Mission Statement

“The mission of the people of the Diocese of East Carolina is to restore all people to unity with God and each other in Christ. As God has taken away our guilt and forgiven our sins, we call others to experience this restorative power through relationships in the abundant life of the congregation and the large community. We are a people who continue to be restored and who are called and empowered to confess the faith of Christ crucified, proclaim his resurrection, and share in his eternal priesthood.”

LOCATION: New Bern Convention Center, New Bern, North Carolina

Following Morning Devotions delivered by Deacon Janet Sueiro Rodman, the Rt. Rev’d Robert S. Skirving called the 134th Annual Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina to order on Friday, February 3, 2017, at 8:46 A.M.

Bishop Skirving then appointed members of the Credentials Committee as follows: The Rev’d Phil Glick, (St. Andrew’s By the Sea, Nags Head), Chair; Isaac Hines, (St. Mary’s, Kinston), The Rev’d Paula Griffin (nonparochial, Mt. Olive) and Marion Gilbert, (St. Luke’s, Currituck).

Bishop Skirving called on The Rev’d Phil Glick, Chair of the Committee on Credentials, for quorum certification. The Rev’d Glick reported that a quorum was present at the Convention. “There are 66 Clerical Delegates who are present and canonically resident and the number of canonically resident parochial clergy who are duly registered and present is 51 (28 required for quorum this year).”

“There are 150 Lay Delegates who are duly registered and present representing 55 parishes (43 parishes required for quorum this year) as well as 3 Student Lay Delegates, 27 Alternate Delegates, 9 Postulants & Candidates.”

Bishop Skirving acknowledged the presence of a quorum, and announced that other regular business may begin.

The Rev’d Glick then moved, on behalf of the Committee on Credentials, that “clergy who are not canonically resident, but serving churches in this diocese for an extended period and duly registered for this Convention, military chaplains serving within the diocese, and clergy who are guests of the convention be granted seat and voice in the 134th Convention.” The delegates voted and seat and voice was granted to all such persons registered for the 134th Annual Convention.

Referencing the video screens and a written document in each delegate’s convention packet. Bishop Skirving announced the 2017 Committee appointments as follows:

2017 COMMITTEE ON THE BISHOP’S ADDRESS: The Rev’d Dr. Everett Thomas, St. Francis by the Sea, Salter Path, Chair; The Rev’d Eric Moulton, St. John’s, Wilmington; Mr. William Schultz, St. Paul’s, Edenton; Ms. Shirley Ray Weddle, St. Paul’s, Clinton; and Ms. Tania Granados, La Sagrada Familia, Newton Grove.

2017 COMMITTEE ON COURTESY: The Rev’d David Davis, St. James the Fisherman, Shallotte, Chair; Ms. Kathy Thaman, Holy Trinity, Fayetteville; and Ms. Sally Love, Trinity Church, Chocowinity.

Bishop Skirving then introduced the officers of the 134rd Annual Convention as follows: The Rev’d Canon Matthew Stockard, (non-parochial), Winterville, Secretary of Convention and Canon to the Ordinary; Mrs. Joan Geiszler-Ludlum, Church of the Servant, Wilmington, Chancellor; and Mrs. Tess Judge, All Saints, Southern Shores, Treasurer.
Bishop Skirving gave thanks for the work of Ms. Mamre Wilson, St. Paul’s, Beaufort, as Diocesan Historiographer. Ms. Wilson is stepping down from that work and plans are being made for transition.

Bishop Skirving called on Mrs. Annie Jacobs, St. Mark’s, Wilmington, and Chair of the Convention Committee, who came forward and offered, on behalf of the Convention Committee, a motion for the adoption of the agenda. The delegates voted and the agenda was unanimously adopted.

Mrs. Jacobs announced that it is very important that clergy and lay delegates pick up their packets at registration or in the Convention Office. To participate in voting, one must register. It is essential that clergy register in order to confirm their presence at the Convention whether they be in parishes, non-parochial or retired.

All additional resolutions must be given to the Secretary of Convention in writing by 10:00 A.M. Nominees for offices, including those persons nominated as potential Deputies to General Convention, have an opportunity to gather and meet informally with interested persons in the Berne Room from 12:15 to 12:45 P.M. Everyone must be seated in plenary by 1:00 P.M. in order to proceed with the next legislative session which shall include elections.

Mrs. Jacobs reminded everyone that additional information may not be placed on delegates’ tables without permission of the Convention Office. There is a designated table on the Convention floor for supplemental Convention materials; however, a copy of the material with its source and the name of the submitter must be given to the Convention Office for approval prior to the distribution of such information. Mrs. Jacobs will make announcements throughout convention to highlight this information.

Bishop Skirving invited The Rev’d Paula Griffin to come forward. She offered thanks for those leaders, lay and clerical, who have passed away since the 133rd Convention. Deaths among the clergy included The Rev’d David Williams. Deaths among lay leaders included Warren Judge of All Saints, Southern Shores; Larry Overton of St. Thomas, Ahoskie; and Joseph Fleming of St. John’s, Grifton. Noting that many more names are not known to this body, the Convention stood for a moment of silence and a prayer was offered.

Bishop Skirving invited the Convention to welcome those delegates who are serving in this role for the first time. By engaging the convention in “counting down” the number of years all delegates had been participating, the Bishop noted that we had many delegates who were serving for their first, second or third time.

Bishop Skirving then recognized diocesan clergy who have begun retirement since the last Convention as follows: The Rev’d Chris Carlin (who last served at St. Christopher’s, Havelock) and The Rev’d Jim McGee (retiring ‘for the second time’ after serving St. Luke’s, Currituck).

Clergy who have left the Diocese since the last Annual Convention are as follows: The Rev’d John Bonner (retired, now serving in Tennessee) and The Rev’d Anne Dale (now serving in Southern Virginia).

He also welcomed as guest the Project Archivist of the Diocese of North Carolina, Lynn Hoke, who is with us to present the story of an upcoming celebration of the 200th anniversary of the organizing convention of the Episcopal Church in North Carolina, held in New Bern on April 24, 1817.

Bishop Skirving announced that we would now shift our work from some initial organizing of the 134th Convention to that aspect of Convention which offers us opportunity to begin to work on the convention theme of Reconciliation and to listen to and learn from one another. He briefly spoke of God’s call to us to this ministry in the church, and of the need for reconciliation in new shapes and experiences. He then called upon Elizabeth Scott (Holy Trinity, Fayetteville) and The Rev’d Sarah Smith (St. Andrew’s on the Sound, Wilmington) to share with us some of their experiences as participants in last summer’s Pilgrimage of Reconciliation in South Africa.

Following the presentation, a brief recess took place from 9:40 A.M. to 10:02 A.M. Convention visitors were encouraged to visit the many resources available in the Exhibit Hall.

She did so in exquisite detail, and following her presentation Mr. Alves spoke, introducing a surprise Resolution of Appreciation for the ministry of Historiographer Ms. Mamré Wilson (St. Paul’s, Beaufort). Bishop Skirving called a very surprised Mamré to the dias, praised and gave thanks her work as Historiographer, particularly that of digital organization and archiving information for so many East Carolina parishes, and presented her with a memento of thanks from The Diocese of East Carolina.

Following several announcements by Mrs. Annie Jacobs, Convention Chair, Noonday Prayers led by Dean Susan Holmes (St. Timothy’s, Greenville) Bishop Skirving called for a luncheon recess.

Bishop Skirving called the Business Session of the 134rd Annual Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina to order at 1:00 P.M.

The Rev’d Dena Whalen, Chair of the Elections Committee was called to come forward to present election procedures.

Dean Whalen asked that participants remember that only delegates may vote in an election. Clergy delegates who may vote in this Convention are those Priests and Deacons in Good Standing who have been received into canonical residence in the Diocese of East Carolina by the acceptance of their Letters Dimissory. If you are a clergy person duly registered, canonically resident in East Carolina, but retired or not formally affiliated with a parish, your ballot will be at the retired/non-parochial table.

If you are a clergy person canonically resident in East Carolina and registered with a parish, your ballot will be at that parish’s table. (If you have questions concerning your eligibility, please speak with the Secretary of Convention.)

Lay Delegates who may vote are those lay persons duly elected by their parish and certified by their Vestry. Youth representatives and alternate delegates may NOT vote. Student lay delegates may vote, so long as they are confirmed Episcopalians who are 16 years of age or older.
There are two basic approaches to election: Plurality or Majority. When an election is decided by Plurality, the individuals who receive the largest number of votes in their favor are elected, in order of highest votes received. When an election is decided by a Majority, those elected must receive at least one vote more than half of the total ballots cast.

The Committee on Elections moves that when an election is necessary during the 134th Annual Convention that such elections be decided by plurality vote. This would mean that individuals who receive the largest number of votes in their favor are elected in the order given.

Bishop Skirving processes motion, which is from Committee and requires no second. No discussion is offered. The Convention chooses to decide elections by plurality vote.

Dean Whalen continues: In the Election of Deputies to The General Convention, four persons will be elected to a three-year term in the lay order and four persons to a three-year term in the clergy order. Nominations are on the screens at this time. In addition, four alternates are to be elected in each order. The Committee on Elections moves that the first four persons elected in each order serve as Deputies, and the fifth person elected in each order be elected as first Alternate, with any successive persons elected as second, third and fourth Alternates.

Motion from Committee does not require a second. Bishop Skirving asks for discussion. None is offered. The Convention votes to elect Deputies and Alternates as described above.

Dean Whalen continues: Four persons in each order will be elected as Deputies to The General Convention. Four persons in each order may be elected as Alternate Deputies. We are using electronic scoring for completed ballots. Because the scanning machine is very sensitive, please do not wrinkle or fold ballots in any way. Doing so will invalidate the damaged ballots. Vote for as many as four lay persons and as many as four clergy persons. Balloting takes place and ballots are collected. Before proceeding, Dean Whalen confirms that all ballots are collected.

Elections continue in this manner: “In considering the Elections of The Standing Committee, The Disciplinary Board, Deanery Representatives to Executive Council, At-Large Members of Executive Council, and the Clergy Trustee of the University of the South. The number of candidates for each position does not exceed the number of available seats. On behalf of the Committee on Elections I move that these persons be elected by acclamation.”

Bishop Skirving receives motion from Committee. Bishop proceeds with opportunity for discussion. A delegate asks a brief question of clarification regarding the Executive Council election, which is answered by the Chair. The motion is carried by voice vote and the uncontested seats are elected by acclamation. Dean Whalen thanks the delegates and departs the podium.

Bishop Skirving then nominated the following persons for election to the Board of Trinity Center: John Rozier (Trinity Church, Lumberton) for a two year term ending in 2019. Ed Hodges (St. Peter’s, Washington), Tracy Hanson (St. Andrew’s On the Sound, Wilmington), The Rev’d Sarah Smith (St. Andrew’s On the Sound, Wilmington) and Perry Souther (St. Anne’s, Jacksonville) for terms ending 2020. Bishop Skirving called for an election by acclamation, the delegates voted and the nominees were elected by acclamation. Returning to the consideration of the Convention theme of Reconciliation, the Convention watches a Video from Presiding Bishop Michael Curry describing The Jesus Movement.
As the well known video concludes, a special greeting from The Presiding Bishop to the 134th Convention of The Diocese of East Carolina begins, recalling us to shared ministry and inviting us to be persons committed to God’s mission of reconciliation. This leads to a bible study and table talk session, led by Bishop Skirving, upon the ministry of reconciliation.

The Bishop then called upon Dr. Thomas Warren (St. Mark’s, Wilmington), Chair of the Diocesan Disaster Relief Team for a report on offering love and support to our neighbors in the aftermath of Hurricane Matthew.

Following the presentation on Diocesan Life and its support and care, Bishop Skirving called upon Dr. Karen Ray (St. Thomas, Windsor) of the Global Goals Committee, who presented a video on an artistic approach to shoemaking “Heeling the World.”

Mrs Judge offered positive comments regarding the stewardship of the Diocesan Budget in 2016. Bishop Skirving asked for a motion to accept the Budget. A motion of acceptance was offered, seconded and passed by voice vote.

Lower Cape Fear: John Jordan (St. James, Wilmington); The Rev’d David Davis (St. James the Fisherman, Shallotte).

The delegates voted and the appointments were confirmed.

The Rev’d Everett Thomas (St. Francis-by-the-Sea, Pine Knoll Shores), came forward to give the Report of the Committee on the Bishop’s Address. In response to the request coming to the convention from St. Paul’s Vanceboro, the following Resolution was offered from the Committee:

RESOLUTION #4
Initiating the Dissolution of the Parish Life of St. Paul, Vanceboro

Whereas, the faithful members of St. Paul, Vanceboro have reported to Bishop Skirving that the congregation of St. Paul, Vanceboro has not been active for about two years and request that the Diocese assume responsibility for the buildings in contemplation of dissolution of the parish; and

 Whereas, Bishop Skirving, as Bishop Diocesan, has reported to the 134th Annual Convention, in accordance with Title II, Canon 6, Section 1 of the Canons of the Diocese of East Carolina, that St. Paul, Vanceboro appears to be unable to maintain its organization due to the lack of communicants and leadership energy. Now therefore be it

Resolved, that the 134th Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina expresses its deep appreciation to the Ipock family for their faithful stewardship and ministry in caring for St. Paul, Vanceboro; and be it further

Resolved, that the 134th Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina accepts the report of the Bishop and hereby dissolves the parish of St. Paul, Vanceboro and asks the Bishop and the Trustees to proceed with the process of evaluation outlined in Title II, Canon 6, Section 2 to determine the disposition of the property.

The motion was offered by committee, requiring no second. Opportunity for discussion was given. The delegates voted and the resolution carried.
Bishop Skirving called upon Mrs. Annie Jacobs, Chair of the Convention Committee, to give a report on the status of the location of the 135th Annual Convention. Mrs. Jacobs commented upon the variety of factors used in consideration of the time and place of the Annual Convention, then offered a motion on behalf of the Convention Committee, that the 135th Annual Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina again be held at the New Bern Convention Center on February 9-10, 2018. There was no discussion, the delegates voted and the motion was carried.

Bishop Skirving then called on The Rev’d David Davis, Chair of the Committee on Courtesy, who presented a courtesy resolution, expressing appreciation and gratitude. There was no discussion, the delegates voted and the motion was carried.

During the closing worship, Bishop Skirving then appointed and installed the Deans as follows: The Rev’d Jeff Douglas and Beth Harrington, Albemarle; The Rev’d Andrew Canaan and Susan Holmes, Pamlico; The Rev’d Mary Reece and Ginger Jacocks, Trinity; The Rev’d John Frazier and Rob Richardson, Upper Cape Fear, and The Reverend Dena Bearl Whalen and Jane Martin, Lower Cape Fear.

There being no further business, following the Liturgy and Closing Prayers, Bishop Skirving adjourned the 134th Annual Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina at 11:39 A.M. on Saturday, February 4th, 2017.

Respectfully submitted,
The Rev’d Canon Matthew E. Stockard
Secretary of the 134th Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina
Soon after her arrival in this diocese, the Rev. Marcia McRae heard me say to someone that I didn’t have a magic wand. I’ve used that phrase to explain to others that there isn’t always a simple or “magical” answer to the challenge they’re facing. Some time later, when she was visiting my office, Marcia brought her magic wand for me to see, and then later in the year gave it to me as a gift … my own, official Harry Potter magic wand, along with J.K. Rowling’s latest book. That wand sits on a shelf in my office. As complex or challenging situations arise, I’ll remember it’s there. I’ve even taken it with me to a meeting or two, just to lighten the mood a little.

But the truth is that many of the troubling situations we face do not have simple answers. And while most of us understand this, it doesn’t stop us from wishing that things could be fixed, whether in our own lives, in the life of our congregation, or in the life of this nation.

As I’ve contemplated how best we followers of Jesus Christ could bear witness to the good news of God in our own time, and serve effectively as ministers of reconciliation, I’ve assembled something of an action plan.

First, let us find regular time for prayer and study, alone and in community with others. If we are truly to be followers of Jesus Christ, and citizens of the kingdom of God, then we need to be shaped more and more fully into this identity. Our prayer and study ought to be rooted in God’s Word, but it should also incorporate other sources. Perhaps, with others, we can sort through the news and information that bombards us on every side, coming to a better understanding of the truth in any situation, and developing a response that reflects our primary citizenship. In an address titled, “The Role of Church in Facing the Nation’s Chief Moral Dilemma” and delivered in 1957, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. called on his listeners to be maladjusted to certain elements of their social system, maladjusted in the way that the prophet Amos, Abraham Lincoln, and Jesus were to their own social systems. Dr. King’s use of this word reflects the influence on him of Harry Emerson Fosdick, who wrote in 1943 of those who confronted injustice, “To war, to the evils of predatory economics, to racial prejudice, totalitarian dictatorship, or whatever other social ill confronts them, they refuse comfortably to adjust themselves.” Years before, in 1933, Fosdick had written that “the deepest obligation of a Christian” was to be “maladjusted to the status quo.” Our primary citizenship is in the kingdom of God, and there will be times when we cannot, and must not accept the status quo of our own society. Without prayer and study, we will be unable to distinguish or clearly express our unique vocation as members of the Body of Christ.

