is grasped by the mind. This happens in the movements of fear and trust toward God. Therefore, it contrasts not only with the Levitical service, in which cattle are slain, but also with a service in which a work is imagined to be offered by the outward act. The Epistle to the Hebrews teaches the same thing, “Through Him then let us continually offer up a sacrifice of praise to God” (13:15). He adds the interpretation, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to His name. He asks us to offer praises, that is, prayer, thanksgiving, confession, and the like. These benefit not by the outward act, but because of faith. This is taught by the clause “Through Him then let us continually offer,” that is, by faith in Christ.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and eternal God, according to Your strict judgment You condemned the unbelieving world through the flood, yet according to Your great mercy You preserved believing Noah and his family, eight souls in all. Grant that we may be kept safe and secure in the holy ark of the Christian Church, so that with all believers in Your promise, we would be declared worthy of eternal life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (1117)

Noah

Noah, the son of Lamech (Genesis 5:30), was instructed by God to build an ark in which his family would find security from the destructive waters of a devastating flood that God warned would come. Noah built the ark, and the rains descended. The entire earth was flooded, destroying “every living thing that was on the face of the ground, man and animals” (Genesis 7:23). After the flood waters subsided, the ark came to rest on the mountains of Ararat. When Noah determined it was safe and God confirmed it, Noah, his family, and all the animals disembarked. Then Noah built an altar and offered a sacrifice of thanksgiving to God for having saved his family from destruction. A rainbow in the sky was declared by God to be a sign of His promise that never again would a similar flood destroy the entire earth (Genesis 8:20–22; 9:8–17). Noah is remembered and honored for his obedience, believing that God would do what He said He would.

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 6:1–7:9

Isaiah’s Vision of the LORD

<sup>1</sup>In the year that King Uzziah died I saw the LORD sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up; and the train of his robe filled the temple. <sup>2</sup>Above him stood the seraphim.
Each had six wings: with two he covered his face, and with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew. <sup>3</sup>And one called to another
and said:

“Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts;
the whole earth is full of his glory!”

<sup>4</sup>And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called, and the house was filled with smoke. <sup>5</sup>And I said: “Woe is me! For I am lost; for I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts!”

<sup>6</sup>Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having in his hand a burning coal that he had taken with tongs from the altar. <sup>7</sup>And he touched my mouth and said: “Behold, this has touched your lips; your guilt is taken away, and your sin atoned for.”

Isaiah’s Commission from the LORD

<sup>8</sup>And I heard the voice of the LORD saying, “Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?” Then I said, “Here am I! Send me.”

<sup>9</sup>And he said, “Go, and say to this people:

“ ‘Keep on hearing,
but do not understand;
keep on seeing, but do not perceive.’
<sup>10</sup>Make the heart of this people dull,
and their ears heavy,
and blind their eyes;
lest they see with their eyes,
and hear with their ears,
and understand with their hearts,
and turn and be healed.”

<sup>11</sup>Then I said, “How long, O Lord?”

And he said:

“Until cities lie waste
without inhabitant,
and houses without people,
and the land is a desolate waste, <sup>12</sup>and the LORD removes people far away,
and the forsaken places are many in the midst of the land.

<sup>13</sup>And though a tenth remain in it,
it will be burned again,
like a terebinth or an oak,
whose stump remains
when it is felled.”

The holy seed is its stump.

Isaiah Sent to King Ahaz

<sup>7:1</sup>In the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, son of Uzziah, king of Judah, Rezin the king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah the king of Israel came up to Jerusalem to wage war against it, but could not yet mount an attack against it. <sup>2</sup>When the house of David was told, “Syria is in league with Ephraim,” the heart of Ahaz and the heart of his people shook as the trees of the forest shake before the wind.

<sup>3</sup>And the LORD said to Isaiah, “Go out to meet Ahaz, you and Shear-jashub your son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool on the highway to the Washer’s Field. <sup>4</sup>And say to him, ‘Be careful, be quiet, do not fear, and do not let your heart be faint because of these two smoldering stumps of firebrands, at the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria and the son of Remaliah. <sup>5</sup>Because Syria, with Ephraim and the son of Remaliah, has devised evil against you, saying, <sup>6</sup>“Let us go up against Judah and terrify it, and let us conquer it for ourselves, and set up the son of Tabeel as king in the midst of it,” <sup>7</sup>thus says the Lord GOD:

“ ‘It shall not stand,
and it shall not come to pass.

<sup>8</sup>For the head of Syria is Damascus,
and the head of Damascus is Rezin.

And within sixty-five years Ephraim will be shattered from being a people.

<sup>9</sup>And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is the son of Remaliah.

If you are not firm in faith,
you will not be firm at all.’ ”

Submission to Authority

<sup>13</sup>Be subject for the Lord’s sake to every human institution, whether it be to the emperor as supreme, <sup>14</sup>or to governors as sent by him to punish those who do evil and to praise those who do good. <sup>15</sup>For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. <sup>16</sup>Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. <sup>17</sup>Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor.

<sup>18</sup>Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. <sup>19</sup>For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. <sup>20</sup>For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. <sup>21</sup>For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. <sup>22</sup>He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. <sup>23</sup>When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. <sup>24</sup>He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. <sup>25</sup>For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls.

Reverent hearts, we hold the feast of the apostle Andrew in Christendom as the first in the [Church] Year not only because it falls near the season of Advent but also because

Andrew was called first, before the other apostles, by the Lord Jesus. Even Durandus, the bishop of Mende, says, “The saints are to be honored by imitation, not adored, as if to honor them as gods. They are to be honored with love, not adored with servitude.”

Now history tells us how St. Andrew together with his fellows conducted their new office. Right away they left their nets and followed the Lord Jesus. And again, right away they left the ship and their father and followed Him. To them, Jesus is now the most precious one on earth—according to His mind they learn, according to His words they teach, according to His will they live, according to His decree they suffer and die. When St. Andrew was threatened with the cross, he said joyfully, “If I feared the punishment of the cross, I would never have preached the mystery of the cross.” Then when he saw the cross, he spoke, “Hail, precious cross, you who were dedicated by the body of Christ; may He receive me through you, who redeemed me through you.” And when he was living after three days on the cross, his hearers wanted to take him down by force, but he said, “Ah, let God take care of it! Do not make the peace of the Gospel suspect by your unnecessary revolt against the government.” That was apostolic constancy and long-suffering! This is what it means to “leave everything and follow Christ,” all the way to the last catch of fish!

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, by Your grace the apostle Andrew obeyed the call of Your Son to be a disciple. Grant us also to follow the same Lord Jesus Christ in heart and life, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F01)

St. Andrew, Apostle

St. Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was born in the Galilean village of Bethsaida. Originally a disciple of St. John the Baptist, Andrew then became the first of Jesus' disciples (John 1:35–40). His name regularly appears in the Gospels near the top of the lists of the Twelve. It was he who first introduced his brother Simon to Jesus (John 1:41–42). He was, in a real sense, the first home missionary, as well as the first foreign missionary (John 12:20–22). Tradition says Andrew was martyred by crucifixion on a cross in the form of an X. In AD 357, his body is said to have been taken to the Church of the Holy Apostles in Constantinople and later removed to the cathedral of Amalfi in Italy. Centuries later, Andrew became the patron saint of Scotland. St. Andrew's Day determines the beginning of the Western Church Year, since the First Sunday in Advent is always the Sunday nearest to St. Andrew's Day.

The Sign of Immanuel

<sup>10</sup> Again the LORD spoke to Ahaz, <sup>11</sup>“Ask a sign of the LORD your God; let it be deep as Sheol or high as heaven.” <sup>12</sup>But Ahaz said, “I will not ask, and I will not put the LORD to the test.” <sup>13</sup>And he said, “Hear then, O house of David! Is it too little for you to weary men, that you weary my God also? <sup>14</sup>Therefore the LORD himself will give you a sign. Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. <sup>15</sup>He shall eat curds and honey when he knows how to refuse the evil and choose the good. <sup>16</sup>For before the boy knows how to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land whose two kings you dread will be deserted. <sup>17</sup>The LORD will bring upon you and upon your people and upon your father's house such days as have not come since the day that Ephraim departed from Judah—the king of Assyria.”

<sup>18</sup>In that day the LORD will whistle for the fly that is at the end of the streams of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. <sup>19</sup>And they will all come and settle in the steep ravines, and in the clefts of the rocks, and on all the thornbushes, and on all the pastures.

<sup>20</sup>In that day the LORD will shave with a razor that is hired beyond the River—with the king of Assyria—the head and the hair of the feet, and it will sweep away the beard also.

<sup>23</sup>In that day every place where there used to be a thousand vines, worth a thousand shekels of silver, will become briars and thorns. <sup>24</sup>With bow and arrows a man will come there, for all the land will be briars and thorns. <sup>25</sup>And as for all the hills that used to be hoed with a hoe, you will not come there for fear of briars and thorns, but they will become a place where cattle are let loose and where sheep tread.

The Coming Assyrian Invasion

<sup>8:1</sup>Then the LORD said to me, “Take a large tablet and write on it in common characters, ‘Belonging to Maher-shalal-hash-baz.’ <sup>2</sup>And I will get reliable witnesses, Uriah the priest and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah, to attest for me.”

<sup>3</sup>And I went to the prophetess, and she conceived and bore a son. Then the LORD said to me, “Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz; <sup>4</sup>for before the boy knows how to cry ‘My father’ or ‘My mother,’ the wealth of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria will be carried away before the king of Assyria.”

<sup>5</sup>The LORD spoke to me again: <sup>6</sup>“Because this people has refused the waters of Shiloh that flow gently, and rejoice over Rezin and the son of Remaliah, <sup>7</sup>therefore, behold, the LORD is bringing up against them the waters of the River, mighty and many, the king of Assyria and all his glory. And it will rise over all its channels and go over all its banks, <sup>8</sup>and it will sweep on into Judah, it will overflow and pass on, reaching even to the neck, and its outspread wings will fill the breadth of your land, O Immanuel.”

New Testament Reading: 1 Peter 3:1–22

Wives and Husbands

<sup>7</sup>Likewise, husbands, live with your wives in an understanding way, showing honor to the woman as the weaker vessel, since they are heirs with you of the grace of life, so that your prayers may not be hindered.

Suffering for Righteousness' Sake

<sup>8</sup>Finally, all of you, have unity of mind, sympathy, brotherly love, a tender heart, and a humble mind. <sup>9</sup>Do not repay evil for evil or reviling for reviling, but on the contrary, bless, for to this you were called, that you may obtain a blessing. <sup>10</sup>For “Whoever desires to love life and see good days,

let him keep his tongue from evil
and his lips from speaking deceit;
<sup>11</sup>let him turn away from evil and do good;
let him seek peace and pursue it.
<sup>12</sup>For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous,
and his ears are open to their prayer.
But the face of the Lord is against those who do evil.”

<sup>13</sup>Now who is there to harm you if you are zealous for what is good? <sup>14</sup>But even if you should suffer for righteousness' sake, you will be blessed. Have no fear of them, nor be troubled, <sup>15</sup>but in your hearts honor Christ the Lord as holy, always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect, <sup>16</sup>having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame. <sup>17</sup>For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil.

<sup>18</sup>For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, <sup>19</sup>in which he went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison, <sup>20</sup>because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. <sup>21</sup>Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, <sup>22</sup>who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him.

Writing

Our Baptism abides forever. Even though someone should fall from Baptism and sin, still we always have access to it. So we may subdue the old man again. But we do not need to be sprinkled with water again. . . . Even if we were put under the water a hundred times, it would still be only one Baptism, even though the work and sign continue and remain. Repentance, therefore, is nothing other than a return and approach to Baptism. We repeat and do what we began before, but abandoned.

I say this lest we fall into the opinion in which we were stuck for a long time. We were imagining that our Baptism is something past, which we can no longer use after we have fallen again into sin. The reason for this is that Baptism is regarded as only based on the outward act once performed (and completed). This arose from the fact that St. Jerome wrote that “repentance is the second plank by which we must swim forth and cross over the water after the ship is broken, on which we step and are carried across when we come into the Christian Church.” By this teaching Baptism's use has been abolished so that it can no longer profit us. Therefore,

Jerome's statement is not correct, or at any rate is not rightly understood. For the ship of Baptism never breaks, because . . . It is God's ordinance and not our work [1 Peter 3:20–22]. But it does happen, indeed, that we slip and fall out of the ship. Yet if anyone falls out, let him see to it that he swims up and clings to the ship until he comes into it again and lives in it, as he had done before.

In this way one sees what a great, excellent thing Baptism is. It delivers us from the devil's jaws and makes us God's own. It suppresses and takes away sin and then daily strengthens the new man. It is working and always continues working until we pass from this estate of misery to eternal glory.

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 8:9–9:7

[The Coming Assyrian Invasion]

- <sup>9</sup>Be broken, you peoples, and be shattered; give ear, all you far countries;
 strap on your armor and be shattered;
 strap on your armor and be shattered.
- <sup>10</sup>Take counsel together, but it will come to nothing;
 speak a word, but it will not stand,
 for God is with us.

Fear God, Wait for the LORD

<sup>11</sup>For the LORD spoke thus to me with his strong hand upon me, and warned me not to walk in the way of this people, saying: <sup>12</sup>“Do not call conspiracy all that this people calls conspiracy, and do not fear what they fear, nor be in dread. <sup>13</sup>But the LORD of hosts, him you shall honor as holy. Let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. <sup>14</sup>And he will become a sanctuary and a stone of offense and a rock of stumbling to both houses of Israel, a trap and a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup>And many shall stumble on it. They shall fall and be broken; they shall be snared and taken.”

<sup>16</sup>Bind up the testimony; seal the teaching among my disciples. <sup>17</sup>I will wait for the LORD, who is hiding his face from the house of Jacob, and I will hope in him. <sup>18</sup>Behold, I and the children whom the Lord has given me are signs and portents in Israel from the Lord of hosts, who dwells on Mount Zion. <sup>19</sup>And when they say to you, “Inquire of the mediums and the necromancers who chirp and mutter,” should not a people inquire of their God? Should they inquire of the dead on behalf of the living? <sup>20</sup>To the teaching and to the testimony! If they will not speak according to this word, it is because they have no dawn. <sup>21</sup>They will pass through the land, greatly distressed and hungry. And when they are hungry, they will be enraged and will speak contemptuously against their king and their God, and turn their faces upward. <sup>22</sup>And they will look to the earth, but behold, distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish. And they will be thrust into thick darkness.

For to Us a Child Is Born

<sup>9:1</sup>But there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he has made glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

<sup>2</sup>The people who walked in darkness
have seen a great light;
those who dwelt in a land
of deep darkness,
on them has light shined.

<sup>3</sup>You have multiplied the nation;
you have increased its joy;
they rejoice before you
as with joy at the harvest,
as they are glad when they divide the spoil.

<sup>4</sup>For the yoke of his burden,
and the staff for his shoulder,
the rod of his oppressor,
you have broken as on the day of Midian.

<sup>5</sup>For every boot of the tramping warrior
in battle tumult
and every garment rolled in blood
will be burned as fuel for the fire.

<sup>6</sup>For to us a child is born,
to us a son is given;
and the government shall be upon his shoulder,
and his name shall be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God,
Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

<sup>7</sup>Of the increase of his government and of peace
there will be no end,
on the throne of David
and over his kingdom,
to establish it and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from this time forth

 and forevermore.
 The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.

New Testament Reading: 1 Peter 4:1–19

Stewards of God’s Grace

<sup>1</sup>Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, <sup>2</sup>so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. <sup>3</sup>For the time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. <sup>4</sup>With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; <sup>5</sup>but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. <sup>6</sup>For this is why the gospel was preached even to those who are dead, that though judged in the flesh the way people are, they might live in the spirit the way God does.

Suffering as a Christian

<sup>12</sup>Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. <sup>13</sup>But rejoice insofar as you share Christ’s sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed. <sup>14</sup>If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. <sup>15</sup>But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. <sup>16</sup>Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. <sup>17</sup>For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? <sup>18</sup>And “If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner?”

<sup>19</sup>Therefore let those who suffer according to God’s will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good.

Writing

When faith begins, God does not forsake it; He lays the holy cross on our backs to strengthen us and to make faith powerful in us. The holy Gospel is a powerful Word. Therefore it cannot do its work without trials, and only he who tastes it is aware that it has such power. Where suffering and the cross are found, there the Gospel can show and exercise its power. It is a Word of life. Therefore it must exercise all its power in death. In the absence of dying and death it can do nothing, and no one can become aware that it has such power and is stronger than sin and death. Therefore the apostle says “to prove you”; that is, God inflicts no glowing fire or heat—cross and suffering, which make you burn—on you for any other purpose than “to prove you,” whether you also cling to His Word. Thus it is recorded in Wisd. of Sol. 10:12 of Jacob: “God sent him an arduous contest, so that he might know that godliness is more powerful than anything.” God lays a cross on all believers in order that they may taste and prove the power of God—the power which they have taken hold of through faith.

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 9:8–10:11

Judgment on Arrogance and Oppression

<sup>8</sup>The Lord has sent a word against Jacob,

and it will fall on Israel;

<sup>9</sup>and all the people will know,

Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria,

who say in pride and in arrogance of heart:

<sup>10</sup>“The bricks have fallen,
but we will build with dressed stones;
the sycamores have been cut down,
but we will put cedars in their place.”

<sup>11</sup>But the LORD raises the adversaries of Rezin against him,
and stirs up his enemies.

<sup>12</sup>The Syrians on the east and the Philistines on the west
devour Israel with open mouth.

For all this his anger has not turned away,
and his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>13</sup>The people did not turn to him
who struck them,
nor inquire of the LORD of hosts.

<sup>14</sup>So the LORD cut off from Israel head and tail, palm branch and reed in one day—

<sup>15</sup>the elder and honored man is the head, and the prophet who teaches lies
is the tail;

<sup>16</sup>for those who guide this people have been leading them astray,
and those who are guided by them
are swallowed up.

<sup>17</sup>Therefore the Lord does not rejoice over their young men,
and has no compassion on their fatherless and widows;

for everyone is godless and an evildoer,
and every mouth speaks folly.

For all this his anger has not turned away,
and his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>18</sup>For wickedness burns like a fire;
it consumes briars and thorns;

it kindles the thickets of the forest,
and they roll upward in a column
of smoke.

<sup>19</sup>Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts
the land is scorched,
and the people are like fuel for the fire;
no one spares another.

<sup>20</sup>They slice meat on the right,
but are still hungry,
and they devour on the left,
but are not satisfied;

each devours the flesh of his own arm,

<sup>21</sup>Manasseh devours Ephraim,
and Ephraim devours Manasseh;
together they are against Judah.

For all this his anger has not turned away,
and his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>10:1</sup>Woe to those who decree iniquitous decrees, and the writers who keep writing oppression,

<sup>2</sup>to turn aside the needy from justice and to rob the poor of my people
of their right,

that widows may be their spoil,
and that they may make the fatherless
their prey!

<sup>3</sup>What will you do on the day of punishment,
in the ruin that will come from afar?

To whom will you flee for help,
and where will you leave your wealth?

<sup>4</sup>Nothing remains but to crouch among the prisoners
or fall among the slain.

For all this his anger has not turned away,
and his hand is stretched out still.

Judgment on Arrogant Assyria

<sup>5</sup>Ah, Assyria, the rod of my anger;
the staff in their hands is my fury!

<sup>6</sup>Against a godless nation I send him, and against the people of my wrath I command him,

to take spoil and seize plunder,
and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

<sup>7</sup>But he does not so intend,
and his heart does not so think;

but it is in his heart to destroy,
and to cut off nations not a few;

<sup>8</sup>for he says:

“Are not my commanders all kings?

<sup>9</sup>Is not Calno like Carchemish?

Is not Hamath like Arpad?

Is not Samaria like Damascus?

<sup>10</sup>As my hand has reached to the kingdoms of the idols,

whose carved images were greater than those of Jerusalem and Samaria,

<sup>11</sup>shall I not do to Jerusalem and her idols
as I have done to Samaria and her images?”

New Testament Reading: 1 Peter 5:1–14

Shepherd the Flock of God

<sup>1</sup>So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a partaker in the glory that is going to be revealed: <sup>2</sup>shepherd the flock of God that is among you, exercising oversight, not under compulsion, but willingly, as God would have you; not for shameful gain, but eagerly; <sup>3</sup>not domineering over those in your charge, but being examples to the flock. <sup>4</sup>And when the chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the unfading crown of glory. <sup>5</sup>Likewise, you who are younger, be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for “God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble.”

<sup>6</sup>Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you, <sup>7</sup>casting all your anxieties on him, because he cares for you. <sup>8</sup>Be sober-minded; be watchful. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour. <sup>9</sup>Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world. <sup>10</sup>And after you have suffered a little while, the God of all grace, who has called you to his eternal glory in Christ, will himself restore, confirm, strengthen, and establish you. <sup>11</sup>To him be the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

Final Greetings

<sup>12</sup>By Silvanus, a faithful brother as I regard him, I have written briefly to you, exhorting and declaring that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it. <sup>13</sup>She who is at Babylon, who is likewise chosen, sends you greetings, and so does Mark, my son. <sup>14</sup>Greet one another with the kiss of love.

Peace to all of you who are in Christ.

Writing

God has assuredly promised his grace to the humble [1 Peter 5:5], that is, to those who lament and despair of themselves. But no man can be thoroughly humbled until he knows that his salvation is utterly beyond his own powers, devices, endeavors, will, and works, and depends entirely on the choice, will, and work of another, namely, of God alone. For as long as he is persuaded that he himself can do even the least thing toward his salvation, he retains some self-confidence and does not altogether despair of himself, and therefore he is not humbled before God, but presumes that there is—or at least hopes or desires that there may be—some place, time, and work for him, by which he may at length attain to salvation. But when a man has no doubt that everything depends on the will of God, then he completely despairs of himself and chooses nothing for himself, but waits for God to work; then he has come close to grace, and can be saved.

—Martin Luther

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 10:12–27a, 33–34

[Judgment on Arrogant Assyria]

<sup>12</sup>When the Lord has finished all his work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, he will punish the speech of the arrogant heart of the king of Assyria and the boastful look in his eyes. <sup>13</sup>For he says:

“By the strength of my hand I have done it,
 and by my wisdom, for I have understanding;
 I remove the boundaries of peoples,
 and plunder their treasures;
 like a bull I bring down those who sit on thrones.
<sup>14</sup>My hand has found like a nest
 the wealth of the peoples;

and as one gathers eggs
that have been forsaken,
so I have gathered all the earth;
and there was none that moved a wing
or opened the mouth or chirped.”

<sup>15</sup>Shall the axe boast over him who hews with it,
or the saw magnify itself against him who wields it?
As if a rod should wield him who lifts it,
or as if a staff should lift him
who is not wood!

<sup>16</sup>Therefore the Lord GOD of hosts will send wasting sickness among his stout warriors,
and under his glory a burning
will be kindled,
like the burning of fire.

<sup>17</sup>The light of Israel will become a fire,
and his Holy One a flame,
and it will burn and devour
his thorns and briars in one day.

<sup>18</sup>The glory of his forest and of his fruitful land
the LORD will destroy,
both soul and body,
and it will be as when a sick man
wastes away.

<sup>19</sup>The remnant of the trees
of his forest will be so few that a child can write them down.

The Remnant of Israel Will Return

<sup>20</sup>In that day the remnant of Israel and the survivors of the house of Jacob will no more lean on him who struck them, but will lean on the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, in truth. <sup>21</sup>A remnant will return, the remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God. <sup>22</sup>For though your people Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will return.

Destruction is decreed, overflowing with righteousness. <sup>23</sup>For the Lord GOD of hosts will make a full end, as decreed, in the midst of all the earth.

<sup>24</sup>Therefore thus says the Lord GOD of hosts: “O my people, who dwell in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrians when they strike with the rod and lift up their staff against you as the Egyptians did. <sup>25</sup>For in a very little while my fury will come to an end, and my anger will be directed to their destruction. <sup>26</sup>And the Lord of hosts will wield against them a whip, as when he struck Midian at the rock of Oreb. And his staff will be over the sea, and he will lift it as he did in Egypt. <sup>27</sup>And in that day his burden will depart from your shoulder, and his yoke from your neck. . . .

<sup>33</sup>Behold, the Lord GOD of hosts will lop the boughs
with terrifying power;
the great in height will be hewn down,
and the lofty will be brought low.
<sup>34</sup>He will cut down the thickets of the forest with an axe,
and Lebanon will fall
by the Majestic One.

New Testament Reading: 2 Peter 1:1–21

Greeting

To those who have obtained a faith of equal standing with ours by the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup>May grace and peace be multiplied to you in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

Make Your Calling and Election Sure

<sup>3</sup>His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, <sup>4</sup>by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire.

<sup>5</sup>For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, <sup>6</sup>and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, <sup>7</sup>and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. <sup>8</sup>For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>10</sup>Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. <sup>11</sup>For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

<sup>12</sup>Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. <sup>13</sup>I think it right, as long as I am in this body, to stir you up by way of reminder, <sup>14</sup>since I know that the putting off of my body will be soon, as our Lord Jesus Christ made clear to me. <sup>15</sup>And I will make every effort so that after my departure you may be able at any time to recall these things.

Christ's Glory and the Prophetic Word

<sup>16</sup>For we did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. <sup>17</sup>For when he received honor and glory from God the Father, and the voice was borne to him by the Majestic Glory, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased," <sup>18</sup>we ourselves heard this very voice borne from heaven, for we were with him on the holy mountain.

<sup>19</sup>And we have something more sure, the prophetic word, to which you will do well to pay attention as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and the morning star rises in your hearts, <sup>20</sup>knowing this first of all, that no prophecy of Scripture comes from someone's own interpretation. <sup>21</sup>For no prophecy was ever produced by the will of man, but men spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit.

Writing

12. A Christian should concern himself «in meditation» with the article about God's eternal election only as far as it has been revealed in God's Word. His Word presents Christ to us as the Book of Life, which He opens and reveals to us by the preaching of the Holy Gospel, as it is written in Romans 8:30, "And those whom He predestined He also called." In Him we are to seek the eternal election of the Father, who has determined in His eternal divine counsel [Ephesians 1:11–12] that He would save no one except those who know His Son Christ and truly believe in Him. Other thoughts are to be «entirely» banished «from the minds of the godly». For they do not come from God, but from the suggestion of the evil foe. With such thoughts he attempts to weaken or entirely remove us from the glorious comfort we have in this helpful doctrine. In other words, we know «assuredly» that out of pure grace, without any merit of our own, we have been elected in Christ to eternal life. No one can pluck us out of His hand [John 10:29]. He has not only promised this gracious election with mere words, but has also certified it with an oath and sealed it with the holy Sacraments. We can . . . call these to mind in our most severe temptations and take comfort in them, and with them we can quench the fiery darts of the devil [Ephesians 6:16].

13. Besides, we should act with the greatest diligence, to live according to God's will. As St. Peter encourages in 2 Peter 1:10, "make your calling and election sure." We should especially cling to . . . the revealed Word, which cannot and will not fail us.

—Epitome of the Formula of Concord XI 13–14

Hymnody

Born Thy people to deliver;
Born a child and yet a king!
Born to reign in us forever,
Now Thy gracious kingdom bring.
By Thine own eternal Spirit
Rule in all our hearts alone;
By Thine all-sufficient merit
Raise us to Thy glorious throne.

—Come, Thou Long-Expected Jesus
(LSB 338:2)

Prayer of the Day

O Lord, through Your servant John of Damascus, You proclaimed with power the mysteries of the true faith. Confirm our faith so that we may confess Jesus to be true God and true Man, singing the praises of the risen Lord, and so that by the power of the resurrection we may also attain the joys of eternal life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1119)

John of Damascus, Theologian and Hymnwriter

John (ca. AD 675–749) is known as the great compiler and summarizer of the orthodox faith and the last great Greek theologian. Born in Damascus, John gave up an influential position in the Islamic court to devote himself to the Christian faith. Around AD 716, he entered a monastery outside of Jerusalem and was ordained a priest. When the Byzantine emperor Leo the Isaurian in AD 726 issued a decree forbidding images (icons), John forcefully resisted. In his Apostolic Discourses, he argued for the legitimacy of the veneration of images, which earned him the condemnation of the Iconoclast Council in AD 754. John also wrote defenses of the orthodox faith against contemporary heresies. In addition, he was a gifted hymnwriter ("Come, You Faithful, Raise the Strain") and contributed to the liturgy of the Byzantine churches. His greatest work was the Fount of Wisdom, which was a massive compendium of truth from previous Christian theologians, covering practically every conceivable doctrinal topic. John's summary of the orthodox faith left a lasting stamp on both the Eastern and Western Churches.

 and a branch from his roots shall bear fruit.
<sup>2</sup> And the Spirit of the LORD shall rest
 upon him,
 the Spirit of wisdom and
 understanding,

the Spirit of counsel and might,
 the Spirit of knowledge and the fear
 of the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> And his delight shall be in the fear of the
 LORD.

He shall not judge by what his eyes see,
 or decide disputes by what his ears hear,

<sup>4</sup> but with righteousness he shall judge
 the poor,

and decide with equity
 for the meek of the earth;
 and he shall strike the earth
 with the rod of his mouth,

and with the breath of his lips
 he shall kill the wicked.

<sup>5</sup> Righteousness shall be the belt
 of his waist,

and faithfulness the belt of his loins.

<sup>6</sup> The wolf shall dwell with the lamb,
 and the leopard shall lie down
 with the young goat,

and the calf and the lion
 and the fattened calf together;
 and a little child shall lead them.

<sup>7</sup> The cow and the bear shall graze;
 their young shall lie down together;
 and the lion shall eat straw
 like the ox.

<sup>8</sup> The nursing child shall play
 over the hole of the cobra, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the adder's den.

<sup>9</sup> They shall not hurt or destroy
 in all my holy mountain;
 for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD
 as the waters cover the sea.

<sup>10</sup> In that day the root of Jesse, who shall stand as a signal for the peoples—of him shall the nations inquire, and his resting place shall be glorious.

<sup>11</sup>In that day the LORD will extend his hand yet a second time to recover the remnant that remains of his people, from Assyria, from Egypt, from Pathros, from Cush, from Elam, from Shinar, from Hamath, and from the coastlands of the sea.

<sup>12</sup>He will raise a signal for the nations and will assemble the banished of Israel, and gather the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

<sup>13</sup>The jealousy of Ephraim shall depart, and those who harass Judah shall be cut off;

Ephraim shall not be jealous of Judah, and Judah shall not harass Ephraim.

<sup>14</sup>But they shall swoop down on the shoulder of the Philistines in the west, and together they shall plunder the people of the east.

They shall put out their hand against Edom and Moab, and the Ammonites shall obey them.

<sup>15</sup>And the LORD will utterly destroy the tongue of the Sea of Egypt, and will wave his hand over the River with his scorching breath, and strike it into seven channels, and he will lead people across in sandals.

<sup>16</sup>And there will be a highway from Assyria for the remnant that remains of his people, as there was for Israel when they came up from the land of Egypt.

The LORD Is My Strength and My Song

<sup>12:1</sup>You will say in that day:

“I will give thanks to you, O LORD, for though you were angry with me, your anger turned away, that you might comfort me.

<sup>2</sup>“Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and will not be afraid; for the LORD GOD is my strength and my song, and he has become my salvation.”

<sup>3</sup>With joy you will draw water from the wells of salvation. <sup>4</sup>And you will say in that day:

“Give thanks to the LORD, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the peoples, proclaim that his name is exalted.

<sup>5</sup>“Sing praises to the LORD, for he has done gloriously; let this be made known in all the earth.

New Testament Reading: 2 Peter 2:1–22

False Prophets and Teachers

<sup>1</sup>But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. <sup>2</sup>And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed. <sup>3</sup>And in their greed they will exploit you with false words. Their condemnation from long ago is not idle, and their destruction is not asleep.

<sup>4</sup>For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them into hell and committed them to chains of gloomy darkness to be kept until the judgment; <sup>5</sup>if he did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a herald of righteousness, with seven others, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly; <sup>6</sup>if by turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to ashes he condemned them to extinction, making them an example of what is going to happen to the ungodly; <sup>7</sup>and if he rescued righteous Lot, greatly distressed by the sensual conduct of the wicked <sup>8</sup>(for as that righteous man lived among them day after day, he was tormenting his righteous soul over their lawless deeds that he saw and heard); <sup>9</sup>then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment, <sup>10</sup>and especially those who indulge in the lust of defiling passion and despise authority.

Bold and willful, they do not tremble as they blaspheme the glorious ones, <sup>11</sup>whereas angels, though greater in might and power, do not pronounce a blasphemous judgment against them before the Lord. <sup>12</sup>But these, like irrational animals, creatures of instinct, born to be caught and destroyed, blaspheming about matters of which they are ignorant, will also be destroyed in their destruction, <sup>13</sup>suffering wrong as the wage for their wrongdoing. They count it pleasure to revel in the daytime. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their deceptions, while they feast with you. <sup>14</sup>They have eyes full of adultery, insatiable for sin. They entice unsteady souls. They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! <sup>15</sup>Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray. They have followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved gain from wrongdoing, <sup>16</sup>but was rebuked for his own transgression; a speechless donkey spoke with human voice and restrained the prophet's madness.

<sup>17</sup>These are waterless springs and mists driven by a storm. For them the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved. <sup>18</sup>For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. <sup>19</sup>They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. <sup>20</sup>For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. <sup>21</sup>For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. <sup>22</sup>What the true proverb says has happened to them: "The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire."

Writing

The Holy Spirit certainly wants to be present with the Word preached, heard, and considered, and He wants to be effective and work through it. . . . Furthermore, God has ordained in His counsel that the Holy Spirit should call, enlighten, and convert the elect through the Word [Romans 10:17]. He will justify and save all those who by true faith receive Christ. In the same way, He also determined in His counsel that He will harden [Romans 9:18], reprobate, and condemn those who are called through the Word if they reject the Word and resist the Holy Spirit [Acts 7:51]. This is true even though the Spirit wants to be effective and work in them through the Word and persevere through the Word. In this way “many are called, but few are chosen” [Matthew 22:14].

Few receive the Word and follow it. Most despise the Word and will not come to the wedding [Matthew 22:3–6]. The cause for this contempt for the Word is not God’s foreknowledge, but the perverse human will. The human will rejects or perverts the means and instrument of the Holy Spirit, which God offers it through the call. It resists the Holy Spirit, who wants to be effective, and who works through the Word, as Christ says: “How often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you would not!” (Matthew 23:37).

Many “hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away” (Luke 8:13). The reason is not that God was unwilling to grant grace for perseverance to those in whom He “began a good work” . . . (Philippians 1:6). The reason is that they willfully turn away again from the holy commandment, grieve and embitter the Holy Spirit, involve themselves again in the world’s filth, and redecorate their hearts as homes for the devil. For them their last situation is worse than the first. (See 2 Peter 2:10–20; [Ephesians 4:30;] Hebrews 10:26; [Luke 11:24–26].)

In these last days of great distress
Grant us, dear Lord, true steadfastness
That we keep pure till life is spent
Your holy Word and Sacrament.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and eternal God, according to Your strict judgment You condemned the unbelieving world through the flood, yet according to Your great mercy You preserved believing Noah and his family, eight souls in all. Grant that we may be kept safe and secure in the holy ark of the Christian Church, so that with all believers in Your promise, we would be declared worthy of eternal life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. The Restoration of Jacob <sup>1</sup>For the LORD will have compassion on Jacob and will again choose Israel, and will set them in their own land, and sojourners will join them and will attach themselves to the house of Jacob. <sup>2</sup>And the peoples will take them and bring them to their place, and the house of Israel will possess them in the LORD's land as male and female slaves. They will take captive those who were their captors, and rule over those who oppressed them.

Israel's Remnant Taunts Babylon

<sup>3</sup>When the LORD has given you rest from your pain and turmoil and the hard service with which you were made to serve, <sup>4</sup>you will take up this taunt against the king of Babylon:

“How the oppressor has ceased,
 the insolent fury ceased!
<sup>5</sup>The LORD has broken the staff
 of the wicked,
 the scepter of rulers,
<sup>6</sup>that struck the peoples in wrath
 with unceasing blows,
 that ruled the nations in anger
 with unrelenting persecution.
<sup>7</sup>The whole earth is at rest and quiet;
 they break forth into singing.
<sup>8</sup>The cypresses rejoice at you,
 the cedars of Lebanon, saying, ‘Since you were laid low,
 no woodcutter comes up against us.’
<sup>9</sup>Sheol beneath is stirred up to meet you when you come;
 it rouses the shades to greet you,
 all who were leaders of the earth;
 it raises from their thrones
 all who were kings of the nations.
<sup>10</sup>All of them will answer
 and say to you:
 ‘You too have become as weak as we!
 You have become like us!’
<sup>11</sup>Your pomp is brought down to Sheol,
 the sound of your harps;
 maggots are laid as a bed beneath you,
 and worms are your covers.
<sup>12</sup>“How you are fallen from heaven,
 O Day Star, son of Dawn!
 How you are cut down to the ground,
 you who laid the nations low!
<sup>13</sup>You said in your heart,
 ‘I will ascend to heaven;
 above the stars of God
 I will set my throne on high;

I will sit on the mount of assembly
 in the far reaches of the north; <sup>14</sup>I will ascend above the heights of the clouds;
 I will make myself like
 the Most High.’

<sup>15</sup>But you are brought down to Sheol,
 to the far reaches of the pit.

<sup>16</sup>Those who see you will stare at you and ponder over you:
 ‘Is this the man who made
 the earth tremble,
 who shook kingdoms,
<sup>17</sup>who made the world like a desert
 and overthrew its cities,
 who did not let his prisoners
 go home?’

<sup>18</sup>All the kings of the nations lie in glory,
 each in his own tomb;
<sup>19</sup>but you are cast out,
 away from your grave,
 like a loathed branch,
 clothed with the slain,
 those pierced by the sword,
 who go down to the stones of the pit,
 like a dead body trampled underfoot.

<sup>20</sup>You will not be joined with them
 in burial,
 because you have destroyed
 your land,
 you have slain your people.

“May the offspring of evildoers nevermore be named!

<sup>21</sup>Prepare slaughter for his sons
 because of the guilt of their fathers, lest they rise and possess the earth,
 and fill the face of the world
 with cities.”

<sup>22</sup>“I will rise up against them,” declares
 the LORD of hosts, “and will cut off from

Babylon name and remnant, descendants and posterity,” declares the LORD. <sup>23</sup>“And I will make it a possession of the hedgehog, and pools of water, and I will sweep it with the broom of destruction,” declares the LORD
 of hosts.

New Testament Reading: 2 Peter 3:1–18

The Day of the Lord Will Come

<sup>1</sup>This is now the second letter that I am writing to you, beloved. In both of them I am stirring up your sincere mind by way of reminder, <sup>2</sup>that you should remember the predictions of the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles, <sup>3</sup>knowing this first of all, that scoffers will come in the last days with scoffing, following their own sinful desires. <sup>4</sup>They will say, “Where is the promise of his coming? For ever since the fathers fell asleep, all things are continuing as they were from the beginning of creation.” <sup>5</sup>For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, <sup>6</sup>and that by means of these the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. <sup>7</sup>But by the same word
 the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly.

<sup>8</sup>But do not overlook this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. <sup>9</sup>The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. <sup>10</sup>But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed.

<sup>11</sup>Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, <sup>12</sup>waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! <sup>13</sup>But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells.

Final Words

<sup>14</sup>Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. <sup>15</sup>And count the patience of our Lord as salvation, just as our beloved brother Paul also wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, <sup>16</sup>as he does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures. <sup>17</sup>You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability. <sup>18</sup>But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen.

Writing

But hope deals only with good things, and only with those which lie in the future, and which pertain to the man who cherishes the hope. Since this is so, faith must be distinguished from hope: they are different terms and likewise different concepts. Yet faith and hope have this in common: they refer to what is not seen, whether this unseen is believed in or hoped for. Thus in the Epistle to the Hebrews, which is used by the enlightened defenders of the catholic rule of faith, faith is said to be “the conviction of things not seen.” However, when a man maintains that neither words nor witnesses nor even arguments, but only the evidence of present experience, determine his faith, he still ought not to be called absurd or told, “You have seen; therefore you have not believed.” For it does not follow that unless a thing is not seen it cannot be believed. Still it is better for us to use the term “faith,” as we are taught in “the sacred eloquence,” to refer to things not seen. And as for hope, the apostle says: “Hope that is seen is not hope. For if a man sees a thing, why does he hope for it? If, however, we hope for what we do not see, we then wait for it in patience.” When, therefore, our good is believed to be future, this is the same thing as hoping for it.

What, then, shall I say of love, without which faith can do nothing? There can be no true hope without love. Indeed, as the apostle James says, “Even the demons believe and tremble.”

Yet they neither hope nor love. Instead, believing as we do that what we hope for and love is coming to pass, they tremble. Therefore, the apostle Paul approves and commends the faith that works by love and that cannot exist without hope. Thus it is that love is not without hope, hope is not without love, and neither hope nor love are without faith. . . .

And now regarding love, which the apostle says is greater than the other two—that is, faith and hope—for the more richly

it dwells in a man, the better the man in whom it dwells. For when we ask whether someone is a good man, we are not asking what he believes, or hopes, but what he loves. Now, beyond all doubt, he who loves aright believes and hopes rightly. Likewise, he who does not love believes in vain, even if what he believes is true; he hopes in vain, even if what he hopes for is generally agreed to pertain to true happiness, unless he believes and hopes for this: that he may through prayer obtain the gift of love. For, although it is true that he cannot hope without love, it may be that there is something without which, if he does not love it, he cannot realize the object of his hopes. An example of this would be if a man hopes for life eternal—and who is there who does not love that?—and yet does not love righteousness, without which no one comes to it.

Now this is the true faith of Christ which the apostle commends: faith that works through love. And what it yet lacks in love it asks that it may receive, it seeks that it may find, and knocks that it may be opened unto it. For faith achieves what the law commands.

—Augustine

Hymnody

I leave all things to God's direction;
He loves me both in joy and woe.
His will is good, sure His affection;
His tender love is true, I know.
My fortress and my rock is He:
What pleases God, that pleases me.

Directions (LSB 719:1)

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, You bestowed upon Your servant Nicholas of Myra the perpetual gift of charity. Grant Your Church the grace to deal in generosity and love with children and with all who are poor and distressed and to plead the cause of those who have no helper, especially those tossed by tempests of doubt or grief. We ask this for the sake of Him who gave His life for us, Your Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1121)

Nicholas of Myra, Pastor

Of the many saints commemorated by the Christian Church, Nicholas (d. AD 342) is one of the best known. Very little is known historically of him, though there was a church of Saint Nicholas in Constantinople as early as the sixth century. Research has affirmed that there was a bishop by the name of Nicholas in the city of Myra in Lycia (part of modern Turkey) in the fourth century. From that coastal location, legends about Nicholas have traveled throughout time and space. He is associated with charitable giving in many countries around the world and is portrayed as the rescuer of sailors, the protector of children, and the friend of people in distress or need. In commemoration of Sinte Klaas (Dutch for “Saint Nicholas,” in English “Santa Claus”), December 6 is a day for giving and receiving gifts in many parts of Europe.

Judgment on the Whole Earth

- <sup>1</sup>Behold, the LORD will empty the earth
and make it desolate,
and he will twist its surface and scatter
its inhabitants.
- <sup>2</sup>And it shall be, as with the people,
so with the priest;
as with the slave, so with his master;
as with the maid, so with her mistress;

as with the buyer, so with the seller;
as with the lender, so with the borrower;
as with the creditor, so with the debtor.

- <sup>3</sup>The earth shall be utterly empty
and utterly plundered;
for the LORD has spoken this word.
- <sup>4</sup>The earth mourns and withers;
the world languishes and withers;
the highest people of the earth languish.
- <sup>5</sup>The earth lies defiled
under its inhabitants;
for they have transgressed the laws,
violated the statutes,
broken the everlasting covenant.
- <sup>6</sup>Therefore a curse devours the earth,
and its inhabitants suffer for their guilt;
therefore the inhabitants of the earth are scorched,
and few men are left.
- <sup>7</sup>The wine mourns,
the vine languishes,
all the merry-hearted sigh.
- <sup>8</sup>The mirth of the tambourines is stilled,
the noise of the jubilant has ceased,
the mirth of the lyre is stilled.
- <sup>9</sup>No more do they drink wine with singing;
strong drink is bitter to those who drink it.
- <sup>10</sup>The wasted city is broken down;
every house is shut up
so that none can enter.
- <sup>11</sup>There is an outcry in the streets
for lack of wine;
all joy has grown dark;
the gladness of the earth is banished.
- <sup>12</sup>Desolation is left in the city;
the gates are battered into ruins.
- <sup>13</sup>For thus it shall be in the midst of the earth
among the nations,
as when an olive tree is beaten,
as at the gleaning when the grape harvest
is done.

New Testament Reading: 1 John 1:1–2:14

The Word of Life

<sup>1</sup>That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life—<sup>2</sup>the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us—<sup>3</sup>that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup>And we are writing these things so that our joy may be complete.

Walking in the Light

<sup>5</sup>This is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. <sup>6</sup>If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. <sup>7</sup>But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. <sup>8</sup>If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. <sup>9</sup>If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. <sup>10</sup>If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

Christ Our Advocate

<sup>2:1</sup>My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. <sup>2</sup>He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. <sup>3</sup>And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. <sup>4</sup>Whoever says “I know him” but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, <sup>5</sup>but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may know that we are in him: <sup>6</sup>whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked.

The New Commandment

<sup>7</sup>Beloved, I am writing you no new commandment, but an old commandment that you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word that you have heard. <sup>8</sup>At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. <sup>9</sup>Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. <sup>10</sup>Whoever loves his brother abides in the light, and in him there is no cause for stumbling. <sup>11</sup>But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

<sup>12</sup>I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven
for his name’s sake.

<sup>13</sup>I am writing to you, fathers, because you know him
who is from the beginning.
I am writing to you, young men,
because you have overcome
the evil one.

I write to you, children,
because you know the Father.

<sup>14</sup>I write to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning.

I write to you, young men,
 because you are strong,
 and the word of God abides in you,
 and you have overcome the evil one.

Writing

I think I shall not seem to be taking too much on myself, if, in the midst of my children, I yield to my desire to teach, seeing that the master of humility himself has said: “Come, ye children, listen to me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord” [Psalm 34:11]. . . . We therefore, being anxious to imitate his reverence for God, and not without justification in dispensing grace, deliver to you as to children those things which the Spirit of Wisdom has imparted to him, and which have been made clear to us through him, and learned by sight and by example. For we can no longer now escape from the duty of teaching which the needs of the priesthood have laid upon us, though we tried to avoid it: “For God gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers” [Ephesians 4:11–12].

I do not therefore claim for myself the glory of the apostles (for who can do this save those whom the Son of God Himself has chosen?); nor the grace of the prophets, nor the virtue of the evangelists, nor the cautious care of the pastors. I only desire to attain to that care and diligence in the sacred writings, which the apostle has placed last among the duties of the saints [1 Corinthians 12:10]. And this very thing I desire, so that, in the endeavor to teach, I may be able to learn. For one is the true Master, who alone has not learned what He taught to all; but men learn before they teach, and receive from Him what they may hand on to others.

But not even this was the case with me. For I was carried off from the judgment seat, and the garb of office, to enter on the priesthood, and began to teach you what I myself had not yet learned. So it happened that I began to teach before I began to learn. Therefore I must learn and teach at the same time, since I had no leisure to learn before.

—Ambrose

Hymnody

For You are the Father’s Son
 Who in flesh the vict’ry won.
 By Your mighty pow’r make whole
 All our ills of flesh and soul.
 —Savior of the Nations, Come
 (LSB 332:6)

Prayer of the Day

O God, You gave Your servant Ambrose grace to proclaim the Gospel with eloquence and power. As bishop of the great congregation of Milan, he fearlessly bore reproach for the honor of Your name. Mercifully grant to all bishops and pastors such excellence in preaching and fidelity in ministering Your Word that Your people shall be partakers of the divine nature; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1122)

Ambrose of Milan, Pastor and Hymnwriter

Born in Trier in AD 340, Ambrose was one of the four great Latin Doctors of the Church (with Augustine, Jerome, and Gregory the Great). He was a prolific author of hymns, the most common of which is Veni, Redemptor Gentium (“Savior of the Nations, Come”). His name is also associated with Ambrosian Chant, a style of chanting the ancient liturgy that took hold in the province of Milan. While serving as a civil governor, Ambrose sought to bring peace among Christians in Milan who were divided into quarreling factions. When a new bishop was to be elected in AD 374, Ambrose addressed the crowd, and someone cried out, “Ambrose, bishop!” The entire gathering gave their support. This acclaim of Ambrose, a thirty-four-year-old catechumen, led to his Baptism on December 7, after which he was consecrated bishop of Milan. A strong defender of the faith, Ambrose convinced the Roman emperor Gratian in AD 379 to forbid the Arian heresy in the West. At Ambrose’s urging, Gratian’s successor, Theodosius, also publicly opposed Arianism. Ambrose died on Good Friday, April 4, 397. As a courageous doctor and musician, he upheld the truth of God’s Word.

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 24:14–25:12

[Judgment on the Whole Earth]

- <sup>14</sup>They lift up their voices, they sing for joy;
over the majesty of the LORD
they shout from the west.
<sup>15</sup>Therefore in the east give glory to the LORD;
in the coastlands of the sea, give glory to the name of the LORD, the God of Israel.
<sup>16</sup>From the ends of the earth
we hear songs of praise,
of glory to the Righteous One.
But I say, “I waste away,
I waste away. Woe is me!
For the traitors have betrayed,
with betrayal the traitors have betrayed.”
<sup>17</sup>Terror and the pit and the snare are upon you, O inhabitant of the earth!
<sup>18</sup>He who flees at the sound of the terror
shall fall into the pit,
and he who climbs out of the pit
shall be caught in the snare.
For the windows of heaven are opened,
and the foundations of the earth tremble.

<sup>19</sup>The earth is utterly broken,
the earth is split apart,
the earth is violently shaken.

<sup>20</sup>The earth staggers like a drunken man;
it sways like a hut;
its transgression lies heavy upon it,
and it falls, and will not rise again.

<sup>21</sup>On that day the LORD will punish the host of heaven, in heaven,
and the kings of the earth, on the earth.

<sup>22</sup>They will be gathered together
as prisoners in a pit;
they will be shut up in a prison,
and after many days they will be punished.

<sup>23</sup>Then the moon will be confounded
and the sun ashamed,
for the LORD of hosts reigns
on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, and his glory will be before his elders.

God Will Swallow Up Death Forever

<sup>25:1</sup>O LORD, you are my God;
I will exalt you; I will praise your name,
for you have done wonderful things,
plans formed of old, faithful and sure.

<sup>2</sup>For you have made the city a heap,
the fortified city a ruin;
the foreigners' palace is a city no more;
it will never be rebuilt.

<sup>3</sup>Therefore strong peoples will glorify you;
cities of ruthless nations will fear you.

<sup>4</sup>For you have been a stronghold to the poor,
a stronghold to the needy in his distress,
a shelter from the storm
and a shade from the heat;
for the breath of the ruthless is like a storm against a wall, <sup>5</sup>like heat in a dry place.

You subdue the noise of the foreigners;
as heat by the shade of a cloud,
so the song of the ruthless is put down.

<sup>6</sup>On this mountain the LORD of hosts will make for all peoples
a feast of rich food, a feast of well-aged wine,
of rich food full of marrow, of aged wine
well refined.

<sup>7</sup>And he will swallow up on this mountain
the covering that is cast over all peoples,
the veil that is spread over all nations.

<sup>8</sup>He will swallow up death forever;
and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces,
and the reproach of his people he will take away from all the earth,
for the LORD has spoken.

<sup>9</sup>It will be said on that day, “Behold, this is our God; we have waited for him, that he might save us.
This is the LORD; we have waited for him;
let us be glad and rejoice
in his salvation.”

<sup>10</sup>For the hand of the LORD will rest
on this mountain,
and Moab shall be trampled down
in his place,
as straw is trampled down in a dunghill.

<sup>11</sup>And he will spread out his hands in the midst of it
as a swimmer spreads his hands
out to swim,
but the LORD will lay low his pompous
pride together with the skill of his hands.

<sup>12</sup>And the high fortifications of his walls
he will bring down,
lay low, and cast to the ground,
to the dust.

Do Not Love the World

<sup>15</sup>Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. <sup>16</sup>For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. <sup>17</sup>And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever.

Warning Concerning Antichrists

<sup>18</sup>Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour. <sup>19</sup>They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us. But they went out, that it might become plain that they all are not of us.

Who, then, has the power in the kingdom? It is Jesus Christ alone. He declares this of Himself. He says: “I am a King.” I am the good Shepherd.” “One is your Master, even Christ.” The apostle calls Him “the Head over all things to the church, which is His body, the fullness of Him that filleth all in all.” By which means Christ exercises the power in His church, though He has withdrawn His visible presence from it and sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, is clearly shown by the last declaration, with which He parted from His disciples: “All power is given unto Me in heaven and in earth. Go therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” Hence His Word, accompanied and sealed by the holy Sacraments, is the means whereby Christ exercises power in His kingdom. This is the “right scepter” with which He rules His people, this is the “rod and staff” with which He feeds His flock.

Lord God, heavenly Father, in Holy Baptism You anointed us with holy chrism and healed us of all sin, making us little Christs who bear in our body Your Son, our Savior. You Keep Him in Perfect Peace

<sup>1</sup>In that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah:

“We have a strong city;
 he sets up salvation
 as walls and bulwarks.

<sup>2</sup>Open the gates,
 that the righteous nation that keeps faith may enter in.

<sup>3</sup>You keep him in perfect peace
 whose mind is stayed on you,
 because he trusts in you.

<sup>4</sup>Trust in the LORD forever, for the Lord GOD is an everlasting rock.

<sup>5</sup>For he has humbled
 the inhabitants of the height,
 the lofty city.

He lays it low, lays it low to the ground,
 casts it to the dust.

<sup>6</sup>The foot tramples it,
 the feet of the poor,
 the steps of the needy.”

<sup>7</sup>The path of the righteous is level;
 you make level the way
 of the righteous.

<sup>8</sup>In the path of your judgments,
 O LORD, we wait for you;
 your name and remembrance
 are the desire of our soul.

<sup>9</sup>My soul yearns for you in the night;
 my spirit within me earnestly seeks you.

For when your judgments are
 in the earth,
 the inhabitants of the world learn
 righteousness.

<sup>10</sup>If favor is shown to the wicked,
 he does not learn righteousness;

in the land of uprightness he deals corruptly
and does not see the majesty
of the LORD.

<sup>11</sup>O LORD, your hand is lifted up,
but they do not see it.

Let them see your zeal for your people,
and be ashamed.

Let the fire for your adversaries
consume them.

<sup>12</sup>O LORD, you will ordain peace for us,
for you have indeed done
for us all our works.

<sup>13</sup>O LORD our God,
other lords besides you
have ruled over us,
but your name alone we bring to remembrance.

<sup>14</sup>They are dead, they will not live;
they are shades, they will not arise;
to that end you have visited them with destruction
and wiped out all remembrance
of them.

<sup>15</sup>But you have increased the nation, O LORD,
you have increased the nation;
you are glorified;
you have enlarged all the borders
of the land.

<sup>16</sup>O LORD, in distress they sought you;
they poured out a whispered prayer
when your discipline was upon them.

<sup>17</sup>Like a pregnant woman who writhes and cries out
in her pangs
when she is near to giving birth,
so were we because of you, O LORD; <sup>18</sup>we were pregnant, we writhed,
but we have given birth to wind.

We have accomplished no deliverance
in the earth,
and the inhabitants of the world
have not fallen.

<sup>19</sup>Your dead shall live;
their bodies shall rise.

You who dwell in the dust,
awake and sing for joy!

For your dew is a dew of light,
and the earth will give birth to the dead.”

New Testament Reading: 1 John 3:1–24

[Children of God]

<sup>1</sup>See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him. <sup>2</sup>Beloved, we are God’s children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. <sup>3</sup>And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure.

<sup>4</sup>Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. <sup>5</sup>You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. <sup>6</sup>No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. <sup>7</sup>Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. <sup>8</sup>Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. <sup>9</sup>No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God’s seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. <sup>10</sup>By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother.

Love One Another

<sup>11</sup>For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. <sup>12</sup>We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. <sup>13</sup>Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. <sup>14</sup>We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. <sup>15</sup>Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

<sup>16</sup>By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. <sup>17</sup>But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? <sup>18</sup>Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth.

<sup>19</sup>By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; <sup>20</sup>for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. <sup>21</sup>Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; <sup>22</sup>and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. <sup>23</sup>And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. <sup>24</sup>Whoever keeps his commandments abides in God, and God in him. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us.

Writing

If anyone should carefully meditate on [the patriarchs] one by one, he will realize the greatness of the gifts given by each one. For from [Jacob] came the priest and Levites and all who serve at the altar of God; from him came the Lord Jesus according to the flesh; from him came the kings and rulers and leaders of Judah; and his remaining tribes have no little glory, since God promised that "your seed shall be as the stars of the sky." All these, then, were glorified and magnified not through themselves or their works or the good deeds they had brought to completion, but through His will. Thus we also, called through His will in Christ Jesus, are justified not through ourselves nor through our own wisdom or understanding or godliness or works that we have brought to completion in piety of heart, but through faith, through which almighty God has justified all men from eternity; to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

What then shall we do, brothers? Shall we lie about and quit doing good and forsake love? May the Master never allow this to be so—at any rate not among us! Rather, let us hasten with eagerness and strong desire to bring every good work to perfection. We have seen that the righteous were adorned with good works; and the Lord Himself, having adorned Himself with good works, rejoiced. Therefore, since we have this pattern, let us go forward in His will without stint; let us work the work of righteousness with all our strength.

—Clement I

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 26:20–27:13

[You Keep Him in Perfect Peace]

<sup>20</sup>Come, my people, enter your chambers, and shut your doors behind you;
 hide yourselves for a little while until the fury has passed by.

<sup>21</sup>For behold, the LORD is coming out from his place
 to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity, and the earth will disclose
 the blood shed on it,
 and will no more cover its slain.

The Redemption of Israel

<sup>27:1</sup>In that day the LORD with his hard and great and strong sword will punish Leviathan
 the fleeing serpent, Leviathan the twisting serpent, and he will slay the dragon that is in the sea.

<sup>2</sup>In that day,

“A pleasant vineyard, sing of it!

<sup>3</sup>I, the LORD, am its keeper;
 every moment I water it.

Lest anyone punish it,
 I keep it night and day;

<sup>4</sup>I have no wrath.

Would that I had thorns and briers to battle!

I would march against them,
 I would burn them up together.

<sup>5</sup>Or let them lay hold of my protection,
let them make peace with me,
let them make peace with me.”

<sup>6</sup>In days to come Jacob shall take root, Israel shall blossom and put forth shoots
and fill the whole world with fruit.

<sup>7</sup>Has he struck them as he struck those who struck them?

Or have they been slain as their slayers were slain?

<sup>8</sup>Measure by measure, by exile you contended with them;
he removed them with his fierce breath in the day of the east wind.

<sup>9</sup>Therefore by this the guilt of Jacob will be atoned for,
and this will be the full fruit of the removal of his sin:

when he makes all the stones of the altars
like chalkstones crushed to pieces, no Asherim or incense altars will remain standing.

<sup>10</sup>For the fortified city is solitary,
a habitation deserted and forsaken,
like the wilderness;

there the calf grazes;
there it lies down and strips
its branches.

<sup>11</sup>When its boughs are dry, t hey are broken;
women come and make a fire
of them.

For this is a people without discernment;
therefore he who made them will not have compassion on them;
he who formed them will show them
no favor.

<sup>12</sup>In that day from the river Euphrates to the Brook of Egypt the Lord will thresh out the grain, and you will be gleaned one by one, O people of Israel. <sup>13</sup>And in that day a great trumpet will be blown, and those who were lost in the land of Assyria and those who were driven out to the land of Egypt will come and worship the LORD on the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

New Testament Reading: 1 John 4:1–21

Test the Spirits

<sup>1</sup>Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. <sup>2</sup>By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, <sup>3</sup>and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. <sup>4</sup>Little children,
you are from God and have overcome them,
for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. <sup>5</sup>They are from the world;
therefore they speak from the world, and the world listens to them. <sup>6</sup>We are from God.
Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

God Is Love

<sup>7</sup>Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. <sup>8</sup>Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. <sup>9</sup>In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. <sup>10</sup>In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

<sup>11</sup>Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. <sup>12</sup>No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us.

<sup>13</sup>By this we know that we abide in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. <sup>14</sup>And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. <sup>15</sup>Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. <sup>16</sup>So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. <sup>17</sup>By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. <sup>18</sup>There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. <sup>19</sup>We love because he first loved us. <sup>20</sup>If anyone says, "I love God," and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. <sup>21</sup>And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother.

Writing

Regarding the necessity or voluntary nature of good works, it is clear that in the Augsburg Confession and its Apology these expressions are often used and repeated—good works are necessary. Likewise, they say it is necessary to do good works, which necessarily follow faith and reconciliation. Likewise, we necessarily are to do, and must do, the kind of good works God has commanded. In the Holy Scriptures themselves the words necessity, needful, and necessary, as well as ought and must, are used to describe what we are bound to do because of God's ordinance, command, and will. (See Romans 13:5; 1 Corinthians 9:9; Acts 5:29; John 15:12; 1 John 4:21).

It is for this reason that the sayings and propositions just mentioned (in this Christian and proper understanding) are unfairly condemned and rejected by some people. These sayings should rightly be employed and used to reject the secure, Epicurean delusion. For many create for themselves a dead faith or delusion that lacks repentance and good works. They act as though there could be true faith in a heart at the same time as the wicked intention to persevere and continue in sin [Romans 6:1–2]. This is impossible. Or, they act as though a person could have and keep true faith, righteousness, and salvation even though he is and remains a corrupt and unfruitful tree, from which no good fruit comes at all. In fact, they say this even though a person persists in sins against conscience or purposely engages again in these sins. All of this is incorrect and false.

Formula of Concord IV 14–15

Hymnody

O time of God appointed,
O bright and holy morn!
He comes, the king anointed,
The Christ, the virgin-born,
Grim death to vanquish for us,
To open heav'n before us
And bring us life again.

—The Only Son from Heaven
(LSB 402:2)

Prayer of the Day

O God of love, those who abide in love abide in You, and You abide in them. Give us such perfect love of You and our neighbor that all fear may be cast out of our hearts and we may with confidence greet You on the Day of Judgment; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. A Cornerstone in Zion

- <sup>14</sup> Therefore hear the word of the Lord,
you scoffers,
who rule this people in Jerusalem!
<sup>15</sup> Because you have said, “We have made a covenant with death,
and with Sheol we have an agreement,
when the overwhelming whip passes through
it will not come to us,
for we have made lies our refuge,
and in falsehood we have taken shelter”;
<sup>16</sup> therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am the one who has laid
as a foundation in Zion,
a stone, a tested stone,
a precious cornerstone, of a sure foundation:
‘Whoever believes will not be in haste.’
<sup>17</sup> And I will make justice the line,
and righteousness the plumb line;
and hail will sweep away the refuge of lies,
and waters will overwhelm the shelter.”
<sup>18</sup> Then your covenant with death
will be annulled,
and your agreement with Sheol
will not stand;
when the overwhelming scourge
passes through,
you will be beaten down by it.
<sup>19</sup> As often as it passes through it will take you;
for morning by morning
it will pass through,
by day and by night;

and it will be sheer terror
to understand the message.

<sup>20</sup>For the bed is too short to stretch oneself on,
and the covering too narrow
to wrap oneself in.

<sup>21</sup>For the LORD will rise up
as on Mount Perazim;
as in the Valley of Gibeon
he will be roused;

to do his deed—strange is his deed!
and to work his work—alien is his work!

<sup>22</sup>Now therefore do not scoff, lest your bonds be made strong;
for I have heard a decree of destruction from the Lord GOD of hosts against the whole land.

<sup>23</sup>Give ear, and hear my voice;
give attention, and hear my speech.

<sup>24</sup>Does he who plows for sowing plow continually?
Does he continually open
and harrow his ground?

<sup>25</sup>When he has leveled its surface,
does he not scatter dill, sow cumin,
and put in wheat in rows
and barley in its proper place,
and emmer as the border?

<sup>26</sup>For he is rightly instructed;
his God teaches him.

<sup>27</sup>Dill is not threshed with a threshing sledge, nor is a cart wheel rolled over cumin,
but dill is beaten out with a stick,
and cumin with a rod.

<sup>28</sup>Does one crush grain for bread?
No, he does not thresh it forever;
when he drives his cart wheel over it with his horses, he does not crush it.

<sup>29</sup>This also comes from the LORD of hosts;
he is wonderful in counsel
and excellent in wisdom.

New Testament Reading: 1 John 5:1–21

Overcoming the World

<sup>1</sup>Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. <sup>2</sup>By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. <sup>3</sup>For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. <sup>4</sup>For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith. <sup>5</sup>Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

Testimony Concerning the Son of God

<sup>6</sup>This is he who came by water and blood—Jesus Christ; not by the water only but by the water and the blood. And the Spirit is the one who testifies, because the Spirit is the truth. <sup>7</sup>For there are three that testify: <sup>8</sup>the Spirit and the water and the blood; and these three agree. <sup>9</sup>If we receive the testimony of men, the testimony of God is greater, for this is the testimony of God that he has borne concerning his Son. <sup>10</sup>Whoever believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. Whoever does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne concerning his Son. <sup>11</sup>And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. <sup>12</sup>Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life.

That You May Know

<sup>13</sup>I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God that you may know that you have eternal life. <sup>14</sup>And this is the confidence that we have toward him, that if we ask anything according to his will he hears us. <sup>15</sup>And if we know that he hears us in whatever we ask, we know that we have the requests that we have asked of him.

<sup>16</sup>If anyone sees his brother committing a sin not leading to death, he shall ask, and God will give him life—to those who commit sins that do not lead to death. There is sin that leads to death; I do not say that one should pray for that. <sup>17</sup>All wrongdoing is sin, but there is sin that does not lead to death.

<sup>18</sup>We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him.

<sup>19</sup>We know that we are from God, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one.

<sup>20</sup>And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.

<sup>21</sup>Little children, keep yourselves from idols.

Writing

25. He is not righteous who does much, but he who, without work, believes much in Christ.

For the righteousness of God is not acquired by means of acts frequently repeated, as Aristotle taught, but it is imparted by faith, for “He who through faith is righteous shall live” (Rom. 1[:17]), and “Man believes with his heart and so is justified” (Rom. 10[:10]). Therefore I wish to have the words “without work” understood in the following manner: Not that the righteous person does nothing, but that his works do not make him righteous, rather that his righteousness creates works. For grace and faith are infused without our works. After they have been imparted the works follow. Thus Rom. 3[:20] states, “No human being will be justified in His sight by works of the law,” and, “For we hold that man is justified by faith apart from works of law” (Rom. 3[:28]). In other words, works contribute nothing to justification. Therefore man knows that works which he does by such faith are not his but God’s. For this reason he does not seek to become justified or glorified through them, but seeks God. His justification by faith in Christ is sufficient to him. Christ is his wisdom, righteousness, etc., as I Cor. 1[:30] has it, that he himself may be Christ’s vessel and instrument.

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, Your Son, Jesus Christ, began His ministry through a water Baptism in the Jordan River that led Him to a bloody baptism on the cross. Even now, He saves us through the water of Holy Baptism and the blood of the cup of the new testament. Grant us steadfastness to trust in water and blood as the means by which He continues to offer us His gracious presence; for He lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. The Siege of Jerusalem

- <sup>1</sup> Ah, Ariel, Ariel,
the city where David encamped!
Add year to year;
let the feasts run their round.
- <sup>2</sup> Yet I will distress Ariel,
and there shall be moaning
and lamentation,
and she shall be to me like an Ariel.
- <sup>3</sup> And I will encamp against you
all around,
and will besiege you with towers

and I will raise siegeworks against you.

<sup>4</sup> And you will be brought low;
from the earth you shall speak,
and from the dust your speech
will be bowed down;
your voice shall come from the ground
like the voice of a ghost,
and from the dust your speech
shall whisper.

<sup>5</sup> But the multitude of your foreign foes
shall be like small dust,
and the multitude of the ruthless
like passing chaff.

And in an instant, suddenly,
<sup>6</sup> you will be visited by the LORD
of hosts

with thunder and with earthquake
and great noise,
with whirlwind and tempest,
and the flame of a devouring fire.

<sup>7</sup> And the multitude of all the nations
that fight against Ariel,
all that fight against her and her stronghold and distress her, shall be like a dream, a vision
of the night.

<sup>8</sup> As when a hungry man dreams
he is eating
and awakes with his hunger
not satisfied,

or as when a thirsty man dreams
he is drinking and awakes faint, with his thirst
not quenched,
so shall the multitude of all the nations be that fight against Mount Zion.

<sup>9</sup> Astonish yourselves and be astonished;
blind yourselves and be blind!
Be drunk, but not with wine;
stagger, but not with strong drink!

<sup>10</sup>For the LORD has poured out upon you
a spirit of deep sleep,
and has closed your eyes (the prophets),
and covered your heads (the seers).

<sup>11</sup>And the vision of all this has become
to you like the words of a book that is sealed.
When men give it to one who can read,
saying, "Read this," he says, "I cannot, for it is sealed." <sup>12</sup>And when they give the book to one who cannot read, saying, "Read this," he says, "I cannot read."

<sup>13</sup>And the LORD said:
"Because this people draw near with their mouth

and honor me with their lips,
while their hearts are far from me,
and their fear of me is a commandment
taught by men,

<sup>14</sup>therefore, behold, I will again
do wonderful things
with this people,
with wonder upon wonder;
and the wisdom of their wise men
shall perish,
and the discernment of their discerning men shall be hidden."

New Testament Reading: Jude 1–25

<sup>1</sup>Jude, a servant of Jesus Christ and brother of James,

To those who are called, beloved in God
the Father and kept for Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup>May mercy, peace, and love be multiplied to you.

<sup>3</sup>Beloved, although I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I found it necessary to write appealing to you to contend for the faith that was once for all delivered to the saints. <sup>4</sup>For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

<sup>5</sup>Now I want to remind you, although you once fully knew it, that Jesus, who saved
a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. <sup>6</sup>And the angels who did not stay within their own position of authority, but left their proper dwelling, he has kept in eternal chains under gloomy darkness until the judgment of the great day—<sup>7</sup>just as Sodom and Gomorrah and the surrounding cities, which likewise indulged in sexual immorality and pursued unnatural desire, serve as an example by undergoing a punishment of eternal fire.

<sup>8</sup>Yet in like manner these people also, relying on their dreams, defile the flesh, reject authority, and blaspheme the glorious ones. <sup>9</sup>But when the archangel Michael, contending with the devil, was disputing about the body of Moses, he did not presume to pronounce a blasphemous judgment, but said, "The Lord rebuke you."

<sup>10</sup>But these people blaspheme all that they do not understand, and they are destroyed
by all that they, like unreasoning animals, understand instinctively. <sup>11</sup>Woe to them!
For they walked in the way of Cain and abandoned themselves for the sake of gain to Balaam's error and perished in Korah's rebellion. <sup>12</sup>These are hidden reefs at your love feasts, as they feast with you without fear, shepherds feeding themselves; waterless clouds, swept along by winds; fruitless trees in late autumn, twice dead, uprooted; <sup>13</sup>wild waves of the sea, casting up the foam of their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved
forever.

<sup>14</sup>It was also about these that Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, “Behold, the Lord comes with ten thousands of his holy ones, <sup>15</sup>to execute judgment on all and to convict all the ungodly of all their deeds of ungodliness that they have committed in such an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things that ungodly sinners have spoken against him.” <sup>16</sup>These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage.

<sup>17</sup>But you must remember, beloved, the predictions of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>18</sup>They said to you, “In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions.” <sup>19</sup>It is these who cause divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit. <sup>20</sup>But you, beloved, building yourselves up in your most holy faith and praying in the Holy Spirit, <sup>21</sup>keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. <sup>22</sup>And have mercy on those who doubt; <sup>23</sup>save others by snatching them out of the fire; to others show mercy with fear, hating even the garment stained by the flesh.

<sup>24</sup>Now to him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to present you blameless before the presence of his glory with great joy, <sup>25</sup>to the only God, our Savior, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority, before all time and now and forever. Amen.

Writing

The doctrine of the goals and effects of justification is clear and easy, but it is useful and necessary to repeat it at this point in our study of justification, for several important reasons. 1. That justification is received by faith should serve as a constant warning regarding the end or goal of the doctrine of justification, so that we do not misuse this teaching in order to cultivate or confirm licentiousness, as the Epistle of Jude admonishes in v. 4: “transposing or transferring or perverting the grace of God into licentiousness.” 2. Just as we have a uniting of causes and effects in nature, so when we have the causes for our justification, we should have no doubt concerning the effects, namely salvation and eternal life. 3. That believers might know how to perform good works; and so that they will not seek a pretext to avoid doing them, Scripture says that renewal is an effect or result of justification. 4. Christ says in Matt. 7:16–20 that we are to judge a tree by its fruits. Paul in 2 Cor. 13:5 says: “Examine yourselves to see whether you are holding to your faith”; cf. 2 Peter 1:10: “Make your calling sure.” We judge the cause by the effects. 5. This distinction between causes and effects is also useful for showing that sanctification or renewal is to be distinguished from justification, and that the new obedience is not a cause or an essential part of our justification, because it is an effect or a result. 6. By means of this distinction we can also answer the difficult question: When the believing heart in its trials feels no joy, peace, or happiness, is faith at that time, when it lays hold on Christ in the promise and tries to sustain itself with comfort, able to determine that it has the true righteousness unto life eternal? There is a difference between the causes, or the form of our righteousness before God and its effects. When the form or formal cause of our righteousness has been established, as described above, then faith ought to be assured of the acceptance of our person before God, unless it wants to make Him a liar. Indeed, the effects show the cause, and when the effects cease, then we may conclude that the cause does not actually exist either.

In the case of our justification, which is the full and perfect acceptance of the believer unto eternal life, certain effects in our life, such as the new obedience, follow rather slowly because of the weakness of our flesh. Some effects follow the way Scripture says, 2 Cor. 5:7: “We walk by faith and not by sight.” Likewise Rom. 4:18: “In hope he believed against hope.” Col. 3:3: “Our life is hidden with Christ in God”; Ps. 31:19: “You have laid up good things for those who fear you.”

Old Testament Reading:
Isaiah 29:15–30:14

[The Siege of Jerusalem]

<sup>15</sup>Ah, you who hide deep from the LORD your counsel,

whose deeds are in the dark,
 and who say, “Who sees us?
 Who knows us?”

<sup>16</sup>You turn things upside down!
 Shall the potter be regarded as the clay,
 that the thing made should say
 of its maker,

“He did not make me”;
 or the thing formed say of him who formed it,

“He has no understanding”?

<sup>17</sup>Is it not yet a very little while until Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field,
 and the fruitful field shall be regarded as a forest?

<sup>18</sup>In that day the deaf shall hear
 the words of a book,
 and out of their gloom and darkness
 the eyes of the blind shall see.

<sup>19</sup>The meek shall obtain fresh joy
 in the LORD,
 and the poor among mankind shall exult in the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>20</sup>For the ruthless shall come to nothing
 and the scoffer cease,
 and all who watch to do evil
 shall be cut off,

<sup>21</sup>who by a word make a man out
 to be an offender,
 and lay a snare for him who reproveth
 in the gate,
 and with an empty plea turn aside
 him who is in the right.

<sup>22</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house
 of Jacob:

“Jacob shall no more be ashamed,
 no more shall his face grow pale.

<sup>23</sup>For when he sees his children,
 the work of my hands, in his midst,
 they will sanctify my name;
 they will sanctify the Holy One of Jacob and will stand in awe of the God
 of Israel.

<sup>24</sup>And those who go astray in spirit will come to understanding,
 and those who murmur
 will accept instruction.”

Do Not Go Down to Egypt

<sup>30:1</sup>“Ah, stubborn children,”
 declares the LORD,
 “who carry out a plan, but not mine,
 and who make an alliance,
 but not of my Spirit,

that they may add sin to sin;
<sup>2</sup>who set out to go down to Egypt,
 without asking for my direction,
 to take refuge in the protection of Pharaoh

and to seek shelter in the shadow
 of Egypt!

<sup>3</sup>Therefore shall the protection of Pharaoh
 turn to your shame,
 and the shelter in the shadow of Egypt to your humiliation.

<sup>4</sup>For though his officials are at Zoan
 and his envoys reach Hanes,

<sup>5</sup>everyone comes to shame through a people that cannot profit them,
 that brings neither help nor profit,
 but shame and disgrace.”

<sup>6</sup>An oracle on the beasts of the Negeb.
Through a land of trouble and anguish,
from where come the lioness
and the lion,
the adder and the flying fiery serpent,
they carry their riches
on the backs of donkeys,
and their treasures on the humps
of camels,
to a people that cannot profit them.
<sup>7</sup>Egypt's help is worthless and empty;
therefore I have called her
"Rahab who sits still."

A Rebellious People

<sup>8</sup>And now, go, write it before them on a tablet
and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come
as a witness forever.
<sup>9</sup>For they are a rebellious people,
lying children,
children unwilling to hear
the instruction of the LORD;
<sup>10</sup>who say to the seers, "Do not see,"
and to the prophets, "Do not prophesy to us what is right;
speak to us smooth things,
prophesy illusions,
<sup>11</sup>leave the way, turn aside from the path, let us hear no more about the Holy
One of Israel."
<sup>12</sup>Therefore thus says the Holy One
of Israel,
"Because you despise this word and trust in oppression and perverseness
and rely on them,
<sup>13</sup>therefore this iniquity shall be to you like a breach in a high wall, bulging
out, and about to collapse,

whose breaking comes suddenly,
in an instant;
<sup>14</sup>and its breaking is like that of a potter's vessel
that is smashed so ruthlessly that among its fragments not a shard
is found
with which to take fire from the hearth,
or to dip up water out of the cistern."

New Testament Reading:
Revelation 1:1–20

Prologue

<sup>1</sup>The revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show to his servants the things that must soon take place. He made it known by sending his angel to his servant
John, <sup>2</sup>who bore witness to the word of God and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, even to all that he saw. <sup>3</sup>Blessed is the one who reads aloud the words of this prophecy, and blessed are those who hear, and who keep what is written in it, for the time is near.

Greeting to the Seven Churches

<sup>4</sup>John to the seven churches that are in Asia:

Grace to you and peace from him who is
and who was and who is to come, and from the seven spirits who are before his throne, <sup>5</sup>and from Jesus Christ the faithful witness,
the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of kings on earth.

To him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by his blood <sup>6</sup>and made us a kingdom, priests to his God and Father, to him be glory and dominion forever and ever.
Amen. <sup>7</sup>Behold, he is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see him, even those who pierced him, and all tribes of the earth will wail on account of him. Even so. Amen.

<sup>8</sup>“I am the Alpha and the Omega,” says the Lord God, “who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty.”

Vision of the Son of Man

<sup>9</sup>I, John, your brother and partner in the tribulation and the kingdom and the patient endurance that are in Jesus, was on the island called Patmos on account of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. <sup>10</sup>I was in the Spirit on the Lord’s day, and I heard behind me a loud voice like a trumpet <sup>11</sup>saying, “Write what you see in a book and send it to the seven churches, to Ephesus and to Smyrna and to Pergamum and to Thyatira and to Sardis and to Philadelphia and to Laodicea.”

<sup>12</sup>Then I turned to see the voice that was speaking to me, and on turning I saw seven golden lampstands, <sup>13</sup>and in the midst of the lampstands one like a son of man, clothed with a long robe and with a golden sash around his chest. <sup>14</sup>The hairs of his head were white, like white wool, like snow. His eyes were like a flame of fire, <sup>15</sup>his feet were like burnished bronze, refined in a furnace, and his voice was like the roar of many waters. <sup>16</sup>In his right hand he held seven stars, from his mouth came a sharp two-edged sword, and his face was like the sun shining in full strength.

<sup>17</sup>When I saw him, I fell at his feet as though dead. But he laid his right hand on me, saying, “Fear not, I am the first and the last, <sup>18</sup>and the living one. I died, and behold I am alive forevermore, and I have the keys of Death and Hades. <sup>19</sup>Write therefore the things that you have seen, those that are and those that are to take place after this. <sup>20</sup>As for the mystery of the seven stars that you saw in my right hand, and the seven golden lampstands, the seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven lampstands are the seven churches.”

Writing

Luke points out that the pedigree which traces the generation of our Lord back to Adam contains seventy-two generations, connecting the end with the beginning, and implying that it is He who has summed up in Himself all nations dispersed from Adam downward and all languages and generations of men, together with Adam himself. Hence also was Adam himself termed by Paul “the figure of Him that was to come,” because the Word, the Maker of all things, had formed beforehand for Himself the future dispensation of the human race, connected with the Son of God; God having predestined that the first man should be of an animal nature, with this view, that he might be saved by the spiritual One. . . .

In accordance with this design, Mary the Virgin is found obedient, saying, “Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to Your word.” But Eve was disobedient; for she did not obey when as yet she was a virgin. And even as she, having indeed a husband, Adam, but being nevertheless as yet a virgin . . . having become disobedient, was made the cause of death, both to herself and to the entire human race; so also did Mary, having a man betrothed [to her], and being nevertheless a virgin, by yielding obedience, become the cause of salvation, both to herself and the whole human race. . . . For the Lord, having been born “the First-begotten of the dead,” and receiving into His bosom the ancient fathers, has regenerated them into the life of God, He having been made Himself the beginning of those that live, as Adam became the beginning of those who die. Wherefore also Luke, commencing the genealogy with the Lord, carried it back to Adam, indicating that it was He who regenerated them into the Gospel of life, and not they Him. And thus also it was that the knot of Eve's disobedience was loosed by the obedience of Mary. For what the virgin Eve had bound fast through unbelief, this did the virgin Mary set free through faith.

Prayer of the Day

O Almighty God, by whose grace and power Your holy martyr Lucia triumphed over suffering and remained ever faithful unto death, grant us, who now remember her with thanksgiving, to be so true in our witness to You in this world that we may receive with her new eyes without tears and the crown of light and life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1126)

Lucia, Martyr

One of the victims of the great persecution of Christians under the Roman emperor Diocletian, Lucia met her death at Syracuse on the island of Sicily in AD 304. Known for her charity, "Santa Lucia" (as she is called in Italy) gave away her dowry and remained a virgin until her execution by the sword. The name Lucia means "light," and, because of that, festivals of light commemorating her became popular throughout Europe, especially in the Scandinavian countries. There her feast day corresponds with the time of year when there is the least amount of daylight. In artistic expression, Lucia is often portrayed in a white baptismal gown, wearing a wreath of candles on her head.

Psalmody

<sup>1</sup> The LORD is my light and my salvation;
 whom | shall I fear?*

The LORD is the stronghold of my life;
 of whom shall I | be afraid?

<sup>4</sup> One thing have I asked of the LORD,
 that will I seek | after:*

that I may dwell in the house of the LORD
 all the days of my life, to gaze upon the beauty of the LORD and to inquire
 in his | temple.

<sup>5</sup> For he will hide me in his shelter
 in the day of | trouble;*

he will conceal me under the cover of his
 tent; he will lift me high up- | on a rock.

 and lead me on a level path

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 30:15–26

[A Rebellious People]

<sup>15</sup> For thus said the Lord God, the Holy
One of Israel,

“In returning and rest you shall be saved;
in quietness and in trust shall be your strength.”

But you were unwilling, <sup>16</sup>and you said, “No! We will flee upon horses”;
therefore you shall flee away;
and, “We will ride upon swift steeds”;
therefore your pursuers shall be swift.

<sup>17</sup> A thousand shall flee at the threat of one;
at the threat of five you shall flee, till you are left
like a flagstaff on the top of a mountain,
like a signal on a hill.

The LORD Will Be Gracious

<sup>18</sup> Therefore the LORD waits
to be gracious to you,
and therefore he exalts himself
to show mercy to you.

For the LORD is a God of justice;
blessed are all those who wait for him.

<sup>19</sup> For a people shall dwell in Zion, in Jerusalem; you shall weep no more. He will surely be gracious to you at the sound of your
cry. As soon as he hears it, he answers you.

<sup>20</sup> And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your Teacher will not hide himself anymore, but your eyes shall see your Teacher. <sup>21</sup> And your ears shall hear a word behind you, saying, “This is the way, walk in it,” when you turn to the right or when you turn to the left. <sup>22</sup> Then you will defile your carved idols overlaid with silver and your gold-plated metal images. You will scatter them as unclean things. You will say to them, “Be gone!”

<sup>23</sup> And he will give rain for the seed with which you sow the ground, and bread, the produce of the ground, which will be rich and plenteous. In that day your livestock will graze in large pastures, <sup>24</sup>and the oxen and the donkeys that work the ground will eat seasoned fodder, which has been winnowed with shovel and fork. <sup>25</sup> And on every lofty mountain and every high hill there will be brooks running with water, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.
<sup>26</sup> Moreover, the light of the moon will be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day when the LORD binds up the brokenness of his people, and heals the wounds inflicted by his blow.

New Testament Reading: Revelation 2:1–29

To the Church in Ephesus

<sup>1</sup> “To the angel of the church in Ephesus write: ‘The words of him who holds the seven stars in his right hand, who walks among the seven golden lampstands.

<sup>2</sup>“ I know your works, your toil and your patient endurance, and how you cannot bear with those who are evil, but have tested those who call themselves apostles and are not, and found them to be false. <sup>3</sup>I know you are enduring patiently and bearing up for my name’s sake, and you have not grown weary. <sup>4</sup>But I have this against you, that you have abandoned the love you had at first. <sup>5</sup>Remember therefore from where you have fallen; repent, and do the works you did at first. If not, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place, unless you repent. <sup>6</sup>Yet this you have: you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. <sup>7</sup>He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who conquers I will grant to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God.’

To the Church in Smyrna

<sup>8</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write: ‘The words of the first and the last, who died and came to life.

<sup>9</sup>“ I know your tribulation and your poverty (but you are rich) and the slander of those who say that they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. <sup>10</sup>Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life. <sup>11</sup>He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. The one who conquers will not be hurt by the second death.’

To the Church in Pergamum

<sup>12</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write: ‘The words of him who has the sharp two-edged sword.

<sup>13</sup>“ I know where you dwell, where Satan’s throne is. Yet you hold fast my name, and you did not deny my faith even in the days of Antipas my faithful witness, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. <sup>14</sup>But I have a few things against you: you have some there who hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, so that they might eat food sacrificed to idols and practice sexual immorality. <sup>15</sup>So also you have some who hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans. <sup>16</sup>Therefore repent. If not, I will come to you soon and war against them with the sword of my mouth. <sup>17</sup>He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the one who conquers I will give some of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, with a new name written on the stone that no one knows except the one who receives it.’

To the Church in Thyatira

<sup>18</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write: ‘The words of the Son of God, who has eyes like a flame of fire, and whose feet are like burnished bronze.

<sup>19</sup>“ I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first. <sup>20</sup>But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. <sup>21</sup>I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. <sup>22</sup>Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works, <sup>23</sup>and I will strike her children dead. And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you according to your works. <sup>24</sup>But to the rest of you in Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching, who have not learned what some call the deep things of Satan, to you I say, I do not lay on you any other burden. <sup>25</sup>Only hold fast what you have until I come. <sup>26</sup>The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, <sup>27</sup>and he will rule them with a rod of iron, as when earthen pots are broken in pieces, even as I myself have received authority from my Father. <sup>28</sup>And I will give him the morning star. <sup>29</sup>He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.’ ”

Writing

The doctrine is not of compulsion; the Word of life is of free will. Whoever desires to hear the doctrine, let him cleanse the field of his will so that the good seed may not fall among the thorns of vain questions. If you would heed the Word of life, cut yourself off from evil things. The hearing of the Word profits nothing to the man who is busy with sins. If you want to be good, do not love dissolute customs. First, trust in God, and then listen to His Law.

You cannot hear His words while you do not know yourself. And if you keep His judgments while your understanding is apart from Him, who will give you your reward? Who will guard your payment for you? You were baptized in His name, so confess His name! In the Persons and in the naming, Father and Son and Holy Spirit—three names and Persons—these three shall be a wall against divisions and disputes for you. Do not doubt the truth, lest through the truth you may perish. You were baptized from the water; you have put on Christ in His naming;

the seat of the Lord is on your person and His stamp on your forehead. See that you do not become another’s possession, for you have no other Lord. He is one who formed us in His mercy; He is one who redeemed us on His cross. It is He who guides our life, who has power over our feebleness, who brings to pass our resurrection. He rewards us according to our works. Blessed is he who confesses Him, and hears and keeps His commandments! You, O man, are a son of God, who is high over all. See that you do not vex the good and gracious Father by your works.

—Ephraim Syrus

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 30:27–31:9

[The LORD Will Be Gracious]

<sup>27</sup> Behold, the name of the LORD comes from afar,

burning with his anger,
and in thick rising smoke;

his lips are full of fury,

and his tongue is like a devouring fire;

<sup>28</sup> his breath is like an overflowing stream

that reaches up to the neck;

to sift the nations with the sieve

of destruction,

and to place on the jaws of the peoples a bridle that leads astray.

<sup>29</sup> You shall have a song as in the night when a holy feast is kept, and gladness of heart, as when one sets out to the sound of the flute to go to the mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel. <sup>30</sup> And the LORD will cause his majestic voice to be heard and the descending blow of his arm to be seen, in furious anger and a flame of devouring fire,

with a cloudburst and storm and hailstones.

<sup>31</sup> The Assyrians will be terror-stricken at the voice of the LORD, when he strikes with his rod. <sup>32</sup> And every stroke of the appointed staff that the LORD lays on them will be to the sound of tambourines and lyres. Battling with brandished arm, he will fight with them.

<sup>33</sup> For a burning place has long been prepared;
indeed, for the king it is made ready, its pyre made deep and wide, with fire and wood in abundance; the breath of the LORD, like a stream of sulfur, kindles it.

Woe to Those Who Go Down to Egypt

<sup>31:1</sup> Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help

and rely on horses,

who trust in chariots

because they are many

and in horsemen

because they are very strong,

but do not look to the Holy One of Israel

or consult the LORD!

<sup>2</sup>And yet he is wise and brings disaster;
 he does not call back his words,
 but will arise against the house of the evildoers
 and against the helpers
 of those who work iniquity.

<sup>3</sup>The Egyptians are man, and not God,
 and their horses are flesh,
 and not spirit.

When the LORD stretches out his hand,
 the helper will stumble,
 and he who is helped will fall,
 and they will all perish together.

<sup>4</sup>For thus the LORD said to me, “As a lion or a young lion growls
 over his prey,
 and when a band of shepherds
 is called out against him
 he is not terrified by their shouting or daunted at their noise,
 so the LORD of hosts will come down to fight on Mount Zion
 and on its hill.

<sup>5</sup>Like birds hovering, so the Lord of hosts
 will protect Jerusalem;
 he will protect and deliver it;
 he will spare and rescue it.”

<sup>6</sup>Turn to him from whom people have deeply revolted, O children of Israel. <sup>7</sup>For in that day everyone shall cast away his idols of silver and his idols of gold, which your hands have sinfully made for you.

<sup>8</sup>“And the Assyrian shall fall by a sword,
 not of man;
 and a sword, not of man, shall devour him;
 and he shall flee from the sword,
 and his young men shall be put to forced labor.

<sup>9</sup>His rock shall pass away in terror,
 and his officers desert the standard
 in panic,”
 declares the Lord, whose fire is in Zion,
 and whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

New Testament Reading: Revelation 3:1–22

To the Church in Sardis

<sup>1</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Sardis write: ‘The words of him who has the seven spirits of God and the seven stars.

“ ‘I know your works. You have the reputation of being alive, but you are dead.

<sup>2</sup>Wake up, and strengthen what remains and is about to die, for I have not found your works complete in the sight of my God.

<sup>3</sup>Remember, then, what you received and heard. Keep it, and repent. If you will not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come against
 you. <sup>4</sup>Yet you have still a few names in Sardis, people who have not soiled their garments,
 and they will walk with me in white, for they are worthy. <sup>5</sup>The one who conquers will be clothed thus in white garments, and I will never blot his name out of the book of life. I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels. <sup>6</sup>He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.’

To the Church in Philadelphia

<sup>7</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write: ‘The words of the holy one, the true one, who has the key of David,
 who opens and no one will shut, who shuts
 and no one opens.

<sup>8</sup>“ ‘I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. <sup>9</sup>Behold, I will make those of the synagogue of Satan who say that they are Jews and are not, but lie—behold, I will make them come and bow down before your feet and they will learn that I have loved you. <sup>10</sup>Because you have kept my word about patient endurance, I will keep you from the hour of trial that is coming on the whole world, to try those who dwell on the earth. <sup>11</sup>I am coming soon. Hold fast what you have, so that no one may seize your crown. <sup>12</sup>The one who conquers, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God. Never shall he go out of it, and I will write on him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down from my God out of heaven, and my own new name. <sup>13</sup>He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.’

To the Church in Laodicea

<sup>14</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write: ‘The words of the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of God’s creation.

<sup>15</sup>“I know your works: you are neither cold nor hot. Would that you were either cold or hot! <sup>16</sup>So, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of my mouth. <sup>17</sup>For you say, I am rich, I have prospered, and I need nothing, not realizing that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind, and naked. <sup>18</sup>I counsel you to buy from me gold refined by fire, so that you may be rich, and white garments so that you may clothe yourself and the shame of your nakedness may not be seen, and salve to anoint your eyes, so that you may see. <sup>19</sup>Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline, so be zealous and repent. <sup>20</sup>Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me. <sup>21</sup>The one who conquers, I will grant him to sit with me on my throne, as I also conquered and sat down with my Father on his throne. <sup>22</sup>He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.’ ”

Writing

But Christ says, “Let it be so now; for thus it is fitting for us to fulfil all righteousness” [Matt. 3:15]; as much as to say: The purpose of my baptism is to wash away and drown the sins of all the world, that through it all righteousness and salvation may be accomplished. Therefore baptism was instituted by God primarily for Christ’s sake and then afterwards also for the sake of all men. For first he must sanctify baptism through his own body and thereby take away the sin, in order that afterwards those who believe in him may have the forgiveness of sins. Therefore baptism is not a useless, empty thing, as the sectarians blasphemously say, but in it all righteousness is fulfilled.

Then repentance, as John preaches it for the forgiveness of sins, consists mostly in your acknowledging that God is right and confessing that his judgment is true when he says that we are all sinners and all condemned. When you do this from the heart, then repentance has begun. What more must I do then? Bow down and be baptized. For, says Christ, by my baptism I have accomplished it, that whoever believes in me and accepts this baptism receives the forgiveness of sins, and my Father and I and the Holy Spirit will dwell in him.

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

 When storms of woe my soul dismay,
 I pass through trials all the way.

Lord Jesus, You sent Your angels to the churches of Asia Minor to announce to them either their fidelity to the Gospel or their departure from the true faith. ## Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 32:1–20

A King Will Reign in Righteousness

- <sup>1</sup> Behold, a king will reign in righteousness, and princes will rule in justice.
- <sup>2</sup> Each will be like a hiding place
 from the wind,
 a shelter from the storm,
 like streams of water in a dry place,
 like the shade of a great rock
 in a weary land.
- <sup>3</sup> Then the eyes of those who see
 will not be closed,
 and the ears of those who hear
 will give attention.
- <sup>4</sup> The heart of the hasty will understand and know,
 and the tongue of the stammerers
 will hasten to speak distinctly.
- <sup>5</sup> The fool will no more be called noble,
 nor the scoundrel said to be honorable.

<sup>6</sup>For the fool speaks folly,
and his heart is busy with iniquity,
to practice ungodliness,
to utter error concerning the LORD,
to leave the craving of the hungry unsatisfied,
and to deprive the thirsty of drink.

<sup>7</sup>As for the scoundrel—his devices are evil;
he plans wicked schemes
to ruin the poor with lying words,
even when the plea of the needy is right.

<sup>8</sup>But he who is noble plans noble things,
and on noble things he stands.

Complacent Women Warned of Disaster

<sup>9</sup>Rise up, you women who are at ease, hear my voice;
you complacent daughters,
give ear to my speech.

<sup>10</sup>In little more than a year
you will shudder, you complacent women;
for the grape harvest fails,
the fruit harvest will not come.

<sup>11</sup>Tremble, you women who are at ease,
shudder, you complacent ones;
strip, and make yourselves bare,
and tie sackcloth around your waist.

<sup>12</sup>Beat your breasts for the pleasant fields,
for the fruitful vine,

<sup>13</sup>for the soil of my people growing up in thorns and briers,
yes, for all the joyous houses
in the exultant city.

<sup>14</sup>For the palace is forsaken,
the populous city deserted;
the hill and the watchtower
will become dens forever,

a joy of wild donkeys,
a pasture of flocks;

<sup>15</sup>until the Spirit is poured upon us
from on high,

and the wilderness becomes
a fruitful field,
and the fruitful field is deemed a forest.

<sup>16</sup>Then justice will dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness abide
in the fruitful field.

<sup>17</sup>And the effect of righteousness will be peace,
and the result of righteousness,
quietness and trust forever.

<sup>18</sup>My people will abide in a peaceful habitation,
in secure dwellings,
and in quiet resting places.

<sup>19</sup>And it will hail when the forest falls down, and the city will be utterly laid low.

<sup>20</sup>Happy are you who sow beside all waters,
who let the feet of the ox
and the donkey range free.

The Throne in Heaven

<sup>1</sup>After this I looked, and behold, a door standing open in heaven! And the first voice, which I had heard speaking to me like a trumpet, said, “Come up here, and I will show you what must take place after this.”

<sup>2</sup>At once I was in the Spirit, and behold, a throne stood in heaven, with one seated on the throne. <sup>3</sup>And he who sat there had the appearance of jasper and carnelian, and around the throne was a rainbow that had the appearance of an emerald. <sup>4</sup>Around the throne were twenty-four thrones, and seated on the thrones were twenty-four elders, clothed in white garments, with golden crowns on their heads. <sup>5</sup>From the throne came flashes of lightning, and rumblings and peals of thunder, and before the throne were burning seven torches of fire, which are the seven spirits of God, <sup>6</sup>and before the throne there was as it were a sea of glass, like crystal.

And around the throne, on each side of the throne, are four living creatures, full of eyes in front and behind: <sup>7</sup>the first living creature like a lion, the second living creature like an ox, the third living creature with the face of a man, and the fourth living creature like an eagle in flight. <sup>8</sup>And the four living creatures, each of them with six wings, are full of eyes all around and within, and day and night they never cease to say,

“Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God Almighty, who was and is and is to come!”

<sup>9</sup>And whenever the living creatures give glory and honor and thanks to him who is seated on the throne, who lives forever and ever, <sup>10</sup>the twenty-four elders fall down before him who is seated on the throne and worship him who lives forever and ever. They cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

<sup>11</sup>“Worthy are you, our Lord and God,
to receive glory and honor
and power,
for you created all things,
and by your will they existed
and were created.”

Writing

Original sin is like a spiritual poison and leprosy, as Luther says [LW 7:233]. It has poisoned and corrupted the whole human nature. So we cannot show and point out to the eye, human nature by itself or original sin by itself. Nevertheless, there is the corrupt nature, or essence of the corrupt person (body and soul—the person himself) whom God has created. (Original sin dwells in a person. It also corrupts the nature and essence of the entire person.) And there is original sin, which dwells in human nature or essence and corrupts it. They are not one and the same thing. For example, in outward leprosy the body that is leprous and the leprosy on or in the body are not one thing, properly speaking. But a distinction must also be maintained between our nature as created and preserved by God (in which sin is indwelling) and original sin (which dwells in the nature). These two things can, and must, be considered, taught, and believed separately according to Holy Scripture.

Furthermore, the chief articles of our Christian faith drive and compel us to preserve this distinction. For instance, in the article of creation, Scripture testifies that God has created human nature not only before the fall, but that it is God’s creature and work also since the fall. (See Deuteronomy 32:6; Isaiah 45:11; 54:5; 64:8; Acts 17:25; Revelation 4:11.)

Prayer of the Day

Worthy are You, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and power, for You created all things, and by Your will they existed and were created. Give us the faith to behold the majesty of Your presence in simple words, simple water, and simple bread and wine, as You come to us in the very body of Your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, now and forever. O LORD, Be Gracious to Us

- <sup>1</sup>Ah, you destroyer, who yourself have not been destroyed,
you traitor,
whom none has betrayed!
- When you have ceased to destroy,
you will be destroyed;
and when you have finished betraying,
they will betray you.
- <sup>2</sup>O LORD, be gracious to us; we wait for you.
Be our arm every morning,
our salvation in the time of trouble.
- <sup>3</sup>At the tumultuous noise peoples flee;
when you lift yourself up,
nations are scattered,
- <sup>4</sup>and your spoil is gathered
as the caterpillar gathers;
as locusts leap, it is leapt upon.
- <sup>5</sup>The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high;
he will fill Zion with justice and
righteousness,
- <sup>6</sup>and he will be the stability of your times,
abundance of salvation, wisdom,
and knowledge;
the fear of the LORD is Zion’s treasure.
- <sup>7</sup>Behold, their heroes cry in the streets;
the envoys of peace weep bitterly.

<sup>8</sup>The highways lie waste;
the traveler ceases.

Covenants are broken;
cities are despised;
there is no regard for man.

<sup>9</sup>The land mourns and languishes;
Lebanon is confounded
and withers away;

Sharon is like a desert,
and Bashan and Carmel
shake off their leaves.

<sup>10</sup>“Now I will arise,” says the LORD,
“now I will lift myself up;
now I will be exalted.

<sup>11</sup>You conceive chaff; you give birth to stubble;
your breath is a fire that will consume you.

<sup>12</sup>And the peoples will be as if burned to lime,
like thorns cut down,
that are burned in the fire.”

<sup>13</sup>Hear, you who are far off, what I have done;
and you who are near,
acknowledge my might.

<sup>14</sup>The sinners in Zion are afraid;
trembling has seized the godless:

“Who among us can dwell with the consuming fire?
Who among us can dwell with everlasting burnings?”

<sup>15</sup>He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly,
who despises the gain of oppressions,
who shakes his hands, lest they hold a bribe,
who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed
and shuts his eyes from looking on evil,

<sup>16</sup>he will dwell on the heights;
his place of defense will be the fortresses
of rocks;
his bread will be given him;
his water will be sure.

<sup>17</sup>Your eyes will behold the king in his beauty;
they will see a land that stretches afar.

<sup>18</sup>Your heart will muse on the terror: “Where is he who counted, where is he who weighed the tribute?
Where is he who counted the towers?”

<sup>19</sup>You will see no more the insolent people,
the people of an obscure speech that you cannot comprehend, stammering in a tongue that you cannot understand.

<sup>20</sup>Behold Zion, the city of our appointed feasts!
Your eyes will see Jerusalem,
an untroubled habitation,
an immovable tent,

whose stakes will never be plucked up,
nor will any of its cords be broken.

<sup>21</sup>But there the LORD in majesty will be for us
a place of broad rivers and streams,
where no galley with oars can go,
nor majestic ship can pass.

<sup>22</sup>For the LORD is our judge;
the LORD is our lawgiver;
the LORD is our king; he will save us.

<sup>23</sup>Your cords hang loose;
they cannot hold the mast firm
in its place
or keep the sail spread out.

Then prey and spoil in abundance
will be divided;
even the lame will take the prey.

<sup>24</sup>And no inhabitant will say, “I am sick”;
the people who dwell there will be forgiven their iniquity.

The Scroll and the Lamb

<sup>1</sup>Then I saw in the right hand of him who was seated on the throne a scroll written within and on the back, sealed with seven seals. <sup>2</sup>And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, “Who is worthy to open the scroll and break its seals?” <sup>3</sup>And no one in heaven or on earth or under the earth was able to open the scroll or to look into it, <sup>4</sup>and I began to weep loudly because no one was found worthy to open the scroll or to look into it. <sup>5</sup>And one of the elders said to me, “Weep no more; behold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has conquered, so that he can open the scroll and its seven seals.”

<sup>6</sup>And between the throne and the four living creatures and among the elders I saw a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, with seven horns and with seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent out into all the earth. <sup>7</sup>And he went and took the scroll from the right hand of him who was seated on the throne. <sup>8</sup>And when he had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each holding a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. <sup>9</sup>And they sang a new song, saying,

“Worthy are you to take the scroll
and to open its seals,
for you were slain, and by your blood
you ransomed people for God from every tribe and language
and people and nation, <sup>10</sup>and you have made them a kingdom
and priests to our God,
and they shall reign on the earth.”

<sup>11</sup>Then I looked, and I heard around the throne and the living creatures and the elders the voice of many angels, numbering myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands, <sup>12</sup>saying with a loud voice, “Worthy is the Lamb who was slain, to receive power and wealth and wisdom and might and honor and glory and blessing!” <sup>13</sup>And I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and in the sea, and all that is in them, saying, “To him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb be blessing and honor and glory and might forever and ever!” <sup>14</sup>And the four living creatures said, “Amen!” and the elders fell down and worshiped.

Writing

This is a prophecy that the king of Assyria would be defeated before Jerusalem and would retreat with shame, and the righteous would be saved, against all the hopes of the desperate hypocrites. And the prophet comforts them well, so that whoever keeps himself in God’s will and guards himself from sin shall be safe, as if he were on a high rock, and he shall have his bread and water, that is, his nourishment, even if everywhere else everything goes badly. He also promises the forgiveness of sins. And by doing so, he touches on the New Testament, in which the true enemy, the devil, shall be defeated, and the true Jerusalem, the Church, shall be made safe through Christ.

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, You rescued Daniel from the lions' den through the miraculous intervention of an angel. Save us now through the presence of Jesus, the Lion of Judah, who has conquered all our enemies through His blood and taken away all our sins as the Lamb of God, who now reigns from His heavenly throne with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1130)

Daniel the Prophet and the Three Young Men

Daniel the prophet and the three young men—Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego—were among the leaders of the people of Judah who were taken into captivity in Babylon. Even in that foreign land, they remained faithful to the one true God in their piety, prayer, and life. On account of such steadfast faithfulness in the face of pagan idolatry, the three young men were thrown into a fiery furnace, from which they were saved by the Lord and emerged unharmed (Daniel 3). Similarly, Daniel was thrown into a pit of lions, from which he also was saved (Daniel 6). Blessed in all their endeavors by the Lord—and despite the hostility of some—Daniel and the three young men were promoted to positions of leadership among the Babylonians (Daniel 2:48–49; 3:30; 6:28). To Daniel in particular the Lord revealed the interpretation of dreams and signs that were given to King Nebuchadnezzar and King Belshazzar (Daniel 2, 4, 5). To Daniel himself, the Lord gave visions of the end times.

Judgment on the Nations

- <sup>1</sup>Draw near, O nations, to hear,
and give attention, O peoples!
Let the earth hear, and all that fills it;
the world, and all that comes from it.

<sup>2</sup>For the LORD is enraged against all the nations,
and furious against all their host;
he has devoted them to destruction,
has given them over for slaughter. . . .

<sup>8</sup>For the LORD has a day of vengeance,
a year of recompense
for the cause of Zion.

<sup>9</sup>And the streams of Edom shall be turned into pitch,
and her soil into sulfur;
her land shall become burning pitch.

<sup>10</sup>Night and day it shall not be quenched;
its smoke shall go up forever.

From generation to generation
it shall lie waste;
none shall pass through it forever
and ever.

<sup>11</sup>But the hawk and the porcupine shall possess it,
the owl and the raven shall dwell in it.
He shall stretch the line of confusion over it,
and the plumb line of emptiness.

<sup>12</sup>Its nobles—there is no one there to call it a kingdom,
and all its princes shall be nothing.

<sup>13</sup>Thorns shall grow over its strongholds,
nettles and thistles in its fortresses.
It shall be the haunt of jackals,
an abode for ostriches.

<sup>14</sup>And wild animals shall meet with hyenas;
the wild goat shall cry to his fellow;
indeed, there the night bird settles
and finds for herself a resting place.

<sup>15</sup>There the owl nests and lays and hatches and gathers her young in her shadow;
indeed, there the hawks are gathered,
each one with her mate.

<sup>16</sup>Seek and read from the book of the LORD:
Not one of these shall be missing;

none shall be without her mate.
For the mouth of the LORD has commanded,
and his Spirit has gathered them.

<sup>17</sup>He has cast the lot for them;
his hand has portioned it out to them
with the line;
they shall possess it forever;
from generation to generation they shall dwell in it.

The Ransomed Shall Return

<sup>35:1</sup>The wilderness and the dry land shall be glad;
the desert shall rejoice
and blossom like the crocus;
<sup>2</sup>it shall blossom abundantly
and rejoice with joy and singing.
The glory of Lebanon shall be given to it,
the majesty of Carmel and Sharon.
They shall see the glory of the LORD,
the majesty of our God.

<sup>3</sup>Strengthen the weak hands,
and make firm the feeble knees.

<sup>4</sup>Say to those who have an anxious heart,
“Be strong; fear not!
Behold, your God
will come with vengeance,
with the recompense of God.
He will come and save you.”

<sup>5</sup>Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened,
and the ears of the deaf unstopped;
<sup>6</sup>then shall the lame man leap like a deer,
and the tongue of the mute sing for joy.
For waters break forth in the wilderness,
and streams in the desert; <sup>7</sup>the burning sand shall become a pool,
and the thirsty ground springs of water;
in the haunt of jackals, where they lie down,
the grass shall become reeds and rushes.

<sup>8</sup>And a highway shall be there,
and it shall be called the Way
of Holiness;
the unclean shall not pass over it.
It shall belong to those who walk
on the way;
even if they are fools,
they shall not go astray.

<sup>9</sup>No lion shall be there,
nor shall any ravenous beast
come up on it;
they shall not be found there,
but the redeemed shall walk there.

<sup>10</sup>And the ransomed of the LORD shall return and come to Zion with singing;
everlasting joy shall be upon their heads;
they shall obtain gladness and joy,
and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

The Seven Seals

<sup>1</sup>Now I watched when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures say with a voice like thunder, “Come!” <sup>2</sup>And I looked, and behold, a white horse! And its rider had a bow, and a crown was given to him, and he came out conquering, and to conquer.

<sup>3</sup>When he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, “Come!” <sup>4</sup>And out came another horse, bright red. Its rider was permitted to take peace from the earth, so that people should slay one another, and he was given a great sword.

<sup>5</sup>When he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come!” And I looked, and behold, a black horse! And its rider had a pair of scales in his hand. <sup>6</sup>And I heard what seemed to be a voice in the midst of the four living creatures, saying, “A quart of wheat for a denarius, and three quarts of barley for a denarius, and do not harm the oil and wine!”

<sup>7</sup>When he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, “Come!” <sup>8</sup>And I looked, and behold, a pale horse! And its rider’s name was Death, and Hades followed him. And they were given authority over a fourth of the earth, to kill with sword and with famine and with pestilence and by wild beasts of the earth.

<sup>9</sup>When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain for the word of God and for the witness they had borne. <sup>10</sup>They cried out with a loud voice, “O Sovereign Lord, holy and true, how long before you will judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?” <sup>11</sup>Then they were each given a white robe and told to rest a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and their brothers should be complete, who were to be killed as they themselves had been.

<sup>12</sup>When he opened the sixth seal, I looked, and behold, there was a great earthquake, and the sun became black as sackcloth, the full moon became like blood, <sup>13</sup>and the stars of the sky fell to the earth as the fig tree sheds its winter fruit when shaken by a gale. <sup>14</sup>The sky vanished like a scroll that is being rolled up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place. <sup>15</sup>Then the kings of the earth and the great ones and the generals and the rich and the powerful, and everyone, slave and free, hid themselves in the caves and among the rocks of the mountains, <sup>16</sup>calling to the mountains and rocks, “Fall on us and hide us from the face of him who is seated on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb, <sup>17</sup>for the great day of their wrath has come, and who can stand?”

Writing

Our one Lord Jesus Christ, true God and true man . . . was lifted up, [and] at the right hand of God He sits in that flesh which He assumed for us, and He will come in glory to judge the living and the dead, whose kingdom shall have no end. . . .

When that has been accomplished, all the elect of all nations, tribes, peoples, and tongues shall be standing before the throne in the presence of the Lamb, clothed with white garments and with palms in their hands. They shall cry with a loud voice, “Salvation to our God who sits upon the throne, and to the Lamb.” Of them it is said, “These are they who have come out of the great tribulation; and they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve Him day and night within His temple; and He who sits upon the throne dwells above them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; the sun shall not fall upon them, nor any scorching heat; for the Lamb, who is in the midst of throne, will direct them, and He will guide them to springs of living waters; and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes. And everlasting joy shall be upon their head; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.”

—Agobard of Lyons

Hymnody

Behold a host, arrayed in white,
 Like thousand snow-clad mountains bright!
 With palms they stand;
 Who is this band
 Before the throne of light?
 These are the saints of glorious fame,
 Who from the great affliction came
 And in the flood
 Of Jesus’ blood
 Are cleansed from guilt and shame.
 They now serve God both day and night;
 They sing their songs in endless light.
 Their anthems ring
 As they all sing
 With angels shining bright.

Comfort for God's People

- <sup>1</sup> Comfort, comfort my people, says your God.
<sup>2</sup> Speak tenderly to Jerusalem, and cry to her
that her warfare is ended,

that her iniquity is pardoned,
that she has received from the LORD's hand
double for all her sins.

<sup>3</sup>A voice cries:

"In the wilderness prepare the way
of the LORD;
make straight in the desert a highway
for our God.

<sup>4</sup> Every valley shall be lifted up,
and every mountain and hill
be made low;

the uneven ground shall become level,
and the rough places a plain.

<sup>5</sup> And the glory of the LORD shall be revealed,
and all flesh shall see it together,
for the mouth of the LORD has spoken."

The Word of God Stands Forever

And I said, "What shall I cry?"

All flesh is grass,
and all its beauty is like the flower
of the field.

<sup>7</sup> The grass withers, the flower fades
when the breath of the Lord blows on it;
surely the people are grass.

<sup>8</sup> The grass withers, the flower fades,
but the word of our God
will stand forever.

The Greatness of God

<sup>9</sup> Get you up to a high mountain,
O Zion, herald of good news;
lift up your voice with strength,
O Jerusalem, herald of good news;
lift it up, fear not;

say to the cities of Judah,
"Behold your God!"

<sup>10</sup> Behold, the Lord GOD comes with might,
and his arm rules for him;
behold, his reward is with him,

and his recompense before him.

<sup>11</sup>He will tend his flock like a shepherd;
he will gather the lambs in his arms;
he will carry them in his bosom,
and gently lead those that are with young.

<sup>12</sup>Who has measured the waters
in the hollow of his hand
and marked off the heavens with a span, enclosed the dust of the earth in a measure and weighed the mountains in scales
and the hills in a balance?

<sup>13</sup>Who has measured the Spirit of the LORD, or what man shows him his counsel?

<sup>14</sup>Whom did he consult,
and who made him understand?

Who taught him the path of justice,
and taught him knowledge,
and showed him the way
of understanding?

<sup>15</sup>Behold, the nations are like a drop
from a bucket,
and are accounted as the dust
on the scales;
behold, he takes up the coastlands
like fine dust.

<sup>16</sup>Lebanon would not suffice for fuel,
nor are its beasts enough
for a burnt offering.

<sup>17</sup>All the nations are as nothing before him, they are accounted by him as less than nothing and emptiness.

The 144,000 of Israel Sealed

<sup>1</sup>After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth, that no wind might blow on earth or sea or against any tree. <sup>2</sup>Then I saw another angel ascending from the rising of the sun, with the seal of the living God, and he called with a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm earth and sea, <sup>3</sup>saying, “Do not harm the earth or the sea or the trees, until we have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads.” <sup>4</sup>And I heard the number of the sealed, 144,000, sealed from every tribe of the sons of Israel:

<sup>5</sup>12,000 from the tribe of Judah were sealed,
12,000 from the tribe of Reuben,
12,000 from the tribe of Gad,
<sup>6</sup>12,000 from the tribe of Asher,
12,000 from the tribe of Naphtali,
12,000 from the tribe of Manasseh,
<sup>7</sup>12,000 from the tribe of Simeon,
12,000 from the tribe of Levi,
12,000 from the tribe of Issachar,
<sup>8</sup>12,000 from the tribe of Zebulun,
12,000 from the tribe of Joseph,
12,000 from the tribe of Benjamin were sealed.

A Great Multitude from Every Nation

<sup>13</sup>Then one of the elders addressed me, saying, “Who are these, clothed in white robes, and from where have they come?” <sup>14</sup>I said to him, “Sir, you know.” And he said to me, “These are the ones coming out of the great tribulation. They have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

<sup>15</sup>“Therefore they are before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple;

and he who sits on the throne will shelter them with his presence.

<sup>16</sup>They shall hunger no more, neither thirst anymore;

the sun shall not strike them, nor any scorching heat.

<sup>17</sup>For the Lamb in the midst of the throne will be their shepherd, and he will guide them to springs of living water,

and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.”

Writing

In the midst of paradise stands the tree of life. From this, Adam [and Eve were] driven away so that [they] would not eat of it but instead would die according to God’s judgment on account of the sin [they] committed. But the cross of Christ is the noble tree of life on which hangs the noble fruits that bring us eternal life. “No forest produces such foliage, blossoms, sprouts.” Whoever consoles himself with the precious merit of Jesus Christ shall live, even though he die. “And whoever lives and believes in Him shall never die” (John 11:26). Because of their sins, Adam [and Eve and their] children were locked out of paradise, but through the key of the holy cross, it will be opened once again to all repentant Christians. Crux Christi clavis Paradisi, that is, “The cross of Christ is the key of paradise,” says John of Damascus. To this, the fathers of the Church relate the key of the house of David, which can open so that no one can shut [Isaiah 22:22]. Let all evil spirits be defied, who would like to lock heaven to us, which the Lord Jesus opened by His cross and death.

—Valerius Herberger

Hymnody

Glory be to Him who loved us,
Washed us from each spot and stain;

Glory be to Him who bought us,
Made us kings with Him to reign!

Glory, glory

To the Lamb that once was slain!

—Glory Be to God the Father

(LSB 506:2)

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, You created Adam in your image and gave him Eve as his helpmate, and after their fall into sin, You promised them a Savior who would crush the devil’s might. By Your mercy, number us among those who have come out of the great tribulation with the seal of the living God on our foreheads and whose robes have been made white in the blood of the Lamb; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (1131)

Adam and Eve

Adam was the first man, made in the image of God and given dominion over all the earth (Genesis 1:26). Eve was the first woman, formed from one of Adam’s ribs to be his companion and helper (Genesis 2:18–24). God placed them in the Garden of Eden to take care of creation as His representatives. But they forsook God’s Word and plunged the world into sin (Genesis 3:1–7). For this disobedience, God drove them from the garden. Eve would suffer pain in childbirth and would chafe at her subjection to Adam; Adam would toil amid thorns and thistles and return to the dust of the ground. Yet God promised that the woman’s Seed would crush the serpent’s head (Genesis 3:8–24). Sin had entered God’s perfect creation and changed it until God would restore it again through Christ. Eve is the mother of the human race, while Adam is representative of all humanity and the fall, as the apostle Paul writes, “For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive” (1 Corinthians 15:22).

Isaiah 40:18–41:10

[The Greatness of God]

<sup>18</sup>To whom then will you liken God, or what likeness compare with him?

<sup>19</sup>An idol! A craftsman casts it, and a goldsmith overlays it with gold
and casts for it silver chains.

<sup>20</sup>He who is too impoverished for an offering chooses wood that will not rot;

he seeks out a skillful craftsman
to set up an idol that will not move.

<sup>21</sup>Do you not know? Do you not hear?
Has it not been told you
from the beginning?
Have you not understood
from the foundations of the earth?

<sup>22</sup>It is he who sits above the circle
of the earth,
and its inhabitants are like grasshoppers;
who stretches out the heavens like a curtain,
and spreads them like a tent to dwell in;

<sup>23</sup>who brings princes to nothing, and makes the rulers of the earth as emptiness.

<sup>24</sup>Scarcely are they planted, scarcely sown, scarcely has their stem taken root
in the earth,

when he blows on them, and they wither,
and the tempest carries them off
like stubble.

<sup>25</sup>To whom then will you compare me,
that I should be like him?
says the Holy One.

<sup>26</sup>Lift up your eyes on high and see:
who created these?

He who brings out their host by number,
calling them all by name,
by the greatness of his might,
and because he is strong in power
not one is missing.

<sup>27</sup>Why do you say, O Jacob,
and speak, O Israel,

“My way is hidden from the LORD,
and my right is disregarded by my God”?

<sup>28</sup>Have you not known? Have you not heard?
The LORD is the everlasting God,
the Creator of the ends of the earth.

He does not faint or grow weary;
his understanding is unsearchable.

<sup>29</sup>He gives power to the faint, and to him who has no might he increases strength.

<sup>30</sup>Even youths shall faint and be weary,
and young men shall fall exhausted;

<sup>31</sup>but they who wait for the LORD shall renew their strength;
they shall mount up with wings
like eagles;

they shall run and not be weary;
they shall walk and not faint.

Fear Not, For I Am with You

<sup>41:1</sup>Listen to me in silence,
O coastlands;

let the peoples renew their strength;

let them approach, then let them speak;
let us together draw near for judgment.

<sup>2</sup>Who stirred up one from the east
whom victory meets at every step?

He gives up nations before him,
so that he tramples kings underfoot;

he makes them like dust with his sword,
like driven stubble with his bow.

<sup>3</sup>He pursues them and passes on safely,
by paths his feet have not trod.

<sup>4</sup>Who has performed and done this, calling the generations from the beginning?

