Seminar Description:
Faith communities have been sources of solace and serenity across the ages. Spiritual leaders, clergy, ministers from all faiths have answered a call to commune and lead thriving, holy, peace-filled communities. During a time commonly described as divided, polarized, and toxic; faith leaders and all committed to spiritual caregiving are facing conflict and challenges at rapid-fire pace.

Attend this seminar and hear from experienced pastoral leaders as they offer insights into conflict management approaches, strategies to effectively navigate change and share ways for ministers to shift from surviving to thriving. A medical expert will delve into the value and advantages of anxiety. Plus, a "compassion warrior" reveals the transforming power of intentional compassion cultivation.

Guest speakers:

- The Rev. Dr. David Forney, Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Charlottesville, Virginia, will present Uh-oh! This is Not Going Well: Methods for Dealing with Conflict and Promoting Civil Conversations
- The Rev. Dr. Daniel Corrie Shull, Senior Pastor, Burnett Avenue Baptist Church, will present Conflict is Inevitable, Discord Isn't: Navigating Change
- The Rev. Toni Hawkins, D.Min., M.Div., LPC, CLC, Associate Conference Minister, Indiana Kentucky Conference, United Church of Christ, will present Surviving to Thriving in a Divided World

- John J. Wernert, M.D., Executive Medical Director, Behavioral Medicine Services, Norton Healthcare, will present Reclaiming Anxiety as Our Friend and Ally
- Stephanie Barnett, Certified Facilitator, Compassion Cultivation Training©, will present The Transformational Power of Compassion Cultivation