Second, let us build relationships with others who are different than us. There’s nothing like sharing a meal together to bring people to a deeper sense of that which we hold in common. And while this might sound naïve, as we become clear about the common ground we share, we become more able to find solutions to the problems and challenges which we face. Too often, we practice a hospitality that seems intended only to welcome others into our safe space. Can we find opportunities to step out beyond our own safe space and accept the hospitality of others who are different than us, in spaces that are more comfortable for them? How can we build relationships with others who are different from us by race, age, gender, religion, economics, politics or in some other way? In a recent interview with the New York Times, Kinston chef Vivian Howard spoke of her life’s work “in the wake of an election that laid bare the nation’s political, cultural and economic divisions.”
Howard said, “What I came to realize was that much of rural America feels forgotten and misunderstood and, frankly, hopeless. Urban folks are afraid of rural folks, and rural folks are afraid of urban folks. On the show, we try to bridge the gap.” There are so many gaps to be bridged in our relationships with one another. We do not need to go very far to begin the ministry of reconciliation to which God calls us.

Third, let us actively serve the needs of our own communities. For each of us, this will mean something different. Some of us will continue the work of recovery after Hurricane Matthew. Some of us will staff food pantries or kitchens that feed the poor. Some of us will volunteer as mentors for children in our public schools. Some of us will work with Interfaith Refugee Ministries based in New Bern or Wilmington, helping refugees, new to this country, to settle into their new homes. Some of us will support the work of the Episcopal Farmworkers Ministry in Newton Grove, or similar services where we live, to care for the migrant farmworkers in our midst and, when necessary, to advocate for their needs. The possibilities are almost endless. Engaging in acts of service, such as these, is one way for us to love our neighbor as ourselves. These sorts of acts of service will also put us into the position of building relationship with neighbors who may be “different” than us, providing us with even more opportunities to exercise the ministry of reconciliation, and to be transformed in the process.

Fourth, and last, let us be ready to speak publicly when called to do so, and let us recognize that there will be times when we disagree with one another in the public forum. Some were in DC for the inauguration of our new president. Some were there the next day as part of the Women’s March on Washington. Some may have been there the next week for the March for Life. Some gathered in protest this week at our nation’s airports. In choosing how and when to speak publicly, we must remember our identity as followers of Jesus and citizens of the kingdom of God. James and John asked Jesus if they could sit at his left and right hand in his glory. When the other ten heard this, they became angry with the brothers. Jesus addressed them with these words, “You know that among the Gentiles those whom they recognize as their rulers lord it over them, and their great ones are tyrants over them. But it is not so among you; but whoever wishes to become great among you must be your servant, and whoever wishes to be first among you must be slave of all.” When we speak publicly, it ought not to be for our own glory but for the purpose of bearing witness to Jesus’ teaching that in God’s kingdom, the last shall be first. Sometimes, we must speak on behalf of those whom the world has cast aside or ignored. And, whenever we speak, it ought to be with an eye to the ministry of reconciliation that has been given to us by God. How can we bridge the gaps between those committed to partisan politics? How can we help to reduce the heat and light in any public conflict, such that those involved have a greater chance of becoming reconciled in their relationship? It isn’t that we should expect that everyone would always agree, but those of us who are followers of Jesus and citizens of the kingdom of God ought to bear witness to the possibility of reconciliation, in our relationships with one another and through our presence in the public sphere. And, hopefully, in addition to speaking, our convictions will find expression in our acts of service.

In the four steps of this action plan, I believe there is a pattern that can carry us through anything that the world will throw at us. Our life as followers of Jesus and citizens of God’s kingdom should always include prayer and study, relationships that cross boundaries, acts of service, and public witness. Our Baptismal Covenant calls us to no less. With this in mind, I’d like to now speak to our common life as the Diocese of East Carolina, with reflections on how I believe that we can strengthen our capacity for the ministry of reconciliation.
Prayer & Study

Most of our prayer and study happens in the privacy of our own homes, or with others from our congregation or our community. As such, most of the leadership for prayer and study is necessarily local. That said, our diocese does play a role in ministries of faith formation. All will agree that Camp Trinity plays a huge role in the Christian formation of approximately six hundred children and teens every summer. New Beginning and Happening weekends also offer great opportunities for our young people to grow in faith. Many adults benefit from study with Education for Ministry groups, some of which gather members from a number of different congregations.

Twice each year, East Carolina’s Cursillo ministry offers a short course in Christianity over a long weekend. For a number of years, the Rev. Joe Running has served as Spiritual Advisor to the Secretariat of Cursillo, our diocesan level organizing council. Joe has chosen to retire, and we’re grateful to him for his faithful service. It is my pleasure to announce that the Rev. Kay Swindell will now serve as Spiritual Advisor for Cursillo, working with me and with new Lay Rector Marian Day to lead and continue to strengthen this diocesan ministry.

Previously named the Anti-Racism Commission, and now named the Racial Reconciliation Commission, this diocesan body has a mandate that includes providing necessary training for all Vestry members, clergy and elected leaders in the Diocese. In their training, they are facing the challenge that some younger participants know little about what happened in Selma but want to address what has happened more recently in Ferguson. I am grateful to the members of this Commission for taking their work so seriously. The shift in the Commission’s name reflects their desire, I believe, to invite members of this diocese into the transformational work of reconciliation through which individuals of various races can learn from and with one another. Historically, their work has been primarily with those of African and European background. Increasingly, their work will need to recognize the far greater racial diversity already present in our diocese. Besides those with African and European backgrounds, our diocese also includes people of Native, Latino and Asian backgrounds, at least. According to Jim Wallis, in his recent book America’s Original Sin, by the time that my son will be my age, there will no longer be a single racial group constituting a majority of this nation’s population. Reconciliation across races will continue to be an important part of our faith formation in the years to come.

During this past year, our diocese’s Commission on Ministry has spent some time considering what it might look like for us to launch a School for Ministry. We’ve imagined building on the School for Deacons which is already in place, to add opportunities for study and training for lay members of our diocese and for their ministries as leaders of worship and formation in their congregations. We’ve also imagined developing a path for the local formation of those who might be called to priestly ministry, but who are unable to relocate to one of our Episcopal seminaries. Within the next month or so, a newly formed subcommittee of the Commission on Ministry will pick up this challenge. I look forward to working with them.

Relationships that Cross Boundaries

One of the hazards of life in eastern North Carolina is that so many of our communities live largely in physical isolation from others. While Internet and satellite and cable television connect all of us across the world, they may do little to connect us with one another. We might know about what’s happening in our own community or in Raleigh or in our nation’s capital, but know little about what’s happening two or three hours away in another part of eastern North Carolina. This is a challenge we face in strengthening our identity as a diocese.
My visitation schedule has now taken me to most every congregation in the diocese and I am now making return visits on Sunday mornings. Although I have offered to make mid-week or Sunday afternoon or evening visits to congregations during their “off year” I have had few takers! Recently, I was invited to visit Holy Trinity Fayetteville for Sunday afternoon worship and confirmation. I’m grateful for this invitation, and hope that others will follow. As we move forward, I will continue to explore new ways of more regularly visiting with all of the congregations of this diocese.

That said, I also want to express my gratitude for those congregation who are deliberately reaching out to one another to form relationships that are mutually beneficial. Let me name a few. St. Mary’s Burgaw and St. James Wilmington continue in a relationship that involves clergy from St. James serving at St. Mary’s. Since the death of the Rev. David Williams, the clergy and people of Holy Trinity Fayetteville have supported the people of Good Shepherd Fayetteville. Holy Trinity’s rector serves as a mentor for Skip Walker who is seeking ordination in our diocese, and who leads Morning Prayer most weeks at Good Shepherd. Clergy of Holy Trinity visit each month to celebrate Holy Eucharist with the people of Good Shepherd. In Albemarle Deanery, the small congregations of St. Mary’s Gatesville and St. Peter’s Sunbury are supported sacramentally by clergy from St. Thomas Ahoskie, Holy Trinity Hertford, St. Paul’s Edenton and Christ Church Elizabeth City. Also in Albemarle Deanery, the people of Christ Church Elizabeth City are exploring ways to support the people of St. Luke’s Currituck, who are served sacramentally by Bishop David Bane.

Many of our congregations are dependent upon the availability of supply clergy. Others, who seek to call part-time clergy, find themselves without suitable candidates. These congregations are particularly vulnerable to becoming isolated from the wider diocese. With Canon Stockard and the Commission on Ministry, I am committed to exploring new sorts of call processes and new possibilities for clergy leadership in our smaller congregations.

Since last Convention, I have met with members of St. Paul’s Episcopal Church in Vanceboro, who indicated that they had stopped meeting as a congregation and wanted to turn over their property to the care of the diocese. Sonny Browne, Canon for Diocesan Life, and Bonnie Holton, Diocesan Administrator have arranged for the care of this property and, later in our Convention, there will be a resolution seeking Convention’s permission to dissolve this congregation and initiate the process leading to the disposition of their property. When this time comes in the life of a congregation, there is almost certainly a mix of emotions. We ought to be grateful to those who carry the heavy burden of maintaining the church properties of our diocese, and supportive of them if the time comes to close.

On a more hopeful note, a group of people has begun worshiping again at St. Mark’s Church in Roxobelo. At present, they meet about once each month for Evening Prayer and a shared meal. Please keep these people in your prayers as they explore the possibilities for their future as a community of faith.

Our renewed commitment to Deanery life is showing some early promise with stories of the clergy and lay members of our deaneries gathering to build relationships and pursue shared outreach opportunities, including disaster response initiatives following Hurricane Matthew. While Albemarle Deanery has the history of an annual Deanery Celebration with the Bishop, some other deaneries are now looking at a similar possibility. Some deaneries have experienced renewed energy through the participation of both clergy and lay members in deanery life, rather than clergy only.
A portion of our diocese’s 2015 surplus was set-aside in a Mission Development Fund, and our Executive Council has made this money available to our five deaneries to support them in their new work. The Rev. John Pollock has indicated his desire to resign as Dean in Trinity Deanery, a role he has held for a number of years. I have been grateful for his leadership, counsel and support. In his place, I am happy to appoint the Rev. Mary Reese of St. Andrew’s Church in Goldsboro. All of our other deans have agreed to continue for at least one more year.

For many years, as I understand it, our Diocese has had a commitment to Spanish language ministry. Last year, with Convention’s support, we tried to hire a part-time Coordinator of Spanish Language Ministry, to support and strengthen the ministry of our three, existing congregations and to pursue the possibility of planting new congregations. Sadly, we were unable to hire someone for this position. News of the Rev. Janet Rodman’s decision to retire from her leadership of San Pedro’s, the Spanish language congregation of St. Peter’s Church in Washington, opened up a new possibility for us. With the support of the Executive Council, we pursued the possibility of a partnership between St. Peter’s and the diocese that would lead to a full time position for a Latino or Latina priest serving part-time in Washington and part-time with the diocese. Thanks to funding from the Lehto Foundation and from some of our diocese’s reserve funds, we seem ready to go ahead with the proposal, pending acceptance of our diocesan budget for 2017. Details still need to be worked out, but this seems like an exciting and important step forward. Fr. Tony Rojas has always explained to me that one of the important things that the people of East Carolina can do to support him at La Sagrada Familia in Newton Grove and at San Francisco in Goldsboro is to build relationships between the Spanish and English speaking members of our diocese. I truly hope that in the coming year we will take up this work with enthusiasm!

As bishop, I have few relationships with my ecumenical or interfaith counterparts. Most of them, as I understand it, live outside of our diocese. Some of our congregations have developed good relationships with sisters and brothers of other Christian traditions and of other faiths. This remains a goal for me. I’m grateful for the presence at our convention of the Rev’d Jessica Stokes, a staff member of the North Carolina Council of Churches, of which our diocese is a member. I want to encourage the Rev’d Bob Hudak of St. Paul’s in Greenville, and those working with him, to help us strengthen our ecumenical and interfaith relationships with sisters and brothers across eastern North Carolina.

I’m grateful for the diocese’s support in the hiring of the Rev. Sonny Browne as Canon for Diocesan Life. This new role in our diocesan leadership, with its emphasis on “connections and communications” is an important part of our diocese’s work of growing relationships that will strengthen our capacity for ministry.

Finally, I wish to commend the members of our Project Resource team for their willingness to lead our diocese and our congregations to work together to grow our resources of people and money in support of God’s ministry. Too often, we work separately in such endeavors and often we compete with one another for available resources. Instead, we want to work together across these sorts of territorial boundaries, and strengthen our mutual ministry as congregations and diocese. If your congregation has not already registered some key leaders for the Parish Leadership Conference, March 17-19 at Trinity Center, I invite you to do so very soon! Canon Sonny Browne will have more to say about this conference later today. Our Project Resource team plans to be a part of this event.
Acts of Service

As with prayer and study, most of our acts of service take place locally and the accumulative effect of these acts of service can be mind staggering! I’ve heard of congregations that have tried to measure the number of hours per week or per year that their members spend in acts of service, whether through the ministries of their congregation, through local not-for-profits or simply at their own individual initiative, and found the results to be far greater than they could ever have imagined. Our Church’s mission, as defined in our Catechism, is “to restore all people to unity with God and each other in Christ.” This mission requires us to get out of our buildings and beyond the membership of our congregations.

In the aftermath of Hurricane Matthew I found myself more than a little conflicted, and I was reminded that my pastoral instincts were still those of a parish priest. I wanted to stay in Kinston, where I live, and share with others in the overwhelming and immediate relief work. As your bishop, however, I needed to leave town in order that I could maintain my visitation schedule and be present with congregations located in communities that had seen little or no damage. Only after the floodwaters had receded was I able to return home. Our staff worked diligently, and mostly from home, to respond as best as we were able to the immediate needs that we encountered. Canons Stockard and Browne and I made contact with the clergy or senior lay leader of every congregation that we could reach in the first days after the storm. From this experience, we learned at least three things.

1. We needed to have had a disaster response team in place before the storm. We didn’t, but we have now built a team who will lead us through recovery after Hurricane Matthew while also helping us to be more ready for the next time that natural disaster strikes. Dr. Tom Warren of St. Mark’s in Wilmington reported on their behalf yesterday.
2. People’s generosity was tremendous. Besides the funds raised from members and congregations of this diocese, gifts came in from all around the country, along with offers to send work teams when we were ready. The Episcopal Relief and Development Fund was in touch with us immediately, and provided funds that we were able to distribute through the Episcopal Farmworkers Ministry and through a number of our harder hit congregations for immediate relief efforts.
3. In making our calls across the diocese, we heard too many congregational leaders express that “they” were all right, even though we knew that the storms had caused incredible damage in their community. Perhaps it’s how we asked the question, but it seemed to us that many saw their responsibility as bounded by the membership of their congregation or the walls of their church. We need to encourage our congregations to have a wider, more outward focused perspective.

We all know that there are many communities across eastern North Carolina that will be continuing the recovery and rebuilding after Hurricane Matthew for years to come. Even if our support of these communities has been slow, I hope and pray that it will be steady, and that we’ll find ways of going deeper with acts of service across our diocese. I hope that some of our communities will be hosting work crews over these next months and through the summer, and I hope to have the chance to join with one or more of these crews myself. Perhaps you will do the same.
Not surprisingly to some of you, the Hurricane also pointed out the huge gaps that exist economically in communities across our diocese. In some places, the worst damage happened in the “poor” section of town, with other sections facing much less damage. As we engage in the work of recovery and rebuilding, let us keep our eyes and hearts open to opportunities where we might engage more fully in the ministry of reconciliation, working to bridge the gaps that we encounter, while seeking strategies to overcome institutional and systemic barriers that keep people divided from one another.

At our last Convention, we supported a resolution that gave thanks for the work of the Interfaith Refugee Ministry of New Bern. Since then, the political climate surrounding refugees and immigrants has only become more heated. How many of us, in the last year, have found a way to support the work of resettling refugees in eastern North Carolina? Granted, this work is mostly localized in New Bern and in Wilmington. But there are ways that others of us can be supportive. If you or your congregation wants to learn more, please connect with our staff in the community closest to you.

For many years, the Diocese of East Carolina has shared with the Diocese of North Carolina in supporting the Episcopal Farmworker Ministry based in Newton Grove. In recent years, the Harvest for Hospitality Campaign has raised about $300,000 to support the work of this ministry. In this past year, members of the Board have spent a lot of time looking to the future of this ministry, including the possibility of extending the ministry’s reach beyond the three counties that are presently served. This ministry may very well face an increase in the demands of serving the migrant farmworkers living in our midst, depending upon actions our government might take. We may be forced to make decisions about providing sanctuary for those fearing deportation. Each of our dioceses is represented on the Board by six members along with the bishop and the bishop’s representative. With the Rev. Daniel Cenci of St. Paul’s Clinton, and Judy Klinck of St. John’s Fayetteville, who will continue on the Board, I am happy to announce that East Carolina will also be represented by Lee Albritton of St. Mary’s Kinston, Dana Cook of St. James Wilmington, Francisca Rios of La Sagrada Familia in Newton Grove, and the Rev. Janet Rodman, currently of St. Peter’s/San Pedro’s Washington. Canon Sonny Browne will be my representative on this Board. Please keep this ministry and its leaders in your prayers, and watch for opportunities to engage in acts of service in support of the migrant workers in our midst. Plan to participate in the Farmworkers’ Festival on Sunday, September 17th.

Finally, I wish to recognize and thank the Rev. John Gaskill who has served this diocese as Archdeacon. John helped establish our School for Deacons and has shepherded those deacons who are active in the ministries of our diocese. Archdeacon Gaskill has decided to retire from this diocesan ministry, and I wish to publicly thank him for his service. Rather than announcing his successor today, I have decided to take a little time and consult with others about how best to strengthen and more widely promote the ministry of deacons in East Carolina. At such time as I am ready to make an appointment, we will share this news widely across the diocese.

Deacons play an important role in the ministries of our congregations and of our diocese, bringing the needs of the world to the church, and leading the members of the church into the world in service. All of us are called to acts of service. We give thanks for our deacons who lead us in this work.

