

The Linum Labs team collaborated with Fairdrive to create the middleware and user interface for a file explorer that can communicate with data on a lower system layer, such as BEE Nodes on the Swarm Ecosystem or any database layer. Fairdrive promotes decentralized storage, allowing developers to build interoperable, decentralized, and open-source dApps that empower users to take control of their digital identity, own their data, and protect their privacy.

Links

