Region I: Reflecting Christ’s Light in the Northwest Corner of Our State

St. John’s Episcopal Church, Powell:
Senior Warden Sue Woods reports that their youth group is up and running and has been met with great success. The group meets approximately once a month and seeks ways to see God in the world around them. They have gone skating, out to a movie, provided coffee hour after church and are headed for the slopes to ski this weekend. Several of St. John’s parishioners are taking advantage of the life enriching opportunity to travel to Greece this fall.
Well done St. John’s!

Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Thermopolis:
Members continue to serve God as they serve His people by building bridges between community members and organizations. Rev. Ron Phillips named several programs that have fed the hungry in Thermopolis. A Christmas dinner hosted by Holy Trinity served 180 meals and over 100 Christmas baskets filled with food were delivered in December. Holy Trinity’s facilities are used for the “People For People” program, an ecumenical group, who prepare and deliver approximately 70 meals each Sunday to shut-ins. The Thermopolis community pulled together and shared the financial responsibility of caring for those with few resources as they gave generously during the Christmas Tour of Homes fundraiser, which included bidding on center pieces created by the middle school students. The Salvation Army’s Kettle Campaign in Thermopolis was also a success.
Common Ground Help Center, managed by Holy Trinity, continues its work with a variety of services, two examples are tutoring people who want to earn their GED and helping folks with energy bills during this cold time of year.

St. Alban’s Episcopal Church, Worland:
Transitional Deacon, Linda Anderson will receive the Holy orders of Priesthood this April in Worland.
Shirley Wildman, Senior Warden wrote:
December was a very busy time at St. Alban’s
Linda Anderson held four Advent Services on Wednesday evening, followed by a soup supper.
ECW had an evening of caroling with the High School Choir, they served cookies and hot chocolate.
We had the Rev. Steve Christy & Julia, for two Christmas Eve Services and one Christmas Morning, before the Christmas Day Dinner hosted by Joe & Shirley Wildman at St. Alban’s for anyone who didn’t have a place to go for the day. There were 15 individuals who attended it was a wonderful time of fellowship.
January 20th was the Annual Meeting, we retained the same officers and Vestry. As we will continue to use Supply Clergy until we have another Congregational Meeting in May.
St. Alban’s will be hosting a Worship Leader Training for anyone in the Big Horn Basin Deanery that would like to attend, February 21st at 6 pm. Lori Modesitt will be the trainer.

Christ Church, Cody:
The Reverend Mary Caucutt is working to keep our churches in the Region 1 Deanery connected and moving forward. In her Big Horn Basin Deanery Newsletter, she listed a multitude of opportunities that are being provided for Youth Ministry, Fresh Expressions and a study for Lent. Christ Church has a great website that is rich with information and opportunities for growth; check it out at https://christchurch.diowy.org/

St. Andrew’s Episcopal Church, Basin:
The following was sent in by Nancy Joyce:
Annual meeting is Sunday. Will most likely have a new senior warden.
Epiphany Party-great fun, will become an annual tradition.
Priests-in short supply. Generally have two Sundays with priests. This month will be one since the one for Sunday just cancelled. Always a problem for us. People want Holy Eucharist.
Adult education on Wednesdays- 4 or 5 people show up. Discuss the readings for the upcoming Sunday.
Neat Repeats store: Donate 50% of proceeds to charity/people in need. Generally give away at least $4000/year.
St. Andrew’s also got a $10,000 Foundation grant to support the CASA program.

St. Andrew’s Episcopal Church, Meeteetse:
We hold our arms open to our community and to those passing through. Becky Bennett, a cornerstone of our church, was excited to report that St. Andrew’s hosted a Canadian high school football team and our Longhorns for breakfast in the Parish Hall over Labor Day weekend. Our youth have been enriched by the association with our "sister team" over the years.
The Parish Hall is also the hub the annual “Christmas in Meeteetse” celebration. We host community members who sell their homemade crafts and goodies during the three day event. On one of those days, children from preschool age to the fifth grade participate in the joy of giving. Santa’s Workshop, a small building behind the church, is filled with donations from the community members and the children are allowed to shop for their parents and family members at no charge. Santa's helpers, three dynamic women from our congregation, assist the shoppers and help them wrap their gifts. Children become excited as they begin the process of growing from, “What am I getting, to what am I giving?”
An ongoing reflection of Christ's love and caring occurs every week of the year as cards of birthday greetings, well wishes and sympathy are sent to Meeteetse folks of all ages and church affiliations.
REGION 2 REPORT

New Castle: Wendy Owens will be the new priest in New Castle, she will be ordained March 23rd at Christ Church, Newcastle. She has been working with Christ Church for almost a year and everyone involved is happy with her being there.

