“Looking Back At The End Of The Year”

Various Scriptures

Rev. Jim Davis

Introduction: Every year on the last day of the year, the media does what it calls “The Year In Review” in which they make us look back at key events that took place during the current year. The problem with looking back is that it reminds us of the things we are trying to forget and can cause us to become discouraged. As we come to the end of 2025, I want to share with you a number of things we should not look back at and why.

1. Don’t look back at past _____ because they have been forgiven _____ . (1 John 1:7-9)
2. Don’t look back on where you _____ because you may begin to see yourself as a _____ . (Ps. 37:23-24)
3. Don’t look back at the _____ because it will always look _____ than it really was. (Ecc. 7:10,Num. 11:18, Gen. 19:25-26)
4. Don’t look back at _____ events because you will only give it _____ the longer you talk about it. (1 Peter 2:1-2)
5. Don’t look back at past _____ because you will be tempted to think it doesn’t get any _____ than that. (Phil. 3:13-14)

"Lottie Moon 2025" refers to the annual Lottie Moon Christmas Offering® and the associated Week of Prayer for International Missions, observed by Southern Baptists from November 30 to December 7, 2025. The offering supports the work of the International Mission Board (IMB) missionaries around the world.

About the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering

- Purpose: The offering provides 100% of gifts to support IMB missionaries and their ministries in sharing the gospel with unreached people and places.
- Theme and Goal: The 2025 offering goal is set at $210 million to send more missionaries to the field. The 2025 theme is "Together".
- Week of Prayer: This is a dedicated time from November 30 to December 7, 2025, for Southern Baptists to pray for missionaries and their global efforts.

Resources: Free materials which include DVDs, bulletin inserts, and guides for the Week of Prayer, are available through the IMB Store. Free downloadable resources can also be found on the IMB website.

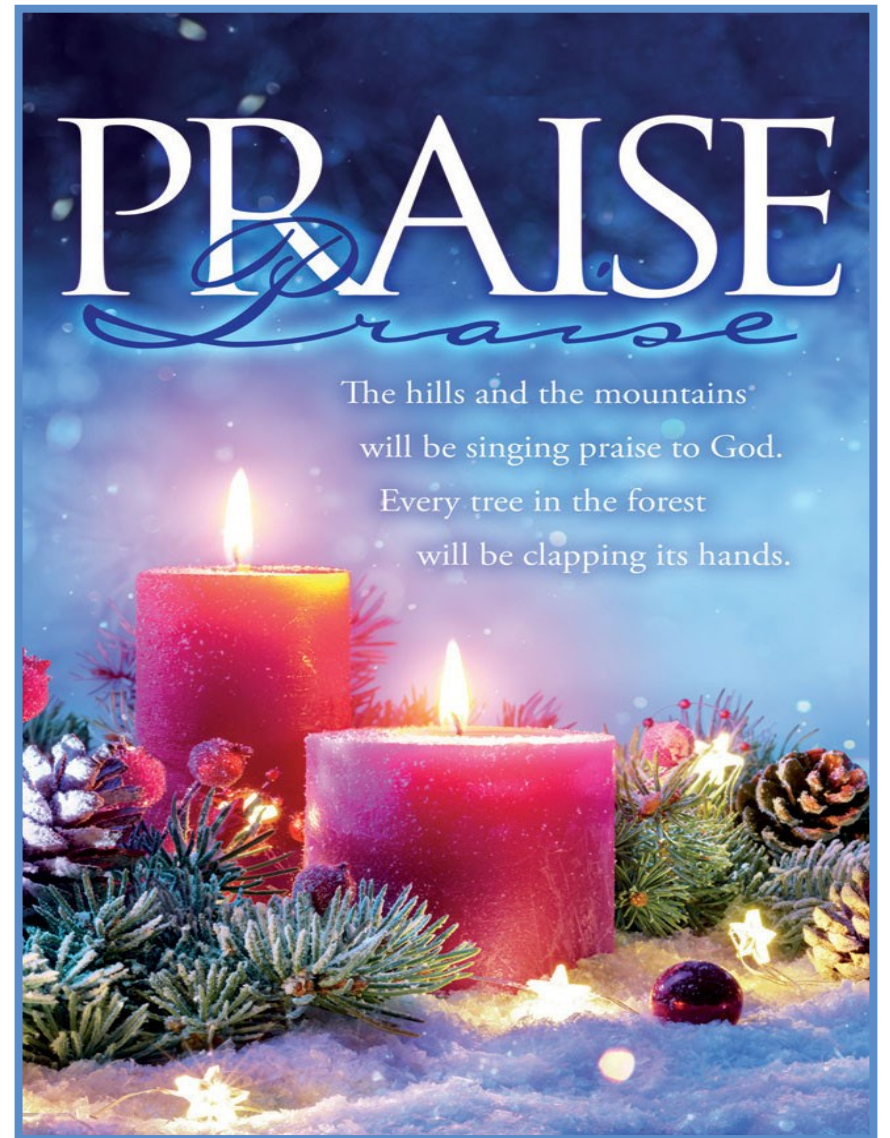

Who was Lottie Moon?

Charlotte Digges "Lottie" Moon was a remarkable American Southern Baptist missionary who spent nearly 40 years in China (1873-1912). Her letters home inspired the creation of an annual offering to fund international missions. She selflessly dedicated her life and resources to the Chinese people, eventually starving to death while ensuring those around her had enough food during a famine. The annual offering was officially named in her honor in 1918 to carry on her legacy of sacrificial giving and prayer for the lost.
