Dr Avtar Singh’s Business Law has gained an enviable reputation of being the most authoritative work on the subject. This edition of the book discusses the new Companies Act, 2013. The author has discussed in detail the new provisions introduced by this Act such as e-governance, corporate social responsibility, enhanced accountability, independent directors, ethical corporate behaviour, etc.

The business laws covered by this edition have been listed below:

Business laws covered in the 10th Edition

- Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008
- Trade Marks Act, 1999
- Copyright Act, 1957
- Designs Act, 2000
- Patents Act, 1970
- Geographical Indications Act, 1999
- Contract Act, 1872
- Companies Act, 2013
- Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881
- Partnership Act, 1932
- Sale of Goods Act, 1930
- Competition Act, 2002
- Consumer Protection Act, 1986

An attempt has been made to capture the provisions of the Acts into topics, avoiding a section-wise narration. Detailed contents, section-wise contents and an elaborate subject index have been included to facilitate easy referencing and cross referencing.

This book follows a simple and lucid style for easy understanding of the subject and has long been on the list of recommended books for the use of students of law, commerce, MBA, Cost Accountancy, Cost and Works Accountancy, Company Secretaryship, etc.

Reviews

- “It is an improved version with updated Indian case law and foreign case law on the subject. A profusion of headings and sub-headings has also been provided so as to facilitate easy location of any issue under consideration. The book is recommended for corporates, advocates and other professionals as also students undergoing professional courses”. – Chartered Secretary

- “… a very handy book covering such diverse subjects like the general principles of the law of contract, partnership, sale of goods and hire purchase, unfair trade practices, consumer protection, and negotiable instruments. The book will be of great use not only to the law student and law teachers but also to businessmen, industrialists, professional advisors and for those who appear for competitive examinations”. – Academy Law Review
