HB228 Gun Rights Bill

The bill known as "Stand Your Ground Bill," was sent to the Governor without the "stand your ground" provision in it.
This was done with the prediction of a veto and to assure that enough votes could be obtained in the House and Senate to pass other important parts of this bill. As predicted, the Governor vetoed it, but the House and Senate was able to overturn it.
While the "stand your ground" part was lost, some important advances were made in Ohio's gun rights . Among those are: Shifts the burden of proof back to the prosecutor so that you are innocent until proven guilty.

- Strengthens "preemption" provisions in Ohio law that prevent local governments from passing their own gun laws.
- Aligns the definition of "shotgun" to mirror Federal law to end the confusion about the Mossberg Shockwave and similar firearms that are currently legal under federal law but illegal under Ohio state law.
- Eliminates the requirement to post no-gun signs in locations which have authorized the carrying of firearms.
- Strengthens an existing the law so that authorities can prosecute criminals who make "straw" purchases for felons.

Gun rights supporting lawmakers say they will still pursue the "Stand Your Ground" law at a later