Public Witness

“Preach the Gospel at all times and, if necessary, use words.” Although there is no evidence that he actually said these words, they are attributed to St. Francis of Assisi. They guide many faithful Christians who would rather let their actions speak for them, than speak publicly of their faith. But there are also many faithful Christians who will willingly raise their voices in public protests and do so with the understanding that they are preaching the Gospel, at least as they understand it.
It would be my hope that our public witness will arise from our prayer and study, grow out of our boundary crossing relationships, and be visible in our acts of service. Unless our public witness expresses our unique identity as followers of Jesus and citizens of God’s kingdom, then we ought not to claim it as such. And unless our public witness is consistent with our more private words and actions, we ought to be careful in claiming the stage as a representative of the Church.

Each person who is a citizen of this county has the right and the responsibility to participate in public political processes. Every important cause needs advocates who are willing to stand and speak. In fact, I would encourage those who are so motivated to offer themselves for public service. This country needs good people, with hearts committed to the service of others, to fill our elected offices, whether as Democrats or Republicans.

As your bishop, I have not made many public pronouncements. Some have encouraged me to speak or write publicly more often, as a way of taking action. Some have been grateful that I have stayed out of the fray. In a recent post on my own Facebook page, I wrote these words, “I know where my heart lies, and I know that there will be times and places when I will need to speak and there will be moments when I am called to act. There may also be moments when I will be called to lead others to speak or act.”

One of the challenges that we face together, in this regard, is that we are dispersed across many miles and much of our public witness is localized rather than diocesan wide. It was my pleasure to join Episcopalians and others in Wilmington in 2015 for ecumenical worship and a march in honor of Dr. King, and then later in the year for a Vigil of Prayer to End Gun Violence. I was present with Episcopalians of New Bern a year ago, when their County Commissioners considered and then adopted a resolution affecting the settling of refugees in their community. I offered my prayerful support to Episcopalians who joined with others in Belhaven to protest the closing of their local hospital. Unfortunately, I was unable to be with them in person. I know that in the city of Greenville, there are many opportunities for gatherings and public witness across race and religion. In Kinston, where I live, there are many community challenges, which cry out for the ministry of reconciliation. So far, I have not made time to become involved in my own local community in any significant way. Please know of my willingness to join with any of our congregations in public witness, protest or prayer, as I am able. Please remember to invite me, and please share your intentions with others across the diocese so that you will have the support of their prayers and perhaps their presence.

There will be times when I will need to speak a word to the Church in the Diocese of East Carolina, mindful that these words will also be heard beyond our Church’s membership. There will also be times when I will need to speak more publicly, as your bishop, when we believe that our Christian witness needs to be heard. Always, I want to be clear about my audience and appropriate with my message.

You might have come to the realization that I have little interest in being the leader of an Episcopal public action committee. Like all of you, I have my own political sympathies and convictions and I prefer to keep them private. But my understanding of my call as your bishop is rooted in my belief that the Body of Christ, the Church, has its primary allegiance with the kingdom of God, a kingdom that Jesus claims “is not from this world.” As followers of Jesus and citizens of the kingdom of God, we need to bear witness to God’s love for us and for all people. And we need to do so publicly in each of those places where we are present in eastern North Carolina.
As Episcopal Christians, our best public witness to the world might be rooted in our ability to model the ministry of reconciliation that we have been given by God. As we are able to embrace this ministry in patterns of prayer and study, in the building of relationships across boundaries that have divided us, and in our acts of service amongst those facing the greatest needs, then we will have a witness that the world hungers to hear.

In Conclusion

Thank you for the privilege of serving as your bishop. I continue to grow in my love for the congregations and people of our diocese. I pray that I will serve you faithfully for many years to come.

Thank you to all who serve on our Diocesan House staff. This has been a challenging year, with a significant realignment of responsibilities amongst our staff members. We ought to be grateful for their care and commitment to the needs of our diocese.

Thank you to all who have worked to bring this Convention into being. There is so much work that happens behind the scenes that most of never see. And thank you to all who serve the ministries and the committees of our diocese so generously.

Thank you to my wife Sandy for being my companion on this adventure. Last October, we celebrated thirty years of marriage and I can safely say that on the day we married, neither of us had any real idea of what we would be facing.

And “thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!”

The Rt. Rev. Robert S. Skirving
8th Bishop, East Carolina
RESPONSE FROM THE COMMITTEE ON THE BISHOP’S ADDRESS

It was a pleasure for our committee to discuss the address made to this convention by Bishop Skirving. From the beginning of our conversation it was clear that we were in no mood to debate the nuances of it, or to simply express our gratitude for it – although it is nuanced and our gratitude for it is profound.

Therefore on behalf of the committee I want to tell you what riveted us from the beginning and was so strong that we could speak of nothing else. It was not new for any of us, but what we already knew was made stronger by the commonality of our response. What we had seen and heard was amped up as we realized how shared it is, how important and hopeful.

We could no get beyond the intimate congruence of the man and the message. We spoke in depth to each other about how what Rob said is not just from his heart but from his life.

When he calls us to prayer, as he did in the opening of the address, we know that he is already there. The way that he walks and talks among us, his kindness, his recognition of what is happening around him, his ability to see deeply into the issues that confront us and the way forward suggests a man who opens his heart regularly for formation.

When he calls us to study as well, and points to resources found within the diocese and books of all kinds, and art, and music, he is there too. I have on my list five books from this convention that I will order. He has read them already, and presented them in a lively way.

But our conversation really came alive when we talked about what Rob said about reconciliation, about being with people different from us, about valuing all people, about being willing to go the extra mile – or clear across the diocese for a chance to be with a small group of college students, or to spend a week on the staff at Camp Trinity. We knew these were more than words. Rob is clearly trying to do what he is calling us to do.

Once of the most amazing things said in our committee was by a person who spoke of the effect of Rob’s presence in an important group meeting at their church. It was a difficult situation, heavily fraught with consequences for that parish church. In speaking of Rob’s role in that meeting, our committee member said, “He reconciled us and we didn’t know he was reconciling us.”

One of our members kept a running list of adjectives that we used to describe Rob’s ministry among us. We didn’t know that list was being generated from our conversation. Here is her list:

Approachable; Open-minded; Respectful; Supportive; Not pretentious and A unifier

So our response to the bishop’s address is an appreciation of how good it is, how hopeful and powerful it is, when we give ourselves to prayer and study, when we value each person no matter what, and we use the energy that flows into us to help people become reconciled to God and each other.
And in this particular committee we are fascinated at how you do that in such a way that people don’t know you are doing that until it has already happened, and a new day has dawned.
We are also aware that to do what Rob has called us to do is transformational at the heart level. This could change everything about us as a diocese.

One item in the Bishop’s Address had to do with the Dissolution of the Parish Life at St. Paul, Vanceboro.

On behalf of our committee, I offer the following motion that encourages the Bishop and the Trustees to proceed with the process of evaluation:

Whereas, the faithful members of St. Paul, Vanceboro have reported to Bishop Skirving that the congregation of St. Paul, Vanceboro has not been active for about two years and request that the Diocese assume responsibility for the buildings in contemplation of dissolution of the parish; and

Whereas, Bishop Skirving, as Bishop Diocesan, has reported to the 134th Annual Convention, in accordance with Title II, Canon 6, Section 1 of the Canons of the Diocese of East Carolina, that St. Paul, Vanceboro appears to be unable to maintain its organization due to the lack of communicants and leadership energy. Now therefore be it

Resolved, that the 134th Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina expresses its deep appreciation to the Ipock family for their faithful stewardship and ministry in caring for St. Paul, Vanceboro; and be it further

Resolved, that the 134th Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina accepts the report of the Bishop and hereby dissolves the parish of St. Paul, Vanceboro and asks the Bishop and the Trustees to proceed with the process of evaluation outlined in Title II, Canon 6, Section 2 to determine the disposition of the property.

INITIATING THE DISSOLUTION OF THE PARISH LIFE OF ST. PAUL’S, VANCEBORO

Whereas, the faithful members of St. Paul, Vanceboro have reported to Bishop Skirving that the congregation of St. Paul, Vanceboro has not been active for about two years and request that the Diocese assume responsibility for the buildings in contemplation of dissolution of the parish; and

Whereas, Bishop Skirving, as Bishop Diocesan, has reported to the 134th Annual Convention, in accordance with Title II, Canon 6, Section 1 of the Canons of the Diocese of East Carolina, that St. Paul, Vanceboro appears to be unable to maintain its organization due to the lack of communicants and leadership energy. Section 4. (f) The Nominations Committee shall consist of one member of the clergy and one lay person representing each deanery, elected by the Deanery Council no later than 60 days prior to the Annual Convention and confirmed by the Annual Convention.

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE IV
Personnel of Convention

Section 3. (a) Each church within the Diocese, whether a parish or mission, shall be entitled to be represented by lay delegates according to the number of its confirmed communicants in good standing of sixteen years of age or older, as follows: from 10 to 50 such communicants, 1 lay delegate; from 51 to 100 such communicants, 2 lay delegates; from 101 to 300 such communicants, 3 lay delegates; from 301 to 500 such communicants, 4 lay delegates; over 500 such communicants, 5 lay delegates. The number of confirmed communicants in good standing of sixteen years of age or older shall be determined from each church’s parochial report as of December 31 preceding the annual Convention. Each church’s delegates shall be chosen by the Vestry, or at the option of the Vestry, by election by the congregation, from the confirmed communicants in good standing of sixteen years of age or older of the church. (b) Any Parish or Mission within the Diocese, which the Ecclesiastical Authority has acknowledged as the sponsoring parish or mission of an Episcopal College or University Student Fellowship, shall be entitled to be represented by one additional student lay delegate. The student lay delegate shall be an adult communicant in good standing in this Church, chosen by the Vestry of the sponsoring parish, or at the option of the Vestry, by election of the Student Fellowship.

(b) When the Ecclesiastical Authority has recognized an Episcopal College or University Campus Ministry as a community of faith, the Campus Ministry shall be entitled to elect a student lay delegate as its representative to the Annual Convention. The student lay delegate shall be an adult confirmed communicant in good standing in this Church elected by the Campus Ministry from its membership.

EXPLANATION

Campus Ministry is now a diocesan ministry instead of a parish ministry. It is desirable to have a campus ministry recognized as a community of faith with representation in the Annual Convention. The amendment to the Constitution will allow the campus ministry to elect one delegate to represent it in the Convention.

As prescribed in Article XVI of the Constitution of this Diocese, amending the Constitution requires passage by two consecutive Annual Conventions. If passed on First Reading by a majority of the Convention, the amendment will be submitted to the following Annual Convention for a Second Reading. If approved on Second Reading by a majority of each order voting by Orders and Parishes as prescribed in Article VII, the amendment becomes part of the Constitution of this Diocese.

Bishop Skirving stated that he attended the Dominican Republic’s annual convention in February to participate in the ordination of their Bishop Coadjutor, Moises Quezada Mota. While he was there he joined the Dominican Development Group (DDG) for their semi-annual meeting, as it was his understanding that the Diocese of Dominican Republic was a Companion Diocese. To learn more about this relationship, Bishop Skirving shared that he reviewed the Diocesan Companion Relation files and found that the Companion Diocesan Relationship ends this year. Bishop Skirving shared that the diocese has not paid dues to DDG for 2016. Moving forward Bishop Skirving plans to gather folks in the diocese to help him determine whether or not to proceed with this relationship. Once a decision has been made he will share with Council.

Mrs. Tess Judge, Diocesan Treasurer was not present but furnished a Treasurer’s Comment Sheet giving explanations on financial reports that were previously emailed to Council. An error in that mailing was detected, and the missing report month was made available. Mr. Douglas made a motion to receive the financial reports. Ms. Jacocks seconded the motion and it carried.

Bishop Skirving informed Council that the budget reflects a line item for a Small Church Conference. In previous years the conference oversight was handled by The Rev’d John Bonner who since the last conference has retired. He explained that currently no one has approached him to plan the conference. Bishop Skirving shared that he would like to use the dates blocked at Trinity Center and use the funds allocated for Small Church Conference to go towards a Diocesan Life Conference that would be led by the new Canon for Diocesan Life.

After discussion, Ms. Hatcher made a motion that line item #1-5239-00 Small Church Conference be redirected to a new expense line time called Diocesan Life Conference 2016. The motion was seconded and it carried.

Mr. Cannan made a motion that the Executive Council have a retreat preceding the Diocesan Life Conference on Thursday, September 22 and Friday, September 23. Ms. Whalen seconded it and the motion carried.

Bishop Skirving reminded Council that the Executive Council Retreat would be at Trinity Center, September 22-23. He welcomed any suggestions on topics for the retreat. Bishop Skirving stated that attendees could use Sunday for sabbath or worship time before they depart.

Bishop Skirving updated Council that the search for a part-time Spanish Language Development Officer had not been fruitful. He explained that either the Diocese would need to look towards hiring a full-time priest to draw applicants or to give the funding back to the Isabel Lehto Foundation.

Mr. Swindell stated that he has become involved with the Interfaith Refugee Ministry in Wilmington and encourages Council to get involved. Bishop Skirving shared that a high-quality video has been produced to help build awareness and he feels it will assist with sponsorship.

Jimi Paderick
Assistant to the Secretary of Convention
Mrs. Tess Judge, The Rev’d Canon Matthew Stockard, Mr. Hodges Hackney. Also present were: The Rev’d Canon Sonny Browne, Mrs. Jimi Paderick, Mrs. Bonnie Holton and Mrs. Emily Gowdy Canady.

Canon Stockard confirmed the presence of a quorum. Bishop Skirving reviewed the proposed agenda with Council highlighting that deanery and committee reports would not be shared at this meeting due to time constraints.

Ms. Richey made a motion to accept the May 20, 2016 minutes. The motion was seconded by Ms. Tucker and carried.

Bishop Skirving stated that the IRS dictates that a resolution must be adopted for Canon Browne’s Housing. Bishop Skirving ask that the Council adopt the following resolution:

Whereas, that the Rev. Joseph M. Browne is compensated by The Diocese of East Carolina exclusively for services as a minister of the gospel; and

Whereas, The Diocese of East Carolina does not provide Fr. Browne with a rectory, therefore, it is hereby

Resolved, that the total annual rate of compensation paid for Fr. Browne for the calendar year 2016 shall be $75,000, of which $10,800 is hereby designated to be a housing allowance; and it is further

Resolved, that the designation of $10,800 as a housing allowance shall apply to calendar year 2016 and all future years unless otherwise provided. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Bishop Skirving informed Council that he needs their input on how to spend the Mission and Development surplus funds and anticipated grants. He shared that he could see the funds going towards the cost associated with a Spanish Language Coordinator; towards the cost of having Bishop Bane serve at St. Luke’s, Currituck as Priest in Charge or to help parishes energize their ministry for a short period of time. He asked that Council set a policy on how to use these funds. Mr. Carlisto made a motion that a sub-committee consisting of 4-5 Executive Council Members be formed to develop a policy on how to use these funds. The motion was seconded and carried.

He added that although there are accumulated funds to cover the position for the coming year, the long-term challenge would be to sustain the cost of the position for future years.

Mr. Fraizer made a motion to proceed to launch a posting to search for a full-time Coordinator of Spanish Language Ministry, to continue to discuss opportunities with St. Peter’s Episcopal Church and to continue to solicit funds for long-term support for a full-time Spanish Language Missioner. Mr. Douglas seconded it and the motion passed.

Bishop Skirving announced that The Rev’d Catherine Powell has resigned from serving on Commission on Ministry. The Rev’d Tom Warren, Chair of the Commission on Ministry respectfully nominates The Rev’d Ray Hanna, Rector at St. Stephen’s Episcopal Church in Goldsboro to complete her term. Ms. Tucker made a motion to accept Mr. Warren’s nomination. The motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Richardson asked for an update on Designated Sundays Bishop Skirving shared that this information would be reported at the next meeting.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MINUTES
St. Stephen’s Episcopal Church
November 18, 2016

The meeting began with Morning Prayer led by the Rev’d Ray Hanna, Rector at St. Stephen’s Episcopal Church. Mr. Tom Brown gave a brief history of St. Stephen’s Episcopal Church.

Bishop Skirving confirmed the presence of a quorum. Bishop Skirving reviewed the proposed meeting agenda with Council and asked for any additions. Begin none the meeting proceeded.

Mr. Douglas made a motion to accept the September 23rd Executive Council Minutes as written. Mr. Pollock seconded and the motion carried.
Bishop Skirving shared with Council the efforts that were being made to support those in the diocese affected by Hurricane Matthew. Canon Browne shared that a group met on October 29th at Diocesan House to determine what could be done to support those in need and out of that meeting Dr. Thomas Warren was appointed chair as the Diocesan Disaster Relief Coordinator. Other individuals attending the meeting and in the diocese have volunteered to serve on the Disaster Relief and Preparedness Commission. Mrs. Paderick shared that the Commission will have its first meeting on November 21st. Ms. Katie Mears, Director for USA Disaster Preparedness and Response for Episcopal Relief and Development will be present to offer practical next steps for the committee to begin implementing. Dr. Warren will lead an afternoon session to implement next steps and determine a method for those in need to access resources available. Mrs. Paderick stated that in addition to responding to the aftermath of Hurricane Matthew, Dr. Warren and the commission will begin the process of creating preparedness plans on a diocesan and parish level to have in place in the event of another disaster.

Bishop Skirving stated that the diocese received the following grants from Episcopal Relief and Development:

-$25,000 for Episcopal Farmworkers Ministry ($10,000 has been distributed)
-$10,000 for general support within the diocese. ($2,500 was sent to St. Thomas, Windsor aid those affected by the flood and $2,500 was sent to St. Christopher’s, Elizabethtown to purchase cleaning supplies for those individuals who homes were flooded.)

