The Functional Adrenal Stress Profile (#205)

Utilizing the best in salivary hormone testing materials and technology, the #205 assesses: Cortisol x 4, DHEA-S Average, Estradiol, Estriol, Melatonin, Progesterone, and Testosterone.

Why Run the #205?

- Core diagnostic data relevant to all patients and symptoms
- A convenient approach to evaluating the impacts of stress on health
- Salivary method to measure bio-active, free hormones
- Cortisol rhythm with DHEA sulfate to determine the level of adrenal fatigue
- Sex hormone assessment; progesterone, testosterone, and estrogens
- Melatonin and nighttime cortisol to help with evaluation of sleep problems