I, the LORD, the first,
and with the last; I am he.

<sup>5</sup>The coastlands have seen and are afraid;
the ends of the earth tremble;
they have drawn near and come.

<sup>6</sup>Everyone helps his neighbor and says to his brother, “Be strong!”

<sup>7</sup>The craftsman strengthens the goldsmith, and he who smooths with the hammer
him who strikes the anvil,

saying of the soldering, “It is good”;
and they strengthen it with nails
so that it cannot be moved.

<sup>8</sup>But you, Israel, my servant,
Jacob, whom I have chosen,
the offspring of Abraham, my friend;

<sup>9</sup>you whom I took from the ends of the earth,
and called from its farthest corners,
saying to you, “You are my servant,
I have chosen you and not cast you off”;

<sup>10</sup>fear not, for I am with you;
be not dismayed, for I am your God;

I will strengthen you, I will help you,
I will uphold you with my righteous right hand.

The Seventh Seal and the Golden Censer

<sup>1</sup>When the Lamb opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour. <sup>2</sup>Then I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them. <sup>3</sup>And another angel came and stood at the altar with a golden censer, and he was given much incense to offer with the prayers of all the saints on the golden altar before the throne, <sup>4</sup>and the smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, rose before God from the hand of the angel. <sup>5</sup>Then the angel took the censer and filled it with fire from the altar and threw it on the earth, and there were peals of thunder, rumblings, flashes of lightning, and an earthquake.

The Seven Trumpets

<sup>7</sup>The first angel blew his trumpet, and there followed hail and fire, mixed with blood, and these were thrown upon the earth. And a third of the earth was burned up, and a third of the trees were burned up, and all green grass was burned up.

<sup>8</sup>The second angel blew his trumpet, and something like a great mountain, burning with fire, was thrown into the sea, and a third of the sea became blood. <sup>9</sup>A third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

<sup>10</sup>The third angel blew his trumpet, and a great star fell from heaven, blazing like a torch, and it fell on a third of the rivers and on the springs of water. <sup>11</sup>The name of the star is Wormwood. A third of the waters became wormwood, and many people died from the water, because it had been made bitter.

<sup>12</sup>The fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a third of the sun was struck, and a third of the moon, and a third of the stars, so that a third of their light might be darkened, and a third of the day might be kept from shining, and likewise a third of the night.

<sup>13</sup>Then I looked, and I heard an eagle crying with a loud voice as it flew directly overhead, “Woe, woe, woe to those who dwell on the earth, at the blasts of the other trumpets that the three angels are about to blow!”

Writing

Most holy Ms. Doctor, We thank you very kindly for your great concern that kept you awake. For from the day you [started] worrying about us, a fire right outside of our quarters’ door was eager to consume us, and on the strength of your worry, a stone almost fell on my head and could have squashed me like in a mousetrap. In our private chamber chalk and lime had been raining down for nearly two days until we hired some people who touched the stone with two fingers, causing it to fall down. It was as big as a long pillow and as wide as two hands. That one intended to thank you for your holy concern, if the dear holy angels had not been on guard. I am concerned that if you do not stop worrying, the earth might swallow us up at the end and all the elements pursuing us. Is that the way you learned the catechism and the faith? Pray, and let God take care of you. As it says in Psalm 55 and other places, “Cast your burden on the Lord, and He will sustain you.”

—From a letter from Martin Luther to his wife:

I would not trade my Kate for France and Venice for three reasons: (1) Because God has given her to me and me to her. (2) I have seen, time and again, that other women have more faults than my Kate. (3) She is a faithful marriage partner; she is loyal and has integrity.

The Letter to the Galatians is my beloved epistle; I trust it. It is my Kate von Bora. . . .

To have grace and peace in marriage is a gift second only to the knowledge of the Gospel. . . . Kate, you have a god-fearing man who loves you. You are an empress; realize it and thank God for it.

Prayer of the Day

O God, our refuge and our strength, You raised up Your servant Katharina to support her husband in the task to reform and renew your Church in the light of Your Word. ### Katharina von Bora Luther Katharina von Bora (1499–1552) was placed in a convent while still a child and became a nun in 1515. In April 1523, she and eight other nuns were rescued from the convent and brought to Wittenberg. There Martin Luther helped return some of the women to their former homes and placed the rest in good families. Katharina and Martin were married on June 13, 1525. Their marriage was a happy one and was blessed with six children. Katharina skillfully managed the Luther household, which always seemed to grow because of the reformer’s generous hospitality. After Luther’s death in 1546, Katharina remained in Wittenberg but lived much of the time in poverty. She died as the result of injuries she received in an accident while traveling with her children to Torgau in order to escape the plague.

The LORD'S Chosen Servant

my chosen, in whom my soul delights;

I have put my Spirit upon him;
he will bring forth justice to the nations.

<sup>2</sup>He will not cry aloud or lift up his voice,
or make it heard in the street;

<sup>3</sup>a bruised reed he will not break,
and a faintly burning wick he will not quench;
he will faithfully bring forth justice.

<sup>4</sup>He will not grow faint or be discouraged till he has established justice in the earth;
and the coastlands wait for his law.

<sup>5</sup>Thus says God, the LORD, who created the heavens
and stretched them out,
who spread out the earth
and what comes from it,

who gives breath to the people on it and spirit to those who walk in it:

<sup>6</sup>“I am the LORD; I have called you
in righteousness;
I will take you by the hand and keep you;

I will give you as a covenant for the people,
a light for the nations,

<sup>7</sup>to open the eyes that are blind,
to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon,
from the prison those who sit
in darkness.

<sup>8</sup>I am the LORD; that is my name;
my glory I give to no other,
nor my praise to carved idols.

<sup>9</sup>Behold, the former things have come to pass,
and new things I now declare;
before they spring forth
I tell you of them.”

Sing to the Lord a New Song

<sup>10</sup>Sing to the LORD a new song,
his praise from the end of the earth,
you who go down to the sea,
and all that fills it,
the coastlands and their inhabitants.

<sup>11</sup>Let the desert and its cities lift up their voice,
the villages that Kedar inhabits;
let the habitants of Sela sing for joy,
let them shout from the top
of the mountains.

<sup>12</sup>Let them give glory to the LORD,
and declare his praise in the coastlands.

<sup>13</sup>The LORD goes out like a mighty man, like a man of war he stirs up his zeal;
he cries out, he shouts aloud,
he shows himself mighty against his foes.

<sup>14</sup>For a long time I have held my peace;
I have kept still and restrained myself;
now I will cry out like a woman in labor;
I will gasp and pant.

<sup>15</sup>I will lay waste mountains and hills,
and dry up all their vegetation;
I will turn the rivers into islands,
and dry up the pools.

<sup>16</sup>And I will lead the blind
in a way that they do not know,
in paths that they have not known
I will guide them.

I will turn the darkness before them into light,
the rough places into level ground.

These are the things I do,
and I do not forsake them.

<sup>17</sup>They are turned back and utterly put
to shame,

who trust in carved idols,

who say to metal images,

“You are our gods.”

Israel’s Failure to Hear and See

<sup>18</sup>Hear, you deaf,

and look, you blind, that you may see!

<sup>19</sup>Who is blind but my servant,

or deaf as my messenger whom I send?

Who is blind as my dedicated one,

or blind as the servant of the LORD?

<sup>20</sup>He sees many things,

but does not observe them;

his ears are open, but he does not hear.

<sup>21</sup>The LORD was pleased, for his righteousness’ sake,

to magnify his law and make it glorious.

<sup>22</sup>But this is a people plundered and looted;

they are all of them trapped in holes

and hidden in prisons;

they have become plunder

with none to rescue,

spoil with none to say, “Restore!”

<sup>23</sup>Who among you will give ear to this,

will attend and listen

for the time to come?

<sup>24</sup>Who gave up Jacob to the looter,

and Israel to the plunderers?

Was it not the LORD, against whom

we have sinned,

in whose ways they would not walk,

and whose law they would not obey?

<sup>25</sup>So he poured on him the heat of his anger

and the might of battle;

it set him on fire all around,

but he did not understand;

it burned him up,

but he did not take it to heart.

[The Seven Trumpets]

<sup>1</sup>And the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star fallen from heaven to earth, and he was given the key to the shaft of the bottomless pit. <sup>2</sup>He opened the shaft of the bottomless pit, and from the shaft rose smoke like the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened with the smoke from the shaft. <sup>3</sup>Then from the smoke came locusts on the earth, and they were given power like the power of scorpions of the earth. <sup>4</sup>They were told not to harm the grass of the earth or any green plant or any tree, but only those people who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>They were allowed to torment them for five months, but not to kill them, and their torment was like the torment of a scorpion when it stings someone. <sup>6</sup>And in those days people will seek death and will not find it. They will long to die, but death will flee from them.

<sup>12</sup>The first woe has passed; behold, two woes are still to come.

Writing

I would certainly like to praise music with all my heart as the excellent gift of God which it is and to commend it to everyone. . . . Next to the Word of God, music deserves the highest praise. She is a mistress and governess of those human emotions—to pass over the animals—which as masters govern men or more often overwhelm them. No greater commendation than this can be found—at least not by us. For whether you wish to comfort the sad, to terrify the happy, to encourage the despairing, to humble the proud, to calm the passionate, or to appease those full of hate—and who could number all these masters of the human heart, namely, the emotions, inclinations, and affections that impel men to evil or good?—what more effective means than music could you find? The Holy Ghost himself honors her as an instrument for his proper work when in his Holy Scriptures he asserts that through her his gifts were instilled in the prophets, namely, the inclination to all virtues, as can be seen in Elisha [I Kings 3:15]. On the other hand, she serves to cast out Satan, the instigator of all sins, as is shown in Saul, the king of Israel [I Sam. 16:23].

Thus it was not without reason that the fathers and prophets wanted nothing else to be associated as closely with the Word of God as music. Therefore, we have so many hymns and Psalms where message and music join to move the listener's soul, while in other living beings and [sounding] bodies music remains a language without words. After all, the gift of language combined with the gift of song was only given to man to let him know that he should praise God with both word and music, namely, by proclaiming [the Word of God] through music and by providing sweet melodies with words.

—Martin Luther

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and ever-living God, You strengthened Your apostle Thomas with firm and certain faith in the resurrection of Your Son. Grant us such faith in Jesus Christ, our Lord and our God, that we may never be found wanting in Your sight; through the same Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F02)

St. Thomas, Apostle

All four Gospels mention St. Thomas as one of the twelve disciples of Jesus. John's Gospel, which names him "the Twin," uses Thomas's questions to reveal truths about Jesus. It is Thomas who says, "Lord, we do not know where You are going. How can we know the way?" To this question Jesus replies, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life" (John 14:5–6). John's Gospel also tells how Thomas, on the evening of the day of Jesus' resurrection, doubts the report of the disciples that they had seen Jesus. Later, "doubting Thomas" becomes "believing Thomas" when he confesses Jesus as "my Lord and my God" (John 20:24–29). According to tradition, Thomas traveled eastward after Pentecost, eventually reaching India, where still today a group of people call themselves "Christians of St. Thomas." Thomas was martyred for the faith by being speared to death.

and to the south, Do not withhold;

bring my sons from afar
and my daughters from the end
of the earth,

<sup>7</sup>everyone who is called by my name,
whom I created for my glory, whom I formed and made.”

<sup>8</sup>Bring out the people who are blind,
yet have eyes,
who are deaf, yet have ears!

<sup>9</sup>All the nations gather together,
and the peoples assemble.

Who among them can declare this,
and show us the former things?

Let them bring their witnesses
to prove them right,
and let them hear and say, It is true.

<sup>10</sup>“You are my witnesses,” declares the LORD,
“and my servant whom I have chosen,

that you may know and believe me
and understand that I am he.

Before me no god was formed,
nor shall there be any after me.

<sup>11</sup>I, I am the LORD,
and besides me there is no savior.

<sup>12</sup>I declared and saved and proclaimed,
when there was no strange god
among you;
and you are my witnesses,” declares the LORD, “and I am God.

<sup>13</sup>Also henceforth I am he;
there is none who can deliver
from my hand;
I work, and who can turn it back?”

<sup>14</sup>Thus says the LORD,
your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:
“For your sake I send to Babylon and bring them all down as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships
in which they rejoice.

<sup>15</sup>I am the LORD, your Holy One,
the Creator of Israel, your King.”

<sup>16</sup>Thus says the LORD,
who makes a way in the sea,
a path in the mighty waters,

<sup>17</sup>who brings forth chariot and horse,
army and warrior;

they lie down, they cannot rise,
they are extinguished, quenched like a wick:

<sup>18</sup>“Remember not the former things,
nor consider the things of old.

<sup>19</sup>Behold, I am doing a new thing;
now it springs forth,
do you not perceive it?

I will make a way in the wilderness
and rivers in the desert.

<sup>20</sup>The wild beasts will honor me,
the jackals and the ostriches,

for I give water in the wilderness,
rivers in the desert,

to give drink to my chosen people, <sup>21</sup>the people whom I formed for myself
that they might declare my praise.

<sup>22</sup>“Yet you did not call upon me, O Jacob;
but you have been weary of me, O Israel!

<sup>23</sup>You have not brought me your sheep
for burnt offerings,
or honored me with your sacrifices.

I have not burdened you with offerings,
or wearied you with frankincense.

<sup>24</sup>You have not bought me sweet cane
with money,
or satisfied me with the fat
of your sacrifices.

But you have burdened me with your sins;
you have wearied me
with your iniquities.”

New Testament Reading: Revelation 9:13–10:11

[The Seven Trumpets]

<sup>13</sup>Then the sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar before God, <sup>14</sup>saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, “Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates.” <sup>15</sup>So the four angels, who had been prepared for the hour, the day, the month, and the year, were released to kill a third of mankind. <sup>16</sup>The number of mounted troops was twice ten thousand times ten thousand; I heard their number. <sup>17</sup>And this is how I saw the horses in my vision and those who rode them: they wore breastplates the color of fire and of sapphire and of sulfur,
and the heads of the horses were like lions’
heads, and fire and smoke and sulfur came out of their mouths. <sup>18</sup>By these three plagues
a third of mankind was killed, by the fire and smoke and sulfur coming out of their mouths. <sup>19</sup>For the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails, for their tails are like serpents with heads, and by means of them they wound.

<sup>20</sup>The rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands nor give up worshipping demons and idols of gold and silver and bronze and stone and wood, which cannot see or hear or walk, <sup>21</sup>nor did they repent of their murders or their sorceries or their sexual immorality or their thefts.

The Angel and the Little Scroll

<sup>10:1</sup>Then I saw another mighty angel coming down from heaven, wrapped in a cloud, with a rainbow over his head, and his face was like the sun, and his legs like pillars of fire. <sup>2</sup>He had a little scroll open in his hand. And he set his right foot on the sea, and his left foot on the land, <sup>3</sup>and called out with a loud voice, like a lion roaring. When he called out, the seven thunders sounded. <sup>4</sup>And when the seven thunders had sounded, I was about to write, but I heard a voice from heaven saying, "Seal up what the seven thunders have said, and do not write it down." <sup>5</sup>And the angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land raised his right hand to heaven <sup>6</sup>and swore by him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and what is in it, the earth and what is in it, and the sea and what is in it, that there would be no more delay, <sup>7</sup>but that in the days of the trumpet call to be sounded by the seventh angel, the mystery of God would be fulfilled, just as he announced to his servants the prophets.

<sup>8</sup>Then the voice that I had heard from heaven spoke to me again, saying, "Go, take the scroll that is open in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the land."

<sup>9</sup>So I went to the angel and told him to give me the little scroll. And he said to me, "Take and eat it; it will make your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey." <sup>10</sup>And I took the little scroll from the hand of the angel and ate it. It was sweet as honey in my mouth, but when I had eaten it my stomach was made bitter. <sup>11</sup>And I was told, "You must again prophesy about many peoples and nations and languages and kings."

Writing

Heavenly love is also noticeably strengthened by the eternal vision of the divine essence. "We will see Him," John says, "as He is" [1 John 3:2]. Similarly, Christ prays, "Father, I desire that they also, whom You have given Me, may be with Me where I am, [to see My glory]" [John 17:24]. He also says of the angels, "Their angels always see the face of My Father who is in heaven" [Matthew 18:10]. And David says, "When shall I come, that I may see the face of God?" [Psalm 42:2]; "I shall behold Your face in righteousness" [Psalm 17:15], "for with You is the fountain of life; in Your light do we see the light" [Psalm 36:9].

Now since God is love itself and reveals His essence in heaven visibly, so that angels and men behold His face, what do they behold and see in God with their pure eyes besides pure love? And what is the majestic brightness of the divine essence other than pure flames of love and brightness of love, which with great joy shines out and gives light to all the citizens of heaven? What could give joy and life to the children of God more than the dear vision of this most beloved essence?

If there is a beautiful human face on earth that can draw the eyes of many people to itself like a magnet attracts iron, and if the vision of trusted friends—parents and children, husband, wife, groom and bride—is so lovely and pleasant that it gives joy to the heart, though human beings are not love itself but only have loving tendencies toward their friends: how many hundred thousand times dearer and lovelier must the beautiful essence of God be, who is love itself, and the bright, uncovered face of our heavenly Father and of His only-begotten Son, our most-beautiful and most-friendly bridegroom Jesus Christ, as well as of the Holy Spirit in eternal life!

—Philipp Nicolai

Hymnody

God of the prophets, bless the prophets' sons;
Elijah's mantle o'er Elisha cast.

Each age its solemn task may claim but once;
Make each one nobler, stronger than the last.

—God of the Prophets, Bless the Prophets' Sons (LSB 682:1)

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and ever-living God, You have given exceedingly great and precious promises to those who trust in You. Grant us so firmly to believe in Your Son Jesus that our faith may never be found wanting; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 43:25–44:20

[Israel's Only Savior]

<sup>25</sup>“I, I am he who blots out your transgressions
for my own sake,
and I will not remember your sins.

<sup>26</sup>Put me in remembrance;
let us argue together;
set forth your case,
that you may be proved right.

<sup>27</sup>Your first father sinned,
and your mediators transgressed
against me.

<sup>28</sup>Therefore I will profane the princes
of the sanctuary,
and deliver Jacob to utter destruction
and Israel to reviling.

Israel the Lord's Chosen

<sup>44:1</sup>“But now hear, O Jacob my servant,
Israel whom I have chosen!

<sup>2</sup>Thus says the LORD who made you,
who formed you from the womb
and will help you:

Fear not, O Jacob my servant,
Jeshurun whom I have chosen.

<sup>3</sup>For I will pour water on the thirsty land,
and streams on the dry ground;
I will pour my Spirit upon your offspring,
and my blessing on your descendants.

<sup>4</sup>They shall spring up among the grass
like willows by flowing streams.

<sup>5</sup>This one will say, ‘I am the LORD’s,’ another will call on the name
of Jacob,
and another will write on his hand,
‘The LORD’s,’
and name himself
by the name of Israel.”

Besides Me There Is No God

<sup>6</sup>Thus says the LORD, the King of Israel and his Redeemer, the LORD of hosts:
“I am the first and I am the last;
besides me there is no god.

<sup>7</sup>Who is like me? Let him proclaim it.
Let him declare and set it before me,
since I appointed an ancient people.
Let them declare what is to come,
and what will happen.

<sup>8</sup>Fear not, nor be afraid;
have I not told you from of old and declared it?

And you are my witnesses!
Is there a God besides me?
There is no Rock; I know not any.”

The Folly of Idolatry

<sup>9</sup>All who fashion idols are nothing, and the things they delight in do not profit. Their witnesses neither see nor know, that they may be put to shame. <sup>10</sup>Who fashions a god or casts an idol that is profitable for nothing?

<sup>11</sup>Behold, all his companions shall be put to shame, and the craftsmen are only human.
Let them all assemble, let them stand forth.
They shall be terrified; they shall be put to shame together.

<sup>12</sup>The ironsmith takes a cutting tool and works it over the coals. He fashions it with hammers and works it with his strong arm. He becomes hungry, and his strength fails; he drinks no water and is faint. <sup>13</sup>The carpenter stretches a line; he marks it out with a pencil. He shapes it with planes and marks it with a compass. He shapes it into the figure of a man, with the beauty of a man, to dwell in a house. <sup>14</sup>He cuts down cedars, or he chooses a cypress tree or an oak and lets it grow strong among the trees of the forest.
He plants a cedar and the rain nourishes it.

<sup>15</sup>Then it becomes fuel for a man. He takes a part of it and warms himself; he kindles a fire and bakes bread. Also he makes a god and worships it; he makes it an idol and falls down before it. <sup>16</sup>Half of it he burns in the fire. Over the half he eats meat; he roasts it and is satisfied. Also he warms himself and says, “Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire!” <sup>17</sup>And the rest of it he makes into a god, his idol, and falls down to it and worships it. He prays to it and says, “Deliver me, for you are my god!”

<sup>18</sup>They know not, nor do they discern,
for he has shut their eyes, so that they cannot see, and their hearts, so that they cannot understand. <sup>19</sup>No one considers, nor is there knowledge or discernment to say, “Half of it I burned in the fire; I also baked bread on its coals; I roasted meat and have eaten. And shall I make the rest of it an abomination?

Shall I fall down before a block of wood?"

<sup>20</sup>He feeds on ashes; a deluded heart has led him astray, and he cannot deliver himself or say, "Is there not a lie in my right hand?"

New Testament Reading: Revelation 11:1–19

The Two Witnesses

<sup>1</sup>Then I was given a measuring rod like a staff, and I was told, "Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar and those who worship there, <sup>2</sup>but do not measure the court outside the temple; leave that out, for it is given over to the nations, and they will trample the holy city for forty-two months. <sup>3</sup>And I will grant authority to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth."

<sup>4</sup>These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth. <sup>5</sup>And if anyone would harm them, fire pours from their mouth and consumes their foes. If anyone would harm them, this is how he is doomed to be killed. <sup>6</sup>They have the power to shut the sky, that no rain may fall during the days of their prophesying, and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood and to strike the earth with every kind of plague, as often as they desire. <sup>7</sup>And when they have finished their testimony, the beast that rises from the bottomless pit will make war on them and conquer them and kill them, <sup>8</sup>and their dead bodies will lie in the street of the great city that symbolically is called Sodom and Egypt, where their Lord was crucified. <sup>9</sup>For three and a half days some from the peoples and tribes and languages and nations will gaze at their dead bodies and refuse to let them be placed in a tomb, <sup>10</sup>and those who dwell on the earth will rejoice over them and make merry and exchange presents, because these two prophets had been a torment to those who dwell on the earth. <sup>11</sup>But after the three and a half days a breath of life from God entered them, and they stood up on their feet, and great fear fell on those who saw them. <sup>12</sup>Then they heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, "Come up here!" And they went up to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies watched them. <sup>13</sup>And at that hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were terrified and gave glory to the God of heaven.

<sup>14</sup>The second woe has passed; behold, the third woe is soon to come.

The Seventh Trumpet

<sup>15</sup>Then the seventh angel blew his trumpet, and there were loud voices in heaven, saying, "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ, and he shall reign forever and ever." <sup>16</sup>And the twenty-four elders who sit on their thrones before God fell on their faces and worshiped God, <sup>17</sup>saying,

"We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty,

who is and who was,
for you have taken your great power
and begun to reign.

<sup>18</sup>The nations raged,
but your wrath came,
and the time for the dead to be judged,
and for rewarding your servants, the prophets and saints,
and those who fear your name,

both small and great,
and for destroying the destroyers of the earth.”

<sup>19</sup>Then God’s temple in heaven was opened, and the ark of his covenant was seen within his temple. There were flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake, and heavy hail.

Writing

The Church celebrates the triple advent (or “coming”) of Christ. First is the advent into flesh, which is despised and humble
before the world, of which Zechariah 9[:9] says, “Behold, Your King comes to you, gentle and poor, sitting upon a donkey, on a colt,
the foal of a beast of burden,” [cf.] Matthew 21[:5]. The second is the spiritual advent, which happens daily into the minds of the righteous, since He is present constantly with the Church, hears her, helps and consoles her, concerning which Christ said, John 14[:18]:
“I will not leave you orphans, but will come to you.” Again, [v. 23:] “If anyone loves Me,
We will come to him and make Our dwelling with him.” The third advent of Christ is His glorious return to judgment, concerning which Isaiah 3[:14] says, “The Lord will come into judgment.” And Matthew 24[:30] says, “And they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven, with much power and majesty.” It is useful always to consider these three advents of the Son of God—into flesh, the minds of the righteous, and for the last judgment—and to have them set forth in the Church for stirring up faith in minds, invocation, and the fear of God or repentance. St. Augustine says thus on Luke, “This time is called the Advent of the Lord for good reason: so that every believer will prepare himself and mend his ways, so that he may have strength worthily to celebrate the nativity of his God.”

—Lucas Lossius

things that are beneficial for us; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives
and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (B82)

The LORD Redeems Israel

- <sup>21</sup> Remember these things, O Jacob,
and Israel, for you are my servant;

I formed you; you are my servant;
O Israel, you will not be forgotten by me.

<sup>22</sup> I have blotted out your transgressions like a cloud

and your sins like mist;

return to me, for I have redeemed you.

<sup>23</sup> Sing, O heavens, for the LORD has done it;
shout, O depths of the earth;

break forth into singing, O mountains,
O forest, and every tree in it!

For the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
and will be glorified in Israel.

<sup>24</sup> Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer,
who formed you from the womb:

“I am the LORD, who made all things,
who alone stretched out the heavens,
who spread out the earth by myself,

<sup>25</sup> who frustrates the signs of liars
and makes fools of diviners,

who turns wise men back
and makes their knowledge foolish,

<sup>26</sup> who confirms the word of his servant
and fulfills the counsel of his messengers,

who says of Jerusalem, ‘She shall be inhabited,’
and of the cities of Judah,

‘They shall be built,
and I will raise up their ruins’;

<sup>27</sup> who says to the deep, ‘Be dry;
I will dry up your rivers’;

<sup>28</sup> who says of Cyrus, ‘He is my shepherd,
and he shall fulfill all my purpose’;

saying of Jerusalem, ‘She shall be built,’
and of the temple,
‘Your foundation shall be laid.’ ”

Cyrus, God's Instrument

<sup>45:1</sup>Thus says the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus,

whose right hand I have grasped,
to subdue nations before him
and to loose the belts of kings,

to open doors before him
that gates may not be closed:

<sup>2</sup>"I will go before you
and level the exalted places,

I will break in pieces the doors of bronze
and cut through the bars of iron,

<sup>3</sup>I will give you the treasures of darkness and the hoards in secret places,

that you may know that it is I, the LORD,
the God of Israel, who call you by your name.

<sup>4</sup>For the sake of my servant Jacob,
and Israel my chosen,

I call you by your name,
I name you, though you do not know me.

<sup>5</sup>I am the LORD, and there is no other,
besides me there is no God;
I equip you, though you do not know me,

<sup>6</sup>that people may know,
from the rising of the sun
and from the west,
that there is none besides me;
I am the LORD, and there is no other.

<sup>7</sup>I form light and create darkness,
I make well-being and create calamity,
I am the LORD, who does all these things.

<sup>8</sup>"Shower, O heavens, from above,
and let the clouds rain down
righteousness;

let the earth open, that salvation and righteousness may bear fruit;
let the earth cause them both to sprout;

I the LORD have created it.

<sup>9</sup>"Woe to him who strives with him who formed him,
a pot among earthen pots!

Does the clay say to him who forms it,
'What are you making?'
or 'Your work has no handles'?

<sup>10</sup>Woe to him who says to a father,
'What are you begetting?'
or to a woman,
'With what are you in labor?'"

<sup>11</sup>Thus says the LORD,
the Holy One of Israel,
and the one who formed him:

"Ask me of things to come;
will you command me concerning my children and the work of my hands?"

<sup>12</sup>I made the earth and created man on it;
it was my hands that stretched out the heavens,
and I commanded all their host.

<sup>13</sup>I have stirred him up in righteousness,
and I will make all his ways level;
he shall build my city
and set my exiles free,
not for price or reward,"
says the LORD of hosts. . . .

[The Lord, the Only Savior]

<sup>20</sup>"Assemble yourselves and come;
draw near together,
you survivors of the nations!

They have no knowledge
who carry about their wooden idols,
and keep on praying to a god
that cannot save.

<sup>21</sup>Declare and present your case;
let them take counsel together!

Who told this long ago?

Who declared it of old?

Was it not I, the LORD?

And there is no other god besides me,
a righteous God and a Savior;
there is none besides me.

<sup>22</sup>“Turn to me and be saved,
all the ends of the earth!

For I am God, and there is no other.

<sup>23</sup>By myself I have sworn;
from my mouth has gone out in
righteousness
a word that shall not return:

‘To me every knee shall bow,
every tongue shall swear allegiance.’

<sup>24</sup>“Only in the LORD, it shall be said of me,
are righteousness and strength;

to him shall come and be ashamed
all who were incensed against him.

<sup>25</sup>In the LORD all the offspring of Israel shall be justified and shall glory.”

New Testament Reading: Revelation 12:1–17

The Woman and the Dragon

woman who was about to give birth, so that when she bore her child he might devour it. <sup>5</sup>She gave birth to a male child, one who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron, but her child was caught up to God and to his throne, <sup>6</sup>and the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, in which she is to be nourished for 1,260 days.

Satan Thrown Down to Earth

<sup>7</sup>Now war arose in heaven, Michael and his angels fighting against the dragon. And the dragon and his angels fought back, <sup>8</sup>but he was defeated, and there was no longer any place for them in heaven. <sup>9</sup>And the great dragon was thrown down, that ancient serpent, who is called the devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world—he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. <sup>10</sup>And I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, “Now the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God and the authority of his Christ have come, for the accuser of our brothers has been thrown down, who accuses them day and night before our God. <sup>11</sup>And they have conquered him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony, for they loved not their lives even unto death. <sup>12</sup>Therefore, rejoice, O heavens and you who dwell in them! But woe to you, O earth and sea, for the devil has come down to you in great wrath, because he knows that his time is short!”

<sup>13</sup>And when the dragon saw that he had been thrown down to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. <sup>14</sup>But the woman was given the two wings of the great eagle so that she might fly from the serpent into the wilderness, to the place where she is to be nourished for a time, and times, and half a time. <sup>15</sup>The serpent poured water like a river out of his mouth after the woman, to sweep her away with a flood. <sup>16</sup>But the earth came to the help of the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river that the dragon had poured from his mouth. <sup>17</sup>Then the dragon became furious with the woman and went off to make war on the rest of her offspring, on those who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus. And he stood on the sand of the sea.

O Lord Jesus Christ. . . . Deliver your servants by Your glorious return [Titus 2:13]! The pope and his followers are done for. They will have none of You. Help us who are poor and needy, who sigh to You, and who pray to You earnestly [Romans 8:23, 26], according to the grace You have given us through Your Holy Spirit [Romans 12:3, 6], who lives and reigns with You and the Father, blessed forever. Amen.

The First Part: The Awe-Inspiring Articles on the Divine Majesty

1. The Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, three distinct persons in one divine essence and nature [Matthew 28:19], are one God, who has created heaven and earth [1 Corinthians 8:6].

2. The Father is begotten of no one; the Son is begotten of the Father [John 1:14]; the Holy Spirit proceeds from the Father and the Son [John 15:26].

3. Neither the Father nor the Holy Spirit, but the Son became man [John 1:14].

4. The Son became man in this manner: He was conceived, without the cooperation of man, by the Holy Spirit [Luke 1:34–35], and was born of the pure, holy Virgin Mary. Afterward, He suffered, died, was buried, descended to hell, rose from the dead [1

Corinthians 15:3–4], ascended to heaven [Acts 1:9–11], sits at the right hand of God [Acts 2:33], will come to judge the quick and the dead, and so on, as the Apostles' and Athanasian Creeds and our children's catechism teach.

and the First Part

Hymnody

Isaiah 'twas foretold it,
The rose I have in mind;
With Mary we behold it,
The virgin mother kind.
To show God's love aright,
She bore to us a Savior,
When half-spent was the night.

Prayer of the Day

O God, You make us glad with the yearly remembrance of the birth of Your only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ. Grant that as we joyfully receive Him as our Redeemer, we may with sure confidence behold Him when He comes to be our Judge; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (L05)

The Nativity of Our Lord

The exact date of the birth of Jesus is not known, and during the earliest centuries of the Church it seemed to have little significance. This followed the Early Church's tradition of honoring and celebrating a Christian's death as his or her birth date into eternity and the ongoing presence of Jesus. Likewise the life, work, death, and resurrection of Christ was of much greater importance to early Christians than the earthly details of His life. The earliest Church feast, Epiphany (January 6), celebrated both the birth and Baptism of Christ. However, in the fourth century great Christological controversies that questioned Christ's divinity and humanity raced throughout Christianity. By AD 336, December 25 had been established in Rome as the celebration of Christ's birth, a festival welcomed particularly by orthodox Christians in the West. From Rome, Christ's natal festival spread throughout the Western Church. In Eastern traditions of the Church, Epiphany remains the principal celebration of the birth of Jesus.

The Servant of the Lord

and give attention, you peoples from afar.

The LORD called me from the womb,
from the body of my mother
he named my name.

<sup>2</sup> He made my mouth like a sharp sword;
in the shadow of his hand he hid me;
he made me a polished arrow;
in his quiver he hid me away.

<sup>3</sup> And he said to me, “You are my servant,
Israel, in whom I will be glorified.”

<sup>4</sup> But I said, “I have labored in vain;
I have spent my strength
for nothing and vanity;
yet surely my right is with the Lord,
and my recompense with my God.”

<sup>5</sup> And now the LORD says, he who formed me from the womb
to be his servant,
to bring Jacob back to him;
and that Israel might be gathered
to him—

for I am honored in the eyes of the LORD, and my God has become my strength—

<sup>6</sup>he says:

“It is too light a thing that you should be my servant
to raise up the tribes of Jacob
and to bring back the preserved of Israel;

I will make you as a light for the nations,
that my salvation may reach
to the end of the earth.”

<sup>7</sup>Thus says the LORD,
the Redeemer of Israel and his Holy One,

to one deeply despised,
abhorred by the nation,

the servant of rulers:

“Kings shall see and arise;
princes, and they shall prostrate
themselves;

because of the LORD, who is faithful,
the Holy One of Israel,
who has chosen you.”

The Restoration of Israel

<sup>8</sup>Thus says the LORD:

“In a time of favor I have answered you;
in a day of salvation I have helped you;

I will keep you and give you
as a covenant to the people, to establish the land,

to apportion the desolate heritages,

<sup>9</sup>saying to the prisoners, ‘Come out,’
to those who are in darkness, ‘Appear.’

They shall feed along the ways;
on all bare heights shall be their pasture;

<sup>10</sup>they shall not hunger or thirst, neither scorching wind nor sun shall strike them,

for he who has pity on them will lead them,
and by springs of water will guide them.

<sup>11</sup>And I will make all my mountains a road,
and my highways shall be raised up.

<sup>12</sup>Behold, these shall come from afar,
and behold, these from the north and
from the west,
and these from the land of Syene.”

<sup>13</sup>Sing for joy, O heavens, and exult, O earth;
break forth, O mountains, into singing!

For the LORD has comforted his people
and will have compassion on his afflicted.

<sup>14</sup>But Zion said, “The LORD has forsaken me;
my Lord has forgotten me.”

<sup>15</sup>“Can a woman forget her nursing child, that she should have no compassion on the son of her womb?

Even these may forget,
yet I will not forget you.

<sup>16</sup>Behold, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands;
your walls are continually before me.

<sup>17</sup>Your builders make haste;
your destroyers and those who laid
you waste go out from you.

<sup>18</sup>Lift up your eyes around and see;
they all gather, they come to you.

As I live, declares the LORD,
you shall put them all on
as an ornament;
you shall bind them on as a bride does.

The Genealogy of Jesus Christ

<sup>1</sup>The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

<sup>2</sup>Abraham was the father of Isaac, and Isaac the father of Jacob, and Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers, <sup>3</sup>and Judah the father of Perez and Zerah by Tamar, and Perez the father of Hezron, and Hezron the father of Ram, <sup>4</sup>and Ram the father of Amminadab, and Amminadab the father of Nahshon, and Nahshon the father of Salmon,<sup>5</sup> and Salmon the father of Boaz by Rahab, and Boaz the father of Obed by Ruth, and Obed the father of Jesse,<sup>6</sup> and Jesse the father of David the king.

And David was the father of Solomon by the wife of Uriah,<sup>7</sup> and Solomon the father of Rehoboam, and Rehoboam the father of Abijah, and Abijah the father of Asaph,<sup>8</sup> and Asaph the father of Jehoshaphat, and Jehoshaphat the father of Joram, and Joram the father of Uzziah,<sup>9</sup> and Uzziah the father of Jotham, and Jotham the father of Ahaz, and Ahaz the father of Hezekiah,<sup>10</sup> and Hezekiah the father of Manasseh, and Manasseh the father of Amos, and Amos the father of Josiah,<sup>11</sup> and Josiah the father of Jechoniah and his brothers, at the time of the deportation to Babylon.

<sup>12</sup>And after the deportation to Babylon: Jechoniah was the father of Shealtiel, and Shealtiel the father of Zerubbabel,<sup>13</sup> and Zerubbabel the father of Abiud, and Abiud the father of Eliakim, and Eliakim the father of Azor,<sup>14</sup> and Azor the father of Zadok, and Zadok the father of Achim, and Achim the father of Eliud,<sup>15</sup> and Eliud the father of Eleazar, and Eleazar the father of Matthan, and Matthan the father of Jacob,<sup>16</sup> and Jacob the father of Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom Jesus was born, who is called Christ.

<sup>17</sup>So all the generations from Abraham to David were fourteen generations, and from David to the deportation to Babylon fourteen generations, and from the deportation to Babylon to the Christ fourteen generations.

Writing

Man was ensnared by the assault of the archfiend and broke his Creator's command, and was stripped of grace and put off his confidence with God, and covered himself with the harshness of a toilsome life (for this is the meaning of the fig leaves). He was clothed about with death, that is, mortality and the grossness of flesh (for this is what the garment of skins signifies) and was banished from Paradise by God's just judgment, and condemned to death, and made subject to corruption. Yet in His pity, God, who gave man his being and who in His graciousness bestowed on him a life of happiness, did not disregard man. . . . For it was sin that brought death like a wild and savage beast into the world to the ruin of the human life. [But the Redeemer was] without sin and not made liable through sin to death. . . . For the very Creator and Lord Himself undertakes a struggle on behalf of the work of His own hands. . . . And since the enemy snares man by the hope of Godhead, he himself is snared in turn by the screen of flesh, and thus the goodness and wisdom, the justice and might of God are revealed. God's goodness is revealed in that He did not disregard the frailty of His own handiwork. He was moved with compassion for him in his fall and stretched forth His hand to him so that in the exercise of His justice, when man was overcome, the tyrant would not have another victory. God did not snatch man by might from death, but in His goodness and justice He made him, who had become the slave of death through his sins, once more a conqueror. God rescued man, like by like—most difficult though it seemed—and His wisdom is seen in His devising the most fitting solution of the difficulty. For by the good pleasure of our God and Father, the only-begotten Son and Word of God and God . . . bent the heavens and descended to earth. . . . What greater thing is there, than that God should become man? And the Word became flesh without being changed, of the Holy Spirit, and Mary the holy and ever-virgin one, the mother of God. And He acts as mediator between God and man, He, the only lover of man, conceived in the Virgin's chaste womb without will or desire or any connection with man or pleasurable generation, but through the Holy Spirit and the first offspring of Adam. And He, who is like us, becomes obedient to the Father and finds a remedy for our disobedience in what He had assumed from us, and became a pattern of obedience to us without which it is not possible to obtain salvation.

—John of Damascus

Hymnody

What Adam lost, none could reclaim,
And Paradise was barred Until the second Adam came
To mend what sin had marred.
For when the time was full and right
God sent His only Son;
He came to us as life and light
And our redemption won.

—O Sing of Christ (LSB 362:2)

Prayer of the Day

Most merciful God, You gave Your eternal Word to become incarnate of the pure Virgin. Grant Your people grace to put away fleshly lusts, that they may be ready for Your visitation; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (L07)

The Nativity of Our Lord

Advent prepared us for the coming of the Savior, the fulfillment of the promise first made in the Garden of Eden in response to the sin of Adam and Eve. Christmas is the day we celebrate that hope fulfilled. Jesus is the only hope of the world, because Jesus is the only one who could set us free from our sins. The commemoration of the Nativity of Our Lord puts before us once again the story of the long-awaited King who left His heavenly throne to enter time and become human like one of us. When God wanted to save you from your sins, He did not send a prophet or even an angel: He sent His own Son into human flesh just like ours.

Old Testament Reading:

Isaiah 49:22–26; 50:4–51:8, 12–16

[The Restoration of Israel]

<sup>22</sup>Thus says the Lord GOD:

“Behold, I will lift up my hand to the nations,
and raise my signal to the peoples;
and they shall bring your sons in their bosom,
and your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders.

<sup>23</sup>Kings shall be your foster fathers,
and their queens your nursing mothers.

With their faces to the ground
they shall bow down to you,
and lick the dust of your feet.

Then you will know that I am the LORD;
those who wait for me
shall not be put to shame.”

<sup>24</sup>Can the prey be taken from the mighty,
or the captives of a tyrant be rescued?

<sup>25</sup>For thus says the LORD:

“Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken,
and the prey of the tyrant be rescued,

for I will contend with those who contend with you,
and I will save your children.

<sup>26</sup>I will make your oppressors
eat their own flesh,
and they shall be drunk
with their own blood as with wine.

Then all flesh shall know that I am the LORD your Savior,
and your Redeemer,
the Mighty One of Jacob.” . . .

[Israel's Sin and the Servant's Obedience]

<sup>4</sup>The Lord GOD has given me
the tongue of those who are taught,
that I may know how to sustain with a word
him who is weary.

Morning by morning he awakens;
he awakens my ear
to hear as those who are taught.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord GOD has opened my ear,
and I was not rebellious;
I turned not backward.

<sup>6</sup>I gave my back to those who strike, and my cheeks to those who pull out the beard;

I hid not my face
from disgrace and spitting.

<sup>7</sup>But the Lord GOD helps me;
therefore I have not been disgraced;
therefore I have set my face like a flint,
and I know that I shall not be put
to shame.

<sup>8</sup>He who vindicates me is near.

Who will contend with me?
Let us stand up together.

Who is my adversary?
Let him come near to me.

<sup>9</sup>Behold, the Lord GOD helps me;
who will declare me guilty?

Behold, all of them will wear out
like a garment;
the moth will eat them up.

<sup>10</sup>Who among you fears the LORD
and obeys the voice of his servant?

Let him who walks in darkness and has no light

trust in the name of the LORD and rely on his God.

<sup>11</sup>Behold, all you who kindle a fire,
who equip yourselves
with burning torches!

Walk by the light of your fire,
and by the torches that you have kindled!

This you have from my hand:
you shall lie down in torment.

The LORD'S Comfort for Zion

<sup>51:14</sup>Listen to me, you who pursue
righteousness,
you who seek the LORD:

look to the rock from which you were hewn,
and to the quarry from which you were dug.

<sup>2</sup>Look to Abraham your father
and to Sarah who bore you;
for he was but one when I called him,
that I might bless him and multiply him.

<sup>3</sup>For the LORD comforts Zion;
he comforts all her waste places
and makes her wilderness like Eden,
her desert like the garden of the Lord;
joy and gladness will be found in her,
thanksgiving and the voice of song.

<sup>4</sup>Give attention to me, my people,
and give ear to me, my nation;
for a law will go out from me,
and I will set my justice
for a light to the peoples.

<sup>5</sup>My righteousness draws near,
my salvation has gone out,
and my arms will judge the peoples;
the coastlands hope for me,
and for my arm they wait.

<sup>6</sup>Lift up your eyes to the heavens,
and look at the earth beneath;
for the heavens vanish like smoke,
the earth will wear out like a garment,

and they who dwell in it will die
in like manner;

but my salvation will be forever,
and my righteousness will never be dismayed.

<sup>7</sup>Listen to me, you who know righteousness,
the people in whose heart is my law;
fear not the reproach of man,
nor be dismayed at their revilings.

<sup>8</sup>For the moth will eat them up like a garment,
and the worm will eat them like wool;
but my righteousness will be forever,
and my salvation to all generations." . . .

<sup>12</sup>"I, I am he who comforts you;
who are you that you are afraid
of man who dies,
of the son of man who is made like grass,

<sup>13</sup>and have forgotten the LORD, your Maker, who stretched out the heavens
and laid the foundations of the earth, and you fear continually all the day
because of the wrath of the oppressor,
when he sets himself to destroy?

And where is the wrath of the oppressor?

<sup>14</sup>He who is bowed down shall speedily be released;
he shall not die and go down to the pit,
neither shall his bread be lacking.

<sup>15</sup>I am the LORD your God, who stirs up the sea
so that its waves roar—
the LORD of hosts is his name.

<sup>16</sup>And I have put my words in your mouth and covered you in the shadow of my hand,
establishing the heavens
and laying the foundations of the earth, and saying to Zion, 'You are my people.' "

Matthew 1:18–25

The Birth of Jesus Christ

<sup>18</sup>Now the birth of Jesus Christ took place in this way. When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found to be with child from the Holy Spirit. <sup>19</sup>And her husband Joseph, being a just man and unwilling to put her to shame, resolved to divorce her quietly. <sup>20</sup>But as he considered these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, “Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary as your wife, for that which is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. <sup>21</sup>She will bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins.” <sup>22</sup>All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had spoken by the prophet:

<sup>23</sup>“Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son,
and they shall call his name Immanuel”

(which means, God with us). <sup>24</sup>When Joseph woke from sleep, he did as the angel of the Lord commanded him: he took his wife, <sup>25</sup>but knew her not until she had given birth to a son. And he called his name Jesus.

Writing

Reverent hearts, it is an old, laudable custom to commemorate St. Stephen on the second day of Christmas. For just as the innocent children were the first martyrs after Christ’s birth, so also St. Stephen was the first after Christ’s ascension to praise our glorious King Jesus with his blood. Our predecessors used to say, Heri natus est Christus in mundo, ut hodie Stephanus nasceretur in coelo. “Yesterday Christ was born in the world, so that today Stephen would be born in heaven.” This is speaking rightly and truly of the fruit of Jesus Christ’s birth. If the Christ Child had not been born, the entire world would be lost. Thus Stephen’s sleep in death and entrance through the open heaven to the glory of God in eternal life will show us well what great usefulness and goodness we have from the incarnation and birth of the Child Jesus.

Stephen means a “garland” or a “crown.” Think here of our beautiful Christmas consolation. Whoever believes in the name of Jesus is righteous before God and can expect a glorious crown. Devout Christians are “virgins” before God (Matthew 25:1; Revelation 14:4) and have four different virgin garlands. The first is the garland of righteousness gifted. Second is the garland of righteousness begun. The third is the garland of all kinds of cross and thorns. The fourth is the glorious garland of perfect righteousness.

The ancient teachers of the Church say that the Lord Jesus loved Stephen in life, in death, and after death. First, in life, for He filled him with His Spirit, with heavenly wisdom, and faith unfeigned. Second, in death, for He offered him heaven opened and waited for his soul. Third, after death, for He gave him the garland of glory and set up for him a famous commemoration until the Last Day. These are the beautiful flowers of Christmas. Those who truly love our glorious King Jesus Christ shall be certain of God’s grace in life, in death, and after death. They shall not die, but live, and proclaim the work of the Lord.

Prayer of the Day

Heavenly Father, in the midst of our sufferings for the sake of Christ grant us grace to follow the example of the first martyr, Stephen, that we also may look to the One who suffered and was crucified on our behalf and pray for those who do us wrong; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F03)

St. Stephen, Martyr

St. Stephen, “a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit” (Acts 6:5), was one of the Church’s first seven deacons. He was appointed by the Church leaders to distribute food and other necessities to the poor in the growing Christian community in Jerusalem, thereby giving the apostles more time for their public ministry of proclamation (Acts 6:2–5). He and the other deacons apparently were expected not only to wait on tables but also to teach and preach. When some of his colleagues became jealous of him, they brought Stephen to the Sanhedrin and falsely charged him with blaspheming against Moses (Acts 6:9–14). Stephen’s confession of faith, along with his rebuke of the members of the Sanhedrin for rejecting their Messiah and being responsible for His death, so infuriated them that they dragged him out of the city and stoned him to death. Stephen is honored as the Church’s first martyr and for his words of commendation and forgiveness as he lay dying: “Lord Jesus, receive my spirit” and “Lord, do not hold this sin against them” (Acts 7:59–60).

[The LORD's Comfort for Zion]

<sup>17</sup>Wake yourself, wake yourself,
stand up, O Jerusalem,
you who have drunk from the hand
of the LORD

the cup of his wrath,
who have drunk to the dregs
the bowl, the cup of staggering.

<sup>18</sup>There is none to guide her among all the sons she has borne;
there is none to take her by the hand
among all the sons
she has brought up.

<sup>19</sup>These two things have happened
to you—

who will console you?—
devastation and destruction,
famine and sword;

who will comfort you?

<sup>20</sup>Your sons have fainted;
they lie at the head of every street
like an antelope in a net;
they are full of the wrath of the Lord,
the rebuke of your God.

<sup>21</sup>Therefore hear this, you who are afflicted,
who are drunk, but not with wine:

<sup>22</sup>Thus says your Lord, the LORD, your God who pleads the cause of his people:

“Behold, I have taken from your hand
the cup of staggering;
the bowl of my wrath
you shall drink no more;
<sup>23</sup>and I will put it into the hand
of your tormentors,
who have said to you, ‘Bow down, that we may pass over’;
and you have made your back
like the ground
and like the street for them to pass over.”

The LORD's Coming Salvation

<sup>52:1</sup>Awake, awake,
put on your strength, O Zion;
put on your beautiful garments,
O Jerusalem, the holy city;
for there shall no more come into you
the uncircumcised and the unclean.
<sup>2</sup>Shake yourself from the dust and arise;
be seated, O Jerusalem;
loose the bonds from your neck,
O captive daughter of Zion.

<sup>3</sup>For thus says the LORD: “You were sold for nothing, and you shall be redeemed without money.” <sup>4</sup>For thus says the Lord GOD: “My people went down at the first into Egypt to sojourn there, and the Assyrian oppressed them for nothing. <sup>5</sup>Now therefore what have I here,” declares the LORD, “seeing that my people are taken away for nothing?
Their rulers wail,” declares the LORD, “and continually all the day my name is despised.
<sup>6</sup>Therefore my people shall know my name.
Therefore in that day they shall know that it is
I who speak; here am I.”

<sup>7</sup>How beautiful upon the mountains
are the feet of him
who brings good news,

who publishes peace, who brings good news of happiness,
 who publishes salvation,
 who says to Zion, “Your God reigns.”

<sup>8</sup>The voice of your watchmen—
 they lift up their voice;
 together they sing for joy;
 for eye to eye they see the return of the LORD to Zion.

<sup>9</sup>Break forth together into singing,
 you waste places of Jerusalem,
 for the LORD has comforted his people;
 he has redeemed Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup>The LORD has bared his holy arm
 before the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see
 the salvation of our God.

<sup>11</sup>Depart, depart, go out from there;
 touch no unclean thing;
 go out from the midst of her;
 purify yourselves,
 you who bear the vessels of the LORD.

<sup>12</sup>For you shall not go out in haste,
 and you shall not go in flight,
 for the LORD will go before you,
 and the God of Israel
 will be your rear guard.

The Visit of the Wise Men

<sup>1</sup>Now after Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, wise men from the east came to Jerusalem, <sup>2</sup>saying, “Where is he who has been born king of the Jews? For we saw his star when it rose and have come to worship him.” <sup>3</sup>When Herod the king heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him; <sup>4</sup>and assembling all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ was to be born. <sup>5</sup>They told him, “In Bethlehem of Judea, for so it is written by the prophet:

“ ‘And you, O Bethlehem,
 in the land of Judah,
 are by no means least among
 the rulers of Judah;
 for from you shall come a ruler
 who will shepherd my people Israel.’ ”

<sup>7</sup>Then Herod summoned the wise men secretly and ascertained from them what time the star had appeared. <sup>8</sup>And he sent them to Bethlehem, saying, “Go and search diligently for the child, and when you have found him, bring me word, that I too may come and worship him.” <sup>9</sup>After listening to the king, they went on their way. And behold, the star that they had seen when it rose went before them until it came to rest over the place where the child was. <sup>10</sup>When they saw the star, they rejoiced exceedingly with great joy. <sup>11</sup>And going into the house they saw the child with Mary his mother, and they fell down and worshiped him. Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh. <sup>12</sup>And being warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed to their own country by another way.

Writing

Give no opportunity to the heathen, lest the godly many be blasphemed because of the foolish few. For, “woe to him through whose foolishness My name is blasphemed among any people” [cf. Isaiah 52:5]. Therefore, be deaf whenever someone speaks to you apart from Jesus Christ, who is of the line of David, who is of Mary, who was truly born, both ate and drank, truly suffered under Pontius Pilate, was truly crucified and died, while those in heaven and on the earth and under the earth witnessed it; who also truly was raised from the dead, His Father having raised Him; this one, His Father, will in the same way, in Christ Jesus, raise us who believe in Him, without whom we do not have true life.

But if, as certain atheists, that is, unbelievers, say He only appeared to suffer—they themselves only appear to be!—why am I a prisoner? Why indeed do I pray to fight with the beasts? If so, I would be dying for no reason—what’s more I would then be lying about the Lord.

Therefore, flee the evil offshoots that bear deadly fruit; if someone tastes it, he dies immediately. For these are not the planting of the Father. For if they were, they would show themselves to be branches of the cross, and their fruit would be incorruptible; through the cross, by His suffering, He called you to be His members, since the head is not able to be born without members.

—Ignatius of Antioch

Prayer of the Day

Merciful Lord, cast the bright beams of Your light upon Your Church that we, being instructed in the doctrine of Your blessed apostle and evangelist John, may come to the light of everlasting life; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F04)

St. John, Apostle and Evangelist

St. John was a son of Zebedee and brother of James the Elder (whose festival day is July 25). John was among the first disciples to be called by Jesus (Matthew 4:18–22) and became known as “the disciple whom Jesus loved,” as he refers to himself in the Gospel that bears his name (e.g., John 21:20). Of the Twelve, John alone did not forsake Jesus in the hours of His suffering and death. With the faithful women, he stood at the cross, where our Lord made him the guardian of His mother. After Pentecost, John spent his ministry in Jerusalem and at Ephesus, where tradition says he was bishop. He wrote the fourth Gospel, the three Epistles that bear his name, and the Book of Revelation. Especially memorable in his Gospel are the account of the wedding at Cana (John 2:1–12), the “Gospel in a nutshell” (John 3:16), Jesus’ saying about the Good Shepherd (John 10:11–16), the raising of Lazarus from the dead (John 11), and Jesus’ encounter with Mary Magdalene on Easter morning (John 20:11–18). According to tradition, John was banished to the island of Patmos (off the coast of Asia Minor) by the Roman emperor Domitian. John lived to a very old age, surviving all the apostles, and died at Ephesus around AD 100.

He Was Wounded for Our Transgressions

- <sup>13</sup> Behold, my servant shall act wisely;
he shall be high and lifted up,
and shall be exalted.
- <sup>14</sup> As many were astonished at you—
his appearance was so marred, beyond human semblance,
and his form beyond that of the children
of mankind—
- <sup>15</sup> so shall he sprinkle many nations;
kings shall shut their mouths
because of him;

for that which has not been told them they see,
and that which they have not heard
they understand.

<sup>53:1</sup> Who has believed what he has heard from us?

And to whom has the arm of the LORD
been revealed?

<sup>2</sup> For he grew up before him like a young plant,

and like a root out of dry ground;

he had no form or majesty
that we should look at him,

and no beauty that we should desire him.

<sup>3</sup> He was despised and rejected by men;
a man of sorrows,
and acquainted with grief;

and as one from whom men hide their faces
he was despised,
and we esteemed him not.

<sup>4</sup> Surely he has borne our griefs
and carried our sorrows;
yet we esteemed him stricken,
smitten by God, and afflicted.

<sup>5</sup> But he was wounded for our transgressions;
he was crushed for our iniquities;
upon him was the chastisement
that brought us peace,
and with his stripes we are healed.

<sup>6</sup> All we like sheep have gone astray;
we have turned—every one—
to his own way;
and the LORD has laid on him
the iniquity of us all.

<sup>7</sup> He was oppressed, and he was afflicted,
yet he opened not his mouth;
like a lamb that is led to the slaughter,
and like a sheep that before its shearers
is silent,
so he opened not his mouth.

<sup>8</sup>By oppression and judgment
he was taken away;
and as for his generation, who considered that he was cut off out of the land
of the living,
stricken for the transgression
of my people?

<sup>9</sup>And they made his grave with the wicked
and with a rich man in his death,
although he had done no violence,
and there was no deceit in his mouth.

<sup>10</sup>Yet it was the will of the Lord to crush him;
he has put him to grief;
when his soul makes an offering for guilt,
he shall see his offspring;
he shall prolong his days;
the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand.

<sup>11</sup>Out of the anguish of his soul
he shall see and be satisfied;
by his knowledge shall the righteous one,
my servant,
make many to be accounted righteous,
and he shall bear their iniquities.

<sup>12</sup>Therefore I will divide him a portion with the many,
and he shall divide the spoil
with the strong,

because he poured out his soul to death
and was numbered with the transgressors;
yet he bore the sin of many,
and makes intercession for the
transgressors.

The Eternal Covenant of Peace

<sup>54:1</sup>“Sing, O barren one, who did not bear;
break forth into singing and cry aloud,
you who have not been in labor!
For the children of the desolate one will be more than the children of her who is married,”
says the LORD.

<sup>2</sup>“Enlarge the place of your tent,
and let the curtains of your habitations
be stretched out;

do not hold back; lengthen your cords
and strengthen your stakes.

<sup>3</sup>For you will spread abroad to the right and to the left,
and your offspring will possess
the nations
and will people the desolate cities.

<sup>4</sup>“Fear not, for you will not be ashamed;
be not confounded, for you will not be disgraced;

for you will forget the shame of your youth,
and the reproach of your widowhood you will remember no more.

<sup>5</sup>For your Maker is your husband,
the LORD of hosts is his name;
and the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer,
the God of the whole earth he is called.

<sup>6</sup>For the LORD has called you like a wife deserted and grieved in spirit,
like a wife of youth when she is cast off,
says your God.

<sup>7</sup>For a brief moment I deserted you,
but with great compassion
I will gather you.

<sup>8</sup>In overflowing anger for a moment
I hid my face from you,
but with everlasting love I will have compassion on you,”
says the LORD, your Redeemer.

<sup>9</sup>“This is like the days of Noah to me:
as I swore that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth,
so I have sworn that I will not be angry
with you,
and will not rebuke you.

<sup>10</sup>For the mountains may depart
and the hills be removed,

but my steadfast love shall not depart from you,
and my covenant of peace shall not be removed,”
says the LORD, who has compassion on you.

The Flight to Egypt

<sup>13</sup>Now when they had departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, “Rise, take the child and his mother, and flee to Egypt, and remain there until I tell you, for Herod is about to search for the child, to destroy him.” <sup>14</sup>And he rose and took the child and his mother by night and departed to Egypt <sup>15</sup>and remained there until the death of Herod. This was to fulfill what the Lord had spoken by the prophet, “Out of Egypt I called my son.”

Herod Kills the Children

<sup>16</sup>Then Herod, when he saw that he had been tricked by the wise men, became furious, and he sent and killed all the male children in Bethlehem and in all that region who were two years old or under, according to the time that he had ascertained from the wise men. <sup>17</sup>Then was fulfilled what was spoken by the prophet Jeremiah:

<sup>18</sup>“A voice was heard in Ramah,
weeping and loud lamentation,
Rachel weeping for her children;
she refused to be comforted, because they are no more.”

The Return to Nazareth

mother and go to the land of Israel, for those who sought the child’s life are dead.” <sup>21</sup>And he rose and took the child and his mother and went to the land of Israel. <sup>22</sup>But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judea in place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there, and being warned in a dream he withdrew to the district of Galilee. <sup>23</sup>And he went and lived in a city called Nazareth, that what was spoken by the prophets might be fulfilled: “He shall be called a Nazarene.”

Writing

We resist evil with the ministry of Word and sword, and yet, the evils which cannot be averted we bear to our great advantage but to their detriment and destruction.

In regard to this line of thought there is also a celebrated dictum of Gregory: “The ungodly do good to us by doing evil.” And Augustine says of the infants slain by Herod that an enemy with his whole strength and all the resources of his kingdom could not have benefited the children more than by killing them.

Accordingly, God humbles those who are His to exalt them; He kills them to make them alive; He confounds them to glorify them; He makes them subject to raise them up.

When I am about to depart from this life, I support myself with this consolation that I believe in God’s Son. And yet I am buried; I am eaten by worms; I am consumed by the most foul rottenness, as Job says (Job 17:14): “I said to the rottenness, ‘You are my father,’ and to the worms, ‘My mother,’ or ‘My sister.’” Here I do not discern God’s plan, that although I die and rot away, I must at some time be revived. But God has promised and said (cf. John 14:19): “You will live, for I live, and you will live. I am the Lord your God!” How? In eternal life and with a more beautiful and brighter body than the body of the sun. At present I do not see or feel this, but I believe it and suffer this very short delay. For this life has already been prepared, and in the meantime the crown of the kingdom and glory is being prepared “which the Lord will give me on that Day, the righteous Judge,” as Paul says (2 Tim. 4:8), “and not only to me, but also to those who love His coming.”

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, the martyred innocents of Bethlehem showed forth Your praise not by speaking but by dying. Put to death in us all that is in conflict with Your will that our lives may bear witness to the faith we profess with our lips; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F05)

The Holy Innocents, Martyrs

Matthew’s Gospel tells of King Herod’s vicious plot against the infant Jesus after being “tricked” by the Wise Men. Threatened by the one “born King of the Jews,” Herod murdered all the children in and around Bethlehem who were two years old or younger (Matthew 2:16–18). These “innocents,” commemorated just three days after the celebration of Jesus’ birth, remind us not only of the terrible brutality of which human beings are capable but more significantly of the persecution Jesus endured from the beginning of His earthly life. Although Jesus’ life was providentially spared at this time, many years later, another ruler, Pontius Pilate, would sentence the innocent Jesus to death.

The Compassion of the LORD

come to the waters;
and he who has no money,
come, buy and eat!

Come, buy wine and milk
without money and without price.

<sup>2</sup>Why do you spend your money

my steadfast, sure love for David.

<sup>4</sup>Behold, I made him a witness to the peoples,
a leader and commander for the peoples.

<sup>5</sup>Behold, you shall call a nation
that you do not know,
and a nation that did not know
you shall run to you,

because of the LORD your God,
and of the Holy One of Israel,
for he has glorified you.

<sup>6</sup>“Seek the LORD while he may be found;
call upon him while he is near;

<sup>7</sup>let the wicked forsake his way,
and the unrighteous man his thoughts;

let him return to the LORD, that he may have compassion on him,
and to our God,
for he will abundantly pardon.

<sup>8</sup>For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways,
declares the LORD.

<sup>9</sup>For as the heavens are higher than the earth,
so are my ways higher than your ways
and my thoughts than your thoughts.

<sup>10</sup>“For as the rain and the snow come down from heaven
and do not return there but water the
earth,

making it bring forth and sprout,
giving seed to the sower
and bread to the eater,

<sup>11</sup>so shall my word be that goes out
from my mouth;
it shall not return to me empty,

but it shall accomplish that which I purpose,
and shall succeed in the thing for which I sent it.

<sup>12</sup>“For you shall go out in joy
and be led forth in peace;
the mountains and the hills before you shall break forth into singing, and all the trees of the field
shall clap their hands.

<sup>13</sup>Instead of the thorn shall come up the cypress;
instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle;

and it shall make a name for the LORD,
an everlasting sign that shall not

Dedication to Theophilus

<sup>1</sup>Inasmuch as many have undertaken to compile a narrative of the things that have been accomplished among us, <sup>2</sup>just as those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word have delivered them to us, <sup>3</sup>it seemed good to me also, having followed all things closely for some time past, to write an orderly account for you, most excellent Theophilus, <sup>4</sup>that you may have certainty concerning the things you have been taught.

Birth of John the Baptist Foretold

<sup>5</sup>In the days of Herod, king of Judea, there was a priest named Zechariah, of the division of Abijah. And he had a wife from the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. <sup>6</sup>And they were both righteous before God, walking blamelessly in all the commandments and statutes of the Lord. <sup>7</sup>But they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren, and both were advanced in years.

<sup>8</sup>Now while he was serving as priest before God when his division was on duty, <sup>9</sup>according to the custom of the priesthood, he was chosen by lot to enter the temple of the Lord and burn incense. <sup>10</sup>And the whole multitude of the people were praying outside at the hour of incense. <sup>11</sup>And there appeared to him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. <sup>12</sup>And Zechariah was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. <sup>13</sup>But the angel said to him, "Do not be afraid, Zechariah, for your prayer has been heard, and your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you shall call his name John. <sup>14</sup>And you will have joy and gladness, and many will rejoice at his birth, <sup>15</sup>for he will be great before the Lord. And he must not drink wine or strong drink, and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. <sup>16</sup>And he will turn many of the children of Israel to the Lord their God, <sup>17</sup>and he will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready for the Lord a people prepared."

<sup>18</sup>And Zechariah said to the angel, "How shall I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife is advanced in years." <sup>19</sup>And the angel answered him, "I am Gabriel. I stand in the presence of God, and I was sent to speak to you and to bring you this good news.

<sup>20</sup>And behold, you will be silent and unable to speak until the day that these things take place, because you did not believe my words, which will be fulfilled in their time." <sup>21</sup>And the people were waiting for Zechariah, and they were wondering at his delay in the temple. <sup>22</sup>And when he came out, he was unable to speak to them, and they realized that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he kept making signs to them and remained mute. <sup>23</sup>And when his time of service was ended, he went to his home.

<sup>24</sup>After these days his wife Elizabeth conceived, and for five months she kept herself hidden, saying, <sup>25</sup>"Thus the Lord has done for me in the days when he looked on me, to take away my reproach among people."

Writing

"God became Man that man might become God!" This truth, cast in parallel phrases, summarized the Christmas mystery to the Christians of old. It impinged itself deeply in their spirituality; in almost identical words the truth occurs frequently in the Fathers and in ancient liturgical texts. God assumed a human nature to effect man's participation in the divine nature; God became a Child that we might become children of God. The birthday of Christ inaugurates our divine birth. With Christ we were born God's children. God became Man! This truth is utterly incomprehensible to our puny human minds! That the eternal God, whom heaven and earth cannot contain, who bears the world in His hand as a nutshell, before whom a thousand years are as one day—that this eternal, omnipotent God should become Man! Would it not have proved His loving mercy had He appeared for a mere moment in the splendor of His majesty, amid thunder and lightening, as once on Sinai? No! Such would have shown far too little of His love and kindness. He wanted to be like us, to become a child of man, a poor child of poorest people. He wished to be born, in a cave, in a strange land, in hostile surroundings. Cold wind, hard straw, dumb animals—these were there to greet Him. The scene fills with amazement. What can we do, other than fall down in silence and adore! God put on the beggar's garb, became a tiny, crying Babe in order to offer man His divinity. In paradise, a fallen angel had promised: "Eat of this fruit and you will be like God." Man ate and became a prisoner of hell. On Christmas night another angel, the Church, stands before man, offers him a Food and says: "Eat of this and you will be like God." For the divine Food, the Flesh of the incarnate Son of God, makes us "partakers of the divine nature."

David

David, the greatest of Israel's kings, ruled from about 1010 to 970 BC. The events of his life are found in 1 Samuel 16 through 1 Kings 2 and in 1 Chronicles 10–29. David was also gifted musically. He was skilled in playing the lyre and the author of no fewer than seventy-three psalms, including the beloved Psalm 23. His public and private character displayed a mixture of good (for example, his defeat of the giant Goliath [1 Samuel 17]) and evil (as in his adultery with Uriah's wife, followed by his murder of Uriah [2 Samuel 11]). David's greatness lay in his fierce loyalty to God as Israel's military and political leader, coupled with his willingness to acknowledge his sins and ask for God's forgiveness (2 Samuel 12; see also Psalm 51). It was under David's leadership that the people of Israel were united into a single nation with Jerusalem as its capital city.

<sup>1</sup>“Cry aloud; do not hold back;
lift up your voice like a trumpet;
declare to my people their transgression,
to the house of Jacob their sins.

<sup>2</sup>Yet they seek me daily
and delight to know my ways,
as if they were a nation that did
righteousness

and did not forsake the judgment of their God;
they ask of me righteous judgments;
they delight to draw near to God.

<sup>3</sup>“Why have we fasted, and you see it not?
Why have we humbled ourselves,
and you take no knowledge of it?”
Behold, in the day of your fast you seek your own pleasure,
and oppress all your workers.

<sup>4</sup>Behold, you fast only to quarrel and to fight
and to hit with a wicked fist.

Fasting like yours this day will not make your voice to be heard on high.

<sup>5</sup>Is such the fast that I choose,
a day for a person to humble
himself?

Is it to bow down his head like a reed,
and to spread sackcloth and ashes
under him?

Will you call this a fast,
and a day acceptable to the LORD?

<sup>6</sup>“Is not this the fast that I choose:
to loose the bonds of wickedness,
to undo the straps of the yoke,
to let the oppressed go free,
and to break every yoke?

<sup>7</sup>Is it not to share your bread with the hungry
and bring the homeless poor
into your house;
when you see the naked, to cover him,
and not to hide yourself from your own flesh?
<sup>8</sup>Then shall your light break forth
like the dawn,
and your healing shall spring up
speedily;
your righteousness shall go before you;
the glory of the LORD shall be your rear guard.
<sup>9</sup>Then you shall call, and the LORD
will answer;
you shall cry, and he will say,
'Here I am.'
If you take away the yoke
from your midst,
the pointing of the finger,
and speaking wickedness,
<sup>10</sup>if you pour yourself out for the hungry and satisfy the desire of the afflicted,
then shall your light rise in the darkness
and your gloom be as the noonday.
<sup>11</sup>And the LORD will guide you continually and satisfy your desire in scorched places
and make your bones strong;
and you shall be like a watered garden,
like a spring of water,
whose waters do not fail.
<sup>12</sup>And your ancient ruins shall be rebuilt;
you shall raise up the foundations of many generations;
you shall be called the repairer
of the breach,
the restorer of streets to dwell in.

<sup>13</sup>"If you turn back your foot from the Sabbath,
from doing your pleasure
on my holy day,
and call the Sabbath a delight and the holy day of the LORD
honorable;
if you honor it, not going your own ways,
or seeking your own pleasure,
or talking idly;
<sup>14</sup>then you shall take delight in the LORD, and I will make you ride on the heights of the earth;
I will feed you with the heritage of Jacob your father,
for the mouth of the LORD
has spoken."

Evil and Oppression

<sup>59:1</sup>Behold, the LORD's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save,
or his ear dull, that it cannot hear; <sup>2</sup>but your iniquities have made a separation
between you and your God,
and your sins have hidden his face
from you
so that he does not hear.
<sup>3</sup>For your hands are defiled with blood and your fingers with iniquity;
your lips have spoken lies;
your tongue mutters wickedness. . . .
<sup>14</sup>Justice is turned back,
and righteousness stands far away;
for truth has stumbled in the public squares,
and uprightness cannot enter.
<sup>15</sup>Truth is lacking, and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey.

Judgment and Redemption

The LORD saw it, and it displeased him
that there was no justice.

<sup>16</sup>He saw that there was no man,
and wondered that there was no one
to intercede;

then his own arm brought him salvation,
and his righteousness upheld him.

<sup>17</sup>He put on righteousness as a breastplate,
and a helmet of salvation on his head;
he put on garments of vengeance
for clothing,
and wrapped himself in zeal
as a cloak.

<sup>18</sup>According to their deeds,
so will he repay,
wrath to his adversaries,
repayment to his enemies;
to the coastlands he will render repayment.

<sup>19</sup>So they shall fear the name of the LORD
from the west,
and his glory from the rising
of the sun;
for he will come like a rushing stream,
which the wind of the LORD drives.

<sup>20</sup>“And a Redeemer will come to Zion, to those in Jacob who turn from transgression,” declares the LORD.

<sup>21</sup>“And as for me, this is my covenant with them,” says the LORD: “My Spirit that is upon you, and my words that I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, or out of the mouth of your offspring, or out of the mouth of your children’s offspring,” says the LORD, “from this time forth and
forevermore.”

New Testament Reading: Luke 1:26–38

Birth of Jesus Foretold

<sup>26</sup>In the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee named Nazareth, <sup>27</sup>to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David. And the virgin’s name was Mary.
<sup>28</sup>And he came to her and said, “Greetings, O favored one, the Lord is with you!” <sup>29</sup>But she was greatly troubled at the saying, and tried to discern what sort of greeting this might be. <sup>30</sup>And the angel said to her, “Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God. <sup>31</sup>And behold, you will conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus. <sup>32</sup>He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. And the Lord God will give to him the throne of his father David, <sup>33</sup>and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of his kingdom
there will be no end.”

<sup>34</sup>And Mary said to the angel, “How will this be, since I am a virgin?”

<sup>35</sup>And the angel answered her, “The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore the child to be born will be called holy—the Son of God. <sup>36</sup>And behold, your relative Elizabeth in her old age has also conceived a son, and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren. <sup>37</sup>For nothing will be impossible with God.” <sup>38</sup>And Mary said, “Behold, I am the servant of the Lord; let it be to me according to your word.”
And the angel departed from her.

Writing

We believe, teach, and confess that God’s Son from eternity has been a particular, distinct, entire, divine person. Yet He is true, essential, perfect God with the Father and the Holy Spirit. In the fullness of time He received also the human nature into the unity of His person. He did not do this in such a way that there are now two persons or two Christs. Christ Jesus is now in one person at the same time true, eternal God, born of the Father from eternity, and a true man, born of the most blessed Virgin Mary. This is written in Romans 9:5, “from their race, according to the flesh, is the Christ who is God over all, blessed forever.” . . .

We believe, teach, and confess that it is the property of the divine nature to be almighty, eternal, infinite, everywhere present at the same time, and all-knowing. In other words, it agrees with the properties of [the divine] nature and its natural essence. These are essential attributes of the divine nature. Never in eternity do they become essential properties of the human nature.

On the other hand, these are properties of the human nature: being a bodily creation or creature, flesh and blood, finite and located in one place; it suffers, dies, ascends, and descends; it moves from one place to another, suffers hunger, thirst, cold, heat, and the like. These properties never become properties of the divine nature. . . .

On account of this personal union and communion of the natures, Mary, the most blessed Virgin, did not bear a mere man. But, as the angel ‹Gabriel› testifies, she bore a man who is truly the Son of the most high God [Luke 1:35]. He showed His divine majesty even in His mother’s womb, because He was born of a virgin, without violating her virginity. Therefore, she is truly the mother of God and yet has remained a virgin.

Hymnody

For this how wondrously He wrought!
A maiden, in her lowly place,
Became, in ways beyond all thought,
The chosen vessel of His grace.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, grant that the birth of Your only-begotten Son in the flesh may set us free from the bondage of sin; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (L08)

The Future Glory of Israel

<sup>1</sup>Arise, shine, for your light has come,
and the glory of the LORD
has risen upon you.

<sup>2</sup>For behold, darkness shall cover the earth,
and thick darkness the peoples;

but the LORD will arise upon you,
and his glory will be seen upon you.

<sup>3</sup>And nations shall come to your light,
and kings to the brightness of your rising.

<sup>4</sup>Lift up your eyes all around, and see;
they all gather together,
they come to you;

your sons shall come from afar,
and your daughters shall be carried on the hip.

<sup>5</sup>Then you shall see and be radiant;
your heart shall thrill and exult,

because the abundance of the sea
shall be turned to you,
the wealth of the nations
shall come to you.

<sup>6</sup>A multitude of camels shall cover you,
the young camels of Midian and Ephah;
all those from Sheba shall come.

They shall bring gold and frankincense, and shall bring good news, the praises of
the LORD.

<sup>7</sup>All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered to you;
the rams of Nebaioth
shall minister to you;

they shall come up with acceptance
on my altar,
and I will beautify my beautiful house.

<sup>8</sup>Who are these that fly like a cloud,
and like doves to their windows?

<sup>9</sup>For the coastlands shall hope for me,
the ships of Tarshish first,

to bring your children from afar,
their silver and gold with them,
for the name of the LORD your God,
and for the Holy One of Israel,
because he has made you beautiful.

<sup>10</sup>Foreigners shall build up your walls,
and their kings shall minister to you;
for in my wrath I struck you,
but in my favor I have had mercy on you.

<sup>11</sup>Your gates shall be open continually;
day and night they shall not be shut,
that people may bring to you the wealth
of the nations,
with their kings led in procession.

<sup>12</sup>For the nation and kingdom
that will not serve you shall perish;
those nations shall be utterly laid waste.

<sup>13</sup>The glory of Lebanon shall come to you,
the cypress, the plane, and the pine,
to beautify the place of my sanctuary,
and I will make the place
of my feet glorious.

<sup>14</sup>The sons of those who afflicted you shall come bending low to you,
and all who despised you shall bow down at your feet;
they shall call you the City of the LORD,
the Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>15</sup>Whereas you have been forsaken and hated,
with no one passing through,

I will make you majestic forever,
a joy from age to age.

<sup>16</sup>You shall suck the milk of nations;
you shall nurse at the breast of kings;

and you shall know that I,
the LORD, am your Savior
and your Redeemer,
the Mighty One of Jacob.

<sup>17</sup>Instead of bronze I will bring gold,
and instead of iron I will bring silver;
instead of wood, bronze,
instead of stones, iron.

I will make your overseers peace
and your taskmasters righteousness.

<sup>18</sup>Violence shall no more be heard in your land,
devastation or destruction
within your borders;

you shall call your walls Salvation,
and your gates Praise.

<sup>19</sup>The sun shall be no more
your light by day,

nor for brightness shall the moon
give you light;

but the LORD will be your everlasting light,
and your God will be your glory.

<sup>20</sup>Your sun shall no more go down,
nor your moon withdraw itself;

for the LORD will be your everlasting light,
and your days of mourning
shall be ended.

<sup>21</sup>Your people shall all be righteous;
they shall possess the land forever,

the branch of my planting,
the work of my hands,
that I might be glorified.

<sup>22</sup>The least one shall become a clan,
and the smallest one a mighty nation;

I am the LORD;
in its time I will hasten it.

Mary Visits Elizabeth

<sup>39</sup>In those days Mary arose and went with haste into the hill country, to a town in Judah,

<sup>40</sup>and she entered the house of Zechariah and greeted Elizabeth. <sup>41</sup>And when Elizabeth heard the greeting of Mary, the baby leaped in her womb. And Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit, <sup>42</sup>and she exclaimed with a loud cry, “Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb! <sup>43</sup>And why is this granted to me that the mother of my Lord should come to me? <sup>44</sup>For behold, when the sound of your greeting came to my ears, the baby in my womb leaped for joy. <sup>45</sup>And blessed is she who believed that there would be a fulfillment of what was spoken to her from the Lord.”

Mary’s Song of Praise: The Magnificat

<sup>46</sup>And Mary said,

“My soul magnifies the Lord,

<sup>47</sup>and my spirit rejoices in God
my Savior,

<sup>48</sup>for he has looked on the humble estate of his servant.

For behold, from now on all generations will call me blessed;

<sup>49</sup>for he who is mighty has done great things for me,
and holy is his name.

<sup>50</sup>And his mercy is for those who fear him
from generation to generation.

<sup>51</sup>He has shown strength with his arm;
he has scattered the proud in the thoughts of their hearts;

<sup>52</sup>he has brought down the mighty from their thrones

and exalted those of humble estate;

<sup>53</sup>he has filled the hungry
with good things,

and the rich he has sent away empty.

<sup>54</sup>He has helped his servant Israel,
in remembrance of his mercy,

<sup>55</sup>as he spoke to our fathers,
to Abraham and to his offspring

<sup>56</sup>And Mary remained with her about three months and returned to her home.

Writing

There is nothing which is hid from God,
but our very secrets are near to Him. Let us therefore do things as those who have Him dwelling in us, that we may be His temples and He may be in us as our God, which indeed He is. And He will manifest Himself before our faces. Wherefore we justly love Him. . . .

Why are we not all prudent, since we have received the knowledge of God, which is Jesus Christ? Why do we foolishly perish, not recognizing the gift which the Lord has truly sent? . . .

For our God, Jesus Christ, was, according to the appointment of God, conceived in the womb of Mary, of the seed of David, but by the Holy Spirit. He was born and baptized, that by His passion He might purify the water.

Now the virginity of Mary was hidden from the prince of this world, as was also her offspring, and the death of the Lord;
three mysteries of renown, which were worked in silence by God. How, then, was He manifested to the world? A star shone forth in heaven above all the other stars, the light of which was inexpressible, while its novelty struck men with astonishment. And all the rest of the stars, with the sun and moon, formed a chorus to this star, and its light was exceedingly great above them all. And there was agitation felt as to the origins of this new spectacle, so unlike everything else. Hence every kind of magic was destroyed, and every kind of wickedness disappeared; ignorance

was removed, and the old kingdom abolished, God Himself being manifested in human form for the renewal of eternal life. And what had been prepared by God began. Henceforth all things were in a state of tumult, because He mediated the abolition of death.

—Ignatius

Hymnody

My soul rejoices,
My spirit voices—
Sing the greatness of the Lord!
For God my Savior
Has shown me favor—
Sing the greatness of the Lord!
With praise and blessing,
Join in confessing
God, who is solely Mighty and holy—
O sing the greatness of God the Lord!
His mercy surely Shall rest securely
On all who fear Him,
Love and revere Him—
O sing the greatness of God the Lord!

Prayer of the Day

Eternal God, we commit to Your mercy and forgiveness the year now ending and commend to Your blessing and love the times yet to come. In the new year, abide among us with Your Holy Spirit that we may always trust in the saving name of our Lord Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and
the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 61:1–11

The Year of the LORD'S FAVOR

- <sup>1</sup> The Spirit of the LORD God is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me
to bring good news to the poor;

- he has sent me to bind up
the brokenhearted,
to proclaim liberty to the captives,
and the opening of the prison
to those who are bound;
- <sup>2</sup> to proclaim the year of the LORD'S favor,
and the day of vengeance of our God;
to comfort all who mourn;
- <sup>3</sup> to grant to those who mourn in Zion—
to give them a beautiful headdress
instead of ashes,
the oil of gladness instead of mourning,
the garment of praise
instead of a faint spirit;
- that they may be called oaks of righteousness,
the planting of the LORD, that he may be glorified.
- <sup>4</sup> They shall build up the ancient ruins;
they shall raise up the former devastations;
they shall repair the ruined cities,
the devastations of many generations.
- <sup>5</sup> Strangers shall stand and tend your flocks;
foreigners shall be your plowmen
and vinedressers;
- <sup>6</sup> but you shall be called the priests of the LORD;
they shall speak of you
as the ministers of our God;
you shall eat the wealth of the nations,
and in their glory you shall boast.
- <sup>7</sup> Instead of your shame there shall be a double portion;
instead of dishonor they shall rejoice
in their lot;
therefore in their land they shall possess
a double portion;
they shall have everlasting joy.
- <sup>8</sup> For I the LORD love justice;
I hate robbery and wrong;
I will faithfully give them their recompense,

and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

<sup>9</sup>Their offspring shall be known among the nations, and their descendants in the midst of the peoples; all who see them shall acknowledge them, that they are an offspring the LORD has blessed.

<sup>10</sup>I will greatly rejoice in the LORD; my soul shall exult in my God, for he has clothed me with the garments of salvation; he has covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decks himself like a priest with a beautiful headdress, and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.

<sup>11</sup>For as the earth brings forth its sprouts, and as a garden causes what is sown in it to sprout up, so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to sprout up before all the nations.

New Testament Reading: Luke 1:57–80

The Birth of John the Baptist

<sup>57</sup>Now the time came for Elizabeth to give birth, and she bore a son. <sup>58</sup>And her neighbors and relatives heard that the Lord had shown great mercy to her, and they rejoiced with her. <sup>59</sup>And on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child. And they would have called him Zechariah after his father, <sup>60</sup>but his mother answered, “No; he shall be called John.” <sup>61</sup>And they said to her, “None of your relatives is called by this name.” <sup>62</sup>And they made signs to his father, inquiring what he wanted him to be called. <sup>63</sup>And he asked for a writing tablet and wrote,

“His name is John.” And they all wondered. <sup>64</sup>And immediately his mouth was opened and his tongue loosed, and he spoke, blessing God. <sup>65</sup>And fear came on all their neighbors. And all these things were talked about through all the hill country of Judea, <sup>66</sup>and all who heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying, “What then will this child be?” For the hand of the Lord was with him.

Zechariah's Prophecy

<sup>68</sup>“Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, for he has visited and redeemed his people <sup>69</sup>and has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David, <sup>70</sup>as he spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets from of old, <sup>71</sup>that we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us; <sup>72</sup>to show the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant, <sup>73</sup>the oath that he swore to our father Abraham, to grant us <sup>74</sup>that we, being delivered from the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear, <sup>75</sup>in holiness and righteousness before him all our days. <sup>77</sup>to give knowledge of salvation to his people in the forgiveness of their sins, <sup>78</sup>because of the tender mercy of our God, whereby the sunrise shall visit us from on high <sup>79</sup>to give light to those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death,

to guide our feet into the way
of peace.”

<sup>80</sup>And the child grew and became strong in spirit, and he was in the wilderness until the day of his public appearance to Israel.

Writing

Should the Christian stand all day long at the grave of all joys which he enjoyed in past years? Through Holy Baptism a great stream of joy has been conducted in his heart, which does not drain away, but streams forward with his life until its waves carry him into the sea of a blessed eternity. Should the Christian be reminded all day long that the flowers of his youth fall more and more? He stands planted by God in the water of his Baptism as a palm tree which becomes greener and greener and whose leaves never wither. Yes, his Baptism makes death for him like a short winter's nap, out of which an eternal spring—an eternal youth—follows.

For Baptism is a bath that washed me not only once when I received it—washed me pure with Christ's blood—but it continuously washes me clean even daily for as long as I hold it in faith. For just as that same water of the flood drowned the sinners, but Noah with his relatives were brought to salvation and carried to Mount Ararat, so also did the water of my Baptism drown my sins, but my soul was brought to the eternal mountain of divine grace. And just as once those same waves of the Red Sea, which swallowed up Pharaoh and his army, were a protective wall for Israel, so also has my baptismal water swallowed up all of my damnation and is for me a sure wall before God's wrath and punishment. . . .

Now then, all of you who believe in God's Word, let your watchword for entering the new year be this: "I am baptized!" Although the world may laugh at this comfort, the enthusiasts vex its confidence . . . nevertheless, abandon any other dearly held pledges and speak only throughout the entire year to come, in all terrors of conscience and necessity through sin and death: "I am baptized! I am baptized! Hallelujah!" And you shall prevail! In every time of need, you will find comfort in your Baptism; on account of it Satan will flee from your faith and confession; and in death you will see heaven opened and will finally come into the joy of your Lord to celebrate a great year of jubilee, a year of praise, with all the angels forever and ever. Amen!

—C. F. W. Walther

Hymnody

Sing praise to the God of Israel!
Sing praise for His visitation!
Redeeming His people from their sin,
Accomplishing their salvation,
Upraising a mighty horn within
The house of His servant David!

—Sing Praise to the God of Israel
(LSB 936:1)

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, You made Your beloved Son, our Savior, subject to the Law and caused Him to shed His blood on our behalf. Grant us the true circumcision of the Spirit that our hearts may be made pure from all sins; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F07)

Circumcision of Our Lord

Already on the eighth day of Jesus' life, His destiny of atonement is revealed in His name and in His circumcision. At that moment, His blood is first shed and Jesus receives the name given to Him by the angel: "You shall call His name Jesus, for He will save His people from their sins" (Matthew 1:21). In the circumcision of Jesus, all people are circumcised once and for all, because He represents all humanity. In the Old Testament, for the believers who look to God's promise to be fulfilled in the Messiah, the benefits of circumcision include the forgiveness of sins, justification, and incorporation into the people of God. In the New Testament, St. Paul speaks of its counterpart, Holy Baptism, as a "circumcision made without hands" and as "the circumcision of Christ" (Colossians 2:11).

Zion's Coming Salvation

<sup>1</sup>For Zion's sake I will not keep silent, and for Jerusalem's sake
I will not be quiet,

until her righteousness goes forth
as brightness,
and her salvation as a burning torch.

<sup>2</sup>The nations shall see your righteousness,
and all the kings your glory,
and you shall be called by a new name
that the mouth of the LORD will give.

<sup>3</sup>You shall be a crown of beauty
in the hand of the LORD,
and a royal diadem in the hand
of your God.

<sup>4</sup>You shall no more be termed Forsaken,
and your land shall no more
be termed Desolate,

but you shall be called My Delight Is in Her,
and your land Married;

for the LORD delights in you,
and your land shall be married.

<sup>5</sup>For as a young man marries
a young woman,
so shall your sons marry you,
and as the bridegroom rejoices over the bride,
so shall your God rejoice over you.

<sup>6</sup>On your walls, O Jerusalem,
I have set watchmen;
all the day and all the night

they shall never be silent.
 You who put the LORD in remembrance,
 take no rest,
<sup>7</sup>and give him no rest
 until he establishes Jerusalem
 and makes it a praise in the earth.
<sup>8</sup>The LORD has sworn by his right hand
 and by his mighty arm:
 “I will not again give your grain
 to be food for your enemies, and foreigners shall not drink your wine
 for which you have labored;
<sup>9</sup>but those who garner it shall eat it and praise the LORD,
 and those who gather it shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary.”
<sup>10</sup>Go through, go through the gates;
 prepare the way for the people;
 build up, build up the highway;
 clear it of stones;
 lift up a signal over the peoples.
<sup>11</sup>Behold, the LORD has proclaimed
 to the end of the earth:
 Say to the daughter of Zion, “Behold, your salvation comes;
 behold, his reward is with him,
 and his recompense before him.”
<sup>12</sup>And they shall be called The Holy People,
 The Redeemed of the LORD;
 and you shall be called Sought Out,
 A City Not Forsaken.

The Birth of Jesus Christ

<sup>1</sup>In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be registered. <sup>2</sup>This was the first registration when Quirinius was governor of Syria. <sup>3</sup>And all went to be registered, each to his own town. <sup>4</sup>And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the town of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, <sup>5</sup>to be registered with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child. <sup>6</sup>And while they were there, the time came for her to give birth. <sup>7</sup>And she gave birth to her firstborn son and wrapped him in swaddling cloths and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.

The Shepherds and the Angels

<sup>8</sup>And in the same region there were shepherds out in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. <sup>9</sup>And an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear. <sup>10</sup>And the angel said to them, “Fear not, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. <sup>11</sup>For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. <sup>12</sup>And this will be a sign for you: you will find a baby wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger.” <sup>13</sup>And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying,

<sup>14</sup>“Glory to God in the highest,
 and on earth peace among those with whom he is pleased!”

<sup>15</sup>When the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, “Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us.” <sup>16</sup>And they went with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the baby lying in a manger. <sup>17</sup>And when they saw it, they made known the saying that had been told them concerning this child. <sup>18</sup>And all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds told them. <sup>19</sup>But Mary treasured up all these things, pondering them in her heart.

<sup>20</sup>And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, as it had been told them.

Writing

In worship the congregation experiences its Lord most intimately. Here it lives in nearest proximity to its Groom in a heavenly life on earth, an earthly life in heaven.

Worship is the most beautiful flower of earthly life. Just like land in the middle of an ocean, the Word and the Sacraments stand in the inner life and worship of the congregation. You have one week behind you, a new week lies in front of you. Between these two weeks is the day of Communion Sunday. You desire to draw near to God with the congregation. What do you, whether you are a shepherd or a sheep, have to do first? You do what all religions say is necessary for the soul: you cleanse it like feet that have become dirty from the activity of daily life. In other words, you prepare yourself for worship by confessing your sins and receiving absolution. Being cleansed from sin, you enter into the joys of the particular festival day or Sunday. But the worshiper finds that earth still has other burdens and sorrows, both present and future. Life, death, and eternity, with all of their bitter fruits and consequences, threaten you as you journey to the heavenly kingdom. Worries burden you and keep burdening you. But no longer does sin torture you, no longer do you fear evil, no longer do you sigh longingly, but joyful confidence fills your soul. You sit beneath the face of the Lord. In the sermon you begin to experience the blessed communion of the saints who rejoice in the Lord. The worshipping congregation experiences itself as the Bride of the Lord, rich not only in and through Him but also in and through one another. The congregation, in its fullness, thinks of the special needs and miseries upon the earth, delights in all good things, and goes before the altar of the Lord with intercessions, petitions, and prayers. All worshipers are blessed and approach the throne of blessing knowing they are worthy. The worshipers realize that the Church is one unit both here and everywhere. Pilgrims are one in their prayers and are cleansed with all of the blessed saints in heaven.

Prayer of the Day

Most glorious Trinity, in Your mercy we commit to You this day our bodies and souls, all our ways and goings, all our deeds and purposes. We pray You, so open our hearts and mouths that we may praise Your name, which above all names alone is holy. And since You have created for us the praise of Your holy name, grant that our lives may be for Your honor and that we may serve You in love and fear; for You, O Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, live and reign, one God, now and forever. (1134)

J. K. Wilhelm Loehe, Pastor

Although he never left Germany, Johann Konrad Wilhelm Loehe, born in Fuerth in 1808, had a profound impact on the development of Lutheranism in North America. Serving as pastor in the Bavarian village of Neuendettelsau, he recognized the need for workers in developing lands and assisted in training emergency helpers to be sent as missionary pastors to North America, Brazil, and Australia. A number of the men he sent to the United States became founders of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod. Through his financial support, a theological school in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and a teachers' institute in Saginaw, Michigan, were established. Loehe was known for his confessional integrity and his interest in liturgy and catechetics. His devotion to works of Christian charity led to the establishment of a deaconess training house and homes for the aged.

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 63:1–14

The LORD's Day of Vengeance

- <sup>1</sup> Who is this who comes from Edom,
in crimsoned garments from Bozrah,
he who is splendid in his apparel, marching in the greatness of his strength?
“It is I, speaking in righteousness, mighty to save.”
- <sup>2</sup> Why is your apparel red,
and your garments like his
who treads in the winepress?
- <sup>3</sup> “I have trodden the winepress alone,
and from the peoples
no one was with me;
I trod them in my anger
and trampled them in my wrath;
their lifeblood spattered on my garments,
and stained all my apparel.
- <sup>4</sup> For the day of vengeance was in my heart,
and my year of redemption had come.
- <sup>5</sup> I looked, but there was no one to help;
I was appalled,
but there was no one to uphold;

so my own arm brought me salvation,
and my wrath upheld me.

<sup>6</sup>I trampled down the peoples in my anger;
I made them drunk in my wrath,
and I poured out their lifeblood
on the earth.”

The LORD'S Mercy Remembered

<sup>7</sup>I will recount the steadfast love of the LORD,
the praises of the LORD,
according to all that the LORD has granted us,
and the great goodness to the house
of Israel

that he has granted them according to his compassion,
according to the abundance of his steadfast love.

<sup>8</sup>For he said, “Surely they are my people, children who will not deal falsely.”
And he became their Savior.

<sup>9</sup>In all their affliction he was afflicted,
and the angel of his presence saved them;
in his love and in his pity he redeemed them;
he lifted them up and carried them all the days of old.

<sup>10</sup>But they rebelled
and grieved his Holy Spirit;
therefore he turned to be their enemy,
and himself fought against them.

<sup>11</sup>Then he remembered the days of old,
of Moses and his people.

Where is he who brought them up out of the sea
with the shepherds of his flock?

Where is he who put in the midst of them
his Holy Spirit,

<sup>12</sup>who caused his glorious arm
to go at the right hand of Moses,
who divided the waters before them
to make for himself an everlasting name, <sup>13</sup>who led them through the depths?

Like a horse in the desert,
they did not stumble.

<sup>14</sup>Like livestock that go down into the valley,
the Spirit of the LORD gave them rest.

So you led your people,
to make for yourself a glorious name.

New Testament Reading: Luke 2:21–40

[The Shepherds and the Angels]

<sup>21</sup>And at the end of eight days, when he was circumcised, he was called Jesus, the name given by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

Jesus Presented at the Temple

<sup>22</sup>And when the time came for their purification according to the Law of Moses, they brought him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord <sup>23</sup>(as it is written in the Law of the Lord, “Every male who first opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord”) <sup>24</sup>and to offer a sacrifice according to what is said in the Law of the Lord, “a pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.” <sup>25</sup>Now there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon,
and this man was righteous and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was upon him. <sup>26</sup>And it had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ. <sup>27</sup>And he came in the Spirit into the temple, and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him according to the custom of the Law, <sup>28</sup>he took him up in his arms and blessed God and said,

<sup>29</sup>“Lord, now you are letting your servant
depart in peace,

according to your word;

<sup>30</sup>for my eyes have seen your salvation

<sup>31</sup>that you have prepared in the presence of all peoples,

<sup>32</sup>a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and for glory to your people Israel.”

<sup>36</sup>And there was a prophetess, Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was advanced in years, having lived with her husband seven years from when she was a virgin, <sup>37</sup>and then as a widow until she was eighty-four. She did not depart from the temple, worshiping with fasting and prayer night and day. <sup>38</sup>And coming up at that very hour she began to give thanks to God and to speak of him to all who were waiting for the redemption of Jerusalem.

The Return to Nazareth

<sup>39</sup>And when they had performed everything according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth. <sup>40</sup>And the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom. And the favor of God was upon him.

Writing

Every penitent sinner ought to believe (i.e., place his confidence) in the Lord Christ alone. For Christ “was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification” (Romans 4:25). . . . His obedience is credited to us for righteousness before God’s strict court, so that the Law, as set forth above, is a ministry that kills through the letter and preaches condemnation (2 Corinthians 3:6, 9). The Gospel “is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes” (Romans 1:16), which preaches righteousness and gives the Spirit (1 Corinthians 1:18; Galatians 3:2). Dr. Luther taught this distinction with special diligence in nearly all his writings and has properly shown that the knowledge of God from the Gospel is far different from that which is taught and learned from the Law. Even the pagans, to a certain extent, had a knowledge of God from the natural law. But they neither knew Him nor glorified Him correctly (Romans 1:19–32) [LW 22:150–54].

[Using Law and Gospel]

From the beginning of the world these two proclamations have always been taught alongside each other in God’s Church, with a proper distinction. The descendants of the well-respected patriarchs, and the patriarchs themselves, called to mind constantly how in the beginning a person had been created righteous and holy by God. They know that through the fraud of the Serpent, Adam transgressed God’s command, became a sinner, and corrupted and cast himself with all his descendants into death and eternal condemnation. They encouraged and comforted themselves again by the preaching about the woman’s seed, who would bruise the Serpent’s head (Genesis 3:15); Abraham’s seed, in whom “all the nations of the earth [will] be blessed” (Genesis 22:18); David’s Son, who should “bring back the preserved of Israel” and be “a light for the nations” (Isaiah 49:6; see also Psalm 110:1; Luke 2:32), and who “was wounded for our transgressions; He was crushed for our iniquities . . . and with His stripes we are healed” (Isaiah 53:5).

Prayer for Mercy

<sup>15</sup>Look down from heaven and see,
from your holy and beautiful habitation.

Where are your zeal and your might?
The stirring of your inner parts and your compassion
are held back from me.

<sup>16</sup>For you are our Father, though Abraham does not know us,
and Israel does not acknowledge us;
you, O LORD, are our Father,
our Redeemer from of old is your name.

<sup>17</sup>O LORD, why do you make us wander from your ways
and harden our heart,
so that we fear you not?

Return for the sake of your servants,
the tribes of your heritage.

<sup>18</sup>Your holy people held possession for a little while;
our adversaries have trampled down
your sanctuary.

<sup>19</sup>We have become like those over whom you have never ruled,
like those who are not called
by your name.

<sup>64:1</sup>Oh that you would rend the heavens and come down,

that the mountains might quake
at your presence—

<sup>2</sup>as when fire kindles brushwood and the fire causes water to boil—

to make your name known
to your adversaries,
and that the nations might tremble
at your presence!

<sup>3</sup>When you did awesome things that we did not look for,
you came down, the mountains quaked
at your presence.

<sup>4</sup>From of old no one has heard
or perceived by the ear,
no eye has seen a God besides you,
who acts for those who wait for him.

<sup>5</sup>You meet him who joyfully works
righteousness,
those who remember you in your ways.

Behold, you were angry, and we sinned;
in our sins we have been a long time,
and shall we be saved?

<sup>6</sup>We have all become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous deeds are like a polluted garment.

We all fade like a leaf,
and our iniquities, like the wind,
take us away.

<sup>7</sup>There is no one who calls upon your name,
who rouses himself to take hold of you;
for you have hidden your face from us,
and have made us melt in the hand
of our iniquities.

<sup>8</sup>But now, O LORD, you are our Father;
we are the clay, and you are our potter;
we are all the work of your hand.

<sup>9</sup>Be not so terribly angry, O LORD,
and remember not iniquity forever.

Behold, please look,
we are all your people.

<sup>10</sup>Your holy cities have become a wilderness;
Zion has become a wilderness,
Jerusalem a desolation.

<sup>11</sup>Our holy and beautiful house,
where our fathers praised you,
has been burned by fire,
and all our pleasant places
have become ruins.

<sup>12</sup>Will you restrain yourself at these things,
O LORD?

Will you keep silent,
and afflict us so terribly?

Judgment and Salvation

<sup>65:1</sup>I was ready to be sought by those who did not ask for me;
I was ready to be found by those who did not seek me.

I said, “Here am I, here am I,”
to a nation that was not called by my name.

<sup>2</sup>I spread out my hands all the day
to a rebellious people,
who walk in a way that is not good,
following their own devices;

<sup>3</sup>a people who provoke me
to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens
and making offerings on bricks;

<sup>4</sup>who sit in tombs,
and spend the night in secret places;
who eat pig’s flesh,
and broth of tainted meat
is in their vessels;

<sup>5</sup>who say, “Keep to yourself,
do not come near me,
for I am too holy for you.”

These are a smoke in my nostrils,
a fire that burns all the day.

<sup>6</sup>Behold, it is written before me:

“I will not keep silent, but I will repay;

I will indeed repay into their bosom

<sup>7</sup>both your iniquities and your fathers’ iniquities together,

says the LORD;

because they made offerings

on the mountains

and insulted me on the hills,

I will measure into their bosom

payment for their former deeds.”

New Testament Reading: Luke 2:41–52

The Boy Jesus in the Temple

<sup>41</sup>Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the Feast of the Passover. <sup>42</sup>And when he was twelve years old, they went up according to custom. <sup>43</sup>And when the feast was ended, as they were returning, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem. His parents did not know it, <sup>44</sup>but supposing him to be in the group they went a day’s journey, but then they began to search for him among their relatives and acquaintances, <sup>45</sup>and when they did not find him, they returned to Jerusalem, searching for him. <sup>46</sup>After three days they found him in the temple, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions. <sup>47</sup>And all who heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. <sup>48</sup>And when his parents saw him, they were astonished. And his mother said to him, “Son, why have you treated us so? Behold, your father and I have been searching for you in great distress.” <sup>49</sup>And he said to them, “Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father’s house?” <sup>50</sup>And they did not understand the saying that he spoke to them. <sup>51</sup>And he went down with them and came to Nazareth and was submissive to them. And his mother treasured up all these things in her heart.

<sup>52</sup>And Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and man.

Writing

When I feel that I have become cool and joyless in prayer because of other tasks or thoughts (for the flesh and the devil always impede and obstruct prayer), I take my little psalter, hurry to my room, or, if it be the day and hour for it, to the church where a congregation is assembled and, as time permits, I say quietly to myself and word-for-word the Ten Commandments, the Creed, and, if I have time, some words of Christ or of Paul, or some psalms, just as a child might do.

It is a good thing to let prayer be the first business of the morning and the last at night. Guard yourself carefully against those false, deluding ideas which tell you, “Wait a little while. I will pray in an hour; first I must attend to this or that.” Such thoughts get you away from prayer into other affairs which so hold your attention and involve you that nothing comes of prayer for that day. . . .

Finally, mark this, that you must always speak the Amen firmly. Never doubt that God in his mercy will surely hear you and say “yes” to your prayers. Never think that you are kneeling or standing alone, rather think that the whole of Christendom, all devout Christians, are standing there beside you and you are standing among them in a common, united petition which God cannot disdain. Do not leave your prayer without having said or thought, “Very well, God has heard my prayer; this I know as a certainty and a truth.” That is what Amen means.

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 65:8–25

[Judgment and Salvation]

- <sup>8</sup>Thus says the LORD:
 “As the new wine is found in the cluster,
 and they say, ‘Do not destroy it,
 for there is a blessing in it,’
 so I will do for my servants’ sake,
 and not destroy them all.
- <sup>9</sup>I will bring forth offspring from Jacob,
 and from Judah possessors
 of my mountains;
 my chosen shall possess it,
 and my servants shall dwell there.
- <sup>10</sup>Sharon shall become a pasture for flocks,
 and the Valley of Achor a place
 for herds to lie down,
 for my people who have sought me.
- <sup>11</sup>But you who forsake the LORD,
 who forget my holy mountain, who set a table for Fortune
 and fill cups of mixed wine for Destiny, <sup>12</sup>I will destine you to the sword,
 and all of you shall bow down
 to the slaughter,
 because, when I called, you did not answer;
 when I spoke, you did not listen,

but you did what was evil in my eyes and chose what I did not delight in.”

<sup>13</sup>Therefore thus says the Lord GOD:

“Behold, my servants shall eat,
but you shall be hungry;

behold, my servants shall drink,
but you shall be thirsty;

behold, my servants shall rejoice,
but you shall be put to shame;

<sup>14</sup>behold, my servants shall sing
for gladness of heart,
but you shall cry out for pain of heart
and shall wail for breaking of spirit.

<sup>15</sup>You shall leave your name to my chosen for a curse,
and the Lord GOD will put you to death,
but his servants he will call
by another name.

<sup>16</sup>So that he who blesses himself in the land shall bless himself by the God of truth, and he who takes an oath in the land shall swear by the God of truth;
because the former troubles are forgotten
and are hidden from my eyes.

New Heavens and a New Earth

<sup>17</sup>“For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth,
and the former things
shall not be remembered
or come into mind.

<sup>18</sup>But be glad and rejoice forever
in that which I create;
for behold, I create Jerusalem to be a joy,
and her people to be a gladness.

<sup>19</sup>I will rejoice in Jerusalem
and be glad in my people;
no more shall be heard in it the sound of weeping
and the cry of distress.

<sup>20</sup>No more shall there be in it an infant who lives but a few days, or an old man who does not fill out
his days,

for the young man shall die
a hundred years old,
and the sinner a hundred years old
shall be accursed.

<sup>21</sup>They shall build houses and inhabit them;
they shall plant vineyards
and eat their fruit.

<sup>22</sup>They shall not build and another inhabit;
they shall not plant and another eat;
for like the days of a tree shall the days
of my people be,
and my chosen shall long enjoy the work
of their hands.

<sup>23</sup>They shall not labor in vain
or bear children for calamity, for they shall be the offspring
of the blessed of the LORD,
and their descendants with them.

<sup>24</sup>Before they call I will answer;
while they are yet speaking I will hear.

<sup>25</sup>The wolf and the lamb shall graze together;
the lion shall eat straw like the ox,
and dust shall be the serpent’s food.

They shall not hurt or destroy
in all my holy mountain,”
says the LORD.

New Testament Reading: Luke 3:1–20

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

<sup>1</sup>In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, <sup>2</sup>during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John the son of Zechariah

in the wilderness. <sup>3</sup>And he went into all the region around the Jordan, proclaiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. <sup>4</sup>As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet,

“The voice of one crying
in the wilderness:

‘Prepare the way of the Lord,
make his paths straight.

<sup>5</sup>Every valley shall be filled,
and every mountain
and hill shall be made low,
and the crooked shall become straight,
and the rough places
shall become level ways,

<sup>6</sup>and all flesh shall see the salvation
of God.’”

<sup>7</sup>He said therefore to the crowds that came out to be baptized by him, “You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? <sup>8</sup>Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, ‘We have Abraham as our father.’ For I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. <sup>9</sup>Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.”

<sup>10</sup>And the crowds asked him, “What then shall we do?” <sup>11</sup>And he answered them, “Whoever has two tunics is to share with him who has none, and whoever has food is to do likewise.” <sup>12</sup>Tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, “Teacher, what shall we do?” <sup>13</sup>And he said to them, “Collect no more than you are authorized to do.” <sup>14</sup>Soldiers also asked him, “And we, what shall we do?” And he said to them, “Do not extort money from anyone by threats or by false accusation, and be content with your wages.”

<sup>15</sup>As the people were in expectation, and all were questioning in their hearts concerning John, whether he might be the Christ, <sup>16</sup>John answered them all, saying, “I baptize you with water, but he who is mightier than I is coming, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. <sup>17</sup>His winnowing fork is in his hand, to clear his threshing floor and to gather the wheat into his barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire.”

<sup>18</sup>So with many other exhortations he preached good news to the people. <sup>19</sup>But Herod the tetrarch, who had been reproved by him for Herodias, his brother’s wife, and for all the evil things that Herod had done, <sup>20</sup>added this to them all, that he locked up John in prison.

Writing

How mighty is the grace of water, in the sight of God and His Christ, for the confirmation of Baptism! Never is Christ without water: He who is Himself baptized in water (Matt 3:13–17); inaugurates in water the first display of His power when invited to the wedding in Cana (John 2:1–11); in His preaching He invites the thirsty to His own eternal water (John 7:37–38; John 4:6ff.); He approves, among the works of charity, the cup of water offered to a poor child (Matthew 10:42); He gathered His strength at a well (John 4:6); walks over the water (Matthew 14:25ff.); calms the waves (Mark 4:39); and serves His disciples with washing by water (John 13:5). Even His Passion bears witness to the power of Baptism’s waters, for while

He was being handed over to the cross, water intervened and was a witness against Pilate's hands (Matthew 27:24). And when He is wounded, after His death, water bursts forth from His side that had been pierced with the soldier's lance (John 19:34)!

Hymnody

We praise You for the Baptist,
Forerunner of the Word,
Our true Elijah, making
A highway for the Lord.
The last and greatest prophet,
He saw the dawning ray
Of light that grows in splendor
Until the perfect day.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, through John the Baptist, the forerunner of Christ, You once proclaimed salvation. Now grant that we may know this salvation and serve You in holiness and righteousness all the days of our life; through our Lord Jesus Christ, Your Son, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. The Humble and Contrite in Spirit

“Heaven is my throne,
and the earth is my footstool;
what is the house that you would build for me,

and what is the place of my rest?

<sup>2</sup>All these things my hand has made,
and so all these things came to be,
declares the LORD.

But this is the one to whom I will look:
he who is humble and contrite in spirit
and trembles at my word.

<sup>3</sup>“He who slaughters an ox is like one who kills a man;
he who sacrifices a lamb,
like one who breaks a dog’s neck;
he who presents a grain offering,
like one who offers pig’s blood;
he who makes a memorial
offering of frankincense,
like one who blesses an idol.

These have chosen their own ways,
and their soul delights
in their abominations;

<sup>4</sup>I also will choose harsh treatment
for them
and bring their fears upon them,
because when I called, no one answered,
when I spoke, they did not listen;
but they did what was evil in my eyes
and chose that in which I did not delight.”

<sup>5</sup>Hear the word of the LORD,
you who tremble at his word:
“Your brothers who hate you and cast you out for my name’s sake

have said, ‘Let the LORD be glorified,
that we may see your joy’;
but it is they who shall be put
to shame.

<sup>6</sup>“The sound of an uproar from the city!
A sound from the temple!
The sound of the LORD,
rendering recompense
to his enemies!

Rejoice with Jerusalem

<sup>7</sup>“Before she was in labor
she gave birth;
before her pain came upon her
she delivered a son.
<sup>8</sup>Who has heard such a thing?
Who has seen such things?
Shall a land be born in one day?
Shall a nation be brought forth
in one moment?

For as soon as Zion was in labor
she brought forth her children.

<sup>9</sup>“Shall I bring to the point of birth and not cause to bring forth?”
says the LORD;

“shall I, who cause to bring forth,
shut the womb?”
says your God.

<sup>10</sup>“Rejoice with Jerusalem,
and be glad for her,
all you who love her;
rejoice with her in joy,
all you who mourn over her;

<sup>11</sup>that you may nurse and be satisfied
from her consoling breast;
that you may drink deeply with delight
from her glorious abundance.”

<sup>12</sup>For thus says the LORD:
“Behold, I will extend peace to her
like a river,

and the glory of the nations
 like an overflowing stream;
 and you shall nurse, you shall be carried
 upon her hip,
 and bounced upon her knees.
<sup>13</sup>As one whom his mother comforts,
 so I will comfort you;
 you shall be comforted in Jerusalem.
<sup>14</sup>You shall see,
 and your heart shall rejoice;
 your bones shall flourish
 like the grass;
 and the hand of the LORD shall be known
 to his servants,
 and he shall show his indignation
 against his enemies.

Final Judgment and Glory of the LORD

<sup>15</sup>“For behold, the LORD will come in fire,
 and his chariots like the whirlwind,
 to render his anger in fury,
 and his rebuke with flames of fire.
<sup>16</sup>For by fire will the LORD enter into judgment,
 and by his sword, with all flesh;
 and those slain by the LORD
 shall be many.

<sup>17</sup>“Those who sanctify and purify themselves to go into the gardens, following one in the midst, eating pig’s flesh and the abomination and mice, shall come to an end together, declares the LORD.

<sup>18</sup>“For I know their works and their thoughts, and the time is coming to gather all nations and tongues. And they shall come and shall see my glory, <sup>19</sup>and I will set a sign among them. And from them I will send survivors to the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, who draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the coastlands far away, that have not heard my fame or seen my glory. And they shall declare my glory among the nations.

<sup>20</sup>And they shall bring all your brothers from all the nations as an offering to the LORD, on horses and in chariots and in litters and on mules and on dromedaries, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, says the LORD, just as the Israelites bring their grain offering in a clean vessel to the house of the LORD.”

[John the Baptist Prepares the Way]

<sup>21</sup>Now when all the people were baptized, and when Jesus also had been baptized and was praying, the heavens were opened, <sup>22</sup>and the Holy Spirit descended on him in bodily form, like a dove; and a voice came from heaven, “You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased.”

The Genealogy of Jesus Christ

 son of Naggai, <sup>26</sup>the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, the son of Josech, the son of Joda, <sup>27</sup>the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the son of Neri, <sup>28</sup>the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmadam, the son of Er, <sup>29</sup>the son of Joshua, the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, <sup>30</sup>the son of Simeon, the son of Judah, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonam, the son of Eliakim, <sup>31</sup>the son of Melea, the son of Menna, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David, <sup>32</sup>the son of Jesse, the son of Obed,

the son of Boaz, the son of Sala, the son of Nahshon,<sup>33</sup> the son of Amminadab, the son of Admin, the son of Arni, the son of Hezron, the son of Perez, the son of Judah,<sup>34</sup> the son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham, the son of Terah, the son of Nahor,<sup>35</sup> the son of Serug, the son of Reu, the son of Peleg, the son of Eber, the son of Shelah,<sup>36</sup> the son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of Lamech,<sup>37</sup> the son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahalaleel, the son of Cainan,<sup>38</sup> the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

Writing

Jesus goes up out of the water . . . for with Himself He carries up the world . . . and sees heaven opened, which Adam had shut against himself and all his posterity, as the gates of Paradise by the flaming sword. And the Spirit bears witness to His Godhead, for He descends upon one that is like Him. So also does the voice from heaven, for Jesus came from heaven, witness to His Godhead. And the Spirit comes like a dove, for He honors the body of Jesus, for this also was God through its union with God, so the Spirit is also seen in a bodily form. Moreover, the dove has from distant ages desired to proclaim the end of the deluge. But if you are to judge the Godhead by bulk and weight, and the Spirit seems to you a small thing because He came in the form of a dove, O man of contemptible littleness of thought concerning the greatest of things, you must also to be consistent despise the kingdom of heaven because it is compared to a mustard seed. And you must exalt the adversary above the majesty of Jesus, because he is called a great mountain and leviathan, king of that which lives in the water, whereas Christ is called the lamb, and the pearl, and the drop of rain that comes from heaven, and similar names.

—Gregory Nazianzen

Hymnody

These truths on Jordan's banks were shown
By mighty word and wonder.
The Father's voice from heav'n came down,
Which we do well to ponder:
"This man is My beloved Son,
In whom My heart has pleasure.
Him you must hear, and Him alone,
And trust in fullest measure
The word that He has spoken."

—To Jordan Came the Christ,
Our Lord (LSB 406:3)

Prayer of the Day

O God, by the leading of a star You made known Your only-begotten Son to the Gentiles. Lead us, who know You by faith, to enjoy in heaven the fullness of Your divine presence; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (L11)

The Epiphany of Our Lord

The feast of the Epiphany of Our Lord commemorates no event but presents an idea that assumes concrete form only through the facts of our Lord's life. The idea of Epiphany is that the Christ who was born in Bethlehem is recognized by the world as God. At Christmas, God appears as man, and at Epiphany, this man appears before the world as God. That Christ became man needed no proof. But that this man, this helpless child, is God needed proof. The manifestations of the Trinity, the signs and wonders performed by this man, and all His miracles have the purpose of proving to men that Jesus is God. Lately, especially in the Western Church, the story of the Magi has been associated with this feast day. As Gentiles who were brought to faith in Jesus Christ, the Magi represent all believers from the Gentile world.

Ezekiel in Babylon

<sup>1</sup>In the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was among the exiles by the Chebar canal, the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God. <sup>2</sup>On the fifth day of the month (it was the fifth year of the exile of King Jehoiachin), <sup>3</sup>the word of the LORD came to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the Chebar canal, and the hand of the LORD was upon him there.

The Glory of the LORD

<sup>4</sup>As I looked, behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, and a great cloud, with brightness around it, and fire flashing forth continually, and in the midst of the fire, as it were gleaming metal. <sup>5</sup>And from the midst of it came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had a human likeness, <sup>6</sup>but each had four faces, and each of them had four wings. <sup>7</sup>Their legs were straight, and the soles of their feet were like the sole of a calf’s foot. And they sparkled like burnished bronze. <sup>8</sup>Under their wings on their four sides they had human hands. And the four had their faces and their wings thus: <sup>9</sup>their wings touched one another. Each one of them went straight forward, without turning as they went. <sup>10</sup>As for the likeness of their faces, each had a human face. The four had the face of a lion on the right side, the four had the face of an ox on the left side, and the four had the face of an eagle. <sup>11</sup>Such were their faces. And their wings were spread out above. Each creature had two wings, each of which touched the wing of another, while two covered their bodies. <sup>12</sup>And each went straight forward. Wherever the spirit would go, they went, without turning as they went. <sup>13</sup>As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches moving to and fro among the living creatures. And the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning. <sup>14</sup>And the living creatures darted to and fro, like the appearance of a flash of lightning. . . .

<sup>26</sup>And above the expanse over their heads there was the likeness of a throne, in appearance like sapphire; and seated above the likeness of a throne was a likeness with a human appearance. <sup>27</sup>And upward from what had the appearance of his waist I saw as it were gleaming metal, like the appearance of fire enclosed all around. And downward from what had the appearance of his waist I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness around him. <sup>28</sup>Like the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud on the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness all around.

Such was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell on my face, and I heard the voice of one speaking.

Greeting

<sup>1</sup>Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus, called to be an apostle, set apart for the gospel of God, <sup>2</sup>which he promised beforehand through his prophets in the holy Scriptures, <sup>3</sup>concerning his Son, who was descended from David according to the flesh <sup>4</sup>and was declared to be the Son of God in power according to the Spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, <sup>5</sup>through whom we have received grace and apostleship to bring about the obedience of faith for the sake of his name among all the nations, <sup>6</sup>including you who are called to belong to Jesus Christ,

<sup>7</sup>To all those in Rome who are loved by God and called to be saints:

Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Longing to Go to Rome

<sup>8</sup>First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith is proclaimed in all the world. <sup>9</sup>For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I mention you <sup>10</sup>always in my prayers, asking that somehow by God's will I may now at last succeed in coming to you. <sup>11</sup>For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift to strengthen you—<sup>12</sup>that is, that we may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith, both yours and mine. <sup>13</sup>I want you to know, brothers, that I have often intended to come to you (but thus far have been prevented), in order that I may reap some harvest among you as well as among the rest of the Gentiles. <sup>14</sup>I am under obligation both to Greeks and to barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. <sup>15</sup>So I am eager to preach the gospel to you also who are in Rome.

The Righteous Shall Live by Faith

<sup>16</sup>For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. <sup>17</sup>For in it the righteousness of God is revealed from faith for faith, as it is written, “The righteous shall live by faith.”

Writing

There remains, therefore, the doctrine of the Gospel, which instructs us concerning the twofold benefit of Christ, namely, reconciliation and sanctification or renewal. It contains the promise of the remission of sins, free reconciliation, adoption, and acceptance unto eternal life, for the sake of Christ the Mediator. It also contains the promise of the Spirit of renewal, who works in us both to will and to do, so that after we are justified we can also begin the new obedience. Therefore, because justifying faith seeks reconciliation with God, forgiveness of sins, adoption, and acceptance unto eternal life, it is manifest what the proper and principal object of faith is, namely, the promise of grace for the sake of the Mediator. In respect to this and by laying hold on it we are justified.

