Rector Ramblings on . . .
Decisions

We make hundreds, if not thousands, of conscious decisions every day. We probably also make hundreds of thousands of unconscious decisions every day. It begins when the alarm clock rings in the morning. Our first decision of the day is whether to get out of bed immediately or whether to hit the snooze alarm one, two, or three times. What to wear, what to eat, what perfume to use, what route to drive to work. The opportunity to make decisions presents itself to us multiple times. Some decisions need to be carefully considered and take a long time to develop – how will this decision impact the budget or a relationship? Sometimes they must be made very quickly – Yellow . . . stop or go?

One of our greatest gifts is that we are afforded the opportunity to make decisions and choices of our own free will. One of our greatest burdens is that we are afforded the opportunity to make decisions and choices of our own free will. And it seems like these past few months have presented themselves with more decisions to be made than normal.

The J2A group made the decision to spend a weekend in New York City. Besides all the pre-trip decisions that needed to be made, those who went had to make decisions every day as they navigated the streets of the city. Some decisions were better than others, but I think all decisions made for good learning opportunities. I also think those decisions helped move them forward on their Journey to Adulthood.
Our parish budget is, once again, in the red. Some people see this and react with fear and anguish. Some people see it and look for opportunities. It’s not rosy, but neither is the sky falling. And each of us decide how we will react to the budget numbers. Elsewhere in this edition, you can read about one decision I have had to make in the best interest of our budget.

On a personal note, Joelene and I have made the decision to purchase a house. This is one of those LIFE DECISIONS (best if read in a deep, echoing voice) that people make. It is at times stressful and at other times a little playful. The only regret I have about this particular decision is that I won’t be able to call the landlord to report a broken pipe or roof damage.

This is also the beginning of the pledge campaign. The Stewardship/Finance Committee is making decisions about the shape and timing of the upcoming pledge drive. There are decisions about how many letters will be mailed, phone calls to make, deadlines to meet, and many other such details. Along with that, the other committees are beginning to make budgetary decisions as we look to 2019.

This is also a good time for you to begin thinking about decisions that will need to be made in your life at St. John’s. At the Vestry retreat in March we came up with a four point mission statement: The mission of St. John’s is to Worship, Welcome, Serve, and Encourage. What decisions will you make to help this parish live into that mission statement?

- With your time, talents, and treasure, how will you decide to be involved in Worship at St. John’s?
- With your time, talents, and treasure, how will you decide to Welcome people?
- With your time, talents, and treasure, how will you decide to Serve God, church, and neighbor?
- With your time, talents, and treasure, how will you decide to Encourage those around you?

We make hundreds, if not thousands, of decisions every day. Some of them are automatic – get up or snooze. Some of them are difficult and time consuming – like buying a house. Some of them are frivolous and of no consequence – cake or pie? Some carry more weight than others.
As we wind down on summer and begin to look forward to the fall and beyond, I urge you to become intentional in your decisions made about God, church, and faith.

What decisions will you make that will help St. John’s to continue growing in the grace of God? What decisions will you make that will help St. John’s to continue expressing God’s love to all people? What decisions will you make that will help you grow in faith? What decisions will you make that will help you express the love of God to others?

How we make those decisions, and how we live into those decisions, will impact our parish for years to come.

Blessings,

Todd+
Welcome Commission Contribution

Part of our mission at Saint John’s is to greet and make comfortable all worshippers. Whether passing through or church shopping, our effort is to facilitate a warm Christian experience.

Hello, my name is Will, I don’t believe I know you. That is often how we start the conversation. Inviting guests to the fellowship time after church is also an example of our hospitality.

Introductions to others creates a possibility of meaningful connection. We also share the many community outreach events we sponsor, such as our homeless shelter, Community Café, Micah’s Backpacks and assisting at Bester school.

N.T. Wright describes it this way.

“The church exists primarily for two closely correlated purposes: to worship God and to work for his kingdom in the world… The church also exists for a third purpose, which serves the other two: to encourage one another, to build one another up in faith, to pray with one another, to learn from one another, and to set one another examples to follow, challenges to take up, and urgent tasks to perform. ‘This is all part of what is known loosely as fellowship.”

Please share this with your friends.

