Dearest Elie (yikes, I said it)

I just arrived back at my office in Chicago.

Getting ready to go into meeting to talk about 'our' trip, and how to best tell this story.

I've been talking about you thinking about you. Missing you.
I can't explain it. I just knew for ~~sure~~ that I love you.
Your spirit connects and calms my own. I look forward to our next visit. ^{Your} New Friend Paul