These things are confirmed by sure and clear passages of Scripture which establish that the object of justifying faith is not the Word of God in general, but the promise of the benefits of Christ the Mediator. . . .

Then how many blessings come to us along with this object of our faith: free reconciliation, remission of sins, imputation of the righteousness of Christ, free acceptance before God, adoption, freedom from the law of sin and the Law, liberation from the curse of the Law, propitiation for our sins, salvation, eternal life, communion with God, the inheritance of life and salvation, peace, joy, and hope of the glory of God! These are the words of Scripture. When in this way the object of justifying faith is unfolded before us, the entire matter becomes clearer.

There must be a continuous progression from Sinai to Zion, so that the object of justifying faith does not become Epicureanism or, as Peter says, “a cloak for maliciousness” (1 Peter 2:16).

—Martin Chemnitz

Hymnody

It is the pow’r of God to save
From sin and Satan and the grave;
It works the faith which firmly clings
To all the treasures which it brings.

—The Gospel Shows the Father’s Grace
(LSB 580:4)

Prayer of the Day

Heavenly Father, though we do not deserve Your goodness, still You provide for all our needs of body and soul. Grant us Your Holy Spirit that we may acknowledge Your gifts, give thanks for all Your benefits, and serve You in willing obedience; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Ezekiel's Call

<sup>2</sup>And as he spoke to me, the Spirit entered into me and set me on my feet, and I heard him speaking to me. <sup>3</sup>And he said to me, “Son of man, I send you to the people of Israel, to nations of rebels, who have rebelled against me. They and their fathers have transgressed against me to this very day. <sup>4</sup>The descendants also are impudent and stubborn: I send you to them, and you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD.’ <sup>5</sup>And whether they hear or refuse to hear (for they are a rebellious house) they will know that a prophet has been among them. <sup>6</sup>And you, son of man, be not afraid of them, nor be afraid of their words, though briars and thorns are with you and you sit on scorpions. Be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house. <sup>7</sup>And you shall speak my words to them, whether they hear or refuse to hear, for they are a rebellious house.
<sup>8</sup>“But you, son of man, hear what I say to you. Be not rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat what I give you.” <sup>9</sup>And when I looked, behold, a hand was stretched out to me, and behold, a scroll of a book was in it. <sup>10</sup>And he spread it before me. And it had writing on the front and on the back, and there were written on it words of lamentation and mourning and woe.

<sup>3:1</sup>And he said to me, “Son of man, eat whatever you find here. Eat this scroll, and go, speak to the house of Israel.” <sup>2</sup>So I opened my mouth, and he gave me this scroll to eat. <sup>3</sup>And he said to me, “Son of man, feed your belly with this scroll that I give you and fill your stomach with it.” Then I ate it, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey.

<sup>4</sup>And he said to me, “Son of man, go to the house of Israel and speak with my words to them. <sup>5</sup>For you are not sent to a people of foreign speech and a hard language, but to the house of Israel—<sup>6</sup>not to many peoples of foreign speech and a hard language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely, if I sent you to such, they would listen to you. <sup>7</sup>But the house of Israel will not be willing to listen to you, for they are not willing to listen to me: because all the house of Israel have a hard forehead and a stubborn heart. <sup>8</sup>Behold, I have made your face as hard as their faces, and your forehead as hard as their foreheads. <sup>9</sup>Like emery harder than flint have I made your forehead. Fear them not, nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.” <sup>10</sup>Moreover, he said to me, “Son of man, all my words that I shall speak to you receive in your heart, and hear with your ears. <sup>11</sup>And go to the exiles, to your people, and speak to them and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD,’ whether they hear or refuse to hear.”

God’s Wrath on Unrighteousness

<sup>18</sup>For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. <sup>19</sup>For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. <sup>20</sup>For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. <sup>21</sup>For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. <sup>22</sup>Claiming to be wise, they became fools, <sup>23</sup>and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and creeping things.

<sup>24</sup>Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, <sup>25</sup>because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen.

<sup>26</sup>For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature; <sup>27</sup>and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error.

<sup>32:8</sup>And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a debased mind to do what ought not to be done. <sup>29</sup>They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, maliciousness. They are gossips, <sup>30</sup>slanderers, haters of God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents,

<sup>32</sup>Though they know God's decree that those who practice such things deserve to die, they not only do them but give approval to those who practice them.

Writing

Merely preaching the Law, without Christ, either makes proud people, who imagine that they can fulfill the Law by outward works, or forces them utterly to despair. Therefore, Christ takes the Law into His hands and explains it spiritually (Matthew 5:21–48; Romans 7:14; 1:18). He reveals His wrath from heaven on all sinners and shows how great it is. In this teaching sinners are directed to the Law, and from it they first learn to know their sins correctly—a confession that Moses could never wrestle out of them. For as the apostle testifies (2 Corinthians 3:14–15), even though Moses is read, the veil he put over his face is never lifted. So they cannot understand the Law spiritually, and what great things it requires of us, and how severely it curses and condemns us because we cannot keep or fulfill it. “But when one turns to the Lord, the veil is removed” (2 Corinthians 3:16).

Christ's Spirit must not only comfort, but also through the office of the Law “convict the world concerning sin” [John 16:8]. In the New Testament, as the prophet says, He must do the work of another (reprove), in order that He may <afterward> do His own work, which is to comfort and to preach grace [Isaiah 28:21]. To this end the Spirit was obtained for us through Christ and sent.

[Ezekiel's Call]

<sup>12</sup>Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great earthquake: “Blessed be the glory of the LORD from its place!” <sup>13</sup>It was the sound of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the sound of the wheels beside them, and the sound of a great earthquake. <sup>14</sup>The Spirit lifted me up and took me away, and I went in bitterness in the heat of my spirit, the hand of the LORD being strong upon me. <sup>15</sup>And I came to the exiles at Tel-abib, who were dwelling by the Chebar canal, and I sat where they were dwelling. And I sat there overwhelmed among them seven days.

A Watchman for Israel

<sup>16</sup>And at the end of seven days, the word of the LORD came to me: <sup>17</sup>“Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel. Whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you shall give them warning from me. <sup>18</sup>If I say to the wicked, ‘You shall surely die,’ and you give him no warning, nor speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, in order to save his life, that wicked person shall die for his iniquity, but his blood I will require at your hand. <sup>19</sup>But if you warn the wicked, and he does not turn from his wickedness, or from his wicked way, he shall die for his iniquity, but you will have delivered your soul. <sup>20</sup>Again, if a righteous person turns from his righteousness and commits injustice, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die. Because you have not warned him, he shall die for his sin, and his righteous deeds that he has done shall not be remembered, but his blood I will require at your hand. <sup>21</sup>But if you warn the righteous person not to sin, and he does not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning, and you will have delivered your soul.”

<sup>22</sup>And the hand of the LORD was upon me there. And he said to me, “Arise, go out into the valley, and there I will speak with you.” <sup>23</sup>So I arose and went out into the valley, and behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, like the glory that I had seen by the Chebar canal, and I fell on my face. <sup>24</sup>But the Spirit entered into me and set me on my feet, and he spoke with me and said to me, “Go, shut yourself within your house. <sup>25</sup>And you, O son of man, behold, cords will be placed upon you, and you shall be bound with them, so that you cannot go out among the people. <sup>26</sup>And I will make your tongue cling to the roof of your mouth, so that you shall be mute and unable to reprove them, for they are a rebellious house. <sup>27</sup>But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD.’ He who will hear, let him hear; and he who will refuse to hear, let him refuse, for they are a rebellious house.”

God's Righteous Judgment

<sup>6</sup>He will render to each one according to his works: <sup>7</sup>to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; <sup>8</sup>but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. <sup>9</sup>There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, <sup>10</sup>but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. <sup>11</sup>For God shows no partiality.

God's Judgment and the Law

<sup>12</sup>For all who have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. <sup>13</sup>For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. <sup>14</sup>For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. <sup>15</sup>They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them <sup>16</sup>on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus.

<sup>12</sup>For all who have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. <sup>13</sup>For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. <sup>14</sup>For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. <sup>15</sup>They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them <sup>16</sup>on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus.

[How to prepare for death:] First, one must admonish the people to attend church and listen to the sermon so that they learn through God's word how to live and how to die. It must be noted that those who are so uncouth and wicked as to despise God's word while they are in good health should be left unattended when they are sick unless they demonstrate their remorse and repentance with great earnestness, tears, and lamentation. . . . Second, everyone should prepare in time and get ready for death by going to confession and taking the sacrament once every week or fortnight. He should become reconciled with his neighbor and make his will so that if the Lord knocks and he departs before a pastor or chaplain can arrive, he has provided for his soul, has left nothing undone, and has committed himself to God. When there are many fatalities and only two or three pastors on duty, it is impossible to visit everyone, to give instruction, and to teach each one what a Christian ought to know in the anguish of death. Those who have been careless and negligent in these matters must account for themselves. That is their own fault. After all, we cannot set up a private pulpit and altar daily at their bedside simply because they have despised the public pulpit and altar to which God has summoned and called them.

Third, if someone wants the chaplain or pastor to come, let the sick person send word in time to call him and let him do so early enough while he is still in his right mind before the illness overwhelms the patient.

—Martin Luther

The Soul Who Sins Shall Die

<sup>2</sup>“What do you mean by repeating this proverb concerning the land of Israel, ‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children’s teeth are set on edge’? <sup>3</sup>As I live, declares the Lord GOD, this proverb shall no more be used by you in Israel. <sup>4</sup>Behold, all souls are mine; the soul of the father as well as the soul of the son is mine: the soul who sins shall die. . . .

<sup>19</sup>“Yet you say, ‘Why should not the son suffer for the iniquity of the father?’ When the son has done what is just and right, and has been careful to observe all my statutes, he shall surely live. <sup>20</sup>The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not suffer for the iniquity of the father, nor the father suffer for the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself.

<sup>21</sup>“But if a wicked person turns away from all his sins that he has committed and keeps all my statutes and does what is just and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die. <sup>22</sup>None of the transgressions that he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness that he has done he shall live. <sup>23</sup>Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, declares the Lord GOD, and not rather that he should turn from his way and live? <sup>24</sup>But when a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice and does the same abominations that the wicked person does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds that he has done shall be remembered; for the treachery of which he is guilty and the sin he has committed, for them he shall die.

<sup>25</sup>“Yet you say, ‘The way of the Lord is not just.’ Hear now, O house of Israel: Is my way not just? Is it not your ways that are not just? <sup>26</sup>When a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it; for the injustice that he has done he shall die. <sup>27</sup>Again, when a wicked person turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he shall save his life. <sup>28</sup>Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions that he had committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. <sup>29</sup>Yet the house of Israel says, ‘The way of the Lord is not just.’ O house of Israel, are my ways not just? Is it not your ways that are not just?

<sup>30</sup>“Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, declares the Lord GOD. Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin. <sup>31</sup>Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? <sup>32</sup>For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live.”

[God’s Judgment and the Law]

<sup>17</sup>But if you call yourself a Jew and rely on the law and boast in God <sup>18</sup>and know his will and approve what is excellent, because you are instructed from the law; <sup>19</sup>and if you are sure that you yourself are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, <sup>20</sup>an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of children, having in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth—<sup>21</sup>you then who teach others, do you not teach yourself? While you preach against stealing, do you steal? <sup>22</sup>You who say that one must not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples? <sup>23</sup>You who boast in the law dishonor God by breaking the law. <sup>24</sup>For, as it is written, “The name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you.”

<sup>25</sup>For circumcision indeed is of value if you obey the law, but if you break the law, your circumcision becomes uncircumcision. <sup>26</sup>So, if a man who is uncircumcised keeps the precepts of the law, will not his uncircumcision be regarded as circumcision? <sup>27</sup>Then he who is physically uncircumcised but keeps the law will condemn you who have the written code and circumcision but break the law. <sup>28</sup>For no one is a Jew who is merely one outwardly, nor is circumcision outward and physical. <sup>29</sup>But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter. His praise is not from man but from God.

Writing

Furthermore, the slave and the hireling have a law, not from the Lord, but of their own contriving; the one does not love God, the other loves something else more than God. . . . Each man is a law unto himself, when he sets up his will against the universal law, perversely striving to rival his Creator, to be wholly independent, making his will his only law. What a heavy and burdensome yoke upon all the sons of Adam, bowing down our necks, so that our life draws near to hell. “O wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me from the body of this death?” (Romans 7:24).

In this life, I think, we cannot fully and perfectly obey that precept, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind” (Luke 10:27). For here the heart must take thought for the body; and the soul must energize the flesh; and the strength must guard itself from impairment. . . . It is therefore impossible to offer up all our being to God, to yearn altogether for His face, so long as we must accommodate our purposes and aspirations to these fragile, sickly bodies of ours. Wherefore the soul may hope to possess the fourth degree of love, or rather to be possessed by it, only when it has been clothed with that spiritual and immortal body, which will be perfect, peaceful, lovely, and in everything wholly subjected to the spirit. And to this degree no human effort can attain: it is in God’s power to give it to whom He wills. Then the soul will easily reach that highest stage, because no lusts of the flesh will retard its eager entrance into the joy of its Lord, and no troubles will disturb its peace.

—Bernard of Clairvaux

Almighty God, You revealed to Your Church Your eternal being of glorious majesty and perfect love as one God in a Trinity of persons. May Your Church, with bishops like Basil of Caesarea, Gregory of Nazianzus, and Gregory of Nyssa, receive grace to continue steadfast in the confession of the true faith and constant in our worship of You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, who live and reign, now and forever. (1135)

Basil the Great of Caesarea, Gregory of Nazianzus, Gregory of Nyssa

Basil and the two Gregorays, collectively known as the Cappadocian Fathers, were leaders of Christian orthodoxy in Asia Minor (modern Turkey) in the later fourth century. Basil and Gregory of Nyssa were brothers; Gregory of Nazianzus was their friend. All three were influential in shaping the theology ratified by the Council of Constantinople in AD 381, which is expressed in the Nicene Creed. Their defense of the doctrines of the Holy Spirit and Holy Trinity, together with their contributions to the liturgy of the Eastern Church, make them among the most influential Christian teachers and theologians of their time.

Ezekiel Is Israel's Watchman

- <sup>1</sup>The word of the LORD came to me:
<sup>2</sup>“Son of man, speak to your people and say to them, If I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them, and make him their watchman, <sup>3</sup>and if he sees the sword coming upon the land and blows the trumpet and warns the people, <sup>4</sup>then if anyone who hears the sound of the trumpet does not take warning, and the sword comes and takes him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. <sup>5</sup>He heard the sound of the trumpet and did not take warning; his blood shall be upon himself. But if he had taken warning, he would have saved his life. <sup>6</sup>But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet, so that the people are not warned, and the sword comes and takes any one of them, that person is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood I will require at the watchman's hand.

<sup>7</sup>“So you, son of man, I have made a watchman for the house of Israel. Whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you shall give them warning from me. <sup>8</sup>If I say to the wicked, O wicked one, you shall surely die, and you do not speak to warn the wicked to turn from his way, that wicked person shall die in his iniquity, but his blood I will require at your hand. <sup>9</sup>But if you warn the wicked to turn from his way, and he does not turn from his way, that person shall die in his iniquity, but you will have delivered your soul.

Why Will You Die, Israel?

<sup>10</sup>“And you, son of man, say to the house of Israel, Thus have you said: ‘Surely our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we rot away because of them. How then can we live?’ <sup>11</sup>Say to them, As I live, declares the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live; turn back, turn back from your evil ways, for why will you die, O house of Israel?

<sup>12</sup>“And you, son of man, say to your people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him when he transgresses, and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall by it when he turns from his wickedness, and the righteous shall not be able to live by his righteousness when he sins. <sup>13</sup>Though I say to the righteous that he shall surely live, yet if he trusts in his righteousness and does injustice, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered, but in his injustice that he has done he shall die. <sup>14</sup>Again, though I say to the wicked, ‘You shall surely die,’ yet if he turns from his sin and does what is just and right, <sup>15</sup>if the wicked restores the pledge, gives back what he has taken by robbery, and walks in the statutes of life, not doing injustice, he shall surely live; he shall not die. <sup>16</sup>None of the sins that he has committed shall be remembered against him. He has done what is just and right; he shall surely live.

<sup>17</sup>“Yet your people say, ‘The way of the Lord is not just,’ when it is their own way that is not just. <sup>18</sup>When the righteous turns from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it. <sup>19</sup>And when the wicked turns from his wickedness and does what is just and right, he shall live by this. <sup>20</sup>Yet you say, ‘The way of the Lord is not just.’ O house of Israel, I will judge each of you according to his ways.”

God's Righteousness Upheld

<sup>1</sup>Then what advantage has the Jew? Or what is the value of circumcision? <sup>2</sup>Much in every way. To begin with, the Jews were entrusted with the oracles of God. <sup>3</sup>What if some were unfaithful? Does their faithlessness nullify the faithfulness of God? <sup>4</sup>By no means! Let God be true though every one were a liar, as it is written,

“That you may be justified in your words, and prevail when you are judged.”

<sup>5</sup>But if our unrighteousness serves to show the righteousness of God, what shall we say? That God is unrighteous to inflict wrath on us? (I speak in a human way.) <sup>6</sup>By no means! For then how could God judge the world? <sup>7</sup>But if through my lie God's truth abounds to his glory, why am I still being condemned as a sinner? <sup>8</sup>And why not do evil that good may come?—as some people slanderously charge us with saying. Their condemnation is just.

No One Is Righteous

<sup>9</sup>What then? Are we Jews any better off? No, not at all. For we have already charged that all, both Jews and Greeks, are under sin, <sup>10</sup>as it is written:

“None is righteous, no, not one;

<sup>11</sup>no one understands;

no one seeks for God.

<sup>12</sup>All have turned aside; together they have become worthless;

no one does good,

not even one.”

<sup>13</sup>“Their throat is an open grave;

they use their tongues to deceive.”

<sup>16</sup>in their paths are ruin and misery,

Writing

2. We believe, teach, and confess that this distinction [between man’s nature and original sin] should be maintained with the greatest care. For this doctrine (that no distinction is to be made between our corrupt human nature and original sin) conflicts with the chief articles of our Christian faith about creation, redemption, sanctification, and the resurrection of our body. It cannot stand with them.

God created the body and soul of Adam and Eve before the fall. But He also created our bodies and souls after the fall. Even though they are corrupt, God still acknowledges them as His work, as it is written in Job 10:8, “Your hands fashioned and made me.” (See also Deuteronomy 32:18; Isaiah 45:9–10; 54:5; 64:8; Acts 17:28; Psalm 100:3; 139:14; Ecclesiastes 12:1.) . . .

3. On the other hand, we believe, teach, and confess that original sin is not a minor corruption. It is so deep a corruption of human nature that nothing healthy or uncorrupt remains in man’s body or soul, in his inward or outward powers (Romans 3:10–12). As the Church sings:

Through Adam’s fall is all corrupt,
Nature and essence human.

This damage cannot be fully described [Psalm 19:12]. It cannot be understood by reason, but only from God’s Word. We affirm that no one but God alone can separate human nature and this corruption of human nature from each other. This will fully come to pass through death, in the ‹blessed› resurrection. At that time our nature, which we now bear, will rise and live eternally without original sin and be separated and divided from it. As it is written in Job 19:26–27, “After my skin has been thus destroyed, yet in my flesh I shall see God, whom I shall see for myself, and my eyes shall behold.”

of Concord I 3–4, 8–10

Prophecy Against the Shepherds of Israel

<sup>1</sup>The word of the LORD came to me: <sup>2</sup>“Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say to them, even to the shepherds, Thus says the Lord GOD: Ah, shepherds of Israel who have been feeding yourselves! Should not shepherds feed the sheep? <sup>3</sup>You eat the fat, you clothe yourselves with the wool, you slaughter the fat ones, but you do not feed the sheep. <sup>4</sup>The weak you have not strengthened, the sick you have not healed, the injured you have not bound up, the strayed you have not brought back, the lost you have not sought, and with force and harshness you have ruled them. <sup>5</sup>So they were scattered, because there was no shepherd, and they became food for all the wild beasts. <sup>6</sup>My sheep were scattered; they wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill. My sheep were scattered over all the face of the earth, with none to search or seek for them.

<sup>7</sup>“Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: <sup>8</sup>As I live, declares the Lord GOD, surely because my sheep have become a prey, and my sheep have become food for all the wild beasts, since there was no shepherd, and because my shepherds have not searched for my sheep, but the shepherds have fed themselves, and have not fed my sheep, <sup>9</sup>therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: <sup>10</sup>Thus says the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against the shepherds, and I will require my sheep at their hand and put a stop to their feeding the sheep. No longer shall the shepherds feed themselves. I will rescue my sheep from their mouths, that they may not be food for them.

The Lord GOD Will Seek Them Out

<sup>11</sup>“For thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I, I myself will search for my sheep and will seek them out. <sup>12</sup>As a shepherd seeks out his flock when he is among his sheep that have been scattered, so will I seek out my sheep, and I will rescue them from all places where they have been scattered on a day of clouds and thick darkness. <sup>13</sup>And I will bring them out from the peoples and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land. And I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the ravines, and in all the inhabited places of the country. <sup>14</sup>I will feed them with good pasture, and on the mountain heights of Israel shall be their grazing land. There they shall lie down in good grazing land, and on rich pasture they shall feed on the mountains of Israel. <sup>15</sup>I myself will be the shepherd of my sheep, and I myself will make them lie down, declares the Lord GOD. <sup>16</sup>I will seek the lost, and I will bring back the strayed, and I will bind up the injured, and I will strengthen the weak, and the fat and the strong I will destroy. I will feed them in justice.

<sup>17</sup>“As for you, my flock, thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, between rams and male goats. <sup>18</sup>Is it not enough for you to feed on the good pasture, that you must tread down with your feet the rest of your pasture; and to drink of clear water, that you must muddy the rest of the water with your feet? <sup>19</sup>And must my sheep eat what you have trodden with your feet, and drink what you have muddied with your feet?

<sup>20</sup>“Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD to them: Behold, I, I myself will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. <sup>21</sup>Because you push with side and shoulder, and thrust at all the weak with your horns, till you have scattered them abroad, <sup>22</sup>I will rescue my flock; they shall no longer be a prey. And I will judge between sheep and sheep. <sup>23</sup>And I will set up over them one shepherd, my servant David, and he shall feed them: he shall feed them and be their shepherd. <sup>24</sup>And I, the LORD, will be their God, and my servant David shall be prince among them. I am the LORD; I have spoken.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 3:19–31

[No One Is Righteous]

<sup>19</sup>Now we know that whatever the law says it speaks to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be stopped, and the whole world may be held accountable to God. <sup>20</sup>For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin.

The Righteousness of God Through Faith

<sup>21</sup>But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it—<sup>22</sup>the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: <sup>23</sup>for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, <sup>24</sup>and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, <sup>25</sup>whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God’s righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. <sup>26</sup>It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus.

<sup>27</sup>Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. <sup>28</sup>For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. <sup>29</sup>Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, <sup>30</sup>since God is one—who will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. <sup>31</sup>Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law.

Writing

You desire to go to Confession and to the Holy Lord’s Supper and ask: “How should I begin? How might God look upon my works favorably so that I will be blessed? So that I will receive the body and blood of the Lord not to my judgment, but to my soul’s salvation?” Listen to the answer which the apostle Paul gives in 1 Cor. 11:28: “A man,” he says, “ought to examine himself before he eats of the bread and drinks of the cup.” But you ask, “How should I examine myself? What do I examine myself for?” The apostle holds the Law before your eyes and says to you: “From the Law comes recognition of sin!” Therefore look into the Law, in this mirror of the Law, and compare the purity of the Law with the purity—rather, the impurity—of your heart and changes so that you will receive the first grace, namely, recognition of your sins. But because the blind man can recognize neither what is beautiful nor what is ugly, he calls upon the Lord, “Have mercy upon me!” Because human beings according to their nature cannot correctly recognize their sins, you should turn to the Father of light, from whom all good and perfect gifts come from above, and to the Son, who is that Light, who enlightens all humans, and pray. . . .

Lord God, Holy Spirit, You are the true and constant support in every need, a Spirit of truth and promise, God’s finger, the water of life, a heavenly fire, which warms cold hearts and ignites them with true love for God. You have revealed Yourself to the apostles with wonderful gifts in a powerful wind and fiery tongues. We ask You now therefore to come into our hearts, to strengthen and gladden our ignorant consciences. Sanctify us with Your blessing and be unto us the holy assurance of our redemption and our salvation. Amen.

[Prophecy to the Mountains of Israel]

<sup>13</sup>Thus says the Lord GOD: Because they say to you, ‘You devour people, and you bereave your nation of children,’<sup>14</sup>therefore you shall no longer devour people and no longer bereave your nation of children, declares the Lord GOD. <sup>15</sup>And I will not let you hear anymore the reproach of the nations, and you shall no longer bear the disgrace of the peoples and no longer cause your nation to stumble, declares the Lord GOD.”

The LORD’s Concern for His Holy Name

<sup>16</sup>The word of the LORD came to me:
<sup>17</sup>“Son of man, when the house of Israel lived in their own land, they defiled it by their ways and their deeds. Their ways before me were like the uncleanness of a woman in her menstrual impurity. <sup>18</sup>So I poured out my wrath upon them for the blood that they had shed in the land, for the idols with which they had defiled it. <sup>19</sup>I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries. In accordance with their ways and their deeds I judged them. <sup>20</sup>But when they came to the nations, wherever they came, they profaned my holy name, in that people said of them, ‘These are the people of the LORD, and yet they had to go out of his land.’ <sup>21</sup>But I had concern for my holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations to which they came.

I Will Put My Spirit Within You

<sup>22</sup>“Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: It is not for your sake, O house of Israel, that I am about to act, but for the sake of my holy name, which you have profaned among the nations to which you came. <sup>23</sup>And I will vindicate the holiness of my great name, which has been profaned among the nations, and which you have profaned among them. And the nations will know that I am the LORD, declares the Lord GOD, when through you I vindicate my holiness before their eyes. <sup>24</sup>I will take you from the nations and gather you from all the countries and bring you into your own land. <sup>25</sup>I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols I will cleanse you. <sup>26</sup>And I will give you a new heart, and a new spirit I will put within you. And I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh and give you a heart of flesh. <sup>27</sup>And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes and be careful to obey my rules. <sup>28</sup>You shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and you shall be my people, and I will be your God.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 4:1–25

Abraham Justified by Faith

<sup>1</sup>What then shall we say was gained by Abraham, our forefather according to the flesh? <sup>2</sup>For if Abraham was justified by works, he has something to boast about, but not before God. <sup>3</sup>For what does the Scripture say? “Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness.” <sup>4</sup>Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. <sup>5</sup>And to the one who does not work but believes in him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, <sup>6</sup>just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from works:

<sup>7</sup>“Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven,

and whose sins are covered;

<sup>9</sup>Is this blessing then only for the circumcised, or also for the uncircumcised? We say that faith was counted to Abraham as righteousness. <sup>10</sup>How then was it counted to him? Was it before or after he had been circumcised? It was not after, but before he was circumcised. <sup>11</sup>He received the sign of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. The purpose was to make him the father of all who believe without being circumcised, so that righteousness would be counted to them as well, <sup>12</sup>and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised.

The Promise Realized Through Faith

<sup>13</sup>For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. <sup>14</sup>For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. <sup>15</sup>For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression.

<sup>16</sup>That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,<sup>17</sup> as it is written, “I have made you the father of many nations”—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist.<sup>18</sup> In hope he believed against hope, that he should become the father of many nations, as he had been told, “So shall your offspring be.”<sup>19</sup> He did not weaken in faith when he considered his own body, which was as good as dead (since he was about a hundred years old), or when he considered the barrenness of Sarah’s womb.<sup>20</sup> No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith as he gave glory to God,<sup>21</sup> fully convinced that God was able to do what he had promised.<sup>22</sup> That is why his faith was “counted to him as righteousness.”<sup>23</sup> But the words “it was counted to him” were not written for his sake alone,<sup>24</sup> but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord,<sup>25</sup> who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification.

Writing

Here [Philippians 3:7–11] Paul clearly explains the righteousness of faith and what it consists of: that God looks at His Son and for His sake permits us not to suffer for our sins; Instead, He regards us as righteous, as if we were neither sinners nor corrupted by nature. He looks at the power of Christ’s resurrection and our sharing of His suffering, for Christ’s suffering and death are our death, and we become like Him through faith; we enjoy the power of His resurrection.

Similarly he writes in Romans 4:(25): “He was put to death for our trespasses and was raised for our justification.” That means: As soon as Christ rose from the dead, the power of His resurrection was so great that whoever believed on Him was no longer considered a sinner but was considered righteous in God’s sight—for he had put on the obedience of Christ, which He rendered the Father even unto death. It is written (Gal. 3:27): “For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ.” Again (Col. 2:12–14): “You were buried with Him in baptism, in which you were also raised with Him through faith, which God effects, God, who raised Him from the dead. And you, who were dead in sin, God made alive with Him, having forgiven us all our sins, having canceled the bond which stood against us.”

From all this it is plain and clear that when Holy Scripture speaks of the righteousness of faith and of our justification in God’s sight, nothing else can be understood but this: (1) how we are declared utterly free in God’s sight of our sins, which we have committed, which still cling to our flesh, which we cannot completely lay aside as long as we live in this world; and (2) what God looks upon and why He will not regard us as sinners and does not cast us away and condemn us eternally as sinful, disobedient children: because of the obedience of Christ, which He rendered to His Father even unto death as the satisfaction and payment for our sins and as our righteousness.

Old Testament Reading: Ezekiel 36:33–37:14

[I Will Put My Spirit Within You]

<sup>33</sup>“Thus says the Lord GOD: On the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be rebuilt. <sup>34</sup>And the land that was desolate shall be tilled, instead of being the desolation that it was in the sight of all who passed by. <sup>35</sup>And they will say, ‘This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden, and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are now fortified and inhabited.’<sup>36</sup>Then the nations that are left all around you shall know that I am the LORD; I have rebuilt the ruined places and replanted that which was desolate. I am the LORD; I have spoken, and I will do it.

<sup>37</sup>“Thus says the Lord GOD: This also I will let the house of Israel ask me to do for them: to increase their people like a flock. <sup>38</sup>Like the flock for sacrifices, like the flock at Jerusalem during her appointed feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of people. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

The Valley of Dry Bones

<sup>37:1</sup>The hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me out in the Spirit of the LORD and set me down in the middle of the valley; it was full of bones. <sup>2</sup>And he led me around among them, and behold, there were very many on the surface of the valley, and behold, they were very dry. <sup>3</sup>And he said to me, “Son of man, can these bones live?” And I answered, “O Lord GOD, you know.” <sup>4</sup>Then he said to me, “Prophecy over these bones, and say to them, O dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. <sup>5</sup>Thus says the Lord GOD to these bones: Behold, I will cause breath to enter you, and you shall live. <sup>6</sup>And I will lay sinews upon you, and will cause flesh to come upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and you shall live, and you shall know that I am the LORD.”

<sup>7</sup>So I prophesied as I was commanded. And as I prophesied, there was a sound, and behold, a rattling, and the bones came together, bone to its bone. <sup>8</sup>And I looked, and behold, there were sinews on them, and flesh had come upon them, and skin had covered them. But there was no breath in them.

<sup>9</sup>Then he said to me, “Prophesy to the breath; prophesy, son of man, and say to the breath, Thus says the Lord GOD: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live.” <sup>10</sup>So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived and stood on their feet, an exceedingly great army.

<sup>11</sup>Then he said to me, “Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, ‘Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are indeed cut off.’ <sup>12</sup>Therefore prophesy, and say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will open your graves and raise you from your graves, O my people. And I will bring you into the land of Israel. <sup>13</sup>And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I open your graves, and raise you from your graves, O my people. <sup>14</sup>And I will put my Spirit within you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land. Then you shall know that I am the LORD; I have spoken, and I will do it, declares the LORD.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 5:1–21

Peace with God Through Faith

<sup>1</sup>Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>2</sup>Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. <sup>3</sup>More than that, we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, <sup>4</sup>and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, <sup>5</sup>and hope does not put us to shame, because God’s love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us.

<sup>6</sup>For while we were still weak, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly. <sup>7</sup>For one will scarcely die for a righteous person—though perhaps for a good person one would dare even to die—<sup>8</sup>but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. <sup>9</sup>Since, therefore, we have now been justified by his blood, much more shall we be saved by him from the wrath of God. <sup>10</sup>For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, now that we are reconciled, shall we be saved by his life. <sup>11</sup>More than that, we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received reconciliation.

Death in Adam, Life in Christ

<sup>12</sup>Therefore, just as sin came into the world through one man, and death through sin, and so death spread to all men because all sinned—<sup>13</sup>for sin indeed was in the world before the law was given, but sin is not counted where there is no law. <sup>14</sup>Yet death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those whose sinning was not like the transgression of Adam, who was a type of the one who was to come.

<sup>15</sup>But the free gift is not like the trespass. For if many died through one man's trespass, much more have the grace of God and the free gift by the grace of that one man Jesus Christ abounded for many. <sup>16</sup>And the free gift is not like the result of that one man's sin. For the judgment following one trespass brought condemnation, but the free gift following many trespasses brought justification. <sup>17</sup>For if, because of one man's trespass, death reigned through that one man, much more will those who receive the abundance of grace and the free gift of righteousness reign in life through the one man Jesus Christ.

<sup>18</sup>Therefore, as one trespass led to condemnation for all men, so one act of righteousness leads to justification and life for all men. <sup>19</sup>For as by the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, so by the one man's obedience the many will be made righteous. <sup>20</sup>Now the law came in to increase the trespass, but where sin increased, grace abounded all the more, <sup>21</sup>so that, as sin reigned in death, grace also might reign through righteousness leading to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Writing

There is a natural Law written in our hearts [as] the apostle [Paul] . . . teaches us when he writes that, for the most part, "the Gentiles, which do not have the Law, do by nature the things contained in the Law, and, though they have not read the Law, still have the works of the Law written in their hearts" [Romans 2:14–15]. Adam broke this Law . . . [and] incurred guilt and through arrogance fell into transgression. Had he not thus violated his allegiance, but been obedient to the commands of heaven, he would have preserved to his posterity the prerogative of nature and the innocence that he possessed at his birth. Therefore, as by [Adam's] disobedience the authority of the law of nature was corrupted and blotted out, the written Law was found necessary.

The [written] Law, then, was published, first, to take away all excuse, lest man should say, "I did not know sin, because I received no rule what to avoid." And next, that "all the world might become guilty before God" by the recognition of sin [Romans 3:19]. Now the world becomes guilty before God by the Law, in that all are made liable to its precepts, but no man is justified by its works. By the Law comes the knowledge of sin, but not the remission of guilt.

But when the Lord Jesus came, He forgave all men that sin which none could escape and "blotted out the handwriting against us" by the shedding of His own blood [Colossians 2:14]. This, then, is the apostle's meaning: sin abounded by the Law, but grace abounded by Jesus; for after the whole world became guilty, He took away the sin of the whole world, as John bore witness, saying: "Behold the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" [John 1:29]. Therefore let no one glory in works, for by his works no man shall be justified, for he who is just has a free gift, for he is justified by the Bath [of Baptism]. It is faith, then, which delivers by the blood of Christ, for "Blessed is the man to whom sin is remitted and pardon granted" [Psalm 32:1].

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, Your Son,
 Jesus Christ, our Lord, died for the ungodly, declaring all of humanity righteous by the shedding of His blood. Grant us the free gift of faith to receive this reality for our salvation, that by Your grace we may serve You in love and righteousness all the days of our lives; through Your Son, Jesus Christ, our
 Lord. (1136)

I Will Be Their God, They Shall Be My People

<sup>15</sup>The word of the LORD came to me:
<sup>16</sup>“Son of man, take a stick and write on it, ‘For Judah, and the people of Israel associated with him’; then take another stick and write on it, ‘For Joseph (the stick of Ephraim) and all the house of Israel associated with him.’ <sup>17</sup>And join them one to another into one stick, that they may become one in your hand. <sup>18</sup>And when your people say to you, ‘Will you not tell us what you mean by these?’ <sup>19</sup>say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am about to take the stick of Joseph (that is in the hand of Ephraim) and the tribes of Israel associated with him. And I will join with it the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, that they may be one in my hand. <sup>20</sup>When the sticks on which you write are in your hand before their eyes, <sup>21</sup>then say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take the people of Israel from the nations among which they have gone, and will gather them from all around, and bring them to their own land. <sup>22</sup>And I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel. And one king shall be king over them all, and they shall be no longer two nations, and no longer divided into two kingdoms.

<sup>23</sup>They shall not defile themselves anymore with their idols and their detestable things, or with any of their transgressions. But I will save them from all the backslidings in which they have sinned, and will cleanse them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

<sup>24</sup>“My servant David shall be king over them, and they shall all have one shepherd. They shall walk in my rules and be careful to obey my statutes. <sup>25</sup>They shall dwell in the land that I gave to my servant Jacob, where your fathers lived. They and their children and their children’s children shall dwell there forever, and David my servant shall be their prince forever. <sup>26</sup>I will make a covenant of peace with them. It shall be an everlasting covenant with them. And I will set them in their land and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in their midst forevermore. <sup>27</sup>My dwelling place shall be with them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. <sup>28</sup>Then the nations will know that I am the LORD who sanctifies Israel, when my sanctuary is in their midst forevermore.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 6:1–23

Dead to Sin, Alive to God

<sup>1</sup>What shall we say then? Are we to continue in sin that grace may abound? <sup>2</sup>By no means! How can we who died to sin still live in it? <sup>3</sup>Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? <sup>4</sup>We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life.

<sup>5</sup>For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. <sup>6</sup>We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. <sup>7</sup>For one who has died has been set free from sin. <sup>8</sup>Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. <sup>9</sup>We know that Christ, being raised from the dead, will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him. <sup>10</sup>For the death he died he died to sin, once for all, but the life he lives he lives to God. <sup>11</sup>So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus.

<sup>12</sup>Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, to make you obey its passions. <sup>13</sup>Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. <sup>14</sup>For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace.

Slaves to Righteousness

<sup>15</sup>What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! <sup>16</sup>Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? <sup>17</sup>But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed,<sup>18</sup> and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness.<sup>19</sup> I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification.

<sup>20</sup>For when you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness.<sup>21</sup> But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death.<sup>22</sup> But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life.<sup>23</sup> For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Writing

God made man upright according to the soul, and not according to the earthly matter. For he created him in his own image and likeness. You should know, therefore, that you ought to restore and keep the likeness of God in the spiritual part of your being, and not in the mortal clay of your body. For God is spirit, and those who wish to become or remain like him must deal with this matter in spirit and in their hearts. Yet God gave man an upright posture in order that the corporeal straightness of the exterior and less worthy figure might be a warning to the inward man, who was made in the image of God, that he should keep his spiritual straightness; and thus the splendor of the body might rebuke the deformity of the soul. In fact, what would be more unbecoming in man than to carry his soul bent down while his body is erect? It would be a perverse and ugly thing indeed, a thing befitting only the clay out of which the body was made, to have the eyes looking upwards and with them to look freely at the sky above and be delighted with the lights of the heavens, while the spiritual and celestial creature, that is, the spiritual part of man, turns its eyes in the opposite direction, as it actually does when the inward feelings and affections of man are bent downwards towards the earth.

Prophecy Against Gog

<sup>1</sup>The word of the LORD came to me: <sup>2</sup>“Son of man, set your face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him <sup>3</sup>and say, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal. <sup>4</sup>And I will turn you about and put hooks into your jaws, and I will bring you out, and all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armor, a great host, all of them with buckler and shield, wielding swords. <sup>5</sup>Persia, Cush, and Put are with them, all of them with shield and helmet; <sup>6</sup>Gomer and all his hordes; Beth-togarmah from the uttermost parts of the north with all his hordes—many peoples are with you.

<sup>7</sup>“Be ready and keep ready, you and all your hosts that are assembled about you, and be a guard for them. <sup>8</sup>After many days you will be mustered. In the latter years you will go against the land that is restored from war, the land whose people were gathered from many peoples upon the mountains of Israel, which had been a continual waste. Its people were brought out from the peoples and now dwell securely, all of them. <sup>9</sup>You will advance, coming on like a storm. You will be like a cloud covering the land, you and all your hordes, and many peoples with you.

<sup>10</sup>“Thus says the Lord GOD: On that day, thoughts will come into your mind, and you will devise an evil scheme <sup>11</sup>and say, ‘I will go up against the land of unwalled villages. I will fall upon the quiet people who dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having no bars or gates,’ <sup>12</sup>to seize spoil and carry off plunder, to turn your hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and the people who were gathered from the nations, who have acquired livestock and goods, who dwell at the center of the earth. <sup>13</sup>Sheba and Dedan and the merchants of Tarshish and all its leaders will say to you, ‘Have you come to seize spoil? Have you assembled your hosts to carry off plunder, to carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to seize great spoil?’

that day when my people Israel are dwelling securely, will you not know it? <sup>15</sup>You will come from your place out of the uttermost parts of the north, you and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great host, a mighty army. <sup>16</sup>You will come up against my people Israel, like a cloud covering the land. In the latter days I will bring you against my land, that the nations may know me, when through you, O Gog, I vindicate my holiness before their eyes.

<sup>17</sup>“Thus says the Lord GOD: Are you he of whom I spoke in former days by my servants the prophets of Israel, who in those days prophesied for years that I would bring you against them? <sup>18</sup>But on that day, the day that Gog shall come against the land of Israel, declares the Lord GOD, my wrath will be roused in my anger. <sup>19</sup>For in my jealousy and in my blazing wrath I declare, On that day there shall be a great earthquake in the land of Israel. <sup>20</sup>The fish of the sea and the birds of the heavens and the beasts of the field and all creeping things that creep on the ground, and all the people who are on the face of the earth, shall quake at my presence. And the mountains shall be thrown down, and the cliffs shall fall, and every wall shall tumble to the ground. <sup>21</sup>I will summon a sword against Gog on all my mountains, declares the Lord GOD. Every man’s sword will be against his brother. <sup>22</sup>With pestilence and bloodshed I will enter into judgment with him, and I will rain upon him and his hordes and the many peoples who are with him torrential rains and hailstones, fire and sulfur. <sup>23</sup>So I will show my greatness and my holiness and make myself known in the eyes of many nations. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 7:1–20

Released from the Law

<sup>1</sup>Or do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is binding on a person only as long as he lives? <sup>2</sup>For a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but if her husband dies she is released from the law of marriage. <sup>3</sup>Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man she is not an adulteress.

<sup>4</sup>Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. <sup>5</sup>For while we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. <sup>6</sup>But now we are released from the law, having died to that which held us captive, so that we serve in the new way of the Spirit and not in the old way of the written code.

The Law and Sin

<sup>7</sup>What then shall we say? That the law is sin? By no means! Yet if it had not been for the law, I would not have known sin. For I would not have known what it is to covet if the law had not said, “You shall not covet.” <sup>8</sup>But sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of covetousness. For apart from the law, sin lies dead. <sup>9</sup>I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. <sup>10</sup>The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. <sup>11</sup>For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. <sup>12</sup>So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good.

<sup>13</sup>Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. <sup>14</sup>For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am of the flesh, sold under sin. <sup>15</sup>For I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. <sup>16</sup>Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. <sup>17</sup>So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. <sup>18</sup>For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. <sup>19</sup>For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. <sup>20</sup>Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me.

Writing

What need is there of a long discussion? All Scripture, all the Church cries out that the Law cannot be satisfied. Therefore, starting to fulfill the Law does not please on its own account, but on account of faith in Christ. Otherwise, the Law always accuses us. For who loves or fears God enough? Who has enough patience to bear the troubles brought by God? Who does not frequently doubt whether human affairs are ruled by God's counsel or by chance? Who does not frequently doubt whether he is heard by God? Who is not frequently enraged because the wicked enjoy a better life than the righteous, because the righteous are oppressed by the wicked? Who fulfills his own calling? Who loves his neighbor as himself? Who is not tempted by lust? Paul says, "For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing" (Romans 7:19). Likewise, "I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin" (7:25). Here he openly declares that he serves the law of sin. . . . In our weakness sin is always present, which could be charged against us. A little while after he says, "Therefore let everyone who is godly offer prayer to You" (Psalm 32:6). Here he shows that even saints ought to seek forgiveness of sins. They are more than blind who do not realize that wicked desires in the flesh are sins, of which Paul says, "For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh" (Galatians 5:17). The flesh distrusts God, trusts in present things, seeks human aid in trouble, even contrary to God's will. It flees from suffering, which it ought to bear because of God's commands. It doubts God's mercy and so on. The Holy Spirit in our hearts fights against such tendencies in order to suppress and kill them and to produce new spiritual motives.

Confession V (III) 45–49 [166–170]

[Prophecy Against Gog]

<sup>1</sup>“And you, son of man, prophesy against Gog and say, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal. <sup>2</sup>And I will turn you about and drive you forward, and bring you up from the uttermost parts of the north, and lead you against the mountains of Israel. <sup>3</sup>Then I will strike your bow from your left hand, and will make your arrows drop out of your right hand. <sup>4</sup>You shall fall on the mountains of Israel, you and all your hordes and the peoples who are with you. I will give you to birds of prey of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. <sup>5</sup>You shall fall in the open field, for I have spoken, declares the Lord GOD. <sup>6</sup>I will send fire on Magog and on those who dwell securely in the coastlands, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

<sup>7</sup>“And my holy name I will make known in the midst of my people Israel, and I will not let my holy name be profaned anymore. And the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel. <sup>8</sup>Behold, it is coming and it will be brought about, declares the Lord GOD. That is the day of which I have spoken.

<sup>9</sup>“Then those who dwell in the cities of Israel will go out and make fires of the weapons and burn them, shields and bucklers, bow and arrows, clubs and spears; and they will make fires of them for seven years, <sup>10</sup>so that they will not need to take wood out of the field or cut down any out of the forests, for they will make their fires of the weapons. They will seize the spoil of those who despoiled them, and plunder those who plundered them, declares the Lord GOD.

<sup>17</sup>“As for you, son of man, thus says the Lord GOD: Speak to the birds of every sort and to all beasts of the field, ‘Assemble and come, gather from all around to the sacrificial feast that I am preparing for you, a great sacrificial feast on the mountains of Israel, and you shall eat flesh and drink blood. <sup>18</sup>You shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth—of rams, of lambs, and of he-goats, of bulls, all of them fat beasts of Bashan. <sup>19</sup>And you shall eat fat till you are filled, and drink blood till you are drunk, at the sacrificial feast that I am preparing for you. <sup>20</sup>And you shall be filled at my table with horses and charioteers, with mighty men and all kinds of warriors,’ declares the Lord GOD.

<sup>21</sup>“And I will set my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid on them. <sup>22</sup>The house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God, from that day forward. <sup>23</sup>And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they dealt so treacherously with me that I hid my face from them and gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they all fell by the sword. <sup>24</sup>I dealt with them according to their uncleanness and their transgressions, and hid my face from them.

The LORD Will Restore Israel

<sup>25</sup>“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Now I will restore the fortunes of Jacob and have mercy on the whole house of Israel, and I will be jealous for my holy name. <sup>26</sup>They shall forget their shame and all the treachery they have practiced against me, when they dwell securely in their land with none to make them afraid, <sup>27</sup>when I have brought them back from the peoples and gathered them from their enemies’ lands, and through them have vindicated my holiness in the sight of many nations. <sup>28</sup>Then they shall know that I am the LORD their God, because I sent them into exile among the nations and then assembled them into their own land. I will leave none of them remaining among the nations anymore. <sup>29</sup>And I will not hide my face anymore from them, when I pour out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, declares the Lord GOD.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 7:21–8:17

[The Law and Sin]

<sup>21</sup>So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. <sup>22</sup>For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, <sup>23</sup>but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. <sup>24</sup>Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? <sup>25</sup>Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin.

Life in the Spirit

<sup>8:1</sup>There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. <sup>2</sup>For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. <sup>3</sup>For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, <sup>4</sup>in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. <sup>5</sup>For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. <sup>6</sup>For to set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. <sup>7</sup>For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. <sup>8</sup>Those who are in the flesh cannot please God.

<sup>9</sup>You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. <sup>10</sup>But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. <sup>11</sup>If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you.

Heirs with Christ

<sup>12</sup>So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. <sup>13</sup>For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. <sup>14</sup>For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God.

<sup>15</sup>For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption as sons, by whom we cry, "Abba! Father!" <sup>16</sup>The Spirit himself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, <sup>17</sup>and if children, then heirs—heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him.

Writing

This particular Pauline way of thinking and speaking is very pleasing and comforting. Similarly in Romans (7:23) he opposes the Law of the Spirit to the law in his members. Because this way of speaking is so new and strange, it enters more easily into the heart and remains more firmly in the memory. Besides, it sounds sweeter when he says: "I through the Law died to the Law" than if he were to say: "I through liberty died to the Law." For he is drawing a picture, as though Law were battling against Law. It is as though he were saying: "Law, if you are able to bite me, bind me, and plague me, I will put another Law above you, that is, another tyrant and tormentor, who will accuse you, bind you, and oppress you in turn. You are indeed my tormentor. But I have another tormentor, namely, Christ. He will torment you all the way. When you have been tormented all the way by Him, then I am free." Likewise, if the devil whips me, I have a stronger devil, who will whip him in turn. And when the more powerful devil battles and conquers the powerful one, I am set free. Thus grace is a Law—not to me, because it does not bind me, but to my Law; this it binds in such a way that it cannot bind me any longer.

Therefore Paul would like to draw us away completely from looking at the Law, sin, death, and other evil things, and to transfer us to Christ, in order that there we might see this very joyous duel: the Law battling against the Law, in order to become liberty to me; sin battling against sin, in order to become righteousness to me; death battling against death, in order that I might have life. For Christ is my devil against the devil, that I might be a son of God; He destroys hell, that I might have the kingdom of heaven.

Vision of the New Temple

<sup>1</sup>In the twenty-fifth year of our exile, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city was struck down, on that very day, the hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me to the city. <sup>2</sup>In visions of God he brought me to the land of Israel, and set me down on a very high mountain, on which was a structure like a city to the south. <sup>3</sup>When he brought me there, behold, there was a man whose appearance was like bronze, with a linen cord and a measuring reed in his hand. And he was standing in the gateway. <sup>4</sup>And the man said to me, “Son of man, look with your eyes, and hear with your ears, and set your heart upon all that I shall show you, for you were brought here in order that I might show it to you. Declare all that you see to the house of Israel.” . . .

The Glory of the LORD Fills the Temple

<sup>43:1</sup>Then he led me to the gate, the gate facing east. <sup>2</sup>And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was coming from the east. And the sound of his coming was like the sound of many waters, and the earth shone with his glory. <sup>3</sup>And the vision I saw was just like the vision that I had seen when he came to destroy the city, and just like the vision that I had seen by the Chebar canal. And I fell on my face. <sup>4</sup>As the glory of the LORD entered the temple by the gate facing east, <sup>5</sup>the Spirit lifted me up and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the temple.

this is the place of my throne and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the people of Israel forever. And the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoring and by the dead bodies of their kings at their high places, <sup>8</sup>by setting their threshold by my threshold and their doorposts beside my doorposts, with only a wall between me and them. They have defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed, so I have consumed them in my anger. <sup>9</sup>Now let them put away their whoring and the dead bodies of their kings far from me, and I will dwell in their midst forever.

<sup>10</sup>“As for you, son of man, describe to the house of Israel the temple, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and they shall measure the plan. <sup>11</sup>And if they are ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the design of the temple, its arrangement, its exits and its entrances, that is, its whole design; and make known to them as well all its statutes and its whole design and all its laws, and write it down in their sight, so that they may observe all its laws and all its statutes and carry them out. <sup>12</sup>This is the law of the temple: the whole territory on the top of the mountain all around shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the temple.”

Future Glory

<sup>18</sup>For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing

with the glory that is to be revealed to us. <sup>19</sup>For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God. <sup>20</sup>For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope <sup>21</sup>that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to corruption and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God. <sup>22</sup>For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now. <sup>23</sup>And not only the creation, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies. <sup>24</sup>For in this hope we were saved. Now hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for what he sees? <sup>25</sup>But if we hope for what we do not see, we wait for it with patience.

<sup>26</sup>Likewise the Spirit helps us in our weakness. For we do not know what to pray for as we ought, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with groanings too deep for words. <sup>27</sup>And he who searches hearts knows what is the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for the saints according to the will of God. <sup>28</sup>And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose. <sup>29</sup>For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. <sup>30</sup>And those whom he predestined he also called, and those whom he called he also justified, and those whom he justified he also glorified.

God's Everlasting Love

<sup>31</sup>What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? <sup>32</sup>He who did not spare his own Son but gave him up for us all, how will he not also with him graciously give us all things? <sup>33</sup>Who shall bring any charge against God's elect? It is God who justifies. <sup>34</sup>Who is to condemn? Christ Jesus is the one who died—more than that, who was raised—who is at the right hand of God, who indeed is interceding for us. <sup>35</sup>Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword? <sup>36</sup>As it is written,

“For your sake we are being killed
all the day long;
we are regarded as sheep
to be slaughtered.”

<sup>37</sup>No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. <sup>38</sup>For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, <sup>39</sup>nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Writing

From these words we learn that we do not offer Christ as a sacrifice, but that Christ offers us. And in this way it is permissible, yes, profitable, to call the mass a sacrifice; not on its own account, but because we offer ourselves as a sacrifice along with Christ. That is, we lay ourselves on Christ by a firm faith in his testament and do not otherwise appear before God with our prayer, praise, and sacrifice except through Christ and his mediation. Nor do we doubt that Christ is our priest or minister in heaven before God. Such faith, truly, brings it to pass that Christ takes up our cause, presents us and our prayer and praise, and also offers himself for us in heaven. If the mass were so understood and for this reason called a sacrifice, it would be well. Not that we offer the sacrament, but that by our praise, prayer, and sacrifice we move him and give him occasion to offer himself for us in heaven and ourselves with him. It is as if I were to say, I had brought a king's son to his father as an offering, when actually I had done no more than induce that son to present my need and petition to the king and made the son my mediator.

Prayer of the Day

Heavenly Father, You revealed to the apostle Peter the blessed truth that Your Son Jesus is the Christ. Strengthen us by the proclamation of this truth that we too may joyfully confess that there is salvation in no one else; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F08)

Confession of St. Peter

The confession of St. Peter did not arise in the imagination of Peter's heart but was revealed to him by the Father. The reason this confession is important is seen in Jesus' response: "You are Peter [Greek Petros], and on this rock [Greek petra] I will build My church" (Matthew 16:18). As the people of God in the Old Testament began with the person of Abraham, the rock from which God's people were hewn (Isaiah 51:1–2), so the people of God in the New Testament would begin with the person of Peter, whose confession is the rock on which Christ would build His Church. But Peter was not alone (the "keys" given to him in Matthew 16:19 were given to all the disciples in Matthew 18:18 and John 20:21–23). As St. Paul tells us, Peter and the other apostles take their place with the prophets as the foundation of the Church, with Christ Himself as the cornerstone (Ephesians 2:20). The confession of Peter, therefore, is the witness of the entire apostolic band and is foundational in the building of Christ's Church. Thus the Church gives thanks to God for St. Peter and the other apostles who have instructed Christ's Holy Church in His divine and saving truth.

Old Testament Reading:

Ezekiel 44:1-16, 23-29

The Gate for the Prince

<sup>1</sup>Then he brought me back to the outer gate of the sanctuary, which faces east. And it was shut. <sup>2</sup>And the LORD said to me, “This gate shall remain shut; it shall not be opened, and no one shall enter by it, for the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered by it. Therefore it shall remain shut. <sup>3</sup>Only the prince may sit in it to eat bread before the LORD. He shall enter by way of the vestibule of the gate, and shall go out by the same way.”

<sup>4</sup>Then he brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple, and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the temple of the LORD. And I fell on my face. <sup>5</sup>And the LORD said to me, “Son of man, mark well, see with your eyes, and hear with your ears all that I shall tell you concerning all the statutes of the temple of the LORD and all its laws. And mark well the entrance to the temple and all the exits from the sanctuary. <sup>6</sup>And say to the rebellious house, to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: O house of Israel, enough of all your abominations, <sup>7</sup>in admitting foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and flesh, to be in my sanctuary, profaning my temple, when you offer to me my food, the fat and the blood. You have broken my covenant, in addition to all your abominations. <sup>8</sup>And you have not kept charge of my holy things, but you have set others to keep my charge for you in my sanctuary.

<sup>9</sup>“Thus says the Lord GOD: No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and flesh, of all the foreigners who are among the people of Israel, shall enter my sanctuary. <sup>10</sup>But the Levites who went far from me, going astray from me after their idols when Israel went astray, shall bear their punishment. <sup>11</sup>They shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the temple and ministering in the temple. They shall slaughter the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before the people, to minister to them. <sup>12</sup>Because they ministered to them before their idols and became a stumbling block of iniquity to the house of Israel, therefore I have sworn concerning them, declares the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their punishment. <sup>13</sup>They shall not come near to me, to serve me as priest, nor come near any of my holy things and the things that are most holy, but they shall bear their shame and the abominations that they have committed. <sup>14</sup>Yet I will appoint them to keep charge of the temple, to do all its service and all that is to be done in it.

Rules for Levitical Priests

<sup>15</sup>“But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept the charge of my sanctuary when the people of Israel went astray from me, shall come near to me to minister to me. And they shall stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, declares the Lord GOD. <sup>16</sup>They shall enter my sanctuary, and they shall approach my table, to minister to me, and they shall keep my charge. . . .<sup>23</sup>They shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and show them how to distinguish between the unclean and the clean.<sup>24</sup>In a dispute, they shall act as judges, and they shall judge it according to my judgments. They shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts, and they shall keep my Sabbaths holy.<sup>25</sup>They shall not defile themselves by going near to a dead person. However, for father or mother, for son or daughter, for brother or unmarried sister they may defile themselves.<sup>26</sup>After he has become clean, they shall count seven days for him.<sup>27</sup>And on the day that he goes into the Holy Place, into the inner court, to minister in the Holy Place, he shall offer his sin offering, declares the Lord God.

<sup>28</sup>“This shall be their inheritance: I am their inheritance: and you shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession.<sup>29</sup>They shall eat the grain offering, the sin offering, and the guilt offering, and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 9:1–18

God’s Sovereign Choice

<sup>1</sup>I am speaking the truth in Christ—I am not lying; my conscience bears me witness in the Holy Spirit—<sup>2</sup>that I have great sorrow and unceasing anguish in my heart. <sup>3</sup>For I could wish that I myself were accursed and cut off from Christ for the sake of my brothers, my kinsmen according to the flesh. <sup>4</sup>They are Israelites, and to them belong the adoption, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the law, the worship, and the promises. <sup>5</sup>To them belong the patriarchs, and from their race, according to the flesh, is the Christ who is God over all, blessed forever. Amen.

<sup>6</sup>But it is not as though the word of God has failed. For not all who are descended from Israel belong to Israel, <sup>7</sup>and not all are children of Abraham because they are his offspring, but “Through Isaac shall your offspring be named.” <sup>8</sup>This means that it is not the children of the flesh who are the children of God, but the children of the promise are counted as offspring. <sup>9</sup>For this is what the promise said: “About this time next year I will return, and Sarah shall have a son.” <sup>10</sup>And not only so, but also when Rebekah had conceived children by one man, our forefather Isaac, <sup>11</sup>though they were not yet born and had done nothing either good or bad—in order that God’s purpose of election might continue, not because of works but because of him who calls—<sup>12</sup>she was told, “The older will serve the younger.” <sup>13</sup>As it is written, “Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.”

<sup>14</sup>What shall we say then? Is there injustice on God’s part? By no means! <sup>15</sup>For he says to Moses, “I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion.” <sup>16</sup>So then it depends not on human will or exertion, but on God, who has mercy. <sup>17</sup>For the Scripture says to Pharaoh, “For this very purpose I have raised you up, that I might show my power in you, and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth.” <sup>18</sup>So then he has mercy on whomever he wills, and he hardens whomever he wills.

Writing

Glory to You, who by Your cross has taken away the heathenism in which both the circumcised and uncircumcised were caused to stumble! Praise to You, the medicine of life, who has converted all who are baptized to Him who is life of all and Lord of all! The lost who are found bless You, for by finding the lost, You have given joy to the angels that are found and were not lost. The uncircumcised praise You, for in Your peace the enmity that was between is swallowed up. For You received in Your flesh the outward sign of circumcision, through which the uncircumcised formerly accounted as not Yours are now Your own people. You made the circumcision of the heart Your sign by which the circumcised were made known that they were not Your people. For You came to Your own, and Your own received You not; and by this they were made known that they were not Your people. But through Your mercy, those to whom You did not come cry out after You, so that You would satisfy them with the crumbs that fall from the children's table.

God was sent from the Godhead to come and convict the graven images that they were no gods. And when He took away from them the name of God that had adorned them, then the blemishes of their persons appeared. These were their blemishes: they have eyes but do not see; they have ears but do not hear. Your preaching persuaded their many worshipers to exchange their many gods for the one God. By that, You took away the name of godhead from the idols. Worship was withdrawn along with the name, that is, the worship bound up with the name, for worship also attends on the name of God. Because, then, worship was also rendered to the name by all the Gentiles, at the last the worshipful name shall be gathered in completely to its Lord, so that it may be fulfilled that "all things shall be subjected to Him" [1 Corinthians 15:27].

Water Flowing from the Temple

<sup>3</sup>Going on eastward with a measuring line in his hand, the man measured a thousand cubits, and then led me through the water, and it was ankle-deep. <sup>4</sup>Again he measured a thousand, and led me through the water, and it was knee-deep. Again he measured a thousand, and led me through the water, and it was waist-deep. <sup>5</sup>Again he measured a thousand, and it was a river that I could not pass through, for the water had risen. It was deep enough to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. <sup>6</sup>And he said to me, “Son of man, have you seen this?”

Then he led me back to the bank of the river. <sup>7</sup>As I went back, I saw on the bank of the river very many trees on the one side and on the other. <sup>8</sup>And he said to me, “This water flows toward the eastern region and goes down into the Arabah, and enters the sea; when the water flows into the sea, the water will become fresh. <sup>9</sup>And wherever the river goes, every living creature that swarms will live, and there will be very many fish. For this water goes there, that the waters of the sea may become fresh; so everything will live where the river goes. <sup>10</sup>Fishermen will stand beside the sea. From Engedi to Eneglaim it will be a place for the spreading of nets. Its fish will be of very many kinds, like the fish of the Great Sea. <sup>11</sup>But its swamps and marshes will not become fresh; they are to be left for salt. <sup>12</sup>And on the banks, on both sides of the river, there will grow all kinds of trees for food. Their leaves will not wither, nor their fruit fail, but they will bear fresh fruit every month, because the water for them flows from the sanctuary. Their fruit will be for food, and their leaves for healing.”

Division of the Land

<sup>13</sup>Thus says the Lord GOD: “This is the boundary by which you shall divide the land for inheritance among the twelve tribes of Israel. Joseph shall have two portions. <sup>14</sup>And you shall divide equally what I swore to give to your fathers. This land shall fall to you as your inheritance. . . .

<sup>21</sup>“So you shall divide this land among you according to the tribes of Israel. <sup>22</sup>You shall allot it as an inheritance for yourselves and for the sojourners who reside among you and have had children among you. They shall be to you as native-born children of Israel. With you they shall be allotted an inheritance among the tribes of Israel. <sup>23</sup>In whatever tribe the sojourner resides, there you shall assign him his inheritance, declares the Lord God.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 9:19–33

[God’s Sovereign Choice]

<sup>19</sup>You will say to me then, “Why does he still find fault? For who can resist his will?” <sup>20</sup>But who are you, O man, to answer back to God? Will what is molded say to its molder, “Why have you made me like this?” <sup>21</sup>Has the potter no right over the clay, to make out of the same lump one vessel for honorable use and another for dishonorable use? <sup>22</sup>What if God, desiring to show his wrath and to make known his power, has endured with much patience vessels of wrath prepared for destruction, <sup>23</sup>in order to make known the riches of his glory for vessels of mercy, which he has prepared beforehand for glory—<sup>24</sup>even us whom he has called, not from the Jews only but also from the Gentiles? <sup>25</sup>As indeed he says in Hosea,

“Those who were not my people
I will call ‘my people,’
and her who was not beloved
I will call ‘beloved.’”

<sup>26</sup>“And in the very place where it was said to them, ‘You are not my people,’ there they will be called ‘sons of the living God.’”

<sup>27</sup>And Isaiah cries out concerning Israel: “Though the number of the sons of Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will be saved, <sup>28</sup>for the Lord will carry out his sentence upon the earth fully and without delay.” <sup>29</sup>And as Isaiah predicted,

“If the Lord of hosts had not left us offspring,
we would have been like Sodom
and become like Gomorrah.”

Israel's Unbelief

<sup>30</sup>What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; <sup>31</sup>but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. <sup>32</sup>Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, <sup>33</sup>as it is written,

“Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone

of stumbling, and a rock of offense;
and whoever believes in him
will not be put to shame.”

Writing

Now, as I have often said, God's Word teaches us that the sacrament of baptism has three parts. The first is just natural water . . . [Baptism] is water, but there is something more which is added to it, which makes this water glorious and holy, makes it in fact the real baptism, namely:

The second part, God's Word beside and with the water, which is not something we have invented or dreamed up, but is rather the Word of Christ, who said, “Go into all the world and baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit” [Matt. 28:19]. When these words are added to the water, then it is no longer simple water like other water, but a holy, divine, blessed water. For where the Word of God, by which he created heaven and earth and all things, is present, there God himself is present with his power and might. . . . we must not look upon the water as simply water without the Word, but rather know that the Word with and beside the water constitutes the substance of baptism, as St. Paul says clearly in Eph. 5 [26] that Christ washed and cleansed his bride, the church, by the washing of water with the Word, which is quite a different bath and washing than that which occurs through natural water or human washing and bathing in a tub. For here, says St. Paul, is the Word of the living God which says, I baptize you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; in other words, here not a man, but God himself is baptizing. For when it is done in his name it is done indeed by the holy Trinity.

Then there is a third part which is necessary to make it a sacrament, namely, institution or the Word which institutes and ordains baptism; for two kinds of Word must be present in order that it be a baptism. One which is spoken with the water or baptizing, the second that which orders and commands us to baptize in this way, that is, to immerse in water and to speak these words. When these two come together, namely, the command and institution to do this and the Word with the water, which is used in accord with the institution and practices and administers the same, then this is called a baptism and is a baptism.

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

For You have promised, Lord, to heed
Your children's cries in time of need
Through Him whose name alone is great,
Our Savior and our advocate.

—When in the Hour of Deepest Need
(LSB 615:3)

Prayer of the Day

Lord and Father of all, You looked with favor upon Sarai in her advanced years, putting on her a new name, Sarah, and with it the promise of multitudinous blessings from her aged womb. Give us a youthful hope in the joy of our own new name, being baptized into the promised Messiah, that we, too, might be fruitful in Your kingdom, abounding in the works of Your Spirit; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1137)

Sarah

Sarah was the wife (and half sister) of the Hebrew patriarch Abraham (Genesis 11:29; 20:12). In obedience to divine command (Genesis 12:1), she made the long and arduous journey west, along with her husband and his relatives, from Ur of the Chaldees to Haran and then finally to the land of Canaan. She remained childless until old age. Then, in keeping with God's long-standing promise, she gave birth to a son and heir of the covenant (Genesis 21:1–3). She is remembered and honored as the wife of Abraham and the mother of Isaac, the second of the three patriarchs. She is also favorably noted for her hospitality to strangers (Genesis 18:1–8). Following her death at the age of 127, she was laid to rest in the Cave of Machpelah (Genesis 23:19), where her husband was later buried.

Old Testament Reading: Joel 1:1–20

<sup>1</sup>The word of the LORD that came to Joel,
the son of Pethuel:

An Invasion of Locusts

<sup>2</sup>Hear this, you elders;
give ear, all inhabitants of the land!
Has such a thing happened in your days,
or in the days of your fathers?

<sup>3</sup>Tell your children of it, and let your children
tell their children,
and their children
to another generation.

<sup>4</sup>What the cutting locust left,
the swarming locust has eaten.
What the swarming locust left,
the hopping locust has eaten,
and what the hopping locust left,

the destroying locust has eaten.

<sup>5</sup>Awake, you drunkards, and weep,
and wail, all you drinkers of wine,
because of the sweet wine,
for it is cut off from your mouth.

<sup>6</sup>For a nation has come up against my land,
powerful and beyond number;
its teeth are lions' teeth',
and it has the fangs of a lioness.

<sup>7</sup>It has laid waste my vine
and splintered my fig tree;
it has stripped off their bark
and thrown it down;
their branches are made white.

<sup>8</sup>Lament like a virgin wearing sackcloth
for the bridegroom of her youth.

<sup>9</sup>The grain offering and the drink offering are cut off from the house of the LORD.

The priests mourn,
the ministers of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup>The fields are destroyed,
the ground mourns,
because the grain is destroyed,
the wine dries up,
the oil languishes.

<sup>11</sup>Be ashamed, O tillers of the soil;
wail, O vinedressers,
for the wheat and the barley,
because the harvest
of the field has perished.

<sup>12</sup>The vine dries up;
the fig tree languishes.
Pomegranate, palm, and apple,
all the trees of the field are dried up,
and gladness dries up
from the children of man.

A Call to Repentance

<sup>13</sup>Put on sackcloth and lament, O priests;
wail, O ministers of the altar.
Go in, pass the night in sackcloth,
O ministers of my God!
Because grain offering and drink offering are withheld from the house
of your God.

<sup>14</sup>Consecrate a fast;
call a solemn assembly.
Gather the elders
and all the inhabitants of the land to the house of the LORD your God,
and cry out to the LORD.

<sup>15</sup>Alas for the day!
For the day of the LORD is near,
and as destruction from the Almighty it comes.

<sup>16</sup>Is not the food cut off
before our eyes,
joy and gladness
from the house of our God?

<sup>17</sup>The seed shrivels under the clods;
the storehouses are desolate;
the granaries are torn down
because the grain has dried up.

<sup>18</sup>How the beasts groan!
The herds of cattle are perplexed
because there is no pasture for them;
even the flocks of sheep suffer.

<sup>19</sup>To you, O LORD, I call.
For fire has devoured
the pastures of the wilderness,
and flame has burned
all the trees of the field.

<sup>20</sup>Even the beasts of the field pant for you because the water brooks
are dried up,
and fire has devoured
the pastures of the wilderness.

New Testament Reading: Romans 10:1–21

[Israel's Unbelief]

<sup>1</sup>Brothers, my heart's desire and prayer to God for them is that they may be saved. <sup>2</sup>For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. <sup>3</sup>For, being ignorant of the righteousness of God, and seeking to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness. <sup>4</sup>For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes.

The Message of Salvation to All

<sup>5</sup>For Moses writes about the righteousness that is based on the law, that the person who does the commandments shall live by them. <sup>6</sup>But the righteousness based on faith says, "Do not say in your heart, 'Who will ascend into heaven?'" (that is, to bring Christ down) <sup>7</sup>or "Who will descend into the abyss?" (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). <sup>8</sup>But what does it say? "The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart" (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); <sup>9</sup>because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. <sup>10</sup>For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. <sup>11</sup>For the Scripture says, "Everyone who believes in him will not be put to shame." <sup>12</sup>For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek; for the same Lord is Lord of all, bestowing his riches on all who call on him. <sup>13</sup>For "everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."

<sup>14</sup>How then will they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without someone preaching? <sup>15</sup>And how are they to preach unless they are sent? As it is written, “How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the good news!” <sup>16</sup>But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Isaiah says, “Lord, who has believed what he has heard from us?” <sup>17</sup>So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ.

<sup>18</sup>But I ask, have they not heard? Indeed they have, for “Their voice has gone out to all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world.”

<sup>19</sup>But I ask, did Israel not understand? First Moses says,

“I will make you jealous of those who are not a nation;
with a foolish nation
I will make you angry.”

<sup>20</sup>Then Isaiah is so bold as to say,

“I have been found by those who did not seek me;
I have shown myself to those who did not ask for me.”

<sup>21</sup>But of Israel he says, “All day long I have held out my hands to a disobedient and contrary people.”

Writing

But why do we speak of Jerusalem, since, indeed, the fashion of the whole world must also pass away, when the time of its disappearance has come, in order that the fruit indeed may be gathered into the garner, but the chaff, left behind, may be consumed by fire? “For the day of the Lord cometh as a burning furnace, and all sinners shall be stubble, they who do evil things, and the day shall burn them up” [Malachi 4:1]. Now, who this Lord is that brings such a day about, John the Baptist points out, when he says of Christ, “He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire, having His fan in His hand to cleanse His floor; and He will gather His fruit into the garner, but the chaff He will burn up with unquenchable fire” [Matthew 3:11–12]. . . . But man, being endowed with reason, and in this respect like to God, having been made free in his will, and with power over himself, is himself the cause to himself, that sometimes he becomes wheat, and sometimes chaff. Wherefore also he shall be justly condemned, because, having been created a rational being, he lost the true rationality, and living irrationally, opposed the righteousness of God.

—Irenaeus

Old Testament Reading: Joel 2:1–17

The Day of the LORD

- <sup>1</sup>Blow a trumpet in Zion;
sound an alarm on my holy mountain!
Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble,
for the day of the LORD is coming; it is near,
<sup>2</sup>a day of darkness and gloom,
a day of clouds and thick darkness!

- Like blackness there is spread upon the mountains
a great and powerful people;
their like has never been before,
nor will be again after them through the years of all generations.
- <sup>3</sup>Fire devours before them,
and behind them a flame burns.
The land is like the garden
of Eden before them,
but behind them a desolate wilderness,
and nothing escapes them.
- <sup>4</sup>Their appearance is like the appearance of horses,
and like war horses they run.
- <sup>5</sup>As with the rumbling of chariots,
they leap on the tops of the mountains,
like the crackling of a flame of fire
devouring the stubble,
like a powerful army
drawn up for battle.
- <sup>6</sup>Before them peoples are in anguish;
all faces grow pale.
- <sup>7</sup>Like warriors they charge;
like soldiers they scale the wall.
They march each on his way;
they do not swerve from their paths.
- <sup>8</sup>They do not jostle one another;
each marches in his path;
they burst through the weapons
and are not halted.
- <sup>9</sup>They leap upon the city,
they run upon the walls,
they climb up into the houses,
they enter through the windows like a thief.
- <sup>10</sup>The earth quakes before them;
the heavens tremble.
The sun and the moon are darkened,
and the stars withdraw their shining.

<sup>11</sup>The LORD utters his voice
before his army,
for his camp is exceedingly great;
he who executes his word is powerful.
For the day of the LORD is great and very awesome;
who can endure it?

Return to the LORD

<sup>12</sup>“Yet even now,” declares the LORD, “return to me with all your heart,
with fasting, with weeping,
and with mourning;
<sup>13</sup>and rend your hearts
and not your garments.”

Return to the LORD your God,
for he is gracious and merciful,
slow to anger, and abounding
in steadfast love;
and he relents over disaster.

<sup>14</sup>Who knows whether he will not turn
and relent,
and leave a blessing behind him,
a grain offering and a drink offering for the LORD your God?

<sup>15</sup>Blow the trumpet in Zion;
consecrate a fast;
call a solemn assembly;
<sup>16</sup>gather the people.

Consecrate the congregation;
assemble the elders;
gather the children,
even nursing infants.

Let the bridegroom leave his room,
and the bride her chamber.

<sup>17</sup>Between the vestibule and the altar let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep

and say, “Spare your people, O LORD,
and make not your heritage a reproach,
a byword among the nations.

Why should they say among the peoples,
“Where is their God?”

New Testament Reading: Romans 11:1–24

The Remnant of Israel

<sup>1</sup>I ask, then, has God rejected his people?
By no means! For I myself am an Israelite, a descendant of Abraham, a member of the tribe of Benjamin. <sup>2</sup>God has not rejected his people whom he foreknew. Do you not know what the Scripture says of Elijah, how he appeals to God against Israel? <sup>3</sup>“Lord, they have killed your prophets, they have demolished your altars, and I alone am left, and they seek my life.” <sup>4</sup>But what is God’s reply to him? “I have kept for myself seven thousand men who have not bowed the knee to Baal.” <sup>5</sup>So too at the present time there is a remnant, chosen by grace. <sup>6</sup>But if it is by grace, it is no longer on the basis of works;
otherwise grace would no longer be grace.

<sup>7</sup>What then? Israel failed to obtain what it was seeking. The elect obtained it, but the rest were hardened, <sup>8</sup>as it is written,

“God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that would not see
and ears that would not hear,
down to this very day.”

<sup>9</sup>And David says,

“Let their table become a snare and a trap,
a stumbling block and a retribution
for them;

<sup>10</sup>let their eyes be darkened so that they cannot see,
and bend their backs forever.”

Gentiles Grafted In

<sup>11</sup>So I ask, did they stumble in order that they might fall? By no means! Rather through their trespass salvation has come to the Gentiles, so as to make Israel jealous. <sup>12</sup>Now if their trespass means riches for the world, and if their failure means riches for the Gentiles, how much more will their full inclusion mean!

<sup>13</sup>Now I am speaking to you Gentiles. Inasmuch then as I am an apostle to the Gentiles, I magnify my ministry <sup>14</sup>in order somehow to make my fellow Jews jealous, and thus save some of them. <sup>15</sup>For if their rejection means the reconciliation of the world, what will their acceptance mean but life from the dead? <sup>16</sup>If the dough offered as firstfruits is holy, so is the whole lump, and if the root is holy, so are the branches.

<sup>17</sup>But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, although a wild olive shoot, were grafted in among the others and now share in the nourishing root of the olive tree, <sup>18</sup>do not be arrogant toward the branches. If you are, remember it is not you who support the root, but the root that supports you. <sup>19</sup>Then you will say, “Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in.” <sup>20</sup>That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but fear. <sup>21</sup>For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. <sup>22</sup>Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God’s kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. <sup>23</sup>And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. <sup>24</sup>For if you were cut from what is by nature a wild olive tree, and grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, the natural branches, be grafted back into their own olive tree.

Writing

Holy Scripture also testifies that God, who has called us, is faithful. So when He has begun the good work in us, He will also preserve it to the end and perfect it, if we ourselves do not turn from Him, but firmly hold on to the work begun to the end. He has promised His grace for this very purpose. (See 1 Corinthians 1:9; Philippians 1:6; 1 Peter 5:10; 2 Peter 3:9; Hebrews 3:2.)

We should concern ourselves with this revealed will of God. We should follow and diligently think about it. Through the Word, by which He calls us, the Holy Spirit bestows grace, power, and ability for this purpose. We should not sound the depths of God’s hidden predestination, as it is written in Luke 13:23–24, where one asks, “Lord, will those who are saved be few?” and Christ answers, “Strive to enter through the narrow door.” So Luther says:

But you had better follow the order of this epistle [of Romans]. Worry first about Christ and the gospel, that you may recognize your sin and His grace. Then fight your sin, as the first eight chapters here have taught. Then, when you have reached the eighth chapter, and are under the cross and suffering, this will teach you correctly of predestination in chapters 9, 10, and 11, and how comforting it is. The LORD Had Pity

<sup>18</sup>Then the LORD became jealous
for his land

and had pity on his people.

<sup>19</sup>The LORD answered and said
to his people,

“Behold, I am sending to you grain, wine, and oil,
and you will be satisfied;
and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations.

<sup>20</sup>“I will remove the northerner far
from you,

and drive him into a parched
and desolate land,

his vanguard into the eastern sea,
and his rear guard
into the western sea;

the stench and foul smell of him will rise,
for he has done great things.

<sup>21</sup>“Fear not, O land;
be glad and rejoice,
for the LORD has done great things!

<sup>22</sup>Fear not, you beasts of the field,
 for the pastures of the wilderness
 are green;
 the tree bears its fruit;
 the fig tree and vine
 give their full yield.

<sup>23</sup>“Be glad, O children of Zion,
 and rejoice in the LORD your God,
 for he has given the early rain
 for your vindication; he has poured down
 for you abundant rain,
 the early and the latter rain,
 as before.

<sup>24</sup>“The threshing floors
 shall be full of grain;
 the vats shall overflow
 with wine and oil.

<sup>25</sup>I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten,
 the hopper, the destroyer, and the cutter,
 my great army, which I sent
 among you.

<sup>26</sup>“You shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and praise the name of the LORD your God,
 who has dealt wondrously with you.
 And my people shall never again
 be put to shame.

<sup>27</sup>You shall know that I am in the midst of Israel,
 and that I am the LORD your God
 and there is none else.
 And my people shall never again
 be put to shame.

The LORD Will Pour Out His Spirit

<sup>28</sup>“And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit
 on all flesh;

your sons and your daughters
 shall prophesy,
 your old men shall dream dreams,
 and your young men shall see visions.

<sup>29</sup>Even on the male and female servants
 in those days I will pour out my Spirit.

<sup>30</sup>“And I will show wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood and fire and columns of smoke. <sup>31</sup>The sun shall be turned to darkness, and the moon to blood, before the great and awesome day of the LORD comes. <sup>32</sup>And it shall come to pass that everyone who calls on the name of the LORD shall be saved. For in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those who escape, as the LORD has said, and among the survivors shall be those whom the LORD calls.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 11:25–12:13

The Mystery of Israel's Salvation

<sup>25</sup>Lest you be wise in your own sight,
 I want you to understand this mystery,
 brothers: a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. <sup>26</sup>And in this way all Israel will be saved, as it is written,

“The Deliverer will come from Zion,
 he will banish ungodliness
 from Jacob”;

<sup>27</sup>“and this will be my covenant with them
 when I take away their sins.”

<sup>28</sup>As regards the gospel, they are enemies of God for your sake. But as regards election, they are beloved for the sake of their forefathers. <sup>29</sup>For the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable. <sup>30</sup>For just as you were at one time disobedient to God but now have received mercy because of their disobedience,<sup>31</sup>so they too have now been disobedient in order that by the mercy shown to you they also may now receive mercy. <sup>32</sup>For God has consigned all to disobedience, that he may have mercy on all.

<sup>34</sup>“For who has known the mind of the Lord,
or who has been his counselor?”

<sup>35</sup>“Or who has given a gift to him that he might be repaid?”

<sup>36</sup>For from him and through him and to him are all things. To him be glory forever. Amen.

A Living Sacrifice

<sup>12:1</sup>I appeal to you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. <sup>2</sup>Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect.

Gifts of Grace

<sup>3</sup>For by the grace given to me I say to everyone among you not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think with sober judgment, each according to the measure of faith that God has assigned. <sup>4</sup>For as in one body we have many members, and the members do not all have the same function, <sup>5</sup>so we, though many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another. <sup>6</sup>Having gifts that differ according to the grace given to us, let us use them: if prophecy, in proportion to our faith; <sup>7</sup>if service, in our serving; the one who teaches, in his teaching; <sup>8</sup>the one who exhorts, in his exhortation; the one who contributes, in generosity; the one who leads, with zeal; the one who does acts of mercy, with cheerfulness.

Marks of the True Christian

Writing

Athanasius has correctly said that for salvation the correct faith is necessary not only regarding the divine nature in Christ but also regarding the human. And Hilary says that it is a matter of equal danger to deny either the deity or the flesh of our body in Christ Jesus. He goes on to add that the one gives no hope of salvation without the other. For he does not know his own life, he says, who does not know Christ as true God and also as true man. Augustine says that Christ did not die for him who does not know Christ as true man, because He died according to the humanity. Nor will he be justified through Christ, because we are justified by His blood. Leo, in Epistola 11, says: “One cannot glory in a head which one says does not possess his own nature.”

Of such importance it is to recognize rightly the human nature in Christ. For in the flesh of Christ God condemned sin (Rom. 8:3), and in the body of His flesh we are reconciled (Col. 1:20). We are justified in His blood (Rom. 5:9). He has laid down His life as a ransom for many (Matt 20:28). The Son of God is born of a woman in order that we who were under the Law might be redeemed and receive adoption (Gal. 4:4–5). He does not blush to call us brothers, because He has been made a partaker of flesh and blood (Heb. 2:14–17). In short, every spirit which does not confess that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is not of God but is the spirit of antichrist (1 John 4:3). But he who eats the flesh of the Son of God and drinks His blood has eternal life, for His flesh is given for the life of the world. (John 6:54, 51)

Hymnody

Oh, the height of Jesus' love,
Higher than the heav'ns above,
Deeper than the depths of sea,
Lasting as eternity!
Love that found me—wondrous thought!
Found me when I sought Him not.

Old Testament Reading: Joel 3:1–21

The LORD Judges the Nations

<sup>1</sup>“For behold, in those days and at that time, when I restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem, <sup>2</sup>I will gather all the nations and bring them down to the Valley of Jehoshaphat. And I will enter into judgment with them there, on behalf of my people and my heritage Israel, because they have scattered them among the nations and have divided up my land, <sup>3</sup>and have cast lots for my people, and have traded a boy for a prostitute, and have sold a girl for wine and have drunk it.

<sup>4</sup>“What are you to me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the regions of Philistia? Are you paying me back for something? If you are paying me back, I will return your payment on your own head swiftly and speedily. <sup>5</sup>For you have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried my rich treasures into your temples. <sup>6</sup>You have sold the people of Judah and Jerusalem to the Greeks in order to remove them far from their own border.

<sup>7</sup>Behold, I will stir them up from the place to which you have sold them, and I will return your payment on your own head. <sup>8</sup>I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the people of Judah, and they will sell them to the Sabeans, to a nation far away, for the LORD has spoken.”

- <sup>9</sup>Proclaim this among the nations:
 Consecrate for war;
     stir up the mighty men.
 Let all the men of war draw near;
     let them come up.
<sup>10</sup>Beat your plowshares into swords,
     and your pruning hooks into spears;
     let the weak say, “I am a warrior.”
<sup>11</sup>Hasten and come,
     all you surrounding nations,
     and gather yourselves there.
 Bring down your warriors, O LORD.
<sup>12</sup>Let the nations stir themselves up and come up to the Valley of Jehoshaphat;
 for there I will sit to judge
     all the surrounding nations.
<sup>13</sup>Put in the sickle,
     for the harvest is ripe.
 Go in, tread,
     for the winepress is full.
 The vats overflow,
     for their evil is great.
<sup>14</sup>Multitudes, multitudes,
     in the valley of decision!
 For the day of the LORD is near
     in the valley of decision.
<sup>15</sup>The sun and the moon are darkened,
     and the stars withdraw their shining.

<sup>16</sup>The LORD roars from Zion,
     and utters his voice from Jerusalem,
     and the heavens and the earth quake.
 But the LORD is a refuge to his people,
     a stronghold to the people of Israel.

The Glorious Future of Judah

<sup>17</sup>“So you shall know that I am the LORD
 your God,
     who dwells in Zion,
     my holy mountain.
 And Jerusalem shall be holy,
     and strangers shall never again pass through it.

<sup>18</sup>“And in that day
 the mountains shall drip sweet wine,
     and the hills shall flow with milk,
 and all the streambeds of Judah
     shall flow with water;
 and a fountain shall come forth from the house of the Lord
     and water the Valley of Shittim.

<sup>19</sup>“Egypt shall become a desolation
     and Edom a desolate wilderness, for the violence done to the people
 of Judah,
     because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

<sup>20</sup>But Judah shall be inhabited forever,
     and Jerusalem to all generations.

<sup>21</sup>I will avenge their blood,
     blood I have not avenged,
     for the LORD dwells in Zion.”

New Testament Reading:
 Romans 12:14–13:14

[Marks of the True Christian]

<sup>14</sup>Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. <sup>15</sup>Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep.

<sup>16</sup>Live in harmony with one another. Do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly. Never be wise in your own sight. <sup>17</sup>Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. <sup>18</sup>If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. <sup>19</sup>Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, “Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord.” <sup>20</sup>To the contrary, “if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head.” <sup>21</sup>Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

Submission to the Authorities

<sup>13:1</sup>Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. <sup>2</sup>Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. <sup>3</sup>For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, <sup>4</sup>for he is God’s servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God’s wrath on the wrongdoer. <sup>5</sup>Therefore one must be in subjection, not only to avoid God’s wrath but also for the sake of conscience. <sup>6</sup>For because of this you also pay taxes, for the authorities are ministers of God, attending to this very thing. <sup>7</sup>Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed.

Fulfilling the Law Through Love

<sup>8</sup>Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. <sup>9</sup>For the commandments, “You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet,” and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.” <sup>10</sup>Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

<sup>11</sup>Besides this you know the time, that the hour has come for you to wake from sleep. For salvation is nearer to us now than when we first believed. <sup>12</sup>The night is far gone; the day is at hand. So then let us cast off the works of darkness and put on the armor of light. <sup>13</sup>Let us walk properly as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and sensuality, not in quarreling and jealousy. <sup>14</sup>But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to gratify its desires.

Writing

Dearly beloved, today we celebrate the commemoration of St. Timothy. He was born in Lystra (Acts 16:2); his father was a pagan, but his mother, Eunice, born an Israelite, had accepted the Christian faith and had committed her son, Timothy, to be raised by her mother, Lois, who was also a Christian. So Timothy learned the catechism from his grandmother. See, dear parents, what the diligent training of children can do! Now since he was a good, excellent thinker, St. Paul accepted him as his colleague or chaplain, and since he improved himself daily, Paul eventually ordained him as bishop of Ephesus, where he was also killed by the raging pagans. St. Paul loved him dearly, which we can see from both epistles that he wrote to him. In 1 Timothy 1:2, he calls him his true son in the faith. From these two epistles, many passages shine forth like the stars of heaven. 1 Timothy 1:5: “The aim of the commandment is love from a pure heart and from a good conscience and from a faith unfeigned.” 1 Timothy 1:15: “The saying is trustworthy and deserving of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.” 2 Timothy 3:12: “Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted.” 2 Timothy 3:16–17: “All Scripture is breathed out by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, that the man of God may be competent, equipped for every good work.” Since St. Paul and St. Timothy were dear friends, they were put beside each other in the calendar, and also on the day of St. Timothy, the Gospel of John 15:9–16 is read, which speaks of pure love and friendship.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, You have always given to Your Church on earth faithful shepherds such as Timothy to guide and feed Your flock. Make all pastors diligent to preach Your holy Word and administer Your means of grace, and grant Your people wisdom to follow in the way that leads to life eternal; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F09)

St. Timothy, Pastor and Confessor

St. Timothy had Christian believers in his family. His mother, Eunice, was a Christian woman and was the daughter of a Christian woman named Lois (2 Timothy 1:5). Acts records that St. Paul met Timothy on his second missionary journey and wanted Timothy to continue on with him (16:1–3). Over time, Timothy became a dear friend and close associate of Paul to whom Paul entrusted mission work in Greece and Asia Minor. Timothy was also with Paul in Rome. According to tradition, after Paul’s death, Timothy went to Ephesus, where he served as bishop and was martyred around AD 97. Timothy is best remembered as a faithful companion of Paul, one who rendered great service among the Gentile churches.

A Call to Return to the LORD

<sup>1</sup>In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, son of Iddo, saying, <sup>2</sup>“The LORD was very angry with your fathers. <sup>3</sup>Therefore say to them, Thus declares the LORD of hosts: Return to me, says the LORD of hosts, and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>4</sup>Do not be like your fathers, to whom the former prophets cried out, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, Return from your evil ways and from your evil deeds.’ But they did not hear or pay attention to me, declares the LORD. <sup>5</sup>Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever? <sup>6</sup>But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? So they repented and said, As the LORD of hosts purposed to deal with us for our ways and deeds, so has he dealt with us.”

A Vision of a Horseman

<sup>7</sup>On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month of Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, son of Iddo, saying, <sup>8</sup>“I saw in the night, and behold, a man riding on a red horse! He was standing among the myrtle trees in the glen, and behind him were red, sorrel, and white horses. <sup>9</sup>Then I said, ‘What are these, my lord?’ The angel who talked with me said to me, ‘I will show you what they are.’ <sup>10</sup>So the man who was standing among the myrtle trees answered, ‘These are they whom the LORD has sent to patrol the earth.’ <sup>11</sup>And they answered the angel of the LORD who was standing among the myrtle trees, and said, ‘We have patrolled the earth, and behold, all the earth remains at rest.’ <sup>12</sup>Then the angel of the LORD said, ‘O LORD of hosts, how long will you have no mercy on Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, against which you have been angry these seventy years?’ <sup>13</sup>And the LORD answered gracious and comforting words to the angel who talked with me. <sup>14</sup>So the angel who talked with me said to me, ‘Cry out, Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am exceedingly jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion. <sup>15</sup>And I am exceedingly angry with the nations that are at ease; for while I was angry but a little, they furthered the disaster. <sup>16</sup>Therefore, thus says the LORD, I have returned to Jerusalem with mercy; my house shall be built in it, declares the LORD of hosts, and the measuring line shall be stretched out over Jerusalem. <sup>17</sup>Cry out again, Thus says the LORD of hosts: My cities shall again overflow with prosperity, and the LORD will again comfort Zion and again choose Jerusalem.’ ”

A Vision of Horns and Craftsmen

<sup>18</sup> And I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, four horns! <sup>19</sup>And I said to the angel who talked with me, “What are these?” And he said to me, “These are the horns that have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.” <sup>20</sup>Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen. <sup>21</sup>And I said, “What are these coming to do?” He said, “These are the horns that scattered Judah, so that no one raised his head. And these have come to terrify them, to cast down the horns of the nations who lifted up their horns against the land of Judah to scatter it.”

New Testament Reading: Romans 14:1–23

Do Not Pass Judgment on One Another

<sup>5</sup>One person esteems one day as better than another, while another esteems all days alike. Each one should be fully convinced in his own mind. <sup>6</sup>The one who observes the day, observes it in honor of the Lord. The one who eats, eats in honor of the Lord, since he gives thanks to God, while the one who abstains, abstains in honor of the Lord and gives thanks to God. <sup>7</sup>For none of us lives to himself, and none of us dies to himself. <sup>8</sup>For if we live, we live to the Lord, and if we die, we die to the Lord. So then, whether we live or whether we die, we are the Lord’s. <sup>9</sup>For to this end Christ died and lived again, that he might be Lord both of the dead and of the living.

<sup>10</sup>Why do you pass judgment on your brother? Or you, why do you despise your brother? For we will all stand before the judgment seat of God; <sup>11</sup>for it is written,

“As I live, says the Lord,
every knee shall bow to me,
and every tongue shall confess to God.”

<sup>12</sup>So then each of us will give an account of himself to God.

Do Not Cause Another to Stumble

<sup>13</sup>Therefore let us not pass judgment on one another any longer, but rather decide never to put a stumbling block or hindrance in the way of a brother. <sup>14</sup>I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself, but it is unclean for anyone who thinks it unclean. <sup>15</sup>For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. <sup>16</sup>So do not let what you regard as good be spoken of as evil. <sup>17</sup>For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. <sup>18</sup>Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. <sup>19</sup>So then let us pursue what makes for peace and for mutual upbuilding.

<sup>20</sup>Do not, for the sake of food, destroy the work of God. Everything is indeed clean, but it is wrong for anyone to make another stumble by what he eats. <sup>21</sup>It is good not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything that causes your brother to stumble. <sup>22</sup>The faith that you have, keep between yourself and God. Blessed is the one who has no reason to pass judgment on himself for what he approves. <sup>23</sup>But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin.

Writing

Whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord. We belong to none other than the Lord. This is our greatest comfort and joy: that we have as our Lord He to whom the Father has given all power in heaven and on earth and has placed all things in His hands. Who, then, could possibly do us harm? The devil may very well attack us with his murderous rage, but he will never snatch us from the Lord's hand. For we who believe in Jesus Christ and live under His guardianship have also become lords ourselves over the devil, sin, death, etc. In order that such lordship might be ours, He was made man for our sake. He appealed to the Father on our behalf and so loves us in this way: He was condemned, offering Himself up for our sakes. With His precious blood He purchased us and washed us clean from sin. Still more He has placed in our hearts the Holy Spirit, the pledge of our inheritance and blessedness, making us kings and priests for God and joint heirs with Himself. This is most certainly true. O Lord, strengthen our faith that we would always remember these things and never doubt these promises.

The Conversion of St. Paul

St. Paul's life-changing experience on the road to Damascus is related three times in the Book of Acts (9:1–9; 22:6–11; 26:12–18). As an archenemy of Christians, Saul of Tarsus set out for Damascus to arrest and bring believers to Jerusalem for trial. While on the way, he saw a blinding light and heard the words: "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?" Saul asked, "Who are You, Lord?" The reply came, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting." In Damascus, where Saul was brought after being blinded, a disciple named Ananias was directed by the Lord in a vision to go to Saul to restore his sight: "Go, for he is a chosen instrument of Mine to carry My name before the Gentiles and kings and the children of Israel" (Acts 9:15). After receiving his sight, Saul was baptized and went on to become known as Paul, the great apostle.

A Vision of a Man with a Measuring Line

<sup>1</sup>And I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, a man with a measuring line in his hand! <sup>2</sup>Then I said, “Where are you going?” And he said to me, “To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its width and what is its length.”

<sup>3</sup>And behold, the angel who talked with me came forward, and another angel came forward to meet him <sup>4</sup>and said to him, “Run, say to that young man, ‘Jerusalem shall be inhabited as villages without walls, because of the multitude of people and livestock in it. <sup>5</sup>And I will be to her a wall of fire all around, declares the LORD, and I will be the glory in her midst.’ ”

<sup>6</sup>Up! Up! Flee from the land of the north, declares the LORD. For I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heavens, declares the LORD. <sup>7</sup>Up! Escape to Zion, you who dwell with the daughter of Babylon. <sup>8</sup>For thus said the LORD of hosts, after his glory sent me to the nations who plundered you, for he who touches you touches the apple of his eye: <sup>9</sup>“Behold, I will shake my hand over them, and they shall become plunder for those who served them. Then you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent me. <sup>10</sup>Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion, for behold, I come and I will dwell in your midst, declares the LORD. <sup>11</sup>And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people. And I will dwell in your midst, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. <sup>12</sup>And the LORD will inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem.”

A Vision of Joshua the High Priest

<sup>3:1</sup>Then he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to accuse him. <sup>2</sup>And the LORD said to Satan, “The LORD rebuke you, O Satan! The LORD who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! Is not this a brand plucked from the fire?”

<sup>3</sup>Now Joshua was standing before the angel, clothed with filthy garments. <sup>4</sup>And the angel said to those who were standing before him, “Remove the filthy garments from him.” And to him he said, “Behold, I have taken your iniquity away from you, and I will clothe you with pure vestments.” <sup>5</sup>And I said, “Let them put a clean turban on his head.” So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the LORD was standing by.

<sup>6</sup>And the angel of the LORD solemnly assured Joshua, “Thus says the LORD of hosts: If you will walk in my ways and keep my charge, then you shall rule my house and have charge of my courts, and I will give you the right of access among those who are standing here. <sup>8</sup>Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, you and your friends who sit before you, for they are men who are a sign: behold, I will bring my servant the Branch. <sup>9</sup>For behold, on the stone that I have set before Joshua, on a single stone with seven eyes, I will engrave its inscription, declares the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of this land in a single day. <sup>10</sup>In that day, declares the LORD of hosts, every one of you will invite his neighbor to come under his vine and under his fig tree.”

The Example of Christ

<sup>1</sup>We who are strong have an obligation to bear with the failings of the weak, and not to please ourselves. <sup>2</sup>Let each of us please his neighbor for his good, to build him up. <sup>3</sup>For Christ did not please himself, but as it is written, “The reproaches of those who reproached you fell on me.” <sup>4</sup>For whatever was written in former days was written for our instruction, that through endurance and through the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope. <sup>5</sup>May the God of endurance and encouragement grant you to live in such harmony with one another, in accord with Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>that together you may with one voice glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>7</sup>Therefore welcome one another as Christ has welcomed you, for the glory of God.

Christ the Hope of Jews and Gentiles

<sup>8</sup>For I tell you that Christ became a servant to the circumcised to show God’s truthfulness, in order to confirm the promises given to the patriarchs, <sup>9</sup>and in order that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy. As it is written,

“Therefore I will praise you among the Gentiles,
and sing to your name.”

<sup>10</sup>And again it is said,

“Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles, and let all the peoples extol him.”

<sup>12</sup>And again Isaiah says,

“The root of Jesse will come,
even he who arises to rule the Gentiles;
in him will the Gentiles hope.”

<sup>13</sup>May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope.

Writing

This is a wonderfully choice vision, for it very vividly reveals to us the heart and innermost emotions of the priest. He had heard the clear command of God to rebuild the temple. Then, after hearing that Word, he thought that he should listen to God, but he still kept wrestling with himself over the problem thus: “Who knows whether God intends to approve? Perhaps God will reject us sinners.” This is exactly the way the human heart battles against sin in the presence of God. For Satan so inflates and exaggerates sins that the heart becomes convinced that God will reject it. It can conceive of no other God but one who now threatens it with a beating or a flogging. So here the high priest Joshua, crushed and terrified by his sins, does not dare go on with his task. Therefore he is strengthened and encouraged to believe that the Lord is not angry, that He has turned away the accusation of Joshua’s conscience and is accusing Satan himself, who so discourages the heart with the heinousness of its sin that it cannot go on to serve its calling.

The Lord rebuke you, [O Satan]. This is a very wonderful and sweet comfort. Everything is contained in the fullness of this comfort, so neatly has he arranged all his words, as if to say: “From now on, Satan, stop opposing the priest. The Lord orders all things cursed which you inspire the timid priest to think about and which frighten him from his task. You are causing him to be downcast before God and to dare nothing before men. You are acting as if the Lord had completely rejected Jerusalem. But the Lord has not done this. On the contrary, He has chosen it and loves it as His own possession.” . . .

Everything in this vision is revealed in such a way that the vision declares and reveals God’s will to the priest. It strengthens the priest so that he no longer doubts that God will approve of his ministry, that his filthy garments have been changed, and that his sin has been taken away. Now he wears new clothes, that is, a happy and joyful conscience which no longer flees from God, which thinks nothing evil about God but hopes for every good thing. Thus the fresh clothes do not mean works but grace and faith.

Hymnody

Save us from weak resignation
 To the evils we deplore;
 Let the gift of Your salvation
 Be our glory evermore.
 Grant us wisdom, grant us courage,

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, You called Titus to the work of pastor and teacher. Make all shepherds of Your flock diligent in preaching Your holy Word so that the whole world may know the immeasurable riches of our Savior, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F11)

St. Titus, Pastor and Confessor

St. Titus, like Timothy with whom he is often associated, was a friend and co-worker of St. Paul. Titus was a Gentile, perhaps a native of Antioch, who accompanied Paul and Barnabas to Jerusalem when they brought assistance to the Christians in Judea during a famine (Acts 11:29–30; Galatians 2:1). It is not known if he accompanied Paul on his first or second missionary journeys, but Titus was with him on the third one, when he helped reconcile the Corinthians to Paul (2 Corinthians 7:6–7) and assisted with the collection for the Church in Jerusalem (2 Corinthians 8:3–6). It was probably on the return to Jerusalem that Paul left Titus in Crete (Titus 1:4–5). Afterward he is found working in Dalmatia (2 Timothy 4:10). According to tradition, Titus returned to Crete, where he served as bishop until he died about AD 96.

Psalmody

<sup>1</sup> Blessèd is the man who walks not in the counsel of the | wicked,*

A Vision of a Golden Lampstand

<sup>1</sup>And the angel who talked with me came again and woke me, like a man who is awakened out of his sleep. <sup>2</sup>And he said to me, “What do you see?” I said, “I see, and behold, a lampstand all of gold, with a bowl on the top of it, and seven lamps on it, with seven lips on each of the lamps that are on the top of it. <sup>3</sup>And there are two olive trees by it, one on the right of the bowl and the other on its left.” <sup>4</sup>And I said to the angel who talked with me, “What are these, my lord?” <sup>5</sup>Then the angel who talked with me answered and said to me, “Do you not know what these are?” I said, “No, my lord.” <sup>6</sup>Then he said to me, “This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel: Not by might, nor by power,
but by my Spirit, says the LORD of hosts.
<sup>7</sup>Who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you shall become a plain. And he shall bring forward the top stone amid shouts of ‘Grace, grace to it!’ ”

<sup>8</sup>Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying, <sup>9</sup>“The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also complete it. Then you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. <sup>10</sup>For whoever has despised the day of small things shall rejoice, and shall see the plumb line in the hand of Zerubbabel.

“These seven are the eyes of the LORD, which range through the whole earth.”

<sup>11</sup>Then I said to him, “What are these two olive trees on the right and the left of the lampstand?” <sup>12</sup>And a second time I answered and said to him, “What are these two branches of the olive trees, which are beside the two golden pipes from which the golden oil is poured out?” <sup>13</sup>He said to me, “Do you not know what these are?” I said, “No, my lord.” <sup>14</sup>Then he said, “These are the two anointed ones who stand by the Lord of the whole earth.”

A Vision of a Flying Scroll

<sup>5:1</sup>Again I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, a flying scroll! <sup>2</sup>And he said to me, “What do you see?” I answered, “I see a flying scroll. Its length is twenty cubits, and its width ten cubits.” <sup>3</sup>Then he said to me, “This is the curse that goes out over the face of the whole land. For everyone who steals shall be cleaned out according to what is on one side, and everyone who swears falsely shall be cleaned out according to what is on the other side. <sup>4</sup>I will send it out, declares the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter the house of the thief, and the house of him who swears falsely by my name. And it shall remain in his house and consume it, both timber and stones.”

A Vision of a Woman in a Basket

<sup>5</sup>Then the angel who talked with me came forward and said to me, “Lift your eyes and see what this is that is going out.” <sup>6</sup>And I said, “What is it?” He said, “This is the basket that is going out.” And he said, “This is their iniquity in all the land.” <sup>7</sup>And behold, the leaden cover was lifted, and there was a woman sitting in the basket! <sup>8</sup>And he said, “This is Wickedness.” And he thrust her back into the basket, and thrust down the leaden weight on its opening.

<sup>9</sup>Then I lifted my eyes and saw, and behold, two women coming forward! The wind was in their wings. They had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the basket between earth and heaven. <sup>10</sup>Then I said to the angel who talked with me, “Where are they taking the basket?” <sup>11</sup>He said to me, “To the land of Shinar, to build a house for it. And when this is prepared, they will set the basket down there on its base.”

Paul the Minister to the Gentiles

<sup>14</sup>I myself am satisfied about you, my brothers, that you yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge and able to instruct one another. <sup>15</sup>But on some points I have written to you very boldly by way of reminder, because of the grace given me by God <sup>16</sup>to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles in the priestly service of the gospel of God, so that the offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. <sup>17</sup>In Christ Jesus, then, I have reason to be proud of my work for God. <sup>18</sup>For I will not venture to speak of anything except what Christ has accomplished through me to bring the Gentiles to obedience—by word and deed, <sup>19</sup>by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God—so that from Jerusalem and all the way around to Illyricum I have fulfilled the ministry of the gospel of Christ; <sup>20</sup>and thus I make it my ambition to preach the gospel, not where Christ has already been named, lest I build on someone else's foundation, <sup>21</sup>but as it is written,

“Those who have never been told of him will see,
and those who have never heard
will understand.”

Paul's Plan to Visit Rome

<sup>22</sup>This is the reason why I have so often been hindered from coming to you. <sup>23</sup>But now, since I no longer have any room for work in these regions, and since I have longed for many years to come to you, <sup>24</sup>I hope to see you in passing as I go to Spain, and to be helped on my journey there by you, once I have enjoyed your company for a while. <sup>25</sup>At present, however, I am going to Jerusalem bringing aid to the saints. <sup>26</sup>For Macedonia and Achaia have been pleased to make some contribution for the poor among the saints at Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup>For they were pleased to do it, and indeed they owe it to them. For if the Gentiles have come to share in their spiritual blessings, they ought also to be of service to them in material blessings. <sup>28</sup>When therefore I have completed this and have delivered to them what has been collected, I will leave for Spain by way of you. <sup>29</sup>I know that when I come to you I will come in the fullness of the blessing of Christ.

<sup>30</sup>I appeal to you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love of the Spirit, to strive together with me in your prayers to God on my behalf, <sup>31</sup>that I may be delivered from the unbelievers in Judea, and that my service for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints, <sup>32</sup>so that by God's will I may come to you with joy and be refreshed in your company. <sup>33</sup>May the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

Writing

“He gave Himself a ransom,” he said, how then was He delivered up by the Father? Because it was of His goodness. And what does “ransom” mean? God was about to punish them, but He did not do it. They were about to perish, but in their stead He gave His own Son and sent us as heralds to proclaim the cross. These things are sufficient to attract all and to demonstrate the love of Christ. So truly, so inexpressibly great are the benefits that God has bestowed upon us. He sacrificed Himself for His enemies, who hated and rejected Him. What no one would do for friends, for brothers, for children, that the Lord has done for His servants; a Lord not Himself such a one as His servants, but God for men, for men not deserving. For had they been deserving, had they done His pleasure, it would have been less wonderful. But that He died for such ungrateful, such obstinate creatures, this it is which strikes every mind with amazement. For what men would not do for their fellow-men, that has God done for us!

—John Chrysostom

Hymnody

Give us lips to sing Thy glory,
Tongues Thy mercy to proclaim,
Throats that shout the hope that fills us,
Mouths to speak Thy holy name.
Alleluia, alleluia!
May the light which Thou dost send Fill our songs with alleluias, Alleluias without end!

—Thy Strong Word (LSB 578:5)

Prayer of the Day

O God, You gave to Your servant John Chrysostom grace to proclaim the Gospel with eloquence and power. As bishop of the great congregations of Antioch and Constantinople, he fearlessly bore reproach for the honor of Your name. Mercifully grant to all bishops and pastors such excellence in preaching and fidelity in ministering Your Word that Your people shall be partakers of the divine nature; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1138)

John Chrysostom, Preacher

Given the added name Chrysostom, which means “golden-mouthed” in Greek, St. John was a dominant force in the fourth-century Christian Church. Born in Antioch around AD 347, John was instructed in the Christian faith by his pious mother, Anthusa. After serving in a number of Christian offices, including acolyte and lector, John was ordained a presbyter and given preaching responsibilities. His simple but direct messages found an audience well beyond his hometown. In AD 398, John Chrysostom was made patriarch of Constantinople. His determination to reform the church, court, and city brought him into conflict with established authorities. Eventually, he was exiled from his adopted city. Although removed from his parishes and people, he continued writing and preaching until the time of his death in AD 407. It is reported that his final words were “Glory be to God for all things! Amen.”

A Vision of Four Chariots

The Crown and the Temple

<sup>9</sup>And the word of the LORD came to me: <sup>10</sup>“Take from the exiles Heldai, Tobijah, and Jedaiah, who have arrived from Babylon, and go the same day to the house of Josiah, the son of Zephaniah. <sup>11</sup>Take from them silver and gold, and make a crown, and set it on the head of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest. <sup>12</sup>And say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Behold, the man whose name is the Branch: for he shall branch out from his place, and he shall build the temple of the LORD. <sup>13</sup>It is he who shall build the temple of the LORD and shall bear royal honor, and shall sit and rule on his throne.

And there shall be a priest on his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.’” <sup>14</sup>And the crown shall be in the temple of the LORD as a reminder to Helem, Tobijah, Jedaiah, and Hen the son of Zephaniah.

<sup>15</sup>“And those who are far off shall come and help to build the temple of the LORD. And you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. And this shall come to pass, if you will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.”

A Call for Justice and Mercy

<sup>7:1</sup>In the fourth year of King Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month, which is Chislev. <sup>2</sup>Now the people of Bethel had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech and their men to entreat the favor of the LORD, <sup>3</sup>saying to the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts and the prophets, “Should I weep and abstain in the fifth month, as I have done for so many years?”

<sup>4</sup>Then the word of the LORD of hosts came to me: <sup>5</sup>“Say to all the people of the land and the priests, When you fasted and mourned in the fifth month and in the seventh, for these seventy years, was it for me that you fasted? <sup>6</sup>And when you eat and when you drink, do you not eat for yourselves and drink for yourselves? <sup>7</sup>Were not these the words that the LORD proclaimed by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and prosperous, with her cities around her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited?”

the widow, the fatherless, the sojourner, or the poor, and let none of you devise evil against another in your heart.”<sup>11</sup> But they refused to pay attention and turned a stubborn shoulder and stopped their ears that they might not hear.<sup>12</sup> They made their hearts diamond-hard lest they should hear the law and the words that the LORD of hosts had sent by his Spirit through the former prophets. Therefore great anger came from the LORD of hosts.<sup>13</sup> “As I called, and they would not hear, so they called, and I would not hear,” says the LORD of hosts,<sup>14</sup> “and I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations that they had not known. Thus the land they left was desolate, so that no one went to and fro, and the pleasant land was made desolate.”

Final Instructions and Greetings

<sup>17</sup>I appeal to you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and create obstacles contrary to the doctrine that you have been taught; avoid them.<sup>18</sup> For such persons do not serve our Lord Christ, but their own appetites, and by smooth talk and flattery they deceive the hearts of the naive.<sup>19</sup> For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil.<sup>20</sup> The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

<sup>22</sup>I Tertius, who wrote this letter, greet you in the Lord.

<sup>23</sup>Gaius, who is host to me and to the whole church, greets you. Erastus, the city treasurer, and our brother Quartus, greet you.

Doxology

<sup>25</sup>Now to him who is able to strengthen you according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery that was kept secret for long ages<sup>26</sup> but has now been disclosed and through the prophetic writings has been made known to all nations, according to the command of the eternal God, to bring about the obedience of faith—<sup>27</sup>to the only wise God be glory forevermore through Jesus Christ! Amen.

Writing

Some one perhaps will ask, “Since the canon of Scripture is complete, and sufficient of itself for everything, and more than sufficient, what need is there to join with it the authority of the Church’s interpretation?” For this reason—because, owing to the depth of Holy Scripture, all do not accept it in one and the same sense, but one understands its words in one way, another in another, so that it seems to be capable of as many interpretations as there are interpreters. . . .

Moreover, in the catholic Church itself, all possible care must be taken that we hold that faith which has been believed everywhere, always, by all. For that is truly and in the strictest sense “catholic,” which, as the name itself and the reason of the thing declare, comprehends all universally. This rule we shall observe if we follow universality, antiquity, consent. We shall follow universality if we confess that one faith to be true, which the whole Church throughout the world confesses;

antiquity, if we in no wise depart from those interpretations which it is manifest were notoriously held by our holy ancestors and fathers; consent, in like manner, if in antiquity itself we adhere to the consentient definitions and determinations of all, or at the least of almost all priests and doctors.

What, then, will a catholic Christian do if a small portion of the Church have cut itself off from the communion of the universal faith? What, surely, but prefer the soundness of the whole body to the unsoundness of a pestilent and corrupt member? What, if some novel contagion seek to infect not merely an insignificant portion of the Church, but the whole? Then it will be his care to cleave to antiquity, which at this day cannot possibly be seduced by any fraud of novelty.

—Vincent of Lerins

The Coming Peace and Prosperity of Zion

<sup>1</sup>And the word of the LORD of hosts came, saying, <sup>2</sup>“Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath. <sup>3</sup>Thus says the LORD: I have returned to Zion and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and Jerusalem shall be called the faithful city, and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain. <sup>4</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: Old men and old women shall again sit in the streets of Jerusalem, each with staff in hand because of great age. <sup>5</sup>And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in its streets. <sup>6</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: If it is marvelous in the sight of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvelous in my sight, declares the LORD of hosts? <sup>7</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: behold, I will save my people from the east country and from the west country, <sup>8</sup>and I will bring them to dwell in the midst of Jerusalem. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in faithfulness and in righteousness.”

<sup>9</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Let your hands be strong, you who in these days have been hearing these words from the mouth of the prophets who were present on the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built. <sup>10</sup>For before those days there was no wage for man or any wage for beast, neither was there any safety from the foe for him who went out or came in, for I set every man against his neighbor. <sup>11</sup>But now I will not deal with the remnant of this people as in the former days, declares the LORD of hosts. <sup>12</sup>For there shall be a sowing of peace. The vine shall give its fruit, and the ground shall give its produce, and the heavens shall give their dew. And I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things. <sup>13</sup>And as you have been a byword of cursing among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and you shall be a blessing. Fear not, but let your hands be strong.”

<sup>14</sup>For thus says the LORD of hosts: “As I purposed to bring disaster to you when your fathers provoked me to wrath, and I did not relent, says the LORD of hosts, <sup>15</sup>so again have I purposed in these days to bring good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah; fear not. <sup>16</sup>These are the things that you shall do: Speak the truth to one another; render in your gates judgments that are true and make for peace; <sup>17</sup>do not devise evil in your hearts against one another, and love no false oath, for all these things I hate, declares the LORD.”

<sup>18</sup>And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, <sup>19</sup>“Thus says the LORD of hosts: The fast of the fourth month and the fast of the fifth and the fast of the seventh and the fast of the tenth shall be to the house of Judah seasons of joy and gladness and cheerful feasts. Therefore love truth and peace.

New Testament Reading: 2 Timothy 1:1–18

Greeting

<sup>1</sup>Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God according to the promise of the life that is in Christ Jesus,

Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Guard the Deposit Entrusted to You

<sup>3</sup>I thank God whom I serve, as did my ancestors, with a clear conscience, as I remember you constantly in my prayers night and day. <sup>4</sup>As I remember your tears, I long to see you, that I may be filled with joy. <sup>5</sup>I am reminded of your sincere faith, a faith that dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice and now, I am sure, dwells in you as well. <sup>6</sup>For this reason I remind you to fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you through the laying on of my hands, <sup>7</sup>for God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control.

<sup>8</sup>Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but share in suffering for the gospel by the power of God, <sup>9</sup>who saved us and called us to a holy calling, not because of our works but because of his own purpose and grace, which he gave us in Christ Jesus before the ages began, <sup>10</sup>and which now has been manifested through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel, <sup>11</sup>for which I was appointed a preacher and apostle and teacher, <sup>12</sup>which is why I suffer as I do. But I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed, and I am convinced that he is able to guard until that Day what has been entrusted to me. <sup>13</sup>Follow the pattern of the sound words that you have heard from me, in the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. <sup>14</sup>By the Holy Spirit who dwells within us, guard the good deposit entrusted to you.

<sup>15</sup>You are aware that all who are in Asia turned away from me, among whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. <sup>16</sup>May the Lord grant mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me and was not ashamed of my chains, <sup>17</sup>but when he arrived in Rome he searched for me earnestly and found me—<sup>18</sup>may the Lord grant him to find mercy from the Lord on that Day!—and you well know all the service he rendered at Ephesus.

Writing

This is a confirmation of the preceding promise and is meant to say this: “What I am promising you now seems impossible to you, because there are so few of you and things are proceeding so haltingly. But My Word shall be true, for I will and can indeed make your numbers great, namely, in this way: I will bring My people here from the east country and from the west country, where they are captives and are scattered about, so that they may live in Jerusalem. And there they shall be My people, and I shall be their God, in faithfulness and righteousness; that is, they shall serve Me in true faith and life, and I in turn will show Myself as their true God with mercy and help, and I will no longer be their judge in wrath and punishment as I had been before, when they did not want to be My people in faithfulness and righteousness either.”

And note here very carefully the two words “in faithfulness and in righteousness.”

For God does not like hypocrites nor does He desire to be the God of the wicked. These indeed would like it if He were a God in riches and honor, that is, if He would make them rich and glorious in the eyes of the world—let piety and righteousness remain where they will. No, He is not a mammon, or a god of the belly. He desires to be a God in faithfulness and righteousness and also to have a people that loves faithfulness and righteousness. Temporal goods, however, shall indeed come, as will follow. “In faithfulness” means that the people are righteous toward God and not hypocritical, and that they serve God in true faith and sincerity; “in righteousness” here means the love and mercy with which they do right toward their neighbor. On these two commandments depends the whole life of a holy people.

—Martin Luther

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, You show mercy to Your people in all their troubles. Grant us always to recognize Your goodness, give thanks for Your compassion, and praise Your holy name; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (C81)

Old Testament Reading: Zechariah 9:1–17

Judgment on Israel's Enemies

<sup>1</sup>The burden of the word of the LORD is against the land of Hadrach
 and Damascus is its resting place.

For the LORD has an eye on mankind
 and on all the tribes of Israel,

<sup>2</sup>and on Hamath also, which borders on it, Tyre and Sidon, though they are very wise.

<sup>3</sup>Tyre has built herself a rampart
 and heaped up silver like dust,

and fine gold like the mud of the streets.

<sup>4</sup>But behold, the LORD will strip her of her possessions
and strike down her power on the sea,
and she shall be devoured by fire.

<sup>5</sup>Ashkelon shall see it, and be afraid;
Gaza too, and shall writhe in anguish;
Ekron also, because its hopes are confounded.

The king shall perish from Gaza;
Ashkelon shall be uninhabited;

<sup>6</sup>a mixed people shall dwell in Ashdod,
and I will cut off the pride of Philistia.

<sup>7</sup>I will take away its blood from its mouth,
and its abominations
from between its teeth;

it too shall be a remnant for our God;
it shall be like a clan in Judah,
and Ekron shall be like the Jebusites.

<sup>8</sup>Then I will encamp at my house as a guard,
so that none shall march to and fro;
no oppressor shall again march over them,
for now I see with my own eyes.

The Coming King of Zion

<sup>9</sup>Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion!
Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem!

Behold, your king is coming to you;
righteous and having salvation is he,
humble and mounted on a donkey,
on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

<sup>10</sup>I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim and the war horse from Jerusalem;
and the battle bow shall be cut off,
and he shall speak peace to the nations;
his rule shall be from sea to sea,
and from the River to the ends
of the earth.

<sup>11</sup>As for you also, because of the blood of my covenant with you,

I will set your prisoners free from the waterless pit.

