Policy #03
Ethical Guidelines between Departing Pastors, both temporary and permanent pastoral positions, and their Congregations

COM Approval: February 16, 2017
PGA Approval: November 10, 2015

PURPOSE

Pastoral transitions represent key milestones in the lives of the departing pastor, the congregation, and the new pastor, and extreme care must be taken to ensure these transitions are as successful as possible for everyone involved. As such, the Committee on Ministry has developed this policy to establish a framework for a) communication, b) relationships & boundaries, and c) roles & responsibilities during the course of a transition. The Committee on Ministry affirms the unique nature of the relationships among a pastor, the pastor’s family and the congregation, and this policy is not intended to harm those relationships that have grown during course of the pastor’s tenure. The primary goal of this policy is to provide the incoming pastor and the congregation with the appropriate opportunity to establish healthy new pastoral relationships, and therefore this policy sets forth some unique requirements for behavior that must be adopted by everyone involved.

TRANSITIONS COVERED UNDER THIS POLICY

This policy only applies when a pastor departs a called position and that position is being filled by a new pastor not currently employed at the same congregation. It does not apply when the position is not being filled or the responsibilities of the position (full-time or otherwise) are being absorbed by existing staff.

POLICY SUMMARY

This policy and set of ethical guidelines are designed to assist pastors and church members in creating and maintaining relationships that respect appropriate professional boundaries during transitions of pastoral leadership. Upon dissolution of the pastoral relationship, the departing pastor shall cease performing all pastoral functions in the church, except when invited by the clerk of session and the moderator of session. In addition, the departing pastor will not participate in the life and work of the church for at least one year following the arrival of the new pastor or the hiring of a contract call pastor (see 2.01 below). The COM can grant exceptions to the one year period in instances of extraordinary circumstances (see 5.0 of this document). The ethical guidelines advise pastors on educating congregations on appropriate boundaries, friendships with church members, property issues, and handling requests from church members for pastoral care. The policy supports new pastors in deciding whether to extend an invitation to former pastors and commits Presbytery to supporting the departing pastor, the new pastor, and the congregation.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

The Committee on Ministry (COM) has instituted the following policy and ethical guidelines to assist former pastors, new pastors, and church members in developing and maintaining relationships that respect appropriate professional boundaries and promote healthy transitions of pastoral leadership.

2.0 STATEMENT OF POLICY
Policy #03
Ethical Guidelines between Departing Pastors, both temporary and permanent pastoral positions, and their Congregations

2.01 On and after the effective date of the dissolution of the pastoral relationship between a pastor and a church, the pastor (a) shall not perform pastoral functions in the church, except when invited by the moderator of session and clerk of session; and (b) shall not otherwise participate in the life and work of the church during the interim time and at least one year following the arrival of the new pastor or the hiring of a new contract pastor (herein called the “transition period”), unless authorized to do so in writing by the Committee on Ministry.

2.02 This policy applies to all installed and non-installed contract relationships between a pastor and a congregation.

2.03 In Section 2.01 “life and work of the church” means all activities by the congregation as a whole or organized groups within the congregation. Included in this term are worship services, church school classes, Bible Study, social gatherings, fundraising activities, choir rehearsals and presentations, meetings of committees and other congregational groups, mission and service projects, and all seminars, lectures, and forums. "Life and work of the church" does not include routine expressions of personal concern or celebration such as notes or tokens of condolence or congratulation and attendance at weddings and funerals for church members.

2.04 Nothing in this policy prevents a congregation from conferring on a pastor the honorary relationship of pastor emerita or emeritus, no sooner than one year following their departure from active service. However, the Committee on Ministry will approve the establishment of such relationship only if the congregation’s request is accompanied by the pastor’s written agreement to comply with this policy.

3.0 THE UNIQUENESS OF CLERGY-COUPLE SITUATIONS

3.01 As our denomination evolves, and as the economic health of our congregations continues to come under pressure, the number of clergy-couples employed by the same congregation will continue to grow. These situations introduce even more complexity into pastoral transitions when one member of the couple is leaving a called position and one is staying. An even greater sensitivity to the nuances of these situations must be applied in order to enhance the long-term success of such transitions.

3.02 For the most part, the same policy elements apply to the departing member of a clergy-couple, including the cessation of all pastoral functions. The departing pastor must also remove himself/herself from any formal leadership position in the church during the transition period, and to the extent possible, should separate himself/herself from the life and work of the church as well. However, it is clear that in some cases refraining from all aspects of church life/work is not possible or practical and might be unhealthy when young children are involved.

