Hey,
Just a quick post today.

I know there are a lot of people out there that have very little time to learn new internet marketing skills and find it hard to keep up with the many different strategies.

Well, I decided to shoot a quick video showing you how I manage to eek out as much time out of the day as possible. I use a firefox plugin called Download Helper.

Speaking to many people online, one of the main problems that keeps coming up is "the lack of time to learn". I hope this post goes some way in helping you to get more time in your life.

1. If you haven't already done so, download the firefox browser.
2. Download the add-on "Download Helper"
3. Go to your favourite video sharing site.
4. Find a video you like (for your own consumption).
5. Click on the multi-coloured link (top left hand corner) and download into whatever format you like to your computer.
6. Transfer this to your tablet or smartphone to listen to at your leisure.

Note: This is purely an informational post and I don't encourage you to download and re-sell or re-distribute copy written material since that's against the law. This post is intended to inform you of how you can use these videos for your personal use. I.e. I don't accept any liability 😊