<sup>12</sup>Return to your stronghold,
O prisoners of hope;
today I declare that I will restore
to you double.

<sup>13</sup>For I have bent Judah as my bow;
I have made Ephraim its arrow.

I will stir up your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O Greece,
and wield you like a warrior's sword.

The LORD Will Save His People

<sup>14</sup>Then the LORD will appear over them,
and his arrow will go forth like lightning;
the Lord GOD will sound the trumpet and will march forth in the whirlwinds
of the south.

<sup>15</sup>The LORD of hosts will protect them,
and they shall devour,
and tread down the sling stones,
and they shall drink and roar
as if drunk with wine,
and be full like a bowl,
drenched like the corners of the altar.

<sup>16</sup>On that day the LORD their God will save
them,
as the flock of his people;
for like the jewels of a crown
they shall shine on his land.

<sup>17</sup>For how great is his goodness,
and how great his beauty!
Grain shall make
the young men flourish,
and new wine the young women.

New Testament Reading: 2 Timothy 2:1–26

A Good Soldier of Christ Jesus

<sup>1</sup>You then, my child, be strengthened by the grace that is in Christ Jesus, <sup>2</sup>and what you have heard from me in the presence of many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also. <sup>3</sup>Share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. <sup>4</sup>No soldier gets entangled in civilian pursuits, since his aim is to please the one who enlisted him. <sup>5</sup>An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules. <sup>6</sup>It is the hard-working farmer who ought to have the first share of the crops. <sup>7</sup>Think over what I say, for the Lord will give you understanding in everything.

<sup>8</sup>Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, the offspring of David, as preached in my gospel, <sup>9</sup>for which I am suffering, bound with chains as a criminal. But the word of God is not bound! <sup>10</sup>Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. <sup>11</sup>The saying is trustworthy, for:

If we have died with him,
we will also live with him;
<sup>12</sup>if we endure, we will also reign
with him;
if we deny him, he also will deny us;
<sup>13</sup>if we are faithless, he remains faithful—

for he cannot deny himself.

A Worker Approved by God

<sup>14</sup>Remind them of these things, and charge them before God not to quarrel about words, which does no good, but only ruins the hearers. <sup>15</sup>Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who has no need to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth. <sup>16</sup>But avoid irreverent babble, for it will lead people into more and more ungodliness, <sup>17</sup>and their talk will spread like gangrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus, <sup>18</sup>who have swerved from the truth, saying that the resurrection has already happened. They are upsetting the faith of some. <sup>19</sup>But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: "The Lord knows those who are his," and, "Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity."

<sup>20</sup>Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and silver but also of wood and clay, some for honorable use, some for dishonorable. <sup>21</sup>Therefore, if anyone cleanses himself from what is dishonorable, he will be a vessel for honorable use, set apart as holy, useful to the master of the house, ready for every good work.

<sup>22</sup>So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. <sup>23</sup>Have nothing to do with foolish, ignorant controversies; you know that they breed quarrels. <sup>24</sup>And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, <sup>25</sup>correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, <sup>26</sup>and they may come to their senses and escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will.

Writing

Just as the truth of this divine promise [baptism], once pronounced over us, continues until death, so our faith in it ought never to cease, but to be nourished and strengthened until death by the continual remembrance of this promise made to us in baptism. Therefore, when we rise from our sins or repent, we are merely returning to the power and the faith of baptism from which we fell, and finding our way back to the promise then made to us, which we deserted when we sinned. For the truth of the promise once made remains steadfast, always ready to receive us back with open arms when we return. . . .

It will therefore be no small gain to a penitent to remember above all his baptism, and, confidently calling to mind the divine promise which he has forsaken, acknowledge that promise before his Lord, rejoicing that he is still within the fortress of salvation because he has been baptized, and abhorring his wicked ingratitude in falling away from its faith and truth. His heart will find wonderful comfort and will be encouraged to hope for mercy when he considers that the promise which God made to him, which cannot possibly lie, is still unbroken and unchanged, and indeed, cannot be changed by sins, as Paul says (II Tim. 2[:13]): “If we are faithless, he remains faithful—for he cannot deny himself.” This truth of God, I say, will sustain him, so that if all else should fail, this truth, if he believes in it, will not fail him. In it the penitent has a shield against all assaults of the scornful enemy, an answer to the sins that disturb his conscience, an antidote for the dread of death and judgment, and a comfort in every temptation—namely, this one truth—when he says: “God is faithful in his promises [Heb. 10:23; 11:11], and I received his sign in baptism. If God is for me, who is against me?” [Rom. 8:1].

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

The Restoration for Judah and Israel

<sup>1</sup>Ask rain from the LORD
in the season of the spring rain,
from the LORD who makes the storm clouds,
and he will give them showers of rain,
to everyone the vegetation in the field.

<sup>2</sup>For the household gods utter nonsense,
and the diviners see lies;
they tell false dreams
and give empty consolation.

Therefore the people wander like sheep;
they are afflicted for lack of a shepherd.

<sup>3</sup>“My anger is hot against the shepherds,
and I will punish the leaders;
for the LORD of hosts cares for his flock, the house of Judah,
and will make them like his majestic
steed in battle.

<sup>4</sup>From him shall come the cornerstone,
from him the tent peg,
from him the battle bow,
from him every ruler—all of them
together.

<sup>5</sup>They shall be like mighty men in battle, trampling the foe in the mud of the streets;

they shall fight because the LORD is with
them,
and they shall put to shame the riders on horses.

<sup>6</sup>“I will strengthen the house of Judah,
and I will save the house of Joseph.

I will bring them back because I have compassion on them,
and they shall be as though I had not rejected them,
for I am the LORD their God and I will answer them.

<sup>7</sup>Then Ephraim shall become like a mighty warrior,
and their hearts shall be glad
as with wine.

Their children shall see it and be glad;
their hearts shall rejoice in the LORD.

<sup>8</sup>“I will whistle for them and gather them in,
for I have redeemed them,
and they shall be as many
as they were before.

<sup>9</sup>Though I scattered them among the nations, yet in far countries
they shall remember me,
and with their children they shall live
and return.

<sup>10</sup>I will bring them home
from the land of Egypt,
and gather them from Assyria,
and I will bring them to the land
of Gilead and to Lebanon,
till there is no room for them.

<sup>11</sup>He shall pass through the sea of troubles and strike down the waves of the sea, and all the depths of the Nile shall be dried up.

The pride of Assyria shall be laid low,
and the scepter of Egypt shall depart.

<sup>12</sup>I will make them strong in the LORD,
and they shall walk in his name,”
declares the LORD.

The Flock Doomed to Slaughter

<sup>11:1</sup>Open your doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour your cedars!

<sup>2</sup>Wail, O cypress, for the cedar has fallen,
for the glorious trees are ruined!

Wail, oaks of Bashan,
for the thick forest has been felled!

<sup>3</sup>The sound of the wail of the shepherds,
for their glory is ruined!

The sound of the roar of the lions,
for the thicket of the Jordan is ruined!

New Testament Reading: 2 Timothy 3:1–17

Godlessness in the Last Days

<sup>1</sup>But understand this, that in the last days there will come times of difficulty. <sup>2</sup>For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, <sup>3</sup>heartless, unappeasable, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not loving good, <sup>4</sup>treacherous, reckless, swollen with conceit, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, <sup>5</sup>having the appearance of godliness, but denying its power. Avoid such people. <sup>6</sup>For among them are those who creep into households and capture weak women, burdened with sins and led astray by various passions, <sup>7</sup>always learning and never able to arrive at a knowledge of the truth. <sup>8</sup>Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith. <sup>9</sup>But they will not get very far, for their folly will be plain to all, as was that of those two men.

All Scripture Is Breathed Out by God

<sup>10</sup>You, however, have followed my teaching, my conduct, my aim in life, my faith, my patience, my love, my steadfastness, <sup>11</sup>my persecutions and sufferings that happened to me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Lystra—which persecutions I endured; yet from them all the Lord rescued me.

<sup>12</sup>Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, <sup>13</sup>while evil people and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived.

<sup>14</sup>But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom you learned it <sup>15</sup>and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. <sup>16</sup>All Scripture is breathed out by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, <sup>17</sup>that the man of God may be competent, equipped for every good work.

Writing

Christian soul, soul raised from sad death, soul redeemed from miserable slavery and set free by the blood of God: rouse your mind, dwell upon your resurrection from the dead, and ponder well the history of your redemption and your liberation. Consider where the strength of your salvation comes from, and what it is. Employ yourself in musing on it, delight yourself in contemplating it; shake off your sloth, do violence to your heart, bend your whole mind to it. Taste the goodness of your Redeemer, break forth in fires of love to your Savior. Bite the honeycomb of the words that tell of it, suck their savor more pleasant than honey, swallow their wholesome sweetness. Bite by thinking, suck by understanding, swallow as you love and rejoice. Gladden yourself by biting, exult in sucking, fill yourself to the full with joy by swallowing. Where and what is the strength and power of your salvation? Christ, Christ assuredly has raised you up again. He, the Good Samaritan, has healed you. He, the good friend, has redeemed you with His life and set you free. Christ, I say, Christ is He. And so the strength of your salvation is the strength of Christ. . . .

Christian soul, here is the strength of your salvation; here is the cause of your freedom; here is the price of your redemption. You were a captive, but you have been redeemed; you were a slave, but [by Him] are made free. And so, an exile, you are brought home; lost, you are reclaimed; and dead, you are restored to life. This let your heart taste, O man, this let it suck, this let it swallow, while your mouth receives the body and blood of your Redeemer. In this present life make this your daily bread, your nourishment, your support in pilgrimage. For by means of this, this and nothing else, you remain in Christ and Christ in you, and in the life to come your joy shall be full.

—Anselm

Old Testament Reading: Zechariah 11:4–17

[The Flock Doomed to Slaughter]

<sup>4</sup>Thus said the LORD my God: “Become shepherd of the flock doomed to slaughter.
<sup>5</sup>Those who buy them slaughter them and go unpunished, and those who sell them say, ‘Blessed be the LORD, I have become rich,’ and their own shepherds have no pity on them. <sup>6</sup>For I will no longer have pity on the inhabitants of this land, declares the LORD.
Behold, I will cause each of them to fall into the hand of his neighbor, and each into the hand of his king, and they shall crush
the land, and I will deliver none from their hand.”

<sup>7</sup>So I became the shepherd of the flock doomed to be slaughtered by the sheep traders. And I took two staves, one I named Favor, the other I named Union. And I tended the sheep. <sup>8</sup>In one month I destroyed the three shepherds. But I became impatient with them, and they also detested me. <sup>9</sup>So I said, “I will not be your shepherd. What is to die, let it die. What is to be destroyed, let it be destroyed. And let those who are left devour the flesh of one another.” <sup>10</sup>And I took my staff Favor, and I broke it, annulling

the covenant that I had made with all the peoples. <sup>11</sup>So it was annulled on that day, and the sheep traders, who were watching
me, knew that it was the word of the LORD.
<sup>12</sup>Then I said to them, “If it seems good to you, give me my wages; but if not, keep them.” And they weighed out as my wages thirty pieces of silver. <sup>13</sup>Then the LORD said to me, “Throw it to the potter”—the lordly price at which I was priced by them. So I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw them into the house of the LORD, to the potter. <sup>14</sup>Then I broke my second staff Union, annulling the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

<sup>15</sup>Then the LORD said to me, “Take once more the equipment of a foolish shepherd.
<sup>16</sup>For behold, I am raising up in the land a shepherd who does not care for those being destroyed, or seek the young or heal the maimed or nourish the healthy, but devours
the flesh of the fat ones, tearing off even their hoofs.

<sup>17</sup>“Woe to my worthless shepherd,
who deserts the flock!
May the sword strike his arm
and his right eye!
Let his arm be wholly withered,
his right eye utterly blinded!”

New Testament Reading: 2 Timothy 4:1–18

Preach the Word

<sup>1</sup>I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: <sup>2</sup>preach the word; be ready in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with complete patience and teaching. <sup>3</sup>For the time is coming when people will not endure sound teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own passions, <sup>4</sup>and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander off into myths. <sup>5</sup>As for you, always be sober-minded, endure suffering, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.

<sup>6</sup>For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure has come. <sup>7</sup>I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. <sup>8</sup>Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing.

Personal Instructions

<sup>9</sup>Do your best to come to me soon. <sup>10</sup>For Demas, in love with this present world, has deserted me and gone to Thessalonica. Crescens has gone to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia. <sup>11</sup>Luke alone is with me. Get Mark and bring him with you, for he is very useful to me for ministry. <sup>12</sup>Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus. <sup>13</sup>When you come, bring the cloak that I left with Carpus at Troas, also the books, and above all the parchments. <sup>14</sup>Alexander the coppersmith did me great harm; the Lord will repay him according to his deeds. <sup>15</sup>Beware of him yourself, for he strongly opposed our message. <sup>16</sup>At my first defense no one came to stand by me, but all deserted me. May it not be charged against them! <sup>17</sup>But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. So I was rescued from the lion's mouth. <sup>18</sup>The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

Writing

Let us then return from [the Communion] table like lions breathing fire, having become terrible to the devil; thinking on our Head [Christ] and on the love that He has shown for us. . . . Our Lord says: "I feed you with My own flesh, desiring that you all be nobly born, and holding forth good hopes for your future. . . . I have willed to become your Brother. For your sake, I shared in flesh and blood, and, in turn, I give you the flesh and the blood by which I became your kinsman." This blood causes the image of our King to be fresh within us. It produces beauty unspeakable and prevents the nobleness of our souls from wasting away. . . . It nourishes our souls and works in them a mighty power. This blood, if rightly taken, drives away devils, and keeps them far from us, while it calls the angels and the Lord of angels to us. For wherever they see the Lord's blood, devils flee and angels run together. This blood poured forth and washed all the world clean. St. Paul uttered many wise sayings concerning it in the Epistle to the Hebrews. This blood cleansed the secret place and the Holy of Holies. And if the type of this blood had such great power in the temple of the Hebrews, and in the midst of Egypt, when smeared on the doorposts, much more the reality! The type sanctified the golden altar. Without it [the blood of the sacrifices], the high priest dared not enter into the secret place. It even consecrated priests. It cleansed sins [in the Old Testament]. But if the blood [of the sacrifices] was but a type and had such power, if death so shuddered at the shadow, tell me how would it not have dreaded the very reality? The blood [of Christ] is the salvation of our souls. By it the soul is washed, is beautiful, and is inflamed! This blood causes our understanding to be more bright than fire and our soul more beaming than gold. This blood was poured forth and opened heaven.

—John Chrysostom

Hymnody

Guard us waking, guard us sleeping,
And when we die,
May we in Your mighty keeping
All peaceful lie.
When the last dread call shall wake us,
Then, O Lord, do not forsake us,
But to reign in glory take us
With You on high.

—God, Who Made the Earth and Heaven (LSB 877:3)

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, Your Son fought the good fight of faith and was obedient unto death, even death on the cross, pouring out His blood as a peace offering between You and us. Keep us faithful unto death so we may receive the crown of righteousness that the Righteous Judge will reward us with on that Day, having waited in hope and love for His appearing; through Your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. ## Old Testament Reading: Zechariah 12:1–13:9

The LORD Will Give Salvation

<sup>1</sup>The burden of the word of the LORD concerning Israel: Thus declares the LORD, who stretched out the heavens and founded the earth and formed the spirit of man within him: <sup>2</sup>“Behold, I am about to make Jerusalem a cup of staggering to all the surrounding peoples. The siege of Jerusalem will also be against Judah. <sup>3</sup>On that day I will make Jerusalem a heavy stone for all the peoples. All who lift it will surely hurt themselves. And all the nations of the earth will gather against it. <sup>4</sup>On that day, declares the LORD, I will strike every horse with panic, and its rider with madness. But for the sake of the house of Judah I will keep my eyes open, when I strike every horse of the peoples with blindness. <sup>5</sup>Then the clans of Judah shall say to themselves, ‘The inhabitants of Jerusalem have strength through the LORD of hosts, their God.’

<sup>7</sup>“And the LORD will give salvation to the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem may not surpass that of Judah. <sup>8</sup>On that day the LORD will protect the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so that the feeblest among them on that day shall be like David, and the house of David shall be like God, like the angel of the LORD, going before them. <sup>9</sup>And on that day I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

Him Whom They Have Pierced

<sup>10</sup>“And I will pour out on the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit of grace and pleas for mercy, so that, when they look on me, on him whom they have pierced, they shall mourn for him, as one mourns for an only child, and weep bitterly over him, as one weeps over a firstborn. <sup>11</sup>On that day the mourning in Jerusalem will be as great as the mourning for Hadad-rimmon in the plain of Megiddo. <sup>12</sup>The land shall mourn, each family by itself: the family of the house of David by itself, and their wives by themselves; the family of the house of Nathan by itself, and their wives by themselves; <sup>13</sup>the family of the house of Levi by itself, and their wives by themselves; the family of the Shimeites by itself, and their wives by themselves; <sup>14</sup>and all the families that are left, each by itself, and their wives by themselves.

<sup>13:1</sup>“On that day there shall be a fountain opened for the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to cleanse them from sin and uncleanness.

Idolatry Cut Off

<sup>2</sup>“And on that day, declares the LORD of hosts, I will cut off the names of the idols from the land, so that they shall be remembered no more. And also I will remove from the land the prophets and the spirit of uncleanness. <sup>3</sup>And if anyone again prophesies, his father and mother who bore him will say to him, ‘You shall not live, for you speak lies in the name of the LORD.’ And his father and mother who bore him shall pierce him through when he prophesies.

<sup>4</sup>“On that day every prophet will be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies. He will not put on a hairy cloak in order to deceive, <sup>5</sup>but he will say, ‘I am no prophet, I am a worker of the soil, for a man sold me in my youth.’<sup>6</sup> And if one asks him, ‘What are these wounds on your back?’ he will say, ‘The wounds I received in the house of my friends.’

The Shepherd Struck

<sup>7</sup>“Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, against the man who stands
next to me,”

declares the LORD of hosts.

“Strike the shepherd,
and the sheep will be scattered;
I will turn my hand against the little ones.

<sup>8</sup>In the whole land, declares the LORD,
two thirds shall be cut off and perish,
and one third shall be left alive.

<sup>9</sup>And I will put this third into the fire,
and refine them as one refines silver,
and test them as gold is tested.

They will call upon my name,
and I will answer them.

I will say, ‘They are my people’;
and they will say,
‘The LORD is my God.’ ”

New Testament Reading: Titus 1:1–2:6

Greeting

<sup>1</sup>Paul, a servant of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the sake of the faith of God’s elect and their knowledge of the truth, which accords with godliness, <sup>2</sup>in hope of eternal life, which God, who never lies, promised before the ages began <sup>3</sup>and at the proper time manifested in his word through the preaching with which I have been entrusted by the command of God our Savior;

<sup>4</sup>To Titus, my true child in a common faith:

Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior.

Qualifications for Elders

<sup>5</sup>This is why I left you in Crete, so that you might put what remained into order, and appoint elders in every town as I directed you—<sup>6</sup>if anyone is above reproach, the husband of one wife, and his children are believers and not open to the charge of debauchery or insubordination. <sup>7</sup>For an overseer, as God’s steward, must be above reproach. He must not be arrogant or quick-tempered or a drunkard or violent or greedy for gain, <sup>8</sup>but hospitable, a lover of good, self-controlled, upright, holy, and disciplined.

<sup>9</sup>He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it.

<sup>10</sup>For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. <sup>11</sup>They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. <sup>12</sup>One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, “Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons.” <sup>13</sup>This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, <sup>14</sup>not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. <sup>15</sup>To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. <sup>16</sup>They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work.

Teach Sound Doctrine

<sup>2</sup>1But as for you, teach what accords with sound doctrine. <sup>2</sup>Older men are to be sober-minded, dignified, self-controlled, sound in faith, in love, and in steadfastness. <sup>3</sup>Older women likewise are to be reverent in behavior, not slanderers or slaves to much wine. They are to teach what is good, <sup>4</sup>and so train the young women to love their husbands and children, <sup>5</sup>to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, kind, and submissive to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be reviled. <sup>6</sup>Likewise, urge the younger men to be self-controlled.

After His circumcision, she next waits for the time of her purification. And when the days were fulfilled, and the fortieth was the full time, God the Word, who sits by the Father’s side, is carried up to Jerusalem and brought into the Father’s presence in human nature like ours and by the shadow of the law is numbered among the firstborn. For even before the incarnation the firstborn were holy and consecrated to God, being sacrificed to Him according to the law. O how great and wonderful is the plan of salvation! “O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God!” He who is in the bosom of the Father, the Son who shares His throne and is coeternal with Him, by whom all things are divinely brought into existence, submitted nevertheless to the measure of human nature and even offered a sacrifice to His own Father, though adored by all and glorified with Him. And what did He offer? As the firstborn and a male pair of turtles, or two young doves, according to what the law prescribed. But what do the turtle and the dove signify? Come, then, and let us examine this. The one, then, is the most noisy of the birds of the field, but the other is a mild and gentle creature. And such did the Savior of all become toward us, showing the most perfect gentleness, and like a turtle moreover soothing the world and filling His own vineyard, even us who believe in Him, with the sweet sound of His voice. For it is written in the Song of Songs, “The voice of the turtle has been heard in our land.” For Christ has spoken to us the divine message of the Gospel, which is for the salvation of the whole world.

—Cyril of Alexandria

Hymnody

To place in Him their confidence,
To fear and trust their Lord.

—Let Children Hear the Mighty Deeds (LSB 867:4)

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and ever-living God, as Your only-begotten Son was this day presented in the temple in the substance of our flesh, grant that we may be presented to You with pure and clean hearts; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (F12)

Purification of Mary and the Presentation of Our Lord

Thirty-two days after Jesus’ circumcision and seventy weeks after the announcement of John’s birth to Zechariah by the angel Gabriel, the Lord comes to His temple to fulfill the Torah (Luke 2:22–38). The days are indeed fulfilled with the presentation.

Jesus' parents keep the Torah and fulfill it by bringing Jesus to His true home. Also, Jesus' parents offer the alternative sacrifice of two turtledoves or two pigeons. Leviticus 12:8 allows this instead of a lamb, since not everyone could afford a lamb (showing the poverty and humility of Joseph and Mary). Yet no lamb was necessary because already here at forty days old, Jesus is the Lamb brought to His temple for sacrifice. Simeon's Nunc Dimittis is a beautiful example of the immediate response to this inauguration of God's consolation and redemption in the Christ Child. Speaking to Mary, Simeon also prophesies about the destiny of the child.

Old Testament Reading: Zechariah 14:1–21

The Coming Day of the LORD

<sup>1</sup>Behold, a day is coming for the LORD, when the spoil taken from you will be divided in your midst. <sup>2</sup>For I will gather all the nations against Jerusalem to battle, and the city shall be taken and the houses plundered and the women raped. Half of the city shall go out into exile, but the rest of the people shall not be cut off from the city. <sup>3</sup>Then the LORD will go out and fight against those nations as when he fights on a day of battle. <sup>4</sup>On that day his feet shall stand on the Mount of Olives that lies before Jerusalem on the east, and the Mount of Olives shall be split in two from east to west by a very wide valley, so that one half of the Mount shall move northward, and the other half southward. <sup>5</sup>And you shall flee to the valley of my mountains, for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azal. And you shall flee as you fled from the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. Then the LORD my God will come, and all the holy ones with him.

<sup>6</sup>On that day there shall be no light, cold, or frost. <sup>7</sup>And there shall be a unique day, which is known to the LORD, neither day nor night, but at evening time there shall be light.

<sup>8</sup>On that day living waters shall flow out from Jerusalem, half of them to the eastern sea and half of them to the western sea. It shall continue in summer as in winter.

<sup>9</sup>And the LORD will be king over all the earth. On that day the LORD will be one and his name one.

<sup>10</sup>The whole land shall be turned into a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem. But Jerusalem shall remain aloft on its site from the Gate of Benjamin to the place of the former gate, to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananel to the king's winepresses. <sup>11</sup>And it shall be inhabited, for there shall never again be a decree of utter destruction. Jerusalem shall dwell in security.

<sup>12</sup>And this shall be the plague with which the LORD will strike all the peoples that wage war against Jerusalem: their flesh will rot while they are still standing on their feet, their eyes will rot in their sockets, and their tongues will rot in their mouths.

<sup>13</sup>And on that day a great panic from the LORD shall fall on them, so that each will seize the hand of another, and the hand of the one will be raised against the hand of the other. <sup>14</sup>Even Judah will fight at Jerusalem. And the wealth of all the surrounding nations shall be collected, gold, silver, and garments in great abundance. <sup>15</sup>And a plague like this plague shall fall on the horses, the mules, the camels, the donkeys, and whatever beasts may be in those camps.

<sup>16</sup>Then everyone who survives of all the nations that have come against Jerusalem shall go up year after year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the Feast of Booths. <sup>17</sup>And if any of the families of the earth do not go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, there will be no rain on them. <sup>18</sup>And if the family of Egypt does not go up and present themselves, then on them there shall be no rain; there shall be the plague with which the Lord afflicts the nations that do not go up to keep the Feast of Booths. <sup>19</sup>This shall be the punishment to Egypt and the punishment to all the nations that do not go up to keep the Feast of Booths.

<sup>20</sup>And on that day there shall be inscribed on the bells of the horses, "Holy to the LORD." And the pots in the house of the LORD shall be as the bowls before the altar. <sup>21</sup>And every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holy to the LORD of hosts, so that all who sacrifice may come and take of them and boil the meat of the sacrifice in them. And there shall no longer be a trader in the house of the LORD of hosts on that day.

New Testament Reading: Titus 2:7–3:15

[Teach Sound Doctrine]

<sup>7</sup>Show yourself in all respects to be a model of good works, and in your teaching show integrity, dignity, <sup>8</sup>and sound speech that cannot be condemned, so that an opponent may be put to shame, having nothing evil to say about us. <sup>9</sup>Slaves are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, <sup>10</sup>not pilfering, but showing all good faith, so that in everything they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior.

<sup>11</sup>For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, <sup>12</sup>training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, <sup>13</sup>waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, <sup>14</sup>who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works.

Be Ready for Every Good Work

<sup>3:1</sup>Remind them to be submissive to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, <sup>2</sup>to speak evil of no one, to avoid quarreling, to be gentle, and to show perfect courtesy toward all people. <sup>3</sup>For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another. <sup>4</sup>But when the goodness and loving kindness of God our Savior appeared, <sup>5</sup>he saved us, not because of works done by us in righteousness, but according to his own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit, <sup>6</sup>whom he poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior, <sup>7</sup>so that being justified by his grace we might become heirs according to the hope of eternal life. <sup>8</sup>The saying is trustworthy, and I want you to insist on these things, so that those who have believed in God may be careful to devote themselves to good works. These things are excellent and profitable for people. <sup>9</sup>But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, dissensions, and quarrels about the law, for they are unprofitable and worthless. <sup>10</sup>As for a person who stirs up division, after warning him once and then twice, have nothing more to do with him, <sup>11</sup>knowing that such a person is warped and sinful; he is self-condemned.

Final Instructions and Greetings

<sup>12</sup>When I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, do your best to come to me at Nicopolis, for I have decided to spend the winter there. <sup>13</sup>Do your best to speed Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their way; see that they lack nothing. <sup>14</sup>And let our people learn to devote themselves to good works, so as to help cases of urgent need, and not be unfruitful.

<sup>15</sup>All who are with me send greetings to you. Greet those who love us in the faith.

Grace be with you all.

Writing

It was highly necessary to instruct the people that the true worship and honor of Christ and of His Holy Sacrament does not consist in such external gestures or services alone, also that our dear Lord Christ did not institute this venerable Sacrament for the sake of seeing and worshiping or being present there for that purpose, but so that we would partake of it, as the Lord's words say, "Take, eat; take, drink," etc. These words have power and avail so much as to say, "This is My body; this is My blood; this do in remembrance of Me." . . . Therefore the Word is most important, through the power of which, from the institution of the Lord, the true body and blood of Christ are there. The Word teaches us what kind of treasure we have there, what we should use it for, and why Christ is there, so that true invocation and spiritual worship are enkindled in us. Now, here we are not saying that one should not worship our dear Lord Jesus Christ in this Sacrament, being present, or that one should not hold this Sacrament with all honor and reverence. On the contrary, since these divine, almighty, true words are believed, all of this follows of itself, and not only in external gestures but also both externally and, first and foremost, in the heart, spirit, and truth. On account of this, such adoration of Christ is not thereby cancelled, but much rather, confirmed. For where the Word is rightly seen, considered, and believed, the adoration of the Sacrament will happen of itself. For whoever believes that Christ's body and blood are there (as there is plenty of evidence so to believe, and it is necessary so to believe), he cannot, to be sure, deny his reverence to the body and blood of Christ without sin. For I must confess that Christ is there when His body and blood are there. His words do not lie to me, and He is not separate from His body and blood.

—Georg von Anhalt

Old Testament Reading: Job 1:1–22

Job's Character and Wealth

<sup>1</sup>There was a man in the land of Uz whose name was Job, and that man was blameless and upright, one who feared God and turned away from evil. <sup>2</sup>There were born to him seven sons and three daughters. <sup>3</sup>He possessed 7,000 sheep, 3,000 camels, 500 yoke of oxen, and 500 female donkeys, and very many servants, so that this man was the greatest of all the people of the east. <sup>4</sup>His sons used to go and hold a feast in the house of each one on his day, and they would send and invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them. <sup>5</sup>And when the days of the feast had run their course, Job would send and consecrate them, and he would rise early in the morning and offer burnt offerings

according to the number of them all. For Job said, "It may be that my children have sinned, and cursed God in their hearts." Thus Job did continually.

Satan Allowed to Test Job

<sup>6</sup>Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also came among them. <sup>7</sup>The LORD said to Satan, "From where have you come?" Satan answered the LORD and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking up and down on it." <sup>8</sup>And the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, who fears God and turns away from evil?" <sup>9</sup>Then Satan answered the LORD and said, "Does Job fear God for no reason? <sup>10</sup>Have you not put a hedge around him and his house and all that he has, on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land. <sup>11</sup>But stretch out your hand and touch all that he has, and he will curse you to your face." <sup>12</sup>And the LORD said to Satan, "Behold, all that he has is in your hand. Only against him do not stretch out your hand." So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD.

Satan Takes Job's Property and Children

<sup>13</sup>Now there was a day when his sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother's house, <sup>14</sup>and there came a messenger to Job and said, "The oxen were plowing and the donkeys feeding beside them, <sup>15</sup>and the Sabeans fell upon them and took them and struck down the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you." <sup>16</sup>While he was yet speaking, there came another and said, "The fire of God fell from heaven and burned up the sheep and the servants and consumed them, and I alone have escaped to tell you." <sup>17</sup>While he was yet speaking, there came another and said, "The Chaldeans formed three groups and made a raid on the camels and took them and struck down the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you." <sup>18</sup>While he was yet speaking, there came another and said, "Your sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother's house, <sup>19</sup>and behold, a great wind came across the wilderness and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young people, and they are dead, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

<sup>20</sup>Then Job arose and tore his robe and shaved his head and fell on the ground and worshiped. <sup>21</sup>And he said, "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked shall I return. The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD."

<sup>22</sup>In all this Job did not sin or charge God with wrong.

New Testament Reading: John 1:1-18

The Word Became Flesh

<sup>1</sup>In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. <sup>2</sup>He was in the beginning with God. <sup>3</sup>All things were made through him, and without him was not any thing made that was made. <sup>4</sup>In him was life, and the life was the light of men. <sup>5</sup>The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it.

<sup>6</sup>There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. <sup>7</sup>He came as a witness, to bear witness about the light, that all might believe through him. <sup>8</sup>He was not the light, but came to bear witness about the light.

<sup>9</sup>The true light, which enlightens everyone, was coming into the world. <sup>10</sup>He was in the world, and the world was made through him, yet the world did not know him. <sup>11</sup>He came to his own, and his own people did not receive him. <sup>12</sup>But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, <sup>13</sup>who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God.

<sup>14</sup>And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth. <sup>15</sup>(John bore witness about him, and cried out, “This was he of whom I said, ‘He who comes after me ranks before me, because he was before me.’”) <sup>16</sup>And from his fullness we have all received, grace upon grace. <sup>17</sup>For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. <sup>18</sup>No one has ever seen God; the only God, who is at the Father’s side, he has made him known.

Writing

I. Our churches teach with common consent that the decree of the Council of Nicaea about the unity of the divine essence and the three persons is true. It is to be believed without any doubt. God is one divine essence who is eternal, without a body, without parts, of infinite power, wisdom, and goodness. He is the maker and preserver of all things, visible and invisible [Nehemiah 9:6]. Yet there are three persons, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit [Matthew 28:19].

These three persons are of the same essence and power. Our churches use the term person as the Fathers have used it. We use it to signify, not a part or quality in another, but that which subsists of itself.

Our churches condemn all heresies [Titus 3:10–11] that arose against this article [including those of the Manichaeans, the Valentinians, Arians, Eunomians, Muslims, and Samosatenes].

III. Our churches teach that the Word, that is, the Son of God [John 1:14], assumed the human nature in the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary. So there are two natures—the divine and the human—inseparably joined in one person. There is one Christ, true God and true man, who was born of the Virgin Mary, truly suffered, was crucified, died, and was buried. He did this to reconcile the Father to us and to be a sacrifice, not only for original guilt, but also for all actual sins of mankind [John 1:29].

He also descended into hell, and truly rose again on the third day. Afterward, He ascended into heaven to sit at the right hand of the Father. There He forever reigns and has dominion over all creatures. He sanctifies those who believe in Him, by sending the Holy Spirit into their hearts to rule, comfort, and make them alive. He defends them against the devil and the power of sin.

The same Christ will openly come again to judge the living and the dead, and so forth, according to the Apostles’ Creed.

—Augsburg Confession I, III

Satan Attacks Job's Health

<sup>1</sup>Again there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also came among them to present himself before the LORD. <sup>2</sup>And the LORD said to Satan, "From where have you come?" Satan answered the LORD and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking up and down on it." <sup>3</sup>And the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, who fears God and turns away from evil? He still holds fast his integrity, although you incited me against him to destroy him without reason." <sup>4</sup>Then Satan answered the LORD and said, "Skin for skin! All that a man has he will give for his life. <sup>5</sup>But stretch out your hand and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse you to your face." <sup>6</sup>And the LORD said to Satan, "Behold, he is in your hand; only spare his life."

<sup>7</sup>So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD and struck Job with loathsome sores from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head. <sup>8</sup>And he took a piece of broken pottery with which to scrape himself while he sat in the ashes.

<sup>9</sup>Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold fast your integrity? Curse God and die." <sup>10</sup>But he said to her, "You speak as one of the foolish women would speak. Shall we receive good from God, and shall we not receive evil?" In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

Job's Three Friends

<sup>11</sup>Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that had come upon him, they came each from his own place, Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. They made an appointment together to come to show him sympathy and comfort him. <sup>12</sup>And when they saw him from a distance, they did not recognize him. And they raised their voices and wept, and they tore their robes and sprinkled dust on their heads toward heaven. <sup>13</sup>And they sat with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and no one spoke a word to him, for they saw that his suffering was very great.

Job Laments His Birth

<sup>3</sup>"Let the day perish on which I was born,
and the night that said,
'A man is conceived.'

<sup>4</sup>Let that day be darkness!

May God above not seek it,
nor light shine upon it.

<sup>5</sup>Let gloom and deep darkness claim it.

Let clouds dwell upon it;
let the blackness of the day terrify it.

<sup>6</sup>That night—let thick darkness seize it!

Let it not rejoice among the days
of the year;

let it not come into the number of the months.

<sup>7</sup>Behold, let that night be barren;

let no joyful cry enter it.

<sup>8</sup>Let those curse it who curse the day,
who are ready to rouse up Leviathan.

<sup>9</sup>Let the stars of its dawn be dark;

let it hope for light, but have none,

nor see the eyelids of the morning, <sup>10</sup>because it did not shut the doors
of my mother's womb,
nor hide trouble from my eyes."

The Testimony of John the Baptist

<sup>19</sup>And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, "Who are you?" <sup>20</sup>He confessed, and did not deny, but confessed, "I am not the Christ." <sup>21</sup>And they asked him, "What then? Are you Elijah?" He said, "I am not." "Are you the Prophet?" And he answered, "No." <sup>22</sup>So they said to him, "Who are you? We need to give an answer to those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?" <sup>23</sup>He said, "I am the voice of one crying out in the wilderness, 'Make straight the way of the Lord,' as the prophet Isaiah said."

<sup>24</sup>(Now they had been sent from the Pharisees.) <sup>25</sup>They asked him, "Then why are you baptizing, if you are neither the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?" <sup>26</sup>John answered them, "I baptize with water, but among you stands one you do not know, <sup>27</sup>even he who comes after me, the strap of whose sandal I am not worthy to untie." <sup>28</sup>These things took place in Bethany across the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

Behold, the Lamb of God

<sup>29</sup>The next day he saw Jesus coming toward him, and said, "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!

<sup>30</sup>This is he of whom I said, 'After me comes a man who ranks before me, because he was before me.' <sup>31</sup>I myself did not know him, but for this purpose I came baptizing with water, that he might be revealed to Israel." <sup>32</sup>And

John bore witness: "I saw the Spirit descend from heaven like a dove, and it remained on him. <sup>33</sup>I myself did not know him, but he who sent me to baptize with water said to me, 'He on whom you see the Spirit descend and remain, this is he who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.' <sup>34</sup>And I have seen and have borne witness that this is the Son of God."

Writing

John wishes to say: "Your lamb was taken from men, as Moses commanded in the Law of God (Ex. 12:3–5). But this is God's Lamb. The Easter lamb is a Lamb from God, not a lamb selected from the wethers [castrated male sheep]. The lamb of the Law was a shepherds' lamb or a man's lamb." John wants to say: "This is the true Lamb, which takes away the sin of the people. With your other lambs, sacrificed on the Passover festival, you did try to remove your sin; but you never succeeded. In this Lamb, born of a virgin, you will. It is not a natural lamb or whether referred to in the Law, and yet It is a lamb." For God prescribed that it was to be a Lamb that should be sacrificed and roasted on the cross for our sins. In other respects He was a man like all other human beings; but God made Him a Lamb which should bear the sins of all the world.

This is an extraordinarily free and comforting sermon on Christ, our Savior. Neither our thoughts nor our words can do the subject full justice, but in the life beyond it will redound to our eternal joy and bliss that the Son of God abased Himself so and burdened Himself with my sins. Yes, He assumes not only my sins but also those of the whole world, from Adam down to the very last mortal. These sins He takes upon Himself; for these He is willing to suffer and die that our sins may be expunged and we may attain eternal life and blessedness. . . . Anyone who wishes to be saved must know that all his sins have been placed on the back of this Lamb! Therefore John points this Lamb out to his disciples, saying: "Do you want to know where the sins of the world are placed for forgiveness? . . . [I]f you really want to find a place where the sins of the world are exterminated and deleted, then cast your gaze upon the cross. The Lord placed all our sins on the back of this Lamb."

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

Behold the Lamb of God
That bears the world's transgression,
Whose sacrifice removes
The devil's dread oppression.
Behold the Lamb of God,
Who takes away our sin,
Who for our peace and joy
Will full atonement win.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus, scepter that rises out of Jacob, Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world, rule our hearts through Your suffering cross and forgive us our sins, that we may become partakers of Your divine life; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Jacob (Israel), Patriarch

Jacob, the third of the three Hebrew patriarchs, was the younger of the twin sons of Isaac and Rebekah. After wrestling with the Angel of the Lord, Jacob, whose name means “deceiver,” was renamed Israel, which means “he strives with God” (Genesis 25:26; 32:28). His family life was filled with trouble, caused by his acts of deception toward his father and his brother, Esau, and his parental favoritism toward his son Joseph (see 31 March). Much of his adult life was spent grieving over the death of his beloved wife Rachel and the presumed death of Joseph, who had been appointed by the Egyptian pharaoh to be in charge of food distribution during a time of famine in the land. Prior to Jacob’s death, through the blessing of his sons, God gave the promise that the Messiah would come through the line of Jacob’s fourth son, Judah (Genesis 49).

[Job Laments His Birth]

- <sup>11</sup> “Why did I not die at birth,
come out from the womb and expire?
- <sup>12</sup> Why did the knees receive me?
Or why the breasts, that I should nurse?
- <sup>13</sup> For then I would have lain down
and been quiet;
I would have slept;
then I would have been at rest,
- <sup>14</sup> with kings and counselors of the earth
who rebuilt ruins for themselves,
- <sup>15</sup> or with princes who had gold,
who filled their houses with silver.
- <sup>16</sup> Or why was I not as a hidden stillborn child,
as infants who never see the light?
- <sup>17</sup> There the wicked cease from troubling,
and there the weary are at rest.
- <sup>18</sup> There the prisoners are at ease together;
they hear not the voice of the taskmaster.
- <sup>19</sup> The small and the great are there,
and the slave is free from his master.

- <sup>20</sup>“Why is light given to him who is in misery,
and life to the bitter in soul, <sup>21</sup>who long for death, but it comes not,
and dig for it more than
for hidden treasures, <sup>22</sup>who rejoice exceedingly and are glad when they find the grave?
<sup>23</sup>Why is light given to a man whose way is hidden,
whom God has hedged in?
<sup>24</sup>For my sighing comes instead of my bread,
and my groanings
are poured out like water.
<sup>25</sup>For the thing that I fear comes upon me,
and what I dread befalls me.
<sup>26</sup>I am not at ease, nor am I quiet;
I have no rest, but trouble comes.”

Jesus Calls the First Disciples

<sup>35</sup>The next day again John was standing with two of his disciples, <sup>36</sup>and he looked at Jesus as he walked by and said, “Behold, the Lamb of God!” <sup>37</sup>The two disciples heard him say this, and they followed Jesus. <sup>38</sup>Jesus turned and saw them following and said to them, “What are you seeking?” And they said to him, “Rabbi” (which means Teacher), “where are you staying?” <sup>39</sup>He said to them, “Come and you will see.” So they came and saw where he was staying, and they stayed with him that day, for it was about the tenth hour. <sup>40</sup>One of the two who heard John speak and followed Jesus was Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother. <sup>41</sup>He first found his own brother Simon and said to him, “We have found the Messiah” (which means Christ). <sup>42</sup>He brought him to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said, “So you are Simon the son of John? You shall be called Cephas” (which means Peter).

Jesus Calls Philip and Nathanael

<sup>43</sup>The next day Jesus decided to go to Galilee. He found Philip and said to him, “Follow me.” <sup>44</sup>Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. <sup>45</sup>Philip found Nathanael and said to him, “We have found him of whom Moses in the Law and also the prophets wrote, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.” <sup>46</sup>Nathanael said to him, “Can anything good come out of Nazareth?” Philip said to him, “Come and see.” <sup>47</sup>Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward him and said of him, “Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no deceit!” <sup>48</sup>Nathanael said to him, “How do you know me?” Jesus answered him, “Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you.” <sup>49</sup>Nathanael answered him, “Rabbi, you are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel!” <sup>50</sup>Jesus answered him, “Because I said to you, ‘I saw you under the fig tree,’ do you believe? You will see greater things than these.” <sup>51</sup>And he said to him, “Truly, truly, I say to you, you will see heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man.”

Writing

21. A theology of glory calls evil good and good evil. A theology of the cross calls the thing what it actually is.

This is clear: He who does not know Christ does not know God hidden in suffering. Therefore he prefers works to suffering, glow to the cross, strength to weakness, wisdom to folly, and, in general, good to evil. These are the people whom the apostle calls “enemies of the cross of Christ” [Phil. 3:18], for they hate the cross and suffering and love works and the glory of works. Thus they call the good of the cross evil and the evil of a deed good. God can be found only in suffering and the cross, as has already been said. Therefore the friends of the cross say that the cross is good and works are evil, for through the cross works are destroyed and the old Adam, who is especially edified by works, is crucified. It is impossible for a person not to be puffed up by his good works unless he has first been deflated and destroyed by suffering and evil until he knows that he is worthless and that his works are not his but God’s.

Eliphaz Speaks: The Innocent Prosper

<sup>2</sup>“If one ventures a word with you, will you be impatient?

Yet who can keep from speaking?

<sup>3</sup>Behold, you have instructed many,
and you have strengthened
the weak hands.

<sup>4</sup>Your words have upheld him
who was stumbling,
and you have made firm
the feeble knees.

<sup>5</sup>But now it has come to you,
and you are impatient;
it touches you, and you are dismayed.

<sup>6</sup>Is not your fear of God your confidence, and the integrity of your ways
your hope?

<sup>7</sup>“Remember: who that was innocent ever perished?
Or where were the upright cut off?

<sup>8</sup>As I have seen, those who plow iniquity and sow trouble reap the same.

<sup>9</sup>By the breath of God they perish, and by the blast of his anger
they are consumed.

<sup>10</sup>The roar of the lion,
the voice of the fierce lion,
the teeth of the young lions are broken.

<sup>11</sup>The strong lion perishes for lack of prey, and the cubs of the lioness
are scattered.

<sup>12</sup>“Now a word was brought to me
stealthily;
my ear received the whisper of it.

<sup>13</sup>Amid thoughts from visions
of the night,
when deep sleep falls on men, <sup>14</sup>dread came upon me, and trembling,
which made all my bones shake.

<sup>15</sup>A spirit glided past my face;
the hair of my flesh stood up.

<sup>16</sup>It stood still,
but I could not discern its appearance.
A form was before my eyes;
there was silence,
then I heard a voice:

<sup>17</sup>“Can mortal man be in the right
before God?
Can a man be pure before his Maker?
<sup>18</sup>Even in his servants he puts no trust,
and his angels he charges with error; <sup>19</sup>how much more those who dwell
in houses of clay,
whose foundation is in the dust,
who are crushed like the moth.

<sup>20</sup>Between morning and evening
they are beaten to pieces;
they perish forever without anyone regarding it.

<sup>21</sup>Is not their tent-cord plucked up within them,
do they not die, and that without wisdom?’ ”

The Wedding at Cana

<sup>1</sup>On the third day there was a wedding at Cana in Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. <sup>2</sup>Jesus also was invited to the wedding with his disciples. <sup>3</sup>When the wine ran out, the mother of Jesus said to him, “They have no wine.” <sup>4</sup>And Jesus said to her, “Woman, what does this have to do with me? My hour has not yet come.” <sup>5</sup>His mother said to the servants, “Do whatever he tells you.”

<sup>6</sup>Now there were six stone water jars there for the Jewish rites of purification, each holding twenty or thirty gallons. <sup>7</sup>Jesus said to the servants, “Fill the jars with water.” And they filled them up to the brim. <sup>8</sup>And he said to them, “Now draw some out and take it to the master of the feast.” So they took it. <sup>9</sup>When the master of the feast tasted the water now become wine, and did not know where it came from (though the servants who had drawn the water knew), the master of the feast called the bridegroom <sup>10</sup>and said to him, “Everyone serves the good wine first, and when people have drunk freely, then the poor wine. But you have kept the good wine until now.” <sup>11</sup>This, the first of his signs, Jesus did at Cana in Galilee, and manifested his glory. And his disciples believed in him.

<sup>12</sup>After this he went down to Capernaum, with his mother and his brothers and his disciples, and they stayed there for a few days.

Writing

When Christ says of the bread, “This is My body, which is given for you,” they say, “This is not His body, which was given for you, but it is a reminder of His far-absent body.” We cannot allow the great treasure to be stolen from us which Christ bequeathed in His testament—His true body with which we were redeemed, and His precious blood with which we were washed from our sins—and put mere symbols in their place. Likewise, we cannot be convinced that it should be impossible for Christ our Lord, true God and man, to be present with His body and blood in the Supper and to distribute them, as the words of His testament read, without destroying His own body and, as our opponents say, being a liar. Likewise, we cannot concede that He with His assumed human body must be spatially present somewhere but cannot at the same time be in more than one place, though His words speak of this. For since He is almighty God and His assumed human nature is united to Him indivisibly and is also exalted to the right hand of the power of God, we have no doubt that He can do everything with His body that He wants and that He has promised to do with it in His Word.

<sup>1</sup>“Call now; is there anyone who will answer you?
 To which of the holy ones will you turn?

<sup>2</sup>Surely vexation kills the fool,
 and jealousy slays the simple.

<sup>3</sup>I have seen the fool taking root,

<sup>4</sup>His children are far from safety;
 they are crushed in the gate,
 and there is no one to deliver them.

<sup>5</sup>The hungry eat his harvest,
 and he takes it even out of thorns,

and the thirsty pant after his wealth.

<sup>6</sup>For affliction does not come from the dust,
 nor does trouble sprout from the ground, <sup>7</sup>but man is born to trouble
 as the sparks fly upward.

<sup>8</sup>“As for me, I would seek God,
 and to God would I commit my cause, <sup>9</sup>who does great things and unsearchable,
 marvelous things without number:
<sup>10</sup>he gives rain on the earth and sends waters on the fields; <sup>11</sup>he sets on high those who are lowly,
 and those who mourn are lifted to safety.

<sup>12</sup>He frustrates the devices of the crafty,
 so that their hands achieve no success.

<sup>13</sup>He catches the wise in their own craftiness, and the schemes of the wily are brought to a quick end.

<sup>14</sup>They meet with darkness in the daytime and grope at noonday as in the night.

<sup>15</sup>But he saves the needy from the sword of their mouth
 and from the hand of the mighty.

<sup>16</sup>So the poor have hope,
 and injustice shuts her mouth.

<sup>17</sup>“Behold, blessed is the one whom God reproves;
 therefore despise not the discipline
 of the Almighty.

<sup>18</sup>For he wounds, but he binds up;
 he shatters, but his hands heal.

<sup>19</sup>He will deliver you from six troubles;
 in seven no evil shall touch you.

<sup>20</sup>In famine he will redeem you from death,
 and in war from the power of the sword.

<sup>21</sup>You shall be hidden from the lash
 of the tongue,
 and shall not fear destruction
 when it comes.

<sup>22</sup>At destruction and famine you shall laugh,

and shall not fear the beasts of the earth.

<sup>23</sup>For you shall be in league with the stones of the field, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with you.

<sup>24</sup>You shall know that your tent is at peace, and you shall inspect your fold and miss nothing.

<sup>25</sup>You shall know also that your offspring shall be many, and your descendants as the grass of the earth.

<sup>26</sup>You shall come to your grave in ripe old age, like a sheaf gathered up in its season.

New Testament Reading: John 2:13–25

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

<sup>13</sup>The Passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>In the temple he found those who were selling oxen and sheep and pigeons, and the money-changers sitting there. <sup>15</sup>And making a whip of cords, he drove them all out of the temple, with the sheep and oxen. And he poured out the coins of the money-changers and overturned their tables. <sup>16</sup>And he told those who sold the pigeons, “Take these things away; do not make my Father’s house a house of trade.” <sup>17</sup>His disciples remembered that it was written, “Zeal for your house will consume me.”

<sup>18</sup>So the Jews said to him, “What sign do you show us for doing these things?” <sup>19</sup>Jesus answered them, “Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.” <sup>20</sup>The Jews then said, “It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and will you raise it up in three days?” <sup>21</sup>But he was speaking about the temple of his body. <sup>22</sup>When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this, and they believed the Scripture and the word that Jesus had spoken.

Jesus Knows What Is in Man

<sup>23</sup>Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover Feast, many believed in his name when they saw the signs that he was doing. <sup>24</sup>But Jesus on his part did not entrust himself to them, because he knew all people <sup>25</sup>and needed no one to bear witness about man, for he himself knew what was in man.

Writing

[The fourth petition of the Lord’s Prayer] is especially directed also against our chief enemy, the devil. For all his thought and desire is to deprive us of all that we have from God or to hinder it. He is not satisfied to obstruct and destroy spiritual government by leading souls astray with his lies and bringing them under his power. He also prevents and hinders the stability of all government and honorable, peaceable relations on earth. There he causes so much contention, murder, treason, and war. He also causes lightning and hail to destroy grain and cattle, to poison the air, and so on. In short, he is sorry if anyone has a morsel of bread from God and eats it in peace. If it were in his power and our prayer (next to God) did not prevent him, we would not keep a straw in the field, a farthing in the house, yes, not even our life for an hour. This is especially true of those who have God’s Word and would like to be Christians. . . .

God wishes to show us how He cares for us in all our need and faithfully provides also for our earthly support. He abundantly grants and preserves these things, even for the wicked and rogues [Matthew 5:45]. Yet, He wishes that we pray for these goods in order that we may recognize that we receive them from His hand and may feel His fatherly goodness toward us in them [Psalm 104:28; 145:16]. For when He withdraws His hand, nothing can prosper or be maintained in the end. Indeed, we daily see this and experience it. How much trouble there is now in the world only on account of bad coins, daily oppression, raising of prices in common trade, and bargaining and labor by those who greedily oppress the poor and deprive them of their daily bread! This we must suffer indeed. But let such people take care so that they do not lose the benefits of common intercession. Let them beware lest this petition in the Lord's Prayer speak against them.

Hymnody

To this temple, where we call You,
Come, O Lord of hosts, and stay;
Come with all Your loving-kindness,
Hear Your people as they pray;
And Your fullest benediction
Shed within these walls today.

Prayer of the Day

O God, whose glory it is always to have mercy, be gracious to all who have gone astray from Your ways and bring them again with penitent hearts and steadfast faith to embrace and hold fast the unchangeable truth of Your Word; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (L25)

Job Replies: My Complaint Is Just

<sup>1</sup>Then Job answered and said:

<sup>2</sup>“Oh that my vexation were weighed,
and all my calamity laid
in the balances!

<sup>3</sup>For then it would be heavier than the sand of the sea;
therefore my words have been rash.

<sup>4</sup>For the arrows of the Almighty
are in me;
    my spirit drinks their poison;
    the terrors of God are arrayed
    against me.

<sup>5</sup>Does the wild donkey bray
when he has grass,
    or the ox low over his fodder?

<sup>6</sup>Can that which is tasteless be eaten
without salt,
    or is there any taste in the juice
    of the mallow?

<sup>7</sup>My appetite refuses to touch them;
they are as food that is loathsome
to me.

<sup>8</sup>“Oh that I might have my request,
    and that God would fulfill my hope, <sup>9</sup>that it would please God to crush me, that he would let loose his hand
    and cut me off!

<sup>10</sup>This would be my comfort;
    I would even exult in pain
    unsparing,
    for I have not denied the words of the Holy One.

<sup>11</sup>What is my strength, that I should wait?
    And what is my end,
    that I should be patient?

<sup>12</sup>Is my strength the strength of stones,
or is my flesh bronze?

<sup>13</sup>Have I any help in me,
    when resource is driven from me?

New Testament Reading: John 3:1–21

You Must Be Born Again

<sup>1</sup>Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. <sup>2</sup>This man came to Jesus by night and said to him, “Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from God, for no one can do these signs that you do unless God is with him.” <sup>3</sup>Jesus answered him, “Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God.” <sup>4</sup>Nicodemus said to him, “How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother’s womb and be born?” <sup>5</sup>Jesus answered, “Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God.

<sup>6</sup>That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. <sup>7</sup>Do not marvel that I said to you, ‘You must be born again.’ <sup>8</sup>The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit.”

<sup>9</sup>Nicodemus said to him, “How can these things be?” <sup>10</sup>Jesus answered him, “Are you the teacher of Israel and yet you do not understand these things? <sup>11</sup>Truly, truly, I say to you, we speak of what we know, and bear witness to what we have seen, but you do not receive our testimony. <sup>12</sup>If I have told you earthly things and you do not believe, how can you believe if I tell you heavenly things?
<sup>13</sup>No one has ascended into heaven except he who descended from heaven, the Son of Man.
<sup>14</sup>And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Son of Man be lifted up, <sup>15</sup>that whoever believes in him may have eternal life.

For God So Loved the World

<sup>16</sup>“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life. <sup>17</sup>For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him.
<sup>18</sup>Whoever believes in him is not condemned,
but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. <sup>19</sup>And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their works were evil. <sup>20</sup>For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his works should be exposed. <sup>21</sup>But whoever does what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his works have been carried out in God.”

Writing

My present enquiry is into the sense of Only-begotten, and the claim upon us which that sense may make. And first let us see whether the word means, as you assert, a perfect creature of God: Only-begotten being equivalent to perfect, and Son a synonym for creature. But John described the Only-begotten Son as God, not as a perfect creature. His words, “Which is in the bosom of the Father,” show that he anticipated these blasphemous designations. Indeed, he had heard his Lord say, “For God so loved the world that He gave His Only-begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.” God, who loved the world, gave His Only-begotten Son as a manifest token of His love. If the evidence of His love is this, that He bestowed a creature upon creatures, gave a worldly being on the world’s behalf, granted one raised up from nothing for the redemption of objects equally raised up from nothing, this cheap and petty sacrifice is a poor assurance of His favor toward us. Gifts of price are the evidence of affection, the greatness of the surrender of the greatness of the love. God, who loved the world, gave not an adopted Son, but His own, His Only-begotten. Here is personal interest, true Sonship, sincerity; not creation or adoption or pretence. Herein is the proof of His love and affection, that He gave His own, His Only-begotten Son.

—Hilary of Poitiers

Hymnody

God loved the world so that He gave His only Son the lost to save,
That all who would in Him believe Should everlasting life receive.

That He Gave (LSB 571:1)

Prayer of the Day

<sup>14</sup>“He who withholds kindness from a friend

<sup>23</sup>Or, ‘Deliver me from the adversary’s hand’?
Or, ‘Redeem me from the hand

<sup>25</sup>How forceful are upright words!
But what does reproof from you reprove?

<sup>26</sup>Do you think that you can reprove words, when the speech of a despairing man
is wind?

<sup>27</sup>You would even cast lots over the fatherless, and bargain over your friend.

<sup>28</sup>“But now, be pleased to look at me,

John the Baptist Exalts Christ

<sup>22</sup>After this Jesus and his disciples went into the Judean countryside, and he remained there with them and was baptizing.

<sup>23</sup>John also was baptizing at Aenon near Salim, because water was plentiful there, and people were coming and being baptized <sup>24</sup>(for John had not yet been put in prison).

<sup>25</sup>Now a discussion arose between some of John’s disciples and a Jew over purification. <sup>26</sup>And they came to John and said to him, “Rabbi, he who was with you across the Jordan, to whom you bore witness—look, he is baptizing, and all are going to him.” <sup>27</sup>John answered, “A person cannot receive even one thing unless it is given him from heaven. <sup>28</sup>You yourselves bear me witness, that I said, ‘I am not the Christ, but I have been sent before him.’ <sup>29</sup>The one who has the bride is the bridegroom. The friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly at the bridegroom’s voice. Therefore this joy of mine is now complete. <sup>30</sup>He must increase, but I must decrease.”

Jesus and the Woman of Samaria

Writing

It is the height of senselessness for the sentiments of the modern man when, in Luther’s Little Baptismal Book [Taufbüchlein] and in the old agendas of our Church, the child continues to be asked whether it forsakes the devil, if it will be baptized according to its faith, and if it will affirm the question: “Will you be baptized?” But it is not merely avowed liturgical conservatism or even thoughtlessness when the Church for nearly two thousand years has thus baptized infants as though they were adults, as though they could already confess with the mouth and believe with the heart. This is not the “as though” of mere fiction. It is much rather connected with the eschatological “as though” of the Sacrament of Baptism. God views us in Baptism as people who have already died and been raised, put to death with His beloved Son on Golgotha and raised from the dead on Easter morning. Thus he already views us as such who already believe, the poorest, weakest little child which we bring to Holy Baptism in “the understanding and hope that it will believe” in a way no different from a Basil, an Ambrose, or an Augustine, who as grown men and conscious Christians came to Baptism.

—Hermann Sasse

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, Your servant Silas preached the Gospel alongside the apostles Peter and Paul to the peoples of Asia Minor, Greece, and Macedonia. We give You thanks for raising up in this and every land evangelists and heralds of Your kingdom, that the Church may continue to proclaim the unsearchable riches of our Savior, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1142)

Silas, Fellow Worker of St. Peter and St. Paul

Silas, a leader in the Church at Jerusalem, was chosen by Paul (Acts 15:40) to accompany him on his second missionary journey from Antioch to Asia Minor and Macedonia. Silas, also known as Silvanus, was imprisoned with Paul in Philippi and experienced the riots in Thessalonica and Berea. After rejoining Paul in Corinth, Silas apparently remained there for an extended time. Sometime later he apparently joined the apostle Peter, likely serving as Peter’s secretary (1 Peter 5:12). Tradition says that Silas was the first bishop at Corinth.

Job Continues: My Life Has No Hope

- <sup>1</sup>“Has not man a hard service on earth, and are not his days like the days
of a hired hand?
- <sup>2</sup>Like a slave who longs for the shadow,
and like a hired hand who looks
for his wages,
- <sup>3</sup>so I am allotted months of emptiness,
and nights of misery are apportioned to me.
- <sup>4</sup>When I lie down I say, ‘When shall I arise?’
But the night is long,
and I am full of tossing till the dawn.
- <sup>5</sup>My flesh is clothed with worms and dirt;
my skin hardens, then breaks out afresh.
- <sup>6</sup>My days are swifter than a weaver’s shuttle and come to their end without hope.
- <sup>7</sup>“Remember that my life is a breath;
my eye will never again see good.

<sup>8</sup>The eye of him who sees me will behold me no more;
 while your eyes are on me, I shall be gone.

<sup>9</sup>As the cloud fades and vanishes,
 so he who goes down to Sheol does not come up;

<sup>10</sup>he returns no more to his house,
 nor does his place know him anymore.

<sup>11</sup>“Therefore I will not restrain my mouth;
 I will speak in the anguish of my spirit;
 I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.

<sup>12</sup>Am I the sea, or a sea monster,
 that you set a guard over me?

<sup>13</sup>When I say, ‘My bed will comfort me,
 my couch will ease my complaint,’

<sup>14</sup>then you scare me with dreams and terrify me with visions,

<sup>15</sup>so that I would choose strangling
 and death rather than my bones.

<sup>16</sup>I loathe my life; I would not live forever.
 Leave me alone, for my days are a breath.

<sup>17</sup>What is man, that you make so much of him,
 and that you set your heart on him,

<sup>18</sup>visit him every morning and test him every moment?

<sup>19</sup>How long will you not look away from me,
 nor leave me alone till I swallow my spit?

<sup>20</sup>If I sin, what do I do to you, you watcher of mankind?
 Why have you made me your mark?
 Why have I become a burden to you?

<sup>21</sup>Why do you not pardon my transgression
 and take away my iniquity?

For now I shall lie in the earth;
 you will seek me, but I shall not be.”

New Testament Reading: John 4:7–26

[Jesus and the Woman of Samaria]

<sup>8</sup>(For his disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.) <sup>9</sup>The Samaritan woman said to him, “How is it that you, a Jew, ask for a drink from me, a woman of Samaria?” (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.)
<sup>10</sup>Jesus answered her, “If you knew the gift of God, and who it is that is saying to you, ‘Give me a drink,’ you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water.” <sup>11</sup>The woman said to him, “Sir, you have nothing to draw water with, and the well is deep. Where do you get that living water? <sup>12</sup>Are you greater than our father Jacob? He gave us the well and drank from it himself, as did his sons and his livestock.” <sup>13</sup>Jesus said to her, “Everyone who drinks of this water will be thirsty again, <sup>14</sup>but whoever drinks of the water that I will give him will never be thirsty again. The water that I will give him will become in him a spring of water welling up to eternal life.”
<sup>16</sup>Jesus said to her, “Go, call your husband, and come here.” <sup>17</sup>The woman answered him, “I have no husband.” Jesus said to her, “You are right in saying, ‘I have no husband’; <sup>18</sup>for you have had five husbands, and the one you now have is not your husband. What you have said is true.” <sup>19</sup>The woman said to him, “Sir, I perceive that you are a prophet.
<sup>20</sup>Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, but you say that in Jerusalem is the place where people ought to worship.” <sup>21</sup>Jesus said to her, “Woman, believe me, the hour is coming when neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem will you worship the Father. <sup>22</sup>You worship what you do not know; we worship what we know, for salvation is from the Jews.<sup>23</sup> But the hour is coming, and is now here, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father is seeking such people to worship him.<sup>24</sup> God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth.”<sup>25</sup> The woman said to him, “I know that Messiah is coming (he who is called Christ). When he comes, he will tell us all things.”<sup>26</sup> Jesus said to her, “I who speak to you am he.”

Writing

But if we do want to boast, then let us boast that we receive from the fullness of Christ, that we are enlightened by Him, attain forgiveness of sin, and become children of God through Him. For this is the sum and substance of it all: Whoever wishes to be safeguarded from the devil’s might and to escape sin and death must draw from this well, Christ;

from Him flows all salvation and eternal bliss. This fountain is inexhaustible; it is full of grace and truth before God; it never fails no matter how much we draw from it. Even if we all dip from it without stopping, it cannot be emptied, but it remains a perennial fountain of all grace and truth, an unfathomable well, an eternal fountain. The more we draw from it, the more it gives. Such water, as St. John remarks later, wells up to eternal life (John 4:14).

The sun is not dimmed and darkened by shining on so many people or by providing the entire world with its light and bright splendor. It retains its light intact. It loses nothing; it is immeasurable, perhaps able to illumine ten more worlds. I suppose that a hundred thousand candles can be ignited from one light, and still this light will not lose any of its brilliance. Likewise, a learned man can educate a thousand scholars without forfeiting any of his own learning. The more he shares with others, the more he has himself. Thus Christ, our Lord, to whom we must flee and of whom we must ask all, is an interminable well, the chief source of all grace, truth, righteousness, wisdom, and life, without limit, measure, or end. Even if the whole world were to draw from this fountain enough grace and truth to transform all people into angels, still it would not lose as much as a drop. This fountain constantly overflows with sheer grace. Whoever wishes to enjoy Christ’s grace—and no one is excluded—let him come and receive it from Him. You will never drain this fountain of living water; it will never run dry. You will all draw from it much more than enough, and yet it will remain a perennial well.

—Martin Luther

'I have never seen you.'
- <sup>19</sup>Behold, this is the joy of his way,
and out of the soil others will spring.
- <sup>20</sup>'Behold, God will not reject a blameless man,
nor take the hand of evildoers.
- <sup>21</sup>He will yet fill your mouth with laughter,
and your lips with shouting.
- <sup>22</sup>Those who hate you will be clothed with shame,

[Jesus and the Woman of Samaria]

<sup>27</sup>Just then his disciples came back. They marveled that he was talking with a woman, but no one said, "What do you seek?" or, "Why are you talking with her?" <sup>28</sup>So the woman left her water jar and went away into town and said to the people, <sup>29</sup>"Come, see a man who told me all that I ever did. Can this be the Christ?" <sup>30</sup>They went out of the town and were coming to him.

<sup>31</sup>Meanwhile the disciples were urging him, saying, "Rabbi, eat." <sup>32</sup>But he said to them, "I have food to eat that you do not know about." <sup>33</sup>So the disciples said to one another, "Has anyone brought him something to eat?" <sup>34</sup>Jesus said to them, "My food is to do the will of him who sent me and to accomplish his work. <sup>35</sup>Do you not say, 'There are yet four months, then comes the harvest'? Look, I tell you, lift up your eyes, and see that the fields are white for harvest. <sup>36</sup>Already the one who reaps is receiving wages and gathering fruit for eternal life, so that sower and reaper may rejoice together. <sup>37</sup>For here the saying holds true, 'One sows and another reaps.' <sup>38</sup>I sent you to reap that for which you did not labor. Others have labored, and you have entered into their labor."

<sup>39</sup>Many Samaritans from that town believed in him because of the woman's testimony, "He told me all that I ever did." <sup>40</sup>So when the Samaritans came to him, they asked him to stay with them, and he stayed there two days. <sup>41</sup>And many more believed because of his word. <sup>42</sup>They said to the woman, "It is no longer because of what you said that we believe, for we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this is indeed the Savior of the world."

<sup>43</sup>After the two days he departed for Galilee. <sup>44</sup>(For Jesus himself had testified that a prophet has no honor in his own hometown.) <sup>45</sup>So when he came to Galilee, the Galileans welcomed him, having seen all that he had done in Jerusalem at the feast. For they too had gone to the feast.

Writing

The woman had listened to Jesus with increasing understanding, not unmixed, however, with some measure of bewilderment over the depth of wisdom which lay in the words of Jesus. But the drift of the Lord's speech seemed to be that the time of Messianic glory was about to be revealed. Now the Samaritans had some dim and uncertain idea of the promised Messiah out of the Pentateuch. And the woman now voices her hope in this Messiah, who is called the Christ; with His coming, she knows, all type, symbol, and prophecy would be at an end, for He would bring them a full and complete message, clear and unmistakable to their understanding, without type and external worship. Jesus now revealed Himself to the woman in a few simple words: I am He, the man that is speaking with you. Jesus is the one Savior that can and will give to all men the full Gospel of salvation. He is the Savior of the world. There was no danger in this announcement of the Lord in Samaria, for, unlike the Jews, the Samaritans did not regard the promised Messiah as a king who was to inaugurate political changes, but as a prophet and teacher who would give them the full revelation of God's Word and will. But the plain words of Jesus had taught the woman the true meaning of the Messiah, and she, the sinner, believed Him to be the Savior of sinners.

Hymnody

Open now the crystal fountain
Whence the healing stream doth flow;
Let the fiery, cloudy pillar
Lead me all my journey through.

Strong deliv'rer, strong deliv'rer,
Be Thou still my strength and shield;
Be Thou still my strength and shield.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, Savior of the world, help us ever to seek You and to seek others for You, that Your harvest may be full and we may join those from every tribe and nation at the heavenly feast, where You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1144)

Job Replies: There Is No Arbitrator

<sup>1</sup>Then Job answered and said:

<sup>2</sup>“Truly I know that it is so:
But how can a man be in the right
before God?

<sup>3</sup>If one wished to contend with him,
one could not answer him once in a thousand times.

<sup>4</sup>He is wise in heart and mighty in strength
—who has hardened himself against him, and succeeded?—

<sup>5</sup>he who removes mountains,
and they know it not,
when he overturns them in his anger,

<sup>6</sup>who shakes the earth out of its place,
and its pillars tremble;

<sup>7</sup>who commands the sun,
and it does not rise;
who seals up the stars;

<sup>8</sup>who alone stretched out the heavens and trampled the waves of the sea;

<sup>9</sup>who made the Bear and Orion,
the Pleiades and the chambers
of the south;

<sup>10</sup>who does great things beyond
searching out,
and marvelous things beyond number.

<sup>11</sup>Behold, he passes by me,
and I see him not;
he moves on, but I do not perceive him.

<sup>12</sup>Behold, he snatches away;
who can turn him back?
Who will say to him,
‘What are you doing?’

<sup>13</sup>“God will not turn back his anger;
beneath him bowed the helpers
of Rahab.

<sup>14</sup>How then can I answer him,
choosing my words with him?

<sup>15</sup>Though I am in the right,
I cannot answer him;
I must appeal for mercy
to my accuser.

<sup>16</sup>If I summoned him and he answered me,
I would not believe that he was listening to my voice.

<sup>17</sup>For he crushes me with a tempest and multiplies my wounds
without cause;

<sup>18</sup>he will not let me get my breath,
but fills me with bitterness.

<sup>19</sup>If it is a contest of strength, behold, he is mighty!
If it is a matter of justice,
who can summon him?

<sup>20</sup>Though I am in the right, my own mouth would condemn me;
though I am blameless, he would prove me perverse.

<sup>21</sup>I am blameless; I regard not myself;
I loathe my life.

<sup>22</sup>It is all one; therefore I say,
He destroys both the blameless and the wicked.

<sup>23</sup>When disaster brings sudden death,
he mocks at the calamity
of the innocent.

- <sup>24</sup>The earth is given into the hand
of the wicked;
    he covers the faces of its judges—
    if it is not he, who then is it?
- <sup>25</sup>“My days are swifter than a runner;
    they flee away; they see no good.
- <sup>26</sup>They go by like skiffs of reed,
    like an eagle swooping on the prey.
- <sup>27</sup>If I say, ‘I will forget my complaint,
    I will put off my sad face,
    and be of good cheer,’
- <sup>28</sup>I become afraid of all my suffering, for I know you will not hold me innocent.
- <sup>29</sup>I shall be condemned;
    why then do I labor in vain?
- <sup>30</sup>If I wash myself with snow
    and cleanse my hands with lye, <sup>31</sup>yet you will plunge me into a pit,
    and my own clothes will abhor me.
- <sup>32</sup>For he is not a man, as I am,
that I might answer him,
    that we should come to trial together.
- <sup>33</sup>There is no arbiter between us,
    who might lay his hand on us both.
- <sup>34</sup>Let him take his rod away from me,
    and let not dread of him terrify me.
- <sup>35</sup>Then I would speak without fear of him,
    for I am not so in myself.”

Jesus Heals an Official's Son

<sup>46</sup>So he came again to Cana in Galilee, where he had made the water wine. And at Capernaum there was an official whose son was ill. <sup>47</sup>When this man heard that Jesus had come from Judea to Galilee, he went to him and asked him to come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death. <sup>48</sup>So Jesus said to him, “Unless you see signs and wonders you will not believe.” <sup>49</sup>The official said to him, “Sir, come down before my child dies.” <sup>50</sup>Jesus said to him, “Go; your son will live.” The man believed the word that Jesus spoke to him and went on his way. <sup>51</sup>As he was going down, his servants met him and told him that his son was recovering. <sup>52</sup>So he asked them the hour when he began to get better, and they said to him, “Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.” <sup>53</sup>The father knew that was the hour when Jesus had said to him, “Your son will live.” And he himself believed, and all his household. <sup>54</sup>This was now the second sign that Jesus did when he had come from Judea to Galilee.

Writing

“In the Epistle to the Ephesians [St. Paul] gives a charge on this subject of work, saying: “He that stole, let him now steal no more, but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have something to give to him who suffers need.” And in the Acts of the Apostles, too, we find that he not only taught this but also actually practiced it himself. For when he had come to Corinth, he did not permit himself to lodge anywhere except with Aquila and Priscilla, because they were of the same trade that he himself was accustomed to practice. For we read: “After this, Paul departing from Athens came to Corinth; and finding a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, and Priscilla his wife, he came to them because they were of the same trade; and abode with them, and worked: for they were tent-makers by trade.”

Then going to Miletus, and from thence sending to Ephesus and summoning to him the elders of the church of Ephesus, he charged them how they ought to rule the church of God in his absence, and said: “I have not coveted any man’s silver and gold; you yourselves know how for such things as were needful for me and them that are with me these hands have ministered. I have showed you all things, how that so laboring you ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said: It is more blessed to give than to receive.”

Prayer of the Day

Triune God, whose very name is holy, teach us to be faithful hearers and learners of Your Word, fervent in the Spirit as Apollos was, that we may teach it correctly against those who have been led astray into falsehood and error and that we might follow the example of Aquila and Priscilla for the good of the Church You established here and entrusted into our humble care; through Your Holy Spirit, who leads and guides us, and through Your Son, who saves us. (1145)

Aquila, Priscilla, Apollos

Aquila and his wife, Priscilla (Prisca), Jewish contemporaries of St. Paul, traveled widely. Because of persecution in Rome, they went to Corinth where they met the apostle Paul, who joined them in their trade of tentmaking (Acts 18:1–3). In turn, they joined Paul in his mission of proclaiming the Christian Gospel. The couple later traveled with Paul from Corinth to Ephesus (Acts 18:18), where the two of them established a home that served as hospitality headquarters for new converts to Christianity. Apollos was one of their numerous Jewish pupils in the faith. An eloquent man, Apollos, “being fervent in spirit . . . spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus” (Acts 18:25). He later traveled from Corinth to the province of Achaia, “showing by the Scriptures that the Christ was Jesus” (Acts 18:28). Aquila, Priscilla, and Apollos are all remembered and honored for their great missionary zeal.

Job Continues: A Plea to God

- <sup>1</sup>“I loathe my life;
I will give free utterance to my complaint;
I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
<sup>2</sup>I will say to God, Do not condemn me;
let me know why you contend against me.
<sup>3</sup>Does it seem good to you to oppress, to despise the work of your hands
and favor the designs of the wicked?
<sup>4</sup>Have you eyes of flesh?
Do you see as man sees?
<sup>5</sup>Are your days as the days of man,
or your years as a man’s years, <sup>6</sup>that you seek out my iniquity
and search for my sin, <sup>7</sup>although you know that I am not guilty,
and there is none to deliver out of your hand?
<sup>8</sup>Your hands fashioned and made me,
and now you have destroyed me altogether.

- <sup>9</sup>Remember that you have made me like clay;
and will you return me to the dust?
<sup>10</sup>Did you not pour me out like milk
and curdle me like cheese?
<sup>11</sup>You clothed me with skin and flesh,
and knit me together with bones
and sinews.
<sup>12</sup>You have granted me life and steadfast love,
and your care has preserved my spirit.
<sup>13</sup>Yet these things you hid in your heart;
I know that this was your purpose.
<sup>14</sup>If I sin, you watch me
and do not acquit me of my iniquity.
<sup>15</sup>If I am guilty, woe to me!
If I am in the right,
I cannot lift up my head,
for I am filled with disgrace
and look on my affliction.
<sup>16</sup>And were my head lifted up, you would hunt me like a lion
and again work wonders against me.
<sup>17</sup>You renew your witnesses against me
and increase your vexation toward me;
you bring fresh troops against me.
<sup>18</sup>“Why did you bring me out from the womb?
Would that I had died before any eye had seen me
<sup>19</sup>and were as though I had not been,
carried from the womb to the grave.
<sup>20</sup>Are not my days few?
Then cease, and leave me alone,
that I may find a little cheer <sup>21</sup>before I go—and I shall not return—to the land of darkness and deep shadow, <sup>22</sup>the land of gloom like thick darkness,
like deep shadow without any order,
where light is as thick darkness.”

The Healing at the Pool on the Sabbath

Now that day was the Sabbath. <sup>10</sup>So the Jews said to the man who had been healed, “It is the Sabbath, and it is not lawful for you to take up your bed.” <sup>11</sup>But he answered them, “The man who healed me, that man said to me, ‘Take up your bed, and walk.’” <sup>12</sup>They asked him, “Who is the man who said to you, ‘Take up your bed and walk?’” <sup>13</sup>Now the man who had been healed did not know who it was, for Jesus had withdrawn, as there was a crowd in the place. <sup>14</sup>Afterward Jesus found him in the temple and said to him, “See, you are well! Sin no more, that nothing worse may happen to you.” <sup>15</sup>The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had healed him. <sup>16</sup>And this was why the Jews were persecuting Jesus, because he was doing these things on the Sabbath. <sup>17</sup>But Jesus answered them, “My Father is working until now, and I am working.”

Jesus Is Equal with God

<sup>18</sup>This was why the Jews were seeking all the more to kill him, because not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he was even calling God his own Father, making himself equal with God.

Writing

[A multitude of invalids lay on the porches under the five-roofed colonnade,] and yet only one was healed, while He could by a word have raised them all up. . . . The real health of bodies, which is looked for from the Lord, will be at the end, in the resurrection of the dead. What shall live then shall never again die; what shall be healed shall never again be sick; what shall be satisfied shall never again hunger and thirst; what shall be made new shall never again grow old. But at this time, however, the eyes of the blind, that were opened by those acts of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, were again closed in death; and limbs of the paralytics that received strength were again loosened in death; and whatever was for a time made whole in mortal limbs came to nought in the end. But the soul that believed passed to eternal life. . . .

That water, then—namely, that people—was shut in by the five books of Moses, as by five porches. Those books [of the Law] brought forth the sick, but could not heal them. The Law convicted, but could not acquit the sinner. Accordingly the letter [of the Law], without grace, made men guilty, whom on confessing grace delivered. For this is what the apostle said: “For if a law had been given which could have given life, surely righteousness should have been by the law.” Why, then, was the Law given? He goes on to say, “But the Scripture has concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.” . . . The five porches are the Law. Why did not the five porches heal the sick? Because, “if there had been a law given which could have given life, surely righteousness should have been by the law.” Why, then, did the porches contain those whom they did not heal? Because “the Scripture has concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.”

—Augustine

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, You kindled the flame of Your love in the heart of Your holy martyr Valentine. Grant to us, Your humble servants, a like faith and the power of love, that we who rejoice in Christ’s triumph may embody His love in our lives; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Valentine, Martyr

A physician and priest living in Rome during the rule of Emperor Claudius, Valentine became one of the noted martyrs of the third century. The commemoration of his death, which occurred in AD 270, became part of the calendar of remembrance in the Early Church of the West. Tradition suggests that on the day of his execution for his Christian faith, Valentine left a note of encouragement for a child of his jailer written on an irregularly shaped piece of paper. This greeting became a pattern for millions of written expressions of love and caring that now are the highlight of Valentine’s Day in many nations.

Zophar Speaks: You Deserve Worse

and said:

<sup>2</sup>“Should a multitude of words go unanswered,
and a man full of talk
be judged right?

<sup>3</sup>Should your babble silence men,
and when you mock,
shall no one shame you?

<sup>4</sup>For you say, ‘My doctrine is pure,
and I am clean in God’s eyes.’

<sup>5</sup>But oh, that God would speak and open his lips to you,

<sup>6</sup>and that he would tell you
the secrets of wisdom!

For he is manifold in understanding.
Know then that God exacts of you less than your guilt deserves.

<sup>7</sup>“Can you find out the deep things
of God?

Can you find out the limit
of the Almighty?

<sup>8</sup>It is higher than heaven—
what can you do?

Deeper than Sheol—
what can you know?

<sup>9</sup>Its measure is longer than the earth and broader than the sea.

<sup>10</sup>If he passes through and imprisons
and summons the court,
who can turn him back?

<sup>11</sup>For he knows worthless men;
when he sees iniquity,
will he not consider it?

<sup>12</sup>But a stupid man will get understanding when a wild donkey’s colt
is born a man!

<sup>13</sup>“If you prepare your heart,
you will stretch out your hands
toward him.

<sup>14</sup>If iniquity is in your hand,
put it far away,
and let not injustice dwell
in your tents.

<sup>15</sup>Surely then you will lift up your face without blemish;
you will be secure and will not fear.

<sup>16</sup>You will forget your misery;
you will remember it as waters
that have passed away.

<sup>17</sup>And your life will be brighter
than the noonday;
its darkness will be like the morning.

<sup>18</sup>And you will feel secure,
because there is hope;
you will look around
and take your rest in security.

<sup>19</sup>You will lie down,
and none will make you afraid;
many will court your favor.

<sup>20</sup>But the eyes of the wicked will fail;
all way of escape will be lost to them,
and their hope is to breathe their last.”

The Authority of the Son

<sup>19</sup>So Jesus said to them, “Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of his own accord, but only what he sees the Father doing. For whatever the Father does, that the Son does likewise. <sup>20</sup>For the Father loves the Son and shows him all that he himself is doing. And greater works than these will he show him, so that you may marvel. <sup>21</sup>For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. <sup>22</sup>The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, <sup>23</sup>that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. <sup>24</sup>Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life.

<sup>25</sup>“Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. <sup>26</sup>For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself. <sup>27</sup>And he has given him authority to execute judgment, because he is the Son of Man. <sup>28</sup>Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice <sup>29</sup>and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment.”

Writing

My son: First, study the divine Scriptures. Study them I say. For we need to study the divine writings deeply in order to prevent ourselves from speaking faster than we think. And while you study these divine works, with a believing and God-pleasing intention, knock at that which is closed in them, and it shall be opened to you by the doorkeeper, of whom Jesus says, “To him the doorkeeper opens.” While you attend to this divine reading, seek aright and with unwavering faith in God the hidden sense which is present in most passages of the divine Scriptures. And do not be content with knocking and seeking, with mere knowledge. What is most necessary for understanding divine things is prayer. In urging us to this the Savior says not only, “Knock, and it shall be opened to you” and “Seek, and you shall find,” but also, “Ask, and it shall be given you.” So much I have ventured on account of my fatherly love to you. Whether I have ventured well in this or not, God knows, and His Christ. May you now partake in these things and have an ever increasing share of them, so that you may be able to say not only, “We are partakers of Christ,” but also, “We are partakers of God.”

—Origen

A blessed end has come at last.
Christ’s yoke was borne with ready will;

Prayer of the Day

Lord God, heavenly Father, You sent Onesimus back to Philemon as a brother in Christ, freeing him from his slavery to sin through the preaching of the apostle Paul. Cleanse the depths of sin within our souls and bid resentment cease for past offenses, that, by Your mercy, we may be reconciled to our brothers and sisters and our lives will reflect Your peace; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (1147)

Philemon and Onesimus

Philemon was a prominent first-century Christian who owned a slave named Onesimus. Although the name Onesimus means “useful,” Onesimus proved himself “useless” when he ran away from his master and perhaps even stole from him (Philemon 18). Somehow Onesimus came into contact with the apostle Paul while the latter was in prison (possibly in Rome), and through Paul’s proclamation of the Gospel, he became a Christian. After confessing to the apostle that he was a runaway slave, Onesimus was directed by Paul to return to his master and become “useful” again. In order to help pave the way for Onesimus’s peaceful return home, Paul sent him on his way with a letter addressed to Philemon, a letter in which he urged Philemon to forgive his slave for running away and to “receive him as you would receive me” (v. 17), “no longer as a slave but . . . as a beloved brother” (v. 16). The letter was eventually included by the Church as one of the books of the New Testament.

Job Replies: The LORD Has Done This

<sup>2</sup>“No doubt you are the people,
and wisdom will die with you.

<sup>3</sup>But I have understanding as well as you;
 I am not inferior to you.
 Who does not know such things
 as these?

<sup>4</sup>I am a laughingstock to my friends;
 I, who called to God
 and he answered me,
 a just and blameless man,
 am a laughingstock.

<sup>5</sup>In the thought of one who is at ease there is contempt for misfortune;
 it is ready for those whose feet slip.

<sup>6</sup>The tents of robbers are at peace,
 and those who provoke God
 are secure,
 who bring their god in their hand. . . .

<sup>12</sup>Wisdom is with the aged,
 and understanding in length of days.

<sup>13</sup><sup>6</sup>With God are wisdom and might;
 he has counsel and understanding.

<sup>14</sup>If he tears down, none can rebuild;
 if he shuts a man in, none can open.

<sup>15</sup>If he withholds the waters, they dry up;
 if he sends them out,
 they overwhelm the land.

<sup>16</sup>With him are strength and sound wisdom;
 the deceived and the deceiver are his.

<sup>17</sup>He leads counselors away stripped,
 and judges he makes fools.

<sup>18</sup>He looses the bonds of kings and binds a waistcloth on their hips.

<sup>19</sup>He leads priests away stripped and overthrows the mighty.

<sup>20</sup>He deprives of speech those who are trusted
 and takes away the discernment
 of the elders.

<sup>21</sup>He pours contempt on princes
 and loosens the belt of the strong.

<sup>22</sup>He uncovers the deeps out of darkness and brings deep darkness to light.

<sup>23</sup>He makes nations great,
 and he destroys them;
 he enlarges nations,
 and leads them away.

<sup>24</sup>He takes away understanding from the chiefs of the people of the earth
 and makes them wander
 in a pathless waste.

<sup>25</sup>They grope in the dark without light,
 and he makes them stagger
 like a drunken man.”

Witnesses to Jesus

<sup>30</sup>“I can do nothing on my own. As I hear, I judge, and my judgment is just, because I seek not my own will but the will of him who sent me. <sup>31</sup>If I alone bear witness about myself, my testimony is not deemed true. <sup>32</sup>There is another who bears witness about me, and I know that the testimony that he bears about me is true. <sup>33</sup>You sent to John, and he has borne witness to the truth. <sup>34</sup>Not that the testimony that I receive is from man, but I say these things so that you may be saved. <sup>35</sup>He was a burning and shining lamp, and you were willing to rejoice for a while in his light. <sup>36</sup>But the testimony that I have is greater than that of John. For the works that the Father has given me to accomplish, the very works that I am doing, bear witness about me that the Father has sent me. <sup>37</sup>And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, <sup>38</sup>and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. <sup>39</sup>You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, <sup>40</sup>yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. <sup>41</sup>I do not receive glory from people. <sup>42</sup>But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. <sup>43</sup>I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. <sup>44</sup>How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? <sup>45</sup>Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. <sup>46</sup>For if you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. <sup>47</sup>But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words?"

Writing

The words in Genesis [3:15]: "The Seed will crush the head of the serpent," signify nothing other than the same thing which John says: "For this the Son of God was revealed, that he might destroy the works of the devil" [1 John 3:8]. Adam understood the promise in this way, and thereafter all the patriarchs believed that on account of this promised seed their sins were forgiven them, and that they would be set free from sin and from eternal death. Through this faith they were righteous, not through fulfillment of the Law. By this faith they were raised up in all dangers and terrors. Indeed they knew that this Lord was present with them, as Jacob plainly says, in Gen. 48[:16]: "The Angel who set me free from all evil bless these boys"; for he proclaims him Lord who had set him free from all evils, and asks of him that he would bless his descendants. These things can be understood in no other way except as pertaining to the Son of God. Paul also says that the Son of God accompanied the camp of the people of Israel [1 Cor. 10:4]. John [1:5] also says that all things were made through this Son, and that the Light shines on the darkness. All triumphs against our adversary, the devil, are imparted through this Son. Noah was preserved, Abraham defended, Joseph brought out of prison, the people freed from Egypt, and Daniel also spoke with him. Thus the Gospel of the apostles preaches Christ, and testifies that He is the sacrificial victim, liberator, and Savior, and commands us to trust this leader and liberator, as also many statements of the prophets teach, as Ps. 2[:12] says: "Kiss the Son . . . blessed are all who trust in him." And without this faith, i.e., trust in the mercy promised because of the Son, there is no true invocation of God, no true worship. For through this Priest we have access to the Father, as we often find written.

—Philipp Melanchthon

Almighty God, we praise You for the service of Philipp Melanchthon to the one, holy, catholic, and apostolic Church in the renewal of its life in fidelity to Your Word and promise. Raise up in these gray and latter days faithful teachers and pastors, inspired by Your Spirit, whose voices will give strength to Your Church and proclaim the ongoing reality of Your kingdom; through Your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. (1148)

Philipp Melanchthon, Confessor (birth date)

Philipp Melanchthon (1497–1560) was a brilliant student of the classics and a humanist scholar. In 1518, he was appointed to teach along with Martin Luther at the University of Wittenberg. At Luther's urging, Melanchthon began teaching theology and Scripture in addition to his courses in classical studies. In April 1530, Emperor Charles V called an official meeting between the representatives of Lutheranism and Roman Catholicism, hoping to effect a meeting of minds between two opposing groups. Since Luther was at that time under papal excommunication and an imperial ban, Melanchthon was assigned the duty of being the chief Lutheran representative at this meeting. He is especially remembered and honored as the author of the Augsburg Confession, which was officially presented by the German princes to the emperor on June 25, 1530, as the defining document of Lutheranism within Christendom. Melanchthon died on April 19, 1560.

Jesus Feeds the Five Thousand

<sup>1</sup>After this Jesus went away to the other side of the Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of Tiberias. <sup>2</sup>And a large crowd was following him, because they saw the signs that he was doing on the sick. <sup>3</sup>Jesus went up on the mountain, and there he sat down with his disciples. <sup>4</sup>Now the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand. <sup>5</sup>Lifting up his eyes, then, and seeing that a large crowd was coming toward him, Jesus said to Philip, “Where are we to buy bread, so that these people may eat?” <sup>6</sup>He said this to test him, for he himself knew what he would do. <sup>7</sup>Philip answered him, “Two hundred denarii would not buy enough bread for each of them to get a little.” <sup>8</sup>One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother, said to him, <sup>9</sup>“There is a boy here who has five barley loaves and two fish, but what are they for so many?” <sup>10</sup>Jesus said, “Have the people sit down.” Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, about five thousand in number. <sup>11</sup>Jesus then took the loaves, and when he had given thanks, he distributed them to those who were seated. So also the fish, as much as they wanted. <sup>12</sup>And when they had eaten their fill, he told his disciples, “Gather up the leftover fragments, that nothing may be lost.”

<sup>13</sup>So they gathered them up and filled twelve baskets with fragments from the five barley loaves left by those who had eaten. <sup>14</sup>When the people saw the sign that he had done, they said, “This is indeed the Prophet who is to come into the world!”

<sup>15</sup>Perceiving then that they were about to come and take him by force to make him king, Jesus withdrew again to the mountain by himself.

Jesus Walks on Water

<sup>16</sup>When evening came, his disciples went down to the sea, <sup>17</sup>got into a boat, and started across the sea to Capernaum. It was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. <sup>18</sup>The sea became rough because a strong wind was blowing. <sup>19</sup>When they had rowed about three or four miles, they saw Jesus walking on the sea and coming near the boat, and they were frightened. <sup>20</sup>But he said to them, “It is I; do not be afraid.” <sup>21</sup>Then they were glad to take him into the boat, and immediately the boat was at the land to which they were going.

VII: The Church

Our churches teach that one holy Church is to remain forever. The Church is the congregation of saints [Psalm 149:1] in which the Gospel is purely taught and the Sacraments are correctly administered. For the true unity of the Church it is enough to agree about the doctrine of the Gospel and the administration of the Sacraments. It is not necessary that human traditions, that is, rites or ceremonies instituted by men, should be the same everywhere. As Paul says, “One Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all” (Ephesians 4:5–6).

VIII: What the Church Is

Strictly speaking, the Church is the congregation of saints and true believers. However, because many hypocrites and evil persons are mingled within them in this life [Matthew 13:24–30], it is lawful to use Sacraments administered by evil men, according to the saying of Christ, “The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses’ seat” (Matthew 23:2). Both the Sacraments and Word are effective because of Christ’s institution and command, even if they are administered by evil men.

Our churches condemn the Donatists, and others like them, who deny that it is lawful to use the ministry of evil men in the Church, and who think that the ministry of evil men is not useful and is ineffective.

IX: Baptism

Concerning Baptism, our churches teach that Baptism is necessary for salvation [Mark 16:16] and that God’s grace is offered through Baptism [Titus 3:4–7]. They teach that children are to be baptized [Acts 2:38–39]. Being offered to God through Baptism, they are received into God’s grace.

Our churches condemn the Anabaptists, who reject the Baptism of children, and say that children are saved without Baptism.

X: The Lord’s Supper

Our churches teach that the body and blood of Christ are truly present and distributed to those who eat the Lord’s Supper [1 Corinthians 10:16]. They reject those who teach otherwise.

XI: Confession

Our churches teach that private Absolution should be retained in the churches, although listing all sins is not necessary for Confession. For, according to the Psalm, it is impossible. “Who can discern his errors?” (Psalm 19:12).

—Augsburg Confession VII–XI

I Am the Bread of Life

- <sup>22</sup> On the next day the crowd that remained on the other side of the sea saw that there had been only one boat there, and that Jesus had not entered the boat with his disciples, but that his disciples had gone away alone. <sup>23</sup> Other boats from Tiberias came near the place where they had eaten the bread after the Lord had given thanks. <sup>24</sup> So when the crowd saw that Jesus was not there, nor his disciples, they themselves got into the boats and went to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.
- <sup>25</sup> When they found him on the other side of the sea, they said to him, “Rabbi,
when did you come here?” <sup>26</sup> Jesus answered them, “Truly, truly, I say to you, you are seeking me, not because you saw signs, but because you ate your fill of the loaves. <sup>27</sup>Do not labor for the food that perishes, but for the food that endures to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give to you. For on him God the Father has set his seal.” <sup>28</sup>Then they said to him, “What must we do, to be doing the works of God?” <sup>29</sup>Jesus answered them, “This is the work of God, that you believe in him whom he has sent.” <sup>30</sup>So they said to him, “Then what sign do you do, that we may see and believe you? What work do you perform?” <sup>31</sup>Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, ‘He gave them bread from heaven to eat.’” <sup>32</sup>Jesus then said to them, “Truly, truly, I say to you, it was not Moses who gave you the bread from heaven, but my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. <sup>33</sup>For the bread of God is he who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world.” <sup>34</sup>They said to him, “Sir, give us this bread always.”

<sup>35</sup>Jesus said to them, “I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me shall not hunger, and whoever believes in me shall never thirst. <sup>36</sup>But I said to you that you have seen me and yet do not believe. <sup>37</sup>All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. <sup>38</sup>For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will but the will of him who sent me. <sup>39</sup>And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. <sup>40</sup>For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day.”

Writing

Here you can see what it means to believe. It may indeed seem an easy matter, but it is in fact a high and great art. Therefore when you feel your sin, when your bad conscience smites you, or when persecution comes, then ask yourself whether you really believe. At such times one is wont to run to saints and helpers in cloisters and in the desert for succor and relief, crying: “O my dear man, intercede for me! O dear saint, help me! O let me live! I promise to become pious and to do many good works.” That is how a terrified conscience speaks. But tell me, where is faith? If you believe in the words of Christ, “None of them is lost whom Thou hast given Me” (John 17:12), then, as a Christian, you must say: “I acknowledge no saint here. I am a poor sinner deserving of death; but in defiance of sin and death I cling to Thee, and I will not let Thee go. I have taken hold of Thee, dear Lord Christ. Thou art my Life, and this is the Father’s will, that all who adhere to Thee have eternal life and be raised from the dead. In the meantime let my fate be what it will. I may be beheaded or burned at the stake.” No other life—whether it be called the monastic life or the life of St. Augustine or of St. John the Baptist—will arm a person for victory. Only faith in Christ can do so.

—Martin Luther

Hymnody

Thy holy body into death was given,
 Life to win for us in heaven.
 No greater love than this to Thee could bind us;
 May this feast thereof remind us!
 O Lord, have mercy!
 Lord, Thy kindness did so constrain Thee
 That Thy blood should bless and sustain me.
 All our debt Thou hast paid;
 Peace with God once more is made:
 O Lord, have mercy!

—O Lord, We Praise Thee (LSB 617:2)

Prayer of the Day

O God, our refuge and our strength, You raised up Your servant Martin Luther to reform and renew Your Church in the light of Your living Word, Jesus Christ, our Lord. Defend and purify the Church in our own day, and grant that we may boldly proclaim Christ's faithfulness unto death and His vindicating resurrection, which You made known to Your servant Martin through Jesus Christ, our Savior, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1148)

Martin Luther, Doctor and Reformer

Martin Luther, born on November 10, 1483, in Eisleben, Germany, initially began studies leading toward a degree in law. However, after a close encounter with death, he switched to the study of theology, entered an Augustinian monastery, was ordained a priest in 1505, and received a doctorate in theology in 1512. As a professor at the newly established University of Wittenberg, Luther's scriptural studies led him to question many of the Church's teachings and practices, especially the selling of indulgences. His refusal to back down from his convictions resulted in his excommunication in 1521. Following a period of seclusion at the Wartburg castle, Luther returned to Wittenberg, where he spent the rest of his life preaching and teaching, translating the Scriptures, and writing hymns and numerous theological treatises. He is remembered and honored for his lifelong emphasis on the biblical truth that for Christ's sake God declares us righteous by grace through faith alone. Luther died on February 18, 1546, while visiting the town of his birth.

<sup>2</sup>He comes out like a flower and withers;
he flees like a shadow and continues not.

<sup>3</sup>And do you open your eyes on such a one and bring me into judgment with you?

<sup>4</sup>Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?
There is not one.

<sup>5</sup>Since his days are determined,
and the number of his months is with you,
and you have appointed his limits
that he cannot pass,

<sup>6</sup>look away from him and leave him alone,
that he may enjoy, like a hired hand,
his day.

<sup>7</sup>“For there is hope for a tree,
if it be cut down, that it will sprout again,
and that its shoots will not cease.

<sup>8</sup>Though its root grow old in the earth,
and its stump die in the soil,

<sup>9</sup>yet at the scent of water it will bud and put out branches like a young plant.

<sup>10</sup>But a man dies and is laid low;
man breathes his last, and where is he?

<sup>11</sup>As waters fail from a lake
and a river wastes away and dries up,

<sup>12</sup>so a man lies down and rises not again;
till the heavens are no more
he will not awake
or be roused out of his sleep.

<sup>13</sup>Oh that you would hide me in Sheol, that you would conceal me
until your wrath be past,
that you would appoint me a set time,
and remember me!

<sup>14</sup>If a man dies, shall he live again?
All the days of my service I would wait,
till my renewal should come.

<sup>15</sup>You would call, and I would answer you;
you would long for the work
of your hands.

<sup>16</sup>For then you would number my steps;
you would not keep watch over my sin;

<sup>17</sup>my transgression would be sealed up in a bag,
and you would cover over my iniquity.

<sup>18</sup>“But the mountain falls and crumbles away,
and the rock is removed from its place;

<sup>19</sup>the waters wear away the stones;
the torrents wash away the soil
of the earth;
so you destroy the hope of man.

<sup>20</sup>You prevail forever against him,
and he passes;
you change his countenance,
and send him away.

<sup>21</sup>His sons come to honor,
and he does not know it;
they are brought low,
and he perceives it not.

<sup>22</sup>He feels only the pain of his own body,
and he mourns only for himself.”

New Testament Reading: John 6:41–59

[I Am the Bread of Life]

<sup>41</sup>So the Jews grumbled about him, because he said, “I am the bread that came down from heaven.” <sup>42</sup>They said, “Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, ‘I have come down from heaven?’” <sup>43</sup>Jesus answered them, “Do not grumble among yourselves. <sup>44</sup>No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. <sup>45</sup>It is written in the Prophets, ‘And they will all be taught by God.’ Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— <sup>46</sup>not that anyone has seen the Father except he who is from God; he has seen the Father. <sup>47</sup>Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes has eternal life. <sup>48</sup>I am the bread of life. <sup>49</sup>Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. <sup>50</sup>This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that one may eat of it and not die. <sup>51</sup>I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I will give for the life of the world is my flesh.”

<sup>52</sup>The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, “How can this man give us his flesh to eat?” <sup>53</sup>So Jesus said to them, “Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. <sup>54</sup>Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. <sup>55</sup>For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. <sup>56</sup>Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. <sup>57</sup>As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. <sup>58</sup>This is the bread that came down from heaven, not like the bread the fathers ate and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever.” <sup>59</sup>Jesus said these things in the synagogue, as he taught at Capernaum.

Writing

The divine and the human nature have this personal union with each other in the person of Christ and have the communion resulting from it (in deed and truth). For this reason, there is attributed to Christ (according to the flesh) what His flesh, according to its nature and essence, cannot be by itself. Apart from this union, His flesh cannot have these attributes: His flesh is a truly life-giving food and His blood a truly life-giving drink [John 6:55]. . . . This man only, and no man besides, either in heaven or on earth, can say with truth, “Where two or three are gathered in My name, there am I among them” (Matthew 18:20). Also, “And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age” [Matthew 28:20]. . . .

We hold that by these words the majesty of the man Christ is declared. Christ has received this majesty, according to His humanity, at the right hand of God’s majesty and power. So also, according to His received human nature and with the same, He can be, and also is, present where He wants to be. He is present especially in His Church and congregation on earth as Mediator, Head, King, and High Priest. This presence is not a part, or only one half of Him. Christ’s entire person is present, to which both natures belong, the divine and the human—not only according to His divinity, but also according to, and with, His received human nature. He is our Brother [Hebrews 2:17], and we are flesh of His flesh and bone of His bone [Genesis 2:23]. He has instituted His Holy Supper for the certain assurance and confirmation of this, so that He will be with us, and dwell, work, and be effective in us also according to that nature from which He has flesh and blood.

Prayer of the Day

Gracious Father, Your blessed Son came down from heaven to be the true bread that gives life to the world. Grant that Christ, the bread of life, may live in us and we in Him, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (B72)

Eliphaz Accuses: Job Does Not Fear God

<sup>1</sup>Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered
and said:

<sup>2</sup>“Should a wise man answer
with windy knowledge,
and fill his belly with the east wind?

<sup>3</sup>Should he argue in unprofitable talk,
or in words with which he can do no good?

<sup>4</sup>But you are doing away with the fear of God
and hindering meditation
before God.

<sup>5</sup>For your iniquity teaches your mouth,
and you choose the tongue
of the crafty.

<sup>6</sup>Your own mouth condemns you,
and not I;
your own lips testify against you.

<sup>7</sup>“Are you the first man who was born?
Or were you brought forth
before the hills?

<sup>8</sup>Have you listened in the council of God?
And do you limit wisdom to yourself?

<sup>9</sup>What do you know that we do not know?
What do you understand that is not clear to us?

<sup>10</sup>Both the gray-haired and the aged are among us,
older than your father.

<sup>11</sup>Are the comforts of God too small for you,
or the word that deals gently
with you?

<sup>12</sup>Why does your heart carry you away,
and why do your eyes flash,

<sup>13</sup>that you turn your spirit against God
and bring such words out of your mouth?

<sup>14</sup>What is man, that he can be pure?
Or he who is born of a woman,
that he can be righteous?

<sup>15</sup>Behold, God puts no trust
in his holy ones,
and the heavens are not pure
in his sight;

<sup>16</sup>how much less one who is abominable
and corrupt,
a man who drinks injustice like water!

<sup>17</sup>“I will show you; hear me,
and what I have seen I will declare <sup>18</sup>(what wise men have told,

without hiding it from their fathers, <sup>19</sup>to whom alone the land was given,
and no stranger passed among them).

<sup>20</sup>The wicked man writhes in pain
all his days,
through all the years that are laid up for the ruthless.

<sup>21</sup>Dreadful sounds are in his ears;
in prosperity the destroyer will come
upon him.

<sup>22</sup>He does not believe that he will return
out of darkness,
and he is marked for the sword.

<sup>23</sup>He wanders abroad for bread, saying,
“Where is it?”

He knows that a day of darkness is ready at his hand; . . .

<sup>30</sup>he will not depart from darkness;
the flame will dry up his shoots,
and by the breath of his mouth he will depart.

<sup>31</sup>Let him not trust in emptiness,
deceiving himself,
for emptiness will be his payment.

<sup>32</sup>It will be paid in full before his time,
and his branch will not be green.

<sup>33</sup>He will shake off his unripe grape like
the vine,
and cast off his blossom
like the olive tree.

<sup>34</sup>For the company of the godless
is barren,
and fire consumes the tents
of bribery.

<sup>35</sup>They conceive trouble
and give birth to evil,
and their womb prepares deceit.”

The Words of Eternal Life

<sup>60</sup>When many of his disciples heard it, they said, “This is a hard saying; who can listen to it?” <sup>61</sup>But Jesus, knowing in himself that his disciples were grumbling about this, said to them, “Do you take offense at this? <sup>62</sup>Then what if you were to see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before? <sup>63</sup>It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is no help at all. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. <sup>64</sup>But there are some of you who do not believe.” (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) <sup>65</sup>And he said, “This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father.”

<sup>66</sup>After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him. <sup>67</sup>So Jesus said to the Twelve, “Do you want to go away as well?” <sup>68</sup>Simon Peter answered him, “Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life, <sup>69</sup>and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God.” <sup>70</sup>Jesus answered them, “Did I not choose you, the Twelve? And yet one of you is a devil.”<sup>71</sup> He spoke of Judas the son of Simon Iscariot, for he, one of the Twelve, was going to betray him.

Writing

Can anyone, as some think, be saved in his religion and faith, without the Word of God, but having formed a good intention?

By no means. For God says only of His Word that it is the Word of life . . . [and] the Word of salvation . . . [that] saves our souls.

But Scripture declares of all other sects, conceived beyond, outside of, or contrary to the Word of God, that they are without Christ, outside the promises of the covenant, having no hope, and without God in the world. . . . And flesh and blood does not reveal this Christ, but the Father in the Word and through the Word. . . .

Where is that Word of God to be looked for, and whence is [it] to be sought? Are new and special inspirations and revelations to be expected?

At one time God revealed His Word by various ways and means. For sometimes, appearing Himself to the holy fathers, He spoke in their presence, sometimes through prophets inspired and moved by His Spirit; finally He spoke to mankind through His Son and the apostles. . . . But He gave us neither command nor promise to expect that kind of inspirations or revelations. Yet for the sake of posterity He saw to it that this Word of His, first revealed by preaching and confirmed by subsequent miracles, was later put into writing by faithful witnesses. And to that very same Word, comprehended in the prophetic and apostolic writings, He bound His church, so that whenever we want to know or show that a teaching is God’s Word, this should be our axiom: Thus it is written; thus Scripture speaks and testifies.

Job Replies: Miserable Comforters Are You

<sup>2</sup>“I have heard many such things;
miserable comforters are you all.

- <sup>3</sup>Shall windy words have an end?
Or what provokes you

- <sup>6</sup>“If I speak, my pain is not assuaged, and if I forbear, how much of it leaves me?
- <sup>7</sup>Surely now God has worn me out;
he has made desolate all my company.
- <sup>8</sup>And he has shriveled me up,
which is a witness against me,
and my leanness has risen up against me;
it testifies to my face.
- <sup>9</sup>He has torn me in his wrath
and hated me;
he has gnashed his teeth at me;
my adversary sharpens his eyes
against me.
- <sup>10</sup>Men have gaped at me with their mouth;
they have struck me insolently

He slashes open my kidneys
and does not spare;
he pours out my gall on the ground.

<sup>14</sup>He breaks me with breach upon breach;
 he runs upon me like a warrior.
<sup>15</sup>I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin
 and have laid my strength
 in the dust.
<sup>16</sup>My face is red with weeping,
 and on my eyelids is deep darkness, <sup>17</sup>although there is no violence
 in my hands,
 and my prayer is pure.
<sup>18</sup>“O earth, cover not my blood,
 and let my cry find no resting place.
<sup>19</sup>Even now, behold,
 my witness is in heaven,
 and he who testifies
 for me is on high.
<sup>20</sup>My friends scorn me;
 my eye pours out tears to God, <sup>21</sup>that he would argue the case of a man with God,
 as a son of man does
 with his neighbor.

Jesus at the Feast of Booths

<sup>1</sup>After this Jesus went about in Galilee. He would not go about in Judea, because the Jews were seeking to kill him. <sup>2</sup>Now the Jews' Feast of Booths was at hand. <sup>3</sup>So his brothers said to him, “Leave here and go to Judea, that your disciples also may see the works you are doing. <sup>4</sup>For no one works in secret if he seeks to be known openly. If you do these things, show yourself to the world.” <sup>5</sup>For not even his brothers believed in him. <sup>6</sup>Jesus said to them, “My time has not yet come, but your time is always here. <sup>7</sup>The world cannot hate you, but it hates me because I testify about it that its works are evil. <sup>8</sup>You go up to the feast. I am not going up to this feast, for my time has not yet fully come.” <sup>9</sup>After saying this, he remained in Galilee.

<sup>10</sup>But after his brothers had gone up to the feast, then he also went up, not publicly but in private. <sup>11</sup>The Jews were looking for him at the feast, and saying, “Where is he?” <sup>12</sup>And there was much muttering about him among the people. While some said, “He is a good man,” others said, “No, he is leading the people astray.” <sup>13</sup>Yet for fear of the Jews no one spoke openly of him.

Writing

XIII: The Use of the Sacraments

Our churches teach that the Sacraments were ordained, not only to be marks of profession among men, but even more, to be signs and testimonies of God's will toward us. They were instituted to awaken and confirm faith in those who use them. Therefore, we must use the Sacraments in such a way that faith, which believes the promises offered and set forth through the Sacraments, is increased (2 Thessalonians 1:3).

Therefore, they condemn those who teach that the Sacraments justify simply by the act of doing them. They condemn those who do not teach that faith, which believes that sins are forgiven, is required in the use of the Sacraments.

XIV: Order in the Church

Our churches teach that no one should publicly teach in the Church, or administer the Sacraments, without a rightly ordered call.

XV: Church Ceremonies

Our churches teach that ceremonies ought to be observed that may be observed without sin. Also, ceremonies and other practices that are profitable for tranquility and good order in the Church (in particular, holy days, festivals, and the like) ought to be observed.

Yet, the people are taught that consciences are not to be burdened as though observing such things was necessary for salvation (Colossians 2:16–17). They are also taught that human traditions instituted to make atonement with God, to merit grace, and to make satisfaction for sins are opposed to the Gospel and the doctrine of faith. So vows and traditions concerning meats and days, and so forth, instituted to merit grace and to make satisfaction for sins, are useless and contrary to the Gospel.

—Augsburg Confession XIII–XV

New Testament Reading: John 7:14–31

[Jesus at the Feast of Booths]

<sup>14</sup>About the middle of the feast Jesus went up into the temple and began teaching.
<sup>15</sup>The Jews therefore marveled, saying, “How is it that this man has learning, when he has never studied?” <sup>16</sup>So Jesus answered them, “My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me. <sup>17</sup>If anyone’s will is to do God’s will,
he will know whether the teaching is from God or whether I am speaking on my own authority. <sup>18</sup>The one who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory; but the one who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood. <sup>19</sup>Has not Moses given you the law? Yet none of you keeps the law. Why do you seek to kill me?” <sup>20</sup>The crowd answered, “You have a demon!
Who is seeking to kill you?” <sup>21</sup>Jesus answered them, “I did one work, and you all marvel at
it. <sup>22</sup>Moses gave you circumcision (not that it is from Moses, but from the fathers), and you circumcise a man on the Sabbath. <sup>23</sup>If on the Sabbath a man receives circumcision, so that the law of Moses may not be broken, are you angry with me because on the Sabbath
I made a man’s whole body well? <sup>24</sup>Do not judge by appearances, but judge with right judgment.”

Can This Be the Christ?

<sup>25</sup>Some of the people of Jerusalem therefore said, “Is not this the man whom they seek to kill? <sup>26</sup>And here he is, speaking openly, and they say nothing to him! Can it be that the authorities really know that this is the Christ? <sup>27</sup>But we know where this man comes from, and when the Christ appears, no one will know where he comes from.” <sup>28</sup>So Jesus proclaimed, as he taught in the temple,
“You know me, and you know where I come from? But I have not come of my own accord. He who sent me is true, and him you do not know. <sup>29</sup>I know him, for I come from him, and he sent me.” <sup>30</sup>So they were seeking to arrest him, but no one laid a hand on him, because his hour had not yet come. <sup>31</sup>Yet many of the people believed in him. They said, “When the Christ appears, will he do more signs than this man has done?”

Writing

When he himself says, “I came not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me,” this is the same kind of saying as, “My doctrine is not mine.” For if anyone possesses something, not of himself but from God, he should speak of it as God’s rather than his own. But no man has the truth he teaches, or a just will, from himself; these come from God. Christ came, then, not to do his own will, but to do the Father’s will, since the just will which he had came not from his humanity but from his divinity. But to say that God “spared not even his own Son, but delivered him up for us” simply means that he did not set him free. Many statements like this are found in Holy Scripture. Again, when he says, “Father, if it be possible, let this chalice pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt,” and, “if this chalice may not pass away, but I must drink it, thy will be done,” by his own will he means the natural desire for safety, by which his human flesh shrank from the pain of death. It is true that he speaks of the Father’s will, but not because the Father preferred the death of his Son to life—rather, because the Father was unwilling for the human race to be restored unless man performed a great act, equal to the Son’s death. Since reason did not demand what another could not do, the Son says that the Father wills his death, while he himself prefers to suffer death rather than leave the human race unsaved.

—Anselm of Canterbury

Hymnody

“Yes, Father, yes, most willingly
I’ll bear what You command Me.
My will conforms to Your decree,
I’ll do what You have asked Me.”
O wondrous Love, what have You done!
The Father offers up His Son,
Desiring our salvation.
O Love, how strong You are to save!
You lay the One into the grave
Who built the earth’s foundation.

Prayer of the Day

O God, on this day You once taught the hearts of Your faithful people by sending them the light of Your Holy Spirit. Grant us in our day by the same Spirit to have a right understanding in all things and evermore to rejoice in His holy consolation; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Bildad Speaks: God Punishes the Wicked

- <sup>2</sup>“How long will you hunt for words?
Consider, and then we will speak.
- <sup>3</sup>Why are we counted as cattle?

Officers Sent to Arrest Jesus

<sup>32</sup>The Pharisees heard the crowd muttering these things about him, and the chief priests and Pharisees sent officers to arrest him. <sup>33</sup>Jesus then said, “I will be with you a little longer, and then I am going to him who sent me. <sup>34</sup>You will seek me and you will not find me. Where I am you cannot come.” <sup>35</sup>The Jews said to one another, “Where does this man intend to go that we will not find him? Does he intend to go to the Dispersion among the Greeks and teach the Greeks? <sup>36</sup>What does he mean by saying, ‘You will seek me and you will not find me,’ and, ‘Where I am you cannot come?’”

Rivers of Living Water

<sup>37</sup>On the last day of the feast, the great day, Jesus stood up and cried out, “If anyone thirsts, let him come to me and drink. <sup>38</sup>Whoever believes in me, as the Scripture has said, ‘Out of his heart will flow rivers of living water.’” <sup>39</sup>Now this he said about the Spirit, whom those who believed in him were to receive, for as yet the Spirit had not been given, because Jesus was not yet glorified.

Division Among the People

<sup>40</sup>When they heard these words, some of the people said, “This really is the Prophet.” <sup>41</sup>Others said, “This is the Christ.” But some said, “Is the Christ to come from Galilee? <sup>42</sup>Has not the Scripture said that the Christ comes from the offspring of David, and comes from Bethlehem, the village where David was?” <sup>43</sup>So there was a division among the people over him. <sup>44</sup>Some of them wanted to arrest him, but no one laid hands on him.

<sup>45</sup>The officers then came to the chief priests and Pharisees, who said to them, “Why did you not bring him?” <sup>46</sup>The officers answered, “No one ever spoke like this man!” <sup>47</sup>The Pharisees answered them, “Have you also been deceived? <sup>48</sup>Have any of the authorities or the Pharisees believed in him? <sup>49</sup>But this crowd that does not know the law is accursed.” <sup>50</sup>Nicodemus, who had gone to him before, and who was one of them, said to them, <sup>51</sup>“Does our law judge a man without first giving him a hearing and learning what he does?” <sup>52</sup>They replied, “Are you from Galilee too? Search and see that no prophet arises from Galilee.”

Writing

Polycarp means a Christian who bears much fruit. This is a true, Christian name, for the Lord Jesus said in John 15:16, “I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit and that your fruit should abide.” For them, the noble seed of the Holy Gospel falls on good ground; they hear the Word and keep it in a good heart and bring forth fruit in patience (Luke 8:16). This Polycarp was a disciple and diligent hearer of John the apostle and evangelist, and he called the heretic Marcion, who met him once, a “child of the devil” without any fear. You see, no one should betray the truth with silence. When people demanded that he deny the Christian religion, he said, “For eighty-six years I have served Christ, and He has never injured me. Therefore how could I curse and blaspheme my King, who has given me salvation?” When he was ninety years old, people wanted to burn him. In the midst of the fire, he prayed, “O God, the Father of Your Son, Jesus Christ, through whom we have received knowledge of You, the maker of all creation, I call upon You, I confess You, that You are true God; I glorify You because of the high priest, Your beloved Son, with the Holy Spirit; receive me and make me a sharer in the resurrection of Your saints. Amen.” Now since the fire spared him, as it did for the three confessors in Daniel 3:23, he was stabbed with a sword. Three days previously, he had dreamed that his pillow was burning; from this he quickly concluded that he would sit in the fire and would sweat. Dreams that cause us to pray and pursue Christian devotion, for which we also have clear admonitions in God’s Word, are not to be despised.

—Valerius Herberger

Hymnody

See, the streams of living waters,
Springing from eternal love,
Well supply your sons and daughters
And all fear of want remove.

Grace, which like the Lord, the giver,
Never fails from age to age.

Prayer of the Day

O God, the maker of heaven and earth, You gave boldness to confess Jesus Christ as King and Savior and steadfastness to die for the faith to Your venerable servant, the holy and gentle Polycarp. Grant us grace to follow his example in sharing the cup of Christ’s suffering so that we may also share in His glorious resurrection; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. ### Polycarp of Smyrna, Pastor and Martyr

Born around AD 69, Polycarp was a central figure in the Early Church. A disciple of the evangelist John, he linked the first generation of believers to later Christians. After serving for many years as bishop of Smyrna, Polycarp was arrested, tried, and executed for his faith on February 23, in AD 155 or 156. An eyewitness narrative of his death, The Martyrdom of Polycarp, continues to encourage believers in times of persecution.

Job Replies: My Redeemer Lives

<sup>1</sup>Then Job answered and said:

<sup>2</sup>“How long will you torment me
and break me in pieces with words?
<sup>3</sup>These ten times you have cast reproach
upon me;
are you not ashamed to wrong me?

<sup>4</sup>And even if it be true that I have erred,

in the wrong
and closed his net about me.

<sup>7</sup>Behold, I cry out, ‘Violence!’
but I am not answered;
I call for help, but there is no justice.

<sup>8</sup>He has walled up my way,
so that I cannot pass,
and he has set darkness
upon my paths.

<sup>9</sup>He has stripped from me my glory
and taken the crown from my head.

<sup>10</sup>He breaks me down on every side,
and I am gone,
and my hope has he pulled up
like a tree.

<sup>11</sup>He has kindled his wrath against me
and counts me as his adversary.

<sup>12</sup>His troops come on together;
they have cast up their siege ramp
against me
and encamp around my tent. . . .

<sup>21</sup>Have mercy on me, have mercy on me,
O you my friends,
for the hand of God has touched me!

<sup>22</sup>Why do you, like God, pursue me?
Why are you not satisfied with my flesh?

<sup>23</sup>“Oh that my words were written!
Oh that they were inscribed
in a book!
<sup>24</sup>Oh that with an iron pen and lead
they were engraved
in the rock forever!

<sup>25</sup>For I know that my Redeemer lives,
and at the last he will stand upon the earth.

<sup>26</sup>And after my skin has been thus destroyed,
yet in my flesh I shall see God,

<sup>27</sup>whom I shall see for myself,
and my eyes shall behold,
and not another.

My heart faints within me!"

