Business Summary

CrossComm is a mobile, web, and immersive app studio with a 20 year history of deploying innovative technologies to solve the toughest problems and challenges. A minority owned small business since its founding in 1998, CrossComm has worked on over 250 client engagements and was recognized in 2015 as the Minority Technology Firm of the Year by the Minority Business Development Agency (MBDA).

Core Competencies

Our core competency is creating feature-rich apps that leverage innovative technologies across multiple platforms through a collaborative proven development process. We excel at the following app-related competencies:

- Mobile App Development (iOS and Android)
- Apps for Wearables (Apple Watch/WatchOS and Android Wear)
- Backend/Server-Side/SDK development (e.g. Serverless/AWS Lambda)
- Responsive Web App Development
- Augmented Reality (AR), Virtual Reality (VR), Mixed Reality (MR)
- Artificial Intelligence (AI), Machine Learning (ML), Deep Learning, Computer Vision

Past Performance

Forbes iOS app: CrossComm partnered with the media company to develop a private social networking app for their Under 30 honorees, recognizing the top young entrepreneurs. This project received "Best Media App" by the Web Marketing Association for outstanding achievement in mobile development.

ICF web app: CrossComm developed a sophisticated online tool to empower the EPA and other ICF government agency clients to conduct team based systematic literature reviews.