Bishop Skirving shared that over $50,000 in additional funds had been received. Those funds will be used by the commission to support areas in the diocese in need.

After conversation, Bishop Skirving encouraged anyone who would like to offer support or who was aware of donations to send them to Canon Browne until a formal process was in place.

Mrs. Hale gave a report from the Committee on Constitution and Canons. She stated that Article IV, Personnel of Convention, Section 3, in the Constitution addresses how many lay delegates a church is entitled to, based on the number of confirmed communicants and this should be determined from each church’s parochial report. The number of confirmed communicants is no longer on the parochial report. The Committee on Constitution and Canons offered several options for revision and asked for Council’s input. After discussion, the Executive Council favored removing “confirmed communicants” and replacing it with “adult communicants.” Mrs. Hale thanked Council and will share their input with the committee.

Mrs. Hale shared that the Committee on Constitution and Canons is working on clarifying many areas of the Constitution and Canons of the diocese and may put forth to convention a recommendation to do a total revision. She added that it isn’t clear on how the Rules of Orders can be modified and who has the authority to do so.

Bishop Skirving told Council that one ongoing problem with the current Constitution and Canons is that they are not current and that in many places one area contradicts the other. He gave an example that currently the Constitution requires that the time and place of convention be determined by the preceding convention; however, most venues are booked at least two years in advance. Bishop Skirving gave thanks for the work of the Committee on Constitution and Canons.

Mrs. Judge gave the Treasurer’s Report. She reviewed with Council the financial reports as of October 2016 noting that there was nothing remarkable to report. Mrs. Tucker made a motion to accept the Financial Report. It was seconded and the motion carried.
Bishop Skirving shared that his scheduled meeting with the Personnel Committee was cancelled due to Hurricane Matthew. He explained that the proposed budget did not include any recommendation for staff increases or adjustments. He added he will be meeting with the Personnel Committee and they will make a recommendation to the Finance Committee who will then include their recommendations for the proposed budget prior to the next Council meeting in January.

Mrs. Judge reviewed the proposed budget with Council. She stated that this was a deficit budget even without staff increases. She explained that in the past several years we had realized a surplus at year’s end and the Finance Committee anticipates this again in 2016. She stated at the next meeting the final proposed budget would be given to Council to approve for adoption at convention. Bishop Skirving asked Council to direct any budget questions or suggestions to Mrs. Judge by the end of year.

Bishop Skirving shared with Council his reasoning for not sending a response in regards to the recent presidential elections. He explained that as Bishop he felt it important not to isolate anyone based on his or her political stance regardless of his own personal political preference. He needs to remain neutral. Council members supported Bishop Skirving and gave thanks for his unbiased sensitivity.

Bishop Skirving directed Council to the Annual Opportunities for Giving Report. Mr. Douglas made a motion to accept the report and to proceed with sending the report to the parishes in the diocese. Ms. Tucker seconded it and the motion carried.

Bishop Skirving called upon Mr. Cannan to give an update on the work of the Ministry Development Fund Group. Mr. Cannan shared that this group consists of Ms. Richey, Mr. Cenci, Mr. Douglas, Mr. Pollock and himself. Mr. Cannan, on behalf of the group, made the recommendation that funds designated annually by Executive Council to the Ministry Development Fund be made available in equal shares for allocation by deanery councils.

He added that these funds would be distributed by the diocese upon a recorded vote of the deanery council within 12 months of designation by Executive Council. Mr. Cannan stated that upon the vote of the deanery council, it would then be the responsibility of the dean to make a written request to the financial office of the diocese of disbursement of funds. Mr. Cannan shared that reports of distribution would be included in the deanery reports at each Executive Council Meeting. After discussion and further explanation, a motion was made to accept the recommendation of the Ministry Development Fund Group. The motion was seconded and carried.

Deanery reports were offered by:

Ms. Whalen – Lower Cape Fear Deanery
Ms. Tucker and Canon Browne – Trinity Deanery
Ms. Harrington – Albemarle Deanery

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Jimi Paderick
Executive Assistant to the Bishop

Canon Stockard confirmed the presence of a quorum. Bishop Skirving reviewed the proposed agenda and asked for any modifications. Being none, Mr. Pollock made a motion to adopt the agenda as presented. Mr. Douglas seconded it and the motion carried.

Ms. Harrington made a motion to accept the November 18, 2016 Executive Council Minutes as written. The motion was seconded by Mr. Cannan and the motion carried.

Mrs. Judge gave the Treasurer’s Report. She reviewed with Council the diocesan financial reports as of December 2016. She stated that based on projections there will be an excess of funds totaling approximately $123,000. She reviewed with Council the Trinity and Beyond Capital Campaign funds as of December 2016.

Mrs. Judge then reviewed with Council the 2017 Proposed Budget and memo from the Finance Committee. After discussion, Ms. Tucker made a motion to accept the 2017 Proposed Budget as presented, Mr. Pollock seconded and the motion carried.

Mrs. Judge shared that the 2015 Trinity Center audit has been received and once the board has reviewed it, a copy will be shared with Executive Council.

Mr. Cannan made a motion that the current balance of $66,769 of the Mission and Development Fund be made available to the deaneries in 2017, following the guideline sets by the resolution adopted at the last meeting. It was second by Mr. Fraizer and the motion carried. Discussion began on policy and procedures for the Mission and Development Fund. Bishop Skirving stated this would be on the agenda at the next meeting.

Bishop Skirving reported that St. Paul’s Episcopal Church in Vanceboro is no longer meeting as a congregation and have met with him to turn over the property to the care of the Diocesan of East Carolina. Canon Browne shared that he and Mrs. Holton visited the church and winterized it and removed any items of historic or monetary value. Canon Browne stated that a date had been set to deconsecrate the building and grounds with a luncheon to follow.

Canon Browne added that members of St. Paul’s, Washington and St. John’s, Edenton are two properties that the diocese currently maintains and includes on the diocese’s property insurance. The buildings of both are in a state of poor repair. He stated that the Trustees would be making decisions on how to proceed.

Bishop Skirving shared that he plans to present the dissolution of St. Paul’s Episcopal Church, Vanceboro to convention, however in accordance with Title II, Canon 6, Section 2 of the Diocese of East Carolina’s Canons, after dissolution a study by the Department of Mission and Development is to be made to determine if property is viable for a mission or ministry. Bishop Skirving stated that the diocese does not currently have a Department of Mission and Development and asked Council if the practice of a subcommittee consisting of Standing Committee and Trustees should continue to make recommendations to the Executive Council for action. The Council was in agreement.

Bishop Skirving informed Council that the way the current Canons of the Diocese of East Carolina are written we cannot book the annual convention more than a year out. The Committee on Constitution and Canons will be making proposed Constitution and Canons changes in the future but until then we will need to put a deposit on a venue in order to secure a space for convention. He added that should convention decide not to go with the recommended venue there is a chance we could lose our deposit.

After discussion, Mrs. Hale made a motion to authorize the deposit payment to the New Bern Convention Center with the understanding that the Convention Planning Committee intends to recommend at our 2017 Convention that we hold our 2018 Annual Convention in New Bern.

Other reports:

+ Pamlico Deanery – Mr. Cannan
+ Episcopal Church Women – Mrs. Hamblin
+ Program Officer for Youth, University and Campus, and Young Adult Ministries – Mrs. Gowdy Canady
+ Lower Cape Fear Deanery – Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Whalen
+ Trinity Deanery – Mr. Pollock
+ Albemarle Deanery – Mr. Douglas
+ Upper Cape Fear Deanery – Mr. Frazier

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

CAMP HOPE

A Camping Opportunity for Children with an Incarcerated Parent

Christ Church, New Bern, sponsors Camp Hope, which is a weeklong summer camp at Camp Bob- Kanuga for children between the ages of 8-14 who have a parent in prison. The purpose of the ministry is to break the cycle of incarceration for the children. The church provides coordination, registration of campers, scholarships and adult volunteers who go to camp with the children. Volunteers are needed to pray, make calls, send cards, help with arrangements, and assist in registration as well as serving as Adult Volunteers to go to camp. 2016 was a record setting year for Camp Hope! Eighty-four campers and 10 adult volunteers spent a week at Kanuga’s Camp Bob learning about themselves, others and God’s unending love for them. The Campers returned stronger in their faith and their ability to make good decisions for themselves. We were also able to sponsor two youths to Stepping Up a two-week leadership program for 14-16 year olds and two young adults to the Counselor in Training two-week program at Camp Bob at Kanuga. They were previous participants at Camp Hope and Stepping Up. They both hope to work as Counselors at Camp Bob. It helps them think seriously about their future in relation to their God-given gifts and interests, and helps prepare them for roles of greater responsibility.

Jane Merritt under the Prison Ministry Commission of the Diocese of East Carolina founded Camp Hope in 2006. The Diocese, some individuals and Episcopal Churches around the state send donations for scholarships. Most of the children are from the Eastern part of the state but some are not. Children are referred by Prison Fellowship Angel Tree lists, Social Services, Schools, Prison Chaplains, “One Day with God” Program participants and word of mouth from one family to another. Our limiting factor is transportation. Two commercial buses leave from New Bern and make stops for picking up children in Kinston and Burlington. The campers have to be able to get to these locations to avail the transportation. We could use volunteers to drive children to the buses or arrangements to be made to transport from other areas. We also like to maintain contact throughout the year and help with this would be appreciated. Our greatest need is for additional volunteers both for attending Camp (July 17-22, 2017) and for the many other tasks required to make this program successful. If you or your church would like more information the contact person is Terry Brubaker 252-514-9550 or terrytb49@gmail.com

Donations are to be made out to Christ Church with Camp Hope in the memo line. Mail to Christ Church, PO Box 1246, New Bern, NC 28563. They may be made for any amount you choose. All contributions go directly to paying for the camp for the children.

CAMP TRINITY

Camp Trinity is the co-ed residential summer camp of the Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina that operates out of Trinity Center. Camp Trinity offers a variety of traditional camping activities (swimming, sailing, sports, campfires) in an intentionally Christ-centered community. The camping program serves over 600 children of the diocese during its ten weeks of operation each year. Eighty-eight children attend camp each week, and they are supervised by a staff of twenty committed college age individuals, most former campers themselves. In addition, a different clergy person of the diocese serves as session leader each week, providing spiritual direction and Christian programming.

One of the primary goals of Camp Trinity is “to provide a Christian camping experience that is diverse, inclusive, nurturing, loving, and affirming, while challenging each person to be responsible to and for another.” In 2016, a dedicated Camp Trinity staff certainly achieved that goal with slightly under 600 campers.
The summer staff was supported by six nurses, two doctors, ten session leaders, sixteen counselors-in-training, and about forty Adventurers volunteers, all of whom played key roles in the success of the summer. That Camp Trinity ran so smoothly is a testament to the efforts and ministries of all these people.

Camp Trinity does have financial assistance available for children who might otherwise be unable to attend. Each year Trinity Center and churches of the Diocese of East Carolina join hands to help disadvantaged children attend camp. In 2016, Trinity Center disbursed slightly less than $40,000 out of its Fund for Programs and Scholarships to help bring more than 100 children to Camp Trinity. This fund allows us to continue to operate on a need-blind basis, so that all children who obtain a place at camp are able to attend and so that Christian community is available to all our children. This fund is replenished yearly by individuals and churches of the Diocese of East Carolina. I give my deepest thanks for the generosity and ask for continued support.

In addition to directing Camp Trinity, I have been in charge of programming, staffing, and hosting responsibilities for the Camp Trinity Reunion held in January. This is a newer conference for 8th-12th graders and is staffed by young adults who will have been chosen by conference coordinators and have been on previous Camp Trinity summer staffs. We just had the fourth annual Camp Trinity Reunion and I am happy to report that attendance was strong. I am hopeful that this program will help us continue our efforts to provide intentionally Christ-centered communities for the youth of this diocese.

Camp Trinity is open to all children, with equal preference given to members of parishes in the Diocese of East Carolina and returning campers until March 1 of each year. Applications are mailed to individuals and parishes in mid-November each year. For more information about this program, please contact us at 888-874-6287 or at marybeth@trinityctr.com. You may also download all applications and forms off our website: www.trinityctr.com/campt.

I feel so blessed to continue to be a part of Camp Trinity and I'm thankful for the opportunity to serve the children of our diocese.

Mary Beth Bradberry
Director, Camp Trinity

COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS

The Compensation and Benefits Committee meets yearly to examine the Medical Plans offered under the Denominational Health Plan, and to review and update compensation recommendations for clergy and lay employees within the Diocese of East Carolina. The committee met at Diocesan House in September.

The range of health insurance plans offered changes from year to year and those changes can be confusing. As the options come out in the Fall, please feel free to call any member of the committee for clarification. Committee Members are listed in the handbook.

The 2017 Handbook, which contains, salary recommendation, insurance plans and rates, and other helpful information.

The Rev. Richard G. Elliott, Chair
To the Bishop, Clergy, Wardens and Treasurers of the Diocese of East Carolina:

The Committee on Compensation and Benefits has reviewed the past year and examined several components of clergy and lay compensation and benefits. Enclosed you will find an updated chart regarding clergy compensation for the upcoming year, as well as requirements for lay employee benefits and the 2017 Church Medical Trust insurance plans and rates.

According to the Consumer Price Index the Cost of Living increased by .75%, based on an average of the first 6 months of 2015 and 2016. Therefore, the COLA recommended for 2017 is .75%. An increase in the clergy’s salary based on merit should be considered separately from the COLA adjustment.

In the area of Continuing Education, the committee encourages parishes to meet the recommendation of a minimum of $1600 and 2 weeks for each clergy. All clergy are required by canon (Canons III.9.1 and III.7.5) to participate in some form of continuing education every year; but most importantly, it is essential for the health of the clergy and the parish. It is also recommended that lay staff have opportunity for continuing education as well.

All vestries are reminded that IRS regulations require that a resolution must be passed by the Vestry before the beginning of the year to allocate the housing allowance for clergy. Otherwise the housing allowance cannot be tax protected. A sample resolution is included in this handbook.

Parishes with lay employees are reminded that by Resolution A177 of The Episcopal Church, there must be parity between lay and clergy in medical insurance coverage. The level of insurance offered to full-time clergy must also be made available to full-time lay employees as well. The resolution passed by the Executive Council of the Diocese of East Carolina can be found on page 12 of this handbook.

The minimum supply clergy remuneration plus mileage and travel reimbursement is outlined on page 9. In our diocese, supply clergy are very important and need to be paid appropriately.

The Committee on Compensation and Benefits is willing to talk to any vestry, finance committee, wardens or clergy wishing to explore specific issues involving clergy compensation.

Respectfully submitted,
The Rev. Richard Elliott Mrs. Janet Heath
Mrs. Tess Judge
The Rev. Dr. John Pollock

CLERGY COMPENSATION REVIEW AND RECOMMENDATION

A. ANNUAL COMPENSATION REVIEW PROCESS

The rector and the senior warden are asked to appoint a Compensation Review Committee. It is suggested that the following might serve on the Compensation Review Committee: (1) a former senior warden; (2) one of the current vestry; and (3) preferably someone from the congregation at-large who may have experience in compensation review on a professional level.

Suggested steps for carrying out the compensation review process are:

(1) After the Committee has been appointed, all members should be supplied with copies of “Caring for Clergy through Compensation”, “Caring for Clergy through Housing” (see page 7 for ordering information) and these Clergy Compensation Recommendations, which should be read before meeting with the rector.
The Committee should review the existing compensation package by item in order to be familiar with its details.

The rector should be asked to comment to the Committee on the present compensation and how the total package should be structured for the coming year.

The Committee should be aware of the current COLA (cost of living allowance.) COLA is not considered a raise, but an adjustment based on the increased cost of living. The COLA for the year 2017 is .75%. An increase in the clergy’s salary based on merit should be considered separately from the COLA adjustment.

The guidelines recommended by the diocese should be reviewed.

The Committee should ascertain that the rector is familiar with the tax consequences of how the salary package is structured. The 2016 Federal Tax Guide for Clergy may be downloaded from the Diocesan website. www.diocese-eastcarolina.org, Resources, Administrative Resources, under the “Clergy” list.

The compensation should be set. The Diocesan Compensation and Benefits Committee encourages the Parish Compensation Review Committees to set the compensation with the rector present to allow for an open dialogue.

B. MINIMUM SALARY AND COMPENSATION FACTORS The Cost of the Position

Clergy, as all Christians, are called to do the work of the Lord. Compensation of clergy is one measure of how we care for one another as Christians. The compensation of clergy is influenced by many factors such as the scope of the job, clergy/vestry accountability, church stewardship, and the resources of the parish. Maximum equity and fairness result when the policies and methods pertaining to clergy compensation are standardized as much as possible and dealt with openly, making allowances for “special situations”.

The following guideline for determining the cost of a full time clergy position is offered for establishing equity and fairness between the clergy and the vestry.

While there is difficulty in any ministry review for clergy and vestry, there is an obvious need for an annual review of their mutual ministry. Communication and accountability between clergy and vestry should be a part of that review. An ongoing written clarification of expectations between clergy and vestry will support the mutual ministry of the parish.

Levels of Responsibility and Commensurate Compensation

Salary is that cash amount which is paid directly to a member of the clergy exclusive of housing, utilities, and FICA. The first step in determining salary is to determine the Job Responsibility Level. The descriptions of each level and the ranges of each salary are of a scope comprehensive enough to allow practically any situation to fall within one of the job responsibility levels. The Job Responsibility Level determines the salary range.

Job Responsibility Levels. Please refer to the Episcopal Church Foundation publication Overview of Church Size Theory which can be found at http://www.ecfvp.org/files/uploads/Overview_of_Church_Size_Theory_Notes_Pages_072012.pdf

First Year of Ordained Ministry: This is the first year of ordained ministry, which begins on the day of ordination to the Diaconate. (Salary set by diocese.) This is an entry-level position.