New Testament Reading: John 8:1–20

[The Woman Caught in Adultery]

<sup>1</sup>But Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. <sup>2</sup>Early in the morning he came again to the temple. All the people came to him, and he sat down and taught them. <sup>3</sup>The scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in adultery, and placing her in the midst <sup>4</sup>they said to him, "Teacher, this woman has been caught in the act of adultery. <sup>5</sup>Now in the Law Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do you say?" <sup>6</sup>This they said to test him, that they might have some charge to bring against him. Jesus bent down and wrote with his finger on the ground. <sup>7</sup>And as they continued to ask him, he stood up and said to them, "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her." <sup>8</sup>And once more he bent down and wrote on the ground. <sup>9</sup>But when they heard it, they went away one by one, beginning with the older ones, and Jesus was left alone with the woman standing before him. <sup>10</sup>Jesus stood up and said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" <sup>11</sup>She said, "No one, Lord." And Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more."

I Am the Light of the World

<sup>12</sup>Again Jesus spoke to them, saying, "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life." <sup>13</sup>So the Pharisees said to him, "You are bearing witness about yourself; your testimony is not true." <sup>14</sup>Jesus answered, "Even if I do bear witness about myself, my testimony is true, for I know where I came from and where I am going, but you do not know where I come from or where I am going. <sup>15</sup>You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one. <sup>16</sup>Yet even if I do judge, my judgment is true, for it is not I alone who judge, but I and the Father who sent me. <sup>17</sup>In your Law it is written that the testimony of two people is true. <sup>18</sup>I am the one who bears witness about myself, and the Father who sent me bears witness about me." <sup>19</sup>They said to him therefore, "Where is your Father?" Jesus answered, "You know neither me nor my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father also." <sup>20</sup>These words he spoke in the treasury, as he taught in the temple; but no one arrested him, because his hour had not yet come.

Writing

"The kingdom of Christ is not one of condemnation. I am not here to condemn you, but to remit the sins of those who, like you, are where death, the devil, evil consciences, accusers, and judges have come to plague them. The slogan in My kingdom is: I forgive you your sin; for in My kingdom no one is without forgiveness of sins. Therefore you, too, must have forgiveness. My kingdom must not be in disorder. All who enter it and dwell in it must be sinners. But as sinners they cannot live without the forgiveness of sins." If I am a sinner, the matter is not ended there; the sins must be forgiven. Thus none but sinners come into this kingdom. But do not let this prompt you to say: “Well, we will remain in sin.” No, you must learn to feel and recognize your sin. These Pharisees did not have to become sinners; they were sinners already, and they became even greater sinners when Christ uncovered their sins with the words: “Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her.” A sinner is a person who feels his sin. The Pharisees, these rogues, were no sinners; but they became sinners when Christ said: “Let him who is without sin, etc.” Now they became sinners. But they despaired and slunk away. In their arrogance they hid their sin and would not await Christ’s second statement: “Neither do I condemn you.”

Thus only those sinners belong in the kingdom of Christ who recognize their sin, feel it, and then catch hold of the Word of Christ spoken here: “I do not condemn you.” These people constitute the membership of Christ’s kingdom. He admits no saint; He blows them all away; He expels from the church all who lay claim to holiness. If sinners enter, they do not remain sinners. He spreads His cloak over their sins and says: “If you have sinned, I remit your sins and cover them.” To be sure, sin is there. But the Lord in this kingdom closes His eyes to it, covers it, forgives it, and does not impute it to the sinner. So a living saint and member of Christ stands here, made out of an adulteress who had been infested with sin but whose sin is now forgiven and covered. Even if sinners are knaves and criminals, their sins will be forgiven, as long as they feel them, repent of them, and ask God for forgiveness. If you have tasted the Law and sin, and if you know the ache of sin, then look here, and see how sweet, in comparison, the grace of God is, the grace which is offered to us in the Gospel. This is the absolution which the adulteress receives here from the Lord Christ.

St. Matthias, Apostle

St. Matthias is one of the lesser-known apostles. According to the Early Church Fathers, Matthias was one of the seventy-two sent out by Jesus in Luke 10:1–20. After the ascension, Matthias was chosen by lot to fill the vacancy in the Twelve resulting from the death of Judas Iscariot (Acts 1:16–25). Early Church tradition places Matthias in a number of locations. Some historians suggest that he went to Ethiopia; others place him in Armenia, the first nation to adopt Christianity as a national religion. Martyred for his faith, Matthias may well have met his death at Colchis in Asia Minor, around AD 50. The Church of St. Matthias at Trier, Germany, claims the honor of being the final burial site for Matthias, the only one of the Twelve to be buried in Europe north of the Alps.

Zophar Speaks: The Wicked Will Suffer

and said:

- <sup>2</sup>“Therefore my thoughts answer me,
because of my haste within me.
- <sup>3</sup>I hear censure that insults me,

- <sup>4</sup>Do you not know this from of old,

- <sup>6</sup>Though his height mount up

New Testament Reading: John 8:21–38

[I Am the Light of the World]

<sup>21</sup>So he said to them again, “I am going away, and you will seek me, and you will die in your sin. Where I am going, you cannot come.” <sup>22</sup>So the Jews said, “Will he kill himself, since he says, ‘Where I am going, you cannot come?’” <sup>23</sup>He said to them, “You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world. <sup>24</sup>I told you that you would die in your sins, for unless you believe that I am he you will die in your sins.” <sup>25</sup>So they said to him, “Who are you?” Jesus said to them, “Just what I have been telling you from the beginning. <sup>26</sup>I have much to say about you and much to judge, but he who sent me is true, and I declare to the world what I have heard from him.” <sup>27</sup>They did not understand that he had been speaking to them about the Father. <sup>28</sup>So Jesus said to them, “When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am he, and that I do nothing on my own authority, but speak just as the Father taught me. <sup>29</sup>And he who sent me is with me. He has not left me alone, for I always do the things that are pleasing to him.” <sup>30</sup>As he was saying these things, many believed in him.

The Truth Will Set You Free

<sup>31</sup>So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed in him, “If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, <sup>32</sup>and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free.”<sup>33</sup>They answered him, “We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, ‘You will become free?’”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus answered them, “Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. <sup>35</sup>The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. <sup>36</sup>So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. <sup>37</sup>I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. <sup>38</sup>I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father.”

Writing

He serves freely who freely does the will of his master. Accordingly he who is slave to sin is free to sin. But thereafter he will not be free to do right unless he is delivered from the bondage of sin and begins to be the servant of righteousness. This, then, is true liberty: the joy that comes in doing what is right. At the same time, it is also devoted service in obedience to righteous precept.

But how would a man, bound and sold, get back his liberty to do good, unless he could regain it from Him whose voice said, “If the Son shall make you free, then you will be free indeed”? But before this process begins in man, could anyone glory in his good works as if they were acts of his free will, when he is not yet free to act rightly? He could do this only if, puffed up in proud vanity, he were merely boasting. This attitude is what the apostle was reproofing when he said, “By grace you have been saved by faith.”

And lest men should arrogate to themselves saving faith as their own work and not understand it as a divine gift, the same apostle who says somewhere else that he had “obtained mercy of the Lord to be trustworthy” makes here an additional comment: “And this is not of yourselves, rather it is a gift of God—not because of works either, lest any man should boast.” But then, lest it be supposed that the faithful are lacking in good works, he added further, “For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to good works, which God has prepared beforehand for us to walk in them.”

—Augustine of Hippo

Hymnody

Thanks we give and adoration
For Your Gospel’s joyful sound.
May the fruits of Your salvation
In our hearts and lives abound.
Ever faithful, ever faithful
To Your truth may we be found.

—Lord, Dismiss Us with Your Blessing
(LSB 924:2)

Prayer of the Day

Almighty and gracious Lord, pour out Your Holy Spirit on Your faithful people. Keep us steadfast in Your grace and truth, protect and deliver us in times of temptation, defend us against all enemies, and grant to Your Church Your saving peace; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Job Replies: The Wicked Do Prosper

- <sup>1</sup>Then Job answered and said:
- <sup>2</sup>“Keep listening to my words,
 and let this be your comfort.
- <sup>3</sup>Bear with me, and I will speak,
 and after I have spoken, mock on.
- <sup>4</sup>As for me, is my complaint against man?
 Why should I not be impatient?
- <sup>5</sup>Look at me and be appalled,
 and lay your hand over your mouth.
- <sup>6</sup>When I remember, I am dismayed,
 and shuddering seizes my flesh.

- <sup>7</sup>Why do the wicked live,
 reach old age, and grow mighty
 in power?
- <sup>8</sup>Their offspring are established
 in their presence,
 and their descendants
 before their eyes.
- <sup>9</sup>Their houses are safe from fear,
 and no rod of God is upon them.
- <sup>10</sup>Their bull breeds without fail;
 their cow calves and does not miscarry.
- <sup>11</sup>They send out their little boys
 like a flock,
 and their children dance.
- <sup>12</sup>They sing to the tambourine
 and the lyre
 and rejoice to the sound of the pipe.
- <sup>13</sup>They spend their days in prosperity,
 and in peace they go down to Sheol.
- <sup>14</sup>They say to God, ‘Depart from us!
 We do not desire the knowledge of your ways.
- <sup>15</sup>What is the Almighty,
 that we should serve him?
 And what profit do we get
 if we pray to him?’
- <sup>16</sup>Behold, is not their prosperity
 in their hand?
 The counsel of the wicked is far
 from me.
- <sup>17</sup>“How often is it that the lamp
 of the wicked is put out?
 That their calamity comes upon them?
 That God distributes pains
 in his anger?
- <sup>18</sup>That they are like straw
 before the wind,
 and like chaff that the storm carries away?

<sup>19</sup>You say, ‘God stores up their iniquity for their children.’

Let him pay it out to them,
that they may know it.

<sup>20</sup>Let their own eyes see their destruction,
and let them drink of the wrath
of the Almighty.

<sup>21</sup>For what do they care for their houses
after them,
when the number of their months
is cut off?”

New Testament Reading: John 8:39–59

You Are of Your Father the Devil

<sup>39</sup>They answered him, “Abraham is our father.” Jesus said to them, “If you were Abraham’s children, you would be doing the works Abraham did, <sup>40</sup>but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. <sup>41</sup>You are doing the works your father did.” They said to him, “We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God.” <sup>42</sup>Jesus said to them, “If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. <sup>43</sup>Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. <sup>44</sup>You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father’s desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. <sup>45</sup>But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. <sup>46</sup>Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? <sup>47</sup>Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God.”

Before Abraham Was, I Am

<sup>48</sup>The Jews answered him, “Are we not right in saying that you are a Samaritan and have a demon?” <sup>49</sup>Jesus answered, “I do not have a demon, but I honor my Father, and you dishonor me. <sup>50</sup>Yet I do not seek my own glory; there is One who seeks it, and he is the judge. <sup>51</sup>Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death.”

<sup>52</sup>The Jews said to him, “Now we know that you have a demon! Abraham died, as did the prophets, yet you say, ‘If anyone keeps my word, he will never taste death.’ <sup>53</sup>Are you greater than our father Abraham, who died? And the prophets died! Who do you make yourself out to be?” <sup>54</sup>Jesus answered, “If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say, ‘He is our God.’ <sup>55</sup>But you have not known him. I know him. If I were to say that I do not know him, I would be a liar like you, but I do know him and I keep his word. <sup>56</sup>Your father Abraham rejoiced that he would see my day. He saw it and was glad.” <sup>57</sup>So the Jews said to him, “You are not yet fifty years old, and have you seen Abraham?” <sup>58</sup>Jesus said to them, “Truly, truly, I say to you, before Abraham was, I am.” <sup>59</sup>So they picked up stones to throw at him, but Jesus hid himself and went out of the temple.

Writing

For there is one and the same church, one and the same faith, Eph. 4:4–6, and one way of being justified by which all who would be saved have been justified from the foundation of the world. Therefore the Epistle to the Hebrews in 13:8, does not limit the work of Christ only to the time of the New Testament but extends it also to the Old Testament, for this “Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever.” Hence in John 8:56 Abraham saw Christ’s day and rejoiced. Paul in Rom. 4:1ff. carefully adduces the example of Abraham and David in this discussion of the article of justification to show that all, as many as have been justified from the beginning of the world, have been justified in no other way than through faith in Christ. But if anyone carefully looks at the speech of God to Cain in Gen. 4:7, he will come to understand that even before Moses, the moral law, and before the birth of Christ, the doctrine of the free remission of sins had been taught. For in regard to curbing lusts God said, “Your lust shall be under you” (Vulgate). In regard to the free remission of sins He says, “If you do righteously,” that is, by faith in the Messiah who is to come, “there will be a lightening or the remission of your sins.”

[Job's Summary Defense]

<sup>16</sup>“And now my soul is poured out within me;
days of affliction have taken hold of me.

<sup>17</sup>The night racks my bones,
and the pain that gnaws me takes no rest.

<sup>18</sup>With great force my garment is disfigured;
it binds me about like the collar
of my tunic.

<sup>19</sup>God has cast me into the mire,

<sup>20</sup>I cry to you for help

you persecute me.

<sup>22</sup>You lift me up on the wind;
you make me ride on it,
and you toss me about
in the roar of the storm.

<sup>23</sup>For I know that you will bring me to death and to the house appointed for all living.

<sup>24</sup>“Yet does not one in a heap
of ruins stretch out his hand,
and in his disaster cry for help?

<sup>25</sup>Did not I weep for him whose day was hard?
Was not my soul grieved for the needy?

<sup>26</sup>But when I hoped for good, evil came,
and when I waited for light,
darkness came.

<sup>27</sup>My inward parts are in turmoil

<sup>28</sup>I go about darkened, but not by the sun;
I stand up in the assembly and cry for help.

<sup>29</sup>I am a brother of jackals
and a companion of ostriches.

<sup>30</sup>My skin turns black and falls from me,
and my bones burn with heat.

Jesus Heals a Man Born Blind

<sup>8</sup>The neighbors and those who had seen him before as a beggar were saying, “Is this not the man who used to sit and beg?” <sup>9</sup>Some said, “It is he.” Others said, “No, but he is like him.” He kept saying, “I am the man.” <sup>10</sup>So they said to him, “Then how were your eyes opened?” <sup>11</sup>He answered, “The man called Jesus made mud and anointed my eyes and said to me, ‘Go to Siloam and wash.’ So I went and washed and received my sight.” <sup>12</sup>They said to him, “Where is he?” He said, “I do not know.”

And he said to them, “He put mud on my eyes, and I washed, and I see.”<sup>16</sup>Some of the Pharisees said, “This man is not from God, for he does not keep the Sabbath.” But others said, “How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?” And there was a division among them.<sup>17</sup>So they said again to the blind man, “What do you say about him, since he has opened your eyes?” He said, “He is a prophet.”

<sup>18</sup>The Jews did not believe that he had been blind and had received his sight, until they called the parents of the man who had received his sight<sup>19</sup>and asked them, “Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How then does he now see?”<sup>20</sup>His parents answered, “We know that this is our son and that he was born blind.<sup>21</sup>But how he now sees we do not know, nor do we know who opened his eyes. Ask him; he is of age. He will speak for himself.”<sup>22</sup>(His parents said these things because they feared the Jews, for the Jews had already agreed that if anyone should confess Jesus to be Christ, he was to be put out of the synagogue.)<sup>23</sup>Therefore his parents said, “He is of age; ask him.”

Writing

Job is excused though he was not troubled by past evil deeds [Job 2:3–10]. Therefore, troubles are not always punishments or signs of wrath. Indeed, terrified consciences should be taught that there are more important purposes for afflictions [2 Corinthians 12:9], so that they do not think God is rejecting them when they see nothing but God’s punishment and anger in troubles. The other more important purposes are to be considered, that is, that God is doing His strange work so that He may be able to do His own work, as Isaiah 28 teaches in a long speech. When the disciples asked about the blind man who sinned, Christ replies that the cause of his blindness is not sin, but that “the works of God might be displayed in him” (John 9:2–3). In Jeremiah it is said, “If those who did not deserve to drink the cup must drink it . . .” (49:12). So the prophets, John the Baptist, and other saints were killed [Matthew 5:11]. Therefore, troubles are not always punishments for certain past deeds, but they are God’s works, intended for our benefit, and that God’s power might be made more apparent in our weakness.

So Paul says God’s strength “is made perfect in weakness” (2 Corinthians 12:9). Because of God’s will, our bodies should be sacrifices, to declare our obedience, and not to pay for eternal death. God has another price for that: the death of His own Son.

 XIIB (VI) 61–63 [158–160]

Job's Final Appeal

<sup>1</sup>“I have made a covenant with my eyes;
how then could I gaze at a virgin?
<sup>2</sup>What would be my portion from God above and my heritage from the Almighty
on high?
<sup>3</sup>Is not calamity for the unrighteous,
and disaster for the workers of iniquity?
<sup>4</sup>Does not he see my ways
and number all my steps?
<sup>5</sup>“If I have walked with falsehood
and my foot has hastened to deceit; <sup>6</sup>(Let me be weighed in a just balance, and let God know my integrity!) <sup>7</sup>if my step has turned aside from the way and my heart has gone after my eyes,
and if any spot has stuck to my hands, <sup>8</sup>then let me sow, and another eat,
and let what grows for me be rooted out.
<sup>9</sup>“If my heart has been enticed toward a woman,
and I have lain in wait
at my neighbor's door, <sup>10</sup>then let my wife grind for another,
and let others bow down on her.
<sup>11</sup>For that would be a heinous crime;
that would be an iniquity
to be punished by the judges; <sup>12</sup>for that would be a fire that consumes
as far as Abaddon,
and it would burn to the root
all my increase. . . .
<sup>33</sup>if I have concealed my transgressions
as others do
by hiding my iniquity in my bosom,

<sup>34</sup>because I stood in great fear of the multitude,
and the contempt of families terrified me,
so that I kept silence, and did not go out of doors—
<sup>35</sup>Oh, that I had one to hear me!
(Here is my signature!
Let the Almighty answer me!)
Oh, that I had the indictment written by my adversary!
<sup>36</sup>Surely I would carry it on my shoulder;
I would bind it on me as a crown;
<sup>37</sup>I would give him an account of all my steps;
like a prince I would approach him.
<sup>38</sup>“If my land has cried out against me
and its furrows have wept together, <sup>39</sup>if I have eaten its yield without payment and made its owners breathe their last, <sup>40</sup>let thorns grow instead of wheat,
and foul weeds instead of barley.”
The words of Job are ended.

New Testament Reading: John 9:24–41

[Jesus Heals a Man Born Blind]

<sup>24</sup>So for the second time they called the man who had been blind and said to him, “Give glory to God. We know that this man is a sinner.” <sup>25</sup>He answered, “Whether he is a sinner I do not know. One thing I do know, that though I was blind, now I see.” <sup>26</sup>They said to him, “What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?” <sup>27</sup>He answered them, “I have told you already, and you would not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you also want to become his disciples?” <sup>28</sup>And they reviled him, saying, “You are his disciple, but we are disciples of Moses. <sup>29</sup>We know that God has spoken to Moses, but as for this man, we do not know where he comes from.” <sup>30</sup>The man answered, “Why, this is an amazing thing! You do not know where he comes from, and yet he opened my eyes. <sup>31</sup>We know that God does not listen to sinners, but if anyone is a worshiper of God and does his will, God listens to him. <sup>32</sup>Never since the world began has it been heard that anyone opened the eyes of a man born blind. <sup>33</sup>If this man were not from God, he could do nothing.” <sup>34</sup>They answered him, “You were born in utter sin, and would you teach us?” And they cast him out.

<sup>35</sup>Jesus heard that they had cast him out, and having found him he said, “Do you believe in the Son of Man?” <sup>36</sup>He answered, “And who is he, sir, that I may believe in him?” <sup>37</sup>Jesus said to him, “You have seen him, and it is he who is speaking to you.” <sup>38</sup>He said, “Lord, I believe,” and he worshiped him. <sup>39</sup>Jesus said, “For judgment I came into this world, that those who do not see may see, and those who see may become blind.” <sup>40</sup>Some of the Pharisees near him heard these things, and said to him, “Are we also blind?” <sup>41</sup>Jesus said to them, “If you were blind, you would have no guilt; but now that you say, ‘We see,’ your guilt remains.”

Writing

They are especially honored who for the sake of the truth and the confession of Christ suffer anything terrible and are insulted. Truly, he who loses his possessions for His sake, he is the one who will be found to be rich; he who hates his own life, he is the one who will be most loved; and in the same way, he who is insulted, he is the one who will be most honored. Surely this is shown in the case of the blind man. The Jews cast him out from the temple, and the Lord of the temple found him. He was separated from that pestilent company and met with the Fountain of salvation. He was dishonored by those who dishonored Christ and was honored by the Lord of Sabaoth. Such are the prizes of truth. . . .

The Evangelist shows that Jesus came for the purpose of meeting that blind man. And having met him, observe how Jesus makes amends for losses he has suffered. He makes recompense by that which is the most prized of blessings. For He made Himself known to him who before knew Him not, and enrolled him into the company of His own disciples. . . .

Hear also Paul: “What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law” [Romans 9:30–31]. By saying, “For judgment I am come into this world,” He both made the man stronger respecting the faith, and aroused those who followed Him, for the Pharisees were following Him. And the “for judgment” He spoke with reference to a greater punishment, showing that, having given sentence against Him, they had received sentence against themselves; that having condemned Him as a sinner, they were themselves the persons condemned. In this passage, He speaks of two recoveries of sight and two blindnesses: one sensible, the other spiritual.

—Chrysostom

Old Testament Reading: Job 32:1–22

Elihu Rebukes Job's Three Friends

<sup>1</sup>So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.

<sup>2</sup>Then Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, burned with anger. He burned with anger at Job because he justified himself rather than God. <sup>3</sup>He burned with anger also at Job's three friends because they had found no answer, although they had declared Job to be in the wrong. <sup>4</sup>Now Elihu had waited to speak to Job because they were older than he. <sup>5</sup>And when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, he burned with anger.

“I am young in years,
and you are aged;
therefore I was timid and afraid
to declare my opinion to you.

<sup>7</sup>I said, ‘Let days speak,
and many years teach wisdom.’

<sup>8</sup>But it is the spirit in man,
the breath of the Almighty, that makes him understand.

<sup>9</sup>It is not the old who are wise, nor the aged who understand what is right.

<sup>10</sup>Therefore I say, ‘Listen to me;
let me also declare my opinion.’

<sup>11</sup>“Behold, I waited for your words,
I listened for your wise sayings,
while you searched out what to say.

<sup>12</sup>I gave you my attention, and, behold, there was none among you who refuted Job
or who answered his words.

<sup>13</sup>Beware lest you say,

‘We have found wisdom;
God may vanquish him, not a man.’

<sup>14</sup>He has not directed his words against me, and I will not answer him
with your speeches.

<sup>15</sup>“They are dismayed; they answer no more;
they have not a word to say.

<sup>16</sup>And shall I wait, because they do not speak,
because they stand there,
and answer no more?

<sup>17</sup>I also will answer with my share;
I also will declare my opinion.

<sup>18</sup>For I am full of words;
the spirit within me constrains me.

<sup>19</sup>Behold, my belly is like wine
that has no vent;
like new wineskins ready to burst.

<sup>20</sup>I must speak, that I may find relief;
I must open my lips and answer.

<sup>21</sup>I will not show partiality to any man or use flattery toward any person.

<sup>22</sup>For I do not know how to flatter, else my Maker would soon take me away.”

New Testament Reading: John 10:1–21

I Am the Good Shepherd

<sup>1</sup>“Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. <sup>2</sup>But he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. <sup>3</sup>To him the gatekeeper opens. The sheep hear his voice, and he calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. <sup>4</sup>When he has brought out all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice.

<sup>5</sup>A stranger they will not follow, but they will

flee from him, for they do not know the voice of strangers.”<sup>6</sup> This figure of speech Jesus used with them, but they did not understand what he was saying to them.

<sup>7</sup>So Jesus again said to them, “Truly, truly, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep.<sup>8</sup> All who came before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not listen to them.<sup>9</sup> I am the door. If anyone enters by me, he will be saved and will go in and out and find pasture.<sup>10</sup> The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly.<sup>11</sup> I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep.<sup>12</sup> He who is a hired hand and not a shepherd, who does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and flees, and the wolf snatches them and scatters them.<sup>13</sup> He flees because he is a hired hand and cares nothing for the sheep.<sup>14</sup> I am the good shepherd. I know my own and my own know me,<sup>15</sup> just as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep.<sup>16</sup> And I have other sheep that are not of this fold. I must bring them also, and they will listen to my voice. So there will be one flock, one shepherd.<sup>17</sup> For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again.<sup>18</sup> No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from my Father.”

<sup>19</sup>There was again a division among the Jews because of these words.<sup>20</sup> Many of them said, “He has a demon, and is insane; why listen to him?”<sup>21</sup> Others said, “These are not the words of one who is oppressed by a demon. Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?”

Writing

I really would like to see a truly Christian council, so that many people and issues might be helped. Not that we need help. Our churches are now, through God’s grace, enlightened and equipped with the pure Word and right use of the Sacraments, with knowledge of the various callings and right works. So, on our part, we ask for no council. On such points, we have nothing better to hope or expect from a council. But we see throughout the bishops’ jurisdictions so many parishes vacant and desolate that it breaks our heart. Still, neither the bishops nor the Church officials care how the poor people live or die. Christ has died for them, and yet they are not allowed to hear Him speak as the true Shepherd with His sheep [John 10:11–18]. This makes me shudder and fear that someday He might send a council of angels upon Germany who will utterly destroy us like Sodom and Gomorrah [Genesis 19:1–25] for wickedly mocking Him with the pretext of a council.

—Smalcald Articles Preface 10–11

Even though the adversaries claim the name of Church for themselves, we know that Christ’s Church is with those who teach Christ’s Gospel, not with those who defend wicked opinions contrary to the Gospel. As the Lord says, “My sheep hear My voice” (John 10:27). And Augustine says:

The question is, “Where is the Church?” What, therefore, are we to do? Are we to seek it in our own words or in the words of its Head, our Lord Jesus Christ? I think that we ought to seek it in the words of Him who is Truth, and who knows His own body best.

We are Yours; in love befriend us,
 Be the guardian of our way;
 Keep Your flock, from sin defend us,
 Seek us when we go astray.
 Blessed Jesus, blessed Jesus,
 Hear us children when we pray.
 Blessed Jesus, blessed Jesus,
 Hear us children when we pray.

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, merciful Father, since
 You have wakened from death the Shepherd of Your sheep, grant us Your Holy Spirit that when we hear the voice of our Shepherd we

 and follow where He leads; through the same Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives
 and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one

New Testament Reading: John 10:22–42

I and the Father Are One

<sup>23</sup>and Jesus was walking in the temple, in the colonnade of Solomon. <sup>24</sup>So the Jews gathered around him and said to him, "How long will you keep us in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us plainly." <sup>25</sup>Jesus answered them, "I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name bear witness about me, <sup>26</sup>but you do not believe because you are not part of my flock. <sup>27</sup>My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. <sup>28</sup>I give them eternal life, and they will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. <sup>29</sup>My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all, and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. <sup>30</sup>I and the Father are one."

<sup>31</sup>The Jews picked up stones again to stone him. <sup>32</sup>Jesus answered them, "I have shown you many good works from the Father; for which of them are you going to stone me?" <sup>33</sup>The Jews answered him, "It is not for a good work that we are going to stone you but for blasphemy, because you, being a man, make yourself God." <sup>34</sup>Jesus answered them, "Is it not written in your Law, 'I said, you are gods'? <sup>35</sup>If he called them gods to whom the word of God came—and Scripture cannot be broken—<sup>36</sup>do you say of him whom the Father consecrated and sent into the world, 'You are blaspheming,' because I said, 'I am the Son of God'? <sup>37</sup>If I am not doing the works of my Father, then do not believe me; <sup>38</sup>but if I do them, even though you do not believe me, believe the works, that you may know and understand that the Father is in me and I am in the Father." <sup>39</sup>Again they sought to arrest him, but he escaped from their hands.

<sup>40</sup>He went away again across the Jordan to the place where John had been baptizing at first, and there he remained. <sup>41</sup>And many came to him. And they said, "John did no sign, but everything that John said about this man was true." <sup>42</sup>And many believed in him there.

Writing

The sages, it is often said, can see no answer to the riddle of religion. But the trouble with our sages is not that they cannot see the answer; it is that they cannot even see the riddle. They are like children so stupid as to notice nothing paradoxical in the playful assertion that a door is not a door. The modern latitudinarians speak, for instance, about authority in religion not only as if there were no reason in it, but as if there had never been any reason for it. Apart from seeing its philosophical basis, they cannot even see its historical cause. Religious authority has often, doubtless, been oppressive or unreasonable; just as every legal system (and especially our present one) has been callous and full of a cruel apathy. It is rational to attack the police; nay, it is glorious. But the modern critics of religious authority are like men who should attack the police without ever having heard of burglars. For there is a great and possible peril to the human mind: a peril as practical as burglary. Against it religious authority was reared, rightly or wrongly, as a barrier. And against it something certainly must be reared as a barrier, if our race is to avoid ruin.

[Elihu Rebukes Job]

<sup>19</sup>“Man is also rebuked with pain on his bed
and with continual strife in his bones, <sup>20</sup>so that his life loathes bread,
and his appetite the choicest food.
<sup>21</sup>His flesh is so wasted away that it cannot be seen,
and his bones that were not seen stick out.
<sup>22</sup>His soul draws near the pit,
and his life to those who bring death.
<sup>23</sup>If there be for him an angel, a mediator, one of the thousand,
to declare to man what is right
for him,
<sup>24</sup>and he is merciful to him, and says, ‘Deliver him from going down into the pit;
I have found a ransom;
<sup>25</sup>let his flesh become fresh with youth;
let him return to the days
of his youthful vigor’;
<sup>26</sup>then man prays to God,
and he accepts him;
he sees his face with a shout of joy,
and he restores to man his righteousness.
<sup>27</sup>He sings before men and says:
‘I sinned and perverted what was right,
and it was not repaid to me.
<sup>28</sup>He has redeemed my soul
from going down into the pit,
and my life shall look upon the light.’
<sup>29</sup>“Behold, God does all these things,
twice, three times, with a man, <sup>30</sup>to bring back his soul from the pit,
that he may be lighted
with the light of life.

<sup>31</sup>Pay attention, O Job, listen to me;
be silent, and I will speak.
<sup>32</sup>If you have any words, answer me;
speak, for I desire to justify you.
<sup>33</sup>If not, listen to me;
be silent, and I will teach you wisdom.”

Elihu Asserts God’s Justice

<sup>34:1</sup>Then Elihu answered and said:

<sup>2</sup>“Hear my words, you wise men,
and give ear to me, you who know; <sup>3</sup>for the ear tests words
as the palate tastes food.
<sup>4</sup>Let us choose what is right;
let us know among ourselves
what is good.
<sup>5</sup>For Job has said, ‘I am in the right,
and God has taken away my right;
<sup>6</sup>in spite of my right I am counted a liar;
my wound is incurable,
though I am without transgression.’
<sup>7</sup>What man is like Job,
who drinks up scoffing like water, <sup>8</sup>who travels in company with evildoers and walks with wicked men?
<sup>9</sup>For he has said, ‘It profits a man nothing that he should take delight in God.’”

New Testament Reading: John 11:1–16

The Death of Lazarus

<sup>5</sup>Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. <sup>6</sup>So, when he heard that Lazarus was ill, he stayed two days longer in the place where he was. <sup>7</sup>Then after this he said to the disciples, “Let us go to Judea again.” <sup>8</sup>The disciples said to him, “Rabbi, the Jews were just now seeking to stone you, and are you going there again?” <sup>9</sup>Jesus answered, “Are there not twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world. <sup>10</sup>But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him.” <sup>11</sup>After saying these things, he said to them, “Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep, but I go to awaken him.” <sup>12</sup>The disciples said to him, “Lord, if he has fallen asleep, he will recover.” <sup>13</sup>Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought that he meant taking rest in sleep. <sup>14</sup>Then Jesus told them plainly, “Lazarus has died, <sup>15</sup>and for your sake I am glad that I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him.” <sup>16</sup>So Thomas, called the Twin, said to his fellow disciples, “Let us also go, that we may die with him.”

Writing

St. Paul exhorts the Thessalonians [1 Thess. 4:13–18] not to sorrow over the dead as others who have no hope, but to comfort each other with God’s Word as having a certain hope of life and of the resurrection of the dead.

It is little wonder if those are sad who have no hope. Nor can they be blamed for it. Since they are beyond the pale of faith in Christ, they must either cherish this temporal life as the only thing worthwhile and hate to lose it, or they must expect that after this life they will receive eternal death and the wrath of God in hell and must fear to go there.

But we Christians, who have been redeemed from all this by the dear blood of the Son of God, should by faith train and accustom ourselves to despise death and to regard it as a deep, strong, and sweet sleep, to regard the coffin as nothing but paradise and the bosom of our Lord Christ, and the grave as nothing but a soft couch or sofa, which it really is in the sight of God; for he says, John 11[:11], “Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep,” and Matthew 9[:24], “The girl is not dead but sleeping.”

Thus, too, St. Paul in I Corinthians 15[:42–44] bans from his sight every ugly aspect of death in our mortal body and brings to the fore a wholly delightful and joyous picture of life when he says: “What is sown is perishable, what is raised is imperishable. . . . It is sown in weakness, it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body.”

—Martin Luther

[Elihu Asserts God's Justice]

<sup>10</sup>“Therefore, hear me, you men
of understanding:

far be it from God that he should do wickedness, and from the Almighty
that he should do wrong.

<sup>11</sup>For according to the work of a man
he will repay him,
and according to his ways
he will make it befall him.

<sup>12</sup>Of a truth, God will not do wickedly, and the Almighty will not pervert
justice.

<sup>13</sup>Who gave him charge over the earth,
and who laid on him the whole world?

<sup>14</sup>If he should set his heart to it and gather to himself his spirit
and his breath,

<sup>15</sup>all flesh would perish together,
and man would return to dust.

<sup>16</sup>“If you have understanding, hear this;
listen to what I say.

<sup>17</sup>Shall one who hates justice govern?
Will you condemn him
who is righteous and mighty,

<sup>18</sup>who says to a king, ‘Worthless one,’
and to nobles, ‘Wicked man,’

<sup>19</sup>who shows no partiality to princes,
nor regards the rich more than the poor,
for they are all the work of his hands?

<sup>20</sup>In a moment they die;
at midnight the people are shaken
and pass away,
and the mighty are taken away
by no human hand.

<sup>21</sup>“For his eyes are on the ways of a man, and he sees all his steps.

<sup>22</sup>There is no gloom or deep darkness
where evildoers may hide themselves.

<sup>23</sup>For God has no need to consider a man further,
that he should go before God
in judgment.

<sup>24</sup>He shatters the mighty without investigation and sets others in their place.

<sup>25</sup>Thus, knowing their works,
he overturns them in the night,
and they are crushed.

<sup>26</sup>He strikes them for their wickedness
in a place for all to see, <sup>27</sup>because they turned aside from following him
and had no regard for any of his ways, <sup>28</sup>so that they caused the cry of the poor
to come to him,
and he heard the cry of the afflicted—

<sup>29</sup>When he is quiet, who can condemn?
When he hides his face,
who can behold him,
whether it be a nation or a man?—

<sup>30</sup>that a godless man should not reign, that he should not ensnare the people.

<sup>31</sup>“For has anyone said to God,
‘I have borne punishment;
I will not offend any more;
<sup>32</sup>teach me what I do not see;
if I have done iniquity,
I will do it no more?’

<sup>33</sup>Will he then make repayment to suit you, because you reject it?
For you must choose, and not I;
therefore declare what you know.”

New Testament Reading: John 11:17–37

I Am the Resurrection and the Life

<sup>17</sup>Now when Jesus came, he found that Lazarus had already been in the tomb four days. <sup>18</sup>Bethany was near Jerusalem, about two miles off, <sup>19</sup>and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary to console them concerning their brother. <sup>20</sup>So when Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went and met him, but Mary remained seated in the house. <sup>21</sup>Martha said to Jesus, “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. <sup>22</sup>But even now I know that whatever you ask from God, God will give you.” <sup>23</sup>Jesus said to her, “Your brother will rise again.” <sup>24</sup>Martha said to him, “I know that he will rise again in the resurrection on the last day.” <sup>25</sup>Jesus said to her, “I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, <sup>26</sup>and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never die. Do you believe this?” <sup>27</sup>She said to him, “Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world.”

Jesus Weeps

<sup>28</sup>When she had said this, she went and called her sister Mary, saying in private, “The Teacher is here and is calling for you.” <sup>29</sup>And when she heard it, she rose quickly and went to him. <sup>30</sup>Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha had met him. <sup>31</sup>When the Jews who were with her in the house, consoling her, saw Mary rise quickly and go out, they followed her, supposing that she was going to the tomb to weep there. <sup>32</sup>Now when Mary came to where Jesus was and saw him, she fell at his feet, saying to him, “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.” <sup>33</sup>When Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come with her also weeping, he was deeply moved in his spirit and greatly troubled. <sup>34</sup>And he said, “Where have you laid him?” They said to him, “Lord, come and see.” <sup>35</sup>Jesus wept. <sup>36</sup>So the Jews said, “See how he loved him!” <sup>37</sup>But some of them said, “Could not he who opened the eyes of the blind man also have kept this man from dying?”

Writing

John adds this point also: “In Him was life, and the life was the light of men” (John 1:4). Therefore, this person of the Deity in whom was the life and light of men, even before the Fall, was sent for the work of our redemption. For when we were alienated from the life of God through the Fall (Eph. 4:18), and when death through sin had come upon all men (Rom. 5:12), we could not be rescued from death and restored to life except through Him in whom was life, who was the very Word of life and life itself (1 John 1:1–2); and this has made sure our faith that truly and powerfully we are freed from death through Christ and led to eternal life, because in Him was life, for He is life itself. Therefore, he who believes in Him, though he were dead, shall live (John 11:25). And he who has the Son has eternal life; for life itself is in the Son (1 John 5:11). These points, when piously considered, are full of comfort.

—Martin Chemnitz

See now the threatening strong one disarmed!
Jesus breaks down all the walls of death’s
fortress,
Brings forth the pris’ners triumphant,
unharméd.

Satan, you wicked one, own now your master!
Jesus has come! He, the mighty Redeemer!

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, by Your great goodness mercifully look upon Your people that we may be governed and preserved evermore in body and soul; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (L27)

Elihu Extols God's Greatness

<sup>2</sup>“Bear with me a little, and I will show you,
for I have yet something to say on God's behalf.

<sup>3</sup>I will get my knowledge from afar
and ascribe righteousness
to my Maker.

<sup>4</sup>For truly my words are not false;
one who is perfect in knowledge
is with you.

<sup>5</sup>“Behold, God is mighty,
and does not despise any;
he is mighty in strength
of understanding.

<sup>6</sup>He does not keep the wicked alive,
but gives the afflicted their right.

<sup>7</sup>He does not withdraw his eyes
from the righteous,
but with kings on the throne
he sets them forever,
and they are exalted.

<sup>8</sup>And if they are bound in chains
and caught in the cords of affliction,

<sup>9</sup>then he declares to them their work
and their transgressions,
that they are behaving arrogantly.

<sup>10</sup>He opens their ears to instruction and commands that they return from iniquity.

<sup>11</sup>If they listen and serve him,
they complete their days
in prosperity,
and their years in pleasantness.

<sup>12</sup>But if they do not listen,
they perish by the sword
and die without knowledge.

<sup>13</sup>“The godless in heart cherish anger;

they do not cry for help
when he binds them.

<sup>14</sup>They die in youth,
and their life ends
among the cult prostitutes.

<sup>15</sup>He delivers the afflicted
by their affliction
and opens their ear by adversity.

<sup>16</sup>He also allured you out of distress into a broad place where there was no cramping,
and what was set on your table
was full of fatness.

<sup>17</sup>“But you are full of the judgment
on the wicked;
judgment and justice seize you.

<sup>18</sup>Beware lest wrath entice you into scoffing,
and let not the greatness of the ransom turn you aside.

<sup>19</sup>Will your cry for help avail to keep you from distress,
or all the force of your strength?

<sup>20</sup>Do not long for the night,
when peoples vanish in their place.

<sup>21</sup>Take care; do not turn to iniquity,
for this you have chosen
rather than affliction.”

New Testament Reading: John 11:38–57

Jesus Raises Lazarus

<sup>38</sup>Then Jesus, deeply moved again, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone lay against it. <sup>39</sup>Jesus said, “Take away the stone.” Martha, the sister of the dead man, said to him, “Lord, by this time there will be an odor, for he has been dead four days.”

<sup>40</sup>Jesus said to her, “Did I not tell you that if you believed you would see the glory of God?” <sup>41</sup>So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes and said, “Father, I thank you that you have heard me. <sup>42</sup>I knew that you always hear me, but I said this on account of the people standing around, that they may believe that you sent me.” <sup>43</sup>When he had said these things, he cried out with a loud voice, “Lazarus, come out.” <sup>44</sup>The man who had died came out, his hands and feet bound with linen strips, and his face wrapped with a cloth. Jesus said to them, “Unbind him, and let him go.”

The Plot to Kill Jesus

<sup>45</sup>Many of the Jews therefore, who had come with Mary and had seen what he did, believed in him, <sup>46</sup>but some of them went to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had done. <sup>47</sup>So the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered the Council and said, “What are we to do? For this man performs many signs. <sup>48</sup>If we let him go on like this, everyone will believe in him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation.” <sup>49</sup>But one of them, Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, said to them, “You know nothing at all. <sup>50</sup>Nor do you understand that it is better for you that one man should die for the people, not that the whole nation should perish.” <sup>51</sup>He did not say this of his own accord, but being high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation, <sup>52</sup>and not for the nation only, but also to gather into one the children of God who are scattered abroad. <sup>53</sup>So from that day on they made plans to put him to death.

<sup>54</sup>Jesus therefore no longer walked openly among the Jews, but went from there to the region near the wilderness, to a town called Ephraim, and there he stayed with the disciples.

<sup>55</sup>Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand, and many went up from the country to Jerusalem before the Passover to purify themselves. <sup>56</sup>They were looking for Jesus and saying to one another as they stood in the temple, “What do you think? That he will not come to the feast at all?” <sup>57</sup>Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that if anyone knew where he was, he should let them know, so that they might arrest him.

Writing

The Second Article

And [I believe] in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried. He descended into hell. The third day He rose again from the dead. He ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty. From thence He will come to judge the living and the dead.

What does this mean? I believe that Jesus Christ, true God, begotten of the Father from eternity, and also true man, born of the Virgin Mary, is my Lord, who has redeemed me, a lost and condemned person, purchased and won me from all sins, from death, and from the power of the devil; not with gold or silver, but with His holy, precious blood and with His innocent suffering and death, that I may be His own and live under Him in His kingdom and serve Him in everlasting righteousness, innocence, and blessedness, just as He is risen from the dead, lives and reigns to all eternity.

This is most certainly true.

The Third Article

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy Christian church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

What does this mean? I believe that I cannot by my own reason or strength believe in Jesus Christ, my Lord, or come to Him; but the Holy Spirit has called me by the Gospel, enlightened me with His gifts, sanctified and kept me in the true faith.

In the same way He calls, gathers, enlightens, and sanctifies the whole Christian church on earth, and keeps it with Jesus Christ in the one true faith.

In this Christian church He daily and richly forgives all my sins and the sins of all believers.

On the Last Day He will raise me and all the dead, and give eternal life to me and all believers in Christ.

This is most certainly true.

—Martin Luther

Sing with all the saints in glory,
Sing the resurrection song!
Death and sorrow, earth's dark story,
To the former days belong.
All around the clouds are breaking;
Soon the storms of time shall cease;
In God's likeness we awaken,
Knowing everlasting peace.

Prayer of the Day

Lord Jesus Christ, You raised Lazarus from the dead, giving us a glimpse of Your glorious resurrection, where You showed us what we will someday be and what we already are now through the waters of Holy Baptism. Even in the darkest hours of our lives, let the light of Your resurrection shine with the brightness of Your glory; for You live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1153)

Elihu Proclaims God's Majesty

- <sup>1</sup>“At this also my heart trembles
and leaps out of its place.
- <sup>2</sup>Keep listening to the thunder of his voice and the rumbling that comes from his mouth.
- <sup>3</sup>Under the whole heaven he lets it go,
and his lightning to the corners
of the earth.
- <sup>4</sup>After it his voice roars;
he thunders with his majestic voice,
and he does not restrain the lightnings
when his voice is heard.
- <sup>5</sup>God thunders wondrously with his voice;
he does great things
that we cannot comprehend.
- <sup>6</sup>For to the snow he says, ‘Fall on the earth,’

Mary Anoints Jesus at Bethany

- <sup>1</sup>Six days before the Passover, Jesus
therefore came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus had raised from the dead.
<sup>2</sup>So they gave a dinner for him there. Martha served, and Lazarus was one of those reclining with him at table. <sup>3</sup>Mary therefore took a pound of expensive ointment made from pure nard, and anointed the feet of Jesus and wiped his feet with her hair. The house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume. <sup>4</sup>But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples (he who was about to betray him), said, <sup>5</sup>“Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?” <sup>6</sup>He said this, not because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief, and having charge of the moneybag he used to help himself to what was put into it. <sup>7</sup>Jesus said, “Leave her alone, so that she may keep it for the day of my burial. <sup>8</sup>For the poor you always have with you, but you do not always have me.”

The Plot to Kill Lazarus

<sup>9</sup>When the large crowd of the Jews learned that Jesus was there, they came, not only on account of him but also to see Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead. <sup>10</sup>So the chief priests made plans to put Lazarus to death as well, <sup>11</sup>because on account of him many of the Jews were going away and believing in Jesus.

The Triumphal Entry

<sup>12</sup>The next day the large crowd that had come to the feast heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>So they took branches of palm trees and went out to meet him, crying out, “Hosanna! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel!” <sup>14</sup>And Jesus found a young donkey and sat on it, just as it is written,

<sup>15</sup>“Fear not, daughter of Zion;
 behold, your king is coming,
 sitting on a donkey’s colt!”

<sup>16</sup>His disciples did not understand these things at first, but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things had been written about him and had been done to him. <sup>17</sup>The crowd that had been with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the dead continued to bear witness. <sup>18</sup>The reason why the crowd went to meet him was that they heard he had done this sign. <sup>19</sup>So the Pharisees said to one another, “You see that you are gaining nothing. Look, the world has gone after him.”

There are certain sacraments [rites] in the Church and, although salvation does not depend on them principally, yet salvation is increased from them according as devotion is exercised. Although all these cannot be enumerated at present, nevertheless we should not omit certain ones as examples of all. So of these sacraments some consist of such things as the water of aspersion, the reception of ashes, the blessing of branches and of candles, and other such things. Now others consist of deeds such as the sign of the cross, the blowing of exorcization, the spreading of the hands, the bending of the knees, and other acts of this kind. Others consist of words, like the invocation of the Trinity and whatever else is done in this manner. Now all these things are sanctified by the word of God, whether they are sanctified through the utterance of words by invoking divine power or receive the effect of sanctification through the same divine power by the exhibiting of faith alone. For where there is true faith, the word of God cannot be lacking, since the word itself is conceived by faith and operates through faith.

Ecclesiastical custom also has it that, on the Sunday which is next before the Paschal feast, the branches of palms and the foliage of trees be blessed and distributed to the people, to carry as those did, who while singing and praising with branches of palms and flourishing foliage of trees met the Lord Jesus on the same days as He ascended to Jerusalem. Thus not only is it proposed that this must be done by us corporeally as they did it corporeally, but rather this is signified, that either in that or in this corporeal deed there must be spiritual imitation. For the palm is the sign of victory but the flourishing branches signify good works. So then we meet Christ in an act of praise with branches of palms and foliage, when we praise Him with good works and with action worthy of graces as the triumpher over death.

—Hugh of Saint Victor

Some Greeks Seek Jesus

<sup>20</sup>Now among those who went up to worship at the feast were some Greeks.
<sup>21</sup>So these came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and asked him, “Sir, we wish to see Jesus.” <sup>22</sup>Philip went and told Andrew; Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus. <sup>23</sup>And Jesus answered them, “The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. <sup>24</sup>Truly, truly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit. <sup>25</sup>Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life. <sup>26</sup>If anyone serves me, he must follow me; and where I am, there will my servant be also. If anyone serves me, the Father will honor him.

The Son of Man Must Be Lifted Up

<sup>27</sup>“Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? ‘Father, save me from this hour’? But for this purpose I have come to this hour. <sup>28</sup>Father, glorify your name.” Then a voice came from heaven: “I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again.” <sup>29</sup>The crowd that stood there and heard it said that it had thundered. Others said, “An angel has spoken to him.” <sup>30</sup>Jesus answered, “This voice has come for your sake, not mine. <sup>31</sup>Now is the judgment of this world; now will the ruler of this world be cast out. <sup>32</sup>And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to myself.”

<sup>33</sup>He said this to show by what kind of death he was going to die. <sup>34</sup>So the crowd answered him, “We have heard from the Law that the Christ remains forever. How can you say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of Man?” <sup>35</sup>So Jesus said to them, “The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. <sup>36</sup>While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light.”

Writing

[Holy Communion] is a promise of the forgiveness of sins made to us by God, and such a promise as has been confirmed by the death of the Son of God. For the only difference between a promise and a testament is that the testament involves the death of the one who makes it. A testator is a promiser who is about to die, while a promiser (if I may put it thus) is a testator who is not about to die. This testament of Christ is foreshadowed in all the promises of God from the beginning of the world; indeed, whatever value those ancient promises possessed was altogether derived from this new promise that was to come in Christ. Hence the words “compact,” “covenant,” and “testament of the Lord” occur so frequently in the Scriptures. These words signified that God would one day die. “For where there is a testament, the death of the testator must of necessity occur” (Heb. 9[16]). Now God made a testament; therefore, it was necessary that he should die. But God could not die unless he became man. Thus the incarnation and the death of Christ are both comprehended most concisely in this one word, “testament.” . . .

[Access to God’s promise is] gained, not with any works, or powers, or merits of one’s own, but by faith alone. For where there is the Word of the promising God, there must necessarily be the faith of the accepting man. It is plain therefore, that the beginning of our salvation is a faith which clings to the Word of the promising God, who, without any effort on our part, in free and unmerited mercy takes the initiative and offers us the word of his promise.

<sup>18</sup>His bones are tubes of bronze,
his limbs like bars of iron.

<sup>19</sup>“He is the first of the works of God;
let him who made him
bring near his sword!

<sup>20</sup>For the mountains yield food for him
where all the wild beasts play.

<sup>21</sup>Under the lotus plants he lies, in the shelter of the reeds
and in the marsh.

<sup>22</sup>For his shade the lotus trees cover him;
the willows of the brook
surround him.

<sup>23</sup>Behold, if the river is turbulent
he is not frightened;
he is confident though Jordan rushes
against his mouth.

<sup>24</sup>Can one take him by his eyes,
or pierce his nose with a snare?”

New Testament Reading: John 12:36b–50

The Unbelief of the People

When Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them.

<sup>37</sup>Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him, <sup>38</sup>so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled:

“Lord, who has believed
what he heard from us,
and to whom has the arm
of the Lord been revealed?”

<sup>39</sup>Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said, <sup>40</sup>“He has blinded their eyes

and hardened their heart,
lest they see with their eyes,

and understand with their heart,
and turn,
and I would heal them.”

<sup>41</sup>Isaiah said these things because he saw his glory and spoke of him. <sup>42</sup>Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; <sup>43</sup>for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God.

Jesus Came to Save the World

<sup>44</sup>And Jesus cried out and said, “Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. <sup>45</sup>And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. <sup>46</sup>I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. <sup>47</sup>If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. <sup>48</sup>The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. <sup>49</sup>For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. <sup>50</sup>And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me.”

Writing

To know how we obtain our justification, it is expedient to consider, first, how miscreant and sinful we, who are Adam’s kindred, all are; and in contrast, what mercifulness is in God, who pardons all the offenses of all faithful and penitent sinners for Christ’s sake. No person who has ever heard of the fall of Adam, which infected all his posterity, is lightly ignorant of these two things. Nor should anyone be casually ignorant of the inexplicable mercy of our heavenly Father, who sent His only-begotten Son to suffer His most grievous Passion for us and shed His most precious blood as the price of our re-demption. But it is greatly to be wished and desired that as all Christian people know this, so also that every person might acknowledge and undoubtedly believe it to be true and verified. Thus he may both humble himself toward God and also know himself to be a miserable sinner not worthy to be called His son, and yet surely trust that God's mercy is ready to forgive all those who are repentant. And the person who does not see these two things verified in himself can take no manner of due payment and profit by acknowledging and believing these things to be verified in others. But we cannot satisfy our minds, or settle our consciences, that these things are true, unless we see that God's Word so teaches this to us.

—Thomas Cranmer

Prayer of the Day

O God and Ruler over all our foes of body and soul, You strengthened Your servants Perpetua and Felicitas, giving them a confident and clear confession in the face of roaring beasts. Grant that we who remember their faithful martyrdom may share in their blessed assurance of victory over all earthly and spiritual enemies and hold fast to the promise of everlasting life secured for us through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. (1154)

Perpetua and Felicitas, Martyrs

At the beginning of the third century, the Roman emperor Septimus Severus forbade conversions to Christianity. Among those disobeying that edict were Perpetua, a young noblewoman, and her maidservant Felicitas. Both were jailed at Carthage in North Africa along with three fellow Christians. During their imprisonment, Perpetua and Felicitas witnessed to their faith with such conviction that the officer in charge became a follower of Jesus. After making arrangements for the well-being of their children, Perpetua and Felicitas were executed on March 7, 203. Tradition holds that Perpetua showed mercy to her captors by falling on a sword because they could not bear to put her to death. The story of this martyrdom has been told ever since as an encouragement to persecuted Christians.

Jesus Washes the Disciples' Feet

<sup>1</sup>Now before the Feast of the Passover, when Jesus knew that his hour had come to depart out of this world to the Father, having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end. <sup>2</sup>During supper, when the devil had already put it into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him, <sup>3</sup>Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he had come from God and was going back to God, <sup>4</sup>rose from supper. He laid aside his outer garments, and taking a towel, tied it around his waist. <sup>5</sup>Then he poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet and to wipe them with the towel that was wrapped around him. <sup>6</sup>He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Lord, do you wash my feet?" <sup>7</sup>Jesus answered him, "What I am doing you do not understand now, but afterward you will understand." <sup>8</sup>Peter said to him, "You shall never wash my feet." Jesus answered him, "If I do not wash you, you have no share with me." <sup>9</sup>Simon Peter said to him, "Lord, not my feet only but also my hands and my head!" <sup>10</sup>Jesus said to him, "The one who has bathed does not need to wash, except for his feet, but is completely clean. And you are clean, but not every one of you." <sup>11</sup>For he knew who was to betray him; that was why he said, "Not all of you are clean."

<sup>12</sup>When he had washed their feet and put on his outer garments and resumed his place, he said to them, "Do you understand what I have done to you? <sup>13</sup>You call me Teacher and Lord, and you are right, for so I am. <sup>14</sup>If I then, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet. <sup>15</sup>For I have given you an example, that you also should do just as I have done to you. <sup>16</sup>Truly, truly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. <sup>17</sup>If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them. <sup>18</sup>I am not speaking of all of you; I know whom I have chosen. But the Scripture will be fulfilled, 'He who ate my bread has lifted his heel against me.' <sup>19</sup>I am telling you this now, before it takes place, that when it does take place you may believe that I am he. <sup>20</sup>Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever receives the one I send receives me, and whoever receives me receives the one who sent me."

Writing

No other creature—neither man nor angel—can or shall say, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to Me" [Matthew 28:18]. For although God is in the saints with all the fullness of His Godhead that He has everywhere with Himself, He does not dwell in them bodily. Nor is He personally united with them as in Christ. . . . Christ says, even according to His human nature, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to Me” (Matthew 28:18). Also John 13:3 says, “Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands.” Also Colossians 2:9 says, “For in Him the whole fullness of deity dwells bodily.” Also Scripture says, “You have crowned Him with glory and honor, putting everything in subjection under His feet. Now in putting everything in subjection to Him, He left nothing outside His control” (Hebrews 2:7–8[; see also Psalm 8:6]). “He is excepted who put all things in subjection under Him” (1 Corinthians 15:27). . . .

God the Father has given His Spirit to Christ, His beloved Son, according to the received humanity. (Because of this He is called also Messiah; i.e., the Anointed.) He has not received His gifts with limits as other saints. For on Christ the Lord, according to His received human nature, rests “the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and might, the Spirit of knowledge & the fear of the LORD” (Isaiah 11:2; see also Colossians 2:3; Isaiah 61:1). (According to His divinity, He is of one essence with the Holy Spirit.) This not in such a way that, as a man, He knew and could do only some things, like other saints know and can do things by God’s Spirit, who works in them only created gifts. According to His divinity, Christ is the Second Person in the Holy Trinity. And from Him, as also from the Father, the Holy Spirit proceeds [John 15:26]. So the Spirit is and remains Christ’s [1 Peter 1:11] and the Father’s own Spirit to all eternity, not separated from God’s Son.

Job's Confession and Repentance

<sup>2</sup>"I know that you can do all things, and that no purpose of yours can be thwarted.

Therefore I have uttered what I did not understand, things too wonderful for me, which I did not know.

<sup>4</sup>Hear, and I will speak; I will question you, and you make it known to me.'

<sup>5</sup>I had heard of you by the hearing of the ear, but now my eye sees you;

The Lord Rebukes Job's Friends

<sup>7</sup>After the Lord had spoken these words to Job, the Lord said to Eliphaz the Temanite: "My anger burns against you and against your two friends, for you have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has. <sup>8</sup>Now therefore take seven bulls and seven rams and go to my servant Job and offer up a burnt offering for yourselves. And my servant Job shall pray for you, for I will accept his prayer not to deal with you according to your folly. For you have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has." <sup>9</sup>So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went and did what the Lord had told them, and the Lord accepted Job's prayer.

The Lord Restores Job's Fortunes

<sup>10</sup>And the Lord restored the fortunes of Job, when he had prayed for his friends. And the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before. <sup>11</sup>Then came to him all his brothers and sisters and all who had known him before, and ate bread with him in his house. And they showed him sympathy and comforted him for all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him. And each of them gave him a piece of money and a ring of gold.

<sup>12</sup>And the Lord blessed the latter days of Job more than his beginning. And he had 14,000 sheep, 6,000 camels, 1,000 yoke of oxen, and 1,000 female donkeys. <sup>13</sup>He had also seven sons and three daughters. <sup>14</sup>And he called the name of the first daughter Jemimah, and the name of the second Keziah, and the name of the third Kerenhappuch. <sup>15</sup>And in all the land there were no women so beautiful as Job's daughters. And their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers. <sup>16</sup>And after this Job lived 140 years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, four generations. <sup>17</sup>And Job died, an old man, and full of days.

New Testament Reading: John 13:21–38

One of You Will Betray Me

<sup>21</sup>After saying these things, Jesus was troubled in his spirit, and testified, “Truly, truly, I say to you, one of you will betray me.” <sup>22</sup>The disciples looked at one another, uncertain of whom he spoke. <sup>23</sup>One of his disciples, whom Jesus loved, was reclining at table close to Jesus, <sup>24</sup>so Simon Peter motioned to him to ask Jesus of whom he was speaking. <sup>25</sup>So that disciple, leaning back against Jesus, said to him, “Lord, who is it?” <sup>26</sup>Jesus answered, “It is he to whom I will give this morsel of bread when I have dipped it.” So when he had dipped the morsel, he gave it to Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot. <sup>27</sup>Then after he had taken the morsel, Satan entered into him. Jesus said to him, “What you are going to do, do quickly.” <sup>28</sup>Now no one at the table knew why he said this to him. <sup>29</sup>Some thought that, because Judas had the moneybag, Jesus was telling him, “Buy what we need for the feast,” or that he should give something to the poor. <sup>30</sup>So, after receiving the morsel of bread, he immediately went out. And it was night.

A New Commandment

<sup>31</sup>When he had gone out, Jesus said, “Now is the Son of Man glorified, and God is glorified in him. <sup>32</sup>If God is glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself, and glorify him at once. <sup>33</sup>Little children, yet a little while I am with you. You will seek me, and just as I said to the Jews, so now I also say to you, ‘Where I am going you cannot come.’ <sup>34</sup>A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another. <sup>35</sup>By this all people will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another.”

Jesus Foretells Peter’s Denial

<sup>36</sup>Simon Peter said to him, “Lord, where are you going?” Jesus answered him, “Where I am going you cannot follow me now, but you will follow afterward.” <sup>37</sup>Peter said to him, “Lord, why can I not follow you now? I will lay down my life for you.” <sup>38</sup>Jesus answered, “Will you lay down your life for me? Truly, truly, I say to you, the rooster will not crow till you have denied me three times.”

Writing

But to what purpose is all this but that Job might understand (for this instruction was divinely inspired into him, that he might foreknow Christ’s coming to suffer)? That he might understand how patiently he ought to endure all that he went through, since Christ, though when He became man for us was absolutely without sin and though as God He possessed great power, did not refuse to obey, even to the suffering of death? When Job understood this with a purer intensity of heart, he added to his own answer these words: “I used before now to hear of You by the hearing of the ear; but behold now my eye sees You; therefore I abhor myself and melt away and account myself but dust and ashes.” Why was he thus so deeply displeased with himself? God’s work, in that he was man, could not rightly have given him displeasure, since it is even said to God Himself, “Do not despise the work of Your own hands.” It was indeed in view of that righteousness, in which he had discovered his own unrighteousness, that he abhorred himself and melted away and deemed himself dust and ashes—beholding, as he did in his mind, the righteousness of Christ, in whom there could not possibly be any sin, not only in respect of His divinity but also of His soul and His flesh. It was also in view of this righteousness which is of God that the apostle Paul, though as “touching the righteousness which is of the law he was blameless,” yet “counted all things” not only as loss but even as dung.

—Augustine

5 FEBRUARYJacob (Israel), PatriarchWriting for Jacob (Israel), Patriarch

In Jacob, let us imitate the type of Christ. Let there be some likeness of his actions in ourselves. We shall have our share with him, if we imitate him. He was obedient to his mother; he yielded to his brother; he served his father-in-law; he sought his wages from the increase, not from a division of the flocks. There was no covetous division, where his portion brought such gain. Nor was that sign without a purpose, the ladder from earth to heaven, wherein was seen the future fellowship between men and angels through the cross of Christ, whose thigh was paralyzed, that in his thigh he might recognize the Heir of his body and foretell by the paralyzing of his thigh the suffering of his Heir.

—Ambrose

Jacob (Israel), Patriarch

Jacob, the third of the three Hebrew patriarchs, was the younger of the twin sons of Isaac and Rebekah. After wrestling with the Angel of the Lord, Jacob, whose name means “deceiver,” was renamed Israel, which means “he strives with God” (Genesis 25:26; 32:28). His family life was filled with trouble, caused by his acts of deception toward his father and his brother, Esau, and his parental favoritism toward his son Joseph (see 31 March). Much of his adult life was spent grieving over the death of his beloved wife Rachel and the presumed death of Joseph, who had been appointed by the Egyptian pharaoh to be in charge of food distribution during a time of famine in the land. Prior to Jacob’s death, through the blessing of his sons, God gave the promise that the Messiah would come through the line of Jacob’s fourth son, Judah (Genesis 49).

10 FEBRUARYSilas, Fellow Worker of St. Peter and St. PaulWriting for Silas, Fellow Worker of St. Peter and St. Paul

“And receiving,” it says, “a commandment from Paul, to Silas and Timothy, to come with all speed, they departed.” For though he was Paul, nevertheless he needed them. And with good reason God urges them to go into Macedonia, for there lay Greece shining brightly before them.

See what zeal the rest of the disciples showed with respect to their leaders: not as it is now with us, who are separated and divided into great and small, some of us exalted, while others are envious. For this is the reason why some are envious, because we are puffed up, because we will not endure to be put upon a par with them. The reason why there is harmony in our physical body is because there is no puffing up, and there is no puffing up because the members stand in need of one another. The head has need of the feet. And God has made this to be the case with us, but, for all that, we will not endure it. Do you not hear how those outside the Church accuse us, say, “Necessity makes friendships”? The laity have need of us, and we exist for them. Since teacher or ruler would not exist if there were not persons to be taught, nor would he perform his part, for it would not be possible. . . . Nobody is able to do anything alone. . . . For instance, the poor need givers; the givers need receivers. “Consider how to encourage one another to love and good works.” (Hebrews 10:24). This is why the assembly of the whole Church has more power. What each cannot do by himself alone, he is able to do when joined with the rest. Therefore it is absolutely necessary that the prayers are offered up, here, for the world, for the Church, from one end of the earth to the other, for peace, for those who are in adversities.

—John Chrysostom

Silas, Fellow Worker with Paul

Silas, a leader in the Church at Jerusalem, was chosen by Paul (Acts 15:40) to accompany him on his second missionary journey from Antioch to Asia Minor and Macedonia. Silas, also known as Silvanus, was imprisoned with Paul in Philippi and experienced the riots in Thessalonica and Berea. After rejoining Paul in Corinth, Silas apparently remained there for an extended time. Beyond that there is little further mention of Silas and his association with Paul.

13 FEBRUARY

Aquila, Priscilla, Apollos

Writing for Aquila, Priscilla, Apollos

The Holy Spirit is given in a twofold way. First in a concealed manner, then openly, as He was granted to Cornelius and Apollos—about whom we read in Acts 10, 18, and 19—who searched so diligently. And in this way every one of the saints feels the first fruits of the Spirit. For they are happy. Their thoughts and words about Christ are the best, and they take pleasure in Him. They love Him. To them the Word is a joy, and this does not happen without the Holy Spirit. Therefore every Christian has the Holy Spirit, no matter how great and how little that may be. The fact that he fears death, that he feels disturbances—this he has from the flesh. But the fact that he becomes a partaker of peace and quiet—this is not born in us. To love Christ, to confess Christ, and to take pleasure in Him—this does not happen without the Holy Spirit. To confess the faith, to bear the hatred of the world, to undergo exile and death—all this is proof of the Spirit.

—Martin Luther

Aquila, Priscilla, Apollos

Aquila and his wife, Priscilla (Prisca), Jewish contemporaries of St. Paul, traveled widely. Because of persecution in Rome, they went to Corinth where they met the apostle Paul, who joined them in their trade of tentmaking (Acts 18:1–3). In turn, they joined Paul in his mission of proclaiming the Christian Gospel. The couple later traveled with Paul from Corinth to Ephesus (Acts 18:18), where the two of them established a home that served as hospitality headquarters for new converts to Christianity. Apollos was one of their numerous Jewish pupils in the faith. An eloquent man, Apollos, “being fervent in spirit . . . spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus” (Acts 18:25). He later traveled from Corinth to the province of Achaia, “showing by the Scriptures that the Christ was Jesus” (Acts 18:28). Aquila, Priscilla, and Apollos are all remembered and honored for their great missionary zeal.

Valentine, Martyr

Writing for Valentine, Martyr

For there are two loves from which proceed all desires, as different in quality as they are different in their sources. For the reasonable soul, which cannot exist without love, loves either God or the world. In the love of God there is no excess, but in the love of the world all is hurtful. And therefore we must cling inseparably to eternal treasures, but we must use temporal things like those who are just passing by and as sojourners hastening to return to our own land. All the good things of this world that meet us on our journey may be used to help us on our way, but must not become snares to detain us. Therefore the blessed apostle makes this proclamation, “The time is short: it remains that those who have wives be as though they had none; and those who weep, as though they wept not; and those who rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those who buy, as though they possessed not; and those that use this world, as though they used it not. For the things of this world are passing away.” But the world attracts us with its appearance and abundance and variety, so it is not easy to turn away unless we love the beauty of the Creator in the visible things around us. For when He says, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your mind, and with all your strength,” He wants us, in seeing the things around us, to grow stronger in our love for Him. And when He links the love of our neighbor to this command, He commands us to imitate His own goodness, that we should love what He loves and do what He does. For though we are “God’s field and God’s building,” and “neither is the one who plants anything, nor he who waters, but God who gives the increase,” yet in all things He requires our ministry and service and wants us to be the stewards of His gifts, that he who bears God’s image may do God’s will. For this reason, in the Lord’s Prayer we say most devoutly, “Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.” For what else do we ask for in these words but that God may subdue those whom He has not yet subdued, and as in heaven He makes the angels ministers of His will, so also on earth He may make men his servants? And in seeking this, we love God and also our neighbor; and the love within us has but one Object, since we desire the bond servant to serve and the Lord to rule.

Valentine, Martyr

A physician and priest living in Rome during the rule of Emperor Claudius, Valentine became one of the noted martyrs of the third century. The commemoration of his death, which occurred in AD 270, became part of the calendar of remembrance in the Early Church of the West. Tradition suggests that on the day of his execution for his Christian faith, Valentine left a note of encouragement for a child of his jailer written on an irregularly shaped piece of paper. This greeting became a pattern for millions of written expressions of love and caring that now are the highlight of Valentine's Day in many nations.

Writing for Philemon and Onesimus

We should know that there must be a public ministry of the Gospel and public assemblies, as we are taught in Ephesians 4:10–12. And this assembly we must join; of this visible assembly we must be citizens and members, as the psalmist commands us: “Lord, I have loved the habitation of Your house, and the place where Your glory dwells” (Psalm 26:8); and again: “How lovely is Your tabernacle, O Lord of hosts!” (Psalm 84:1). These and similar passages do not speak of a Platonic idea, but are talking about the visible church, in which the voice of the Gospel resounds and where there is witnessed the ministry of the Gospel. And thus God reveals Himself and is efficacious. And we should not praise those vagabonds who roam about and join no congregation because they cannot find an ideal [church] in which there is not something lacking in morals and discipline. We should rather seek the church in which the articles of faith are taught purely and no idolatry is defended. That church we should join, hear, and love its doctrine as we unite our intercession and confession with their prayers and confession. We should also learn to support it in order that it may not be devastated. For where there are no assemblies, there the voice of the Gospel becomes silent. So the Muslim tyrants in many places destroyed all churches and did not permit even their own people to assemble. We should recognize that such satanic devastations and dispersions are a dreadful and very great evil. Therefore, we should ask God that He may preserve His congregations, and we ourselves should support them with all our resources.

—Philip Melanchthon

Philemon and Onesimus

Philemon was a prominent first-century Christian who owned a slave named Onesimus. Although the name Onesimus means “useful,” Onesimus proved himself “useless” when he ran away from his master and perhaps even stole from him (Philemon 18). Somehow Onesimus came into contact with the apostle Paul while the latter was in prison (possibly in Rome), and through Paul's proclamation of the Gospel, he became a Christian. After confessing to the apostle that he was a runaway slave, Onesimus was directed by Paul to return to his master and become "useful" again. In order to help pave the way for Onesimus's peaceful return home, Paul sent him on his way with a letter addressed to Philemon, a letter in which he urged Philemon to forgive his slave for running away and to "receive him as you would receive me" (v. 17), "no longer as a slave but . . . as a beloved brother" (v. 16). The letter was eventually included by the Church as one of the books of the New Testament.

Philip Melancthon (birth), Confessor

Writing for Philip Melancthon, Confessor

I recognize the meagerness and insufficiency of my own writings. Although I am anxious to speak clearly and in proper language, yet it can happen—especially in so great a mountain of things and with so great need for brevity—that from time to time something may be said which is a little unclear or less than perfect. Therefore, I am not trying to evade the judgment of our churches. For I truly believe that they are the church of God, and with true godliness of mind I respect them, and I will not separate myself from them. I am submitting my words, my writings, and my actions to their judgment. I have often hoped that others who excel me in learning and judgment would share their counsel and their comparison of my statements about these matters and my forms of speaking. I have hoped that by their great authority they would produce such a work as would include in proper order the chief points of Christian doctrine. I would suggest that this ought to be of concern to godly and wise rulers, especially in such times of great confusion. But we see that the church is not ruled by the counsels of men.

Therefore, I pray to God, the everlasting Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, for the sake of His Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, whom He willed to be a sacrifice for us, both as a mediator and our suppliant. I pray that He would gather His church to Himself, rule and preserve it, guide the minds of those who teach and those who learn, aid their studies, and turn many to the truth and love of concord. Since Christ in His suffering prayed thus, let us join our prayers and our groanings to the prayer of our High Priest, who prayed, "Father, sanctify them in the truth; Your Word is truth." [John 17:17]. Do not allow the light of the truth to be extinguished, that is, the light of Your Gospel. And He adds, "That they may all be one, even as We are one," [v. 21] that they may first be joined with Us, and then be in harmony among themselves, and then work for the true peace of the church by performing their duties in a righteous manner.

—Philip Melancthon

Philip Melancthon, Confessor (birth date)

Philip Melancthon (1497–1560) was a brilliant student of the classics and a humanist scholar. In 1518, he was appointed to teach along with Martin Luther at the University of Wittenberg. At Luther's urging, Melancthon began teaching theology and Scripture in addition to his courses in classical studies. In April 1530, Emperor Charles V called an official meeting between the representatives of Lutheranism and Roman Catholicism, hoping to effect a meeting of minds between two opposing groups. Since Luther was at that time under papal excommunication and an imperial ban, Melancthon was assigned the duty of being the chief Lutheran representative at this meeting. He is especially remembered and honored as the author of the Augsburg Confession, which was officially presented by the German princes to the emperor on June 25, 1530, as the defining document of Lutheranism within Christendom. Melancthon died on April 19, 1560.

Martin Luther, Doctor and Confessor

Writing for Martin Luther, Doctor and Confessor

There is no other way—if we desire to possess Christ, to live and to rule with him in eternity, then suffering must first be endured.

Because this is so, why should we heed the rage and fury of such deadly powers, of whom Psalm 2[:4] says God in heaven laughs at them and holds them in derision.

If the eternal and omnipotent emperor whose name is God and who lives to all eternity mocks and derides them, why should we fear them, or mourn and weep? Truly, God does not mock them in his own defense.

He will always be the one dwelling in heaven no matter how they rage against him. But he mocks them to encourage us, so that we may take heart and bravely laugh at their onslaughts.

Therefore the only thing necessary for us to do is to believe and to pray most confidently in Christ's name that God will give us strength, since he has erected his kingdom and this is his doing. It is he who without our help, counsel, thought, or effort has brought his kingdom forth and has advanced and preserved it to this day. I have no doubt that he will consummate it without our advice or assistance. Because "I know in whom I believe," as St. Paul says [2 Tim. 1:12], I am certain that he will grant me more, do far more abundantly, and help and counsel us beyond all that we ask or think [Eph. 3:20]. He is called the Lord who can and will help in a wonderful, glorious, and mighty way, particularly when the need is the greatest. We are meant to be human beings, not divine. So let us take comfort in his word and, trusting his promise, call upon him confidently for deliverance in time of distress and he will help.

That is all there is to it; we have no alternative; otherwise, eternal unrest would be our reward. May God save us from that for the sake of his dear Son, our Savior and eternal Priest, Jesus Christ. Amen.

—Martin Luther

Martin Luther, Doctor and Confessor

Martin Luther, born on November 10, 1483, in Eisleben, Germany, initially began studies leading toward a degree in law. However, after a close encounter with death, he switched to the study of theology, entered an Augustinian monastery, was ordained a priest in 1505, and received a doctorate in theology in 1512. As a professor at the newly established University of Wittenberg, Luther's scriptural studies led him to question many of the Church's teachings and practices, especially the selling of indulgences. His refusal to back down from his convictions resulted in his excommunication in 1521. Following a period of seclusion at the Wartburg castle, Luther returned to Wittenberg, where he spent the rest of his life preaching and teaching, translating the Scriptures, and writing hymns and numerous theological treatises. He is remembered and honored for his lifelong emphasis on the biblical truth that for Christ's sake God declares us righteous by grace through faith alone. Luther died on February 18, 1546, while visiting the town of his birth.

Polycarp of Smyrna, Pastor and Martyr

Writing for Polycarp of Smyrna, Pastor and Martyr

As Polycarp entered the stadium, a voice from heaven came to him, saying, "Be strong, and show yourself a man, O Polycarp!" No one saw who it was that spoke to him, but our brothers who were there heard it. As he was brought forward, there was a great uproar in the crowd when they heard it was Polycarp. And when he came near, the proconsul asked him whether he was Polycarp. When he admitted he was, the proconsul tried to persuade him to deny Christ, saying, "Be mindful of your old age," and similar things, according to their custom, such as, "Swear by the fortune of Caesar; repent, and say, 'Away with the Atheists.'" But Polycarp, looking out on the crowds, with a very stern face, groaned and looked up to heaven and waved at the crowd of wicked heathen in the stadium and said, "Away with the Atheists!" Then, the proconsul urged him, saying, "Swear, and I will set you free! Reproach Christ!" Polycarp declared, "I have served Him for 86 years, and He never did me any injury. How then can I blaspheme my King and my Savior?" . . .

Then the proconsul said to him, "I have wild beasts here, and I'm going to throw you to them unless you repent." But he answered, "Call them then, for we are not used to repenting of what is good in order to adopt something evil. Besides, it is good for me to be changed from something evil into something that is righteous." But again the proconsul said to him, "I will have you burned alive, since you despise the wild beasts, unless you repent." But Polycarp said, "You threaten me with a fire that will burn for only an hour and then is put out, but you don't know about the fire of the judgment to come and the eternal punishment reserved for the ungodly. Why are you waiting? Go ahead, do what you need to do." . . .

They did not nail him to the stake, but simply tied him to it. He put his hands behind him, and being bound like a distinguished ram taken out of a great flock for sacrifice, and prepared to be an acceptable burnt-offering to God, Polycarp looked up to heaven and said, "O Lord God Almighty, the Father of Your beloved and blessed Son, Jesus Christ, by whom we have received the knowledge of You, the God of angels and powers and of every creature and of the whole race of the righteous who live before You, I give You thanks that You have counted me worthy of this day and this hour, that I should have a part in the number of Your martyrs, in the cup of Your Christ, to the resurrection of eternal life, both of soul and body, through the incorruption given by the Holy Spirit. May I be accepted among them this day before You as a fat and acceptable sacrifice, according as You, the ever-truthful God, have foreordained and have revealed beforehand to me and now have fulfilled. Therefore I praise You for all things. I bless You. I glorify You, along with the everlasting and heavenly Jesus Christ, Your beloved Son, with whom, to You, and the Holy Ghost, be glory both now and to all coming ages. Amen.”

—from The Martyrdom of Polycarp

Polycarp of Smyrna, Pastor and Martyr

Born around AD 69, Polycarp was a central figure in the Early Church. A disciple of the evangelist John, he linked the first generation of believers to later Christians. After serving for many years as bishop of Smyrna, Polycarp was arrested, tried, and executed for his faith on February 23, in AD 155 or 156. An eyewitness narrative of his death, The Martyrdom of Polycarp, continues to encourage believers in times of persecution.

Writing for St. Matthias, Apostle

After one of the apostles was cut off, Christ commanded the eleven others to “go and teach all nations and baptize them into the Father, and into the Son, and into the Holy Spirit.” The apostles (which means “sent ones”) immediately starting doing this. Having chosen Matthias as the twelfth apostle in the place of Judas, on the basis of the authoritative prophecy found in a psalm of David, they received the promised power of the Holy Spirit for the gift of miracles and preaching. They established churches throughout Judea, by bearing witness to the faith in Jesus Christ. Then they went out into the world and preached the same doctrine of the same faith to the nations, establishing churches in every city, from which all the other churches, one after another, received the tradition of faith and doctrine. Every day there are more churches being established. This is precisely why only these churches are able to call themselves apostolic, because they are the offspring of apostolic churches. . . . Therefore, though there are so many churches, they all comprise the one original church founded by the apostles. In this way, they are all originally apostolic and one, in unity, peaceful communion, and are brothers in the bond of hospitality, privileges which derive from no other rule than the one tradition from the same mystery.

From this we draw up our rule of faith . . . all doctrine that agrees with the apostolic churches, which are the molds and original sources, must be regarded as the truth that contains what was received from the apostles, the apostles from Christ, and Christ from God. All doctrine must immediately be regarded as false that has the taste of being different from that which the churches received from the apostles, from Christ, from God.

—Tertullian

St. Matthias, Apostle

St. Matthias is one of the lesser-known apostles. According to the Early Church Fathers, Matthias was one of the seventy-two sent out by Jesus in Luke 10:1–20. After the ascension, Matthias was chosen by lot to fill the vacancy in the Twelve resulting from the death of Judas Iscariot (Acts 1:16–25). Early Church tradition places Matthias in a number of locations. Some historians suggest that he went to Ethiopia; others place him in Armenia, the first nation to adopt Christianity as a national religion. Martyred for his faith, Matthias may well have met his death at Colchis in Asia Minor, around AD 50. The Church of St. Matthias at Trier, Germany, claims the honor of being the final burial site for Matthias, the only one of the Twelve to be buried in Europe north of the Alps.

Writing for Perpetua and Felicitas, Martyrs

The crowd jumped to its feet so they could watch Perpetua and Felicitas move to where they had been told and see the sword pierce their bodies, thus making their eyes partner in the murder. But first they kissed one another, that they might consummate their martyrdom with the kiss of peace, then all the martyrs, immoveable and silently, received the sword-thrust, especially Saturus, who also had first climbed the ladder. He was waiting for Perpetua and was the first to give up his spirit. So that she might taste some pain, being pierced between the ribs, she cried out loudly, and she herself placed the wavering right hand of the youthful gladiator to her throat. Such a woman could not have been killed unless she herself had willed it, because she was feared by the impure spirit.

O most brave and blessed martyrs! O truly called and chosen for the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ, who exalts and honors whomever He chooses! We ought to read these recent accounts for the edification of the Church, no less than the older ones, so that new virtues also may testify that one and the same Holy Spirit is always operating even until now, with God the Father Omnipotent, and His Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, to whom belongs the glory and infinite power, forever and ever. Amen.

—Tertullian

Perpetua and Felicitas, Martyrs

At the beginning of the third century, the Roman emperor Septimus Severus forbade conversions to Christianity. Among those disobeying that edict were Perpetua, a young noblewoman, and her maidservant Felicitas. Both were jailed at Carthage in North Africa along with three fellow Christians. During their imprisonment, Perpetua and Felicitas witnessed to their faith with such conviction that the officer in charge became a follower of Jesus. After making arrangements for the well-being of their children, Perpetua and Felicitas were executed on March 7, 203. Tradition holds that Perpetua showed mercy to her captors by falling on a sword because they could not bear to put her to death. The story of this martyrdom has been told ever since as an encouragement to persecuted Christians.

Writing for Patrick, Missionary to Ireland

I bind unto myself today
The strong name of the Trinity,
By invocation of the same
The Three in One and One in Three.

I bind this today to me forever
By power of faith, Christ's incarnation;
His baptism in Jordan River,
His death on cross for my salvation;
His bursting from the spiced tomb,
His riding up the heavenly way,
His coming at the day of doom
I bind unto myself today.

I bind unto myself the power
Of the great love of cherubim;
The sweet "Well done" in judgment hour,
The service of the seraphim,
Confessors' faith, apostles' word,
The patriarchs' prayers, the prophets' scrolls,
All good deeds done unto the Lord
And purity of virgin souls.

I bind unto myself today
The virtues of the star lit heaven,
The glorious sun's life-giving ray,
The whiteness of the moon at even,

The flashing of the lightning free,
The whirling wind's tempestuous shocks,
The stable earth, the deep salt sea
Around the old eternal rocks.

I bind unto myself today
The power of God to hold and lead,
His eye to watch, His might to stay,
His ear to hearken to my need.
The wisdom of my God to teach,
His hand to guide, His shield to ward;
The word of God to give me speech,
His heavenly host to be my guard.

Against the demon snares of sin,
The vice that gives temptation force,
The natural lusts that war within,
The hostile men that mar my course;
Or few or many, far or nigh,
In every place and in all hours,
Against their fierce hostility
I bind to me these holy powers.

Against all Satan's spells and wiles,
Against false words of heresy,
Against the knowledge that defiles,
Against the heart's idolatry,
Against the wizard's evil craft,
Against the death wound and the burning,
The choking wave, the poisoned shaft,
Protect me, Christ, till Thy returning.

Christ be with me, Christ within me,
Christ behind me, Christ before me,
Christ beside me, Christ to win me,
Christ to comfort and restore me.
Christ beneath me, Christ above me,
Christ in quiet, Christ in danger,
Christ in hearts of all that love me,
Christ in mouth of friend and stranger.

I bind unto myself the name,
The strong name of the Trinity,
By invocation of the same,

The Three in One and One in Three.
 By whom all nature hath creation,
 Eternal Father, Spirit, Word:
 Praise to the Lord of my salvation,
 Salvation is of Christ the Lord.

Patrick, Missionary to Ireland

Patrick is one of the best-known of the missionary saints. Born to a Christian family in Britain around the year AD 389 he was captured as a teenager by raiders, taken to Ireland, and forced to serve as a herdsman. After six years, he escaped and found his way to a monastery community in France. Ordained a bishop, it is believed that Patrick made his way back to Ireland in the summer of 433, and there spent the rest of his long life spreading the Gospel and organizing Christian communities. He strongly defended the doctrine of the Holy Trinity in a time when it was not popular to do so. His literary legacy includes his autobiography, Confession, and several prayers and hymns still used in the Church today. At least one tradition states that Patrick died in Ireland on March 17 around the year AD 466.

St. Joseph, Guardian of Jesus

Writing for St. Joseph, Guardian of Jesus

When Joseph became aware that Mary was with child, and was thinking of putting her away privately, the angel said to him while he was asleep: “Do not be afraid to take Mary as your wife, for her conception is from the Holy Spirit. For she will deliver a Son and you will call Him Jesus, for He will save His people from their sins.” . . . So Joseph was convinced beyond all doubt, and he took Mary and joyfully obeyed everything in regard to all the rest of the education of Christ, undertaking a journey into Egypt and back again, and then went away to Nazareth. Those who do not know the Scriptures, nor the promise of God, nor the dispensation of Christ, call him the father of the child. For this reason, too, the Lord Himself read at Capernaum the prophecies of Isaiah: “The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He has anointed Me; He has sent Me to preach the Gospel to the poor and to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and to give sight to the blind.” Thus He showed that it was He Himself who had been foretold by Isaiah the prophet, and He said to them: “Today this Scripture is fulfilled in your ears.”

—Irenaeus

St. Joseph, Guardian of Jesus

St. Joseph has been honored throughout the Christian centuries for his faithful devotion in helping Mary raise her Son. Matthew’s Gospel relates that Joseph was a just man, who followed the angel’s instructions and took the already-pregnant Mary as his wife (Matthew 1:24). In the Gospels according to Matthew and Mark, Jesus is referred to as “the carpenter’s son” (Matthew 13:55; Mark 6:3). This suggests that Joseph had building skills with which he supported his family. Joseph was an important figure in the early life of Jesus, safely escorting Mary and the child to Egypt (Matthew 2:14) and then settling them back in Nazareth once it was safe to do so (Matthew 2:22). The final mention of Joseph is at the time the twelve-year-old Jesus visits the temple in Jerusalem for the Passover (Luke 2:41–51). Joseph, the guardian of our Lord, has long been associated with caring parenthood as well as with skilled craftsmanship.

The Annunciation of Our Lord

Writing for The Annunciation of Our Lord

Most of the holy fathers and patriarchs and prophets desired to see Him with their own eyes, but did not. Some of them by visions beheld Him in type, and darkly; others, again, were privileged to hear the divine voice through the medium of the cloud and were favored with the vision of holy angels. But only to Mary the pure virgin did the archangel Gabriel manifest himself in brilliant light, bringing her the glad address, “Hail, you who are highly favored!” And thus she received the Word, and soon, in time, through the body’s natural process, she gave birth to the dear Pearl. Come, then, you, too, dearly beloved, and let us chant the melody that has been taught us by the inspired harp of David and say, “Arise, O Lord, into Your rest, You, and the ark of Your sanctuary.” For the holy Virgin is truly an ark, made with gold both within and without, who has received the whole treasury of the Holy of Holies. “Arise, O Lord, into Your rest.” Arise, O Lord, out of the bosom of the Father, in order that You may raise up the fallen race of the first man. . . . Mary laid in a manger

Him who sits above the cherubim and is praised by myriads of angels. In the manger set apart for irrational animals, the Word of God lay, in order that He might impart to men, who are really irrational by free choice, the true reason and understanding. In the manger from which cattle eat was laid the heavenly Bread, in order that He might provide men who live like the beasts of the earth with spiritual food. Nor was there even room for Him in the inn. He found no place, who by His word established heaven and earth; “for though He was rich, for our sakes He became poor” and chose extreme humiliation on behalf of the salvation of our nature, in His inherent goodness toward us. He who fulfilled the whole administration of unutterable mysteries of God’s work in heaven in the bosom of the Father, and in the cave lay in the arms of the mother, reposed in the manger. Angelic choirs surrounded Him, singing of glory in heaven and of peace upon earth. In heaven He was seated at the right hand of the Father; and in the manger He rested, as it were, upon the cherubim. Truly, even there was His cherubic throne; there was His royal seat. Holy of the holy, and alone glorious upon the earth, and holier than the holy, was the manger where Christ our God rested. To Him be glory, honor, and power, together with the Father undefiled and the altogether holy and quickening Spirit, now and ever and unto the ages of the ages. Amen.

—Gregory Thaumaturgus

The Annunciation of Our Lord

The angel Gabriel appears to Mary and announces that God has shown her favor and will use her as the means for the Messiah's birth. So Mary conceives Jesus when the angel says: "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you" (Luke 1:35). This same Spirit who hovered over the waters and brought forth creation (Genesis 1:2) will now "hover over" the waters of Mary's womb to conceive the creation's Redeemer. As the Holy Spirit comes upon Mary, she conceives Jesus "through her ear" (as Martin Luther says). The one who is conceived is called Holy, the Son of God. This is the moment of the incarnation of our Lord. The date of the Annunciation falls on March 25, because the Ancient Church believed the crucifixion occurred on that date. In antiquity, people linked the day of a person's conception with the day of his or her death. Thus, in the Annunciation, the Church joined together both the incarnation of Jesus and the atonement He accomplished.

Joseph, Patriarch

Writing for Joseph, Patriarch

I would like to tell you an instructive and profitable story. What is it? Once, when a persecution arose, and a severe war was raging against the Church, two men were arrested. The one man was ready to suffer anything at all. The other man was prepared to submit with firmness to be beheaded, but was afraid and trembling and shied away from other tortures. So, how did things turn out for them? When the judge was seated, he ordered the one who was ready to endure anything, to be beheaded. The other he caused to be hung up and tortured, and that not once or twice, but from city to city. Now why was this permitted? That he might recover through torture that quality of mind which he had neglected, that he might shake off all cowardice, and no longer be afraid to endure anything. Joseph, too, when he wanted to escape from prison, was left to remain there. For hear him saying, "Indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews; please mention me to the king." And for this he was made to remain, that he might learn not to place hope or confidence in men, but to cast everything on God. Knowing these things, therefore let us give thanks to God, and let us do all things that are expedient for us, that we may obtain the good things to come, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, with whom to the Father be glory, with the Holy Spirit, now and ever and world without end. Amen.

—John Chrysostom

Joseph, Patriarch

Joseph was the son of the patriarch Jacob (February 5) and Rachel. The favorite son of his father, Joseph incurred the jealousy of his older brothers, who sold him into slavery in Egypt and told their father he was dead (Genesis 37). In Egypt, Joseph became the chief servant in the home of Potiphar, a military official. Because Joseph refused to commit adultery with his master's wife, he was unjustly accused of attempted rape and thrown into jail (Genesis 39). Years later, he interpreted dreams for Pharaoh, who then freed Joseph from prison and placed him in charge of the entire country. When his brothers came from Canaan to Egypt in search of food, they did not recognize Joseph. He eventually revealed his identity to them, forgave them, and invited both them and his father to live in Egypt. Joseph is especially remembered and honored for his moral uprightness (Genesis 39) and for his willingness to forgive his brothers (Genesis 45 and 50).

Writing for Lucas Cranach and Albrecht Dürer, Artists

Who can exhaust all the virtue and power of God's Word? The Holy Scriptures, sermons, and all Christian books do nothing but praise God's Word, as we also do daily in our reading, writing, preaching, singing, poetizing, and in painting. This blessing abides and sustains us when the temporal blessings vanish and when through death we part from them and from one another. This blessing does not leave us or depart from us; it goes through death with us, tears us out of it, and brings us to eternal life, where there is neither death nor fear of dying.

Lucas Cranach and Albrecht Dürer, Artists

Lucas Cranach (1472–1557), a close friend of Martin Luther, was a celebrated painter of portraits and altarpieces and a producer of woodcuts of religious subjects. Albrecht Dürer (1471–1528), a native of Nürnberg, Germany, was one of the most learned of Renaissance artists and an ardent admirer of Martin Luther. His paintings and woodcuts include examples of the splendor of creation and skilled portrayals of biblical narratives. Both Cranach and Dürer are remembered and honored for the grandeur of their works of art, which depict the glory and majesty and the grace and mercy of the triune God.

Johannes Bugenhagen, Pastor

Writing for Johannes Bugenhagen, Pastor

We should rejoice with our dear father Luther that he left and departed from us to the Lord Christ in the highest apostolic and prophetic office in which he faithfully accomplished what he was commanded. For with Christ are the holy patriarchs, prophets, apostles, and many to whom he preached the Gospel, all the holy angels, and Lazarus in the bosom of Abraham, that is, in the eternal joy of all believers. We will experience what this interim period until the Day of Judgment is like, as Paul says in Philippians 1: "I desire to depart and to be with Christ"; and as Stephen also says in Acts: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit"; and Jesus to the thief: "Today you will be with Me in paradise." For there is no doubt, just as the spirit of Christ was in the hands of the Father until the resurrection on Easter, since He said: "Father, into Your hands I commend My spirit," etc., so will our spirits be in the hands of Christ until our resurrection. For that is the meaning of the words of Lazarus: "But now he is comforted while you are tormented." Our dear father Dr. Martin Luther has now attained what he often desired. And if he were to return to us again now, he would reprimand our mourning and faint-heartedness with the word of Christ from John 16: “If you loved Me you would rejoice because I go to the Father, and you would not begrudge Me this eternal rest and joy.” Christ has conquered death for us. Why, then, are we afraid? The death of the body is for us a beginning of life eternal through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who has become for us a noble, precious sacrifice. I still remember that when our honorable, dear father, Dr. Martin Luther, saw several depart sweetly in the confession of Christ, he said: “May God grant me that I may also depart so sweetly in the bosom of Christ and that the body may not be tormented with lengthy pains of death. But may God’s will be done.”

—Johannes Bugenhagen

Johannes Bugenhagen, Pastor

Johannes Bugenhagen (1485–1558), from Pomerania in northern Germany, was appointed pastor of Wittenberg in 1523 through the efforts of Martin Luther. Thus he served as Luther’s own pastor and confessor. One of the greatest scholars of the Reformation era, Bugenhagen helped translate the New Testament into Low German and wrote a commentary on the Psalms. He also worked to organize the Lutheran Church in northern Germany and Denmark. In 1539, Bugenhagen became superintendent of the Church in Saxony. After the death of Luther, Bugenhagen took care of Luther’s widow and children. Bugenhagen died in Wittenberg in 1558.

Anselm of Canterbury, Theologian

Writing for Anselm of Canterbury, Theologian

The restoration of human nature by God is more wonderful than its creation. Both were equally easy for God; but before man was made he had not sinned so that he ought not to be denied existence. But after man was made, he deserved, by his sin, to lose his existence together with its design, though he never has wholly lost this, viz., that he should be one capable of being punished or of receiving God’s compassion. For neither of these things could take effect if he were annihilated. Therefore God’s restoring man is more wonderful than his creating man, inasmuch as it is done for the sinner contrary to what he deserves; while the act of creation was not for the sinner and was not in opposition to what man deserved. How great a thing it is, also, for God and man to unite in one person, that, while the perfection of each nature is preserved, the same being may be both God and man! Who, then, will dare to think that the human mind can discover how wisely, how wonderfully, so incomprehensible a work has been accomplished?

Anselm of Canterbury, Theologian

Born in Italy in 1033, Anselm is most closely associated with England, where he served as archbishop of Canterbury for many years. A brilliant scholar and writer, Anselm used his political skills with the British kings on behalf of the established Christian Church, affirming that it is the leadership of the Church, not the state, that is responsible for establishing structure and maintaining order among the clergy. Anselm is especially remembered for his classic book, Why God Became Man, which taught that the reason for the incarnation was that Jesus, the Son of God, would suffer and die in place of sinners.

Johann Walter, Kantor

Writing for Johann Walter, Kantor

Next to the Word of God, music deserves the highest praise . . . . For whether you wish to comfort the sad, to terrify the happy, to encourage the despairing, to humble the proud, to calm the passionate, or to appease those full of hate—and who could number all these masters of the human heart, namely, the emotions, inclinations, and affections that impel men to evil or good?—what more effective means than music could you find? The Holy Ghost himself honors her as an instrument for his proper work when in his Holy Scriptures he asserts that through her his gifts were instilled in the prophets, namely, the inclination to all virtues, as can be seen in Elisha [II Kings 3:15]. On the other hand, she serves to cast out Satan, the instigator of all sins, as is shown in Saul, the king of Israel [I Sam. 16:23].

—Martin Luther

Johann Walter, Kantor

Johann Walter (1496–1570) began service at the age of twenty-one as a composer and bass singer in the court chapel of Frederick the Wise. In 1524, Walter published a collection of hymns arranged according to the Church Year. It was well received and served as the model for numerous subsequent hymnals. In addition to serving for thirty years as kantor (church musician) in the German cities of Torgau and Dresden, he also assisted Martin Luther in the preparation of the Deutsche Messe, or “German Mass” (1526). Walter is remembered as the first Lutheran kantor and composer of church music.

St. Mark, Evangelist

Writing for St. Mark, Evangelist

We shall add, as being a matter of primary importance, a tradition regarding Mark who wrote the Gospel, which [Papias] has given in the following words: “And the presbyter said this. Mark having become the interpreter of Peter, wrote down accurately whatever he remembered. It was not, however, in exact order that he related the sayings or deeds of Christ. For he neither heard the Lord nor accompanied Him. But afterward, as I said, he accompanied Peter, who accommodated his instructions to the needs [of his listeners], but with no intention of giving a regular narrative of the Lord’s sayings. That is why Mark made no mistake when he wrote these things as he remembered them. Above all else, he took special care not to omit anything he had heard and not to put anything fictitious into what he wrote.”

—Fragments of Papias

St. Mark, Evangelist

St. Mark was the author of the second Gospel, which he composed, according to some Early Church Fathers, when the Christians in Rome asked him to write down the preaching of the apostle Peter. Mark, also known as John Mark, was originally from Jerusalem, where the house of his mother Mary was the center of the early Jerusalem Church (Acts 12:12). He was brought from Jerusalem by Paul and Barnabas to Antioch (Acts 12:25), and it was from this city that they set out on the first missionary journey. When Paul and Barnabas were preparing to go on the second missionary journey, Barnabas wanted to take Mark with them again, but Paul objected because Mark had left them during the first journey. Barnabas took Mark and went to Cyprus, while Paul took Silas as his new companion (Acts 15:37–40). Later, Paul reconciled with Mark and was working with him again (Colossians 4:10; Philemon 24; 2 Timothy 4:11). Finally, Mark was found laboring with Peter in Rome (1 Peter 5:13). Tradition says that Mark was instrumental in founding the Church in Alexandria, becoming its first bishop, and also that he suffered a martyr's death.

St. Philip and St. James, Apostles

Writing for St. Philip and St. James, Apostles

Somebody might ask, “Why did the Gospel writers tell us only how Peter and James, John and Philip were called, but not the others?” It is because these, more than the rest, were in such a lowly walk of life. There is nothing worse than being a tax collector or more ordinary than being a fisherman. Philip was clearly not from a noble class, as is clear from where he came. They reveal their lowly ways of life so that we will believe them when they declare the glorious parts of their life. They did not choose to pass by anything that would be considered shameful, but since they are so careful to tell us all these sort of details, no matter whether they relate to the Teacher or to the disciples, how can they be suspected when they write about those things that require our reverence? Even more so, since they pass over many signs and miracles, while the events of the cross, which are considered to be so shameful, they tell us about with great clarity and boldness. They even tell us about the lowly jobs of the disciples, and the faults and failings in the Master's ancestors, some of whom were notorious for their very public sins. They are very clear about this. Thus, it is very clear that they are concerned about the truth above all else and did not write to gain favor or for the sake of appearances.

St. Philip and St. James, Apostles

St. Philip is mentioned in the lists of the apostles (Matthew 10:3; Mark 3:18; Luke 6:14; Acts 1:13), but only in John's Gospel is more told about him. Philip was from Bethsaida in Galilee and one of the first disciples called after Peter and Andrew. Philip also was instrumental in bringing Nathanael to Jesus (John 1:43–51). It was to Philip that Jesus posed the question about where to buy bread to feed five thousand men (John 6:5). During Holy Week, Philip with Andrew brought some inquiring Greeks to Jesus (John 12:20–22). And on Maundy Thursday evening, Philip asked Jesus to show the Father to him and to the rest of the disciples (John 14:8). According to tradition, Philip went to labor in Phrygia and was buried there.

St. James was a son of Alphaeus and was also called “the Younger” (to distinguish him from James, the son of Zebedee, “the Elder,” whose festival day is July 25). His mother, Mary, was one of the faithful women who stood at the cross of Jesus (Matthew 27:56; Mark 15:40). James is mentioned in the same apostolic lists as Philip, but there is no other mention of him in the New Testament. There is also no information regarding his field of labor or the circumstances of his death, except that he may have been martyred by being sawed in two.

Athanasius of Alexandria, Pastor and Confessor

Writing for Athanasius of Alexandria, Pastor and Confessor

The incorporeal and incorruptible and immaterial Word of God comes to our realm, even though He was not far from us before. For no part of creation is left void of Him. He has filled all things everywhere, remaining present with His own Father. But He comes in condescension to show loving-kindness to us and to visit us. . . . Seeing the exceeding wickedness of mankind, and how little by little they had increased it to an intolerable pitch against themselves, and seeing, finally, how all people were under penalty of death, He took pity on our race and had mercy on our infirmity and condescended to our corruption and, unable to tolerate that death should have the mastery—lest the creature should perish and His Father's handiwork in men be for nothing—He takes to Himself a body, and that of no different sort from ours. For He did not simply will to become embodied or will merely to appear. For if He willed merely to appear, He was able to effect His divine appearance by some other and higher means as well. But He takes a body of our kind, and not merely so, but from a spotless and stainless virgin, knowing not a man, a body clean and in very truth pure from intercourse of men. For being Himself mighty, and Artificer of everything, He prepares the body in the Virgin as a temple unto Himself and makes it His very own as an instrument, in it manifested, and in it dwelling. And thus taking from our bodies one of like nature, because all were under penalty of the corruption of death, He gave it over to death in the stead of all and offered it to the Father—doing this, moreover, of His loving-kindness, to the end that, first, all being held to have died in Him, the law involving the ruin of men might be undone (inasmuch as its power was fully spent in the Lord’s body and had no longer holding-ground against men, His peers) and that, second, whereas men had turned toward corruption, He might turn them again toward incorruption and quicken them from death by the appropriation of His body and by the grace of the resurrection, banishing death from them like straw from the fire.

—Athanasius

Athanasius of Alexandria, Pastor and Confessor

Athanasius was born in Alexandria in Egypt around AD 295. He served as a church leader in a time of great controversy and ecclesiastical disagreement. At the Council of Nicaea in AD 325, Athanasius defended Christian orthodoxy against the proponents of the Arian heresy, which denied the full divinity of Jesus Christ. During his forty-five-year tenure as bishop of Alexandria, Athanasius wrote numerous works that defended the orthodox teaching. His enemies had him exiled five times; on two occasions he was almost murdered. Yet Athanasius remained steadfast and ended his days restored fully to his ecclesiastical responsibilities. The Athanasian Creed, though not composed by Athanasius, is named in his honor because it confesses the doctrinal orthodoxy he championed throughout his life.

Writing for Friedrich Wyneken, Pastor and Missionary

Is His love like a burden or has His yoke become too heavy? Do you want to once again depend on the world and your own righteousness? You say: “Oh no, no, but my heart is weak and doubtful, and sin is mighty!” Do not despair. There will be enough temptations, trials, and sin; yes, you may be overcome by your body’s weakness. But you are not depending on your own heart but on your Jesus, who saves you from your sins and gives you renewed mercy in Word and Sacrament. Forgiveness of sin surrounds you like the air; yes, it is spread out around you like the sky. He is faithful, the one who has called you. He will do it for you. You just hold on to His Word and Sacrament. Do not forsake prayer. Death might meet up with you whenever and wherever it wants. It will only lead you into the eternally new year, into the right peace and bliss. And even while you are in the throes of death, this beautiful name will lighten your way and bring you safely across:
J E S U S!

—Friedrich Wyneken

Friedrich Wyneken, Pastor and Missionary

Friedrich Wyneken is one of the founding fathers of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, along with C. F. W. Walther and Wilhelm Sihler. Born in 1810 in Germany, Wyneken came to Baltimore, Maryland, in 1838 and shortly thereafter accepted a call to be the pastor of congregations in Friedheim and Fort Wayne, Indiana. Supported by Wilhelm Loehe's mission society, Wyneken served as an itinerant missionary in Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan, particularly among Native Americans. Together with Loehe and Sihler, he founded Concordia Theological Seminary in 1846 in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Wyneken later served as the second president of the LCMS during a period of significant growth (1850–64). His leadership strongly influenced the confessional character of the LCMS and its commitment to an authentic Lutheran witness.

Frederick the Wise, Christian Ruler

Writing for Frederick the Wise, Christian Ruler

High-born Prince, kind, dear brother and kinsman. Herewith I send you a book written by Dr. Martin Luther, in which you will find many wonderful things. God Almighty grant that it turn out well, for truly things are coming to light which many people conceal; may God Almighty vouchsafe to us poor sinners that we be improved and not made worse thereby. I would not keep this from you, since you asked me to send you whatever Dr. Luther writes, and I am always willing to serve you. I am glad the books I sent pleased you and my [nephew]. Please tell the dear boy [Johann Frederick] that I am informed that the cardinals and Romanists with their followers are taking counsel against Dr. Luther to put him under the ban of the Empire and persecute him to the uttermost. But there are many other people who wish him well. God grant graciously that it be for our good.

—Handwritten letter from Frederick the Wise to his brother, Duke John, August 25, 1520

Frederick the Wise, Christian Ruler

Frederick the Wise, elector of Saxony from 1486 to 1525, was Martin Luther's sovereign in the early years of the Reformation. Were it not for Frederick, there might not have been a Lutheran Reformation. Born in Torgau, Germany, in 1463, Frederick became so well known for his skill in political diplomacy and his sense of justice and fairness that he was called "the Wise" by his subjects. Although he never met Luther, Frederick repeatedly protected and provided for him. In all likelihood, he saved the reformer from a martyr's fate when he refused the pope's demand to extradite Luther to Rome for a heresy trial in 1518. When Emperor Charles V declared Luther an outlaw in 1521 at the Diet of Worms, Frederick provided sanctuary for Luther at Wartburg Castle. On his deathbed, Frederick received the Lord's Supper in both kinds—a clear confession of the evangelical faith.

C. F. W. Walther, Theologian

Writing for C. F. W. Walther, Theologian

Arise, you Lutherans of America! Arise! Let us use the glorious freedom that we taste here in America to the end that the old banner of confession, which in our old fatherland lay in musty [ruin], be hoisted here again. And let us gather around this banner as a faithful and courageous people of confession. Let us renew today the old oath of loyalty that we Lutherans have recited already at our confirmation. Let our teachers in church and school be sworn to that oath! Let us examine and correct everything, which we hear and read, next to God's Word, according to this confession. Finally, let us only work and fight in rank and file with those who are prepared to follow this banner. The storms of the world and the false brothers may rain upon us. They will not rend asunder our banner, but only more fully and broadly unfurl it before the eyes of all the world. In the Old World, my brothers, it is evident that the sun, which once rose in Augsburg and upon the Bergen Cloister, the sun of the pure Gospel, is setting. Many true Lutherans in the Old World look with longing and hope to our young American Lutheran Church, which though it is small, is free. And because she is free, she is, before others, called to salvage and rescue the pure Gospel here in the New World in these last times, that holy relic entrusted to our Church. O arise! Arise, American Lutheran Zion, and let there be light! You, her watchmen, forward! Lay hold the holy banner and hold it high and swing it joyously! All of you, you children of this Zion, man and wife, old and young, follow those who show themselves true bearers of the flag! O take heart and be joyful! The Lord, who is a God of truth, is with us! By that sign we shall conquer, though all powers of darkness in midnight hour plot against us and rise against us on the battlefield. The battle will rage hot and ever hotter!

Finally, we, persistent to the end—and grant this to us Jesus Christ, Thou Leader in the fight!—we will be taken in triumph into the congregation above, to the eternal festival of jubilation. Amen.

C. F. W. Walther, Theologian

Carl Ferdinand Wilhelm Walther (1811–87), the father of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, emigrated from Saxony, Germany, with other Lutherans in 1839 and settled in Missouri. He served as pastor of several congregations in St. Louis, founded Concordia Seminary, and in 1847 was instrumental in the formation of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (then called the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio, and Other States). Walther served as the Synod's first president from 1847 to 1850 and again from 1864 to 1878. Walther worked tirelessly to promote confessional Lutheran teaching and doctrinal agreement among all Lutherans in the United States. He was a prolific writer and speaker, and among his most influential works are Church and Ministry and The Proper Distinction Between Law and Gospel.

Job

Writing for Job

Behold, I go forward, but he is not there,
and backward, but I do not perceive him;
on the left hand when he is working, I do not behold him;
he turns to the right hand, but I do not see him.

But he knows the way that I take;
 when he has tried me, I shall come out as gold.

My foot has held fast to his steps;
 I have kept his way and have not turned aside.

I have not departed from the commandment
 of his lips;

I have treasured the words of his mouth
 more than my portion of food.

But he is unchangeable, and who can turn
 him back?

What he desires, that he does.

For he will complete what he appoints for
 me,

and many such things are in his mind.

Therefore I am terrified at his presence;
 when I consider, I am in dread of him.

God has made my heart faint;

the Almighty has terrified me;

yet I am not silenced because of the darkness,
 nor because thick darkness covers my face.

—Job 23:8–17

Job

Job was a blameless and upright man who came from Uz (Job 1:1), a land northeast of Canaan. The Book of Job examines the depths of his faith, which was severely tested
 through the sufferings God permitted.

Despite the sudden death of his ten children
 and the loss of all his wealth and his health, Job refused to curse God, saying: “Naked I came from my mother’s womb, and naked shall I return; the LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD” (Job 1:21). Still, in the midst of his tribulations Job questioned the meaning and purpose of suffering to the point of asserting his own righteousness (Job 34:5–6). Finally, the Lord revealed that a man cannot know

the mysteries of God (Job 38–41). Job’s faith in his Redeemer and the resurrection prevailed (Job 19:25–27). In the end, the Lord restored Job’s wealth and blessed him with another seven sons and three daughters.

Cyril and Methodius, Missionaries to the Slavs

Writing for Cyril and Methodius, Missionaries to the Slavs

There is no other sign by which you can know where Christ and his church may be found than this one sure sign, this star, the holy gospel; every other sign is false and fails.
 Where the gospel is preached, there this star shines brightly, there without a doubt Christ is present, there you will assuredly find the church, whether it be in Turkey, in Russia, in Bohemia, or anywhere else. It is impossible that God’s word should be proclaimed and God, Christ, and the Holy Spirit not be present. Likewise it is impossible that God, Christ, the Holy Spirit, the church, or anything blessed should be present where God’s word is not proclaimed, even if they were to perform every imaginable miracle;
 nothing but the Herodists and the devil’s realm can be present there. It has always been clear that the pope and the clergy do not proclaim God’s word, but are merely concerned about doctrines of men.

—Martin Luther

Cyril and Methodius, Missionaries to the Slavs

Cyril (AD 826–69) and Methodius (c. 815–85) were brothers who came from a Greek family in Thessalonica and were both ordained as priests. After ordination, Cyril became librarian at the Church of Holy Wisdom (Hagia Sophia) in Constantinople. In AD 862, the brothers were sent by the emperor as missionaries to what is now the Czech republic, where they taught in the native Slavic tongue. Cyril invented the alphabet known today as “Cyrillic,” which provided a written language for the liturgy and Scriptures for the Slavic peoples. This use of the vernacular established an important principle for evangelical missions.

Constantine, Emperor, and Helena, his mother

Writing for Constantine, Emperor, and Helena, his mother

We have been informed that Constantine was led to honor the Christian religion through a combination of events, particularly when a sign from heaven appeared.

When he first decided to go to war against Maxentius, he was plagued with doubts about how he would go about fighting the war and where he could look for help. In the midst of his doubt and worry he received a vision and saw the cross shining in heaven. He was amazed at the sight, but holy angels who were standing by exclaimed, “Constantine! By this sign, conquer!” And it is said that Christ Himself appeared to him, showed him the symbol of the cross, and commanded him to construct one like it and to use it as his help in battle, and it would ensure his victory.

Eusebius, surnamed Pamphilus, affirms that he heard the emperor declare with an oath, as the sun was on the point of inclining about the middle of the day, that he and the soldiers who were with him saw in heaven the trophy of the cross composed of light and encircled by the following words: “By this sign, conquer.” . . .

While he was reflecting on what this could mean, night came. When he fell asleep, Christ appeared with the sign that he had seen in heaven and commanded him to construct a representation of the symbol and to use it as his help in battle. There was nothing further to be said, for the emperor clearly understood the necessity of serving God.

At daybreak he called together the priests of Christ and questioned them concerning their doctrines. They opened the Sacred Scriptures and explained the truths relative to Christ and showed him from the prophets how the signs that had been predicted had been fulfilled. The sign that had appeared to him was the symbol, they said, of the victory over hell, for Christ came among men, was stretched upon the cross, died, and returned to life the third day. On this account, they said, there was hope that at the end of the present age there would be a resurrection from the dead.

—The Ecclesiastical History of Sozomen

Emperor Constantine, Christian Ruler, and Helena, Mother of Constantine

Constantine I served as Roman emperor from AD 306 to 337. During his reign, the persecution of Christians was forbidden by the Edict of Milan in AD 313, and, ultimately, the faith gained full imperial support. Constantine took an active interest in the life and teachings of the Church and called the Council of Nicaea in AD 325, at which orthodox Christianity was defined and defended. His mother, Helena (ca. AD 255–329), strongly influenced Constantine. Her great interest in locating the holy sites of the Christian faith led her to become one of the first Christian pilgrims to the Holy Land. Her research led to the identification of biblical locations in Jerusalem, Bethlehem, and beyond, which are still maintained as places of worship today.

Esther

Writing for Esther

Why did Queen Esther expose herself to death and not fear the wrath of a fierce king? Was it not to save her people from death, an act both seemly and virtuous? The king of Persia himself also, though fierce and proud, yet thought it seemly to show honor to the man who had given information about a plot which had been laid against himself, to save a free people from slavery, to snatch them from death, and not to spare him who had pressed on such unseemly plans. So finally he handed over to the gallows the man that stood second to himself, and whom he counted chief among all his friends, because he considered that he had dishonored him by his false counsels.

For that commendable friendship which maintains virtue is to be preferred most certainly to wealth or honors or power.

—Ambrose

Esther

Esther is the heroine of the biblical book that bears her name. Her Jewish name was Hadassah, which means “myrtle.” Her beauty, charm, and courage served her well as queen to King Ahasuerus. In that role, she was able to save her people from the mass extermination that Haman, the king’s chief advisor, had planned (2:19–4:17). Esther’s efforts to uncover the plot resulted in the hanging of Haman on the very same gallows that he had built for Mordecai, her uncle and guardian. Following this, the king named Mordecai minister of state in Haman’s place. This story is an example of how God intervenes on behalf of His people to deliver them from evil, as here through Esther He preserved the Old Testament people through whom the Messiah would come.

Writing for Bede the Venerable, Theologian

Here lieth Bede, his country’s pride and light,
 The firm maintainer of all law and right.
 To wisdom’s path, e’en from his youth inclin’d,
 Far spread the radiance of his heavenly mind.
 His earliest vow to God, his constant care
 Was learning, preaching, meditation, prayer.
 His sword was Scripture, in these holy arms

He saved Christ's pious flock from all alarms:
 None in his presence suffered hunger's call,
 His words were heavenly comfort to them all.
 A pleasing perfume in this church is found,
 Which breathes refreshing gales on all around,
 And now the world has lost this brilliant light,
 And sinks enveloped in the shades of night:
 Whilst he in radiant clothes ascends above
 To dwell for ever in the realms of love.

Bede the Venerable, Theologian

Bede (AD 673–735) was the last of the Early Church fathers and the first to compile the history of the English church. Born in Northumbria, Bede's parents placed him in a monastery in northern England at the age of seven. He rarely left the monastery and devoted the rest of his life to teaching and writing. The most learned man of his time, he was a prolific writer of history, whose careful use of sources provided a model for historians in the Middle Ages. Known best for his book The Ecclesiastical History of the English People, he was also a profound interpreter of Scripture; his commentaries are still fresh today. His most famous disciple, Cuthbert, reported that Bede was working on a translation of John's Gospel into English when death came and that he died with the words of the Gloria Patri on his lips. He received the title "Venerable" within two generations of his death and is buried in Durham Cathedral as one of England's greatest saints.

Writing for The Visitation

In accordance with this design, Mary the Virgin is found obedient, saying, "Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word." But Eve was disobedient; for she did not obey when as yet she was a virgin. And even as she, having indeed a husband, Adam, but being nevertheless as yet a virgin . . . having become disobedient, was made the cause of death, both to herself and to the entire human race; so also did Mary, having a man betrothed [to her], and being nevertheless a virgin, by yielding obedience, became the cause of salvation, both to herself and the whole human race. And on this account does the law term a woman betrothed to a man, the wife of him who had betrothed her, although she was as yet a virgin; thus indicating the back-reference from Mary to Eve, because what is joined together could not otherwise be put asunder than by inversion of the process by which these bonds of union had arisen; so that the former ties be cancelled by the latter, that the latter may set the former again at liberty. . . . For the Lord, having been born "the First-begotten of the dead," and receiving into His bosom the ancient fathers, has regenerated them into the life of God, He having been made himself the beginning of those that live, as Adam became the beginning of those who die. Wherefore also Luke, commencing the genealogy with the Lord, carried it back to Adam, indicating that it was He who regenerated them into the Gospel of life, and not they Him. And thus also it was that the knot of Eve's disobedience was loosed by the obedience of Mary. For what the virgin Eve had bound fast through unbelief, this did the virgin Mary set free through faith.

The Visitation

John the Baptizer and Jesus, the two great figures of salvation history, now come together in the visit to Elizabeth by the Virgin Mary (Luke 1:39–45), both of whom conceived their children under miraculous circumstances. Thus John is brought into the presence of Jesus while they are still in their mothers' wombs. This presence of the Lord causes a response by the child John as he leaps in Elizabeth's womb. John's response to the presence of Jesus, the Messiah, foreshadows John's own role as forerunner. Already now, a new creation is beginning, and a baby still in the womb hails the new creation's inception. Foreshadowed in John's leap are the miracles of Jesus, who will cause all creation to leap at His presence: "The blind receive their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good news preached to them" (Luke 7:22). The incarnate presence of the Messiah also evokes a response from Elizabeth, who proclaims Mary's blessedness. Mary's Magnificat (1:46–55) provides the theological significance of this meeting as Mary sums up her place in salvation history. Mary's song is a hymn to God for His gracious gifts to the least in this world, whom He has lifted up out of lowliness solely because of His grace and mercy.

Justin, Martyr

Writing for Justin, Martyr

No one may share the Eucharist with us unless he believes that what we teach is true, unless he is washed in the regenerating waters of Baptism for the remission of his sins, and unless he lives in accordance with the principles given us by Christ. We do not consume the eucharistic bread and wine as if it were ordinary food and drink, for we have been taught that as Jesus Christ our Savior became a man of flesh and blood by the power of the Word of God, so also the food that our flesh and blood assimilates for its nourishment becomes the flesh and blood of the incarnate Jesus by the power of His own words contained in the prayer of thanksgiving. The apostles, in their recollections, which are called Gospels, handed down to us what Jesus commanded them to do. They tell us that He took bread, gave thanks, and said: "Do this in memory of Me. This is My body." In the same way He took the cup, He gave thanks, and said: "This is My blood." The Lord gave this command to them alone. . . .

Ever since then we have constantly reminded one another of these things. The rich among us help the poor, and we are always united. For all that we receive we praise the Creator of the universe through His Son, Jesus Christ, and through the Holy Spirit. On Sunday we have a common assembly of all our members, whether they live in the city or the outlying districts. The recollections of the apostles or the writings of the prophets are read, as long as there is time.

When the reader has finished, the president of the assembly speaks to us; he urges everyone to imitate the examples of virtue we have heard in the readings. Then we all stand up together and pray. On the conclusion of our prayer, bread and wine and water are brought. The president offers prayers and gives thanks to the best of his ability, and the people give assent by saying, "Amen." The Eucharist is distributed, everyone present communes, and the deacons take it to those who are absent. The wealthy, if they wish, may make a contribution, and they themselves decide the amount. The collection is placed in the custody of the president, who uses it to help the orphans and widows and all who for any reason are in distress, whether because they are sick, in prison, or away from home. In a word, he takes care of all who are in need. We hold our common assembly on Sunday because it is the first day of the week, the day on which God put darkness and chaos to flight and created the world, and because on that same day our Savior, Jesus Christ, rose from the dead. For He was crucified on Friday, and on Sunday He appeared to His apostles and disciples and taught them the things that we have passed on for your consideration.