Sheridan, St. Peter’s: Sheridan has a new priest, Rev. RJ Johnson from Florida arrived in early December. RJ and his wife have roots in Wyoming and are thrilled to be back here. RJ’s son is here with him now and started high school in January, RJ’s wife is still in Florida but will be here soon. RJ told the Sheridan congregation he is very interested in being there until he retires. May they have a long and happy relationship.

Gillette, Holy Trinity: Gillette, has the largest Daughters of the King (DOK) group in the state of Wyoming. Their ongoing project is making hats and swaddlers that are given to the Campbell County Public Health nurses. When the nurses go to see a new baby, they take along a hat and swaddler to teach new mothers how to swaddle their baby. Holy Trinity recently got a $4500 grant from the Wyoming Episcopal Foundation to help fund a workshop on Racism being held at Gillette Community College in March. Pres Stevens from the Foundation will be headed to Gillette to meet with our Senior Warden and Second Chance Ministries, a group in Gillette that helps people coming out of jail to transition back into society. They have a group home for men that they have run for about 4 years and would like to buy/build a similar home for women due to the desperate need for safe, drug free living for women coming out of jail. We had one candidate for discernment to be a deacon but he and his wife have moved to Casper.

Holy Trinity is a busy church, serving at the soup kitchen one Saturday per month and serving Christmas dinner, about 75 people showed up for a meal and noonday prayer. We also work with the Youth Emergency Services, hold weekly bible study and a book study, have a music camp with 4 other churches in place of Vacation Bible School. Our Sunday school kids raised over $500 for Heifer International last fall.

Mary Appel, Region II  Wyoming Diocesan Council Rep.

The Bells

The Centennial of the bells was celebrated with two concerts on September 16 and 17. Music included pieces from the inaugural concerts, as well as “Ragtime Cowboy Joe!” Punch Williamson, Marilyn Pedrick, and Valentina Gavrilova played for the concerts.

The 11-bell ring is the largest in Wyoming.
Edward Ivinson bought the 3 towers, the steeple, the bells chimes, and the clock in 1916 and 1917 in memory of his wife, Jane, who died in 1915. He paid $60,000; today this would cost $1.4 million.

The bells are visible in front of the church.

Smoke from nearby trains has blackened the building.
Clothing Cottage—now, the Cottage
The Cottage, formerly the Clothing Cottage, does a lively business as a used clothing outlet with the option of providing clothes free-of-charge through a voucher system to those in need. Profits above fixed expenses are routinely shared as cash donations to other local helping agencies including the Discretionary Account for St. Matthew’s clergy.
The Cathedral supports Family Promise of Albany County that provides a variety of services to homeless families.
Laramie Soup Kitchen

Open House to celebrate the new ADA ramp from the north parking lot into the undercroft of the Cathedral, which houses the soup kitchen. Renovations also were made to the kitchen and the bathrooms were made handicapped-accessible.
UW ROTC Food Donation

ROTC students did an very early morning Ruck March and brought food to the soup kitchen in December.
The Soup Kitchen serves lunch weekdays and collaborates with an array of other local services to provide food for hungry people. The fourth week of 2018 the Soup Kitchen helped distribute 40 thousand pounds of apples and pears from a truck wreck on I-80 to organizations and individuals across Albany County. Each week sixty to 80 individual clients are served lunch Monday through Friday with additional food available for them to carry home for overnight and weekend meals.

From the Rev. Dick Nauman
Farewell to the Askews

The Very Rev. Stephen Askew and his wife, the Rev. Patricia Tanzer Askew, retired at the end of December. They moved to Washington State and are exploring what flavor of ministry “retirement” brings to them.
Dean Askew’s Retirement

The Cathedral honored the Askews during Advent. On the right, they are listening to a choral concert in their honor.
Stephen & Patricia’s Retirement Potluck

The party had a Camino theme. The Askews plan to hike the entire 500 miles of the Camino de Santiago!
Rev. Brian Gross, currently of Torrington, will arrive to serve as Dean-in-Charge at St. Matthew's the first week of June. From January until Rev. Gross arrives, sacramental ministry and pastoral care will be provided by the Rev. Candice Corrigan and Rev. Dick Naumann in their continuing roles as Associate Priests at the cathedral parish. The officers and members of the Vestry will attend to administrative and financial affairs.
Vision

St. Matthew’s parish continues its effort to live into our vision: “In Christ we grow in faith, respond through action, and embrace all people.”
The Rev. Arlen Rounds drives from Laramie to Medicine Bow on the 2\textsuperscript{nd}, 4\textsuperscript{th}, and 5\textsuperscript{th} Sundays of the month. The Rev. Candice Corrigan has been assisting Arlen since last April.
The Rev. Peggy Hotchkiss visits St. Luke’s at least once a quarter to assist—preaching, proclaiming, and (sometimes) playing the piano. Sometimes, there are three clergy behind the altar!
Sunday Attendance

Unlike in this photo, there usually are 2-3 people in the pews and 2-3 clergy at the altar.