Second Year of Ordained Ministry: This is the second year of ordained ministry, which begins on the first anniversary date of the ordination to the Diaconate.

NOTE: The following levels are based on average Sunday attendance (ASA) taken from the previous year’s parochial report.
Family Size Church: Positions at this level require professional competency and ability to deal with normal demands as found in some missions and small parishes. This size congregation typically has up to 75 members attending worship regularly on Sundays.

Pastoral Size Church: Positions at this level require professional competency and ability to deal with demands of a mission or parish beyond the size or complexity of Level B. Often the major challenges here are those of institutional and pastoral management. An illustration of this level might be the mission cure, small to medium parish, college chaplain, or seasoned assistant. This size congregation will have 76 to 140 members attending worship regularly on Sundays.

Transitional Size Church: These are positions of some complexity and responsibility requiring more professional competence and independence than those of Level C. Of the same level of responsibility, although very different in some of the skills required, are such positions as diocesan officials, a Senior Assistant/Associate in a parish whose rectorship is at Level E or F, or a “Specialist” in certain areas. This size congregation will have 140 to 225 members attending worship regularly on Sundays.

Program Size Church: These positions are very complex. Typical of this level is the rectorship of above average in size and complexity of program. This size congregation will have between 225 and 400 members attending worship regularly on Sundays.

Resource Size Church: These positions require considerable experience and mastery of several, but not necessarily related, disciplines. Direction and training of a large staff is required. Rectors of very large, diverse parishes are typically at this level. This size congregation over 400 members attending worship regularly on Sundays.

Episcopate: Including Bishop Diocesan, Bishops Coadjutor and Suffragan.

C. RECOMMENDED BASE SALARY RANGES
Below is the Diocesan recommended base salary ranges (not including housing, utilities, or SECA) related to parish size determined by Average Sunday Attendance (ASA) and clergy total years of service. For churches whose attendance is near the maximum of a category, the vestry should consider advancing to the next level. Other factors which will call for increased base salary include, time in the parish, unique skills and talents which the parish finds desirable in its clergy, and any other subjective factors which the vestry, at its discretion, appreciates in the mutual ministry shared with the clergy.

First year of ordained ministry: $31,620 (set by Diocese) Second year of ordained ministry: $35,058 (set by Diocese)
D. HOUSING RESOLUTION BY VESTRY

The Internal Revenue Code ("Tax Code") specifies that the housing allowance of a minister who owns or rents a home is nontaxable in computing federal income taxes to the extent that it is:
1. declared in advance,
2. used for qualified housing expenses, and
3. does not exceed the fair rental value of the minister’s home, furnished, plus utilities.

The housing resolution should be approved by the Vestry and recorded in the December minutes for the next salary year, and ordinarily equal the fair rental value of the clergy-provided housing, unless the minister expects the housing expenses to be substantially less.

Note that it is the responsibility of the ordained employee who owns or rents his/her home to determine the fair rental value, furnished, plus utilities of that home; and — unless the housing allowance resolution amount suggested by the ordained employee exceeds his/her compensation — the employer or vestry should accept and duly approve it.

Under no circumstances can a church designate a housing allowance retroactively. Although the costs of a mortgage qualify as part of the housing allowance, costs associated with refinancing a principal residence or with a home equity loan qualify only if the proceeds are used for acquiring or maintaining a principal residence.

Sample Resolution: Whereas, the Rev. ______ is compensated by parish name exclusively for services as a minister of the gospel; and
Whereas, parish name does (not) provide clergy name with a rectory, therefore, it is hereby Resolved, that the total compensation paid for clergy for the calendar year 20___ shall be $_______ of which $______ is hereby designated to be a housing allowance; and it is further Resolved, that the designation of $______ as a housing allowance shall apply to calendar year 20____ and all future years unless otherwise provided.

E. TOTAL COST TO THE PARISH

A. Salary and Housing for Pension purposes (use chart on page 8)
1. Salary
2. Housing - (a) if rectory is provided, 30% of salary, utilities and social security allowance for purpose of calculating pension payment; (b) if no rectory is provided, actual cash allowance and utilities.
3. Utilities - reimbursement of actual costs
4. Social Security or SECA allowance – cash allowance given to clergy to offset the cost of self-employment taxes in accordance with SECA. This is usually calculated as half of the current SECA percent (currently 15.3% or 7.65%).

B. Benefits
1. Retirement (Church Pension Fund) - 18% of salary, housing and utilities, social security allowance and Any Other Cash Allowances
2. Life, Medical, and Dental Insurance - Based on 2017 quotes from Church Medical Trust.
3. Long term Disability Insurance (Short term Disability is provided by the Church Pension Fund)
4. Sabbatical Leave (three months per five years) {See note below}
5. Vacation – Cost to provide Supply Clergy during vacation period
6. If rectory is provided, a monthly equity allowance placed in a non-taxable annuity (The Church Pension Fund is one source to establish an annuity. Call 1-800-223-6602.)
C. Business Expenses

1. Travel - reimbursement of actual expenses for parish and diocesan activities.
2. Continuing Education - reimbursement of actual expenses, including travel, registration, lodging, etc. ($1600-$1800). A minimum of two weeks (including two Sundays) is an appropriate length of time for continuing education.
3. Other Professional Expenses - reimbursement of actual expenses (such as books).

Letters of Agreement (including compensation packages) need to have the approval of the Diocesan Office.

Note Regarding Sabbaticals: There is growing concern that a sabbatical is helpful/necessary if the quality of ministry from the clergy is to grow and remain competent within the life of the congregation. A three month leave after five years in an individual parish has been suggested by our Commission on Ministry as an appropriate time. The parish treasurer is encouraged to accrue funds each year. The course of study, as well as the length of time, should be negotiated with the vestry. Please consult the Commission on Ministry’s Policy on Sabbatical Leave found on our website at www.diocese-eastcarolina.org/Resources/Parishresources.html.

There are numerous printable resources available from the Office of Transition Ministry to assist parishes and clergy with clergy compensation issues. The website link is http://library.episcopalchurch.org/office/transition-ministry, and type the title you want in the search library box.

*Use of the per diem rates is not mandatory—a parish can always reimburse actual expenses if the supply clergy provides adequate records (actual receipts).

Note: Supply clergy are responsible for federal and state income tax and self-employment tax on these amounts. Interim situations are all unique and should be negotiated individually with the involvement of a Diocesan consultant. The Church Pension Fund should be alerted to any retired priest providing supply services over 3 months.

In the case where a congregation has a regular agreement with a supply priest and wishes to contract with them for pastoral care or other specific services, then compensation is appropriate. The amount, depending upon time given for those services, needs to be near or equal to the minimum remuneration for Sunday services.

Supply clergy that are regularly employed and consistently work at the same congregation are normally considered to be employees of the congregation. The congregation is responsible for providing the supply clergy with a Form W-2, “Wage and Tax Statement,” at year-end and must also file a quarterly From 941, “Quarterly Federal Tax Return,” as well as quarterly state returns.

Congregations that pay any supply clergy over $600.00 in a calendar year must, at the minimum, provide the supply clergy with an annual Form 1099 MISC. The congregation is responsible for obtaining the supply clergy’s Social Security number to be reported on the Form 1099.

BENEFITS FOR RETIRED CLERGY

Medical benefits and Working after 65

When a priest (or lay employee) reaches the age of 65 and is eligible for Medicare, the question arises: Can the employee sign up for Medicare, be dropped from the medical coverage offered by the employer and be reimbursed by employer for the cost of Medigap or the Medicare Supplement Plan?

Simple answer: NO.

Medicare requires that any active employee be enrolled in the employers’ active medical plan regardless of age or Medicare eligibility. This is Medicare’s rule, not the Medical Trust’s rule. It is meant to keep active employees out of the Medicare system if they remain actively employed (not retired). If for an employee it is determined by Medicare that they should have been on an employer’s active plan but are on a Medicare Supplement plan, where Medicare pays primary, there are possible penalties incurred by both the employer and the employee, as well as cost recovery for claims paid by Medicare that would have been paid by the employees’ active plan. Each year, the Center for Medicaid and Medicare Services (CMS) runs a test which compares W-2 data against Medicare Supplement Plan enrollment. If an individual makes more than the Medicare maximum income during retirement (at this point, they don’t know if the individual is or is not retired) and is enrolled in a Medicare Supplement Plan, it creates an exception and the employer is sent a letter to clarify the individual’s employment status. If it fails the test there may be penalties.

The complicated answer: Yes, but…

All that being said, the employer and employee may make the choice to continue on a Medicare Supplement Plan even if the employee is actively working.

If that is indeed the case, there are a couple of ways the employer and employee can protect themselves against implied liability. Anti-discrimination laws prohibit an employer from offering different plans to those employees who are 65 or older than those who are under 65. The 65 or older employee, who is enrolled in Medicare, can reject/decline active coverage offered by their employer if, and only if, the following is understood:

- The declination needs to be in writing
- The declination releases the employer from any further liability associated with this decision
- The employer cannot reimburse, pay for directly, or remunerate the employee for a Medigap or Medicare Supplement Plan, financially or otherwise, or incent the employee in any manner, to reject active coverage
- The employee must state in writing they are not receiving any remuneration for their Medigap or Medicare Supplement Plan (includes salary adjustment to compensate)
- Employees who choose this option are NOT eligible for the Medical Trust’s Medicare Supplement Plans and will need to purchase a supplement plan in the open market

So the bottom line is:

- The best option would be for the employee/cleric to enroll in the active plan provided by the parish/institution EXCEPT for the Anthem/Cigna HDHP plans (while the HDHP plans are available to 65+ employees, the 65+ employee cannot make any contributions to a HSA). They would remain enrolled in Medicare, but could exit their Medigap/Med Supp Plan as well as the Part D coverage (not needed on the Active Plan)
You could ask that pricing be provided for an Anthem BCBS MSP/SEE (Medicare as Secondary Provider Small Employer Exception) plan, select one, and then enroll the employee/cleric in that plan, IF the parish/institution has less than 19 employees and qualifies for enrollment in an MSP/SEE plan.

The employee/cleric and the employer decide that the employee/cleric stay on their Med Supp plan and follow the guidance above.

Medicare Supplement Reimbursement Benefit

This proposal is submitted concerning a benefit for retired clergy and surviving spouses of retired clergy. Retired clergy may receive assistance in defraying the cost of Medicare Supplement Insurance, within the following guidelines, upon consultation with the Bishop:

Eligibility

To all clergy who are sixty-five years old or older, and have served as a priest with compensated benefits for at least 20 years in the Episcopal Church of the United States of America, with ten years as such a priest in continuous service in the Diocese of East Carolina, and canonically resident at the time of retirement in the Diocese of East Carolina, the diocese may reimburse each retiree meeting these criteria for a portion of their premiums for the Medicare supplement plan with the Episcopal Church Medical Trust.

Benefit Amount

Each year the maximum reimbursement allowance will be reviewed and a recommendation made to the Diocese, applicable to funds available. Consideration in setting the amount of this benefit shall, without any obligation to offset it, be based upon what it would cost to purchase Medicare Supplement insurance with the group health insurance that the Diocese is using at the time. In no event will the amount of reimbursement in a given instance be more than the lesser of the following: (1) the actual cost of the insurance, or (2) the maximum reimbursement benefit in effect at the time.

Recipient’s Responsibilities

While the recipient is responsible for securing his/her Medicare Supplement coverage with the provider he/she chooses and also for filing evidence of its having been paid (for reimbursement purposes), the amount of reimbursement will be determined in accordance with the preceding section (“Benefit Amount”).

LAY EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

Total Cost to Parish for Full-time (30 hours or more per week, 1500 hours per year)

DENOMINATION HEALTH PLAN AND PARITY IN THE DIOCESE OF EAST CAROLINA
(Resolution passed by the Executive Council of the Diocese of East Carolina)

To: All Lay Employees, Clergy and Vestries
From: Executive Council, Diocese of East Carolina
Date: May 2012

Effective January 1, 2013, all Parishes and Missions of this Diocese shall provide equal health care coverage through the Church Medical Trust (CMT) to all eligible lay and ordained employees. An eligible employee is defined as regularly scheduled to work 30 or more hours a week (1500 hours/year).

Health care coverage is defined as:
(a) Medical insurance through one of the plans offered by the CMT.
(b) Dental insurance through one of the plans offered by CMT.

The Vestry of each congregation of this Diocese shall determine which specific plan of health insurance from among those offered by the CMT will be offered to all eligible employees of the parish, both lay and ordained. Employees may be required to pay a portion of the cost of such medical insurance (not to exceed a 5% increase each year), but such cost must be equal for all employees, as determined by the Vestry.

Existing letters of agreement and employment contracts will be honored through December 31, 2012. All parity requirements will be effective January 1, 2013.

The Executive Council may require other organizations subject to the Ecclesiastical Authority of this Diocese to provide such benefits to their employees at such time and under such conditions as Executive Council shall determine. Each organization shall obtain a quote each year for coverage provided by the CMT.

Adjustments to implementation may be made from time to time by the Executive Council.

The Vestry may offer to those clergy and lay employees working 20-29 hours per week the same coverage as full-time employees. The employee may be required to pay some or all of the premium.

A clergy or lay employee may opt out of the Denominational Health Plan if they have health care coverage available through qualifying exceptions as allowed by the CMT and the employee must present documentation to that effect.
NEW IRS and ACA MANDATES

Employer Health Care Arrangements

As of June 30, 2015 the IRS laws concerning “Employer Payment Plans” for medical premiums have changed. Please see the attached excerpt from the IRS website concerning small employers who reimburse any employees for their medical insurance premiums. If you have any questions, please consult a professional to make sure you are in compliance.

Excerpt from IRS site http://www.irs.gov/Affordable-Care-Act/Employer-Health-Care-Arrangements

Employer Health Care Arrangements

Q1. What are the consequences to the employer if the employer does not establish a health insurance plan for its own employees, but reimburses those employees for premiums they pay for health insurance (either through a qualified health plan in the Marketplace or outside the Marketplace)?

Under IRS Notice 2013-54, such arrangements are described as employer payment plans. An employer payment plan, as the term is used in this notice, generally does not include an arrangement under which an employee may have an after-tax amount applied toward health coverage or take that amount in cash compensation. As explained in Notice 2013-54, these employer payment plans are considered to be group health plans subject to the market reforms, including the prohibition on annual limits for essential health benefits and the requirement to provide certain preventive care without cost sharing. Notice 2013-54 clarifies that such arrangements cannot be integrated with individual policies to satisfy the market reforms. Consequently, such an arrangement fails to satisfy the market reforms and may be subject to a $100/day excise tax per applicable employee (which is $36,500 per year, per employee) under section 4980D of the Internal Revenue Code.

Q2. Is there transition relief available from the excise tax under § 4980D for certain employers who offered their employees health coverage through arrangements that would constitute an employer payment plan as described in Notice 2013-54?

Yes. On February 18, 2015, the IRS issued Notice 2015-17, which provides transition relief from the excise tax under § 4980D for failure to satisfy the market reforms in certain circumstances. The transition relief applies to employer healthcare arrangements that are (1) employer payment plans, as described in Notice 2013-54, if the plan is sponsored by an employer that is not an Applicable Large Employer (ALE) under Code § 4980H(c) (2) and §§ 54.4980H-1(a)(4) and -2 of the regulations; (2) S corporation healthcare arrangements for 2-percent shareholder-employees; (3) Medicare premium reimbursement arrangements; or (4) TRICARE-related health reimbursement arrangements (HRAs).

Notice 2015-17 provides temporary relief from the § 4980D excise tax for failure to satisfy the Affordable Care Act market reforms such as the prohibition on annual limits. Under the notice, small employers with employer payment plans get relief for 2014 and up to July 1, 2015. Small employers are employers that are not Applicable Large Employers under § 4980H (generally less than 50 full time and full time equivalent employees in prior year).

Notice 2015-17 also clarifies that S corporations may continue to report reimbursements of health insurance of 2 percent shareholders pursuant to Notice 2008-1. Until further guidance is issued, and in any event through the end of 2015, the excise tax under Code § 4980D will not be asserted for any failure to satisfy the market reforms by a 2-percent shareholder-employee healthcare arrangement.
Q3. Where can I get more information?

On Sept. 13, 2013, the IRS issued Notice 2013-54, which explains how the Affordable Care Act’s market reforms apply to certain types of group health plans, including health reimbursement arrangements (HRAs), health flexible spending arrangements (health FSAs) and certain other employer healthcare arrangements, including arrangements under which an employer reimburses an employee for some or all of the premium expenses incurred for an individual health insurance policy. On February 18, 2015, the IRS issued Notice 2015-17, which reiterates the conclusion in previous guidance addressing employer payment plans, including Notice 2013-54, that employer payment plans are group health plans that will fail to comply with the market reforms that apply to group health plans under the Affordable Care Act. Notice 2015-17 also provides transition relief from the assessment of the excise tax under § 4980D for failure to satisfy market reforms in certain circumstances.

DOL has issued a notice in substantially identical form to Notice 2013-54, DOL Technical Release 2013-03. On Jan. 24, 2013, DOL and HHS issued FAQs that address the application of the Affordable Care Act to HRAs. On Nov. 6, 2014, DOL issued additional FAQs that address the application of the Affordable Care Act to HRAs and other payment arrangements.

Reporting Requirements Under the Affordable Care Act

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) imposes new reporting requirements on employers and plan sponsors that will assist the IRS in determining compliance with two ACA mandates:

1. The Employer Mandate – the requirement for large employers to offer health coverage to their full-time employees (Form 1094-C/1095-C)
2. The Individual Mandate – the requirement for individuals to obtain health coverage (Forms 1094-B/1095-B)

Failure to comply with these mandates may result in the employer and/or individual being subject to additional taxes.

