New members join Deceuninck Commercial Alliance

Now in its second year, Deceuninck North America's commercial fabricator program is welcoming additional member companies – PVC Industries of Clifton Park, New York, and Comfort View Products of Newnan, Georgia.

"The Commercial Alliance continues to expand with new members and increased industry interest," said Filip Geeraert, president and CEO, Deceuninck North America. "The addition of these two fabricator companies strengthens and further diversifies the Commercial Alliance's geographical reach to serve the commercial industry."

Through the Commercial Alliance, fabricators can leverage Deceuninck's range of resources, expertise and products, delivering exceptional energy efficiency and low cost of ownership. Deceuninck Commercial Alliance members have the highest level of fabricator performance recognized by Deceuninck.

"The Commercial Alliance is well-positioned to deliver on the increased commercial market demand for PVC window and door systems in both new construction and replacement applications," said Sheldon Kahan, who leads Deceuninck North America's commercial sales division. "This interest, primarily in the multi-family, mixed-use and student housing markets, is driven by PVC's proven record for high thermal performance, durability and low maintenance."
