Project manager:
"InLoox now! simplifies my day-to-day project routine and lets me focus on the big picture."

③ Comprehensive overview
Working on large projects often means to eventually lose sight of the big picture – but InLoox now! has got your back: custom automatic alerts can be set for meeting critical deadlines, staying within a defined budget or keeping project progress on track. This enables you to react timely and stay assured to have everything under control.

④ Handy document management
Most projects produce huge piles of documents. InLoox now! brings order to the chaos, simplifies your document management and lets you link documents with projects or tasks. All your documents are stored in one place and accessible wherever you are.

⑤ Reliable planning
Is your team making headway? Can you meet the project deadline? Get a visual overview of pending tasks, appointments and overall project progress both in Microsoft Outlook and on the web. Benefit from a project time planning that does it all and is easy-to-use at the same time.

⑥ Effective resource allocation
The resource overview shows the workload of departments, teams, and team members across projects. You can additionally include appointments from Microsoft Exchange Server and see who has free capacities in real time. Reassign tasks with one click to evenly distribute workload across all resources.

⑦ Full cost control
InLoox now! continuously compares budgeted and actual expenses and revenues enabling you to react quickly in case of incidentals. Budget warnings are color highlighted and you can determine the granularity of your budget display.