Employer Mandate

If your organization is a “large employer” (more than 50 full-time employees) you will be responsible for filing the Employer Mandate tax forms. See link below for more information

If you are NOT a large employer you are considered a small employer and will not be required to take any action as a result of these new reporting requirements.

Individual Mandate

The IRS tax forms (1094-B/1095-B) required for the Individual Mandate must be provided to employees covered by a healthcare plan for both large and small employers. The Individual Mandate tax forms will be filed by either The Episcopal Church Medical Trust or in the case of fully insured plans, the insurance carrier. Therefore, if you participate in the Medical Trust plans, you are not responsible for filing the Individual Mandate tax forms.

Medicare Secondary Payer – Small Employer Exception

If your parish qualifies as a Small Employer by the guidelines below, and you have employees 65 years old or older, you can apply for the Small Employer Exception which will allow those employees to sign-up for one of the MS medical plans listed on page 15 at a cost savings to the employer and to the employee. For more information, please contact Bonnie Holton or Beth Nagy at the Diocesan office – 252-522-0885.
Are you a Small Employer?
The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) has specific guidelines that define Small Employers and who to consider as an employee.

An employer will be considered a “Small Employer” if they employ 19 or fewer full and/or part time employees each working day in each of the 20 or more calendar weeks in the current and previous calendar year. This may be determined by the number of employees on the payroll on any given workweek plus any self-employed clergy paid during the same payroll period.

For the purposes of the Medicare Secondary Payer (MSP) Small Employer Exception each local church or other salary-paying unit may be a separate employer. A local church or salary-paying unit will be considered to be a separate employer, provided that the local church or salary paying unit:

1) Is separately incorporated, and
2) Has its own Employer Identification Number (EIN)

CMS does not aggregate religious organizations for MSP purposes. Incorporated parishes and churches that are part of a church-wide organization, such as a diocese, are considered to be individual employers for purposes of the MSP Small Employer Exception.

THE ORDER OF THE DAUGHTERS OF THE KING

• The Order of the Daughters of the King® (DOK) is a spiritual sisterhood of women dedicated to a life of Prayer, Service and Evangelism. We are lay and ordained women who have made a commitment to Jesus as our Savior, and we follow Him as Lord of our lives. We are women who, in the midst of our daily lives, find community and spiritual support in local chapters of three or more women. Chapters are formed in churches and are under the oversight of their own clergy.

• Women who are communicants of the Episcopal Church, churches in communion with it, or churches in the Historic Episcopate may become Daughters of the King. Today our membership includes women in the Episcopal, Anglican, Lutheran (ELCA) and Roman Catholic churches. In the Diocese of East Carolina, all chapters are in Episcopal Churches.

• We are blessed to have nearly 280 Daughters in our diocese, serving in chapters in 20 parishes. Daughters of the King provide intercessory prayer in their churches, lead Bible and book studies, sponsor Quiet Days, and do other services, as specified by their parish priests. Daughters may not sponsor any fund raising activities. Many Daughters are active in other areas of their parishes.

• Women who are currently attending parishes without Daughters chapters may continue as Daughters with an at-large status. Several of our Daughters-at-large have eventually founded new chapters.

• Two new chapters were instituted in 2016. They are the Ruth Chapter at St. Andrew’s in Morehead City and The Daughters of St. Anne at St. Anne’s in Jacksonville. We have also admitted 34 new daughters.
• The East Carolina Diocesan Assembly meets annually. The Magdalene Chapter of St. Timothy’s in Greenville hosted the Assembly in April. The theme, “...Serve one another with whatever gift each of you has received,” inspires us to serve in our own parishes, as well as in the community. The Rt. Rev. Robert Skirving spoke to us about serving, as we are able, and shared some of his experiences as a first-year Bishop.

• This year’s Assembly will be on Saturday, April 1, 2017 at St. Peter’s by the Sea in Swansboro. The speaker is Pam Runyon, our Past National President. All are welcome and encouraged to attend. Please check out our link on the Diocese of East Carolina website for more information.

• If you are interested in becoming a Daughter of the King or learning more about the Order, please contact Kay Roberts at kaygram@earthlink.net.

DISASTER RELIEF & PREPAREDNESS COMMISSION

The mission of the Diocese of East Carolina Disaster Relief & Preparedness Commission is the compassionate response of the Diocese to be of assistance to human suffering within our communities in whatever ways we are able. Hearing God’s call to seek and serve Christ in all persons and to respect the dignity of every human being whom we come in contact and wherever necessary. Immediately following the storm, Bishop Skirving quickly recognized the damages Hurricane Matthew inflicted on many areas in Coastal Carolina. His spirit led him to launch East Carolina Disaster Relief & Preparedness Commission. This commission would focus on ways to immediately bring relief, recovery and rebuilding to the lives of individuals who suffered loss and pain during this devastation storm.

Without delay, the committee’s first meeting consisted of brainstorming ways to develop a mechanism to quickly respond with assistance and getting care and Christian help to those recovering from Hurricane Matthew’s catastrophe. The Commission decided it best to work through the deaneries and parishes to identify those in their communities with unmet needs and the Committee will quickly mobilize to assist these neighbors in putting their lives back together. Katie Mears, Director, USA Disaster Preparedness & Response, Episcopal Relief & Development, New York’s office attended this meeting to offer the group suggestions and directions in ways to get organized and underway.

The Disaster Relief & Preparedness Commission has been busy preparing an Emergency Aid Grant application to Hurricane Matthew’s victims.

The goal is to help the vulnerable recover by providing them with monetary resources to purchase tools, and equipment to help them with preparing their damages.

Hurricane Matthew Relief Fund is still accepting donations which will help the commission reach as many people in need as possible.
We are still accepting volunteers to serve on the Disaster Relief & Preparedness Commission. If you have a talent or gift you would like to offer please contact: Thomas Warren, Commission Chair, tjwarren@bellsouth.net

Respectfully submitted,
Dr. Thomas Warren, Commission Chair

ECUMENICAL & INTERFAITH REPORT

Three years ago, as the new Ecumenical & Interreligious Officer, I started my first term on the governing board of the North Carolina Council of Churches. The Diocese of East Carolina has been involved with the North Carolina Council of Churches since the Council’s founding in 1935— and supports the Council with a yearly financial commitment.

I met this past spring with Bishop Skirving to discuss plans for a diocesan network for ecumenical & interfaith conversation and potential resource sharing. I had initially considered convening a meeting late summer but decided to wait until the Clergy Conference in October to start the process. Toward this goal of forming ecumenical & interfaith partners through the work we do in our respective communities, three clergy colleagues have responded to be part of this pioneering initiative, which formally starts with a workshop prior to the start of our 134th Diocesan Convention. The workshop will be led by the Rev. Jessica Stokes, staff member of the NC Council of Churches and myself. This workshop has a twofold purpose: I will offer an invitation to all who would like to learn more about how we can grow a networking system, connecting us in the work we do in our respective communities as we open doors with ecumenical & interfaith partners to a future we perhaps haven’t possibly imagined.

Jessica will share some resources currently available through the NC Council of Churches. While the resources of the NCCC will be available throughout the 134th Convention at the Ecumenical & Interfaith Table, Jessica will present in particular the Partners in Health and Wholeness programs, helping parishes start or expand health ministries. With the prevalence of tier 1 and tier 2 counties in the eastern part of our state, this is an opportunity to learn about statewide resources and how we can do far more together than we can do apart or on our own.

For more information concerning the North Carolina Council of Churches, go to www.ncchurches.org or contact me at rector@stpaulsepiscopal.com.

EDUCATION for MINISTRY (EfM)

Education for Ministry (EfM) is a program of theological education-at-a-distance for lay people from the School of Theology of the University of the South (Sewanee). This four-year program (in which students enroll one year at a time) covers the basics of a theologically reflective education in the Old and New Testaments, Church history, liturgy, spirituality and personal ministry.
We have nine active EfM groups in East Carolina. They’re located in Fayetteville, Greenville, Morehead City, New Bern, Wilmington, and a combined Washington/Greenville group. Three new groups are in the formative phase for 2017. There are also five people within the Diocese who are currently enrolled in EfM Online.

In the 2015-2016 academic year, 86 East Carolina students were enrolled in EfM. Of these, 17 were First Year students.

CONGRATULATIONS to these 23 Class of 2016 graduates:

from the Wilmington area Terry Alexander, Michael Joseph Bliss, Carolyn Moore, Bob Moore, Carolina Villa, Janice Mumford, Chey Radeka, Mary Kay Ballard, John Parker, George Staton, and Carol Thomas, from the New Bern area Thom Wilson, from the Washington area Laura Bliley, Ella Diane Furlough, Paul Keel, Kathleen Kennedy, Lynda Lawson, and Judy Van Dorp.
from the Greenville area Tom Harwell, Judy N. Tucker, Kathy Seibel, Michael Blackmon, and Blair Reeves.

Well-trained Mentors are the bedrock of EfM’s ongoing success. Mentors commit to recertify their training every 12-18 months. Two Mentor training sessions were offered at Pelican House in the summer/fall of 2015. East Carolina is honored to have 18 active Mentors: the Rev Andy Atkinson, Frances Trask, Ginny Woodruff, the Rev John Frazier, Rob Richardson, Harry Gormley, Thom Wilson, Jane Taylor, Rachel Pace, Nancy Keller, the Rev Jack Robertson, Ed Toone, Bates Toone, Dr. Bill Rich, Susan Whitlow, Andrea O’Connell, Jon Yuhas and Dr. Rebecca McEnally (who Mentors an Online Group). EPISCOPAL CHURCH WOMEN (ECW) OF THE DIOCESE OF EAST CAROLINA

The ECW of the Diocese of East Carolina has much to be thankful for. Topping the list is the support we receive from our Bishop, priests, deacons and lay leadership. Without that support we could not achieve our ECW Goals, which are: To strengthen lines of communication, encourage participation in programs offered to the women of the Episcopal Church, provide scholarships to support education and women and children in need, reach out to all in need, present knowledgeable speakers and leaders for our guidance, and to actively volunteer ourselves in our witness to Christ wherever we are.

The ECW meets three times per year. The well-attended spring meeting was held on April 27, 2016 at St. John’s, Fayetteville. New officers were installed by Bishop Skirving and a most interesting talk was given by The Rev. Lauren Winner using examples from her book, "Wearing God: Clothing, Laughter, Fire and Other Overlooked Ways of Meeting God"
Four women from East Carolina attended the Province IV meeting at Kanuga.

The summer gathering at Trinity Center was held in August. The speaker was Lisa Towle, President of the ECW National Board. She spoke on the changes the ECW is experiencing and the new possibilities that are arising.

We continue to support the United Thank Offering and Church Periodical Club and many people have been helped by generous giving.

With God's help, we look forward to a future of challenges, accomplishments and loving fellowship with our Episcopal Church Women.

Nancy Hamblin, President
ECW of Diocese of East Carolina

EPISCOPAL FARMWORKERS MINISTRY

Through 2016 the ministry has continued its mission to provide direct services, advocacy, education and sacramental care to nearly 3,500 farmworkers in the NC counties of Johnson, Harnett and Sampson.

As our mission describes:

Episcopal Farmworker Ministry responds to the physical, emotional, social, and spiritual needs of farmworkers and their families, and actively supports opportunities for them to become selfdirective. We seek to minister to farmworkers in three principal ways:

- through direct services
- through development and support of programs that work towards the empowerment of farmworkers and increases the level of interaction between farmworkers and the public
- through farmworker leadership development, advocacy, and education aimed toward a systematic change of agricultural policy at local and state levels.

Direct Services:

As every year we were able to deliver thousands of tailored bags containing several changes of working clothes, pillows, linens, towels, toiletries and other indispensable necessities to our brothers and sisters farmworkers. A major development this year was the acquisition of a new (used) store building to store and organize donations. Thanks to a generous grant from the NC Episcopal Church Foundation, we were able to purchase a 24 x 36 foot mobile unit that provides plenty of space, electricity and air conditioning so volunteers can work in proper conditions.

More importantly, this allowed us to recover free space in the ministry offices to house new events in them. Generous donations coming from Churches and individuals throughout the two dioceses have been incredible in quantity and timing this year allowing us to keep a steady delivery of working clothes throughout the year as farmworkers come for the seasonal work on the fields.
We recognize the work of Mrs. Norma Panuco and the group of volunteers under her leadership that sorted and prepared all these donations for distribution.

Thanks to the Interfaith Food Shuttle’s donation of food and to donations from other churches, we were also able to feed close to 4,000 individuals when work is low.

For a second consecutive year we conducted Two Affordable Care Act enrollment sessions at the ministry exclusively for farmworkers in collaboration with Enroll America, NC Farmworkers Project, CommWell and Goshen Medical Centers. As much as 70 farmworkers enrolled in these sessions securing affordable health insurance for the season.

We are collaborating with many organizations in the areas of legal aid, taxes, health and education, as well as with churches from other denominations, to extend the scope of the ministry. This allowed us to offer valuable services to the farmworkers like free hair styling on Sundays, help filling taxes, workshops and referrals. Also we offered through the year several health fairs and free checkups on the ministry grounds thanks to our collaboration with NC Farmworker Project, NC Farmworker Health and Campbell University.

Empowerment:

Following our principle of empowering farmworkers, English as a Second Language classes are offered weekly to help the farmworker adjust to life in North Carolina. The more a farmworker can fit into our society, the more adjusted emotionally the farmworker will be. This year, with the collaboration of the Triangle Literacy Center of Dunn, we were able to offer a new class on Tuesday nights with the attendance of 9 people thank you to the generous donation of their time of two teachers. We are in desperate need of more ESL teachers for next year!!!

Starting in 2015, the Ministry initiated organized meetings between board members and farmworker leaders to learn firsthand in which other ways we could empower farmworkers and serve them better. With funding from Hispanic in Philanthropy (HIP), EFwM was able to establish in 2016 a Farmworker Advisory Committee to include the voice of the farmworkers in EFwM’s decisionmaking. As a result of these conversations we were able to discover new specific ways to help the farmworkers.

One of the initiatives led to the “water on the fields” project that allowed us to distribute near to 500 water bottle holders enabling farmworkers to have access to extra water in the tobacco fields during the hottest working months of the year.

Another led to a wide distribution among farmworkers of close to 1,000 high quality durable work gloves to wear while working with tobacco and sweet potato. Farmworkers are out in the middle of nowhere where retail options are scarce; their transportation options are quite limited. Any gloves available for purchase locally are poor quality and ill suited for hard farm work. This project was possible again to a wonderful collaborative effort among different churches: St. Peter’s and Holy Comforter in Charlotte, several individual donors and a grant from ABC sales, Chapel of the Cross-in Chapel Hill.

We are very excited about these conversations as the farmworkers are having more voice into shaping the future programs that the Farmworker Ministry will be offering.
Farmworker families have benefitted this year of a new program that offered a combination of active play days for the children and workshops for the adults aiming to educate and empower farmworker children and their families to make choices that increase positive health behaviors. For this program we counted with the amazing collaboration of Trinity Episcopal Church from Fuquay Varina and the Alice Aycock Poe Center for Health Education in Raleigh. Included with this program we had a visit to the Museum of Natural Science in Raleigh and a wonderful Geology themed hiking at the neighbor Raven Rock State Park.

This was the year of our 26th annual farmworker festival that was a big success thank you to the cooperation of approximately 150 volunteers that donated their time, work and smiles. An estimated 2,000 people danced and enjoyed Latino cuisine (Mexican barbeque, beans and rice) and hotdogs. An all day soccer tournament allowed workers from 17 different camps to kick their way to victory, and the many children present were entertained by church volunteers in a variety of games, face painting, and bouncing houses. This important event is a one single day of Appreciative Thanksgiving for the farmworkers’ hard work during the year.

Advocacy:
We are very proud of our Visitor’s Program. Every year provides an opportunity of a lifetime for youth (and also adults) to stay onsite at the Episcopal Farmworker Ministry and visit the camps to see firsthand the living conditions of the farmworker. The youth visits to camps are an emotionally uplifting experience for the farmworkers every time as it overrides isolation and break the daily routine. But this is a double inspiring program as the visiting youths are often transformed by this direct contact with the very people that harvest the food that feed us all, discovering another brother or sister embodied in a different life circumstances and culture. During 2016, we had around 20 visits during the year with members from eight churches, two schools, students from five different colleges (including St. Augustine, UNCCCH, Duke and Georgetown University (Washington D.C.)) and the presence of youth groups from two ECM, adding to a total of close to 200 participants.

The ministry has two Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) accredited staff members that provide invaluable immigration assistance to the public. In the past year, more than 1,200 clients have been assisted with immigration issues. We also conduct monthly citizenship workshops.

The Episcopal Farmworker Ministry also provides spiritual support to many. At “La Sagrada Familia”, Father Tony, conducts its church service in Spanish at the ministry each Sunday at noon; several dozen are in attendance during the winter months, but approximately 400 to 500 people participate each Sunday from April through September. There are also church services held at San Jose, Smithfield and St. Francis, Goldsboro as part of the ministry’s outreach.

This year the hurricane Matthew passed over NC affecting the lives of farmworkers and no farmworkers equally. For many farmworkers, however, Matthew was especially hard. The sweet potato crop was ready to be harvested when the flooding from Hurricane Matthew occurred.

