At EIGHT Months in the Womb:

You had coordinated reflexes and could blink, close your eyes, turn your head, grasp firmly, and consistently respond to sounds, light, and touch. You also started to develop a sleep schedule, closing your eyes when you slept and opening them when you were awake.

Child Connection Activity:

Use a flashlight and see what items you can shine a light through. Think about the colors and patterns that the flashlight and object make.

Family Activity Ideas:

Create a nighttime flashlight scavenger hunt in your backyard.

Star gaze as a family and look up ways to make homemade telescopes.

Sync flashlights up to music and make a light show.
