

TESTIMONIALS

Valued Merchant Services has been our credit card processing vendor for quite some time now. Originally we chose to use their services because they had a local representative to service our accounts. Their rates and fees were lower in every category than the vendor we were currently using. Their ability to assist us in both our face to face transactions and our ecommerce processing has been extremely helpful. Their attention to detail and willingness to help with any situation that comes up makes them a valuable asset

In addition to having 24/7 customer service and technical support, we have our local agents cell phone number as back up. I would recommend Valued Merchant Services to anyone that is interested in saving money on their credit card rates and fees or anyone that wants to work with a genuine local company

Valued Merchant Services has been our credit card processing vendor for the past several years. Originally we chose to use their services because their rates and fees were significantly lower than the vendor we were currently using. Their attention to detail and willingness to help with any situation that comes up makes them a valuable asset. Our local representative that is assigned to our account has given his cell phone number, along with their 24/7 toll free support.

I have been using Valued Merchant Services for over 6 years now and I am very impressed. There have been no problems with the service and the transition was seamless. Since the start of this program, many other companies have tried to gain my business but have been unable to match the price. I highly recommend this service to anyone looking to save money on their credit card processing

EMV / CHIP CARDS

As of October 1st, 2015 liability for fraudulent, counterfeit credit and debit card transactions has shifted from the issuer to the merchant, unless the merchant has upgraded to Point of sale technology that accommodates EMV credit and debit card transactions. EMV (Europay/MasterCard/Visa) is an open standard for chip-based credit and debit card transactions and POS devices to accept them. EMV credit and debit cards contain updated transaction security features vs. mag-stripe cards. Over 40% of credit and debit cards issued worldwide are EMV and over 70% of the payment terminals installed are EMV compatible, although the US market was the last remaining holdout with EMV chips in less than 10% of all cards issued. With these new standards adopted in the US by Visa, MasterCard, Discover, American Express as well as banks and manufacturers this will rapidly change.

EMV credit and debit card payments decrease fraud because of a number of features not available on magnetic stripe cards. These features include the microprocessor chip, encoded security credentials from the card issuer personalized for each card holder and the unique dynamic transaction data created for each individual transaction.
