THE 5 GOLDEN RULES

1. Feeding
Gesture eat before putting the bowl down.
Remove the bowl as soon as your dog moves away (within 1 second).

2. Danger
Always remain calm, relaxed and use low energy.
At the first set of barks – say “Thank You” but there is no need to move.
At the second set of barks – go and look, stand in front, say “Thank you” and walk away (don’t look at your dog).
If your dog makes one more noise immediately isolate.

3. After separation
Ignore – no touch, no speaking and no eye contact.
Until they relax totally.
Then wait for 5 minutes.
Then call them to you.
(Practice mini leaves)

4. Everything on your terms
You should initiate everything.
First call your dog to you before giving attention and affection.
Watch out for any attention seeking or space invading.

5. The walk
First train your dog to walk off leash.
Then using a lead take your time. Wait for their energy level to drop.
Do not move to the next step until the lead is loose and your dog is calm.
If your dog is pulling you turn around.
Keep a loose arm and a loose leash.
