BRING YOUR STUDENTS UP TO GRADE LEVEL with this engaging reading and writing program for Grades 1–5
SRA/McGraw-Hill’s Summer Adventures in Reading is your solution for summer school students in Grades 1-5 who are up to one grade level behind their peers. This research-based, remedial reading and writing program provides the practice students need to bring their phonics, vocabulary, comprehension, fluency, and writing skills up to grade level.

The high-interest reading selections keep students focused on reading instruction. And the flexible program materials work great with smaller groups and shorter time frames.

With SRA Summer Adventures in Reading, students and teachers get just what they need to unlock a lifetime of reading enjoyment!

Give your summer school readers the support they need

SRA Summer Adventures in Reading comes in a portable materials package, making it easy to transport to any classroom.

“I like the paired fiction and nonfiction selections – a definite plus for the program.”

Roberta Wilson, Literacy Coach
Milwaukee Public Schools, Milwaukee, WI

Flexibility for any teacher – and any classroom

SRA Summer Adventures in Reading is designed to work well in a variety of settings and with a variety of students. The program fits right in to any summer school class or after school coaching session. Remedial readers and English-language learners can benefit from the systematic skills review and instruction.

Plus, SRA Summer Adventures in Reading is very flexible. It is simple to implement in any classroom, allowing teachers to conduct highly successful lessons with very little preparation. The program includes:

- 30 instructionally sound reading lessons that can span up to six weeks
- Two-hour lessons can be condensed to 90 minutes
- The same six themes for every grade level, allowing for school-wide correlated activities
- Detailed concepts, skills review, and practice activities for each lesson
- Teacher tips, suggestions, and strategies for targeting the special needs of English-language learners
- Informal and formal assessment tools to gauge progress and inform and differentiate instruction
- Portable materials package for easy transportation

Interesting content to engage every student

SRA Summer Adventures in Reading keeps students’ interest with both fiction and nonfiction reading selections and topics which correlate to other curricular areas such as math, science, and history. The program includes games, activities, and practice opportunities to make it fun and exciting for students to apply their new skills.
Use flexible teaching tools to build your summer school students' skills and confidence in reading

Teacher's Edition
• Easy-to-use lesson plans
• Information, tips, and tools for conducting systematic, explicit skills instruction

Teacher's Resource Guide
• Four practice pages for each reading selection
• 12 theme-based take-home stories
• Additional practice stories
• Graphic organizer
• A variety of reproducible Blackline Masters

Assessment Guide and CD-ROM
• Clear and manageable tools for quantifying and gauging students' progress
• Practice with test-taking skills essential to students' success on standardized tests
• Blackline Masters to access and print at your convenience

“My teachers love the program because it is so easy to prepare for reading instruction.”

Karen Canfield, Principal
Pioneer Intermediate School, Noble, OK
Inspire students with high-interest content and engaging activities

Student Readers
- 10 Student Readers with six theme-based units
- Extending Your Adventure questions to help students think about, understand, and discuss stories

Activity Cards
- Engaging activities and games that support skills
- Practice opportunities for small dynamic groups

Sound/Spelling Cards (Grades 1–3)
- Review of English-language sounds and their various spellings
- Practice opportunities for small groups and whole class instruction
Provide step-by-step instruction to help students improve critical reading skills

Each of the 30 lessons in SRA Summer Adventures in Reading is structured to provide explicit instruction in phonics, vocabulary, comprehension strategies and skills, and writing. Each lesson walks through the learning process in a series of steps and activities that can be taught in one day.

- Getting Ready to Read – engages students in oral and written word study activities
- Before Reading – activates students’ prior knowledge and provides background information to prepare students to read and learn the most from each selection
- Reading and Understanding – introduces students to comprehension strategies and skills that help them understand each selection more completely
- After Reading – involves students in a class discussion and review of vocabulary words
- Focusing on Writing – helps students plan, write, revise, and present a writing assignment
- Workshop – provides practice time for students to work independently and for teachers to work with individual students
- Unit Assessment – evaluates what students have learned at the end of each lesson

Themes your students relate to

- Unit 1 – Creature Features
  Fun and interesting facts about animals
- Unit 2 – Give It a Try
  A chance to read and think about different skills and talents
- Unit 3 – What's the Big Idea?
  Uncommon facts about common objects and new ways to think about old things
- Unit 4 – Blast from the Past
  Intriguing lessons about history and a look at how the past connects to the future
- Unit 5 – We’re Better Together
  Stories about family relationships and getting along with relatives
- Unit 6 – Incredible Edibles
  Fun selections that whet students’ appetites for knowledge

Call 1-800-201-7103 now to find out more on how you can make the difference for your summer school readers!
Build your summer school students’ reading skills and unlock their love of learning!

- Flexible program materials are easy to use in any classroom
- 30 instructionally sound lessons can span up to six weeks
- High-interest fiction and nonfiction selections hold students’ interest
- Assessment tools gauge progress and help inform and differentiate instruction