

PRODUCT STATEMENT

September 13, 2018

Please be advised that Tantus, Inc. finished products do not intentionally contain California Proposition 65 listed materials.

The raw materials used in Tantus, Inc. finished products may contain trace levels of materials that are listed in California Proposition 65. However, these materials in the finished product are either in a form that do not create an exposure hazard or exist in amounts compliant with the “safe harbor” provisions of California Proposition 65.

This statement does not warrant against any inadequate use or storage of the finished product that may lead to contamination of our product(s).