Parish Life Commission benefits from the congregation’s STEWARDSHIP by utilizing our parishioners’ TIME and TALENT to provide food and refreshment from events such as Sunday morning coffee (WORSHIP) to the Annual Meeting (SERVE) to the Parish Picnic (WELCOME). We are always looking for those new and extra “hands” so we (ENCOURAGE) all to contact Tracy Happel or Jen Seal- ing to become a part of this lively and fun Commission.

Clothing Drive for Bester Community of Hope 2018

Bester Community of Hope is again organizing the Bester Block Party. This year, it will be held by the orchestra shell in Hagerstown City Park on September 22. The event not only offers informational support and resources for those in need in the Bester community, but also offers games, fun, and food for all.

St. John’s Episcopal Church plans to participate again this year by providing donated clothing – for both adults and children. In this way, we can show our support and love for our neighbors, especially those in need. All clothing left over after the Block Party will be donated to Bester Elementary School.

More information will be provided, such as asking for volunteers, as we get closer to the event. But if you have any questions now, please feel free to contact either Bill Alexander (301-665-9322) or Lou Lamb (301-437-5704).

Last year, we gave away almost 20 bags of clothing! Let’s see if we can give even more!
Part 3 – Royal School of Church Music Choir Festival

The past two months, we shared what our Canterbury Choir, their parents, and some of our Parish Choir experienced at the choir festival at Church of the Redeemer in Baltimore in April. This month we conclude with more thoughts from a few Parish Choir members.

“The festival was a great event. It was very well organized. The director was very good working with the youth and adult choristers. Very nice hospitality.” – Carvel Wright

“The experience was amazing. Working with the other choirs was enlightening. The Even-song was a moving experience. It was rewarding to learn from another conductor. It was also a great day for our parish, in sharing our ministry in Baltimore.” – Robin Spickler

“The choir festival was a sublime and thrilling experience. The combined youth and adult choristers made a Glorious Noise! Great repertoire from the angelic to the profound, from a whisper to the thunderous! Thanks to Mark King for his hard work and effort. Thanks to my fellow choristers for their time and talents!” – Mark Cook

“The choir festival was a very moving experience and fun singing with many voices.” – Jason Weibel

“Its always nice to combine with other choirs for a festival and meet other singers. The music was beautiful and the sound was spiritually uplifting in Church of the Redeemer with its high ceilings and slate floors. The director did an excellent job working with the choirs, especially the youth. We can always learn something new from other sources.” – Judy Myers

“Singing in the choir festival was an exhilarating experience. Growing up, Mathematics and Science were the only two main subjects engraved into my mind. After joining Saint John's Choir, I began to realize that there is more to life than just Mathematics and Science. There is a saying: “Medicine heals the body and music heals the soul.” Opening the hymnal makes me want to sing, and after robing in choir vestments, I immediately feel God's presence, motivating me to sing better. Since the choir festival, I found myself singing the music over and over again. I seem to discover, or rediscover the joy of singing, especially when singing praises to the Lord! The lesson I learned from the choir festival was, “Never ever underestimate one's potential.” This is true for all of us. Please discover yourself. Sing to the Lord! Hallelujah!” – Helen Cook

Choirs Resume in September

Come check out our choirs for all ages. Children and youth choirs rehearse Monday late afternoon and early evening. Parish Choir rehearses on Thursday evening. Rehearsal schedules will appear in the September issue of Soundings. Please speak with Mark King regarding the choirs.
Save the Date – Friday, September 7 at 7:30 pm

David Calendine, organist for the Fox Theatre in Detroit will open the 2018-2019 Music at Saint John’s Series. The program will include him improvising an organ accompaniment to the 1923 silent movie, “The Hunchback of Notre-Dame”. The program will be fun for all ages. Start thinking about who you want to invite to attend to the concert.

Mark King Participates in Church Music Convention

The American Guild of Organists (AGO) National Convention took place in Kansas City in early July. The Opening Convocation took place in the Kauffman Center for the Performing Arts. The service commemorated the 100th anniversary of the end of World War I, which featured multi-media photos from the war and its end. The speaker was Dr. Matthew Naylor, President and CEO of the World War I Museum in Kansas City. Evensong took place in St. Andrew’s Episcopal Church. An Arts Service was in Atonement Lutheran Church. Compline was held at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, with choral music sung by the ensemble, Kantorie of Kansas City. All of the worship services were truly spiritually moving experiences in churches with great acoustics, including hard surface flooring (wood, tile or slate), which greatly enhanced hearing the proclaimed Word of God, congregational singing and choral singing.