—Justin Martyr

Justin, Martyr

Born at the beginning of the second century, Justin was raised in a pagan family. He was a student of philosophy who converted to the Christian faith and became a teacher in Ephesus and Rome. After refusing to make pagan sacrifices, he was arrested, tried, and executed, along with six other believers. The official Roman court proceedings of his trial before Rusticius, a Roman prelate, document his confession of faith. The account of his martyrdom became a source of great encouragement to the early Christian community. Much of what we know of early liturgical practice comes from Justin.

Boniface of Mainz, Missionary to Germany

Writing for Boniface of Mainz, Missionary to Germany

Boniface to the English, asking prayers for the conversion of the Saxons:

With humble prayer, we beseech you, brethren, of your charity to remember our lowly selves in your prayers, that we may escape the cunning snares of the devil and the buffetings of evil men, that the Word of the Lord may prosper and be glorified. We beg you to be instant in prayer that God and our Lord Jesus Christ, who desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth, may convert the hearts of the pagan Saxons to the faith, may make them repent of the devilish errors in which they are entangled and unite them to the children of Mother Church. Have pity on them, because their repeated cry is: "We are of one and the same blood and bone." Remember that we go the way of all flesh and in hell no man praises the Lord nor can death honor Him. Be it known that in this undertaking I have the agreement and support and blessing of two pontiffs of the Roman See. Act, then, on this prayer of mine, that your reward among the angels of heaven may be manifest and enlarged. May the Almighty Creator keep your unity and common bond of love in force for evermore.

—Boniface of Mainz

Boniface of Mainz

Boniface was born in the late seventh century in England. Though he was educated, became a monk, and was ordained as a presbyter in England, he was inspired by the example of others to become a missionary. Upon receiving a papal commission in AD 719 to work in Germany, Boniface devoted himself to planting, organizing, and reforming churches and monasteries in Hesse, Thuringia, and Bavaria. After becoming an archbishop, Boniface was assigned to the See of Mainz in AD 743. Ten years later, he resigned his position to engage in mission work in the Netherlands. On June 5, 754, while awaiting a group of converts for confirmation, Boniface and his companions were murdered by a band of pagans. Boniface is known as the apostle and missionary to the Germans.

St. Barnabas, Apostle

Writing for St. Barnabas, Apostle

When the Lord says, “You shall love the Lord your God, from all your heart and from all your mind; and you shall love your neighbor as yourself,” let the faithful soul put on the unfading love of its Author and Ruler and subject itself also entirely to His will in whose works and judgments true justice and tender-hearted compassion never fail. For though a man be worn out with labor and many misfortunes, there is good reason for him to endure all these things, in the knowledge that adversity will either prove him good or make him better. But this godly love cannot be perfect unless a man love his neighbor also. Under which name must be included not only those who are connected with us by friendship or community, but absolutely all men, with whom we have a common nature, whether they be enemies or friends, slaves or free. For the one Maker fashioned us, the one Creator breathed life into us; we all enjoy the same sky and air, the same days and nights, and, though some be good, others bad, some righteous, others unrighteous, yet God is bountiful to all, kind to all, as Paul and Barnabas said to the Lycaonians concerning God’s providence: “who in generations gone by allowed all the nations to walk in their own ways. And yet He left Himself not without witness, doing them good, giving rain from heaven and fruitful seasons, and filling our hearts with food and gladness.” But the wide extent of Christian grace has given us yet even greater reasons for loving our neighbor, which, reaching to all parts of the whole world, looks down on no one and teaches that no one is to be neglected. And He is absolutely right when He commands us to love our enemies and to pray to Him for our persecutors, who, daily grafting shoots of the wild olive from among all nations upon the holy branches of His own olive, makes men reconciled instead of enemies, adopted sons instead of strangers, just instead of ungodly, “that every knee may bow in heaven and on earth, and under the earth, and every tongue confess that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father.”

—Leo the Great

St. Barnabas, Apostle

St. Barnabas was a Levite from Cyprus who sold some land and gave the proceeds to the early Christian community in Jerusalem (Acts 4:36–37). St. Paul informs us that he was a cousin of John Mark (Colossians 4:10). Barnabas was sent by the Jerusalem Church to oversee the young Church in Antioch (Acts 11:22). While there, he went to Tarsus and brought Paul back to Antioch to help him (Acts 11:25–26). It was this Church in Antioch that commissioned and sent Barnabas and Paul on the first missionary journey (Acts 13:2–3). When it was time for the second missionary journey, however, Barnabas and Paul disagreed about taking along John Mark. Barnabas took Mark and went to Cyprus; Paul took Silas and headed north through Syria and Cilicia (Acts 15:36–41). Nothing more is known of the activities of Barnabas, except that he was apparently known to the Corinthians (1 Corinthians 9:6). Tradition relates that Barnabas died a martyr's death in Cyprus by being stoned.

The Ecumenical Council of Nicaea, AD 325

Writing for The Ecumenical Council of Nicaea, AD 325

Forasmuch as the great and holy Synod, which was assembled at Nicaea through the grace of Christ and our most religious Sovereign Constantine, who brought us together from our several provinces and cities, has considered matters which concern the faith of the Church, it seemed to us to be necessary that certain things should be communicated from us to you in writing, so that you might have the means of knowing what has been rejected and investigated, and also what has been decreed and confirmed.

First, then, in the presence of our most religious Sovereign Constantine, investigation was made of matters concerning the impiety and transgression of Arius and his adherents. And it was unanimously decreed that he and his impious opinion should be anathematized, together with the blasphemous words and speculations in which he indulged, blaspheming the Son of God, and saying that He is from things that are not, and that before He was begotten He was not, and that there was a time when He was not, and that the Son of God is by His free will capable of vice and virtue; saying also that He is a creature. All these things the holy Synod has anathematized, not even enduring to hear his impious doctrine and madness and blasphemous words.

—The Synodal Letter from the First Ecumenical Council of Nicaea

The Ecumenical Council of Nicaea, AD 325

The first Council of Nicaea was convened in the early summer of AD 325 by Roman Emperor Constantine at what is today Iznik, Turkey. The emperor presided at the opening of the council. The council ruled against the Arians, who taught that Jesus was not the eternal Son of God but was created by the Father and was called Son of God because of His righteousness. The chief opponents of the Arians were Alexander, bishop of Alexandria, and his deacon, Athanasius.

The council confessed the eternal divinity of Jesus and adopted the earliest version of the Nicene Creed, which in its entirety was adopted at the Council of Constantinople in AD 381.

Elisha

Writing for Elisha

When Elijah went up to heaven, he left nothing to his disciple save his cloak. “By the help of this,” said he, “I have wrestled with the devil, and taking this, be armed against him!” For poverty is a powerful weapon, an unassailable retreat, an unshaken fortress! Elisha received the cloak as the greatest inheritance—more precious than gold. And thenceforth that Elisha was a twofold person: an Elias above and an Elias below! I know you consider that just person blessed, and you want to be like that person. What, then, if I show you that all among us, who are initiated, receive something far greater than he did? For Elijah left a cloak to his disciple, but the Son of God ascending left to us His own flesh! Elias indeed cast off his mantle before he went up; but Christ left it behind for our sakes, and yet retained it when He ascended. Let us not, then, be cast down. Let us not lament nor fear the difficulty of the times, for He who did not refuse to pour out His blood for all and has allowed us to partake of His flesh and of His blood again, what will He refuse to do for our safety? Confident then in these hopes, let us pray to Him continually.

—John Chrysostom

Elisha

Elisha, son of Shaphat of the tribe of Issachar, was the prophet of God to the northern kingdom of Israel around 849–786 BC. Upon seeing his mentor, Elijah, taken up into heaven, Elisha assumed the prophetic office and took up the mantle of his predecessor. Like Elijah, Elisha played an active role in political affairs. He also performed many miracles, such as curing the Syrian army commander Naaman of his leprosy (2 Kings 5) and restoring life to the son of a Shunammite woman (2 Kings 4:8–37). A vocal opponent of Baal worship, Elisha lived up to his name, which means “my God is salvation.”

All depends on our possessing God's abundant grace and blessing,
Though all earthly wealth depart.
They who trust with faith unshaken
By their God are not forsaken
And will keep a dauntless heart.

He who to this day has fed me
And to many joys has led me
Is and ever shall be mine.
He who ever gently schools me,
He who daily guides and rules me
Will remain my help divine.

Well He knows what best to grant me;
All the longing hopes that haunt me,
Joy and sorrow, have their day.
I shall doubt His wisdom never;
As God wills, so be it ever;
I commit to Him my way.

DAILY PRAYER FOR THE CHRISTIAN

PRAYER ON SUNDAY

O Lord Jesus Christ, true God and true man, today all Christendom celebrates the day on which You rose from the dead. You, who are the Light come to lighten the darkness, let the sun of Your mercy rise upon all the services of Your people. Grant that Your Word may be rightly preached with power from the Holy Spirit and without fear of those who would oppose it. Bring about true repentance in all who are Yours and fill them with the holy faith, which is the salvation of their souls. Listen favorably to all our prayers and bring them before the Father for the sake of Your holy wounds.

O Merciful Lord, where You in the mystery of the Sacrament of Your body and blood make an entrance among Your people, there grant that all the faithful may bow in holy fear and humility before You, and that all whom You Yourself feed may receive the sacred gift not impenitently to their judgment, but as a medicine of eternal life. Look not upon the sins we commit against You this day, and bring to nothing all the plans of the evil foe. Let the Last Day come soon, so that we, released from all strife, may behold You with all saints and angels face-to-face and sing our praises to You better than we are now able.

Amen. Yes, come Lord Jesus! Amen.

PRAYER ON MONDAY

O Lord, merciful and holy Bridegroom; we grieve the fall of Your Church. It is our fault that the beauty of Your Bride is no longer recognized. Therefore we pray You: give and increase in us faith, love, and hope in You; root out of us all sins and vice, all strife, all disbelief, all error and heresy; rebuke the erring, convert the unbelievers, bring the rebellious again to the unity of the Christian Church and show them the light of Your truth. Protect our shepherd from all danger of body and soul. Bless all pastors and those who administer in the Church in the building of Your congregation; grant them success in all things. Equip Your whole Church with the power and proof of the holy faith. Stand by Your witnesses among the nations and further the course of Your Gospel in all the world.

Fill all government with the fear of You and let their ruling serve to foster and preserve peace. Have mercy on our people and country. Let the youth be brought up in discipline and in a right knowledge of You, so that they may recognize Your law and the way of Your salvation. Give constancy and loyalty to all pious teachers.

Comfort all the troubled and sorrowful. Impart health of body and soul to the sick. Grant to all pregnant women, according to Your mercy, a happy result in their childbearing. To the needy give bodily and spiritually according to Your good pleasure. Let those who travel be commended to the protection of Your holy angels. And be a strong help to all who need You. For the sake of Your holy wounds, O Jesus. Amen.

PRAYER ON TUESDAY

Almighty God, heavenly Father; we praise Your fathomless mercy, with which You take pity on sinful men. All the prophets and apostles preach this to us in Your Holy Word.

Let our hope not be put to shame when we pray to You for all who suffer at this time. For behold, the evil foe has become mighty, and the great ones of this world rule often with unrighteousness. O God, who in former times caused Your saints to overcome injustice, strengthen also today all who stand in need of Your help. Grant that all prisoners of war—held as slaves and sacrifices of earthly wrath—may return to their home. Stand by all refugees and homeless people, and be their justice. Be a father to the widows and orphans with Your strong protection.

Go through bars and fences to those who are imprisoned for the sake of Your name; strengthen them for a good witness, and let them not waver in the confession of Your name. Teach us through their example, and the example of so many holy martyrs, to be ever watchful of the confession of your Son's name. Let us not be put to shame when the evil foe lays his hand on us. But if it is Your will that we be persecuted for confessing Jesus as our Lord and only Savior, then support us in Your grace that we may withstand all trials, and grant us peaceful rest; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.

PRAYER ON WEDNESDAY

the responses are set in bold type.*

O Lord, have mercy.
O Christ, have mercy.
O Lord, have mercy.
O Christ, hear us.
God the Father in heaven, have mercy.
God the Son, Redeemer
of the world, have mercy.
God the Holy Spirit, have mercy.
Be gracious to us. Spare all the dying.

From all sin, from all evil;
From the devil's might;
From the devil's wiles;
From Your wrath and
from hell's torment;
From sudden and evil death;
Good Lord, deliver them.

By the mystery of Your holy incarnation, by Your holy nativity;
By Your agony and bloody sweat;
By Your cross and passion;
By Your precious death and burial;
By Your glorious resurrection and ascension;
And by the grace of the Holy Spirit,
the Comforter:
Help them, good Lord.

In the hour of death;
On the Day of Judgment:
Help them, good Lord.

We poor sinners implore You
to hear us, good Lord.
To comfort all the dying;
To forgive them all their sins; to lead them
out of this misery into eternal life:
We implore You to hear us, good Lord.

Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God,
we implore You to hear us.

Christ the Lamb of God,
who takes away the sin of the world,
have mercy upon them.

Christ the Lamb of God,
who takes away the sin of the world,
have mercy upon them.

Christ the Lamb of God,
who takes away the sin of the world,
grant them Your peace.

O Christ, hear us.
O Lord, have mercy.
O Christ, have mercy.
O Lord, have mercy.
Amen.

Holy Lord God, holy and mighty God,
holy and most merciful Redeemer;
God eternal, leave us not to bitter death.
Lord, have mercy.

Holy Lord God, holy and mighty God,
holy and most merciful Redeemer;
God eternal, allow us not to lose hope in the face of death and hell.
Lord, have mercy.

Holy Lord God, holy and mighty God, holy and most merciful Redeemer;
God eternal, keep us steadfast
in the true faith.
Lord, have mercy.
Amen.

PRAYER ON THURSDAY

O Lord Jesus Christ, true King of heaven and earth; You promised to Your Church that the gates of hell would not prevail against her, and You still cause Your Word to be preached and Your holy Sacraments to be administered among us. But ah!, O Lord, the sins of Your people obscure the majesty of Your Bride. Your holy vineyard is trampled and Your blessed sacrifice stands neglected. Many think themselves strong and despise the life-giving food that You have ordained for Your people, for the forgiveness of their sins.

Pardon all our arrogance and do not come to us in wrath to remove the lamp of Your Word from before our eyes! O Lord, we pray You: visit this vine, which You once established for Yourself, and renew us with the sun of Your mercy and the water of eternal life.

Give us a great hunger for the food of Your true body and blood, and let all Your faithful people ever be found in the Apostles' doctrine, in the fellowship, in the breaking of Your bread, and in the prayers.

We implore You, O Lord, for our altar, that it may ever be a place where the medicine of eternal life, the forgiveness of our sins, strengthens us in body and soul; that disbelief and impenitence may stay far from all who come there so that they may not eat and drink to their own judgment.

O Eternal High Priest, let the fruit of Your Spirit grow in us, which is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faith, gentleness, and chastity. Cause us to live in holy conduct toward one another to the glory of Your holy name, here in time and hereafter in eternity; for You live and reign with the Father and the same Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.

PRAYER ON FRIDAY

Lord Jesus Christ, true God and true man, we thank you . . . that You have redeemed us poor and condemned creatures not by any of our works, merit, or worthiness, but by Your holy suffering, death, and shedding of blood. O Lord, Your suffering was great, Your torment was heavy; we cannot comprehend how many Your stripes, how deep Your wounds, or the bitterness and painfulness of Your death! How inexpressible is Your love that reconciled us to Your heavenly Father. In great fear of death, You sweat blood on the Mount of Olives, drops of blood that fell upon the earth, and there, abandoned by all Your disciples, You willingly gave Yourself into the hands of those who led You mercilessly, bound hard and cruel, from one unjust judge to another. You were falsely accused and condemned, spit upon, scoffed, and struck in the face with fists. For the sake of our misdeeds, You were hit, whipped, crowned with thorns, and treated wretchedly—like a worm and not a man. You were despised and rejected by men, a Man of Sorrows, and acquainted with grief, so that even a heathen heart took pity and said, “Behold the man!” For the sake of our sin You were counted a sinner and hung up between two evildoers as a curse. You were pierced in hands and feet with nails and in Your highest thirst You were given vinegar and gall to drink. Finally, in great pain, You gave up Your spirit so that You could pay our debt and we could be healed by Your wounds.

O Lord Jesus Christ, for this and all Your other suffering and pain, we give You thanks and praise. We pray You, let Your holy, bitter suffering and death not be lost on us, but grant that at all times this may be our comfort, and that we may boast in it; and that as we ponder it, all evil desire in us may be snuffed out and subdued, and all virtue may be implanted and increased, so that we, having died to sin, may live in righteousness, following the example You have left us, walking in Your footsteps, enduring evil with patience, and suffering injustice with a good conscience. Amen.

PRAYER ON SATURDAY

Lord God, heavenly Father, once again a week comes to its end. Forgive us for having sinned again this week. We pray You not to look upon our guilt: forgive us every sin of thought, word, and deed; forgive our inner blindness, disbelief, doubt, feeble-mindedness, impatience, arrogance, evil desires, lust, secret envy, hate, resentment, and our other sins.

Redeem us by Your mercy. We know that a single sin eternally destroys our fellowship with You. We know that we have eternally earned Your wrath. We know that by our sin we are not worthy to be named Your children. But our hope is not in our works; our hope is found in Your grace alone, O God. We pray You to forgive us for the sake of Jesus Christ, Your beloved Son. Through Him, grant us the power to hate our sins, so that we may lead a life well-pleasing to You in true humility and in the knowledge of Your holy will. O Lord, teach us to number our days, that we may gain a heart of wisdom.

Let the coming Sunday be a blessing for all Christians and for me. Waken in us a hunger for Your Word and Sacrament. Prepare our hearts that we may take part in the eternal liturgy sung before Your throne, and grant that in the Sacrament we may join the never-ending feast, until that final day comes. Hear our prayer for the sake of the Lamb, Your beloved Son, Jesus Christ. Amen.

THE LITANY

The name “Litany” derives from the Greek word for prayer. In essence it is an explanation of the Kyrie (“Lord, have mercy.”). Our Litany is based on Martin Luther’s revision of the Great Litany (1529) and follows the English translation made by Thomas Cranmer (1544). Purged of the invocation of saints and other errors, the Litany stands as a great and comprehensive pattern of prayer for the Church, the world, and for all sorts and conditions of people.

The Litany may be used as a private devotion or as a prayer form for meetings and other church gatherings. It may replace the prayers in the Daily Office (Matins, Vespers, and so on). The Litany is particularly appropriate for use in penitential times, whether seasons (Lent, Advent) or days (Ember Days or special days of repentance and prayer).

We poor sinners implore You
to hear us, O Lord.

To rule and govern Your holy Christian Church; to preserve all pastors and ministers of Your Church in the true knowledge and understanding of Your wholesome Word and to sustain them in holy living;

To put an end to all schisms and causes of offense; to bring into the way of truth all who have erred and are deceived;

To beat down Satan under our feet; to send faithful laborers into Your harvest; and to accompany Your Word with Your grace and Spirit:
We implore You to hear us, good Lord.

To raise those that fall and to strengthen those that stand; and to comfort and help the weakhearted and the distressed:
We implore You to hear us, good Lord.

To give to all peoples concord and peace; to preserve our land from discord and strife; to give our country Your protection in every time of need;

To direct and defend our president/queen/king and all in authority; to bless and protect our magistrates and all our people;

To watch over and help all who are in danger, necessity, and tribulation; to protect and guide all who travel;

To grant all women with child, and all mothers with infant children, increasing happiness in their blessings; to defend all orphans and widows and provide for them;

To strengthen and keep all sick persons and young children; to free those in bondage; and to have mercy on us all:
We implore You to hear us, good Lord.

To forgive our enemies, persecutors, and slanderers and to turn their hearts; to give and preserve to our use the kindly fruits of the earth; and graciously to hear our prayers:
We implore You to hear us, good Lord.

Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God,
we implore You to hear us.

PRAYERS FOR THE BAPTISMAL LIFE

Morning

Faithful God, whose mercies are new to us every morning, we humbly pray that You would look upon us in mercy and renew us by Your Holy Spirit. Keep safe our going out and our coming in, and let Your blessing remain with us throughout this day. Preserve us in Your righteousness, and grant us a portion in that eternal life which is in Christ Jesus, our Lord. (168)

Thanksgiving in the morning

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, Your mercies are new unto us every morning, and though we have not deserved Your goodness, You abundantly provide for all our wants of body and soul. Grant us Your Holy Spirit that we may heartily acknowledge Your merciful goodness toward us, give thanks for all Your benefits, and serve You in willing obedience; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (169)

Protection during the day (Collect for Grace)

O Lord, our heavenly Father, almighty and everlasting God, You have safely brought us to the beginning of this day. Defend us in the same with Your mighty power, and grant that this day we fall into no sin, neither run into any kind of danger, but that all our doings, being ordered by Your governance, may be righteous in Your sight; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (170)

Evening

Merciful Father, whose guiding hand has brought us to the completion of this day, we humbly pray You to stay with us and shelter us in quiet hours of the night that we, who are wearied by the changes and chances of this passing world, may rest in Your changeless peace; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (171)

Thanksgiving at end of day

Gracious Lord, we give You thanks for the day, especially for the good we were permitted to give and to receive. The day is now past, and we commit it to You. We entrust to You the night and rest in Your peace, for You are our help, and You neither slumber nor sleep. Hear us for the sake of Your name. (172)

Protection during the night

Lighten our darkness, O Lord, and by Your great mercy defend us from all perils and dangers of this night; for the love of Your only Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ. (173)

At a Baptism

Almighty, everlasting God, mercifully behold Your servants whom You have made Your children through Holy Baptism. According to Your grace, grant that Your promises may be fulfilled in us; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (174)

Life as a Baptized Child of God

Merciful Father, through Holy Baptism You called us to be Your own possession. Grant that our lives may evidence the working of Your Holy Spirit in love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control, according to the image of Your only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ, our Savior. (175)

Anniversary of a Baptism

Gracious Lord, we give thanks that in Holy Baptism we receive forgiveness of sins, deliverance from death and the devil, and eternal salvation. On this baptismal anniversary, bless name continually by Your Word and Spirit that he/she may faithfully keep the covenant into which he/she has been called, boldly confess his/her Savior, and finally share with all Your saints the joys of eternal life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (176)

Teaching the faith

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, even as You have committed the care and nurture of children to Your people, graciously enlighten those who teach and those who are committed to their instruction that they may know Your eternal truth and trust in You all the days of their lives; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (177)

For catechumens

Lord God, heavenly Father, in Holy Baptism You began Your good work in our catechumens, and You have blessed their instruction and training in Your Word. We implore You to pour out Your Holy Spirit on their hearts and minds so that they will truly love and revere You, confess the faith with joy and boldness, endeavor to live according to Your commandments, and praise and glorify You as their faithful God and Lord, for the sake of Your Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. (178)

For adult catechumens who are not baptized

Lord God, heavenly Father, You have blessed our catechumens through instruction and training in Your Word. As they prepare for Holy Baptism, we implore You to pour out Your Holy Spirit on their hearts and minds so that they will truly love and revere You, confess the faith with joy and boldness, endeavor to live according to Your commandments, and praise and glorify You as their faithful God and Lord; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (179)

At a confirmation

Almighty God, grant that we who have been redeemed from the old life of sin through Baptism into the death and resurrection of Your Son, Jesus Christ, may be renewed in Your Holy Spirit and live in righteousness and true holiness; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (180)

For the Holy Spirit

Almighty and everlasting God, of Your great mercy in Jesus Christ You have granted us forgiveness of sin and all things pertaining to life and godliness. Send us Your Holy Spirit that He may so rule our hearts that we, being ever mindful of Your fatherly mercy, may serve You in holiness and pureness of living and may give You continual thanks for all Your goodness; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (181)

O Lord God, heavenly Father, we give

You thanks that of Your great goodness and mercy Your only-begotten Son became incarnate to redeem us from sin and everlasting death. Enlighten our hearts by Your Holy Spirit that we may forever give You thanks for Your grace and be strengthened in all times of tribulation and temptation; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (182)

Almighty God, send Your Holy Spirit into our hearts that He may rule and direct us according to Your will, comfort us in all our temptations and afflictions, defend us from all error, and lead us into all truth that we, being steadfast in faith, may increase in all good works and in the end obtain everlasting life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (183)

O Lord God, heavenly Father, You gave Your only Son to die for our sins and to rise again for our justification. By Your Holy Spirit grant us newness of life that through the power of Christ's resurrection we may dwell with Him forever; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord. (184)

O Lord God, heavenly Father, by the blessed light of Your divine Word You have led us to the knowledge of Your Son. Grant us the grace of Your Holy Spirit that we may ever walk in the light of Your truth and, rejoicing with sure confidence in Christ, our Savior, be brought unto everlasting salvation; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord. (185)

Lord God, heavenly Father, let Your Holy Spirit dwell in us that He may enlighten and lead us into all truth and evermore defend us from all adversities; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (186)

For divine guidance

Almighty and ever-living God, You make us both to will and to do those things that are good and acceptable in Your sight. Let Your fatherly hand ever guide us and Your Holy Spirit ever be with us to direct us in the knowledge and obedience of Your Word that we may obtain everlasting life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (187)

Direct us, O Lord, in all our doings with Your most gracious favor, and further us with Your continual help, that in all our works begun, continued, and ended in You we may glorify Your holy name and finally, by Your mercy, obtain eternal salvation; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (188)

Almighty and everlasting God, direct, sanctify, and govern both our hearts and bodies in the ways of Your laws and in the works of Your commandments that through Your mighty protection we may ever be preserved in both body and soul; through our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. (189)

Faith, hope, and love

Almighty God, grant us a steadfast faith in Jesus Christ, a cheerful hope in Your mercy, and a sincere love for You and one another; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (190)

Thanksgiving to God

Heavenly Father, God of all grace, govern our hearts that we may never forget Your blessings but steadfastly thank and praise You for all Your goodness in this life until, with all Your saints, we praise You eternally in Your heavenly kingdom; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (191)

Grace to use our gifts

Lord God Almighty, even as You bless Your servants with various and unique gifts of the Holy Spirit, continue to grant us the grace to use them always to Your honor and glory; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (192)

For guidance in our calling

Lord God, You have called Your servants to ventures of which we cannot see the ending, by paths as yet untrodden, through perils unknown. Give us faith to go out with good courage, not knowing where we go but only that Your hand is leading us and Your love supporting us; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (193)

Christian vocation

Heavenly Father, grant Your mercy and grace to Your people in their many and various callings. Give them patience, and strengthen them in their Christian vocation of witness to the world and of service to their neighbor in Christ's name; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (194)

Against the love of money

Almighty God, heavenly Father, You have called us to be Your children and heirs of Your gracious promises in Christ Jesus. Grant us Your Holy Spirit that we may forsake all covetous desires and the inordinate love of riches. Deliver us from the pursuit of passing things that we may seek the kingdom of Your Son and trust in His righteousness and so find blessedness and peace; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (195)

Proper use of wealth

Almighty God, all that we possess is from Your loving hand. Give us grace that we may honor You with all we own, always remembering the account we must one day give to Jesus Christ, our Lord. (196)

Proper use of leisure

O God, give us times of refreshment and peace in the course of this busy life. Grant that we may so use our leisure to rebuild our bodies and renew our minds that we may be opened to the goodness of Your creation; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (197)

Newness of life in Christ

Almighty God, give us grace that we may cast away the works of darkness and put upon ourselves the armor of light now in the time of this mortal life in which Your Son, Jesus Christ, came to visit us in great humility, that in the Last Day, when He shall come again in glorious majesty to judge both the living and the dead, we may rise to the life immortal; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (198)

Likeness to Christ

O God, by the patient suffering of Your only-begotten Son You have beaten down the pride of the old enemy. Now help us, we humbly pray, rightly to treasure in our hearts all that our Lord has of His goodness borne for our sake that following His blessed example we may bear with patience all that is adverse to us; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (199)

For steadfast faith

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, because of Your tender love toward us sinners You have given us Your Son that, believing in Him, we might have everlasting life. Continue to grant us Your Holy Spirit that we may remain steadfast in this faith to the end and finally come to life everlasting; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (200)

Thanksgiving to God

Lord God, heavenly Father, from Your hand we receive all good gifts and by Your grace we are guarded from all evil. Grant us Your Holy Spirit that, acknowledging with our whole heart Your boundless goodness, we may now and evermore thank and praise You for Your loving-kindness and tender mercy; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (201)

For a right knowledge of Christ

Almighty God, whom to know is everlasting life, grant us perfectly to know Your Son, Jesus Christ, to be the way, the truth, and the life, that following His steps we may steadfastly walk in the way that leads to eternal life; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord. (202)

Before the study of God's Word

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, without Your help our labor is useless, and without Your light our search is in vain. Invigorate our study of Your holy Word that, by due diligence and right discernment, we may establish ourselves and others in Your holy faith; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (203)

For spiritual renewal

Almighty God, You gave Your only-begotten Son to take our nature upon Himself. Grant that we, Your adopted children by grace, may daily be renewed by Your Holy Spirit; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (204)

Almighty God, grant that we, who have been redeemed from the old life of sin by our Baptism into the death and resurrection of Your Son, Jesus Christ, may be renewed by Your Holy Spirit to live in righteousness and true holiness; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (205)

For reconciliation

God of love, through Your Son You have commanded us to love one another. By the guidance of Your Word and Spirit, deliver us from impenitence and teach us the truth that we might confess our sins, receive Your forgiveness, and be reconciled to one another; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (206)

For deliverance from sin

We implore You, O Lord, in Your kindness to show us Your great mercy that we may be set free from our sins and rescued from the punishments that we rightfully deserve; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (207)

For aid against temptation

O God, You justify the ungodly and desire not the death of the sinner. Graciously assist us by Your heavenly aid and evermore shield us with Your protection, that no temptation may separate us from Your love in Christ Jesus, our Lord. (208)

In times of temptation

Almighty and everlasting God, through Your Son You have promised us forgiveness of sins and everlasting life. Govern our hearts by Your Holy Spirit that in our daily need, and especially in all time of temptation, we may seek Your help and, by a true and lively faith in Your Word, obtain all that You have promised; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord. (209)

For control of the tongue

We pray You, O Lord, to keep our tongues from evil and our lips from speaking deceit, that as Your holy angels continuously sing praises to You in heaven, so may we at all times glorify You on earth; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (210)

For purity

Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hidden, cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of Your Holy Spirit that we may perfectly love You and worthily magnify Your holy name; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (211)

For faithfulness

Lord God, we thank You that You have taught us what You would have us believe and do. Help us by Your Holy Spirit, for the sake of Jesus Christ, to hold fast Your Word in hearts that You have cleansed that thereby we may be made strong in faith and perfect in holiness and be comforted in life and death; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (212)

Innocence of life

O God, whose strength is made perfect in weakness, put to death in us all vices and so strengthen us by Your grace that by the innocence of our lives and the constancy of our faith, even unto death, we may glorify Your holy name; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (213)

Grace to love and serve God

O God, through the grace of Your Holy Spirit You pour the gifts of love into the hearts of Your faithful people. Grant Your servants health both of mind and body that they may love You with their whole heart and with their whole strength perform those things that are pleasing to You; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (214)

For those who care for others

Most merciful Father, You have committed to our love and care our fellow human beings and their necessities. Graciously be with and prosper all those who serve the sick and those in need. Let their service be abundantly blessed as they bring relief to the suffering, comfort to the sorrowing, and peace to the dying. Grant them the knowledge that inasmuch as they do it unto the least of the Master's brethren, they do it unto Him; through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord. (215)

For humility

O God, You resist the proud and give grace to the humble. Grant us true humility after the likeness of Your only Son that we may never be arrogant and prideful and thus provoke Your wrath, but in all lowliness be made partakers of the gifts of Your grace; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (216)

For patience

O God, by the patient endurance of Your only-begotten Son You beat down the pride of the old enemy. Help us to treasure rightly in our hearts what our Lord has borne for our sakes that, after His example, we may bear with patience those things that are adverse to us; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (217)

Answer to prayer

Almighty God, since You have granted us the favor to call on You with one accord and have promised that where two or three are gathered together in Your name You are in the midst of them, fulfill now the prayers of Your servants, granting us in this world knowledge of Your truth and in the world to come life everlasting; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (218)

Almighty God, You have promised to hear the petitions of those who ask in Your Son's name. Mercifully incline Your ears to us who have now made our prayers and supplications to You, and grant that those things that we have faithfully asked according to Your will we may receive to meet our need and bring glory to You; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (219)

For a blessed death

Almighty God, grant Your unworthy servants Your grace, that in the hour of our death the adversary may not prevail against us, but that we may be found worthy of everlasting life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (220)

Blessedness of heaven

Almighty, everlasting God, You gave Your only Son to be a High Priest of good things to come. Grant unto us, Your unworthy servants, to have our share in the company of the blessed for all eternity; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (221)

Hope of eternal life in Christ

Almighty, everlasting God, Your Son has assured forgiveness of sins and deliverance from eternal death. Strengthen us by Your Holy Spirit that our faith in Christ may increase daily and that we may hold fast to the hope that on the Last Day we shall be raised in glory to eternal life; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. (222)

The sea of this world lies between where we are going, even though we have already seen where we are going.
And what has God done? He has provided the wood by which we may cross the sea. For no one can cross the sea of the world unless carried by the cross of Christ.

—Augustine, Tractatus in evangelium Ioannis 2.2

SINGING THE PSALMS

---

The psalms are pointed for singing. Each psalm verse is divided into two parts, with an asterisk ( \* ) indicating the point of division. Most of the text of each half verse is sung to a reciting tone  $\smile$ . At the point of the vertical line ( | ) the final two or three syllables are sung to the notes provided. Ordinarily there is one syllable of text for each note. When there are only two syllables, the first syllable is sung to two notes.

In addition to a number of single tones, three double tones are also provided. Two verses of text are sung to these tones. Double tones are especially appropriate for longer psalms and work best when sung to a psalm with an even number of verses.

Any psalm can be sung to any tone. It is best, however, that the tone, which can range from cheerful and bright to somber and austere, be appropriate to the text.

- <sup>1</sup> Blessèd is the man who walks not in the counsel of the | wicked,*
nor stands in the way of sinners,
nor sits in the seat of | scoffers;
- <sup>2</sup> but his delight is in the law | of the LORD,*
and on his law he meditates | day
and night.
- <sup>3</sup> He is like a tree planted by streams
of water that yields its fruit in its season,
and its leaf does not | wither.*
In all that he does, he | prospers.
- <sup>4</sup> The wicked | are not so,*
but are like chaff that the wind | drives away.
- <sup>5</sup> Therefore the wicked will not stand
in the | judgment,*
nor sinners in the congregation
of the | righteous;
- <sup>6</sup> for the LORD knows the way of
the | righteous,*
but the way of the wicked will | perish.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

2

- <sup>1</sup> Why do the | nations rage*
and the peoples | plot in vain?
- <sup>2</sup> The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel to- | gether,* against the LORD and against his
anointed, | saying,

- <sup>3</sup> “Let us burst their | bonds apart*
and cast away their | cords from us.”
- <sup>4</sup> He who sits in the | heavens laughs,*
the Lord holds them in de- | rision.
- <sup>5</sup> Then he will speak to them | in his wrath,*
and terrify them in his fury, | saying,
- <sup>6</sup> “As for me, I have | set my King*
on Zion, my | holy hill.”
- <sup>7</sup> I will tell of | the decree.*
The LORD said to me, “You are my Son;
today I have be- | gotten you.
- <sup>8</sup> Ask of me, and I will make the nations
your | heritage,*
and the ends of the earth
your pos- | session.
- <sup>9</sup> You shall break them with a | rod of iron*
and dash them in pieces like
a potter’s | vessel.”
- <sup>10</sup> Now therefore, O | kings, be wise;*
be warned, O rulers | of the earth.
- <sup>11</sup> Serve the | LORD with fear,*
and rejoice with | trembling.
- <sup>12</sup> Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and you perish in the way, for his wrath is quickly | kindled.*
Blessèd are all who take ref- | uge in him.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

3

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, how many | are my foes!*
- Many are rising a- | gainst me;
- <sup>2</sup> many are saying | of my soul,*
- there is no salvation for | him in God.
- <sup>3</sup> But you, O LORD, are a shield a- | bout me,*
- my glory, and the lifter | of my head.
- <sup>4</sup> I cried aloud | to the LORD,*
- and he answered me from his | holy hill.
- <sup>5</sup> I lay | down and slept;*
- I woke again, for the LORD
- sus- | tained me.
- <sup>6</sup> I will not be afraid of many thousands
- of | people*
- who have set themselves against me | all
- around.
- <sup>7</sup> Arise, O LORD! Save me, O my God! For
- you strike all my enemies | on the cheek;*
- you break the teeth of the | wicked.
- <sup>8</sup> Salvation belongs | to the LORD;*
- your blessing be on your | people!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
- and to the Holy | Spirit;
- as it was in the be- | ginning,*
- is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

4

- <sup>1</sup> Answer me when I call, O God of my
- righteousness! You have given me relief
- when I was | in distress.*
- Be gracious to me and | hear my prayer!
- <sup>2</sup> O men, how long shall my honor be
- turned | into shame?*
- How long will you love vain words and
- seek | after lies?
- <sup>3</sup> But know that the LORD has set apart the
- godly | for himself;*
- the LORD hears when I | call to him.
- <sup>4</sup> Be angry, and | do not sin;*
- ponder in your own hearts on your beds,
- and be | silent.

- <sup>5</sup> Offer right sacri- | fices,*
- and put your trust | in the LORD.
- <sup>6</sup> There are many who say,
- “Who will show | us some good?*
- Lift up the light of your face
- upon us, | O LORD!”
- <sup>7</sup> You have put more joy | in my heart*
- than they have when their grain
- and | wine abound.
- <sup>8</sup> In peace I will both lie | down and sleep;*
- for you alone, O LORD,
- make me dwell in | safety.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
- and to the Holy | Spirit;
- as it was in the be- | ginning,***
- is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

5

- <sup>1</sup> Give ear to my words, | O LORD;*
- consider my | groaning.
- <sup>2</sup> Give attention to the sound of my cry,
- my King | and my God,*
- for to you | do I pray.
- <sup>3</sup> O LORD, in the morning you | hear
- my voice;*
- in the morning I prepare a sacrifice
- for | you and watch.
- <sup>4</sup> For you are not a God who delights
- in | wickedness;*
- evil may not | dwell with you.
- <sup>5</sup> The boastful shall not stand be- | fore
- your eyes;*
- you hate all evil- | doers.
- <sup>6</sup> You destroy those | who speak lies;*
- the LORD abhors the bloodthirsty and
- de- | ceitful man.
- <sup>7</sup> But I, through the abundance of your
- steadfast love, will en- | ter your house.*
- I will bow down toward your holy temple
- in the | fear of you.

<sup>8</sup> Lead me, O LORD, in your righteousness because of my | enemies;*
make your way straight be- | fore me.

<sup>9</sup> For there is no truth in their mouth;
their inmost self is de- | struction;*
their throat is an open grave;
they flatter | with their tongue.

<sup>10</sup> Make them bear their guilt, O God;
let them fall by their own | counsels;*
because of the abundance of their transgressions cast them out, for
they have rebelled a- | gainst you.

<sup>11</sup> But let all who take refuge in you rejoice;
let them ever | sing for joy,*
and spread your protection over them, that those who love your name
may ex- | ult in you.

<sup>12</sup> For you bless the righteous, | O LORD;*
you cover him with favor
as | with a shield.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

6

<sup>1</sup> O LORD, rebuke me not in your | anger,*
nor discipline me | in your wrath.

<sup>2</sup> Be gracious to me, O LORD,
for I am | languishing;*
heal me, O LORD,
for my bones are | troubled.

<sup>3</sup> My soul also is greatly | troubled.*
But you, O LORD— | how long?

<sup>4</sup> Turn, O LORD, deliv- | er my life;*
save me for the sake of
your | steadfast love.

<sup>5</sup> For in death there is no remem- | brance
of you;*
in Sheol who will | give you praise?

<sup>6</sup> I am weary with my moaning; every night
I flood my | bed with tears,*

I drench my couch with my | weeping.

<sup>7</sup> My eye wastes away be- | cause of grief;*
it grows weak because of | all my foes.

<sup>8</sup> Depart from me, all you workers of | evil,*
for the LORD has heard the sound of my | weeping.

<sup>9</sup> The LORD has | heard my plea;*
the LORD ac- | cepts my prayer.

<sup>10</sup> All my enemies shall be ashamed and greatly | troubled;*
they shall turn back and
be put to shame in a | moment.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

7

<sup>1</sup> O LORD my God, in you do I take | refuge;*
save me from all my pursuers
and de- | liver me,

<sup>2</sup> lest like a lion they tear my | soul apart,* rending it in pieces, with none
to de- | liver.

<sup>3</sup> O LORD my God, if I have | done this,*
if there is wrong | in my hands,

<sup>4</sup> if I have repaid my friend with | evil*
or plundered my enemy with- | out cause,

<sup>5</sup> let the enemy pursue my soul and over- | take it,*

and let him trample my life to the ground and lay my glory | in the dust.

<sup>6</sup> Arise, O LORD, in your anger; lift yourself up against the fury of my | enemies;*
awake for me; you have appointed
a | judgment.

<sup>7</sup> Let the assembly of the peoples be gathered a- | bout you;*
 over it re- | turn on high.

<sup>8</sup> he LORD judges the | peoples;*
 judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness and according to the integrity that is | in me.

<sup>9</sup> Oh, let the evil of the wicked come to an end, and may you establish
 the | righteous—*
 you who test the minds and hearts,
 O | righteous God!

<sup>10</sup> My shield | is with God,*
 who saves the up- | right in heart.

<sup>11</sup> God is a | righteous judge,*
 and a God who feels indignation | every day.

<sup>12</sup> If a man does not repent,
 God will | whet his sword;*
 he has bent and read- | ied his bow;

<sup>13</sup> he has prepared for him his deadly | weapons,*
 making his arrows | fiery shafts.

<sup>14</sup> Behold, the wicked man conceives | evil*
 and is pregnant with mischief
 and gives | birth to lies.

<sup>15</sup> He makes a pit, digging | it out,*
 and falls into the hole that | he has made.

 and on his own skull
 his violence | de-scends.

<sup>17</sup> I will give to the LORD the thanks due to his | righteousness,*
 and I will sing praise to the name of the LORD, the | Most High.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

8

<sup>1</sup> O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name in | all the earth!*
 You have set your glory
 above the | heavens.

<sup>2</sup> Out of the mouth of babes and infants,
 you have established strength
 because | of your foes,*
 to still the enemy and the a- | venger.

<sup>3</sup> When I look at your heavens,
 the work of your | fingers,*
 the moon and the stars,
 which you have | set in place,

<sup>4</sup> what is man that you are mind- | ful of him,*
 and the son of man
 that you | care for him?

<sup>5</sup> Yet you have made him a little lower than the heavenly | beings*
 and crowned him with glory and | honor.

<sup>6</sup> You have given him dominion over the works | of your hands;*
 you have put all things under | his feet,

<sup>7</sup> all sheep and | oxen,*
 and also the beasts | of the field,

<sup>8</sup> the birds of the heavens,
 and the fish | of the sea,*
 whatever passes along
 the paths | of the seas.

<sup>9</sup> O | LORD, our Lord,*
 how majestic is your name
 in | all the earth!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

9

- <sup>1</sup> I will give thanks to the LORD
with my | whole heart;*
I will recount all of your
won- | derful deeds.
- <sup>2</sup> I will be glad and ex- | ult in you;*
I will sing praise to your name, | O Most High.
- <sup>3</sup> When my enemies | turn back,*
they stumble and perish
before your | presence.
- <sup>4</sup> For you have maintained my | just cause;*
you have sat on the throne,
giving righteous | judgment.
- <sup>5</sup> You have rebuked the nations;
you have made the wicked | perish;*
you have blotted out their
name forever and | ever.
- <sup>6</sup> The enemy came to an end in everlasting ruins; their cities you | rooted out;*
the very memory of them has | perished.
- <sup>7</sup> But the LORD sits enthroned for- | ever;*
he has established his throne for | justice,
- <sup>8</sup> and he judges the world
with | righteousness;*
he judges the peoples with
up- | rightness.
- <sup>9</sup> The LORD is a stronghold for | the oppressed,*
a stronghold in times of | trouble.
- <sup>10</sup> And those who know your name
put their | trust in you,*
for you, O LORD, have not
forsaken those who | seek you.
- <sup>11</sup> Sing praises to the LORD,
who sits enthroned in | Zion!*
- Tell among the peoples | his deeds!
- <sup>12</sup> For he who avenges blood is mind- | ful of them;*
he does not forget the cry
of the af- | flicted.

- <sup>13</sup> Be gracious to me, | O LORD!*
- See my affliction from those who hate me, O you who lift me
up from the | gates of death,
- <sup>14</sup> that I may recount all your | praises,*
that in the gates of the daughter of Zion
I may rejoice in your sal- | vation.
- <sup>15</sup> The nations have sunk in the pit | that they made;*
in the net that they hid,
their own foot | has been caught.
- <sup>16</sup> The LORD has made himself known;
he has executed | judgment;*
the wicked are snared in the work
of | their own hands.
- <sup>17</sup> The wicked shall return | to Sheol,*
all the nations that for- | get God.
- <sup>18</sup> For the needy shall not always be for- | gotten,*
and the hope of the poor
shall not perish for- | ever.
- <sup>19</sup> Arise, O LORD! Let not | man prevail,*
let the nations be judged be- | fore you!
- <sup>20</sup> Put them in fear, | O LORD!*
- Let the nations know
that they | are but men!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

10

- <sup>1</sup> Why, O LORD, do you stand a- | far off?*
- Why do you hide yourself
in times of | trouble?
- <sup>2</sup> In arrogance the wicked hotly
pur- | sue the poor;*
let them be caught in the schemes
that they | have devised.
- <sup>3</sup> For the wicked boasts of the desires | of his soul,*
and the one greedy for gain curses and renounc- | es the LORD.

- <sup>4</sup> In the pride of his face the wicked
does not | seek him;*
all his thoughts are, “There | is no God.”
- <sup>5</sup> His ways prosper at all times; your judgments are on high, out | of his sight;*
as for all his foes, he | puffs at them.
- <sup>6</sup> He says in his heart,
“I shall | not be moved;*
throughout all generations
I shall not meet ad- | versity.”
- <sup>7</sup> His mouth is filled with cursing
and deceit and op- | pression;*
under his tongue are mischief
and in- | iquity.
- <sup>8</sup> He sits in ambush in the villages;
in hiding places he murders the | innocent.*
His eyes stealthily watch
for the | helpless;
- <sup>9</sup> he lurks in ambush like a lion in his thicket;
he lurks that he may | seize the poor;*
he seizes the poor when he draws
him in- | to his net.
- <sup>10</sup> The help- | less are crushed,*
sink down, and fall | by his might.
- <sup>11</sup> He says in his heart, “God has for- | gotten,*
he has hidden his face, he will never | see it.”
- <sup>12</sup> Arise, O LORD; O God, lift | up your hand;*
forget not the af- | flicted.
- <sup>13</sup> Why does the wicked renounce God
and say | in his heart,*
“You will not call | to account”?
- <sup>14</sup> But you do see, for you note mischief and vexation, that you may take
it in- | to your hands;*
to you the helpless commits himself;
you have been the helper
of the | fatherless.
- <sup>15</sup> Break the arm of the wicked
and evil- | doer;*
call his wickedness to account
till you | find none.

- <sup>16</sup> The LORD is king forever and | ever;*
the nations perish | from his land.
- <sup>17</sup> O LORD, you hear the desire
of the af- | flicted;*
you will strength- | en their heart;
you will incline your ear <sup>18</sup> to do justice to the fatherless and | the oppressed,*
so that man who is of the earth may strike ter- | ror no more.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

11

- <sup>1</sup> In the LORD I take refuge;
how can you say | to my soul,*
“Flee like a bird to your | mountain,
- <sup>2</sup> for behold, the wicked | bend the bow;*
they have fitted their arrow to the string to shoot in the dark
at the up- | right in heart;
- <sup>3</sup> if the foundations | are destroyed,*
what can the | righteous do?”
- <sup>4</sup> The LORD is in his holy temple;
the LORD’s throne is in | heaven;*
his eyes see, his eyelids test,
the chil- | dren of man.
- <sup>5</sup> The LORD tests the | righteous,*
but his soul hates the wicked and
the one who loves | violence.
- <sup>6</sup> Let him rain coals on the | wicked;*
fire and sulfur and a scorching wind
shall be the portion | of their cup.
- <sup>7</sup> For the LORD is righteous;
he loves | righteous deeds;*
the upright shall be- | hold his face.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

12

- <sup>1</sup> Save, O LORD, for the godly | one is gone;*
for the faithful have vanished from among the chil- | dren of man.
- <sup>2</sup> Everyone utters lies to his | neighbor;*
with flattering lips and
a double | heart they speak.
- <sup>3</sup> May the LORD cut off all | flattering lips,*
the tongue that | makes great boasts,
- <sup>4</sup> those who say, “With our tongue
we | will prevail,*
our lips are with us;
who is master | over us?”
- <sup>5</sup> “Because the poor are plundered, because the needy groan, I will now
arise,” | says the LORD;*
“I will place him in the safety
for | which he longs.”
- <sup>6</sup> The words of the LORD are | pure words,* like silver refined in a furnace on the ground, purified | seven times.
- <sup>7</sup> You, O LORD, will | keep them;*
you will guard us from this generation for- | ever.
- <sup>8</sup> On every side the | wicked prowl,*
as vileness is exalted among the
chil- | dren of man.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

13

- <sup>1</sup> How long, O LORD?
Will you forget me for- | ever?*
- How long will you hide
your | face from me?
- <sup>2</sup> How long must I take counsel in my soul
and have sorrow in my heart | all the day?*
- How long shall my enemy
be exalted | over me?

- <sup>3</sup> Consider and answer me,
O | LORD my God;*
light up my eyes, lest I sleep
the | sleep of death,
- <sup>4</sup> lest my enemy say, “I have prevailed | over him,”*
lest my foes rejoice because I am | shaken.
- <sup>5</sup> But I have trusted in your | steadfast love;*
my heart shall rejoice
in your sal- | vation.
- <sup>6</sup> I will sing | to the LORD,*
because he has dealt bountifully | with me.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

14

- <sup>1</sup> The fool says in his heart,
“There | is no God.”*
They are corrupt, they do abominable
deeds, there is none | who does good.
- <sup>2</sup> The LORD looks down from heaven
on the chil- | dren of man,*
to see if there are any who understand,
who seek | after God.
- <sup>3</sup> They have all turned aside;
together they have be- | come corrupt,*
there is none who does good,
not | even one.
- <sup>4</sup> Have they no knowledge, all the evil- | doers*
who eat up my people as they eat bread
and do not call up- | on the LORD?
- <sup>5</sup> There they are in great | terror,*
for God is with the generation
of the | righteous.
- <sup>6</sup> You would shame the plans | of the poor,*
but the LORD is his | refuge.
- <sup>7</sup> Oh, that salvation for Israel would come out of | Zion!*

When the LORD restores the fortunes
of his people, let Jacob rejoice,
let Israel | be glad.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

15

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, who shall sojourn | in your tent?*
Who shall dwell on your | holy hill?
- <sup>2</sup> He who walks blamelessly and does | what is right*
and speaks truth | in his heart;
- <sup>3</sup> who does not slander with his tongue
and does no evil to his | neighbor,* nor takes up a reproach
a- | gainst his friend;
- <sup>4</sup> in whose eyes a vile person is despised,
but who honors those who | fear the LORD;*
who swears to his own hurt
and | does not change;
- <sup>5</sup> who does not put out his money
at interest and does not take a bribe against the | innocent.*
He who does these things
shall nev- | er be moved.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

16

- <sup>1</sup> Preserve me, | O God,*
for in you I take | refuge.
- <sup>2</sup> I say to the LORD, “You | are my Lord,*
I have no good a- | part from you.”
- <sup>3</sup> As for the saints | in the land,*
they are the excellent ones,
in whom is all | my delight.
- <sup>4</sup> The sorrows of those who run
after another god shall | multiply;*

their drink offerings of blood I will not pour out or take their names | on my lips.

- <sup>5</sup> The LORD is my chosen portion | and my cup;*
you | hold my lot.
- <sup>6</sup> The lines have fallen for me
in pleasant | places;*
indeed, I have a beautiful in- | heritance.
- <sup>7</sup> I bless the LORD who gives me | counsel;*
in the night also my heart
in- | structs me.
- <sup>8</sup> I have set the LORD always be- | fore me;*
because he is at my right hand,
I shall not be | shaken.
- <sup>9</sup> Therefore my heart is glad, and
my whole being re- | joices;*
my flesh also | dwells secure.
- <sup>10</sup> For you will not abandon my soul | to Sheol,*
or let your holy one see cor- | ruption.
- <sup>11</sup> You make known to me the | path of life;*
in your presence there is fullness of joy;
at your right hand are pleasures
for- | evermore.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

17

- <sup>1</sup> Hear a just cause, O LORD;
attend | to my cry!*
Give ear to my prayer from lips
free | of deceit!
- <sup>2</sup> From your presence let my
vindi- | cation come!*
- Let your eyes be- | hold the right!
- <sup>3</sup> You have tried my heart, you have visited me by night, you have tested me,
and you will find | nothing;*
- I have purposed that my mouth
will | not transgress.

<sup>4</sup> With regard to the works of man,
 by the word | of your lips*
 I have avoided the ways of the | violent.
<sup>5</sup> My steps have held fast | to your paths;*
 my feet | have not slipped.
<sup>6</sup> I call upon you, for you will answer me, | O God;*
 incline your ear to me; | hear my words.
<sup>7</sup> Wondrously show your | steadfast love,*
 O Savior of those who seek refuge from their adversaries at | your right hand.
<sup>8</sup> Keep me as the apple | of your eye;*
 hide me in the shadow | of your wings,
<sup>9</sup> from the wicked who do me | violence,*
 my deadly enemies who sur- | round me.
<sup>10</sup> They close their hearts to | pity;*
 with their mouths they speak ar- | rogantly.
<sup>11</sup> They have now surrounded | our steps;*
 they set their eyes to cast
 us | to the ground.
<sup>12</sup> He is like a lion ea- | ger to tear,*
 as a young lion lurking in | ambush.
 Confront him, sub- | due him!
 Deliver my soul from the wicked by your sword, <sup>14</sup> from men by your hand, | O LORD,* from men of the world whose portion is | in this life.
 You fill their womb with | treasure;*
 they are satisfied with children, and they leave their abundance to their | infants.
<sup>15</sup> As for me, I shall behold your face in | righteousness;*
 when I awake, I shall be satisfied
 with your | likeness.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

18

<sup>1</sup> I | love you,*
 O | LORD, my strength.
<sup>2</sup> The LORD is my rock and my fortress and my de- | liverer,*
 my God, my rock, in whom I take refuge,
 my shield, and the horn of my salvation,
 my | stronghold.
<sup>3</sup> I call upon the LORD, who is worthy | to be praised,*
 and I am saved from my | enemies.
<sup>4</sup> The cords of death en- | compassed me;*
 the torrents of destruction as- | sailed me;
<sup>5</sup> the cords of Sheol en- | tangled me,*
 the snares of death con- | fronted me.
<sup>6</sup> In my distress I called upon the LORD;
 to my God I | cried for help.*
 From his temple he heard my voice,
 and my cry to him | reached his ears.
<sup>7</sup> Then the earth | reeled and rocked,*
 the foundations also of the mountains
 trembled and quaked,
 because he was | angry.
<sup>8</sup> Smoke went up from his nostrils,
 and devouring fire | from his mouth;*
 glowing coals flamed | forth from him.
<sup>9</sup> He bowed the heavens and | came down,*
 thick darkness was un- | der his feet.
<sup>10</sup> He rode on a cher- | ub and flew;*
 he came swiftly on the wings | of the wind.
<sup>11</sup> He made darkness his covering,
 his canopy a- | round him,*
 thick clouds dark with | water.
<sup>12</sup> Out of the brightness be- | fore him*
 hailstones and coals of fire
 broke | through his clouds.
<sup>13</sup> The LORD also thundered in the | heavens,*
 and the Most High uttered his voice,
 hailstones and | coals of fire.
<sup>14</sup> And he sent out his arrows and | scattered them;*

- he flashed forth lightnings
and | routed them.
- <sup>15</sup> Then the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were | laid bare*
at your rebuke, O LORD, at the blast
of the breath of your | nostrils.
- <sup>16</sup> He sent from on high, he | took me;*
he drew me out of many | waters.
- <sup>17</sup> He rescued me from my strong | enemy*
and from those who hated me,
for they were too might- | y for me.
- <sup>18</sup> They confronted me in the day
of my ca- | lamity,*
but the LORD was | my support.
- <sup>19</sup> He brought me out into a | broad place;*
he rescued me, because
he delight- | ed in me.
- <sup>20</sup> The LORD dealt with me according to my | righteousness,*
according to the cleanness
of my hands he re- | warded me.
- <sup>21</sup> For I have kept the ways | of the LORD,*
and have not wickedly
departed | from my God.
- <sup>22</sup> For all his just decrees were be- | fore me,*
and his statutes I did not put a- | way from me.
- <sup>23</sup> I was blameless be- | fore him,*
and I kept myself | from my guilt.
- <sup>24</sup> So the LORD has rewarded me
according to my | righteousness,*
according to the cleanness
of my hands | in his sight.
- <sup>25</sup> With the merciful you
show yourself | merciful,*
with the blameless man you show
yourself | blameless;
- <sup>26</sup> with the purified you show
your- | self pure;*
and with the crooked you
make yourself seem | tortuous.
- <sup>27</sup> For you save a humble | people,*
but the haughty eyes | you bring down.
- <sup>28</sup> For it is you who | light my lamp;*
the LORD my God lightens my | darkness.
- <sup>29</sup> For by you I can run a- | gainst a troop,*
and by my God I can leap o- | ver a wall.
- <sup>30</sup> This God—his way is | perfect,*
the word of the LORD proves true;
he is a shield for all those who
take ref- | uge in him.
- <sup>31</sup> For who is God, | but the LORD?*
- And who is a rock, ex- | cept our God?—
- <sup>32</sup> the God who equipped | me with strength*
and made my way | blameless.
- <sup>33</sup> He made my feet like the feet | of a deer*
and set me secure | on the heights.
- <sup>34</sup> He trains my | hands for war,*
so that my arms can
bend a | bow of bronze.
- <sup>35</sup> You have given me the shield
of your sal- | vation,*
and your right hand supported me,
and your gentleness | made me great.
- <sup>36</sup> You gave a wide place for my steps | under me,*
and my feet | did not slip.
- <sup>37</sup> I pursued my enemies
and over- | took them,*
and did not turn back till
they | were consumed.
- <sup>38</sup> I thrust them through, so that they were not a- | ble to rise;*
they fell un- | der my feet.
- <sup>39</sup> For you equipped me with strength for the | battle,*
you made those who rise
against me sink | under me.
- <sup>40</sup> You made my enemies turn their | backs to me,*
and those who hated me | I destroyed.

- 41 They cried for help, but there was | none to save;*
they cried to the LORD,
but he did not | answer them.
- 42 I beat them fine as dust
be- | fore the wind;*
I cast them out like the
mire | of the streets.
- 43 You delivered me from strife
with the | people;*
you made me the head of the nations;
people whom I had not known | served me.
- 44 As soon as they heard of me
they o- | beyed me;*
foreigners came cring- | ing to me.
- 45 Foreigners | lost heart*
and came trembling out
of their | fortresses.
- 46 The LORD lives, and blessèd | be my rock,*
and exalted be the God
of my sal- | vation—
- 47 the God who gave me | vengeance*
and subdued peoples | under me,
- 48 who delivered me from my enemies; yes,
you exalted me above those who rose a- | gainst me;*
you rescued me from
the man of | violence.
- 49 For this I will praise you,
O LORD, among the | nations,*
and sing | to your name.
- 50 Great salvation he brings | to his king,*
and shows steadfast love to his anointed,
to David and his offspring for- | ever.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

- 1 The heavens declare the glo- | ry of God,*
and the sky above proclaims
his | handiwork.
- 2 Day to day | pours out speech,*
and night to night reveals | knowledge.
- 3 There is no speech, nor | are there words,*
whose voice | is not heard.
- 4 Their measuring line goes out through all the earth, and their words
to the end | of the world.*
In them he has set a tent | for the sun,
- 5 which comes out like a bridegroom
leaving his | chamber,*
and, like a strong man,
runs its | course with joy.
- 6 Its rising is from the end of the heavens,
and its circuit to the | end of them,*
and there is nothing
hidden | from its heat.
- 7 The law of the LORD is perfect,
reviv- | ing the soul;*
the testimony of the LORD is sure,
making wise the | simple;
- 8 the precepts of the LORD are right,
rejoicing | the heart;*
the commandment of the LORD is pure,
enlightening | the eyes;
- 9 the fear of the LORD is clean,
enduring for- | ever;*
the just decrees of the LORD are true,
and righteous alto- | gether.
- 10 More to be desired are they than gold,
even | much fine gold;*
sweeter also than honey and drippings
of the | honeycomb.
- 11 Moreover, by them is your | servant
warned;*
in keeping them there is | great reward.
- 12 Who can dis- | cern his errors?*
- Declare me innocent
from | hidden faults.

<sup>13</sup> Keep back your servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion | over me!*

Then I shall be blameless, and innocent of great trans- | gression.

<sup>14</sup> Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable | in your sight,*

O LORD, my rock and my re- | deemer.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

20

May the name of the God of Jacob pro- | tect you!

and give you support from | Zion!

<sup>3</sup> May he remember all your | offerings* and regard with favor your burnt sacri- | fices!

<sup>4</sup> May he grant you your | heart's desire* and fulfill | all your plans!

<sup>5</sup> May we shout for joy over your salvation, and in the name of our God set up our | banners!*

May the LORD fulfill all your pe- | titions!

<sup>6</sup> Now I know that the LORD saves his a- | nointed,*

he will answer him from his holy heaven with the saving might of his | right hand.

<sup>7</sup> Some trust in chariots and some in | horses,*

but we trust in the name of the | LORD our God.

<sup>8</sup> They col- | lapse and fall,*

but we rise and | stand upright.

May he answer us | when we call.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

21

and in your salvation how greatly | he exults!

<sup>2</sup> You have given him his | heart's desire* and have not withheld the request | of his lips.

<sup>3</sup> For you meet him with rich | blessings;* you set a crown of fine gold up- | on his head.

<sup>4</sup> He asked life of you; you gave | it to him,* length of days forever and | ever.

<sup>5</sup> His glory is great through your sal- | vation,* splendor and majesty you be- | stow on him.

<sup>6</sup> For you make him most blessed for- | ever;* you make him glad with the joy of your | presence.

<sup>7</sup> For the king trusts | in the LORD,* and through the steadfast love of the Most High he shall | not be moved.

<sup>8</sup> Your hand will find out all your | enemies;* your right hand will find out those who | hate you.

<sup>9</sup> You will make them as a blazing oven when | you appear.*

The LORD will swallow them up in his wrath, and fire will con- | sume them.

<sup>10</sup> You will destroy their descendants | from the earth,*

and their offspring from among the chil- | dren of man.

- <sup>11</sup> Though they plan evil a- | gainst you,* though they devise mischief,
they will | not succeed.
- <sup>12</sup> For you will put | them to flight;*
you will aim at their faces | with your bows.
- <sup>13</sup> Be exalted, O LORD, | in your strength!*
We will sing and | praise your power.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

22

- <sup>1</sup> My God, my God, why have you
for- | saken me?*
- Why are you so far from saving me,
from the words of my | groaning?
- <sup>2</sup> O my God, I cry by day,
but you do not | answer,*
and by night, but I | find no rest.
- <sup>3</sup> Yet you are | holy,*
enthroned on the praises of | Israel.
- <sup>4</sup> In you our fathers | trusted;*
they trusted, and you de- | livered them.
- <sup>5</sup> To you they cried and were | rescued;*
in you they trusted and were not | put to shame.
- <sup>6</sup> But I am a worm and | not a man,*
scorned by mankind and despised
by the | people.
- <sup>7</sup> All who see me | mock me;*
they make mouths at me;
they | wag their heads;
- <sup>8</sup> “He trusts in the LORD;
let him de- | liver him,*
let him rescue him,
for he de- | lights in him!”
- <sup>9</sup> Yet you are he who took me | from the womb;*
you made me trust you
at my | mother’s breasts.
- <sup>10</sup> On you was I cast | from my birth,*
and from my mother’s womb
you have | been my God.
- <sup>11</sup> Be not far from me, for trouble | is near,*
and there is | none to help.
- <sup>12</sup> Many bulls en- | compass me;*
strong bulls of Bashan sur- | round me;
- <sup>13</sup> they open wide their | mouths at me,*
like a ravening and roaring | lion.
- <sup>14</sup> I am poured out like water,
and all my bones are | out of joint;*
my heart is like wax;
it is melted with- | in my breast;
- <sup>15</sup> my strength is dried up like a potsherd,
and my tongue sticks | to my jaws;*
you lay me in the | dust of death.
- <sup>16</sup> For dogs en- | compass me;*
a company of evildoers encircles me;
they have pierced my | hands and feet—
- <sup>17</sup> I can count | all my bones—*
they stare and gloat | over me;
- <sup>18</sup> they divide my garments a- | mong them,*
and for my clothing they | cast lots.
- <sup>19</sup> But you, O LORD, do not be | far off!*
O you my help, come quickly | to my aid!
- <sup>20</sup> Deliver my soul | from the sword,*
my precious life from
the power | of the dog!
- <sup>21</sup> Save me from the mouth of the | lion!*
- You have rescued me from
the horns of the wild | oxen!
- <sup>22</sup> I will tell of your name to my | brothers;*
in the midst of the congregation
I will | praise you:
- <sup>23</sup> You who fear the LORD, praise him!
All you offspring of Jacob, glo- | rify him,*
and stand in awe of him, all you
offspring of | Israel!
- <sup>24</sup> For he has not despised or abhorred
the affliction of the afflicted, and he has not hidden his | face from him,*
but has heard, when he | cried to him.

- <sup>25</sup> From you comes my praise
in the great congre- | gation;*
my vows I will perform
before those who | fear him.
- <sup>26</sup> The afflicted shall eat and be satisfied; those who seek him shall | praise the LORD!*
- May your hearts live for- | ever!
- <sup>27</sup> All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn | to the LORD,*
and all the families of the nations
shall worship be- | fore you.
- <sup>28</sup> For kingship belongs | to the LORD,*
and he rules over the | nations.
- <sup>29</sup> All the prosperous of the earth
eat and | worship,*
before him shall bow all who go down to the dust, even the one who could not keep him- | self alive.
- <sup>30</sup> Posterity shall | serve him;*
it shall be told of the Lord
to the coming gener- | ation;
- <sup>31</sup> they shall come and proclaim his righteousness to a people | yet unborn,*
that he has | done it.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

23

- <sup>1</sup> The LORD is my | shepherd;*
I | shall not want.
- <sup>2</sup> He makes me lie down in green | pastures.*
He leads me beside still | waters.
- <sup>3</sup> He re- | stores my soul.*
He leads me in paths of righteousness
for his | name's sake.
- <sup>4</sup> Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil,
for you are | with me,*
your rod and your staff, they | comfort me.

- <sup>5</sup> You prepare a table before me
in the presence of my | enemies;*
you anoint my head with oil;
my cup | overflows.
- <sup>6</sup> Surely goodness and mercy
shall follow me all the days | of my life,*
and I shall dwell in the house of the LORD for- | ever.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

24

- <sup>1</sup> The earth is the LORD's
and the full- | ness thereof,*
the world and those who | dwell therein,
- <sup>2</sup> for he has founded it up- | on the seas*
and established it upon the | rivers.
- <sup>3</sup> Who shall ascend the hill | of the LORD?*
- And who shall stand in his | holy place?
- <sup>4</sup> He who has clean hands and a | pure heart,* who does not lift up his soul to what is false and does not swear de- | ceitfully.
- <sup>5</sup> He will receive blessing | from the LORD*
and righteousness from the God
of his sal- | vation.
- <sup>6</sup> Such is the generation of those who | seek him,*
who seek the face of the God of | Jacob.
- <sup>7</sup> Lift up your heads, O gates!
And be lifted up, O | ancient doors,*
that the King of glory | may come in.
- <sup>8</sup> Who is this King of | glory?*
- The LORD, strong and mighty,
the LORD, mighty in | battle!
- <sup>9</sup> Lift up your heads, O gates!
And lift them up, O | ancient doors,*
that the King of glory | may come in.

The LORD of hosts,
he is the King of | glory!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***

25

<sup>1</sup> To you, | O LORD,*
I lift | up my soul.

<sup>2</sup> O my God, in you I trust;
let me not be | put to shame;*
let not my enemies exult | over me.

<sup>3</sup> Indeed, none who wait for you shall be | put to shame;*
they shall be ashamed
who are wantonly | treacherous.

<sup>4</sup> Make me to know your ways, | O LORD,*
teach me | your paths.

<sup>5</sup> Lead me in your truth and teach me,
for you are the God of my sal- | vation;*
for you I wait all the | day long.

<sup>6</sup> Remember your mercy, O LORD, and your | steadfast love,*
for they have been | from of old.

<sup>7</sup> Remember not the sins of my youth or my trans- | gressions;*
according to your steadfast love
remember me, for the sake
of your goodness, | O LORD!

<sup>8</sup> Good and upright | is the LORD;*
therefore he instructs sinners | in the way.

<sup>9</sup> He leads the humble in | what is right,*
and teaches the humble | his way.

<sup>10</sup> All the paths of the LORD are steadfast love and | faithfulness,*
for those who keep his covenant
and his testi- | monies.

<sup>11</sup> For your name's sake, | O LORD,*
pardon my guilt, for | it is great.

<sup>12</sup> Who is the man who | fears the LORD?*

Him will he instruct in the way
that | he should choose.

<sup>13</sup> His soul shall abide in well- | being,*
and his offspring shall
inher- | it the land.

<sup>14</sup> The friendship of the LORD is for those who | fear him,*
and he makes known
to them his | covenant.

<sup>15</sup> My eyes are ever | toward the LORD,*
for he will pluck my feet out | of the net.

<sup>16</sup> Turn to me and be gra- | cious to me,*
for I am lonely and af- | flicted.

bring me out of my dis- | tresses.

<sup>18</sup> Consider my affliction and my | trouble,*
and forgive | all my sins.

<sup>19</sup> Consider how many | are my foes,*
and with what violent hatred
they | hate me.

<sup>20</sup> Oh, guard my soul, and de- | liver me!*

Let me not be put to shame,
for I take ref- | uge in you.

<sup>21</sup> May integrity and uprightness pre- | serve me,*
for I | wait for you.

<sup>22</sup> Redeem Israel, | O God,*
out of all his | troubles.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

26

<sup>1</sup> Vindicate me, O LORD, for I have walked in my in- | tegrity,*
and I have trusted in the LORD
without | wavering.

<sup>2</sup> Prove me, O LORD, and | try me,*
test my heart | and my mind.

- <sup>3</sup> For your steadfast love is be- | fore my eyes,*
and I walk in your | faithfulness.
- <sup>4</sup> I do not sit with men of | falsehood,*
nor do I consort with | hypocrites.
- <sup>5</sup> I hate the assembly of evil- | doers,*
and I will not sit with the | wicked.
- <sup>6</sup> I wash my hands in | innocence*
and go around your altar, | O LORD,
- <sup>7</sup> proclaiming thanksgiving | aloud,*
and telling all your | wondrous deeds.
- <sup>8</sup> O LORD, I love the habitation | of your house*
and the place where your | glory dwells.
- <sup>9</sup> Do not sweep my soul away with | sinners,*
nor my life with blood- | thirsty men,
- <sup>10</sup> in whose hands are evil de- | vices,*
and whose right hands are | full of bribes.
- <sup>11</sup> But as for me, I shall walk
in my in- | tegrity;*
redeem me, and be gra- | cious to me.
- <sup>12</sup> My foot stands on | level ground,*
in the great assembly
I will | bless the LORD.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

27

- <sup>1</sup> The LORD is my light and my salvation;
whom | shall I fear?*
- The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I | be afraid?
- <sup>2</sup> When evildoers assail me
to eat | up my flesh,*
my adversaries and foes,
it is they who stum- | ble and fall.
- <sup>3</sup> Though an army encamp against me, my heart | shall not fear;*
though war arise against me,
yet I will be | confident.
- <sup>4</sup> One thing have I asked of the LORD,
that will I seek | after:*

that I may dwell in the house of the LORD
all the days of my life, to gaze upon
the beauty of the LORD and
to inquire in his | temple.

- <sup>5</sup> For he will hide me in his shelter
in the day of | trouble;*
he will conceal me under the cover of his
tent; he will lift me high up- | on a rock.
- <sup>6</sup> And now my head shall be lifted up above
my enemies all around me, and I will offer
in his tent sacrifices with | shouts of joy;*
I will sing and make melody | to the LORD.
- <sup>7</sup> Hear, O LORD, when I | cry aloud;*
be gracious to me and | answer me!
- <sup>8</sup> You have said, | “Seek my face.”*
My heart says to you,
“Your face, LORD, | do I seek.”
- <sup>9</sup> Hide not your face from me.
Turn not your servant away in | anger,*
O you who have been my help.
Cast me not off; forsake me not,
O God of my sal- | vation!
- <sup>10</sup> For my father and my mother
have for- | saken me,*
but the LORD will | take me in.
- <sup>11</sup> Teach me your way, | O LORD,*
and lead me on a level path because of
my | enemies.

- <sup>12</sup> Give me not up to the will
of my adver- | saries;*
for false witnesses have risen against me,
and they breathe out | violence.
- <sup>13</sup> I believe that I shall look upon the goodness | of the LORD*
in the land of the | living!
- <sup>14</sup> Wait | for the LORD;*
be strong, and let your heart take courage; wait | for the LORD!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

28

- <sup>1</sup> To you, O LORD, I call; my rock,
be not | deaf to me,*
lest, if you be silent to me, I become like
those who go down | to the pit.
- <sup>2</sup> Hear the voice of my pleas for mercy,
when I cry to | you for help,*
when I lift up my hands toward your most holy sanctu- | ary.
- <sup>3</sup> Do not drag me off with the wicked,
with the workers of | evil,*
who speak peace with their neighbors
while evil is | in their hearts.
- <sup>4</sup> Give to them according to their work and
according to the evil | of their deeds;*
give to them according to the work of their hands; render them
their | due reward.
- <sup>5</sup> Because they do not regard the works of the LORD or the work | of his hands,*
he will tear them down and build them | up no more.
- <sup>6</sup> Blessèd | be the LORD!*
For he has heard the voice
of my pleas for | mercy.
- <sup>7</sup> The LORD is my strength and my shield;
in him my heart trusts, and | I am helped;*
my heart exults, and with my song
I give | thanks to him.
- <sup>8</sup> The LORD is the strength of his | people,*
he is the saving refuge of his a- | nointed.
- <sup>9</sup> Oh, save your people and bless your | heritage!*
Be their shepherd and
carry them for- | ever.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

29

- <sup>1</sup> Ascribe to the LORD, O heavenly | beings,*
ascribe to the LORD glo- | ry
and strength.
- <sup>2</sup> Ascribe to the LORD the glory | due his name;*
worship the LORD in the splendor
of | holiness.
- <sup>3</sup> The voice of the LORD is over the | waters;*
the God of glory thunders,
the LORD, over many | waters.
- <sup>4</sup> The voice of the LORD is | powerful;*
the voice of the LORD is full of | majesty.
- <sup>5</sup> The voice of the LORD breaks
the | cedars;*
the LORD breaks the cedars of | Lebanon.
- <sup>6</sup> He makes Lebanon to skip | like a calf,*
and Sirion like a young | wild ox.
- <sup>7</sup> The voice | of the LORD *
flashes forth | flames of fire.
- <sup>8</sup> The voice of the LORD shakes
the | wilderness;*
the LORD shakes the wilderness | of Kadesh.
- <sup>9</sup> The voice of the LORD makes the deer give birth and strips the | forests bare,*
and in his temple all cry, | “Glory!”
- <sup>10</sup> The LORD sits enthroned o- | ver the flood;*
the LORD sits enthroned as king for- | ever.
- <sup>11</sup> May the LORD give strength to his | people!*
May the LORD bless
his people | with peace!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

30

- <sup>1</sup> I will extol you, O LORD,
for you have | drawn me up*
and have not let my foes rejoice | over me.
- <sup>2</sup> O LORD my God, I cried to | you for help,*
and you have | healed me.
- <sup>3</sup> O LORD, you have brought up
my soul | from Sheol;*
you restored me to life from among those who go down | to the pit.
- <sup>4</sup> Sing praises to the LORD,
O | you his saints,*
and give thanks to his | holy name.
- <sup>5</sup> For his anger is but for a moment,
and his favor is for a | lifetime.*
Weeping may tarry for the night,
but joy comes with the | morning.
- <sup>6</sup> As for me, I said in my pros- | perity,*
“I shall nev- | er be moved.”
- <sup>7</sup> By your favor, O LORD,
you made my mountain | stand strong;*
you hid your face; I | was dismayed.
- <sup>8</sup> To you, O | LORD, I cry,*
and to the Lord I plead for | mercy:
- <sup>9</sup> “What profit is there in my death,
if I go down | to the pit?*
- Will the dust praise you?
Will it tell of your | faithfulness?
- <sup>10</sup> Hear, O LORD, and be merci- | ful to me!*
- O LORD, be my | helper!”
- <sup>11</sup> You have turned for me my mourning
into | dancing;*
you have loosed my sackcloth and
clothed me with | gladness,
- <sup>12</sup> that my glory may sing your praise
and not be | silent.*
O LORD my God, I will give thanks
to you for- | ever!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

31

- <sup>1</sup> In you, O LORD, do I take refuge;
let me never be | put to shame;*
in your righteousness de- | liver me!
- <sup>2</sup> Incline your ear to me;
rescue me | speedily!*
Be a rock of refuge for me,
a strong fortress to | save me!
- <sup>3</sup> For you are my rock and my | fortress;*
and for your name’s sake
you lead me and | guide me;
- <sup>4</sup> you take me out of the net they have hidden | for me,*
for you are my | refuge.
- <sup>5</sup> Into your hand I commit my | spirit;*
you have redeemed me,
O LORD, | faithful God.
- <sup>6</sup> I hate those who pay regard
to worthless | idols,*
but I trust | in the LORD.
- <sup>7</sup> I will rejoice and be glad
in your | steadfast love,*
because you have seen my affliction;
you have known the distress | of my soul,
- <sup>8</sup> and you have not delivered me
into the hand of the | enemy;*
you have set my feet in a | broad place.
- <sup>9</sup> Be gracious to me, O LORD,
for I am | in distress;*
my eye is wasted from grief;
my soul and my body | also.
- <sup>10</sup> For my life is spent with sorrow,
and my years with | sighing;*
my strength fails because of my iniquity,
and my bones | waste away.
- <sup>11</sup> Because of all my adversaries I have become a reproach, especially to my neighbors, and an object
of dread to my ac- | quaintances;*
those who see me in the street | flee
from me.

<sup>12</sup> I have been forgotten like one | who is dead;*
 I have become like a broken | vessel.
<sup>13</sup> For I hear the whispering of many —terror on | every side!—*
 as they scheme together against me,
 as they plot to | take my life.
<sup>14</sup> But I trust in you, | O LORD;*
 I say, “You | are my God.”
<sup>15</sup> My times are | in your hand;*
 rescue me from the hand of my enemies
 and from my perse- | cutors!
<sup>16</sup> Make your face shine on your | servant;*
 save me in your | steadfast love!
<sup>17</sup> O LORD, let me not be put to shame, for I call up- | on you;*
 let the wicked be put to shame;
 let them go silently | to Sheol.
<sup>18</sup> Let the lying | lips be mute,* which speak insolently against the righteous in pride | and contempt.
<sup>19</sup> Oh, how abundant is your goodness,
 which you have stored up
 for those who | fear you*
 and worked for those who take refuge in you, in the sight
 of the children of | mankind!
<sup>20</sup> In the cover of your presence you hide them from the | plots of men;*
 you store them in your shelter
 from the | strife of tongues.
<sup>21</sup> Blessèd | be the LORD,*
 for he has wondrously shown his steadfast love to me when I was in a besieged | city.
<sup>22</sup> I had said in my alarm,
 “I am cut off | from your sight.”*
 But you heard the voice of my pleas for mercy when I cried to | you for help.
<sup>23</sup> Love the LORD, all | you his saints!*
 The LORD preserves the faithful but abundantly repays
 the one who | acts in pride.

<sup>24</sup> Be strong, and let your heart take | courage,*
 all you who wait | for the LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

32

<sup>1</sup> Blessèd is the one whose transgression is for- | given,*
 whose sin is | covered.
<sup>2</sup> Blessèd is the man against whom the Lord counts no in- | iquity,*
 and in whose spirit there is | no deceit.
<sup>3</sup> For when I kept silent, my bones wast- | ed away*
 through my groaning | all day long.
<sup>4</sup> For day and night your hand was heavy
 up- | on me,*
 my strength was dried up
 as by the heat of | summer.
<sup>5</sup> I acknowledged my sin to you,
 and I did not cover my in- | iquity;*
 I said, “I will confess my transgressions to the LORD,” and you forgave the iniquity | of my sin.
<sup>6</sup> Therefore let everyone who is godly offer prayer to you at a time when you | may be found;*
 surely in the rush of great waters,
 they shall not | reach him.
<sup>7</sup> You are a hiding place for me;
 you preserve me from | trouble;*
 you surround me with shouts
 of de- | liverance.
<sup>8</sup> I will instruct you and teach you in the way | you should go;*
 I will counsel you
 with my eye up- | on you.

- <sup>9</sup> Be not like a horse or a mule,
without under- | standing,*
which must be curbed with bit and bridle, or it will not stay | near you.
- <sup>10</sup> Many are the sorrows of the | wicked,*
but steadfast love surrounds the one who trusts | in the LORD.
- <sup>11</sup> Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice,
O | righteous,*
and shout for joy,
all you up- | right in heart!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

33

- <sup>1</sup> Shout for joy in the LORD,
O you | righteous!*
Praise befits the | upright.
- <sup>2</sup> Give thanks to the LORD | with the lyre,*
make melody to him
with the harp of | ten strings!
- <sup>3</sup> Sing to him a | new song,*
play skillfully on the strings,
with | loud shouts.
- <sup>4</sup> For the word of the LORD is | upright,*
and all his work is done in | faithfulness.
- <sup>5</sup> He loves righteousness and | justice,*
the earth is full of the steadfast
love | of the LORD.
- <sup>6</sup> By the word of the LORD
the heav- | ens were made,*
and by the breath of his mouth | all their host.
- <sup>7</sup> He gathers the waters of the sea | as a heap,*
he puts the deeps in | storehouses.
- <sup>8</sup> Let all the earth | fear the LORD;*
let all the inhabitants of the world
stand in | awe of him!
- <sup>9</sup> For he spoke, and it | came to be;*
he commanded, and it | stood firm.

- <sup>10</sup> The LORD brings the counsel of the nations to | nothing,*
he frustrates the plans of the | peoples.
- <sup>11</sup> The counsel of the LORD stands for- | ever,*
the plans of his heart
to all gener- | ations.
- <sup>12</sup> Blessed is the nation whose God | is the LORD,*
the people whom he has chosen
as his | heritage!
- <sup>13</sup> The LORD looks down from | heaven;*
he sees all the chil- | dren of man; <sup>14</sup> from where he sits enthroned
he | looks out*
on all the inhabitants | of the earth,
<sup>15</sup> he who fashions the hearts | of them all*
and observes | all their deeds.
- <sup>16</sup> The king is not saved by his great | army;*
a warrior is not delivered
by his | great strength.
- <sup>17</sup> The war horse is a false hope
for sal- | vation,*
and by its great might it cannot | rescue.
- <sup>18</sup> Behold, the eye of the LORD
is on those who | fear him,*
on those who hope in his | steadfast love,
<sup>19</sup> that he may deliver their | soul from death*
and keep them alive in | famine.
- <sup>20</sup> Our soul waits | for the LORD;*
he is our help | and our shield.
- <sup>21</sup> For our heart is | glad in him,*
because we trust in his | holy name.
- <sup>22</sup> Let your steadfast love, O LORD,
be up- | on us,*
even as we | hope in you.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

34

- <sup>1</sup> I will bless the LORD at | all times;*
his praise shall continually
be | in my mouth.
- <sup>2</sup> My soul makes its boast | in the LORD;*
let the humble hear | and be glad.
- <sup>3</sup> Oh, magnify the | LORD with me,*
and let us exalt his name to- | gether!
- <sup>4</sup> I sought the LORD, and he | answered me*
and delivered me from | all my fears.
- <sup>5</sup> Those who look to him are | radiant,*
and their faces shall never | be ashamed.
- <sup>6</sup> This poor man cried,
and the LORD | heard him*
and saved him out of all his | troubles.
- <sup>7</sup> The angel of the LORD encamps around those who | fear him,*
and de- | livers them.
- <sup>8</sup> Oh, taste and see that the | LORD is good!*
Blessèd is the man
who takes ref- | uge in him!
- <sup>9</sup> Oh, fear the LORD, | you his saints,*
for those who fear him | have no lack!
- <sup>10</sup> The young lions suffer want and | hunger;*
but those who seek the LORD
lack | no good thing.
- <sup>11</sup> Come, O children, lis- | ten to me;*
I will teach you the fear | of the LORD.
- <sup>12</sup> What man is there who de- | sires life*
and loves many days,
that he may | see good?
- <sup>13</sup> Keep your tongue from | evil*
and your lips from speak- | ing deceit.
- <sup>14</sup> Turn away from evil | and do good,*
seek peace and pur- | sue it.
- <sup>15</sup> The eyes of the LORD are toward the | righteous*
and his ears | toward their cry.
- <sup>16</sup> The face of the LORD is against those who do | evil,*

- to cut off the memory
of them | from the earth.
- <sup>17</sup> When the righteous cry for help,
the | LORD hears*
and delivers them out
of all their | troubles.
- <sup>18</sup> The LORD is near to the broken- | hearted*
and saves the crushed in | spirit.
- <sup>19</sup> Many are the afflictions of the | righteous,*
but the LORD delivers him
out | of them all.
- <sup>20</sup> He keeps | all his bones,*
not one of them is | broken.
- <sup>21</sup> Affliction will slay the | wicked,*
and those who hate the righteous
will | be condemned.
- <sup>22</sup> The LORD redeems the life
of his | servants,*
none of those who take refuge
in him will | be condemned.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

35

- <sup>1</sup> Contend, O LORD, with those who
con- | tend with me,*
fight against those who
fight a- | gainst me!
- <sup>2</sup> Take hold of shield and | buckler*
and rise | for my help!
- <sup>3</sup> Draw the spear and javelin against my pur- | suers!*
Say to my soul, "I am your sal- | vation!"
- <sup>4</sup> Let them be put to shame and dishonor
who seek after | my life!*
Let them be turned back and disappointed who devise evil a- | gainst me!
- <sup>5</sup> Let them be like chaff be- | fore the wind,*
with the angel of the LORD
driving | them away!

6 Let their way be dark and | slippery,*
with the angel of the LORD
pur- | suing them!

7 For without cause they hid their | net for me;*
without cause they dug a pit | for my life.

8 Let destruction come upon him
when he does not | know it!*
And let the net that he hid ensnare him;
let him fall into it—to his de- | struction!

9 Then my soul will rejoice | in the LORD,*
exulting in his sal- | vation.

10 All my bones shall say, “O LORD, who is | like you,*
delivering the poor from him who is too strong for him, the poor and needy
from him who | robs him?”

11 Malicious witnesses | rise up;*
they ask me of things that I | do not know.

12 They repay me e- | vil for good;*
my soul | is bereft.

13 But I, when they were sick—I wore
sackcloth; I afflicted myself with | fasting;*
I prayed with head bowed | on my chest.

14 I went about as though I grieved for my friend or my | brother;*
as one who laments his mother,
I bowed down in | mourning.

15 But at my stumbling they rejoiced and | gathered;*
they gathered together against me;
wretches whom I did not know tore
at me without | ceasing;

16 like profane mockers | at a feast,*
they gnash at me | with their teeth.

17 How long, O Lord, will you | look on?*

Rescue me from their destruction,
my precious life from the | lions!

18 I will thank you in the great congre- | gation;*
in the mighty throng I will | praise you.

19 Let not those rejoice over me who are wrongfully | my foes,*
and let not those wink the eye
who hate me with- | out cause.

20 For they do | not speak peace,* but against those who are quiet in the land they devise words | of deceit.

21 They open wide their mouths
a- | gainst me;*
they say, “Aha, Aha! Our eyes
have | seen it!”

22 You have seen, O LORD; be not | silent!*

O Lord, be not | far from me!

23 Awake and rouse yourself
for my vindi- | cation,*
for my cause, my God | and my Lord!

24 Vindicate me, O LORD, my God, according to your | righteousness,*
and let them not rejoice | over me!

25 Let them not say in their hearts,
“Aha, our | heart’s desire!”*
Let them not say,
“We have swal- | lowed him up.”

26 Let them be put to shame and disappointed altogether who rejoice at my ca- | lamity!*

Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify themselves
a- | gainst me!

27 Let those who delight in my righteousness shout for joy and be glad
and say | evermore,* “Great is the LORD, who delights
in the welfare of his | servant!”

28 Then my tongue shall tell
of your | righteousness*
and of your praise all | the day long.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

36

- <sup>1</sup> Transgression speaks to the wicked
deep | in his heart;*
there is no fear of God be- | fore his eyes.
- <sup>2</sup> For he flatters himself in | his own eyes*
that his iniquity cannot be found out and | hated.
- <sup>3</sup> The words of his mouth
are trouble | and deceit;*
he has ceased to act wisely | and do good.
- <sup>4</sup> He plots trouble while | on his bed;*
he sets himself in a way that is not good;
he does not reject | evil.
- <sup>5</sup> Your steadfast love, O LORD,
extends to the | heavens;*
your faithfulness | to the clouds.
- <sup>6</sup> Your righteousness is like
the moun- | tains of God;*
your judgments are like the great deep;
man and beast you save, | O LORD.
- <sup>7</sup> How precious is your steadfast love, | O God!*
The children of mankind take refuge
in the shadow | of your wings.
- <sup>8</sup> They feast on the abundance | of your house,*
and you give them drink
from the river of | your delights.
- <sup>9</sup> For with you is the foun- | tain of life;*
in your light do | we see light.
- <sup>10</sup> Oh, continue your steadfast love
to those who | know you,*
and your righteousness
to the up- | right of heart!
- <sup>11</sup> Let not the foot of arrogance
come up- | on me,*
nor the hand of the wicked
drive | me away.
- <sup>12</sup> There the evildoers lie | fallen;*
they are thrust down, unable | to rise.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

37

- <sup>1</sup> Fret not yourself because of evil- | doers;*
be not envious of wrong- | doers!
- <sup>2</sup> For they will soon fade | like the grass*
and wither like the | green herb.
- <sup>3</sup> Trust in the LORD, | and do good;*
dwell in the land
and befriend | faithfulness.
- <sup>4</sup> Delight yourself | in the LORD,*
and he will give you
the desires | of your heart.
- <sup>5</sup> Commit your way | to the LORD;*
trust in him, and | he will act.
- <sup>6</sup> He will bring forth your righteousness | as the light,*
and your justice as the | noonday.
- <sup>7</sup> Be still before the LORD
and wait patiently | for him;*
fret not yourself over the one who prosperes in his way, over the man who carries out evil de- | vices!
- <sup>8</sup> Refrain from anger, and for- | sake wrath!*
Fret not yourself; it tends only to | evil.
- <sup>9</sup> For the evildoers shall be | cut off,*
but those who wait for the LORD
shall inher- | it the land.
- <sup>10</sup> In just a little while,
the wicked will | be no more;*
though you look carefully at his place,
he will | not be there.
- <sup>11</sup> But the meek shall inher- | it the land*
and delight themselves
in a- | bundant peace.
- <sup>12</sup> The wicked plots against the | righteous*
and gnashes his | teeth at him,
<sup>13</sup> but the Lord laughs at the | wicked,*
for he sees that his day is | coming.

- 14 The wicked draw the sword
and | bend their bows*
to bring down the poor and needy,
to slay those whose way is | upright;
- 15 their sword shall enter | their own heart,*
and their bows shall be | broken.
- 16 Better is the little that the | righteous has*
than the abundance of many | wicked.
- 17 For the arms of the wicked
shall be | broken,*
but the LORD upholds the | righteous.
- 18 The LORD knows the days
of the | blameless,*
and their heritage will remain for- | ever;
19 they are not put to shame in | evil times;*
in the days of famine
they have a- | bundance.
- 20 But the wicked will perish;
the enemies of the LORD
are like the glory of the | pastures,*
they vanish—like smoke
they van- | ish away.
- 21 The wicked borrows
but does | not pay back,*
but the righteous
is gener- | ous and gives;
- 22 for those blessed by the LORD
shall inher- | it the land,*
but those cursed by him shall | be cut off.
- 23 The steps of a man are established | by the LORD,*
when he delights | in his way;
- 24 though he fall, he shall not be cast | headlong,*
for the LORD up- | holds his hand.
- 25 I have been young, and | now am old,*
yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken
or his children beg- | ging for bread.
- 26 He is ever lending | generously,*
and his children become a | blessing.
- 27 Turn away from evil | and do good,*
so shall you dwell for- | ever.
- 28 For the LORD loves justice;
he will not forsake his saints.
They are preserved for- | ever,*
but the children of the wicked
shall | be cut off.
- 29 The righteous shall inher- | it the land*
and dwell upon it for- | ever.
- 30 The mouth of the righteous
utters | wisdom,*
and his tongue speaks | justice.
- 31 The law of his God is | in his heart,*
his steps | do not slip.
- 32 The wicked watches for the | righteous*
and seeks to put | him to death.
- 33 The LORD will not abandon him | to his power*
or let him be condemned
when he is | brought to trial.
- 34 Wait for the LORD and keep his way,
and he will exalt you to inher- | it the land;*
you will look on when
the wicked | are cut off.
- 35 I have seen a wicked, | ruthless man,* spreading himself like a
green | laurel tree.
- 36 But he passed away, and behold,
he | was no more;*
though I sought him,
he could | not be found.
- 37 Mark the blameless and behold the | upright,*
for there is a future
for the | man of peace.
- 38 But transgressors shall be altogether | destroyed,*
the future of the wicked shall | be cut off.
- 39 The salvation of the righteous
is | from the LORD,*
he is their stronghold
in the time of | trouble.
- 40 The LORD helps them and
de- | livers them;*

he delivers them from the wicked
and saves them, because they
take refuge in him.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

38

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, rebuke me not in your | anger,*
nor discipline me | in your wrath!
<sup>2</sup> For your arrows have sunk | into me,*
and your hand has come | down on me.
<sup>3</sup> There is no soundness in my flesh because of your indig- | nation;*
there is no health in my bones
because | of my sin.
<sup>4</sup> For my iniquities have gone
o- | ver my head,*
like a heavy burden,
they are too heav- | y for me.
<sup>5</sup> My wounds stink and | fester*
because of my | foolishness,
<sup>6</sup> I am utterly bowed down and | prostrate,*
all the day I go about | mourning.
<sup>7</sup> For my sides are filled with | burning,*
and there is no soundness | in my flesh.
<sup>8</sup> I am feeble | and crushed;*
I groan because of the
tumult | of my heart.
<sup>9</sup> O Lord, all my longing is be- | fore you;*
my sighing is not hid- | den from you.
<sup>10</sup> My heart throbs; my strength | fails me,*
and the light of my eyes—it
also has | gone from me.
<sup>11</sup> My friends and companions stand aloof | from my plague,*
and my nearest kin stand | far off.
<sup>12</sup> Those who seek my life lay their snares;
those who seek my hurt speak of | ruin*
and meditate treachery | all day long.

<sup>13</sup> But I am like a deaf man; I | do not hear,*
like a mute man who does not
o- | pen his mouth.

<sup>14</sup> I have become like a man who | does not hear,*
and in whose mouth are | no rebukes.

<sup>15</sup> But for you, O LORD, | do I wait,*
it is you, O Lord my God,
who will | answer.

<sup>16</sup> For I said, “Only let them not rejoice | over me,*
who boast against me
when my | foot slips!”

<sup>17</sup> For I am read- | y to fall,*
and my pain is ever be- | fore me.

<sup>18</sup> I confess my in- | iquity;*
I am sorry | for my sin.

<sup>19</sup> But my foes are vigorous,
they are | mighty,*
and many are those
who hate me | wrongfully.

<sup>20</sup> Those who render me e- | vil for good*
accuse me because I follow | after good.

<sup>21</sup> Do not forsake me, | O LORD!*
O my God, be not | far from me!

<sup>22</sup> Make haste to | help me,*
O Lord, my sal- | vation!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

39

<sup>1</sup> I said, “I will guard my ways, that I may not sin | with my tongue;*
I will guard my mouth with a muzzle, so long as the wicked are in my | presence.”

<sup>2</sup> I was mute and silent;
I held my peace to | no avail,*
and my dis- | tress grew worse.

<sup>3</sup> My heart became hot within me. As I mused, the | fire burned;*
then I spoke | with my tongue:
<sup>4</sup> “O LORD, make me know my end and what is the measure | of my days;*
let me know how fleeting | I am!
<sup>5</sup> Behold, you have made my days
a few | handbreadths,*
and my lifetime is as nothing be- | fore you.
Surely all mankind stands
as a | mere breath!*

<sup>6</sup> Surely a man goes about as a | shadow!
Surely for nothing they are in | turmoil;*
man heaps up wealth and does not know
who will | gather!
<sup>7</sup> “And now, O Lord, for what | do I wait?*

My hope | is in you.
<sup>8</sup> Deliver me from all my trans- | gressions.*
Do not make me the scorn | of the fool!
<sup>9</sup> I am mute; I do not open | my mouth,*
for it is you who have | done it.
<sup>10</sup> Remove your | stroke from me;*
I am spent by the hostility | of your hand.
<sup>11</sup> When you discipline a man with rebukes for sin, you consume like a moth
what is | dear to him;*
surely all mankind is a | mere breath!
<sup>12</sup> “Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear to my cry; hold not your peace | at my tears!*

For I am a sojourner with you, a guest,
like all my | fathers.
<sup>13</sup> Look away from me,
that I may | smile again,*
before I depart and | am no more!”

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

40

<sup>1</sup> I waited patiently | for the LORD;*
he inclined to me and | heard my cry.
<sup>2</sup> He drew me up from the pit of destruction, out of the | miry bog,*
and set my feet upon a rock,
making my | steps secure.
<sup>3</sup> He put a new song in my mouth,
a song of praise | to our God.*
Many will see and fear, and put their trust | in the LORD.
<sup>4</sup> Blessed is the man who makes the | LORD his trust,*
who does not turn to the proud,
to those who go astray af- | ter a lie!
<sup>5</sup> You have multiplied, O LORD my God,
your wondrous deeds and your thoughts
toward us; none can com- | pare with you!*

I will proclaim and tell of them,
yet they are more than | can be told.
<sup>6</sup> Sacrifice and offering you have not desired,
but you have given me an | open ear.*
Burnt offering and sin offering
you have | not required.
<sup>7</sup> Then I said, “Behold, | I have come,*
in the scroll of the book it is writ- | ten of me:
<sup>8</sup> I desire to do your will, | O my God;*
your law is with- | in my heart.”
<sup>9</sup> I have told the glad news of deliverance
in the great congre- | gation;*
behold, I have not restrained my lips,
as you know, | O LORD.
<sup>10</sup> I have not hidden your deliverance within my heart; I have spoken of your faithfulness and your sal- | vation;*
I have not concealed your steadfast love and your faithfulness from
the great congre- | gation.
<sup>11</sup> As for you, O LORD, you will not restrain your mer- | cy from me;*
your steadfast love and your faithfulness
will ever pre- | serve me!

- <sup>12</sup> For evils have encompassed me beyond number; my iniquities have overtaken me, and I | cannot see;*
they are more than the hairs of my head; my heart | fails me.
- <sup>13</sup> Be pleased, O LORD, to de- | liver me!*
O LORD, make haste to | help me!
- <sup>14</sup> Let those be put to shame and disappointed altogether who seek to snatch a- | way my life;*
let those be turned back and brought to dishonor who de- | sire my hurt!
- <sup>15</sup> Let those be appalled because | of their shame*
who say to me, “A- | ha, Aha!”
- <sup>16</sup> But may all who seek you rejoice and be | glad in you;*
may those who love your salvation say continually, “Great | is the LORD!”
- <sup>17</sup> As for me, I am poor and needy, but the Lord takes | thought for me.*
You are my help and my deliverer; do not delay, | O my God!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

41

- <sup>1</sup> Blessèd is the one who consid- | ers the poor!*
In the day of trouble the LORD de- | livers him;
- <sup>2</sup> the LORD protects him and keeps him alive; he is called blessèd | in the land;*
you do not give him up to the will of his | enemies.

- <sup>3</sup> The LORD sustains him on his | sickbed;*
in his illness you restore him to | full health.
- <sup>4</sup> As for me, I said, “O LORD, be gra- | cious to me;*
heal me, for I have sinned a- | gainst you!”
- <sup>5</sup> My enemies say of me in | malice,*
“When will he die and his name | perish?”
- <sup>6</sup> And when one comes to see me, he utters empty words, while his heart gathers in- | iquity;*
when he goes out, he tells | it abroad.
- <sup>7</sup> All who hate me whisper together a- | bout me;*
they imagine the | worst for me.
- <sup>8</sup> They say, “A deadly thing is poured | out on him;*
he will not rise again from | where he lies.”
- <sup>9</sup> Even my close friend in whom I | trusted,*
who ate my bread, has lifted his heel a- | gainst me.
- <sup>10</sup> But you, O LORD, be gra- | cious to me,*
and raise me up, that I may re- | pay them!
- <sup>11</sup> By this I know that you de- | light in me:*
my enemy will not shout in triumph | over me.
- <sup>12</sup> But you have upheld me because of my in- | tegrity,*
and set me in your presence for- | ever.
- <sup>13</sup> Blessèd be the LORD, the God of | Israel,*
from everlasting to everlasting! Amen and | Amen.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

42

- <sup>1</sup> As a deer pants for | flowing streams,*
so pants my soul for you, | O God.
- <sup>2</sup> My soul thirsts for God,
for the | living God.*
When shall I come and appear be- | fore God?
- <sup>3</sup> My tears have been my food | day and night,*
while they say to me continually,
“Where | is your God?”
- <sup>4</sup> These things I remember,
as I pour | out my soul:*
how I would go with the throng and lead them in procession to the | house of God
with glad shouts and | songs of praise,*
a multitude keeping | festival.
- <sup>5</sup> Why are you cast down, O my soul,
and why are you in turmoil with- | in me?*
- Hope in God; for I shall again praise
him, my salvation | <sup>6</sup> and my God.
My soul is cast down with- | in me;*
therefore I remember you from the land
of Jordan and of Hermon,
from Mount | Mizar.
- <sup>7</sup> Deep calls to deep at the roar
of your | waterfalls,*
all your breakers and your waves
have gone | over me.
- <sup>8</sup> By day the LORD commands his steadfast
love, and at night his song is | with me,*
a prayer to the God | of my life.
- <sup>9</sup> I say to God, my rock:
“Why have you for- | gotten me?*
- Why do I go mourning because
of the oppression of the | enemy?”
- <sup>10</sup> As with a deadly wound in my bones,
my adversaries | taunt me,*
while they say to me continually,
“Where | is your God?”

- <sup>11</sup> Why are you cast down, O my soul, and
why are you in turmoil with- | in me?*
- Hope in God; for I shall again praise
him, my salvation | and my God.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

43

- <sup>1</sup> Vindicate me, O God, and defend
my cause against an ungodly | people,*
from the deceitful and unjust
man de- | liver me!
- <sup>2</sup> For you are the God in whom I take refuge;
why have you re- | jected me?*
- Why do I go about mourning because
of the oppression of the | enemy?
- <sup>3</sup> Send out your light and your truth;
let them | lead me;*
- let them bring me to your holy hill
and to your | dwelling!
- <sup>4</sup> Then I will go to the altar of God,
to God my ex- | ceeding joy,*
and I will praise you with the lyre,
O | God, my God.
- <sup>5</sup> Why are you cast down, O my soul, and
why are you in turmoil with- | in me?*
- Hope in God; for I shall again praise
him, my salvation | and my God.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

44

- <sup>1</sup> O God, we have heard with our ears,
our fathers have | told us,*
what deeds you performed in their days,
in the | days of old:
- <sup>2</sup> you with your own hand drove out the nations, but them you | planted;*
you afflicted the peoples,
but them you | set free;
- <sup>3</sup> for not by their own sword did they win the land, nor did their own arm | save them,*
but your right hand and your arm,
and the light of your face,
for you de- | lighted in them.
- <sup>4</sup> You are my King, | O God;*
ordain salvation for | Jacob!
- <sup>5</sup> Through you we push | down our foes;*
through your name we tread down
those who rise up a- | gainst us.
- <sup>6</sup> For not in my bow | do I trust,*
nor can my sword | save me.
- <sup>7</sup> But you have saved us | from our foes*
and have put to shame
those who | hate us.
- <sup>8</sup> In God we have boasted con- | tinually,*
and we will give thanks
to your name for- | ever.
- <sup>9</sup> But you have rejected us and dis- | graced us*
and have not gone out with our | armies.
- <sup>10</sup> You have made us turn back | from the foe,*
and those who hate us have | gotten spoil.
- <sup>11</sup> You have made us like sheep for | slaughter*
and have scattered us among the | nations.
- <sup>12</sup> You have sold your people for a | trifle,*
demanding no high | price for them.
- <sup>13</sup> You have made us the taunt
of our | neighbors,*
the derision and scorn
of those a- | round us.
- <sup>14</sup> You have made us a byword
among the | nations,*
a laughingstock among the | peoples.
- <sup>15</sup> All day long my disgrace is be- | fore me,*
and shame has cov- | ered my face
- <sup>16</sup> at the sound of the taunter and re- | viler,*
at the sight of the enemy
and the a- | venger.
- <sup>17</sup> All this has come upon us, though we have not for- | gotten you,*
and we have not been false
to your | covenant.
- <sup>18</sup> Our heart has | not turned back,*
nor have our steps departed | from your way;
- <sup>19</sup> yet you have broken us
in the place of | jackals*
and covered us with
the shad- | ow of death.
- <sup>20</sup> If we had forgotten the name | of our God*
or spread out our hands to a | foreign god,
- <sup>21</sup> would not God dis- | cover this?*
For he knows the secrets | of the heart.
- <sup>22</sup> Yet for your sake we are killed
all the | day long,*
we are regarded as sheep
to be | slaughtered.
- <sup>23</sup> Awake! Why are you sleeping, | O Lord?*
Rouse yourself!
Do not reject us for- | ever!
- <sup>24</sup> Why do you | hide your face?*
Why do you forget our affliction
and op- | pression?
- <sup>25</sup> For our soul is bowed down | to the dust;*
our belly clings | to the ground.
- <sup>26</sup> Rise up; come | to our help!*
Redeem us for the sake
of your | steadfast love!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

45

- <sup>1</sup> My heart overflows with a pleasing theme;
I address my verses | to the king;*
my tongue is like the pen
of a | ready scribe.
- <sup>2</sup> You are the most handsome of the sons
of men; grace is poured up- | on your lips;*
therefore God has blessed you for- | ever.
- <sup>3</sup> Gird your sword on your thigh,
O | mighty one,*
in your splendor and | majesty!
- <sup>4</sup> In your majesty ride out victoriously
for the cause of truth and meekness and | righteousness;*
let your right hand teach
you | awesome deeds!
- <sup>5</sup> Your arrows are sharp in the heart
of the king's | enemies;*
the peoples fall | under you.
- <sup>6</sup> Your throne, O God, is forever and ever.
The scepter of your kingdom is a scepter
of up- | rightness;*
<sup>7</sup> you have loved righteousness
and hated | wickedness.
Therefore God, your God,
has anointed you with the oil
of gladness beyond your com- | panions;*
<sup>8</sup> your robes are all fragrant with myrrh and aloes and | cassia.
From ivory palaces stringed instruments | make you glad;* <sup>9</sup> daughters of kings are among your ladies of honor; at your right hand stands
the queen in gold of | Ophir.
- <sup>10</sup> Hear, O daughter, and consider,
and in- | cline your ear.*
forget your people and your | father's house,
<sup>11</sup> and the king will desire your | beauty.*
Since he is your lord, | bow to him.
- <sup>12</sup> The people of Tyre will seek your fa- | vor with gifts,*
the richest of the | people.

- <sup>13</sup> All glorious is the princess in her chamber,
with robes interwoven | with gold.*
<sup>14</sup> In many-colored robes she is led to the king, with her virgin companions
following be- | hind her.
- <sup>15</sup> With joy and gladness they are | led along*
as they enter the palace | of the king.
- <sup>16</sup> In place of your fathers shall | be your sons;*
you will make them princes
in | all the earth.
- <sup>17</sup> I will cause your name to be remembered
in all gener- | ations;*
therefore nations will praise you
forever and | ever.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

46

- <sup>1</sup> God is our ref- | uge and strength,*
a very present help in | trouble.
- <sup>2</sup> Therefore we will not fear
though the | earth gives way,*
though the mountains be moved into the heart | of the sea,
- <sup>3</sup> though its waters | roar and foam,*
though the mountains tremble
at its | swelling.
- <sup>4</sup> There is a river whose streams
make glad the cit- | y of God,*
the holy habitation of the | Most High.
- <sup>5</sup> God is in the midst of her;
she shall | not be moved;*
God will help her when | morning dawns.
- <sup>6</sup> The nations rage, the kingdoms | totter;*
he utters his voice, the | earth melts.
- <sup>7</sup> The LORD of hosts is | with us;*
the God of Jacob is our | fortress.
- <sup>8</sup> Come, behold the works | of the LORD,*
how he has brought desolations | on
the earth.

<sup>9</sup> He makes wars cease to the end | of
the earth;*
he breaks the bow and shatters the spear;
he burns the chariots | with fire.
<sup>10</sup> “Be still, and know that | I am God.*
I will be exalted among the nations,
I will be exalted | in the earth!”
<sup>11</sup> The LORD of hosts is | with us;*
the God of Jacob is our | fortress.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

47

Shout to God with loud | songs of joy!
<sup>2</sup> For the LORD, the Most High, is | to be feared,*
a great king over | all the earth.
<sup>3</sup> He subdued peoples | under us,*
and nations un- | der our feet.
<sup>4</sup> He chose our heritage | for us,*
the pride of Jacob | whom he loves.
<sup>5</sup> God has gone up | with a shout,*
the LORD with the sound of a | trumpet.
<sup>6</sup> Sing praises to God, sing | praises!*
Sing praises to our King, sing | praises!
<sup>7</sup> For God is the King of | all the earth;*
sing praises | with a psalm!
<sup>8</sup> God reigns over the | nations;*
God sits on his | holy throne.
<sup>9</sup> The princes of the peoples gather as the people of the God of | Abraham.*
For the shields of the earth belong to
God; he is highly ex- | alted!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

48

<sup>1</sup> Great is the LORD and greatly | to be praised*
in the city | of our God!
His holy mountain, <sup>2</sup> beautiful in elevation,
is the joy of | all the earth,*
Mount Zion, in the far north,
the city of the | great King.
<sup>3</sup> Within her | citadels*
God has made himself known
as a | fortress.
<sup>4</sup> For behold, the kings as- | sembled;*
they came on to- | gether.
<sup>5</sup> As soon as they saw it,
they were as- | tounded;*
they were in panic; they | took to flight.
<sup>6</sup> Trembling took hold | of them there,*
anguish as of a woman in | labor.
<sup>7</sup> By the | east wind*
you shattered the ships of | Tarshish.
<sup>8</sup> As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the LORD of hosts,
in the city | of our God,*
which God will establish for- | ever.
<sup>9</sup> We have thought on your steadfast love, | O God,*
in the midst of your | temple.
<sup>10</sup> As your name, O God, so your praise reaches to the ends | of the earth.*
Your right hand is filled
with | righteousness.
<sup>11</sup> Let Mount Zion | be glad!*
Let the daughters of Judah rejoice
because of your | judgments!
<sup>12</sup> Walk about Zion, go around her, number her | towers,*
<sup>13</sup> consider well her ramparts,
go through her | citadels,
that you may tell the next generation
<sup>14</sup> that this is God, our God forever and | ever.*
He will guide us for- | ever.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

49

- <sup>1</sup> Hear this, all | peoples!*
Give ear, all inhabitants | of the world,
<sup>2</sup> both | low and high,*
rich and poor to- | gether!
<sup>3</sup> My mouth shall speak | wisdom;*
the meditation of my heart
shall be under- | standing.
<sup>4</sup> I will incline my ear to a | proverb;*
I will solve my riddle
to the music | of the lyre.
<sup>5</sup> Why should I fear in times of | trouble,*
when the iniquity of those
who cheat me sur- | rounds me,
<sup>6</sup> those who trust | in their wealth*
and boast of the abundance
of their | riches?
<sup>7</sup> Truly no man can ransom an- | other,*
or give to God the price | of his life,
<sup>8</sup> for the ransom of their life is | costly*
and can nev- | er suffice,
<sup>9</sup> that he should live on for- | ever*
and never | see the pit.
<sup>10</sup> For he sees that even the | wise die;*
the fool and the stupid alike must perish
and leave their wealth to | others.
<sup>11</sup> Their graves are their homes forever,
their dwelling places to all gener- | ations,*
though they called lands
by their | own names.
<sup>12</sup> Man in his pomp will | not remain;*
he is like the beasts that | perish.
<sup>13</sup> This is the path of those who have foolish | confidence;*
yet after them people approve | of their boasts.

<sup>14</sup> Like sheep they are appointed for Sheol;
death shall be their | shepherd,*
and the upright shall rule over them in the morning. Their form shall be consumed in Sheol, with no | place to dwell.

<sup>15</sup> But God will ransom my soul from the power | of Sheol,*
for he will re- | ceive me.

<sup>16</sup> Be not afraid when a man be- | comes rich,*
when the glory of his house in- | creases.

<sup>17</sup> For when he dies he will carry noth- | ing away;*
his glory will not go down | after him.

<sup>18</sup> For though, while he lives, he counts himself | blessed,—*
and though you get praise
when you do well | for yourself—

<sup>19</sup> his soul will go to the generation of his | fathers,*
who will never again | see light.

<sup>20</sup> Man in his pomp yet without
under- | standing*
is like the beasts that | perish.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

50

<sup>1</sup> The Mighty One, God the LORD, speaks and sum- | mons the earth*
from the rising of the sun to its | setting.

<sup>2</sup> Out of Zion, the perfection of | beauty,*
God | shines forth.

<sup>3</sup> Our God comes; he does not keep | silence;*
before him is a devouring fire,
around him a mighty | tempest.

<sup>4</sup> He calls to the heav- | ens above*
 and to the earth,
 that he may judge his | people:
<sup>5</sup> “Gather to me my | faithful ones,*
 who made a covenant
 with me by | sacrifice!”
<sup>6</sup> The heavens declare his | righteousness,*
 for God him- | self is judge!
<sup>7</sup> “Hear, O my people, and I will speak;
 O Israel, I will testify a- | gainst you.*
 I am | God, your God.
<sup>8</sup> Not for your sacrifices do I re- | buke you;*
 your burnt offerings are continually be- | fore me.
<sup>9</sup> I will not accept a bull | from your house*
 or goats | from your folds.
<sup>10</sup> For every beast of the for- | est is mine,*
 the cattle on a | thousand hills.
<sup>11</sup> I know all the birds | of the hills,*
 and all that moves in the | field is mine.
<sup>12</sup> “If I were hungry, I would not | tell you,*
 for the world and its full- | ness are mine.
<sup>13</sup> Do I eat the | flesh of bulls*
 or drink the | blood of goats?
<sup>14</sup> Offer to God a sacrifice of thanks- | giving,*
 and perform your vows
 to the | Most High,
<sup>15</sup> and call upon me in the day of | trouble;*
 I will deliver you,
 and you shall glo- | rify me.”
<sup>16</sup> But to the wicked | God says:*
 “What right have you to recite my statutes or take my covenant | on your lips?
<sup>17</sup> For you hate | discipline,*
 and you cast my words be- | hind you.
<sup>18</sup> If you see a thief, you are | pleased with him,*
 and you keep company
 with a- | dulterers.
<sup>19</sup> “You give your mouth free rein for | evil,*
 and your tongue | frames deceit.

 you slander your own | mother’s son.
<sup>21</sup> These things you have done,
 and I have been silent;
 you thought that I was one | like yourself.*
 But now I rebuke you
 and lay the charge be- | fore you.
<sup>22</sup> “Mark this, then, you who for- | get God,*
 lest I tear you apart,
 and there be none to de- | liver!
<sup>23</sup> The one who offers thanksgiving
 as his sacrifice glo- | rifies me;*
 to one who orders his way rightly
 I will show the salva- | tion of God!”
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

51

<sup>1</sup> Have mercy on me, O God,
 according to your | steadfast love,*
 according to your abundant mercy blot
 out my trans- | gressions.
<sup>2</sup> Wash me thoroughly from my in- | iquity,*
 and cleanse me | from my sin!
<sup>3</sup> For I know my trans- | gressions,*
 and my sin is ever be- | fore me.
<sup>4</sup> Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil | in your sight,*
 so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your | judgment.
<sup>5</sup> Behold, I was brought forth in in- | iquity,*
 and in sin did my mother con- | ceive me.
<sup>6</sup> Behold, you delight in truth in the inward | being,*
 and you teach me wisdom
 in the | secret heart.
<sup>7</sup> Purge me with hyssop, and I | shall be clean;*
 wash me, and I shall be
 whit- | er than snow.

<sup>8</sup> Let me hear joy and | gladness;*
 let the bones that you
 have bro- | ken rejoice.

<sup>9</sup> Hide your face | from my sins,*
 and blot out all my in- | iquities.

<sup>10</sup> Create in me a clean heart, | O God,*
 and renew a right spirit with- | in me.

<sup>11</sup> Cast me not away from your | presence,*
 and take not your Holy Spirit | from me.

<sup>12</sup> Restore to me the joy of your sal- | vation,*
 and uphold me with a willing | spirit.

<sup>13</sup> Then I will teach transgressors | your ways,*
 and sinners will re- | turn to you.

<sup>14</sup> Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God,
 O God of my sal- | vation,*
 and my tongue will sing aloud
 of your | righteousness.

<sup>15</sup> O Lord, open | my lips,*
 and my mouth will de- | clare your praise.

<sup>16</sup> For you will not delight in sacrifice, or I would | give it;*
 you will not be pleased with a burnt | offering.

<sup>17</sup> The sacrifices of God are a broken | spirit;*
 a broken and contrite heart,
 O God, you will | not despise.

<sup>18</sup> Do good to Zion in your good | pleasure;*
 build up the walls of Je- | rusalem;

<sup>19</sup> then will you delight in right sacrifices, in burnt offerings and whole burnt | offerings,*
 then bulls will be offered on your | altar.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

52

<sup>1</sup> Why do you boast of evil, O | mighty
 man?*

The steadfast love of God
 endures | all the day.

<sup>2</sup> Your tongue plots de- | struction,*
 like a sharp razor, you worker | of deceit.

<sup>3</sup> You love evil | more than good,*
 and lying more than
 speaking | what is right.

<sup>4</sup> You love all words | that devour,*
 O de- | ceitful tongue.

<sup>5</sup> But God will break you down for- | ever;*
 he will snatch and tear you from your tent; he will uproot you
 from the land of the | living.

<sup>6</sup> The righteous shall | see and fear,*
 and shall laugh at him, | saying,

<sup>7</sup> “See the man who would not make God
 his | refuge,*
 but trusted in the abundance of his riches and sought refuge
 in his own de- | struction!”

<sup>8</sup> But I am like a green olive tree in the | house of God.*
 I trust in the steadfast love
 of God forever and | ever.

<sup>9</sup> I will thank you forever,
 because you have | done it.*
 I will wait for your name, for it is good,
 in the presence of the | godly.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

53

- <sup>1</sup> The fool says in his heart, "There | is no God."*
They are corrupt, doing abominable
iniquity; there is none | who does good.
- <sup>2</sup> God looks down from heaven
on the chil- | dren of man*
to see if there are any who understand,
who seek | after God.
- <sup>3</sup> They have all fallen away;
together they have be- | come corrupt,*
there is none who does good,
not | even one.
- <sup>4</sup> Have those who work evil no | knowledge,*
who eat up my people as they eat bread,
and do not call up- | on God?
- <sup>5</sup> There they are, in great terror,
where there is no | terror!*
- For God scatters the bones of him who encamps against you; you put them
to shame, for God has re- | jected them.
- <sup>6</sup> Oh, that salvation for Israel
would come out of | Zion!*
- When God restores the fortunes
of his people, let Jacob rejoice,
let Israel | be glad.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

54

- <sup>1</sup> O God, save me, | by your name,*
and vindicate me | by your might.
- <sup>2</sup> O God, | hear my prayer,*
give ear to the words | of my mouth.
- <sup>3</sup> For strangers have risen against me;
ruthless men | seek my life;*
they do not set God be- | fore themselves.
- <sup>4</sup> Behold, God is my | helper;*
the Lord is the upholder | of my life.
- <sup>5</sup> He will return the evil to my | enemies;*
in your faithfulness put an | end to them.

