

NOTHING RECREATES BASEBALL MAGIC LIKE Strat-O-Matic

Replay the 2000 season with either our famous baseball board game or our wonderful computer games. Play with New York, The World Series Champs against all comers, or organize your own draft leagues. Either way, you call the plays for major leaguers who perform according to their actual abilities and your managerial decisions.

Imagine the fun you'll have playing Strat-O-Matic with sluggers such as Mark McGwire, Sammy Sosa, Ken Griffey and Troy Glaus, battling for the National and American league home run crowns. Pity the poor middle reliever with a better than 6.00 ERA (and there are lots of them) facing one of these slugging giants with his terrifying power-laden Strat-O-Matic card.

Yes, there was a lot of "ineffective" pitching. But there was also some amazing hurling. Starting pitchers Pedro Martinez, Mike Mussina, Randy Johnson and Kevin Brown were unbelievable. Relievers Mariano Rivera, Robb Nen and Trevor Hoffman were simply unhittable. Each of these players' impressive pitching is accurately reproduced in Strat-O-Matic Baseball!! Superb rookies Rafael Furcal and Kazuhiro Sasaki added spice to this awesome baseball season and will do exactly the same for you in Strat-O-Matic.

All things considered, it may have been one of the best all-time baseball seasons. And you have the chance to capture its excitement by playing Strat-O-Matic. In business since 1961, Strat-O-Matic games are as realistic as you want a fun game to be.

STRAT-O-MATIC may be purchased in either computer or board game format. The board game is actually three games in one, a basic version for youngsters and two advanced versions (advanced and super-advanced) for adults. The basic game is easy to play and the advanced games have no equal in realism and play value.