Stunning choral concerts were presented by the Kansas City Chorale (Kauffman Center for the Performing Arts); Te Deum Choral Ensemble (Village Presbyterian Church); and the Spire Chamber Ensemble and Baroque Orchestra (Visitation Catholic Church), performing all six motets by Johann Sebastian Bach.

Virtuosic organ recitals were presented by James Higdon (University of Kansas), Christopher Houlihan (Country Club Christian Church), Douglas Cleveland (Village Presbyterian Church), Chelsea Chen (Kauffman Center for the Performing Arts), Todd Wilson (Church of the Latter Day Saints, Independence, Missouri), Vincent Dubois (St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church), Damin Spritzer (Grand Avenue Temple), Jennifer Pascual (Grace and Holy Trinity Episcopal Cathedral).

Workshop/Professional Development sessions included Church Acoustics, Social Media for church musicians, choral reading sessions, engaging children and youth choirs, choral rehearsal techniques, and discovery of organ music by Giacomo Puccini.

Saint John’s, Hagerstown will be the beneficiary of this continued education enrichment of attending the American Guild of Organists National Convention, which will be reflected in our future worship and music offerings.
Recently the J2A (Journey to Adulthood) completed the first year of that program by traveling to New York City to complete a scavenger hunt and learn to navigate through the complex systems of subways. Besides the scavenger hunt which took them literally all over New York City, the teens took the ferry over to Staten Island to see the 9/11 Memorial, which is dedicated to all the first responders. They attended church at St Paul's Chapel and visited the 9/11 Memorial in Manhattan.

People say raising the first child is the hardest because you don’t have a clue what you are doing. The same could be said about this trip...while this is our first year with J2A, we learned a lot that the book didn’t tell us and also learned that sometimes the information that the book does tell us should be re-evaluated. Just like every child that you raise is not the same, there is probably not a template for every J2A experience.

I do believe that the kids had a good time, and that they learned to lead, be led, and be tolerant of others. Below you will find notes from a few teens and chaperones about the experience.

- Joelene Young

CJ Sealing: The trip to New York was fun. My favorite part of the scavenger hunt was getting cannoli because it was delicious. I liked the World Trade Center 9/11 Memorial better because it was pretty to look at. I thought the Staten Island First Responders memorial was small. It was fun to stay with my friends in the hostel. Shake Shack was my favorite place to eat. I am thankful that I got to visit the city.

Christina Argueso: I enjoyed the trip to New York City with the J2A in June 2018. My favorite part of the trip was learning to navigate the NYC Subway system. It was a challenge to figure out which way to go, but it was rewarding to get to where we were supposed to. I enjoyed riding the subway and it was fun people watching—lots of different sites to see on the subway. It was fun with all the chaperones and the other kids, hanging out at the hostel at the end of the day discussing all the things that happened during the day. I really enjoyed doing Compline in the evening with the whole group. It was a calming thing to do at the end of a long and crazy day.

Edward Mango: The NYC trip and scavenger hunt taught me patience. Even at the start when I was on the bus to New York, I needed the patience to stay off my phone. Every day we had two hard objectives to pass: lots and I mean LOTS of walking and trying to figure out the subway system. When we first started to figure out the subway system, anyone could have noticed that we were tourists. We walked in squares, pacing trying to figure out the system. But now, I can confidently say that I’m comfortable with the subway system and wouldn’t mind going back to NYC to do it all over again. Walking... yea, walking was just a pain. It was bad enough that we were walking a lot but my shoes were so painful! The entire trip I tried to be as patient as possible. Not because I didn’t enjoy it, because I sincerely enjoyed it. It was just patience with myself and telling myself, this trip is gonna be okay, I need to push myself, and that nobody is gonna get hurt. So yeah, that’s how I took in this trip.