- <sup>6</sup> With a freewill offering I will sacri- | fice to you,*
I will give thanks to your name,
O LORD, for | it is good.
- <sup>7</sup> For he has delivered me
from every | trouble,*
and my eye has looked in triumph
on my | enemies.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

55

- <sup>1</sup> Give ear to my prayer, | O God,*
and hide not yourself
from my plea for | mercy!
- <sup>2</sup> Attend to me, and answer me; I am restless
in my complaint | and I moan,* <sup>3</sup> because of the noise of the enemy,
because of the oppression of the | wicked.
- For they drop trouble up- | on me,*
and in anger they bear a grudge
a- | gainst me.
- <sup>4</sup> My heart is in anguish with- | in me,*
the terrors of death have fallen up- | on me.
- <sup>5</sup> Fear and trembling come up- | on me,*
and horror over- | whelms me.
- <sup>6</sup> And I say, "Oh, that I had wings | like a dove!*"
I would fly away and | be at rest;
- <sup>7</sup> yes, I would wander | far away;*
I would lodge in the | wilderness;
- <sup>8</sup> I would hurry to find a | shelter*
from the raging wind and | tempest."
- <sup>9</sup> Destroy, O Lord, di- | vide their tongues,*
for I see violence and strife in the | city.
- <sup>10</sup> Day and night they go around it | on its walls,*
and iniquity and trouble are with- | in it;
- <sup>11</sup> ruin is | in its midst,*
oppression and fraud do not depart
from its | marketplace.

<sup>12</sup> For it is not an enemy who taunts me—
then I could | bear it;*
it is not an adversary who deals insolently
with me—then I could | hide from him.

<sup>13</sup> But it is you, a man, my | equal,*
my companion, my fa- | miliar friend.

<sup>14</sup> We used to take sweet counsel to- | gether;*
within God's house we walked | in the throng.

<sup>15</sup> Let death steal over them;
let them go down to She- | ol alive;*
for evil is in their dwelling place
and | in their heart.

<sup>16</sup> But I | call to God,*
and the LORD will | save me.

<sup>17</sup> Evening and morning and at noon
I utter my com- | plaint and moan,*
and he | hears my voice.

<sup>18</sup> He redeems my soul in safety from the battle | that I wage,*
for many are arrayed a- | gainst me.

<sup>19</sup> God will give ear and humble them, he who is enthroned | from of old,*
because they do not change
and do | not fear God.

<sup>20</sup> My companion stretched out his hand
a- | gainst his friends;*
he violated his | covenant.

<sup>21</sup> His speech was smooth as butter,
yet war was | in his heart;*
his words were softer than oil,
yet they were | drawn swords.

<sup>22</sup> Cast your burden on the LORD, and he will sus- | tain you;*
he will never permit the righteous
to | be moved.

<sup>23</sup> But you, O God, will cast them down into the pit of destruction; men of blood and treachery shall not live out | half their days.*
But I will | trust in you.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;

as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

56

<sup>1</sup> Be gracious to me, O God, for man
tramples | on me;*
all day long an attacker op- | presses me;

<sup>2</sup> my enemies trample on me | all day long,*
for many attack me | proudly.

<sup>3</sup> When I | am afraid,*
I put my | trust in you.

<sup>4</sup> In God, whose word I praise, in God I trust;
I shall not | be afraid.*
What can flesh | do to me?

<sup>5</sup> All day long they in- | jure my cause;*
all their thoughts are against me for | evil.

<sup>6</sup> They stir up strife, they lurk; they | watch
my steps,*
as they have waited | for my life.

<sup>7</sup> For their crime will | they escape?*

In wrath cast down the peoples, | O God!

<sup>8</sup> You have kept count of my tossings;
put my tears in your | bottle.*
Are they not | in your book?

<sup>9</sup> Then my enemies will turn back in the day | when I call.*
This I know, that God is | for me.

<sup>10</sup> In God, whose | word I praise,*
in the LORD, whose | word I praise,

What can man | do to me?

<sup>12</sup> I must perform my vows to you, | O God;*
I will render thank offerings | to you.

<sup>13</sup> For you have delivered my soul from death, yes, my feet from | falling,*
that I may walk before God
in the | light of life.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

57

- <sup>1</sup> Be merciful to me, O God, be merciful
to me, for in you my soul takes | refuge;*
in the shadow of your wings
I will take refuge, till the storms
of destruction | pass by.
- <sup>2</sup> I cry out to | God Most High,*
to God who fulfills his pur- | pose for me.
- <sup>3</sup> He will send from heaven and save me;
he will put to shame him who
tramples | on me.*
God will send out his steadfast love
and his | faithfulness!
- <sup>4</sup> My soul is in the midst of lions;
I lie down amid | fiery beasts—*
the children of man,
whose teeth are spears and arrows,
whose tongues are | sharp swords.
- <sup>5</sup> Be exalted, O God, above the | heavens!*
Let your glory be over | all the earth!
- <sup>6</sup> They set a net for my steps;
my soul was | bowed down.*
They dug a pit in my way, but they have fallen into it | themselves.
- <sup>7</sup> My heart is steadfast, O God,
my heart is | steadfast!*
I will sing and make | melody!
- <sup>8</sup> Awake, my glory! Awake, O | harp and lyre!*
I will a- | wake the dawn!
- <sup>9</sup> I will give thanks to you, O Lord,
among the | peoples,*
I will sing praises to you among
the | nations.
- <sup>10</sup> For your steadfast love is great
to the | heavens,*
your faithfulness | to the clouds.
- <sup>11</sup> Be exalted, O God, above the | heavens!*
Let your glory be over | all the earth!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

58

- <sup>1</sup> Do you indeed decree what is | right,
you gods?*
- Do you judge the children
of man up- | rightly?
- <sup>2</sup> No, in your hearts you de- | vise wrongs;*
your hands deal out violence | on earth.
- <sup>3</sup> The wicked are estranged | from the womb;*
they go astray from birth, | speaking lies.
- <sup>4</sup> They have venom like the venom
of a | serpent,*
like the deaf adder that | stops its ear,
<sup>5</sup> so that it does not hear the voice of | charmers*
or of the cunning en- | chanter.
- <sup>6</sup> O God, break the teeth | in their mouths;*
tear out the fangs of the young lions, | O
LORD!
- <sup>7</sup> Let them vanish like water that | runs away;*
when he aims his arrows,
let them be | blunted.
- <sup>8</sup> Let them be like the snail
that dissolves | into slime,*
like the stillborn child who never | sees the sun.
- <sup>9</sup> Sooner than your pots
can feel the | heat of thorns,*
whether green or ablaze,
may he sweep | them away!
- <sup>10</sup> The righteous will rejoice
when he sees the | vengeance;*
he will bathe his feet in the blood
of the | wicked.
- <sup>11</sup> Mankind will say, "Surely there is a reward for the | righteous;*
surely there is a God
who judges | on earth."
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

59

- <sup>1</sup> Deliver me from my enemies, | O my God;*
protect me from those who rise up a- | gainst me;
- <sup>2</sup> deliver me from those who work | evil,*
and save me from blood- | thirsty men.
- <sup>3</sup> For behold, they lie in wait for my life;
fierce men stir up strife a- | gainst me.*
For no transgression or sin of mine,
O LORD, <sup>4</sup> for no fault of mine,
they run and make | ready.
Awake, come to meet | me, and see!*
- <sup>5</sup> You, LORD God of hosts,
are God of | Israel.
Rouse yourself to punish all the | nations;*
spare none of those who
treacherously plot | evil.
- <sup>6</sup> Each evening they come back,
howl- | ing like dogs*
and prowling about the | city.
- <sup>7</sup> There they are, bellowing with their mouths
with swords | in their lips—*
for “Who,” they think, “will | hear us?”
- <sup>8</sup> But you, O LORD, | laugh at them;*
you hold all the nations in de- | rision.
- <sup>9</sup> O my Strength, I will | watch for you,*
for you, O God, are my | fortress.
- <sup>10</sup> My God in his steadfast love will | meet
me;*
God will let me look
in triumph on my | enemies.
- <sup>11</sup> Kill them not, lest my peo- | ple forget;*
make them totter by your power and bring them down, O | Lord, our shield!
- <sup>12</sup> For the sin of their mouths,
the words of their lips,
let them be trapped | in their pride.*
For the cursing and lies that they utter,
<sup>13</sup> consume | them in wrath;
consume them till they | are no more,*
that they may know that God rules over

Jacob to the ends | of the earth.

- <sup>14</sup> Each evening they come back,
howling | like dogs*
and prowling about the | city.
- <sup>15</sup> They wander a- | bout for food*
and growl if they do not | get their fill.
- <sup>16</sup> But I will sing of your strength;
I will sing aloud of your steadfast love
in the | morning.*
For you have been to me a fortress and a refuge in the day of | my distress.
- <sup>17</sup> O my Strength, I will sing praises to you,
for you, O God, are my | fortress,*
the God who shows me | steadfast love.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

60

- <sup>1</sup> O God, you have rejected us,
broken our de- | fences;*
you have been angry; oh, re- | store us.
- <sup>2</sup> You have made the land to quake;
you have torn it | open;*
repair its breaches, for it | totters.
- <sup>3</sup> You have made your people see | hard things;*
you have given us wine to drink that made us | stagger.
- <sup>4</sup> You have set up a banner for those who | fear you,*
that they may flee to it | from the bow.
- <sup>5</sup> That your beloved ones may be de- | livered,*
give salvation by your right hand
and | answer us!
- <sup>6</sup> God has spoken in his | holiness:*
“With exultation I will divide up Shechem and portion
out the Vale of | Succoth.
- <sup>7</sup> Gilead is mine; Manasseh is mine;
Ephraim is my | helmet,*
Judah is my | scepter.

- <sup>8</sup> Moab is my washbasin;
upon Edom I | cast my shoe;*
over Philistia I shout in | triumph.”
- <sup>9</sup> Who will bring me to the fortified | city?*
- Who will lead me to | Edom?
- <sup>10</sup> Have you not rejected us, | O God?*
- You do not go forth, O God,
with our | armies.
- <sup>11</sup> Oh, grant us help a- | gainst the foe,*
for vain is the salva- | tion of man!
- <sup>12</sup> With God we shall do | valiantly;*
it is he who will tread | down our foes.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

61

- <sup>1</sup> Hear my cry, | O God,*
listen | to my prayer;
- <sup>2</sup> from the end of the earth I call to you
when my | heart is faint.*
Lead me to the rock
that is high- | er than I,
<sup>3</sup> for you have been my | refuge,*
a strong tower against the | enemy.
- <sup>4</sup> Let me dwell in your tent for- | ever!*
- Let me take refuge under
the shelter | of your wings!
- <sup>5</sup> For you, O God, have | heard my vows;*
you have given me the heritage
of those who | fear your name.
- <sup>6</sup> Prolong the life | of the king;*
may his years endure to all gener- | ations!
- <sup>7</sup> May he be enthroned forever be- | fore God;*
appoint steadfast love and faithfulness to watch | over him!
- <sup>8</sup> So will I ever sing praises | to your name,*
as I perform my vows day | after day.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

62

- <sup>1</sup> For God alone my soul waits in | silence,*
from him comes my sal- | vation.
- <sup>2</sup> He only is my rock and my salvation,
my | fortress;*
I shall not be greatly | shaken.
- <sup>3</sup> How long will all of you attack
a man to | batter him,*
like a leaning wall, a | tottering fence?
- <sup>4</sup> They only plan to thrust him down
from his high position.
They take pleasure in | falsehood.*
They bless with their mouths,
but inwardly | they curse.
- <sup>5</sup> For God alone, O my soul,
wait in | silence,*
for my hope is | from him.
- <sup>6</sup> He only is my rock and my salvation,
my | fortress;*
I shall not be | shaken.
- <sup>7</sup> On God rests my salvation and my | glory;*
my mighty rock, my refuge | is God.
- <sup>8</sup> Trust in him at all times, O people;
pour out your heart be- | fore him;*
God is a refuge | for us.
- <sup>9</sup> Those of low estate are but a breath; those of high estate are a de- | lusion;*
in the balances they go up; they are together lighter | than a breath.
- <sup>10</sup> Put no trust in extortion;
set no vain hopes on | robbery;*
if riches increase,
set not your | heart on them.
- <sup>11</sup> Once God has spoken;
twice have I | heard this:*
that power belongs to God, <sup>12</sup> and that to you, O Lord, belongs | steadfast love.

For you will render | to a man*
according | to his work.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

63

- <sup>1</sup> O God, you are my God;
earnestly I | seek you;*
my soul thirsts for you; my flesh faints
for you, as in a dry and weary land
where there is no | water.
- <sup>2</sup> So I have looked upon you
in the sanctu- | ary,*
beholding your power and | glory.
- <sup>3</sup> Because your steadfast love
is bet- | ter than life,*
my lips will | praise you.
- <sup>4</sup> So I will bless you as long | as I live;*
in your name I will lift | up my hands.
- <sup>5</sup> My soul will be satisfied as
with fat and | rich food,*
and my mouth will praise you
with | joyful lips,
- <sup>6</sup> when I remember you up- | on my bed,*
and meditate on you
in the watches | of the night;
- <sup>7</sup> for you have | been my help,*
and in the shadow of your wings
I will | sing for joy.
- <sup>8</sup> My soul | clings to you;*
your right hand up- | holds me.
- <sup>9</sup> But those who seek to de- | stroy my life*
shall go down into the depths | of
the earth;
- <sup>10</sup> they shall be given over to the power | of the sword;*
they shall be a portion for | jackals.
- <sup>11</sup> But the king shall re- | joice in God,*
all who swear by him shall exult,
for the mouths of liars | will be stopped.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

64

- <sup>1</sup> Hear my voice, O God, in | my complaint;*
preserve my life from dread
of the | enemy.
  - <sup>2</sup> Hide me from the secret plots
of the | wicked,*
from the throng of evil- | doers,
  - <sup>3</sup> who whet their | tongues like swords,*
who aim bitter words like | arrows,
  - <sup>4</sup> shooting from ambush at the | blameless,* shooting at him suddenly
and with- | out fear.
  - <sup>5</sup> They hold fast to their evil | purpose;*
they talk of laying snares secretly,
thinking, who can | see them?
  - <sup>6</sup> They search out injustice, saying, “We have accomplished a dil- | igent search.”*
For the inward mind and heart
of a | man are deep!
  - <sup>7</sup> But God shoots his ar- | row at them;*
they are wounded | suddenly.
  - <sup>8</sup> They are brought to ruin, with their own tongues turned a- | gainst them;*
all who see them will | wag their heads.
  - <sup>9</sup> Then all | mankind fears;*
they tell what God has brought about
and ponder what | he has done.
  - <sup>10</sup> Let the righteous one rejoice in the LORD
and take refuge | in him!*
Let all the upright in | heart exult!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

65

- <sup>1</sup> Praise is due to you, O God, in | Zion,*
and to you shall vows | be performed.
- <sup>2</sup> O you who | hears prayer,*
to you shall | all flesh come.
- <sup>3</sup> When iniquities prevail a- | gainst me,*
you atone for our trans- | gressions.
- <sup>4</sup> Blessèd is the one you choose and bring near, to dwell | in your courts!*
- We shall be satisfied with the goodness of your house, the holiness
of your | temple!
- <sup>5</sup> By awesome deeds you answer us with righteousness, O God of our sal- | vation,*
the hope of all the ends of the earth
and of the | farthest seas;
- <sup>6</sup> the one who by his strength established
the | mountains,*
being girded | with might;
- <sup>7</sup> who stills the roaring of the seas,
the roaring | of their waves,*
the tumult of the | peoples,
- <sup>8</sup> so that those who dwell at the ends
of the earth are in awe | at your signs.*
You make the going out of the morning
and the evening to | shout for joy.
- <sup>9</sup> You visit the earth and water it; you greatly enrich it; the river of God is full of | water;*
you provide their grain,
for so you have pre- | pared it.
- <sup>10</sup> You water its furrows abundantly,
settling its | ridges,*
softening it with showers,
and bless- | ing its growth.
- <sup>11</sup> You crown the year with your | bounty;*
your wagon tracks overflow
with a- | bundance.
- <sup>12</sup> The pastures of the wilderness | overflow,*
the hills gird them- | selves with joy,
- <sup>13</sup> the meadows clothe themselves with flocks,
the valleys deck them- | selves with grain,*
they shout and sing together | for joy.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

66

- <sup>1</sup> Shout for joy to God, | all the earth;*
<sup>2</sup> sing the glory of his name;
give to him | glorious praise!
- <sup>3</sup> Say to God, “How awesome | are your deeds!*
- So great is your power that your enemies come cringing | to you.
- <sup>4</sup> All the earth worships you and sings prais- | es to you;*
- they sing praises | to your name.”
- <sup>5</sup> Come and see what | God has done:*
- he is awesome in his deeds toward
the chil- | dren of man.
- <sup>6</sup> He turned the sea into | dry land;*
- they passed through the riv- | er on foot.
There did we rejoice in him,<sup>7</sup> who rules
by his might forever, whose eyes keep watch
on the | nations—*
- let not the rebellious ex- | alt themselves.
- <sup>8</sup> Bless our God, O | peoples,*
let the sound of his | praise be heard,
- <sup>9</sup> who has kept our soul among the | living*
and has not let our | feet slip.
- <sup>10</sup> For you, O God, have | tested us;*
- you have tried us as sil- | ver is tried.
- <sup>11</sup> You brought us in- | to the net;*
- you laid a crushing burden | on our backs;
- <sup>12</sup> you let men ride o- | ver our heads;*
- we went through fire and through water;
yet you have brought us out to a place
of a- | bundance.
- <sup>13</sup> I will come into your house
with burnt | offerings;*
- I will perform my | vows to you,

- <sup>14</sup> that which my lips | uttered*
and my mouth promised
when I was in | trouble.
- <sup>15</sup> I will offer to you burnt offerings of fattened animals, with the smoke
of the sacri- | fice of rams;*
I will make an offering
of | bulls and goats.
- <sup>16</sup> Come and hear, all you who | fear God,*
and I will tell what he has done | for my soul.
- <sup>17</sup> I cried to him | with my mouth,*
and high praise was | on my tongue.
- <sup>18</sup> If I had cherished iniquity | in my heart,*
the Lord would not have | listened.
- <sup>19</sup> But truly God has | listened;*
he has attended to the voice | of my prayer.
- <sup>20</sup> Blessèd | be God,* because he has not rejected my prayer or removed his steadfast | love from me!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

67

- <sup>1</sup> May God be gracious to us and | bless us*
and make his face to shine up- | on us,
- <sup>2</sup> that your way may be | known on earth,*
your saving power among all | nations.
- <sup>3</sup> Let the peoples praise you, | O God;*
let all the peoples | praise you!
- <sup>4</sup> Let the nations be glad and | sing for joy,*
for you judge the peoples with equity
and guide the nations up- | on earth.
- <sup>5</sup> Let the peoples praise you, | O God;*
let all the peoples | praise you!
- <sup>6</sup> The earth has yielded its | increase;*
God, our God, shall | bless us.

- <sup>7</sup> God shall | bless us;*
let all the ends of the earth | fear him!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

68

- <sup>1</sup> God shall arise, his enemies shall be | scattered;*
and those who hate him shall flee
be- | fore him!
- <sup>2</sup> As smoke is driven away,
so you shall drive | them away;*
as wax melts before fire, so the wicked shall perish be- | fore God!
- <sup>3</sup> But the righteous shall be glad;
they shall exult be- | fore God;*
they shall be jubilant | with joy!
- <sup>4</sup> Sing to God, sing praises | to his name;*
lift up a song to him who rides through the deserts; his name is the LORD;
exult be- | fore him!
- <sup>5</sup> Father of the fatherless and protector of | widows*
is God in his holy habi- | tation.
- <sup>6</sup> God settles the solitary in a home;
he leads out the prisoners to pros- | perity,*
but the rebellious dwell
in a | parched land.
- <sup>7</sup> O God, when you went out before your | people,*
when you marched through
the | wilderness,
- <sup>8</sup> the earth quaked, the heavens poured down
rain, before God, the One of | Sinai,*
before God, the God of | Israel.
- <sup>9</sup> Rain in abundance, O God,
you | shed abroad;*
you restored your inheritance
as it | languished;

- 10 your flock found a dwell- | ing in it;*
in your goodness, O God, you provided for the | needy.
- 11 The Lord | gives the word;*
the women who announce
the news are a | great host:
- 12 “The kings of the armies
—they | flee, they flee!”*
The women at home divide the | spoil—
- 13 though you men lie among the | sheepfolds—*
the wings of a dove covered with silver,
its pinions with | shimmering gold.
- 14 When the Almighty scatters | kings there,*
let snow fall on | Zalmon.
- 15 O mountain of God, mountain of | Bashan;*
O many-peaked mountain,
mountain of | Bashan!
- 16 Why do you look with hatred,
O many-peaked | mountain,*
at the mount that God desired for his abode, yes, where the LORD
will dwell for- | ever?
- 17 The chariots of God are twice ten thousand, thousands upon | thousands;*
the Lord is among them; Sinai is now
in the sanctu- | ary.
- 18 You ascended on high, leading a host of captives in your train and receiving gifts a- | mong men,*
even among the rebellious,
that the LORD God may | dwell there.
- 19 Blessèd be the Lord, who daily | bears us up;*
God is our sal- | vation.
- 20 Our God is a God of sal- | vation,*
and to God, the Lord, belong
deliverances | from death.
- 21 But God will strike the heads
of his | enemies,*
the hairy crown of him who walks
in his | guilty ways.
- 22 The Lord said, “I will bring them back
from | Bashan,*
I will bring them back from
the depths | of the sea,
23 that you may strike your feet | in their blood,*
that the tongues of your dogs
may have their portion | from the foe.”
- 24 Your procession is seen, | O God,*
the procession of my God,
my King, into the sanctu- | ary—
- 25 the singers in front, the mu- | sicians last,* between them virgins
playing | tambourines:
- 26 “Bless God in the great congre- | gation,*
the LORD, O you who are
of Israel’s | fountain!”
- 27 There is Benjamin, the least of them,
in the lead, the princes
of Judah | in their thron,*
the princes of Zebulun,
the princes of | Naphtali.
- 28 Summon your power, | O God,*
the power, O God,
by which you have | worked for us.
- 29 Because of your temple at Je- | rusalem*
kings shall bear | gifts to you.
- 30 Rebuke the beasts that dwell among the reeds, the herd of bulls
with the calves of the | peoples.*
Trample underfoot those who lust
after tribute; scatter the peoples
who de- | light in war.
- 31 Nobles shall come from | Egypt;*
Cush shall hasten to stretch out
her | hands to God.
- 32 O kingdoms of the earth, | sing to God;*
sing praises | to the Lord, 33 to him who rides in the heavens,
the ancient | heavens;*
behold, he sends out his voice,
his | mighty voice.

<sup>34</sup> Ascribe | power to God,* whose majesty is over Israel, and whose power is | in the skies.

<sup>35</sup> Awesome is God from his sanctu- | ary;*
the God of Israel—he is the one who gives power and strength to his people.
Blessèd | be God!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

69

<sup>1</sup> Save me, | O God!*
For the waters have come up | to my neck.

<sup>2</sup> I sink in deep mire,
where there is no | foothold;*
I have come into deep waters,
and the flood sweeps | over me.

<sup>3</sup> I am weary with my crying out;
my | throat is parched.*
My eyes grow dim with waiting | for my God.

<sup>4</sup> More in number than the hairs | of my head*
are those who hate me with- | out cause;
mighty are those who would destroy me,
those who attack | me with lies.*
What I did not steal must I | now restore?

<sup>5</sup> O God, you know my | folly;*
the wrongs I have done are not hid- | den from you.

<sup>6</sup> Let not those who hope in you be put to shame through me, O Lord | GOD of hosts;*
let not those who seek you be brought to dishonor through me, O God of | Israel.

<sup>7</sup> For it is for your sake that I have | borne reproach,*
that dishonor has covered | my face.

<sup>8</sup> I have become a stranger to my | brothers,*
an alien to my | mother's sons.

<sup>9</sup> For zeal for your house has con- | sumed me,* and the reproaches of those who reproach you have fall- | en on me.

<sup>10</sup> When I wept and humbled my soul with | fasting,*
it became | my reproach.

<sup>11</sup> When I made sackcloth my | clothing,*
I became a byword | to them.

<sup>12</sup> I am the talk of those who sit | in the gate,*
and the drunkards make songs a- | bout me.

<sup>13</sup> But as for me, my prayer is to you, | O LORD.*
At an acceptable time, O God,
in the abundance of your steadfast love
answer me in your saving | faithfulness.

<sup>14</sup> Deliver me from sinking | in the mire;*
let me be delivered from my enemies
and from the deep | waters.

<sup>15</sup> Let not the flood sweep over me, or the deep swal- | low me up,*
or the pit close its mouth | over me.

<sup>16</sup> Answer me, O LORD, for your steadfast | love is good;*
according to your abundant
mercy, | turn to me.

<sup>17</sup> Hide not your face from your servant;
for I am | in distress;*
make haste to | answer me.

<sup>18</sup> Draw near to my soul, re- | deem me;*
ransom me because of my | enemies!

<sup>19</sup> You know my reproach, and my shame and my dis- | honor;*
my foes are all | known to you.

<sup>20</sup> Reproaches have broken my heart,
so that I am | in despair.*
I looked for pity, but there was none,
and for comforters, but I | found none.

<sup>21</sup> They gave me poi- | son for food,*
and for my thirst they gave me
sour | wine to drink.

- <sup>22</sup> Let their own table before them
be- | come a snare;*
and when they are at peace,
let it be- | come a trap.
- <sup>23</sup> Let their eyes be darkened,
so that they | cannot see,*
and make their loins tremble
con- | tinually.
- <sup>24</sup> Pour out your indignation up- | on them,*
and let your burning anger
over- | take them.
- <sup>25</sup> May their camp be a deso- | lation;*
let no one dwell | in their tents.
- <sup>26</sup> For they persecute him whom
you have | struck down,*
and they recount the pain of those you have | wounded.
- <sup>27</sup> Add to them punishment
upon | punishment;*
may they have no acquittal | from you.
- <sup>28</sup> Let them be blotted out of the book
of the | living;*
let them not be enrolled among
the | righteous.
- <sup>29</sup> But I am afflicted | and in pain;*
let your salvation, O God, set | me on high!
- <sup>30</sup> I will praise the name of God | with a song;*
I will magnify him with thanks- | giving.
- <sup>31</sup> This will please the LORD more | than an ox*
or a bull with | horns and hoofs.
- <sup>32</sup> When the humble see it they | will be glad;*
you who seek God, let your | hearts revive.
- <sup>33</sup> For the LORD hears the | needy*
and does not despise his own people who are | prisoners.
- <sup>34</sup> Let heaven and earth | praise him,*
the seas and everything that | moves
in them.
- <sup>35</sup> For God will save Zion and build up
the cities of | Judah,*
and people shall dwell there
and pos- | sess it;

- <sup>36</sup> the offspring of his servants shall
in- | herit it,*
and those who love his name
shall | dwell in it.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

70

- <sup>1</sup> Make haste, O God, to de- | liver me!*
O LORD, make haste to | help me!
- <sup>2</sup> Let them be put to shame and confusion
who | seek my life!*
Let them be turned back and brought to dishonor who de- | sire my hurt!
- <sup>3</sup> Let them turn back because | of their shame*
who say, “A- | ha, Aha!”
- <sup>4</sup> May all who seek you rejoice
and be | glad in you!*
May those who love your salvation
say evermore, | “God is great!”
- <sup>5</sup> But I am poor and needy;
hasten to me, | O God!*
You are my help and my deliverer;
O LORD, do | not delay!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

71

- <sup>1</sup> In you, O LORD, do I take | refuge;*
let me never be | put to shame!
- <sup>2</sup> In your righteousness deliver me
and | rescue me;*
incline your ear to me, and | save me!
- <sup>3</sup> Be to me a rock of refuge,
to which I may contin- | ually come;*
you have given the command to save me,
for you are my rock and my | fortress.

<sup>4</sup> Rescue me, O my God, from the hand of the | wicked,*
 from the grasp of the unjust
 and | cruel man.

<sup>5</sup> For you, O Lord, | are my hope,*
 my trust, O LORD, | from my youth.

<sup>6</sup> Upon you I have leaned from before my birth; you are he who took me
 from my | mother's womb.*
 My praise is continually | of you.

<sup>7</sup> I have been as a portent to | many,*
 but you are my strong | refuge.

<sup>8</sup> My mouth is filled | with your praise,*
 and with your glory | all the day.

 forsake me not when my | strength is spent.

<sup>10</sup> For my enemies speak con- | cerning me;*
 those who watch for my life consult together <sup>11</sup> and say,
 "God has for- | saken him;
 pursue and | seize him,*
 for there is none to de- | liver him."

<sup>12</sup> O God, be not | far from me,*
 O my God, make haste to | help me!

<sup>13</sup> May my accusers be put to shame | and consumed,*
 with scorn and disgrace may they
 be covered who | seek my hurt.

<sup>14</sup> But I will hope con- | tinually*
 and will praise you yet | more and more.

<sup>15</sup> My mouth will tell of your righteous acts, of your deeds of salvation | all the day,*
 for their number is past my | knowledge.

<sup>16</sup> With the mighty deeds of the Lord
 GOD | I will come;*
 I will remind them of your
 righteousness, | yours alone.

<sup>17</sup> O God, from my youth you have | taught
 me,*
 and I still proclaim your | wondrous deeds.

<sup>18</sup> So even to old age and gray hairs,
 O God, do not for- | sake me,*
 until I proclaim your might to another generation, your power
 to all | those to come.

<sup>19</sup> Your righteousness, O God, reaches the high | heavens.*
 You who have done great things,
 O God, who is | like you?

<sup>20</sup> You who have made me see many troubles and calamities will revive | me again;*
 from the depths of the earth you will bring me | up again.

<sup>21</sup> You will increase my | greatness*
 and comfort | me again.

<sup>22</sup> I will also praise you with the harp
 for your faithfulness, | O my God;*
 I will sing praises to you with the lyre,
 O Holy One of | Israel.

<sup>23</sup> My lips will shout for joy,
 when I sing prais- | es to you;*
 my soul also, which you | have redeemed.

<sup>24</sup> And my tongue will talk of your righteous help all | the day long,*
 for they have been put to shame and disappointed who sought to | do me hurt.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

 and your righteousness to the | royal son!

<sup>2</sup> May he judge your people
 with | righteousness,*
 and your poor with | justice!

<sup>3</sup> Let the mountains bear prosperity for the | people,*
 and the hills, in | righteousness!

- <sup>4</sup> May he defend the cause of the poor of the people, give deliverance to the children of the | needy,*
and crush the op- | pressor!
- <sup>5</sup> May they fear you while the | sun endures,*
and as long as the moon,
throughout all gener- | ations!
- <sup>6</sup> May he be like rain that falls
on the | mown grass,*
like showers that wa- | ter the earth!
- <sup>7</sup> In his days may the righteous | flourish,*
and peace abound,
till the moon | be no more!
- <sup>8</sup> May he have dominion from | sea to sea,*
and from the River to the ends | of the earth!
- <sup>9</sup> May desert tribes bow down be- | fore him*
and his enemies | lick the dust!
- <sup>10</sup> May the kings of Tarshish and
of the coastlands render him | tribute,*
may the kings of Sheba and Seba | bring gifts!
- <sup>11</sup> May all kings fall down be- | fore him,*
all nations | serve him!
- <sup>12</sup> For he delivers the needy | when he calls,*
the poor and him who has no | helper.
- <sup>13</sup> He has pity on the weak and the | needy,*
and saves the lives of the | needy.
- <sup>14</sup> From oppression and violence
he re- | deems their life,*
and precious is their blood | in his sight.
- <sup>15</sup> Long may he live; may gold of Sheba
be giv- | en to him!*
- May prayer be made for him continually,
and blessings invoked for him | all the day!
- <sup>16</sup> May there be abundance of grain in the land; on the tops of the mountains may it wave; may its fruit be like | Lebanon,* and may people blossom in the cities
like the grass | of the field!

- <sup>17</sup> May his name endure forever, his fame
continue as long | as the sun!*
- May people be blessed in him,
all nations call him | blessed!
- <sup>18</sup> Blessed be the LORD, the God of | Israel,*
who alone does | wondrous things.
- <sup>19</sup> Blessed be his glorious name for- | ever;*
may the whole earth be filled
with his glory! Amen and | Amen!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

73

- <sup>1</sup> Truly God is good to | Israel,*
to those who are | pure in heart.
- <sup>2</sup> But as for me, my feet had almost | stumbled,*
my steps had | nearly slipped.
- <sup>3</sup> For I was envious of the | arrogant*
when I saw the prosperity
of the | wicked.
- <sup>4</sup> For they have no pangs | until death,*
their bodies are | fat and sleek.
- <sup>5</sup> They are not in trouble as | others are,*
they are not stricken like the rest
of | mankind.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore pride is their | necklace,*
violence covers them as a | garment.
- <sup>7</sup> Their eyes swell out through | fatness,*
their hearts overflow with | follies.
- <sup>8</sup> They scoff and speak with | malice,*
loftily they threaten op- | pression.
- <sup>9</sup> They set their mouths against
the | heavens,*
and their tongue struts | through
the earth.
- <sup>10</sup> Therefore his people turn | back to them,*
and find no | fault in them.

- <sup>11</sup> And they say, “How can | God know?*”
Is there knowledge in the | Most High?”
- <sup>12</sup> Behold, these are the | wicked;*”
always at ease, they increase in | riches.
- <sup>13</sup> All in vain have I kept my | heart clean*
and washed my hands in | innocence.
- <sup>14</sup> For all the day long I have been | stricken*
and rebuked every | morning.
- <sup>15</sup> If I had said, “I will | speak thus,”*
I would have betrayed the generation
of your | children.
- <sup>16</sup> But when I thought how to under- | stand this,*
it seemed to me a | wearisome task,
- <sup>17</sup> until I went into the sanctuary | of God;*”
then I dis- | cerned their end.
- <sup>18</sup> Truly you set them in slippery | places;*”
you make them fall to | ruin.
- <sup>19</sup> How they are destroyed in a | moment,*
swept away utterly by | terrors!
- <sup>20</sup> Like a dream when | one awakes,*
O Lord, when you rouse yourself, you
despise them as | phantoms.
- <sup>21</sup> When my soul was em- | bittered,*
when I was | pricked in heart,
- <sup>22</sup> I was brutish and | ignorant;*”
I was like a | beast toward you.
- <sup>23</sup> Nevertheless, I am continually | with you;*”
you hold my | right hand.
- <sup>24</sup> You guide me with your | counsel,* and afterward you will receive
me to | glory.
- <sup>25</sup> Whom have I in | heaven but you?*”
And there is nothing on earth that
I desire be- | sides you.
- <sup>26</sup> My flesh and my | heart may fail,*
but God is the strength of my heart
and my portion for- | ever.
- <sup>27</sup> For behold, those who are far from you shall | perish;*”

you put an end to everyone who is unfaithful | to you.

- <sup>28</sup> But for me it is good to be | near God;*”
I have made the Lord GOD my refuge,
that I may tell of | all your works.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

74

- <sup>1</sup> O God, why do you cast us off for- | ever?*”
Why does your anger smoke against
the sheep of your | pasture?
- <sup>2</sup> Remember your congregation, which you have purchased of old, which you have redeemed to be the tribe of your | heritage!*”
Remember Mount Zion,
where | you have dwelt.
- <sup>3</sup> Direct your steps to the perpetual | ruins;*”
the enemy has destroyed everything
in the sanctu- | ary!
- <sup>4</sup> Your foes have roared in the midst
of your | meeting place;*”
they set up their own | signs for signs.
- <sup>5</sup> They were like those who swing | axes*
in a for- | est of trees.
- <sup>6</sup> And all its | carved wood*
they broke down with hatchets
and | hammers.
- <sup>7</sup> They set your sanctuary | on fire;*”
they profaned the dwelling place of your name, bringing it down | to the ground.
- <sup>8</sup> They said to themselves,
“We will utterly sub- | due them”;*
they burned all the meeting places
of God | in the land.
- <sup>9</sup> We do not | see our signs;*”
there is no longer any prophet, and there is none among us who | knows how long.

- <sup>10</sup> How long, O God, is the | foe to scoff?*
- Is the enemy to revile
your name for- | ever?
- <sup>11</sup> Why do you hold back your hand,
your | right hand?*
- Take it from the fold of your garment
and de- | stroy them!
- <sup>12</sup> Yet God my King is | from of old,* working salvation in the midst | of
the earth.
- <sup>13</sup> You divided the sea | by your might;*
- you broke the heads of the sea monsters
on the | waters.
- <sup>14</sup> You crushed the heads of Le- | viathan;*
- you gave him as food for the creatures
of the | wilderness.
- <sup>15</sup> You split open | springs and brooks;*
- you dried up ever- | flowing streams.
- <sup>16</sup> Yours is the day, yours al- | so the night;*
- you have established the heavenly lights | and the sun.
- <sup>17</sup> You have fixed all the boundaries | of
the earth;*
- you have made summer and | winter.
- <sup>18</sup> Remember this, O LORD,
how the en- | emy scoffs,*
and a foolish people re- | viles
your name.
- <sup>19</sup> Do not deliver the soul of your dove to
the | wild beasts;*
- do not forget the life of your poor
for- | ever.
- <sup>20</sup> Have regard for the | covenant,*
for the dark places of the land are full of the habitations of | violence.
- <sup>21</sup> Let not the downtrodden turn | back
in shame;*
- let the poor and needy | praise
your name.
- <sup>22</sup> Arise, O God, de- | fend your cause;*
- remember how the foolish scoff
at you | all the day!

- <sup>23</sup> Do not forget the clamor | of your foes,*
the uproar of those who rise against you,
which goes up con- | tinually!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

75

- <sup>1</sup> We give thanks to you, O God; we give thanks, for your | name is near.*
We recount your | wondrous deeds.
- <sup>2</sup> “At the set time that | I appoint*
I will judge with | equity.
- <sup>3</sup> When the earth totters,
and all its in- | habitants,*
it is I who keep steady its | pillars.
- <sup>4</sup> I say to the boastful, | ‘Do not boast,’*
and to the wicked, ‘Do not lift | up your horn;
- <sup>5</sup> do not lift up your | horn on high,*
or speak with | haughty neck.’ ”
- <sup>6</sup> For not from the east or | from the west*
and not from the wilderness
comes | lifting up,
- <sup>7</sup> but it is God who executes | judgment,*
putting down one and lifting up
an- | other.
- <sup>8</sup> For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup with foaming wine, well mixed,
and he pours | out from it,*
and all the wicked of the earth shall drain it down | to the dregs.
- <sup>9</sup> But I will declare it for- | ever;*
- I will sing praises to the God of | Jacob.
- <sup>10</sup> All the horns of the wicked I will | cut off,*
but the horns of the righteous
shall be | lifted up.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

76

- <sup>1</sup> In Judah | God is known;*
his name is great in | Israēl.
- <sup>2</sup> His abode has been established in | Salem,*
his dwelling place in | Zion.
- <sup>3</sup> There he broke the flashing | arrows,*
the shield, the sword,
and the weap- | ons of war.
- <sup>4</sup> Glorious are you, more ma- | jestic*
than the moun- | tains of prey.
- <sup>5</sup> The stouthearted were stripped of their spoil; they sank | into sleep;*
all the men of war were unable to | use their hands.
- <sup>6</sup> At your rebuke, O God of | Jacob,*
both rider and | horse lay stunned.
- <sup>7</sup> But you, you are | to be feared!*
Who can stand before you when once
your an- | ger is roused?
- <sup>8</sup> From the heavens you uttered | judgment;*
the earth feared | and was still,
- <sup>9</sup> when God arose to establish | judgment,*
to save all the humble | of the earth.
- <sup>10</sup> Surely the wrath of man shall | praise you;*
the remnant of wrath you will put on | like a belt.
- <sup>11</sup> Make your vows to the LORD your God
and per- | form them;*
let all around him bring gifts to him
who is | to be feared,
- <sup>12</sup> who cuts off the spirit of | princes,*
who is to be feared by the kings | of
the earth.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

77

- <sup>1</sup> I cry a- | loud to God,*
aloud to God, and he will | hear me.
- <sup>2</sup> In the day of my trouble I | seek the Lord;*
in the night my hand is stretched out without wearying; my soul refuses to be | comforted.
- <sup>3</sup> When I remember | God, I moan;*
when I meditate, my | spirit faints.
- <sup>4</sup> You hold my eyelids | open;*
I am so troubled that I | cannot speak.
- <sup>5</sup> I consider the | days of old,*
the years | long ago.
- <sup>6</sup> I said, "Let me remember my song in the night; let me meditate | in my heart."*
Then my spirit made a dil- | igent search:
- <sup>7</sup> "Will the Lord spurn for- | ever,*
and never again be | favorable?"
- <sup>8</sup> Has his steadfast love for- | ever ceased?*
- Are his promises at an end | for all time?
- <sup>9</sup> Has God forgotten to be | gracious?*
- Has he in anger shut up his com- | passion?*
- <sup>10</sup> Then I said, "I will ap- | peal to this,*
to the years of the right hand
of the | Most High."
- <sup>11</sup> I will remember the deeds | of the LORD;*
yes, I will remember your won- | ders of old.
- <sup>12</sup> I will ponder | all your work,*
and meditate on your | mighty deeds.
- <sup>13</sup> Your way, O God, is | holy.*
What god is great | like our God?
- <sup>14</sup> You are the God who works | wonders;*
you have made known your might
among the | peoples.
- <sup>15</sup> You with your arm redeemed your | people,*
the children of Jacob and | Joseph.
- <sup>16</sup> When the waters saw you, O God, when the waters saw you, they | were afraid;*
indeed, the deep | trembled.

<sup>17</sup> The clouds poured out water;
 the skies gave forth | thunder;*
 your arrows flashed on | every side.

<sup>18</sup> The crash of your thunder was in the whirlwind; your lightnings lighted | up
 the world;*
 the earth trem- | bled and shook.

<sup>19</sup> Your way was through the sea,
 your path through the great | waters;*
 yet your footprints | were unseen.

<sup>20</sup> You led your people | like a flock*
 by the hand of Moses and | Aaron.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

78

<sup>1</sup> Give ear, O my people, to my | teaching;*
 incline your ears to the words | of my mouth!

<sup>2</sup> I will open my mouth in a | parable;*
 I will utter dark sayings | from of old,
<sup>3</sup> things that we have | heard and known,*
 that our fathers have | told us.

<sup>4</sup> We will not hide them from their children, but tell to the coming generation the glorious deeds of the LORD, | and his might,*
 and the wonders that | he has done.

<sup>5</sup> He established a testimony in Jacob and appointed a law in | Israel,*
 which he commanded our fathers
 to teach to their | children, <sup>6</sup> that the next generation might know them,
 the children | yet unborn,*
 and arise and tell them to their | children,
<sup>7</sup> so that they should set their | hope in God*
 and not forget the works of God,
 but keep his com- | mandments;

<sup>8</sup> and that they should not be like their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious
 gener- | ation,*
 a generation whose heart was not steadfast, whose spirit was not faith- | ful to God.

<sup>9</sup> The Ephraimites, armed | with the bow,*
 turned back on the day of | battle.

<sup>10</sup> They did not keep God's | covenant,*
 but refused to walk according | to his law.

<sup>11</sup> They for- | got his works*
 and the wonders that he had | shown them.

<sup>12</sup> In the sight of their fathers
 he performed | wonders*
 in the land of Egypt,
 in the | fields of Zoan.

<sup>13</sup> He divided the sea and let them | pass through it,*
 and made the waters stand | like a heap.

<sup>14</sup> In the daytime he led them | with a cloud,*
 and all the night with a | fiery light.

<sup>15</sup> He split rocks in the | wilderness*
 and gave them drink abundantly
 as | from the deep.

<sup>16</sup> He made streams come out | of the rock*
 and caused waters to flow down
 like | rivers.

<sup>17</sup> Yet they sinned still more a- | gainst him,* rebelling against the Most High in the | desert.

<sup>18</sup> They tested God | in their heart*
 by demanding the | food they craved.

<sup>19</sup> They spoke against God, | saying,*
 "Can God spread a table
 in the | wilderness?"

<sup>20</sup> He struck the rock so that water gushed out and streams | overflowed.*
 Can he also give bread or provide meat for his | people?"

21 Therefore, when the LORD heard,
 he was full of wrath; a fire was kindled against | Jacob;*
 his anger rose against | Israel,
 22 because they did not be- | lieve in God*
 and did not trust his | saving power.
 23 Yet he commanded the | skies above*
 and opened the doors of | heaven, 24 and he rained down on them
 man- | na to eat*
 and gave them the grain of | heaven.
 25 Man ate of the bread of the | angels;*
 he sent them food in a- | bundance.
 26 He caused the east wind to blow
 in the | heavens;*
 and by his power he led out
 the | south wind;
 27 he rained meat on | them like dust,*
 winged birds like the sand | of the seas;
 28 he let them fall in the midst | of their camp,*
 all around their | dwellings.
 29 And they ate and were | well filled,*
 for he gave them | what they craved.
 30 But before they had satisfied their | craving,*
 while the food was still | in their mouths, 31 the anger of God rose against them, and he killed the strong- | est of them*
 and laid low the young men of | Israel.
 32 In spite of all this, | they still sinned;*
 despite his wonders, they did | not believe.
 33 So he made their days
 vanish | like a breath,*
 and their years in | terror.
 34 When he killed them, they | sought him;*
 they repented and sought
 God | earnestly.
 35 They remembered that God | was their rock,*
 the Most High God their re- | deemer.

36 But they flattered him | with their mouths;*
 they lied to him | with their tongues.
 37 Their heart was not steadfast | toward him;*
 they were not faithful to his | covenant.
 38 Yet he, being compassionate, atoned for their iniquity and did not de- | stroy them;*
 he restrained his anger often
 and did not stir up | all his wrath.
 39 He remembered that they | were but flesh,*
 a wind that passes and comes | not again.
 40 How often they rebelled against him
 in the | wilderness*
 and grieved him in the | desert!
 41 They tested God again | and again*
 and provoked the Holy One of | Israel.
 42 They did not remem- | ber his power*
 or the day when he redeemed
 them | from the foe,
 43 when he performed his signs in | Egypt*
 and his marvels in the | fields of Zoan.
 44 He turned their riv- | ers to blood,*
 so that they could not drink | of their streams.
 45 He sent among them swarms of flies,
 which de- | voured them,*
 and frogs, which de- | stroyed them.
 46 He gave their crops
 to the destroying | locust*
 and the fruit of their labor to the | locust.
 47 He destroyed their | vines with hail*
 and their syca- | mores with frost.
 48 He gave over their cattle | to the hail*
 and their flocks to | thunderbolts.
 49 He let loose on them his burning anger,
 wrath, indignation, | and distress,*
 a company of destroying | angels.
 50 He made a path for his | anger,*
 he did not spare them from death,
 but gave their lives over | to the plague.
 51 He struck down every firstborn in | Egypt,*
 the firstfruits of their strength

- in the | tents of Ham.
- <sup>52</sup> Then he led out his people | like sheep*
and guided them in the wilderness | like a flock.
- <sup>53</sup> He led them in safety,
so that they were | not afraid,*
but the sea overwhelmed their | enemies.
- <sup>54</sup> And he brought them to his | holy land,*
to the mountain which his right | hand had won.
- <sup>55</sup> He drove out nations be- | fore them;*
he apportioned them for a possession and settled the tribes of Israel | in their tents.
- <sup>56</sup> Yet they tested and rebelled
against the | Most High God*
and did not keep his testi- | monies, <sup>57</sup> but turned away and acted treacherously
like their | fathers;*
they twisted like a de- | ceitful bow.
- <sup>58</sup> For they provoked him to anger
with their high | places;*
they moved him to jealousy
with their | idols.
- <sup>59</sup> When God heard, he was | full of wrath,*
and he utterly rejected | Israel.
- <sup>60</sup> He forsook his dwelling at | Shiloh,*
the tent where he dwelt a- | mong
mankind,
- <sup>61</sup> and delivered his power to cap- | tivity,*
his glory to the hand | of the foe.
- <sup>62</sup> He gave his people over | to the sword*
and vented his wrath on his | heritage.
- <sup>63</sup> Fire devoured their | young men,*
and their young women
had no | marriage song.
- <sup>64</sup> Their priests fell | by the sword,*
and their widows made no lamen- | tation.
- <sup>65</sup> Then the Lord awoke | as from sleep,*
like a strong man shouting be- | cause of wine.

- <sup>66</sup> And he put his adversaries | to rout;*
he put them to ever- | lasting shame.
- <sup>67</sup> He rejected the tent of | Joseph;*
he did not choose the tribe of | Ephraim,
<sup>68</sup> but he chose the tribe of | Judah,*
Mount Zion, | which he loves.
- <sup>69</sup> He built his sanctuary like
the high | heavens,*
like the earth, which he has founded
for- | ever.
- <sup>70</sup> He chose David his servant and took him
from the | sheepfolds;*
<sup>71</sup> from following the nursing ewes he brought him to shepherd Jacob his people, Israel his in- | heritance.
- <sup>72</sup> With upright heart he shep- | herded them*
and guided them with his | skillful hand.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

79

- <sup>1</sup> O God, the nations have come into your inheritance; they have defiled
your holy | temple;*
they have laid Jerusalem in | ruins.
- <sup>2</sup> They have given the bodies of your servants
to the birds of the heav- | ens for food,*
the flesh of your faithful to the beasts | of
the earth.
- <sup>3</sup> They have poured out their blood like water
all around Je- | rusalem,*
and there was no one to | bury them.
- <sup>4</sup> We have become a taunt to our | neighbors,*
mocked and derided by those
a- | round us.
- <sup>5</sup> How long, O LORD?
Will you be angry for- | ever?*
- Will your jealousy | burn like fire?

<sup>6</sup> Pour out your anger on the nations that do not | know you,*
and on the kingdoms that do not call up- | on your name!

<sup>7</sup> For they have devoured | Jacob*
and laid waste his habi- | tation.

<sup>8</sup> Do not remember against us
our former in- | iquities;*
let your compassion come speedily to meet us, for we are brought | very low.

<sup>9</sup> Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory | of your name;*
deliver us, and atone for our sins,
for your | name's sake!

<sup>10</sup> Why should the nations say,
"Where | is their God?"*
Let the avenging of the outpoured blood of your servants be known among
the nations be- | fore our eyes!

<sup>11</sup> Let the groans of the prisoners come be- | fore you;*
according to your great power, preserve
those | doomed to die!

<sup>12</sup> Return sevenfold into the lap
of our | neighbors*
the taunts with which they have taunted you, | O Lord!

<sup>13</sup> But we your people, the sheep of your pasture, will give thanks to you for- | ever;*
from generation to generation
we will re- | count your praise.

Glorify be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

<sup>1</sup> Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel,
you who lead Joseph | like a flock!*
You who are enthroned upon
the cherubim, | shine forth.

<sup>2</sup> Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Ma- | nasseh,*
stir up your might and come to | save us!

<sup>3</sup> Restore us, | O God,*
let your face shine,
that we | may be saved!

<sup>4</sup> O LORD | God of hosts,*
how long will you be angry
with your | people's prayers?

<sup>5</sup> You have fed them with the | bread of tears*
and given them tears
to drink in full | measure.

<sup>6</sup> You make us an object of contention for our | neighbors,*
and our enemies laugh a- | mong
themselves.

<sup>7</sup> Restore us, O | God of hosts,*
let your face shine,
that we | may be saved!

<sup>8</sup> You brought a vine out of | Egypt,*
you drove out the nations
and | planted it.

<sup>9</sup> You cleared the | ground for it;*
it took deep root and | filled the land.

<sup>10</sup> The mountains were covered | with its shade,*
the mighty cedars with its | branches.

<sup>11</sup> It sent out its branches | to the sea*
and its shoots to the | River.

<sup>12</sup> Why then have you broken | down its walls,*
so that all who pass along the way | pluck
its fruit?

<sup>13</sup> The boar from the forest rav- | ages it,*
and all that move in the field | feed on it.

- <sup>14</sup> Turn again, O | God of hosts!*
 Look down from | heaven, and see;
 have regard for this vine, <sup>15</sup> the stock
 that your right hand | planted,*
 and for the son whom you made
 strong | for yourself.
- <sup>16</sup> They have burned it with fire;
 they have | cut it down,*
 may they perish
 at the rebuke | of your face!
- <sup>17</sup> But let your hand be on the man
 of your | right hand,*
 the son of man whom you have made
 strong | for yourself!
- <sup>18</sup> Then we shall not turn | back from you,*
 give us life, and we will call up- | on
 your name!
- <sup>19</sup> Restore us, O LORD | God of hosts!*
 Let your face shine, that we | may be saved!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

81

- <sup>1</sup> Sing aloud to | God our strength,*
 shout for joy to the God of | Jacob!
- <sup>2</sup> Raise a song; sound the | tambourine,*
 the sweet lyre | with the harp.
- <sup>3</sup> Blow the trumpet at the | new moon,*
 at the full moon, on our | feast day.
- <sup>4</sup> For it is a statute for | Israel,*
 a just decree of the God of | Jacob.
- <sup>5</sup> He made it a decree in Joseph when he went out over the land of | Egypt.*
 I hear a language I | had not known:
- <sup>6</sup> “I relieved your shoulder of the | burden,*
 your hands were freed from the | basket.
- <sup>7</sup> In distress you called, and I de- | livered you,*
 I answered you in the secret place of thunder; I tested you at the waters
 of | Meribah.

- <sup>8</sup> Hear, O my people, while I ad- | monish you!*
 O Israel, if you would but lis- | ten to me!
- <sup>9</sup> There shall be no strange god a- | mong you;*
 you shall not bow down to a | foreign god.
- <sup>10</sup> I am the LORD your God, who brought you up out of the land of | Egypt.*
 Open your mouth wide, and I will | fill it.
- <sup>11</sup> “But my people did not listen | to my voice,*
 Israel would not sub- | mit to me.
- <sup>12</sup> So I gave them over to their | stubborn hearts,*
 to follow their own | counsels.
- <sup>13</sup> Oh, that my people would lis- | ten to me,*
 that Israel would walk | in my ways!
- <sup>14</sup> I would soon subdue their | enemies*
 and turn my hand a- | gainst their foes.
- <sup>15</sup> Those who hate the LORD would | cringe
 toward him,*
 and their fate would last for- | ever.
- <sup>16</sup> But he would feed you with the finest | of the wheat,*
 and with honey from the rock
 I would sat- | isfy you.”
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

82

- <sup>1</sup> God has taken his place
 in the divine | council,*
 in the midst of the gods
 he holds | judgment:
- <sup>2</sup> “How long will you judge un- | justly*
 and show partiality to the | wicked?”
- <sup>3</sup> Give justice to the weak
 and the | fatherless,* maintain the right of the afflicted
 and the | destitute.
- <sup>4</sup> Rescue the weak and the | needy,* deliver them from the hand
 of the | wicked.”

<sup>5</sup> They have neither knowledge nor understanding, they walk about in | darkness;*
all the foundations of the earth are | shaken.

<sup>6</sup> I said, | “You are gods,*
sons of the Most High, | all of you;

<sup>7</sup> nevertheless, like men | you shall die,*
and fall like | any prince.”

<sup>8</sup> Arise, O God, | judge the earth;*
for you shall inherit all the | nations!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

83

do not hold your peace
or be still, | O God!

<sup>2</sup> For behold, your enemies make an | uproar;*
those who hate you have | raised their heads.

<sup>3</sup> They lay crafty plans against your | people;*
they consult together against your | treasured ones.

<sup>4</sup> They say, “Come, let us wipe them out as a | nation;*
let the name of Israel
be remembered | no more!”

<sup>5</sup> For they conspire with | one accord,*
against you they make a | covenant—

<sup>6</sup> the tents of Edom and the | Ishmaelites,*
Moab and the | Hagrites,

<sup>7</sup> Gebal and Ammon and | Amalek,*
Philistia with the inhabi- | tants of Tyre;

<sup>8</sup> Asshur also has | joined them;*
they are the strong arm
of the chil- | dren of Lot.

<sup>9</sup> Do to them as you did to | Midian,*
as to Sisera and Jabin at the river | Kishon,
<sup>10</sup> who were destroyed at | Endor,*
who became dung | for the ground.

all their princes like Zebah
and | Zalmunna,

<sup>12</sup> who said, “Let us take possession | for ourselves*
of the pastures | of God.”

like chaff be- | fore the wind.

<sup>14</sup> As fire consumes the | forest,*
as the flame sets the moun- | tains ablaze,

<sup>15</sup> so may you pursue them with your | tempest*
and terrify them with your | hurricane!

<sup>16</sup> Fill their fac- | es with shame,*
that they may seek your name, | O LORD.

<sup>17</sup> Let them be put to shame and dismayed for- | ever;*
let them perish | in disgrace,

<sup>18</sup> that they may know that you alone, whose name | is the LORD,*
are the Most High over | all the earth.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

84

<sup>1</sup> How lovely is your | dwelling place,*
O | LORD of hosts!

<sup>2</sup> My soul longs, yes, faints for the courts | of
the LORD;*
my heart and flesh sing for joy
to the | living God.

<sup>3</sup> Even the sparrow finds a home,
and the swallow a nest for herself,
where she may | lay her young,*
at your altars, O LORD of hosts,
my King | and my God.

- <sup>4</sup> Blessèd are those who dwell | in your house,*
ever sing- | ing your praise!
- <sup>5</sup> Blessèd are those whose strength is | in you,*
in whose heart are the highways to | Zion.
- <sup>6</sup> As they go through the Valley of Baca they make it a | place of springs;*
the early rain also covers | it with pools.
- <sup>7</sup> They go from | strength to strength,*
each one appears before God in | Zion.
- <sup>8</sup> O LORD God of hosts, | hear my prayer;*
give ear, O God of | Jacob!
- <sup>9</sup> Behold our shield, | O God,*
look on the face of your a- | nointed!
- <sup>10</sup> For a day in your courts is better than a thousand | elsewhere.*
I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than dwell in the tents
of | wickedness.
- <sup>11</sup> For the LORD God is a sun and shield; the LORD bestows favor and | honor.*
No good thing does he withhold from those who walk up- | rightly.
- <sup>12</sup> O | LORD of hosts,*
blessèd is the one who | trusts in you!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

85

- <sup>1</sup> LORD, you were favorable | to your land,*
you restored the fortunes of | Jacob.
- <sup>2</sup> You forgave the iniquity of your | people;*
you covered | all their sin.
- <sup>3</sup> You withdrew | all your wrath;*
you turned from your hot | anger.
- <sup>4</sup> Restore us again, O God of our sal- | vation,*
and put away your indignation | toward us!
- <sup>5</sup> Will you be angry with us for- | ever?*
- Will you prolong your anger
to all gener- | ations?

- <sup>6</sup> Will you not revive | us again,*
that your people may re- | joice in you?
- <sup>7</sup> Show us your steadfast love, | O LORD,*
and grant us your sal- | vation.
- <sup>8</sup> Let me hear what God the | LORD will speak,*
for he will speak peace to his people,
to his saints; but let them not turn back
to | folly.
- <sup>9</sup> Surely his salvation is near
to those who | fear him,*
that glory may dwell | in our land.
- <sup>10</sup> Steadfast love and faith- | fulness meet,*
righteousness and peace kiss each | other.
- <sup>11</sup> Faithfulness springs up | from the ground,*
and righteousness looks down | from the sky.
- <sup>12</sup> Yes, the LORD will give | what is good,*
and our land will yield its | increase.
- <sup>13</sup> Righteousness will go be- | fore him*
and make his foot- | steps a way.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

86

- <sup>1</sup> Incline your ear, O LORD, and | answer me,*
for I am poor and | needy.
- <sup>2</sup> Preserve my life, for I am | godly;*
save your servant, who trusts in you—
you | are my God.
- <sup>3</sup> Be gracious to me, | O Lord,*
for to you do I cry | all the day.
- <sup>4</sup> Gladden the soul of your | servant,*
for to you, O Lord, do I lift | up my soul.
- <sup>5</sup> For you, O Lord, are good and for- | giving,* abounding in steadfast love
to all who call up- | on you.

- <sup>6</sup> Give ear, O LORD, | to my prayer;*
listen to my | plea for grace.
- <sup>7</sup> In the day of my trouble I call up- | on you,*
for you | answer me.
- <sup>8</sup> There is none like you among the gods, | O Lord,*
nor are there any | works like yours.
- <sup>9</sup> All the nations you have made shall come and worship before you, | O Lord,*
and shall glori- | fy your name.
- <sup>10</sup> For you are great and do | wondrous things,*
you a- | lone are God.
- <sup>11</sup> Teach me your way, O LORD, that I may walk | in your truth,*
unite my heart to | fear your name.
- <sup>12</sup> I give thanks to you, O Lord my God,
with | my whole heart,*
and I will glorify your name for- | ever.
- <sup>13</sup> For great is your steadfast | love toward me,*
you have delivered my soul
from the depths | of Sheol.
- <sup>14</sup> O God, insolent men have risen up against me; a band of ruthless men | seek my life,*
and they do not set you be- | fore them.
- <sup>15</sup> But you, O Lord, are a God
merciful and | gracious,*
slow to anger and abounding
in steadfast love and | faithfulness.
- <sup>16</sup> Turn to me and be gra- | cious to me,*
give your strength to your servant,
and save the son of your maid- | servant.
- <sup>17</sup> Show me a sign of your | favor,*
that those who hate me may see and be put to shame because you, LORD, have helped me and com- | forted me.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

87

- <sup>1</sup> On the holy mount stands the city
he | founded;*
<sup>2</sup> the LORD loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwelling places of | Jacob.
- <sup>3</sup> Glorious things of you are | spoken,*
O city | of God.
- <sup>4</sup> Among those who know me I mention
Rahab and | Babylon,*
behold, Philistia and Tyre, with Cush—
“This one was born | there,” they say.
- <sup>5</sup> And of Zion it shall be said, “This one and that one were | born in her”,*
for the Most High himself
will es- | tablish her.
- <sup>6</sup> The LORD records as he registers
the | peoples,*
“This one was | born there.”
- <sup>7</sup> Singers and dancers a- | like say,*
“All my springs | are in you.”
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, God of my sal- | vation,*
I cry out day and night be- | fore you.
- <sup>2</sup> Let my prayer come be- | fore you,*
incline your ear | to my cry!
- <sup>3</sup> For my soul is full of | troubles,*
and my life draws near | to Sheol.
- <sup>4</sup> I am counted among those who go down | to the pit,*
I am a man who | has no strength,
- <sup>5</sup> like one set loose among the dead,
like the slain that lie | in the grave,*
like those whom you remember no more,
for they are cut off | from your hand.
- <sup>6</sup> You have put me in the depths | of the pit,*
in the regions | dark and deep.

<sup>7</sup> Your wrath lies heavy up- | on me,*
 and you overwhelm me with | all your waves.
<sup>8</sup> You have caused my companions to | shun me;*
 you have made me a hor- | ror to them.
 I am shut in so that I cannot escape; <sup>9</sup> my eye grows dim through | sorrow.*
 Every day I call upon you, O LORD;
 I spread out my | hands to you.
<sup>10</sup> Do you work wonders | for the dead?*
 Do the departed rise up to | praise you?
<sup>11</sup> Is your steadfast love declared | in the grave,*
 or your faithfulness in | Abaddon?
<sup>12</sup> Are your wonders known in the | darkness,*
 or your righteousness in the land
 of for- | getfulness?
<sup>13</sup> But I, O LORD, | cry to you,*
 in the morning my prayer
 comes be- | fore you.
<sup>14</sup> O LORD, why do you cast my | soul away?*
 Why do you hide your | face from me?
<sup>15</sup> Afflicted and close to death from my | youth up,*
 I suffer your terrors; I am | helpless.
<sup>16</sup> Your wrath has swept | over me;*
 your dreadful assaults de- | stroy me.
<sup>17</sup> They surround me like a flood | all day long;*
 they close in on me to- | gether.
<sup>18</sup> You have caused my beloved and my friend to | shun me;*
 my companions have become | darkness.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

89

<sup>1</sup> I will sing of the steadfast love of the LORD,
 for- | ever;*
 with my mouth I will make known your faithfulness to all gener- | ations.
<sup>2</sup> For I said, “Steadfast love will be built up
 for- | ever;*
 in the heavens you will establish
 your | faithfulness.”
<sup>3</sup> You have said, “I have made a covenant with my | chosen one;*
 I have sworn to David my | servant:
<sup>4</sup> ‘I will establish your offspring for- | ever,*
 and build your throne
 for all gener- | ations.’ ”
<sup>5</sup> Let the heavens praise your wonders, | O
 LORD,*
 your faithfulness in the assembly
 of the | holy ones!
<sup>6</sup> For who in the skies can be compared | to
 the LORD?*
 Who among the heavenly beings is | like
 the LORD,
<sup>7</sup> a God greatly to be feared in the council of the | holy ones,*
 and awesome above all who
 are a- | round him?
<sup>8</sup> O LORD God of hosts, who is mighty as you are, | O LORD,*
 with your faithfulness all a- | round you?
<sup>9</sup> You rule the raging | of the sea,*
 when its waves rise, you | still them.
<sup>10</sup> You crushed Rahab like a | carcass;*
 you scattered your enemies
 with your | mighty arm.
<sup>11</sup> The heavens are yours;
 the earth al- | so is yours,*
 the world and all that is in it,
 you have | founded them.

- <sup>12</sup> The north and the south,
you have cre- | ated them;*
Tabor and Hermon joyously | praise
your name.
- <sup>13</sup> You have a | mighty arm;*
strong is your hand, high your | right
hand.
- <sup>14</sup> Righteousness and justice are the foundation | of your throne;*
steadfast love and faithfulness
go be- | fore you.
- <sup>15</sup> Blessèd are the people who know
the | festal shout,*
who walk, O LORD, in the light | of your face,
- <sup>16</sup> who exult in your name | all the day*
and in your righteousness are ex- | alted.
- <sup>17</sup> For you are the glory | of their strength;*
by your favor our horn is ex- | alted.
- <sup>18</sup> For our shield belongs | to the LORD,*
our king to the Holy One of | Israel.
- <sup>19</sup> Of old you spoke in a vision to your godly one, and said: "I have granted help to one who is | mighty;*
I have exalted one chosen from
the | people.
- <sup>20</sup> I have found David, my | servant;*
with my holy oil I have a- | nointed him,
- <sup>21</sup> so that my hand shall be estab- | lished
with him;*
my arm also shall | strengthen him.
- <sup>22</sup> The enemy shall not out- | wit him;*
the wicked shall not | humble him.
- <sup>23</sup> I will crush his foes be- | fore him*
and strike down those who | hate him.
- <sup>24</sup> My faithfulness and my steadfast love
shall | be with him,*
and in my name shall his horn
be ex- | alted.
- <sup>25</sup> I will set his hand | on the sea*
and his right hand on the | rivers.
- <sup>26</sup> He shall cry to me, 'You are my | Father,*
my God, and the Rock of my sal- | vation.'
- <sup>27</sup> And I will make him the | firstborn,*
the highest of the kings | of the earth.
- <sup>28</sup> My steadfast love I will keep
for him for- | ever,*
and my covenant will stand | firm
for him.
- <sup>29</sup> I will establish his offspring for- | ever*
and his throne as the days
of the | heavens.
- <sup>30</sup> If his children for- | sake my law*
and do not walk according
to my | just decrees,
- <sup>31</sup> if they violate my | statutes*
and do not keep my com- | mandments,
- <sup>32</sup> then I will punish their transgression | with the rod*
and their iniqui- | ty with stripes,
- <sup>33</sup> but I will not remove from him
my | steadfast love*
or be false to my | faithfulness.
- <sup>34</sup> I will not violate my | covenant*
or alter the word that went forth | from my lips.
- <sup>35</sup> Once for all I have sworn by my | holiness;*
I will not lie to | David.
- <sup>36</sup> His offspring shall endure for- | ever,*
his throne as long as the sun be- | fore me.
- <sup>37</sup> Like the moon it shall be established
for- | ever,*
a faithful witness | in the skies."
- <sup>38</sup> But now you have cast off and re- | jected;*
you are full of wrath against your a- | nointed.
- <sup>39</sup> You have renounced the covenant
with your | servant;*
you have defiled his crown | in the dust.
- <sup>40</sup> You have breached | all his walls;*
you have laid his strongholds in | ruins.

41 All who pass by | plunder him;*
 he has become the scorn of his | neighbors.
 42 You have exalted the right hand | of his foes;*
 you have made all his ene- | mies rejoice.
 43 You have also turned back the edge | of his sword,*
 and you have not made him stand
 in | battle.
 44 You have made his splen- | dor to cease*
 and cast his throne | to the ground.
 45 You have cut short the days | of his youth;*
 you have covered | him with shame.
 46 How long, O LORD?
 Will you hide yourself for- | ever?*
 How long will your wrath | burn
 like fire?
 47 Remember how short my | time is!*
 For what vanity you have created
 all the chil- | dren of man!
 48 What man can live and never | see death?*
 Who can deliver his soul from
 the power | of Sheol?
 49 Lord, where is your steadfast | love of old,*
 which by your faithfulness
 you swore to | David?
 50 Remember, O Lord, how your ser- | vants are mocked,*
 and how I bear in my heart the insults
 of all the many | nations,
 51 with which your enemies mock, | O LORD,*
 with which they mock the footsteps
 of your a- | nointed.
 52 Blessed be the LORD for- | ever!*
 Amen and | Amen.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

90

1 Lord, you have been our | dwelling place*
 in all gener- | ations.
 2 Before the mountains were brought forth,
 or ever you had formed the earth | and
 the world,*
 from everlasting to everlasting | you are God.
 3 You return | man to dust*
 and say, "Return, O chil- | dren of man!"
 4 For a thousand years in your sight are but as yesterday when | it is past,*
 or as a watch | in the night.
 5 You sweep them away as | with a flood,*
 they are like a dream, like grass that is renewed in the | morning:
 6 in the morning it flourishes and | is renewed,*
 in the evening it fades and | withers.
 7 For we are brought to an end
 by your | anger,*
 by your wrath we | are dismayed.
 8 You have set our iniquities be- | fore you,*
 our secret sins in the light
 of your | presence.
 9 For all our days pass away un- | der your wrath,*
 we bring our years to an end | like a sigh.
 10 The years of our life are seventy, or even by reason of strength | eighty;*
 yet their span is but toil and trouble;
 they are soon gone, and we | fly away.
 11 Who considers the power of your | anger,*
 and your wrath according to the | fear
 of you?
 12 So teach us to number | our days*
 that we may get a heart of | wisdom.
 13 Return, O LORD! | How long?*
 Have pity on your | servants!

- <sup>14</sup> Satisfy us in the morning
with your | steadfast love,*
that we may rejoice and
be glad | all our days.
- <sup>15</sup> Make us glad for as many days
as you have af- | flicted us,*
and for as many years as we have seen | evil.
- <sup>16</sup> Let your work be shown to your | servants,*
and your glorious power
to their | children.
- <sup>17</sup> Let the favor of the Lord our God
be upon us, and establish the work
of our hands up- | on us;*
yes, establish the work | of our hands!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

91

- <sup>1</sup> He who dwells in the shelter
of the | Most High*
will abide in the shadow
of the Al- | mighty.
- <sup>2</sup> I will say to the LORD, “My refuge
and my | fortress,*
my God, in | whom I trust.”
- <sup>3</sup> For he will deliver you from the snare
of the | fowler*
and from the deadly | pestilence.
- <sup>4</sup> He will cover you with his pinions, and under his wings you will find | refuge;*
his faithfulness is a shield and | buckler.
- <sup>5</sup> You will not fear the terror | of the night,*
nor the arrow that | flies by day,
- <sup>6</sup> nor the pestilence that stalks in | darkness,*
nor the destruction that wastes
at | noonday.
- <sup>7</sup> A thousand may fall at your side,
ten thousand at your | right hand,*
but it will not come | near you.

- <sup>8</sup> You will only look | with your eyes*
and see the recompense of the | wicked.
- <sup>9</sup> Because you have made the LORD
your | dwelling place—*
the Most High, who is my | refuge—
- <sup>10</sup> no evil shall be allowed to be- | fall you,*
no plague come | near your tent.
- <sup>11</sup> For he will command his angels
con- | cerning you*
to guard you in | all your ways.
- <sup>12</sup> On their hands they will | bear you up,*
lest you strike your foot a- | gainst a stone.
- <sup>13</sup> You will tread on the lion and the | adder;*
the young lion and the serpent you will trample | underfoot.
- <sup>14</sup> “Because he holds fast to me in love,
I will de- | liver him;*
I will protect him, because he | knows
my name.
- <sup>15</sup> When he calls to me, I will answer him;
I will be with him in | trouble;*
I will rescue him and | honor him.
- <sup>16</sup> With long life I will sat- | isfy him*
and show him my sal- | vation.”
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

92

- <sup>1</sup> It is good to give thanks | to the LORD,*
to sing praises to your name, | O Most High;
- <sup>2</sup> to declare your steadfast love
in the | morning,*
and your faithful- | ness by night,
- <sup>3</sup> to the music of the lute | and the harp,*
to the melody | of the lyre.
- <sup>4</sup> For you, O LORD, have made me
glad | by your work;*
at the works of your hands I | sing for joy.

- <sup>5</sup> How great are your works, | O LORD!*
- Your thoughts are | very deep!
- <sup>6</sup> The stupid man cannot know; the fool cannot under- | stand this:*
- <sup>7</sup> that though the wicked sprout like grass and all evildoers flourish, they are doomed to destruction for- | ever;
- <sup>8</sup> but you, | O LORD,*
are on high for- | ever.
- <sup>9</sup> For behold, your enemies, O LORD, for behold, your enemies shall | perish;*
- all evildoers shall be | scattered.
- <sup>10</sup> But you have exalted my horn like that of the | wild ox;*
- you have poured over me | fresh oil.
- <sup>11</sup> My eyes have seen the downfall
of my | enemies;*
- my ears have heard the doom
of my evil as- | sailants.
- <sup>12</sup> The righteous flourish like the | palm tree*
and grow like a cedar in | Lebanon.
- <sup>13</sup> They are planted in the house | of the LORD;*
- they flourish in the courts | of our God.
- <sup>14</sup> They still bear fruit in | old age;*
- they are ever full of | sap and green,
- <sup>15</sup> to declare that the LORD is | upright;*
- he is my rock, and there is no
unrighteousness | in him.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

93

- <sup>1</sup> The LORD reigns; he is robed in | majesty;*
- the LORD is robed; he has put
on strength | as his belt.
- Yes, the world is es- | tablished;*
- it shall nev- | er be moved.
- <sup>2</sup> Your throne is established | from of old;*
- you are from ever- | lasting.

- <sup>3</sup> The floods have lifted up, O LORD,
the floods have lifted | up their voice;*
- the floods lift up their | roaring.
- <sup>4</sup> Mightier than the thunders of many waters,
mightier than the waves | of the sea,*
- the LORD on high is | mighty!
- <sup>5</sup> Your decrees are very | trustworthy;*
- holiness befits your house, O LORD,
for- | evermore.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

94

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, God of | vengeance,*
O God of vengeance, | shine forth!
- <sup>2</sup> Rise up, O judge | of the earth;*
- repay to the proud what | they deserve!
- <sup>3</sup> O LORD, how long shall the | wicked,*
how long shall the wick- | ed exult?
- <sup>4</sup> They pour out their ar- | rogant words;*
- all the evil- | doers boast.
- <sup>5</sup> They crush your people, | O LORD,*
and afflict your | heritage.
- <sup>6</sup> They kill the widow and the | sojourner,*
and murder the | fatherless;
- <sup>7</sup> and they say, “The LORD | does not see;*
- the God of Jacob does | not perceive.”
- <sup>8</sup> Understand, O dullest of the | people!*
- Fools, when will | you be wise?
- <sup>9</sup> He who planted the ear, does | he not hear?*
- He who formed the eye, does | he not see?
- <sup>10</sup> He who disciplines the nations,
does he | not rebuke?*
- He who teaches man | knowledge—
- <sup>11</sup> the LORD—knows the | thoughts of man,*
that they are | but a breath.
- <sup>12</sup> Blessèd is the man whom you discipline, | O LORD,*
and whom you teach out | of your law,

<sup>13</sup> to give him rest from days of | trouble,*
 until a pit is dug for the | wicked.
<sup>14</sup> For the LORD will not forsake his | people;*
 he will not abandon his | heritage;
<sup>15</sup> for justice will return to the | righteous,*
 and all the upright in heart will | follow
 it.
<sup>16</sup> Who rises up for me against the | wicked?*
 Who stands up for me
 against evil- | doers?
<sup>17</sup> If the LORD had not | been my help,*
 my soul would soon have lived
 in the land of | silence.
<sup>18</sup> When I thought, “My | foot slips,”*
 your steadfast love, O LORD, | held me up.
<sup>19</sup> When the cares of my heart are | many,*
 your consolations | cheer my soul.
<sup>20</sup> Can wicked rulers be allied | with you,*
 those who frame injustice by | statute?
<sup>21</sup> They band together against the life
 of the | righteous*
 and condemn the inno- | cent to death.
<sup>22</sup> But the LORD has become my | stronghold,*
 and my God the rock of my | refuge.
<sup>23</sup> He will bring back on them their iniquity and wipe them out for their | wickedness;*
 the LORD our God will | wipe them out.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***

95

<sup>1</sup> Oh come, let us sing | to the LORD,*
 let us make a joyful noise to the rock
 of our sal- | vation!
<sup>2</sup> Let us come into his presence with thanks- | giving;*
 let us make a joyful noise to him
 with | songs of praise!

<sup>3</sup> For the LORD is a | great God,*
 and a great King a- | bove all gods.
<sup>4</sup> In his hand are the depths | of the earth;*
 the heights of the mountains are his | also.
<sup>5</sup> The sea is his, for he | made it,*
 and his hands formed the | dry land.
<sup>6</sup> Oh come, let us worship and | bow down;*
 let us kneel before the LORD, our | Maker!
<sup>7</sup> For he | is our God,* and we are the people of his pasture, and
 the sheep | of his hand.
 Today, if you | hear his voice,*
<sup>8</sup> do not harden your hearts, as at Meribah, as on the day at Massah
 in the | wilderness,
<sup>9</sup> when your fathers put me | to the test*
 and put me to the proof,
 though they had | seen my work.
<sup>10</sup> For forty years I loathed that generation and said, “They are a people who go astray | in their heart,*
 and they have not | known my ways.”
<sup>11</sup> Therefore I swore | in my wrath,*
 “They shall not enter | my rest.”
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

96

<sup>1</sup> Oh sing to the LORD a | new song,*
 sing to the LORD, | all the earth!
<sup>2</sup> Sing to the LORD, | bless his name;*
 tell of his salvation from | day to day.
<sup>3</sup> Declare his glory among the | nations,*
 his marvelous works among all the | peoples!
<sup>4</sup> For great is the LORD, and greatly | to be praised,*
 he is to be feared a- | bove all gods.

<sup>5</sup> For all the gods of the peoples are worthless | idols,*
but the LORD made the | heavens.

<sup>6</sup> Splendor and majesty are be- | fore him;*
strength and beauty are
in his sanctu- | ary.

<sup>7</sup> Ascribe to the LORD, O families of the | peoples,*
ascribe to the LORD glo- | ry and strength!

<sup>8</sup> Ascribe to the LORD the glory | due
his name;*
bring an offering, and come in- | to his courts!

<sup>9</sup> Worship the LORD in the splendor
of | holiness,*
tremble before him, | all the earth!

<sup>10</sup> Say among the nations, “The LORD reigns!
Yes, the world is established;
it shall nev- | er be moved;*
he will judge the peoples with | equity.”

<sup>11</sup> Let the heavens be glad,
and let the | earth rejoice;*
let the sea roar, and all that fills it; <sup>12</sup> let
the field exult, and every- | thing in it!
Then shall all the trees of the forest sing for joy <sup>13</sup> before the LORD, | for he comes,*
for he comes to | judge the earth.
He will judge the world in | righteousness,*
and the peoples in his | faithfulness.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

97

<sup>1</sup> The LORD reigns, let the | earth rejoice;*
let the many coast- | lands be glad!

<sup>2</sup> Clouds and thick darkness are all a- | round him;*
righteousness and justice are the foundation | of his throne.

<sup>3</sup> Fire goes be- | fore him*
and burns up his adversaries | all around.

<sup>4</sup> His lightnings light | up the world;*
the earth sees and | trembles.

<sup>5</sup> The mountains melt like wax be- | fore
the LORD,*
before the Lord of | all the earth.

<sup>6</sup> The heavens proclaim his | righteousness,*
and all the peoples see his | glory.

<sup>7</sup> All worshipers of images are put to shame,
who make their boast in worthless | idols;*
worship him, | all you gods!

<sup>8</sup> Zion hears and is glad, and the daughters of Ju- | dah rejoice,*
because of your judgments, | O LORD.

<sup>9</sup> For you, O LORD, are most high over | all
the earth;*
you are exalted far a- | bove all gods.

<sup>10</sup> O you who love the LORD, hate | evil!*
He preserves the lives of his saints;
he delivers them from the hand
of the | wicked.

<sup>11</sup> Light is sown for the | righteous,*
and joy for the up- | right in heart.

<sup>12</sup> Rejoice in the LORD, O you | righteous,*
and give thanks to his | holy name!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

98

<sup>1</sup> Oh sing to the LORD a new song,
for he has done | marvelous things!*
His right hand and his holy arm have worked salva- | tion for him.

<sup>2</sup> The LORD has made known his sal- | vation;*
he has revealed his righteousness
in the sight of the | nations.

<sup>3</sup> He has remembered his steadfast love and faithfulness to the house of | Israel.*

 All the ends of the earth have seen
 the salvation | of our God.

<sup>4</sup> Make a joyful noise to the LORD, | all
 the earth;*
 break forth into joyous song
 and sing | praises!

<sup>5</sup> Sing praises to the LORD | with the lyre,*
 with the lyre and the sound of | melody!

<sup>6</sup> With trumpets and the sound | of the horn*
 make a joyful noise before the | King,
 the LORD!

<sup>7</sup> Let the sea roar, and all that | fills it;*
 the world and those who | dwell in it!

<sup>8</sup> Let the rivers clap their hands; let the hills
 sing for joy together <sup>9</sup> be- | fore the LORD,*
 for he comes to | judge the earth.
 He will judge the world with | righteousness,*
 and the peoples with | equity.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

99

 He sits enthroned upon the cherubim;
 let the | earth quake!

<sup>2</sup> The LORD is great in | Zion;*
 he is exalted over all the | peoples.

<sup>3</sup> Let them praise your great and | awesome
 name!*

Ho- | ly is he!

 You have established equity;
 you have executed justice and righteousness in | Jacob.

<sup>5</sup> Exalt the LORD our God; worship at his | footstool!*

Ho- | ly is he!

<sup>6</sup> Moses and Aaron were among his priests, Samuel also was among those who called up- | on his name.*
 They called to the LORD,
 and he | answered them.

<sup>7</sup> In the pillar of the cloud he | spoke to them;*
 they kept his testimonies
 and the statute that he | gave them.

<sup>8</sup> O LORD our God, you | answered them;*
 you were a forgiving God to them,
 but an avenger of their wrong- | doings.

<sup>9</sup> Exalt the LORD our God, and worship at his holy | mountain;*
 for the LORD our God is | holy!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

100

<sup>1</sup> Make a joyful noise to the LORD, | all

<sup>2</sup> Serve the LORD with gladness!
 Come into his presence with | singing!

<sup>3</sup> Know that the LORD, | he is God!*
 It is he who made us, and we are his; he are his people, and the sheep
 of his | pasture.

<sup>4</sup> Enter his gates with thanksgiving,
 and his | courts with praise!*

Give thanks to him; | bless his name!

<sup>5</sup> For the LORD is good; his steadfast love endures for- | ever,*
 and his faithfulness to all gener- | ations.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

101

- <sup>1</sup> I will sing of steadfast love and | justice;*
to you, O LORD, I will make | music.
- <sup>2</sup> I will ponder the way that is blameless.
Oh when will you | come to me?*
- I will walk with integrity
of heart with- | in my house;
- <sup>3</sup> I will not set before my eyes anything that is | worthless.*
- I hate the work of those who fall away;
it shall not | cling to me.
- <sup>4</sup> A perverse heart shall be | far from me;*
I will know nothing of | evil.
- <sup>5</sup> Whoever slanders his neighbor secretly
I | will destroy.*
- Whoever has a haughty look and
an arrogant heart I will | not endure.
- <sup>6</sup> I will look with favor on the faithful
in the land, that they may | dwell with me;*
he who walks in the way that is blameless
shall minis- | ter to me.
- <sup>7</sup> No one who practices deceit shall dwell | in my house;*
- no one who utters lies shall continue
be- | fore my eyes.
- <sup>8</sup> Morning by morning I will destroy
all the wicked | in the land,*
cutting off all the evildoers
from the city | of the LORD.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

102

- <sup>1</sup> Hear my prayer, | O LORD;*
let my cry | come to you!
- <sup>2</sup> Do not hide your face from me in the day
of | my distress!*
- Incline your ear to me; answer me
speedily in the day | when I call!

- <sup>3</sup> For my days pass a- | way like smoke,*
and my bones burn like a | furnace.
- <sup>4</sup> My heart is struck down like grass
and has | withered;*
- I forget to | eat my bread.
- <sup>5</sup> Because of my loud | groaning*
my bones cling | to my flesh.
- <sup>6</sup> I am like a desert owl of the | wilderness,*
like an owl of the waste | places;
- <sup>7</sup> I | lie awake;*
- I am like a lonely sparrow
on the | housetop.
- <sup>8</sup> All the day my enemies | taunt me;*
those who deride me use
my name | for a curse.
- <sup>9</sup> For I eat ashes | like bread*
and mingle tears | with my drink,
- <sup>10</sup> because of your indignation and | anger,*
for you have taken me up and | thrown me down.
- <sup>11</sup> My days are like an evening | shadow;*
I wither a- | way like grass.
- <sup>12</sup> But you, O LORD, are enthroned for- | ever;*
- you are remembered throughout all
gener- | ations.
- <sup>13</sup> You will arise and have pity on | Zion;*
it is the time to favor her;
the appointed | time has come.
- <sup>14</sup> For your servants hold her | stones dear*
and have pity | on her dust.
- <sup>15</sup> Nations will fear the name | of the LORD,*
and all the kings of the earth
will fear your | glory.
- <sup>16</sup> For the LORD builds up | Zion;*
he appears in his | glory;
- <sup>17</sup> he regards the prayer of the | destitute*
and does not de- | spise their prayer.
- <sup>18</sup> Let this be recorded for a genera- | tion
to come,*

103

so that a people yet to be created
 may | praise the LORD:
<sup>19</sup> that he looked down from his | holy height;*
 from heaven the LORD looked | at
 the earth,
<sup>20</sup> to hear the groans of the | prisoners,*
 to set free those who were | doomed
 to die,
<sup>21</sup> that they may declare in Zion the name | of
 the LORD,*
 and in Jerusa- | lem his praise,
<sup>22</sup> when peoples gather to- | gether,*
 and kingdoms, to wor- | ship the LORD.
<sup>23</sup> He has broken my strength in | midcourse;*
 he has shortened | my days.
<sup>24</sup> “O my God,” I say, “take me not away in the midst | of my days—*
 you whose years endure throughout
 all gener- | ations!”
<sup>25</sup> Of old you laid the foundation | of the earth,*
 and the heavens are the work | of your hands.
<sup>26</sup> They will perish, but you | will remain;*
 they will all wear out like a | garment.
 You will change them like a robe, and they will | pass away,* <sup>27</sup> but you are the same,
 and your years | have no end.
<sup>28</sup> The children of your servants shall | dwell secure;*
 their offspring shall be established
 be- | fore you.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

<sup>1</sup> Bless the LORD, | O my soul,*
 and all that is within me,
 bless his | holy name!
<sup>2</sup> Bless the LORD, | O my soul,*
 and forget not all his | benefits,
<sup>3</sup> who forgives all your in- | iquity,*
 who heals all your dis- | eases,
<sup>4</sup> who redeems your life | from the pit,*
 who crowns you with steadfast love
 and | mercy,
<sup>5</sup> who satisfies | you with good*
 so that your youth is renewed like
 the | eagle’s.
<sup>6</sup> The LORD works | righteousness*
 and justice for all who | are oppressed.
<sup>7</sup> He made known his ways to | Moses,*
 his acts to the people of | Israel.
<sup>8</sup> The LORD is merciful and | gracious,*
 slow to anger and abounding
 in | steadfast love.
<sup>9</sup> He will not | always chide,*
 nor will he keep his anger for- | ever.
<sup>10</sup> He does not deal with us according | to our sins,*
 nor repay us according
 to our in- | iquities.
<sup>11</sup> For as high as the heavens are a- | bove
 the earth,*
 so great is his steadfast love
 toward those who | fear him;
<sup>12</sup> as far as the east is | from the west,*
 so far does he remove our
 transgres- | sions from us.
<sup>13</sup> As a father shows compassion to his | children,*
 so the LORD shows compassion
 to those who | fear him.
<sup>14</sup> For he | knows our frame;*
 he remembers that | we are dust.

15 As for man, his days | are like grass;*
 he flourishes like a flower | of the field;
 16 for the wind passes over it, and | it is gone,*
 and its place knows | it no more.
 17 But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting
 on those who | fear him,*
 and his righteousness
 to children's | children,
 18 to those who keep his | covenant*
 and remember to do his
 com- | mandments.
 19 The LORD has established his throne
 in the | heavens,*
 and his kingdom rules | over all.
 20 Bless the LORD, O you his | angels,*
 you mighty ones who do his word,
 obeying the voice | of his word!
 21 Bless the LORD, | all his hosts,*
 his ministers, who | do his will!
 22 Bless the LORD, all his works,
 in all places of his do- | minion.*
 Bless the LORD, | O my soul!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

104

1 Bless the LORD, | O my soul!*
 O LORD my God, you are | very great!
 You are clothed with splendor and | majesty,*
 2 covering yourself with light
 as with a garment, stretching out
 the heavens | like a tent.
 3 He lays the beams of his chambers
 on the | waters;*
 he makes the clouds his chariot; he rides
 on the wings | of the wind;
 4 he makes his mes- | sengers winds,*
 his ministers a | flaming fire.

5 He set the earth on its foun- | dations,*
 so that it should nev- | er be moved.
 6 You covered it with the deep
 as with a | garment;*
 the waters stood above the | mountains.
 7 At your re- | buke they fled;*
 at the sound of your thunder
 they | took to flight.
 8 The mountains rose, the valleys | sank down*
 to the place that you appoint- | ed
 for them.
 9 You set a boundary that they | may not pass,*
 so that they might not again cov- | er
 the earth.
 10 You make springs gush forth in the | valleys;*
 they flow be- | tween the hills;
 11 they give drink to every beast | of the field;*
 the wild donkeys | quench their thirst.
 12 Beside them the birds of the | heavens dwell;*
 they sing among the | branches.
 13 From your lofty abode you water
 the | mountains;*
 the earth is satisfied
 with the fruit | of your work.
 14 You cause the grass to grow for the livestock and plants for man to | cultivate,* that he may bring forth food from the earth <sup>15</sup> and wine to gladden the | heart
 of man,
 oil to make his | face shine*
 and bread to strengthen | man's heart.
 16 The trees of the LORD are watered a- | bundantly,*
 the cedars of Lebanon that he | planted.
 17 In them the birds | build their nests;*
 the stork has her home in the | fir trees.
 18 The high mountains are for the | wild goats;*
 the rocks are a refuge
 for the rock | badgers.

<sup>19</sup> He made the moon to mark the | seasons;*
the sun knows its time for | setting.

<sup>20</sup> You make darkness, and | it is night,*
when all the beasts of the forest | creep about.

<sup>21</sup> The young lions roar | for their prey,*
seeking their | food from God.

<sup>22</sup> When the sun rises, they | steal away*
and lie down | in their dens.

<sup>23</sup> Man goes out | to his work*
and to his labor until the | evening.

<sup>24</sup> O LORD, how manifold are your works!
In wisdom have you | made them all,*
the earth is full of your | creatures.

<sup>25</sup> Here is the sea, | great and wide,*
which teems with creatures innumerable,
living things both | small and great.

<sup>26</sup> There | go the ships,*
and Leviathan, which you formed
to | play in it.

<sup>27</sup> These all | look to you,*
to give them their food in due | season.

<sup>28</sup> When you give it to them, they gath- | er it up;*
when you open your hand,
they are filled with | good things.

<sup>29</sup> When you hide your face,
they | are dismayed;*
when you take away their breath,
they die and return | to their dust.

<sup>30</sup> When you send forth your Spirit, they are cre- | ated,*
and you renew the face | of the ground.

<sup>31</sup> May the glory of the LORD endure for- | ever;*
may the LORD rejoice | in his works,
<sup>32</sup> who looks on the earth and it | trembles,*
who touches the mountains | and they smoke!

<sup>33</sup> I will sing to the LORD as long | as I live;*
I will sing praise to my God
while I have | being.

<sup>34</sup> May my meditation be pleas- | ing to him,*
for I rejoice | in the LORD.

<sup>35</sup> Let sinners be consumed from the earth, and let the wicked | be no more!*

Bless the LORD, O my soul! | Praise
the LORD!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

105

<sup>1</sup> Oh give thanks to the LORD; call up- | on his name;*
make known his deeds
among the | peoples!

<sup>2</sup> Sing to him, sing prais- | es to him;*
tell of all his | wondrous works!

<sup>3</sup> Glory in his | holy name;*
let the hearts of those who seek
the | LORD rejoice!

<sup>4</sup> Seek the LORD | and his strength;*
seek his presence con- | tinually!

<sup>5</sup> Remember the wondrous works that | he has done,*
his miracles, and the judgments
he | uttered,

children of Jacob, his | chosen ones!

<sup>7</sup> He is the | LORD our God;*
his judgments are in | all the earth.

<sup>8</sup> He remembers his covenant for- | ever,*
the word that he commanded,
for a thousand gener- | ations,

<sup>9</sup> the covenant that he made with | Abraham,*
his sworn promise to | Isaac,

<sup>10</sup> which he confirmed to Jacob as a | statute,*
to Israel as an everlasting covenant, | <sup>11</sup> saying,
“To you I will give the land of | Canaan*
as your portion for an in- | heritance.”

12 When they were few in | number,*
 of little account, and sojourners | in it,
 13 wandering from nation to | nation,*
 from one kingdom to another | people,
 14 he allowed no one to op- | press them,*
 he rebuked kings on their account, | <sup>15</sup> saying,
 “Touch not my a- | nointed ones,*
 do my prophets | no harm!”
 16 When he summoned a famine | on the land*
 and broke all sup- | ply of bread,
 17 he had sent a man a- | head of them,*
 Joseph, who was sold | as a slave.
 18 His feet were hurt with | fetters;*
 his neck was put in a col- | lar of iron;
 19 until what he had said | came to pass,*
 the word of the LORD | tested him.
 20 The king sent and re- | leased him;*
 the ruler of the peoples | set him free;
 21 he made him lord | of his house*
 and ruler of all his pos- | sessions,
 22 to bind his princes at his | pleasure*
 and to teach his elders | wisdom.
 23 Then Israel came to | Egypt;*
 Jacob sojourned in the | land of Ham.
 24 And the LORD made his people very | fruitful*
 and made them stronger | than their foes.
 25 He turned their hearts to hate his | people,*
 to deal craftily with his | servants.
 26 He sent Moses, his | servant,*
 and Aaron, whom he had | chosen.
 27 They performed his signs a- | mong them*
 and miracles in the | land of Ham.
 28 He sent darkness, and made the | land dark;*
 they did not rebel a- | gainst his words.
 29 He turned their waters | into blood*
 and caused their | fish to die.
 30 Their land | swarmed with frogs,*
 even in the chambers | of their kings.

31 He spoke, and there came | swarms of flies,*
 and gnats throughout their | country.
 32 He gave them | hail for rain,*
 and fiery lightning bolts | through their land.
 33 He struck down their vines and | fig trees,*
 and shattered the trees of their | country.
 34 He spoke, and the | locusts came,*
 young locusts without | number,
 35 which devoured all the vegetation | in
 their land*
 and ate up the fruit | of their ground.
 36 He struck down all the firstborn | in
 their land,*
 the firstfruits of | all their strength.
 37 Then he brought out Israel with sil- | ver and gold,*
 and there was none among his tribes
 who | stumbled.
 38 Egypt was glad when they de- | parted,*
 for dread of them had fallen up- | on it.
 39 He spread a cloud for a | covering,*
 and fire to give | light by night.
 40 They asked, and he | brought quail,*
 and gave them bread from heaven
 in a- | bundance.
 41 He opened the rock, and water | gushed out;*
 it flowed through the desert like a | river.
 42 For he remembered his holy | promise,*
 and Abraham, his | servant.
 43 So he brought his people | out with joy,*
 his chosen ones with | singing.
 44 And he gave them the lands of the | nations,*
 and they took possession of the fruit of
 the | peoples' toil,
 45 that they might keep his | statutes*
 and observe his laws. | Praise the LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

106

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! Oh give thanks to the LORD, for | he is good,*
for his steadfast love endures for- | ever!
- <sup>2</sup> Who can utter the mighty deeds | of the LORD,*
or declare | all his praise?
- <sup>3</sup> Blessed are they who observe | justice,*
who do righteousness | at all times!
- <sup>4</sup> Remember me, O LORD, when you show favor to your | people,*
help me when you | save them,
<sup>5</sup> that I may look upon the prosperity of your chosen ones, that I may rejoice in the gladness of your | nation,*
that I may glory with your in- | heritance.
- <sup>6</sup> Both we and our fathers | have sinned,*
we have committed iniquity;
we have done | wickedness.
- <sup>7</sup> Our fathers, when they were in Egypt, did not consider your | wondrous works;*
they did not remember the abundance of your steadfast love, but rebelled by the Sea, at the | Red Sea.
- <sup>8</sup> Yet he saved them for his | name's sake,*
that he might make known his | mighty power.
- <sup>9</sup> He rebuked the Red Sea, and it be- | came dry,*
and he led them through the deep as through a | desert.
- <sup>10</sup> So he saved them from the hand | of the foe*
and redeemed them from the power of the | enemy.
- <sup>11</sup> And the waters covered their adver- | saries,*
not one of | them was left.
- <sup>12</sup> Then they be- | lieved his words,*
they | sang his praise.
- <sup>13</sup> But they soon for- | got his works,*
they did not wait for his | counsel.

- <sup>14</sup> But they had a wanton craving in the | wilderness,*
and put God to the test in the | desert;
- <sup>15</sup> he gave them | what they asked,*
but sent a wasting disease a- | mong them.
- <sup>16</sup> When men in the camp were jealous of | Moses*
and Aaron, the holy one | of the LORD,
<sup>17</sup> the earth opened and swallowed up | Dathan,*
and covered the company of | Abiram.
- <sup>18</sup> Fire also broke out in their | company;*
the flame burned up the | wicked.
- <sup>19</sup> They made a calf in | Horeb*
and worshiped a metal | image.
- <sup>20</sup> They exchanged the glo- | ry of God*
for the image of an ox that | eats grass.
- <sup>21</sup> They forgot God, their | Savior,*
who had done great things in | Egypt,
<sup>22</sup> wondrous works in the | land of Ham,*
and awesome deeds by the | Red Sea.
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore he said he would de- | stroy them—*
had not Moses, his chosen one, stood in the breach before him, to turn away his wrath from de- | stroying them.
- <sup>24</sup> Then they despised the | pleasant land,*
having no faith in his | promise.
- <sup>25</sup> They murmured | in their tents,*
and did not obey the voice | of the LORD.
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore he raised his hand and | swore to them*
that he would make them fall in the | wilderness,
<sup>27</sup> and would make their offspring fall among the | nations,*
scattering them a- | mong the lands.
- <sup>28</sup> Then they yoked themselves to the Baal | of Peor,*
and ate sacrifices offered | to the dead;

29 they provoked the LORD to anger | with their deeds,*
 and a plague broke out a- | mong them.
 30 Then Phinehas stood up and | intervened,*
 and the | plague was stayed.
 31 And that was counted to him
 as | righteousness*
 from generation to generation for- | ever.
 32 They angered him at the waters
 of | Meribah,*
 and it went ill with Moses
 on | their account,
 33 for they made his spirit | bitter,*
 and he spoke rashly | with his lips.
 34 They did not destroy the | peoples,*
 as the LORD com- | manded them,
 35 but they mixed with the | nations*
 and learned to do | as they did.
 36 They served their | idols,*
 which became a | snare to them.
 37 They sacrificed | their sons*
 and their daughters to the | demons;
 38 they poured out innocent blood,
 the blood of their sons and | daughters,*
 whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan, and the land was polluted | with blood.
 39 Thus they became unclean | by their acts,*
 and played the whore | in their deeds.
 40 Then the anger of the LORD was kindled against his | people,*
 and he abhorred his | heritage;
 41 he gave them into the hand of the | nations,*
 so that those who hated them
 ruled | over them.
 42 Their enemies op- | pressed them,*
 and they were brought into subjection
 un- | der their power.
 43 Many times he de- | livered them,* but they were rebellious in their purposes and were brought low
 through their in- | iquity.

44 Nevertheless, he looked upon | their distress,*
 when he | heard their cry.
 45 For their sake he remembered
 his | covenant,*
 and relented according to the abundance
 of his | steadfast love.
 46 He caused them to be | pitied*
 by all those who held them | captive.
 47 Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us
 from among the | nations,*
 that we may give thanks to your holy name and glory | in your praise.
 48 Blessèd be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting to ever- | lasting!*
 And let all the people say,
 "Amen!" | Praise the LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

107

1 Oh give thanks to the LORD, for | he is good,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever!
 2 Let the redeemed of the LORD | say so,*
 whom he has redeemed from | trouble
 3 and gathered in | from the lands,* from the east and from the west, from the north and | from the south.
 4 Some wandered in | desert wastes,*
 finding no way to a city to | dwell in;
 5 hungry and | thirsty,*
 their soul fainted with- | in them.
 6 Then they cried to the LORD
 in their | trouble,*
 and he delivered them from | their distress.
 7 He led them by a | straight way*
 till they reached a city to | dwell in.

<sup>8</sup> Let them thank the LORD for his | steadfast love,*
for his wondrous works
to the chil- | dren of men!

<sup>9</sup> For he satisfies the | longing soul,*
and the hungry soul he fills | with good things.

<sup>10</sup> Some sat in darkness and in the shad- | ow of death,*
prisoners in affliction | and in irons,
<sup>11</sup> for they had rebelled against the | words
of God,*
and spurned the counsel of the | Most High.

<sup>12</sup> So he bowed their hearts down with hard | labor;*
they fell down, with | none to help.

<sup>13</sup> Then they cried to the LORD
in their | trouble,*
and he delivered them from | their distress.

<sup>14</sup> He brought them out of darkness and the shad- | ow of death,*
and burst their | bonds apart.

<sup>15</sup> Let them thank the LORD for his | steadfast
love,*
for his wondrous works
to the chil- | dren of men!

<sup>16</sup> For he shatters the | doors of bronze*
and cuts in two the | bars of iron.

<sup>17</sup> Some were fools through their | sinful ways,*
and because of their iniquities suffered
af- | fliction;

<sup>18</sup> they loathed any | kind of food,*
and they drew near to the | gates of death.

<sup>19</sup> Then they cried to the LORD
in their | trouble,*
and he delivered them from | their distress.

<sup>20</sup> He sent out his word and | healed them,*
and delivered them from their
de- | struction.

<sup>21</sup> Let them thank the LORD
for his | steadfast love,*
for his wondrous works
to the chil- | dren of men!

<sup>22</sup> And let them offer sacrifices
of thanks- | giving,*
and tell of his deeds in | songs of joy!

<sup>23</sup> Some went down to the | sea in ships,*
doing business on the great | waters;

<sup>24</sup> they saw the deeds | of the LORD,*
his wondrous works | in the deep.

<sup>25</sup> For he commanded and raised the | stormy wind,*
which lifted up the waves | of the sea.

<sup>26</sup> They mounted up to heaven;
they went down | to the depths;*
their courage melted away
in their | evil plight;

<sup>27</sup> they reeled and staggered like | drunken men*
and were at their | wits' end.

<sup>28</sup> Then they cried to the LORD
in their | trouble,*
and he delivered them
from | their distress.

<sup>29</sup> He made the | storm be still,*
and the waves of the | sea were hushed.

<sup>30</sup> Then they were glad that the waters were | quiet,*
and he brought them
to their desired | haven.

<sup>31</sup> Let them thank the LORD
for his | steadfast love,*
for his wondrous works
to the chil- | dren of men!

<sup>32</sup> Let them extol him in the congregation of the | people,*
and praise him in the assembly
of the | elders.

<sup>33</sup> He turns rivers into a | desert,*
 springs of water into | thirsty ground,
<sup>34</sup> a fruitful land into a | salty waste,*
 because of the evil of its in- | habitants.
<sup>35</sup> He turns a desert into pools of | water,*
 a parched land into springs of | water.
<sup>36</sup> And there he lets the | hungry dwell,*
 and they establish a city to | live in;
<sup>37</sup> they sow fields and plant | vineyards*
 and get a | fruitful yield.
<sup>38</sup> By his blessing they multiply | greatly,*
 and he does not let their livestock
 di- | minish.
<sup>39</sup> When they are diminished and | brought low*
 through oppression, evil, and | sorrow,
<sup>40</sup> he pours contempt on | princes*
 and makes them wander
 in | trackless wastes;
<sup>41</sup> but he raises up the needy out of af- | fliction*
 and makes their families | like flocks.
<sup>42</sup> The upright see it | and are glad,*
 and all wickedness | shuts its mouth.
<sup>43</sup> Whoever is wise, let him attend | to these things;*
 let them consider the steadfast
 love | of the LORD.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

108

 I will sing and make melody
 with all my | being!
<sup>2</sup> Awake, O | harp and lyre!*
 I will a- | wake the dawn!
<sup>3</sup> I will give thanks to you, O LORD,
 among the | peoples;*
 I will sing praises to you among
 the | nations.
<sup>4</sup> For your steadfast love is great
 above the | heavens;*
 your faithfulness reaches | to the clouds.
<sup>5</sup> Be exalted, O God, above the | heavens!*
 Let your glory be over | all the earth!
<sup>6</sup> That your beloved ones may be de- | livered,*
 give salvation by your right hand
 and | answer me!
<sup>7</sup> God has promised in his | holiness.*
 “With exultation I will divide up Shechem and portion out the Valley of | Succoth.
<sup>8</sup> Gilead is mine; Manasseh | is mine;*
 Ephraim is my helmet,
 Judah my | scepter.
<sup>9</sup> Moab is my washbasin;
 upon Edom I | cast my shoe;*
 over Philistia I shout in | triumph.”
<sup>10</sup> Who will bring me to the fortified | city?*
 Who will lead me to | Edom?
<sup>11</sup> Have you not rejected us, | O God?*
 You do not go out, O God,
 with our | armies.
<sup>12</sup> Oh grant us help a- | gainst the foe,*
 for vain is the salva- | tion of man!
<sup>13</sup> With God we shall do | valiantly;*
 it is he who will tread | down our foes.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

- <sup>1</sup> Be not silent, O God | of my praise!*
- <sup>2</sup> For wicked and deceitful mouths are opened against me, speaking against me with | lying tongues.
- <sup>3</sup> They encircle me with | words of hate,*
and attack me | without cause.
- <sup>4</sup> In return for my love they ac- | cuse me,*
but I give my- | self to prayer.
- <sup>5</sup> So they reward me e- | vil for good,*
and hatred | for my love.
- <sup>6</sup> Appoint a wicked man a- | gainst him;*,
let an accuser stand at his | right hand.
- <sup>7</sup> When he is tried, let him come
forth | guilty;*,
let his prayer be count- | ed as sin!
- <sup>8</sup> May his | days be few;*,
may another take his | office!
- <sup>9</sup> May his children be | fatherless*
and his wife a | widow!
- <sup>10</sup> May his children wander a- | bout
and beg,* seeking food far from the ruins
they in- | habit!
- <sup>11</sup> May the creditor seize all | that he has;*,
may strangers plunder the fruits | of his toil!
- <sup>12</sup> Let there be none to extend kind- | ness
to him,*
nor any to pity his fatherless | children!
- <sup>13</sup> May his posterity | be cut off;*,
may his name be blotted out
in the second gener- | ation!
- <sup>14</sup> May the iniquity of his fathers be remembered be- | fore the LORD,*
and let not the sin of his mother
be | blotted out!
- <sup>15</sup> Let them be before the LORD con- | tinually,*
that he may cut off the memory
of them | from the earth!

- <sup>16</sup> For he did not remember
to show | kindness,* but pursued the poor and needy and the brokenhearted, to put | them to death.
- <sup>17</sup> He loved to curse; let curses
come up- | on him!*,
He did not delight in blessing;
may it be | far from him!
- <sup>18</sup> He clothed himself
with cursing | as his coat;*,
may it soak into his body like water,
like oil in- | to his bones!
- <sup>19</sup> May it be like a garment that he
wraps a- | round him;*,
like a belt that he puts on | every day!
- <sup>20</sup> May this be the reward
of my accusers | from the LORD,*
of those who speak evil a- | gainst my life!
- <sup>21</sup> But you, O GOD my Lord, deal on my behalf for your | name's sake;*,
because your steadfast love is good,
de- | liver me!
- <sup>22</sup> For I am poor and | needy;*,
and my heart is stricken with- | in me.
- <sup>23</sup> I am gone like a shadow at | evening;*,
I am shaken off like a | locust.
- <sup>24</sup> My knees are weak through | fasting;*,
my body has become gaunt, | with no fat.
- <sup>25</sup> I am an object of scorn to my ac- | cusers;*,
when they see me, they | wag their heads.
- <sup>26</sup> Help me, O | LORD my God!*,
Save me according to your | steadfast love!
- <sup>27</sup> Let them know that this | is your hand;*,
you, O LORD, have | done it!
- <sup>28</sup> Let them curse, but | you will bless!*,
They arise and are put to shame, but your servant | will be glad!
- <sup>29</sup> May my accusers be clothed
with dis- | honor;*,
may they be wrapped in their own shame
as | in a cloak!

- <sup>30</sup> With my mouth I will give great thanks | to the LORD;*
I will praise him in the midst | of the throng.
- <sup>31</sup> For he stands at the right hand of the | needy,*
to save him from those who condemn his | soul to death.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

110

- <sup>1</sup> The LORD says to my Lord:
“Sit at my | right hand,*
until I make your enemies
your | footstool.”
- <sup>2</sup> The LORD sends forth from Zion
your mighty | scepter.*
Rule in the midst of your | enemies!
- <sup>3</sup> Your people will offer themselves freely on the day of your power, in holy | garments;*
from the womb of the morning,
the dew of your youth | will be yours.
- <sup>4</sup> The LORD has sworn and will not | change his mind,*
“You are a priest forever after the order of Mel- | chizedek.”
- <sup>5</sup> The Lord is at your | right hand,*
he will shatter kings on the day | of his wrath.
- <sup>6</sup> He will execute judgment among the nations, filling them with | corpses;*
he will shatter chiefs over the | wide earth.
- <sup>7</sup> He will drink from the brook | by the way,*
therefore he will lift | up his head.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

111

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! I will give thanks to the LORD with my | whole heart,*
in the company of the upright,
in the congre- | gation.
- <sup>2</sup> Great are the works | of the LORD,*
studied by all who de- | light in them.
- <sup>3</sup> Full of splendor and majesty | is his work,*
and his righteousness endures for- | ever.
- <sup>4</sup> He has caused his wondrous works
to be re- | membered,*
the LORD is gracious and | merciful.
- <sup>5</sup> He provides food for those who | fear him;*
he remembers his covenant for- | ever.
- <sup>6</sup> He has shown his people the power | of his works,*
in giving them the inheritance
of the | nations.
- <sup>7</sup> The works of his hands are faith- | ful and just;*
all his precepts are | trustworthy;
- <sup>8</sup> they are established forever and | ever,*
to be performed with faithfulness
and up- | rightness.
- <sup>9</sup> He sent redemption to his people; he has commanded his covenant for- | ever.*
Holy and awesome | is his name!
- <sup>10</sup> The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom; all those who practice it have a good under- | standing.*
His praise endures for- | ever!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

112

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! Blessed is the man
who | fears the LORD,*
who greatly delights
in his com- | mandments!

- <sup>2</sup> His offspring will be mighty | in the land;*
the generation of the upright | will be blessed.
- <sup>3</sup> Wealth and riches are | in his house,*
and his righteousness endures for- | ever.
- <sup>4</sup> Light dawns in the darkness
for the | upright;*
he is gracious, merciful, and | righteous.
- <sup>5</sup> It is well with the man who deals generous- | ly and lends;*
who conducts his affairs with | justice.
- <sup>6</sup> For the righteous will nev- | er be moved;*
he will be remembered for- | ever.
- <sup>7</sup> He is not afraid of | bad news;*
his heart is firm, trusting | in the LORD.
- <sup>8</sup> His heart is steady; he will not | be afraid,*
until he looks in triumph
on his adver- | saries.
- <sup>9</sup> He has distributed freely; he has given to the poor; his righteousness endures for- | ever;*
his horn is exalted in | honor.
- <sup>10</sup> The wicked man sees it and is angry;
he gnashes his teeth and | melts away;*
the desire of the wicked will | perish!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

113

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! Praise, O servants | of
the LORD,*
praise the name | of the LORD!
- <sup>2</sup> Blessed be the name | of the LORD*
from this time forth and for- | evermore!
- <sup>3</sup> From the rising of the sun to its | setting,*
the name of the LORD is | to be praised!
- <sup>4</sup> The LORD is high above all | nations,*
and his glory above the | heavens!
- <sup>5</sup> Who is like the | LORD our God,*
who is seated | on high,

- <sup>6</sup> who looks | far down*
on the heavens | and the earth?
- <sup>7</sup> He raises the poor | from the dust*
and lifts the needy from the | ash heap,
- <sup>8</sup> to make them sit with | princes,*
with the princes of his | people.
- <sup>9</sup> He gives the barren wom- | an a home,* making her the joyous mother
of children. | Praise the LORD!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

114

- <sup>1</sup> When Israel went out from | Egypt,*
the house of Jacob from a people of strange | language,
- <sup>2</sup> Judah became his sanctu- | ary,*
Israel his do- | minion.
- <sup>3</sup> The sea | looked and fled;*
Jordan | turned back.
- <sup>4</sup> The mountains | skipped like rams,*
the | hills like lambs.
- <sup>5</sup> What ails you, O sea, | that you flee?*
- O Jordan, that you | turn back?
- <sup>6</sup> O mountains, that you | skip like rams?*
- O | hills, like lambs?
- <sup>7</sup> Tremble, O earth, at the presence | of the Lord,*
at the presence of the God of | Jacob,
- <sup>8</sup> who turns the rock into a pool of | water,*
the flint into a spring of | water.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

115

- <sup>1</sup> Not to us, O LORD, not to us,
but to your name give | glory,*
for the sake of your steadfast love
and your | faithfulness!
- <sup>2</sup> Why should the | nations say,*
“Where | is their God?”
- <sup>3</sup> Our God is in the | heavens;*
he does all that he | pleases.
- <sup>4</sup> Their idols are sil- | ver and gold,*
the work of | human hands.
- <sup>5</sup> They have mouths, but | do not speak;*
eyes, but | do not see.
- <sup>6</sup> They have ears, but | do not hear;*
noses, but | do not smell.
- <sup>7</sup> They have hands, but do not feel;
feet, but | do not walk,*
and they do not make a sound | in their throat.
- <sup>8</sup> Those who make them be- | come like them;*
so do all who | trust in them.
- <sup>9</sup> O Israel, trust | in the LORD!*
He is their help | and their shield.
- <sup>10</sup> O house of Aaron, trust | in the LORD!*
He is their help | and their shield.
- <sup>11</sup> You who fear the LORD, trust | in the LORD!*
He is their help | and their shield.
- <sup>12</sup> The LORD has remembered us;
he will | bless us;*
he will bless the house of Israel;
he will bless the house of | Aaron;
- <sup>13</sup> he will bless those who | fear the LORD,*
both the small | and the great.
- <sup>14</sup> May the LORD give you | increase,*
you and your | children!
- <sup>15</sup> May you be blessed | by the LORD,*
who made | heaven and earth!
- <sup>16</sup> The heavens are the LORD’s | heavens,* but the earth he has given to the
chil- | dren of man.

- <sup>17</sup> The dead do not | praise the LORD,*
nor do any who go down into | silence.
- <sup>18</sup> But we will | bless the LORD*
from this time forth and
forevermore. | Praise the LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

116

- <sup>1</sup> I love the LORD, because | he has heard*
my voice and my pleas for | mercy.
- <sup>2</sup> Because he inclined his | ear to me,*
therefore I will call on him as long | as I live.
- <sup>3</sup> The snares of death encompassed me;
the pangs of Sheol laid | hold on me;*
I suffered distress and | anguish.
- <sup>4</sup> Then I called on the name | of the LORD:*
“O LORD, I pray, deliv- | er my soul!”
- <sup>5</sup> Gracious is the LORD, and | righteous,*
our God is | merciful.
- <sup>6</sup> The LORD preserves the | simple,*
when I was brought low, he | saved me.
- <sup>7</sup> Return, O my soul, | to your rest;*
for the LORD has dealt bountifully | with you.
- <sup>8</sup> For you have delivered my | soul from death,*
my eyes from tears, my feet
from | stumbling;
- <sup>9</sup> I will walk be- | fore the LORD*
in the land of the | living.
- <sup>10</sup> I believed, even | when I spoke,*
“I am greatly af- | flicted”;
- <sup>11</sup> I said in | my alarm,*
“All mankind are | liars.”
- <sup>12</sup> What shall I render | to the LORD*
for all his bene- | fits to me?
- <sup>13</sup> I will lift up the cup of sal- | vation*
and call on the name | of the LORD,

- <sup>14</sup> I will pay my vows | to the LORD*
in the presence of all his | people.
- <sup>15</sup> Precious in the sight | of the LORD*
is the death | of his saints.
- <sup>16</sup> O LORD, I am your | servant;*
I am your servant, the son of your maidservant. You have | loosed
my bonds.
- <sup>17</sup> I will offer to you the sacrifice
of thanks- | giving*
and call on the name | of the LORD.
- <sup>18</sup> I will pay my vows | to the LORD*
in the presence of all his | people,
<sup>19</sup> in the courts of the house | of the LORD,*
in your midst, O Jerusalem. | Praise
the LORD!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

117

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD, all | nations!*
Extol him, all | peoples!
- <sup>2</sup> For great is his steadfast | love toward us,* and the faithfulness of the LORD endures
forever. | Praise the LORD!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

118

- <sup>1</sup> Oh give thanks to the LORD, for | he is good;*
for his steadfast love endures for- | ever!
- <sup>2</sup> Let | Israel say,*
“His steadfast love endures for- | ever.”
- <sup>3</sup> Let the house of | Aaron say,*
“His steadfast love endures for- | ever.”
- <sup>4</sup> Let those who fear the | LORD say,*
“His steadfast love endures for- | ever.”

- <sup>5</sup> Out of my distress I called | on the LORD;*
the LORD answered me and | set me free.
- <sup>6</sup> The LORD is on my side; I | will not fear.*
What can man | do to me?
- <sup>7</sup> The LORD is on my side as my | helper;*
I shall look in triumph on those who | hate me.
- <sup>8</sup> It is better to take refuge | in the LORD*
than to | trust in man.
- <sup>9</sup> It is better to take refuge | in the LORD*
than to trust in | princes.
- <sup>10</sup> All nations sur- | rounded me;*
in the name of the LORD I | cut them off!
- <sup>11</sup> They surrounded me,
surrounded me on | every side,*
in the name of the LORD I | cut them off!
- <sup>12</sup> They surrounded me like bees; they went out like a fire a- | mong thorns,*
in the name of the LORD I | cut them off!
- <sup>13</sup> I was pushed hard, so that I was | falling,*
but the LORD | helped me.
- <sup>14</sup> The LORD is my strength | and my song;*
he has become my sal- | vation.
- <sup>15</sup> Glad songs of salvation are in the tents
of the | righteous:*
“The right hand of the LORD
does | valiantly,
<sup>16</sup> the right hand of the | LORD exalts,*
the right hand of the LORD
does | valiantly!”
- <sup>17</sup> I shall not die, but | I shall live,*
and recount the deeds | of the LORD.
- <sup>18</sup> The LORD has disciplined me se- | verely,*
but he has not given me o- | ver to death.
- <sup>19</sup> Open to me the gates of | righteousness,* that I may enter through them and give thanks | to the LORD.
- <sup>20</sup> This is the gate | of the LORD;*
the righteous shall enter | through it.
- <sup>21</sup> I thank you that you have | answered me*
and have become my sal- | vation.

- 22 The stone that the builders re- | jected*
has become the | cornerstone.
- 23 This is the LORD's | doing;*
it is marvelous | in our eyes.
- 24 This is the day that the | LORD has made;*
let us rejoice and be | glad in it.
- 25 Save us, we pray, | O LORD!*
O LORD, we pray, give | us success!
- 26 Blessèd is he who comes in the name | of
the LORD!*
- We bless you from the house | of the LORD.
- 27 The LORD is God, and he has made his light to shine up- | on us.*
Bind the festal sacrifice with cords,
up to the horns of the | altar!
- 28 You are my God, and I will give | thanks
to you,*
you are my God; I will ex- | tol you.
- 29 Oh give thanks to the LORD, for | he is good;*
for his steadfast love endures for- | ever!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

ALEPH

- 1 Blessèd are those whose way is | blameless,*
who walk in the law | of the LORD!
- 2 Blessèd are those who keep his testi- | monies,*
who seek him with their | whole heart,
3 who also | do no wrong,*
but walk | in his ways!
- 4 You have commanded your | precepts*
to be kept dil- | igently.
- 5 Oh that my ways may be | steadfast*
in keeping your | statutes!
- 6 Then I shall not be | put to shame,* having my eyes fixed on
all your com- | mandments.

