The Durex Global Sex Surveys: Thailand Results

The Durex Global Sex Surveys have caused a lot of controversy over the years. We at Dating Skills Review think their results are highly biased and not to be trusted. We believe some of their data is representative of the Thai population's behavior and some is completely wrong. To find out what we think based on experience, listen to our interview on dating in Bangkok, Thailand.

The Durex survey highlights for Thailand over the years:

- 59% of Thai women are unfaithful - #2 most unfaithful women globally. 54% of Thai men admitted to being unfaithful - #1 most unfaithful men globally (Durex Global Sex Survey 2012).
- Only 3% of Thai women between 25 – 35 would tell their lover about an infidelity, and 14% of Thais overall, positioning them as least likely to tell globally (Durex Global Sex Survey 2003).
- 64% of Thais use pornography, positioning them as #1 in pornography use globally (Durex Global Sex Survey 2005).
