The City of Tuttle owns and operates eleven water wells across Tuttle as our primary water source. At least four more wells are planned in the near future. These wells are able to meet Tuttle's typical daily water needs. However, when the rains decrease and the heat begins to build, we know that lawn watering will increase. When this occurs, it will become necessary for Tuttle to purchase water from City of Newcastle. As of last summer, Newcastle started purchasing water from the City of Oklahoma City. All of Oklahoma City and its customers, including Newcastle, have been on mandatory water rationing since January. When Tuttle does begin purchasing water from Newcastle, we will also be required to implement water rationing.

Currently, Oklahoma City is using the odd/even method of water rationing. Properties with an odd last number of the building address (1, 3, 5, 7, 9) may water on odd number days. Those properties with an even address (0, 2, 4, 6, 8) may water on even number days.

Water conservation signs will be placed across Tuttle when it is necessary to implement water rationing. Tuttle's rules will be the same as Oklahoma City's unless it becomes necessary to implement further restrictions due to local conditions. Rationing rules will apply to all water users, including those using private water wells. Please note that Ordinance 2011-17 prohibits the waste of all water, regardless of source, throughout the year.

Summer is upon us and the risk of wild fire is increasing every day. Lower humidity and high winds cause the risk of fire to increase. As the day burns on and the temperature goes up so does the risk. The highest risk is in the mid afternoon when temperature is at its peak and humidity is at its low for the day. Anyone can turn on the news and see our neighboring states are dealing with wild fires daily. Lets not make the news. Enjoy your summer but be cognizant of the dangers of grilling with charcoal, fire works, and general carelessness.

Tuttle Fire Department thanks you for your attention to safety!
