Deceuninck North America Highlights Success of Comprehensive Recycling Program for Customers during IBS 2012

Collaboration with GreenCircle Certified company offers sustainable solution.

Deceuninck North America, a leading designer and manufacturer of high-quality systems for windows, doors, and outdoor living, will highlight the success of its recent partnership with JP Industrial (JPI), a GreenCircle Certified company, at an off-site event to coincide with the upcoming 2012 National Association of Home Builders International Builders' Show from February 8-11, 2012 in Orlando.

As part of the program, JPI collects end cuts and other scraps from Deceuninck's fabricators and provides the recycled content to Deceuninck so that the company can reintroduce it into the manufacturing process. Deceuninck launched the program on September 1.

"Our partnership with JPI provides a comprehensive recycling program for our customers and further illustrates Deceuninck's commitment to sustainability," said Filip Geeraert, president and CEO of Deceuninck North America. "The results of this program are getting us closer to meeting our zero-waste goal."

GreenCircle provides third-party certification of sustainable aspects of products and manufacturing operations. Manufacturers, suppliers, regulators, and consumers can be assured that products labeled with the GreenCircle Certified mark have been thoroughly assessed and their claim verified.

In addition to the company's partnership with JPI, Deceuninck demonstrates its commitment to sustainability by sourcing recycling materials; manufacturing long-lasting, low-maintenance and energy-efficient building materials that can be fully recycled at the end of life; and utilizing smarter methods for shipping and delivery of its products.

Deceuninck is also a member of the United States Green Building Council (USGBC).
