

FREE AutoCAD TRAINING

Learn Autodesk AutoCAD - Parametric Behaviour In Non-Parametric Software

About Free AutoCAD Training

Autodesk AutoCAD is the industry standard for computer-aided design across the Architecture, Engineering and Construction (AEC) industries, making it an indispensable tool for your design and engineering teams.

NetCom Learning is offering this 2-hour complimentary AutoCAD training to help your teams evolve faster with knowledge of the latest designing innovations. Your teams will gain the required proficiency to produce stunning and compelling designs. Your team will have a guided learning experience through exercises, supplemental documents, and video instruction. The instructor will break down the various functions and tools of this drafting software into its essential and fundamental parts.
