

Essential Oils as a Real Estate Agent

Find out how you can incorporate this natural plant power to help boost sales, create lasting impressions and prep homes!

Essential Oils

are volatile aromatic compounds found on the seeds, bark, stems, leaves of flowers of certain botanicals. Not only are they powerfully fragrant in nature, but they can also be used in cooking, cleaning, emotional wellness, beauty and medicine. They are very potent- about 50-70x more powerful than herbs! dōTERRA's brand of essential oils are the most pure, potent, genuine and authentic oils in the world. Over 4 million customers world wide are loving these natural gifts of the earth! These oils are harvested from around the globe- in over 40 countries, to bring you the best nature has to offer.

OK- now for the good stuff- let's talk about how you can use the power of essential oils to boost your business!

Essential oils are a real estate agent's secret weapon. They can be used to help eliminate house smells, evoke specific emotions (calming, uplifting, cheer, motivation) clean surfaces and much more! Perfect when selling a home, for open houses, or prepping for viewings!

The best part is the doTERRA brand is 100% certified pure therapeutic grade- meaning completely natural, free of fillers and all contaminants. So these oils won't cause headaches or irritations like most synthetic scents do. (*note: there are MANY essential oil brands on the market that have fillers which can be irritating to people sensitive to scents)

Home Essentials Kit!

the ten MUST have essential oils for a healthy home

As for creating a lasting impression- what a better way to say

“THANK YOU for your business and client loyalty”

than gifting a beautiful 'Home Essentials Kit' on the day they get their keys...