Brian Connolly: I think the teens learned some very valuable lessons during the trip. Certainly empathy for others was one of these. Each teen had the chance to lead a group navigating to a location, which was quite a challenge. Missteps occurred quite often. At the start of the trip it was easy to criticize or be critical of the person leading when things didn’t go as planned. But as each person had the experience of leading, they became less critical because they understand it was difficult.

Julia Sunnarborg: The J2A trip to New York City was an unforgettable experience. We all learned lessons in teamwork and respect, while having fun at the same time. We had to help each other find different locations and routes to get to them, as well as overcome some small complications. We once got on the wrong subway, and had to work around closings and delays. My group and I saw beautiful buildings, sculptures, fountains, and gardens. We also ate some delicious cannolis and New York style pizza. I had a lot of fun doing these activities and I would love to go again!

Tamara Martinez: I wasn’t sure what to expect when I was asked to chaperone 10 teenagers to New York. But, what I got out of it was an awesome adventure! I’ve been wanting to really get to know the kids in our church and be a positive role model in their lives. I know most of their parents but the trip gave me a good perspective on who these kids are and it shows that Christ is ever present in their lives. I shared a moment with each of these kids. I laughed, I joked, and I’m sure I complained about my aching feet with these kids but most of all I’m so thankful to have been asked to be a part of a journey they’ll never forget. We ate delicious foods in a New York cafeteria, toured the 911 Memorial, rode the Carousel in central park, watched street performers, walked the steps to the NYC public library, took pics in times square and people watched all day long. At the end of the night, we would gather together and say our evening prayers in the middle of NYC. With the lights and the action happening all around us, we prayed. I will never forget my trip to NYC with J2A.
The Community Café
“Stewardship in Action”

Over the past 5+ years the Community Café has evolved and adapted itself to the needs of the community. It has certainly become more than our greatest expectations from its humble beginnings. Our brief history has been talked about many times so I will not go into details except to say that none of it would have been possible without the unwavering and continued support of so many dedicated people from inside and outside of our Parish.

We are now serving in excess of 120 meals at each Café all made possible by not only the volunteers that faithfully come in and prep our meals starting the day before the Café but also to the cooks, servers and support staff that show up Saturday to make sure we can get the meals to the tables, keep the drinks stocked and see to any special needs that may arise. And as intense as those two days seems sometimes they are only part of the process. In between the Café dates, throughout the month, we inventory stock, shop, plan meals and keep up with paperwork. Also throughout the month our volunteers bake desserts, make sure our signs are dated properly and put out and tally our numbers from the previous Café. The dedication shown by so many to even the smallest of tasks is the foundation on which the Café rests. And I believe all of this is only possible because within our Parish the Spirit of God moves people’s hearts to know that we are doing His work in His house that extends far beyond the stone and brick that makes the walls of our Church.

In telling this story there is one entity that I dare say fails to get the recognition it deserves if even a mention when we list all of the people who make not only the Café successful but all of the many Commissions, committees and events that our Church supports. And that is the Church itself. The physical presence of the building and all that is needed to keep it maintained and running is more often than not taken for granted. Make no mistake that if not for this building, the shelter it provides, the equipment it protects and the refuge it offers is not a mere backdrop but the very stage on which we present at least a part of our life’s work not only to God but the community around us. So even if you don’t count yourself as a volunteer in any particular organization or event that is supported by Saint John’s your presence on Sunday and your offering in any form supports us all.

Thanks to All and God Bless,

Bob and Susan Rauth
Save the Date! Quiet Day
Support Our Kids—Be a Prayer Partner

One of the joys of attending the 10:15 worship for many of us is seeing the growing number of children attending worship and taking part in the service. The Service and Outreach Commission would like to continue a quiet ministry that has been very successful over the past few years: our Secret Prayer Partners. We believe that an essential part of supporting all our children is to pray for them. This is a part of our baptismal vows and a way in which we strengthen our community life in Christ.

As an adult member of the congregation, will you agree to “adopt” a child or a family of children and pray for them every day? What better way can we support them than this? If you agree, we will give you the name of a child or family in the parish and ask for you to pray for each child every day. We would ask you NOT to give gifts but please do send the children cards on special holidays such as Christmas, Valentine's Day, and their birthday. Please do not reveal yourself until the designated day which we will let you know in advance.