3.03 Recognizing that it is not possible to articulate specific exceptions for every clergy-couple situation, the Committee on Ministry requires the departing pastor to engage the session and the Committee on Ministry at the beginning of the transitions process to gain consensus on the appropriate degree of engagement (if any) during the transition period.
Policy #03

The Committee on Ministry will strive to achieve the goals of this policy with love and care, affirming the unique needs of the clergy-couple.

4.0. ETHICAL GUIDELINES

The Committee on Ministry offers the following ethical guidelines to assist pastors in complying with this policy and leaving a congregation in a healthy, constructive manner:

4.01 Congregational Education. Prior to departure, the pastor should clearly and consistently state that she or he cannot exercise any pastoral roles at the pastorate’s conclusion. This helps church members understand that it is not a personal matter when the former pastor declines to participate in a baptism, wedding, funeral, or to make a pastoral call. The Committee on Ministry will assist the pastor in educating the congregation both before and after the pastor’s departure.

4.02 Friendships with Church Members. The development of friendships between pastors and church members can enrich the lives of all concerned as long as those friendships respect appropriate professional boundaries. While such friendships need not end with dissolution of the pastoral relationship, they must change in order to remain healthy.

(a) Pastors must be clear in establishing boundaries that preclude all pastoral roles. It is important for the pastor to discuss these boundaries with her/his friends.

(b) It is appropriate for the former pastor to listen, and provide empathic support to friends who are members of her/his former church. However, the former pastor should not provide pastoral care and should notify the new pastor of the need for pastoral care as soon as possible upon conclusion of the conversation.

(c) The former pastor may make hospital visits to church members who are personal friends. In that case, however, the former pastor should take particular care to maintain the role of a friend and should inform the new pastor of the visit.

(d) It is important for the former pastor to refrain from performing baptisms, funerals, weddings, and other services for friends. Presiding at services for friends, but not other congregation members, creates the unhealthy impression of favoritism. It is a better practice to decline participation in all such services.

4.03 Church Governance.

(a) A pastor should not influence, directly or indirectly, the selection of her or his successor. (see Covenant of Closure)

(b) A former pastor should never communicate with church members about issues affecting the governance of the church or the selection or performance of a new pastor. The situation becomes especially difficult when members of the former pastor’s family serve on Session or other committees and boards of the congregation. As a result, the Committee on Ministry recommends that the spouse/partner of the former pastor also not be involved in the life and work of the pastor’s former church during the transition period. This recommendation is not applicable in clergy-couple situations when both were employed by the same congregation. See Section 3.

4.04 Pastoral Care to Church Members. If contacted, the former pastor should encourage church members to depend on the new pastor for pastoral care. Immediately following the call, the former pastor should notify the new pastor of the contact and the need for pastoral care. The former pastor should not make hospital or home visits except to personal friends under the conditions discussed in Section 4.02.

4.05 Invitations to Participate in the Church’s Services.

(a) Former pastors may officiate at services for members of her or his former church or at other services within its properties upon the invitation of the church’s session. The former pastor should carefully consider the wisdom of accepting any such invitations. As noted in Section 4.02(d), accepting one invitation makes it difficult to refuse others. Moreover, accepting an invitation may not be in the best interest of the congregation.

(b) If the former pastor decides to accept an invitation, the new pastor (or interim pastor, as appropriate) should officiate, assisted by the former pastor.

4.06 Property Issues.

(a) The pastor should return all property that belongs to the church (keys, credit cards, computers, furniture, etc) prior to the pastor’s departure. The Committee on Ministry strongly recommends that as far in advance of the pastor’s departure as practical, the pastor and the Property Committee of the session (or trustees) agree upon a list of property that the pastor may take and the property to be returned to the church.

(b) Ordinarily, the pastor should vacate both the manse and church office no later than the effective date of the pastoral relationship’s dissolution.

4.07 Continued Compliance with Presbytery Policies. Former pastors continue to be subject to Presbytery’s policies (including, but not limited to, Presbytery’s Sexual Misconduct Policy) until they transfer to another presbytery.

