Corrective Reading
Develop Struggling Readers’ Skills, Grades 3–Adult
Corrective Reading Comprehension and Decoding Grades 3–Adult
For struggling students, the consistently explicit, sequential, and systematic instruction using Corrective Reading promises:

- Accurate, efficient, effective learning
- Skill mastery for every student
- Heightened academic achievement

Corrective Reading Meets the Needs of At-Risk Students

Today, one-third of students—those reading below the 35th percentile on national, norm-referenced tests—cannot read at a level required to understand grade-level textbooks.

Analyses by the AECF* show disturbing achievement between students of color and low-income students compared to white and more affluent students.

- About 16% of children who are not reading proficiently by the end of third grade do not graduate from high school on time, a rate four times greater than that for proficient readers.
- For children who were poor, lived in neighborhoods of concentrated poverty and not reading proficiently, the proportion jumped to 35%.
- About 31% of poor African-American students and 33% of poor Hispanic students who did not hit the third-grade proficiency mark failed to graduate. These rates are greater than those for White students with poor reading skills.

Further, According to the 2015 Building a Grad Nation report, in 2013 the average graduation rates across 50 states range from only 69% to 81%. In schools across the nation, struggling students must receive intensive instructional support and intervention to catch up quickly. They need SRA’s Corrective Reading.

Educators are increasingly turning to Corrective Reading to deliver the extra support that struggling readers need to succeed. Using the research-based, classroom-proven SRA/McGraw-Hill Direct Instruction methodology, this comprehensive intervention program:

- Acts as a scaffold for good teaching behaviors
- Provides a well-organized scope and sequence
- Has coordinated and aligned practice materials and activities
- Includes assessment to help with proper placement and movement of instruction

As with all SRA Direct Instruction programs, effective instructional principles are embedded in the program’s content so that:

- Skills and strategies are presented explicitly.
- Complex tasks are analyzed and broken down into component parts.
- Each part is taught in a logical progression.
- Brief, frequent practice is provided to ensure mastery of each of the processes and skills.
- Materials are organized to provide cumulative review of skills.
- The amount of new information is controlled and connected to prior learning.
- Consistent lesson formats allow pre-teaching and re-teaching as needed.

To enable educators to make the best use of their time, teacher-friendly instructional routines provide:

- Direct teaching
- Teacher modeling and demonstration
- Guided and independent practice and application with corrective feedback
- Frequent interactions between teacher and students
- Appropriate pacing of lessons
- Adequate practice and review

Research Proves Corrective Reading Helps Close the Achievement Gap and Improves Test Scores
1. Independent Scientific Research

SRA Direct Instruction programs received the highest ranking for program effectiveness in an independent analysis conducted by the American Institutes for Research in 2006.

Order #: R80001419

2. Professional Development Validation

A National Reading Panel report on Teaching Children to Read and READING NEXT: A Vision for Action and Research in Middle and High School Literacy both recommend direct, explicit, comprehensive instruction as an effective practice, with an emphasis on essential elements appropriate to students’ reading development.

3. Results in Real Schools and Classrooms

Corrective Reading has been proven in classrooms across the nation, serving children in a wide range of grade levels and socioeconomic and ethnic groups.

R Used with the Decoding or Comprehension Programs
The Corrective Reading program provides educators with the tools to help close the achievement gap by addressing deficiencies in both Decoding and Comprehension.

- Two major strands and four instructional levels address a wide range of reading problems.
- Decoding and Comprehension can be used as a supplemental intervention or combined for use as a comprehensive program.
- Multiple points of entry appropriately address skill levels of students in Grades 4–Adult.
- Fully integrated assessments monitor progress and guide movement through the program.

When You Need Decoding Intervention

Students who need Decoding intervention typically have little reading experience and are not familiar with the vocabulary, sentence structure, text organization, and concepts of “book” language. Without intervention, their comprehension skills decline, they develop negative attitudes toward reading, and they become poor spellers and writers.

Students with Decoding problems:

- Make frequent word identification errors
- Add and omit words
- Confuse high-frequency words
- Have a poor grasp of grapheme-phoneme relationships
- Read at a laboriously slow rate
- Are unable to comprehend because of inaccurate reading

When You Need Comprehension Intervention

Students who need Comprehension intervention do not write well, do not think or speak with clarity, and are not highly motivated.

Students with Comprehension problems:

- Cannot follow multi-step directions
- Exhibit poor auditory memory and statement repetition skills
- Lack the analytical skills required to process arguments
- Have a deficient vocabulary
- Lack background or domain knowledge
Decoding A addresses non-readers by teaching sound-spelling relationships. Students quickly develop reading strategies for sounding out words and applying those strategies in context.

Decoding A in Brief

| 65 Lessons |
| 45 Minutes |

Targeted Students: Non-readers or those in Grades 3.5–Adult who read so haltingly they cannot understand what they have read

Outcomes: 60 wpm, 98% accuracy, reading at a 2.0–2.5 grade level

What is Taught

Phonemic Awareness

- Auditory rhyming and pronunciation
- Recognition and production of sounds
- Auditory segmenting
- Auditory blending
- Identifying beginning, ending, and medial sounds

Phonics Skills

- Sound-symbol relationships
- Spelling
- Letter combining
- Blending
- Word reading
  - Regularly spelled words
  - High-utility irregular words
  - High-frequency words
- Reading decodable connected text

Fluency

- Tracking
- Reading within specified rate and accuracy criteria

Comprehension

- Answering oral questions

Corrective Reading Decoding A
Decoding B1 and B2 refine word-attack skills by introducing new words and promoting word discrimination. Students build fluency and comprehension by reading stories of increasing length and difficulty.

