

Game and Toys that Support Cognitive and Social-Emotional Development.

Here are suggestions for fun games to play with your child/children that support social skills and play skills:

Simon Says

Duck-Duck Goose

Red Light/ Green Light

Scavenger Hunt

I Spy

Telephone

Pretending: Doll-Play, Kitchen/house-keeping play

Rainy Day Obstacle Course

Arts and Crafts

Play Ground

Remember, have fun!

Here are some suggestions for toys that facilitate your child's cognitive development, social skills, and social-emotional functioning

1 to 3 years of age

Push-pull and ride-on toys

Small tricycles and wagons

Simple puzzles, shape sorters, peg boards

Movement games

Large beads

Blocks, stacking rings

Picture books

Crayons, markers and clay

Ages 3 to 5 years old

Dress-up with accessories

Puppets

Large bead-threading and lace sets

Storybooks

Simple board games (Hi-Ho Cherry-O, Candyland)

Puzzles (no more than 24 pieces)