

Tool: The Fast-Tracking and Crashing Worksheet

Fast-tracking and crashing are two mechanisms you can use to address a schedule that's in trouble. Use this flow chart when a project is running late to guide conversations with project management team members and project team members so that you can identify opportunities for improvement.