4.08 Social Media
In these days of increased usage of social media (including Blogs, Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Pinterest, Google+, etc.), former pastors may have more connections with past church members than ever before. Followers on these outlets may not necessarily see a distinction between a pastor’s personal use of social media and his/her role in the church. If the pastor is contacted about church matters or pastoral care via these kinds of social media methods, the pastor should diligently apply the same guidelines from Sections 4.02, 4.03, and 4.04 above.
Policy #03
Ethical Guidelines between Departing Pastors, both temporary and permanent pastoral positions, and their Congregations

5.0 CONSIDERATION OF EXCEPTIONS FROM SECTION 2.01(B)

5.01 The Committee on Ministry will authorize a former pastor’s continued participation in the life and work of her or his former church without the transition period provided under Section 2.01(b) only when the pastor’s departure will place an extraordinary burden on the pastor or the pastor’s spouse/partner. For the purposes of this determination, “extraordinary burden” is defined as physical, emotional, financial, or spiritual difficulty that exceeds in intensity or scope the stress or challenge ordinarily associated with life transitions such as retirement or moving to new employment.

The Committee emphasizes that approval for a former pastor to participate in the life and work of the congregation does not change the importance of the pastor’s compliance with Section 2.01(a). The former pastor must cease performing pastoral functions. The Committee will carefully scrutinize any request for exemption from Section 2.01(b). The Committee will establish such conditions as necessary to make certain that the transition period proceeds smoothly and the congregation and the new pastor are provided an opportunity to develop a healthy and productive relationship.

5.02 Among the factors that may be considered by the Committee in authorizing a former pastor to continue to participate in the ongoing life and work of her or his former church are the following:

(a) The health of the pastor and/or spouse;
(b) Availability of reasonable alternatives for church involvement;
(c) The circumstances surrounding the dissolution of the pastoral relationship;
(d) The overall health and welfare of the congregation.

5.03 The Committee on Ministry may establish conditions for a former pastor’s continuing involvement in a church following dissolution of the pastoral relationship. Examples of such conditions include:

(a) The former pastor’s agreement to decline leadership roles in the church’s services or services for the church’s members;
(b) Departure from the congregation for an established period of time; and,
(c) Limiting the scope of the pastor’s involvement to attendance at worship services and other specific activities.

5.04 All authorizations for a former pastor’s continuing involvement will be in writing and acknowledged by the former pastor’s signature. Copies of the authorization will be provided to the church’s clerk of session, the former pastor, interim pastor and the new pastor.

6.0 NEW PASTORS
Policy #03
Ethical Guidelines between Departing Pastors, both temporary and permanent pastoral positions, and their Congregations

The Committee on Ministry reminds new pastors that extending an invitation to the former pastor to participate in services or continue to be involved in the life and work of the church may not be in the best interest of the church or the new pastor. New pastors should consider any decision on this issue very carefully and should engage the session and the Committee on Ministry to gain consensus on the appropriate degree of involvement, if any. Similarly, the new pastor should notify the Committee on Ministry if a situation develops involving the former pastor that she or he believes endangers the peace and unity of the church.

7.0 ROLE OF PRESBYTERY AND THE COMMITTEE ON MINISTRY IN POLICY IMPLEMENTATION

7.01 Supporting the Departing Pastor.
   (a) Upon learning of a pastor’s imminent departure from a congregation, the Congregational Consultant will review with the pastor and the session this policy, along with the Covenant of Closure, on her/his relationship with the congregation after departure.

   (b) The Congregational Consultant will consult with the departing pastor to determine what resources are necessary to meet the spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of the pastor and her/his family during the transition period. The Congregational Consultant will assist the pastor in securing those resources.

7.02 Educating the Congregation.
   (a) The Committee on Ministry has developed a standard news article describing, and briefly explaining, the Presbytery’s policy on departing pastors (see Added Resource). This article could be published in the first newsletter or other publications sent to church members following the congregational meeting to dissolve the pastoral relationship.

   (b) The Committee on Ministry’s Liaison to the congregation’s Pastor Nominating Committee will review the policy with the committee and Session as appropriate.

7.03 Conducting Investigations. Upon the invitation of the new pastor, the clerk of session or any of its other officers, the Congregational Consultant, or upon its own initiative, the Committee on Ministry will investigate situations that could disrupt the peace and unity of the church.

7.04 Providing Support and Assistance to New Pastors. Presbytery in general and the Committee on Ministry specifically will provide support to a new pastor in making decisions about a former pastor’s relationship with the congregation and, if necessary, act as an intermediary among the new pastor, the former pastor, and the congregation.
