

are most interested about. I expect yr. uncle Ben is on his way to St. Louis. They have been in mortal fear of cholera which has been very fatal. Charles Bradley lost a son but one of his family 4 4 lovely girls one 15 one 13 &
to younger.
truly connecting of yr. dear Ma
God Bless you
with the long life of the great Father I desire to them
meeting you Harbours & see your mother 186

Oct. 26th 1860

I am very happy indeed to hear that your darling treasures are restored to health, and that you have them again pursuing their daily course thus your letter to Horace arrived yesterday just as I was going to write, and he told me he had with his usual promptness written his answer. but as he did not tell you of my difficulties about getting the Table-cloths Mr. Cohen wanted I come to apprise you - that there was but one left of the quality I should like to send. and that only 4 yards in length. one of inferior quality 6 yards long was offered

The 1st at $15-50 the largest one at $12.
Those sent to you were the last of Levy's fine stock - it is really sad to see the downfall of this great establishment - The family have removed into a small house in the next square - their old elegant residence sold I hear for $19 000. and is all they have, being settled, (fortunately) on Mt L. - she has a wealthy brother in Mobile, who came to sympathize with them in their affliction, and will never suffer them to be deprived of the comforts of life - indeed they seem to have loving relations, who shared their prosperity and are grateful - so they reap the reward of their good deeds - They say Mt L. bears his calamities with wonderful fortitude - saying "it is the will of God" which comforted him

I am not surprised at your comments on our frequent appeal for a new Matron at the Leath Fortee Home - Unfortunately we have been obliged to take young women. Who soon attract suitors. Miss Keller left us to prepare for a marriage engagement - and our Ladies thought they would be permanently suited by engaging an elderly woman & her husband - but alas! we are again before the public, for these people are entirely unfitted for such a situation, and desirous to be released.
Is there no one in your community unmarried, and unmarriedable, who would take care of & love children and train them to love God, for the sake of His holy name - The new Home is beautifully situated on a part of the Winton estate, between (what you may remember) the house and Broad Street. It is a very very comfortable home.