- 7 I will praise you with an | upright heart,*
when I learn your just and righ- | teous
decrees.
- 8 I will keep your | statutes;*
do not utterly for- | sake me!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

BETH

- 9 How can a young man keep his | way pure?*
- By guarding it according | to your word.
- 10 With my whole heart I | seek you,*
let me not wander from your
com- | mandments!
- 11 I have stored up your word | in my heart,*
that I might not sin a- | gainst you.
- 12 Blessèd are you, | O LORD;*
teach me your | statutes!
- 13 With my lips | I declare*
all the just decrees | of your mouth.
- 14 In the way of your testimonies | I delight*
as much as in all | riches.
- 15 I will meditate on your | precepts*
and fix my eyes | on your ways.
- 16 I will delight in your | statutes;*
I will not for- | get your word.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

GIMEL

- 17 Deal bountifully with your | servant,*
that I may live and | keep your word.
- 18 Open my eyes, that I | may behold*
wondrous things out | of your law.
- 19 I am a sojourner | on the earth;*
hide not your command- | ments from me!
- 20 My soul is consumed with | longing*
for your just decrees at | all times.

<sup>21</sup> You rebuke the insolent, ac- | cursèd ones,*
 who wander from your com- | mandments.
<sup>22</sup> Take away from me scorn | and contempt,*
 for I have kept your testi- | monies.
<sup>23</sup> Even though princes sit plotting a- | gainst
 me,*
 your servant will meditate
 on your | statutes.
<sup>24</sup> Your testimonies are | my delight,*
 they are my | counselors.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

DALETH

<sup>25</sup> My soul clings | to the dust;*
 give me life according | to your word!
<sup>26</sup> When I told of my ways, you | answered me,*
 teach me your | statutes!
<sup>27</sup> Make me understand the way of your | precepts,*
 and I will meditate on your | wondrous works.
<sup>28</sup> My soul melts away for | sorrow;*
 strengthen me according | to your word!
<sup>29</sup> Put false ways | far from me*
 and graciously teach | me your law!
<sup>30</sup> I have chosen the way of | faithfulness;*
 I set your just decrees be- | fore me.
<sup>31</sup> I cling to your testimonies, | O LORD;*
 let me not be | put to shame!
<sup>32</sup> I will run in the way
 of your com- | mandments*
 when you en- | large my heart!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

HE

<sup>33</sup> Teach me, O LORD, the way of your | statutes;*
 and I will keep it | to the end.
<sup>34</sup> Give me understanding, that I may | keep your law*
 and observe it with my | whole heart.
<sup>35</sup> Lead me in the path
 of your com- | mandments,*
 for I de- | light in it.
<sup>36</sup> Incline my heart to your testi- | monies,*
 and not to | selfish gain!
<sup>37</sup> Turn my eyes from looking at | worthless things;*
 and give me life | in your ways.
<sup>38</sup> Confirm to your servant your | promise,*
 that you | may be feared.
<sup>39</sup> Turn away the reproach | that I dread,*
 for your just de- | crees are good.
<sup>40</sup> Behold, I long for your | precepts,*
 in your righteousness | give me life!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

WAW

<sup>41</sup> Let your steadfast love come to me, | O
 LORD,*
 your salvation according
 to your | promise;
<sup>42</sup> then shall I have an answer for him who | taunts me,*
 for I trust | in your word.
<sup>43</sup> And take not the word of truth utterly out | of my mouth,*
 for my hope is in your | just decrees.
<sup>44</sup> I will keep your law con- | tinually,*
 forever and | ever,
<sup>45</sup> and I shall walk in a | wide place,*
 for I have sought your | precepts.

<sup>46</sup> I will also speak of your testimonies be- | fore kings*
 and shall not be | put to shame, <sup>47</sup> for I find my delight in your
 com- | mandments,*
 which | I love.
<sup>48</sup> I will lift up my hands toward your commandments, | which I love,*
 and I will meditate on your | statutes.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

ZAYIN

<sup>49</sup> Remember your word to your | servant,*
 in which you have | made me hope.
<sup>50</sup> This is my comfort in my af- | fliction,*
 that your promise | gives me life.
<sup>51</sup> The insolent utterly de- | ride me,*
 but I do not turn away | from your law.
<sup>52</sup> When I think of your just decrees | from of old,*
 I take comfort, | O LORD.
<sup>53</sup> Hot indignation seizes me because
 of the | wicked,*
 who for- | sake your law.
<sup>54</sup> Your statutes have | been my songs*
 in the house of my | sojourning.
<sup>55</sup> I remember your name in the night, | O
 LORD,*
 and | keep your law.
<sup>56</sup> This blessing has fal- | len to me,*
 that I have kept your | precepts.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

HETH

<sup>57</sup> The LORD is my | portion,*
 I promise to | keep your words.

<sup>58</sup> I entreat your favor with | all my heart,*
 be gracious to me according
 to your | promise.
<sup>59</sup> When I think | on my ways,*
 I turn my feet to your testi- | monies;
<sup>60</sup> I hasten and do | not delay*
 to keep your com- | mandments.
<sup>61</sup> Though the cords of the wicked en- | snare me,*
 I do not for- | get your law.
<sup>62</sup> At midnight I rise to | praise you,*
 because of your just and righ- | teous
 decrees.
<sup>63</sup> I am a companion of all who | fear you,*
 of those who keep your | precepts.
<sup>64</sup> The earth, O LORD, is full
 of your | steadfast love;*
 teach me your | statutes!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

TETH

<sup>65</sup> You have dealt well with your | servant,*
 O LORD, according | to your word.
<sup>66</sup> Teach me good judgment and | knowledge,*
 for I believe in your com- | mandments.
<sup>67</sup> Before I was afflicted I | went astray,*
 but now I | keep your word.
<sup>68</sup> You are good and | do good,*
 teach me your | statutes.
<sup>69</sup> The insolent smear | me with lies,* but with my whole heart I keep your | precepts;
<sup>70</sup> their heart is unfeeling | like fat,*
 but I delight | in your law.
<sup>71</sup> It is good for me that I was af- | flicted,*
 that I might learn your | statutes.
<sup>72</sup> The law of your mouth is bet- | ter to me*
 than thousands of gold and silver | pieces.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;

is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

YODH

<sup>73</sup>Your hands have made and | fashioned me;*
give me understanding that I may learn
your com- | mandments.

<sup>74</sup>Those who fear you shall see me | and rejoice,*
because I have hoped | in your word.

<sup>75</sup>I know, O LORD, that your just decrees are | righteous,*
and that in faithfulness you
have af- | flicted me.

<sup>76</sup>Let your steadfast love | comfort me*
according to your promise
to your | servant.

<sup>77</sup>Let your mercy come to me, that | I may live;*
for your law is | my delight.

<sup>78</sup>Let the insolent be put to shame, because they have wronged me with | falsehood;*
as for me, I will meditate
on your | precepts.

<sup>79</sup>Let those who fear you | turn to me,*
that they may know your testi- | monies.

<sup>80</sup>May my heart be blameless in your | statutes,*
that I may not be | put to shame!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

KAPH

<sup>81</sup>My soul longs for your sal- | vation;*
I hope | in your word.

<sup>82</sup>My eyes long for your | promise;*
I ask, "When will you | comfort me?"

<sup>83</sup>For I have become like a wineskin | in the smoke,*
yet I have not forgotten your | statutes.

<sup>84</sup>How long must your ser- | vant endure?*

When will you judge those who perse- | cute me?

<sup>85</sup>The insolent have dug pit- | falls for me;*
they do not live according | to your law.

<sup>86</sup>All your command- | ments are sure;*
they persecute me with falsehood; | help
me!

<sup>87</sup>They have almost made an end of me | on earth,*
but I have not forsaken your | precepts.

<sup>88</sup>In your steadfast love | give me life,*
that I may keep the testimonies | of your mouth.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

LAMEDH

your word is firmly fixed in the | heavens.

<sup>90</sup>Your faithfulness endures
to all gener- | ations;*
you have established the earth,
and it | stands fast.

<sup>91</sup>By your appointment they | stand this day,*
for all things are your | servants.

<sup>92</sup>If your law had not been | my delight,*
I would have perished in my af- | fliction.

<sup>93</sup>I will never forget your | precepts,*
for by them you have giv- | en me life.

<sup>94</sup>I am yours; | save me,*
for I have sought your | precepts.

<sup>95</sup>The wicked lie in wait to de- | stroy me,*
but I consider your testi- | monies.

<sup>96</sup>I have seen a limit to all per- | fection,*
but your commandment
is exceed- | ingly broad.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

MEM

- <sup>97</sup> Oh how I | love your law!*
It is my meditation | all the day.
- <sup>98</sup> Your commandment makes me wiser than
my | enemies,*
for it is ever | with me.
- <sup>99</sup> I have more understanding than all my | teachers,*
for your testimonies
are my medi- | tation.
- <sup>100</sup> I understand more than the | agèd,*
for I keep your | precepts.
- <sup>101</sup> I hold back my feet from every | evil way,*
in order to | keep your word.
- <sup>102</sup> I do not turn aside from your | just decrees,*
for you have | taught me.
- <sup>103</sup> How sweet are your words | to my taste,*
sweeter than honey | to my mouth!
- <sup>104</sup> Through your precepts I get
under- | standing,*
therefore I hate every | false way.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

NUN

- <sup>105</sup> Your word is a lamp | to my feet*
and a light | to my path.
- <sup>106</sup> I have sworn an oath and con- | firmed it,*
to keep your just and righ- | teous decrees.
- <sup>107</sup> I am severely af- | flicted,*
give me life, O LORD, according | to your word!
- <sup>108</sup> Accept my freewill offerings of praise, | O
LORD,*
and teach me your | just decrees.
- <sup>109</sup> I hold my life in my hand con- | tinually,*
but I do not for- | get your law.
- <sup>110</sup> The wicked have laid a | snare for me,*
but I do not stray from your | precepts.

- <sup>111</sup> Your testimonies are my heritage
for- | ever,*
for they are the joy | of my heart.
- <sup>112</sup> I incline my heart to perform your | statutes*
forever, | to the end.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

SAMEKH

- <sup>113</sup> I hate the double- | minded,*
but I | love your law.
- <sup>114</sup> You are my hiding place | and my shield;*
I hope | in your word.
- <sup>115</sup> Depart from me, you evil- | doers,*
that I may keep the commandments | of
my God.
- <sup>116</sup> Uphold me according to your promise,
that | I may live,*
and let me not be put to shame | in my hope!
- <sup>117</sup> Hold me up, that I | may be safe*
and have regard for your statutes
con- | tinually!
- <sup>118</sup> You spurn all who go astray from
your | statutes,*
for their cunning | is in vain.
- <sup>119</sup> All the wicked of the earth you dis- | card
like dross,*
therefore I love your testi- | monies.
- <sup>120</sup> My flesh trembles for | fear of you,*
and I am afraid of your | judgments.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

AYIN

- <sup>121</sup> I have done what is | just and right;*
do not leave me to my op- | pressors.
- <sup>122</sup> Give your servant a | pledge of good,*
let not the insolent op- | press me.

- <sup>123</sup> My eyes long for your sal- | vation*
and for the fulfillment
of your righteous | promise.
- <sup>124</sup> Deal with your servant according
to your | steadfast love,*
and teach me your | statutes.
- <sup>125</sup> I am your servant; give me
under- | standing,*
that I may know your testi- | monies!
- <sup>126</sup> It is time for the | LORD to act,*
for your law has been | broken.
- <sup>127</sup> Therefore I love your com- | mandments*
above gold, above | fine gold.
- <sup>128</sup> Therefore I consider all your precepts | to be right;*
I hate every | false way.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.
- PE
- <sup>129</sup> Your testimonies are | wonderful,*
therefore my soul | keeps them.
- <sup>130</sup> The unfolding of your | words gives light;*
it imparts understanding to the | simple.
- <sup>131</sup> I open my | mouth and pant,*
because I long for your com- | mandments.
- <sup>132</sup> Turn to me and be gra- | cious to me,*
as is your way with those who | love
your name.
- <sup>133</sup> Keep steady my steps according
to your | promise,*
and let no iniquity get dominion | over me.
- <sup>134</sup> Redeem me from man's op- | pression,*
that I may keep your | precepts.

- <sup>135</sup> Make your face shine upon your | servant,*
and teach me your | statutes.
- <sup>136</sup> My eyes shed | streams of tears,*
because people do not | keep your law.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

TSADHE

- <sup>137</sup> Righteous are you, | O LORD,*
and right are your | just decrees.
- <sup>138</sup> You have appointed your testimonies
in | righteousness*
and in all | faithfulness.
- <sup>139</sup> My zeal con- | sumes me,*
because my foes for- | get your words.
- <sup>140</sup> Your promise is | well tried,*
and your servant | loves it.
- <sup>141</sup> I am small | and despised,*
yet I do not forget your | precepts.
- <sup>142</sup> Your righteousness is righteous for- | ever,*
and your | law is true.
- <sup>143</sup> Trouble and anguish have | found me out,*
but your commandments are | my delight.
- <sup>144</sup> Your testimonies are righteous for- | ever;*
give me understanding that | I may live.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

QOPH

- <sup>145</sup> With my whole heart I cry; answer me, | O
LORD!*
- I will keep your | statutes.
- <sup>146</sup> I call to you; | save me,*
that I may observe your testi- | monies.
- <sup>147</sup> I rise before dawn and | cry for help;*
I hope | in your words.

<sup>148</sup>My eyes are awake before the watches | of the night,*
that I may meditate on your | promise.

<sup>149</sup>Hear my voice according
to your | steadfast love;*

O LORD, according to your justice | give me life.

<sup>150</sup>They draw near who persecute me with evil | purpose;*

they are far | from your law.

<sup>151</sup>But you are near, | O LORD,*
and all your command- | ments are true.

<sup>152</sup>Long have I known from your testi- | monies*
that you have founded them for- | ever.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

RESH

<sup>153</sup>Look on my affliction and de- | liver me,*
for I do not for- | get your law.

<sup>154</sup>Plead my cause and re- | deem me;*

give me life according to your | promise!

<sup>155</sup>Salvation is far from the | wicked,*
for they do not seek your | statutes.

<sup>156</sup>Great is your mercy, | O LORD;*

give me life according to your | just decrees.

<sup>157</sup>Many are my persecutors and my adver- | saries,*
but I do not swerve from your
testi- | monies.

<sup>158</sup>I look at the faithless | with disgust,*
because they do not keep | your commands.

<sup>159</sup>Consider how I love your | precepts!*

Give me life according
to your | steadfast love.

<sup>160</sup>The sum of your | word is truth,*
and every one of your just and righteous
decrees endures for- | ever.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

SIN AND SHIN

<sup>161</sup>Princes persecute me with- | out cause,*
but my heart stands in awe | of your words.

<sup>162</sup>I rejoice | at your word*
like one who | finds great spoil.

<sup>163</sup>I hate and abhor | falsehood,*
but I | love your law.

<sup>164</sup>Seven times a day I | praise you*
for your just and high- | teous decrees.

<sup>165</sup>Great peace have those who | love your law;*
nothing can make them | stumble.

<sup>166</sup>I hope for your salvation, | O LORD,*
and I do your com- | mandments.

<sup>167</sup>My soul keeps your testi- | monies;*
I love them ex- | ceedingly.

<sup>168</sup>I keep your precepts and testi- | monies,*
for all my ways are be- | fore you.

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

TAW

<sup>169</sup>Let my cry come before you, | O LORD;*
give me understanding according | to your word!

<sup>170</sup>Let my plea come be- | fore you;*

deliver me according | to your word.

<sup>171</sup>My lips will | pour forth praise,*
for you teach me your | statutes.

<sup>172</sup>My tongue will sing | of your word,*
for all your command- | ments are right.

<sup>173</sup>Let your hand be ready to | help me,*
for I have chosen your | precepts.

<sup>174</sup>I long for your salvation, | O LORD,*
and your law is | my delight.

<sup>175</sup> Let my soul live and | praise you,*
and let your just decrees | help me.
<sup>176</sup> I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek your | servant,*
for I do not forget your
com- | mandments.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

120

<sup>1</sup> In my distress I called | to the LORD,*
and he | answered me.
<sup>2</sup> Deliver me, O LORD, from | lying lips,*
from a de- | ceitful tongue.
<sup>3</sup> What shall be given to you, and what more shall be | done to you,*
you de- | ceitful tongue?
<sup>4</sup> A warrior's sharp | arrows,*
with glowing coals of the | broom tree!
<sup>5</sup> Woe to me, that I sojourn in | Meshech,*
that I dwell among the tents of | Kedar!
<sup>6</sup> Too long have I had my | dwelling*
among those who | hate peace.
<sup>7</sup> I | am for peace,*
but when I speak, they | are for war!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

121

<sup>1</sup> I lift up my eyes | to the hills.*
From where does my | help come?
<sup>2</sup> My help comes | from the LORD,*
who made | heaven and earth.
<sup>3</sup> He will not let your | foot be moved,*
he who keeps you will not | slumber.
<sup>4</sup> Behold, he who keeps | Israel*
will neither slum- | ber nor sleep.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD is your | keeper;*
the LORD is your shade
on your | right hand.
<sup>6</sup> The sun shall not strike | you by day,*
nor the | moon by night.
<sup>7</sup> The LORD will keep you from all | evil;*
he will | keep your life.
<sup>8</sup> The LORD will keep your going out and your | coming in*
from this time forth and for- | evermore.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

122

<sup>1</sup> I was glad when they | said to me,*
“Let us go to the house | of the LORD!”
<sup>2</sup> Our feet have been | standing*
within your gates, O Je- | rusalem!
<sup>3</sup> Jerusalem—built as a | city*
that is bound firmly to- | gether,
<sup>4</sup> to which the tribes go up, the tribes of the LORD, as was decreed for | Israel,*
to give thanks to the name | of the LORD.
<sup>5</sup> There thrones for judg- | ment were set,*
the thrones of the house of | David.
<sup>6</sup> Pray for the peace of Je- | rusalem!*
“May they be secure who | love you!
<sup>7</sup> Peace be with- | in your walls*
and security within your | towers!”
<sup>8</sup> For my brothers and com- | panions' sake*
I will say, “Peace be with- | in you!”
<sup>9</sup> For the sake of the house of the | LORD our God,*
I will | seek your good.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

123

- <sup>1</sup> To you I lift | up my eyes,*
O you who are enthroned in the | heavens!
- <sup>2</sup> Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master, as the eyes of a maidservant to the hand of her | mistress,*
so our eyes look to the LORD our God,
till he has mercy up- | on us.
- <sup>3</sup> Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy
up- | on us,*
for we have had more than enough | of contempt.
- <sup>4</sup> Our soul has had more than enough of the scorn of those who | are at ease,*
of the contempt | of the proud.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

124

- <sup>1</sup> If it had not been the LORD
who was | on our side—*
let Israel | now say—
- <sup>2</sup> if it had not been the LORD
who was | on our side*
when people rose up a- | gainst us,
- <sup>3</sup> then they would have swallowed
us | up alive,*
when their anger was kindled a- | gainst us;
- <sup>4</sup> then the flood would have swept | us away,*
the torrent would have gone | over us;
- <sup>5</sup> then over us | would have gone*
the raging | waters.
- <sup>6</sup> Blessed | be the LORD,*
who has not given us
as prey | to their teeth!
- <sup>7</sup> We have escaped like a bird from the snare
of the | fowlers;*
the snare is broken,
and we | have escaped!

- <sup>8</sup> Our help is in the name | of the LORD,*
who made | heaven and earth.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

125

- <sup>1</sup> Those who trust in the LORD are like Mount | Zion,*
which cannot be moved,
but abides for- | ever.
- <sup>2</sup> As the mountains surround Jerusalem,
so the LORD surrounds his | people,*
from this time forth and for- | evermore.
- <sup>3</sup> For the scepter of wickedness shall not rest
on the land allotted to the | righteous,*
lest the righteous stretch out their hands
to | do wrong.
- <sup>4</sup> Do good, O LORD, to those | who are good,*
and to those who are upright | in their hearts!
- <sup>5</sup> But those who turn aside to their crooked ways the LORD will lead away
with evil- | doers!*
Peace be upon | Israel!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

126

- <sup>1</sup> When the LORD restored the fortunes
of | Zion,*
we were like | those who dream.
- <sup>2</sup> Then our mouth was filled with | laughter,*
and our tongue with | shouts of joy;
then they said among the nations, “The LORD has done great | things for them.”*
<sup>3</sup> The LORD has done great things
for us; | we are glad.

- <sup>4</sup> Restore our fortunes, | O LORD,*
like streams in the | Negeb!
- <sup>5</sup> Those who | sow in tears*
shall reap with | shouts of joy!
- <sup>6</sup> He who goes out weeping, bearing the seed
for | sowing,*
shall come home with shouts of joy,
bringing his | sheaves with him.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

127

- <sup>1</sup> Unless the LORD builds the house, those who build it la- | bor in vain.*
Unless the LORD watches over the city,
the watchman stays a- | wake in vain.
- <sup>2</sup> It is in vain that you rise up early and go
late to rest, eating the bread of | anxious toil,*
for he gives to his be- | loved sleep.
- <sup>3</sup> Behold, children are a heritage | from
the LORD,*
the fruit of the womb | a reward.
- <sup>4</sup> Like arrows in the hand of a | warrior*
are the children | of one's youth.
- <sup>5</sup> Blessed is the man who fills
his quiver | with them!*
- He shall not be put to shame when he speaks with his enemies | in the gate.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

128

- <sup>1</sup> Blessed is everyone who | fears the LORD,*
who walks | in his ways!
- <sup>2</sup> You shall eat the fruit of the labor | of your hands,*
you shall be blessed, and it shall be | well
with you.

- <sup>3</sup> Your wife will be like a fruitful vine
with- | in your house,*
your children will be like olive shoots
around your | table.
- <sup>4</sup> Behold, thus shall the | man be blessed*
who | fears the LORD.
- <sup>5</sup> The LORD bless you from | Zion!*
- May you see the prosperity of Jerusalem
all the days | of your life!
- <sup>6</sup> May you see your children's | children!*
- Peace be upon | Israel!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

129

- <sup>1</sup> "Greatly have they afflicted me | from
my youth"—*
let Israel | now say—
- <sup>2</sup> "Greatly have they afflicted me | from
my youth,*
yet they have not prevailed a- | gainst me.
- <sup>3</sup> The plowers plowed up- | on my back,*
they made long their | furrows."
- <sup>4</sup> The LORD is | righteous;*
he has cut the cords of the | wicked.
- <sup>5</sup> May all who hate | Zion*
be put to shame and turned | backward!
- <sup>6</sup> Let them be like the grass on the | housetops,*
which withers before it | grows up,
<sup>7</sup> with which the reaper does not | fill his hand*
nor the binder of | sheaves his arms, <sup>8</sup> nor do those who pass by say, "The blessing of the LORD be up- | on you!*"
We bless you in the name | of the LORD!"
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

130

- <sup>1</sup> Out | of the depths*
I cry to you, | O LORD!
- <sup>2</sup> O Lord, | hear my voice!*
Let your ears be attentive to the voice of my pleas for | mercy!
- <sup>3</sup> If you, O LORD, should mark in- | iquities,*
O Lord, | who could stand?
- <sup>4</sup> But with you there is for- | givenness,*
that you | may be feared.
- <sup>5</sup> I wait for the LORD, my | soul waits,*
and in his | word I hope;
- <sup>6</sup> my soul waits for the Lord more than watchmen for the | morning,*
more than watchmen for the | morning.
- <sup>7</sup> O Israel, hope in the LORD! For with the LORD there is | steadfast love,*
and with him is plentiful re- | demption.
- <sup>8</sup> And he will redeem | Israel*
from all his in- | iquities.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

131

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, my heart is not lifted up; my eyes
are not | raised too high;*
I do not occupy myself with things too
great and too marvel- | ous for me.
- <sup>2</sup> But I have calmed and quieted my soul, like
a weaned child with its | mother,*
like a weaned child is my soul
with- | in me.
- <sup>3</sup> O Israel, hope | in the LORD*
from this time forth and for- | evermore.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

132

- <sup>1</sup> Remember, O LORD, in David's | favor,*
all the hardships | he endured,
- <sup>2</sup> how he swore | to the LORD*
and vowed to the Mighty One of | Jacob,
- <sup>3</sup> "I will not en- | ter my house*
or get in- | to my bed,
- <sup>4</sup> I will not give sleep | to my eyes*
or slumber to my | eyelids,
- <sup>5</sup> until I find a place | for the LORD,*
a dwelling place for the Mighty One
of | Jacob."
- <sup>6</sup> Behold, we heard of it in | Ephrathah;*
we found it in the | fields of Jaar.
- <sup>7</sup> "Let us go to his | dwelling place;*
let us worship at his | footstool!"
- <sup>8</sup> Arise, O LORD, and go to your | resting place,*
you and the ark | of your might.
- <sup>9</sup> Let your priests be clothed
with | righteousness,*
and let your saints | shout for joy.
- <sup>10</sup> For the sake of your servant | David,*
do not turn away the face
of your a- | nointed one.
- <sup>11</sup> The LORD swore to David a sure oath from which he will | not turn back.*
"One of the sons of your body
I will set | on your throne.
- <sup>12</sup> If your sons keep my covenant and my testimonies that I shall | teach them,*
their sons also forever shall sit | on your throne."
- <sup>13</sup> For the LORD has chosen | Zion;*
he has desired it for his | dwelling place:
- <sup>14</sup> "This is my resting place for- | ever;*
here I will dwell, for I have de- | sired it.
- <sup>15</sup> I will abundantly bless her pro- | visions;*
I will satisfy her | poor with bread.
- <sup>16</sup> Her priests I will clothe with sal- | vation,*
and her saints will | shout for joy.

- <sup>17</sup> There I will make a horn to sprout
for | David;*
- I have prepared a lamp for my a- | nointed.
- <sup>18</sup> His enemies I will | clothe with shame,*
but on him his | crown will shine.”
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

133

- <sup>1</sup> Behold, how good and pleas- | ant it is*
when brothers dwell in | unity!
- <sup>2</sup> It is like the precious oil on the head, running down on the beard, on the beard
of | Aaron,*
running down on the collar | of his robes!
- <sup>3</sup> It is like the dew of Hermon,
which falls on the mountains of | Zion!*
- For there the LORD has commanded
the blessing, life for- | evermore.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

134

- <sup>1</sup> Come, bless the LORD, all you servants | of
the LORD,*
who stand by night in the house | of the
LORD!
- <sup>2</sup> Lift up your hands to the | holy place*
and | bless the LORD!
- <sup>3</sup> May the LORD bless you from | Zion,*
he who made | heaven and earth!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

135

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! Praise the name | of
the LORD,*
give praise, O servants | of the LORD,
<sup>2</sup> who stand in the house | of the LORD,*
in the courts of the house | of our God!
- <sup>3</sup> Praise the LORD, for the | LORD is good,*
sing to his name, for it is | pleasant!
- <sup>4</sup> For the LORD has chosen Jacob | for himself,*
Israel as his own pos- | session.
- <sup>5</sup> For I know that the | LORD is great,*
and that our Lord is a- | bove all gods.
- <sup>6</sup> Whatever the LORD pleases, he does, in heaven | and on earth,*
in the seas and | all deeps.
- <sup>7</sup> He it is who makes the clouds rise at the end | of the earth,*
who makes lightnings
for the rain and brings forth
the wind from his | storehouses.
- <sup>8</sup> He it was who struck down
the firstborn of | Egypt,*
both of man | and of beast;
- <sup>9</sup> who in your midst, O | Egypt,*
sent signs and wonders against Pharaoh
and all his | servants;
- <sup>10</sup> who struck down many | nations*
and killed | mighty kings,
- <sup>11</sup> Sihon, king of the Amorites, and Og, king
of | Bashan,*
and all the kingdoms of | Canaan,
- <sup>12</sup> and gave their land as a | heritage,*
a heritage to his people | Israel.
- <sup>13</sup> Your name, O LORD, endures for- | ever,*
your renown, O LORD,
throughout all | ages.
- <sup>14</sup> For the LORD will vindicate his | people*
and have compassion on his | servants.

<sup>15</sup> The idols of the nations are sil- | ver and gold,*
 the work of | human hands.
<sup>16</sup> They have mouths, but | do not speak;*
 they have eyes, but | do not see;
<sup>17</sup> they have ears, but | do not hear,*
 nor is there any breath | in their mouths.
<sup>18</sup> Those who make them be- | come like them,*
 so do all who | trust in them!
<sup>19</sup> O house of Israel, | bless the LORD!*
 O house of Aaron, | bless the LORD!
<sup>20</sup> O house of Levi, | bless the LORD!*
 You who fear the LORD, | bless the LORD!
<sup>21</sup> Blessèd be the LORD from | Zion,*
 he who dwells in Jerusalem! | Praise the
 LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

136

<sup>1</sup> Give thanks to the LORD, for | he is good,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever.
<sup>2</sup> Give thanks to the | God of gods,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever.
<sup>3</sup> Give thanks to the | Lord of lords,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>4</sup> to him who alone does great | wonders,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>5</sup> to him who by understanding made the | heavens,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>6</sup> to him who spread out the earth above the | waters,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>7</sup> to him who made the | great lights,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>8</sup> the sun to rule o- | ver the day,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;

<sup>9</sup> the moon and stars to rule o- | ver the night,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>10</sup> to him who struck down the firstborn
 of | Egypt,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>11</sup> and brought Israel out from a- | mong them,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>12</sup> with a strong hand and an | outstretched arm,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>13</sup> to him who divided the Red | Sea in two,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>14</sup> and made Israel pass through the | midst of it,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>15</sup> but overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the | Red Sea,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>16</sup> to him who led his people through
 the | wilderness,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>17</sup> to him who struck down | great kings,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>18</sup> and killed | mighty kings,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>19</sup> Sihon, king of the | Amorites,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>20</sup> and Og, king of | Bashan,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>21</sup> and gave their land as a | heritage,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>22</sup> a heritage to Israel his | servant,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever.
<sup>23</sup> It is he who remembered us in our | low estate,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>24</sup> and rescued us | from our foes,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever;
<sup>25</sup> he who gives food | to all flesh,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever.

<sup>26</sup> Give thanks to the God of | heaven,*
 for his steadfast love endures for- | ever.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

137

<sup>1</sup> By the waters of Babylon, there we sat | down and wept,*
 when we remembered | Zion.
<sup>2</sup> On the | willows there*
 we hung | up our lyres.
<sup>3</sup> For there our captors required of us songs, and our tormentors, mirth, | saying,*
 “Sing us one of the songs of | Zion!”
<sup>4</sup> How shall we sing the | LORD’s song*
 in a | foreign land?
<sup>5</sup> If I forget you, O Je- | rusalem,*
 let my right hand for- | get its skill!
<sup>6</sup> Let my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth, if I do not re- | member you,*
 if I do not set Jerusalem above
 my | highest joy!
<sup>7</sup> Remember, O LORD, against the Edomites
 the day of Je- | rusalem,*
 how they said, “Lay it bare, lay it bare,
 down to its foun- | dations!”
<sup>8</sup> O daughter of Babylon, doomed to | be destroyed,*
 blessed shall he be who repays you with
 what you have | done to us!
<sup>9</sup> Blessed shall he be who takes your | little ones*
 and dashes them a- | gainst the rock!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

138

<sup>1</sup> I give you thanks, O LORD, with | my whole heart;*
 before the gods I | sing your praise;
<sup>2</sup> I bow down toward your holy temple and give thanks to your name for your steadfast love and your | faithfulness,*
 for you have exalted above all things
 your name | and your word.
<sup>3</sup> On the day I called, you | answered me;*
 my strength of soul | you increased.
<sup>4</sup> All the kings of the earth shall give you thanks, | O LORD,*
 for they have heard the words | of your mouth,
<sup>5</sup> and they shall sing of the ways | of
 the LORD,*
 for great is the glory | of the LORD.
<sup>6</sup> For though the LORD is high,
 he regards the | lowly,*
 but the haughty he knows | from afar.
<sup>7</sup> Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you pre- | serve my life;*
 you stretch out your hand against the wrath of my enemies, and your right hand de- | livers me.
<sup>8</sup> The LORD will fulfill his pur- | pose
 for me;*
 your steadfast love, O LORD, endures forever. Do not forsake the work | of your hands.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

139

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, you have searched me
and | known me!*
- <sup>2</sup> You know when I sit down and when I rise up; you discern my thoughts | from afar.
- <sup>3</sup> You search out my path and my | lying down*
and are acquainted with | all my ways.
- <sup>4</sup> Even before a word is | on my tongue,*
behold, O LORD, you know it alto- | gether.
- <sup>5</sup> You hem me in, behind | and before,*
and lay your hand up- | on me.
- <sup>6</sup> Such knowledge is too wonder- | ful for me;*
it is high; I cannot | attain it.
- <sup>7</sup> Where shall I go from your | Spirit?*
- Or where shall I flee from your | presence?
- <sup>8</sup> If I ascend to heaven, | you are there!*
- If I make my bed in Sheol, | you are there!
- <sup>9</sup> If I take the wings of the | morning*
and dwell in the uttermost parts | of
the sea,
- <sup>10</sup> even there your hand shall | lead me,*
and your right hand shall | hold me.
- <sup>11</sup> If I say, "Surely the darkness shall | cover me,* and the light about me | be night,"
- <sup>12</sup> even the darkness is not | dark to you;*
the night is bright as the day,
for darkness is as | light with you.
- <sup>13</sup> For you formed my | inward parts;*
you knitted me together
in my | mother's womb.
- <sup>14</sup> I praise you, for I am fearfully and wonder- | fully made.*
Wonderful are your works;
my soul knows it | very well.
- <sup>15</sup> My frame was not hid- | den from you,*
when I was being made in secret, intricately woven in the depths | of
the earth.

- <sup>16</sup> Your eyes saw my unformed substance;
in your book were written,
every | one of them,*
the days that were formed for me,
when as yet there were | none of them.
- <sup>17</sup> How precious to me are your thoughts, | O
God!*
- How vast is the | sum of them!
- <sup>18</sup> If I would count them,
they are more | than the sand.*
I awake, and I am still | with you.
- <sup>19</sup> Oh that you would slay
the wicked, | O God!*
- O men of blood, de- | part from me!
- <sup>20</sup> They speak against you with mali- | cious intent;*
- your enemies take your | name in vain!
- <sup>21</sup> Do I not hate those who hate you, | O
LORD?*
- And do I not loathe those who rise up a- | gainst you?
- <sup>22</sup> I hate them with complete | hatred;*
I count them my | enemies.
- <sup>23</sup> Search me, O God, and | know my heart!*
- Try me and | know my thoughts!
- <sup>24</sup> And see if there be any grievous | way
in me,*
and lead me in the way ever- | lasting!
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

140

- <sup>1</sup> Deliver me, O LORD, from | evil men;*
preserve me from | violent men,
<sup>2</sup> who plan evil things | in their heart*
and stir up wars con- | tinually.
- <sup>3</sup> They make their tongue sharp
as a | serpent's,*
and under their lips is the ven- | om
of asps.

- <sup>4</sup> Guard me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from | violent men,*
who have planned to trip | up my feet.
- <sup>5</sup> The arrogant have hidden a trap for me,
and with cords they have | spread a net;*
beside the way they have set | snares
for me.
- <sup>6</sup> I say to the LORD, You | are my God;*
give ear to the voice of my pleas for mercy, | O LORD!
- <sup>7</sup> O LORD, my Lord, the strength
of my sal- | vation,*
you have covered my head
in the day of | battle.
- <sup>8</sup> Grant not, O LORD, the desires
of the | wicked;*
do not further their evil plot
or they will be ex- | alted!
- <sup>9</sup> As for the head of those who sur- | round
me,*
let the mischief of their lips
over- | whelm them!
- <sup>10</sup> Let burning coals fall up- | on them!*
Let them be cast into fire, into miry pits,
no | more to rise!
- <sup>11</sup> Let not the slanderer be established | in the land;*
let evil hunt down the violent
man | speedily!
- <sup>12</sup> I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the af- | flicted,*
and will execute justice for the | needy.
- <sup>13</sup> Surely the righteous shall give thanks | to
your name;*
the upright shall dwell in your | presence.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

141

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, I call upon you; hasten | to me!*
Give ear to my voice when I | call to you!
- <sup>2</sup> Let my prayer be counted
as incense be- | fore you,*
and the lifting up of my hands
as the evening | sacrifice!
- <sup>3</sup> Set a guard, O LORD, over | my mouth;*
keep watch over the door | of my lips!
- <sup>4</sup> Do not let my heart incline to any evil, to busy myself with wicked deeds in company
with men who work in- | iquity,*
and let me not eat of their del- | icacies!
- <sup>5</sup> Let a righteous man strike me—it is a kindness; let him rebuke me—it is oil for my head; let my head not re- | fuse it.*
Yet my prayer is continually
against their | evil deeds.
- <sup>6</sup> When their judges are thrown o- | ver
the cliff,*
then they shall hear my words, for they are | pleasant.
- <sup>7</sup> As when one plows and breaks | up
the earth,*
so shall our bones be scattered at the mouth | of Sheol.
- <sup>8</sup> But my eyes are toward you,
O | God, my Lord;*
in you I seek refuge;
leave me not de- | fenseless!
- <sup>9</sup> Keep me from the trap
that they have | laid for me*
and from the snares of evil- | doers!
- <sup>10</sup> Let the wicked fall into their | own nets,*
while I pass by | safely.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

142

- <sup>1</sup> With my voice I cry out | to the LORD;*
with my voice I plead for mercy | to the LORD.
- <sup>2</sup> I pour out my complaint be- | fore him;*
I tell my trouble be- | fore him.
- <sup>3</sup> When my spirit faints within me,
you | know my way!*
- In the path where I walk they have hidden a | trap for me.
- <sup>4</sup> Look to the right and see: there is none
who takes notice | of me;*
no refuge remains to me;
no one cares | for my soul.
- <sup>5</sup> I cry to you, | O LORD;*
I say, "You are my refuge, my portion
in the land of the | living."
- <sup>6</sup> Attend to my cry, for I am brought | very low!*
- Deliver me from my persecutors, for they are too | strong for me!
- <sup>7</sup> Bring me out of prison, that I may give thanks | to your name!*
- The righteous will surround me, for you
will deal bountifully | with me.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

143

- <sup>1</sup> Hear my prayer, O LORD;
give ear to my pleas for | mercy!*
- In your faithfulness answer me,
in your | righteousness!
- <sup>2</sup> Enter not into judgment with your | servant,*
for no one living is righteous be- | fore you.
- <sup>3</sup> For the enemy has pursued my soul; he has crushed my life | to the ground;*
he has made me sit in darkness
like | those long dead.

- <sup>4</sup> Therefore my spirit faints with- | in me;*
my heart within me | is appalled.
- <sup>5</sup> I remember the days of old; I meditate on
all that | you have done;*
I ponder the work | of your hands.
- <sup>6</sup> I stretch out my | hands to you,*
my soul thirsts for you like a | parched
land.
- <sup>7</sup> Answer me quickly, O LORD!
My | spirit fails!*
- Hide not your face from me, lest I
be like those who go down | to the pit.
- <sup>8</sup> Let me hear in the morning of your steadfast love, for in | you I trust.*
Make me know the way I should go,
for to you I lift | up my soul.
- <sup>9</sup> Deliver me from my enemies, | O LORD!*
- I have fled to you for | refuge!
- <sup>10</sup> Teach me to do your will, for you | are my God!*
- Let your good Spirit lead me on | level ground!
- <sup>11</sup> For your name's sake, O LORD, pre- | serve
my life!*
- In your righteousness bring my soul out
of | trouble!
- <sup>12</sup> And in your steadfast love you will cut off
my | enemies,*
and you will destroy all the adversaries
of my soul, for I am your | servant.
- Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

144

- <sup>1</sup> Blessèd be the | LORD, my rock,*
who trains my hands for war, and my fingers for | battle;
- <sup>2</sup> he is my steadfast love and my fortress, my stronghold and my de- | liverer.*

my shield and he in whom I take refuge,
 who subdues peoples | under me.

<sup>3</sup> O LORD, what is man that you re- | gard him,*
 or the son of man that you | think of him?

<sup>4</sup> Man is | like a breath,*
 his days are like a passing | shadow.

<sup>5</sup> Bow your heavens, O LORD, and | come down!*

Touch the mountains so | that they smoke!

<sup>6</sup> Flash forth the lightning and | scatter them,*
 send out your arrows and | rout them!

<sup>7</sup> Stretch out your hand | from on high,* rescue me and deliver me from the many waters, from the hand of | foreigners,

<sup>8</sup> whose mouths | speak lies*
 and whose right hand is a right hand
 of | falsehood.

<sup>9</sup> I will sing a new song to you, | O God,*
 upon a ten-stringed harp I will | play
 to you,

<sup>10</sup> who gives victo- | ry to kings,*
 who rescues David his servant
 from the | cruel sword.

<sup>11</sup> Rescue me and deliver me from the hand of | foreigners,*
 whose mouths speak lies and whose right hand is a right hand of | falsehood.

<sup>12</sup> May our sons in their youth be like | plants full grown,*
 our daughters like corner pillars cut
 for the structure of a | palace;

<sup>13</sup> may our granaries be full, providing all kinds of | produce;*
 may our sheep bring forth thousands
 and ten thousands | in our fields;

<sup>14</sup> may our cattle be heavy with young, suffering no mishap or failure in | bearing;*
 may there be no cry of distress | in our streets!

<sup>15</sup> Blessed are the people to whom such | blessings fall!*

Blessèd are the people whose God | is
 the LORD!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

145

<sup>1</sup> I will extol you, my | God and King,*
 and bless your name forever and | ever.

<sup>2</sup> Every day I will | bless you*
 and praise your name forever and | ever.

<sup>3</sup> Great is the LORD, and greatly | to be praised,*
 and his greatness is un- | searchable.

<sup>4</sup> One generation shall commend your works to an- | other,*
 and shall declare your | mighty acts.

<sup>5</sup> On the glorious splendor of your | majesty,*
 and on your wondrous works,
 I will | meditate.

<sup>6</sup> They shall speak of the might of your | awesome deeds,*
 and I will declare your | greatness.

<sup>7</sup> They shall pour forth the fame of your abundant | goodness*
 and shall sing aloud
 of your | righteousness.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD is gracious and | merciful,*
 slow to anger and abounding
 in | steadfast love.

<sup>9</sup> The LORD is | good to all,*
 and his mercy is over all that | he has made.

<sup>10</sup> All your works shall give thanks to you, | O LORD,*
 and all your saints shall | bless you!

- <sup>11</sup> They shall speak of the glory
of your | kingdom*
and tell | of your power, <sup>12</sup> to make known to the children of man your | mighty deeds,*
and the glorious splendor
of your | kingdom.
<sup>13</sup> Your kingdom is an everlasting | kingdom,* and your dominion endures throughout
all gener- | ations.
The LORD is faithful in | all his words*
and kind in | all his works.
<sup>14</sup> The LORD upholds all who are | falling*
and raises up all who are | bowed down.
<sup>15</sup> The eyes of all | look to you,* and you give them their food
in due | season.
<sup>16</sup> You open | your hand;*
you satisfy the desire of every | living thing.
<sup>17</sup> The LORD is righteous in | all his ways*
and kind in | all his works.
<sup>18</sup> The LORD is near to all who | call on him,*
to all who call on | him in truth.
<sup>19</sup> He fulfills the desire of those who | fear him;*
he also hears their cry and | saves them.
<sup>20</sup> The LORD preserves all who | love him,*
but all the wicked he | will destroy.
<sup>21</sup> My mouth will speak the praise | of
the LORD,*
and let all flesh bless his holy name
forever and | ever.
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

146

- <sup>1</sup> Praise | the LORD!*
Praise the LORD, | O my soul!
<sup>2</sup> I will praise the LORD as long | as I live;*
I will sing praises to my God while
I have my | being.
<sup>3</sup> Put not your trust in | princes,*
in a son of man, in whom
there is no sal- | vation.
<sup>4</sup> When his breath departs he returns | to
the earth;*
on that very day his plans | perish.
<sup>5</sup> Blessed is he whose help is the God of | Jacob,*
whose hope is in the | LORD his God, <sup>6</sup> who made heaven and earth, the sea,
and all that is | in them,*
who keeps faith for- | ever;
<sup>7</sup> who executes justice for | the oppressed,*
who gives food to the | hungry.
The LORD sets the prisoners free; <sup>8</sup> the LORD
opens the eyes | of the blind.*
The LORD lifts up those who are bowed down; the LORD loves the | righteous.
<sup>9</sup> The LORD watches over the sojourners;
he upholds the widow and the | fatherless,*
but the way of the wicked
he brings to | ruin.
<sup>10</sup> The LORD will reign for- | ever,*
your God, O Zion,
to all generations. | Praise the LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son***
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,***
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

147

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! For it is good to sing
praises | to our God;*
for it is pleasant, and a song
of praise is | fitting.
- <sup>2</sup> The LORD builds up Je- | rusalem;*
he gathers the outcasts of | Israel.
- <sup>3</sup> He heals the broken- | hearted*
and binds | up their wounds.
- <sup>4</sup> He determines the number | of the stars;*
he gives to all of | them their names.
- <sup>5</sup> Great is our Lord, and abun- | dant
in power;*
his understanding is beyond | measure.
- <sup>6</sup> The LORD lifts up the | humble;*
he casts the wicked | to the ground.
- <sup>7</sup> Sing to the LORD with thanks- | giving;*
make melody to our God | on the lyre!
- <sup>8</sup> He covers the heavens with clouds;
he prepares rain | for the earth;*
he makes grass grow | on the hills.
- <sup>9</sup> He gives to the | beasts their food,*
and to the young ravens | that cry.
- <sup>10</sup> His delight is not in the strength | of the horse,*
nor his pleasure in the legs | of a man, <sup>11</sup> but the LORD takes pleasure in those who | fear him,*
in those who hope in his | steadfast love.
- <sup>12</sup> Praise the LORD, O Je- | rusalem!*
Praise your God, O | Zion!
- <sup>13</sup> For he strengthens the bars | of your gates,*
he blesses your children with- | in you.
- <sup>14</sup> He makes peace in your | borders;*
he fills you with the finest | of the wheat.
- <sup>15</sup> He sends out his command | to the earth;*
his word runs | swiftly.
- <sup>16</sup> He gives | snow like wool;*
he scatters hoarfrost like | ashes.

- <sup>17</sup> He hurls down his crystals of | ice
like crumbs;*
who can stand be- | fore his cold?
- <sup>18</sup> He sends out his word, and | melts them;*
he makes his wind blow
and the | waters flow.
- <sup>19</sup> He declares his word to | Jacob,*
his statutes and just decrees to | Israel.
- <sup>20</sup> He has not dealt thus with any other | nation;*
they do not know his just
decrees. | Praise the LORD!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
and to the Holy | Spirit;
as it was in the be- | ginning,*
is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

148

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! Praise the LORD from
the | heavens;*
praise him | in the heights!
- <sup>2</sup> Praise him, all his | angels;*
praise him, | all his hosts!
- <sup>3</sup> Praise him, | sun and moon,*
praise him, all you | shining stars!
- <sup>4</sup> Praise him, you highest | heavens,*
and you waters above the | heavens!
- <sup>5</sup> Let them praise the name | of the LORD!*
For he commanded and they were cre- | ated.
- <sup>6</sup> And he established them forever
and | ever;*
he gave a decree,
and it shall not | pass away.
- <sup>7</sup> Praise the LORD | from the earth,*
you great sea creatures and | all deeps,
<sup>8</sup> fire and hail, | snow and mist,*
stormy wind fulfill- | ing his word!
- <sup>9</sup> Mountains and | all hills,*
fruit trees and all | cedars!

- <sup>10</sup> Beasts and all | livestock,*
 creeping things and | flying birds!
<sup>11</sup> Kings of the earth and all | peoples,*
 princes and all rulers | of the earth!
<sup>12</sup> Young men and maidens to- | gether,*
 old men and | children!
<sup>13</sup> Let them praise the name of the LORD, for his name alone is ex- | alted,*
 his majesty is above earth and | heaven.
<sup>14</sup> He has raised up a horn for his people, praise for | all his saints,*
 for the people of Israel who are near to
 him. | Praise the LORD!

Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

149

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! Sing to the LORD a | new song,*
 his praise in the assembly of the | godly!
<sup>2</sup> Let Israel be glad in his | Maker;*
 let the children of Zion rejoice | in their King!
<sup>3</sup> Let them praise his name with | dancing,* making melody to him
 with tambou- | rine and lyre!
<sup>4</sup> For the LORD takes pleasure in his | people;*
 he adorns the humble with sal- | vation.
<sup>5</sup> Let the godly exult in | glory,*
 let them sing for joy | on their beds.
<sup>6</sup> Let the high praises of God be | in their throats*
 and two-edged swords | in their hands,

- <sup>7</sup> to execute vengeance on the | nations*
 and punishments on the | peoples,
<sup>8</sup> to bind their | kings with chains*
 and their nobles with fet- | ters of iron,
<sup>9</sup> to execute on them the judgment | written!*
 This is honor for all his
 godly ones. | Praise the LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

150

- <sup>1</sup> Praise the LORD! Praise God
 in his sanctu- | ary;*
 praise him in his mighty | heavens!
<sup>2</sup> Praise him for his | mighty deeds,* praise him according to his excellent | greatness!
<sup>3</sup> Praise him with | trumpet sound,*
 praise him with | lute and harp!
<sup>4</sup> Praise him with tambou- | rine and dance;*
 praise him with | strings and pipe!
<sup>5</sup> Praise him with sounding | cymbals,*
 praise him with loud clashing | cymbals!
<sup>6</sup> Let everything that has breath | praise
 the LORD!*
 Praise | the LORD!
Glory be to the Father and | to the Son*
 and to the Holy | Spirit;
 as it was in the be- | ginning,*
 is now, and will be forever. | Amen.

OLD TESTAMENT CANTICLES

Exodus 15:1–18

Antiphon or Refrain: I will sing to the LORD, for he has triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider he has thrown into the sea.

- <sup>1</sup> The LORD is my strength and my song, and he has become my salvation;
- <sup>2</sup> this is my God, and I will praise him, my father's God, and I will exalt him.
- <sup>3</sup> The LORD is a man of war; the LORD is his name.
- <sup>4</sup> Pharaoh's chariots and his host he cast into the sea, and his chosen officers were sunk in the Red Sea.
- <sup>5</sup> The floods covered them; they went down into the depths like a stone.
- <sup>6</sup> Your right hand, O LORD, glorious in power, your right hand, O LORD, shatters the enemy.
- <sup>7</sup> In the greatness of your majesty you overthrow your adversaries; you send out your fury; it consumes them like stubble.
- <sup>8</sup> At the blast of your nostrils the waters piled up; the floods stood up in a heap; the deeps congealed in the heart of the sea.
- <sup>9</sup> The enemy said, 'I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil, my desire shall have its fill of them. I will draw my sword; my hand shall destroy them.'
- <sup>10</sup> You blew with your wind; the sea covered them; they sank like lead in the mighty waters.

- <sup>11</sup> Who is like you, O LORD, among the gods? Who is like you, majestic in holiness, awesome in glorious deeds, doing wonders?
- <sup>12</sup> You stretched out your right hand; the earth swallowed them.
- <sup>13</sup> You have led in your steadfast love the people whom you have redeemed; you have guided them by your strength to your holy abode.
- <sup>14</sup> The peoples have heard; they tremble; pangs have seized the inhabitants of Philistia.
- <sup>15</sup> Now are the chiefs of Edom dismayed; trembling seizes the leaders of Moab; all the inhabitants of Canaan have melted away.
- <sup>16</sup> Terror and dread fall upon them; because of the greatness of your arm, they are still as a stone, till your people, O LORD, pass by, till the people pass by whom you have purchased.
- <sup>17</sup> You will bring them in and plant them on your own mountain, the place, O LORD, which you have made for your abode, the sanctuary, O LORD, which your hands have established.
- <sup>18</sup> The LORD will reign forever and ever." Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Deuteronomy 32:1–18

Antiphon or Refrain: I will proclaim the name of the LORD; ascribe greatness to our God!

- <sup>1</sup> “Give ear, O heavens, and I will speak, and let the earth hear the words of my mouth.
<sup>2</sup> May my teaching drop as the rain, my speech distill as the dew, like gentle rain upon the tender grass, and like showers upon the herb.
<sup>3</sup> For I will proclaim the name of the LORD; ascribe greatness to our God!
<sup>4</sup> “The Rock, his work is perfect, for all his ways are justice. A God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and upright is he.
<sup>5</sup> They have dealt corruptly with him; they are no longer his children because they are blemished; they are a crooked and twisted generation.
<sup>6</sup> Do you thus repay the LORD, you foolish and senseless people? Is not he your father, who created you, who made you and established you?
<sup>7</sup> Remember the days of old; consider the years of many generations; ask your father, and he will show you, your elders, and they will tell you.
<sup>8</sup> When the Most High gave to the nations their inheritance, when he divided mankind, he fixed the borders of the peoples according to the number of the sons of God.
<sup>9</sup> But the LORD’s portion is his people, Jacob his allotted heritage.
<sup>10</sup> “He found him in a desert land, and in the howling waste of the wilderness; he encircled him, he cared for him, he kept him as the apple of his eye.
<sup>11</sup> Like an eagle that stirs up its nest, that flutters over its young, spreading out its wings, catching them, bearing them on its pinions,

- <sup>12</sup> the LORD alone guided him, no foreign god was with him.
<sup>13</sup> He made him ride on the high places of the land, and he ate the produce of the field, and he suckled him with honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock.
<sup>14</sup> Curds from the herd, and milk from the flock, with fat of lambs, rams of Bashan and goats, with the very finest of the wheat— and you drank foaming wine made from the blood of the grape.
<sup>15</sup> “But Jeshurun grew fat, and kicked; you grew fat, stout, and sleek; then he forsook God who made him and scoffed at the Rock of his salvation.
<sup>16</sup> They stirred him to jealousy with strange gods; with abominations they provoked him to anger.
<sup>17</sup> They sacrificed to demons that were no gods, to gods they had never known, to new gods that had come recently, whom your fathers had never dreaded.
<sup>18</sup> You were unmindful of the Rock that bore you, and you forgot the God who gave you birth.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Deuteronomy 32:19–43

Antiphon or Refrain: The LORD will vindicate His people and have compassion on His servants.

- <sup>1</sup> “The LORD saw it and spurned them, because of the provocation of his sons and his daughters.
<sup>2</sup> And he said, ‘I will hide my face from them; I will see what their end will be, For they are a perverse generation, children in whom is no faithfulness.
<sup>3</sup> They have made me jealous with what is no god; they have provoked me to anger with

- their idols. So I will make them jealous with those who are no people; I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation.
- <sup>4</sup> For a fire is kindled by my anger, and it burns to the depths of Sheol, devours the earth and its increase, and sets on fire the foundations of the mountains.
- <sup>5</sup> “And I will heap disasters upon them; I will spend my arrows on them;
- <sup>6</sup> they shall be wasted with hunger, and devoured by plague and poisonous pestilence; I will send the teeth of beasts against them, with the venom of things that crawl in the dust.
- <sup>7</sup> Outdoors the sword shall bereave, and indoors terror, for young man and woman alike, the nursing child with the man of gray hairs.
- <sup>8</sup> I would have said, “I will cut them to pieces; I will wipe them from human memory,”
- <sup>9</sup> had I not feared provocation by the enemy, lest their adversaries should misunderstand, lest they should say, “Our hand is triumphant, it was not the LORD who did all this.”’
- <sup>10</sup> “For they are a nation void of counsel, and there is no understanding in them.
- <sup>11</sup> If they were wise, they would understand this; they would discern their latter end!
- <sup>12</sup> How could one have chased a thousand, and two have put ten thousand to flight, unless their Rock had sold them, and the LORD had given them up?
- <sup>13</sup> For their rock is not as our Rock; our enemies are by themselves.
- <sup>14</sup> For their vine comes from the vine of Sodom and from the fields of Gomorrah; their grapes are grapes of poison; their clusters are bitter;
- <sup>15</sup> their wine is the poison of serpents and the cruel venom of asps.
- <sup>16</sup> “Is not this laid up in store with me, sealed up in my treasuries?
- <sup>17</sup> Vengeance is mine, and recompense, for the time when their foot shall slip; for the day of their calamity is at hand, and their doom comes swiftly.’
- <sup>18</sup> For the LORD will vindicate his people and have compassion on his servants, when he sees that their power is gone and there is none remaining, bond or free.
- <sup>19</sup> Then he will say, ‘Where are their gods, the rock in which they took refuge,
- <sup>20</sup> who ate the fat of their sacrifices and drank the wine of their drink offering? Let them rise up and help you; let them be your protection!
- <sup>21</sup> “See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god beside me; I kill and I make alive; I wound and I heal; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand.
- <sup>22</sup> For I lift up my hand to heaven and swear, As I live forever,
- <sup>23</sup> if I sharpen my flashing sword and my hand takes hold on judgment, I will take vengeance on my adversaries and will repay those who hate me.
- <sup>24</sup> I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh—with the blood of the slain and the captives, from the long-haired heads of the enemy.’
- <sup>25</sup> Rejoice with him, O heavens; bow down to him, all gods, for he avenges the blood of his children and takes vengeance on his adversaries. He repays those who hate him and cleanses his people’s land.”
- Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

1 Samuel 2:1–10

Antiphon or Refrain: My heart exults in the LORD; I rejoice in your salvation.

- <sup>1</sup> My heart exults in the LORD; my strength is exalted in the LORD. My mouth derides my enemies, because I rejoice in your salvation.
- <sup>2</sup> There is none holy like the LORD; there is none besides you; there is no rock like our God.
- <sup>3</sup> Talk no more so very proudly, let not arrogance come from your mouth; for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and by his actions are weighed.
- <sup>4</sup> The bows of the mighty are broken, but the feeble bind on strength.
- <sup>5</sup> Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, but those who were hungry have ceased to hunger. The barren has borne seven, but she who has many children is forlorn.
- <sup>6</sup> The LORD kills and brings to life; he brings down to Sheol and raises up.
- <sup>7</sup> The LORD makes poor and makes rich; he brings low and he exalts.
- <sup>8</sup> He raises up the poor from the dust; he lifts the needy from the ash heap to make them sit with princes and inherit a seat of honor. For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, and on them he has set the world.
- <sup>9</sup> "He will guard the feet of his faithful ones, but the wicked shall be cut off in darkness, for not by might shall a man prevail.
- <sup>10</sup> The adversaries of the LORD shall be broken to pieces; against them he will thunder in heaven. The LORD will judge the ends of the earth; he will give strength to his king and exalt the power of his anointed."

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

1 Chronicles 29:10–13

Antiphon or Refrain: We thank you, our God, and praise your glorious name.

- <sup>1</sup> "Blessed are you, O LORD, the God of Israel our father, forever and ever.
- <sup>2</sup> Yours, O LORD, is the greatness and the power and the glory and the victory and the majesty, for all that is in the heavens and in the earth is yours. Yours is the kingdom, O LORD, and you are exalted as head above all.
- <sup>3</sup> Both riches and honor come from you, and you rule over all. In your hand are power and might, and in your hand it is to make great and to give strength to all.
- <sup>4</sup> And now we thank you, our God, and praise your glorious name."

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Isaiah 9:2–7

Antiphon or Refrain: For to us a child is born, to us a son is given.

- <sup>1</sup> The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness, on them has light shined.
- <sup>2</sup> You have multiplied the nation; you have increased its joy; they rejoice before you as with joy at the harvest, as they are glad when they divide the spoil.
- <sup>3</sup> For the yoke of his burden, and the staff for his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, you have broken as on the day of Midian.
- <sup>4</sup> For every boot of the tramping warrior in battle tumult and every garment rolled in blood will be burned as fuel for the fire.
- <sup>5</sup> For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called

Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God,
Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

<sup>6</sup> Of the increase of his government and of peace there will be no end, on the throne of David and over his kingdom, to establish it and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from this time forth and forevermore. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Isaiah 11:1–9

Antiphon or Refrain: There shall come forth a shoot from the stump of Jesse, and a branch from his roots shall bear fruit.

<sup>2</sup> And the Spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and might, the Spirit of knowledge and the fear of the LORD.

<sup>3</sup> And his delight shall be in the fear of the LORD. He shall not judge by what his eyes see, or decide disputes by what his ears hear,

<sup>4</sup> but with righteousness he shall judge the poor, and decide with equity for the meek of the earth; and he shall strike the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips he shall kill the wicked.

<sup>6</sup> The wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the young goat, and the calf and the lion and the fattened calf together; and a little child shall lead them.

<sup>7</sup> The cow and the bear shall graze; their young shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

<sup>8</sup> The nursing child shall play over the hole of the cobra, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the adder's den.

<sup>9</sup> They shall not hurt or destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD as the waters cover the sea.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Isaiah 12:1–6

Antiphon or Refrain: Sing praises to the LORD, for he has done gloriously.

<sup>1</sup> You will say in that day: "I will give thanks to you, O LORD, for though you were angry with me, your anger turned away, that you might comfort me.

<sup>2</sup> Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and will not be afraid; for the LORD GOD is my strength and my song, and he has become my salvation."

<sup>4</sup> And you will say in that day: "Give thanks to the LORD, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the peoples, proclaim that his name is exalted.

<sup>5</sup> Sing praises to the LORD, for he has done gloriously; let this be made known in all the earth.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Isaiah 38:10–20

Antiphon or Refrain: The LORD will save me, and we will play my music on stringed instruments all the days of our lives, at the house of the LORD.

- <sup>1</sup> I said, In the middle of my days I must depart; I am consigned to the gates of Sheol for the rest of my years.
- <sup>2</sup> I said, I shall not see the LORD, the LORD in the land of the living; I shall look on man no more among the inhabitants of the world.
- <sup>3</sup> My dwelling is plucked up and removed from me like a shepherd's tent; like a weaver I have rolled up my life; he cuts me off from the loom; from day to night you bring me to an end;
- <sup>4</sup> I calmed myself until morning; like a lion he breaks all my bones; from day to night you bring me to an end.
- <sup>5</sup> Like a swallow or a crane I chirp; I moan like a dove. My eyes are weary with looking upward. O Lord, I am oppressed; be my pledge of safety!
- <sup>6</sup> What shall I say? For he has spoken to me, and he himself has done it. I walk slowly all my years because of the bitterness of my soul.
- <sup>7</sup> O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these is the life of my spirit. Oh restore me to health and make me live!
- <sup>8</sup> Behold, it was for my welfare that I had great bitterness; but in love you have delivered my life from the pit of destruction, for you have cast all my sins behind your back.
- <sup>9</sup> For Sheol does not thank you; death does not praise you; those who go down to the pit do not hope for your faithfulness.
- <sup>10</sup> The living, the living, he thanks you, as I do this day; the father makes known to the children your faithfulness.

- <sup>11</sup> The LORD will save me, and we will play my music on stringed instruments all the days of our lives, at the house of the LORD. Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Isaiah 45:15–25

Antiphon or Refrain: Turn to me and be saved, all the ends of the earth! For I am God, and there is no other.

- <sup>1</sup> Truly, you are a God who hides himself, O God of Israel, the Savior.
- <sup>2</sup> All of them are put to shame and confounded; the makers of idols go in confusion together.
- <sup>3</sup> But Israel is saved by the LORD with everlasting salvation; you shall not be put to shame or confounded to all eternity.
- <sup>4</sup> For thus says the LORD, who created the heavens (he is God!), who formed the earth and made it (he established it; he did not create it empty, he formed it to be inhabited!): I am the LORD, and there is no other.
- <sup>5</sup> I did not speak in secret, in a land of darkness; I did not say to the offspring of Jacob, 'Seek me in vain.' I the LORD speak the truth; I declare what is right.
- <sup>6</sup> Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together, you survivors of the nations! They have no knowledge who carry about their wooden idols, and keep on praying to a god that cannot save.
- <sup>7</sup> Declare and present your case; let them take counsel together! Who told this long ago? Who declared it of old? Was it not I, the LORD? And there is no other god besides me, a righteous God and a Savior; there is none besides me.
- <sup>8</sup> Turn to me and be saved, all the ends of the earth! For I am God, and there is no other.

<sup>9</sup> By myself I have sworn; from my mouth has gone out in righteousness a word that shall not return: ‘To me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear allegiance.’

<sup>10</sup> Only in the LORD, it shall be said of me, are righteousness and strength; to him shall come and be ashamed all who were incensed against him.

<sup>11</sup> In the LORD all the offspring of Israel shall be justified and shall glory.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Jonah 2:2–9

Antiphon or Refrain: Salvation belongs to the LORD!

<sup>1</sup> I called out to the LORD, out of my distress, and he answered me; out of the belly of Sheol I cried, and you heard my voice.

<sup>2</sup> For you cast me into the deep, into the heart of the seas, and the flood surrounded me; all your waves and your billows passed over me.

<sup>3</sup> Then I said, ‘I am driven away from your sight; yet I shall again look upon your holy temple.’

<sup>4</sup> The waters closed in over me to take my life; the deep surrounded me; weeds were wrapped about my head

<sup>5</sup> at the roots of the mountains. I went down to the land whose bars closed upon me forever; yet you brought up my life from the pit, O LORD my God.

<sup>6</sup> When my life was fainting away, I remembered the LORD, and my prayer came to you, into your holy temple.

<sup>8</sup> But I with the voice of thanksgiving will sacrifice to you; what I have vowed I will pay. Salvation belongs to the LORD!

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Jeremiah 31:10–14

Antiphon or Refrain: For the LORD has ransomed Jacob and has redeemed him from hands too strong for him.

<sup>1</sup> “Hear the word of the LORD, O nations, and declare it in the coastlands far away; say, ‘He who scattered Israel will gather him, and will keep him as a shepherd keeps his flock.’

<sup>2</sup> For the LORD has ransomed Jacob and has redeemed him from hands too strong for him.

<sup>3</sup> They shall come and sing aloud on the height of Zion, and they shall be radiant over the goodness of the LORD, over the grain, the wine, and the oil, and over the young of the flock and the herd; their life shall be like a watered garden, and they shall languish no more.

<sup>4</sup> Then shall the young women rejoice in the dance, and the young men and the old shall be merry. I will turn their mourning into joy; I will comfort them, and give them gladness for sorrow.

<sup>5</sup> I will feast the soul of the priests with abundance, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, declares the LORD.”

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Habakkuk 3:2–11

Antiphon or Refrain: His splendor covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

- <sup>1</sup> O LORD, I have heard the report of you, and your work, O LORD, do I fear. In the midst of the years revive it; in the midst of the years make it known; in wrath remember mercy.
- <sup>2</sup> God came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. His splendor covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.
- <sup>3</sup> His brightness was like the light; rays flashed from his hand; and there he veiled his power.
- <sup>4</sup> Before him went pestilence, and plague followed at his heels.
- <sup>5</sup> He stood and measured the earth; he looked and shook the nations; then the eternal mountains were scattered; the everlasting hills sank low. His were the everlasting ways.
- <sup>6</sup> I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction; the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.
- <sup>7</sup> Was your wrath against the rivers, O LORD? Was your anger against the rivers, or your indignation against the sea, when you rode on your horses, on your chariot of salvation?
- <sup>8</sup> You stripped the sheath from your bow, calling for many arrows. You split the earth with rivers.
- <sup>9</sup> The mountains saw you and writhed; the raging waters swept on; the deep gave forth its voice; it lifted its hands on high.
- <sup>10</sup> The sun and moon stood still in their place at the light of your arrows as they sped, at the flash of your glittering spear.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Habakkuk 3:13–19

Antiphon or Refrain: I will rejoice in the LORD; I will take joy in the God of my salvation.

- <sup>1</sup> You went out for the salvation of your people, for the salvation of your anointed. You crushed the head of the house of the wicked, laying him bare from thigh to neck.
- <sup>2</sup> You pierced with his own arrows the heads of his warriors, who came like a whirlwind to scatter me, rejoicing as if to devour the poor in secret.
- <sup>3</sup> You trampled the sea with your horses, the surging of mighty waters.
- <sup>4</sup> I hear, and my body trembles; my lips quiver at the sound; rottenness enters into my bones; my legs tremble beneath me. Yet I will quietly wait for the day of trouble to come upon people who invade us.
- <sup>5</sup> Though the fig tree should not blossom, nor fruit be on the vines, the produce of the olive fail and the fields yield no food, the flock be cut off from the fold and there be no herd in the stalls,
- <sup>6</sup> yet I will rejoice in the LORD; I will take joy in the God of my salvation.
- <sup>7</sup> GOD, the Lord, is my strength; he makes my feet like the deer's; he makes me tread on my high places.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

LITURGICAL CANTICLES

Venite (Matins)—Psalm 95:1–7

- <sup>1</sup> O come, let us sing to the Lord, let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation. Let us come into His presence with thanksgiving, let us make a joyful noise to Him with songs of praise.
- <sup>2</sup> For the Lord is a great God and a great king above all gods. The deep places of the earth are in His hand; the strength of the hills is His also.
- <sup>3</sup> The sea is His, for He made it, and His hand formed the dry land. O come, let us worship and bow down, let us kneel before the Lord, our maker.
- <sup>4</sup> For He is our God, and we are the people of His pasture and the sheep of His hand. Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Te Deum (Matins)

- <sup>1</sup> We praise You, O God; we acknowledge You to be the Lord, All the earth now worships You, the Father everlasting. To You all angels cry aloud, the heavens and all the pow'rs therein. To You cherubim and seraphim continually do cry:
- <sup>2</sup> Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Sabaoth; heaven and earth are full of the majesty of Your glory. The glorious company of the apostles praise You. The goodly fellowship of the prophets praise You.
- <sup>3</sup> The noble army of martyrs praise You. The holy Church throughout all the world does acknowledge You: The Father of an infinite majesty; Your adorable, true, and only Son; also the Holy Ghost, the Comforter.
- <sup>4</sup> You are the king of glory, O Christ; You are the everlasting Son of the Father.

- <sup>5</sup> When You took upon Yourself to deliver man, You humbled Yourself to be born of a virgin. When You had overcome the sharpness of death, You opened the kingdom of heaven to all believers.
- <sup>6</sup> You sit at the right hand of God in the glory of the Father. We believe that You will come to be our judge.
- <sup>7</sup> We therefore pray You to help Your servants, whom You have redeemed with Your precious blood. Make them to be numbered with Your saints in glory everlasting.
- <sup>8</sup> O Lord, save Your people and bless Your heritage. Govern them and lift them up forever. Day by day we magnify You. And we worship Your name forever and ever.
- <sup>9</sup> Grant, O Lord, to keep us this day without sin. O Lord, have mercy upon us, have mercy upon us. O Lord, let Your mercy be upon us, as our trust is in You. O Lord, in You have I trusted; let me never be confounded.

The Benedictus (Matins)—Luke 1:68–79

- <sup>1</sup> Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for He has visited and redeemed His people and has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of His servant David,
- <sup>2</sup> as He spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets, who have been since the world began: that we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us;
- <sup>3</sup> to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember His holy covenant, the oath that He swore to our father Abraham, to grant us that we,

<sup>4</sup> being delivered from the hand of our enemies, might serve Him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before Him all the days of our life.

<sup>5</sup> And you, child, will be called the prophet of the Most High; for you will go before the Lord to prepare His ways; to give knowledge of salvation to His people in the forgiveness of their sins,

<sup>6</sup> through the tender mercy of our God; when the day shall dawn upon us from on high to give light to those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet in the way of peace.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

The Magnificat (Vespers)—Luke 1:46–55

<sup>1</sup> My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit rejoices in God, my Savior;

<sup>3</sup> For behold, from this day all generations will call me blessed.

<sup>4</sup> For the Mighty One has done great things to me, and holy is His name;

<sup>5</sup> and His mercy is on those who fear Him from generation to generation.

<sup>6</sup> He has shown strength with His arm; He has scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

<sup>7</sup> He has cast down the mighty from their thrones and has exalted the lowly.

<sup>8</sup> He has filled the hungry with good things, and the rich He has sent empty away.

<sup>9</sup> He has helped His servant Israel in remembrance of His mercy as He spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed forever.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Nunc Dimittis (Post-Communion Canticle)—Luke 2:29–32

Lord, now You let Your servant go in peace; Your word has been fulfilled. My own eyes have seen the salvation which You have prepared in the sight of ev'ry people: A light to reveal You to the nations and the glory of Your people Israel.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now and be forever. Amen.

Athanasian Creed

<sup>2</sup> Whoever does not keep it whole and undefiled will without doubt perish eternally.

<sup>4</sup> that we worship one God in Trinity and Trinity in Unity, neither confusing the persons nor dividing the substance.

<sup>5</sup> For the Father is one person, the Son is another, and the Holy Spirit is another.

<sup>6</sup> But the Godhead of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit is one: the glory equal, the majesty coeternal.

<sup>7</sup> Such as the Father is, such is the Son, and such is the Holy Spirit:

<sup>8</sup> the Father uncreated, the Son uncreated, the Holy Spirit uncreated;

<sup>9</sup> the Father infinite, the Son infinite, the Holy Spirit infinite.

<sup>10</sup> The Father eternal, the Son eternal, the Holy Spirit eternal.

<sup>11</sup> And yet there are not three eternal but one Eternal, <sup>12</sup> Just as there are not three Uncreated or three Infinities, but One Uncreated and One Infinite.
<sup>13</sup> In the same way the Father is almighty, the Son almighty, and the Holy Spirit almighty;
<sup>14</sup> And yet there are not three Almighty, but one Almighty.
<sup>15</sup> So the Father is God, the Son is God, the Holy Spirit is God;
<sup>16</sup> and yet there are not three Gods, but one God.
<sup>17</sup> So the Father is Lord, the Son is Lord, and the Holy Spirit is Lord;
<sup>18</sup> and yet there are not three Lords, but one Lord.
<sup>19</sup> Just as we are compelled by the Christian truth to acknowledge each distinct person as God and Lord, so also are we prohibited by the catholic religion to say that there are three Gods or Lords.
<sup>21</sup> The Son is neither made nor created, but begotten of the Father alone.
<sup>22</sup> The Holy Spirit is of the Father and of the Son, neither made nor created nor begotten, but proceeding.
<sup>23</sup> Thus, there is one Father, not three Fathers; one Son, not three Sons; one Holy Spirit, not three Holy Spirits.
<sup>24</sup> And in this Trinity none is before or after another; none is greater or less than another;
<sup>25</sup> but the whole three persons are coeternal with each other and coequal, so that in all things, as has been stated above, the Trinity in Unity and Unity in Trinity is to be worshiped.

<sup>26</sup> Therefore, whoever desires to be saved must think thus about the Trinity.
<sup>27</sup> But it is also necessary for everlasting salvation that one faithfully believe the incarnation of our Lord Jesus Christ.
<sup>28</sup> Therefore, it is the right faith that we believe and confess that our Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is at the same time both God and man.
<sup>29</sup> He is God, begotten from the substance of the Father before the ages; and He is man, born from the substance of His mother in this age:
<sup>30</sup> perfect God and perfect man, composed of a rational soul and human flesh;
<sup>31</sup> equal to the Father with respect to His divinity, less than the Father with respect to His humanity.
<sup>32</sup> Although He is God and man, He is not two, but one Christ:
<sup>33</sup> one, however, not by conversion of the divinity into flesh, but by the assumption of the humanity into God;
<sup>34</sup> one altogether, not by confusion of substance, but by unity of person.
<sup>35</sup> For as the rational soul and flesh is one man, so God and man is one Christ,
<sup>36</sup> who suffered for our salvation, descended into hell, rose again the third day from the dead,
<sup>37</sup> ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of the Father, God Almighty, from whence He will come to judge the living and the dead.
<sup>38</sup> At His coming all people will rise again with their bodies and give an account concerning their own deeds.
<sup>39</sup> And those who have done good will enter into eternal life, and those who have done evil into eternal fire.
<sup>40</sup> This is the catholic faith; whoever does not believe it faithfully and firmly cannot be saved.

SCHEDULE OF THE PSALMS FOR THE DAILY OFFICE

---

ODD AND EVEN WEEKS

Over a two-week period, one can sing all 150 psalms during the Divine Office. To do this, they are split between “odd” weeks and “even” weeks.

When the previous Sunday is an odd number (1st week in Lent, 3rd week in Easter, 21st week after Pentecost), the odd-week cycle is used. If the previous Sunday is an even number, then the even-week cycle is used.

LUTHER'S SMALL
CATECHISM

PRAYING LUTHER'S SMALL CATECHISM

---

Dear Christian, do not be content to let the Word of God lie, as if inert, on the page of a book. The Word of God is a lively and life-giving Word. Luther prepared his Small Catechism to put the Word of God not only in your heart but on your lips. You may have thought of the Small Catechism as a textbook to be studied in preparation for confirmation and set aside thereafter. But Luther designed his summary of Christian doctrine to serve the Christian not only as a textbook to be studied but even more as a prayer book and an operator's manual for daily living.

Luther's Small Catechism is divided into Six Chief Parts. The first three, the Ten Commandments, the Apostles' Creed, and the Lord's Prayer, provide the very shape of the Christian life.

The Ten Commandments are a summary of God's word of Law, by which He tells you what you are to do and not do. In the praying of these commands, the Lord teaches you that you are a sinner who does not love and trust in Him above all things and who does not live in the way He created you to live. The Commandments are words of repentance and are important words to include in our prayers because they teach you that it is impossible to save yourself.

The Apostles' Creed, in turn, is a summary of God's word of Gospel. It is a word of faith that confesses what the Holy Trinity has done, is doing, and will do for you, your life, and your salvation—centering in the person and work of Jesus Christ.

When you pray the Creed, you give glory to God and learn to think of yourself the way God thinks of you in Christ. You edify and encourage people around you as you recount to them the saving deeds of God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.

In the Lord's Prayer, the Christian is taught by Jesus to call upon God "with all boldness and confidence . . . as dear children ask their dear father," using the very commands and promises of God Himself. Praying in this way is living the holy life—a life that has been made holy by the Word that has taken residence in you, entering your ear, lodging in your heart, and sounding forth from your lips.

These first three parts shape the Christian life of repentance, faith, and holy living. The last three parts teach you how this Christian life is brought to you and sustained in you.

In the next section, Luther teaches Confession and Absolution as the practice of living in the truth. When you confess your sins, you are telling the truth about yourself. You are saying what God says about you in His Law, that you are a sinner who deserves nothing but temporal and eternal punishment. When you receive Absolution, you are hearing an even greater truth about yourself: namely, that Christ has taken away your sin and you stand forgiven. You receive forgiveness from the pastor as from God Himself, for it is Christ who is speaking to you through the Absolution you hear.

The last of the Six Chief Parts shows us the Sacrament of the Altar is the very body and blood of Christ, who was given into death for your sin and raised to life for your justification. Eaten and drunk in faith, trusting what the Lord promises to give with His body and blood—the forgiveness of sins, life, and salvation—the faith received in Baptism is supported and strengthened.

These parts teach the ways in which Christ and all His benefits are brought to bear upon you, taking root and sustaining you in the Christian life. The remaining sections of the Small Catechism, the Daily Prayers, and the Table of Duties continue to teach and train you in a life of daily prayer and service to both God and neighbor.

The Small Catechism summarizes the entire Holy Scriptures and puts them in a prayable form so as to be readily heard with your ears, believed in your heart, and spoken by your lips. As you pray and meditate upon these chief parts, the catechism teaches you how to live the new life given you in your Baptism. Because you have been made a new person in Christ, the old Adam in you is not to be indulged, tolerated, or even reformed. The baptismal life calls for the mortification of your old Adam through daily contrition and repentance and the living of that new life that clings to Christ for the forgiveness of sins.

As you learn to use this prayer book, consider and take to heart the words of Dr. Luther: “But for myself I say this: I am also a doctor and preacher; yes, as learned and experienced as all the people who have such assumptions and contentment. Yet I act as a child who is being taught the catechism. Every morning—and whenever I have time—I read and say, word for word, the Ten Commandments, the Creed, the Lord’s Prayer, the Psalms, and such. I must still read and study them daily. Yet I cannot master the catechism as I wish. But I must remain a child and pupil of the catechism, and am glad to remain so” (LC Preface 7–8; Concordia, p. 353). May such gladness be yours.

SECTION 1 THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

AS THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY SHOULD TEACH THEM IN A SIMPLE WAY TO HIS HOUSEHOLD

The First Commandment

You shall have no other gods.

What does this mean?

We should fear, love, and trust in God above all things.

The Second Commandment

You shall not misuse the name of the Lord your God.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not curse, swear, use satanic arts, lie, or deceive by His name, but call upon it in every trouble, pray, praise, and give thanks.

The Third Commandment

Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not despise preaching and His Word, but hold it sacred and gladly hear and learn it.

The Fourth Commandment

Honor your father and your mother.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not despise or anger our parents and other authorities, but honor them, serve and obey them, love and cherish them.

The Fifth Commandment

You shall not murder.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not hurt or harm our neighbor in his body, but help and support him in every physical need.

The Sixth Commandment

You shall not commit adultery.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we lead a sexually pure and decent life in what we say and do, and husband and wife love and honor each other.

The Seventh Commandment

You shall not steal.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not take our neighbor's money or possessions, or get them in any dishonest way, but help him to improve and protect his possessions and income.

The Eighth Commandment

You shall not give false testimony against your neighbor.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not tell lies about our neighbor, betray him, slander him, or hurt his reputation, but defend him, speak well of him, and explain everything in the kindest way.

The Ninth Commandment

You shall not covet your neighbor's house.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not scheme to get our neighbor's inheritance or house, or get it in a way which only appears right, but help and be of service to him in keeping it.

The Tenth Commandment

You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maid-servant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not entice or force away our neighbor's wife, workers, or animals, or turn them against him, but urge them to stay and do their duty.

[The text of the commandments is from Exodus 20:3, 7, 8, 12-17.]

The Close of the Commandments

What does God say about all these commandments?

He says: "I, the Lord your God, am a jealous God, punishing the children for the sin of the fathers to the third and fourth generation of those who hate Me, but showing love to a thousand generations of those who love Me and keep My commandments." [Exodus 20:5-6]

What does this mean?

God threatens to punish all who break these commandments. Therefore, we should fear His wrath and not do anything against them. But He promises grace and every blessing to all who keep these commandments. Therefore, we should also love and trust in Him and gladly do what He commands.

THE CREED

AS THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY SHOULD TEACH IT IN A SIMPLE WAY TO HIS HOUSEHOLD

The First Article

Creation

I believe in God, the Father Almighty,
Maker of heaven and earth.

What does this mean?

I believe that God has made me and all creatures; that He has given me my body and soul, eyes, ears, and all my members, my reason and all my senses, and still takes care
of them.

He also gives me clothing and shoes, food and drink, house and home, wife and children, land, animals, and all I have. He richly and daily provides me with all that I need to support this body and life.

He defends me against all danger and guards and protects me from all evil. All this He does only out of fatherly, divine goodness and mercy, without any merit or worthiness in me. For all this it is my duty to thank and praise, serve and obey Him.

This is most certainly true.

The Second Article

Redemption

And in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried. He descended into hell. The third day He rose again from the dead. He ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty. From thence He will come to judge the living and the dead.

What does this mean?

I believe that Jesus Christ, true God, begotten of the Father from eternity, and also true man, born of the Virgin Mary, is my Lord,

who has redeemed me, a lost and condemned person, purchased and won me from all sins, from death, and from the power of the devil; not with gold or silver, but with His holy, precious blood and with His innocent suffering and death,

that I may be His own and live under Him
in His kingdom and serve Him in everlasting righteousness, innocence, and blessedness,

just as He is risen from the dead, lives
and reigns to all eternity.

This is most certainly true.

The Third Article

Sanctification

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy Christian church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

What does this mean?

I believe that I cannot by my own reason or strength believe in Jesus Christ, my Lord, or come to Him; but the Holy Spirit has called me by the Gospel, enlightened me with His gifts, sanctified and kept me in the true faith.

In the same way He calls, gathers, enlightens, and sanctifies the whole Christian church on earth, and keeps it with Jesus Christ in the one true faith.

In this Christian Church He daily and richly forgives all my sins and the sins of all believers.

On the Last Day He will raise me and all the dead, and give eternal life to me and all believers in Christ.

This is most certainly true.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

AS THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY SHOULD TEACH IT IN A SIMPLE WAY TO HIS HOUSEHOLD

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever and ever. Amen.

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Your name, Your kingdom come, Your will be done on earth as in heaven. Give us today our daily bread. Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are Yours now and forever. Amen.

The Introduction

Our Father who art in heaven.
Our Father in heaven.

What does this mean?

With these words God tenderly invites us to believe that He is our true Father and that we are His true children, so that with all boldness and confidence we may ask Him as dear children ask their dear father.

The First Petition

Hallowed be Thy name.
Hallowed be Your name.

What does this mean?

God's name is certainly holy in itself, but we pray in this petition that it may be kept holy among us also.

How is God's name kept holy?
God's name is kept holy when the Word of God is taught in its truth and purity, and we, as the children of God, also lead holy lives according to it. Help us to do this, dear Father in heaven! But anyone who teaches or lives contrary to God's Word profanes the name of God among us. Protect us from this, heavenly Father!

The Second Petition

Thy kingdom come.
Your kingdom come.

What does this mean?

The kingdom of God certainly comes by itself without our prayer, but we pray in this petition that it may come to us also.

How does God's kingdom come?

God's kingdom comes when our heavenly Father gives us His Holy Spirit, so that by His grace we believe His holy Word and lead godly lives here in time and there in eternity.

The Third Petition

Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.
Your will be done on earth as in heaven.

What does this mean?

The good and gracious will of God is done even without our prayer, but we pray in this petition that it may be done among us also.

How is God's will done?

God's will is done when He breaks and hinders every evil plan and purpose of the devil, the world, and our sinful nature, which do not want us to hallow God's name or let His kingdom come; and when He strengthens and keeps us firm in His Word and faith until we die. This is His good and gracious will.

The Fourth Petition

Give us this day our daily bread.

Give us today our daily bread.

What does this mean?

God certainly gives daily bread to everyone without our prayers, even to all evil people, but we pray in this petition that God would lead us to realize this and to receive our daily bread with thanksgiving.

What is meant by daily bread?

Daily bread includes everything that has to do with the support and needs of the body, such as food, drink, clothing, shoes, house, home, land, animals, money, goods, a devout husband or wife, devout children, devout workers, devout and faithful rulers, good government, good weather, peace, health, self-control, good reputation, good friends, faithful neighbors, and the like.

The Fifth Petition

And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us.

Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us.

What does this mean?

We pray in this petition that our Father in heaven would not look at our sins, or deny our prayer because of them. We are neither worthy of the things for which we pray, nor have we deserved them, but we ask that He would give them all to us by grace, for we daily sin much and surely deserve nothing but punishment. So we too will sincerely forgive and gladly do good to those who sin against us.

The Sixth Petition

And lead us not into temptation.

Lead us not into temptation.

What does this mean?

God tempts no one. We pray in this petition that God would guard and keep us so that the devil, the world, and our sinful nature may not deceive us or mislead us into false belief, despair, and other great shame and vice. Although we are attacked by these things, we pray that we may finally overcome them and win the victory.

The Seventh Petition

But deliver us from evil.

But deliver us from evil.

What does this mean?

We pray in this petition, in summary, that our Father in heaven would rescue us from every evil of body and soul, possessions and reputation, and finally, when our last hour comes, give us a blessed end, and graciously take us from this valley of sorrow to Himself in heaven.

The Conclusion

For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever and ever.* Amen.

*For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are Yours now and forever.* Amen.*

What does this mean?

This means that I should be certain that these petitions are pleasing to our Father in heaven, and are heard by Him; for He Himself has commanded us to pray in this way and has promised to hear us. Amen, amen means “yes, yes, it shall be so.”

* These words were not in Luther's Small Catechism.

THE SACRAMENT OF HOLY BAPTISM

AS THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY SHOULD TEACH IT IN A SIMPLE WAY TO HIS HOUSEHOLD

First

What is Baptism?

Baptism is not just plain water, but it is the water included in God's command and combined with God's word.

Which is that word of God?

Christ our Lord says in the last chapter of Matthew: "Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit." [Matthew 28:19]

Second

What benefits does Baptism give?

It works forgiveness of sins, rescues from death and the devil, and gives eternal salvation to all who believe this, as the words and promises of God declare.

Which are these words and promises of God?

Christ our Lord says in the last chapter of Mark: "Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned." [Mark 16:16]

Third

How can water do such great things?

Certainly not just water, but the word of God in and with the water does these things, along with the faith which trusts this word of God in the water. For without God's word the water is plain water and no Baptism. But with the word of God it is a Baptism, that is, a life-giving water, rich in grace, and a washing of the new birth in the Holy Spirit, as St. Paul says in Titus, chapter three:

"He saved us through the washing of rebirth and renewal by the Holy Spirit, whom He poured out on us generously through Jesus Christ our Savior, so that, having been justified by His grace, we might become heirs having the hope of eternal life. This is a trustworthy saying." [Titus 3:5-8]

Fourth

What does such baptizing with water indicate?

It indicates that the Old Adam in us should by daily contrition and repentance be drowned and die with all sins and evil desires, and that a new man should daily emerge and arise to live before God in righteousness and purity forever.

Where is this written?

St. Paul writes in Romans chapter six: "We were therefore buried with Him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life." [Romans 6:4]

CONFESSION

HOW CHRISTIANS SHOULD BE TAUGHT TO CONFESS

What is Confession?

Confession has two parts.

First, that we confess our sins, and second, that we receive absolution, that is, forgiveness, from the pastor as from God Himself, not doubting, but firmly believing that by it our sins are forgiven before God in heaven.

What sins should we confess?

Before God we should plead guilty of all sins, even those we are not aware of, as we do in the Lord's Prayer; but before the pastor we should confess only those sins which we know and feel in our hearts.

Which are these?

Consider your place in life according to the Ten Commandments: Are you a father, mother, son, daughter, husband, wife, or worker? Have you been disobedient, unfaithful, or lazy? Have you been hot-tempered, rude, or quarrelsome? Have you hurt someone by your words or deeds? Have you stolen, been negligent, wasted anything, or done any harm?

*What is the Office of the Keys?**

The Office of the Keys is that special authority which Christ has given to His church on earth to forgive the sins of repentant sinners, but to withhold forgiveness from the unrepentant as long as they do not repent.

*Where is this written?**

This is what St. John the Evangelist writes in chapter twenty: The Lord Jesus breathed on His disciples and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive anyone his sins, they are forgiven; if you do not forgive them, they are not forgiven." [John 20:22-23]

*What do you believe according to these words?**

I believe that when the called ministers of Christ deal with us by His divine command, in particular when they exclude openly unrepentant sinners from the Christian congregation and absolve those who repent of their sins and want to do better, this is just as valid and certain, even in heaven, as if Christ our dear Lord dealt with us Himself.

*This question may not have been composed by Luther himself but reflects his teaching and was included in editions of the catechism during his lifetime.

THE SACRAMENT OF THE ALTAR

AS THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY SHOULD TEACH IT IN A SIMPLE WAY TO HIS HOUSEHOLD

What is the Sacrament of the Altar?

It is the true body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ under the bread and wine, instituted by Christ Himself for us Christians to eat and to drink.

Where is this written?

The holy Evangelists Matthew, Mark, Luke, and St. Paul write:

Our Lord Jesus Christ, on the night when He was betrayed, took bread, and when He had given thanks, He broke it and gave it to the disciples and said: "Take, eat; this is My body, which is given for you. This do in remembrance of Me."

In the same way also He took the cup after supper, and when He had given thanks, He gave it to them, saying, "Drink of it, all of you; this cup is the new testament in My blood, which is shed for you for the forgiveness of sins. This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me."

What is the benefit of this eating and drinking?

These words, "Given and shed for you for the forgiveness of sins," show us that in the Sacrament forgiveness of sins, life, and salvation are given us through these words. For where there is forgiveness of sins, there is also life and salvation.

How can bodily eating and drinking do such great things?

Certainly not just eating and drinking do these things, but the words written here: "Given and shed for you for the forgiveness of sins." These words, along with the bodily eating and drinking, are the main thing in the Sacrament. Whoever believes these words has exactly what they say: "forgiveness of sins."

Who receives this sacrament worthily?

Fasting and bodily preparation are certainly fine outward training. But that person is truly worthy and well prepared who has faith in these words: "Given and shed for you for the forgiveness of sins."

But anyone who does not believe these words or doubts them is unworthy and unprepared, for the words "for you" require all hearts to believe.

SECTION 2

DAILY PRAYERS

HOW THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY SHOULD TEACH HIS HOUSEHOLD
TO PRAY MORNING AND EVENING

Morning Prayer

In the morning when you get up, make the sign of the holy cross and say:

In the name of the Father and of the T Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Then, kneeling or standing, repeat the Creed and the Lord's Prayer. If you choose, you may also say this little prayer:

I thank You, my heavenly Father, through Jesus Christ, Your dear Son, that You have kept me this night from all harm and danger; and I pray that You would keep me this day also from sin and every evil, that all my doings and life may please You. For into Your hands I commend myself, my body and soul, and all things. Let Your holy angel be with me, that the evil foe may have no power over me. Amen.

Then go joyfully to your work, singing a hymn, like that of the Ten Commandments, or whatever your devotion may suggest.

Evening Prayer

In the evening when you go to bed, make the sign of the holy cross and say:

In the name of the Father and of the T Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Then kneeling or standing, repeat the Creed and the Lord's Prayer. If you choose, you may also say this little prayer:

I thank You, my heavenly Father, through Jesus Christ, Your dear Son, that You have graciously kept me this day; and I pray that You would forgive me all my sins where I have done wrong, and graciously keep me this night. For into Your hands I commend myself, my body and soul, and all things. Let Your holy angel be with me, that the evil foe may have no power over me. Amen.

Then go to sleep at once and in good cheer.

HOW THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY SHOULD TEACH HIS HOUSEHOLD
TO ASK A BLESSING AND RETURN THANKS

Asking a Blessing

The children and members of the household shall go to the table reverently, fold their hands, and say:

The eyes of all look to You, [O Lord,] and You give them their food at the proper time. You open Your hand and satisfy the desires of every living thing. [Psalm 145:15-16]

Then shall be said the Lord's Prayer and the following:

Lord God, heavenly Father, bless us and these Your gifts which we receive from Your bountiful goodness, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Returning Thanks

Also, after eating, they shall, in like manner, reverently and with folded hands say:

Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good.

His love endures forever. [He] gives food to every creature. He provides food for the cattle and for the young ravens when they call. His pleasure is not in the strength of the horse, nor His delight in the legs of a man; the Lord delights in those who fear Him, who put their hope in His unfailing love. [Psalm 136:1, 25; 147:9–11]

Then shall be said the Lord's Prayer and the following:

We thank You, Lord God, heavenly Father, for all Your benefits, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit forever and ever. Amen.

SECTION 3

TABLE OF DUTIES

CERTAIN PASSAGES OF SCRIPTURE FOR VARIOUS HOLY ORDERS AND POSITIONS, ADMONISHING THEM ABOUT THEIR DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

To Bishops, Pastors, and Preachers

The overseer must be above reproach, the husband of but one wife, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, not given to drunkenness, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. He must manage his own family well and see that his children obey him with proper respect. 1 Timothy 3:2–4

He must not be a recent convert, or he may become conceited and fall under the same judgment as the devil. 1 Timothy 3:6

He must hold firmly to the trustworthy message as it has been taught, so that he can encourage others by sound doctrine and refute those who oppose it. Titus 1:9

What the Hearers Owe Their Pastors

The Lord has commanded that those who preach the gospel should receive their living from the gospel. 1 Corinthians 9:14

Anyone who receives instruction in the word must share all good things with his instructor. Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows. Galatians 6:6–7

The elders who direct the affairs of the church well are worthy of double honor, especially those whose work is preaching and teaching. For the Scripture says, “Do not muzzle the ox while it is treading out the grain,” and “The worker deserves his wages.” 1 Timothy 5:17–18

We ask you, brothers, to respect those who work hard among you, who are over you in the Lord and who admonish you. Hold them in the highest regard in love because of their work. Live in peace with each other.

1 Thessalonians 5:12–13

Obey your leaders and submit to their authority. They keep watch over you as men who must give an account. Obey them so that their work will be a joy, not a burden, for that would be of no advantage to you. Hebrews 13:17

Of Civil Government

Everyone must submit himself to the governing authorities, for there is no authority except that which God has established. The authorities that exist have been established by God. Consequently, he who rebels against the authority is rebelling against what God has instituted, and those who do so will bring judgment on themselves. For rulers hold no terror for those who do right, but for those who do wrong. Do you want to be free from fear of the one in authority? Then do what is right and he will commend you. For he is God’s servant to do you good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword for nothing. He is God’s servant, an agent of wrath to bring punishment on the wrongdoer. Romans 13:1–4

Of Citizens

Give to Caesar what is Caesar’s, and to God what is God’s. Matthew 22:21

It is necessary to submit to the authorities, not only because of possible punishment but also because of conscience. This is also why you pay taxes, for the authorities are God’s servants, who give their full time to governing. Give everyone what you owe him: If you owe taxes, pay taxes; if revenue, then revenue; if respect, then respect; if honor, then honor. Romans 13:5–7

I urge, then, first of all, that requests, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving be made for everyone—for kings and all those in authority, that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness. This is good, and pleases God our Savior. 1 Timothy 2:1–3

Remind the people to be subject to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready to do whatever is good. Titus 3:1

Submit yourselves for the Lord’s sake to every authority instituted among men: whether to the king, as the supreme authority, or to governors, who are sent by him to punish those who do wrong and to commend those who do right. 1 Peter 2:13–14

To Husbands

Husbands, in the same way be considerate as you live with your wives, and treat them with respect as the weaker partner and as heirs with you of the gracious gift of life, so that nothing will hinder your prayers. 1 Peter 3:7

Husbands, love your wives and do not be harsh with them. Colossians 3:19

To Wives

Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord. Ephesians 5:22

They were submissive to their own husbands, like Sarah, who obeyed Abraham and called him her master. You are her daughters if you do what is right and do not give way to fear. 1 Peter 3:5–6

To Parents

Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead, bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord. Ephesians 6:4

To Children

Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. “Honor your father and mother”—which is the first commandment with a promise—“that it may go well with you and that you may enjoy long life on the earth.” Ephesians 6:1–3

To Workers of All Kinds

Slaves, obey your earthly masters with respect and fear, and with sincerity of heart, just as you would obey Christ. Obey them not only to win their favor when their eye is on you, but like slaves of Christ, doing the will of God from your heart. Serve wholeheartedly, as if you were serving the Lord, not men, because you know that the Lord will reward everyone for whatever good he does, whether he is slave or free. Ephesians 6:5–8

To Employers and Supervisors

Masters, treat your slaves in the same way. Do not threaten them, since you know that he who is both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no favoritism with Him. Ephesians 6:9

To Youth

Young men, in the same way be submissive to those who are older. All of you, clothe yourselves with humility toward one another, because, “God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble.” Humble yourselves, therefore, under God’s mighty hand, that He may lift you up in due time.

1 Peter 5:5–6

To Widows

The widow who is really in need and left all alone puts her hope in God and continues night and day to pray and to ask God for help. But the widow who lives for pleasure is dead even while she lives. 1 Timothy 5:5–6

To Everyone

The commandments . . . are summed up in this one rule: “Love your neighbor as yourself.” Romans 13:9

I urge . . . that requests, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving be made for everyone. 1 Timothy 2:1

*Let each his lesson learn with care,
and all the household well shall fare.*

PREPARATION FOR INDIVIDUAL CONFESSION AND ABSOLUTION

---

BRIEF INSTRUCTION ON CONFESSION AND ABSOLUTION

My dear Christian, when you go to confession, do not be content with repeating a memorized confessional prayer or with having your pastor repeat it to you. Rather, bring along a penitent heart, from which your confession will flow. To offer confession when the heart is impenitent is mocking God. Without a penitent heart there is no forgiveness of sin.

The first requirement for a penitent heart is that you recognize your sins, feel sorry and repentant of them. By nature no man knows his sins, nor can he by his own doing cause repentance to spring from his heart. On the contrary, repentance comes from God. By nature we are far too blind, too indifferent, too careless, too self-righteous, too much absorbed in self-love and self-conceit, to plead guilty of all sins in the sight of God.

Above all things, therefore, bow your knees before God and call upon Him to open your eyes that you may thoroughly recognize the multitude and magnitude of your sins. Pray in the words of the sainted David: "Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me, and know my thoughts! And see if there be any grievous way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting!" (Psalm 139:23-24). Make a careful examination of your whole life according to the Ten Commandments. You will then soon find that you are a sinner.

For even as a man does not see a spot on his face without a mirror, so he does not recognize his sins unless he sees himself in the mirror of the holy Ten Commandments. For every thought, every word, every deed against God's commandments is a sin, whether it consists in doing what God has forbidden or in failing to do what He has commanded.

But you must look not only at the large, external sins, but also those internal, secret digressions from God's commandments, the evil thoughts and desires of your heart. When examining yourself, being instant in prayer, you will discover that you did not fear, love, and trust in God as He demands; that you have not called upon God in prayer, praise, and thanksgiving so heartily and confidently as you should have done; that you have not properly heard and learned His Word and kept it sacred. You will find that you have not duly honored and obeyed your parents and superiors, but that you have been disobedient and discourteous toward them; that you have sinned against your neighbor by being angry, revengeful, and unforgiving; by entertaining unholy thoughts and desires; by showing envy, covetousness, and a sinful mind or by speaking slanderous words.

To sum up, you will come to know that you did not love your neighbor uprightly and heartily as yourself; rather, that self-love, quest for personal gain and honor, was the moving force of all your actions. Because of these and other sins you indeed have deserved God's wrath, temporal and eternal punishment, if God would deal with you strictly according to justice. From these sins that you notice in yourself you can infer how unclean and polluted your heart must be from which these sins flow; for the stream is no purer than its fountain, and by its fruits the tree is known. In this way you will come to a true knowledge of original sin.

Consider also the sins you do not know, but still have committed. They are far more numerous than those you do know. The omniscient God places all your sins in the light of His countenance. Knowing this, you certainly will be terrified in your conscience and experience sorrow and contrition for having offended your loving God so grievously and for having repaid His mercies with such dishonorable ingratitude.

The second part of repentance is faith, faith in Jesus Christ. It is He who has rendered full satisfaction for all your sins, procuring forgiveness of them all. Faith is, so to speak, the hand that appropriates forgiveness of sin and accepts it as an unmerited gift of divine grace. Without this faith all knowledge of sin and penitence over it is nothing but the repentance of a Cain and of a Judas and must end in despair. But by faith in Jesus Christ, the Savior of all sinners, the heart is comforted and satisfied. This faith, however, you cannot bring forth yourself; it is the work and gift of God the Holy Spirit. But if you feel that your faith is weak—you desire to believe, but you think you cannot—then pray to God to strengthen this faith of yours, which is battling against doubt. He is willing to do so and surely will give you a stronger faith, so that you will overcome all the doubts which are troubling your soul.

If you come to confession with such a penitent and believing heart, you will rejoice in the absolution spoken by your pastor. For your sins are really and truly forgiven by God in heaven. Such forgiveness of sins Christ has procured for all sinners by the shedding of His blood and by His death, and by His resurrection He sealed it to them. This He commanded to preach throughout the world by means of the Gospel. Therefore when your pastor absolves you, he does nothing else than proclaim to you the Gospel of the forgiveness of sins. This, however, is not an empty announcement, but one actually offering and conveying the forgiveness of sins to the penitent sinner. Whenever, therefore, you hear your pastor pronounce absolution, do not doubt, but firmly believe, that your sins are forgiven before God in heaven. Believe it as firmly as though Christ were calling to you directly from heaven: "My son [My daughter], your sins are forgiven" (Matthew 9:2). For He says: "The one who hears you hears Me" (Luke 10:16); and: "If you forgive the sins of anyone, they are forgiven" (John 21:23).

Then the fruits of repentance are to follow. These consist in no longer knowingly and intentionally committing such sins as were forgiven you, but rather hating them, abstaining from them, and battling against them with the assistance of the Holy Spirit.

PREPARATION FOR CONFESSION AND ABSOLUTION ACCORDING TO THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

The First Commandment

You shall have no other gods.

What does this mean?

We should fear, love, and trust in God above all things.

What or whom do I fear most?

In what or whom do I trust most for financial security, physical safety, or emotional support?

Do I fear God's wrath and therefore avoid every sin?

Is my love of God evident in my daily life?

Do I expect only good from God in every situation, or do I worry, doubt, complain, or feel unfairly treated when things go wrong?

The Second Commandment

You shall not misuse the name of the Lord your God.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not curse, swear, use satanic arts, lie, or deceive by His name, but call upon it in every trouble, pray, praise, and give thanks.

Does the Gospel adorn my daily speech and conduct, or do I curse, speak carelessly, or misuse God's name?

Have I kept all the vows I have made in the Lord's Name?

Am I diligent and sincere in my prayers, or have I been lazy, bored or distracted? Do I trust that the Lord God will answer them according to His good and gracious will?

The Third Commandment

Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not despise preaching and His Word, but hold it sacred and gladly hear and learn it.

Do I despise the Word by neglect or by paying little or no attention when it is read or preached?

Am I faithful in the Divine Service, or do I attend sporadically, preferring to be elsewhere when the Church is at worship?

Do I pray for my pastor and support his efforts to guard Christ's flock from error?

The Fourth Commandment

Honor your father and your mother.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not despise or anger our parents and other authorities, but honor them, serve and obey them, love and cherish them.

Do I submit to those whom God has put in authority over me?

Have I been ashamed of, angry, stubborn, or disrespectful toward my parents, teachers, employer, pastor, government or other authorities?

Do I obey all the laws of the city, state and country, and pay my rightful share of all taxes?

The Fifth Commandment

You shall not murder.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not hurt or harm our neighbor in his body, but help and support him in every physical need.

Have I unjustly taken the life of anyone, born or unborn?

Do I hate anyone, or am I angry with anyone?

Do I hold grudges or harbor resentment?

Am I abusive (in word or deed) toward my spouse, children, or anyone else?

Have I ignored the plight of the helpless or been callous toward genuine need?

The Sixth Commandment

You shall not commit adultery.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we lead a sexually pure and decent life in what we say and do, and husband and wife love and honor each other.

Have I held in highest regard God's gift of sexuality or have I debased it in any way by my thoughts, words or conduct?

Am I guilty of lust, indecency, or the use of pornography?

Have I reserved my sexual activity for the pleasure and consolation of my spouse, and when God wills, the procreation of children?

The Seventh Commandment

You shall not steal.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not take our neighbor's money or possessions, or get them in any dishonest way, but help him to improve and protect his possessions and income.

Have I gotten anything in a dishonest way?

Have I made illegal copies of any printed material, audio or video tapes, or computer programs?

Do I faithfully attend to the responsibilities of my vocation?

Do I take care of what I have, pay what I owe, return what I borrow, and respect other people's property?

Do I give generously, or am I selfish, stingy and greedy with my time and money?

The Eighth Commandment

You shall not give false testimony against your neighbor.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not tell lies about our neighbor, betray him, slander him, or hurt his reputation, but defend him, speak well of him, and explain everything in the kindest way.

Do I speak the truth or have I lied in any way?

Do I gossip or take pleasure in talking about the faults and mistakes of others?

Do I uphold and defend the name and reputation of others?

Have I judged others without being duly authorized to do so?

Have I gladly and willingly found ways to explain in the best possible way the words or actions of those who hurt me?

Am I the first to admit my own mistakes, or do I cover up my sins and make myself look better than I am?

The Ninth Commandment

You shall not covet your neighbor's house.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not scheme to get our neighbor's inheritance or house, or get it in a way which only appears right, but help and be of service to him in keeping it.

Do I have strong wants, desires, or cravings that consume my thoughts?

Do I resent or envy those who have more than I?

Do I neglect my marriage, family, church, and other relationships in a desperate attempt to satisfy the wants and desires of my flesh?

Have my wants kept me from being happy with and thankful for what God has given me?

The Tenth Commandment

You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor.

What does this mean?

We should fear and love God so that we do not entice or force away our neighbor's wife, workers, or animals, or turn them against him, but urge them to stay and do their duty.

Am I discontent with the spouse the Lord God has given me?

Am I discontent with the job I have or the employees I supervise?

Have I neglected to urge someone to remain faithful to his or her spouse?

Have I wanted my neighbor's husband or wife, boyfriend or girlfriend, workers or property to be mine?

A PRAYER OF ONE PREPARING FOR CONFESSION AND ABSOLUTION

Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner! Your Word is a lamp unto my feet and a light upon my path. It has laid bare my sin, for which I deserve nothing but punishment; yet, it has also declared to me Your grace and mercy and forgiveness.

As You have taught my heart to believe and trust in You, so shall I also confess with my mouth. Grant me the honesty to examine my life according to Your holy Ten Commandments, especially as they address my vocations in life. Discipline me as Your beloved child. Enable me to recognize my sin, to know and feel it in my heart, and rightly to bemoan and lament my iniquity and offenses. Give me both humility and courage to confess my sins and to receive from my pastor Your Holy Absolution, according to Your good and gracious will. Invigorate my faith, through this same word of forgiveness, to have no doubt, but firmly to believe, that by it all my sins are forgiven before God in heaven.

You have called and sent my pastor, in Your name and stead, to hear my confession with Your ears of mercy, and to forgive me with Your own voice. Since You have chosen to deal with me in this way, allow me not to neglect Your gift but to lay hold of it with eager confidence. Create in me a clean heart, O God, and restore to me the joy of Your salvation; for Your Name's sake. Amen.

INDIVIDUAL CONFESSION AND ABSOLUTION

You may prepare yourself by meditating on the Ten Commandments (pages 000–000). You may also pray the penitential psalms (6, 32, 38, 51, 102, 130, or 143).

If you are not burdened with particular sins, do not trouble yourself or search for or invent other sins, thereby turning confession into a torture. Instead, mention one or two sins that you know and let that be enough.

When you are ready, kneel and say:

Pastor, please hear my confession and pronounce forgiveness in order to fulfill God's will.

Proceed.

I, a poor sinner, plead guilty before God of all sins.

I have lived as if God did not matter and as if I mattered most.

My Lord's name I have not honored as I should;
my worship and prayers have faltered.

I have not let His love have its way with me,
and so my love for others has failed.

There are those whom I have hurt, and those whom I have failed to help.
My thoughts and desires have been soiled with sin.

If you wish to confess specific sins that trouble you, continue as follows:

What troubles me particularly is that . . .

*Confess whatever you have done against the commandments of God,
according to your own place in life.*

The pastor may gently question or instruct you—not to pry or judge—but to assist in self-examination.

Then conclude by saying:

I am sorry for all of this and ask for grace. I want to do better.

God be merciful to you and strengthen your faith.

Amen.

Do you believe that my forgiveness is God's forgiveness?

Yes.

Let it be done for you as you believe.

The pastor places his hands on the head of the penitent and says:

In the stead and by the command of my Lord Jesus Christ I forgive you all your sins in the name of the Father and of the T Son and of the Holy Spirit.

Amen.

The pastor may speak additional Scripture passages to comfort and strengthen the faith of those who have great burdens of conscience or are sorrowful and distressed.

The pastor concludes:

Go in peace.

Amen.

You may remain to say a prayer of thanksgiving. Psalms 30, 31, 32, 34, 103, or 118 are also appropriate.

CHRISTIAN QUESTIONS WITH THEIR ANSWERS<sup>1</sup>

PREPARED BY DR. MARTIN LUTHER FOR THOSE WHO INTEND TO GO TO THE SACRAMENT

After confession and instruction in the Ten Commandments, the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper, the pastor may ask, or Christians may ask themselves these questions:

<sup>1</sup> The "Christian Questions with Their Answers," designating Luther as the author, first appeared in an edition of the Small Catechism in 1551.

12. What are the words of institution?

Our Lord Jesus Christ, on the night when He was betrayed, took bread, and when He had given thanks, He broke it and gave it to the disciples and said: "Take eat; this is My body, which is given for you. This do in remembrance of Me."

In the same way also He took the cup after supper, and when He had given thanks, He gave it to them, saying: "Drink of it, all of you; this cup is the new testament in My blood, which is shed for you for the forgiveness of sins. This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me."

13. Do you believe, then, that the true body and blood of Christ are in the Sacrament?

Yes, I believe it.

14. What convinces you to believe this?

The word of Christ: Take, eat, this is My body; drink of it, all of you, this is My blood.

15. What should we do when we eat His body and drink His blood, and in this way receive His pledge?

We should remember and proclaim His death and the shedding of His blood, as He taught us: This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me.

16. Why should we remember and proclaim His death?

First, so we may learn to believe that no creature could make satisfaction for our sins. Only Christ, true God and man, could do that. Second, so we may learn to be horrified by our sins, and to regard them as very serious. Third, so we may find joy and comfort in Christ alone, and through faith in Him be saved.

17. What motivated Christ to die and make full payment for your sins?

His great love for His Father and for me and other sinners, as it is written in John 14; Romans 5; Galatians 2 and Ephesians 5.

18. Finally, why do you wish to go to the Sacrament?

That I may learn to believe that Christ, out of great love, died for my sin, and also learn from Him to love God and my neighbor.

19. What should admonish and encourage a Christian to receive the Sacrament frequently?

First, both the command and the promise of Christ the Lord. Second, his own pressing need, because of which the command, encouragement, and promise are given.

20. But what should you do if you are not aware of this need and have no hunger and thirst for the Sacrament?

To such a person no better advice can be given than this: first, he should touch his body to see if he still has flesh and blood. Then he should believe what the Scriptures say of it in Galatians 5 and Romans 7.

Second, he should look around to see whether he is still in the world, and remember that there will be no lack of sin and trouble, as the Scriptures say in John 15–16 and in 1 John 2 and 5.

Third, he will certainly have the devil also around him, who with his lying and murdering day and night will let him have no peace, within or without, as the Scriptures picture him in John 8 and 16; 1 Peter 5; Ephesians 6; and 2 Timothy 2.

NOTE:

These questions and answer are no child's play, but are drawn up with great earnestness of purpose by the venerable and devout Dr. Luther for both young and old. Let each one pay attention and consider it a serious matter; for St. Paul writes to the Galatians in chapter six: "Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked."

BRIEF INSTRUCTION FOR THOSE PREPARING FOR HOLY COMMUNION

Why do you wish to go to the Sacrament?<sup>1</sup>

Each communicant should put this question to himself before he approaches the Table of the Lord. Many go to the Lord's Supper either quite thoughtlessly or with a wrong intention. Some go from mere force of habit; others only because their parents compel them to go; others again, because they consider it a meritorious deed to partake of the Lord's Supper; still others because they wish to acquire or retain before men the appearance and name of pious Christians. It is not surprising that such communicants derive no blessing from the Sacrament of the Altar but grow worse as time goes on.

A communicant who wishes to receive the Lord's Supper to his salvation must, in the first place, fully realize what the Lord's Supper is and for what purpose it was instituted by Christ; and in the second place, he must be well prepared to receive it as a poor sinner who is yearning for forgiveness.

There are those who have an entirely wrong conception of the Holy Sacrament, who consider it merely an empty memorial, instituted only for the purpose of remembering the sufferings and death of Christ. Holy Communion is that exalted, blessed mystery by means of which Christ, in the consecrated bread, gives us His Body to eat and in the consecrated wine His blood to drink. This is the very body He assumed from the Virgin Mary and gave into death on the cross for the remission of our sins. It is true, we cannot see this with our eyes, taste it with our mouths, or grasp it with our minds; but we are to believe it, for our Lord and Savior says: "Take, eat; this is My body. Drink of it, all of you; this is My blood." Our Savior is faithful and true, and He will certainly bring to pass what He has promised in the words of His statement. He is all-wise and knows ways and means to fulfill His promises, even though this is beyond our understanding. He also is almighty; with Him nothing is impossible. He is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think. If we earnestly believe that we receive the true body and blood of our Savior—true God and man in one person—in Holy Communion, and not mere bread and wine, we shall then approach the Table of the Lord, not thoughtlessly and lightly, but in deepest reverence and humility of heart, saying as did the centurion, "Lord, I am not worthy that You should come under my roof" (Luke 7:6).

The benefits derived from Holy Communion are threefold in nature. First, by worthily receiving Holy Communion we receive forgiveness of sins and the assurance that such forgiveness imparts. God, rich in love, has provided the means that poor sinners need to render them certain of the forgiveness of their sins. These means are the preaching of the Gospel, Holy Baptism, and Holy Communion. Do not be sinfully inquisitive, asking why God has instituted three means instead of one for the purpose of conveying to us the forgiveness of our sins and making us sure and certain of this, but rather thank Him for these rich provisions. He who knows from personal experience how hard it is for a soul under conviction of sin to believe that his sins are forgiven will realize the greatness of God's grace and providing care in giving us not merely one, but several means of becoming certain of the forgiveness of sin. As surely therefore as you take the Lord's body into your mouth and drink the Lord's blood, shed for the remission of your sins, so certain you are to be of having forgiveness of sins, of being the undisputed possessor of this divine gift.

The second benefit of Holy Communion is life—not the natural life we received at birth and sustain by food and drink, but the new, spiritual life which begins in regeneration through Holy Baptism. It consists of faith in our Lord Jesus Christ and in the love of God and our neighbor. Our Lord has designated His Holy Supper as a spiritual nourishment for the strengthening of this spiritual life. Of this Luther writes:

Holy Communion is aptly called a food for the soul, as it nourishes and strengthens the new man; for while we are born again by Baptism, man retains his old nature in his flesh and blood, and there are so many obstacles and temptations on the part of the devil and the world that we often grow faint and weary and at times even falter. So the Lord's Supper is given for a daily food and nourishment, that faith may be refreshed and strengthened and not repulsed in this battle, but ever grow stronger and stronger. The new life is of such a nature that it must constantly grow and progress. This new life has a great deal to endure, since the devil is an enemy who has great wrath. If he finds that he cannot take us by a bold stroke, he tries all his wiles, presents all his allurements, and does not stop until he has tired us out, so that we either abandon our faith or become listless and impatient. But when our heart is in this condition, being about to succumb, we have the comfort that in this Sacrament it can be again strengthened and refreshed.<sup>2</sup>

The third benefit of Holy Communion is eternal salvation; for even as unforgiven sins bar us from heaven, so forgiveness of sins opens the door to eternal salvation. “For where there is forgiveness of sins, there is also life and salvation.”

Now all depends on communing worthily and being well prepared in order to receive this threefold benefit. This, however, is not a worthiness according to the Law but according to the Gospel. It does not consist in absolute freedom from sin and perfection of life. Worthiness is realizing our unworthiness and sinfulness, in having a contrite heart that is spiritually poor, in earnestly desiring the forgiveness of sins, and in taking comfort in this forgiveness and depending solely on our Lord Jesus Christ. On the other hand, those are unworthy and ill prepared who either, in their conceit of self-righteousness, fancy they need no forgiveness of sins. Consider the Pharisee, who prayed: “Lord, I thank You that I am not like other men” (Luke 18:11). Consider also those who wholly despair of the forgiveness of sins, as did Cain, who said: “My punishment is greater than I can bear” (Genesis 4:13), and who will not let one relieve them of their thoughts of despair. There is another class of unworthy communicant, namely, those who persist in their wicked purposes and continue to serve sin knowingly or live in a state of relentless enmity with their neighbors.

Unworthy communicants going to the Lord’s Supper also receive the body and blood of Christ, but they receive it in judgment and to their great damnation. For this very purpose St. Paul adds the earnest warning: “Let a person examine himself, then, and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For anyone who eats and drinks without discerning the [Lord’s] body eats and drinks judgment on himself” (1 Corinthians 11:28–29). Whoever recognizes in himself these marks of an unworthy communicant should not presume to go to the Lord’s Table in such condition. We do not mean that she should stay away permanently, but she should immediately repent and become a truly penitent sinner.

Are those of weak faith to be classed with the unworthy communicant? Not at all. It is these very guests who are welcome and belong at Christ’s Table. The Lord will surely not cast out those who are weak in faith and frail in their walk but who feel their weakness and desire to become stronger. These He invites, for it is for the weak and the frail that He instituted His Holy Supper, that they might gather strength from this spiritual food. To them He says: “Come to Me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest” (Matthew 11:28), and again: “Whoever comes to Me I will never cast out” (John 6:37).

PRAYERS FOR HOLY COMMUNION

PRAYER BEFORE HOLY COMMUNION

Lord Jesus Christ, You call to Yourself all those that labor and are heavy burdened, to refresh them and to give rest to their souls. Dear Lord, I pray, let me also experience Your love at the heavenly feast, which You have prepared for Your children on earth. Keep me from impenitence and unbelief, so that I do not receive the Sacrament to my damnation. Remove the spotted garment of my flesh and my own righteousness, and adorn me with the garment earned by Your blood. Strengthen my faith, increase my love and hope, and hereafter make me to sit at Your heavenly table, where You give me to eat of the eternal manna to drink of the river of Your pleasures. Hear me for Your own sake. Amen.

PRAYER AFTER HOLY COMMUNION

Merciful Redeemer, You have fulfilled Your promise, "Come to Me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matthew 11:28). At Your Table I have received nourishment for my soul, the water of life in my weariness. By giving me, with the bread and the cup, Your body and Your blood, You have again said to me: "Do not fear, for I have redeemed you, I have called you by name, you are Mine." You have wiped out all my sins and have put on me the garments of Your righteousness. Make me truly grateful for Your abundant love. Let the Sacrament be in me a power overcoming unbelief and doubt, conquering temptations and evil desires, and producing good works and humble service. Having been a guest at Your Table, help me to share the bread of life with my neighbors, so that they may share my joy and happiness. To You and the Father and the Holy Spirit be glory forever and ever. Amen
