

The End-Time SEQUENCE

This is parcel to our 2021 series of FlipPamphlet-formatted educational publications.
Please share your questions, comments and other feedback with us:
— <https://www.Link1.info/contact-us> —

Most of the sincere believers we encounter tell us that they have great difficulty understanding what they read in the book of Revelation. Most of the Bible “experts” we’ve encountered claim to understand it, but there is substantial evidence that they don’t. The shame of that unfortunate fact is that most sincere believers appear to have invested all their *Faith Equity*_{SM} in those who claim to understand. Our MicroShorts Memo entitled “Reverend?” may help you understand more about that: <https://www.Link1.info/microshorts>.

Do we members of the Link1_{TM} Bible Research Team understand all of what we read in Revelation—beyond the essence of it? No:

- ✓ “For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.”
—1 Corinthians 13:12

We’ve heard many sincere believers say that Jesus doesn’t even know the sequence of end-time events. They predicate that naive presumption on their favorite professional clergyman’s oft-repeated quoting of scriptures like Matthew 24:36, “But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.”

Does Jesus know the day or the hour? No. Might He be intimately knowledgeable of the sequence of events that will precede it? Clearly, yes! Study what He said at chapters 24 and 25 of Matthew, chapter 13 of Mark and chapter 21 of Luke to easily confirm that. Those record His answer to the disciples’ question, “When are you coming back, what will it be like and how can we know?” Yes, that’s a paraphrase...

Note: Matthew 25 is a continuation of Matthew 24. No change at all in the context. At Matthew 25, Jesus gave us three rather simple ILLUSTRATIONS of what He said about the sequence of end-time events at Matthew 24. It is again unfortunate that the vast majority of Bible “experts” have complicated those stories: They teach as if those ILLUSTRATIONS are parables. They’re not. For a more worthy in-context review, see our Flip-Pamphlet, “Matthew 25.” Here’s the link to that page: <https://www.Link1.info/flipbooks>.

The trumpet of the 7th angel of Revelation 11:15 is “the last trump” at 1 Corinthians 15:52 and “the trump of God” at 1 Thessalonians 4:16. You’ve heard something very different, we know. We were taught something quite different, too.

The Feast of Trumpets—

The Old Testament Feast of Trumpets is actually called The Seventh Month Festival. “This festival is mentioned in Leviticus 23:24-25, 27-32 and Numbers 29:1-40. It was introduced with the blowing of trumpets, the halting of labor, sacrificing, and a testing...The exact reason for its observance is not clear. Some scholars [are convinced that] it originated [during] the Babylonian captivity as a way of counteracting the influence of the Babylonian New Year Festival...” —The Liberty Illustrated Bible Dictionary

The seminary-educated end-time-prophecy “experts” scrape the bottom of the barrel when they resort to such ridiculous rationale to support their rapture theories. Their mindsets are the same as those of our Secular Humanist university-tenured academic community: “We’re smarter than all you little people on the planet, so we can understand stuff that you guys aren’t equipped to understand. So you’d be smart to trust what we tell’ya!” Here’s a stellar example of that—

In early 2009, a young member of our original Link1™ Bible Research Team approached his “Reverend Doctor” pre-Tribulation Rapture theorist pastor with a question born of genuine curiosity: “You’ve been saying that we’re going to get raptured before the Tribulation, at the sounding of the last trump, but Revelation 11:15 says the last trump sounds and Jesus returns at the end of the Tribulation. How do you reconcile that?”

That pastor responded, “Oh! That’s a different last trump! Paul was referring to the last trump in the Feast of Trumpets!” Need more? Contact us at <https://www.link1.info/contact-us>.

You've been hearing that an extra special group of Christians will return with Christ to rule for 1,000 years after their 7-year party in Heaven? You'll be wise to read that passage of scripture again, for full comprehension:

- ✓ "...and I saw the souls of them that were BEHEADED for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and THEY lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years." (Emphasis is mine.)

That will be the 1st Resurrection. The rest of the dead (good and evil) will continue to rest in peace until the 2nd Resurrection. In your mind, what's the reasonable likelihood that the current crop of end-time prophecy superstars aren't intimately familiar with that scripture and that, for reasonable folk, it destroys their narrative?

For a surprise you'll not forget, read our quick-read FlipPamphlet, "A Better Place?" For much more on this topic, read our full-length FlipBook, "Why 1830?"

The trumpet of the seventh (7th) angel at Revelation 11:15 is called "the last trump" at 1 Corinthians 15:52. It is called "the trump of God" at 1 Thessalonians 4:16.

Yes, there was a Feast of Trumpets in the Old Testament. The exact reason for its observance is not clear. Some scholars believe that it originated during the Babylonian Captivity—to counteract the influence of the Babylonian New Year Festival.

Some experts will tell you that those trumpets are more important than the seven trumps of Revelation.

www.Link1.info

The HOTLINKS

won't work while you're in the FlipPamphlet or FlipBook mode. But they'll work in the PDF mode. To change to PDF, find the really small row of menu icons just under the image and click on PDF.

Need help?

www.Link1.info/contact-us

You can always find lots of additional value on our web site.

If you'd like to organize a small Bible study group, we offer some exceptional curriculum.

There's no charge, ever.

— <https://www.Link1.info> —

It's true that you could explore our site every day for a year and still be asking yourself, "Why hasn't somebody shared this critical information with me before now?"