Because of the flooding, half of the sweet potatoes rotted in the field making the farmworkers unable to work and support themselves and their families. For many, flooding from Hurricane Matthew not only destroyed the mobile homes in which they live, but also all of their possessions.
Farmworkers do not have a safety net; they support themselves through daily work. Thanks to the quick response and generous donations of food, clothing, and money from Churches from both Episcopal Dioceses (NC and East NC), the Episcopal Farmworker Ministry was able to provide first needs items to more than 130 affected families as well as many H2A farmworkers in the area of Harnett, Sampson, and Johnston Counties. Monetary donations have and still are allowing many families to recover from this disaster.

We at the ministry are extremely thankful for your generous response and Christian Solidarity in the face of brothers and sisters’ adversity.

Respectfully submitted,
Juan Carabaña, Director of Programs and Outreach
Silvia Cendejas, Director of Administration and Fundraising

EPISCOPAL RELIEF AND DEVELOPMENT

Since 1940, Episcopal Relief and Development has been healing a hurting world. As the compassionate response of the Episcopal Church to human suffering, the agency takes a mandate from Jesus’ words found in Matthew 25:30-40. Episcopal Relief and Development embraces the Episcopal Church’s principles of compassion, dignity, and generosity and helps Episcopalians answer God’s Call to serve Christ in all persons—caring for the sick, feeding the hungry and welcoming the stranger.

Initially established as the presiding Bishop’s Fund for World Relief (PFWR) in 1940, the organization assisted refugees fleeing Europe during World War II. The agency went on to support Palestinian refugees, children in Estonia and displaced persons in Germany and Hungary before the Episcopal Church formed Episcopal Migration Ministries in 1988 to carry on the mission of refugee resettlement. During this time, PBFWR also responded to disasters both at home and abroad and supported small development projects around the world.

After Hurricane Mitch in 1998, the PBFWR undertook innovative disaster relief work in Honduras that focused on community rebuilding. In four years, an entire community was constructed, with 200 houses, a school, a clinic and a church. Micro-finance activities and agricultural projects were launched to create economic opportunities and improve the food supply. The combination of rebuilding and recovering initiatives helped to spur economic growth in the devastated region. Integrated community rebuilding became a core element of Episcopal Relief & Development’s disaster work.

In 2000, PBFWR was named as Episcopal Relief & Development to emphasize its disaster relief work in a new programmatic focus on integrated community development. Two years later, Episcopal Relief & Development was incorporated as an independent, 501© (3) organization.

Your gifts provide food, financial support, and disaster relief. All Gifts are Tax Deductible, Charity. Create lasting impact, this worldwide relief agency of the Episcopal Church provides money and resources in time of emergency or disaster.

Thanks to the giving spirit of the Diocese of East Carolina a total of $12,163.59 was donated to the Episcopal Relief & Development in the 3rd quarter. The total donation for 2016 will be posted during the 1st quarter of 2017. Your contribution is Helping a Hurting World as Episcopal Relief & Development partners with local organizations all over the world to save lives and transform communities. Working in close to 40 countries, your donations helped to empower people to create lasting solutions that fight poverty, hunger and disease.

For the past 75 years, Episcopal Relief & Development has, and is still, saving lives and working to heal a hurting world. It is my daily prayer that we will continue to live our lives as outlined in Matthew 25:30-40.

Thomas L. Warren, Coordinator, Diocese of East Carolina Episcopal Relief & Development
During 2016 the Foundation continued to fulfill its mission of investing and managing funds entrusted to it. We continue to be blessed by the many individuals who have made the decision to include the Diocese in their estate planning over the years. These endowments have continued to grow and are providing an annual source of income to many programs in the Diocese. The Foundation ended 2016 with total assets in its portfolio of $12,043,945.

$5,402,912 of this is held and invested by the Foundation on behalf of the 14 churches, Diocese and Trinity Center who have entrusted the investment of their funds with the Foundation.

$1,003,955 of this is managed by the Foundation in order to provide an annual source of income to various churches in the Diocese.

$4,285,556 represents Foundation assets that are used to fund a portion of the Diocesan budget each year including Trinity Center.

The remaining $1,351,522 is used to fund grants throughout the Diocese each year based on grant requests submitted.

The Foundation board of directors along with its professional investment manager, Paul Elam of Raymond James, meets quarterly each year to review its portfolio. The Foundation’s accounts were up 8.2% (net of fees) which beat our blended benchmark of 7.56%. Domestic stocks had a very good year while international equities and bonds lagged behind. We continue to stay with our disciplined allocation process and continue to seek investment opportunities. Our investment strategy aims to protect the principal of our funds in the long term while providing a stable annual distribution to our beneficiaries.

The Foundation awarded grants from its undesignated funds to various churches, ministries and Trinity Center in 2016 totaling $66,839 for 7 exciting projects in the Diocese, including stained glass restoration, building and facility improvements and outreach programs including Common Ground of Eastern North Carolina and the Episcopal Farmworkers Ministry.

The Foundation has approved grants totaling $53,592 for 2017 for 7 projects in the Diocese, including building and facility improvements, stained glass restoration, organ upgrade and outreach projects.

The Foundation approved $210,735 from its designated funds to supplement various programs and expenses in the 2016 Diocesan budget. The Foundation has approved $169,527 in support of the 2017 Diocesan budget. This reduction represents a decrease from a 5% distribution in 2016 to a 4% distribution in 2017. This decision was made carefully after reviewing long-term investment performance with the goal of long-term sustainability of our funds.

As stated previously, we have 14 churches that have elected to invest their funds with the Foundation taking advantage of the investment expertise and low fee structure we are able to offer through Raymond James. Please contact us if you have any interest in investing your funds with us.
We can continue to grow only through the graciousness of our Diocesan family. We encourage everyone to consider the Foundation in their estate planning to provide a perpetual source of income to the wonderful programs being done in our Diocese throughout eastern North Carolina.

GLOBAL GOALS COMMITTEE (FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT)
(FORMERLY THE MILLINIUM DEVELOPMENT GOALS)

BACKGROUND:

What is the Global Goals Committee, and why do we have one?

At the turn of the 2000 Millennium the United Nations set global goals that would address what were then considered the most pressing issues on our planet. The Episcopal Church USA endorsed these goals in the Triennial Convention, and mandated how we might go about achieving them. First, we needed to educate ourselves about the problems and the best way to solve them. Second, we should contribute financially to solutions. The Episcopal Church USA would contribute 0.7% of its total budget to the cause and each diocese would do the same. Further each congregation and every church member should follow this example. The Millennium Goals Committee was founded in our Diocese in 2003 to oversee the tasks set, and its original mission statement reflects the charge it was given.

Millennium Development Goals
• Eradicate extreme povety and hunger
• Achieve universal primary education
• Promote gender equality and empower women
• reduce child mortality rates
• improve maternal health
• Combat HIV/AIDS, malaria, and other diseases
• Ensure environmental sustainability
• Develope a global partnership for development

YEARS 2000-2015:

“Who can forget The Rev’d Michael Singer issuing us all giant white buckets at the 2015 Convention, and challenging us to carry them as a way of understanding what the need for water meant to the lives of the women and girls who had to carry it?”

Under the committed leadership of Charles Gill and the Reverend Michael Singer, the committee created a network of parish contacts, educated the diocese and oversaw a grants program which targeted a goal each year. Our parish pledges to the diocese over these years provided $81,749 to fund many different life-saving projects and campaigns raised more than $33,000 for mosquito nets and safe water projects. Remarkable progress was made internationally. For example: The child mortality rate has reduced by more than half over the past 25 years.
THE GLOBAL GOALS COMMITTEE (FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT):

In 2015, goals were revised by the United Nations, putting more emphasis on environment, income and gender equality. In retrospect, it seemed that many of the efforts of the first years had addressed immediate problems rather than sustainable solutions, not surprising in an era of economic turmoil, endemic terrorism and refugee crisis.

We have changed our name and our mission statement:

GLOBAL GOALS COMMITTEE

FUNDAMENTAL MISSION:

Christ’s message (Matthew 25: 35-40) to minister to “the least of these” embodies our central mission: every parish and every Christian has a duty in Christ to see the needs of the world and respond to them. Our main goal is to help parishes, members, and our Diocese at large understand and fulfill this duty both locally and globally.

There are three aspects of this mission:

1. EXPLAIN AND INFORM:
The Episcopal Church of the United States has adopted the seventeen universal sustainable development goals of the United Nations as a guide to our strategy in fulfilling Christ’s commission to us. Our job is to explain how each of us in the Diocese of East Carolina can further these aims. See http://www.un.org/sustainabledevelopment

2. CHALLENGE:
To help us fulfill our mission, the Episcopal Church of the United States has suggested a point seven percent solution. The Diocese of East Carolina will donate .7% of its budget to Global Development. Each parish is encouraged to do the same. Each church member is challenged to match this amount in personal giving to projects which embody the Goals.

3. STEWARDSHIP:
We are entrusted with the responsibility of recommending to our Executive Committee how the funds allocated by the Diocese of East Carolina should most effectively be spent, both locally and globally, with sustainable projects paramount. Further, in our research and investigation, we may recommend projects to parishes and promote them within our Diocese, at the annual convention, in deanery meetings and within parishes or groups of parishes.
THE CURRENT CHALLENGE

We were asked to look at projects that offered sustainable solutions to immediate and long term projects and we found a great one for this 2017 Diocese of East Carolina Convention!

SHOES FOR GOD'S CHILDREN--HEELING OUR WORLD WORKSHOP:

A group of delegates and other interested persons gather on February 2, 2017 to learn about the serious—even life-threatening problems for children in developing countries who have no shoes and to make shoes for children in an orphanage in Africa. Mitch Lewis has developed an amazing program to make shoes in the USA and to teach mothers in Africa how to make shoes for their children and for income. The Global Goals Committee has allocated funds for the workshop and Mitch Lewis’s program and encourages each parish to contribute to this ministry and consider hosting a workshop.  https://www.bing.com/videos/search?q=Mitch+Lewis%2c+Heeling+the+world&view=detail&mid=F62D6763E7CD1523D3EBF62D6763E7CD1523D3EB&FORM=VIRE

HISTORIOGRAPHER’S REPORT – 2016

Throughout the year, until the fall, I traveled once a week to the office to work on records that had been given to the diocese. I began work on the Archives as well, hopefully making everything accessible to anyone who needed to research.

In addition, I responded to questions and requests from home. A few of those are listed here.

January
13. Research for Hugh Davis, St. Thomas Ahoskie, on Dr. Stanleigh Edward Jenkins, emailed information to him.
30. Information on Bishop Darst and Alexander Miller researched and emailed to Ellen Weig in Wilmington, at her request.  [Ellen has moved from the Diocese of North Carolina and was very active in research and the history of that diocese. She is continuing her interest here in the Diocese of East Carolina.]

For more information please visit our webpage at www.diocese-eastcarolina.org.
February
8. Ellen requested information on St. Luke's, Delgado/Spofford Mills closure ... emailed her the Miscellaneous Missions information I have.
22. Barbara Kehayes of Holy Trinity, Hertford called regarding archiving. Mailed her the paper on archiving, and sent her the church history I did through 2012. Gave her Matthew Payne's information from NEHA so she could order the new booklet. She gave me the name of a person who is doing work at Holy Trinity too, Jerre Horton.
26. Email from Libby Jones regarding a photo of the church at Winton. Also interested in records of St. John's cemetery burials, and the registers which we don't have nor does ECU. Church closed in 1973. Sent her the one page history from the "book."

March
2. Photo printed at diocese to Libby.
4. Email from Susan Block in Wilmington regarding a photo of St. Thomas Church, Atkinson. Sent her copy of one in the "book."

The Rev'd Malcolm Roberts brought me the papers on the history of Peace Church in New Bern for our archives.

May/June
Stacy at St. Andrew's, Nags Head wanted information and photo of the Rev. R. B. Drane to use in their celebration. Sent her copies of some of the bishops we have at the diocese office, sent the actual photo I had of Mr. Drane to Phil Glick for their use.

October
Email from Jackie Farkas of Pasquotank County asking for information on Richard Henry Palmer. Looked up what I could find on the internet, which I believe she had also done. Sent her copy of Weeksville, St. John's.

At home, finished history of Coalition 16, ready to print and have available for anyone interested.

Also worked on Good Shepherd Hospital and the fire in New Bern, ready to print as well.

Answered Bonnie Holton's email regarding a request from Kathryn David about the plaque on the pulpit at Holy Cross Aurora; not taken when I picked up several items that are at the office. Sent a copy of the inventory to Bonnie.

I have computerized every parish’s information from the journals of conventions, and am still working on the priests of the diocese. There are several completed "books" in my office that I would like to publish in the office for anyone who has interest in them. These include the two mentioned above.

In the works are other facets of life in the diocese through meetings and people. I will finish those soon and add them to the list to be published.
I enjoy computerizing the registers and other books from various parishes, particularly those that are closed or soon will be. I believe this is an important way to preserve the history of our diocese for the folks in the future. This is the type of work I can continue to do here at home, after retiring in 2017. The last few months of this year I have been unable to drive to Kinston due to medical problems. But I am blessed to be able to "catch a ride" with a member of St. Paul's, Beaufort parish on any given day that person may be going to the office.

I thank you all for your support and encouragement over the past ten years as Historiographer. I hope to see you at the Convention in February, and at other meetings and events in the future.

With blessings to all, and sincerely,
Mamré Marsh Wilson, Historiographer 2007-2017

INTERFAITH REFUGEE MINISTRY
Dedicated to helping refugees rebuild their lives in eastern North Carolina

Throughout IRM’s 24 years, Episcopal churches in our Diocese have played a vital role in welcoming refugees who come as strangers and become friends and colleagues.

As the hands and feet of Jesus, parishes and individuals have helped newly arriving refugees to feel at home by providing not only material comforts but also friendship, mentoring, and tutoring. Services that IRM and churches provide include assistance with housing, clothing, food, and furnishings. IRM also enrolls adults in English classes and Cultural Orientation classes, and makes sure children are enrolled in school. Our Employment Specialist finds jobs within an average of 75 days after arrival at employers such as Bosch and Moen. All families are self-sufficient through the employment of at least one family member by six months after arrival.

New Bern Statistics for 2016

- Arrivals – 198
- Nationalities – Afghanistan, Burma, Democratic Republic of Congo, Cuba, Colombia
- Average Family size – 2.5
- Languages from Burma – Burmese, Chin, Karen, Kachin, Rohingya, Shan
- Other languages – Arabic, Dari, Pashto, Spanish, French, Lingala, Swahili.
- Education – varies from none to university degree
- Occupations – photographers, nurse, brick masons, vendors, midwife, interpreters
- Projected arrivals for 2017 – 210
- Refugees were resettled in New Bern, Greenville, Jacksonville and Morehead City.

The Refugee School Impact Grant allows Interfaith to partner with the Craven County School system. After school programs at five schools, cultural enrichment field trips and Parent Academy classes all serve to help new students and their parents adjust to life in America. In addition, this grant provides for in-school ESL teachers. Children are thriving in this environment and quickly learn English which is essential for them to reach or maintain their grade level.

Cultural Orientation and English as a Second Language classes for adults continue at the IRM office and in homes. Tutors receive training and materials and primarily work in homes where mothers have small children and are unable to come to the IRM office for classes. Local retirement community members met with three Congolese who are fluent in English for conversation.
For six weeks they talked about their lives in their respective countries; what is was like to grow up there and many other topics. Other adult learners have had field trips to Books-a-Million and Trent River Coffee Company. These are all opportunities to learn more about their new world by observation and interaction. New for 2017 will be the opportunity for the New Bern office to work with interns. We will have two from ECU and one from Barton College. They will be with us for spring semester and will work in a variety of capacities from creating and facilitating groups to interpreting for classes.

Volunteer opportunities are plentiful. Even at a distance, your church family can make a difference to a refugee by donating items or cash or by “adopting” a particular family and assisting with initial needs.

Wilmington

The Wilmington sub-office is going strong with many churches and volunteers to help them in their mission.

Wilmington statistics for 2016

- Arrivals – 134
- Nationalities – Burma, Cuba, Democratic Republic of Congo, Iraq, Colombia
- Languages – Burmese, Sgaw Karen, Chin, Kinyarwanda, Swahili, Kibembe, Spanish
- Education – varies from none to university level
- Projected arrivals for 2017 – 125

The Wilmington office partners with the Cape Fear Literacy Council to teach adult refugees English. Wilmington also has about 10-12 interns each semester who help with case management; employment; job readiness classes; housing; and Cultural Orientation.

For more information, please visit our web site (www.helpingrefugees.org) or Facebook page. If you are in or near New Bern, and would like to explore how you can help us, please call Susan Husson at 252-633-9009. In or near Wilmington? Call Sara Pascal at 910-264-7244.

The following is from To Bless the Space Between Us by John O’Donohue

"On Meeting a Stranger"

With respect
And reverence
That the unknown
Between us
Might flower
Into discovery
And lead us
Beyond
The familiar field
Blind with the weed
Of weariness
And the old walls
Of habit.
PERMANENT DIACONATE

In our ancient Anglican tradition, with our historic episcopate, and love of scripture, tradition, and reason, there are four “orders”. These orders are (in prayer book sequence) laity, bishops, priests, and deacons. East Carolina’s parishes are very familiar with laity, bishops, and priests, but few have experienced a deacon’s ministries. We deacons would love the change that situation.