St. Barnabas’, Saratoga
We host cross-country bicyclists in the Agape House. In the summer of 2018, we hosted nearly 100 riders!

The local thrift store suggested that we apply for funding for a bike rack so that our guests would have a place to park their bicycles overnight. The yellow rack was delivered in early January 2019!
A few parishioners met weekly with kids from the local Big Brothers & Big Sisters program. We helped them prepare healthy snacks—and sometimes, we made decadent desserts!
Cooking with Kids

New windows were being installed in the Agape House, so we had to meet at The Hub several times. When construction was not underway, we met in the Agape House.
Bikes for Kids

Ralph Hicks, our “Bike Guy” built a bike stand so that kids at The Hub could repair bikes in the winter. He gave the stand and a set of tools to The Hub and taught a few boys how to do basic bike repairs.
Our Bikes for Kids Ministry was honored by the Foundation for the Episcopal Diocese of Wyoming as First Runner-Up for the George B. Storer Outstanding Mission Award.
Singles Eating Together

We host a monthly luncheon (winter) and dinner (summer) for single adults. The ministry is growing and more people are getting involved in ministering to others! This is exciting!
Suicide, the Ripple Effect

We hosted this film at the Community Center in October. The Carbon County Prevention Network provided a catered meal for the event. About 40 people attended. Afterwards, attendees engaged in a lively and interesting discussion.
Star Party

Paul Crips brought his 18-inch Newtonian telescope to Saratoga for a Star Party in September at a parishioner’s home. People can hardly wait for Paul and his telescope to return!
Daughters of the King

Our St. Clare of Assisi Chapter hosts a gathering of Daughters from Carbon and Albany Counties. At our November gathering, we made “Stone Soup,” watched a video of a Richard Rohr workshop, and enjoyed watching a family of deer dine in the Agape House Yard.
A grant from the Foundation funded new windows, frames, and doors in the Agape House. We also purchased new storm doors.

As you can see, the siding on our 129-year-old house is pretty dilapidated. We just learned that we have been awarded $49,700 to replace the siding and window shutters!

Region IV/Snowy Range Deanery Gathering

St. James’ hosted a Deanery gathering in August. We had a Celtic Evening Prayer service, followed by a cookout. The diocese provided burgers, buns, and condiments; St. Barnabas’ Church provided drinks; and attendees brought side dishes and desserts. People asked if we could do this again!
St. Barnabas’, Saratoga, St. Luke’s, Medicine Bow, and St. James’, Encampment, along with the Carbon County Prevention Network and the Foundation for the Episcopal Diocese of Wyoming will be sponsoring an ASIST workshop in Saratoga on April 10 & 11 at the Platte Valley Community Center.
The churches in Region IV are bringing the love and light of Christ to Southeast Wyoming.
Southwest Wyoming Region V and Red Desert Deanery our thrilled to serve their communities on the St. Christopher’s Highway. The success of the St. Christopher’s Highway Travelers’ Aid and Ministry is based on the coming together of Southwest Wyoming communities, churches, and resources. Including Big Piney, Cokeville, Eden, Evanston, Green River, Kemmerer, Pinedale, and Rock Springs.

Since the eSpirit “Red Desert Deanery Launches Traveler’s Aid and Ministry” article the committee has been busy preparing to launch this very needed Southwest Wyoming ministry:

1) The Red Desert Deanery has received a $5000 grant from the Diocese to begin this project. A separate bank account has been opened, five dedicated cell phones have purchased and setup, to be distributed among the participating communities; ensuring that no one will have to divulge their personal phone numbers.

2) A logo has been approved, which was designed by Youth Member and Project Coordinator Adam Larson.

3) Currently informational cards are being designed and printed; they will then be distributed among first responders in the area to advertise the availability of these services, as well as contact information in each community.

4) Services currently available are food, short term housing in two Rock Spring motels, gas cards, clothing (courtesy of area Thrift Stores), and bus tickets if needed.

5) The next meeting of the steering committee is scheduled for Saturday, March 2, 2019

The United Church of Christ in both Rock Springs and Green River is participating, as is Mt. of Olives Lutheran Church (ELCA) in Rock Springs. Holy Spirit Catholic Community in Rock Springs is providing aid through their Loaves and Fishes Soup Kitchen.

In addition to all the churches in Region V being represented, participation has also expanded to include representatives of law enforcement, mental health and two of the area's hospital foundations (Kemmerer and Rock Springs). The hospital foundations will provide funding for prescription medicines.

United Way of Sweetwater County has indicated the project will qualify for some funding from them during next year’s granting cycle.