What is Taught

Phonemic Awareness
- Auditory pronunciation
- Recognition and production of sounds
- Auditory segmenting
- Identifying beginning, ending, and medial sounds

Phonics and Word Analysis
- Sound-symbol relationships with an emphasis on
  - Consonant blends
  - Vowel sounds
  - Letter combinations-Word endings
- Spelling
- Blending
- Word reading
  - Words with consistent orthographic relationships
  - Silent-e words
  - High-utility irregular words
  - High-frequency words
- Daily reading of decodable connected text

Fluency
- Tracking
- Reading and rereading decodable connected text
- Practice for rate and accuracy
- Charting of daily fluency progress

Comprehension
- Story details
- Cause and effect
- Main idea
- Story grammar/retelling
- Story summarizing
- Compare/contrast

Decoding B1 and B2 in Brief

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>65 Lessons</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>45 Minutes</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Targeted Students: Poor readers, students in Grades 4–Adult who do not read at an adequate rate and who confuse words

B1 Outcomes: 90 wpm, 98% accuracy, reading at a 3.5–3.9 grade level

B2 Outcomes: 130 wpm, 98% accuracy, reading at a 4.5–4.9 grade level

Lexile Ranges:
- B1: 360 - 650
- B2: 360 - 710
Decoding C helps students bridge the gap between advanced word-attack skills and the ability to read textbooks and other informational material. Students learn more than 600 new vocabulary words and read a variety of text that prepares them to read in all content areas.

What is Taught

Phonemic Awareness
- Review of auditory pronunciation, both recognition and production of sounds
- Auditory segmenting
- Identifying beginning, ending, and medial sounds

Phonics and Word Analysis
- Review of letter combinations within words
- Additional sound combinations
- Affixes and their meanings
- Decoding multi-syllabic words using known parts
- Daily reading of decodable connected text
- Reading selections that contain a high percentage of new words
- Reading narrative and expository text

Fluency
- Tracking
- Reading and rereading decodable connected text
- Practice for rate and accuracy
- Charting of daily fluency progress

Comprehension
- Cause and effect
- Main idea
- Compare/contrast
- Sequencing
- Summarizing/retelling
- Referencing text for specific factual information
Comprehension A creates a framework for learning new information and filling in background knowledge. Teachers are able to engage students in higher-order thinking skills based on this new foundation of knowledge.

What is Taught

Vocabulary Knowledge
- Definitions of common words
- Synonyms and antonyms
- Descriptions

Logical Thinking Skills
- Deductions
- Statement inferences
- Analogies
- Classification
- Drawing conclusions using basic evidence
- Compare/contrast

Common Semantics
- All/Every
- All/Some/None
- And/Or
- No/Don’t

Information and Background Knowledge
- Calendar (months, seasons, holidays)
- Classes of animals
- Practice organizing groups of related facts
- Recitation practice to build auditory memory

Targeted Students: Poor comprehenders in Grades 3–Adult who cannot understand much of the material taught at grade level

Outcomes: Higher-order thinking skills and increased vocabulary base
Comprehension B1 and B2 develop the skills necessary to construct meaning from content-based text. This enables students to comprehend any subject matter they read and learn new information efficiently.

Innovative Features in the Corrective Reading Program

Teacher’s Resource Books provide advanced methodology and tools to help teachers ensure that students will transfer key skills to the regular curriculum.

- Eight books, one for each of four levels in the Decoding and Comprehension strands, make it easy to reinforce and extend daily lessons in Corrective Reading.
- Leveled Passages offer brief frequent opportunities for vocabulary and comprehension development
- Instruction and assessment can be performed congruently
- Accommodating All Learners section contains comprehensive guidance for teach
- Efficient remedies address the specific needs of students who have shown reading deficiencies and English learners
- Scope And Sequence helps explain the instrumental approach

Assessment Materials incorporated in the Teacher Presentation Books provide frequent assessment of student progress.

- Easy-to-use format helps you monitor growth and diagnose potential problems
- Remediation activities provide systematic instruction to address deficient skills

Fast Cycle options for Comprehension A and B1 accelerate student progress.

- Appropriate for older, more advanced students
- Quickly and efficiently covers content from the core program in approximately half as many lessons
- Provides for entry into the core program nearer grade level

Here’s Why You Should Choose Corrective Reading as Your Intervention Program

The Corrective Reading program provides students, teachers, and administrators with all the critical components of a research-based, classroom-proven approach to closing the achievement gap for struggling readers.

Student Benefits
- Age-appropriate materials
- Highly skilled teachers
- Cross-curricular success
- Immediate feedback
- Long-term growth
- Increased achievement

Teacher Benefits
- Coherent, overall instructional design
- Logical organization of materials
- Coordinated instructional sequences
- Specific scaffolding instruction
- Fully-aligned student materials
- Classroom management strategies
- Resources for Differentiated Instruction
- Easy-to-access professional development
- Motivated, successful students

Administrator Benefits
- Clearly stated goals and objectives
- Highly qualified teachers
- Instructional efficiency
- Adaptability
- Ongoing assessment and evaluation
- Academic success