In our beloved Diocese of East Carolina, we are seeking people who are called to live the parable of the Good Samaritan to be ordained deacon. We are seeking people who are called to help those least able to help themselves, and to speak to the Church on behalf of those least able to speak for themselves. As examples of our current deacons and postulants already responding to this call, this year, East Carolina’s deacons and postulants provided meals and shelter for the homeless and elderly; worked with the Latino and farm worker population; worked to eliminate racism; established and facilitated support groups for those in special life circumstances; addressed aging issues; referred for health care services through agencies and clinics those who would otherwise have had no care; volunteered as Chaplains in hospitals; provided education and support groups for persons dealing with severe and persistent mental illness and their families or care-givers; served and led others as hospice volunteers; worked with at-risk young people in schools, and created a program involving an entire parish in working with a school with an at-risk population; worked throughout the diocese in developing support and programs for recovering addicts; and organized and led a recurring “Towel Ministry” project involving young people repairing the homes of people in need, among other things. All that with only fifteen active deacons. Just think what we could do if we had more deacons! And deacons have liturgical roles, too. They read the Gospel, bid the prayers, set the altar, serve the paten or chalice, dismiss the people. And, they can preach. You ought to hear them!

This year we ordained Pamela Hayes, and still have two Postulants, one of whom should have her studies complete by the time of this convention. Through the semester just ending, The Rev. Katherine Mitchell has overseen our Diaconal Training Program and done a superb job. Beginning next semester, we will have new leadership for the program. Slowly but surely we continue to grow, and our Diaconal Training Program continues to prepare new deacons. Our Diaconal Training Program and our wonderful Postulants are very important, because:

Alas, we currently have only fifteen (15) active deacons in our beloved diocese. There are entire Deaneries which have NO deacons serving in them. For the benefit of our parishes and our communities, that needs to change. We need to spread the word about who deacons are and what they do. TO THAT END, a number of deacons have volunteered to travel to any parish in the diocese to preach or address a group of parishioners in any format desired. Any church in the diocese, regardless of how large or how small, could benefit from having a deacon assigned, because, among other things, DEACONS WORK FOR FREE. Try to top that! Talk about value added!

Though few in numbers, our deacons mean a great deal to the parishes and communities they serve within the Diocese of East Carolina. We pray that others will be inspired to discern a call to serve as a deacon, and that this apostle-ordained order may grow.

Respectfully submitted,
The Ven. John J. Gaskill, Jr., Archdeacon
REPORT OF THE DIOCESAN PERSONNEL COMMITTEE 2016

The committee received questions and comments on the new Personnel Manual from members of the Diocesan staff through Bishop Skirving at the end of 2015. The committee met with Bishop Skirving to discuss those questions and proposed necessary revisions to the new procedures and policies set forth in the Manual in early 2016.

In the fall the committee met with Bishop Skirving to discuss the diocesan office reorganization, reporting responsibilities and areas that need additional support. The committee also reviewed staff compensation adjustments and made recommendation for consideration by the Finance and Executive Committees. Tess Judge, Cynthia Davis, Jane Martin, and Rev. Raymond Brown served on the committee in 2016.

Respectfully submitted for the committee,

We offer this prayer for our Brothers and Sisters in Christ: “Restore to wholeness whatever is broken by human sin, in our lives, in our nation, and in the world.” (Litany of Healing, Book of Occasional Services)

Racism is a sin that has broken our wholeness as the Episcopal Church and disrupted our mission “to restore all people to unity with God and each other through Christ.” Those who have engaged in the Seeing the Face of God In Each Other dialogue process have resolved to do better, with God’s help and with the support provided by others engaged in diocesan leadership roles.

In keeping with our mission, and in response to a call to action from the national church, the Anti-Racism Commission was formed in 2007 through Resolution #6 adopted at the 124th Convention for the Diocese of East Carolina. The Commission has undertaken to provide opportunity for parish leadership in each deanery, and others called to this ministry, to join together in this process of Christian formation. “We must learn to live together as brothers or perish together as fools.” (Martin Luther King, Jr.)

During 2016 we changed our name. While “Anti-Racism Commission” names the sin and defines the ministry that we have undertaken, our new designation as the Racial Reconciliation Commission focuses on our vision.

Reconciliation is the goal in a process of peace-making: of coming together with those who have benefitted from the oppression of others and seeking to establish a relationship where the harmful behavior ends. Our ongoing challenge as the body of Christ is to resist the inclination to define our church as those people we encounter and engage within parish boundaries. Bishop Daniel challenged the diocese at the 122nd Annual Diocesan Convention: “The vision I offer today is one that calls us out of isolation into relationship and demonstrates our love of God through love of neighbor. It’s all about relationship. No diocese, no parish, no church exists in isolation. We are called into being through relationship. When we lose the relationship, we’ve lost the whole ball of wax. It’s about who we are together--we belong to God, we belong to one another. We make one another stronger through being in ever closer relationship, or we wither away in isolation.” (The Bishop’s Address to the 122nd Annual Convention of The Diocese of East Carolina, 2005)

Racism in America did not end with slavery or colonialism, or with post-Reconstruction or Jim Crow segregation or the Civil Rights movement. It did not end with the election of a Black president of mixed parentage or the election of a Presiding Bishop from the Diocese of North Carolina. Reconciliation is an ongoing process. Reconciliation is the mission of our church.

With Jesus as our ultimate model, we pledge to continue seeing the face of God in each other, and we invite members of our diocese to work with us in creating a post-racist world.

Respectfully submitted,
Racial Reconciliation Commission

About Sewanee

The University of the South is home to an outstanding liberal arts college, a School of Letters, and a School of Theology. Located atop the Cumberland Plateau between Nashville and Chattanooga, Tennessee, Sewanee’s 13,000-acre campus, the second largest campus in the United States, provides vast opportunities for research, recreation, and reflection. Within the traditionally strong curriculum of humanities, sciences, and graduate theological studies, Sewanee faculty members promote intellectual growth, critical thinking, and hands-on research.

The University’s Board of Trustees is composed of the bishops of the 28 owning dioceses, together with clergy and lay representatives elected by each diocese and representatives of other University constituencies. The Board of Regents, to which the Board of Trustees delegates some of its responsibilities for governance, is composed of Episcopal bishops, priests, and lay people, and may include a limited number of members of other Christian bodies. The chancellor of the University, elected by the Board of Trustees, is a bishop from one of the 28 owning dioceses.

An Episcopal Center of Learning

The University of the South is an institution of the Episcopal Church dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge, understanding, and wisdom in close community and in full freedom of inquiry, and enlightened by Christian faith in the Anglican tradition, welcoming individuals from all backgrounds, to the end that students be prepared to search for truth, seek justice, preserve liberty under law, and serve God and humanity.

The University was founded by church leaders from the southeastern United States in 1857 and is the only university in the nation that is owned and governed by dioceses of The Episcopal Church, specifically the 28 dioceses that are successors to the original founding dioceses. The historic ownership and governance of the University by these Episcopal dioceses has produced a living synergy of leadership, resource, and mutual support, enriching the Church and advancing the University’s role in American higher education.

TRINITY CENTER

Trinity Center had another busy year in 2016. The first phase of the Trinity & Beyond Capital Campaign is now complete. South Cluster has been fully renovated, which means that thirty-six of our forty-four rooms and three of our four living rooms have been fully renovated. All original roofs on property have been replaced in the past six years. Many of our original decks have been replaced. In other words, almost all of the long-deferred maintenance has been done around property. Trinity Center looks better than it ever has during my ten years as executive director.

Not that we’re done; we never will be. Just as the Golden Gate Bridge will forever need painting, this place will forever need renovation and operational upkeep. Until a few years ago, Lagoon Cluster was our newest cluster; built in 1998, it’s now our oldest. It will soon need new decks, a new roof, and renovated rooms, just as our original clusters did. Almost three-fourths of the critical million dollars was spent on the conferencing part of property. Now the camp part of property needs a fair bit of work.

Luckily for us, plenty of people care about Trinity Center. Thanks to funds from Fred Rippy’s estate, the Centrum now has newly renovated bathrooms, and two of its classrooms have received new cabinets and fresh coats of paint. Thanks to the generosity of Pack and Jan Hindsley, our large and small lounges will have newly reupholstered furniture. Due to the generosity of our very own Cursillo community, our main dining room will soon have a new floor. The Diocesan Foundation totally funded a grant application that allowed us to replace the partition wall between our two dining rooms. Thanks to a donation from Carlon and Mary Mercer and a grant from the Christ Church Outreach Trust, we will be able to buy three new (to us) golf carts. Richard and Linda Seale continue to be generous contributors to our Endowment Fund. These donations and countless others help us keep Trinity Center looking good for the many guests we have each year.

Bishop Skirving continues to be a great supporter of this place and its many ministries. He is constantly making plans for diocesan use of our conference center, and he also continues to advocate for parish use. He is also deeply involved in diocesan plans to work on fully endowing this center, which I still believe is the only way to ensure its long-term survival. In order to maintain this sixty-two acre facility on an island just off the coast, we need to put two hundred thousand dollars into property each year. Some of that will be needed because of the constant use of the facility, and some of it will be needed for repairs due to damage from tropical storms or hurricanes.

Speaking of hurricanes, Trinity Center was very fortunate that Hurricane Matthew did not do more damage when it passed directly overhead in early October. Other areas of the diocese inland were not nearly so fortunate, making clear that hurricanes can do damage in plenty of different ways. Hurricanes are rated in intensity due to wind speed, but this one did most of its damage through rainfall. Even though we escaped most of the damaging effects of the storm, it still cost us almost sixty thousand dollars in lost revenue for October. Some of that was moved later in 2016, some was moved into 2017, and some was lost forever.

I do want to acknowledge that I have never felt better about my staff than I do as I close out 2016. Department Heads are working better together than they ever have, and they are modeling that behavior for their staffs, which means that departments are working better together than they ever have. We’ve added some key personnel to our infrastructural departments. One new position I would like to highlight: Buddy Payne, longtime Camp Trinity staffer, has taken a position as Episcopal Youth Coordinator at Trinity Center. He serves as Mary Beth Bradberry’s assistant; she has needed one ever since she became Assistant Director of Trinity Center. I continue to be heartened by the changes I am seeing and feeling around the diocese.
I believe Bishop Skirving is bringing us all closer together as he travels the diocese and visits our many ministries. I believe he is making clear how important Trinity Center is to the life of the diocese, and how important it can be in uniting us as one body made of many parts. I continue to be so grateful for the opportunity to serve this diocese as Executive Director of our conference center.

Mr. Penn Perry, Executive Director

Youth Paint Day at Episcopal Farmworker Ministry
On Saturday, July 31 young people and adult leaders from Holy Trinity, Fayetteville, St. Andrew’s On-the-Sound, Wilmington and Trinity, Lumberton gathered at the Episcopal Farmworker Ministries office to begin painting the interior. The group painted the main boardroom and the hallway. There is still plenty of paint if groups would like to continue this work.

yOUThREACH 2016
In its sixth year, yOUThREACH is for young people in grades 6-12 to focus on an outreach ministry opportunity inside the Diocese of East Carolina. In 2016 yOUThREACH worked with the Interfaith Refugee Ministry. The 40+ young people and adults gathered at Diocesan House in Kinston for community building and worship. Then the group heard a presentation by Susan Husson, Executive Director of Interfaith Refugee Ministry. Following the presentation and lunch, the group gathered make toiletry buckets for incoming refugee families. Each bucket also included a handwritten note from each member of the small group working on that bucket. This meant that each bucket had 5 notes to accompany it.

yOUThREACH was hosted by the East Carolina Youth Council at Diocesan House
Fall Youth Conference
High School Young People. This year’s theme was Walk in Love. The young people engaged in a program built on Ephesians 4:25 - 5:2 focusing on how anger and mistrust can divide us. Young people also learned ways they could learn to overcome their anger and mistrust to begin to walk in love with other people.

East Carolina Youth Council served as Design Team.
The Rt. Rev. Robert S. Skirving served as Chaplain.
Alex Haralson, Diocese of East Tennessee served as Musician.

Fall Conference, New Beginnings and Happening would not be possible with out the continued support, guidance and work of Mary Beth Bradberry, the Camp Trinity Director. She is in an invaluable asset to both of these events and all youth events in the Diocese of East Carolina.

University and Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry in the Diocese of East Carolina continues to grow and change. The dynamics of all three groups change each semester as new students come in and other graduate. All three groups have been active.

In July Alfreda Gee, Campus Minister in Wilmington and the Rev. Donna Kraus, Campus Minister in Greenville attended the Campus Ministry Conference held by The Episcopal Church just outside of Baltimore. In addition, this year Donna was also named the President of the Religious Life Council on the campus of East Carolina University.

Pamlico Deanery
The Rev. Donna Kraus a Lutheran Pastor in Greenville serves as the Campus Minister for The Well: ELCM.

The Advisory Council has representation from both Lutheran and Episcopal students, St. Timothy’s, St. Paul’s, and Our Redeemer, Lutheran. They meet once every other month and more often if needed. Pastor Donna sends out weekly email and maintains regular “office” hours on campus for students and faculty. She also maintains an office at Our Redeemer Lutheran.

Highlights from this year include:

• An Evening with Bishop Skirving
• An Evening with Bishop Tim Smith, Bishop of the Lutheran Synod of North Carolina
• Cross Campus Ministry Retreat in April with UNCW and UNCP
• Pumpkin Carving with the Hillel Students (Jewish group)
• Advent Worship and dinner with the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist Campus Ministries
• An Evening with Buddy Payne from Camp Trinity
• Thanksgiving dessert for residents of University Towers

2016-2017 Officers
Steven Rogers – President
Melissa Glen - Vice President
Andy Jones - Secretary/Treasurer
Lower Cape Fear Deanery

ECCO - Episcopal Campus Christian Outreach changed its name in January to help more students identify that Episcopal was also Christian. The name change has certainly helped some students more readily identify ECCO as a Christian group on campus. In addition the leadership of the group decided on a theme for the 2016-2017 Academic Year. “What Feeds You?” The group is using the metaphor to talk about a variety of ways we are both physically and spiritually feed as well as using in their new logo and as a way to draw in new students.

In addition, ECCO campus ministry won a $3,000 grant from The Episcopal Church to support an initiative that would not have been possible given that we had not included it in the 2016 budget.

Highlights from this year include:

• January Pilgrimage Retreat to Charleston, SC
• Cross Campus Ministry Retreat in April at the Outerbanks with ECU and UNCP
• A group of 5 students who remained local over the course of the summer met weekly for dinner and conversation
• Back to Campus Prayer Walk at UNCW -written and led by Lindsey Harts, a student in the ministry
• Went to Washington, DC to serve at the Welcome Table Ministry at Church of the Epiphany. This trip and experience was fully funded by the Campus Ministry Grant. Outside of the grant the group agree to raise the funds to pay for The Welcome Table’s weekly breakfast. That fee is $500; the group actually raised $1100 supporting an addition breakfast!

The Advisory Council meets bi-monthly and representation consists of students as well as clergy and lay representatives from Church of the Servant, Holy Cross, St. Andrew’s-on-the-Sound, and St. James and are looking to expand the group to include some other parishes in the Wilmington area.

2016-2017 Officers

Upper Cape Fear Deanery

The Rev. Gene Wayman of Trinity Lumberton has taken on the main role as Campus Minister for this group given the upcoming departure of The Rev. Volley Hanson from St. Mark’s Lutheran, Lumberton.

This group is in somewhat of transition due to this leadership shift and the graduation of several active students. ELM has some new students meeting with them for pizza and conversation monthly.

The Advisory Council for ELM at UNCP meets three times a year or as determined by the students.

Highlights from this year include:

• Cross Campus Ministry Retreat in April with the other Diocesan Campus Ministries
• Coffee & Compline
• Monthly Pizza and conversation
• Volunteering at the Episcopal Farmworker Festival
Young Adult Ministry

The program officer is working directly with some young adults who are planning to graduate from college in the spring of 2017 who are interested in pursuing either the Young Adult Service Corps or the Episcopal Service Corps.

We continue to support parishes actively engaged in ministries with young adults.

2015 was the most challenging year for investments we have seen in the last few years. There were multiple headwinds during the year—the destruction of the US Energy sector, worries about rising interest rates, fears of a slowing China, slowing of US earnings, and the strong US dollar. In the end, it proved too much to overcome and the Diocese of East Carolina Foundation accounts ended up with a loss of –3.12% on the year. Many stocks are in correction territory if not “stealth” bear markets.

Perhaps we should not be surprised that markets took a breather after such wonderful returns in 2013 and 2014. Stocks were no longer undervalued like they were in previous years. The frustrating part was that no other asset class picked up the slack when equities stumbled.

Our goal is always to allocate amongst many asset classes with the hope that one or two have good returns and balance out losses elsewhere. Unfortunately, 2015 was an anomaly. Bloomberg has termed 2015 “The Year Nothing Worked”, and they are correct. For the first time since 1995, not one of the four major asset classes (Stocks, Bonds, Cash and Commodities) returned more than +10%. And it was only the 4th time in nine decades that at least one of those asset classes failed to have a return of +4% or more.

Further disguising the “stealth” bear market was the headline S&P 500 return of +1.38% in 2015. This is misleading because the index is market cap weighted. This means that the largest stocks in the index get a larger allocation. The 10 largest stocks were up +8% on the year, while the average S&P 500 stock was down nearly -20% from the highs.

We are not quite ready to pronounce this bull market dead, although our level of conviction is lower than it has been in recent years. The US economy should be able to avoid recession despite the many headwinds. Stabilization of oil and currencies would help immensely, and would help turn investor sentiment more positive.

While this market is proving frustrating, we are sticking with our disciplined allocation process. At present, equities and commodities are continuing their slide. Many stocks are in bear market territory of -20% or more. This creates opportunity for long-term investors like the Diocese of East Carolina Foundation. We have been busy buying some beaten down areas of the market and continue to look for long-term opportunities.

   (b) In the course of proceedings under this Canon, if a charge is made by the Vestry against the Rector that could give rise to a disciplinary proceeding under Title IV of the Canons of the Episcopal Church or Title III, Canon 7 of this Diocese, all proceedings under this Canon shall be suspended until the charge has been resolved or withdrawn.
