much the same, but all will rejoice at Henry's return - Mass left on the 11th to prepare for his profession, at a school in Cambridge, his Mother now realizes how great a sacrifice waiting with him involves.
Thank you & love, dear Ann, that your young girls will not cost you so much (unless they marry sailors) - Now does our Dear Bernard, & My man & I love & so come on, we either of them "going to the world" as Quaker says - Bernard looked as if he was nothing to it.
Your boy is so much more generous nature that he will be easier found out, but this is idle, what business is it of mine to enquire in to the private affairs of these young men, who will be ready enough to tell at the proper time. Sally Ways' brother Abram is to be married on the 22nd to one young Miss Smith. Therefore both families being in deep mourning suppose it will be a private affair -

Give my dear love to my sweet Mamma & Anne as soon as they learn to write please encourage them to send me a letter. I see them
but cannot keep pace with their growth, or acquaintance. I saw Mr Dewees last week, the only Kentucky man who has called this season - but gained little information of you from