In the past, this has been a special ministry for the children and the participants. It's also been a comfort for parents to know that their children are being prayed for by someone else in the St. John's family. Please join us in this endeavor. You will find the forms to sign up for prayer partners for the 2018-2019 school year both in Soundings and on the table by the Antietam Street entrance. Even if you were a partner last year, please sign up again so we know that you wish to continue your ministry.

Please return your forms to the Parish Office or to Stephny Lietuvnikas or Karla Davis.
Secret Prayer Partners—Adult Form
Support Our Kids—Be a Prayer Partner

One of the joys of attending the 10:15 worship for many of us is seeing the growing number of children attending worship and taking part in the service. The Service and Outreach Commission revived this special St. John’s ministry, the Secret Prayer Partners, several years ago. They would like to continue it this coming year. In the past, this has been a beloved ministry for all participants, child or adult. It’s also been a comfort for parents to know that their children are being prayed for by someone else in the St. John’s family. What better way to form a lasting connection with and support the youth of the parish then to lift them up in prayer?

Any adult member of the congregation is invited to participate. All that is required is that you pray for each child every day from September 2018 – August 2019 and to send the children cards on special holidays such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine’s Day, Easter, and their birthdays. Please do not send gifts, as we want everyone to be able to participate in this special ministry.

Please complete the form below and return it to the Church Office, Stephny Lietuvnikas, or Karla Davis immediately. Once all forms are collected, you will matched with a child or children in the parish. The Secret Prayer Partners will be revealed in late summer 2019.

Secret Prayer Partners – Youth Form

One of the joys of attending the 10:15 worship for many of us is seeing the growing number of children attending worship and taking part in the service. The Service and Outreach Commission revived the Secret Prayer Partners, a special St. John’s ministry, several years ago, and we would like to continue it this fall. In the past, this has been a beloved ministry for all participants, youth or adult. It’s also been a comfort for parents to know that their children are being prayed for by someone else in the St. John’s family. What better way to form a lasting connection with and support the youth of the parish then to lift them up in prayer?

Any youth member of the congregation (18 and under) is invited to participate. The parent(s) must consent for an adult member of St. John’s parish to pray for his or her child/children every day from September 2018 – August 2019 and to send the children cards on special holidays such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine’s Day, Easter, and their birthdays. The adult Secret Prayer Partner has been asked to not send gifts, as we want everyone to be able to participate in this special ministry.

Please complete the form below and return it to the Church Office, Stephny Lietuvnikas, or Karla Davis immediately. Once all forms are collected, your child or children will be matched with an adult in the parish. The Secret Prayer Partners will be revealed in the late summer of 2019.

Docent Training

Do you ever wonder how St John’s got its name? Do you marvel at the stained glass windows and from whence they came? Does the uniqueness of the altar inspire you to learn more?

Do you wish to learn more and to be able to share your knowledge with others? If so, you will have that opportunity at Docent Training, scheduled for Saturday, September 15 at 9 AM in Trimble Hall being offered by our interpretive specialists, Ellen Collins and Dan Meyer. Please make your training reservation by emailing Bruce Massey at lbmassey@verizon.net.

Mayfest Success

Through the generosity of our parish and local community, the net proceeds for Mayfest totaled $21,178.26 exceeding our 2018 goal. Checks have been sent to Saint Etienne’s, The Community Free Clinic, Children In Need, and Holly Place in the amounts of $5,294.57. A sincere thank you for helping us help others by following the teachings of Jesus.

Basket Bingo

Mark Your Calendars: Basket Bingo, Friday October 19, Trimble Hall. All proceeds to benefit Service and Outreach. Tickets go on sale after Labor Day.

Behind the Wheel

Van drivers are needed for Sunday morning services. We are down to only two van drivers on Sunday mornings. The addition of at least two more volunteers would ease the burden on our current drivers greatly. The more drivers we have for rotation means the fewer times each driver is called upon. This is a great way to serve St. John’s and those in our community who wish to attend services but are unable due to a lack of transportation. A clean driving record and a desire to serve is all you need. Please contact Melonie or Bob Speelman if you wish to know more or to volunteer.
