

The 3rd Annual Choral Institute is Online (June 2020)

Greetings from the Mountain!

While working remotely for the University at this time, I have been asked to help spread the exciting news about Sewanee's summer choral program - a virtual program for talented youths to take advantage of - and it's absolutely free!

The University of the South is pleased to announce the return of the Choral Institute for its third year. The Institute is hosted by the University of the South in Sewanee, TN. This summer program is open to rising junior and senior high school aged students who have a passion for music and love to sing. The dates for the 2020 Institute are June 22-26.

The VIRTUAL Choral Institute will run from Monday June 22 to Friday June 26 and meet on Zoom every day from 10 am to Noon. Members of the Music department from the University of the South will be our guest lecturers covering the following topics: music history, composition, performance practice, jazz and live music sound nation. Specific lecture topics will be unveiled during the week of June 1.

Registration is open! Please consult the following link for more information: <https://www.sewanee.edu/university-choir/choral-institute/>

This program is free! Register now to claim your spot. Please contact University Organist and Choirmaster Geoffrey Ward if you have any questions about the VIRTUAL Choral Institute at the University of the South. Email: ghward@sewanee.edu

We look forward to your participation in the VIRTUAL Choral Institute. In addition to spreading the word, I'm developing a contact database. If you could kindly email me back with your phone number and address, I will make note of the information. Thank you!
