

December 2019 | Issue 4

What's the Buzz on edHEALTH?

Check out what people are saying about edHEALTH.

New Share-it Employee Engagement Communications Are a Hit

In October, edHEALTH launched new share-it employee engagement communications to help member school employees navigate and maximize their healthcare benefits.

Learn more.

Recommend a School

There's power in numbers. edHEALTH's purchasing power helps us weather the ups and downs of healthcare costs – as well as negotiate low administrator fees and reinsurance pricing. Member schools and their brokers/consultants are our best referral source. If you know of a college or university that is interested in transparency, collaboration, and a self-insured healthcare solution for faculty, staff, and family members, contact us.

Wishing you and your families a joyous holiday season and happy New Year!

Integrating Behavioral Health with Medical Health is the Right Thing to Do

edHEALTH's Clinical Intervention Program Responds

Patients with complex medical conditions frequently suffer from other conditions, including behavioral health issues.

LEARN MORE

edHEALTH Newsletter Editor, Cindy McGrath | Website

Please add info@educatorshealth.org to your contacts so we're recognized as a safe sender.