

Standard Testing Document

I have put together this document to ensure that documents are able to be uploaded to our website and shared with others. I am not sure if we should allow .docx documents to be uploaded due to security concerns. If we do, I think we need to check it with VirusTotal or something like that to ensure people don't upload malicious files with macros that can infect a computer.

I have put together this document to ensure that documents are able to be uploaded to our website and shared with others. I am not sure if we should allow .docx documents to be uploaded due to security concerns. If we do, I think we need to check it with VirusTotal or something like that to ensure people don't upload malicious files with macros that can infect a computer.

I have put together this document to ensure that documents are able to be uploaded to our website and shared with others. I am not sure if we should allow .docx documents to be uploaded due to security concerns. If we do, I think we need to check it with VirusTotal or something like that to ensure people don't upload malicious files with macros that can infect a computer.

I have put together this document to ensure that documents are able to be uploaded to our website and shared with others. I am not sure if we should allow .docx documents to be uploaded due to security concerns. If we do, I think we need to check it with VirusTotal or something like that to ensure people don't upload malicious files with macros that can infect a computer.