At NINE Months in the Womb:

Your eyes have pigment–blue, gray, or brown–but may change color or shade once exposed to light.

Your brain had rapid growth. It is 30% larger than it was four weeks ago!

You indicated that it was time to arrive. Your body sent out chemicals that instructed mom's body to deliver you!

Child Connection Activity:

Create a piece of work based on your eye color.

Use watercolor in natural sunlight to create your artwork.

Family Activity Ideas:

Graph the eye color of everyone in your family

Read the story of Christ's birth.

Play a memory game.

Talk with your child about how you felt holding them for the first time.
